The troops were put to work at once building barbed wire obstacles and digging trenches along undefended stretches between the new concrete blockhouses and forts.

At the same time several thousand reservists, now carrying out exercises in the vicinity, are being instructed with active army units in the duties they will be called upon to perform in wartime as "covering forces."

Experiments were carried out today with warning sirens to determine their efficiency in spreading an alarm. The sirens are similar to those used in Paris as a warning to the civil population of the approach of danger from the air.

Peace Mission Results

The results of the British mission can already be summed up, and in the main they are, Germany remains opposed to a fresh settlement of European security on the basis of the Anglo-French accord drawn up at London, Feb. 3. Stresa may clarify the attitude of the old Triple Entente, but Germany remains a huge question mark.

In brief, the British talks at Berlin, Moscow, Warsaw and Prahe resulted as follows:

1.—Berlin was generally negative. Adolf Hitler submitted written counter-proposals which included a 10-year - old non-aggression pact. British Government circles consider Hitler's proposals are not good enough.

2.—Moscow favors a security scheme much as outlined in the Anglo-French accord, which called for Central and Eastern European pacts; an air Locarno; abrogation of the military clauses of the Versailles Treaty in return for Germany's return to the League of Nations, and agreement to an all-round arms limitation scheme.

Poland's Position

3.—Warsaw stands between the German and Russian viewpoints. The Poles favor the general principle of the Eastern pact with which it is most concerned, but objects to certain of its features, notably mutual assistance in case of hostilities. The Poles also have counter-proposals which have not yet been made known.

4.—Praha, like Moscow, favors the Anglo-French accord's proposal.

The net result is that Berlin remains opposed. The visit of Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, and the Lord Privy Seal, did little if anything to remove German objections.

Meat Picket Flare Brings Riot Squads

LOS ANGELES, April 5 (A.P.).—Police radio cars cruised through the Boyle Heights district to-day guarding against another flareup of trouble in a picketing campaign against butcher shops.

Riot squads dashed to the scene last night when 500 men and women joined in a disturbance which started when two housewives, Mrs. Edith Bernhard and Mrs. Anna Joseph, walked out of a shop.

Pickets, representing two organizations protesting against high meat costs, attempted to seize the women's bundles and trouble started. Mrs. Joseph's eye was blackened and Mrs. Bernhard was cut and bruised about the face.

The Housewives' League of Los Angeles and the United Conference against the high cost of living are the principal leaders in the anti-meat buying movement.

INCREASE OF $6 IN POWER COSTS

(Continued from Page 1)

and declared, "When you build a thing up on stilts it will have to crash. They were built on stilts."

At the same time Mr. Hepburn declared bondholders could write letters to the newspapers and bombard him with telegrams protesting against the Government's action, but they were just wasting their time. "It's not going to change our attitude."

CLASSIFIED ADS are as useful as the day is long.

Furniture Values THAT ARE HARD TO BEAT!

Seasonable merchandise that will appeal to the busy housewife these Spring cleaning days.

Chesterfield Suites

3 pieces. Large variety of new designs, including English and modernistic. Covers in mohair, velvet velours, repps, ratine silks. Specially priced at .....

$59 - $69 - 72.50 - $79 - $89 - $98 - $119 $125 - $129 - $150 - $175

Bedroom Suites

4 pieces. 5-ply walnut veneer with bird's-eye maple trim. Hollywood Vanity Dresser with British plate Venetian mirror. Chest of Drawers and full panel Bed. Bench is upholstered in silk.....Reg. Price, $79, for $59

Breakfast Room Suites

6 pieces: Buffet, Table and 4 Chairs. Good selection of designs. Some of the Buffets have top cupboard. Enamel finished in black and ivory, green and ivory, tan and ivory; also walnut and Early American finish. Specially priced at .....

22.75 - $25 - $30 - 32.50 - 42.50

Time Yet to Take Advantage of OUR CHINAWARE CLUB

Six only Dinner Sets left to be sold on our Special Club Plan of $1 Down and $1 a Week.

3 ONLY 97-PIECE SETS—Service for 12 people. Dainty green hairline design.....Reg. 22.50, for 15.90

3 ONLY 97-PIECE SETS—Of full service for 12 people. Dainty floral design.....Reg. 28.50, for 19.90

CONGOLEUM RUGS at Factory Cost.

Choice of 8 designs—discontinued patterns. All sizes in stock. Suitable for any room. All perfect goods and guaranteed GOLD SEAL.

Size 4½ x 6 ft.....Reg. 4.10, for 3.35
Size 6 x 9 ft.....Reg. 5.50, for 4.35
Size 7½ x 9 ft.....Reg. 6.85, for 5.50
Size 9 x 9 ft.....Reg. 8.25, for 6.50
Size 9 x 10½ ft.....Reg. 9.60, for 7.65
Size 9 x 12-0 ft.....Reg. $11, for 8.65
Size 9 x 13½ ft.....Reg. 12.35, for 9.85
Size 9 x 15-0 ft.....Reg. 13.75, for $11

FOOT STOOLS—12 only. Round shape. Upholstered in tapestry and repps. Fluted Queen Anne legs, walnut finish. 11 inches high, 14 inches in diameter. Regular price, 1.25, for, each..... 69c

RUBBER STAIR TREADS—Corrugated centres with plain borders, brown color. Size 7 x 18 inches. Regular 15c. Each 9c

RUBBER DOOR MATS—Block corrugated design. A splendid wearing and useful Mat in brown and black shades. Size 14 x 26 inches. Regular price, 65c, for, each..... 25c

Chintz - Cretonnes - Sateens

300 yards of odd lengths and discontinued patterns. About 25 patterns to choose from. Color combinations to match any room. 31, 36 and 46 inches wide. Regular prices, 45c to 1.00 yard. To clear at, yard 29c

Three Big Floors of Furniture

McBride & Franks

431 George Phone 2069

"Bargain Shower!"

3 BIG DAYS

Saturday—the last day of 3 BIG DAYS—brings these added specials and repeats on outstanding values.

Spring needs for the home and family at prices that demand early shopping for best selection. You'll do better shopping at HALL'S.

FRILLED CURTAINS
Fine scrim, complete with tie-backs and valance. Suitable for average windows.
98c PAIR

COCO DOOR MATS
Regular 59c value. Thick, close and hard wearing. Size 13 x 22 inches.
49c

REVERSIBLE BATH MATS
Thick Turkish Towelling in shades of blue, rose, green and black. Useful size.
98c

72-INCH SHEETING
Good weighty quality in firmly woven, fully bleached white sheeting
39c Yard

MEN'S ALL-WOOL CARDIGANS
Fine all-wool, coat style, collarless. Plain shades and heather mixtures.
1.98

Bargain Value
MEN'S SPRING COMBINATIONS
Repeating our special offering of quality garments at about HALF-PRICE!
Long or short sleeve in ankle length; short sleeve, knee length. Sizes 34 to 44. Garment..... 69c
Buttonless and athletic styles in long or short sleeve, ankle length. Garment.. 87c

Silk Crepe Hose Special 69c
Buy them for their neat appearance, trimness, smartness and low price! Fashionably dull finished crepe from top to toe, and in a most inclusive range of new shades featured for Spring. Slight irregularities permit this low price, pair.....

Silk Crepe Costume Slips 1.29
You'll want more than one when you see the superior quality material used in making these Slips. Rich lace trim, adjustable shoulder straps and perfect fitting. White or tearose, in sizes 34 to 42. Sale price, each .....

FOR EASTER!
New Shades in "LUCKY 7" HOSE 89c
Pair
Just the right shades to compliment your Spring outfit. Silk to the top chiffons or more practical service weight. Sizes 8½ to 10½. Ask for Lucky 7 Hose.

SELECT NEW WOOL FABRICS
Clearing Yard 1.49
This great event brings added savings on quality Wool Coatings and Suitings. Choice of fancy and novel weaves, either in tweed mixtures or plain shades. All 54 inches wide. Splendid colorings!

Front or Back Lace
CORSETS 2.00
Wonderful value in a well made foundation garment for average figures. Pink coutil with spiral or straight boning, well reinforced through front. Sizes 24 to 34.

JOB LOT SALE OF WOMEN'S AND CHILDREN'S SILK UNDERWEAR
A timely offering of quality silk knit undies at about HALF THE REGULAR PRICE. Women's cuff knee and flared style panties in small, medium and large sizes. Children's cuff knee panties and bloomers in sizes 24 to 32. Colors in the lot, white, peach, pink, maize, sky. Share this super value tomorrow. Each 39c

REG. TO 79c SAMPLE GLOVES 25c
Chamois suede fabric glove samples purchased direct from the manufacturer and offered at an amazingly low price for Saturday. A most varied selection of pull on styles with fancy cuffs . . . stitching . . . appliques . . . plain tailored and some with organdy trims. White, brown, beige and grey. Sizes in the lot 6 to 8, BUT shop early, they will clear quickly at, pair .....

Special! Yard Wide TUB PRINTS 17c
Easily worth 23c yard. A host of pleasing patterns in bright and darker colorings for women's and kiddies' frocks. 36 inches wide. Get several dress lengths tomorrow at the low sale price for 3 BIG DAYS, yard .....

A GREAT SALE OF Factory Cottons
Specially Purchased
To Give You a Super Value at, Yard 15c
Not just ordinary Cottons, but weighty quality, close, evenly woven Cottons that will give great satisfaction and service. Full yard wide, free of specks, and a real buy at the sale price!

Linen Tea Towels
Feature Value, Each 15c
Closely woven Irish Linen Tea Towels with narrow striped border in blue or red. Splendid size, absorbent and so inexpensive! Get a supply and save!

Clearance Price on WHITE AND CREAM KID GLOVES
Reg. 1.98 Sale Price Pair 1.39
Pull-on style Gloves to wear with your tailored outfit or new dress. Real value on perfect quality, and a few slightly soiled lines that sold at much higher prices. Sizes in the lot, 6 to 7½. Shop early for choice of sizes.

MISSES' PULLOVERS
Suitable for wear with suits. Short sleeve styles in bright colors and color combinations. Sizes 34 to 38.
1.98

ALL-LINEN TOWELLING
Superior quality, extra wide width All-Linen Towelling in checks or stripes.
Yard 25c

EXTRAORDINARY VALUE!
Bath TOWELS
Good Large Size
Reg. Values to 45c Each 29c
What a value in big, thirsty Bath Towels! The kind you like for a brisk rub-down. White with checks and stripes, or with deep band border in solid colors. Size 22 x 44 inches. Replenish your stock during this sale!

Extra! MISSES PRINT CREPE FROCKS 3.95
Adorable little styles you'll love to wear right now, and for street wear when the warmer days come. Bright and pastel color patterns with novel trims and style effects. Also a few in women's styles. Sizes in the group, 14 to 44 .....

MARTHA WASHINGTON Home FROCKS
The styles are so different, the materials so fresh and crisp looking, and the price so reasonable, you will want them for general home wear. They're "dress-up" Frocks that are smart indeed. Sizes 14 to 51. Splendid value..... 1.49

CHIC APPAREL
AT INTERESTING LOW PRICES

NEW COATS
For Women, Misses and Juniors 9.95 to 19.50
A visit to our Coat Dept. will convince you that we have the most outstanding values in quality Coats. Correctly tailored and finished and in desirable styles and colors. Sizes 14 to 44. A Coat to suit your type and purse.

SMART FROCKS
Need not cost you more than 6.95—if you shop at HALL'S! Here we have a grand selection of snappy new styles in the new rough and blister crepes. All nattily trimmed and finished. Plain shades, high colors and some printed silks. Sizes 14 to 46 ..... 6.95

TAILORED TWEED SUITS
Are in for a big season, and we can assure you of the best in style and value, whether it be a Jacket Suit, Topcoat Suit or Swagger Suit. See our range, so moderately priced from..... 8.95 to 12.75

GET YOUR HAT AT HALLS
SAILORS, TAFFETAS, ALL TYPES
No matter what you want in a Hat you will find we have it. Individually styled models, brimmed, off-the-face, sailors and matrons' styles, in the newest straws, fabrics and taffetas. Seasonable shades. Special 3.95

RICHARD HALL, LIMITED

HIS LUMBAGO HAS NOT COME BACK

Keeps Free of it With Kruschen

There can be no doubt about the effectiveness of the remedy this man uses against lumbago. Read his letter:—

"About four years ago, I had a bad attack of lumbago. After being in hospital for two weeks taking heat treatment, I started taking Kruschen Salts. Since then, I am happy to say, I have not been troubled with lumbago. I shall still continue taking Kruschen to be sure the lumbago won't come back."—A. C. C.

Why it is that Kruschen is so effective in keeping lumbago at bay? Simply because it goes right down to the root of the trouble, and removes the cause, which is an impure bloodstream. The six salts in Kruschen keep the bloodstream pure and vigorous by promoting a clockwork regularity of all the organs of elimination.

FAREWELL SERVICE LAKEFIELD CHURCH

Rev. J. L. Burton Delivers His Final Sermon in St. Andrew's Church.

LAKEFIELD, April 5.—(Examiner Correspondence).—Rev. R. J. Burton preached his farewell sermon in St. Andrew's Church on Sunday evening when practically the entire congregation and many friends and well-wishers gathered.

Mr. Burton preached an appropriate and thoughtful sermon, reviewing the past and looking into the future with hope and confidence, asking for the blessing of God on the little Presbyterian group which has struggled from a small company into a congregation which is steadily growing, and with a comfortable and attractive place of worship.

The choir had prepared appropriate music, and the service marked another epoch in the history of the congregation.

Rev. and Mrs. Burton and their son, Douglas, leave this week for Moose Jaw, where Mr. Burton will have charge of a Presbyterian church. Mr. and Mrs. Burton came to Lakefield five years ago and have made a wide circle of warm friends in the village, in St. Andrew's congregation and in the village itself among those of other denominations. During their stay in the village several interesting events have occurred in the history of St. Andrew's Church. He followed the ministry of the late Rev. James Ross, who had gathered the little Presbyterian group together after the Union and formed them into a congregation, with a church building of their own as an objective.

A few months after Mr. Burton's arrival the corner-stone of the new church was laid, and several months later the basement was opened and used for services. In July of 1933 the church was opened for worship, and in October of the same year it was dedicated, and is now in regular use with a growing and loyal congregation. This progress is a tribute to the work of Rev. Mr. Ross and Mr. Burton and their co-operation with the congregation.

According to a recently made arrangement, Lakefield, Lakevale and Omemee are linked together in one congregation.

St. Andrew's Y.P.S.

The regular meeting of St. Andrew's Young People's Society was of a devotional character, and was under the direction of Miss Ethel Lake.

Mr. Roger Davis, president, was in the chair for the devotional part of the meeting. Mrs. A. H. Clark took the topic, "Beacons and Warnings," and Mrs. Shearer recited two poems with an appropriate theme. Arnold Matthews sang a solo, and at this point there was an interesting interlude where Roger Davis read a short address of heartiest appreciation of the work of Rev. and Mrs. Burton, and Mrs. Turk presented a purse of money on behalf of the congregation. Mr. Burton made a suitable reply, deeply touched by the expression of good-will.

Miss Ethel Blakeley contributed a brilliant piano solo, and Mrs. Chaplin led in hearty community singing. Mr. J. M. Simpson assisted in the devotional part of the meeting.

British House Lords Hear Murder Appeal

LONDON, April 5 (CP Cable).—Hearing of a murder appeal case, the second in history sent to the House of Lords, began to-day before Lord Sankey, the Lord Chancellor; the Lord Chief Justice, and the "Law Lords," Barons Atkins, Tomlin and Wright.

The appellant is 21-year-old Reginald Woolmington, Dorset farm laborer, accused of murdering his 17-year-old wife Kathleen by shots from a sawed-off shotgun.

At the original trial in the Somerset Assizes the jury disagreed. At the Bristol Assizes Woolmington was sentenced to hang. The Court of Appeal dismissed his appeal.

The new appeal to the highest tribunal follows the granting of a fiat by the Attorney-General on the ground legal points of importance had been raised in the course of the previous hearings.

The only other murder case ever heard by the House of Lord was 16 years ago.

Registration of new automobiles in South Africa last year was 25 per cent above that of 1933.

STILL IS SEIZED IN BEXLEY TWP.

W. J. Everson Faces Charge in Police Court in Lindsay.

SALARIES UNCHANGED

LINDSAY, April 5 (Examiner Correspondence) — At a session of the police court yesterday, W. J. Everson, a resident of Bexley Township was charged before Magistrate Gee with having approximately fifteen gallons of mash in his possession suitable for making intoxicating liquor contrary to the Excise Act. The accused was remanded for a week, owing to the illness of Corporal Woods.

At a meeting of the Board of Education on Wednesday night it was decided to make no increase in the salaries of the teachers during the present year. Last year the teachers voluntarily accepted a cut in salary. The Board had hoped to be able to restore the cut this year, but the precarious condition of the town's finances prevent such action.

Rev. J. R. Dickenson, M.A., was inducted into the pastoral charge of Kirkfield, Balsover and Eldon Station at a meeting of the Lindsay Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church held at Kirkfield this week. Rev. R. J. Craig, M.A., clerk of the Kingston Presbytery was nominated for the Moderatorship of the Synod of Toronto and Kingston at the same meeting. Rev. W. G. Smith, D.D., tendered his resignation of the charge at Glenarm.

Build Bicycle Rack Lakefield School

LAKEFIELD, April 5.—(Examiner Correspondence).—A regular meeting of the Lakefield Public School Board was held on Monday evening, with the chairman, Trustee H. R. Wagar, presiding, and present: Trustees F. Erskine, Miss Graham, C. J. Lake and E. J. Millage.

The finance committee presented a report recommending the payment of the following accounts: W. G. Morrison, insurance premium, $44; Ontario Teachers' and Ratepayers' Association, $6; village of Lakefield, fuel, $137.50; telephone, $2.96; educational prep. books, $9.56.

The report of the principal showed an enrollment of 244 pupils, distributed as follows: Miss Kidd, 27; Miss Madill, 34; Miss Carveth, 43; Miss Payne, 42; Miss Kennedy, 44; Mr. Chaplin, 54.

Miss Carveth's request for art supplies was granted on motion.

It was decided to remove the small toboggan slide and to build on the east side of the school a bicycle rack which will remedy a present nuisance.

It was decided to roll the playing field as soon as the ground is in condition, and to put in new back-stops. Plans for summer repairs to the building were discussed.

High School Board.

The regular meeting of the High School Board was held on Monday evening, with Trustee J. W. Ridpath in the chair, and present: Trustees R. Q. Dench, F. L. Erskine, Miss Graham and H. R. Wagar.

It was decided to vote $30 toward the expenses of the High School girls' chorus going to the Ontario Educational Association at Easter where they will represent Peterborough County in the singing competition.

Mr. Ridpath and Miss Graham were elected delegates to the O. E. A., representing the board.

Keep GOING with PEP

BETTER BRAN FLAKES

TREAT your appetite to genuine bran flakes. Crisp delicious flakes of wheat—with enough extra bran to be mildly laxative.

Kellogg's PEP Bran Flakes are truly better bran flakes. Packed with nourishment. Always crisp and ready to eat with milk or cream. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ont.

Campbellford High School Results

FORM V

Nine Subjects—
D. Barnum 65.5, G. McGee 44.7.
Eight Subjects—
L. Thomas 76.5, F. Joyce 63.1, B. Turner 55.8.
Seven Subjects
W. Thomson 69.2, J. Locke 54.4, L. Talling 52.1.
Six Subjects—
H. Hendy 57.5, E. Hall 51.6, B. Clarke 51, V. Cryderman 47.8.
Five Subjects—
K. Wilson 46.8.
Four Subjects—
A. Black 72.7, D. Owen 64.5, M. Faux 61.7, E. Stotts 44.7, I. Carew 40.7, M. MacKenzie 38, R. Murphy 36.8.
Three Subjects—
E. Third 61.3, A. Buchanan 61, J. Oddie 61, Mary Forestell 59.5, D. Lloyd 59, V. Clarke 57.3, D. Long 53, P. O'Sullivan 53, J. Coughlan 51, A. Abernethy 48, G. Bound 47, D. Callaghan 46.6, I. Russell 40.6, F. Atkinson 36.3, S. MacDonald 35.
Two Subjects—
O. Hoey 65.5, M. Hoey 62, H. Coxwell 58.5, J. Meier 40.
One Subject—
A. Bates 60, H. Maybee 52, J. Buchanan 51, G. Poulton 49.

FORM IV

Nine Subjects—
M. Milne 68.5, R. McCredie 43.3.
Seven Subjects—
J. Coughlan 62.7, J. Meier 46.4, G. Poulton 46.
Six Subjects—
E. Third 79.1, A. Buchanan 76.3, Mary Forestell 68.3, J. Oddie 66.1, O. Hoey 65.6, G. Bound 56.6, D. Long 57.3, D. Lloyd 56.3, A. Abernethy 52.3 V. Clark 51.6, D. Callaghan 47.6, P. O'Sullivan 47.1.
Five Subjects—
H. Maybee 69.2, S. Trotter 53.6, L. Stanbury 51.8, P. Atkinson 23.4.
Four Subjects—
P. Rutherford 62.2, K. Wilson 56.5, Marjorie Forestell 45.2, R. Murphy 37, M. Hoey 36.5.
Three Subjects—
K. Kingston 73.3, S. MacDonald 16.5.
Two Subjects—
B. Morton 72., V. Cryderman 53.5, D. Owens 44.5.
One Subject—
I. Carew 84, V. Webb 62.

Medicated!
Ingredients of Vicks Vapo-Rub in Convenient Candy Form
VICKS COUGH DROP

Mrs. Scott Is Hostess To Trent River Aid

TRENT RIVER, April 3.—(Examiner Correspondence). — The April meeting of the Ladies' Aid was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John H. Scott, with an attendance of over twenty. The president, Mrs. Gordon Shearer, had charge of the devotional exercises. Mrs. Shearer led in the Scripture reading. The secretary, Mrs. H. B. Wood, reported cards sent to the sick and more cards for this purpose were ordered.

One of the oldest and most highly esteemed members of the Ladies' Aid, Mrs. H. R. Wood, had a birthday anniversary Thursday, April 4. The aid members remembered the occasion with a birthday card.

The treasurer, Mrs. John H. Scott, reported the door receipts for the play, "Home Acres," recently held, $40.80. All outstanding bills were ordered paid.

The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. William Preston.

Mrs. George Dart gave a reading, "The Wise Family," and Mrs. Harry Mann a reading, entitled "A Little of Everything."

A hearty vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Scott for opening her home for the occasion. The collection amounted to $2.35.

Miss B. G. French had charge of a "Variegated Roses" contest, and Mrs. Shearer was the winner.

Dainty refreshments, consisting of tea, sandwiches, cakes, tempting salads and delicious jellies with whipped cream, were served.

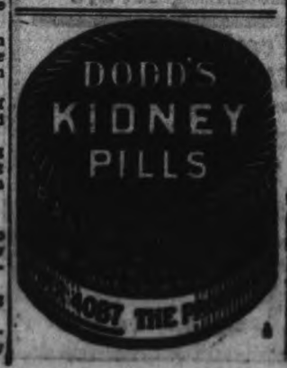
Mrs. Claud Insley has returned to Campbellford after spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Fransis Sutton.

Mrs. Walter Lewis is recovering from the effects of a severe cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Thompson and family moved Wednesday to Dummer, where Mr. Thompson has secured employment.

Mr. Millar, piano tuner, made his annual calls through this vicinity Wednesday.

Mr. John Lawson is able to be out again after being confined to his home suffering from the effects of a severe cold.



Dr. I. P. McCullough
Specialist
Phone 76-W 186 Brock Street
Peterborough
Eye Ear Nose Throat and Sinus Work
All styles of Frames and Glasses greatly reduced in price.
dtf-8273

Coal Prices Reduced
For Spring Delivery
BUY NOW
Nut Coal. . $13.75 per ton
Stove Coal. 14.00 per ton
Egg Nut . . 13.75 per ton
Pea Coal. . 11.75 per ton
Scotch Coal 15.50 per ton
Also Good Mixed Wood at $4.00 ½ Cord, Cut
PETERBORO FUEL & TRANSFER CO., LTD.
Phone 270.
3d-83-9915

AUTO LOANS and Re-Financing
1930 Models and Later
Private Sales
FINANCED.—SEE
G. W. LUNDY
95 Hunter St. W Phone 3258w
Representing
CAMPBELL AUTO FINANCE CO., LTD., TORONTO

REDUCED COAL PRICES
PRESENT PRICES FOR OUR BLUE COAL AS FOLLOWS:
Egg Coal 13.75 | Nut - 13.75
Stove Coal 14.00 | Pea - 11.75
Scotch - - - - - 15.50
WITH A CASH DISCOUNT OF 50c PER TON.
Also Pocahontas, Coke and Steam Coal. Good Mixed Wood at $4.00 Per ½ Card.
Est. J. E. A. FITZGERALD PHONE 110-111 233 HUNTER ST
3d-84-9914

HARRISON'S
NORTH END MARKETERIA PHONE 725 - 2116
WE DELIVER

BREAD Loaf 5c	ASPARAGUS TIPS 20c Can	NECK BONES 6 lbs. 25c
PINEAPPLE Can 10c	SUGAR 10 lbs. 51c	Fresh PICNIC HAMS 13c
PEAS Can 10c	Creamery BUTTER 23c lb. Limit 2 lbs. with 50c order.	Breakfast BACON 20c
RHUBARB Gal. Can 43c	MAPLE SYRUP Pint ..... 28c Quart 55c	BLADE ROAST BEEF 12c
SALT 5c pkg.	BLUE BERRIES 2 cans 25c	SHORT RIB OR RUMP ROAST 14c
Apple & Raspberry or Strawberry JAM Large jar 22c	DRIED PEACHES 20c lb.	Easter SMOKED HAMS 20c lb.
FLOUR 7 lb. bag .....25c 24 lb. bag 69c	ORANGES 25c Doz.	BEEF CUTTING 2 lbs. 25c
STRING BEANS 2 Cans 25c	Celery, Lettuce, Tomatoes, Green Onions, Carrots and all kinds of Fresh Fruits and Vegetables	MINCED STEAK 2 lbs. 25c

The Peterborough Examiner

PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, CANADA, FRIDAY, APRIL 5, 1935

LOCALS

SPECIAL

A real Mixed Wood (big per cent of Hardwood) as long as it lasts; $4.00 per half cord; cut Best value in city. Phone 110 J E A Fitzgerald; Coal and Wood
8d,83,9842

CHAS. THOMSON
TAILOR AND CLOTHIER
LAKEFIELD

Scotch and English Goods Gent's in cloth made up.
6d,29,30,4,5,11,12,9826

300 CORDS

dry mixed soft wood, $2.75 per ½ cord.—Baker's Wood Yard. 'phone 676.
2d,82,35

RED JACKET COAL
EGG OR LUMP
(Rescreened)
$9.50 per Ton, Delivered
Order through your dealers.
dtaf,8673

HARD COAL.

Lowest Spring prices on Anthracite Coal in effect to-day: Stove, $14.00 per ton; Nut and Egg, $13.75; Pea, $11.75; Scotch, $15.50.—Phone 96. McCarthy & Johnston.
dtf-9919

SWEET PEAS.

Plant quickly as possible for best results. Fancy Wavy Spencer Mixed, 35c per Oz. Petunias Snapdragon, Verbenas etc., should also be planted now. Peterborough Floral Co., 347 George Street. 3d-83-9907

Trade it in for a BULOVA

Never were values as great—and in addition we give you a liberal allowance on your old watch.

Here's the chance of a lifetime to get a new Bulova!

WARNE'S
D'AMOND HALL. PHONE 880

Be sure you attend the lecture and exhibit of fine SPODE CHINA, AT THE Y.M.C.A. Monday evening. Sponsored by (The Peter Robinson Chapter) I.O.D.E.

DON'T FAIL TO HEAR

Rev. H. L. Stephens, Evangelist, in Bethany Tabernacle, George Street, on Saturday Night at 7.45. Great United Evangelistic Meeting.
1d-82-9922

LOCAL AND LONG DISTANCE HAULING.

Everything handled with care. James Griffin. 'Phone 3033.
3d-84-9923

Members will parade at All Saints' Church at 6.45 p.m. on Sunday, April 7, for church service in conjunction with 21st Battalion Association. Speaker, Rev. Major Kidd. Officers of the Battalion—M. R. Sloan, Pres., Branch 53, Canadian Legion.
2d,84,9928

TO-NIGHT.

Colonel Jacobs of Toronto special speaker at the Salvation Army, 8.00 p.m.
1d-82-9926

BUY COAL AT NEW LOW PRICES

Also best grades Dry Wood, measured and cut to your order. — Thompson's. Phone 2280. 2d-83-9927

REVIVAL CRUSADE

"Equipped, Ready For Action" will be the Rev. H. L. Stephens' subject, at Park Street Baptist Church to-night at 7.45. Come and bring a friend with you.

SONS OF ENGLAND

Members of Lansdowne Lodge will meet to-night at 7.30 p.m. to make arrangements to attend the funeral of our late Brother J. Worboy.
G. Benton, President.
1d,82,306

P. McCulloch has retired as postman of Newtonstewart, England, after having walked and cycled over 170,000 miles in his 36 years of service.

Nazi Spy Reported In Haliburton Camp

LINDSAY, April 5 (Examiner Correspondence) — That a German military officer was on the clerical staff in the Northern Development Company camps north of Lindsay was revealed by the receipt of correspondence received at the camp a few days ago. The officer, along with a number of other men, were laid off, the former leaving for parts unknown. It has been learned that he was a member of the German Secret Service, and that the Correspondence contained instructions for him to report to the chief of staff in Berlin as soon as possible.

Magistrate's Court

Karl D. Sisson, former representative of the London Life Insurance Company here, was sentenced today to one month in the County Jail on four charges of theft by conversion of company funds. Sisson pleaded to five charges of theft totalling in value $114.50. Restitution of this amount was made.

While Magistrate Langley said he felt sorry for the accused, he considered the thefts too serious to grant suspended sentence. Suspended sentence was given on one charge, and Sisson was bonded for one year. He was given a month sentence on each of the other charges, sentences to run concurrently.

Rufus Newbatt, of Bancroft, was sentenced to ten days in the County Gaol for reckless driving. He will not be permitted to drive a car for five months, the Magistrate ordered. For driving without a permit, he was fined $10.00, and costs of $2.75, and in default an additional ten days in jail.

Huntsville's Bandit Sentenced To a Year

HUNTSVILLE. — Michael Corrigan of Renfrew, Ont., who perpetrated Huntsville's first hold-up a few days ago, was sentenced last night to one year at Guelph Reformatory. Corrigan entered Braund's drugstore, presented a pistol and demanded the contents of the till. Edward Braund, proprietor, kicked Corrigan into the street.

BLIND PIGS

WINDSOR, Ont., April 5 (CP) — Blind pigs, operating under the guise of tourist homes, are having adverse effect on the tourist trade here, declared Col. George H. Wilkinson at a meeting of the Retail Merchants' section of the Chamber of Commerce. Col. Wilkinson said he had personal knowledge of a man being relieved of "rolled" of his money in this type of place.

IN MEMORIAM

HUTCHINSON.—In fond and loving memory of Mrs. W. Hutchinson, who passed away four years ago to-day (April 5).

Two dear bright eyes, a tender smile,
A loving heart that knew no guile.
Deep trust in God that all was right,
Her joy to make some other bright.
If sick or suffering one she knew,
Some gentle act of love she'd do.
No thought of self, but of "the other";
I know He said, "Well done, dear Mother."

—Ever remembered by Husband and Family.

PICARD CONTINUES AUGUSTA GOLF PACE

Pro Completes Outgoing Nine of His Second Round in 35, One Under Par.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 5. (AP)—Tall Henry Picard, sharp-shooting professional from Hershey, Pa., continued to set the pace for the all-star field in the $5,000 Augusta Nation Invitation Golf Tournament to-day by negotiating the outgoing nine of his second round in 35, one under par, under soggy skies.

Bob Jones, one-time king of all the golfers, electrified the crowd by making a marvelous recovery and shooting the first nine in 33, three under par.

Picard burned up the course with a two-shot lead over his nearest rivals, Jimmy Hines of New York and Willie Goggin of San Francisco. Hines, with a 70 yesterday and outward 34 to-day, had 104. Goggins' first round 68 and a 36 this morning, including a penalty shot, gave him the same figure.

Ray Mangrum of Texarkana, Tex., who was tied with Goggin and Gene Sarazen for second place with his first round 68, lost a little ground by taking 37 for his first nine to-day and had a total of 105 for 27 holes.

Gardener Saw Friends When At Death's Door

KITCHENER, Ont., April 5 (C.P.).—A. F. Holland of Waterloo has received a letter from J. H. Puckering in England in which the English market gardener describes his sensations upon "coming back to life" after dying on an operating table and spending four and one-half minutes "in the other world."

He tells Mr. Holland he "saw" an old friend of his who had died eight years ago, and his friend smiled and waved to him. He also saw a number of other people he knew, he said. His experience convinces him there is nothing to fear from death and he does not believe there is a literal hell.

MILLINERS STRIKE.

TORONTO, April 5.— (C.P.) — Mounted and foot constables were called to-day when several score members of the Millinery Workers' International Union picketted outside the Peters building which housed one of the firms whose workers are on strike.

When the sidewalk became crowded and police orders to disperse went unheeded, mounted officers took to the sidewalk and moved the crowd.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE.

Canada Packers F.C. players will hold a practice on Exhibition Grounds on Saturday afternoon.

SPEEDY REPORT ON EDEN'S TOUR ASKED BY PRESS

London Mail Questions Purpose of Including Russia in Assistance Pact.

DRAG POLAND IN WAR.

LONDON, April 5 (C.P. Cable).—The Daily Mail to-day pressed for early and exact information on the British conversations in Berlin, Moscow, Warsaw and Praha on European security.

"Caution is particularly necessary," said the Daily Mail, "in view of Henri Bourassa's denunciation in the House of Commons at Ottawa Monday of any British participation in the Eastern Locarno pact."

The newspaper submitted two specific questions: "Will those inside and outside the Government who advocate a pact of mutual assistance between Britain, France, Italy and Russia, tell us what purpose is served by including Russia? The most superficial study of the map shows she could only help other parties by flying or moving troops some 500 miles or more across Poland to reach her objectives. Any such movement across Poland would be an infraction of Polish neutrality and instantly bring Poland into a war as an ally of Germany."

The second question was of almost equal importance, the Daily Mail added. It was this: "Will the advocates of such a pact explain what Italy could do to uphold it in the event of its breach by Germany? Any movement of Italian troops into Austria any movement of Italian aircraft over Austrian territory, would of course infringe Austria's neutrality as Germany infringed Belgium's neutrality in 1914."

ORDER THESE SPECIAL OFFER
1 gal. Varsol Safe Dry Cleaner, 1 lb. Jap-a-Lac Wax, regularly 95c. Special for one week, 75c for both, delivered.
'Phone 257
The CHOATE HARDWARE
38 HUNTER ST. E

SPECIAL SALE
- OF -
ELECTRIC FIXTURES
April 6th to April 20th
33⅓% DISCOUNT
off Every Fixture in Our Showroom!
Cost and Below Cost!
MILLER-POWELL COMPANY

GORDON HUDSON'S TWO STORES
Meats Groceries

LOCKE & LANSDOWNE Phones 2702-2703	PARK & ELM 2710-2711
Country Style Sausage	2 lbs. 25c
Fresh Picnic Hams, lb.	13c
Fresh Cut Tenderloin, lb.	28c
Neck Bones	6 lbs. 25c
Rolled Prime Rib Beef, lb.	18c
Breakfast Bacon. Machine sliced	25c
Veal Rolls, lb.	15c
Fresh Trimmed Butts Pork, lb.	17c
Thick Plate Rib of Beef, lb.	7c
Granulated Sugar	10 lbs. 50c
Choice Creamery Butter, lb.	26c
Domestic or Jewel Shortening	2 for 23c
Pastry Flour, Delight	24 lbs. 69c
Lipton's Tea	½ lb. pkg. 27c
Seedless Raisins	2 lbs. 23c
Toilet Tissue	7 Rolls 25c
Classic Cleanser	2 cans 9c
Woodbury's Facial Soap, bar	10c

GIRLS
who lag behind in their studies and complain of fatigue may need glasses. Have her eyes thoroughly examined by
CRICHTON
179 CHARLOTTE STREET
(Next Parkers'). Phone 3475J

Don't Experiment with Risky Chemicals or Tweezers
Use Electrolysis
For the Only Safe and Permanent Removal of
HAIR ON THE FACE
ANNE GRAHAM LOGAN
DERMATOLOGIST
Formerly of Hiscott Institute
12 Years Experience
180½ HUNTER W
PHONE 3102

CATS WANTED
with Kittens, 2 to 4 days old.
Phone 990 r 22

◆ THE MAYFAIR ◆
TO-NIGHT
LADIES' DOOR PRIZE — MYSTERY NUMBER PRIZES
ADMISSION 10 CENTS — DANCING 5 CENTS

FROM MAKER — HIGH TOP BOOTS — TO WEARER FINE SHOES MADE TO MEASURE
—WE GUARANTEE TO FIT—
WORK BOOTS
We use only the Best Canadian Calf, Imported Calf, Vici Kid, Genuine Scotch Grain, and the Best Wearing and Water-resisting Leathers for High Top Boots and Work Boots. Don't Delay—Avoid the rush this Spring, and LEAVE YOUR ORDER NOW.
We keep a Complete Stock of Our Own Make of WORK BOOTS AND HIGH TOP BOOTS.
INGRAM'S
CUSTOM SHOEMAKING AND SHOE REPAIRING
430 GEORGE STREET (Next Door to Louis Green, Tailor)

At GOSSELIN'S CIGAR SHOPS
348 GEORGE ST. — 99 HUNTER ST. W.

Briar Pipes—All sizes. Extra value..	25c	Tobacco Pouches—Wallet style	15c
Cigars—Special ...	7 for 25c	Shaving Cream—Brushless, metholated. Tube	19c
RAZOR BLADES— To fit new and old style Gillettes	15 for 25c

Poker Hands Exchanged — Issuer of Hunting Licenses

LINDSAY BOYS' BAND WILL GIVE CONCERT
IN —ST. PAUL'S PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—
TO-NIGHT, at 8.15 P.M.
The Lindsay Boys' Band won Second Prize at the C.N.E. last year, and since then the organization has procured 16 new instruments. Band includes Youngest Boy Cornet Soloist in Canada (Murray Wright), also Lloyd Hale, Baritone Soloist, and Hilton Manning, Tenor Soloist.
MARTIN B. CHENHALL, JR., Director. SILVER COLLECTION.

AT ASHBY'S
MASSEY AND RED BIRD C.C.M. BICYCLES
Are again Leaders for Long Life, Easy Riding and Economy of Upkeep.
Bicycle Tires and Accessories, Dunlop Tires and Tubes.
Repairs On All Makes of Bicycles ● Largest Stock in the City.
ASHBY'S Rubidge & Dalhousie Phone 546
2d-3-5

GOSELIN RED & WHITE 100 PARK S. Phone 1067
MEAT SPECIALS!
Choice Lambs' Liver, Special ..... 2 lbs. 25c
Veal Rolls, any size ..... lb. 14c
Choice Baby Beef Round Shoulder Roast ..... lb. 11c
Rib or Chuck Roast ..... lb. 11c
Flank Rolls ..... lb. 9c
Rump Roast, large, 10c—small ..... lb. 12c
Sirloin or Porterhouse Roast ..... lb. 15c
Sliced Breakfast Bacon ..... lb. 25c

We Have Everything For Spring Cleaning at Prices to Please the Thrifty Housewife

NEW Spring equipment for every department of the household . . . cooking utensils for the kitchen . . . cleaning utensils for the entire house . . . tools for the workshop and garden . . . all of fine quality and low price.

Let us make your Spring cleaning easier this year by supplying you with the following:

Flaxsoap	25c	Paint Cleaner	20c
Bon-Ami	15c	Moore's Picture Hangers	15c
Silver Polish	15c and 25c	Weighted Floor Polishers	1.89
Mop Handles	15c	Steel Wool, per pkg.	5c
Mop Cloths	20c	"Brillo" Aluminum Cleaner	15c
Dusting and Polishing Floor Mops	49c to 1.75	Scrub Brushes	15c and 25c
Brass Polish	15c and 25c	Solpar, for cleaning hardwood floors	40c and 60c
Furniture Polish	15c and 25c	Clothes Line Pulleys,	15c, 25c and 50c
Floor Wax	35c	Self-Polishing Wax, for Linoleums, qt.	95c
Clothes Lines	25c and 35c
Wallpaper Cleaner	19c

Use SHERWIN-WILLIAMS
Paints and Varnishes for your Spring painting. They make a paint for every purpose.
Pratten Hardware
396 GEORGE STREET — PHONE 2710

"It's Confidence That Does It"
KRUSHED WHEAT BREAD— Brown, new, ideal product ..... 2 for 25c
FREE—1 Skipping Rope with $1 Purchase of Goods
BABY BEEF—Another shipment of the Tender Young Beef for the meat lovers.

Leg Fillets Veal, boneless, Prime Rib Rolled, Meaty Pork Chops 22c	Roasting CHICKENS lb. 25c
Prime Beef. Blue Label Always Tender Rolled Pot Roast Beef Cottage Minced Steak. 10c 10c	Tenderloin and Small Spare Ribs
FREE 1 Northern Tissue with every	3 for 25c

Home Baking, Muffins, Cakes, Tarts, Drop Cakes and Cookies
PORTER S. WHITE CO.
PHONES 2980-2981 — 348 CHARLOTTE

SOUTH AFRICA IS DESCRIBED

Otonabee Chapter is Given Address by Miss S. A. Tomkins.

AID WARRIOR'S BALL.

At the regular meeting of the Otonabee Chapter I.O.D.E., held on Wednesday afternoon at the Y.W.C.A., a very interesting talk on South Africa was given by Miss S. A. Tomkins.

There was a good attendance at the meeting and reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and adopted.

On request, the Chapter made a donation to a Life Membership fund in the National Chapter, for Mrs. Oscar Maine, treasurer for the past twelve years. A donation was also made towards the Warrior's Ball.

A vote of thanks was accorded Mrs. G. A. Borland and Mrs. A. E. Edmonds, for convening two very successful bridge parties recently, at Mrs. Borland's home, and gratitude was also expressed to Mrs. E. W. Harvey for donating tally cards for the parties.

Mrs. H. W. Darcy and Mrs. E. P. Lawrence, councillors for the month of April, will be convenors for a bridge party to be held during the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, April 9th, at Mrs. Darcy's home.

A committee was appointed to make plans for observing the twentieth anniversary of the Chapter, this year.

RYLSTONE

The Rylstone Community League held their meeting last week at the Union School No. 18 with an attendance of twenty. General business discussed, scripture reading by Mrs. Lillian Anderson, devotional talk by Mr. Foley. The citizenship convenor, Miss Pearle Stewart took charge of the following program: Current events were given by Vivian Meiklejohn; reading, "The Souls' Sincere Desire" by Vera Finch; topic, "With Whom Can We Ally Ourselves." by Pearle Stewart; piano solo, Mrs. F. M. Rutherford; reading, Molly's little Lambs" by Della Mumby. Contest was given by Laura Foley.

Miss Helen McInroy spent a few days last week with Miss Jerrine Thomson.

An enjoyable time was spent at the home of Mr. Fred Rutherford on Friday evening when they gave a party to a large number of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. James Doupe and children spent Thursday evening at the home of Mr. James F. Finch.

Mrs. Annie Buchanan returned to her home near Campbellford after spending a few days with her brother, Mr. James Francis Finch.

Mr. Herbert Spencer and Miss Winnie Spencer were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Spencer, Campbellford.

Miss Jean Stewart spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart.

British, U.S. Beauties To Vie In Contest

LONDON April 5 (CP-Havas) — London is looking forward to a three-cornered beauty contest featuring 16 British girls handpicked by Charles B. Cochran, British theatre and screen producer, 16 girls from the United States, and 16 others chosen by The Daily Mail from among its readers.

The contest was first to be a clear-cut issue between British and American girls. Cochran offered to match the 16 girls who will appear in one of his West-End revues against any similar American team in Great Britain. He offered to stake $500 on his team.

This led The Daily Mail to stage yet another beauty competition. It invited its young women readers to send in their pictures, from which a team will be assembled.

Quebec Women Will Carry Call For Vote to Throne

MONTREAL, April 5. (CP).—Undaunted by the rejection for nine consecutive years of their efforts to obtain a vote in Quebec provincial elections, the women of Quebec will carry a petition to the British throne at the time of King George's silver jubilee this year seeking "an expression of benevolent sympathy and approval."

Announcement to this effect was made last night by Idola Saint Jean, president of the Canadian Alliance for Women's Votes in Quebec, during a public address here.

"On the occasion of a Royal jubilee prisoners see their chains fall. May the women of this province have their chains weakened by the petition addressed to our King" Miss Saint Jean said.

Your Health

by DR LOGAN CLENDENING

The variations in blood pressure that result naturally were discussed yesterday in this column. By naturally, I mean such variations as occur during the day, during the year, in different climates and races of men.

But there are other things which influence it besides—things over which we have control. Among agents that are extrinsic, the most marked change is made by tobacco. A normal healthy man smoking a cigar will have his blood pressure raised about 20 to 25 points. This is not quite so true in the confirmed smoker but is fairly true all the time.

Alcohol No Influence

Alcohol appears to have no influence whatever upon the blood pressure, one way or the other. Psychical states have a very marked effect upon blood pressure, and heated argument may raise the systolic pressure in a short time as much as 40 points. A professor who lectured to a class from 12 to 1, had a pressure of 120 at 11:55, and 140 at 2 minutes after 1. By 1:22 it had sunk to 110. Muscular exercise produces a constant rise in pressure. External temperature has slight influence on it, but if the temperature is changed in the form of a bath, the influence may be considerable.

Neither coffee nor tea raises the blood pressure to any extent, but both increases the rate of the passage of blood through the heart and kidneys and other organs.

It is not to be understood that this means that the use of tobacco will create a permanent state of high blood pressure. Indeed, people who have normal circulatory systems can and, as everbody can observe, do smoke through a long life without developing anything resembling the state called high blood pressure.

There are few substances which we ordinarily take which lower blood pressure to any extent. The drugs known as the nitrites do this but they are used only for medicinal purposes.

Low Pressure Not Serious

Low blood pressure is not of any real significance, unless it becomes very low. People frequently ask me what they should do for low blood pressure. My invariable answer is: "Get down on your knees and thank God for it."

It means, in my opinion, that the individual has an elastic set of arteries and that they will continue to stay elastic and that a long life is in store for him.

This applies to moderately low pressure. When blood pressure is very low, it means that there is a general debilitated condition of the body. Specifically, this debilitated condition is usually tuberculosis. Dr. Lander Brunton of England told a story of taking the blood pressure of every member of a class of medical students. One of them had an extremely low and persistently low reading. He was carefully examined but no cause for it could be found. Two years later Dr. Brunton was visiting a tuberculosis sanitarium when one of the patients approached him and recalled to him his identity—as the student with the low pressure. He had developed unmistakable signs of tuberculosis a year and a half after the low blood pressure reading was made.

Dr. Brunton used to say that when he found a very low blood pressure he instinctively thought of tuberculosis.

FASHION SERVICE

3038

DAINTY SMALL DAUGHTER

Even the smallest young lady of the house needs must be a little more feminine these days. This cute party dress is crisp sheer white organdie embroidered in pale blue dots with blue taffeta ribbon trim. It's also adorable for more practical year in dotted dimity, candy striped batiste, pastel lawn, etc.

Style 3038 is designed for sizes 2, 4 and 6 years. Size 4 requires 1¼ yards of 35-inch material and 5 yards of 2-inch ribbon.

The Examiner:
Please order for me—
Pattern Number .....
Size .....
My Name .....
Address .....
.....
I enclose 15c in payment — Allow five days for return

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

CONTRACT BRIDGE

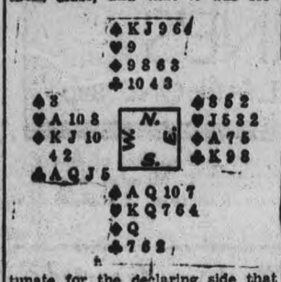
By E. V. Shepard
"Teacher of Teachers"

FORCING THE STRONG HAND THE LEAD

Frequently there is an advantage in having the opening lead come up of tenaces, instead of going through them. When partners have both shown strength, as West and his partner had done with today's hand, there may be an advantage in having the single strong opponent make the opening lead, up to the lesser strength of the second member of the declaring side. This probably accounts for West's unusual bidding.

Bidding went: South, 1-heart; West, doubled; East, 2-clubs, his lowest three-card suit, as he had to respond on so dubious a heart stop as 4 to a J; South passed, hoping that West might shift into spades; West, 3-diamonds, forcing another call from East; East, 4-diamonds; West, 5-clubs, expecting that his partner held at least four trumps.

As expected, the opening lead was the K of hearts. Dummy's ace won. Three rounds of trumps luckily pulled all opposing clubs, leaving dummy with a long trump. Not until then did West realize that his partner had held only three clubs, and that it was fortunate for the declaring side that opposing trumps had been divided 3-3.



East" K of clubs won the fourth trick played, taking his last trump. He led his lowest heart. South's Q won the trick. When North showed out South knew that the declarer held the missing J of hearts, but he might not hold the missing ace of diamonds. South took the second defensive trick for his side with the ace of spades, then dummy was put in with a heart, as the exposed hand had nothing left to lead except diamonds or the long trump.

The 2 of diamonds was led from dummy and the declarer was in with the missing ace of diamonds, capturing South's lone Q. If South had not been wise enough to take his ace of spades when in, dummy's lone spade would have been discarded on the declarer's J of hearts, giving the declaring side a small slam, without mentioning the remarks which North might have addressed to his partner had the latter allowed East to make a small slam against an opening lead.

Had North and South known that opponents were going to fulfill a game contract at a minor suit, it would have paid well to bid 5-spades, as neither side was vulnerable. Going down three tricks doubled, costing 450 points, would have been less expensive than giving opponents a game.

Household Hints

By MRS. MARY MORTON

Menu Hint

Rice and Salmon Loaf Cole Slaw
Apple Sauce Graham Crackers
Milk Tea

This is a very economically balanced meal. Oatmeal cookies might be substituted for the crackers, the raisins in them giving more food value. For a family of young children to have enough to satisfy their appetites is more important than the variety of food, provided the meal is well balanced.

Today's Recipes

Rice and Salmon Loaf.—Two cups hot, cooked rice; two cups flaked salmon, dash pepper, juice of one-half lemon, two tablespoons melted butter or margarine. Mix rice with salmon, tossing the ingredients together lightly. Add slightly beaten eggs and remaining ingredients. Put into a greased baking dish, set in a shallow pan of water and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, about 45 minutes. Serve with a creamed mushroom or tomato sauce.

Angel Food Pie

One cup crushed pineapple, one cup granulated sugar, one cup water, one-half teaspoon salt, three tablespoons cornstarch, two egg whites, one-half pint whipping cream. Place pineapple, sugar, salt and water in double boiler and mix well. When mixture is hot add the cornstarch, which has been mixed with a little water, stirring while adding. Cook 20 minutes, cool. Beat the egg whites very stiff and fold in the pineapple mixture. Place in baked pie shell and cover with sweetened whipped cream.

BEE HIVE
GOLDEN
CORN SYRUP
A GREAT ENERGY FOOD

LAUGHTON PUTS LINCOLN ON PAR WITH SHAKESPEARE

NEW YORK, April 5. (AP). — Charles Laughton, English actor, places Abraham Lincoln on a par with William Shakespeare.

Returning from London yesterday he reported the rendition of Lincoln's Gettysburg address during a scene of his recent picture, "Ruggles of Red Gap," held the British spellbound.

"No one in London, probably, had ever heard the Gettysburg address" he said. "But they were fascinated by the sheer beauty of the words. The address is sheer poetry, and stands up against anything ever written by Shakespeare. You can't beat dialogue by Abraham Lincoln."

LAST DAY BARGAINS!

Saturday the Sale of the Hodgens Co. Stock Ends

When the doors close Saturday night it will be over. Come and share in the savings.

RainCoats. All perfect	69c	Real Leather Bags, up to 3.95	1.29
Voile and Print Dresses	69c	Girl's Broadcloth Pyjamas	95c
Bathing Suits, up to 1.50	69c	Foundation Garments to 2.50, for	95c
Scarfs, up to 1.25	69c	Leather and Silk Bags, up to 1.95	95c
Ladies' Wool Skirts	69c	Scarfs, up to 1.00, for	95c
Girdles and Corselettes	69c

NEW SPRING HATS 1.19

Children's all wool and silk and wool Hose. Sand or white	25c
All Wool Baby Blankets. Up to 2.25	95c
Organdie and Crepe Collars	25c
Light and Medium Weight Vests	25c
Infants Coats, Bonnets, etc.	49c
Silk Hose, up to 1.50. Various shades	49c
Chamois Suede and Silk Gloves. Reg. 1.00 to 2.00	49c
4 Odd Winter Coats. Easily made over. Silk lined	1.95
1 black Tricotine Coat. Good style. Misses' size	3.49
1 Navy Suit. Worth more than this price	1.95
Tweed Suits and Coats. Sizes 16 and 20	2.95
Summer Dresses. Reg. up to 5.95	2.95

25 ODD BETTER DRESSES

Light and dark. Crepe, georgette, organdie. All away LESS THAN HALF PRICE.

Ladies' Wool Sweater Coats 1.29

Special Tables

Choice 5c Choice 9c

Scores of Articles on Each Table

Sale at 331 George Street

PHONE 3610

ZELLERS STORE NEWS

New Frocks! Attractive Tub Silk Frocks in the always popular candy stripes. Our assortment includes smart tailored styles for the misses and youthful styles for women. Sizes ranging from 14 to 44, at a price for any purse 1.98

Collar and Cuff Sets
In pique, organdie and lace. White and pastels. The kind that add a soft touch to your severest dress. Set..... 49c

KID GLOVES - - - - 1.69
Four-button length, with wide flared cuffs. In black, navy, eggshell, sand and grey.

HOUSE DRESSES - - - 59c
Special feature of Tubfast Print House Dresses in a variety of styles. Short sleeves and cape sleeves. Sizes 36 to 44.

ARTIST SMOCKS - - 1.00
Quite "the rage" with the younger set for home and office wear. Come in and see our assortment, so reasonably priced 1.00

Children's 3-Piece Swaggers 8.24
All-wool materials. Full length coat. Skirt with detachable shoulder straps. Hat to match. Sizes 3 to 16 years .....

TUB SILK COATS
For the tots, in pastel shades and clever styles..... 1.29

Axminster Rugs
27 x 48, in very attractive colors and designs. Special Saturday. 1.98

Curtain Scrim
With ruffle or scalloped edge. White with pink, blue, green or maize trim. Yard..... 8c

Factory Cotton
Repeat offering of that good 37-inch Unbleached Cotton. Saturday, yard..... 10c

KIDDIES'
Reefers
Navy blue with emblem on sleeve. All-wool and lined. Sizes 4 to 10 years..... 1.98

Spring Coats
Double - breasted princess style, in skipper blue, Copen., tan and fawn. Sizes 6 to 10 years 3.98

REAL SILK
Dresses and Rompers
Lovely for the wee ones, in a variety of dainty pastel shades. So inexpensive..... 1.00

Organdie Dresses
In pink, blue, green and maize, with large white collars and cuffs. Hat to match. Sizes 2, 4 and 6 years. Complete..... 1.00

Krinkle Crepe NIGHTIES AND PYJAMAS
79c and $1
The Nightgowns are tailored with V neck, dainty pipings. Pyjamas with extra wide trouser legs, trimmed with hemstitching and piping .....79c and 1.00

Ladies' Pullovers
Pure wool, with short sleeves, in an array of styles and colors. All sizes 98c

Men's Shirts and Shorts
Shorts of good quality striped broadcloth with elastic back. White Cotton Jerseys. All sizes. Garment. 25c

Men's Work Shirts
Extra heavy blue drill. Cut on generous lines. Sizes 14½ to 17..... 79c

Men's Work Pants
Cotton tweed, dark patterns. Sizes 32 to 42. Pair..... 1.00

Men's Hose
Fancy cotton. Good variety of patterns. Pair..... 15c

Ladies' Cotton Vests and Bloomers
White and pink, plain rib or silk stripe. Sizes small, medium and large. Each..... 25c

ALUMINUM WARE
Coffee Percolators, Pots, Pans, Roasters and many other useful pieces. Special 54c

Pantry Specials
Assorted Cakes, lb. 15c
Large Lemons, doz. 15c
Large, Juicy Oranges, doz. 25c
Seedless Grapefruit, 7 for 25c

Candy Features
Rum and Butter Kisses, lb. 15c
Salted Spanish Peanuts, lb. 15c
Nougatines 15c
Log Cabin Chocolates, lb. .25c
Chocolate Ginger, ½ lb. ..15c

NEIGHBORLY NOTES

Please Phone Items to 1600 or 1601

A very happy gathering took place recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Northey of North Smith township, when thirty of their relatives and friends met to offer congratulations on the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of their wedding. The evening was pleasantly spent in social intercourse and games, with dancing by the juniors. A number of pretty and useful gifts were received by the hosts. At midnight, a delicious supper was served by Mrs. Northey assisted by members of the family. Guests present included Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Northey, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Northey and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Northey, Mrs. Albert Northey, Mrs. D. W. Blewett, Mr. John Harrison, Miss Fern Harrison, Mr. Irwin Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dever and Mr. Stephen Harrison, all of North Smith; Mrs. C. E. Kennedy, Miss Bernice Kennedy, Mr. Alex Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. H. Tamblin and family, Miss Mildred Northey, Mr. Bob Sutherland, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Oliver, of Peterborough.

* * *

Mr. Joseph Crocker and his two daughters, the Misses Mabel and Annie, of Rubidge street, left this week for Port Erie, Ontario, to embark in the grocery business there. Miss Annie Crocker, who for many years was a member of the sales staff of the Richard Hall Store, was presented by the girls of the different departments, with a Kenwood blanket, prior to her departure. Miss Crocker has been a valued and faithful member of the staff and will be missed alike by her associates and the customers who had the benefit of her willing and pleasant service.

* * *

A Spring tea and cooking sale under the auspices of the Queen Mary Home and School Association will be an event of to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon, at the school.

* * *

Mrs. Harry Pope, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. F. H. Dobbin of Reid street, for the past week, has returned to her home in Westmount, Montreal.

* * *

The engagement is announced of Mary Kathleen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Stalker of Simcoe, Ontario, to Mr. A. Gordon Skinner, B.S.A., of Cayuga, only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Skinner of Cobourg. The marriage will take place very quietly at the end of April.

* * *

Miss Alma Duffy, a pupil of St. Mary's Convent, has received her certificate for Grade Five Theory (Harmony, History, Counterpoint and Form), with honors, in examinations conducted recently by the Toronto Conservatory of Music.

* * *

Mrs. C. R. Widdifield of Galt (formerly Miss Marion Denne of Peterborough, daughter of Mr. T. H. G. Denne), has been elected as the new president of the South Waterloo Women's Liberal Association.

* * *

Under the auspices of the Show committee of the Peterborough Horticultural Society, a euchre party was held on Tuesday evening in the Orange Hall on Brock street. In very closely-contested games, the winners were Mesdames Parsons, G. W. Clarke, Lucas, G. Trennum and Messrs. S. T. Harris and O'Brien. A beautiful cake donated by Mrs. Chris Plunkett was awarded to Mr. F. Dainton as holder of the lucky chair. In the unavoidable absence of the chairman of the Show committee, Mr. J. A. Smith, the duties of Master of Ceremonies were ably performed by Mr. F. J. Dunnitt.

* * *

Summer residents of the Chemong Park colony will be interested in knowing that Mr. J. H. Jamison, manager of the Canadian Department Stores, has purchased the cottage owned by the late Mr. A. E. Micks.

* * *

The engagement is announced of Elma, younger daughter of Mrs. W. H. Finkle and the late William Herbert Finkle of Trenton, to Dr. R. Charles Adams, only son of Mrs. F. Adams of Trenton and the late Frederick Adams, the marriage to take place quietly in May.

* * *

Mrs. G. H. Duncan of 455 Hunter street west lent her home yesterday for a very pretty and well-attended tea held under the auspices of the Women's Association of Murray street Baptist Church. The ladies were received by the hostess, with Mrs. J. H. Sutcliffe and Mrs. R. Gavine, president of the society, and were shown to the tea room by Mrs. Bert Jackson. The general convenor was Mrs. D. A. Loomis and Mrs. Walter Kidd acted as treasurer. Tea was poured by Mrs. S. Cottingham and Mrs. George Johnson, assisted by Mrs. M. Seymour and Miss Nellie Stenton. The replenishment of refreshments was in the hands of Mrs. J. Kingsbury and Mrs. Hanlan Sisson. The table was very tastefully arranged in a combination of mauve, yellow and silver. A fillet lace cloth was centered by a silver bowl filled with mauve tulips and yellow daffodils, and mauve and yellow candles were in silver holders. The service was of silver, also the little dishes holding colored mints. During the tea hour, very pleasant music was provided by two small ladies, little ten-year-old Adele Fitzgerald playing the piano and also playing accompaniments for songs by six-year-old Betty Mather. A sale of home-made cooking was supervised by Mrs. S. Gillespie and Mrs. Harold Foster.

* * *

On Wednesday evening, the Women of the Moose held a special gathering in honor of the visit of the Deputy Grand Regent of Canada, Mrs. Josephine Jackson of Toronto. Plans were made for the forthcoming Moose convention to be held in Kitchener in August, also for a District meeting to be held here in September. Members of the men's Moose organization were guests of the evening, which was brought to a close by the service of refreshments and a pleasant social hour.

For Those Favoring Tweeds For Spring Wear

These Models Both Versatile and Serviceable

Left, sports model; centre, tweed ensemble; right, swagger coat.

By LISBETH

Among the new fashions for spring, tweeds are receiving first consideration due to their versatility and serviceability.

A tweed coat is essential to a well-planned wardrobe, and the smart woman will include one of the attractive new garments in her new spring clothing budget.

The three models, shown above proclaim the strong tweed influence on this spring's fashions.

and blouse. The coat, skirt and lower part of the blouse are of brown tweed, and a knitted mixture of taupe and brown makes the top of the blouse.

The model pictured at left is a sports tweed coat of multi-colored tones, made with a yoke and gathered fullness in the back, belted at the waist, and double breasted in front in classic reefer lines.

The swagger tweed coat for sport wear, pictured right, is a delightful and smart change from the severe tailleur of the season. This chic tweed coat has graceful swinging lines with an unusual yoke and sleeves cut all in one.

Just a little more practical is the simple, loose fitting tweed coat, center, which has a matching skirt

* * *

A very practical and striking version of the three-piece suit, so popular this spring, is composed of an easy fitting top coat, navy mannish tailored suit with red buttons, red lining in both suit jacket and top coat, and a plaid taffeta scarf, or all navy blue scarf, whichever you prefer.

* * *

Quilted taffeta is winning instant acclaim. A very striking costume with a silk quilted taffeta jacket is shown for afternoon wear. With this is worn a black silk crepe skirt and white crepe blouse with an ascot tie attached. A stitched taffeta sailor in black with a narrow white grosgrain band of white completes this ensemble.

Governor Of Memel Resigns His Position

KAUNAS, April 5 (C.P.-Havas).—Dr. Jonas Navakas, Governor Klaipeda (Memel) Territory, resigned to-day. The resignation followed yesterday's German protest over anti-Nazi demonstrations in Kaunas.

Governor Navakas is believed to have resented the implied infringement of his authority and competence which the German protest contained. His resignation is also understood to be concerned with the policy of moderation which Great Britain, France and Italy have advised Lithuania to adopt in its attitude toward German Nazi agitators.

Five People Are Held In Hijacking Racket

TORONTO, April 5 (C.P.).—Two men and three women, all of Toronto, were held by police to-day on charges arising out of what police said was a wholesale parcel hijacking racket. The arrests followed the slugging of a truck driver who caught the men stealing parcels from a truck last night.

PLAINVILLE.

The April meeting of the W.M.S. and W.C.T.U. was held in the basement of the church Wednesday afternoon. There was a good attendance. The W.M.S. meeting took the form of an Easter service. Mrs. Lauder gave a short talk on "Peace" in the heart, home, social circles and national. During the program, in charge of Miss Charlotte Tinney, Mrs. John Linton read a beautiful poem. In the W.C.T.U. program Miss Lucy Lauder gave a reading and Mrs. Hartley Halsteid a piano solo. Lunch was served at the close by Mrs. William Gordon's group.

Our sympathy is extended to the relatives and friends of the late Mrs. Wilson. The funeral was held on Thursday afternoon from the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Buttar.

On Tuesday evening the Young People's meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Manley. The A.Y.P.A. of St. Anne's, Bewdley, were also present. The regular meeting of the Y.P.S. was under the leadership of Malcolm Buttar. Scripture reading and explanation were taken by Willie Cameron and Mildred Dines, and the topic by Gerald Lander. A contest and progressive crokinole followed the meeting, with lunch served at the close. There were fifty-five present.

Be Beautiful

By GLADYS GLAD

"Dear Miss Glad: I've often wondered how those cinema stars of ours always manage to preserve such smooth, satiny lips. My lips, while they always retain a pleasing smoothness in the summertime, often become rough and chapped during the cold months. Could you possibly suggest a remedy?

"IRENE."

Rough, chapped lips often result during the cold weather, because the perspiratory and oil glands fail to keep the skin sufficiently lubricated. I would suggest that you apply a generous coating of cold cream, lanolin or camphor ice to your lips nightly before you retire. Smooth it on gently, and permit it to remain on overnight. And use a greasy lipstick for daytime wear. This procedure will help to alleviate any chapping and soreness, and will keep your lips soft and smooth during the cold weather.

* * *

"Dear Miss Glad: I want to take this opportunity to thank you for the assistance I've received through your 'New Figure' booklet. I've been following the reducing course in this booklet, and have already lost 26 pounds. And I certainly look like a new and younger replica of my former self, now. However, I drink a great deal of water every day. Do you think that this will make me regain the weight I have lost?

"RUTH."

Water Not Cause

Many women fallaciously believe that the drinking of large quantities of water will cause an increase in weight. This, however, is not true. In numerous instances, overweight is due to the improper removal of waste material from the body. Water cleanses the elimentary canal, dissolves the waste material in the tissues and sweeps the intestines clean of all poisons. In this way, by increasing the health, it assists in reduction. Moreover, it is necessary that an individual consume plenty of water while reducing. For the reducing process breaks up the fat supply in the tissues, and a poisonous waste remains. The water flushes the entire body, and keeps the system free from these poisons.

* * *

"Dear Miss Glad: Although my hands are very nicely shaped, they aren't as soft or as white as I'd like them to be. A friend advised me to rub glycerine on them after each time that I wash them. Do you thing that this practice would benefit my hands? PEGGY."

Glycerine is an excellent cosmetic preparation, but I would not advise you to use it on your hands in its uncombined form. It is not a fat, but a triatomic alcohol that avidly absorbs water. It is very strong, and if you use it alone, it may dry and burn your skin. However, when it is ameliorated with rosewater, boric acid, almond oil, benzoin or flower oils, glycerine forms the most effective of skin lotions. A half and half mixture of glycerine and rosewater constitutes an excellent lotion for whitening and softening the skin of the hands.

AGED MAN'S BODY UNCLAIMED

TORONTO.—The body of William F. Brock, 83, found in his room March 28, still lies unclaimed at the Coroner's Building.

"From the meagre information we have been able to obtain, it is evident the old gentleman came from a good family," said Chief Coroner Dr. M. M. Crawford.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

"All I want is peace," a friend of mine said to me recently. It was not because of family disagreements that she spoke, for she and her husband are among the happiest couples of my acquaintance. "I am through with worrying," she continued. It is only sickness and death that overwhelms me. Nothing else. I hope to rid myself of fretting annoyances." Then she went on to say that planning was not what she considered worrying. This has ever been my idea. Our brains are meant to use to find solutions for the problems of life. It is the treadmill of a continual round of troublesome thoughts that get us nowhere that is worry, not the consideration of ways and means to rid ourselves of the bothersome situations.

* * * * * * *

The cry of the heart for peace is one that comes from hundreds of perplexed and troubled souls. Peace is something that each of us can promote as we also crave it. We can help remove obstacles to it. Without wallowing in any depths of worry, we can face situations that disturb our mental poise and react on our physical constitutions, as troubles ever do. We can cope with them. We can find out the vulnerable points in the armour of annoyances, and subdue them through attacking there. We can battle to conquer.

* * * * * * *

In our struggle for this essential element of happiness, we have first to examine ourselves. It may be that the crux is in us. For example, if we have hasty tempers and answer angrily whenever there is even the slightest occasion for dissension, we light a match to consume our peace, and probably that of others. When we learn to be silent without rancour, we have gone far on the path of peace. If we are vibrant to every suggestion of a slight and our mind is seared by it, peace is not in us. After all it is more than likely no slight was intended, and we are unjust in our ideas. Thinking kindly of others, and not too harshly of ourselves, promotes peace. We may find it is ourselves standing in the way of our own peaceful happiness.

* * * * * * *

There are all sorts of influences from outside which may interfere with our peace. Sometimes we can withdraw from them, sometime we have to wrestle with them in sporting manner not with a chip on our shoulder, but with an amicable intent. Or when a wrong must be righted we can plan to handle the situation so that goodwill comes of our efforts. Quiet contemplation and study often brings solutions to mind.

And so as this will help us individually let us hope and pray that nations will be guided thus and try to arrive at a peaceful and brotherly love solution of their national troubles. Would it not be a tragedy from which we might never recover if the world were to be again plunged into war and all because men and nations have not peace and the love they should have for each other in their hearts.

Cordova Mines

Misses Irene and Edythe Barron of Toronto spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Barron.

Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Steenburgh and children of Belleville were Sunday guests of the former's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Steenburgh at Rockdale.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Youmans and children of the Rock Quarry were recent guests of Cordova friends.

Mr. Will Ellis and Mrs. Sanders of Victoria attended the funeral of their late aunt, Mrs. Maria (Crippen) Keen of Petrolia.

Miss Gena McNeely spent the week-end at her home near Norwood.

Mr. Fred Wiggins of Cherry Valley was a recent guest of relatives here.

Misses Laura and Isobelle McGregor of North Marmora spent Sunday with Miss Theda and Evelyn Barrons.

Miss Mary Steenburgh of Toronto spent the week-end at her home at Victoria.

Messrs. Ross Barron and James Sory made a trip to Peterborough last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Shannon and children of Beaver Creek were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Maloney on Sunday.

C. D. S. GROCETERIA
Where It Pays to Shop

BREAD OUR REGULAR WRAPPED LOAF 5c

Lux Toilet Soap, cake - - - 5c
Canadian Sardines, tin - - - 5c
C. & B. Tomato Juice, 13 oz. tin - 5c

MONARCH FLOUR 24-lb. Bag 76c 7-lb. Bag 23c

Large Size Grapefruit ....3 for 16c
Choice Imported Tomatoes ....2 lbs. 29c
Choice Lemons .....2 doz. 35c
Beef and Pork Sausage ....2 lbs. 19c
Meaty Neck Bones ..6 lbs. 25c
Fresh Pork Spareribs ....2 lbs. 23c
Pork Liver By the Piece ..2 lbs. 19c

CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES

CHEESEMAKERS TO PUT INDUSTRY UNDER MARKETING LEGISLATION

Department Prepared to Handle 60-70 p.c. on Ontario Production Says Marshall.

GET REASONABLE PRICE.

TORONTO, April 5 (C.P.). — Announcement Ontario cheesemakers would move to bring the industry under terms of Federal and Provincial marketing legislation within the next two weeks was made to-day by Minister of Agriculture Duncan Marshall to the Agriculture Committee of the Ontario Legislature.

"We are well on the way to a reasonably satisfactory solution to their problems at the present time," said Mr. Marshall.

Departmental officials have assisted members to organize the industry and money grants have been given, Mr. Marshall continued.

"If this goes through satisfactorily they will be prepared to offer between 60 and 70 per cent. of all cheese produced in the Province for sale under the Act and they should get a reasonable price for it," the minister said.

80 Per Cent. Output to Britain.

Mr. Marshall said cheese, like the tobacco industry, lent itself to orderly marketing under the Federal Act, and estimated 80 per cent. of the cheese output was exported to Great Britain.

George H. Challies (Cons., Grenville-Dundas) urged regulation of price according to quality.

"When you go downtown and buy eight or nine months old cheese at 26 cents there is something radically wrong," he stated. "There is too much spread between the consumer and farmer price."

Mr. Challies also urged a campaign to increase domestic cheese consumption.

Grade Domestic Butter

Discussing butter, members believed Ontario butter for domestic consuption must be graded if the province's standard is to be brought to the level reached by Alberta and Manitoba producers. H. N. Carr (Liberal, Northumberland) declared grading of butter was not enforceable. He denied the contention of A. H. Acres (Conservative, Carleton) certain stores mixed No. 1 and No. 2 grades.

"If there is anything like that done, we will soon stop it," Mr. Carr promised.

Question of enforcing trading was left to the discretion of the minister.

ORIGINALS PLAN RALLY

TORONTO. — The "Originals" of the first Canadian division will muster again for the annual celebration of the Battle of St. Julien, April 22, 23, 24, 1915. A four-day program, beginning April 19, has been arranged.

The annual banquet will be held April 20, a drumhead memorial service April 21, and a wind-up social April 22.

While planks on the middle gun deck of the Victory, Nelson's old flagship, at Portsmouth, England, were being taken up during repairs, a letter written to a marine in 1827 was discovered, and while yellow with age, it was still decipherable.

COMSTOCK'S SPECIAL SALE OF BETTER BEDDING

A Special Purchase direct from the manufacturer—The Arrow Bedding Company—makes this sale possible.

FEATURING THE FAMOUS
Arrow Spring Knight Mattress
$37.50
The Regular Price is $42.50
F-R-E-E
This GREY ARROW Guaranteed Spring—as illustrated—worth $11.50, Absolutely Free with each Mattress purchased.

All standard sizes in stock. Please measure your bed

The Spring Knight Mattress
has hundreds of yielding springs in a patented construction, softly padded and quilted, enabling the user to rest quietly and deeply. Buoyant fresh air is drawn freely into the inner construction through the numerous eyelet ventilators (a patented feature). This mattress positively will not get lumpy or out of shape. The covering is of finest quality art damask in a new and exclusive pattern, in mauve. The regular price is $42.50.

The Grey Arrow Spring
an improved Bed Spring of ribbon steel, provides just the proper support for the Spring Knight Mattress. Rust-proof, guaranteed not to sag and worth regularly $11.50.

DEFERRED PAYMENTS
at no extra cost during this Sale.

COMSTOCK'S
300 George St. ◆ Phone 156

BUY NOW!
60 Days' Free Storage if you are not ready for delivery.

Interesting News and Views of Recent Happenings in the British Isles

LONG TRAIL OF BROKEN LIVES IN RECORD OF SWEEP WINNERS

Misfortune and Calamity Seems to Dog Steps of the Fortunate

CANADIAN DIES

Chester.—Three years ago a foreman employed at an Ellesmere Port, Cheshire, factory, won $150,000 in the Irish sweep over Forbra's victory in the Grand National. He died last October, and his will published shows estate valued at $10,075, with net personalty nil.

Behind these bare facts lies yet another tragic story of misfortune and calamity that has beset successful sweepstake winners. What is the secret doom that has overtaken so many of these unfortunates?

The "lucky" winner of $150,000 was George Herbert Cuffin, who died, aged 58, at Meadow House Farm, Huntington, near Chester—for shortly after his good fortune he had left his employment to take up farming.

Summoned for Neglect

From the very first his huge and easy winnings brought misfortune. Within three months his wife, applying to the Chester magistrates for a separation order, said, "I wish we had never won the money."

In August, 1932, when Cuffin was summoned at Chester for neglect to maintain his wife and her three children, the full story of his tragedy of good luck was revealed.

"Since winning the Irish sweep," Mrs. Cuffin's legal representative stated, "he has been drinking heavily and has frequently ill-treated his wife, who complains that he has been associating with another woman.

More Comfort

"On June 22 Cuffin assaulted his wife, threatened to shoot her, and to break her neck. As a consequence his wife and three children had to leave the house."

Mrs. Cuffin, in evidence, said: "I know this: there was more comfort without the money than with it."

Cuffin told the bench that after the money came he allowed his wife £10 a week and gave her £200 to invest.

The bench made an order of £2 a week in respect of the wife and 10s. each in respect of the three children.

Fear of Theft

Here are more examples of how success in the Irish sweep has led to a trail of tragedy and broken lives.

When Mrs. Ellen Edmundson, a 65-year-old shopkeeper, of Salford, near Manchester, who won £3,000 on the Manchester November Handicap four months before, died in March, 1932, neighbors stated that she had become "a changed woman, so afraid was she that her money would be stolen."

At an inquest in June, 1933, on Leonard Edward Mayers, aged 55, of West Ham-lane, Stratford, E., who was found drowned in the River Lea with his wrists tied together, his wife said that in the previous November he had won £6,250, and in December he retired. She felt that he had been sorry he had given up work. Suicide while of unsound mind was the verdict.

Two days after winning a court action involving his right to retain a prize of $40,000 in the Irish sweep, Elbert Soper, of Ottawa, Canada, died.

Castles in the Air

Last May a Leyton, E., woman who was granted a summons against her husband at Stratford for neglect to maintain her, said that after winning $7,000 in an Irish sweep her husband had been drinking and had lost his employment.

In June, 1933, a wife appearing at Tottenham, N., in support of a summons she had issued against her husband, said they were very happy while her husband held an Irish sweepstake ticket and was "building castles in the air."

When he found that he had not won a prize, he blamed her and had since treated her very badly.

PAY PARTIES ARE FAD OF ENGLISH GAY SET

1,000 Drink at Londonderry House to Aid Charity

London.—Popular in Mayfair at present are parties at which invited guests pay in advance for their food and amusement.

Formerly they were restricted to after-dinner events, where, for an inclusive charge averaging about $10—out of which any profit went to charity—a guest had supper, enjoyed a cabaret and danced to a well-known band.

The newer cocktail pay parties will not involve an "all-in" charge, neither will they be so expensive. Guests will pay only for the drinks they order.

One of these was held recently at Londonderry House, the Marquis of Londonderry's magnificent residence in Park-lane, W., with about 1,000 guests attending. Proceeds went to charity.

WOMAN IN HYSTERICS AS GALLOWS DECREED

Lies Screaming, Struggling on Floor As Judge Dons Black Cap

Downpatrick.—A judge solemnly put on the black cap at the County Down assizes here and sentenced a wife to death for the murder of her husband while the woman lay struggling and screaming in hysterics on the floor of the dock.

Her counsel applied for stay of execution on the ground that she had not heard the customary question—"Have you anything to say why sentence should not be passed on you?"

The judge refused; and the woman was carried from the dock by warders.

Mrs. Fanny Barber was charged with murdering her husband, an ex-sergeant in the Royal Irish Constabulary, who was two feet taller than herself.

Barber died from gunshot wounds in the neck and chest. Professor Glaister, the "Sir Bernard Spilsbury of Scotland," was called for the defence, and, replying to allegations that the man was shot dead by his wife while reclining on a couch, he said it was impossible to shoot him in the neck while he was in that position.

During his evidence the attorney-general leaped to his feet and exclaimed "You are not allowed to give lectures in court."

"May I add," he barked as he sat down, "that the Glasgow boat goes at 9.30?"

There was immediate uproar in court. The professor called for an apology. The judge agreed it would be more courageous if the remark were withdrawn. And later the attorney-general did apologise, but added: "I wish to say, however, his evidence is not worth a snap of the fingers."

Mrs. Barber, in defence of the murder charge, said she saw a rough-looking man rush into the kitchen, and thinking he might make a grab at her, she ran upstairs and locked herself in a bedroom.

She collapsed after hearing two shots fired and remembered nothing more until she saw her husband's body.

SCIENCE MAY REVEAL SECRET OF THINKING

Claim Important Discovery May Show Working of Human Mind

South Shields.—The announcement of a revelation "so startling that people may hardly believe it at first"—the secret of the working of the mind—is promised shortly.

Two investigators here, G. N. Roberts, wireless engineer, and J. Hunter Carr, accountant, claim to have made an important discovery as a result of experiments on the electrical energy associated with the working of the mind.

They believe that by applying combinations of ultra-violet, infra-red, beta and cathode rays they are able to tell when a person is thinking and may eventually be able to reveal the working of the human mind.

The experiments have been based on the view that the mind produces small electrical impulses.

Mr. Carr said: "I believe we have made a really startling discovery that people may hardly believe at first and probably never dream of."

Mr. Carr said that they also aim at applying a combination of rays to destroy disease in foodstuffs.

"So far," he said, "we have discovered a method of 'knocking out' the germs, and we must improve the method so as to kill them."

Mr. Carr and Mr. Roberts, who have been experimenting in their $15,000 laboratory for two years, have already completed several important inventions in wireless television and photography.

WOMAN AND BURGLAR STRUGGLE OVER DOOR

Fires Double-Barrelled Gun to Raise Alarm

Southampton.—A young woman had a tug-of-war with a burglar at her bedroom door during a raid on Purlieu House, Dibden, near here recently.

Miss Irene Grey was awakened at 4.30 a.m. by a noise.

Then she saw a man's hand round the edge of the door, which slowly began to open.

Jumping out of bed, and crying "Who's there?" she seized the handle, but the burglar wrenched the door away, and quickly turned the key.

Miss Grey rushed to her bedroom window and fired a double-barrelled gun to give the alarm.

The intruder, who had ripped off cushion covers to use as sacks, must have worked very quietly not to have aroused two dogs in the house and a St. Bernard dog in the stables.

He got away with a quantity of silver and jewelry, and is thought to have driven off in a motor car.

MAN EATS 200 DOGS, CATS

Served Them as Veal and Game to His Guests

Budapest.—The police arrested Robert Engler, hermit in a suburb, and charged him with stealing and eating nearly 200 dogs and cats. Engler, who lives alone in a cottage and is well-to-do, was regularly stealing the pets of the vicinity. He frequently received women friends and entertained them with roast dogs and cats, which he served as "veal" and "game." He declared cats and dogs are the only "dishes" he can enjoy.

WHICH IS THE MONKEY?

Smartly dressed like a member of the troop in a green jersey and green cap, Sambo the monkey mascot of 19th Enfield Wolf Club pack, finds scouting quite enjoyable, especially since he is the centre of interest whenever the pack appears in public. Dennis Bowyer is the other one.

DUKE AND DUCHESS OF KENT PLAN GAY ROUND OF PARTIES

Glass Floor, Waterproofed Silver Shower Curtains Novelties

IN BELGRAVE SQUARE

London.—Following their Easter visit with the King and Queen at Windsor Castle, the Duke of Kent and his bride, the former Princess Marina of Greece, are to give a number of gay house-warming parties at 3 Belgrave Square, in which interior decorators were feverishly at work while the newlyweds were honeymooning in the Indies.

The duchess' apartments run along the front of the second floor.

Her bathroom is in black and silver. It is the most handsome of the seven bathrooms.

The bath is set in a silver alcove, and on the walls above it is painted a silver fountain against a black background. It gives the illusion of spraying into the bath. The curtains are waterproofed silver.

A small ante-room with a glass floor, lit from underneath by concealed lights, leads to the duke's apartments. His bedroom is decorated in "Georgian blue" (a cross between blue and green).

The duchess' boudoir, at the back of the ground floor, has a small balcony, which looks out on a garden.

Most of the furniture which was in the house has been left. But the drawing-room French period furniture has been replaced by wedding presents of Chippendale and Sheraton.

Of the thousands of gifts received, many will have to be left at York House.

GIRL GETS $110,000 DOES HER NO GOOD

London.—Miss Evelyn Halton has just inherited $110,000, but it won't do her any good for years since, while under no legal compulsion to do so, she intends to follow the dying wish of her aunt, Mrs. Isabelle Harter, and given a $250 annuity to a 90-year-old gardener, and a $2,500 pension to a sister of the deceased.

"The money, invested, will bring me less than $3,000 a year. That interest I shall have to pay out to my aunt and the gardener," Miss Halton said. "There will be practically nothing over for me."

URGE BIRCH ROD FOR JUVENILE OFFENDERS

London. — Greater use of the birch-rod in dealing with juvenile offenders and the keeping of their finger-print records are advocated by Lieut.-Col. W. D. Allan, western division inspector of constabulary, in his 1934 report.

In some districts, he declares, crimes committed by juveniles were more serious than those committed by adults.

Schools, he suggests, should cultivate more "esprit de corps", and what happens out of school hours should be just as important to the authorities as what happens in school.

In serious cases of offences by juveniles, prison sentences should be imposed, he says, but suspended for six or twelve months, and the conviction cancelled if the culprit made good.

LAUGHING STUDENT HAS PERMIT LIFTED

Dizzy After Sniffing Drug Explains Reckless Driving Charge Defendant

Cambridge. — Shrieking with laughter and zigzagging along a highway near here recently, Michael George Cox, 21-year-old undergraduate and former Harrow boy, attracted police who arrested him on a charge of reckless driving.

He was found guilty of driving a motor car when under the influence of drink or a drug, and was fined $100 and costs. His license was suspended for two years.

A policeman said he saw a car driven by Cox zigzagging about a road in Cambridge.

When charged at the police station, Cox said, "I was certainly not under the influence of alcohol, but I was told to sniff a substance called amyl nitrite by my friend, Mr. Bonham-Carter."

Dr. Frank Parsons, divisional police surgeon, said the effect of inhaling amyl nitrite would be throbbing of the head and a feeling of dizziness.

Cox, in evidence, said Mr. Bonham-Carter, who was with him in the dickey seat, was "slightly merry and rather noisy."

They bought some amyl nitrite and went to Bonham-Carter's rooms where he (Cox) inhaled the contents of one capsule, and immediately went off into shrieks of laughter.

He inhaled a second capsule of amyl nitrite, which he was told would remove the effects of the first one. He then drove away through the busiest part of the town without any trouble.

Later he had to swerve to avoid some cyclists.

In reply to Mr. Spens, Master of Corpus Christi, one of the magistrates, Cox said that after inhaling the second capsule he felt dizzy.

Dr. Cole, who was called as an independent medical witness, said that when he saw Cox at the police station he was perfectly sober.

Driving five minutes after inhaling amyl nitriate would make one feel dizzy when getting out of a closed car into the open air.

ANNOY HOME-OWNERS BY TELEPHONE HOAX

Girls Try to Embarrass Men With Endearments

Brighton.—Two girls here are indulging in a new form of "hoax." They use a telephone pay station and select the number of a private house where the subscriber is a man. Then one of the girls addresses him by his Christian name, and her conversation suggests he is on very friendly terms with her. The girls apparently regard it as a good joke when the subscriber's wife answers the call.

"They called my number during the week-end," Captain A. W. Tyler revealed. "However, they selected the wrong Christian name to use, for when my wife, who is recovering from influenza, answered the telephone she heard a girl almost screaming for Arthur. My name is Alfred. The girl went on: 'Where is Arthur? I must speak to my fiance, Arthur. Arthur, come quickly.'"

DANISH M.P.'s EARN LEAST

Oslo.—Parliament members in Norway, Sweden and Denmark are among the lowest paid in Europe, according to a comparative table of salaries. In Norway lawmakers receive $1,500, in Sweden $1,170 and in Denmark $1,014.

PEER'S KIN HAD 17 MONKEYS 48 DOGS, GOAT IN MANSION

Fed Cats on Roast Chicken But Denied Animals Air, Exercise

IS FINED IN COURT

Bromley — "It was a surprising menagerie," said counsel, as he told the police magistrate here how a peer's daughter kept in her bedrooms and living rooms 48 dogs, 100 birds, a goat, rabbits, 27 cats, 17 monkeys, guinea pigs and a few other animals.

The woman in question is the Hon. Mrs. Alice McLaren Morrison, of Kemnal Warren, Chislehurse, who was fined £10 and £5 5s. costs (or about $75 in all) for causing unnecessary suffering to animals and birds by omitting to provide them with proper attention.

A summons for keeping 40 dogs without licenses was adjourned for a week.

Mrs. Morrison, an elderly woman, pleaded not guilty.

Gordon Jones, for the R.S.P.C.A., said Mrs. Morrison was a woman of social position and, he understood, of some substance. She lived in a large house at Chislehurst. He did not suggest she would deliberately inflict suffering on animals, but she had the most extraordinary views on the treatment of them.

Roast Chicken for Cats

Inspectors of the society and others visited the house in consequence of a complaint made by an employee.

The windows and doors of these rooms were closed, some of the windows being hermetically sealed. Electric and coal fires were burning day and night, the atmosphere was almost unbreathable.

He did not suggest there was any under-feeding. In fact, if anything, there was over-feeding, because he understood that some of the cats were provided with roast chicken.

Two veterinary surgeons were called, and they found that the animals were suffering from lack of air and exercise. They were kept just in the way in which animals should not be kept.

Inspector T. Finn of the R.S.P.C.A. said that when he complained to Mrs. Morrison she said: "Why, I took three first prizes just the other day with a pair of dogs. You cannot do that with neglected dogs.

"I have been an importer for 40 years, and I am a member of Our Dumb Friends League, so I should know. The trouble is I cannot get these large rooms warm enough. All these animals come from warm climates, and if you take them out in the open they will die."

He said that 22 were in a fair condition, but most of them were wretched.

"Only Things I Live For"

Giving evidence, Mrs. Morrison said she had moved to Kent for the sake of her animals because her residence in Bayswater was unsuitable.

She added that she was one of the founders of the Ladies' Kennel Association. She was also on the grand council of Our Dumb Friends League.

Asked why she kept so many animals in the house, she replied:

"Because of my love of animals. Since I became a widow and had other bereavements, animals were the only things I lived for."

She added that the cats were all show cats and among them was the champion cat of England.

Lewis Gabriel, veterinary surgeon, who had visited the kennels said he found the dogs in good condition. The general appearance of the place was clean.

Mr. Nott mentioned that 10 guineas (about $50) had been spent in buying dog licenses.

LADDER-MAKER, 104, GOES TO WORK DAILY

Was Born Six Years Before Queen Victoria

Southampton.—Aged 104, James Miles, of York Road, Freemantle, drinks a pint of beer every day and still goes to work.

He is a ladder-maker, and he generally visits five Hampshire markets a week.

"I am feeling fine," he announced on his birthday. "In fact I have never felt better in my life. I don't feel half my age.

"My father lived to 103, and I hope also to beat my grandfather's record. He died when he was 110."

Mr. Miles was born at Brighton—six years before Queen Victoria.

He married twice, had 23 children, and has lost count of his grandchildren.

MOTHER WHO KILLED IMBECILE SON FREED

Hair Turned Snow White, Health Ruined by Prison Term

Manchester.—Mrs. May Brownhill, who was released recently from Strangeways prison, where she had been imprisoned since her reprieve from a sentence of death for the murder of her imbecile son, has returned here to a home from which all possible trace of the tragedy which occurred in it has been removed.

At the time of the murder, in September, it was revealed that Mrs. Brownhill's devotion to her son led her to kill him when, faced with an operation, she feared that her death might deprive him of her care. Her attitude was summed up when, during her trial, she said: "I did it in mercy."

"All photographs of her son Dennis were taken down and burned," an old friend of the family said. "We wanted to remove anything that would upset her in any way, but, in spite of this, memories of the past come back to her so vividly that she has been very ill since her return.

Tragic Memories

"She was unable to sleep at night, and at times, when she has been left alone amongst things she remembers, we have found her in tears."

Mrs. Brownhill will not for some months undergo the serious internal operation which is to be performed.

She is having to receive constant attention, and a watch has been kept at her bedside constantly.

She has been content to lie by the window of her room, with her husband sitting by her, and remarkable precautions have been taken to prevent anyone approaching the house owing to Mrs. Brownhill's weak condition. The 60-mile motor drive from the prison to her home after her release had proved a severe strain.

A night and day police guard has been kept before the house, and no notice has been taken of the knocks and rings of visitors.

Friends who have seen Mrs. Brownhill said that her hair has become snow-white since she entered the prison, and he sister, Miss Suddick, who is caring for her, told me that it is essential that she should not be disturbed.

Mrs. Brownhill is on license, and a free pardon has not been granted. It is anticipated that this may be given in a few months' time.

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS FROM FAR CORNERS OF THE WORLD

ENDS LONG ROMANCE WEDS ON STRETCHER

Ambulance Takes Woman to Marriage Which Was Delayed 18 Years

London. — An 18-year romance ended when a woman was driven to her wedding in an ambulance and said her "I will," and "I do" from a stretcher.

She is Miss Agnes Hewlett, of Warwick St., S.W. She married Mr. Arthur Wilson, of Bromley Rd., Catford, a clerk at the ministry of labor.

They had hoped to be married in church, but it was impossible. Miss Hewlett, who is just recovering from an operation, is not able to stand.

They hoped to be married by a clergyman—possibly at home—but all Mr. Wilson's efforts were fruitless. He applied to the Bishop of London. He appealed to the Archbishop of Canterbury—in vain.

They were married at Caxton hall register office—but the local vicar promised to give them his blessing after the ceremony.

Mr. Wilson travelled with his bride in the ambulance.

Mrs. Wilson talked of her romance as she lay, frail with suffering, in her room.

"We met eighteen years ago in a hotel in Holborn," she said.

"He was a clerk. I was a cashier.

"We were engaged for a long time. Circumstances would not allow us to marry.

"Last year I had a serious operation. I was in hospital for months. We arranged to be married at Christmas, when I should have recovered.

"But I had a relapse, and the ceremony had to be postponed again."

Mrs. Wilson smiled wanly from her pillow. "Now we are really married at last," she said.

HUSH HUSH MYSTERY DOCTOR VICTOR OVER DREAD MALARIA

Young German and Wife Are Curing 500 a Day With New Drug

MUST BE FREE

Colombo, Ceylon.—Asking neither fees nor expenses, a young German doctor, his blonde wife and a graduate medical student arrived here offering to conquer the malaria epidemic which is costing 500 lives a day, which has already claimed 38,000 victims and which at present afflicts 50,000 inhabitants of this island paradise.

Dr. A. T. W. Simeons was given a corner in Colombo General hospital to experiment on the worst cases with atebrin-musonat, a mysterious new drug.

Not a Word

Since then, aided by his wife, Dr. Simeons has worked in silence and secrecy. Not a word will he say about the amazing success of his battle against the scourge.

This much has been learned—that a tiny daily injection of the drug cures the worst malaria cases in five days.

And cures completely. No question of relapses.

Quinine treatment requires a month and does not prevent relapses, as war sufferers well know.

Before Dr. Simeons arrived the epidemic was of such magnitude that the doctors were almost helpless. They had only quinine treatment to offer.

Hundreds a Week

Dr. Simeons has been curing hundreds a week.

And now the authorities are willing that 50,000 islanders should have injections "as a further experiment," provided the drug is given free.

Atebrin is a synthetic chemical substance and was created in 1930 by the German dye industry at Elberfeld. It was first tested on birds infected with malaria.

This attitude has angered the political leaders. They demand that the government should acknowledge the success of the treatment, and pay.

Dr. Simeons works on — silently. The complete "hush-hush" man.

BISHOP CRAWLS HOURS IN COAL MINE'S MAW

Deal.—A bishop spent two hours crawling on his hands and knees in the underground workings of a coal mine here.

He wished to get on equal terms with the men who spend their lives in the mines. The explorer was the bishop of Dover, Right Rev. A. C. W. Rose. On his return he made use of the pithead baths.

FAMOUS MEDICAL MAN URGES STERILIZATION

Points to Great Care Taken By Stockbreeding

London.—The burden of maintaining the mentally unfit in Great Britain was referred to by Sir Bruce Bruce-Porter, the noted physician, at Newington, S.E., recently, when he urged the need for their sterilization.

"In the stockbreeding world," he said, "people take an enormous amount of trouble in seeing they breed from the best, but on the human side they don't take the least interest in the heredity.

"The unfit of England are increasing at such a rate that they cannot be housed. We have homes all over the place for people who are too bad to be let out.

"There are many thousands more not bad enough to be put in homes who very often marry and reproduce their kind.

"Some day, I hope, we shall have sterilization of the unfit. So many people ought never to be allowed to have children. I think we are very foolish about it."

SWEDEN PLANS HOMES TO RAISE BIRTH-RATE

Apartments For $15 a Month Proposed in Slum Clearance Proposal

Stockholm, Sweden.—A new program for better housing conditions, including apartments for workers to rent for $15 a month, has been proposed for Stockholm by a special housing committee.

The program is designed especially to provide better living conditions for families with children, in keeping with the agitation in Sweden over the lowered birth rate.

Appropriations totalling $3,125,000 have been asked for the project with the city to provide the land for some of the buildings.

Funds also are sought to help finance the building of modern apartments by private capital as well as for the construction of a large number of small cottages in the environs of Stockholm.

The strictly city-owned apartments should be, it is suggested, two-room affairs, with central heating, gas, hot and cold water.

POLICE-GANGSTER JAILED

Detective Found Head of Drug, Kidnap and Bogus License Racket

Lille.—The detective and gangster, Paul Mariani, formerly inspector, who was arrested last September on charges of robbery and fraud, was recently found guilty of some of the charges against him and was sentenced to two years' and one month's imprisonment with five years' loss of civil and political rights.

He is alleged to have been head of a gang engaged in the drug traffic, in the sale of false car licenses and stamps, and in threats to kidnap. Other charges are outstanding.

DETERMINED TO DIE

Cape Town, S.A.—An unemployed European drank disinfectant, stabbed himself in the chest, and then cut his throat. His condition was reported serious at hospital.

FIND CODE MESSAGES OF LOVELY GIRL SPY

"Eggs From Emile's Hens" Deciphered As Information From Lover-Victim

Brest.—Remarkable developments are taking place in the case in which Greta Lydia Oswald, a beautiful blonde, said to be of German-Swiss origin, is under arrest here on a charge of espionage.

Cryptic telegrams and correspondence between Greta and a doctor at Leipzig, in code, have been seized at the post office, and when Greta was arrested there was found in her possession a letter from Geneva which contained a sentence of which the following is a translation:

"Many thanks for the eggs from Emile's hens, but is he looking after the incubator?"

Until the investigators found that Greta had been invited to dine on board the new French minelaying cruiser Emile Bertin, they were puzzled to think who "Emile" could be.

They now believe that the reference is to an officer who unsuspectingly invited the beautiful girl spy to visit the ship. They read the cryptic sentence to mean:

"Many thanks for the information obtained from the officer of the Emile Bertin—but is he a torpedo officer?"

The police have also taken possession of a registered letter addressed to Greta, containing a money order for $350, but they decline to divulge by whom it was sent.

They are now making inquiries about a trip which Greta Oswald made to St. Malo, where she was entertained by an officer of the training ship Ancre.

The girl has already admitted that she had been commissioned to act as a spy, but says that she failed to do so because she fell so madly in love with Count Jean de Forceville, an ensign in the new cruiser La Galissonniere, that she could no longer think of her mission.

FORCED CHILD TO SUICIDE PARENTS JAILED 15 YEARS

Daughter, 13, Treated With "Utmost Brutality" By Family

GIRL SURVIVES

Berlin.—Once groom to a wealthy Englishwoman, Wilhelm Hoefeld was sentenced at Frankfort recently to 15 years' penal servitude.

He and his wife, who received a similar sentence, were charged with attempting to force a 13-year-old daughter to commit suicide.

Another daughter, Minna, aged 15, was acquitted on a charge of failing to report an impending crime. Hildegard, the daughter figuring in the charges, was found unconscious on the doorstep of a house near the River Main last December and, for weeks, was desperately ill in hospital.

Her story at first appeared to be incredible, but it was later corroborated.

She had been treated with the utmost brutality by her father, who beat her unmercifully for small offences. The family, in the end, decided to get rid of her.

One evening her mother ordered her to make confession and then change into old clothes.

She was forced to write, in a school book, that she intended to kill herself.

Her father took her to a railway bridge over a deserted dock and told her to wait until he had disappeared and then to jump into the icy water.

The girl did as she was told, but managed to struggle to the bank where she lay unconscious before managing to crawl to the house where she was eventually found.

FOLKS GO TO FAIRS

London.—The British Industries Fair at Olympia and the White City this year attracted 27,273 more people than last year, the totals being 168,196, compared with 168,-883.

SELL 44 PREMIERS FOR LESS THAN $70

Portraits Include Leaders From Walpole to MacDonald

London.—The portraits of 44 British prime ministers were sold in one lot at Christie's recently, being disposed of in about 15 seconds for a total of £13 13s (less than $70).

The portraits ranged from Walpole in 1715 to Ramsay MacDonald in 1935.

The collection belonged to the late Lady Battersea, whose husband (formerly Cyril Flower) was a Liberal Whip for 50 years.

WANT PEACE, QUIET BAN WEE PUTT-PUTTS

Key West Council Prohibits Outboards in the Bay

Key West, Fla.—The city council has taken another step to preserve this quaint island city as a unique and quiet resort place for visitors.

Key West is surrounded by water—either that of the Gulf, or Atlantic—but its waters are not for the outboard motorist who may disturb the peace.

The city council passed an ordinance prohibiting use of outboard motors "in the waters of the harbor of Key West and waters surrounding the municipality of Key West."

The ordinance prohibits such outboard motors, or the like having an attainable speed of more than 1,000 revolutions per minute.

COTTON SPINNERS' PREXY

Manchester—William M. Wiggins, who entered the cotton industry 52 years ago as an office boy, has been elected president of the Federation of Master Cotton Spinners' Associations.

NAME OF MURDERER KEPT STATE SECRET

Went to Gibbet Under Alias to Prevent Shock Killing Mother

London.—The secret of a murderer's real name was not revealed until the inquest which followed his execution at Pentonville prison recently.

He was hanged in the name of George Frank Harvey, described as aged 37 and a chef, for the murder on October 26 last year of George Hamblin at the Westminster Institution, Chelsea, S.W.

At his trial he refused to divulge his real name because, he said, his mother was seriously ill and the shock might kill her.

Harvey's mother is somewhere in London. She does not grieve for her son, for she has never known that he was arrested, tried and sentenced to death.

Doctors fear that if the news were broken to her the result might be fatal.

The secret had to be revealed to the coroner so that he could register Harvey's death.

The execution was marked by a demonstration of protest against capital punishment organized by a woman who has formed a new society for the removal of the death penalty.

IMPORTED BIRDS HAPPY

Flocks of Partridge Thrive on Prince Edward Island

Charlottetown, P.E.I. — Nelson Hanson says Hungarian partridge are plentiful hereabouts. "Flocks of them live in the woods nearby and every day they come to the barn for their supply of grain," the farmer related. These imported birds, liberated at different points in the island since 1927, were coming through the winter "in fine shape," added J. D. Jenkins, Charlottetown's sportsman and guardian of the flock.

CHINESE PIRATES TO BE SWEPT FROM SEAS BY BRITISH NAVY

Black Flag Ships Have Terrorized Coast for Decade.

SCENE OF TERROR

(By John Goette, Central Press Canadian Correspondent)

PEIPING, April 4. — Sweep the seas of Chinese pirates!

This order, flashed to the British fleet in Chinese waters by the Admiralty in London has sent the fleet into action in a fight to a finish with the world's last flaunters of the the black flag.

It followed hard on the heels of Chinese sea marauders' mass kidnapping of 70 British school children aboard the steamer Tungchow in mysterious, pirate-infested Bias Bay.

Now the British navy—old hands at pirate-fighting—are out to smash piracy, one of the most lucrative forms of Chinese banditry.

British destroyers are co-operating with Chinese vessels and with Chinese troops and police in the new anti-pirate drive. The U. S. navy river patrol fleet will lend a hand if the pirates seek refuge in its direction, a remote possibility. The British force intends to drive the marauding little junks shoreward along the southern Chinese coast, forcing the pirates to land. The Chinese troops then will finish the job.

Use Wireless

A chain of special wireless stations has been set up along the infested coastline to keep tabs on the pirates' movements and co-ordinate the navy's work with that of the land troops.

Bias Bay is the chief haunt of the daring Chinese buccaneers. It is difficult of access to big vessels. The junks of the pirates lie in the calm waters of the bay and come out under cover of night for quick raids on slow-moving vessels feeling their way along the treacherous coastline.

The sea long has offered a haven for Chinese lawless bands. After depredations ashore, they would take their ships, wait for searching parties to give up, and return to land.

Seizure of the Tungchow, bound from Shanghai to Chefoo with a passenger list of British and American school children, was the 98th case of piracy practised on large ships on the China coast in 10 years. In that time the pirates raided no less than 12 British ships, 13 Chinese, six Norwegian, four Danish, two French and one Japanese. It was the second time the Tungchow had been visited by the pirates.

Scene of Terror

All of the dramatic and hair-raising incidents attaching to pirates in fiction accompanied these exciting exploits. Screaming pirates rushed the bridges, shooting and stabbing, and were met by volleys from special guards and ships' officers.

Passengers were huddled into saloons with pistols at their backs. Often the very bedclothes were torn from over terrified women and children. Sparse rations were handed out by pirates as their expert sailors steered the hapless ships southwards to the notorious Bias Bay lair of the pirates not far from Hongkong. One of the pirate crews was reported to have been led by a woman.

In almost every case the British navy got into action chasing the pirated ship or eventually finding it disabled in Bias Bay. When the China Merchant's S.S. Irene was taken there in 1927, British warships were watching the spot. A submarine opened fire on the pirates still aboard the S.S. Irene and sank the vessel. Thereupon the Chinese government sued the British commander for $600,000 silver. The case was settled out of court by the British government.

Halted Signals

When the S.S. Tungchow was first seized in December, 1925, she was on her way from Shanghai to Tientsin. In their usual fashion, the pirates had shipped as passengers and suddenly emerged to subdue the officers and crew. Foreign passengers included British and Americans who were unmolested but compelled to stay in their cabins. An anxious moment for all, however, came when the Tungchow was passed by a ship of the same company. The pirates threatened to murder everyone should a signal be given.

The Tungchow's captain was wounded in the fighting and his mates were forced to steer the ship to Bias Bay. Frequently, however, the pirates include expert navigators and take care of the navigation themselves.

Thirty-five of the piracies were perpetrated by Chinese, but one was the dramatic work of a group of four Germans, and one Swiss, including a former ship's captain.

"I'll Tell Anybody Gin Pills are Good"

—writes a Lunenburg, N.S., man who had suffered from Rheumatism. He further states: "I cannot praise Gin Pills enough. After using them I am now able to go around without a cane."

If your kidneys are not efficiently disposing of the waste matter in your system excessive acidity may develop, resulting in painful joints, sciatica, lumbago. At the first sign of kidney trouble take

GIN PILLS FOR THE KIDNEYS 50

READ THE WANT ADS

Headaches

NEW YORK, April 5.—(C.P.) Does your head ache? Then there's too much air in your ventricles — tiny little spaces within the brain connected to the spinal canal.

Science has ascertained, Dr. Frederick Tilney told the New York Academy of Medicine last night, headaches are apt to occur when air gets into the third and lateral of these little spaces.

Hypersensitive persons may derive a headache from consuming milk or eggs, sugar and other foods, Dr. Alexander Lambert told the symposium. Excessive smoking may bring pain to another. Some persons get a headache from ceffee; others may use coffee to cure the same ill.

FOURTH PARTY OUT IN ALBERTA

Social Credit League Prepares to Contest Ridings in Next Election.

W. ABERHART, LEADER.

(By George Finlay, Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

CALGARY, April 5 (CP)—The Alberta Social Credit League to-day was launched as the "fourth party" in Alberta politics, ready to contest constituencies throughout the province when the Alberta general elections are held, probably in June.

Delegates from Southern and Central Alberta electoral constituencies last night elected the league's founder, William Aberhart, to lead the party in the campaign and granted him wide powers in the selection of candidates.

The "candidates' selection" resolution gives to the League chieftain, and his board of advisors, the final choice of selecting a social credit nominee, to be picked from three or four candidates named at a district constituency convention.

If the Social Credit group is elected to form a government after the June election, Mr. Aberhart shall then assume the premiership.

The first day's session of the convention ended with adoption of a motion urging Mr. Aberhart to refuse the invitation of Premier R. G. Reid to go to Edmonton to formulate "any plan of social credit for the present government."

The resolution declares the action of the present United Farmers of Alberta Government, under the leadership of Premier Reid "at this moment savors of manoeuvring for political advantage."

JANETVILLE

On Tuesday evening, April 2nd the Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian Church held another successful crokinole party, being one of a series enjoyed by many during the past weeks.

The gathering was formerly expected to be held at the manse but the officials of the United Church kindly offered the use of their church basement where a very large crowd could be comfortably accommodated.

Rev. V. Walker pastor of the Presbyterian Church was in charge of proceedings for the evening. Twenty-two tables of crokinole were played while several looked on or enjoyed social conversation. At the conclusion of the games and counting of points it was announced that Mrs. Thomas McMullen and Mr. Victor Blatherwick held the high scores. Appropriate prizes were presented to these winners.

A dainty lunch was provided by the sponsoring society and a jolly time enjoyed by all.

The financial result of the evening's activity amounted to about ten dollars, a creditable sum for the small admittance fee of 15c per person. The ladies are in hopes that it will be possible for them to hold a few more of these happy events before the busy season commences.

$275,000 FOR BOUT

NEW YORK, April 5 (C.P.)—An offer of $275,000 for Max Baer, heavyweight boxing champion, to meet Max Schmeling, German contender, at Wembley Stadium during the King's Jubilee celebration next summer, will be proffered the Californian when he arrives here to-day by Armand Vincent, Montreal promoter. Schmeling is willing to mix with Baer in the British metropolis, said Vincent who claimed to be representing powerful British interests.

Yesterday's Deaths

(By The Canadian Press)

Ottawa.—Dr. Robert W. Powell, 79, member of the Ontario Medical Council and former president of the Canadian Medical Association.

Highland Mills, N.Y. — C. J. Atkinson, former prominent newspaperman of Western Canada.

Toronto.—Harry A. Goss, 72, well known Toronto newspaperman.

Louisville, Ky.—Wood P. Axton, 63, president of the Axton-Fisher Tobacco Company.

The British navy has been moved into action against the knights of the Skull and Cross Bones and the Black Flag, who terrorize shipping along the Chinese coast. These doughty ancestors of the clan of "Long John Silver" are Chinese who have raided small vessels in Chinese waters for the past 10 years or more. The new move by the British navy came about after the kidnapping, though subsequent release, of some 70 English and American school children who were being conducted on a tour. ABOVE shows one of high-powered speed boats, designed by Hubert Scott-Paine, of Harmsworth trophy fame, which will be used in this new fight against the pirates. British destroyers will aid in the work.

34 CATTLE SOLD BELLEVILLE SALE

Holstein Breeders From Seymour Well Represented at Annual Auction.

BURNBRAE, April 5 (Examiner Correspondence). — Holstein breeders from Seymour Township formed a large part of the fine crowd assembled for the twenty-fifth annual sale of the Belleville district club, held in the Belvedere Hotel stables in the Quinte city on Wednesday afternoon, April 3.

Four head come to Seymour, including the top price cow from the herd of B. R. Leavens, to E. L. Anderson ;two fine heifers from the Terry herd of Frankford, purchased to start a pure bred herd by Lorne J. Hay; while Will Anderson secured a fine Junior herd sire in the six months' old calf from Robt. Merritt of Napanee. The dam of this calf has over 14,000 pounds of 3.8 per cent milk in the year's test.

Thirty-four head ranging in ages from week-old calves to mature cows passed under the hammer of Auctioneer Norman Montgomery, who has handled this sale on twenty occasions. A total of one thousand, nine hundred and ninety dollars was realised, with twenty females two years and over averaging $98.50 each, while twelve bulls from six months to fourteen months averaged almost $59.50 each.

The top price of $100 was realised on a line-bred three-year-old granddaughter of the famous stock and show bull Abewelt Pluto, her week-old son selling for $12.50. She was consigned by B. R. Leavens, Bloomfield.

B. Floyd of King, Ont., was one of the heaviest purchasers, taking six head including several of the near tops.

The top price bull consigned by E. O. Butler, Brighton, realised $95 on the bid of C. G. Dier, Newburgh, Ont. Mr. Dier also took the "Parks" heifer at $90. Mr. Parks of Napanee had the first prize bull in the judging class preceding the sale, and he sold for $85 to W. Budd of Port Hope. Mr. Butler's top price bull was second in the judging.

Ed. Irish of Richmond Hill took four head, including a nice four-year-old from the Wilson herd of Enterprise at $70. This young cow was expected to reach the century mark, but dropped suddenly to Mr. Irish's bid during a lull in the bidding.

A. Sirett of Brighton sold two near-tops at $90 and $95 each, the latter a seven-year-old cow with a 305-day record, while the other cow was a senior two-year-old from the older cow. They were two nice individuals.

Consignors to the sale were, James A Caskey, John Burnside and Earl Burnside of Madoc, H. G. Ward and A. P. Ward of Dartford, E. O. Butler and A. T. Sirett, Brighton; P. S. Van Vlack and Arch. Parks, Napanee; John L. Wilson, Enterprise; F. S. Terry and Son, Frankford; B. R. Leavens, Bloomfield. Mr. Duncan Foster of Bloomfield was sales manager, with Mr. R. M. Holtby as judge of the bull class.

England's "Ford"

LORD NUFFIELD

Called "the Henry Ford of England," a multi-millionaire head of the Morris automobile industries of Great Britain, seen on his arrival in California, during his current round-the-world trip. Lord Nuffield is a noted philanthropist, and is known as one of the most democratic members of England's peerage.

ADVERTISING IS TOPIC OF DEBATE

Most Effective Advertising Medium is Subject of Debate.

BY Y'S MEN'S CLUB.

The feature of the weekly meeting of the Y's Men's Club last evening was a debate on advertising; the resolution being, "Resolved that radio is a more effective advertising medium than newspapers." Ray Brown, Don Crawford, and Jim Goldie spoke for the affirmative and newspaper advertising was defended by Walker Jones, Percy Johnson and Fred Jones.

The opinion of Wilfred R. Morris, James Turnbull and Dr. R. C. Honey, who acted as judges, was that while the proponents for radio advertising earned for themselves the blue ribbon in the matter of delivery, they failed by a slight margin to maintain the resolution. Their strongest argument was the effectiveness of the oral message to the younger members of the family who cannot read. Telling points made by the negative were the annoyance of the listener caused by radio advertising talks, the far greater cost of the use of radio, the comparatively few listeners to any one program as compared to the readers of newspapers and the flexibility of newspapers in that particular messages may be confined to those markets to which they apply.

Unemployment in Switzerland reached a record high level recently.

BOYS WELL FED AT ROAD CAMPS MENU REVEALS

Beds Are Good and There is Hot and Cold Water to be Had

FOREMEN PLAY FAIR.

Men Who Are Sick Are Well Looked After, Charles Hills Declares.

Living conditions at Camp 3, Stoney Creek, north of Buckhorn were entirely satisfactory to Charles Hills, one of the men who were employed in that section last month.

"I found things very comfortable," Mr. Hills said. "The beds are good, and there is hot and cold water so that the men can keep clean. I found the foremen fair and reasonable They don't play favorites, but all the men are treated alike so far as I saw. If a man is sick and unable to work he is not asked to. He is well looked after to my thinking. The watchman visits every hour of the night, and if there is anything he can get for you he does so.

The superintendent makes his camp visits, and it is the same thing with him. If he can do anything for a man who is sick he is glad to do so, and keeps quite a few things around in the way of medicine. I think the public should know what the conditions are like."

Mr. Hills showed The Examiner a menu for the week of March 27 at Camp 3B. Some of the meals are detailed as follows:—

Monday breakfast — rolled oats, pancakes and corn syrup, fried sausages and potatoes, stewed prunes, bread and butter, marble cake, drop cakes, coffee and milk.

Wednesday dinner — bean soup, roast beef, baked beans, mashed potatoes, raisin and apple pie, rock cakes, fruit cake, bread, butter, tea and milk.

Thursday supper — tomato soup, fried steak, potatoes, beets, cold ham, stewed apricots, rice pudding, marble cake, rock cookies, bread and butter, tea and milk.

Wednesday breakfast—rolled oats, pancakes and corn syrup, fried liver and bacon, fried potatoes, stewed figs, marble cake, drop cakes, sugar cookies, bread and butter, coffee, milk.

Sunday dinner—fresh roast pork, dressing, mashed potatoes, corn, apple and blueberry pies, rock cake, sugar cookies, bread and butter, tea and milk.

Saturday supper—vegetable soup, boiled beef, cold ham, head cheese, fried potatoes, cabbage and tomato salad, mayonnaise dressing, marble fruit cake, buns, bread and butter, tea, milk.

SIMS' WHITE RABBIT GETS CULBERTSON'S GOAT

NEW YORK, April 5. (AP).—Ely Culbertson made dire threats today against a white rabbit which has become part of the Sims-Culbertson bridge clash.

The rabbit was given to Hal and Dorothy Sims as a good luck token in their 150-rubber match with Culbertson and his wife Josephine. It brought continued good fortune to the Simses and at the end of the 80th rubber last night they had reduced the Culbertson lead to 7,180 points.

"If the Simses continue winning" Culbertson declared, "that rabbit must go. I shall instruct Crockford's chef to make him into hasenpfeffer".

The Culbertsons' lead in rubbers, 3 to 37, and in points, 68,780 to 61,600.

Our King and Queen on their Silver Jubilee

KING GEORGE was wounded in the war—injured so badly that the Queen was empowered to take over many of his official duties.

In 1915, while inspecting massed troops in France, the King's horse, a mare belonging to Sir Douglas Haig, reared at the sound of the drums, slipped and threw the King to the ground. He was painfully injured and was rushed home to England in a hospital train.

It was typical of the monarch that he asked no special favors on this journey. Though suffering considerably it is related that a private in the cot next to him received a military medal from the Royal hands and it was during the journey home that Sgt. Oliver Brooks was decorated by the King with the Victoria Cross. The King attempted to pin it on the sergeant's tunic, but was overcome with weakness before he could complete the task.

Both King George and Queen Mary gave up every luxury, every expense attached to their offices. The King even gave up drinking spirits in order to set an example to his people who, in the heat of the war fever, were said to be drinking too heavily. Both worked strenuously in war work. Nothing was too much to ask of them. From dawn till midnight they kept going.

Our picture today shows the King and Marshal Foch in France in 1917, shortly before Foch became commander-in-chief of all the allied armies.

To-morrow: The King, the Queen and the Prince of Wales in France, 1917.

If you wear

FALSE TEETH

Try this New Improved Powder

FREE Are your plates loose? Do they slip and slide? If so try FASTEETH—the new and better denture powder AT OUR EXPENSE.

Your druggist has a free trial sample all ready for you. FASTEETH is pure. Keeps the mouth and breath sweet. It's soothing and pleasant, and holds false teeth so securely nobody would know you wear them. Trial size supply is limited. See your druggist TODAY.

IF NOT PLEASED WITH TRIAL SIZE YOUR DRUGGIST IS AUTHORIZED TO REFUND YOUR MONEY ON REGULAR SIZE.

Distributed in Canada by W. K. BUCKLEY LTD. TORONTO

Special Low EASTER FARES

Between all Points in Canada

SHORT WEEK-END — FARE AND ONE QUARTER FOR ROUND TRIP: Good going from noon Friday, April 19 to midnight Sunday, April 21 inclusive. Return limit leaving up to midnight Monday, April 22.

LONG WEEK-END — FARE AND ONE THIRD FOR ROUND TRIP: Good going from Thursday, April 18 to midnight Sunday, April 21 inclusive. Return limit leaving up to midnight Tuesday, April 23.

Minimum Special Fare—Adults 50c. Children 25c.

Special Limit for Students and Teachers of Educational Institutions on surrender of Canadian Passenger Association Certificate.

For fares and further information apply to Railway Ticket Agents 16-42

Canadian National • Canadian Pacific

HOOD & CUMMING MOTORS LIMITED

ANNOUNCE A NEW

USED-CAR SALES PLAN

. . . THREE DAY MONEY-BACK . . .
GUARANTEE OR FIVE DAY FREE EXCHANGE PRIVILEGE

You're Sure of Satisfaction when you Choose one of our dependable Used Cars - All makes models and prices. EASY TERMS.

The Best Used Car Values in Town

Here's your chance to get the late-model car you've always wanted at a price you can pay . . . and to get it under a new Ford Dealer 3-5 Plan that makes your satisfaction sure.

THIS 3-5 PLAN PROTECTS YOUR PURCHASE

Suppose you select a car priced at $300 or more. After driving it, if you are not entirely satisfied, we will refund your money without question any time within three days of the date the car is delivered to you.

Or suppose you choose a car priced under $300. You may decide later that you prefer a different make or body type. We will gladly exchange it for another used car of the same price or we will apply it as partial payment on a higher priced used car or a new car, provided the request for exchange is made within five days from the date the car is delivered to you.

Regardless of what price you pay, you have the protection of a Ford Dealer's good name. You can be sure we will treat you right.

Reasonable down payment. Easy terms. Your car taken in trade.

Read the 3-5 Plan List on Page 19

Phone 2460 — A Safe Place to Buy

TROTTIER'S GOAL IN OVERTIME WINS FOR MAROONS

ICE TEAM—Audrey Peppe and Robin Lee are stars of the international ice carnival in Madison Square Garden.

MOST COMPLETE SPORT PAGES IN CENTRAL ONTARIO

PETERBOROUGH
EXAMINER SPORTS

Sports Department—Phone 1600 FRIDAY, APRIL 5, 1935 Read by More than 18,000 Daily

WESTERN MARVEL—Jack Medica, of Seattle, is pictured during the national swimming meet at Cambridge, Mass.

HORNER KEEPS CLEAR OF BOX IN PLAY-OFFS

Red Thumps Maroons Around With Old-time Abandon But Escapes Referee.

SMITH HAS A VALET.

Crowd of 13,511 Below Expectations—Standing Room Space Short of 1,500.

Red Horner, the bad man of the National Hockey League, the most penalized player in the game, hasn't been near the penalty box since the play-offs started. Red thumped Maroons around with old-time abandon last night, but he was never even in danger of banishment. It was his fifth straight no-penalty game.

It was regarded as a little funny when Tommy Gorman announced: "We might even out-sock them." But the Maroons did out-sock the Leafs in the second period, and when the slugging was over it was the Leafs who had wilted.

Hooley Smith, veteran Montreal centre, has a valet now, unable to dress and undress himself because of his injured thumb, Hooley sat in state in the dressing-room after the game, puffing a cigarette while "his man" unlaced his skates. Gorman gave the Toronto amateur a great deal of credit for playing with a painful injury.

The buoyant Gorman is manager of the Maroons, but he doesn't mind acting as trainer, too, at times. On the bench he carried a towel and went up and down the line wiping off the perspiring faces of his players.

If a count of body checks had been kept the second period probably would have set an all-time record. Bob Gracie struck his head on the ice when Horner bumped him, and a few minutes later Mac Kilrea was knocked down with a thud that could be heard all over the Gardens.

When Gracie was carried off the ice, everything from a brain concussion to a broken arm was rumored. The Maroon centre was "goofy" for a while, he admitted, but after taking the third period off to recuperate he sat on the bench and watched Dave Trottier shoot the winning goal.

The scene in the Leaf dressing-room when it was over was a great change from the young riot that took place there Saturday night when Leafs won the N.H.L. title from Boston. There was hardly a murmur from the players as they slowly dressed. Some thought Cy Wentworth's goal should not have been allowed because of the pile-up on George Hainsworth.

Hooley Smith issued orders that the skates he wore last night were not to be touched before Saturday's game. Figuring they were not only sharpened just right, but probably were lucky too, he decided to stick with them.

Chums since boyhood days in Ottawa, Alex Connell of Maroons and King Clancy shook hands warmly at the finish. It was a good night for them both. Clancy scored a goal and Connell outpointed the Leafs.

The crowd of 13,511 was below expectations. It was a full house as far as the seating capacity went, but the standing-room space in the big rink would have accommodated another 1,500. Toronto officials expect a record-breaking crowd for the second game Saturday.

The Conachers—Lionel of Maroons and Charlie of Leafs—didn't come together once. Stew Evans and Allan Shields were the Montreal defencemen looking after Charlie's side of the rink. They did high-class work keeping out the big Toronto marksman.

GOLF FACTS
NOT THEORIES!
By ALEX J. MORRISON

NUMBER 578

Paul Runyan is taking up the study of golf technique. Like most students of the game he thinks each new discovery he makes about the swing is right next door to the much-sought secret of the game.

Paul likes the idea of a lateral shift. He thinks that he executes it properly. The correct lateral shift is a side motion of the hips with little or no side motion of the head.

Movies of Paul's swing made while he is hitting a ball show that he moves his head and hips to the right in his backswing. They also move to the left in his down-swing. Moving the head from side to side as much or more than the hips move is actually swaying, a fault that weakens the swing considerably.

If young Runyan would keep his head over the ball and just let his hips shift to the left in his down-swing he would add at least 20 yards to his wood shots.

Next: Brassie Needs Good Lie.

IMPORTANT GAMES IN ENGLISH LOOP

Weakened Gunners Need Victory Over Chelsea—Sunderland Play Albion.

LONDON, April 5. — Several soccer stars will be missing from the line-ups of Arsenal and Chelsea when they meet at Highbury on Saturday in an English League fixture. Much depends upon the game, at least as far as the Gunners' championship aspirations are concerned, and they can ill afford to lose.

Sunderland, with a game in hand, is pressing closely on Arsenal's heels in the race for the leadership. Only three points divide the teams, the Londoners being ahead with 48.

International demands and injuries will result in the Arsenal team being made up largely of reserves. Male, Bapgood, and Bastin will play for England against Scotland at Glasgow. On the injured list are Moss, versatile goalkeeper, and Copping, left half of the team. Jackson, Chelsea's goalkeeper, is also doing International duty, and Allum, the Pensioners' left half, is a doubtful starter.

Sunderland play West Bromwich Albion at the Hawthorns and the Roker Park side will go all out for victory. Under ordinary circumstances the Throstles would probably annex both points, but they are conserving their strength for the English Cup final and the result is doubtful.

TORONTO LEAFS FALL IN INITIAL STRUGGLE FOR THE STANLEY CUP

Conacher and Jackson Closely Tagged as Maroons Take 3-2 Victory.

BRUISING BODY CHECKING.

Most of Action Takes Place in Fast-stepping Second Period.

TORONTO, April 5 (C.P.) — Shaken by a body blow of such pretentions as more boisterous, fire-eating red machines of another day would have been proud to acclaim, Toronto Maple Leafs limped along to-day in the wake of the Stanley Cup-bound Montreal Maroons.

The threat of Thomas P. Gorman's Maroons, the craft allegedly built for speed rather than unlimited durability, had assumed menacing proportions. Rugged, hip-throwing foemen for the occasion, the Red-men were in command of the enemy camp.

They bashed the National Hockey League champions, 3-2, last night in the first game of the classic series, sinking the winning goal in overtime after belaboring the Leafs for two periods with crushing body-checks that no one supposed were in the Montreal repertoire.

FEARLESS BOUNCERS

Little fellows like Bob Gracie and Russ Blinco, welterweights of the stature of Baldy Northcott, Jimmy Ward, Gus Marker and Herbie Cain suddenly became fearless bouncers. They spilled the Leafs like nine-pins in a spectacular second period, ranging all over the mid-ice zone to attack the champions.

It was a strange procedure that turned out to be what the doctor ordered for the Maroons. After holding the Leafs to a 2-2 score they went back to defensive hockey in the third period, only occasionally applying real pressure.

In the overtime the Leafs lagged, tired by the thumping, and the young men from Montreal went about the business of winning the game. It required five minutes and 26 seconds. Earl Robinson, the outstanding forward on the ice, side-stepped King Clancy and laid a rifle pass on Dave Trottier's stick. Trottier scored easily.

Northcott, Ward and Hooley Smith had just finished a four-minute attack, completely outplaying Toronto's seige guns, Charlie Conacher, Harvey Jackson and Joe Primeau. They had almost, but not quite, beaten George Hainsworth on four separate drives.

SUPERB CHECKING

Through the second and third periods, Maroons had no appreciable edge. But they absorbed punishment more readily, seemed fresher than the Leafs for the finish and never stopped firing rubber at the veteran Hainsworth. At the same time they checked superbly.

Robinson shot the Red team in front early in the second period, catching Bluss Blinco's pass from a face-off. He was directly in front of the Toronto cage and had only to pick an open spot. Ten minutes later Frank Finnigan jammed the rebound of his own shot past Alex Connell and squared the count.

Connell, who had wobbled a couple of times in handling long shots, missed Clancy's knee-high drive altogether. The King let it go as he piled into Lionel Conacher on the Montreal defence, and the netman failed to see the puck at all. That made it 2-1 for Toronto.

Before the period ended, Cy Wentworth broke away and forced another tie. They almost had him stoppe dat the Leaf blue line, but he recovered the puck and shot. Hainsworth took it on his pads, stepped back to clear and found the big Maroon defenceman on top of him. Wentworth clubbed at the puck until both it and Hainsworth were in the goal.

That was even better than Maroons had expected and they seemed content with the deadlock in the third period. Northcott went back to his job of handcuffing Charlie Conacher; Ward kept track of Jackson. Between them Conacher and Jackson had only four dead-on shots.

Cain, Gus Marker and Gracie made no headway whatever on the attack as Pep Kelly, Red Metz and Cotton played safely, backchecking relentlessly. The Maroon threesome did more shooting but the youthful Kelly, strong-man of the N.H.L. finals against Boston, went in close for all but one of his five shots.

BECOMING GAME'S GREATEST

That left Finnigan, Thoms and Kilrea to watch the brilliant, hard-working Blinco and his hencemen, Robinson and Trottier. Two of the three Montreal goals were delivered by the dashing trio that Gorman believes will become hockey's greatest forward line within a year or two.

Gracie, Marker and Kilrea were the only casualties for all the heavy hitting and none was seriously injured. Bill Miller replaced Gracie in the third period while the former Toronto player recovered from an injured head. He struck his head on the ice when Red Horner flattened him with a bodycheck.

Indications to-day were that the Leafs would be slight favorites to even the series here Saturday night, but odds favoring them to capture the series had disappeared. It was an even-money gamble in most places. The third and fourth games will be played on Montreal ice, the teams returning here for a fifth if they haven't decided the series before that time.

Hockey Scores

Results of hockey games played Thursday follow—

Stanley Cup Finals

xxMontreal Mar. 3 Toronto M. L. 2 x—5 mins., 26 seconds overtime.
xx—First game of series.

Western Canada Junior Final xSaskatoon Wes. 5 Winnipeg. M. 3 x—Round tied, one game each.

Can.-Am. Final.

Boston.....4 Providence 1

New Idea in Sport

GUELPH, Ont. (CP)—A new kind of sports organization has been formed here. It's an association for those who have been out of games or whose standard in competition is not sufficiently high for organized sport. These fellows are going to have their fun just like the higher-class athletes.

Playoff Statistics

(By The Canadian Press)

STANLEY CUP FINAL)
(Three out of five games)

	P.	W.	L.	F.	A.
Toronto	1	0	1	2	3
Montreal	1	1	0	3	2

N.H.L. CHAMPIONSHIP
(Three out of five games)

	P.	W.	L.	F.	A.
Toronto	4	3	1	7	2
Boston	4	1	3	2	7

Toronto wins N.H.L. championship.

Results

*Boston	1	Toronto	0
Boston	0	Toronto	2
Boston	0	Toronto	3
*Boston	1	Toronto	2

*—Overtime.

SECOND PLACE PLAY-OFF
(Two games, total goals.)

	P.	W.	L.	T.	F.	A.
Maroons	2	1	0	1	1	0
Chicago	2	0	1	1	0	1

Maroons win round, 1 to 0.

Results

Maroons	0	Chicago	0
*Maroons	1	Chicago	0

*—Overtime.

THIRD-PLACE SERIES
(Two games, total goals.)

	P.	W.	L.	T.	F.	A.
Rangers	2	1	0	1	6	5
Canadiens	2	0	1	1	5	6

Rangers win round, 6 to 5.

Results

Rangers	2	Canadiens	1
Rangers	4	Canadiens	4

STANLEY CUP SEMI-FINAL SERIES
(Two games, total goals.)

	P.	W.	L.	T.	F.	A.
Maroons	2	1	0	1	5	4
Rangers	2	0	1	1	4	5

Maroons win series, 5 to 4.

Results

Maroons	2	Rangers	1
Maroons	3	Rangers	3

Exhibition Baseball

At Houston, Tex:

Chicago (A.)	000	011	100	4	6	3
Pittsburg (N)	104	010	00x	6	9	3

Jones, Vance and Sewell, Shea; Birkofer, Blanton and Padden, Grace

At Atlanta, Ga.:

Boston (A.)	021	501	010	10	13	1
Atlanta (S.A.)	013	010	000	5	11	2

Ostermueller, Johnson and Ferrell, Smith; Lindsay, Kelley and Palmisano, McCaskill.

At Louisville, Ky.:

Wash'ton (A.)	003	000	322	10	13	3
L's'ville (A.A.)	108	010	001	4	14	4

Whitehill, Linke and Bolton; Sewell, Peterson and Thompson, Ringhofer.

At St. Augustine, Fla.:

Cincinnati (N.)	000	001	000	1	6	2
Detroit (A.)	100	000	001	2	7	2

Frey, Hermann and Lombardi, Campbell; Rowe, Auker and Hayworth.

WILL ACCOMPANY TIGERS

FORT ERIE, Ont., April 5 (CP)—Mock Dunn, star winger of the Fort Erie team of the New York—Ontario Hockey League and former Port Colborne senior sailor forward, said yesterday he would accompany Hamilton Tigers on their goodwill tour to England and France, leaving Saturday night.

SASKATOON TIES JUNIOR FINALS WITH WINNIPEG

Third Game Necessary to Decide Winner to Meet Sudbury for Canadian Title.

FINAL SCORE 5-3.

WINNIPEG, April 5.—(CP)— A fighting bundle of hockey craft from Saskatchewan, Saskatoon Wesleys, curbed the title rush of Winnipeg Monarchs here last night with a 5-3 win in the second of their three-game series for the junior hockey championship of Western Canada.

Victory for the prairie speedsters following their 5-4 setback in the first game, evened the series. The deciding game will be played Saturday night and the winner will be drawn against Sudbury Wolves here next Tuesday in the first of a three-game series to determine possession of junior hockey's highest reward, the Memorial Cup.

With 4,000 fans cheering, Monarchs took a 2-0 lead at the end of the first period. Wesleys tied it up at the end of the second period with the score 3-3, and in the final period Wesleys added two more to cinch victory.

Dick Wyman and Pete Leswick scored twice each for the Wesleys and Stan. Sampson picked off the other goal. Pete Belanger and Paul Rheault scored Winnipeg's first-period goals, with Joe Krol getting the third.

Leafs Falter In 9th Bears Take Verdict

CLEARWATER, Fla., April 5. —(CP)—Some erratic serving by June Barnes, coupled with Thomas's bad error, enabled the Bears to get the decision over the Leafs in an exhibition game here yesterday, 6 to 5. All the damage was done in the ninth inning, when, with the Boonemen apparently headed for victory, the submarine southpaw, who had taken up the flinging in the previous frame, ran into a streak of bad luck.

Sallinson, a pitcher, hit a homer over the short right-field fence and, after Leishman had swung at three, Mays slipped a single to right. McQuinn then bounded to Thomas at second base and the youngster, with a double play made to order in front of him, kicked the ball around ingloriously. Barnes managed to make Glynn slap to him, and the pitcher, with another chance to pull off a double killing, threw to first base, and the tying and winning runs were on.

Evidently acting under orders, Barnes purposely passed Koy, who hadn't hit the ball out of the infield all day, filling the corners and bringing up Bell, who previously had singled twice. It was bad business, as the outfielder from Hollywood smote one high and far over Oliver's head in centre and the old game was gone.

Who May be Who in 1935

By BILL BRAUCHER
© CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION, INC.

Youthful Big League Player Wins Job at Third Base.

Cecil Howell Travis faced a hard row to hoe when he reported at the training camp of the Washington Senators last year. He has hoed it.

The youngster, rawest of raw rookies, was only 20 years old. His professional experience in organized baseball was limited to a season at Chattanooga and a few fall games with the Senators late in 1933 when he was brought up for inspection.

Meets Handicaps

The season had not gone far along when he was beaned by a pitched ball and placed on the shelf for several weeks. Later he sustained a leg injury that kept him out of a flock of games.

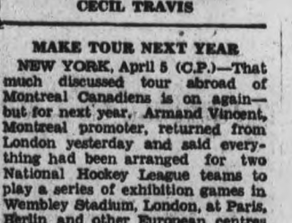
In spite of adverse circumstances Travis stole the job of the veteran, Ossie Bluege, at third base, stamped himself by his play at third and prowess at the plate as one of the year's most valuable recruits, and is counted upon strongly as a regular for 1935.

Dependable Bat

Injuries did not hamper Travis in hitting. His mark for 109 games was .310, though he did not play in that number of games, appearing frequently as a pinch hitter when incapacitated by injuries. He ranked well up among the league's third basemen in fielding, showing steady improvement.

Travis is a native Georgian, born in Riverdale, Aug. 8, 1913.

Before coming to Washington he hit .345 in 139 games for Chattanooga.



CECIL TRAVIS

MAKE TOUR NEXT YEAR

NEW YORK, April 5 (C.P.)—That much discussed tour abroad of Montreal Canadiens is on again—but for next year, Armand Vincent, Montreal promoter, returned from London yesterday and said everything had been arranged for two National Hockey League teams to play a series of exhibition games in Wembley Stadium, London, at Paris, Berlin and other European centres at the conclusion of next season's campaign.

Our Boarding House . . . . . By Ahern

CENT A MILE ROUND TRIP BARGAINS (Minimum Fares: Adults 75c; Child 40c

FRIDAY, April 12 from PETERBORO

To Guelph, Kitchener, Stratford, Goderich, Kincardine, Southampton, Owen Sound, and all Intermediate Points beyond Guelph.

St. Catharines, Niagara Falls, Brantford, Woodstock, London, Sarnia, Chatham, Windsor, Detroit, and all Intermediate Points beyond Hamilton.

Barrie, Orillia, Gravenhurst, Bracebridge, Huntsville, North Bay, Meaford, Collingwood, Penetang, Midland.

All Towns on lines of TEMISKAMING AND NORTHERN ONTARIO RLY. NIPISSING CENTRAL RLY.; Cochrane-Kapuskasing.

Parry Sound, Sudbury †Longlac †Geraldton †Hardrock †Jellicoe (†Sturgeon River Gold Fields.)

Saturday, April 13, to Lindsay, Toronto, and Hamilton

Tickets Return Limits and Train Information from Agents. Ask for Handbill. T473A

J. B. DORAN, 324 George Street. 'Phone 259 and 156.

CANADIAN NATIONAL

9d-5,10

EVERY YARD OF TIP TOP WOOLLENS PRE-SHRUNK BY THE HYGROLIT PROCESS

THREE YARDS in every hundred are lost in the fine British woollens from which Tip Top Tailors' clothes are made, in protecting Tip Top Tailors' customers against shrinkage. A $30,000 machine installed in the modern, sun-lit Tip Top Tailors' plant pre-shrinks every yard of woollens before it is made into made-to-measure clothing. Tip Top Tailors absorb this yardage loss but the customer secures a properly pre-shrunk suit or topcoat.

$23.75

TIP TOP TAILORS

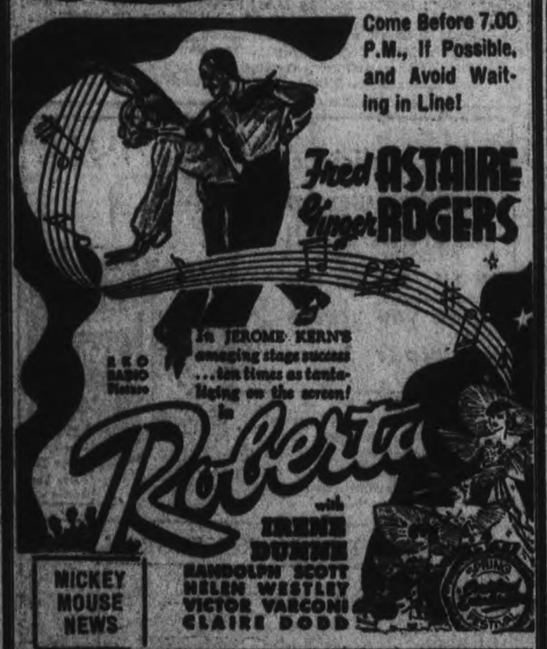
TAILORING BY UNION CRAFTSMEN

329 GEORGE STREET

Pro Hockey Leagues Operate in Europe in 1937

CAPITOL To-day - Saturday 2.30 - 7.00 - 9.10

Come Before 7.00 P.M., If Possible, and Avoid Waiting in Line!



WATCH FOR - - -
'THE SCARLET PIMPERNEL'
IT COMMENCES ON WEDNESDAY

EUROPEAN FANS PAY TOP PRICES TO SEE '6TH GRADERS' PERFORM

Pro Hockey Would Be Revelation Across Pond, Belief of Irmand Vincent.

BUILDING ICE PALACES.

By GEORGE MAGUIRE
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, April 5. (CP). — A steady stream of major league hockey players migrating to the British Isles and Europe during the next few years is the picture visioned by Armand Vincent, Montreal promoter, following a lengthy tour abroad.

Britain and Europe, he declared, are ready for the pro hockey and forecast professional leagues would be operating there after next season.

With abundance of money in their pockets, the British and European fans pays tops of from eight to ten dollars to watch "sixth graders' perform. Professional hockey, Vincent said, would be a revelation. So much so that Promotor Jeff Dickson of Paris, is loathe to have Canadiens or New York Rangers perform there as he said "it would be the finish of amateur hockey" in Paris.

Canucks to Make Trip

Canadiens of the N.H.L. and another major league team will play three games in a new stadium being erected in London under the direction of Major-General Critchley, former Calgary sportsman. The ice palace will be modelled along the lines of the Boston Garden and will seat 20,000. The N.H.L. teams are slated for the jaunt at the end of the 1936 season.

From London the teams will travel to Praha for two games; two at Vienna; one at Zurich and another at Budapest. A brace of games will be played in Berlin and another two at Munich. The schedule will wind up with two contests at Jarmish in the Olympic stadium seating 20,000.

Sauce For Goose

WINDSOR, Ont., April 5.—(C. P.)—The Ontario junior basketball crown it seems just can't be given away this year. Hamilton Kellys and Assumption College, finalists, were scheduled to play home- ad-home games to decide the championship. As this arrangement was unsuitable to Assumption, the purple's management advised Kelleys they could have the title gratis.

The basketball authorities then stepped in and ordered a sudden death game at London this Saturday. This was agreeable to Assumption, but Hamilton, not to be outdone in generosity, announced they would default the game and title to the Collegians.

CLEVELAND SEEKS N.H.L. FRANCHISE

Owner Sutphin Confers With President Calder—May Build New Rink.

TORONTO, April 5. — A. C. Sutphin, owner of the Cleveland Falcons in the International Hockey League, said here last night he had conferred yesterday with Frank Calder, president of the National Hockey League ,submitting plans for Cleveland's entry into the National League.

Mr. Sutphin would not reveal the nature of the plans, but he admitted they found favor with Mr. Calder, who could not be reached for comment. The plans will come up before the annual meeting of the Board of Governors, Mr. Sutphin said, when it will be decided whether Cleveland is granted a major league franchise.

The Cleveland owner could not say definitely whether, if granted the franchise, new players would be bought, forming a ten-team N.H.L., or whether one or the clubs at present in the N.H.L. would move to Cleveland. It was rumored at the close of the N.H.L. schedule that St. Louis Eagles would be shifted to another city, and recent reports from Montreal indicate Leo Dandurand may take his Canadiens out of that city.

Mr. Sutphin said Cleveland fans are eager for a taste of big league hockey. The Falcons played to capacity crowds throughout the season.

The rink in Cleveland seats slightly less than 4,000, and if granted a franchise, Mr. Sutphin said, he will immediately begin construction of a new arena. He could not say definitely whether the Falcons would continue to operate in the I.H.L.

BOSTON BETTERS GRIP ON TITLE

Cubs Make It Two Straight Over Rhode Island Reds in Can.-Am. Playoffs.

PROVIDENCE, R.I., April 5.—(A.P.)— Boston Cubs, first-place finishers in the Canadian-American Hockey League, made it two straight over the third-place Rhode Island Reds in their play-off series for the league championship by defeating Providence 4-1 here last night.

The Cubs, who won the first game of the best-three-in-five series for the Fontaine Cup by 1-0 on their home ice, clearly outplayed the Reds from start to finish last night. They scored a goal in the first, two in the second and their last one in the third period, while the Reds made their only goal in the last period.

Penalties hurt Providence, for six were called on the Reds and one of the Boston goals came when the home team was short-handed. The Cubs had an advantage in the play throughout sufficient to make them the logical winners of the game.

Let Baer Do Figuring I'll Do The Fighting

DETROIT, April 5 (AP)—Champion Max Baer "can do the figuring," young Joe Louis said to-day, "and I'll do the fighting."

Not that 20-year-old Joe thinks Max is bid at "figgers."

The Detroit negro heavyweight, who will fight Primo Carnera in New York this Summer, believes Baer "called the turn' when he predicted to-day that a Baer-Louis bout for the heavyweight title would draw a $1,000,000 gate—provided Louis knows out Carnera.

"Better start buildin' them seats," grinned Joe, adding that he thought Maxie a "pretty good estimator."

The "Brown Bomber" isn't at all worried about carrying out his end of the $1,000,000 gate proposition. Joe insists he can stop the 'Ambling Alp from Italy in five rounds. Many of the sports writers who saw him gave Natie Brown of Washington a terrific beating recently, gave him a chance to knock out Carnera within that number of rounds.

An Elizabethan silver salt cellar was sold recently in London for $1500.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

(By C. J. P.)

Tonight sees the windup of the gals' cage season in the Y.W.C.A. The senior finalists finished last week with Westclox decisioning Blue Petes for the flag. This evening, Murray St. Church and Wohelo Club tangle in the deciding game of the junior playoffs. It starts at 7.30 o'clock and admission is a dime. In the first game, Murray St. finished strong to pull out a neat victory and looked good for the crown in two straight. But the scrappy Wohelos came back with a bang in the return tussle to take a soft win and sew up the series. It's just a tossup now and should be a fine scrap.

• • • • • •

The National Basketball Coaches Assoc. in the U.S. have been discussing some changes in the cage game. A proposal to eliminate the centre jump except at the start of each half is on the books for discussion as well as one to keep the centre jump but widen the centre circle and bar other players from entering it till the ball is tapped. They also are talking of raising the baskets from 10 to 12 feet to lengthen rebounds and eliminate congestion under the basket. Increase the circumference of the hoop two inches to permit more scoring is still another thought. And how about drastic changes to cut down on the whistle-tooting in this speedy sport?

• • • • • •

O.A.S.A. officials are hopeful of seeing this season the consummation of a plan which has been developing three years, Secretary Verne Mollwraith stated in Guelph the other day. It is the zoning system, for conducting business and softball playoffs, which they figured would make for improved legislation and satisfaction to teams in playoffs. So far, it has proven successful and has meant more entries and less squawking in the O.A.S.A. playdowns. Teams have been drawn against teams in their own districts, each zone naming one champion in each series to enter Ontario finals.

• • • • • •

"This year," the Secretary reports, "officials plan to introduce legislation at the annual meeting in Peterborough on Good Friday to give each section of the Province equal representation on the Ontario excutive. The proposed plan calls for each zone district in succeeding years to hold a general meeting prior to the annual of the O.A.S.A. and name its representatives to the Provincial organization." An amendment to the constitution seeks to have the executive of the Ontario Association named in this manner with the main offices named at the annual meeting and with two extra members of the executive named by the incoming president, one from each zone district.

• • • • • •

Various other amendments tending to perfect the Association have been received already, and others are expected by the deadline date of April 5th (tonight), two weeks prior to the annual convention here. We like the zoning system and it might work equally well in other Provincial sports. When the local softball winner is declared, it then meets its nearest rival, Lindsay in our case. Whichever team loses can't kick about having been ordered to play too far away from home in the first round of the playdowns. And whichever team wins then expects—and should be able to afford—to travel a little further in the next round. And so on until the finals are reached.

• • • • • •

What price mercantile hockey? Dunno ,awak us another. All we do know about it is that the highly-touted all-star team from the Toronto mercantile loop—figured to walk away with the Allan Cup this year—came a cropper the other eve in Montreal. And to a non-mercantile team at that, the Montreal Royals. The Torontos lost the first game of the inter-provincial playoffs 9 to 2, won the second at home by a 5-2 score, but dropped the final 4 to 1 in Mayor Houde's burg. This Toronto team was composed of the best pucksters in the industrial circuit and it really was a strong outfit. Yet the Royals rubbed 'em out. Again we wonder what price mercantile hockey.

• • • • • •

James Sutherland of Kingston the other day queried The Star about the Stanley Cup. He wanted to know how come a trophy for amateur hockey was now up for pro competition. He wonders if the Ottawa trustees of Lord Stanley's Cup secured permission to make the change or did they do it on their own initiative. Lou Marsh replies thusly: "No adequate explanation of how the Stanley Cup came to be transferred to the pro setup has ever been made. The general opinion is that the trustees did it off their own bat about the time Ottawa jumped into pro hockey." But there is an explanation, and it was made by Les Patrick to Frank Menke who uses it in his All-Sports Record Book.

• • • • • •

He tells of the old days in the 90s, when amateur teams frequently used pro players, rules being quite lax then. Menke continues: "In 1911, there was created the Pacific Coast League, another professional unit. At the end of the year the Pacific Coast winner challenged the National Hockey winner for a duel to decide possession of the Stanley Cup. The cup trustees objected at once, claiming the cup was for amateur competition only. The pro leagues retaliated by pointing out that for many years the different clubs which won the cup had been at least partly professional, and that to bar wholly professionalized teams from competition was hypocrisy. The trustees finally yielded to the logic of the situation, the pros played for the cup, got it, and it has been a professional trophy ever since."

• • • • • •

Up and down Sports' Rialto: Severely lively cage contests in the Y.M.C.A. tomorrow e'en....Next O.H.B.L. meeting will be held in Belleville, probably on April 20th....Schedule will be drawn up then, question of umpires dealt with, etc.....Minn's softball executive meets at seven Monday eve in Duffus'....There are rumors of a couple of junior baseball teams here this summer....Big League hockey playoffs just finish as Big League baseball commences.

PICARD SHOOTS BRILLIANT 67 TO LEAD AUGUSTA TOURNAMENT

Bobby Jones, Sentimental Favorite, Finishes 7 Strokes Behind.

CANADIANS SHOOT 78.

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 5. — The professional Light Brigade yesterday made good its threat to show Bobby Jones and his Georgia followers how it's done nowadays in the finest of golfing company.

In a setting that ranged from the misty chill of a gray morning to the brilliant sunshine of a perfect Spring afternoon, they did their stuff spectacularly and with something to spare. The shock troops not only routed the one-time world champion at the outset of their second annual joust over the Augusta countryside, but delivered a record-breaking attack on the bunkered battleground that the great Jones helped design.

The home folks turned out 1,000 strong, but Jones, no longer the golfing machine of his championship days, struggled to score 78. He was too over par and seven full strokes behind the dazzling pace set by the tall, youthful Henry D. Picard, native of Massachusetts, who now represents the Hershey (Pa.) Country Club.

Record Beginning

Picard's 33-34—67 was the climax of a record beginning for the second annual $5,000 invitation tournament of the Augusta National Golf Club. It was five under par, two shots below the competitive course record, but only good enough to give him a one-shot margin over his nearest three pursuers at the end of the first 18-hole round of the 72-hole medal play competition.

The two Canadian seekers after gold and glory, Jules Huot of Quebec and Andy Kay, Toronto, found the tricky greens and deep bunkers puzzling and both scored 78. Huot's was made up of 39's on each nine, while Kay improved to 37 coming home after starting to 41 on the out-journey.

To the general display of soaring fireworks, 22-year-old Willie Goggin, San Francisco, contributed a fella in one by sinking a spectacular shot on the 145-yard 16th hole. This enabled him to come back in 33 for a crackling round of 68 and make it a three-cornered deadlock for second place with Gene Sarazen, the prime favorite, and Ray Mangrum of Los Angeles.

Regent ENTERTAINMENT

LAST TIMES TO-NIGHT
7 and 9 o'Clock
Murder, Mystery, Comedy
in
"WHILE THE PATIENT SLEPT"
With Guy Kibbee, Aline MacMahon, Lyle Talbot, Patricia Ellis

SATURDAY ONLY
King of the Cowboys
KEN MAYNARD
in
"THE HONOR OF THE RANGE"
Also
BUCK JONES IN CHAP. I.
Of Our New Serial
"THE RED RIDER"
15 Whirlwind Chapters of Western Action and Thrills

Who May be Who in 1935

By BILL BRAUCHER
CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION, INC.

Gelbert Rounds Bases in 17 Seconds and Finds New Hope.

One of the gamest fights a man ever made is the comeback attempt of Charley Gelbert shortstop of the Cardinals and hero of the world series of 1931. This year Gelbert's struggle may be rewarded with victory.

Two years ago last November the thread of Gelbert's baseball career was snapped by a shotgun discharge which shattered his left ankle during a hunting trip. Charley has submitted to operation after operation in a patient effort to reconstruct and restore the foot physician at first feared would require amputation.

Tests Himself

Last year he found he could walk. Massage and heat therapy helped to keep the ankle limber. Then, a few days ago, Gelbert put himself to the test and ran around the bases at Gettysburg College in 17 seconds. Considering the record for the run is 13 2-5 seconds, held by Evar Swanson, the demonstration by Gelbert is convincing.

At the time of his accident, Gelbert was on his way to being named the greatest man at that position in either league. Native of Scranton, he is of Pennsylvania Dutch stock, and now is 29 years old.

Gelbert started his baseball career in 1926 after starring at halfback at University of Pennsylvania. Serving apprenticeship at Syracuse, Topeka and Rochester, he joined the Cardinals in 1929.

Gelbert is married. Mrs. Gelbert is the former Mabel Hafey of Chambersburg, Pa.

CHARLEY GELBERT

Fights Last Night

(By the Associated Press.)

Tulsa—King Levinsky, 197½, Chicago, knocked out Bob Williams, 204, Oklahoma City, (1).

Tacoma, Wash.—Leonard Bennett, 145½, Detroit, outpointed Johnny Foster, 140, Vancouver,B.C., (6); Roy Williams, 169, Chicago, outpointed "Bonny" Buxton, 178½, Victoria.

Little World Series To Start In Vancouver

VANCOUVER, April 5. (CP).—Detroit Olympics arrived here yesterday and after a few hours straightening out train kinks stepped through a short workout at the arena, their first and only before meeting Vancouver Lions here tonight in the first game of their "little world series."

Headed by Eddie Wiseman, first-string right winger with the Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League, who was drafted for the trip, the International League champions will present the toughest opposition the Lions have met this season, and Manager Guy Patrick has bolstered his line-up for the series.

USED CARS

Come to Us with Confidence.
PRICES OF ALL NEW AND USED CARS MARKED IN PLAIN FIGURES.

Stock No.		Price
35M	—Ford V8 Coupe, nearly new	$725
1032	—Chevrolet Sedan, like new	$500
11M	—Two-Wheel Trailer	$ 40
1D	—Willys-Knight Sedan	$235
5D	—Plymouth Sedan	$275
6D	—Chrysler Coupe	$385
7D	—Studebaker Panel Delivery	$280
9D	—Studebaker Sedan	$145
3	—Buick 5-Pass. Coupe, excellent	$975
6	—Buick Sedan, 7-Pass.	$170
7	—Ford V8 Coach	$460
14	—Ford A Panel Delivery	$125
17R	—Whippet Sedan, 4-cyl.	$165
20R	—Buick Sedan, 7-Pass.	$125
21R	—Ford Pick-up Truck	$ 45
23	—Chevrolet Cabriolet, like new	$895
30	—Pontiac Sedan	$360
31	—Pontiac Sedan	$280
32	—Chevrolet Sedan	$135
42	—Ford Truck	$150
44	—Pontiac Sedan	$275

BRING THIS LIST WITH YOU.
These Cars must be seen to appreciate their Value.
Your Present Car Taken in Exchange.
Easy Payments if desired.

J. J. DUFFUS CO.
WATER ST. AT CHARLOTTE
24-28

If you buy out of town, and I buy out of town and all our neighbors buy out of town, what in thunder will become of our town? Ever think about it?

Match Wits And Strength In Stanley Cup Finals

The end of another hockey season is in sight. With the N.H.L. schedule completed, the championship decided and final games for possession of the historic Stanley Cup impending, the ice game will soon be pushed off the sporting map for another term. But the finals have yet to be played and they promise a thrilling struggle. Chicago's cup-holding Black Hawks are in the Glamed; Boston's burly Bruins after a sportsroom stand have been driven to their lair to lick wounds received in as bitter a league championship series as has ever been fought; New York's gallant Rangers, faltering after a brilliant uphill rush, hadn't enough left for the final drive; the scarlet-clad Canadiens look toward another year for new hope. Only Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Maroons remain. They meet in a three out of five game series for the cup. Above are some who will probably highlight the current series for the coveted Stanley Cup: Grouped around the ugly but prized mug, are Coach Dick Irvin of Toronto, rated one of the cleverest members in big league hockey; centre, Frankie Finnigan, Ottawa Irishman bought by the Leafs from St. Louis late in the season for $6,000 and now one of their most valuable all-round forwards; RIGHT, Marvin 'Cy' Wentworth, sturdy, reliable, hard-hitting Montreal rear-guard. LOWER LEFT, Bill "Flash" Hollett, brilliant Toronto rookie defenceman, starring in his first cup series; centre, Lawrence "Baldy" Northcott, fast-breaking, dangerous Maroon right-winger; right, Thomas Patrick Gorman, master-mind of the Maroons and the man who must match wits with Irvin in bench strategy.

NELLIE FLAG AFTER KENTUCKY HONORS

Filly From Warren Wright's Calumet Farm Making Bid For Honors.

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK, April 5. (AP). — Only one filly ever won the Kentucky Derby and victories of geldings have been few, but this year one of each figures prominently with a speedy pair of colts in the pre-race calculations.

The filly is Nellie Flag, from Warren Wright's Calumet farm; the gelding, Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords' Commonwealth; and the two colts, Pint Rye and Sailor Beware, from Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greentree stable.

Nellie Flag left no doubt as to her class in winning the Matron Stakes at Belmont Park, the Selima at Laurel and the Kentucky Jockey Club stakes at Latonia. She earned $85,700 during the year and was seecond only to Chance Sun, the future book favorite, in that respect.

Commonwealth showed fine stamina in taking the mile and 70 yards of the endurance handicap late in November at Bowie. He won five of his nine starts.

Pint Rye started 11 times, won four races and went unplaced only twice in earning $67,030. Sailor Beware raced the barrier 21 times and came on to beat out Omaha in the one mile junior champion stakes at Aqueduct. He was first in four other races and third three times.

Wrestling Last Night

(By the Canadian Press.)

Hartford, Conn.—Gus Sonnenberg, 205, Boston, defeated Billy Bartush, 225, Chicago, two out of three falls.

Camden, N.J.— George Zaharias, 235, Colorado, defeated Dick Daviscourt, 230, California, two straight falls.

An Elizabethan silver salt cellar was sold recently in London for $1500.

Little Sister

by Margaret Widdemer

(Continued from Yesterday)

CHAPTER 33

Bet sat down.

"Good heavens, Bet, you stole practically all that speech from a magazine," said the surprised Leila.

Bet, still preening over her applause, glared at her.

"Leila, you can't understand right-mindedness and decent behavior. All you care for is country club stuff. All I can say is, I hope poor Orton can tame you down a little. . . . Sh-h!"

Red was speaking now—a nice little sales talk, as informal as if he had not been wrestling with his notes all evening. As for poor Addison, he still sat stiff and staring. Mrs. Johnston-Hedges spoke, making a very good effort at being on the bandwagon and having been there some time; Orton spoke with his usual stiff good humor. Somehow the speeches wore on. Everybody except Leila and Mrs. Johnston-Hedges seemed in a state of high delight. The Fernwood Manorites were delighted because it was plain that when the time came to vote in October, nobody was going to vote their private beach away from them. The other Fernwooders were delighted because they were going to have the use of a casino and a beach and all the comforts in general of a country club for the price of going to Playland. And the Fernwood Waters people were delighted because they had jobs and very cheap houses with ground to grow things (or landscape, as the more snobbish would unquestionably do) of a class that their neighbors had to pay three times as much for.

Mrs. Johnston-Hedges had hold of herself by now. She went on being toastmistress, having been handed back that privilege by the mayor, and was making a long introduction to a speech by somebody down the table. Under cover of it Leila saw Addison turn half round and cling to his father's hand as if he had never ceremonially discarded him. Under cover of the big voice that boomed through his casino, Leila heard him say tremulously:

"Father, did you—did you really feel you were proud of me?"

"I should think I was, my boy!" said his father with enthusiasm and relief mingling in his manner.

"I — I — oh, Dad, I never knew it! It was always Jim — he was everything and everybody liked him best. He was a prince. . . . I was crazy over him myself . . . but nobody cared about me for myself, I thought, not even Jerry — except Bet — and Aunt Minnie. You'd love Aunt Minnie, Dad. I never knew you did . . . not a bit . . . why . . . why . . . maybe you liked me all the time."

Poor little Addison nearly broke down, there at the table. His father put an arm around him and bent down. His voice was moved, too.

"That's what Redmond told me, sonny. He said you weren't fighting for a cause as much as to try to show me that you had talent as well as poor Jim. It seemed fantastic to me that you shouldn't have realized this, but I saw he was right. So when he came to me and told me that you'd married a good girl, and were trying to do the sort of thing I'd been interested in myself when I was a young fellow, why — it was up to the old man to back you, Addy boy. I gave him two or three of my bright young men, and he and young DeFries and my best architect put it through for you the best way we know. . . . Why, Addy, I always loved you more than I did Jim. You were so like what I was when I was young. And I tried not to show it, because it seemed egotistic and unfair. I — I guess I overdid it. And after he died you were off revolting, and — and . . ."

The Huntingdons, father and son, did not explain or apologize easily. But they were trying hard.

"Mr. Huntingdon, take my seat!" Leila said impulsively, and vacated it for him.

She hadn't realized that it put her next Jerry Redmond.

And it hadn't been old Robert Martin after all. Jerry hadn't schemed or lied — excepting in a perfectly splendid way. She owed about fourteen apologies to Jerry.

For a moment she froze. Then the thing between her and Jerry which, though it might make them enemies, made it impossible for them ever to be strangers, together with a major need for information, forced her into speech. She had misjudged Jerry. He was going to marry that detestable Mary Martin and she was tied to Orton, but at least he had not delivered Addison and Bet and Aunt Minnie and the future of Fernwood Waters into the Martins' hands. He had done an awfully decent thing. She supposed she should, as a matter of clan loyalty, be annoyed with him for outgeneraling the Johnston-Hedges a little, but she couldn't be sorry. Mrs. Johnston-Hedges had been so willing to throw everybody to the wolves (if you could call Aunt Minnie's two-room flat Orton had mentioned, her own complete dependence, and Addison and Bet being broke, the wolves) to discredit any plan for an open bathing beach. If it had not been for that incredible joker in the pack, Mr. Huntingdon, the meeting would have been the walkover for her mother-in-law-to-be that it had seemed ten minutes back, with Addison and Bet and Aunt Minnie ruined and ridiculous. It might be clever politics, but Leila couldn't like it. But all that was a dim nothingness compared to sitting by Jerry. Her first words turned out, to her surprise, not to be an apology to all.

"Please, Jerry, if this isn't the Mad Hatter's tea party," she began a little nervously, trying not to look at him (the bright, wise blue eyes, the mouth under the little black mustache that responded and understood so swiftly), "do tell me how you managed this."

"Why jump to the conclusion that I managed it?"

They were, as usual, talking as if they were off on some star together.

"It didn't manage itself, with the Huntingdons disowning each other from morning till night, and Mrs. Johnston-Hedges hoping Fernwood Waters would choke so she'd have a magnificent alibi for the village meeting! Besides, I just heard Mr. Huntingdon."

(To be continued.)

With his bag pipes tucked under his arm, Hugh Kennedy traveled 700 miles by boat, train and omnibus from Tiree, Scotland, to London, to compete with 200 others in a piping contest only to see the first prize go to the youngest competitor, 15-year-old Donald Ramsey.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, April 6

According to the contradictory tone of the ruling planets on this day, it may be wise to be prepared for conflicting conditions and some adverse situations to be dealt with sagaciously. There is danger of hostility and strife, with unfavorable litigation in the offing, unless a firm check is exercised on proclivities toward rash, quarrelsome and too aggressive conduct. All forms of excess, waste and gambling should be avoided.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is stand at the threshold of a possibly active and profitable year, with fresh opportunities for fortunate change and new contracts, providing they shun impetuous and quarrelsome conduct as well as extravagance, gambles and litigation.

A child born on this day may be active, energetic and have large aims and ambitions, but its impulsive and too ardent nature may provoke high enmity and opposition.

About the only shoes exported from Hungary in the last year were fancy hand-made women's footwear for evening wear.

INSTITUTE PLANS ANNUAL MEETING

Patriotic Program Will be Held at Hastings to Commemorate Royal Jubilee.

HASTINGS, April 5 (Examiner Correspondence) — The regular monthly meeting of the Hastings Women's Institute was held on Tuesday, April 2, in the Council Chambers with twenty-one members present and the president, Mrs. W. M. Fowlds in the chair. The secretary Mrs. J. A. Brown and the treasurer, Mrs. A. S. Spooner gave favorable reports.

The annual meeting will be held on May 7th with the election of officers and report of the year's work. The program will be of a patriotic nature to commemorate the silver jubilee of the King and Queen. The two schools have been asked to assist in the program, one from each school taking part. The roll call will be "Happiness of 25 years ago."

Mrs. Scott Fife, gave in a most interesting manner, a paper on the History of Hastings, tracing its history from 1820 to the present time.

A propressive euchre and dance will be held in Lynch's Hall on May 3rd, convenors were chosen to look after the refreshments, tables etc. and Mrs. Sine and Mrs. C. Baker the prizes.

Lunch was served, Mrs. West, Mrs. G. Fraix, Mrs. S. Spooner and Mrs. A. Brown being responsible for the refreshments.

St. Andrew's Y.P.S.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Y.P.S. held their regular meeting on Monday evening in charge of the devotional convenor Miss Valda Mouncey. Miss Annie Spooner, the president, presided and opened the meeting with a hymn and prayer, followed by the scripture reading by Miss Daisy Graham. The convenor then took charge and presented the following program: the topic, "Missionary Work in Formosa" by Miss Annie Spooner although prepared by Miss Jessie Whitred who was absent; reading, Miss Pearl McMillan; solo, Miss Keitha Mouncey; reading, Fred Hand; duet, Misses Lily Dodd and Muriel Wilson.

St. George's A.Y.P.A. met with small attendance and the presid Harryq Tyrell presiding. A missi ary program was chosen and t well-prepared papers given by M Mary Pulfer, who described the L and Customs of the Eskimo a Miss Bernice Dainard, the Life a Customs of the Japanese.

IRISH GOAT FOR GOTHAM.

DUBLIN— (C.P.)— During t year 1934 the United States pu chased one animal from the Iri Free State. This is solemnly r corded in the shipment returns "Cork to New York—one goat."

A delicious, bubbling glass of Andrews is all you need to keep you always on your toes.

Small Tin 35c
Large Tin 60c
Extra Large Bottle - - 75c

Proprietors: SCOTT & TURNER LIMITED, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, England.

Distributed in Canada by McGILLIVRAY BROS. LIMITED, Toronto.

Any SKIN TROUBLES In Your Home?

If so do not neglect them, however slight and unsuspicious they might be! Unless attended to right away, that rough patch or persistent irritation, may easily develop into eczema or other serious disease that may be difficult to eradicate.

ECZEMA ON HAND.—Mrs. J. Marr, 320 Atlas Avenue, Toronto, Ont., writes:—"I suffered with eczema nearly five months, tried many different ointments in that time, as well as doctor's treatment without any result. I finally tried Zam-Buk which cleared up the trouble in less than a week. After this experience we will never be without Zam-Buk in the home."

BURNS & CUTS.—Mr. Charles M. Dunham, Lynden, Ont., writes as follows:—"Shortly after receiving your sample of Zam-Buk I had occasion to use it on a burn, and it seemed that in no time the pain had entirely disappeared and there was not the slightest sign of a scar after the burn had healed, which was in a few days' time. Since obtaining such good results from your ointment, I have never been without having a box in the house, and the neighbors always borrow Zam-Buk."

ZAM-BUK OINTMENT is invaluable for itching, inflamed, and diseased conditions of the skin, while its swift antiseptic healing makes it an ideal first-aid dressing for burns, scalds, cuts, etc. Zam-Buk is also a soothing remedy for piles.

FREE BOX—Send this advert to Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, and free box will be sent you.

Treat Them All With Zam-Buk

Atlantic City's House Beautiful

New . . . . Modern . . . . Central

Combining dignity, refinement and comfort with an atmosphere of friendliness and hospitality. Noted for superb service, excellent table and rich appointments . . . . .

OCEAN VIEW ROOMS - ROOF SUN DECKS

Also beautifully furnished house-keeping apartments, 2, 3 and 4 rooms.

American Plan Rates $5 up daily
European Plan Rates $3 up daily
Special Weekly Rates

North Carolina Ave. near Beach
Atlantic City . . . New Jersey.

Hotel LAFAYETTE

THE TUTTS By Crawford Young

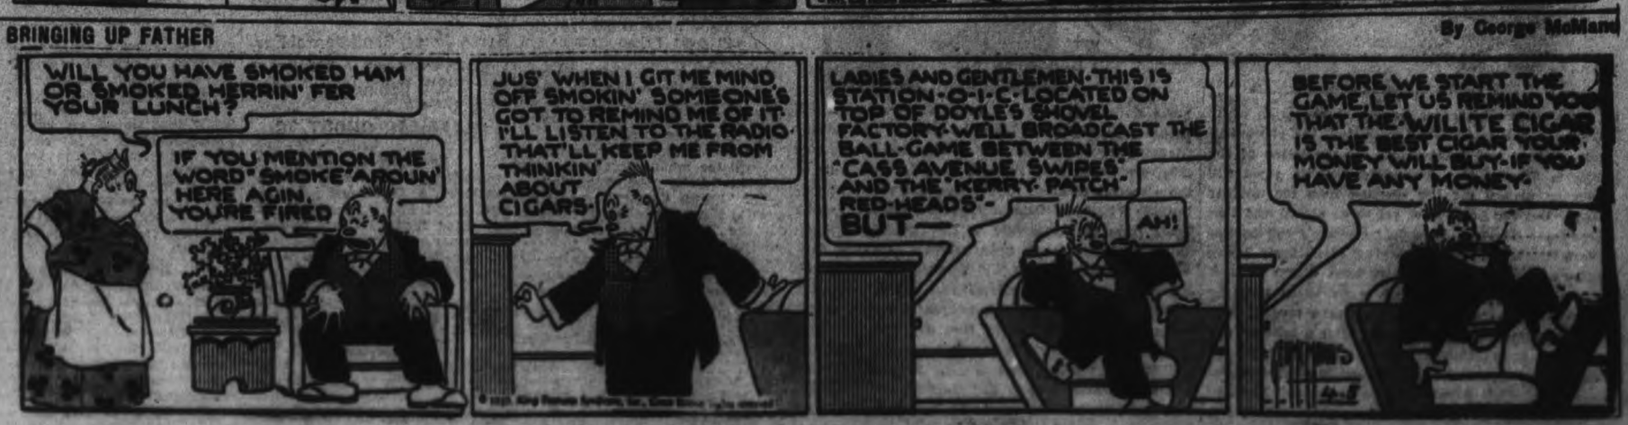
BRICK BRADFORD—With Brocco the Buccaneer By WILLIAM RITT and CLARENCE GRAY

MUGGS McGINNIS When Strangers Meet By WALLY BISHOP

HIGH PRESSURE PETE No Danger of Speeding By GEORGE SWAN

TILLIE THE TOILER By Russ Westover

BRINGING UP FATHER By George McManus



want ad section WHERE BUYER & SELLER MEET want ad section

WANT AD. RATES

Cash 1 Cent per Word or Figure per Insertion.
Minimum Charge, 25c for Any Advt.
If Charged 1½ cent per word or figure per insertion.
Phone We will call for your ad and give you the cash rate. 1600

CHARGES:

Card of Thanks	50c
In Memoriam (up to 8 inches)	75c
Over 8 inches, per inch	50c
With black border, extra	25c
Birth Notice	50c
Death Notice	50c
Locals (Back Page), per inch	$1.00
Black Local (Back Page), inch	$1.40

Index to Examiner Classified Want Advts.

Agents Wanted L
Boarders Wanted ..... F
Business Opportunities ..... K
Chiropractor ..... U
Cottages, Summer Resorts ..... E
Dressmaking ..... Z
Employment Wanted ..... J
Female Help Wanted ..... M
Found ..... N
For Rent—General C
For Sale—General ..... A
General Notice ..... T
Help Wanted—Male or Female X
Lost ..... M
Male Help Wanted ..... G
Personal ..... E
Pet Stock ..... W
Poultry for Sale, and Eggs ..... P
Radio I
Real Estate ..... D
Salesmen Wanted ..... Y
Situations Vacant ..... R
To Rent—Houses and Apartments ..... B
Used Cars for Sale ..... S
Wanted—General ..... Q
Live Stock ..... O

a For Sale—General

PADS, PLASTERS, ONLY INCREASE the pain. Use Gross Corn or Bunion Salves. At all Peterborough Drug Stores.

GAS RANGE, GOOD CONDITION. Apply 156 London. 3d-83-82A

SEED BARLEY. W. GREER, ROUTE 11. 4d-82-8045A

GOOD USED TIRES, MOST ALL sizes, for Sale at 450 Water Street. 12d-10,12,20,22,23,24,25,26,27,29,31-8-5,7,12,15-8038A

CONNOR ELECTRIC WASHER. Thermo model. Demonstrator. Regular $128.00. Reduced $40.00. Easy terms. R. Haddow, c/o Bonna's Music Store, Heintzman's, 291 George. Open Evenings. 1d-82-72A

NORDHEIMER UPRIGHT PIANO — Originally $500.00. Owner giving up house. Must be sold immediately. Apply 450 Hunter, or 'Phone 258. 1d-82-72A

BUTTER BISCUITS — THESE ARE delicious! Special, 14c Dozen. Jean Ruth Shoppe. 2d-83-46A

REGISTERED BANNER OATS, NO. 23309, Government Grade No. 1 test, 40 Lbs. per Bushel. Price 70 cents per Bushel. Herbert J. Miller, Keene. 3d-1,2,5-9992A

10 - QUART TORRENT CAKE MAchine, Meat Mincer. Call 1652. Also Player Piano. 6d-84-9981A

BUY OUR $2 LOAD OF PINE OR Hardwood Slabs. Baker's Wood Yard. 'Phone 2076. 12d-80-9098A

JUST RECEIVED — ANOTHER LOT of Men's and Young Men's Clothing (Slightly Used). Spring Coats $3-$7, Suits $3-$7, Suit Coats $1.00 up, Pants $1.00 up, Vests 25c, Hats 50c. Also Used Furniture, reasonable. Ruskin's, Aylmer Street (opposite the Fire Hall). 3d-83-40A

DRY KINDLING IN BUNDLES, DElivered anywhere in City, 25 for $1.00. Kingdon Barrel and Shingle Factory, 'Phone 2200. 3d-83-41A

TWIN WICKER SULKY. 'PHONE 691J, or 995 George. 3d-83-80A

HAWAIIAN GUITAR AND CASE, $10. 'Phone 1190W. 3d-83-81A

HOT CROSS BUNS — FOR QUALITY and Taste, try ours. 25c Dozen. Jean Ruth Shoppe. 2d-83-46A

GOOD ROTTEN MANURE. 'PHONE 2661. 12d-83-6788

CERTIFIED SEED POTATOES — Irish Cobblers, Green Mountains. Belmont Farms, Newcastle, Ont. 12d-84-9760A

LEMON TARTS — MADE THE REAL way, Special, 90c Dozen. Jean Ruth Shoppe. 2d-83-46A

DISC PLOW, ALMOST NEW, CHEAP. Bell Apartments. 4d-82-8995A

DOLLAR LOADS — SLABS, MIXED Wood. 'Phone 58. 7d-83-8998A

$1.75 QUARTER CORD, DRY MIXED Wood. Albion. 'Phone 83. 9d-87-8999A

MEAT PIES — ORDER NOW. Always Fresh. Beefsteak 5c, Tenderloin 15c, Chicken 20c. Jean Ruth Shoppe. 'Phone 2772. 2d-83-46A

LOAD MIXED WOOD, 36% HARDwood, $3.25, Pulkinghorn, 'Phone 276. 6d-83-10004A

GOOD NAP OVERCOAT, LARGE size, or Exchange for a Smaller and Lighter one. 306 Stewart Street. 2d-83-3A

a For Sale—General

AIRWAY VACUUM, PRACTICALLY new; reasonable. 'Phone 1220. 3d-83-8A

KITCHEN TABLE, $2; RUG, $1. 214 Carlisle. 4d-82-17A

PIANO, SMALL SIZE MAKE; A GOOD Practice Piano, $30.00. 'Phone 2284. 2d-83-53A

TABLE MODEL RADIO, 7-TUBE, IN good condition, $25.00. 'Phone 2264. 2d-83-54A

SALE OF VIOLINS, GUITARS, ACcordeons, at Big Reductions — 4 Full-size Violins, 2 Three-quarter size, 3 Half-size. All high-grade instruments. Three Hawaiian Guitars, $10.00 each, regular $14.00. One Accordeon, $8.00, regular $15.00 One Accordeon $15.00, regular $35.00. Rome's Music Store, 291 George Street. 'Phone 258. 1d-82-71A

COMMODE CHAIR FOR SALE. 570 Gilchrist Street. 3d-84-65A

FOUR-BURNER GAS STOVE, ANNEX Heater with Water Front, complete. 'Phone 1307W. 2d-83-59A

ELECTRIC SCALES, ONE 24-LB., ONE 30-Lb., International Business Machine Scales, good condition. 'Phone 354. ad-84-9920A

KENNIE SEEDS, CLOVERS, TIMOthy, Turnips, Mangels, Corn, etc. Sold only by Ernest C. Braund, 718 George Street. 1,2,5-8,10,12,15,17,20,22,24,26,29,1-9921A

AMERICAN BANNER SEED OATS, grown from Registered Seed; good yielders. Also Barley. Reg. Pearson, Lakefield, 342 ring 31. 3d-84-74A

SALE OF USED ELECTRIC RADIOS. Table model only, $25.00. 10-Tube Victor, 1934 model; was $189.00. Now $80.00. Beautiful Cabinet. R. Haddow, Heintzman's, c/o Rourke's Music Store, 291 George. 'Phone 258 Open Evenings. 1d-82-72A

DINING-ROOM SUITE, COMBINAtion Range, Parlor Furniture. 618 Chamberlain. 3d-84-89A

LLOYD WICKER BABY CARRIAGE, good condition. 'Phone 2016J. 4d-84-92A

ROSE CREPE DRESS, TWEED COAT (size 16), Gent.'s Spring. 228 London. 2d-83-93A

GOOD STEEL-TIRED TOP BUGGY. 'Phone 411F. 2d-84-86A

b For Rent—Houses and Apartments

TWO FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHed Rooms, suitable for Light Housekeeping. Apply 217 Rubidge Street. 3d-84-46B

BRIGHT, COSY ROOM, FURNISHED or Unfurnished, heated; central. 'Phone 2308W. 3d-83-45B

FIVE-ROOM HOUSE, NEAR C.G.E., $14. Apply 314 Patterson. 3d-83-29B

EIGHT ROOMS, WIRED FOR ELECtric Stove, large Living-room, overlooking lake, large garden. 'Phone 2081W. 3d-83-1B

BRIGHT, COMFORTABLE 4-ROOM Apartment, plumbing, Kitchen Furnished; adults; handy C.G.E. Apply 393 Dalhousie Street. 'Phone 276. 3d-83-37B

FIVE-ROOMED BUNGALOW, GOOD cement cellar and furnace, hardwood floors throughout, fireplace; wired for electric stove, also gas connections; garden. Available May 1st. Apply 215 Crescent Street. 3d-82-9989B

TWO FURNISHED HEATED ROOMS, central. Apply 200 Stewart Street. 3d-83-82B

NICE 3-ROOMED FLAT, REASONable, central; lights and water paid. Write Box 33, Examiner. 3d-83-23B

RED BRICK HOUSE, SPLENDID condition, 2 fireplaces, 559 Gilmour Street. Immediate possession. Apply J. E. Fette, or any Real Estate Dealer. 3d-83-9995B

HOUSE, NO. 386 RUBIDGE STREET. Hot water heating. Possession can be arranged. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-8344B

FOR RENT — PREMISES, NO. 397 Water Street, suitable for Store or Office (formerly). Apply 437 George Street. dtf-8141B

SIX-ROOMED MODERN APARTment, heated, April 1st. Apply 509 Rubidge Street. 6d-83-10007B

CLEAN, COMFORTABLE SLEEPING Rooms, $1.50 to $2.50. Apartment 1, 376½ Water. 3d-83-7B

MODERN SIX-ROOM HOUSE, 672 George Street, to Rent May 1st. Apply 370 Water Street. 3d-83-8B

SMALL FURNISHED BACHELOR Apartment, heated, hot water, 190 Brock (Upstairs). 2d-83-94B

THREE-ROOM HOUSE, LIGHT, pump, water, garden. North end. Apply 124 Hilliard. 2d-83-67B

FOUR-ROOMED UPPER APARTment; full plumbing; adults. Moderate rent. Vacant 1st May. 195 Stewart. 3d-84-62B

b For Rent—Houses and Apartments

ROOMS, FURNISHED, UNFURNISHed, with gas, heated; lights, water paid. Rent reasonable. 196 Aylmer. 3d-84-82B

BRICK HOUSE, LARGE GARDEN and barn, 292 Woodbine Avenue. Apply Fred Revoy. 6d-87-61B

FIVE-ROOMED HOUSE, TWELVE Dollars. 'Phone Frank Peters. 3d-84-86B

FURNISHED APARTMENT, HEATED, hot water. Upstairs. 190 Brock. 3d-84-90B

SIX-ROOM APARTMENT. IMMEDIate possession. 327 Downie. 'Phone 1141J. 3d-84-97B

c For Rent—General

NORTH HALF LOT 1, CONCESSION 5, Ennismore. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-1030C

STORE, NO. 173½ SIMCOE STREET. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-1897C

GARAGE TO RENT — CONVENIENT to Downtown Offices and Stores. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-1002C

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

MUST SELL! CLEAR UP ESTATE— 8-Room House, garden; cheap. Small payments like Rent. Apply 393 Dalhousie. 3d-83-56D

FOR SALE — BRIGHT SUMMER Cottage, new, Otonabee River, near City. Apply 230 Dublin. 2d-83-70D

FOR SALE — TO WIND UP ESTATE, 8-Roomed House, central. Will sell cheap for cash. Apply 300 Monaghan Road. 3d-84-95D

f Boarders Wanted

WARM FRONT ROOM, WITH BOARD, central, conveniences; continuous hot water. Apply 116 Dublin Street. 'Phone 1677J. 2d-82-10F

FURNISHED FRONT ROOM, WITH Board, One or Two Gentlemen. 356 Stewart. 'Phone 694J. 3d-84-63F

FURNISHED ROOMS, WITH BOARD. Private home. 'Phone 1647F. 3d-84-81F

g Help Wanted, Male

EXPERIENCED GREENKEEPER FOR Season's Work on Lawns of The Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club. Applicants please state experience and remuneration expected. C. H. Williamson, 347 George Street, Chairman Greene Committee. 6d-83-9906G

WANTED — MAN AND WOMAN FOR Farm Work, with no children. George Pile, 'Phone 45 ring 2-8, Keene. 2d-83-60G

EXPERIENCED AUTO MECHANIC, Single Man preferred. Apply Springville Garage. 2d-83-9908G

h Help Wanted, Female

COOK-GENERAL, FOND OF CHILDren. Write Box 28, Examiner. 3d-83-38H

EXPERIENCED GIRL WANTS Housework. Write Box 24, Examiner. 3d-83-54H

EXPERIENCED HOUSEKEEPER, TO take full charge of Small House and assist with care of baby. 'Phone 2167W, between 5 and 7 p.m. 1d-83-84H

WANTED — CAPABLE GENERAL. Apply 380 Park Street. 3d-84-86H

j Employment Wanted

PLUMBING, HEATING, REPAIRS. 'Phone J. Bryett, 2209W. 3d-83-37J

WINDOWS CLEANED, STORMS taken off. 'Phone 2629F. 3d-83-80J

SMART CANADIAN WOMAN DEsires Work by Day. Write Box 29, Examiner. 3d-84-84J

WOMAN WANTS HOUSE-CLEANING or Housework, Two or Three Days a Week. 238 Simcoe. 2d-83-84J

l Agents Wanted

SALESMEN TO SELL LOW-PRICED Motor Oils and Greases in your territory. Commission basis. Only those willing to work need apply. Yale Oil Co., Limited, 122 Brock Avenue, Toronto, Ontario. 1d-83-68L

m Lost

BLACK CAT, WITH ONE SHORT ear. 'Phone 2906W. 3d-83-61M

PAIR OF SPECTACLES IN CASE. Finder please leave at Examiner Office. 2d-83-48M

LIVESTOCK FOR SALE

HORSES — MR. VINCENT MASTERson, of Assiniboine, Sask., will arrive in Hastings on Friday, April 5, with a Carload of Farm-raised and Farm-broken Horses for Private Sale. Can be seen at Coughlin Barn in Village. 3d-83-9918O

TEAM OF HORSES, HARNESS AND Wagon, for Sale, or Exchange for Wood Lot. Apply 249 Euclid Avenue. 2d-84-89O

FOR SALE — HEAVY TEAM WELL matched. Apply Frank Mayhew, Apsley. 2d-84-90O

MOVING AND STORAGE.

SHORT DISTANCES OR ANYWHERE in Canada or United States. Covered, Padded Vans. Experienced courteous Men. Apply, full particulars, M. Rawlinson, Limited, 210 Yonge Street, Toronto. dtf-8033

HON. G. H. GORDON, K.C.—Barrister and Solicitor, Notary, etc. 393 George Street. 'Phone 2503.

HALL & CARLEY — Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, corner Hunter and Water Streets (over Canadian Bank of Commerce), Peterborough, Ontario. Telephones: Office No. 68; R. S. Hall, K.C., residence No. 480; F. J. Carley, B.A., residence No. 2052.

PECK, KERR & MacDERMOT — Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, Offices, 416 Water Street, Peterborough. Telephone 468. R. L. Peck, K.C., LL.D., F. D. Kerr, B.A., W. J. McDermot, B.A.

POULTRY FOR SALE

SPECIAL PRICES PAID FOR LIVE Poultry. Gissman. 'Phone 2476W. 2d-83-3997P

CUSTOM HATCHING — BARRED Rock Breeding Cockerels. A. E. Fletcher, 'Phone 17 Ring 5 Keene. 2d-84-8510P

SINGLE COMB RHODE ISLAND RED Hatching Eggs, choice stock. Edgar Simmons, 194 Hilliard. 2d-83-98P

MASTER CHICK STARTER—GROWS Chicks that bring you profits. J. A. Fair, 1191W. 6d-84-9907P

DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR — WE BElieve there are no Chicks that give you more value for your money than Bray Xtra-Profit Chicks hatched from Big Eggs. We don't keep nest or pedigree. But we hatch Chicks to do the things that count most for you—live with few losses, grow into heavy market Chickens, and make early layers whose eggs rapidly increase to large size. The 19-fold increase in demand for Bray Chicks since 1926 shows they are measuring up to these requirements. Get our Free Booklet. Bray Chick Hatchery, 336 Water Street, Peterborough. 'Phone 3834. 2d-3,5-9906P

q Wanted

WANTED — ONE T-MODEL FORD Car, with Motor in good condition. Write, stating price, to Box 9915, Examiner. 3d-83-9918Q

ROOM AND BOARD, IN CENTRAL part of City, by Gentleman. Write Box 79, Examiner. 2d-83-79Q

LIVE POULTRY. PAY SPECIAL Prices. Florence. 'Phone 3572J 26d-10S-10010Q

WANTED — WICKER STROLLER, IN good condition. 'Phone 3597J. 3d-84-61Q

WANTED — STORE REFRIGERATOR. House Refrigerator. Write Box 19, Examiner. 3d-84-12Q

SEWING MACHINE. MUST BE cheap. Write Box 5, Examiner. 3d-83-8Q

SIX OR SEVEN ROOMED HOUSE, BY May 1st. Also Baby's Stroller. P. J. Harrison. 3d-83-4Q

WANTED — GOOD USED CLOSED Car, Four or Light Six; privately owned preferred. State price and particulars, Box 39, Examiner. 3d-83-39Q

USED BICYCLE, GOOD CONDITION, cheap. 'Phone 882. 3d-83-16Q

WOOD TO SAW BY MACHINE. 'Phone 2400. 6d-84-9885Q

s Used Cars for Sale

STAR SEDAN, SPLENDID CONDItion, reasonable. Walter Hubbel, Hastings. 3d-84-73S

'29 FORD ROADSTER, SMALL MILEage. 'Phone 1272. 3d-84-88S

OLDSMOBILE, 1929 COACH, GOOD appearance and good condition. Bargain for cash. Telephone 833 for further particulars. 2d-84-94S

HOOD-A GUMMING MOTORS, LTD. NEW 5-S SALES PLAN ON DEPENDABLE USED CARS.

'34 Ford V8 Deluxe Coupe.
'33 Ford V8 Coach.
'33 Ford V8 Coupe.
'32 Ford Coupe.
'32 Reo Royal Sedan.
'31 Ford Cabriolet.
'30 Ford Coupe.
'30 Ford Coach.
'30 Chevrolet Coupe.
'29 Durant Sedan.
'29 DeSoto Sedan.
'29 Studebaker Sport Coupe.
'29 Chevrolet Coupe.
'28 Ford Sport Coupe.
'28 Essex Coach.
'28 Pontiac Coach.
'28 Buick Sedan.
'27 Whippet Sedan.
'26 Ruxby Panel Truck.
'27 Dodge Stake Truck.

Your Present Car taken as Part Payment. Balance on Easy Terms. Open Evenings. 1d-83-9908S

t General Notice

FARMERS — WE ARE UNLOADING a Car of Salt Monday and Tuesday, April 8 and 9. Ernest C. Braund, 718 George Street. Phone your orders to 2040. 2d-83-9911T

PAINTING & PAPERHANGING

PAPERHANGING, PAINTING, GRAINing. H. Keller, 'Phone 2222. 3d-83-87J

You will find many things in the Classified Ads of The Examiner.

Campaign For New Art Gallery For Canada

A move is on foot in many parts of Canada to campaign for a new National Art Gallery for Canada. Those favoring such a project point out that the present building and facilities in Ottawa are hopelessly inadequate to meet the needs of an ever-growing interest in art. At present the Government appropriates $35,000 annually for the Art Gallery. Layout (above) shows the present National Art Gallery and an interior scene.

AUSTRIAN ARMY AIMS HAMPERED

Ambitious Hapsburgs, Energetic Home Guard and Slim Purse Prove Snags.

DIFFICULTIES LOOM.

VIENNA, April 5 (A.P.).—Austria to-day found the plans for increasing her defensive forces of which she gave the world notice two days ago, hampered by at least three internal snags.

The ambitious Hapsburgs, the energetic Heimwehr (Home Guards) and a slim purse combined to keep Austria's repudiation of the military clauses of the Treaty of St. Germain on a theoretical basis at least for the present.

What to do with Vice-Chancellor Ernst von Starhemberg's chappy Heimwehr looms as a problem of no small proportions. That group of upwards of 100,000 well-armed men is by no means ready to lie down and quit. Nor is it resigned to losing its identity in a large national army.

Prince von Starhemberg asserted vigorously in a speech at Innsbruck yesterday the Heimwehr will stay indefinitely.

A second fly in Austria's military ointment was an unofficial hint from Rumania that if Austria wants a better army she had better promise not to restore the Hapsburgs to the throne.

Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg is frankly monarchistic. Von Starhemberg also is sympathetic toward restorsetion of the monarchy.

Knox Church W.M.S. Hears Mrs. W. Yale

The regular meeting of Knox W.M.S. was held on Thursday in the ladies' parlors of the church, with the president, Mrs. McDonald in the chair.

The Easter service of worship was led by Mrs. McDonald and responded to by the members in unison.

Mrs. Todd, accompanied by Mrs. Denoon at the organ, delighted the audience with a beautiful solo, "Willing, Jesus Came."

The devotional leaflet was read by Mrs. Morrison. Mrs. Alex Long, secretary of the society, read a communication which stated the bequest of $500 left by the late Mrs. Walter Roger to Knox M.M.S. had been received and would be used in the rebuilding and equipping of the Bonnyville Hospital in Alberta. The letter also stated a brass plate duly inscribed to the memory of the late Mrs. Walter Roger would in due time be placed in the hospital.

Mrs. W. W. Yale of Lakefield, guest speaker of the afternoon, was called on, and in her usual gracious manner gave an interesting talk on the temperance question; showing the great need of continued effort along that line. She also gave a brief outline of her recent visit to the Temperance Federation in Toronto. Mrs. Yale, who is an ardent temperance worker, interspersed her topic with sparkling with, holding the attention of the audience.

Mrs. Stevens, seconded by Mrs. H. Baptie, moved a vote of thanks to the speaker.

A beautiful prayer offered by Mrs. Andrew McKenzie brought the meeting to a close.

The ladies then served tea, and a social half hour was spent.

STOCK TRANSFER CHANGES TABLED

Revision of Corporation Tax Act, Increase in Succession Duty Payments Included.

BEFORE LEGISLATURE.

TORONTO, April 5 C.P.). — Following up his Budget speech forecast of revision of the Corporation Tax Act and Stock Transfer Act and increase in payments under the Succession Duties Act, Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn to-day tabled in the Ontario Legislature notice of motion respecting these changes.

The amendment to the Corporations Tax Act is designed to include bonds and debentures in paid-up capital. The tax on transfer of syndicate units will be at the rate of three cents for every $100 or fraction thereof.

It is also provided with respect to corporations having a paid-up capital of less than $50,000, the combined tax payable under the Corporations Tax Act shall in no case be less than $30 and the tax imposed under the Act for each office or place of business shall be one-tenth of one per cent. of the paid-up capital.

The amendment respecting succession duties provides, where the aggregate value of the property of a deceased person exceeds $1,000,000 and does not exceed $5,000,000 and any property situated in Ontario passes in the manner provided by the Act, the tax shall be 10 per cent. a year plus 1-100th of one per cent. for each additional $10,000 by which the aggregate value exceeds $1,000,000. Where it exceeds $5,000,000 the tax shall be 14 per cent. a year.

The amendment also provides an increase in surtax under the Succession Duties Act from 10 per cent. to 15 per cent.

Lithuania Receives Strong Nazi Protest

KAUNAS, Lithuania, April 5. — (C.P.-Havas).—A German protest over anti-German demonstrations in Kaunas to-day commanded the attention of the Lithuanian Government. The note was reported couched in strong terms. The note charges the demonstrations had been inspired by the Lithuanian Government.

The note was presented after a day of charges and counter-charges and a strian of denials of reports that have been current since the outcasting of 21 Nazi agents found guilty of planning a coup d'etat in Klaipeda (Memel). Four got the death penalty.

It was officially denied here Lithuania would ask the League of Nations to grant to it unconditional sovereignty over Glaipeda territory. The Elta Agency said this sovereignty already had been transferred to Lithuania and no new recognition of the fact was necessary.

Rushing into a burning stable barefooted a man helped save 13 circus horses and ponies in Deptford, England, but was seriously burned himself.

YOU MAY drive carefully, but do you ever know what the other fellow may do? Complete automobile insurance gives you financial protection should your car be in any accident.

May we tell you about our Complete Automobile Insurance Protection?

Hill, Weddell & Hills
Phone 14
124 Hunter St., West

Best Values This Week

USED CARS With a PERSONAL O'K

I will thoroughly inspect all used cars offered by us and each and every one will have my personal OK. If considered necessary Each one will be personally driven and every detail checked, so when you purchase one of our used cars they will be exactly as represented.

JACK HUGHES

HERE ARE 8 PERSONALLY OK'D CARS WHICH ARE VALUES IN EVERY SENSE OF THE WORD

1930 Chev. Sedan	1930 Chev. Coupe Rumble Seat
1934 V-8 Tudor	1933 Chrysler Sedan
1933 Chev. Sedan	1930 Essex Sedan
1931 Plymouth Sedan	1933 Chev. Coupe

Watch For Our Later Recommendations

J. K. HUGHES, Ltd.
Hunter at Water St. 'Phone 1347

USED CARS TERMS RIGHT PRICES RIGHT CARS

Make Your Choice From the Following:

1932 SPECIAL CHEVROLET COACH	$475
1931 ESSEX COACH	325
1934 DODGE R.S. COUPE	775
1934 DODGE SEDAN	785
1929 DE SOTO SEDAN	225
1933 FORD DUAL WHEEL TRUCK	600
1934 CHEVROLET STAKE TRUCK	775

LILLICO MOTORS
383-385 WATER ST. - PHONE 362

Davis-Thompson Company
INSURANCE AND GENERAL AGENCY
REAL ESTATE
Properties for Sale or Rent
Property Management.
433 GEORGE STREET. 'PHONE 40

FOR SALE

House, very desirably situated at No. 335 Rubidge Street.

Newly renovated and decorated throughout; new garage; hot-water heating.

Will sell on easy terms (monthly instalments if desired).

APPLY

THE TORONTO SAVINGS AND LOAN COMPANY
437 GEORGE STREET

SCOTT'S SCRAPBOOK — By R. J. Scott

C.D.S

STORE HOURS: 9 a.m. until 5.30 p.m. Saturday, 9 a.m. until 9.30 p.m.

FREE DELIVERY
On all goods, with the exception of groceries, for which the minimum delivery order is $1 or meats 50c.
Phone 3000

ONLY 12 SHOPPING DAYS BEFORE EASTER

So shop early in the week . . . early in the day . . . and watch our advertisements closely for timely Pre-Easter Opportunities for you and your family!

Trump Cards in EASTER BLOUSES for Your Best Suit

Send your Easter suit into a successful fashion score by topping it grandly with one of these models! Types to suit everyone's desires, from tailored shirtwaist styles to the more elaborate dressy style. In the gayest stripes, checks, figures and delicate plain shades. Sizes 14 to 20 and 32 to 44.

Cotton Broadcloth 1.59
Real Silk Crepes 2.25
Cotton Pique 1.95
Taffetas - Satins (Rayon) 2.95

—Main Floor C.D.S

New Easter Neckwear 1.00

Cobweb delicacy starched into provocative frills and ruffles to give that fresh-as-Spring look. Capricious organdies, flattering laces and sleek rayon taffetas—all are charmingly "Regency" and as beautiful as Dame Fashion would make them. In white and delicate pastels. Each $1

Smart Leather Handbags 1.99

The new Bag you choose to complement your Spring outfit needn't be expensive. This thrifty group has all the important new style ideas. Grained leathers in envelope or pouch styles, clever linings, fittings, finishings. In black, brown, green and red. Each 1.99

Tulips, dozen 59	Marigolds, dozen ..49
Gladioli Bulbs, doz. .15	Begonias, pot 25

CANDIES

Cottage Sweet Kisses, lb .19
Golden Rod .....lb. .29
Choc. Coated Peanuts, lb. .19
Butterscotch Wafers, lb. .15
Special—Licorice Allsorts, lb. .19

SUNDRIES

Eaton's Milk-O-Lax, 16-oz. bottle, each ..... .35
Eaton's Medicinal Petroleum, 60-oz. bottle, each ..... .59
Eaton's Cream of Almonds, 3-oz bottle ..... .19
Eaton's Cold Cream, 8-oz. jar .. .29
Norval's Acedin Tablets, new low price, pkg. of 12 for ..... .15
Northern Tissue, linenized, 4 rolls .20

—Main Floor, C.D.S.

EXTRA SPECIAL! Chiffon and Service Weight Clear Silk HOSE First Quality

Every pair new and fresh from a well-known manufacturer! Coming to you just in time for Easter—we urge you to outfit your ankles for months ahead! Filmy, clear chiffon and practical, smooth fitting service weight. In this fine range of shades: fawntaupe (dusty brown), honeybrown (brown), mexiqu. taupesan, suntouch, biscayne. Sizes 8½ to 10½.

SATURDAY, PAIR .65

—Main Floor, C.D.S.

Be Measured Now!

Your Suit Delivered Before EASTER

It's time to order that new Spring Suit—and you'll show good judgemen t if you choose EATON TAILORED CLOTHES! This personal tailoring service offers many advantages. You get the pick of the season's newest woollens—tweeds, serges, worsteds—from the best British and domestic mills—in a wide choice of patterns and shades. Careful tailoring is another feature. Every garment is cut individually by hand and tailored by skilled workmen under careful supervision in The T. EATON Co.'s tailoring workshops in Toronto.

Choose one of the new sport back styles—a double-breasted model—or any style you desire—your Suit will be made exactly as you want it. We give care to measuring, too, and guarantee a correct fit.

Be measured to-morrow! Your new Suit will be delivered to you in time for the Easter holidays!

Suits and Topcoats Made to Measure Also at 27.50 and $35

BE MEASURED BY AN EXPERT TO-MORROW!
Call in and select the cloth for your new Easter Suit to-morrow! A special designer from Toronto will take your measurements and help you select a style that will be complimentary to your build.

BUY ON OUR D.P. PLAN!
Terms are 25 per cent. down, and the balance, plus a carrying charge, in three equal monthly payments.

EATON TAILORED CLOTHES $21.50 MADE TO MEASURE

Men's Spring Hat Styles 2.75

Spring is here! Time to buy a new Hat—and we offer one by Brock—The Brant. Fur felt with snap brim, in shades of grey, blue grey, brown and fawn. Sizes 6¾ to 7¼. Each .....

Men's Fine White Shirts 1.59

A fine range of Snowy White Shirts, celophane wrapped, EATON made from excellent quality cotton, in collar attached and separate collar styles. Sizes 14 to 17½. Each .....

—Main Floor, C.D.S

LOOK! LOOK! LOOK! A Special Selling of FIVE-TUBE RADIOS

USUAL C.D.S. VALUE, $89

Modern Radios (manufacturer's name withheld). Five tube superheterodyne, tone control, automatic volume control, in attractive walnut veneer console cabinet. Saturday, extra special, each 69.50

—Basement C.D.S.

If You Are Larger Than Average NEMO-FLEX "50" is Designed for Your Type

It's one of the best ideas that the clever house of Nemo-Flex has ever had. They have taken one good, standard, firm foundation for the larger woman and made it up in a series of adaptions for the different types of larger figures. A supervised fitting with every foundation. Each $5

Short "50"
For the woman who is short but of average proportions. Each $5

Full Hip "50"
For the woman who is taller than average with full hipline. Each $5

Average "50"
For the woman of average height and normal proportions. Each $5

Top Heavy "50"
For the woman with full bust and straight hipline. Each $5

Women's Silk Crepe Princess Slips 1.95

They're just as smart as they can be, and fit in sleek, flattering lines. Silk crepe, cut in princess, tailored or bias cut, with three rows of lace at bottom. Adjustable straps. White or tea rose. Sizes small, medium and large. Each 1.95

Special! Children's Cotton Print Dresses .98

Such cunning little Frocks! Fashioned of washable cotton print, with short sleeve, in tailored or smock style, with panties to match. In blue, green, maize and pink. Sizes 1 to 6 years. Special, each ..... .98

—2nd Floor, C.D.S

Easter Bonnets That Will Head the Easter Parade 2.95 and 3.95

High-lighted fashions at values that sparkle! And there's Spring magic in the swish, new styles of these Sailors, Bretons, Brims and demure Off-the-Face Hats of fashionable rough and fine straws (trade name) and smart rayon taffeta, with gay blossoms, ribbon, bone ornaments and novelty trimmings. Hats for the youthful miss and matron, in small, medium and large head sizes. Each ..... 2.95 and 3.95

New Spring Hats for Girls .79 and .98

The young miss must step forth in style, too, so we selected these Fancy Straw Braid Hats with brims, trimmed with flowers and ribbons. Sand, light blue, light green, red, navy, rose, etc. Sizes 20½ to 22. Each ..... .79 and .98

—2nd Floor, C.D.S

New Arrivals! SUITS AND COATS 19.75 to $35

The style news of this group reads like a page out of one of the fashion magazines—3-piece Topcoat Suits, mannish tailleurs, dressy dressmaker styles and "boxy" sports types, tell the complete fashion suit story for Spring. The Coats are just as interesting in town swaggers, travel tweeds and dressy styles. Materials of domestic imported tweeds and wool crepes. Sizes 14 to 44. Each ..... 19.75 to $35

Girls' Smart New COATS and SUITS

Fine English tweeds and wool coatings. In attractive three-piece outfits, consisting of Jumper, Coat and Hat. In a variety of colors. Sizes 7 to 16. Suit..... 4.95 to 12.95

—2nd Floor, C.D.S

A Specially Priced New Shipment of Spring Dresses Saturday Each - - 1.95

Simple styles in practical rough crepe (fibre silk). Long and short sleeve styles. Trimmed with attractive touches of white and buttons. In browns, green, blue and black. Sizes 14 to 44. Each 1.95

For Easter! A Fine Frock 7.95 and 8.95

Long slim Dresses of dark crepe (fibre silk) with accents that have a New York flavor. Printed silks, rough and sheer crepes, in jacket, redingote and one-piece styles. Admirably trimmed and designed to give a flattering effect. A fine range of plain and combined colors. Styles for misses and women. Sizes 14 to 44. Come early for first choice.

—2nd Floor, C.D.S

NEW SPRING STYLES IN BRAEMORE SHOES

FOR WOMEN AND MISSES

Quality and wear in Braemore. The styles for Spring in all the new leather effects come in straps, pumps, T-straps and sandals. Black, brown, and navy. Sizes 4 to 7½, AAA to C. Pair..... 4.00

Women's DRESSY SHOES 2.98

Smart new shoes. Styles that will please. Walking Shoes, Shoes for tweeds, for pretty dresses, or parties, in good quality calf leathers. Sizes 4 to 8. Width: A to C. Pair.....

—Main Floor C.D.S

Hemstitched Pillow Cases .49

SPECIAL REPEAT OFFER, PAIR

A week ago, the first lot of these Pillow Cases simply melted away before the eyes of thrifty shoppers. We've rushed this repeat lot along for the disappointed ones. Durable heavy quality Wabasso Pillow Cases with hemstitched hems, 42-inch. Saturday, pair .....

9 A.M. SPECIAL! English Dark Striped Towels .9

Durable, absorbent quality. 17 x 34. Each .....

Krinkle Cotton Bedspreads 1.59

Just an ideal spread for everyday use. So practical and yet so inexpensive! In stripes of blue, green, gold, rose and mauve. Size 80 x 100 inches. Each..... 1.59

Eatonia Print .25

Into the tub a dozen times—and out they come fresh and colorful as ever! In sprightly, floral dots and conventional designs. A host of colors. 36 inches wide. Yard..... .25

—Main Floor, C.D.S

8-PC. DINING ROOM SUITE 49.75

A beautifully designed Dining-Room Suite of well seasoned birch in a rich walnut finish. 8 pieces, consisting of twin pedestal Table, Buffet and 6 Dinners. Special Saturday, suit .....

D.P. Terms may be arranged if desired

Attractive STUDIO COUCHES 27.50

Yes, indeed, there is luxurious comfort in this modern style Studio Couch, fitted with two inner spring mattresses and two resilient cable springs. Smartly tailored covering of durable quality. Makes twin beds or comfortable double bed. Each .....

Marshall "AVON" MATTRESS 13.50

Enjoy the benefits of health that come from complete rest at night. The "Avon," a low priced Marshall, is specially made with 189 double cone coils, interlocked with resilient helical springs, and covered top and bottom with soft layers of white cotton felt. In all sizes. Each .....

—2nd Floor, C.D.S

It's Garden Time Again

Turf Edger, 9-inch steel blade, each ..... .95
Broom Rake, fan shaped, each ..... .85
"Standard" Brand 14-Tooth Steel Garden Rake, each ..... .67
"Algerite" Garden Rake, 14 teeth, each ..... .69
"Algerite" Field Hoe, 7-inch blade, each ..... .95
"Algerite" Hoe, 5-piece blade shank, 6-inch, each ..... .85
"Standard" Hoe, 7-inch blade, welded shank, each ..... .69
"Algerite" Spading Fork, strapped D handle, each 1.25
Spading Fork, strapped D handle, each ..... .95
Turnip Hoe, 6-inch steel blade, each ..... .85
Rake and Weeder, each 1.65
Garden Fork, Rake and Hoe, set of 3 pieces 1.89
Garden Spade, 11 x 7½ inches, each ..... .95
Long Handled Round Point Shovel, each ..... .95
Grass Shears, all-steel, with spring handle, each .....

—Basement, C.D.S.

CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

SNOWSLIDE IN B.C. WIPES OUT MINING CAMP

The Peterborough Examiner

HOME EDITION

VOL. LXXIV., No. 82 — PETERBOROUGH, SATURDAY, APRIL 6, 1935 — PROBS.— Fair; cool. Sunday—N.E. winds; partly cloudy and cool. — PRICE THREE CENTS

CAMBRIDGE WINS ROWING CLASSIC

England Beaten 2 to 0

International Soccer Season Ends in Tie, Two Wins and One Loss.

LEADERS HOLD PLACES.

Arsenal Holds Chelsea to 2-2 Draw—Manchester City and Everton Also Draw.

GLASGOW, April 6 (C.P. Cable)—Scotland defeated England 2-0 at Hampden Park today before a crowd numbering 130,000. The final international soccer clash of the season brings the Rose and Thistle into a tie for honors, each country having won two games and lost one.

Leaders Hold Places.

LONDON, April 6 (C.P. Cable).—Leading teams in the English Soccer League remained "as you were" today as a result of drawn games.

Arsenal, playing largely a reserve team, held Chelsea to a 2-2 draw at Highbury, while Sunderland, runner-up to the leading Gunners, and West Bromwich Albion each scored one goal at the Hawthorns. Manchester City and Everton also drew, 2-2, at Maine Road.

No First Group Matches.

GLASGOW, April 6 (C.P. Cable).—With interest centred in the International soccer match between England and Scotland at Hampden Park, First Division Scottish League clubs rested to-day and games were confined to the minor league.

Third Lanark widened the margin over Arbroath to two points by defeating Dumbarton 1-0 on the latter's grounds. Arbroath played a scoreless draw at Alloa.

At the other end of the table positions remained unchanged as the Edinburgh City-East Stirling game was postponed and Cowdenbeath won from Montrose 3-2.

ENGLISH LEAGUE.

First Division.

Arsenal 2, Chelsea 2.
Birmingham 2, Preston N.-E. 0.
Blackburn R. 4, Wolverhampton 2.
Leeds United 0, Leicester City 2.
Liverpool 1, Derby County 3.
Manchester City 2, Everton 2.
Middlesbrough 2, Huddersfield 1.
Portsmouth 3, Aston Villa 1.
Sheffield Wed. 4, Tottenham H. 0.
Stoke City 0, Grimsby Town 0.
West Bromwich 1, Sunderland 1.

Second Division.

Blackpool 1, Sheffield United 0.
Bradford 2, Oldham Athletic 0.
Brentford 1, Swansea Town 0.
Bury 4, Barnsley 1.
Fulham 2, Burnley 0.
Hull City 1, Port Vale 0.
Newcastle U. 1, Notts Co. 1.
Norwich City 4, Southampton 0.
Notts Forest 2, Manchester U. 2.
Plymouth Argyle 1, Bolton Wan. 0.
West Ham U. 1, Bradford City 0.

Third Division—Northern Section.

Barrow 4, Chester 2.
Carlisle U. 0, Southport 1.
Chesterfield 3, York City 1.
Halifax T. 4, Gateshead 0.
Lincoln C. 2, Hartlepools U. 1.
Mansfield T. 2, New Brighton 1.
Rotherham U. 2, Accrington S. 0.
Rochdale 0, Doncaster Rovers 1.
Tranmere Rov. 5, Crewe Alex. 1.
Walsall 0, Darlington 0.
Wrexham 2, Stockport County 1.

Third Division—Southern Section.

Bournemouth 2, Charlton Ath. 2

(Turn to page 5)

WAR VETERAN SHOT IN BACK

Victim Found on Montreal Street Refuses to Name Assailant.

KNEW TOO MUCH?

MONTREAL, April 6 (C.P.).—Lingering between life and death, John Gosselin, Great War veteran, shot in the back on the street last night, refused information as to his assailant to-day at Notre Dame Hospital.

To the police he admitted he knew who had shot him, but declined to answer questions as to his attacker and the cause for the shooting. Gosselin recently came here from Chicago, where he had resided for several years. He is a native of Arthabaskaville, Que.

Dollard Gosselin, brother of the shooting victim, was questioned by the police following his announcement John had been heard to declaim against an alleged blackmailing ring said to be operating in Eastern Canada and United States. Dollard said his brother might have been shot because he "knew too much."

Canadian Injured In Gibraltar Brawl

GIBRALTAR, April 6 (CP Cable via Reuters).—Dixon Wagner, a Canadian visitor to Gibraltar, whose home address was not immediately learned, was injured on the street to-day and taken to hospital in a critical condition. Private Joseph Rae of the Gordon Highlanders was arrested on a charge of unlawfully and maliciously wounding the visitor, and in police court was remanded for a week. It was understood the two had been quarrelling.

May Abolish Death Penalty For Women

CRIMINAL CODE AMENDMENT IS URGED IN HOUSE

Change Also Calls For 4 Women in Personnel of Juries Trying Women.

FOR ANY OFFENCE.

Proposals Made By T. L. Church, Toronto East, in Commons.

OTTAWA, April 6.—(CP)—An amendment to the Criminal Code abolishing the death penalty for women has been proposed by Thomas L. Church, Toronto East, Conservative member of the House of Commons, it was revealed today. Mr. Church's proposed amendment includes a provision one-third of the personnel of juries trying women for any offences shall be women.

DETECTIVE CATCHES MAN SETTING FIRE TO HOME

HAMILTON, Ont., April 6 (C.P.).—John Higham of Hamilton was arraigned before Magistrate James McKay to-day on a charge of arson which arose from two fires he is alleged to have started about one o'clock this morning.

Detective Stanley Gaylard said he caught Higham in the act of setting a fire near the door of his house. Higham seized him by the throat and attempted to throw him out, claiming he had no right in the premises without a warrant, the detective said. The officer shook off his attacker and after putting out the one fire discovered the bed in another room was blazing merrily.

EX-OTTAWA CONTROLLER IS WANTED FOR FRAUD

OTTAWA, April 6 (C.P.).—Warrants were issued to-day for the arrest of Charles J. Tulley, former city controller, charging him with fraud in connection with the sale of securities and also for the arrest of Thomas H. Fitzgerald, head of the Sovereign Finance and Discounts, Limited, charged with trading without a license.

Instructions for the issuance of the warrants were given by Col. D. F. Pidgeon, chief investigator for the Ontario Securities Commission, and they are being served by city and provincial police.

Altogether there were five informations against Ottawa men but it is understood two of the men have left the city, and police of Toronto and Montreal and other cities are being asked to locate them.

The Weather

TORONTO, April 6 (C.P.)—Synopsis.—Pressure continues high over the greater part of Canada and relatively low over the southern portion of the United States, while a deep depression appears to be almost stationary off the Labrador Coast. The weather has been rather cold over the Dominion with snowflurries in some sections of the Western provinces and Southwestern Ontario.

Lower Lake Region and Georgian Bay.—Fresh northwest winds; fair and cool. Sunday—Fresh northeast to east winds; partly cloudy and cool.

Northern Ontario.—Fair to-day and Sunday; cold to-night.

Ottawa and Upper St. Lawrence Valley.—North to northeast winds; fine and cool to-day and Sunday.

Still Unkind

Girl reporter tried ot put one over on John W. Lewalski, 36, of Lynn, Mass., when she tried to upset his life-long record of never having been kissed, but he evaded her.

CITIZENS PLAN CELEBRATING OF ROYAL JUBILEE

James Dutton is Appointed Chairman of the Celebration Committee.

MEET AGAIN TUESDAY.

Plans for Peterborough's celebration of the royal jubilee were tentatively outlined at an organization meeting of citizens in the council chamber last night.

James Dutton was appointed chairman of the general committee and J. J. Dorris secretary.

Prominence will be given to the school children of the city in the program which will be staged in Victoria Park, and any of the townships wishing to participate will be given a place in the events and also representation on the committee.

The consensus of last night's assembly favored a morning celebration probable at 11 o'clock. It was thought that the Empire broadcast by His Majesty the King at 10 o'clock would keep most people at home besides their radios, and for that reason it was suggested that the program might not begin until 11 o'clock. A community broadcast in the park was also considered as a possibility in order that the King's message might be the major event. Technical difficulties and expense were forseen to accomplish this detail with satisfactory amplification, but before definitely abandoning the idea a committee composed of Mr. Dutton, Colonel C. H. Stewart and John Hornsby will enquire into the mechanical and financial factors and report at another meeting next week.

Dr. Moir, Mr. Hornsby and Fred J. Overend were appointed a finan-

(Turn to Page 7, please)

SESSION IS PROROGUED OF THE MANITOBA HOUSE

WINNIPEG, April 6 (C.P.).—The third session of the 19th Manitoba Legislature was prorogued to-day, Lieutenant-Governor W. J. Tupper giving Royal assent to 56 Bills passed during the last few days of the session. More than 100 Bills were enacted during a session embracing 42 sittings of the House.

Among Bills given Royal assent to-day were money measures providing for total expenditures of $14,063,000 during the next fiscal year.

2 Men, Woman Jailed for Relief Fraud Because One Loaned Marriage License

TORONTO, April 6 (C.P.)—What is alleged to have been a marriage-license conspiracy to benefit at the expense of the Public Welfare Department was nipped in the bud to-day with the arrest of two men and a woman on charges of conspiracy to defraud.

Police officials alleged William Currie, already on relief, loaned his marriage license to Raymond Wandless and Mrs. Barber, to enable them to obtain relief under his name as a married couple. Both Wandless and Mrs. Barber also face fraud charges, it being alleged they obtained vouchers under the name of William Currie and wife.

7 MEN MISSING LONELY PACIFIC COAST PROPERTY

Trapper Treks to Outside World Telling of Winter Tragedy.

SLIDE WRECKS BUILDINGS

Body of One Man Found Buried in Snow—B. C. Police to Investigate.

VICTORIA, April 6 (C.P.)—Seven men comprising the entire winter crew operating the Taseko-Motherlode mining property in the Taseko Lake country of British Columbia are believed to have been killed in a snow slide which occurred several weeks ago, according to word which has just reached the outside.

Bill Allaire, who operates a trail line in the Taseko country, snowshoed over the Warner Pass into Bridge River Valley to tell he had discovered evidence of the tragedy and found the body of one man.

He found, on visiting the Taseko Motherlode property, that a slide had come down the mountains and obliterated the camp. He dug into the debris and uncovered the frozen body of a man. Unable to do anything further he started out for civilization.

Off Beaten Track.

The Taseko-Motherlode property is difficult of access except in summer when it may be reached by pack-horse trails from Minto City in the Bridge River Valley or southwest by a more difficult path from Hanceville by way of Chilko Lake.

Supplies for mining operations were flown in last summer and fall. Provincial Police will investigate the tragedy.

The district is in Central British Columbia, about 150 miles north of Vancouver.

MIRACLE GIRL'S FATHER SAVED

Collapses After Abandoning Surgical Belt on Dead Daughter's Advice.

EMERGENCY OPERATION.

OTTAWA, April 6.—(C.P.)—Oliver Lavergne, stepfather of Marie Anne Lavergne, the Navan "miracle-working" girl who died a fortnight ago, was reported recovering to-day after an emergency operation for a hernia he claimed Marie Anne had cured by divine power.

The girl's stepfather was rushed to hospital last night for an emergency operation a short time after he had discharged a surgical belt designed to relieve his disorder. At the time of Marie Anne's death from tuberculosis Lavergne told reporters: "She cured me. I was wearnig a surgical belt and Marie Anne told me I should take it off. I have been going around without it since and am feeling fine."

Emergency Call.

Yesterday Dr. J. S. Major of St. Joseph d'Orleans, family physician, was summoned hurriedly to the little clap-board home in Gloucester township where "pilgrims" have been going to pray before the altar in Marie Anne's room. The doctor had previously expressed disbelief in the reported "miracles" with which relatives and friends credited the 19-year-old girl.

Several hundred persons have visited the humble shack in which Marie Anne died. They have prayed there and been given strips cut from the clothing of the dead girl, believed by some to possess properties beneficial to the sick.

Lavergne, one of the most ardent believers in the girl's powers, collapsed yesterday. Dr. Major and Dr. J. Lorenzo Lamy of Ottawa made a desperate and apparently successful effort to save his life by operating.

Twenty girls have been sent from the Irish Free State to Leicester, England, to be trained in the making of cotton thread and will return home to teach other misses in a new mill in Westport.

Beer in U. S.

NEW YORK, April 6.—(CP)—The first two years of beer's return, the United States Brewers' Association estimated yesterday, have directly created $2,000,000,000 in new business and have enriched federal and state treasuries by $435,000,000. With the second anniversary of legalization next Sunday, beer of 3.2 or higher alcoholic content is now sold in 46 states.

EMPEROR HAILE ADMITS BREACH WITH ITALIANS

Denies War Declared But States Dispute Now in League Hands.

OUTLINES SITUATION.

(Copyright, 1935, by the A. P.)

ADDIS ABABA, April 6.—(AP)—Hard-working Haile Selassie, Emperor of Ethiopia, confirmed today in an interview his nation has broken off negotiations with Italy in the East African dispute but emphatically denied 'war' has been declared on either side.

Followed by three cocker spaniels and a servant carrying a red umbrella—sign of the master's power as descendant of the Queen of Sheba—the emperor received his interviewer in a library of the palace where he gave a terse but complete statement of the Italo-Ethiopian diplomatic situation:

"We have tried to negotiate directly with Italy, or through an intermediary. Unfortunately Italy has declined arbitration and has not replied to our proposals. Therefore we have broken off negotiations and submitted the matter to Geneva."

The emperor's brief words in reply to a question afforded a summary of an abortive attempt of Italian and Ethiopian representatives to reach a decision regarding responsibility for the Ualual frontier incident and the question of reparations.

Asked concerning reports that a state of war already existed with Italy, the emperor gave an emphatic reply.

"Yellem!" he said in a loud voice, gesturing with his small hands. "Yellem!" again he repeated the word. In Ethiopian it means an emphatic "no."

GERMAN SPIES ARE GIVEN HEAVY TERMS IN PRISON

BRUSSELS, April 6 (AP)—A corporal in a machine gun company and a Brussels taxicab driver were sentenced to prison to-day for selling secretly-developed arms devices to German agents in the sensational climax of a spy case which was quietly under investigation since last May.

Corporal Verwee was senteced to 15 years in prison and Maurice Bomal, the driver, to 10 years.

Your Evening Smile

WALK IT, YOUNG MAN!

"Dad," said his extravagant son, "do you think they will ever find a substitute for gasoline?"

"They have one now, son, and I wish you'd give it a trial."

"Oh?" queried the son incredulously. "I've never heard of it. What is it, anyway?"

"Shoe leather."

His Democratic Highness

Disdaining the royal box at the Aintree course, his democratic highness, the Prince of Wales, mingles with the other railbirds during the running of the 1935 Grand National steeplechase, March 29th. The prince appears to be biting his nails in his tenseness as the race draws to a close with "Reynoldstown," fourth favorite, taking first money.

LONDON LUMBER YARDS GUARDED

Companies Make Effort to Catch Firebug Blamed for Three Outbreaks.

ALL IN WEEK.

LONDON, Ont., April 6. (CP).—City lumber yards may be patrolled by special guards during the week-end. Officials of local companies stated to-day they were considering placing special watchmen on duty to work in conjunction with police in an effort to catch the fire bug believed responsible for at least three fires during the last week.

Police and fire department officials will work together in an attempt to catch the party believed responsible for fires at the Harris junk warehouse last Sunday night; the Gerry Planing Mill Thursday night and the London Lumber Supply Company last night. Chief Scott stated to-day it was also possible the fire bug was responsible for the blaze which swept the plant of the Riverside Laundry a couple of weeks ago.

A member of the Fire Marshall's Department, Toronto, will reach London Monday to conduct a thorough investigation.

MAN INSTANTLY KILLED WHEN CRUSHED BY TRUCK

SUDBURY, Ont., April 6 (CP)—W. H. Carr, fireman at the Sudbury Court House, was killed instantly last night when a truck he was helping to remove from the soft earth by the roadside between Coniston and Wahnapitae, rolled over and crushed him.

Frank A. Laundry, a neighbor of Carr, who had been driving the truck, said they had stopped to fix the lights and Carr was blocking the wheels when the soft earth gave way and Carr was crushed between the truck and a rock.

Poor Guardian

NEW YORK, April 6. (CP)—The city of New York, abashed by its ineptitude as a guardian, handed Nello Nepola 23, $500 on account to-day and promised to see what could be done about digging up an additional $31,500 which it holds in trust for him.

The money was the amount of a judgment awarded Nepola for an automobile accident in which he lost a leg, and which was placed with the city chamberlain, as guardian, because Nepola was a minor. The investment, in real estate mortgages, since proved bad.

PAN EUROPEAN MEET RUMORED

Rally Set For London Expected to be Sequel to Stresa Conference.

FRANCE MAY BE SNAG.

LONDON, Eng., April 6. (CP).—Plans for a great London conclave at which all European nations would join in a united effort to solve the security problem were understood to be crystallizing here to-day.

This conference, qualified quarters announced, is being envisaged as a sequel to the Anglo-Franco-Italian meeting at Stresa, Italy, next Thursday.

Great Britain would continue the role of mediator at this all-European meeting with Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald presiding, these quarters said.

Although officials refused either to confirm or deny such a conference was planned, their reserve was attributed rather to prudence than to any objections to such a meeting.

Capt. Anthony Eden, British Lord Privy Seal, who returned to London last night from his peace and security talks in European capitals was reported to have struck a hopeful note in the present crisis.

Conflict Remote

Capt. Eden, according to the Daily Telegraph, holds the belief "the situation is an anxious one but the dangers of serious conflagration are less imminent than was generally

(Please turn to Page 8)

LAST MINUTE NEWS FLASHES

PLEMINGTON, N. J., April 6.—(AP)—Benjamin Heier, Brooklyn cafe employee, today pleaded not guilty to the indictment that he gave perjured testimony when he appeared as a defence witness for Bruno Richard Hauptmann. Bail of $2,000 was posted for his release.

GENEVA, April 6—(AP)—Ethiopia in a demand for urgent treatment by the League of Nations of her dispute with Italy today cited reports thousands of Egyptian workmen were being employed by Italy to build roads leading to the Ethiopian frontier, and declared this to be worse than actual conflict.

PARIS, April 6.—(AP)—An assertion Germany will have an official standing army of 900,000 men in addition to a trained forceof 900,000 was published in the newspaper L'Intransigeant and attributed to M. Tukashevsky, assistant Russian war minister, making Germany's forces 40 per cent greater than those of France by next summer.

CONSCRIPTION OF INCOMES OVER $50,000 IS URGED

ESSEX, Ont., April 6 (C.P.).—Conscription of all incomes over $50,000 per annum was advocated by Miss A. D. L. Robinson, president of the Essex East Women's Liberal Association, in an address before Essex South Liberal women here. Miss Robinson declared wealth could be conscripted for the common good in peace time in the same manner lives of men were commandeered by the State to carry on war.

NEW CHAMPIONS DEFEAT OXFORD BY GOOD MARGIN

12th Year in Succession Light Blues Have Won Classic Varsity Race.

46 WINS FOR CAMBRIDGE.

Winners Take Lead Within a Minute After Start of 4¼ Mile Grind.

PUTNEY, England, April 6 (C.P.)—For the 12th year in succession Cambridge defeated Oxford in the classic Varsity boat race this afternoon.

The stylish Light Blue eight got off at the start of the 4¼ mile grind slightly behind the stronger Oxford crew but within a minute raced to the front and stayed there. The victory made the tally in the historic contest, 46 wins for Cambridge, 40 for Oxford, and one dead heat.

At Harrod's Wharf Cambridge was 2½ lengths in front and at Hammersmith Bridge 2¾ lengths ahead.

When Chiswick Steps were reached, more than half the distance covered, the Cantabs were 3½ length in front, and they held this racing through choppy water along Duke's Meadows.

4 LENGTHS IN LEAD

The Cambridge eight finished four lengths ahead. At one time they were six lengths in front of Oxonians but they were eased up nearing the finish and crossed the line rowing 30 to the minute, Oxford, after keeping within striking distance for more than half the journey, dropped back to 28 strokes on the end.

The officials said Cambridge's winning margin was 4¼ lengths. The time was 19 minutes 48 seconds, far above the record established by Cambridge last year of 18 minutes 3 seconds.

Cambridge Wins Toss.

PUTNEY, April 6.—(C. P. Cable)—Cambridge, winner of the race for the past 11 years, won the toss and elected to row the sheltered Surrey side of the course as the 87th Varsity boat race with Oxford got under way this afternoon.

A cold wind, mostly from the west, blew and the water was slightly rough. Owing to the winding nature of the 4¼ mile stretch the wind was a headwind in parts.

Oxford has not won a race since 1923 but just before the start Michael Mosley, president of the Oxford Rowing Club, declared "We're not suffering from any inferiority complex."

The starting gun was fired at 2.47 p.m. and the crews were away.

Light Blues Hold Margin.

Oxford got away slightly in front at a rate of 36 strokes to the minute but the light blues soon swept into the lead and at the boat houses had nearly a length advantage.

The light blues got away at the same rate as the heavier Oxford crew, 36 to the minutes. After one minute's rowing Cambridge pulled up splendily and were a length ahead, when Oxford put on a spurt.

This reduced the light blues' advantage to half a length but they had a long way to go. At Beverley Brook Cambridge held a half length lead but at Fulham football grounds they increased it to 1¼ lengths.

Two Length Lead

The light blues continued to widen the gap, racing along with effortless style and at the mile post were two lengths in front. Both crews were rowing at 34 clip there.

One and a half miles from the start Cambridge were three lengths in front but Oxford hung on doggedly and at two miles were two lengths behind, both crews ing strongly at 32 to the minute.

MANION VETOES FRESH VENTURE INTO INSURANCE

Opposes Motherwell's Suggestion Set Up System of Marine Rates.

AID HUDSON BAY ROUTE.

Guthrie States Use of Spotters By R.C.M.P. Will Be Investigated.

OTTAWA, April 6 (C.P.).—While the Government to-day had heard a suggestion that it enter the marine insurance business, there appeared little likelihood of its adoption. The suggestion was offered with a view to forcing down insurance rates on the Hudson Bay route, and encouraging shipping in all Canadian ports. It came from Hon. W. R. Motherwell, former Minister of Agriculture, but failed to meet the approval of Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals.

The House last night held its annual discussion of the Hudson Bay route when estimates for the railway to the port of Churchill were voted and the usual complaints about high insurance rates were voiced. B. M. Stitt, Conservative member for Nelson, claimed reduction in rates ordered for this year was not enough and that they should be cut in half.

Mr. Motherwell thought the Government was inclined to drift along in connection with the Hudson Bay route, and urged an aggressive policy to develop it. British insurance companies would be slow in making reductions in rates and would take no chances.

Federal Marine Insurance.

The Government might well set up an insurance system of its own and, to avoid charges of favoritism, extend it to shipping using all Canadian ports. The insurance companies would not be slow to fall in line.

(Turn to Page 6)

Our King and Queen on their Silver Jubilee

Queen Mary's first visit to France in July, 1917

OUR photo today was taken in July, 1917, on the occasion of Queen Mary's first visit to France.

King George had been there on several occasions, while the Prince of Wales seemed to revel in the fighting, having been granted permission to join fighting units, among them being Canadians.

But there was a more significant occurrence in July, 1917, than the visit of the Queen to France. It was in this month that King George issued a proclamation changing the name of the royal family to the House of Windsor.

The King's proclamation was popular; the use of all German titles, dignities and honors were abandoned.

Previously, the royal family had been known as the House of Saxe Cobourg, and the family name of Prince Albert, the King's grandfather, was Wettin. All these were renounced in the new name of Windsor.

The name was chosen from the historic home of the royal family, the beautiful Windsor Castle, situated on the Thames river, within the lights of London. It is one of the most romantic castles in the United Kingdom.

But through all this, the war was still going on; the United States had announced her entry into the conflict in this year when the tide of battle seemed to be going against the allied forces. Her entry gave the allies a new strength, a new morale.

It was in these years of struggle, hardship and sacrifice that the British people looked more than ever to their King for guidance and example. He did not fail them.

To-morrow: Princess Mary, Red Cross nurse.

Fried Eggs

WEST STOCKBRIDGE, Mass. April 6.—(CP)—Louis Phillips of this town vouches for this one. Several times this year, he says, he has found eggs without shells, laid by one of his hens. This in itself is not an unprecedented occurance, but he declares he almost doubted the evidence of his own eyes yesterday when he found a friend egg in the hen's nest.

Sleuthing around, however, he said, he found the solution of the mystery. A glass window in the henhouse had focused the sun's rays on one of the shell-less eggs and had cooked it as it lay in the nest, he says.

WIFE'S TORTURE TOOLS LOCATED

Home Where Husband Shot Spouse Reveals Dagger, Pokers, Handcuffs.

DAUGTER IS HELD.

KANSAS CITY, April 6.—Implements reminiscent of a medieval torture chamber were found yesterday in the little, barred room where Mrs. Nellie T. Hurd allegedly tortured her husband, Herbert, until he finally shot her Wednesday.

Detectives found a Mexican rope handcuff with which a man's wrist may be cut and twisted, a double edged dagger, whips of stranded wire, two guns and several small pokers allegedly used to burn Hurd's feet.

The frail former railway watchman was recovering in a hospital from injuries which he charged that his powerfully built wife had inflicted on him the night before the shooting. Stab wounds, burns and multiple bruises were found on his body.

Consulted Spirits

Investigators learned from neighbors that Mrs. Hurd was wont to consult the "spirits" for advice and was involved in neighborhood quarrels. They told of hearing Hurd's screams at night.

Police, meanwhile, held Miss Bertha Hurd, 44, adopted daughter of the dead woman as a material witness. Hurd charged that the daughter knew of the tortures and furnished matches for the burning of his feet.

The old man's bedroom had iron bars over the windows. He said he frequently was bound to the bed or allowed to move around the house under the muzzle of his wife's pistol. Hurd revealed that his wife had two revolvers and that while carrying one, she allowed him to creep to a table where the other gun lay.

"I didn't want to kill her," Hurd said. "I was just shooting my way out. She had kept me up all night, burning matches against my feet."

ROEBUCK LABOR BILL TALKED OUT UP NEXT WEEK

Croll Measure Introduced to Extend Allowance Act to Mothers With One Child.

NIGHT SESSIONS AHEAD.

TORONTO, April 6. (CP)—Attorney-General A. W. Roebuck's Labor Legislation Bill to give the force of law to voluntary wage and working hours agreements between employers and employees will have to wait until the middle of next week to receive second reading in the Ontario Legislature. The measure was talked out yesterday before a vote could be taken.

Meanwhile members looked forward to-day to a week-end rest in preparation for a series of night sessions next week when the Government will start its drive to achieve Easter prorogation.

The Government's bill to terminate power purchase contracts will come up for second reading first thing Monday and the budget debate will resume Tuesday. The labor legislation measure may be brought up again Wednesday.

Two Conservatives, A. R. Nesbitt, Toronto-Bracondale, and William Duckworth, Toronto-Dovercourt, were joined yesterday in an attack on the Labor Bill by Sam Lawrence (C.C.F., Hamilton East). Objection to the measure was it did not go far enough.

"Nuisance Bill"

Declaring the bill was only a compromise between factions in the government, Mr. Nesbitt described it as "a nuisance." He suggested existing laws be renovated and contended the bill fell short of labor's demands.

"The bill has no teeth," he said. Referring to reports that after the session Minister of Welfare David Croll would be given the labor portfolio, which Mr. Roebuck holds, Mr. Nesbitt considered it unfair to hand over to Mr. Croll 'this baby without teeth."

F. H. Avery (Lib., Lincoln) said he was not entirely satisfied with the bill but had confidence in the

(Turn to page 6).

By the rules of the Senate and the House of Representatives, members are not permitted to smoke while on the floor.

BROTHER SUES BROTHER

SANDWICH, Ont., April 6. (CP) In a brother vs. brother suit, Judge F. W. Willson in county court here awarded Charles Peltier of Windsor $232 and costs against Alex Peltier. Charles had sued to recover $800 which he alleged his brother had banked for him. Alex claimed he had returned all but $300 which he said was owing to him for the purchase of a horse, an electric motor and board and lodging for a year. In reply to the latter allegation the plaintiff said he did cleaning and housekeeping for his board.

A factory for the manfacture of all kinds of chains is to be built near Johannesburg, South Africa.

For this little citizen a sombre world has suddenly brightened.

His mother has given him his first taste of Castoria—the children's laxative. And did he love it!

"It was swell!"

That delicious taste is important. It means no more of the struggles that a bad-tasting laxative causes—that all too often upset a child's whole delicate little system.

That's why even the taste of Castoria was made especially for children!

"Oh, boy!"

It is also prepared just for a child's needs. It contains no harsh, purging drugs that so many "grown-up" laxatives contain.

"I feel great!"

Castoria will never cause griping pains. It is not habit-forming. It is perfectly safe. It is very gentle—yet very thorough.

Rely on Castoria whenever your child needs a laxative—from babyhood to 11 years old. Get a bottle today—look for the name Castoria. Save money by getting the Family-Size bottle.

CASTORIA
The Children's Laxative
from babyhood to 11 years

Hog Quotations In Peterborough

SATURDAY, APRIL 6.

Canada Packers quote:
Hogs — F.o.b., $7.75; off truck, $7.85; rail grades, $10.50.
Selects, $1 per hog premium.
Sows, 2½c off bacon prices.
Cream — No. 1 (on truck), 23c; No. 1 (delivered), 24c.
Special 2c per lb. premium.
Dealers quote:
Grain — Spring wheat, 86c; fall wheat, 90; oats, 34c; malting barley, 60c; feed barley, 50c; rye, 50c; and buckwheat, 44c.

NAZIS CAMPAIGN HOT IN DANZIG

Catholics, Democrats, Poles Strive Desperately to Ward Off Dictatorship.

EVE OF ELECTION.

By Melvin K. Whiteleather.

DANZIG, April 6 (A.P.).—A flood tide of Nazi fervor carried the free city's populace along to-day, the last before the Volkstag elections which may result in a Nazi dictatorship.

Rudolf Hess, spokesman for Adolf Hitler, last night touched upon the European security situation by declaring Soviet Russia is the obstacle to Nazi Germany's agreement to an Eastern pact.

"By voting for the Nazis," Hess said, "you will bear testimony to the close relationship between the free city and the Fatherland. Danzig never felt separated from the Reich. It will feel still closer by adopting the same internal system as prevails in Germany."

The city was most excited on the eve of the election. The Catholics, Social Democrats and Poles worked furiously to stave off the Nazi advantage captured by the visits of Hess, General German Wilhelm Goering, Premier of Prussia, Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, Minister of Propaganda, and lesser Nazis.

Legally the Reich Government has no part in Danzig's affairs, but the Nazi philosophy of pan-Germanism has caused Berlin to take a direct hand in the vote.

Car Engine Powers New Russian Plane

MOSCOW, April 6.—(A.P.)—Russian experts after long experimentation announced to-day development of an airplane powered by an ordinary light automobile engine. The engine is the type manufactured in great qunatities by the Gorky Motor factory.

The Soviet government attached great importance to the achievement as it is expected to make flying available to civilians on a large scale. It is a two-seater craft which operates on ordinary autogasoline. It attains a speed of only 70 miles an hour.

There is an immense interest in aviation in the Soviet Union. Thousands of civilians have learned to operate gliders and thousands have learned to jump from parachutes. Women's enthusiasm is marked.

The Russian air fleet is reputed to be one of the world's strongest but few figures have been made public on this arm of the Soviet Union's defence force.

FRANCE EXTENDS ARMY TRAINING

Cabinet Approves Keeping Class of 1913 Under the Flag—160,000 Men.

AIMS AT RUSSIAN ACCORD.

PARIS, April 6 (C.P.-Havas). — The Cabinet to-day decided to keep under the flag the class of 1913, numbering approximately 160,000 men, for an additional three months. It was approved as a precautionary measure in the face of German rearmament. Under normal circumstances, the class would have been released from uniform next Saturday.

France, it was learned to-day, will propose at the coming Stresa Conference a European mutual assistance pact spiked by a method of rapidly defining an aggressor to guarantee security in the face of German military moves.

The French plan involves the building up of the pact within the framework of the League of Nations. Its essential principle, it was held, conforms perfectly with both the Rome and London accords with the Paris Government, since the pact is universal and open to all nations.

No Rearmament.

France, it was said, seeks to have both Britain and Italy sign a resolution at Stresa condemning German rearmament. Foreign Minister Pierre Laval hopes to show Europe the three Powers are solidly united in the face of what France describes as the German menace to peace. Such a resolution, it was said, would be submitted to the Council of the League on April 15 to bolster the French protest against Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's conscription announcement of three weeks ago to-day. Italy, it was indicated here ,already has signified willingness to sign such a resolution, but the position of Britain is not as clear.

Should the conference fail, it was said France would leave Stresa determined to push ahead for a close accord with Russia. Reports to Paris said Italy would oppose all British plans for a collective security system, taking the position such projects are slow and their achievement problematical.

ENNISMORE

Mr. J. Lasure of Peterborough is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. John Harrington.

Mr. Charles Thornton of Peterborough made a trip here on Wednesday.

Mr. Peter Galvin had a very successful raising on Thursday, replacing the roof of his barn which was blown off last winter. Messrs. T. and L. Bell were the carpenters.

COUNCIL TO BALK

WINDSOR, Ont., April 6. (CP). Before accepting the dictates of the board of supervisors in connection with this year's budget, Windsor city council, as far as Mayor George Bennett is concerned mayor will refuse to govern. The mayor made this assertion when addressing members of the Board of Education and a group of teachers.

LIVESTOCK PRODUCE AND CHEESE QUOTES

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

TORONTO, April 6 (C.P.). — Wholesale prices on fruit and vegetables as supplied by White & Co. were reported unchanged to-day

TORONTO POULTRY

TORONTO, April 6 (C.P.) — Wholesale prices on poultry as supplied by the United Farmers Co-operative Co., were reported unchanged to-day.

TORONTO CHEESE

TORONTO, April 6 (C.P.)—The Toronto Wholesale Cheese Market remained steady to-day, with dealers buying large, colored, paraffined and government grades at 12c.

Wholesalers offered cheese to retailers at the following prices:

	Large.	Twins.	Triplets
New	13c	13¼c	13½c
Old	17c	17¼c	17½c
Medium	15c	15¼c	15½c

ONTARIO GRAINS

F.o.b shipping point: Wheat, 85c to 87c; oats, 33c to 34c; corn, 56c to 58c; buckwheat, 43c to 45c; malting barley, 63c to 65c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Likelihood of enlarged imports of Argentine corn had a good deal to do with material setbacks in prices of all grains yesterday.

It was shown that corn from Argentine can be laid down in Chicago at about the current price of May contracts here, the imported corn to be delivered in time for month-end market settlements. Argentine corn shipments this week totalled 3,138,000 bushels, including 336,000 bushels to the United States.

Corn closed unsettled, ½c to 1½c under Thursday finish, May 84¼ to 84⅝c; wheat ⅝c to 1⅝c off, May 94⅝c to 94⅝c; oats ⅞c to 1⅛c down, and provisions varying from 7 cents decline to 7 cents gain.

Wheat was bearishly influenced by weakness of the Liverpool market, with indications that there had been a pronounced pause in demand for wheat abroad. Much moisture, too, was reported in domestic wheat territory, northwest and southwest as well, except Kansas dry areas. Oats mainly followed corn.

Provisions averaged lower with grains, despite hog market upturns.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

Butter prices were slightly easier on the Montreal Dairy and Produce Market yesterday, while other lines were generally unchanged. No. 1 grade butter in carlots or less brought 22½c a pound for regraded make and a cent less for fresh receipts. Small lots to retailers were quoted at 23½c to 24c for solids and 24½c to 25c for prints. Arrivals amounted to 291 boxes.

On the egg market graded shipments in carlots or less brought 18c to 18½c a dozen for A-large, 15½c for A-medium, 15c for A-pullets or B and 14½c for C. Arrivals were 1,649 cases.

There were no receipts of cheese and prices held steady. No. 1 Ontario fall brought 11½c to 11¾c a pound and summer 12½c to 12¾c.

Quebec No. 2 while potatoes sold for 45c to 55c per 80-pound bag and No. 1 Mountains and New Brunswick Cobblers for 55c to 60. New Brunswick Mountains and Prince Edward Island Mountains sold for 60c to 65c and 65c to 70c, respectively.

BUYING REPORT SET NEXT WEEK

Ministers to be Given Chance to Study 250 Pages in Easter Recess.

COMBINES MAIN SNAG.

OTTAWA, April 6 (CP)—Concluding months of labor, the report of the Mass Buying Commission to-day was said to be ready for presentation to Hon. R. B. Hanson, Minister of Trade and Commerce, early next week. Members of Parliament, it is understood, will be given an opportunity to study its approximately 250 pages during the long Easter recess. It is the intention of the government to table it in the House of Commons before adjournment.

Snag on Combines.

To-day certain information in respect to the report was being discussed among those interested. It has been learned that one of the main causes of difference between members of the commission had to do with methods of protecting consumers from combinations in restraint of trade. The majority of the committee, made up of Conservative members including Hon. H. H. Stevens, and also the United Farmer member, D. M. Kennedy, favored allowing regulated combines under certain conditions. Liberal members, although signing the main report, made a very definite reservation in this respect.

As already intimated three Liberals have signed the report with reservations, while E. J. Young, Liberal member for Weyburn, did not sign it, and submitted his own report advocating lowering of tariffs. Those signing the report with reservations are J. L. Ilsley, Hants-Kings; Samuel Factor, To-

(Turn to Page 6. Please)

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, April 6. — Steady advance of wheat prices, in progress with only slight interruptions since March 12, was checked on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday. Values closed ⅞ cent lower, May at 86⅞c and July 86⅝c.

Traders, however, appeared undisturbed by the setback both here and in other world markets. They regarded it as a normal condition after the recent sharp gains—4½ cents locally since March 12.

Leader of the advance, Liverpool also was to the fore in the decline, closing 1⅞d-1½d lower yesterday. Chicago was off 1⅝ cents and Buenos Aires dipped 1½ cents. A lull in United Kingdom demand for wheat influenced the English market.

Foreign buyers purchased only 250,000 bushels of Canadian wheat yesterday, while Australia's shipments this week were sharply lower, totalling only 1,225,000 bushels against 3,000,000 last week. Argentina cleared 5,000,000 bushels.

Cash and coarse grains were inactive, prices in the latter market breaking sharply in sympathy with wheat.

Futures:

Wheat—	Open	High	Low	Close	Prev. Close
May	87	87¼	86¾	86⅞	87⅝
July	86⅝	87	86⅝	86⅝	87⅛
Oats—
May	40⅝	40⅝	40	40⅛	41⅛
July	40⅝	40⅝	39⅞	40	41

You can buy a DODGE with the Airglide Ride

FOR AS LOW AS $877
FOR THE COUPE
DELIVERED IN PETERBORO

Dodge Model "DU" 4-door Sedan

Dodge gives you HYDRAULIC BRAKES, ALL STEEL BODY, FLOATING POWER, REDISTRIBUTION OF WEIGHT.

Thrill to the beauty of this Great New Value Dodge... then look at the delivered price... You can afford to own a Dodge.

Drive the New Value Dodge... Sit in the comfortable seat and see how effortlessly you operate the clutch, brakes and gears.

You walk in and out of the New Dodge... because the doors are wider... and the floor is almost level with the running board.

The engine has been moved forward... all passengers ride cradled between the axles.

Steel corner posts... steel walls... and even a steel floor... No wonder Dodge all-steel bodies are so much safer.

Stop safely... stop smoothly... in a short straight line. With Dodge time-tested hydraulic brakes the action is always equal on all four wheels.

Walk in... or out... in a single step. The all-steel floor of the New Value Dodge is almost level with the running board.

383-5 Water St. LILLICO MOTORS Phone 362

The Golden Text

Psalm 103: 13—"Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear him."

Sabbath Message For The Shut-Ins

Written for The Examiner by the Ministers of the City and District.

"WHAT IS THIS CHRISTIANITY?"

REV. F. M. WOOTTAN.

THE Bishop of Croydon, in his appealing book, "What is This Christianity?" has said: "It is hardly too much to say that one of the real religious happenings of our generation, possibly one of the greatest spiritual events in the story of Christianity, has been the rediscovery that Jesus Christ was at least a real man. He has stepped down out of the stained glass windows and stands in our midst on this common earth, not less divine because He is now seen to be genuinely human." This is also the testimony of Francis Thompson, John Masefield and Stanley Jones. Believing this, Albert Schwitzer ministers in the jungles of Africa, and Dr. Grenfell amongst the fisher folk along the bleak and storm-swept coasts of Labrador. The Jesus alive to-day, our brother man, will bring humanity out of bondage and give light to those that sit in darkness and in the land of the shadow of death. Jesus Christ is alive to-day and available to transform personality and to guide man aright.

"That strange man" has given to us in the Christian Gospel a message that seems especially suited to those very times. We have become upset, even panic-stricken, but the glorious gospel has remained undisturbed. It has survived many upheavals in history; it knows the world is not going to pieces; an earthquake may shake down things that ought to be shaken down, but institutions that have a sure foundation will survive. Gibbon in his "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" describes the terrible days when the Goths, Hunns and Vandals fell upon its glorious temples and palaces. After it was all over they discovered that only the ornaments and filligree had been destroyed; the great pillars and lofty arches still remained. So, in these days, the eternal verities of the Christian gospels stand secure. The superficial frills and that which is worthless are destroyed, but the things of the spirit are indestructible. The storm may be violent, but the man with a Christian philosophy of life is undisturbed. He has Faith. God is in his heart; the abiding realities of faith, hope and love endure. The Christian man does not grow panicky. He "hears a voice above the storm." He endures as seeing the invisible.

Who started this Christianity? A revolutionary character? Jesus said, "I came to bring fire upon the earth, not peace but a sword." As one has said, "He threw a stick of dynamite into society. It took the most explosive form possible that of great ideas." Over 2,000 years those ideas have moulded the lives of men, and are doing so still. The Roman world, with its ideas of power and selfishness, were dumbfounded with His teachings about the value of human life and the rights of the common man. The Kingdom of God was an enigma to them. Whatever revolt there has been against injustice, it is because a man called Jesus said, "You heard it said of old time, an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth, but I say unto you, love your enemies, do good to those who despitefully use you." Coupled with infinite patience, Jesus was the profoundest thinker of all time. His moral idealism revolted at all that was dishonest or corrupt. Before the sun-clear righteousness of Jesus, moral cowards and time-servers slunk away. They sought out the subterranean passages of deceit and violence to accomplish their ends. They nailed Him to a cross, but He transformed that instrument of torture into an insignia of glory. A bleeding Calvary has become the world's shrine of undying love and devotion. Many since that day have climbed new Calvaries with bleeding feet. But the brow of the mount of sacrifice is crowned with a light such as was never on land or sea; the love-lit brow of Calvary.

The Gospel continues to provide peace and rest to the battered spirits of men. The problems of the soul are always the same. Man still sins, suffers and longs for peace. Emerson has said, "Even though life becomes as a sunny Greek temple, there would still be need for a Gothic chapel for broken and wounded souls." The Gospel as nothing else can provide a haven of peace for the souls of men. "My peace I give unto you." "Let not your heart be troubled." Just so long as we keep the din and jar of life out of our souls we are safe. But if these things break into the soul man goes to pieces. Religion isn't something to die by, but to live by. Many to-day are caught, men and women disillusioned, disappointed, sinful, even in despair, are looking away from material things and asking piteously for help. The answer comes from the lips of one who has ever stood in the midst of human woe and sin and cried aloud, "Come unto me all ye that are weary and heavy laden and I will give you rest."

Thank God the light of the Gospel still remains. It will not go out. The cynic has had his day, the man with a supercilious spirit is being crowded into the background. The world is swinging back to the simplicity and truth of the Gospel. May we keep the light burning; it must not go out!

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church

Rev. A. T. Barr, B.D., Ph.D., Minister
M. E. Chenhall, F.R.C.O., Organist.

11.00 A.M.—LENTEN SERIES:

The Drama of the Passion

5. PILATE: THE GOVERNOR WHO SENTENCED THE INNOCENT.

Anthem—On the Way to Jerusalem .... Maunder
Anthem—Bow Down Thine Ear ..... Maunder

MID-WEEK SERVICE, WEDNESDAY, 8.00 P.M.

7.00 P.M.—THE MINISTER. SPECIAL SERIES:

SIGNS OF THE TIMES:

4.—The Gossip Racketeer

Anthem—There is a Green Hill ..... Sommerset
Anthem—Judge Me, O God ..... Mendelssohn

SUNDAY SCHOOL, 3.00 P.M.

The Victim of Calvary

By DEAN O'SULLIVAN.

As to-morrow, Passion Sunday, ushers in the season in which our redemption was wrought, it were fitting that we should turn our thoughts to the mount of Calvary and speak of Christ Crucified, though, alas, as on the first Good Friday, that be to some foolishness and to others a stumbling-block.

"There stood at the foot of the cross, Mary, His mother," That was the closing scene in the great drama of redemption, throughout the whole of which the mother and her Child are ever intimately associated. The Word Who was made flesh and dwelt amongst us, could have come into the world a full-grown man, as was Adam when he came from the hand of his Creator; but God willed that humanity should produce the Victim, that He should be gradually evolved, that He Who was to save all those born of woman should Himself be a child of a daughter of the human race.

In the dim light of type and prophecy that virgin mother and her Child were looked forward to throughout the ages. Solomon erected a temple to the Almighty. The preparations were great for a house was being built not for man but for God. The tribes of Israel gave of their wealth, the cedars of Lebanon were felled and skilled artizans were brought from Tyre to erect the temple which gradually arose, gleaming in all its golden beauty, a vision of splendour such as the world had never beheld. But all this time and for countless ages before, a temple was being erected, for outrivalling in beauty the temple of Solomon, a living temple for the living God. That temple was Mary Immaculate. She was in the mind of God from all eternity, ever present to Him in all the perfection of her beauty. To her is applied the text: "I was set up from eternity and of old before the earth was made I was already conceived." God foresaw the Incarnation, and Mary was the choosen instrument who was to contain Him, who is incomprehensible: to carry in her fee.. arms Him Who sustains the universe.

Immediately after the fall of Adam, God promised a Redeemer, Who would be born of the new Eve, the mother of all the living, who was to crush the serpent's head. That woman was a sign of hope that lighted up those dark ages which preceded the redemption. Side by side with the types and prophesies which pointed to the Messiah were those that pointed to Mary. She was the mysterious ladder of Jacob, which brought the Creator down to His own creation. She was the burning bush which Moses saw, and in which we recognize her perpetual virginity. She was the fleece of Gideon, filled with heavenly dew when all the earth around was parched and dry, a type of her immaculate conception. She was the Ark of the Covenant, containing the bread which came down from heaven and overshadowed by the mysterious presence of God, a type of her divine maternity.

Ages pass before that sign appears. Meanwhile God's silent preparation is going on. He chooses the race of Abraham, the tribe of Juda and the family of David, and by His grace, His exhortations and His punishments, He prepared that people to produce the Immaculate Lily of Israel. The prophets, like watchers stationed on a lofty mountain, look out for the rising of that Morning Star that shall usher in the Sun of Justice. As the time approaches expectation becomes more intense. Isaiah sings of the virgin who shall conceive, of the flower that shall spring from the rod of Jacob, Jeremias of the woman who shall compass a man. And when the last of the prophets had passed away the memory of the woman and the Child Who was to be the world-redeeming victim, was kept alive by the martyred mother of the Machabees, who stood by while her seven sons were immolated, a fitting type of her of the Seven Sorrows who stood at the foot of the cross.

At last when the fullness of time was come, when the prophet Daniel's seventy weeks of years had rolled by and the sceptre had passed from Juda and a stranger ruled in Judea. God sent His angel to His choosen daughter, to her whom He had preserved from original sin and who was endowed with the fullness of grace as befitted her mission, and by the power of the Holy Ghost the Incarnation was wrought. The words of the prophet David were fulfilled. "Sacrifice and oblation Thou would'st not. Behold I come. In the head of the book it is written of Me that I shall do Thy will." Having become man, Christ could lay down His life for us, and, being God, His atonement was of infinite value. When He emptied Himself of His glory, assuming our human nature, He began in those scenes of Nasareth and Bethlehem that sacrifice which found its consummation on the hill of Calvary.

Your Problems

Religious and Social Questions Answered By DR WYLIE CLARK

Has the church failed more than other things? It seems to me that there are not many things very successful these times.—Student.

If we consider the work of the church is to bring in the Kingdom of Heaven, which is "righteousness, peace and joy," then we seem a long way from attaining that condition, and might say that the church has greatly failed; but if we remember that we are on the road to better things, and are gradually learning how things may be improved, then the church, like medicine, law, government and business, is working steadily, if perhaps slowly, towards the desired end.

Is there any progress being made anywhere? Are we not slipping back and are getting very near the edge of destruction?—G. R.

In all times of depression the tendency is to "feel" instead of to "think." We let our feelings dictate to our thinking and naturally we see the worst side of circumstances. There are times when we need to meet conditions with our heads and not with our hearts. We are intended to be a thinking people. We make history, therefore we should study history. The road upward is a hard road, and the climb at times is desperate; but we are ever making progress, and out of each period of difficulty we gather wisdom to enable us to better meet the trials of the future.

Dr. Wylie Clark

What is the distinctive mark between man and the animals? —K. R.

There is no doubt that men and animals have much in common. The old saying that "Men have reason and animals have instinct" does not cover the whole field of difference. In man self-consciousness has a definiteness and power not met with in any of the lower animals. He has also the power of abstract thought and a conception of moral distinctions which lead him to a capacity for religion; but perhaps his greatest point of difference lies in his ability to consider and choose.

Does God avoid man?—M. C.

The reverse is true. God is ever seeking man. He sought Adam, Abraham, Moses, Samuel and the prophets that they might know His interest in them and the people. In the New Testament Jesus came seeking to get men to understand the Father. In many of His parables the Father is represented as a seeker—the shepherd seeks the lost sheep, the woman the lost piece of money, the father seeks the road for the return of the prodigal and the merchant hunts for the pearl of great price. That is the hope of the world. God has not cast it away, but He is seeking to bring it to Himself that it may be redeemed from all its troubles.

Kindly tell who was Jonam or Joman.—Enquirer.

He was an ancestor of Jesus. See Luke 3:30.

Are the laws of nature for or against the individual?—M. S. R.

The laws of nature, I suppose, we understand, and the natural happenings of the world, such as the seasons, the productiveness of the ground, the moisture, storms, health, disease, etc., all of which come into the regular course of the individual. Taking them altogether, the individual comes out on top; that is, man is able to live and live fairly well by using nature and making it serve his desires. There is no question about nature being on the side of man. Even what seems to be against him may be turned to his development.

In the time of Christ, what did the Pharisees believe? —H. S.

1. They had a sacred literature and they believed its history and depended on its prophecy.

2. They believed they were an elect people, who were chosen of God to receive His special favors and blessings.

3. They believed in a coming Messiah, in whom all the promises would be fulfilled and the people of Israel would become the first nation on the earth.

4. They believed that, as a class, they were superior to all others.

With wealth come wants.

• • •

April's rain is autumn's gain.

• • •

Concern yourself with but to-day.

• • •

The mean are mean without meaning.

• • •

To fool with fools is feeding folly.

• • •

The truth converts one oft if he be true.

• • •

Places of trust are only for the trusted.

• • •

What spurs the firm may wound the frail.

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH

11.00 a.m. - - The Holy Communion
3.00 p.m. - Bible Classes and Sunday School
7.00 p.m. - Annual Vimy Day Church Parade of 21st Battalion Club and Members of Branch 52, Canadian Legion.

Preacher:

Major the Rev. W. E. Kidd, M.C.

Overseas Padre of 21st Battalion.

FULL GOSPEL PENTECOSTAL CHURCH

REV. GEORGE A. CHAMBERS, Pastor.

7 p.m.—"Souvenirs of Samaria's Famine Yet for Sale" (2 Kings 6:25)

A Graphic Picture of Religious Conditions from Adam to the Millenium. DON'T MISS IT.

11.00 A.M.—COMMUNION. All Christians Invited.

BETHANY TABERNACLE

T. H. RITCHIE, Irish Evangelist,

AT BOTH SERVICES.

SUNDAY—11.00 A.M. AND 7.00 P.M.

REV. H. L. STEPHENS WILL ADDRESS A GREAT UNITED MEETING, IN BETHANY, SATURDAY AT 7.45 P.M.

THE UNITED CHURCH OF CANADA

ST. JAMES' United

Rev A. E. Moorhouse, Minister. Mr. F. Stevens, Organist.

11.00 A.M. - "THE SIN WE ARE AFRAID TO MENTION"
3.00 P.M. - - CHURCH SCHOOL AND BIBLE CLASSES
7.00 P.M. - "WE HAVE A LAW AND BY OUR LAW HE OUGHT TO DIE."

... . Come, Come. "Whosoever will, let him come."

MARK ST.

"THE HOUSE OF FRIENDSHIP"
Minister:
REV. CHARLES D. DANIEL.

11.00 A.M.—"THE SECRET OF RESTORED COMMUNION, or THE THINGS WHICH SHUT CHRIST OUT."
3.00 P.M. - Church School and Bible Classes
7.00 P.M.—AT THE CAPITOL WITH PARK STREET BAPTIST.

GEORGE ST. UNITED CHURCH

PASTOR
REV. J. E. J. MILLYARD

COME TO CHURCH

11.00 A.M.—

"In His Steps"

JUNIOR CHURCH FOR CHILDREN OF PUBLIC SCHOOL AGE.

3.00 P.M. - SUNDAY SCHOOL.

7.00 P.M.—

"That Weakness of Yours"

David R. Howat, Organist and Choir Director.
Miss Dorothy Sager, Soloist.
MID-WEEK SERVICE, WEDNESDAY, 8.00 P.M.

A PEOPLES CHURCH WITH A POPULAR MESSAGE

ST. ANDREW'S UNITED CHURCH

Rev. Charles V. McLean, M.A., Ph.D., Minister.

11.00 A.M. - - YOUNG MANHOOD SERVICE
Young Men Specially Invited.
3.00 P.M. - Sunday School and Bible Classes
7.00 P.M. - - "THE TRIAL OF JESUS"

Musical Numbers:
"He Watching Over Israel" ..... Mendelssohn
"There is a Saviour" ..... Purcell
MRS. ROSS WILLIAMSON, Soloist.
MR. CYRIL J. RICE, Mus.Bac., Choirmaster.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

REV. FRANK M. WOOTTON, Pastor.
Miss Mabel Clarry, Organist and Choir Director.

11.00 a.m. - - PUBLIC WORSHIP
Conducted by the Pastor.
3.00 p.m. - Sunday School in Reid Street Hall
7.00 p.m. - - PUBLIC WORSHIP
REV. H. L. SEYMOUR, SPRINGVILLE, Will Preach.

KNOX

REV. WM. McDONALD, B.A., B.D., Minister.
Mr. Wm. B. Potter, Organist.

11.00 A.M. - "THE ATTRACTION OF THE CRUCIFIED"
Mr. Robert Wagstaffe, Guest Soloist.
7.00 P.M. - - PICTURES OF BEAUTIFUL JAPAN
Goodly Fellowship in Worship.

THE SALVATION ARMY

Adjutant and Mrs. Warrander.

Colonel Jacobs of Toronto

11.00 A.M., 3.00 P.M., 7.00 P.M. — BE SURE AND HEAR HIM.

Christian Science Services

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, PETERBOROUGH
Branch of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.
SERVICES will be held at 11.00 A.M. 7.30 P.M. Sunday School 9.30 A.M.
183 CHARLOTTE STREET

"UNREALITY"

Subject for Sunday, April 7th, 1935:

Wednesday Evening Meetings are held at 8 o'clock, which include Testimonies of Healing through Christian Science.

This Church maintains a Reading Room at the above address, which is Open Every Afternoon from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m., and on Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday Evenings, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.. It is also open Sunday Afternoons from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.

ANGLICAN

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

Ven. E. C. Biagrave, D.D., Rector.
Rev. E. R. James.
5TH SUNDAY IN LENT.
8.30 a.m.—Holy Communion.
11.00 a.m.—"Religion and Ideals."
3.00 p.m.—Sunday School and Bible Classes.
7.00 p.m.—"Why Keep Religion?"
The Rector will Preach at Both Services.
F. G. Mann, Organist and Choirmaster.

SALVATION ARMY

SUNDAY SCHOOL AT 2.15 P.M.
SPECIAL VISITING OFFICERS will be there. Extra Music.
We Invite All Old and New Scholars.
COME — BRING A FRIEND.

ROMAN CATHOLIC

St. Peter's Cathedral

Holy Hour - - ..7 to 8 p.m.
Masses at 7.30, 9.00, and 10.30 a.m.

MURRAY STREET BAPTIST

REV. J. H. SUTCLIFFE, M.A., B.D., Minister.

7.00 P.M.—

"How He Found His Soul"

11.00 A.M. - COMMUNION
Reception of New Members.

Mr. Arthur Collins, L.R.S.M., A.D.C.M., Organist and Choirmaster.

PARK ST. BAPTIST CHURCH

REV. G. K. TYLER, B.Th., Pastor

3 GREAT SERVICES by Rev. H. L. STEPHENS
11 A.M. "A MARVELOUS TRANSFORMATION"
3 P.M. AN OPEN MEETING for Young and Old
7 P.M.—IN CAPITOL THEATRE—Subject:

THE GREAT DEADLINE

Where Is It? What Is It? Who Crosses It? Is There Any Hope?

SPECIAL SINGING by PARK MARK St. Choirs. 2 Special Quartettes

MONDAY 7.45. GREAT RALLY FOR ALL. PARK STREET
TUESDAY 7.45. SPECIAL FAREWELL SERVICE IN ST. JAMES UNITED CHURCH. COME EARLY

Our Heavenly Father — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell And Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Ps. 103:1-5, 10-14; Is. 40:27-31; Matt. 6:24-34; Luke 11:2; John 3:3-6; 8:40-47; 14:1-31; Rom. 8:14-17; Heb. 12:5-11.

The beauty of the Christian religion lies in its teaching that God is a God of love who wants us to know him as our Father. Jesus taught that as God cares for birds and flowers in nature so he cares for us, his children.

Jesus taught men to put their trust in God for all bodily needs, and not to worry about such things. "Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and all these things shall be added unto you." He practiced prayer and taught us to pray.

To Nicodemus Jesus taught that to become God's children we must be born anew by the Spirit of God: "That which is born of the flesh is flesh, and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. Ye must be born again."

Jesus taught his disciples that God was like himself: "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father." He claimed not only to teach men the way to God but that he was the way.

GOLDEN TEXT—Ps. 103:13

The Examiner

The Examiner is a Member of the Audit Bureau of Circulation
The Daily Examiner, published every lawful evening by The Peterborough Examiner, Limited. Office: 410 George Street. $6.00 per year Delivered in City. Out-of-town Subscribers by mail, $4.00 per year.
Member: Canadian Press, Limited; Audit Bureau of Circulation; Canadian Daily Newspapers Association.
U.S. Advertising Representatives: Prudden, King & Prudden Inc., Chicago, Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and New York City.
Advertising Rates on Application.
R. M. GLOVER, Managing Director

'PHONES: Editorial 1601. Business Office 1600; Private Branch Exchange to all Departments.

SATURDAY, APRIL 6, 1935

CANADA STANDS SECOND.

Canada, according to Frederic Hudd, chief trade commissioner in London, now stands second among all the countries of the world in supplying goods for the British market.

Only the United States leads the Dominion in this field, supplying 11.2 per cent. of the total imports of Great Britain.

Canada furnished 6.88 per cent. of all the United Kingdom's imports from overseas last year, to win second place in the list, as against third in 1933 and fourth in 1932.

Australia stood third last year with 6.84 per cent., the Argentine with 6.42 per cent. was fourth, and other countries followed in this order: India, New Zealand, Denmark, Germany, Netherlands, France, Sweden and the Soviet Union.

When it comes to the question of furnishing markets for British goods, there is a change in the standing. India remains in first position, with the Union of South Africa and Australia second and third Canada improved her position materially in 1934, climbing from seventh place as an overseas customer of the United Kingdom to fourth position, her proportion being 4.98 per cent. as compared with 4.74 in the previous year.

With the special excise tax to be removed from British goods and with a number of articles added to the free list by Mr. Rhodes' budget, Canada will probably continue to improve her standing as a consumer of British products.

A BETTER PLAN.

The decision of Parliament to send the question of pensions for Canada's blind back to the Committee on Industrial and International Relations for further consideration, will be generally approved.

The report of the committee approved of a resolution introduced into the House some time ago to the effect that the provisions of the Old Age Pensions Act should be extended to include blind persons over forty years of age, but as the committee itself pointed out, the weakness of that policy is that it would leave the blind in Quebec and in New Brunswick where the old age pension system has not been adopted without any assistance.

It is estimated there are 3,016 blind Canadains between the ages of 40 and 70, and that if the Old Age Pensions Act were made to apply to such persons 2,178 would be taken care of, while some 168 blind persons in New Brunswick and 720 in the province of Quebec would receive no assistance.

I. D. Cotnam, Conservative member for North Renfrew, who first brought this matter to the attention of Parliament, has been successful in having the whole business sent back to the committee, with instructions that it have power to amend the report by recommending that the House pass a special blind act, applicable to the whole country and providing pensions for all blind over the age of forty, on the same bases as the Old Age Pensions Act.

That seems a much more satisfactory plan, and public opinion throughout Canada will support Mr. Cotnam's proposal, which if put into effect will be of very material assistance to the 3,016 blind Canadians who will benefit from the plan.

ANOTHER PUZZLING FEATURE.

The Examiner said yesterday that there were several features in regard to the Quebec power purchase contracts and the action of the Hepburn Government in regard thereto that the average citizen found difficulty in understanding.

Since then attention has been directed to another still more perplexing angle of the controversy, and one that is directly concerned with the legality of the contracts.

The special bill introduced by the Government this week declared all four contracts to be void, illegal and unenforceable, on the ground that the consent of the Hydro municipalities had not been secured as required by the Power Commission Act, and yet by a section of that same act the validity of the agreements is apparently established beyond all question, unless the words mean something different to the legal mind than they do to the mind of a layman.

Here is the section in question, a section that was ignored completely by Mr. Roebuck, both in his nine-hour speech in the Legislature or in his radio talks:

"53. Where the commission has heretofore entered or shall hereafter enter into an agreement for the supplying of electrical power or energy or for any other work or service to be done or supplied by or to the commission, and such agreement has been or shall hereafter be submitted to and approved by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, such agreement shall thereupon be and shall not be open to question upon any grounds whatsoever, anything in this act or in any other act to the contrary notwithstanding. 1927, c.17, s.54."

INVESTIGATING THE PENITENTIARIES.

Demands for a penitentiary investigation, with Miss Agnes MacPhail, M.P., leading the movement, have once more been voiced very strongly in the House of Commons, and public opinion, The Examiner believes, favors a proper inquiry as the only effective way of ending this agitation.

Probably some of the fuss that is being raised over this question is the result of misplaced sympathy, and while supporting the request for an investigation because we feel that it is necessary to clear the air, we are inclined ot the opinion that not a great deal very wrong will be found.

Miss MacPhail herself was very badly deceived last year by a convict with a disgraceful record, and there is reason to think that at least a portion of the feeling that has been aroused over this matter has been the result of complaints from inmates who are taking advantage of an opportunity to stir up trouble.

No one, of course, would claim that Canada's penitentiaries are ideal, either as boarding-houses or as recreation centres, but then they were never intended to be either of those things; they are in existence to take care of persons who have made war upon society.

And right there is a point that is apt to be overlooked. The Winnipeg Tribune calls it to mind when it pertinently remarks that "it should not be forgotten that the average man in Canadian penitentiaries is there because he tried to kill someone, to rob him, to burn down his house, to defraud him, to swindle him or to perform some other outrage."

That is quite true, as is also the Tribune's further statement that it is safe to say that 90 per cent. of these penitentiary disorders are not due to bad officials, but to bad inmates.

LO, THE POOR CREDITOR!

Down in Montreal, whose treasury cupboard is as bare as Mother Hubbard's, 80 good mayors and true talk about how nice it would be to cut to three per cent. all interest on municipal debentures. Said Vancouver's Gerry McGeer:

> "The wages of money have to come down and those of men go up. One of the principal causes of depression is unemployment of capital. Too much credit is lying idle, and it won't go to work until pre-depression rates on interest are cut."

The only thing wrong with this is that if the wages of money come down in the Gerry McGeer way, then the wages of men won't go up. Mr. McGeer's way, if we have read him rightly, would be for the municipalities to tell their debenture holders that three per cent. is all they are going to get anyway, which is repudiation. If there exists a better way of frightening capital into unemployment, we haven't heard of it.

It might help these gentlemen in Montreal if they stopped talking long enough to consider what credit is about; to consider where it comes from, how it is maintained. As an aid to their thought, we commend to them the subjoined admirable remarks by the editor of Toronto Saturday Night, Mr. B. K. Sandwell:

"Creditors are of two kinds—past and future. The past creditor is the man who lent us money last year, or the year before last, or some time in 1919 or 1920. He is public enemy No. 1. He is a bloodsucker. He is a grinder of the faces of the poor. He is a louse. No language is too strong for him. He is a kulak. He ought to be liquidated. He ought to be gleichgeschalted. Above all, he ought not to be paid.

"Paid? Why the infernal scoundrel took advantage of us, last year, or the year before last, or in 1919 or 1920. He deceived us. He cheated us into accepting his money and giving him our I.O.U. for it, knowing all the time that prices were going to go down and that the value of money was going to go up, and we should never be able to pay him. Of course he knew it. We didn't know it; we're only debtors; debtors are simple honest folk who believe whatever the creditors tell them, and the creditors always tell them the opposite of the truth. But he knew it, and he let us go on believing that prices were going up and money was going down, and so it would be a good idea to borrow. And now he wants to be paid!

"The future creditor is the man who is perhaps going to lend us money next month or next year to spend on restoring or enlarging our productive equipment so that we can employ more workers and sell more goods and make more money. He is public hero No. 1. He is the savior of his country. He is the friend of the poor. He is the indispensable agent of economic recovery. He is the backbone of civilization. He ought to be revered. He ought to be canonised. He ought—in due time—even to be paid.

"Paid? Why yes, of course he will be paid. Where did you get the idea that there could be any doubt about it? Aren't creditors always paid? Aren't we willing to sign any undertaking that he likes in exchange for his money? (not as individuals, of course; that is at the moment a bit too risky. But as municipalities, hydros, counties, provinces, the Dominion, sure. And isn't our signature good?)

"No, sir, now is the time for all good lenders to come to the aid of the country. There must be a renewal of credit. We must all have faith in the future. We must start spending money, and since the state will have to do the spending it will have to be other people's money."

* * * * *

As Mr. Sandwell proceeds to point out, the thing won't work. We can't have our credit and repudiate it. We can't refuse to pay the debts we contracted five years ago, and expect to be trusted to pay the debts we contract now on a promise to pay five years hence.

And for good reasons. One reason is that the past creditor, the man who has parted with his money and can't get it back, is also to a very great extent the future creditor, the man we are asking to part with more of his money. Another reason is that the past debtor, the man who is now denouncing his existing creditors, is absolutely the same person as the future debtor, the man to whom the future creditor will have to look for repayment of the loans we want to see made this year and next year. He is the elector who controls the municipal governments, the provinces, the Dominion Parliament.

* * * * *

There is something else. It is that this past and future creditor doesn't always live in Canada. To a great extent he is in the United States, or in the British Isles. And while it is bad enough to start repudiating debts contracted among ourselves, it is infinitely worse to start repudiating them when contracted with outsiders. It is, in fact, fatal.

* * * * *

All this doesn't mean interest rates shouldn't come down. They are coming down. They must come down still more. But they must come down by decent processes, by mutual agreement, without violation of the public bond. This, as we have seen, is not impossible. The Dominion Government, during the past five years, has converted over $1,100,000,000 of public debt, saved $14,600,000 of annual interest. This coming year it proposes further reductions. In the circumstances, and seeing what has happened in the case of bank interest, in the case of the short-term money market, and in such matters as the Farmers' Creditors' Arrangement Act, there should be reasonable expectation of lower interest rates all round.

But there must be reason. What Canada needs to-day, we are assured, is "cheap and abundant money." Money will be neither abundant nor cheap if municipalities, suffering the consequences of their own past folly, are to become bulls in the financial china shop, start repudiating their bonds. That, instead of hastening recovery, might wound it mortally for years to come.—Ottawa Journal.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Registered U. S. Patent Office

By STANLEY

NEWS OF OUR OWN VILLAGE

A few lucky folks from these parts is taking in the games between the Torontos and the Montreals this week, but most of the neighbors aint been able to get pasteboards for the same, so they're depending on F. Hewitt of Toronto, west of here, for 1st hand information.

No Liberal candidate aint been named in this here riding as yet, but the women Grits held a meeting the other nite and resoluted that no matter who it is they're for him, which is deuced sporting, as our friends in England, well to the east of us, would say.

They aint no more fiddle players in the berg than usual, we hasten to explain. The epidemic of long hair is caused by the fact the village tonsorial artists has raised the ante for using the clippers and shears.

That wailing noise that has been heard here this week is from the local holders of Quebec power bonds, which is following the advice of Mitch Hepburn, our effervescent premier, "to howl their heads off". Up to now, however, the howling aint done much good, so far as your scribe has been able to notice.

The budget was sung down at Queen's Park, Toronto, west of here, Tues., and many of the neighbors aint hardly been able to sleep since, owing to the Govt. raising the succession duty on million dollar estates 1 per cent or something.

There was a dust storm in the berg on Wed., but strange to say this great family journal didn't receive a single letter the next day asking why the streets wasnt oiled or something.

The hockey club tried to hold a get-together the other nite, but business was given a 3 weeks' hoist, with rumors of new management and so forth. Many thinks, however, that it aint fresh officers, but a few reinforcements for the boys out there on the firing line that's needed most.

—F. D. C.

Voice of the People

Letters to be printed in the Voice of the People Column must be received at The Examiner Office by 5 p.m. on the day before insertion. All letters must be signed by the writer, although a pen-name may be used when inserting non-controversial subject matter. Letters over 400 words will be cut down at discretion of the editor.

DEFINITE POLICY

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir,—The great Pitt said "parties" had been invented for those who could not think for themselves. As I wanted to clear up one or two points I wrote to Mr. Woodsworth, M.P., and received the following reply. To speak the whole truth Mr. Woodsworth is presenting a definite policy which is a great contrast to the "party" shuffling that is going on and for which we must give him due credit.

J. H. BURNHAM.

House of Commons,
Canada
Ottawa, April 3, 1935

J. H. Burnham, Esq.,
690 Ross Street,
Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Mr. Burnham,—Thanks for your note. I do not know where you got the idea that the C.C.F. would not take power even if offered to them. Certainly we would—that is if we had anything like a working majority. I hope that we have learned the lesson taught in Great Britain and would not assume power under any other circumstances. So far as the results of the forthcoming election are concerned. I fancy that we might easily have the "balance of power," in which case we would undoubtedly occupy the position that you suggest, until indeed, the older parties form some sort of a coalition government.

You state that Socialism is, in the last analysis, dictatorship or absolute rule. That is not my conception at all. I think that democracy is quite compatible with the program for which the C.C.F. stands. To-day we are rapidly approaching a stage where we have financial dictatorship disguised under the forms of political democracy.

Yours sincerely,
J. S. WOODSWORTH.

It so Happened

finds Howard Gerring

THAT ON APRIL 6

1199—Richard I. (Couer de Lion) of England, died.

1580—Dissenting clergymen were hanged in Presbyterian Scotland.

1796—Colonel Simcoe issued a proclamation regarding land grants to the United Empire Loyalists.

1830—Joseph Smith organized the first Mormon church.

1851—Postal service transferred by Great Britain to the Canadian provinces.

1866—Vancouver, B.C., incorporated.

1869—Petroleum was discovered in Ontario.

1896—Olympic Games were revived in Greece, home of the famous marathon race.

1926—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, polar explorer, began a sentence of fourteen years at Leavenworth prison, Kansas, for using the mails to defraud.

1929—Floods swept central Ontario, causing damage of over $2,000,000.

1931—For the first time in 38 years members of the Religious Society of Friends were allowed to wear frills and laces on their clothing.

THAT ON APRIL 7

1762—A lunatic gave London a scare when he predicted an earthquake which failed to appear.

1860—The French press was officially censured for attacking England.

1862—The slave trade was abolished between England and the United States when the two countries signed an agreement.

1868—Hon. Thomas D'Arcy McGee, one of the Fathers of Confederation was assassinated at Ottawa.

1870—The Mormons in Utah protested against government interference with polygamy.

1880—The first sleeping car from Toronto to Winnipeg operated over the Great Western Railway.

1898—Canada defeated reciprocity with the United States.

1891—Phineas T. Barnum, showman of "there's one sucker born every minute" fame, died.

1920—The allies gave Germany until April 10 to reduce her army to 300,000. At present the allies are trying to stop Germany reorganizing the army and building it back to its former strength.

1933—Beer and wine reappeared in the United States as lawful beverages for the first time in 13 years.

What's in the Name of Canadian Cities and Towns

by FRANK H. WILLIAMS

KAPUSKASING, ONTARIO

Catapulted into fame during the war as the site of the largest internment camp in the Dominion, Kapuskasing continued to keep in the public eyes as the centre of the newsprint industry, also the location of one of the largest of the Dominion's experimental stations.

One of the newer towns of Canada, being incorporated in 1921, Kapuskasing really was born in 1916 (when the Canadian National Railway was being constructed through the territory. Shortly after its birth it was known as Macpherson, but the name later was changed to the present one, as the river which flowed hard by had been named by the Indians.

From a population of 500 in 1921, the town had grown to 3,000 by 1934 and civic officials envision much more rapid growth when the newsprint industry becomes more stabilized.

IN DAYS GONE BY

Items Taken From Old Fyles of The Examiner

APRIL 6, 1925

The Perkins, Ince and Co. wholesale grocer business of Toronto and Peterborough has been sold to John Sloan and Co.....Three car accidents occurred in various parts of the city last evening with no one being injured but considerable damage being done to the vehicles.

APRIL 6, 1915.

A large number of new recruits helped to swell the 57th Regiment's parade here up to 254 soldiers last night....The local Board of Trade has had an acknowledgment from the Belgian Relief Administration for a carload of flour.

APRIL 6, 1905.

On July 1st this town will be elevated to the dignity of a city and a civic celebration will be arranged for that day....Provided 1,000 seats for the first show are subscribed for locally, the promoters will go ahead with their plans for a new opera house here.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

"THE POET OF THE HABITANT"

On this date (April 6) in 1907 there died at Cobalt a physician, a victim to his duty, who was also one of Canada's best known poets. William Henry Drummond was proud of the fact that he was interpreter of the French Canadian habitant to the rest of Canada. When he first gave "The Habitant" to the world some complaint was made by the more easily offended French Canadians that he was caricaturing their race; but nothing could have been farther from the truth. Drummond's idea was to let the outside world know of the simple honesty and good fellowship of the habitant and his people. His dialect poems did the trick. Who can hear, or read, "The Wreck of the Julie Plant" without realizing that in it is pictured the habitant as he was? (I am afraid that he has been "improved" of recent years, but if one goes into the country he can still find tyes of the men and women told of by Drummond. Louis Henry Frechette, the poet laureate of Quebec, described the doctor as "a new pathfinder in the land of song" and said that his verses were penned with a high regard for the people of Quebec, and Drummond himself once remarked: "I would sooner cut off my right hand than speak disparagingly of the French Canadian people." His monument at Cobalt, unveiled by Lord Bessborough on June 6, 1933, has at its base perhaps one of Drummond's most lovely passages—so appropriate for the poet's resting place:

"An'w'en he fin' me ready to make the longue voyage, he guide me throo the wood hesef upon ma las' portage."

ALL OF US

(By Marshall Maslin.)

CAN HUMAN NATURE CHANGE?

The pessimiists tell you, with a gleam of satisfaction in their eyes, that human nature never changes.

They refer you to the harshness of a Pharaoh in Egypt 5,000 years ago....They quote something that Plato wrote or Socrates said in Athens....They speak of the madness of Caligula, the stuffiness of Cicero, the ambition of Caesar in ancient Rome....They compare the skepticism of those who did not believe in the fifteenth century that the world was round with the skepticism of human beings today who doubt the solidity of the world....They remind you of the horrible cruelty of the Azteos less than 500 years ago and show by examples from modern history that the cruelty of man has been only slightly refined by the ages.

You will observe that the man who says that human nature never changes always has a very low opinion of it. He means that man has been cruel, greedy, vain, grandiose, lazy and small-brained and will always be....And he makes no reference to man's courage, decency, unselfishness, kindness, loyalty, self-sacrifice, nobility, faith and idealism....Also he measures man with a very short ruler. He takes but a small space of human history, forgetting or ignoring man's residence of millions of years on this changing globe. He does not compare men with his remote cave-dwelling ancestors; he compares him with his stumbling, struggling brothers of a few thousands years in the past.

And this is unfair reasoning....We say that human nature does not change, but how can we be so gloomily confident? We cannot measure human beings as we measure a tree or the flow of water from a reservoir, but we have seen enough of man to know that he is mysterious and incalculable....A single man changes his habits, his desires, in the crucible of experience. Why should not all men change?....All breeders of flowers or of animals know of sudden, surprising changes that occur in the species with which they work, not in single animals, but in successive generations. They do not understand these variations — these "sports"—these mutations, but they know that they happen. The potato, the rose, the dog, the sheep—all these leap suddenly ahead (or fall behind, because all changes in nature are toward the better)... And if a plant or a beast has this great power within itself, why, O Pessimist, deny this gift to man?

The One Minute Pulpit

Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh His name in vain.—Exodus 20:7.

A Thought

MERIT

Merit was ever modest known.—Gay.

* * *

Merit challenges envy.—Dryden.

* * *

Consciousness of right-doing brings its own reward; but not amid the smoke of battle is merit seen and appreciated by lookers-on.—Mary Baker Eddy.

BIBLE 302 YEARS OLD.

OAKVILLE.—(C.P.)—Printed 302 years ago, a leather-bound Bible is the treasured possession of Charles Cooper, Oakville resident. The heir-loom has been passed down through the family from its original owner, Ralph Moorehouse, who came into possession of it 114 years after its publication.

The fly-leaf bears the following inscription: "Ralph Moorehouse, whose book, God give him grace and its look, for when the bells begin to toll, Lord have mercy on his soul. 1747."

"CANADA'S NATURAL RESOURCES AND THE MUSCLE AND BRAWN OF HER MEN"

CANADA'S NATURAL RESOURCES
Agriculture
Fur
Fisheries
*Forests
*Minerals
*Hydro-Electric Power

*"Canada's Biggest Cook" has assisted and is assisting in the realization of these resources—and must participating in the development of Canada's newest source of wealth—Tourist Trade—through Good Highways.

Highways for Tourist Trade

CANADA'S tourist trade is a continually increasing factor in the list of Canada's resources. Tourists entering Canada from the United States in automobiles contribute to the Dominion's wealth more than $125,000,000 a year—a sum greater than the total production of all Canada's flour mills.

The building of good roads through Canada's scenic wonderlands is the first essential to attract motoring tourists. Canadian government officials, Canadian engineers and Canadian workmen have provided the foresight, the technical skill and the strong and ready arms to build good roads . . . to attract additional spending power from which all Canada benefits.

"Canada's Biggest Cook," now entering his twenty-second year of service in the development of Canada's resources, has been responsible for the care of the men at work on the highways. Serving strengthening, satisfying food, providing modern, comfortable camps for the workers and relieving executives of commissariat details, Crawley and McCracken have played a vital part in augmenting national and provincial revenue. "Canada's Biggest Cook" is proud to be identified with the development of Canada's valuable tourist trade.

CRAWLEY & McCRACKEN COMPANY, LIMITED
SUDBURY
Toronto Cochrane Port Arthur London North Bay Montreal

Nickel at New High - Brazilian Shows Light Gain

MARKET QUOTATIONS

QUOTATIONS COMPLETE TO CLOSING TIME

Toronto Stocks
BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

	High	Low	Close
Abitibi	90-100	..	..
Con. Bake	13¼	..	..
Br. Am. Oil	15	14⅞	14⅞
Beauharnois	3½-4	..	..
Can. Bread Co.	2¼	..	..
Bldg. Prods.	26¾ B	..	..
Bell Tel.	126½	126½	126⅝
Burt, F. N.	30	..	..
Brazilian	8¾	8¾	8¾
Brewers & Dists	55-60	..	..
Brewers Corp.	3¼-3¾	..	..
B.C. Power 'A'	23½-23¾	..	..
Can. Bud.	7⅝	7⅝	7⅝
Can. Cem.	6⅝	6¼	6⅝
C. P. R.	10	9⅞	9⅞
Can. Dredge	21¾	..	..
Can. Car & F.	8	8	8
Can. Canners	5-5½	..	..
Can. Oil	12-12¼	..	..
Can. Malt	30	29½	30
Cockshutt	7¼	6⅞	7⅛
Dom. Bridge	25¼	25¼	25⅛
Dist. Seagram	16	15⅝	16
Dom. Stores	8¾	8¾	8¾
Ford "A"	28½	28	28
C. G. E.	155	155	155
Can. Gypsum	6½	6½	6½
Cons. Gas	189	189	189
Goodyear	125¼B	..	..
Walker G & W.	27¼	27¼	27¼
Int. Nickel	25½	25½	25⅝
Int. Util. "A"	175	166	175
Int. Util. "B"	21b	..	..
Ind. Alcohol	8¼	..	..
Imp. Oil	15½	16¼	15⅝
Imp. Tobacco	12½	..	..
Laura S.	61-62½	..	..
Loblaw "A"	16⅝	15½	15⅝
Mont. L.H.&P.	28-28¾	..	..
McC. Frontenac	13¾	13¾	13¾
Massey-Harris	4	4	4
Moore Corp.	18¼	18	18¼
Page Hersey	81¼	81¼	81¼
Pressed Metals	10	9¼	10
Power Corp.	7¼-½	..	..
Photo Eng.	22	21¾	22
Int. Pete.	31½	30⅞	31⅛
Sup. Petro.	23	..	..
Tip-Top Tailors	8a	..	..
C. Vinegar	27b	..	..
Wineries	5-5½	..	..
Waterloo	1½-3	..	..
Walker Brew.	3¼b	..	..
Weston's Ltd.	33-36	..	..
Steel of Can.	45¼	45	45¼

New York Stocks
BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

	High	Low	Close
Atchison	39¾	39¼	39¾
Allied Chem	134⅝	134½	134⅝
Amer Can	117⅝	..	..
Am. Smelting	33⅛	33⅝	33⅞
Am Rad & S.S.	12¼	..	..
Am Tel & Tel.	104⅝	104½	104⅝
Am Roll Mills	19¼	18⅞	19
Balt & Ohio	10¼	9⅞	10¼
Baldwin Loco	1⅞	..	..
Borden's	22⅝	22½	22⅝
Byers A M	11¾-13	..	..
Bendix Avn	13⅜	..	..
Briggs	27⅜	27¼	27¼
Can Pacific	10	9⅞	10
Case J I	50½	49⅝	50½
Chrysler	35	34⅞	35
Col Gas	6⅜	6⅜	6⅜
Coca-Cola	195½	..	..
Con Gas	20⅞	20⅜	20⅜
Com Solvents	19⅛	..	..
Dupont	91¼	91⅛	91⅞
El Bond & Share	7¼	..	..
Elec Auto L	21¼	..	..
Freeport Texas	24⅝	24⅛	24⅝
Gen Electric	23	22⅞	23
Gen Food Prods.	33⅞	33⅛	33⅝
Gen Motors	26⅝	..	..
Gillette Saf Raz.	14⅞	14⅝	14⅞
Goodyear	17⅞	17⅝	17⅞
Houston Oil	14	..	..
Hudson Motors	7⅛	..	..
Int Harvester	37⅛	37½	37½
Inter. Nickel	25⅝	25¼	25½
Inter. Tel. & Tel.	7¼	..	..
Johns-Manville	43½	..	..
Liquid Carb.	29⅝	29	29
Mont. Ward	24⅝	24¼	24⅝
Nash Motors	12⅝	12½	12½
N. Y. Central	15¼	14⅝	15¼
Nat. Biscuit	25	24⅞	24⅞
North American	13½	13¼	13⅜
Philips Pete	17⅛	17½	17½
Pack. Motors	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
Penn. Ry.	19½	19⅜	19½
Radio Corp.	4⅝	4½	4½
Sears Roebuck	35⅞	35½	35¾
Sim Bed Co.	7¼	..	..
Stand. Brands	15⅝	15½	15⅝
Std. Oil of N.J.	39¼	38⅝	39¼
Socony Vac.	13	12⅞	12⅞
Stewart Warn.	8	8	8
South. Pacific	15¼	14⅝	15⅛
Texas Corp.	19⅝	19¼	19⅝
Timken Roll. B.	32	31⅝	31¾
Tex. Gulf Sulph	29¾	29⅝	29⅞
Union Pacific	88¾	88	88
Union Carb	47½	..	..
United Corp.	3	2⅞	3
U. S. Rubber	11½	11½	11½
U. S. Steel	30	29⅝	30
Vanadium Corp.	15	..	..
Westinghouse	37⅞	37	37
Woolworth	54½	54	54½

Grain Quotations
LEEMING AND LEEMING
Phones 2786 and 2787

WINNIPEG WHEAT.

	May.	July.
High	87¼	87⅛
Low	86¾	86⅝
Close	87¼	87

CHICAGO WHEAT.

	May.	July.
High	94⅝	91⅝
Low	94¼	91¼
Close	94¼	91¾

Job Printing
REASONABLE PRICES

Toronto Mining
WATSON, WALLACE & CO.

	High	Low	Close
Acme	21½-23	..	..
Ajax	85	..	..
Aldermac	11	8¾	9½
Anglo H.	370-410	..	..
Base Metals	65	61	64½
Bagumac	7½	7	7¼
B.R.X.	16-20	..	..
Beattie	180	176	176
Bobjo	24	..	..
Braylorne	815	800	805
Buffalo Ank	270	265	265
Chibougamau	24¼	24¾	24
Can. Malart	62	61	61¼
Castle Treth.	72	70	72
Cent. Patricia	166	151	156
C. Research	173	170	170
Coniaurum	213	..	..
Dome	3750-3960	..	..
Eldorado	130	126	130
Falconbridge	370	365	370
God's Lake	138	135	138
Goldale	12½	..	..
Granada	32	30	32
Greene Stab	24	..	..
Gunnar	65	..	..
Hollinger	1665	..	..
Home Oil	56	55	55
Hudson Bay	1350	1340	1350
Howey	88	..	..
Jackson Man.	15	..	..
Kirk. Cons.	6¼	6	6¼
Kirk. Lake	48	47	47
Kirk. Townsite	24-26	..	..
Kirk. Hudson	29½	28	29¼
Lakeshore	555	540	550
Lee Gold	4½-4½	..	..
Lebel Oro	590	580	590
Man. and East	4	..	..
Macassa	223	220	221
McIntyre	4175	4300	..
McKenzie	128	121	125
McMillan	19	18½	19
McWatters	172	167	170
Mining Corp.	100	95	100
Nipissing	218-230	..	..
Noranda	3650	3625	3625
North. Canada	22-26	..	..
Paymaster	19¾	18	19½
Parkhill	21-21½	..	..
Pioneer	1035	1025	1035
Pend-Oreille	48	..	..
Premier	167	165	165
Pickle Crow	285	280	285
Read Anthier	56-78	..	..
Reno	143	142	143
San Antonio	371	365	371
Sherritt	64	61½	64
Siscoe	295	292	293
Sullivan	64	..	..
St. Anthony	23½	..	..
Sudbury-Basin	145	140	140
Sud. Mines	4	..	..
Sylvanite	236	230	232
Tech-Hughes	425	421	425
Toburn	110-120	..	..
Towagamac	28	25½	26½
Ventures	94	..	..
Waite-Amulet	67	60	63
Wayside	18	17¾	18
Wright-Harg	880-900	..	..

UNLISTED.

Bankfield	78-80
Casey Contact	24½-26
Galatea	8¾-9½
Hudson Pat.	14½-15½
Karl Springer	200-250
Lampaque	175-180
Magnet	13-14½
Mosher	3-4
McLeod	4½-5½
Oklend	33-35
Red Lake C.S.	38-41
Smelter	9½-10½
Sturgeon River	85-90
Young Dave	18-21

Sales—395,000.

BOND LIST
WATSON, WALLACE & CO.

DOMINION OF CANADA.

1936	104⅛-104⅜
1937	110¼-111
1941	111⅛-111⅝
1952	104¼-104⅝
1958	108⅝-109⅛

PROVINCE OF ONTARIO.

1948	106⅛-109⅛

Power Bond Issues Close Up 4 Points

TORONTO, April 6 —(CP)— Advances ranging up to 4 points were recorded today on the Toronto bond market in the Quebec power issues that were under pressure in the early part of the week. At today's closing prices the wide break of a few days ago resulting from panicky selling and fear that power contracts would be entirely wiped out, has been more than half made up.

Gatineau 5's closed today at 86½ to 87 against yesterday's closing bid of 84. Beauharnois 5's gained 1½ to 87½ bid the 5½ issue about 4½ to 86¼ bid and the McLaren-Quebecs 3 points to 69 bid.

The improved note ran through the high-grades also, gains of about a half point showing in both federal and Ontario issues. Offerings of the Ontario issues were limited today.

Exchange Rates

(By Canadian Press.)

Noon exchange rates:

At Montreal—Pound 4.96, U.S. dollar 1.00 5-16, franc 6.60⅛.

At New York — Pound 4.94⅛, Canadian dollar 99 21-32, franc 6.58⅛.

At Paris — Pound 73.65 francs, Canadian dollar 15.13 francs, U.S. dollar 15.18¾ francs.

In gold — Pound 11s 9d, Canadian dollar 59.03 cents, U.S. dollar 59.09 cents.

GYPSUM ADDS LIGHT ADVANCE

Dominion Bridge, Canadian Car Pfd. and Page Hersey Up in Steels.

TORONTO INDUSTRIALS.

TORONTO, April 6 (C.P.) — The advance carried through today's session of Toronto Exchange Industrial Market but with volume on the small side except in Nickel, Fard "A" and the leading oils.

International Nickel advanced to new high ground for the current movement at 25¼ while Brazilian was also up a little, and Ford "A" help unchanged.

Gypsum added a half point to Friday's gains and Canada Dredge advanced ¾. In the steels Dominion Bridge moved up 1¼, Canadian Car Pfd. ¾, Page Hersey ¾, and Pressed Metals ½.

Lower prices ruled for B. C. Power "B", Porto Rico Pfd. and Union Gas. Bank stocks had a slow morning and in the miscellaneous group Toronto Elevators Pfd. dropped a point and Tip Top Tailors Pfd. gained 1¼.

SILVER SHARES REGISTER GAINS

Toronto Mining Activity Concentrates its Base Metals and Silvers.

GAINS IN MEDIUM GOLDS.

TORONTO, April 6 (C.P.) — Interest was concentrated in the base metal and silver shares and these groups advanced on heavy turnover in to-day's short session of the Toronto Exchange mining section.

Noranda advanced 40 cents to 36.40, Hudson Bay at 13.50 was up 25 cents, Base Metals Corporation at 64 added 6 cents and smaller advances were boarded for Falconbridge and Sherritt-Gordon.

Minor gains were boarde for the silvers including Castle, Eldorado Premier and Bear.

In the medium-price gold group, Central Patricia advanced 4, San Antonio 5, McWatters 5, Little Long Lac 10, and Buffalo-Ankerite 10, McKenzie 7, and Macassa 4.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, April 6, (AP).— The stock market caught its breath to-day after its sharp spurt of the previous session. Some traders showed a disposition to take profits and prices were only a little better than even during most of the proceedings. The close was fairly steady. Transfers approximated 425,000 shares.

International Nickel, advancing a major fraction, was an active feature among Canadian shares. Canadian Pacific held about unchanged, while Dome and McIntyre were a trifle lower. On the curb, Hiram Walker improved slightly. Dominion Government bonds ruled steady. Canadian funds were 1/32 of a cent higher at 99 11-13 cents.

Shares of Eastman Kodak got up 2 points, and Air Reduction and Caterpillar Tractor advanced about 1 each. Those about unchanged to major fractions higher included American Telephone, Western Union, Public Service of New Jersey, Santa Fe, N.Y. Central, Union pacific, U.S. Smelting, Kennecott, Standard Oils of New Jersey and California, Montgomery Ward Sears Roebuck, National Distillers, U.S. Steel, Chrysler and General Motors.

MONTREAL EXCHANGE.

MONTREAL, April 6 (C.P.). — Construction issues were the strong leaders on Montreal Stock Exchange to-day while the remainder of the list moved irregularly within a narrow range.

Canada Cement Preferred rose ¾ of a point at 52 and the Common gained ¼ at 6⅛, while Gypsum jumped a full point at 6¼.

Canadian Hydro-Electric Preferred jumped 4 points at 45 and Montreal Power rising ⅛ at 28⅝. International Nickel touched another new high of 25⅝, up ¼, and Industrial Alcohol showed a small gain. Canadian Celanese Preferred lost a full point at 106 and Hollinger was down 10 cents at 16.50.

ONTARIO HOG PRICES.

TORONTO, April 6 (C.P.).—Chatham bacon hogs advanced 25 cents to-day, but the gain was more than offset by a 10-cent loss at Peterborough and 15-cent drops at Stratford and Kitchener. All other reporting points held unchanged.

To-day's prices:

Chatham $8.00, London $7.85, Kitchener $7.75, Barrie $7.85, Hull $8.00, Peterborough $7.75, Stratford $7.75.

DENY EXECUTION RUMORS.

BERLIN April 6 (C.P.-Havas).—Government circles denied to-day a Reich official had announced Berthold Jacob, German journalist, allegedly kidnapped by Nazis and brought from Switzerland to Germany, where he is now imprisoned, would be tried for high treason and decapitated as an example to anti-Nazis.

MINING STOCKS

A daily column which answers the Queries on Mining Stocks that are of general interest to Examiner readers

CASTLE-TRETHEWEY MINES

QUERY: What do you think of Castle-Trethewey Mines at current prices? Do you consider that it has capable management and would provide a good speculation in the event of higher silver prices?—M.K.McA.

ANSWER: Castle - Trethewey Mines, while it has never paid a dividend since its incorporation in 1922, appears to be one of the more attractive properties for anyone interested in silver and its future. The company owns some 1400 acres in Nickel Township, Gowganda district, Ontario, reached by a twenty-two mile road from Elk Lake on the T. & N.O. Railway. The property is equipped with a 150-ton mill, operated by electric power, but suspended in 1930, owing to the low price of silver. With silver prices maintained at 50 to 60 cents per ounce, it is evident that the property will resume operation. The company enjoys excellent management under the same direction as McIntyre-Porcupine Mines.

While ore reserves have not been estimated, it is known that the ore outlook is most promising, particularly on the Capitol section of the property. In all, the present company has produced over 6,000,000 ounces of silver and it is regarded as one of the most likely silver producers, given a higher and sustained price for the metal. The company is in splendid financial position with current assets of about $1,700,000. The outstanding capitalization is 2,700,002 shares.

While it is impossible to state what the attitude of the directors will be towards resuming operations, I believe they are only awaiting assurance that the price of silver will not drop below 50 cents.

BASE METAL MINING CORPORATION

QUERY: Do you think that Base Metal Mining Corporation would be an attractive buy at the present time?—I.R.L.

ANSWER: The future of Base Metal Mining Corporation, whose property is at Field, B.C., is inseparably tied with higher prices for lead and zinc. The company has a fair tonnage of high grade, clean milling ore and has demonstrated relatively low production costs before suspending operations a few weeks ago. There is little evidence that higher prices for base metals are imminent and until there is some assurance or indications of strength in the metal market, I would be in no hurry to buy shares in this or other similarly situated former producers, now inactive.

Culbertson Extends Lead 14,640 Points

NEW YORK, April 6 (A.P.). — Prospects were far from rosy for the P. Hal Simses to-day as they concluded the second week of their 150-rubber bridge match with the Ely Culbertsons.

They faced the job of cutting down a Culbertson lead of 14,640 points, biggest the Culbertsons have held since they took the lead on the second day of the match.

The Culbertsons assumed their commanding position by winning seven of the eight rubbers played in the day's only session yesterday afternoon.

Of the 88 rubbers already played, the Culbertsons have won 51 and the Simses 37. The point score stands 76,150 to 63,510.

PAN EUROPEAN

(Continued from Page 1)

ly imagined." The newspaper declared he was known to have informed Whitehall officials both Germany and Poland might be persuaded to drop objections to the proposed "Eastern Locarno."

He urged Great Britain's foreign policy must be "frank and firm and stalwart" as he alighted at Victoria Station.

"No one who's been on such a journey can doubt the reality, the formidable character of the difficulties of the present European situation," he added, maintaining, however, they are "not insuperable."

Britain's major job at the Stresa conference next week will be to try to keep a French resolution condemning German rearmament from wrecking the work of the British ministers who have moved through Europe's capitals in the last fortnight in search of a peace formula, it was said.

LIBERAL CANDIDATES

Two former residents of this district, W. R. Howson, K.C., M.L.A., and Mrs. Frank J. Conroy, are on the slate of six Liberal candidates nominated at the convention in Edmonton this week. Mr. Howson, a former resident of Norwood, is the Liberal leader for Alberta and headed the slate of nominees. Mrs. Conroy, a former citizen of Peterborough, was also prominent in the balloting. It was said that it would be suicide for the convention not to have at least one woman candidate. Several were nominated, but Mrs. Conroy gained the endorsation of the meeting.

Treating Ailment As High Pressure

CLEVELAND, April 6 (C.P.)— For the benefit of its patients the Lake Shore Sanitarium will use pumps to produce a highly rarified atmospheric condition inside an air chamber the size of a railroad sleeping car.

Sufferers from asthma are the principal patients, the medical staff says, and the treatment will consist of their living inside the chamber for a week at a time.

Other patients, suffering from various non-contagious deliberating afflictions, such as certain types of anaemia and high blood pressure, will receive the high-pressure treatment in the airtight, five-storey, spherical structure.

FINANCIAL NEWS BRIEFS

PRICE BROS. & CO.

A New York financial journal, in an opinion on Price Brothers and Company, states that with creditors' patience exhausted by almost two years of wrangling between conflicting interests seeking control, as well as by an uncompromising attitude on the part of preferred stockholders, long-awaited reorganization of Price Brothers & Company seems likely to be a development of the not distant future. Under terms of a plan recently submitted on behalf of a British syndicate all bank loans be liquidated and bond interest arrears paid off in cash, with funds provided through underwriting of new common stock. Whether the extraordinary legal complications and heavy expenses which thus far have restrained bondholders from exercising foreclosure privileges would continue to act as a deterrent to such drastic action in the event that reorganization were to be staved off much longer is another matter.

In no small measure responsible for the difficulties which forced Price Bros.—one of the most efficiently operated units in the Canadian newsprint industry—in August, 1932, to default interest on its approximately $11,000,000 of first mortgage 6% British customers after departure of the pound sterling from gold and its subsequent depreciation in terms of dollars. This matter having finally adjusted itself, and in view of factores now operative to render almost inevitable higher quotations for newsprint, the enterprise seems destined —from its $56,000,000 (net) of physical assets—eventually to restore operations to a basis providing earnings available for bond interest in line with the 2.85 average coverage multiple of the five years leading up to 1932.

World Silver Production

According to the Monthly Review of the Montreal Stock Exchange and Curb Market, world production of silver decreased sharply during the month of February, total production being 14,801,000 fine ounces as against 15,717,000 ounces in January, a decline of 916,000 ounces.

Of the world producers of the white metal, the United States was the only country to register a gain, production in all other countries showing a decline. World production of silver for the 5 months to the end of February, has been as follows: October 15,591,000 ozs.; November 15,349,000 ozs.; December 15,427,000 ozs.; January 15,427,000 ozs.; January 16,717,000 ozs.; February 14,801,000 ozs.

Sun Life

The Sun Life Assurance Company the largest holder of American Telephone and Telegraph Company stock, did not dispose of any of its stock in 1934, it was disclosed in the annual report of the company to the Federal Communications Commission. Sun's holdings on December 15, 1934, totalled 126,550 shares.

Bell Telephone

The rather rapid decline in Bell Telephone common has brought many enquiries to Financial Service. This stock is a highly regarded investment issue, but is subject to wide swings should a selling order be executed at the market at any time. Bell Telephone has dropped from 131 to 118 on a turnover of but 560 shares.

In discussing this matter in official quarters, Financial Service could secure no information that would explain the present action of the stock.

Algoma Steel Corporation

The plan of reorganization for Algoma Steel Corporation has been approved by a majority of the five percent. first and refunding mortgage bondholders. Under this agreement, the bonds will be exchanged for common stock on the basis of one share for each $200 in principal amount of the bonds which will give bondholders 74,718 common shares out of a total issue of 130,000. Ahead of common stock will come a small issue of preferred shares which are given in exchange for the former purchase money bonds and ahead of both stocks will be a five per cent 20-year bond issue of approximately $5,000,000 to which, as a bonus apparently, will be allotted 25,000 shares of the new common stock. The new bond issue, it is expected, will be used to raise necessary working capital. It is reported that preparations are being actively pushed at the company's plant at Sault Ste. Marie at the present time to increase and diversify production, with new, larger-sized I-beams already being rolled.

Portsmouth England, repairing H.M.S. Hood, the world's largest warship, which was damaged in a collision with H.M.S. Renown.

SYRUP RETAILS 50 CENTS QUART

Eggs Sell as Low as 11 Cents a Dozen on Farmers' Market.

BUTTER, 25c POUND.

Prices for maple syrup at the market this morning were fairly stationary at 50 cents a quart and $2 a gallon. However, several vendors were selling for 45 cents a quart and $1.75 a gallon. Maple sugar was 25 cents in pound cakes or a nickel for little round balls.

Egg dealers were again faced by a bearish market, with prices hovering perilously close to the 11-cent range in some instances, in quantity buys. Commencing at 15 cents a dozen, the general later price was two dozen for a quarter, with 14 cents asked on the open market.

Chickens had a fairly wide range of 18 to 22 cents a pound, with the former as a general quotation. Hens were 15 cents a pound. An outsize turkey weighing nearly 18 pounds could be had for 20 cents a pound.

Butter was priced generally at 25 cents a pound.

Home-made cooking looked especially delicious on the market this morning, with a wide assortment that ranged all the way from brown and white loaves to lemon pies with meringue topping, or custard pies with crinkled surfaces, and cross-barred fruit pies, any one of which may be had for two bits. Little potted meat plats are a dime, sugared or plain buns are 15 cents a dozen, and orange marmalade with orange slices visible through the glass, is 20 cents in a good-sizes jar. And these are only a few of the good eatables to be bought at the weekly market, along with many varieties of potted fruits and pickles.

Potatoes were 50 cents a single bag and 45 cents in two-bag lots. Live guinea hens were 60 cents apiece.

One enterprising wood dealer brought samples of his load of elm and placed them on the curb in a wooden box. Many patrons stopped to enquire just what brand of rare wood they represented, so exclusive did they appear.

PERCY TOWNSHIP COUNCIL MEETS

Tax Collector's Time Extended —John O'Reilly is Named Weed Inspector.

WARKWORTH, April 6 (Examiner correspondence).—The municipal council of the Township of Percy met in the town hall here, Tuesday, April 2, with Roy R. Mallory, reeve; U. E. Waterman, deputy-reeve; Thomas McMillen, Alfred Merrill and W. H. Nelson, councillors, present.

The following communications were read: House of Assembly, re Relief Law; House of Assemble, re Weed Inspector; Padlar People; John Grant; School Report.

It was decided to extend the tax collector's time until May 7.

John O'Reilly was appointed weed inspector for 1935, salary to be $25. The insurance policy of Lloyds', London, England, for municipal liability assurance was accepted.

Accounts amounting to $69.20 for police village, and $2,533.89 for the Township of Percy were ordered paid. After which the council adjourned, to meet May 7, at 10 a.m.

Large Attendance At George St. W.A.

The regular meeting of the W.A. of George Street United Church was held in the board room with an attendance of approximately sixty.

The president, Mrs. T. Mark, occupied the chair, and Mrs. J. E. J. Millyard had charge of the devotional exercises. Mrs. Carver of Trinity United Church told the Easter story and Mrs. Agnes Logan Green delighted the audience with her brilliant piano solo.

Mrs. S. Armstrong reported 43 calls made by the sick and visiting committee for the month, and Mrs. Latimer, for the look-out committee, reported 20 calls made.

Miss Mary Elliott, corresponding secretary, read ten letters of thanks for flowers received. Mrs. Tinney reported on the memorial bouquet which was placed in the church in memory of the late Mrs. James Stubbs. The highest attendance for the groups was awarded to Miss Higgins' group, with 14 members present.

Miss Mary Elliott submitted the report, re entertaining the choir at a banquet, when over eighty members were guests of the W.A.

Rev J. E. J. Millyard asked the assistance of the W.A. in arranging billets for the Bay of Quinte Conference, to be held here in June.

Plans were also discussed for the celebration of the 100th anniversary of George St. Church, which will be observed here in October. It is planned to make this a very outstanding event in the life of the city and church.

RECORD HARBOR LOW

OTTAWA, April 6 (CP)—The Hydrographic Service of the Department of Marine to-day reported water levels in March at Montreal harbor were at a record low for the last 75 years. The water was 16⅝ inches lower than in March, 1934.

Old Fort May Be Site for Museum

WINDSOR, N.S., April 6 (CP) —A plan to equip old Fort Edward blockhouse, the only one in existence in Canada, as a museum to honor the 170th anniversary of the founding of Windsor was discussed at a meeting of the West Hants Agricultural Society.

Relics of earlier days could be collected from hundreds of places throughout the country, Thomas Aylward, secretary of the exhibition committee, suggested and there was no more suitable place for them than the old fortification built by the English in 1755—the time of the expulsion of the Acadians.

Women Have Duty

LIGHT DEFICIT 1934 FINANCES

Executive Will Take Drastic Action in Transgressions Against O. B. A. Constitution.

PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS.

KITCHENER, Ont., April 6.—(C.P.)—A note of warning that prompt and drastic action will be taken by executive officials against players or clubs committing transgressions against the constitution of the Association featured the address of President W. A. Smith of Galt delivered before delegates attending the 17th annual convention of the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association to-day.

The report of Secretary W. J. Snyder of Hamilton, showed an increase of 41 club during 1934. About 150 delegates were in attendance.

Mention of the report of Secretary Bill Snyder and Treasurer Arthur Hillmer, contained in the President's address, called notice to a small deficit on the year's operation, due, in the opinion of Mr. Smith, to adverse economical conditions, coupled with adverse weather conditions during the play-off period.

Achievement of the Stratford, Chatham and Napanee clubs in winning an O.B.A.A. championship for the first time was pointed out by the speaker.

"I have no hesitation in stating here false declarations from players or clubs will not be tolerated and in every case when circumstances warrant it, prompt and drastic action will be taken," President Smith told his baseball confreres in recalling action taken in the past against clubs which, to use the President's own terms, "did not see fit to play the game in accordance with what is termed good sportsmanship."

Due to Unemployment.

One contributing factor to the large number of transfers granted during the 1934 season was the unemployment situation.

"A happy omen," the Ontario prexy remarked, "is seen in the continued enlargement of our minor series, the very backbone and sustenance of our organization."

Soccer Results

(Continued from Page 1)

Bristol City 2, Swindon Town 0.
Clapton O. 6, Brighton 0.
Coventry City 2, Cardiff City 0.
Exeter City 1, Torquay U. 1.
Gillingham 1, Luton Town 1.
Millwall 3, Aldershot 0.
Newport Co. 2, Queen's Park R. 1.
Northampton T. 1, Bristol Rov. 0.
Reading 3, Southend United 2.
Watford 2, Crystal Palace 0.

SCOTTISH LEAGUE.

Second Division.

Alloa 0, Arbroath 0.
Cowdenbeath 3, Montrose 2.
Dumbarton 0, Third Lanark 1.
East Fife 1, Brechin City 2.
East Stirling - Edinburgh City (postponed).
Morton 5, Leith Athletic 1.
Raith Rovers 2, King's Park 0.
Stenhousemuir - Dundee United (unplayed).

RUGBY LEAGUE.

Batley 13, Leeds 9.
Broughton 33, Featherstone 4.
Castleford 9, Hull Kingston 13.
Huddersfield 43, Bradford Northern 17.
Hull 47, Keighley 8.
Hunslet 34, Bramley 13.
Leigh 8, Oldham 23.
Liverpool Stanley 4, Halifax 10.
Salford 16, York 7.
St. Helen's 6, Wakefield Trinity 4.
Warrington 26, St. Helen's Recs. 7.
Widnes 15, Dewsbury 8.
Wigan 0 Swinton 15.

RUGBY UNION.

Old Merchant Taylors 9, London Welsh 8.
Richmond 17, Cardiff 6.
St. Bart's Hospital 3, Old Leysians 6.
Aberavon 19 Devonport Services 4.
Bath 9, London Scottish 15.
Bedford 32, Old Alleynians 8.
Birkenhead Park 6 Leicester 24.
Bradford 39 Hartlepool Rovers 8.
Bristol 7, Harlequins 6.
Gloucester 10, Llanelly 2.
Headingley 6, Waterloo 5.
Northampton 6, Rosslyn Park 16.
Newport 14, Blackheath 6.
Nottingham 5, Moseley 19.
Cheltenham 9, Abertillery 3.
Neath 23, Old Paulines 7.
Wasps 0, St. Mary's Hospital 13.

GOLDEN JUBILEE IS PLANNED BY SALVATION ARMY

Many High Officers in Army Work Visit City During Celebrations.

START THIS WEEK-END.

Commissioner William A. McIntyre Be Here For Week-end of April 14.

Salvation Army workers and members in the city are now making ready for celebration of one of the most significant occasions in the history of the Peterborough branch —the 50th anniversary of the founding of the organization here. Commencing to-morrow, four weeks of special services and activities will continue as a mark of the outstanding event.

Many high officers in Army work in Canada will visit the city during the celebration. Although the Sunday of April 14 is the actual anniversary day, the presence of Col. T. C. Jacobs of Toronto, former secretary for Canada, in the Temple to-morrow, will inaugurate the period. Col. Jacobs terminated a distinguished career in Army work in Great Britain and Canada after 52 years of service 15 years ago. Present also will be Captain and Mrs. Simester, in charge of the Lindsay Salvation Army, with a band of their workers.

Canadian Born.

The week-end of April 14, the most significant occasion in the period of celebration, will be marked by the presence of Commissioner William A. McIntyre of Chicago. Commissioner McIntyre is the only Canadian-born Salvationist ever to reach the rank of Commissioner, subordinate only to General Evangeline Booth. His jurisdiction in the United States extends over the division from Detroit west to the Rocky Mountains.

The Commissioner will be accompanied by his staff. Col. William Dalziel of Toronto, Army secretary for Canada, Alaska, Newfoundland and Bermuda, and Major and Mrs. F. Riches of Toronto, in charge of the Toronto East Division, will be among others in the group of visitors. It is expected that the body of officers who have held posts in the Peterborough branch will be represented.

To Present Cantata.

A young people's celebration on Good Friday will open activities of the Easter week-end. "An Hour at the Cross"—a devotional service — will be held also on Good Friday, and at 8 p.m. the cantata, "Come Unto Him," will be presented by the Temple Songsters under Benjamin Smith's leadership.

Adjutant Haynes, training staff officer for the Women's Division of the Toronto Training College, will bring ten Girl Cadets to the local Temple during the week-end. The Cadets, among whom will be three Peterborough girls, will take a prominent part in the services and activities. A special program scheduled for Easter Monday has not yet been decided upon.

Lieutenant-Colonel Sims, head of all men's social activities for the Army in Canada, will be the special guest on Saturday and Sunday, April 27 and 28. A former Peterborough officer, Major Wallace Bunton, who is now Police Court Officer for the city of Toronto, will accompany him. May 18 and 19 will be signalized by a visit of Bandmaster Bernard Smith of the Chicago Staff Band, a noted cornet soloist. Adjutant Herbert Martin, another former officer of this branch, will be here on that occasion.

Special music and special singing will feature the Army program throughout the period of celebration. In addition to the Sunday activities, a public meeting will be held each Saturday evening during the weeks. The children in the local Army ranks will have their opportunity to sample the 50th anniversary cake at a celebration on Tuesday, April 16.

Manchoukuo Ruler Pays Tokyo Visit

TOKOY, April 6 (AP)—Emperor Kang Teh of Manchoukuo, unseated from the dragon throne of the Manchus by the Chinese revolution, came to Japan to-day on a state visit to Emperor Hirohito.

The 29-year-old ruler was greeted at the railway station by the Japanese Emperor, a welcome unprecedented in Japanese court history. Together with the Emperor were the highest potentates of Japan as well as all the princes of the blood—heads of the collateral branches of the Imperial family—and all the high officers of the Imperial court and cabinet ministers.

However, none but Japanese and Manchoukuoan dignitaries were on hand to greet Kang Teh, the ambassadors and ministers of foreign nations not having been invited to attend.

Plymouth Albion 23, Torquay Athletic 4.
Swansea 16, Bridgend 5.
Trojans 3, Portsmouth Services 8.

LINDSAY BAND WELL RECEIVED LOCAL AUDIENCE

Boys' Band Presents Concert in St. Paul's Church.

PLEASING PROGRAM.

Several Soloists and Selections on Organ Add to Night's Entertainment.

The concert presented last evening in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church by the Lindsay Boys' Band was a fine demonstration of splendid music by junior players. Playing under direction of Martin B. Chenhall, Junior, the youthful group presented a pleasing appearance in their suits of light grey. They were assisted by two vocalists from Lindsay: Hilton Manley, tenor, and Lloyd Hale, baritone, with Professor Fletcher of Lindsay as piano accompanist and Martin B. Chenhall A.R.C.O., presiding at the organ, and delighting his listeners later with a masterly organ solo delivered in his best style.

The program was given under the auspices of the Lindsay Boys' Band Association and the Men of St. Paul's Church, with the Rev. Dr. Barr acting as announcer and Hurrell Dodds, president of the Men's Association, voicing appreciation of the program, at its conclusion.

The band numbers were presented with a pleasing quality of youthful vim and zest and were marked by clarity of tone, precision in attack and release, a light, fine pianissimo and forceful fortissimo passages. It is a well-balanced ensemble of brass, reed and wood-wind instruments that seems to excel in music of a smooth, rhythmic, swinging type. The only element that might be open to criticism is a little diffidence in approach in the lighter brass section that has almost the effect of a soft pedal in this area of the playing. This aspect was nullified at once in passages in which the vibrant, flaring traps and drums, played by an expert hand, had a chance to come in with a bolstering fanfare of sound.

Opening with a swinging march, the favorite "Centennial," the band progressed to mildly-shaded selections from "H.M.S. Pinafore," and the well-known "Lustpiel" Overture, which was followed by a very picturesque selection, a Fantasia on "Lead, Kindly Light," with organ support by Mr. Chenhall, Senior. This composition emphasizes the aspiring and triumphant atmosphere of Cardinal Newman's mighty prayer, rather than its undertone of petition and closes with a lovely chiming finale.

They played also a gay, buoyant thing in an oddly-named march, "3 D.Cs", with a gay rat-a-tat from the traps and drums, a softly-toned hymn, "Evensong," and a brilliant closing number, "Operatic Gems."

The solos of the evening were exceptionally interesting. Lloyd Hale, baritone, possessor of a rich, very deep baritone voice, was at his best in his encore, an arresting arrangement of John Masefield's "Trade Winds," while the tenor of the program, Hilton Manley, displayed much sweetness of tone in his solo, "I'll Sing Thee Songs of Araby," and its encore.

An especially pleasing solo was that of Master Murray Wright, Canada's youngest boy cornetist and gold medal winner at the Canadian National Exhibition. With easy assurance, skilful and expert fingering and a smooth, creamy tone, he delighted his listeners with a beautifully-played solo, Handel's "Largo," and its encore.

Applause, sincere and enthusiastic, was also vouchsafed for the cornet duet by two youthful and splendidly-trained musicians: Clarke Fitzsimmons and Max Travener, playing "The Swiss Boy."

At the close of the program, refreshments were served to the visitors by the choir of St. Paul's.

With a Lilt AND A Song!

●Enjoy glorious health. Make life worth living all the time—by protecting yourself from constipation with Quaker Natural Health Bran.

Quaker Natural Health Bran added to your daily diet will keep the system free from impurities naturally, gently, safely. Its spicy, nutty flavour is delicious in muffins, biscuits, bread, etc. It is especially suitable for cooking and very easy and economical to use.

Order from your grocer—there's a valuable coupon and a recipe folder in every package.

QUAKER Natural BRAN

Especially economical for cooking

QUAKER BRAN SCONES

1 cup Pastry Flour — 1 cup Quaker natural Bran
½ teaspoon Salt
2 cup Brown Sugar — 3 tablespoons Shortening
4 teaspoons Baking Powder — ½ to ⅔ cup Milk

Makes 1½ to 2 dozen Scones

Sift together the flour, salt, brown sugar and baking powder and combine with the bran. Cut in the shortening and add milk to make a dough that can be handled. Turn out onto a floured surface with bran, roll to ½ inch thickness and cut in scone shapes. Bake on a floured baking sheet in a hot oven (425°F.) for about 15 minutes.

Now It's Stylish To Finger-print

WASHINGTON, April 6 (CP)—Fingerprinting is on the road to becoming fashionable, the Federal Bureau of Identification finds. Thousands of civilians are voluntarily adding their 20 identification marks to the files of the record division here. Civilian prints thus volunteered are placed in a special, non-criminal file. They include many hundreds of prints of children who, because of their family's position, are in danger of kidnapping.

Every day tourists step out of sight-seeing lines at the new Department of Justice Building and request that their prints be filed.

MANION VETOES FRESH VENTURE

(Continued from Page 1)

The Government was in enough businesses already, said Dr. Manion, who expressed the belief insurance rates would come down very quickly as the route bore the test of experience.

The Minister reported an operating deficit of $207,000 on the port of Churchill and the Hudson Bay railway last year and predicted about the same red figure for the present year. This was apart from any allowance for interest on the capital invested. The railway cost about $53,000,000 to build.

Eventually the railway would pay its way, Dr. Manion predicted. When conditions in the West returned to normal it would progress much more rapidly.

Pessimistic on Canal.

Dr. Manion is not optimistic the long-mooted St. Lawrence canal system will be completed. He told the House the Welland canal, which cost Canada $130,000,000 should never have been built.

"If the St. Lawrence canals are ever completed, the Welland canal will fit in with that scheme, will it not," asked Harry Spencer (U.F.A., Battle River.)

"Without doubt," Dr. Manion replied, 'if the St. Lawrence canals are ever completed but I should not say we should feel very optimistic at the moment in regard to their completion."

"Canada signed a treaty with the United States some months ago to complete the St. Lawrence development, but it was tossed out by the American Senate. Since then, negotiations have been carried on between Washington and Ottawa for modifications in the treaty.

"I cannot imagine," said the Minister, referring to the Welland canal, "what the people, who originated the idea, were thinking about," he said.

The canal, which is operating although not completed, dates back to the days of "insane optimism," Dr. Manion said. It was in the same category as the Prescott, Ont., elevator. The canal, he said, might have been justified had it been built in conjunction with the St. Lawrence system.

Probe One of Spotters

Use of spotters and stool-pigeons by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in British Columbia will be investigated, Minister of Justice Hugh Guthrie announced while estimates of the R.C.M.P. were being considered.

Thomas Reid (Lib., New Westminster) introduced the subject by claiming two men, Herbert Handley and Eddie Kemp had planted smuggled liquor, cigarettes and a radio on unsuspecting merchants, then caused their arrest. A split was made on the fines.

Handley, the British Columbia member claimed, was wanted by Australian police all the time he was employed by the R.C.M.P. Both he and Kemp are in jail on liquor charges.

"I will admit," said Mr. Guthrie, 'in this instance, in a force of 2,000 or 3,000 men we have succeeded in securing the services of two black sheep." Handley and Kemp, he said, were dismissed as soon as they ran foul of the liquor laws and R.C.M.P. took no part in their defence.

Protest against the finger-printing of accused persons before conviction was made by Mr. Bell who described it as an outrage. Maurice Brasset(Lib., Gaspe) complained of a man being forced by mounted police to give his finger prints after he had been acquitted of a crime although a crown appeal in the case was pending.

No Anti-Red Squad

Mr. Guthrie told J. F. Pouliot (Lib., Temiscouata) the R.C.M.P. do not make a specinal job of checking Communist activity in Canada. In routine work, if anything special was uncovered, it would be reported to Ottawa but there was no anti-Red squad. Foreign-language papers were checked carefully.

The long Easter adjournment of the House announced yesterday by acting-Prime Minister Sir George Perley, will probably be utilized in part by the Government for negotiating new relief agreements with the provinces and preparing legislation based on reports of the Mass Buying commission and the House Committee on Housing.

King Opposes Plan

Liberal Leader Mackenzie King, after expressing satisfaction in a report from Sir George that Prime Minister R. B. Bennett would be able to represent Canada at the King's Jubilee celebrations in London and return to the House on May 20, declared the idea of a long adjournment was not welcome to the opposition. He objected principally on the grounds it would delay the general election, and until that issue was decided he believed business in Canada would not settle down to a satisfactory trend.

Sir George made definite announcement in the House that the Easter recess would run to May 20. It would be moved when the order paper was exhausted but it is not believed that will be before April 17.

Some of the sting was taken out of the announcement when Sir George assured members there would be provision in the estimates to compensate the members for extra expenditures involved in their return after Easter.

New Relief Deals

Communications will be sent soon to premiers of the provinces on the subject of new relief agreements. The Relief Act for 1935 was given royal assent Thursday and the government is now in a position to negotiate new terms with the provinces. Meanwhile the monthly lump sums paid the provinces as grants in aid since last August have been continued for April.

It is possible a dominion-provincial conference will be called during the recess but no invitations have been sent yet and this step may not be necessary.

Publication of the full report of the Mass Buying Commission is expected next week and the report of the Housing Committee is expected momentarily. Legislation on the housing is expected to be contained in a public works measure now in preparation. In making his announcement in the House regarding adjournment Sir George described progress towards recovery of Prime Minister R. B. Bennett who is expected to be allowed outdoors next week. He was up for a short time Thursday and for a longer period Friday and his progress continued satisfactorily.

CORDOVA Y.P.S. VISIT MARMORA

Mock Wedding By St. Andrew's Group Opens Delightful Program.

CONTESTS, LUNCH FOLLOW.

MARMORA, April 6 (Examiner Correspondence). — St. Andrew's Young People's Society were hosts to Cordova Young People's Society on Monday evening, with a large number in attendance.

The meeting opened with a mock wedding in which Hubert Hollingsworth was minister; Jean Gladney the bride; Maxwell Green, the groom; Helen Gale, matron of honor; Violet Hannah, Teressa Henry, Elizabeth Gladney and Grace Prentice, bridesmaids; Ford Woodhouse, best man; Fred Heumann, Frank Wilkes, Eldon Bonter and Herbert Heumann, ushers; Grace Bonter played the wedding music and during the signing of the register, Flora Sanderson sang "I Love You Truly."

Edith Henry, as chairman of the meeting, then welcomed the guests and asked their president, Mr. Don Buchanan to take charge.

Mr. Buchanan called upon Miss Steenburgh, who read a paper on "Finding God in Nature"; Clifford Briggs and Miss Kelsh followed with a harmonica and guitar duet. Carl Purdy favored the gathering with a recitation, and Will Young sang a solo accompanied by Miss Buchanan at the piano. After Rev. C. W. Hollingsworth had conducted a religious discussion, Miss Jean McNeely put on a contest. Games and a splendid lunch ended a good evening's enjoyment.

CAMPBELLFORD

Generous Donations Campbellford W.M.S.

(Examiner Correspondence)

CAMPBELLFORD, April 6.— The regular meeting of the St. Andrew's Presbyterian church W.M.S. was held on Tuesday evening. The Easter thankoffering brought some delightful surprises. One was a very generous donation from Miss Grace Gillespie in memory of her late mother who at one time was president of the society. Another was the gift of two beautiful quilt tops from Miss A. Govan, who, being unable to finish them herself on account of illness, was assisted by Miss McNaughton. A reading entitled "The Moments of Our Day" was given by Mrs. W. W. Rutherford. Mrs. J. R. Battisby then read a letter containing a beautiful Easter message, The Secret Knowledge of the Risen Christ". The meeting closed with the singing of hymn 457 and the repeating of the 23rd Psalm in unison.

Obituary

JOHN LEBARGE.

TWEED, April 6 (Examiner Correspondence)—The funeral was held on Friday morning of the late John LeBarge, of Smith's Falls, at St. Carthagh's Roman Catholic Church, with Fr. L. Collins officiating, assisted by Rev Fr. O'Riordan. The deceased was forty years of age. He leaves to mourn his loss his widow. Peter LeBarge of Hungerford township is a brother. The bearers were Ernest LeSage, Raymond Quinn, J. Bershaw, John Meraw, Joseph P. Rashotte, James Trudeau.

Drummer at Six Now Opera Head

NEW YORK, April 6 (C.P.)—Wilfred Pelletier, French-Canadian conductor of the New York Metropolitan Opera Association, will conduct two orchestral concerts in his native city of Montreal in April.

The widely-known conductor, in charge of the Sunday night concerts of the Metropolitan Opera for several years, will conduct the Montreal concerts April 21 and 26. The latter will be at a French festival. He also will give three opera performances with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra in Detroit in May.

M. Pelletier began to play the bass drum with an amateur band in Montreal at the tender age of six. He came to the Metropolitan Opera House at the age of 20.

CAMPBELLFORD

NEWS ITEMS FOR THE TRENT TOWN DISTRICT

Mr. Ralph Sperry, of the Bank of Commerce staff, Kingston, was renewing acquaintances around town this week. Mr. Sperry has recently been transferred to the Trenton branch.

Mr. Wilbert Peloquin is spending the week-end with friends in Toronto.

Mr. Harold Pounds of the Royal Bank staff, is visiting at his home in Thamesford.

Mrs. M. P. Cairns is leaving on Sunday to spend a week with relatives in Sarnia.

Mr. Russell Long, of Major Street, left for Peterborough hospital on Friday, where he will undergo an operation for appendicitis.

Mr. Robert Upton, of the Bank of Commerce staff, is spending his holidays, visiting friends and relatives in Detroit and Wellington.

Mrs. Charles Davidson, Miss Georgia Davidson, with Mrs. Neil Thompson and Mrs. C. K. Stephen, visited friends and relatives in Peterborough on Friday.

Master Harold Neal, son of Rev. and Mrs. H. B. Neal, returned home from Toronto on Friday. Harold, who recently underwent an appendicitis operation at the Hospital for Sick Children, is making a good recovery.

Mrs. William Smith and her daughter, Miss Lillian Smith, are spending the week-end in Toronto.

Mrs. S. L. Terrill, of Wooler, was elected president of Cobourg Presbyterial of the W.M.S. at the convention held in Campbellford on Wednesday.

Harold N. Carr, M.P.P. for Northumberland, is spending the week-end with his family in Campbellford.

Mr. McLean Haig, of Front Street, is spending the week-end in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Nelson are removing from Rear Street and will take up residence on Booth Street, in the house recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fry.

Miss Blanche Wright visited friends in Peterborough on Friday.

Mr. Abram Rappaport is planning a jubilee banquet which will be held in the apartments over the Hollywood Theatre during the celebration here, and at which a number of film representatives from Toronto will preside.

Rev. B. Simpson Black will preach both services at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Sunday, his sermon for the morning being, "A Busy Day in the Life of Jesus," and for the evening, "Too Much Religion When I was a Boy."

Rev. F. G. MacTavish of the Seymour United Church will preach at Tabernacle Church at 11 a.m. on Sunday, 3 p.m. at Stephen's Church and at Zion Church at 7.30 p.m. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered at the close of all worship services.

ALDERVILLE

A return crokinole tournament between Alderville and Roseneath was held in the town hall at Roseneath on Tuesday evening, the score being 17-15 in favor of Roseneath. The high scorers for Alderville were B. Marsden and D. Simpson, who won 5 out of 8 games. H. H. Lapp and Nelson Harvie were the champion players for the evening, winning the 8 games. The players were lined up as follows:

Alderville. — E. Crow and W. Chubb; B. Marsden and D. Simpson; L. Simpson and A. Hagar; A. Marsden and E. Marsden.

Roseneath.—N. Sherwin and W. Roth; E. Radley and N. Brisbin; L. Roberts and S. Nichol; H. H. Lapp and N. Harvie.

NOTICE

IN MAILING REPLIES to Box Numbers at The Examiner, please put sufficient postage on the envelope to ensure the Box-holder getting them. Stamps are not necessary, of course, if left at the Office.

CATHEDRAL MUSINGS

WHO can probe the depths of the soul, or plummet the abyss of the self? With the Psalmist we may ask, "What is man, that Thou art mindful of him?"

There is a certain school of so-called scientific thought that would reduce the human mind to the level of a soulless machine. To them thought is but a series of chemical reactions to external stimuli, and the urge of our animal nature the motivating force of our lives. If we accept that explanation of our being, then philosophy and poetry and all idealism are just nonsense. Religion becomes an empty mockery and God a myth. This is what is taught to-day with all the claptrap jargon of behaviorism, complexes, inhibitions, etc.

I ask: Could a machine produce the Bible, or the plays of Shakespeare? Did a piano ever compose a Beethoven sonata? Is it possible for a soulless mechanism to rise to such heights of selflessness and idealism as lighten the drab pages of the history of man?

Have we forgotten the meaning of the terms of discipline and duty, courage and sacrifice and love. Have they anything in common with a mere biological mechanism, or multiplied by infinity are they not commensurate with the higher spiritual values?

We are not machines, we are living souls incarnate here for the purpose of making manifest the Divine image in which we are spiritually created.

Let us not get lost in the dark forest of materialism, but let us seek to know and contact that which is within us, that which lighteth every man that cometh in to the world. For until we find the Light within how can we be conscious of the Greater Light of which It is a part?

It is written that if we seek we shall find, but the initiative rests with us. We must do the seeking No other can do it for us.—Frater IX., Rosicrucian Order, San Jose, Calif.

Because a pair of elks and their two calves have been threatening the farmers in Northern Sweden during the closed season for hunting, the Government has been asked permission to shoot the animals.

Scotland's national health last year was better than at any time in 80 years.

ROEBUCK LABOR BILL TALKED OUT

(Continued from Page 1)

government that something better would follow.

Sam Lawrence contended the bill did not go far enough to suit workers and trade unionists and condemned the measure because it did not contain provisions for bringing working conditions under the act.

J. J. Glass (Lib., Toronto - St. Andrews) hailed the measure as dealing with the labor problem "in a true democratic, liberal spirit."

Attack on the bill because there was no reference in it to working conditions among youths between the ages of 16 and 20 was made by Mr. Duckworth.

Extra Borrowing Powers

Minister of Agriculture Duncan Marshall introduced an amendment to the Co-operative Marketing Loan Act, making it possible for co-operative cold storage associations to borrow any amount not exceeding 50 percent of the value of the property on which the loan was obtained and in no case more than $50,000.

A bill introduced by Mr. Croll provided for extension of the Mothers' Allowance Act to mothers with one child and abolition of the board of threee which administered the act.

Other bills introduced provided for abolition of the liability of drivers and owners of motor vehicles to gratuitous passengers and allowing the township of Pelee Island to license pheasant hunters there during the open season and charge a fee.

CAMPBELLFORD

Baptist Church W.M.S. Holds Easter Meeting

(Examiner Correspondence)

CAMPBELLFORD, April 6.—The Women's Mission Circle of the Baptist Church held an Easter thankoffering meeting on Tuesday evening in the school room which was prettily decorated for the occasion with the president, Mrs. R. C. Weston presiding.

The opening number was a piano solo by the Rev. L. M. Smith, entitled "The Song of India"; vocal selection by Miss Iva Stone, "My Prayer" and "Happy Robin". Those representing four Baptist Missionaries in India and giving some of the experiences of each, were in costume similar to that worn by the women of India. Those taking part were: Mrs. L. M. Smith and the Misses Hazel Green, Grace Cairns, Glennis Shaw and Myrtle Hall. The theme for the devotional period was "Ye are the Light of the World" which was made most impressive with lighted candles. Rev. L. M. Smith closed the meeting with prayer after which refreshments were served.

A National Message

NOW, as the leaves of the trees and as the bulbs of the plants in this April period of the year are asleep and apparently dead, so are all these Israel peoples. They constitute the "dry bones of the valley of vision," as Ezekiel calls them, but we dig up a bulb and find it already budding in the ground.

We turn to all the peoples of the Israel blood in the world by whatever name they may be called, and find that they also are budding under ground. If one prefers the illustration furnished by the deciduous trees, the trees which cast their leaves, the branches are bare, and it is hard to tell whether some of the trees are living or dead; but wait awhile. Even now the buds are forming, and in some cases are well advanced. Soon, with common consent, trees and bulbs will break forth into leaf, and the life and beauty will be universal.

In every normal Israel heart and in every normal Judah heart there is going on the budding process. The vine, which is the emblem of Israel, is budding and preparing to put forth leaves and to develop fruit; and the fig tree, which is the emblem of Judah, is budding and putting forth leaves. The process is inevitable. The time for the budding of the trees is come.

There never is a variation, except in the case of individual "sports," which may be disregarded, for the latter always revert to type unless artificially prevented. So the state movement now appearing will be exactly the same in form and processes as has been from the beginning. The state will be that erected at Sinai and ratified in the Sermon on the Mount.

We shall have to get rid of fungus growths, which do not belong to plant or tree.

Where the throne of David is there is the centre of rule and authority for the state of the Kingdom of God. But the throne of David is in the British Commonwealth of Nations, and is functioning over a quarter of the inhabitants of the world. The throne was set up in Palestine. It came by way of Tarah in Ireland, to Scone in Scotland, to Westminster in England, and thence to the Overseas Dominions; then back to Palestine again. This is as it should be, and it will rapidly extend to other nations not as yet included.—Reprinted from "The National Message."

(To Be Continued.)

BUYING REPORT

(Continued from Page 1)

ronto West Centre, and Oscar Boulanger, Bellechasse.

Federal Trade Body

With the exception of Mr. Young, all members of the commission favored creation of a federal trade and industry commission. Given wide powers of direction and control, this commission would function along various lines. It would, among other things, see to the enforcement of the Combines Investigation Act. It would take action against false advertising. It would prevent unfair discounts and rebates. It would also deal with monopolies.

Rigid enforcement of the Combines Investigation Act was advocated by the Liberals. The majority of the commission, however, took the view that circumstances might arise when regulated combines should be permitted.

Changes in the Criminal Code to prevent evasion of wage and labor laws, supervision of sale of securities, and utilization of the provisions of the Marketing Act in connection with the fisheries industry, were said also to be recommended in the main report.

No Property Damage Campbellford Fire

(Examiner Correspondence)

CAMPBELLFORD, April 6.— The volunteer fire brigade responded to a call on West River Road at 10.30 o'clock Friday morning where overheated stove pipes had caused a blaze at the residence of Mrs. Gordon Bertrand. The run was made within two minutes of the sounding of the alarm and the flames quickly extinguished.

Out of eleven calls answered since the beginning of the year the actual property damage will not exceed $5.00 which speaks well for the Campbellford fire department.

Queen Mary of England has sent a gold pin to Edward Lock of Leigh to replace a lost opal pin given to him 43 years ago by the Duke of Teck, the Queen's father, for winning a foot race.

GREATLY REDUCED RATES

Those who wish comfortable hotel accommodation with all conveniences will be surprised at our low rates put in effect to meet present conditions. Permanent or transient guests are invited to inquire. American or European plan — accommodation at depression prices.

HOTEL VICTORIA

Matt. J. Elliott George B. Elliott
56 Yonge St., Toronto. Adel. 0501

TO ALL THOSE INTERESTED IN THE

YOUTH OF PETERBOROUGH

Elmwood Park,
Peterborough, Ontario,
April 4, 1935.

"Giving does not impoverish us in the service of our Maker, neither does withholding enrich us."

Dear Fellow Citizen:

We are to-day imbued with the spirit of optimism which is every hour growing clearer and clearer. Our outlook on life is brighter as we realize that "Happy Days are here again!"

We can truly say at this time that the Canadian youth has stood the testing fires of Depression, Disappointment and Dismay, and they have stepped from the fiery furnace without even carrying on them the smell of fire.

The Young Men's Christian Associations throughout the world have proven to be a haven of rest for these weary wanderers who have been athirst in the desert. Its doors have been ever open and the spirit of giving has ever prevailed.

During the past year through your generosity and support, we have been able to extend our good-will and facilities to many young men who have needed the guiding hand of fellowship and have thus been assisted over life's rough way.

The result of our stewardship is left for you to judge from the enclosed statement.

The money which you have joyfully donated previously has indeed met a great need. Our obligations for this year are heavy and we know that we will receive your usual loyal support in helping your Association to do greater things.

Business is better, and as Chairman of this Campaign may I again respectfully urge you to dig deep and meet the friend detailed to call on you with a smile of Good Cheer.

In conclusion, let us quote the lines of Henry Van Dyke, so ably written under the title—"Four Things":

What are the qualities of ideal manhood?
Four things a man must learn to do if he would make his record true:

To think without confusion clearly,
To love his fellow-men sincerely,
To act from honest motives purely,
To trust in God and Heaven sincerely.

Yours faithfully,

Chas. Stein

Chairman, Campaign Committee.

Y.M.C.A. ANNUAL FINANCIAL CAMPAIGN — GIVE GENEROUSLY

LYCEUM CLUB GIVES AWARDS ART WINNERS

Last Scheduled Meeting of Season is Held by Art Association.

ANNUAL CONTEST.

Mrs. Nancy Pyper is Expected to Address Annual Dinner.

The presentation of prizes to school children of the city formed the program for the last scheduled meeting for this season of the Lyceum Club Women's Art Association, held yesterday afternoon in the green room of the Young Women's Christian Association.

Some years ago, the association started an annual competition and presentation of prizes for art work among the school children, and this is eagerly looked forward to by the pupils of the Public and Separate Schools. The society presents cash prizes of 75 cents for first awards 50 cents for seconds; 25 cents for specials, with honorable mention accorded those who excel after the winners have been chosen.

Judges were Mrs. T. Cruikshank, Mrs. J. E. R. Munro and Miss Cameron Edwards.

Taking the place yesterday of the president, Mrs. W. Blackwell, who has suffered a relapse in her recent illness, Mrs. C. M. Scott, in the chair, read the list of prize-winners, while the awards were presented by the treasurer, Madam Mason. Mrs. Scott congratulated the boys and girls on their work, which was on view in the green room yesterday afternoon, and said that the judges had agreed that the Pose drawings were in the lead, as far as artistic effort was concerned. It was noted that the border work seemed to be difficult and the suggestion was made that motifs be substituted next season.

F. E. Kerr voiced the thanks of pupils and schools to the association.

Mrs. Scott announced the final meeting of the Art Study Club for the evening of Tuesday next, at the home of Miss Tena Mathers, when Miss M. Lees will give a paper on Color Prints. The annual dinner of the W.A.A. is scheduled for May 2nd at the Empress Hotel, when it is hoped that the guest speaker will be Mrs. Nancy Pyper of Hart House, Toronto.

Mrs. Scott also mentioned the lecture on Spode china to be given by Harry T. Thompson of Whitby on Monday evening next at the Y.M.C.A., and the violin and piano recital on the same evening at the Y.W.C.A., by Deane Miner and Agnes Logan Green.

Prize-winners

The list of prize-winners in the annual art competition is as follows: Pose Drawings: (1st) Robert Crooker of the Prince of Wales School; (2nd) Paul Hickey of St. Peter's School; (Special) Lyle Glover of the Prince of Wales School. Gwen Davies of Queen Alexandra, Edward Sullivan of St. Peter's; (Honorable Mention) James Davidson, Dorothy Mitchell, Greta Huffman, all of Prince of Wales; Berta Belleghem and Marolin Munro, of Cerera; Carylyle Jaquith, of King George; James Murphy and Mary Pierce, of the Queen Mary School.

Border Designs: (1st) Bill Staunton of the Queen Alexandra School; (2nd) Catherine Hendry of King George; (Special) Jim Hawthorne of the Queen Alexandra; (Honorable Mention) Betty Couper, Emily Liddell and Wallace Agnew, of the King George School; Shirley Richardson, Jessie Reynolds, and Kenneth Brown, of the Queen Alexandra School; Mildred McIntyre and Iris Fitzgerald, of the Queen Mary School.

Flowers: (1st) Marolin Munro of the Central School; (2nd) Berta Belleghem of the Central School; (Special) Muriel Theobald of the Queen Alexandra and Catherine White of the Queen Mary; (Honorable Mention) Dorothy Ridgrave and Gwen Davies of the Queen Alexandra; Raymond Bell and Vincent Holland of St. Peter's; Mary Pierce of the Queen Mary School.

Landscape: (1st) Alvin King of the Queen Alexandra; (2nd) Eugene Gordon of St. Peter's School; (Special) Shirley Richardson of the Queen Alexandra and Marion Biggs of the Prince of Wales; (Honorable Mention) Muriel Theobald and Gwen Davies, of the Queen Alexandra; Bob Herger, Naomi Manbeck and Malcolm Fakenham, of the King George; Shirley Brown of the King Edward; Paul Hickey of St. Peter's; Mary Curry of the Queen Mary School.

Motor vehicles imports into Argentina increased 89 per cent last year.

DODGE "DU" FOUR-DOOR TOURING SEDAN

Dodge cars are sold and serviced at Lillico Motors, 383 Water street, Peterborough.

FISH and GAME COLUMN

Conducted by The EXAMINER for the Protection of one of Ontario's greatest Resources

Fully convinced that if Stoney Lake is to retain its popularity as a summering place some definite effort must be made to restock the lake with fish, it is understood that members of the Stoney Lake Cottagers' Association are considering requesting the co-operation of the Fish and Game Department in establishing a spawning station near the lake.

Veteran cottagers about the lake recall that until recent years muskies and bass could be caught aplenty in Stoney. They argue, and rightly so, that the lake is the natural habitat of these great game fish, but continual fishing with unsatisfactory work of restocking has depleted the supply of fish.

Members of the association have watched with interest the results secured by the spawning station near Omemee and the marked improvement in the fishing around Fee's Landing. Similar benefits they are convinced can be accomplished in and around Stoney Lake.

READY TO DEFRAY COST

So awakened to the need are the Stoney Lake cottagers that it is understood the association is prepared to defray the cost of establishing the spawning station. The cost of such a station is not great, but such an offer should satisfy the Provincial Department that the need of such restocking is great.

Spawning stations are a great improvement on nature. Under natural conditions it is known that little more than 10 per cent of muskie spawn is fertilised by the male fish. He misses much of the spawn left by the female.

No such haphazard methods exist in spawning stations. Adult male and female muskies are caught. The spawn is gently pressed from the female fish and then the same method is adopted with the male and close to 100 per cent of the spawn is fertilised perfectly.

NORWOOD CLUB LAUNCHED

With the help of a group of enthusiastic Peterborough fish and game conservationists the Norwood Fish and Game Club was organised at Norwood on Tuesday evening and launched upon its work of improving fishing and hunting in this district. There are many trout streams and ponds in the eastern section of the county and the organisation of this new club, headed as it is by a strong executive, will prove a big help toward conservation.

L. E. Nelson was elected president, with Alex Kempt, well-known sport leader, as vice-president and R. Dean accepted the important duties of secretary-treasurer. The executive committee consists of: L. Beckett, R. Kirk, P. Bedore, H. Gordon and R. Tedford, all of whom are keenly alive to the need for action in maintaining good fishing in this district if it is to maintain its attraction for tourists.

The Peterborough relegation was much impressed with the sincerity of the Norwood sportsmen and confidence is being expressed that big things will be accomplished by the newly-organized club. The Norwood men can be assured that the Peterborough Association will give every assistance possible.

The Peterborough delegation was composed of Messrs. Black, Meeks, Harvey, Marshall and Graham, who are worthy of congratulation for their interest in aiding the baby club.

BEHIND THE TIMES

Bill Green, veteran local sportsman, is constantly digging into the past to come forth with some souvenir or other of great interest. This week he was looking among his souvenirs and found two fishing permits, one being dated 1881 and the other 1883. They are special permits granted to Mr. Green by order of the Minister of Marine and Fisheries to angle from "June 6 to the end of the season in Rice Lake and its tributaries." The permits are signed by the game overseer and required "strict conformity to the various provisions of the Fishery Laws and Regulations." As the grey-headed former city tax collector says "We seem to be away behind the times now."

"SEQUOIA"

It is to be hoped that one of the local theatres will secure "Sequoia" for showing here. A local sportsman who saw this picture in Toronto recently was much impressed. The two leading characters in "Sequoia" are a buck deer and a mountain lion. Two years went into the making of it; the animals had to be given intensive training, and the results achieved are said to be nothing short of wonderful. The producers have succeeded in so taming the cougar that he not only does not molest the deer, but actually defends it against natural and man-made hazards. Every person interested in wild life, and who is not, should not miss seeing this film if it is brought here.

TELLING THE DEPARTMENT

J. W. Gravestock, now of Lindsay but formerly most active in the local Fish and Game Protective Association, certainly gave the Fish and Game Committee at Queen's Park both barrels when he went before the committee last week with other representatives of fish and game conservation associations.

In criticizing the administration of the Fish and Game Department, Jim made it quite plain that he was out of politics but was anxious merely to present a true picture of the mismanagement of fish and game matters. He opposed strongly the dismissal of game wardens and the plan of the Government to put Provincial Police in charge of game and fish law enforcement. He stressed the importance of game wardens' work and said flatly that Provincial constables, despite their excellence as law officers, could not do game work.

Mr. Gravestock also urged vigorously that Hon. Mr. Nixon should be relieved of the post of head of Fish and Game Department and that a sportsman, who was familiar with the needs, should be given full charge of this department. He argued, and rightly so, that when changes in game and fish laws are being made the sportsmen of the province should be consulted and their opinions used as a guide in the new legislation.

The importance of the tourist business was emphasized and the fact that the Government should awaken to the knowledge that unless fish and game were safeguarded and replenished that tourists would soon cease to come to Ontario. He said that fishing and only fishing was the chief wish of the tourists who come into this district.

HEAVY RESTOCKING

The State of New York will this year embark on one of the most ambitious restocking projects undertaken for some time in that section of the country, when a total of 494,000,000 fish will be set out, including a greatly increased percentage of yearling or older fish. Among the species to be stocked are 4,000,000 brown trout; 1,260,000 lake trout; 4,000,000 brook trout. Considerably in excess of 200,000 of these trout will be a year or more old.

TRAVEL FAR AND FAST

"After being marked with a metal tag by the U.S. Bureau of Fisheries in Alaskan waters," says an item appearing in Hunter-Trader-Trapper, "a salmon was caught 44 days later, 1200 miles away in a Siberia stream."

TO-DAY'S "TALL" STORY

We ran across a story that, while too "tall" to swallow, makes amusing reading. It seems that an ambitious angler who had been having trouble catching fish thought of something new to assist him. Just below where he lived there was a sharp bend in a river that he knew contained plenty of fish. He carried a large quantity of starch up above the bend and allowed it to flow down with the current. The fish, surrounded by it, became so stiff that when they reached the bend in the river they couldn't turn around it and ran up on the shore, from which point the enterprising gentleman collected all he wanted!

PUT SPORTSMEN IN CHARGE

To a man, members of the Peterborough Fish and Game Association hold the opinion that far better work could be accomplished in Ontario if the Department of Game and Fisheries was taken out of politics and placed under the control of capable sportsmen, who know conditions and how to improve them. Local sportsmen have recommended this action, which has been adopted in several states south of the border. We suggest that every fish and game club in the province endorse this stand. In unity there is strength and the results secured by such action would be great and many.

RING-NECKED PHEASANTS

Application forms for settings of Ring-necked Pheasant eggs may be obtained from C. G. Graham, secretary of the local association, at the Empress Hotel. Those desiring these eggs should not delay in getting their orders into the Department as the supply for free distribution is limited.

PICKEREL FISHING CLOSED

Last week some residents along Rice Lake observed fishermen casting out onto the lake from the shore. Believing that these men were breaking the law the residents telephoned the information to Peterborough, and rightly so. However, fishing at that time for pickerel from the shore was quite legal. It is not to-day. Complete closed season for pickerel went into effect on April 1 and remains closed until May 16, when fishing from the shore is again permissible.

BLOOD DRIPPED FROM THE BOOTS OF VOLUNTEERS

Survivor of 35th Recalls March to Winnipeg in Riel Rebellion.

SIMCOE COMPANY.

ORILLIA, April 6. —(CP)—Fifty years ago today Orillia's fighting men in the Northwest Rebellion marched off to help thwart the dying efforts of the Indians and Metis to stay the influx of white settlers to the Prairies.

Only four of that company of twenty men of the 35th Simcoe Foresters survive, and today one of them, Thomas Reid, recalled the hardships of the strife that marked Canada's pioneer days. The other survivors of the score are: Ernest Crockford, Orillia; William Smith, Price's Corner, and Angus Leitch, Coulson.

Recalling experience of the men, Mr. Reid told of the march across the ice at the head of Lake Superior, where there was a stretch of the Canadian Pacific Railway still uncompleted. The trek lasted for several days, the men bivouacking on the shore or taking possession of deserted construction camps. When the ice was in good condition, travel was good, but in mild weather, the men trudged along in slush up to their knees.

Mr. Reid recalled an incident when Colonel Tyrwhitt, second in command of the regiment, came to their fire one night to warm himself. He held out his feet and let the water run out of his knee-high rubber boots.

"Why don't you take them off and put on dry socks, Colonel?" Tyrwhitt was asked.

"Because if I took them off I could not get them on again," the Colonel replied. His feet were swollen until they filled the boots tightly.

The last stage of the march into Port Arthur was a terrible experience, said the old veteran, as he recalled seeing blood ooze out of the men's boots at every step. They welcomed an old recipe to ease the pain—"soap your socks."

The volunteers, as they were called, were away about four months. When they returned, Mr. Reid was presented with the silver cup for marksmanship in his company. He still prizes the old silverware.

ALL-QUIET AND LONG-LIFE CARS

Result of Study and Experiment by Engineering Laboratory of Chrysler Corp.

NO GEAR CLASHING

Chrysler has developed a new Synchro-Silent transmission with quiet helical gears throughout. The advantage of this transmission are very pronounced in that it eliminates gear clashing by bringing the gears to the same rotating speed before the shift is made and allows quick, smooth shifting from low to second and from second to high, or vice-versa, at all driving speeds. Driving through traffic or through mountainous country is easier because the downward shift from high to second can be made smoothly, gently and silently.

Control Made Easy

This remarkable ease of control is made possible by designing the transmission so that, in addition to the customary constant meshing of the gears, there is a synchronizer used between high and second gears that equalizes the speed of each gear before they are engaged.

The synchronising device consists of a hub and ring. Teeth on the inside of the ring mesh with teeth on the outside of the hub at all times. When a shift is made to either high or second, the synchronising device moves as a unit toward the gear to be engaged. The speed of the hub is synchronized or made uniform with the speed of the gear by means of a conical clutch. The internal gear or ring of the synchronising unit is then released from its centrally located position on the hub and the teeth engage in the teeth of the high or second speed gear. As the two are rotating at the same speed, the meshing of these gears is effected without clashing of teeth. Shifting through the gears can be done quietly and without efforts by even the inexperienced driver.

Practically Noiseless

One great advantage of the Synchro-Silent transmission is that it is quiet at all speeds. The transmission gear teeth are cut at an angle. These are known as helical gears and are much more expensive than straight cut gears and their great advantage over spur gears is that they are quiet in operation.

Some cars have only helical second speed gears, others have helical low and second speed gears and spur reverse gears but Chrysler has helical gears throughout, including reverse for quiet operation at all speeds.

The Chrysler transmission is built not only for quiet, easy operation but for long life as well. An illustration of this can be seen in the liberal use of ball and roller bearings, there being a total of five in the transmission; three straight roller and two ball type.

Chrysler cars are sold and serviced at the Gillespie Garage, 378 Aylmer street, Peterborough.

Liberal Candidate In Edmonton

MRS. FRANK J. CONROY

old Peterborough girl who is one of the six Liberal candidates seeking election in the Edmonton ridings to the Alberta Legislature at the coming provincial election. W. R. Howson, K.C. an old Norwood boy and Liberal leader is also one of the party's candidates in the city of Edmonton.

Lithuania Sends Protest To Berlin

BERLIN, April 6 (CP-Havas). — The German Foreign Office to-day had before it a Lithuanian protest against anti-Lithuanian propaganda and anti-Lithuanian demonstrations in the Reich.

The note, delivered by Dr. Jurgis Saulys, Lithuanian Minister in Berline, to Baron Konstantin von Neurath, Reich Foreign Minister, was directed against "propaganda tantamount to meddling in Lithuanian domestic affairs by German radio and some newspapers, and anti-Lithuanian demonstrations in Berlin and other parts of Germany, particularly in Tilsit."

The protest followed within 24 hours Berlin's protest to Kaunas against anti-German demonstrations in Lithuania. The German demonstrations grew out of the sentencing of pan-German agents convicted of sedition in Klaipeda, Lithuania, (formerly Memel, Germany).

King May Select Special Talkies

LONDON, April 6 (C.P.)—The old royal custom of command performances appears to have lapsed as regards plays, but it seems as if it may be revived for films. The cinema has been one of the few forms of public entertainment at which the King and Queen rarely appear.

But twice recently, in the billiard room of Compton Palace, Eastbourne, where their Majesties stayed, talkies were shown. The Duke and Duchess of Kent made extensive use of their private cinema during their honeymoon at Himley Hall, but it must be the first time during their reign that the King and Queen have seen films on two successive evenings. The two pictures were full of action and dealt with British themes.

CITIZENS PLAN CELEBRATING OF ROYAL JUBILEE

(Continued from Page 1)

cial committee, and the city council will be asked for a grant next Monday night.

In the preliminary stage of planning it was rather definitely understood that there would not be sufficient time for a parade.

Other committeees to look after music, assembly, publicity and other phases of the celebration will be designated probably at the next geenral meeting Tuesday, April 9. The nucleus of a general committee was formed last night with the personnel of Alderman Sloan, Col. Winterbottom, Col. Stewart, F. J. Overend, president, of the Chamber of Commerce, Dr. A. Moir, chairman of the Board of Education, J. R. Corkery, chairman of the Separate School Board, with power to call in representatives of other associations.

Preparations will be exended at next Tuesday's meeting which is expected to bring out even a larger attendance than last night. Mayor Denne stated that a public holiday would be declared, and expressed confidence that Peterborough's celebration would be a memorable success. To George Patton of North Monaghan he said the city would be glad to receive the co-operation of the adjoining rural municipalities.

WESTERN KILLER RAY HAMILTON BACK IN PRISON

Desperado, Once Companion of Notorious Clyde Barrow Taken Without Shot.

FACES DEATH IN CHAIR.

DALLAS, Tex., April 6. (CP). Raymond Hamilton, southwestern desperado and one of a trio labelled by the United States Department of Justice as No. 1 public enemies, was behind bars to-day for the first time since he escaped from the Texas penitentiary death row.

The slippery 22 year old bandit, an understudy of the slain Clyde Barrow and ranked in the criminal world with Alvin Karpis and Thomas H. Robinson was captured last night without a shot being fired.

Although he had sworn never to be taken alive, Hamilton submitted meekly when Sheriff Smoot Schmid, his deputies and Fort Worth officers encountered the bandit in the railroad yards at Fort Worth.

Deputy Sheriff Bill Decker of Dallas county poked a gun into his ribs and told him "Hoist 'em, Ray" and Hamilton obeyed.

Hamilton was rushed to the Dallas County jail, where plans were made to take him to the prison at Huntsville for electrocution as the murderer of Major Crowson, prison guard slain in a penitentiary delivery engineered by Barrow.

The desperado maintained, even in the face of the capture that meant his almost certain death, the air of bravado he had carried through his widespread depredations.

Obituary

MRS. FRANCIS H. SCULLY

(Examiner Jorrespondence)

DOWNEYVILLE, April 6. — There passed away very suddenly at her home here on Friday night, Mrs. F. H. Scully, beloved wife of Francis H. Scully in her 68th year. The deceased who was born in Enniskmore leaves to mourn her loss, besides her sorrowing husband, several brothers and sisters. The funeral will be held on Monday morning at 10.00 o'clock to St. Luke's church and cemetery.

800 Men Lose Their Jobs!

If you lose your job, the Ontario Government may be to blame

(From Mail and Empire, April 5th.)

Hydro Blow Hits Plant in Hamilton

Orders With Westinghouse Cancelled by Quebec Companies.

800 TAKEN OFF WORK

Special to The Mail and Empire.

Hamilton, April 4.—Repudiation of power contracts by the Ontario Government struck a serious blow to industry and to 800 workingmen of Hamilton to-day when Beauharnois and Maclaren-Quebec Power Company orders being filled by the Canadian Westinghouse Company here were cancelled. Work was stopped soon after officials of the power firms were in communication with Paul J. Myler, president of the Westinghouse Company. Mr. Myler said temporary employment in other departments had been found for the army of skilled workers, but they could not be taken care of for long.

For the Quebec companies the Westinghouse was manufacturing circuit-breakers, transformers, one of the largest motor generator sets ever to be built, a frequency changer with 120,000 horsepower rating, all to be completed this year. Most of the orders were well advanced. Some machinery was shipped and other equipment was ready. Special specifications were prepared for the particular type of equipment required and it would be of no use elsewhere, it was stated.

Confirming the report that work had ceased, Mr. Myler said the situation was serious as it meant the working schedule would be sharply curtailed during the next year. He explained that the mills had been working three or four days a week for 20 months. "It is terrible," said Mr. Myler in stating the loss of the huge orders meant that the company would have to reduce working days. For the next year 800 skilled men would be affected by the suspension of work, he added.

Companies supplying raw materials for these orders employ many men and they will share the same fate as the Westinghouse, for the order to stop work will be passed along and many will suffer.

This announcement is of vital importance to every wage and salary earner

THESE 800 men will be taken off work by one company. But hundreds of other men whose firms supply equipment to power companies may also lose their jobs.

Why? Because the Ontario Government proposes to cancel certain power contracts which were entered into in good faith by the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission with certain power companies.

This proposed cancellation may not yet have affected the firm that you work for. But neither you, nor your employer, can tell what will happen. That the repudiation of the contracts will affect you unfavourably is almost inevitable.

Let us show you why. If your employer uses hydro electric power (whether it be to run sewing machines or drive great power units) he may shortly be faced with acute competition from manufacturers in Quebec, because these manufacturers will be able to buy power at a price for which Ontario Hydro cannot possibly supply it to your employer. If this happens, your employer may be compelled to transfer a part, if not all, of his operations to the Province of Quebec.

Why? Because the power companies whose contracts are to be cancelled will be compelled to find another market for their power . . . and the logical, natural market is Quebec Province.

Competition knows no provincial boundaries. If it is advantageous . . . vital, even . . . for your employer to move all or part of his plant to Quebec in order to produce his goods at competitive prices, then many of his employees in Ontario will lose their jobs or, at best, may have to move their homes to Quebec Province. Do you want this to happen?

The Ontario Government in putting its case before the people by its radio addresses, only stated one side of the matter. That wasn't fair. They should have stated the other side of the question so that citizens could form an unbiased opinion.

This question shouldn't be a political question. It is a matter that affects wages, salaries, homes and lives of almost all Ontario citizens.

Give this matter thought. If you believe that this proposed cancellation of power contracts is likely to cause you to lose your job, write, telephone or wire at once to your local member at the Parliament Buildings in Toronto and tell him what you think about it.

Power Securities Protective Committee

E. V. THLSON, Tillsonburg, Chairman — I. E. WELDON, K.C., Secretary

82 King St. East, Toronto — ELgin 4285

T. L. Church Advocates Wide Amendments to Criminal Code

URGE FINE, JAIL FOR NOT HALTING AT TRAIN TRACKS

Driver Involved in Fatal Crash Liable to 6 Months Jail—2 Years Loss Permit.

BOND FOR DAMAGES.

(By Harry W. Anderson.)

OTTAWA, April 6.—Thomas L. Church, Conservative member for Toronto East, has given formal notice of important amendments in connection with the operation of motor cars. These have been prepared as a result of his former appeal to the House for stricter control of and sterner penalties for reckless driving, and are the result of conferences with the officials of the Justice Department. It is proposed to amend the bill by adding thereto the following sections:

"5. The first five lines of subsection 4 of Section 285 of the said act, as enacted by Section 6 of Chapter 11 of the statutes of 1930, are repealed and the following are substituted therefor:

An Offense

"4. Every one who, while under the influence of alcohol or other narcotics, drives any motor vehicle or automobile, or has the care or control of a motor vehicle or automobile, whether it is in motion or not, shall be guilty of an offense and shall be liable."

"6. Every one is guilty of an indictable offense and liable to one year's imprisonment or a fine of $200, or to both fine and imprisonment, who drives any automobile or motor vehicle upon a street, road, highway or any other public place in a race, whether prearranged or not, or for a bet or wager, or incites another to a dangerous or furious speed by striving to pass him, or by endeavoring to cut in ahead or another car causes an accident or injury to another car or cars, or engages in racing one car against another on the spur of the moment, or drives or races wantonly or furiously or with reckless disregard to human life and safety, having regard to all the circumstances of the case.

Railway Crossing Stop

"7. Every person who is driving an automobile or motor vehicle toward a level crossing over the tracks of any railway, and who does not bring it to a stop before approaching or attempting to go over such level crossing, shall on summary conviction be liable to a fine of not less than $30 and costs or to imprisonment for not less than thirty days.

"8. Every one is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to two years' imprisonment and a fine not exceeding $200 who, having caused the death of any person while driving an automobile or motor vehicle, thereafter drives an automobile or motor vehicle at any time during the ensuing two years, whether such death was caused entirely or partially by fault of such driver.

"9. A person who, by the operation or use of any vehicle in a culpably negligent manner, but not wilfully or wantonly, occasions the death of another person, is guilty of the crime of involuntary homicide and, upon conviction, shall be punishable by imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months, or by a fine of not more than $100, or by both. The term 'vehicle' shall be held to include every conveyance in, on, or about which persons or property may be transported upon or under the land, upon, under, or through water, or in, or through the air.

"10. In any prosecution under the preceding section, whether the defendant was driving in a culpably negligent manner shall be a question of fact for the jury, and shall not depend upon the rate of speed fixed by law for operating such vehicle.

Award of Damages.

"11. Any court, Judge or Magistrate on the trial of any offence under the provisions of this section, may, upon the application of any person aggrieved and immediately after the conviction of the offender, award any sum of money, not exceeding $1,000, by property, costs, and expenses suffered by the applicant through or by means of the offence of which such person is so convicted, and such court, Judge or Magistrate, conditioned to pay the amount so awarded, or such sum as may be determined in any civil action, and, if the accused does not pay the amount so awarded or any fine imposed, or enter into a sufficient bond for the payment thereof as aforesaid, the court, Judge or Magistrate may commit the accused to jail for a term not exceeding one year, or until such time as the said bond is duly executed.

"12. The amount awarded for such satisfaction or compensation, and costs and expenses shall be deemed a judgment debt due to the person entitled to receive the same from the person so convicted, and the order for payment of such amount may be enforced in such and the same manner as in the case of any costs and expenses ordered by the court, Judge or Magistrate to be paid by the person convicted under the provisions of Section 1044 of the Criminal Code."

Snake Bit Hand That Feeds Him

NEW YORK, April 6 (C.P.)—Peter, a 100-pound boa constrictor, hadn't enough appetite to put away six dozen eggs and 64 pounds of meat. But he showed a taste for the hand of his master.

Peter only gets fed four or five times a year, but when he eats he eats plenty. "Cap'n Bill" Ray, owner of a Broadway museum, presented him with a periodical repast the other day. Peter is shedding his skin—getting ready for the Easter parade—and was lethargic. So "Cap'n Bill" propped his mouth open and served him his meal by plunging a feed laden arm into the snake's insides.

When the Cap'n withdrew his hand the last time something went wrong. Horrified spectators saw Peter had a human thumb fast in his grip. Ray managed to tear his lacerated thumb loose, and got it cauterized at a hospital.

He said he hoped Peter had a stomach-ache.

SCENIC DRIVE BEAUTY URGED

Horticultural Society Can Use Spare Plants From Gardens.

PLAN TREE PLANTING

Citizens who have more perennial flower plants than they need are requested to contribute the surplus to the Beautification committee of the Horticultural Society for use on the society's scenic drive. Plants will be gratefully received by Joseph S. Bell, 203 Hunter street.

For instance during the Spring gardening work of preparing flower beds for the summer the roots of older perrenial phlox should be divided into three or four parts. This sub-division provides more roots than are needed, and often they are thrown away.

New signs are to be set, marking the scenic drive, and it is hoped the citizens will co-operate with the society in beautifying the lawns and boulevards along these streets. Walnut and beech trees that have been developing in a nursery will be planted along the drive this spring. Any citizen who would take care of these trees in front of their homes are requested to notify Mr. Bell. It is intended that the trees should be planted in groups if possible.

A beautiful cup is offered by the Society to the citizen who makes the greatest improvement to the grounds about his home this year. If you live along the Horticultural Drive you are invited to enter this competition now. The committee will do all they can to help you.

BELMONT PIONEER IS 82 YEARS OLD

David Little, an Active Member of Orange Order for Past 66 Years.

HAVELOCK, April 6 (Examiner Correspondence).—David Little, Belmont pioneer, celebrates his eighty-second birthday tomorrow with his sons, Joseph and Harry, in Havelock. Born in Rawdon Township the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Little, he came to Belmont fifty years ago to the log cabin now occupied by him nine miles east of the village on the Cordova road. He was engaged in the lumber industry and employed at railway construction work for some time. For the past sixty-six years he has been an active member of Blairton L.O.L. No. 1353 and in that time was Worshipful Master for seven consecutive years and never missed a walk for any reason whatever. He was made an honorary life member of the lodge by the Grand Lodge a number of years ago.

For his advanced years he is exceptionally bright and enjoys the full use of all his faculties. His black curly hair unmarred by many years of hard work is a source of pride to this fine old gentleman who attributes longevity to plenty of hard work. He was one of the first men to discover gold in the ledyard property of the Cordova Coal Area in Belmont and Lake townships.

Being well and favorably known in this district the best wishes of the community extend him the age old wish of "Many happy returns of the day."

DISCUSS FEE HIGHWAY USE ON LOAD BASIS

Transport Men Hear of Other Country Systems of Highway-Railway Co-ordination.

AT TORONTO CONVENTION

TORONTO, April 6.—(CP).—Need to determine the "elusive figure" of true highway cost for freight purposes in solution of the transportation problem was questioned to-day by T. E. McDonnell, president and general manager of the Canadian Pacific Express Company, in an address on highway-railway co-ordination before the Toronto Railway Club. Members of the Industrial Traffic League, Transportation Club and Automotive Transport Association were present.

"Commercial traffic men who negotiate with rail freight traffic men, those transportation rates which move the commerce of the country, do not spend their time in the railway engineering and accounting departments trying to ascertain the cost of the railway or its right of way," he said. "They are interested in the commercial necessities of the traffic and the value of the use of railway facilities for moving it."

Because the highway cost figure was so elusive "and perhaps unnecessary," a suggestion has been offered that provincial authorities might discontinue search for it and provide by legislation an annual rental fee to be charged for trucks licensed beyond reasonable local zones, basing it upon the common factor of the load placed on highways by the combined weight of truck and licensed capacity load.

The figure proposed was a rate to represent the value of the public highways to those desiring to use them as a right-of way over which to transport for profit, and with regard to the national necessity of maintaining a complete transportation system.

The suggestion contemplated two distinct kinds of truck license—one a local license good within defined local areas, the other authorizing general movement anywhere in the province.

Such a plan would require no new tax-supported body to administer, and would be easy to police. Special fees would be assessed against trailers not contributing through the gasoline tax.

To prevent "local" trucks moving beyond their prescribed areas, the speaker suggested the driver's licence include a description of the zone within which the vehicle could operate lawfully.

He referred to a chart setting out costs and advertised rates for highway transportation between representative Ontario points, and the corresponding railway rates.

Explains Railway Rates.

The question might be asked, Mr. McDonnell remarked, why railways set station-to-station rates at the existing figures if railway ton-mile costs were less than truck costs.

"If practically all our railway traffic consisted of high-class, high-rate traffic, the railway class rate structure would be very different. The bulk of railway tonnage is low-rate traffic. Truck operators generally solicit traffic on which they hope to make a profit. Railways must carry what is left. If truckers' transportation licenses were issued contingent upon operators carrying some adequate proportion of the low-class traffic and primary products, their total revenue requirements would necessitate much higher rates for high-class traffic."

Mr. McDonnell reviewed the studies and conclusions of commissions which had considered the railway-highway problem in various countries. The Duff Commission in Canada held "by concentrating less on mutual competition and by turning their energies to the co-ordination of the services they provide a properly co-ordinated system of transport will be evolved."

In the United States, Joseph Eastman, federal co-ordinator of transportation, recommended "all the important forms of transportation be brought under the same degree of regulation by the Federal Government and by a single centralized agency which can deal with them all equally and impartially without any conflict of politics."

Great Britain's Salter Committee recommended increased license fees for goods vehicles, and expressed the belief their enforcement would tend toward co-ordination with rail transport.

The speaker referred particularly to the Irish Free State's Road Transport Act, especially the establishment of circular zones, around the cities, designated as exempted areas within which special transport licenses are unrequired. Beyond these, the railway tribunal has complete jurisdiction over rates, classification and weights of vehicles. Railways are authorized to perform road service and take over any licensed operator with provision for arbitration of price.

He quoted the English publication, "Modern Transport," to the effect both road and rail service returns in the Free State show substantial increase since the act came into operation.

Hugo Brassey, the wealthy young Australian rancher, who was rumored to be engaged to Lili Damita, the motion picture actress, last summer, is preparing to sail from Brisbane to England in a motor launch.

Wells Disclaims Pride as Artist

NEW YORK, April 6 (C.P.)—H. G. Wells, distinguished British author, considers himself "a journalist and a literary hack." He said so in addressing the Authors Club of New York on his recent visit to the United States.

Wells said the book of which he was most nearly proud was "Tono Bungay," one of his pre-war novels. Though "irregular in merit," it was "entirely honorable in intent," he said. The author said, much as he would like to think of himself as a literary artist, he could find little in his own work of which as an artist he could be proud.

Bensfort

Mr. and Mrs. John Brackenridge entertained the Euchre Club this week. The ladies' prize was won by Mrs. Pearl Jewison and the gent's prize by Mr. Charles Barnard. The ladies' consolation went to Miss Betty Perrin and the gent's consolation to Mr. Jack Varcoe. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. George Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Perrin, Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Rutherford, Misses Grace Finnie, Mildred Hall, Audrey Barnard, Bessie Barnard, Mrs. Everett Wood, Betty Perin and Messrs. Chas. Barnard, H. C. Howson, Trevor Wood, Frank Barnard, Mrs. James Hall.

On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Judson Pue and family and Miss Jean Stinson motored to Millbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dawson motored to Peterborough on Wednesday.

Mrs. H. C. Howson and daughter, Betty Joan, have returned from Toronto, where Mrs. Howson attended a tea given in honor of her mother, Mrs. Sykes, who is this year celebrating her 80th birthday. Mrs. Sykes returned to South Monaghan with Mrs. Howson.

On Wednesday evening the Bensfort Once-a-Week Club held their meeting at the church. Mr. W. C. Dawson gave a very interesting topic. A debate, "Resolved that the spendthrift does more for mankind than the miser" was taken by Mrs. Grace Finnie and Mrs. C. Emberson on the affirmative side and Mr. Lloyd Piphar and Robert Dawson on the negative. The judges, Mr. William Wood and Jack Staples decided on the negative as the winners. It was decided to close the contest next week, and the losers will put on a banquet at Easter. The Club are also planning to put on a Cantata at Easter.

Poland is aiding its farmers.

My nerves were terrible!

"Couldn't do a tap of work . . . sick, nervous headaches, restless nights, made life miserable for me. After taking Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills I feel fine again." That's the daily experience of thousands of people—young and old—all over Canada. This old, reliable remedy tones up the nerves, enriches blood, rebuilds health and strength. Try it.

The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

MILBURN'S HEALTH AND NERVE PILLS

for Weak and Nervous People

RENNIE SEED

Finest IN THE LAND

SPECIAL OFFER

Early Klondyke Cosmos Orange Flare

One of the most discussed and enthusiastically admired novelties of the day. Handsomely listed at 25c. Special: Send 10c for trial packet. Rennie's Seed Annual for 1935. Canada's most complete and most beautiful gardening guide, sent free with your order. Order early, and enjoy one of the most delightful garden novelties to grace.

Wm. RENNIE SEEDS Limited TORONTO ALSO MONTREAL AND VANCOUVER

5 famous FEATURES and you get them Only in the STYLE and QUALITY Car in the Low-Price Field

FOR 1935, the Master Chevrolet improves on its own famous quality record of last year—offering you five famous modern features, not one of which can you get on any other car in Chevrolet's price class!

"Turret Top" Fisher body—the first real all-steel body ever offered in the low price field! KNEE-ACTION—for safety and comfort! Blue Flame Engine—the valve-in-head type used in costly cars! Cable-Controlled Brakes—weatherproof, positive and always equalized! No-Draft Ventilation—the famous Fisher all-weather system!

When you can get all these features of beauty—performance—easy-riding—safety—dependability—in only one low-priced car . . . see and drive that car before you buy! Call in today at our showrooms. We have a new, 1935 Chevrolet Master Six all ready for you to "take the wheel"—and prove for yourself that you get more quality at lower cost in Chevrolet!

PRICED FROM $885 (For the Master 2-Pass. Coupe) DELIVERED, FULLY EQUIPPED, AT FACTORY, OSHAWA, ONT. FREIGHT AND GOVERNMENT LICENSE ONLY EXTRA.

STANDARD SERIES MODELS AS LOW AS $722 DELIVERED AT FACTORY

Master CHEVROLET

J. K. HUGHES, LIMITED

Water and Hunter Streets, Peterborough Phone 1347

A. TINNEY & SON, Associated Dealer, Cavan

FOR ECONOMICAL TRANSPORTATION

Alemiting
Change to Summer Lubricants
Gillespie Garage
"Service That is Service"
378 Aylmer St. Phone 950

See the New 1935
Kelvinator Refrigerators
On Display.
TERMS ARRANGED.
Complete Electric Refrigerator Repair Department. All makes repaired. Factory trained men.
JOHNSTON
a,t,t-tf

Dr. T. P. McCullough
Specialist
Phone 36-W 160 Brock Street
Peterborough
Eye Ear Nose Throat and Sinus Work
All styles of Frames and Glasses greatly reduced in price
dtf-8278

DUFFUS FUNERAL SERVICE
Open All Night.
PHONES - 1768, 1769, 1173W
Sat.-tf

24-HOUR SERVICE
We Specialize in Re-Building Automobiles that have been Wrecked. Body and Fender Repairs Welding, etc. Also Re-painting and Re-Fin'shing All Jobs Guaranteed.
J. J. DUFFUS COMPANY
PETERBOROUGH
Tues.-Sat.-tf

DOES YOUR ROOF LEAK
Why Not Re-Roof Now!
We carry in stock a full line of Shingles, B. C., Quebec and Ontario Cedar, Asphalt or Asbestos Shingles, Roll Roofing.
Prices on request.
The Peterborough Lumber Co. Limited
163 Hunter St. W.
Phone 3160
2d-30,3,6

REDUCED COAL PRICES
PRESENT PRICES FOR OUR BLUE COAL AS FOLLOWS:

Egg Coal	13.75	Nut -	13.75
Stove Coal	14.00	Pea -	11.75
Scotch - - - - -			15.50

WITH A CASH DISCOUNT OF 50c PER TON.
Also Pocahontas, Coke and Steam Coal. Good Mixed Wood at $4.00 Per ½ Cord.
Est. J. E. A. FITZGERALD PHONE 110-111 253 HUNTER ST
2d-34-3914

SPECIAL SALE
- OF -
ELECTRIC FIXTURES
April 6th to April 20th
33⅓% DISCOUNT
off Every Fixture in Our Showroom!
Cost and Below Cost!
MILLER-POWELL COMPANY

The Peterborough Examiner

PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, CANADA, SATURDAY, APRIL 6, 1935

LOCALS

SPECIAL

A real Mixed Wood (big per cent of Hardwood) as long as it lasts: $4 00 per half cord; cut. Best value in city. Phone 110 J. E. A. Fitzgerald; Coal and Wood.
8d,83,9842

BUY COAL AT NEW LOW PRICES

Also best grades Dry Wood, measured and cut to your order. —
RED JACKET COAL
EGG OR LUMP
(Rescreened)
$9.50 per Ton, Delivered
Order through your dealers
dtaf,8673

HARD COAL.

Lowest Spring prices on Anthracite Coal in effect to-day: Stove $14.00 per ton. Nut and Egg, $13.75; Pea, $11.75; Scotch $15.50.—Phone 96. McCarthy & Johnston
dtf-9919

SWEET PEAS.

Plant quickly as possible for best results. Fancy Wavy Spencer Mixed, 30c per Oz. Petunias Snapdragon, Verbenas etc., should also be planted now. Peterborough Floral Co., 347 George Street. 3d-83-9907

GRENFELL MISSION.

The local branch of Grenfell Labrador Mission makes its annual appeal for funds. Kindly leave donations at The Examiner Office or send to the treasurer, Mrs. F. M. Somerville, 16 Inverlea street.
w,s.-Apl. 30

DO YOU KNOW

that 85% of all we learn is through our eyes? To be assured yours are functioning 100%, consult E. Warren Kee, optometrist, 172 Charlotte, office in Harris Drug Store. 'Phone 527. w,h,tf

AN ILLUSTRATED LECTURE.

On the production of Spode China will be given by Mr. Harry T. Thompson, of Copeland and Duncan, on Monday, April 8, at 8.15 p.m., in Y.M.C.A., under auspices of Peter Robinson Chapter, I.O.D. E. Many valuable pieces of Spode will be on exhibition. Admission 25c.
2d-3-6-9890.

HEATING, TINSMITHING, PLUMBING

Have W. R. Turner, 195 Simcoe Street. Phone 591
REPAIR YOUR HEATING SYSTEM
Agents for Beeks Furnaces
t,t,s—tf

KING EDWARD HOME AND SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

Tea at home of Mrs. H. Turner, 554 Douglas avenue, Wednesday, April 10th, from 3-6. Silver collection.
1d-83-313.

Members will parade at All Saints' Church at 6.45 p.m. on Sunday, April 7, for church service in conjunction with 21st Battalion Association. Speaker, Rev. Major Kidd, padre of 21st Battalion.—M. R. Sloan, Pres., Branch 52, Canadian Legion. 2d,84,9928

"Diamond For April"
Our new Blue Bird Diamond Rings are made in 18-kt. gold and are very attractive. When purchasing a Diamond Ring, buy a BLUE BIRD quality which is absolutely perfect.
Priced at $15.00, $25.00 and up.
Be sure you attend the Lecture and Exhibit of fine Spode China at the Y.M.C.A. Monday evening. Sponsored by the Peter Robinson Chapter (I. O. D. E.)
WARNE'S
DIAMOND HALL
Phone 880

PUBLIC LIBRARY CLOSED

The Public Library will be closed on Sunday until further notice is given.

NOTICE

The men of the Sacred Heart Parish will receive Holy Communion in a body at the 8 o'clock Mass, Sunday, April 7th.

BUILDING.

We build modern new homes. Additions and alterations. Ask for my quotation. M. T. Hickey. 'Phone 2024.
1d-83-312.

LOCAL AND LONG DISTANCE HAULING.

Everything handled with care. James Griffin. 'Phone 3030.
3d,85,9923

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. William Stanley and family wish to thank all those who in any way helped and expressed their sympathy in the passing of their son and brother, Mr. Ernest Stanley.

DRUG STORE OPEN SUNDAY

Tomorrow, Sunday, April 7, Borland's Drug Store will be open all day. 222 Charlotte St., near Aylmer.
1d,83,319

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. W. B. Williamson and family, Millbrook, wish to thank the many friends and neighbors for kind expressions of sympathy, and floral tributes, in their recent sad bereavement.

KING GEORGE HOME AND SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.

Meeting Tuesday, April 9 in Kindergarten room at 8 p.m. Good program. Silver collection. Everybody welcome.
1d-83-309.

CENTRAL HOME AND SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

will hold their regular meeting on Monday, April 8 at 8 p.m. Guest speaker Mr. A. R. Piper. Good program. Fathers specially invited.
1d-83-316

C. C. F.

Under auspices of the Peterborough C.C.F. Club the following meetings will be addressed by Dr. Lorne Cotton as follows: Mon., April 8, Stewart's Hall; Wednesday, April 10, Buckhorn; Fri., April 12, Douro; April 14, Paragon Hall, Peterborough, (educational meeting). Time of meetings, 8 p.m.
1d,83,315

CANCER

Miss Rene M. Caisse (Case), 190 Reid street, Peterborough, Ont., is getting remarkable results in her treatment of cancer. If you will come to her, with your doctor's written diagnosis and permission she will treat you.
You may write to her at above address for particulars. 1d,83,131

COUNTY L.O.L. NOTICE

A special County Meeting will be held in the Brock Street Hall, Monday, April 8th, 8 o'clock. The Orange degree team from Reaboro will be present to exemplify the Orange degree. The following Grand Lodge Officers will be present: R.W. Bro. E. F. Reid, G.M. of Ont. East; R.W. Bro. E. N. Michael, D.G.M. of Ont. East; Right Wor. Sir Knight R. Ritchie, G.B.P. Ont. East. All members are urgently requested to be present. H. Welch, County Master. 1d,83,318

BORN

CROWE.—At Nicholls Hospital, on Saturday, April 6th, to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Crowe, 314 Townsend street, (nee Florence Young), a son.

DIED

SCULLY.—At Downeyville, on Friday, April 5, 1935, Anna Maria Sullivan, beloved wife of Frank H. Scully.
The funeral will be held from the family residence at Downeyville, Monday, April 8, at 9 a.m., to St. Luke's Church and Cemetery.

One hundred and sixty trade associations and crafts in Shanghai, China, have formed a China Trade and Industrial Rehabilitation Association, which will undertake new measures to meet the economic depression in the country.

Y.M.C.A. DRIVE STARTS MONDAY

Annual Canvass For Funds Will Get Away on Monday Evening.

TEAM ARE SELECTED.

One of the strongest organizations in some years is ready to start on the annual Y.M.C.A. financial campaign on Monday. Under the chairmanship of Charles Shaw, who led the "Y" forces to a splendid success last year, the organization plans have moved steadily toward a climax and twelve teams embracing nearly one hundred men are waiting confidently for the gun on Monday evening. Those who took part in last year's effort not only performed a real service in the interests of the Youth of Peterborough, but at the same time enjoyed themselves in a real way. The report meetings were lively and fun-provoking, while at the same time serious business was undertaken.

Every worker is expected to be on hand on Monday evening for the open-supper meeting, which will be addressed by John A. Tory of the Sun Life Assurance Company. Mr. Tory was the general chairman of the Toronto Y.M.C.A. campaign in January when over $100,000 was raised for the current budget. This is the first time in several years that the objective has been exceeded in Toronto. Mr. Tory is a forceful speaker and an arresting personality and the committee are fortunate in securing him for the occasion. Several novel features are planned for the opening meeting. The service clubs are giving hearty support to this annual effort, and the board of directors are confident that the results will surpass even the splendid returns of last year.

Division "A" is led by Clifford N. Hall, and the teams are as follows:

Team No. 1.—J. F. Reed (capt.), Jas. Juby, G. H. Eastwood, F. M. Somerville, V. S. Foster, R. Williams.

Team No. 2.—Chas. D. Daniel (capt.), R. B. White, S. G. Payne, F. Holmes, H. Tudnope, H. Renill, P. G. Wallace.

Team No. 3.—T. A. Mackay (capt.), J. A. McKone, Dr. H. M. Yeland, A. MacNab, A. M. Donnelly.

Team No. 4.—Chief Gimblett, A. M. Fitzgerald, J. H. Matthews, J. T. Hornsby, C. G. Garrison, W. Stanbury.

Team No. 5.—C. J. Ray, C. R. Rogers, E. Metcalfe, J. Dewart, J. K. Hughes.

Team No. 6.—F. Hills (capt.), L. S. Killaly, M. Bissell, G. H. Cutmore, V. M. Eastwood.

Division "B" is under the leadership of Clare G. Collins, with the following teams:—

Team No. 7.—J. S. Boyd (capt.), R. A. Brown, D. T. Crawford, E. W. Jones, J. Thornton, J. E. Short.

Team No. 8.—W. L. Ferguson, (capt.), F. E. Johnson, L. W. Copp, C. H. Elliott, Hugh Waddell, R. D. Taylor.

Team No. 9.—A. L. Elliott (capt.), Rufus Payne, C. A. Sollitt, F. Trimble, Dr. R. Honey, Ross Thompson.

Team No. 10.—C. M. Rishor (capt.), J. L. Gillespie, James Gillespie, W. J. Hamilton, A. D. Runions, R. French.

Team No. 11.—C. Lacheur (capt.), A. R. Piper, H. C. Scotcheran, I. T. Lillico, Chas. H. Saunders, E. M. Turner.

Team No. 12. — R. J. Goring (capt.), S. I. Puttenham, P. P. Westbye, R. T. E. Hicks-Lyne, H. A. Wilson, W. H. Kidd.

The Special Names Committee is under the direction of W. A. Richardson with the following: R. L. Dobbin, G. A. Gillespie, J. Hamilton, G. S. Matthews and J. R. Marshall.

BORN

REID.—At Nicholls Hospital, Wednesday, April 3, 1935, to Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Reid of Otonabee, a daughter.

IN MEMORIAM.

BRAY. — In loving memory of Herbert C. Bray, who passed away ..April 7th, 1922.

We have only your memory, dear brother,
To remember the whole life through;
But the sweetness will linger for ever
As we treasure the image of you.

—Sadly missed by Sister and Brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. S. Sandy, Lindsay.

Coal Prices Reduced
For Spring Delivery
BUY NOW
Nut Coal..$13.75 per ton
Stove Coal. 14.00 per ton
Egg Nut .. 13.75 per ton
Pea Coal.. 11.75 per ton
Scotch Coal 15.50 per ton
Also Good Mixed Wood at $4.00 ½ Cord, Cut
PETERBORO FUEL & TRANSFER CO., LTD.
Phone 270.

MAIN STREET TOPICS

Jabs and Jottings as Picked Up by an Examiner Reporter.

ROLLER SKATING ON PAVEMENT

Chief Newhall today warned children against roller skating on the city pavements. "One of these days a child is going to be struck by a car and be badly hurt," commented the chief.

It was reported that at the corner of Brock and Aylmer streets yesterday a group of children were skating back and forth across the road. Several of them narrowly missed being struck down.

STRUCK BY CAR

Helen Davis, 557 Parnell street, was struck by a car driven by Valletta Drain, Warsaw, last evening at the corner of Water and Hunter streets. It was reported to police that Miss Davis in company with Mrs. E. Spinks, 311 McDonnel street, was walking diagonally across the intersection. Miss Drain was driving south and had the green light with her. Police said the pedestrians had disregarded the lights. Miss Davis was attended by Dr. Hewett. She suffered bruises on her forehead and elbow.

SHIPMENT OF STEERS

One of the largest single shipments of cattle from Peterborough in some months past was made yesterday when 30 steers were loaded for delivery in Montreal by the C.N.R. A select lot, the steers averaged 1,200 pounds in weight.

The animals were from the farms of George Mullen and A. R. Fitzgerald in Smith township, consigned to a Montreal abattoir.

WARRIOR'S BALL

Bus Browne's eleven piece orchestra from Toronto has been secured to play at the annual Warriors' Ball which is being held in the Legion Hall on Monday, April 29. The Browne orchestra is a very popular organization in Toronto having played this year at the Robert Simpson Company and T. Eaton Company 'At Homes'; The Royal Bank 'At Home' and the Ontario College of Pharmacy annual dance

SPRING COAT

A request has come in for a woman's spring coat, size 38. This is a hard-working mother of a family that has encountered more than its share of trouble in depressed times, and there is illness in the house as well. A response to this request would be most welcome. Please telephone Miss McCarthy at The Examiner and we will call.

LIBERALS MEET

A most enthusiastic dinner was held in the Canadian Legion Hall by the executive and poll chairmen of the West Peterborough Liberal Association. There were over 250 chairmen and vice-chairmen present, and reports showed that a most complete organization had been formed in the riding. George McPhee, K.C., M.P., of Yorkton, Saskatchewan, was the principal speaker.

VILLAGE SEEKS CANCELLATION HYDRO CONTRACT

Alvinston Would Imitate Ontario Gov't—Unable to Finance Bill.

FIRMS QUIT USING POWER.

Only Snag Says Roebuck is That Contract is Legal and Enforceable.

ALVINSTON, Ont., April 6 (C.P.)—Reeve George Annett, who yesterday wrote to Queen's Park to find out if this village might follow the Ontario Government and declare its contract with the Hydro Commission invalid, to-day stated some of the reasons why he would like to take that action.

Back in 1920 the citizens voted unanimously for electric power in this Western Ontario village, despite a warning from the Commission the power lines would have to take a circuitous route and the cost would be high. The cost per horse-power is $90 a year, the highest in the Province.

The village has not been able to finance its last bill to the Commission, and is going into debt. . .

The rate charged is so high the people are giving up their electric lights and using oil lamps.

A majority of the villagers were aged retired farmers. The farmers are dying off and the farmers in the surrounding area cannot afford to retire and settle in the village.

What few local industries there are have found electricity too expensive and have given it up for other forms of power.

The villagers feel if Ontario can cancel its power contracts with Quebec firms, because they are illegal and unenforceable, why can't they void their own contract with Ontario Hydro. It was made when times were booming too.

The only trouble seems to be, as Attorney-General Arthur Roebuck explained yesterday, the contract between the village and the Province is both legal and enforceable. It was made legal by a Bill in the Legislature.

DIED

FLEMING.—At Bonarlaw, on Friday, April 5, 1935, Mrs. Delbert Fleming, in her 43rd year.
The funeral service will be held on Sunday, April 7, 1935, from St. Mark's Church.

IN MEMORIAM

WRIGHT—In fond and loving memory of Helen Wright who was drowned April 6, 1929.
Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break but all in vain:
To have, to love, and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.

The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never—
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.
—Ever remembered by father, mother, sisters and brothers.

COAL PRICES DOWN!
EGG COAL . . $13.75 NUT COAL . . . 13.75
STOVE COAL . 14.00 PEA COAL . . . 11.75
Discount of 50c per ton for Cash on Delivery.
COKE AND POCAHONTOS AT CURRENT PRICES.
H. B. TAYLOR & SON
PHONE 209.
6d-6,9,11,13,15,17-308

Buy COAL Now
Spring Prices Announced!
NUT COAL . . . 13.75 EGG COAL . . 13.75
STOVE COAL. 14.00 PEA COAL . . . 11.75
SCOTCH COAL, 15.50
The above prices are subject to a discount of 50c per ton for payment on delivery of ton lots or over
HARDWOOD 10.00 MIXED WOOD 8.00
Per Cord, Cut.
THOS. A. REHILL CO.
210 WOLFE ST. PHONE 245

A warning has been issued by Chief Constable Newhall to parents who are letting their children play in the Ashburnham Memorial Park, while workmen are burning the grass. The children have been giving the men so much trouble that Chief Newhall has been called in and plans to take action.

Scotland has a new back-to-the-land drive.

WILLARD Storage Batteries
SALES AND SERVICE
Aldous & Metcalfe
133 BROCK ST. 'PHONE 286

DANCE TO-NIGHT
8 P.M.—ROUND AND SQUARE—8 P.M.
ADMISSION - 35 CENTS PER COUPLE — 25 CENTS SINGLE MOOSE HALL—NEXT POST OFFICE
—USUAL GOOD PRIZES—
THE BIG 5 ORCHESTRA THE BIG 5
Latterly known as WALTER FARR'S — will be in attendance, with the same High Quality of Music. NO CHANGE IN THE PERSONNEL OF THIS BAND.
A GOOD TIME — AND A GOOD CROWD ASSURED.

DANCE TO-NIGHT
At PARAGON HALL
Round and Square Dancing From 8.30 p.m.
Come and Enjoy a Good Time!
EASY ACES ADMISSION 25c

—IT'S—
◆ THE MAYFAIR ◆
TO-NIGHT
BOBBY CLIVE AND HIS ORCHESTRA
ADMISSION 10 CENTS - - DANCING 5 CENTS

RECITAL Deane Miner, Violinist
Assisted and Accompanied by Agnes Logan Green, Pianiste
Y.W.C.A., MONDAY, APRIL 8TH, 8.30 P.M.
Admission 50c.
2d-3,6-9897

SHINGLES
FROM ONTARIO CEDAR
Manufactured in Peterborough
Cut 5 x 2¼. Full 50 Tiers per Bunch
Kingdon
BARREL AND SHINGLE FACTORY
BARNARDO AVENUE
PHONE 3230
5d,29,30,3,4,6,9822

"SAN TOY"
(CHINESE MUSICAL COMEDY)
WILL BE PRESENTED IN Opera House, on Friday, April 26th
BY
CHOIR AND MEN'S ASSOCIATION OF ST. PAUL'S CHURCH
Each year these organizations unite to present a large dramatic and musical production, and each year sees their success mounting higher. Costumes will be supplied by Mallabar.
You Must See This Show—Get Tickets Now from Association or Choir Members
MARTIN B. CHENHALL, A.R.C.O., DIRECTOR
Ticket Exchange Opens Wednesday, April 24. Tickets $1, 75c, and 50c (Tax Extra)

ANNUAL SPRING. SALE OF Artistic Monuments

We have a large assortment of newest designs in our Showrooms, all marked down to ACTUAL COST PRICES
as an inducement to buyers to place their orders with us now.
This will enable us to keep our factory busy until the Summer months. These actual cost charges will be maintained until June the first, prices including lettering, carving, foundation work and erection in any cemetery in Ontario.
HIGHEST GRADE OF WORK
Our factory is equipped with the very best machines for polishing, lettering, carving and finishing, and we employ the highest paid workmen.
Our granite comes in rough blocks from the world's most famous quarries, and we guarantee our Monuments to be everlasting.
MONUMENTS ORDERED NOW CAN BE ERECTED IN TIME FOR DECORATION DAY
COUGHLIN'S MONUMENTAL WORKS
PETERBOROUGH
216 HUNTER ST. PHONE 2634-w

SALVATION ARMY IS CARRYING ON SPLENDID WORK

Vivid Glimpse of Three-Fold Work is Given the Kiwanis Club.

COL. JACOBS SPEAKS

Erroneous Ideas Concerning Army's Work Are Outlined by Speaker.

A vivid glimpse of the three-fold work for humanity in the spiritual, mental and physical realms being carried on by the Salvation Army throughout the world was presented Kiwanians by one of the Army's most distinguished veterans, Col. T. C. Jacobs of Toronto, in an address yesterday.

"That expresses in a few words the object of the Salvation Army's mission—to help spiritually, mentally and physically," Col. Jacobs said. "I have given it a lot of thought but I have been able to think of no more accurate and concise summary."

Adjutant Neil Warrender in charge of the Salvation Army in Peterborough, introduced Col. Jacobs. He said the veteran officer has given a total of fifty-two years' service. For a considerable period he was second in charge of all social activities of the Army in Great Britain and served as Salvation Army secretary for Canada. He retired fifteen years ago.

All Play in Band

Col. Jacobs spoke humorously of some of the erroneous ideas of Salvation Army activities which are current among the general public. He told of a plumber who told him, on a visit to his Toronto home recently, that he had thought all members of the Army played in the Army band of the district. The band was all he had seen of the Army activities.

Another false impression people have is that the lives of all Salvation Army women are consecrated to the saving of drunken women, he said. "Reclaiming lost women is an important work of the Army but it is only one division of a great, diversified program." Others think that the Army devotes itself to providing bread and butter for former convicts.

"Our work reaches beyond the field of the material," the speaker said. He outlined, for illustration, several actual cases in England and Canada with which he, himself, had come in contact. Along the bank of the Thames in London one night, he related, he encountered a young man contemplating suicide. He extended the material aid of the Army by providing him a job scrubbing floors. Once again earning money and able to secure a clean suit of clothes, the young man regained rapidly his self respect, and, through the contact with the Army, became a grateful recipient of the spiritual aid. That case typifies the three-sided work of the Army, the speaker said.

B. F. Chilton voiced the club's thanks to Col. Jacobs for his address.

Y.M.C.A. Campaign

Special guests of the luncheon were Ross Dobbin, Y.M.C.A. president, and his board of directors, W. A. Richardson introduced the men and urged generosity on the part of Kiwanians during the annual Y.M.C.A. canvass next week. Charles Saunders boosted for Dennis Fitzgerald during the meeting.

Many members signed up for a trip to Lindsay Tuesday evening where the Lindsay Kiwanis are celebrating a charter night. The Peterborough members are responsible for the program.

Girl Asks $100,000 From Film Magnate

NEW YORK, April 6 (A.P.).—Colette Francois, 21-year-old French music student, testified to-day she took her first and last alcoholic drink in April, 1930 on the night when she charges Arthur M. Loew seduced her.

She said that Loew, wealthy film executive, whom she is suing for $100,000 in the Supreme Court, gave her champagne and seduced her in a Paris hotel.

While 300 persons, unable to gain entrance to the crowded courtroom, waited outside, she told her story to Justice Aaron J. Levy and the jury.

"Do you drink now?" Defence Counsel Nathan Burkan queried.

"Water," responded the flaxen-haired Parisienne.

"Did you drink at any time in your life?" he continued.

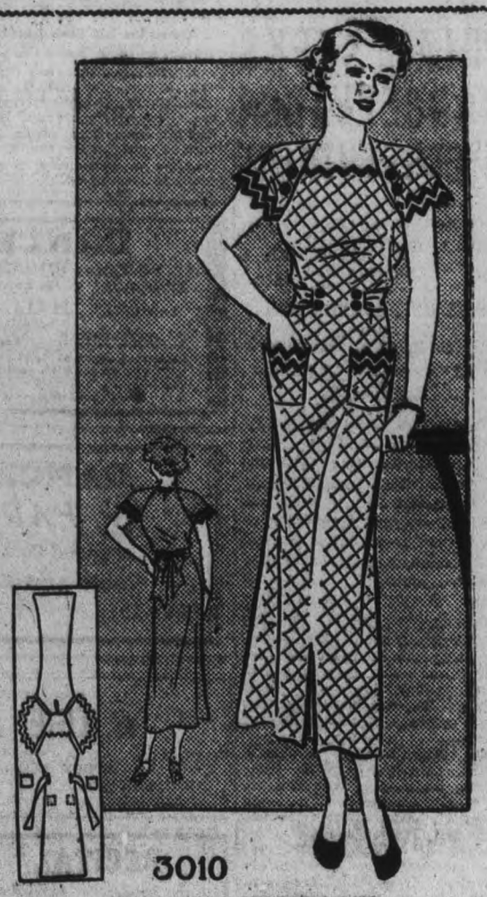
"Only when I saw Mr. Loew. It was the first time in my life. Never before or since."

She testified she had never heard of Loew prior to meeting him in March, 1930, when she was taking a Mediterranean cruise with her mother.

Because revolutionists who commandeered his farm in 1920 moved the oats in his barn so that his horse ate so much of the grain that it died, Joseph O'Farrell of Bakkinalee, Irish Free State, is trying to collect $140, the price of the animal, from the county.

DON'T BE FOOLED

FASHION SERVICE



HOME FROCK—YOUTHFUL LINE

This youthful home frock is smart enough to wear all summer for mornings, for porch, market or the beach.

Interesting, too, because it is so very simple and easily made. Just a one-piece affair with cleverly designed caped shoulder effect to give it dash. The material is seersucker—dusty pink overplaided in bright red, with red trim.

Style No. 3010 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18 years, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust. Size 16 requires 3 yards of 39-inch material with 2¼ yards of white braid and 6 yards of black braid.

The Examiner:
Please order for me—
Pattern Number .....
Size .....
My Name .....
Address .....
.....
I enclose 15c in payment Allow five days for return

STAMP CORNER

By M. A. BESSEY

SUDAN COMMEMORATIVES

Nine denominations were placed on sale this year, to remain on sale only until March 31st. This issue is to commemorate the death of General Gordon.

General Gordon was born on January 28, 1833, and died on January 26, 1885; his portrait is shown on the 5m., 10m., 13m. and 15m. denominations.

The 2pi., 5pi. and 10pi. depict a view of the Gordon Memorial college. This college is the realization of an ideal of the late Earl Kitchener, long before his re-conquest of the Sudan. General Gordon was a man who had striven single-handed to help a people oppressed by the burden of ignorance and fanaticism. With this in mind it was Lord Kitchener's idea that the most fitting memorial to such a man would be a school of learning which would give the most practical, and useful education possible to boys of the Sudan.

After the battle of Omdurman in 1898, Lord Kitchener issued an appeal for the sum of £100,000. He stated, "It is proposed that at Khartoum there should be founded and maintained, by British money, a college bearing the name of the Gordon Memorial college, to be a pledge that the memory of Gordon is still alive among us, and that his aspirations are at length to be realised." The entire sum was realised by subscription in less than a month from all parts of the empire. The opening ceremony was performed by Lord Kitchener on November 8, 1902. The college now has a solid tradition of more than a quarter of a century behind it.

The 20pi. and 50pi. depict the scene of the first memorial service which took place, immediately after the battle of Omdurman. On the Sunday following the battle which was fought September 2, 1898, Major-General Sir Herbert Kitchener, the sirdar, accompanied by representative detachments of all regiments, crossed over to Khartoum by steamer and landed opposite the ruins of Government House, where Gordon had met his death and where the Governor-General's Palace now stands. At a signal from the sirdar, the union jack and khedival flag were hoisted on the roof, and then a simple memorial service to General Gordon was held.

The sirdar is shown in the centre of the picture, while the other figures in the foreground are portraits of the officers in command at Omdurman.

Details are as follows: 5m., green; 10m., tan-brown; 13m., ultramarine; 15m., red; 2pi., mineral-blue; 5pi., orange; 10pi., amethyst; 20pi., grey; 50pi., cocoa-brown.

The issue in recess printed by De La Rue & Co., in sheets of 50, multiple watermarked, "S.G." Perforation is 14, single line machine.

Authoritative information informs us that all values are now practically unobtainable in post offices of the Sudan. The 20pi. and 50pi. are said to have been printed in very limited quantities and will probably be good investments for those collectors fortunate enough to secure them.

SILVER JUBILEE STAMPS

The following additions have just been noted:

India: ½, ¾, 2½, 3½, 8 annas and one rupee.

Morocco: ½d., 1d., 1½d. and 3d.

Tangier: ½d., 1d., 1½d. and 2d.

South-West Africa: 1d., 2d., 3d. and 6d.

Morocco and Tangier will probably appear on the Jubilee stamps of Great Britain, as an overprint.

STAMP EXCHANGE CLUB
Name .....
St. Address .....
City & Prov. .....
Age .....Size of Collection .....
Parent's Signature .....

Rats Help Science Prevent Baby's Rickets

WHAT'S the good of a rat? Science, at last, has found an answer to this question which people have asked for centuries. It has found a real use for these noxious and despised little animals.

Rats, it seems, have eating habits much like human beings, and thousands of them are being used in laboratories all over the country to study the health values of many of the foods we eat.

One of the great discoveries made with the aid of rats was the substance known as "Vitamin D" which was found in cod-liver oil. This substance was proved to be needed for building healthy bones and sound teeth. Children, deprived of it, develop a disease characterized by poor bone development and called "rickets."

Vitamin D is now extracted from cod-liver oil and added to milk, bread, and other foods so that children may get this essential vitamin in an agreeable form. Rats are used to test such foods to make sure they contain enough of the vitamin to ward off rickets.

This is the way the test is made. Young rats, as soon as they can eat solid food are placed on a diet known to be free from vitamin D, for several weeks. This special diet prevents their bones from hardening — in other words, they get the rickets.

Then they are placed in individual cages and fed on a diet containing varying amounts of a food supposed to contain vitamin D. Their bone development is now watched very carefully, X-ray examinations, among others, being used. Presence of vitamin D in the food is indicated by signs of healing of the bones, and the amount of the vitamin is estimated by the extent of the healing.

Living animals have to be used in this way to determine the presence of vitamin D in foods, because ordinary chemical methods fail to detect it. ©1935, Vitamin D Information Bureau, N.Y.

The "Ratz-Karleton Hotel" is no joke. It is the modern way of housing scores of rats used by scientists for testing the efficacy of foods containing vitamin D needed by children to prevent rickets.

Vitamin D Milk is Sold Exclusively in Peterborough by Campbell Dairy Products

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

The home care of the sick by a member of the household is, in many cases, a necessity for financial reasons, and under no circumstances is it to be despised. Most sick people are more comfortable at home than at a hospital, and for most illnesses, even those that require confinement to bed, the patients are actually safer at home. We have entered a hospital era in this country during the last decade, plumped on hospital, and it has led to the idea that a sick person is not really doing himself justice unless he is sick in a hospital.

The idea that you should go to a hospital because it has so much better facilities for caring for your disease if an emergency should arise, is in most cases—b-u-n-k. A hospital is a place for the homeless, or for strangers in the city, if they fall sick, and for just a few diseases that can be better treated there than at home.

One to Serve as Nurse

Every household, then, should have one member who is the official nurse. It will probably be the same one who does the cooking and the house cleaning and the dish washing, but that's all right. She can take over the other job better than suffer watching the other one make a mess of it. "Just like everybody else," as the fellow said when he was asked what his daughters did —"One of 'em does the cooking, and one of 'em takes painting lessons."

The official trained nurse of the family should, like the professional trained nurse in the hospital, help the doctor, not attempt to take his place. She should learn to read a fever thermometer accurately and take the patient's temperature at regular intervals. She should also learn to count the pulse and determine whether it is regular or not.

These things should be regarded in the form of a chart, similar to the chart the trained nurse keeps. It is so easy to forget the order in which events happened and the time when they occurred that the chart is a primary necessity.

There is nothing that is better calculated to make a good nurse than to keep the record on one case accurately.

Be Beautiful

By GLADYS GLAD

The lovely Elissa Landi, who has probably covered more territory in her wanderings than any other cinema luminary, has very beautiful hair. Elissa claims that down in the Fiji islands, the young shebas who want to make a hit with their favorite boy friends, always soak their tresses in perfumed oil. These gals have very heavy heads of hair, but when soaked with oil, their locks look anything but attractive—that is, from our point of view.

There are numerous women who don't use oil on their heads, and yet those whose tresses look just about as oily and unattractive as those of the Fiji island belles. That's because the oil glands in their scalps are overactive and exude oil in excess quantities. Of course, superficial treatments such as the use of lemon and soda rinses are beneficial for removing the excess oil from the hair. They help greatly to make the hair appear fluffy. However, the new salt pack treatment that I have recently learned about not only makes the hair appear free of any excess oil, but also helps to correct the abnormal functioning of the oil glands.

Use of Salt Pack

Before the salt pack is applied, the hair should be brushed vigorously with a flexible bristled brush. Then a saucer full of ordinary table salt should be taken, moistened slightly with water and applied generously to the scalp. The hair should be parted at close intervals and the salt applied until the entire scalp has been covered. And when the pack has been entirely applied, the salt should be massaged thoroughly over the scalp and through the hair with the fingertips. A towel should then be wrapped about the head, and the pack permitted to remain on for a few minutes.

After this period of time has elapsed, the hair should again be brushed vigorously, to remove as much as possible of the salt. Next, before the hair is moistened, a good liquid shampoo should be generously applied to it, and a rich lather raised. After this primary lathering and scrubbing, the hair should be rinsed with warm water and relathered. As the final step, every bit of soapy lather should be rinsed from the hair with clear water, and then a lemon, soda or vinegar rinse should be administered. This procedure not only removes all the excess oil from the hair, but also leaves the hair soft, fluffy and lustrous.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Cosmetics

Roberta: I think that you will find a soft peach shade of powder, soft orange rouge and light lipstick well suited to your coloring.

Powder Base

Angela: Apply a mild astringent to your face before applying your makeup. This forms an excellent powder base for an oily skin.

Makeup

Lorraine: I think that a soft peach shade of powder, soft orange rouge, light lipstick and blue eyeshadow cream would blend harmoniously with your coloring.

Complexion

Dorinda: Full information on eradicating freckles, pimples, blackheads and enlarged pores is contained in my "Beauty Culture" booklet. This booklet also gives specific information on double chin reduction.

Children of Moscow, Russia, recently observed the first anniversary of the sinking of the Chelyuskin, the Soviet ship which braved the Northern Sea route, the 104 survivors being rescued by Soviet flyers from an ice flow.

FOR BUILDING VITALITY AND RESISTANCE

Used in hospitals and approved by doctors.

OVALTINE

TONIC FOOD BEVERAGE

Household Hints

By MRS. MARY MORTON

Menu Hint

Baker Potatoes
Cottage Cheese and Onion Salad
Buttered Cabbage Glorified Rice
Milk Tea

You may use margarine or bacon fat over the cabbage in place of the butter, and a little vinegar will give it a nice flavor.

Today's Recipes

Cottage Cheese and Onion Salad —One pound cottage cheese, one medium onion, cream and salt, parsley and lettuce. Chop onion fine and mix with cheese. Add a little cream and salt and beat until fluffy. Sprinkle, with parsley and serve on crisp lettuce or cabbage with or without mayonnaise.

Glorified Rice.—Two cups cooked rice, one cup diced pineapple, one cup cream, whipped; twenty-four marshmallows, cut in quarters; one-half cup sugar. Combine ingredients, folding them all into the cream. Turn into a serving bowl or glasses and chill. Serve garnished with cubes or jelly or preserved strawberries.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Graham Cookies

Two cups brown sugar, two-thirds cup shortening, one-half cup boiling water, one teaspoon soda, dissolved in one tablespoon water; two teaspoons vanilla, four cups graham flour. Cream sugar and shortening, add water, graham flour and enough white flour to roll easily. Roll thin, cut and bake quickly in hot oven. Makes about three dozen cookies.

Cooking Rice

There are various ways of cooking rice, but in each of these ways we must be careful to keep the grains separate and prevent the formation of a gelatinous mass.

It may be steamed, by placing in a steamer, after first washing well by letting cold water run through it. Sprinkle with salt and steam until tender. The best test is to rub a grain between the fingers. If a hard center remains, cook longer, but if the grain seems firm, yet soft, and cooked through, it is done. After steaming, the rice should be dried in a very slow oven.

If you prefer, the rice may be cooked in the top part of a double boiler. Place one cup washed rice in the top, sprinkle with two teaspoons salt, and add one quart of boiling water. Cook over hot water until soft, from 50 minutes to an hour.

The easiest and perhaps the best method of cooking, however, is to boil the rice. Have a large kettle of water boiling rapidly, lower the rice into it slowly in order not to stop the boiling. Continue boiling rapidly until tender, about 20 minutes. Drain well, blanch by letting cold water run through the rice, and you will find every kernel standing whole and perfect.

Honey as Cosmetic

A honey pack is an old-fashioned beauty aid, but it is still excellent for the complexion. Spread honey thinly over the face, let it remain a while, then rinse well.

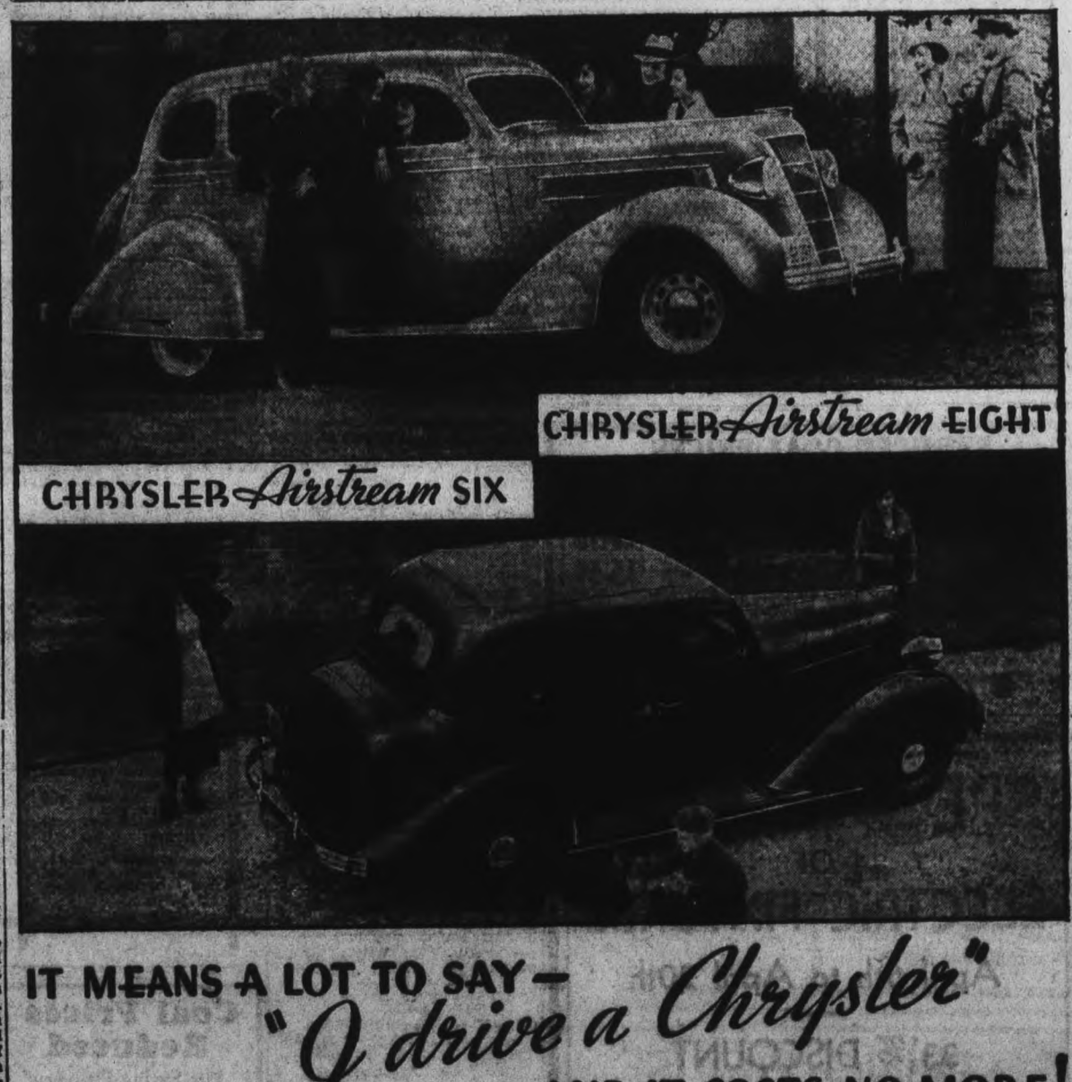
Late Nights Ahead Ontario Members

TORONTO, April 6 (C.P.).—Ontario legislators next week will sit late every night, "and when I say late I mean late," said Premier F. Hepburn today, reiterating the Government's intention to prorogue the present session of the Legislature by Easter.

By "late" the Premier meant sessions would last until two or three o'clock in the morning.

The Premier expected the power contract termination bill would come up for second reading Monday and debate would extend throughout the afternoon and night.

Six women bachelors of law will graduate from Meiji University in Japan this year.



IT MEANS A LOT TO SAY—
"I drive a Chrysler"
... AND IT COSTS NO MORE!

THE NEW AIRSTREAM CHRYSLER SIX brings Chrysler pride of ownership ... Chrysler comfort ... Chrysler performance and safety, and Chrysler distinctive styling.

The new Airstream Chrysler Eight is a great big powerful car with a hundred horsepower that speeds you on your way in comfort and safety only equaled by the famous Airflow Chrysler.

The same principles of weight re-distribution made famous in the Airflow Chrysler, make both the new Airstream Six and Eight ride smoothly over every road. All passengers sit cradled between the axles ... Patented Floating Power plus super-resilient springs and a new sway eliminator make riding more restful than ever before.

Hydraulic brakes assure you of smooth straight-line stops ... The big all-steel body has wide chair-height seats that permit you to relax in a natural position with plenty of leg room and elbow room.

It means a lot to say "I drive a Chrysler"

YOU CAN BUY A CHRYSLER AIRSTREAM SIX FOR $1215 Delivered in PETERBOROUGH

GILLESPIE GARAGE 370 AYLMER ST. PHONE 950

GOOD PROGRAM IS PRESENTED CHURCH SOCIAL

St. James' Sunday School Teachers and Officers Enjoy Entertainment.

PRESENTATION MADE.

An annual event of unusual interest was the Sunday school banquet held last night in St. James' United church. Over ninety Sunday school teachers and officers, with members of the church board gathered to enjoy this time of social fellowship. The bountiful repast was provided under the direction of the Cheerful Worker's Bible Class in their usual efficient manner. E. Kitney, superintendent of the school presided as chairman and presented the very excellent program of the evening which opened with selections by the Sunday school orchestra.

Guest Speaker

Rev. G. K. Tyler of Park Street Baptist was the guest speaker who addressed his remarks directly to the Sunday school teachers and their work. This he termed second only to motherhood. "The aim of the Sunday school", said Mr. Tyler, is not to be a place for secular instruction, where boys and girls learn 'facts' only. It is not a place to send children for the convenience of parents; nor is it a place of entertainment."

The Sunday school like the church is to save the souls of men. This is its true mission and should be its first thought. Continuing, the speaker outlined some of the responsibilities of Sunday school teachers, emphasizing that the essential qualification is a definite, personal experience of Christ. Some practical hints on the teaching of the lesson were given. After careful preparation has been given to the lesson, we must leave the results with God.

Asks For Support

A brief address by the chairman, who has been newly appointed as superintendent of the school, asked for the continued support and cooperation of his colleagues and outlined some of his plans for the future. Interspersing the addresses a delightful vocal contribution "Friend O'Mine" by Mrs. E. Kitney was very much enjoyed, while a group of solos in fine voice by Mr. Cyril Rice, included "Roadways" from the poem by John Masefield and "A Heap of Lickin's". Accompanists were Mrs. R. C. Searles and Mrs. Cyril Rice.

Presentation Made

A charming little reading "My Opportunity" by Miss Jean Hammond was another interesting number. The feature of the evening was the tribute to A. E. Prest, the retiring superintendent, when he was presented with an address and a purse of gold by the church board and Sunday school.

The address of appreciation for twenty-seven years of splendid loyalty and high endeavor, was read by Wm. McLaren, assistant superintendent and the presentation made by John Sanderson, secretary treasurer of the school.

Mrs. Prest was also remembered and honored with a beautiful bouquet of roses presented by Miss Mary Collins. It is interesting to note that Miss Collins has been identified in St. James Sunday school with Mr. Prest continuously since its inception in a tent on July 12, 1908. In replying to this expression of appreciation on the part of his confreres, which came as a complete surprise, Mr. Prest thanked his many friends for the gift and for the kind thought which prompted it. He said his work in this school was a joy and told of its development down through the years.

Rev. Mr. Moorhouse, the pastor also paid high tribute to Mr. Prest's unique service and also welcomed the new superintendent to his office. Representing the board of stewards Mr. E. R. Frost spoke briefly, thanking the classes of the school for their fine financial support to the church and bespeaking its continuance in the future.

The banquet which was most successful in every respect was brought to a conclusion with prayer and the benediction by the pastor.

IMPORTANT!

In requesting us to call for your ad, the order must be phoned before 11 a.m. in order to insure it being inserted on the same day.

SPRING HOUSE CLEANING

Why not start your spring house cleaning by laying new hardwood floors. These will beautify your rooms and are easily kept clean. Consult us today regarding cost of new floors in your home.

The Peterborough Lumber Company, Ltd.
163 HUNTER ST. PHONE 3160

Women Have Duty In Jury Service

NEW YORK, April 6 (C.P.)—If any one had any remaining doubts of the soundness of having women serve as jurors, the good, calm sense with which Miss Doris Byrne supported her bill in the Assembly ought to end them, says The Herald-Tribune editorially.

"The young Assemblywoman from the Bronx made no extravagant claims for the bill. Women were not by nature better jurors than men. But they were as good," the paper says, "and it was possible to secure a higher grade of intelligence from woman jurors by reason of their readier availability for service. Such was her argument, and such has been the experience wherever women have been used.

"Miss Byrne urged her bill not as granting a privilege to women but as imposing a duty. This is beyond question the fundamental reason for the change. When women secured the ballot and entered upon an active public service as citizens they made entrance into the field of jury service right and inevitable. The state, in truth, needs their service in this vital and often evaded field of public duty."

NEIGHBORLY NOTES

Please Phone Items to 1600 or 1601

A basket social was a pleasant event of this week at May's School, held under the auspices of the Home and School Association. The president, Mrs A. Brisco, was in the chair, and gave a brief opening talk, which was preceded by the recitation of the Lord's Prayer, in unison. A very fine program was presented, including old-time music by Messrs. Orr, Rutherford and oHughton; vocal solos by Mrs. Jack Cooper and Mr. Norman Manley; a comic song by Mr. Rutherford; a guitar solo by Mr. Bob Orr, and a tap dance by Jeanne Johnston. Contests were conducted by Mrs. Jack Cooper and proved a very enjoyable portion of the entertainment. They included "Old Sayings," a pie contest and a birthday contest. Winners were Meadames G. Cunningham, Johnson, Brisco, Carter, Thexton, Johnson and Mr. Jack Cooper. At the close of the program, beautifully-decorated baskets of refreshments, containing sandwiches, cake, fruit and candy, were offered for sale by Mr. Carter, as auctioneer. The service of refreshments was in charge of the members of the social committee.

* * *

Mrs. E. A. Stinson, leader of Group E of the W.M.S. of George Street United Church, entertained the members at her home this week at the April meeting of the group. Devotional services were taken by Mesdames Wiley and Frederick; a lovely duett, "The Old Rugged Cross," was sung by Mesdames Girven and Lewis, and a very instructive and much-appreciated talk on the Bible was given by Mrs. Frank Stevens. After the Mizpah benediction, a social half-hour was spent, when refreshments were served by the hostess.

* * *

Mr. Hugh Lush of George Street has a birthday anniversary to-day.

* * *

Miss Bertha Robeon of Glenmorris, Ontario, will arrive in the city to-night and will be the guest for a few days of Miss Bessie Ross of 195 Sherbrooke Street. Miss Robson, who has been a missionary in the Bhil Field at Amkhut, Central India, for the Presbyterian Church in Canada, for several years, will speak at the Thankoffering meeting of the Fraser Auxiliary of St. Paul's Church on Tuesday evening.

* * *

Major the Rev. W. E. Kidd, M.C., M.A., Padre of the 21st Battalion, who is coming to Peterborough to preach to-morrow evening at the annual Vimy Day church parade of his old Battalion, at All Saints' Church, will be the guest of the Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Paterson, at All Saints' Rectory. Major Kidd is the chaplain at Kingston Penitentiary.

* * *

Mrs. James Tinney of Bethune Street entertained the girls of the staff of the Richard Hall Store, also several other friends, at a dinner party on Thursday evening, held in honor of her niece, Miss Anne Wilson, whose marriage to the Rev. C. C. Salisbury of Williamstown, Vermont, takes place on Monday next. The guests were received by Mrs. T. Beatty and Mrs. E. Wilson. Assisting Mrs. Tinney in serving were Mrs. G. Helson and Mrs. P. Hetherington.

* * *

Miss Grace Reinhardt entertained the members of the Guild of Arts and Crafts of the Lyceum Club Women's Art Association, at their meeting this week, when a very instructive program was provided, each member making a brief contribution by describing the methods used in some particular handicraft.

* * *

Mrs. Jacob Snelgrove of Smith Township, who is in Nicholls Hospital, suffering with a broken hip, is progressing as well as can be expected.

* * *

Lt.-Col. H. E. Pense, D.S.O., M.C., Officer Commanding the 21st Battalion at the close of the war, recently of Ancaster, now residing in Kingston, will be present at the annual Vimy Day church parade of the 21st Battalion members, to be held at All Saints' Church on Sunday evening, and will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Hart of King Street during his stay in the city.

* * *

City Clerk Simon R. Armstrong has a birthday to-morrow.

* * *

Miss Irene Cox of Aylmer Street entertained last evening at a Bon Voyage shower given in honor of Mrs. Ken Baker, who, with her small son, Donald, sails on May 3rd on the S.S. "Athenia" for Scotland, to spend some time there with her brother and sister.

* * *

A very pleasing musical evening was held last night at the home of Mrs. D. Sloan, Hunter Street, when nine junior pupils took part in a recital, following which games were played and dainty refreshments were served, when the hostess was assisted by Miss Ruby Quartermaine and Miss Marion Grieve. Prizes for best results attained during the winter season were awarded to Viola Lee, Norman Chate and Gerald Powell. The recital program included a duett by Mrs. Sloan and Victor Chate; a duett by Mrs. Sloan and Norman Chate; pianoforte solos by Phyllis Lee ("Home," as a waltz); Viola Lee (march, "Onward, Christian Soldiers"); Victor Chate ("Railroad Gallop); Norman Chate ("Alouette"); Bernice Primeau ("Pleasure Train"); Max Powell (Waltz), and Betty Primeau ("Endless Mischief"). Wee Mary Powell also delighted her listeners with several recitations.

* * *

Miss Bernice Scollard, of the staff of the Isolation Hospital, who underwent an operation recently for appendicitis at St. Joseph's Hospital, has recovered sufficiently to return home.

* * *

Mr and Mrs. J. H. Vernor returned home this week after a holiday spent in St. Petersburg, Florida. Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Potvin of Toronto, formerly of Peterborough, are remaining in the South for some time.

* * *

Mrs. J. H. Bell, B.A., of Aylmer street, Provincial Extension Secretary for the Girl Guides, attended the annual Provincial Council meetings held in London this week.

* * *

D. B. Peck, T. R. Peck, and W. H. Slater, students at the Lakefield Preparatory School, were in the city yesterday en route to their homes for the Easter holidays, the two former on their way to Montreal, the latter to Oakville.

* * *

Mr. James Bestard, who lives at the junction of Sherbrooke and Charlotte streets, is celebrating today his seventy-sixth birthday anniversary.

* * *

Mr. J. H. Benn of Toronto was in the city yesterday on a business trip.

* * *

Friends in the city of Mrs. W. G. McCartney (formerly Miss Marie Turcotte of this city), will be glad to know that she is progressing favorably after undergoing a serious operation in St. Bernardine's Hospital, San Bernardino, California, on March 26th.

* * *

Bus Brown's eleven-piece orchestra from Toronto has been engaged to play at the Warriors' Ball, to be held in the Canadian Legion hall on the night of Easter Monday, April 22nd. This orchestra is well known and liked in Toronto and has played this year for such big events there as the annual 'At Homes' of the T. Eaton Company, the Robert Simpson Company and the Royal Bank, as well as for the annual dance of the Ontario College of Pharmacy.

* * *

Cautain Scollard of the Steamer "Stoney Lake" has returned to his home in Young's Point, after spending the past six months in Northern Ontario at Iroquois Falls, check-scaling for the Abitibi Power and Paper Company.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

Spring tonic needn't take the joy out of life as old-fashioned sulphur and molasses used to do. Peppy salads in attractive jelly moulds, bring a new interest to menus and a tonic to humans.

A good aspic base, with lemon flavor is the best for fine salads. Any combination of vegetables may be used to give an attractive ,inexpensive dish.

* * * * * * *

VEGETABLE SALAD ASPIC

1 package quick-setting lemon jelly powder; ½ teaspoon salt; 1 cup warm water; 3 to 4 tablespoons vinegar and cold water to make 1 cup.

Dissolve jelly powder in 1 cup water, slightly hotter than lukewarm, but not boiling. Add vinegar and cold water and salt. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in desired vegetables. Turn into mould. Chill until firm. Unmould on crisp lettuce. Garnish with mayonnaise. Serves 6.

Use 1 to 2 cups combination of vegetables, such as: Grated raw carrot, cabbage and green pepper; cabbage, celery, pimento, and green pepper; cabbage, celery, pimento, and pickles; cabbage and olives; pickled beets, celery, and onion, or a small amount of prepared horseradish (substitute beet juice for cold water in this combination); peas, celery, and cabbage.

* * * * * * *

FRUIT SALAD ASPIC

Base for fruit or fruit and vegetable salads is simply made from the following recipe:

1 package quick-setting lemon jelly powder; 1 cup fruit juice and cold water; 1 cup warm water; 1 tablespoon vinegar; ½ teaspoon salt (if vegetables are used).

Dissolve jelly powder in warm water, slightly hotter than lukewarm. Add fruit juice, vinegar and salt, if necessary. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in desired fruits, or fruit and vegetables. Turn into mould. Chill until firm. Unmould on crisp lettuce. Garnish with mayonnaise. Serves 6.

Use 1 to 2 cups combination of fruits such as: Apples, oranges, dates and nuts; bananas, white grapes and oranges; grapefruit, orange and pineapple. Use 1 to 2 cups combination of fruit and vegetables such as: Pineapple and cucumber; pineapple, raw carrot, and pecan meats; apple, celery, and walnut meats.

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

SAVE 30c --- SAVE 30c --- SAVE 30c

UTILAC SPECIAL

FREE ¼ Pint of Utilac Valued at 30c With Purchase of every 25c Brush

We offer you this saving of 30c for One Week Only, Saturday, April 6th, to Saturday, April 13th. This Free Gift Offer is only made possible through the co-operation of Benjamin Moore & Co. (makers of Utilac), with the objective of enabling you to LEARN by Experience JUST WHAT UTILAC IS. Open This Evening.

Benjamin Moore's quick drying Utilac enamel will add the charm of color and beautiful finish to furniture, woodwork, walls, floors, etc., and is easy to use. It is put up in 21 beautiful shades; also in black, white and light oak, dark oak, walnut and mahogany varnish stain.

Reg. Price of Utilac
¼ Pint 30c
½ Pint 50c
1 Pint 85c
Quart 1.50

FREE TRIAL OFFER
One Quarter Pint UTILAC FREE with purchase of 25c Brush.
One 25c Brush / One 30c Can Utilac | The Two 25c or free brush with larger can
Only one set to a customer—for one week only.
Name .....
Address .....
PRESENT THIS COUPON TO
COLEMAN BROS. 445 George St., Peterborough

MOORE'S HOUSE PAINT

MURESCO
For Walls and Ceilings

Moore's Paints have a Dominion-wide reputation in thousands and thousands of homes as leaders in the paint field. For lustre, ease of application and long life on exteriors and interiors they have that better quality demanded these days by exacting householders.

Gallon 4.25, ½ Gal. 2.50, Quart 1.15

TRY MOORE'S MURESCO
With each Pint Sold during this Sale we Give ONE STENCIL FREE

Hundreds of thousands of homes each year receive new beauty from the velvet tones of Muresco. People like it becaus it is easy to prepare and apply, and has a richness and depth of color which makes it a perfect background for modern furnishings.
Enthusiastic users of Muresco have found that it will not rub off, nor will it crack, chip or peel when properly applied. It covers solid in one coat and it can be washed off when redecorating is necessary .....5 lb. pkg. 65c

Phone Orders Accepted Free Delivery

445 GEORGE ST.
4 Doors North of Brock
TELEPHONE 617
COLEMAN BROS.

Kidnapped Writer Faces High Treason

BASEL, Switzerland, April 6 (CP-Havas).—Berthold Jacob, German journalist, allegedly kidnapped by Nazis from Switzerland and rushed over the German border, will be tried for high treason and is certain to be decapitated, the Berlin correspondent of the Basel National-Zeitung reported to-day.

In any event, the correspondent adds, Germany will not submit the case to arbitration as provided for in the treaty between the two nations.

Earlier this week Switzerland sent a note of protest to the Wilhelmstrasse, charging Jacob had been seized in this country by Nazis, and demanding his return to Swiss territory.

Hints for Rock Gardens

One of the pleasantest features of a garden is a corner that can be converted into a rock garden. A shady corner, an old ditch, or a bank can very easily be turned into a beautiful spot. Many lovely alpine plants and bulbs give far better results in a rock garden than when grown on ordinary flat ground. A mound or bank may be made of any rough filling matter, bricks, stones, clinkers, etc., and finished off with a good layer of fairly rich soil. The rocks should be as large as can be conveniently handled and the rougher the better. Do not make any attempt at a design, but place them at irregular intervals and not set flat in the ground but up on end with a gentle slope into a pocket. This will carry the rain to the plant and also affords the necessary shade to many small surface rooting plants. Work in some broken brick, granite chips or coarse sand for the pockets, and you will have an ideal condition. Some plants as the Dianthus family, Gypsophila repens, the rock Phloxes and many others are partial to lime, and ferns. Gentians, primulas and many others thrive better with leaf mould and no lime. Some of the easier growing plants are Arabis white, spreading Campanula carpatica, blue, Nepeta mussini, mauve, Gypsophila repens creeping, Alyssum Saxatile, yellow, Thymus Serpyllum, purple, Thymus Lanuginosus (the wooly leaved thyme, sweet scented and clings closely to the rock, covering it like a carpet), Sempervivums (hen and chickens), Sedum Acre (yellow moss), Arenaria Montana (a lovely green, moss) plant with tiny white starry flowers. If you have some shade where it is moist you can get splendid results with Japanese iris, Siberian iris and also the dwarf and dainty iris fumila, the plumy spireas or astilbes gentians and our own Lady Slipper orchids and many varieties of ferns. Many bulbs are exquisite when grown in clumps of half a dozen or so. Winter aconites sometimes push up their golden blossoms through the snow. Following them come the crocuses and a clump of the variety, Cloth of Gold, is a glorious sight. A very early variety is Crocus Thomasintana purple. For a patch of real blue nothing beats Muscari, Heavenly Blue (the grape hyacinth). Many of the tulip species are gorgeous in a rock garden: Tulipa Clusiana (the lady tulip), white with blue base Tulipa Eichleri, brilliant scarlet, Kaufmanniana (the water lily tulip) and Tulipa Sylvestris (yellow perfumed). Then there are the narcissus Bulbocodium (hoop petticoat narcissus) and Minimus a dainty little miniature trumpet daffodil.

—Peterborough Horticultural Society.

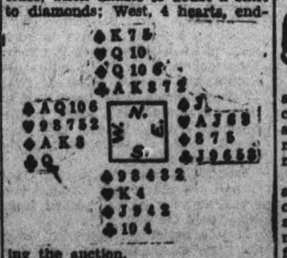
CONTRACT BRIDGE

By E. V. Shepard
"Teacher of Teachers"

SEVERAL INTERESTING FEATURES

Sometimes a rather commonplace appearing hand affords useful hints for future reference, both in bidding and in play, as was the case with the deal shown today.

Of course South had no opening bid. West held the unusual number of three and one-half quick tricks. With so great defensive strength he might have made an opening bid of 1 heart, on a suit not ordinarily considered biddable. I would have done so, as it always is awkward to make a secondary bid of so weak a suit, and East surely would have misread such bidding, believing that spades must be at least as long as hearts, but West bid 1 spade. Bidding then went: North, 2 clubs; East, 2 hearts, which was preferable to doubling 2 clubs, when unable to doubt a shift to diamonds; West, 4 hearts, ending the auction.



Of course the opening lead was the 10 of clubs. Dummy's lone Q fell to North's K. The middle diamond was returned, which is less misleading to partner than leading the lowest of three cards. When East played the 5 and South the 4, the missing 2 indicated to North that his partner held some strength in the suit. The K won. A low trump was returned. North's 10 was covered with the J. South's K won on the finesse, giving the defenders their second trick.

South led his 3 of spades. It was barely possible that North did not hold the missing K. Dummy played low and the K won the third defensive trick. East was none too happy. Unless North held the missing Q of trumps the contract would be defeated in all probability.

North led his 6 of diamonds. South forced dummy's ace, by playing the 9. Only the Q and 4 of trumps were missing. The 9 of hearts was led. When the Q covered the declarer's doubles vanished. His ace picked up the trick, including the missing 4. Dummy ruffed a low club. Upon the three good spades held by dummy the declarer discarded his last diamond and two clubs. All he had to do was to ruff dummy's low diamond and spread his hand for balance of tricks and game.

Before Monday see if opponents can defeat West's 3 no trumps on above hands.

Overseas Mail

Letter Mail for Great Britain and countries via Great Britain to connect with steamer Washington sailing from New York, April 10th, mail closes at local post office at midnight April 8th.

Letter Mail for Great Britain and countries via Great Britain to connect with steamer Deutschland sailing from New York, April 11th, mail closes at the local post office at 10.30 a.m. April 9th.

Full Mail for Great Britain and countries via Great Britain to connect with steamer Beaverdale sailing from Halifax April 12th, mail closes at the local post office at 7.30 p.m., April 9th.

Letter Mail for Great Britain and countries via Great Britain to connect with steamer Majestic sailing from New York on April 13th, mail closes at the local post office at 10.30 a.m. April 11th.

Full Mail for Great Britain and countries via Great Britain to connect with the Duchess of Bedford sailing from Halifax, April 14th, mail closes at the local post office at midnight, April 12th.

READ THE WANT ADS

LEAFS TIGHTEN DEFENCE FOR TO-NIGHT'S GAME

"TOUCHE!"—Teddy Gold of New York U. scores a touch on J. Evans, Yale, during intercollegiate championships in New York.

MOST COMPLETE SPORT PAGES IN CENTRAL ONTARIO

PETERBOROUGH
EXAMINER SPORTS

Sports Department—Phone 1600 SATURDAY, APRIL 6, 1935 Read by More than 18,000 Daily

POLOISTS—Bob Honeyman, LEFT, and Hal Roach, rest between chukkers of Colt memorial tournament at Santa Barbara, Cal.

Smallman Tops All Owners

Alexandra Saddles 23 Winners for London Horseman in Florida Season.

CALGARY KAY COPS WIN

IN REVIEWING hoss hide events of the week, we find that Calgary Kay, an old favorite of ours is still winning races, despite his advanced years. The veteran gelding is all of nine years of age and under the care of Benny Chapman he is still leading the field when most hides are turning up their hoofs in the glue factory or permanently retired to sunny pastures. During the early part of the week, Kay did himself proud at Bowie against a field of $1,250 claimers and outgamed Bird Lore by a neck. And what is more, the juicy payoff on the nag was $61.90. It seemed only fitting that Calgary Kay should be at those long odds for his record shows that in 32 races during 1934 and four more this year prior to this week's winning effort, he had won only once and had earned $1,180.

× × ×

J. E. Smallman of London led all the rival owners in the number of races won during the Miami winter season. During two meetings at Tropical Park and one at Hialeah Park, his color-bearers accounted for no less than 23 purses. This did not make George Alexandra, who saddled them for Smallman the top trainer, for Hirsch Jacobs saddled 27 winners for several winners. Thanks to Black Helen who romped home in the Florida derby, Colonel Bradley headed the roster of money-winning owners for the Miami season by a large margin.

× × ×

THE CURTAIN was rung down on Florida racing on Monday last and increases from 20 to 25 percent over previous "highs" were reported by the state racing commission for pari-mutuel play, attendance and Florida's revenue from taxes on wagering, admission and occupational licenses. The state's first horses of the 1934-35 season ran on December 15 at the Coral Gables track. The racing scene shifted across the city to $2,500,000 Tropical Park on January 17 and back to Tropical on March 11. In the "mutt mushing" $35,000,000 was legally wagered by 2,000,000 persons on ten tracks.

× × ×

Concerning the new claiming rule which is to be enforced on Maryland, Michigan and New York tracks, Preston M. Burch, one of the best versed men on the continent in regards "hide-burning" has the following to say: "As I understand this rule it has two main objects, first, to protect the owner of moderate horses desirous of racing where he has a chance to win without the risk of losing his horses in a claiming race, and second to increase the demand for yearlings by limiting the market for ready-made horses. The very name Selling Plater is a stigma both on the horse and on a racing card. How often have we heard "What a rotten card tomorrow. Nothing but claiming races?" The only persons who can possibly be hurt in any way by the new claiming rule are the so-called haltermen who have made a racket out of claiming. This rule limits to some extent their chances of making money. These men in the future must limit their claiming activities to the cheaper class of horses."

You will find many things in the Classified Ads of The Examiner.

Fans Make or Break Baseball Heroes

Birthday Greetings

(By Canadian Press)

TO MICKEY COCHRANE, manager-catcher of the Detroit Tigers, whom he led to the American League pennant in 1934. It was the first pennant for Detroit in nearly thirty years. Cochrane was sold to Detroit by Connie Mack of Philadelphia for $100,000 at the end of the 1933 season. He was born in Bridgewater, Mass., 32 years ago today.

HITTING FAILURE DOOM OF GIANTS

Silence of Mel Ott's Bat in Last Six Games Bitter Lesson for Terry.

DEPEND ON BARTELL

By BILL BRAUCHER
Central Press Canadian Sports Writer

One hitter would have changed the destiny of the Giants during those last distressing weeks of the season of 1934.

The club needed only a few runs, even in the last few days of the campaign, to win the National League pennant. With Mel Ott's bat suddenly silent in the last six games, the hits were not forthcoming.

What Bartell Means

It was a bitter lesson for Memphis Bill Terry. The manager saw the same club which had won a pennant in 1933, by virtue of great defence and splendid pitching, suddenly stopped.

A dozen ringing base hits would have won the pennant without giving the Cardinals a chance. If the same situation arises in the home stretch this year, and there is no reason for the Giants to suspect it will not, the story should have a different ending. The Giants now have that hitter in the person of Dick Bartell, who shares with Joe Cronin the honor of being the best shortstop in the game.

Besides being a .310 hitter, Bartell is a little run factory all by himself, being one of the 10 men in the league to score more than 100 tallies last year. Since Dick was wearing a Philadelphia uniform when doing all that scoring, his feat is phenomenal.

When Terry gave the Phils a young squad of athletes for Bartell, he not only added to the punch of the Giants, but to the club's tone. Bartell brings more than base hits. He is a fighter of the sort that never is licked. He hustles and keeps those around him hustling. If the Greeks had a word for it, it must have been "spark plug."

No Hitless Wonders Now

Bartell gives the club more batting punch right down the line. Critz leads off, a .270 hitter. Bartell is to follow him to the plate, a lifetime .300 hitter likely to break out with an extra-base blow at any time. Jo-Jo Moore improved sensationally at the plate last year, hitting .331. Ott, Terry and Jackson—all sluggers—are the next ones for the pitcher to laugh off.

Centre Fielder George Davis, a .290 hitter, is seventh in the batting order, followed by Mancusco or Danning and the pitcher. Hank Lieber and Phil Weintraub, outfield reserves, are dangerous batters.

Not much need be said of the defence and the pitching. Those departments are airtight. With somebody around to drive in runs, such pitchers as Hubbell, Parmelee, Fitzsimmons and Schumacher should win between them at least 10 more games than they won in 1934. Fitz alone lost many heart-breaking one-run games last year, games that a respectable single would have won.

Stout, Chagnon, Smith and Castleman are the second string. The ninth man will be picked from Luque and Gabler.

It is a better defensive ball club than the Cardinals, and this year begins the pennant chase with enough punch to win the pennant if pitching holds up to its form of last year.

HEENAN ARRIVES NEXT WEEK.

TORONTO.—Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn had news to-day regarding two colleagues, Minister of Lands and Forests Peter Heenan and Minister of Education Leonard J. Simpson, who have been absent from their duties through ill-health He said Mr. Heenan would sail for home from England to-day, and arrive next week. The Minister will take his seat in the Legislature. Dr Simpson will undergo a critical operation in hospital here to-day.

LEAFS DEPEND ON HAINSWORTH FOR A SHUTOUT

Look to Nonchalant Goaltender For a Repeat of His Boston Performance.

ONE OF BEST IN GAME.

(By Elmer Dulmage, Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

TORONTO, April 6 (C.P.). — At the rate the heavy artillery of the Toronto Maple Leafs is failing to function in these crucial times, round-faced George Hainsworth, the world's most nonchalant goaltender, may be forced to the extreme measure of handing Montreal Maroons a shutout to-night if Toronto's Stanley Cup hopes are to be revived.

It is at a time like this- one game down, four to go—that the National League hockey champions look to the 37-year-old netman for help. His most recent response was a string of 2-0, 3-0, 2-1 performances against Boston Bruins. He permitted the Bruins two goals in the four N.H.L. final games.

And as he built this record the Leafs picked up the idea and started going. They will be required to get going to-night in the second game of the Stanley Cup series or the Maroons will be so close to the title it won't make much difference.

Hainsworth, a miniature edition of Ontario's Premier, Mitchell F. Hepburn, in appearance, can lay down a shutout barricade with greater facility than any goaltender in National League history. It's a hobby with him. He figures that since he started to play competitively about 21 years ago he has scored 176 shutouts.

One of Best in Game.

In his heyday, and he's playing about as well now as he ever did, the casual Kitchener, Ont., athlete established a record that may never be approached. He scored 22 shutouts for Montreal Canadiens in the 1928-29 season in 44 games. He ran up a string of 16 straight victories In that campaign he allowed 43 goals.

But they haven't got George down yet. The outer guards, made up of Red Horner and King Clancy, Hap Day and Bill Hollett, may be tighter to-night. They will have to be if the contest develops into a duel of attacking lines instead of a middle checking battle.

Despite minor head injuries to Bob Gracie and Gus Marker, two-thirds of the No. 3 Montreal front division with Herbie Cain, Maroons will be at full strength. Having won the first game in Toronto, Manager Tommy Gorman has admitted he would not be surprised if the Redmen gallop off with three straight.

The Gorman forwards, largely because of the excellence of Earl Robinson, Russ Blinco and Dave Trottier, outpointed the Toronto frontliners in the first skirmish. The defence stood out as a steadier guard than Toronto's. Alex Connell in goal was beaten on one long shot and otherwise held his own.

The last defence—Hainsworth and Connell—may decide the issue to-night.

Probable Lineups:

Montreal:		Toronto:
Connell	goal	Hainsworth
Wentworth	defence	Clancy
Evans	defence	Horner
Blinco	centre	Thoms
Robinson	r. wing	Finnigan
Trottier	l. wing	Kilrea

Montreal Subs. — L. Conacher, Shields, Northcott, Smith, Ward, Marker, Gracie, Cain and Miller.

Toronto Alternates.—Hollett, Day, C. Conacher, Primeau, Jackson, Kelly, Metz, Cotton, and Boll.

Officials.—A. Smith and Eusebe Daigneault.

Inside Sportin' Dope—By A. Wise Cracker

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well, Mac, the Maroons, which seems to be the popular favorite to cop the Stanley Cup, has got 1 hand on the silverwear, and it begins to look like the people's choice may turn the trick, although, dern it all, on the season's performance they ain't no reason why they should. The Leaves managed to knock off Boston in a serious in which they got most of the brakes, including an injury to Mister Clapper in the 1st game that put the pride of Hastings out of commission for the resta the doings, but their performance in the final fixture of the N.H.L. championship serious was none too hot, and now it looks like they got a lotta trouble on their hands with these here now meandering Maroons, who outlasted and outplayed the Toronto gang Thurs. nite in the opening tilt and win 3 to 2.

That wasn't much of a margin at that, but it was the way the Maroons done it that's got cold shivers running up and down the spinal columns of the Leaf fans. The Maroons made the much-touted "kid" line look more or less like a bunch of punks all night, for the Conacher-Jackson-Primeau trio not only didn't pick up a single scoring point but the 3 of them only had 4 shots, 3 to Mister Conacher and 1 to Mister Jackson, which you gotta admit, neighbors, is spiking the big guns for a fare you well. I wasn't on the sidelines for that engagement, pasteboards and the new issue of the Bank of Canada both being decidedly scarce, but certainly there was a anguished tremor in Mister F. Hewitt's voice Thurs. nite that made it seem like his pet Leaves was looking like something the cat dragged in.

However, the Toronto gang ain't licked yet. They got a habit of bouncing back, and if they can get some of the luck that was smiling on them when they eliminated Boston last Sat. nite, all may yet be well on the banks of the Humber and the Don.

I was among the 14,000 or so which seen the last game of the serious with Boston last Sat. nite, Mac, and I come away from the ice palace feeling like the Bruins got the well-known runaround in that fixture. That penalty to Mister Seibert, which started the fireworks after Boston had outplayed the Leaves all through the engagement, was for a very tame trip, the Bruins' defence man playing the puck, and getting it, too, before Mister Finnegan fell over his stick, and although all kinds of heavy checking and high-sticking had gone without punishment earlier in the fray, off went Mister Seibert and away went the ball game, just as the Toronto fans had decided their favorites was going to take it on the chin. This here Mister Kelly was the hero of the nite for the Leaves, although his 1st goal was a lucky stab from a impossible angle, and his 2nd was the result of the Bruins falling into a coma. The Boston team, however they looked in their other battles, was plenty hot Sat., and they had to be mighty unlucky to lose the decision and drop into retirement for the season. They made the famous kid line look like 3 ordinary hockey players, and had far more real chances to score than the winners, which oughta make little George Hainsworth the hero of the affair. And to my mind, he was.

Well, old-timer, next week will wind it all up, and it'll be time then to take a looksee at the baseball doings, and with the usual unerring accuracy, pick out the 1935 champs in the 2 big tops.

Until then, as Portland sez, tallyho.

Sportfully yours,
A. WISE CRACKER.

Biff Jones Engaged By U. Of Oklahoma

NORMAN, Okla., April ..— (A.P.)—The University of Oklahoma yesterday plucked a famous football coach—Capt. Lawrence ('Biff') Jones—and "fraternity row" buzzed to-day in gleeful anticipation.

The long-awaited formal announcement of the change came from the War Department in Washington, where Jone's transfer from Baton Rouge to Oklahoma was made known. Captain Jones will move at once from Louisiana State, where he tired of the dictatorial tactics of Senator Huey Long last season.

The school-leaving age in France may be raised from 13 to 14 years.

STARS UNTIL SOMEONE ELSE COMES ALONG

Dizzy Dean, Decided Indication of Fickleness of Baseball Fans.

LIKE THE GLAMOROUS

National League Full of Popular Stars Who Are Replacing "Hasbeens."

NEW YORK, April 5.—The tremendous popularity to-day of Jerome Herman "Dizzy" Dean, brilliant, clowning right-handed pitching star of the St. Louis Cardinals, is a decided indication of the fickleness of baseball fans.

Fans, easily captivated by the sensational and glamorous, make and break baseball stars. You're in the public eye to-day, and suddenly, without warning, somebody else comes along—somebody younger, perhaps, and with a little more zip to his fast ball—and you're out in the cold.

The case of Dean is only one of many instances. The lanky Card hurler fairly zoomed into the public picture.

Whence Do They Come

Who are the stars of to-day? Where do they come from?

"Dizzy" Dean is one. "Dizzy" came up with the Cards in 1930, a gangling rookie with the confidence of a seasoned veteran. He pitched one game, won it, yielded but three hits and was shipped back to the Houston farm the following year for more experience. He came back in 1932, more confident and more capable and won 18 games, while leading the National League pitchers in strikeouts with 286.

It was Dean's arrogant, almost boasting attitude that got the fans excited. But it was not the boasting so much, as making good on his promises.

Playing on the same team with Dean is Joe "Ducky" Medwick, another product of the Cardinal Houston farm. Like Dean, Medwick burst into the public picture in 1932. He added a colorful personality to a heavy, dangerous bat and the fans liked him.

The National League has many of these young stars who came along to replace the old standbys. There are George "Tut" Stainback and Frank Demaree, hard hitting outfielders with the Chicago Cubs.

The Phillies have Curt Davis, a pitcher who won 19 in his first real try in the big leagues, with a team that could do no better than seventh last year.

Many With Cards

The Cards have in addition to Dean and Medwick, Paul "Daffy" Dean, "Dizzy's" younger brother; Jim "Ripper" Collins, a first baseman with fence-busting intentions, and Bill Delancey, a catcher who is now regarded as one of the best in the game.

The Pirates have Floyd "Arkie" Vaughan, a fast, brilliant fielder and powerful hitter.

The Giants have "Doc" Parmalee and Hal Schumacher, excellent pitchers.

The American League has more than its share of youngsters who have captured the favor of the fans. Vernon "Lefty" Gomez, who many regard as the best southpaw in the American League to-day, is with the Yanks. There's also Johnny Broca, a bespectacled pitcher who jumped into a Yankee uniform with a Yale diploma in his hand. There's also George Selkirk, the man who took Babe Ruth's place in the Yankee right field.

Lynwood "Schoolboy" Rowe is well spotted with the Tigers. And here's also his teammate, Henry "Hank" Greenberg.

The Indians have in Mel Harder, a 26-year-old pitcher with seven years of experience and accounted one of the great of the game already.

They're all stars now. What will they be to-morrow?"

RISKS LIFE TO ENTER U. S.

NIAGARA FALLS.—(A.P.)— Lucien Crevier, 16, of Montreal, gambled with death to enter the United States, and to-day he found himself facing deportation back to Canada.

The boy, police said, boasted at the Niagara county transient bureau office he had "sneaked into the country" by making his way across girders of the Michigan Central Railroad bridge last night, risking death in the turbulent lower Niagara river. He was turned over to immigration authorities.

"Pop" Warner, Aged 65 Is Active Grid Coach

PHILADELPHIA, April 6. — Glenn S. ('Pop') Warner, football's "old fox" for four decades, entered his sixty-fifth year yesterday, and with a glance into the future saw happy gridiron days ahead for himself and his Temple University Owls.

Two big factors, "Pop" opined would contribute to make the coming year a big one for him—the promise his line-smashing fullback, Dave Smukler, gives of becoming greater than the great Jim Thorpe and Ernie Nevers, and the indications that this year's Temple eleven is going further back than 1934's undefeated combination.

OSHAWA IN C.O.B.L. WITH NEW SPONSOR

Former Dukes Will Play Under Banner of Dominion Brewery.

OSHAWA, April 6. — Oshawa Dukes will perform in the Central Ontario League under a new name this season, it was announced yesterday. The club, which will be playing their first full season in the C.O.B.L. in the last four years, will be sponsored by the Dominion Brewery, and will carry that firm's name. One of the most notable of the newcomers is Douglas Mays. Possibly the most sought after third baseman in the T.A.B.A. during the last few years, Mays will add considerable punch to the team, as he is a consistent long-distance hitter.

To bolster up the hurling corps the club have secured "Lefty" Innis, who formerly did his hurling for St. Marys in the Toronto pit league.

World's Net Stars

LONDON, April 6. — (A.P.)—A. Wallis Myers, the British authority, yesterday issued his latest ranking of the world's tennis stars.

Fred Perry of England, is rated tops, followed in order by Jack Crawford of Australia; Gottfried Von Cramm of Germany; H. W. Austin of England; William Allison and Sidney Wood, United States; Roderick Menzel, Czechoslovakia; Frank Shields, United States; Giorgio De Stefani, Italy and Christian Boussus, France.

Dorothy Round of England, heads the women's first 10, followed by Helen Jacobs, United States champion; Frau Svend Sperling, Germany; Sarah Palfrey, United States; Margaret Scriven, England; Mme. Rene Mathieu, France; Mlle. Lolette Payot, Switzerland; Joan Hardigan, Australia; Fraulein Cilli Aussen, Germany and Carolin Babcock, United States.

GOLF FACTS

NOT THEORIES!
By ALEX J. MORRISON

Number 577

Last week I went out to play with a pupil of mine, Louis K. Sidney. Mr. Sidney had just returned from a few weeks in Florida. The day he picked for our game on Long Island was raw and cold. The wind blew a perfect gale and we played the first few holes in sleet and rain.

We were dressed for the weather but our hands were almost numb. The clubs slipped around as though greased.

Nine holes of the course were right along the water. Two greens were completely surrounded by water and traps. Both were one-shot holes. One required a carry of about 200 yards.

In spite of the strong crosswind, Mr. Sidney put his tee shot within 20 feet of the pin. A perfect shot, but it entails a certain amount of luck. A doubtful hold on the club, an unsteady balance in the wind with the threatening hazards makes it unlikely that any player could count on such a perfect result.

Maybe Mr. Sidney thought he was still in Florida.

Number 579

If there's one thing to put you off your game and ruin your score, it's trying to get the ball up straight from a poor lie with the brassie. The odds are all against you.

In the first place you probably need plenty of distance on the shot, calling for a powerful swing. Then there is the matter of direction. You are no doubt facing the danger of going into some kind of hazard if you hook, slice or fail to carry far enough.

These things are bound to make you tighten up. You can't make your best swing. The result is that you fail to hit the ball cleanly, and yet you go on trying just the same.

To be successful under these conditions requires an almost perfect swing. You must be free from tension, either mental or physical. If you can count on this amount of relaxation and a perfect performance from your muscles, then carry on. Otherwise use a No. 2 or 3 iron.

Our Boarding House . . . . . By Ahern

British Syndicates Want Baer-Schmeling Bout

CAPITOL Last Times To-night 7.00 - 9.00

MONDAY AND TUESDAY

TWO BIG HITS!
Last Show at 8.30 P.M.

LOVE IS ON TRIAL!

But these two pit their love against the shadow of murder! Thrill-crammed, laugh-jammed, solution-proof!

RICARDO CORTEZ
VIRGINIA BRUCE
in
SHADOW OF DOUBT

From the Collier's Weekly Mystery Thriller by Arthur Somers Roche

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Picture
with
Constance COLLIER · Isabel JEWELL
Arthur BYRON · Betty FURNESS
Directed by GEORGE B. SEITZ
Produced by LUCIEN HUBBARD

ADDED COMEDY HIT

A MILLION DOLLARS IN LAUGHS! THE HOWLING SWEEPSTAKES COMEDY

FOUR DAYS—Commencing Wednesday
It's Smashing Records!

CHEERS FROM EVERYBODY!

Wherever you go, whatever you do . . . on every hand, people are saying "IT'S MARVELOUS ENTERTAINMENT"

BARONESS ORCZY'S
romantic adventures of a mysterious nightrider . . . whose hoof-beats brought hope to a nation . . . . . .

THE SCARLET PIMPERNEL
LESLIE HOWARD
with
MERLE OBERON
RAYMOND MASSEY

CAPITOL

$275,000 IS OFFERED BAER LONDON MATCH

British Syndicates Angling for Title Bout During Silver Jubilee Celebrations.

PLAN CANADIAN TOUR.

(By George Maguire, Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

NEW YORK, April 6 (CP)—Merrie England, her fight fans' pockets jingling with gold, to-day appeared to have a clear inside track on the next important heavyweight championship boxing match.

Two bids of a quarter of a million dollars were tossed at Max Baer and his canny manager, Ancil Hoffmann, when they arrived in town yesterday preparatory to leaving on an exhibition tour that will take them this month to Toronto, Montreal, Quebec and other eastern Canada cities.

Offered $275,000

Two powerful British syndicates are angling for a Baer-Max Schmeling bout to be staged in London during the King's Silver Jubilee celebrations this Summer. Armand Vincent of Montreal represents one and Walter Rothenberg, German promoter, the other. The former offered $275,000 or the privilege of 40 per cent. of the receipts. Rothenberg's offer was a flat $250,000 guarantee.

Jimmy Johnston, Madison Square Garden matchmaker, has Baer under contract for one fight. The Garden, however, has no one in sight to meet Baer except Jimmy Braddock. Johnston must name Baer's opponent on or before April 15.

P.C.C. TO ENTER COUNTY SERIES

Local Cricketers Have Every Confidence of Successful Season.

FIRST MATCH MAY 4.

CRICKET CLUB MEETING

A meeting of the Peterborough Cricket Club was held at the Chamber of Commerce on Friday, April 5 with the vice president, J. Lawrence presiding. Arrangements for the coming summer were completed and every confidence was felt that the club would have a good season. A good program of matches is being arranged; the accommodation will be improved and it is expected an adequate and necessary water supply will be available.

The season's arrangement will be in the hands of an executive committee consisting of J. Lawrence, F. Dyer (Capt.), J. Gore (Vice Pres.), R. N. Stuart, (Treasurer), and S. Lorne (Secretary), 30 James street.

County championship matters were also discussed and Peterborough will again enter the competition in which last year they reached the semi-finals. A selection committee for county matches was appointed consisting of Miles Hamilton, C. H. Ireson and R. N. Stuart. The committee earnestly wish to get some new playing members; they feel there must be many Englishmen in the city who would like to pay the old game. The club is fully provided with the necessary equipment and there are matches on Saturdays and practice three times a week. Any new members will be cordially welcomed and should get in touch with the secretary or any member of the above-named committees. The match is against Trinity College school at Port Hope on May 4.

Ellis S. Simmons, Jr., O. Tom Cupoli was high man for the night, also setting a new high single for the league, rolling 182, 236, 369 for a smart 818 total. "Chuck" Dorrington had 235, 362, 206 for 798; "Bud" Goodson 176, 247, 237 for 762.

o o o

'T' SENIOR LEAGUE

bowling has finished and playoffs take place next week. Results of some postponed games, which were bowled off this week give T's Men 4 points, Silverwoods 0; Olympics 3; Little Phoebes 0. Roy Lew was high man for the week, rolling 313, 276, 276 for 867; Walter Firth had 204, 190, 330 for 814; Elmer Long 201, 224, 280 for 795; Roy Lewis 210, 268, 261 for 719; Nels Routley 224, 222, 282 for 708 and Percy Ellison 188, 232, 286 for 702.

o o o

C.G.E. SHOP LEAGUE

play-off, with eight teams rolling five games resulted in a victory for Montgomery with Thomas and Tice runners-up. The scores: Montgomery, 1025, 1009, 971, 1023, 1068, 5,094; Thomas, 792, 1,163, 1089, 1042, 932, 4,968; Tice, 843, 973, 939, 1022, 971, 4,738.

o o o

CULLEN PRACTICALLY cinched first place in Examiner League this week by reason of a 4-0 decision over Max Glover; Dugan copped 4 from Scates; Swanston 3 from Taylor while the Dunkley-Gray battle resulted in a draw. Gerry Cullen was high man for the night, rolling 223, 228, 276 for 729; Frank Gray had 274, 22, 191 for 687.

SPORTS

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

DAY BY DAY

(By C. J. P.)

Introducing Eddie (Jiggs) Murphy—a young Irisher. He plans to play shortstop for the Petes this summer. Comes from Toronto where he played with St. Peter's and St. Mary's seniors—also St. Mike's great grid team of '32, and later Argos. Was a lineman and a classy rugby player. He's about medium height and fairly heavy, aged 21. Rated one of the best shortstops in Toronto, if not the best, both in fielding and hitting. Has pro ambitions. Jumped at the chance to come here the first of March along with his buddy, Red Kearns—outfielder with St. Mary's in the Western City League last year. And so we have a shortstop.

o o o o o o

Let's look over his record last season. He was in 29 games, scored 22 runs and hit safely 28 times for an average of .302—a fine mark for an infielder. Tied for league honors in homers with four and was second in stolen bases with seven. Fanned six times and drew 10 walks while knocking in 15 runs. We looked over a bunch of clippings on Murphy and he certainly was in the press plenty. Praised highly in all the Toronto sheets for his fielding and hitting in baseball and his all-around work in rugby. He should prove a valuable cog in the local baseball machine this year.

o o o o o o

A clipping from The Star over a year ago said: "Young Eddie Murphy, who last year did the shortstopping with St. Peter's of the Western City League, is going to Buffalo to try his luck with the Bisons of the International League. Eddie's a fine prospect and worthy of a trial." But apparently he wasn't yet ready. And he was named on an all-star team known as the Stanley Park Aces. Bunny Morgansen saying: "And the flashy Eddie Murphy of St. Mary's will be located at shortstop." There are any number of accounts of games mentioning Murphy's classy fielding or timely hitting, but after all that was in Toronto. Local fans will wait to see how he goes in the C.O.B.L. we suppose before passing judgment.

o o o o o o

However, one more quotation from The Telegram in 1933 on this player: "There is a lad playing shortstop for St. Peter's senior ball club in the Western City League. He is a regular jumping-jack around shortstop. At times it is almost impossible to get a ball past this active youngster. Step up and meet Eddie (Jiggs) Murphy. Jiggs is not only a sensational fielder but also a hitter of note. He has been introduced to Dan Howley and impressed the manager of the Leafs during his first trial. Murphy is but 19 years of age. He played for St. Peter's juniors and before with Osler playground. This is his first year in senior."

o o o o o o

Among the many prominent Ontario softball men who will be here Good Friday for the O.A.S.A. annual convention are: Major McArthur of Guelph, honorary president; Fred Grant of Toronto, past prexy; Ernie Smith of Hamilton, O.A.S.A. president; Harry Briggs, president of the Hamilton district; Secretary Vern McIlwraith of Guelph; Treasurer Bill Innis of Paris; Bill Shaw of Windsor; J. Bowman of Owen Sound; Herb Champion of Simcoe, noted former hockey and lacrosse star; Homer Frasell of London; and Vic Collett and Percy Randall of Toronto, both on A.A.U. of C committees. Delegates will swarm in here from Windsor, Niagara Falls, Ottawa, North Bay and dozens of towns in between. Over a hundred are expected in Peterborough for this convention.

o o o o o o

The Church Softball League—which holds its annual meeting at seven in the "Y" April 15th—has had a mushroom growth in its four years of existence. Last year no less than 350 players on 27 teams made up this circuit. One Lakefield and eleven local churches all had teams entered and seven different diamonds were used. As many as six games have been run off in one evening. The loop operated in four sections: Senior, open; junior, under 21 by May 1st; juvenile, under 17; and bantam, under 15. Players may take part in two games in a higher section or in the City League. Mark St., St. James, George St. and St. Paul's won the titles last year, with Knox and Mark St. and Lakefield one each.

o o o o o o

All local and district churches are invited to have representatives at this general meeting where plans will be made for this season. The working committee of five—Le n Agnew, Whitty Thirnbeck, Bill Anderson, Reg. Kingdon and Don Charlton—will likely run for office again. Personally, we know of no better officers for this lively league and hope they are returned. If the weather is okay, games will start around the first of May and the schedule will conclude by the first of July.

o o o o o o

A dispatch from Boston the other day, telling about an amateur swim meet, called a college team "honey-eaters". It went on to say the swimmers sat around before each race sipping honey out of little jars. This easily digestible food is supposed to provide quick energy. And when we think of it, don't distance swimmers and tennis players often munch cubes of sugar to revive their flagging muscles? And Suzanne Lenglen, when she was the greatest woman tennis player in the world, used to sip champagne between sets. Hockey players are sometimes given a glass of beer between periods in gruelling games. All these are stimulants for energy and quite often used by topnotch athletes. Lately, we've been doing a lot of puffing running to catch the bus but all that's over—we will now carry a little jar of honey in our pocket!

o o o o o o

Grab-bag: 'Y' Intermediate Cage Loop winds up its schedule tonight....First and second teams will then meet in the playoffs.... Nothing definite can be learned from Raybestos or C.G.E. as to plans for running an intermediate ball team this summer....Men's softball executive meets at seven Monday in Duffus'....We hope they will get started by 7.30, anyway!....Organization meeting of the City Softball League will not be held till after Good Friday.... But the Gals' Loop should get going shortly....Some of the more optimistic ball fans are hoping someone forgets to rebuild that flattened fence on the east side of Riverside Park.

TRANSFERS GIVEN SEVERAL PLAYERS

O. B. A. A. Approves of Residence Changes Before Annual Meeting.

KITCHENER, April 6. — (CP) — Thirty-three applications for the transfer of baseball players were dealt with by the Executive of the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association here last night, preparatory to the seventeenth annual convention of that body which will be an all-day affair here today.

Tonight seventy-five delegates had registered at a hotel here, and by tomorrow it is anticipated that about 150 will be in attendance at the dinner, at which Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn will be main speaker. The Premier will be accompanied by Hon. Paul Leduc, Minister of Mines; Hon. David A. Croll, Minister of Welfare and Public Affairs; Hon. Norman Hipel Speaker of the Legislature; Dr. A. D. Roberts, M.P.P. for Sault Ste. Marie, and Nicholas Asmussen, M. P.P. for North Waterloo.

Transfers Wanted.

The applications for change of residence approved are as follows: Vincent McQuaide, Brockville to Kingston; Edward Compeau, Brockville to Kingston; Bud Clancy, Brockville to Kingston; Russel Jubenville, Kirkland Lake to Oshawa; James Barclay, Toronto to Belleville; Fred Batten, Peterborough to Sudbury; Harold Gross, Napanee to Oshawa.

Softball notes

SOFTBALL NOTES

First meeting of the South End Softball League will be held, at 8 p.m. Monday night in All Saints' club house. All those interested are invited.

MURRAY ST. WINS JUNIOR CAGE HONORS

Baptists Score Thrilling 10-9 Victory Over Wohelo Club in Finals.

CLOSE CAGE SERIES.

With a thrilling 10-9 victory over the Wohelo Club, Murray Street Church team won the championship of the junior section of the Ladies' Softball League. It was the third and deciding contest of the closely contested series.

Led by H. Mann, who was in great form scoring nine of her team's points, Murray Street opened a lead of 5-3 in the first half, Wohelos staged a strong offensive in the final period with B. Flin, F. Bestard and C. Whatman as marksman, but failed to overcome their rivals. H. Mann scored two more baskets in the last half and R. Ellis sank a free throw to keep Murray Street on top. The teams:

Murray Street—H. Mann, R. Ellis, P. Rome, G. Mann, M. Armstrong, K. Valentine, J. Carson, B. Weart, P. Armstrong.

Wohelo Club—B. Flynn, F. Bestard, K. Rogow, P. McCarroll, E. Lynch, C. Whatman, A. Gluklick, E. Rogow, M. Kingsbury.

Referee—J. Cooper, B. Kitchen; scorer, S. Ecobichon. Time-keeper, S. Shields.

Mann Cup Champions Are Almost Intact

ORILLIA, April 6. (CP).—Present indications are the Orillia Terriers, Canadian lacrosse champions, will be intact for this season, with the exception of one player, 'Pete' Anthony, who has returned home, presumably to play for Brampton.

Ed Downey, husky defense man, recently returned to Orillia from St. Catharines, and will be playing again, "Butch" Boettger and Bill Mullins as well as Bill Wilson and Tommy Scott, four of last year's Terrier stars from outside centres, are all in town, and will be in the line-up when practices start in about a month. Whether or not the Terrier executive will use Ken Pethick, one of last year's forward players, in the nets has not been decided as yet. Pethick has in the past displayed some skill in stopping rubber.

Gar Wood To Attempt New Speedboat Mark

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 6 (AP)—Gar Wood, grayhaired master of motor boat racing, scanned the sky to-day for weather signs preparatory to putting his Miss America X. into Indian Creek for a try at a new world water speed record.

Wood was optimistic over the prospect of setting a new standard higher than the 124.86 miles an hour he made in 1933 with the Miss America IX.

Regent ENTERTAINMENT

Last Times To-night
KEN MAYNARD in
"THE HONOR OF THE RANGE"
Also
BUCK JONES in Chapt. 1 of "THE RED RIDER"

STARTING MONDAY
DOUBLE FEATURE PROGRAMME

A small-time vaudeville trio living from hand to mouth hits the top of Hollywood — in this sparkling musical comedy-drama!

with
RUSS COLUMBO
singing 3 new songs;
ROGER PRYOR
JUNE KNIGHT
—in—
"WAKE UP and DREAM"

FEATURE NO. 2
A Vivid and Thrilling Story
"JEALOUSY"
With Nancy Carroll, Donald Cook

Sarnia Collegiate Wins In Tournament

WINDSOR, Ont., April 6.—(C.P.)—Sarnia Collegiate, scoring 1,726 points, won the Western Ontario Secondary Schools Association gymnastic tournament for the eighth time here last night. Five hundred fans turned out to see the exhibition, the first of its kind to be staged in Windsor.

Frank Mroczkowski of Patterson Collegiate, Windsor, won the cup for the best individual performance, with D. Simpson of Sarnia, running him a close second.

In the team competition, Patterson finised second to the tunnel town entrants with a point total of 1,591, while Central Collegiate of London and Kennedy of Windsor followed in that order.

Walkerville and Brantford Collegiates, although entered, failed to put in an appearance.

Sarnia has won the Ontario title four times and the Canadian championship three times.

HORSE SMUGGLER

BURLINGTON, Vt., April 6. (CP) Alleged smuggling of horses across the Canadian border was the unusual crime for which Joseph Viens of North Troy was on trial in Federal Court to-day. Customs officers testified they found horses at his home which they said had been smuggled from Canada.

Wrestling Last Night

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA.—Dan O'Mahoney, 216, Ireland, threw Alphonse Bisignano, 212, Des Moines, Ia., 20.30.

DES MOINES.—Ed (Strangler) Lewis, 250, Glendale, Calif., defeated Lou Plummer, 235, Chicago, two out of three falls.

Fights Last Night

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA—George Gibbs, 140½, Philadelphia, outpointed Billy Wallace, 136, Cleveland (10).

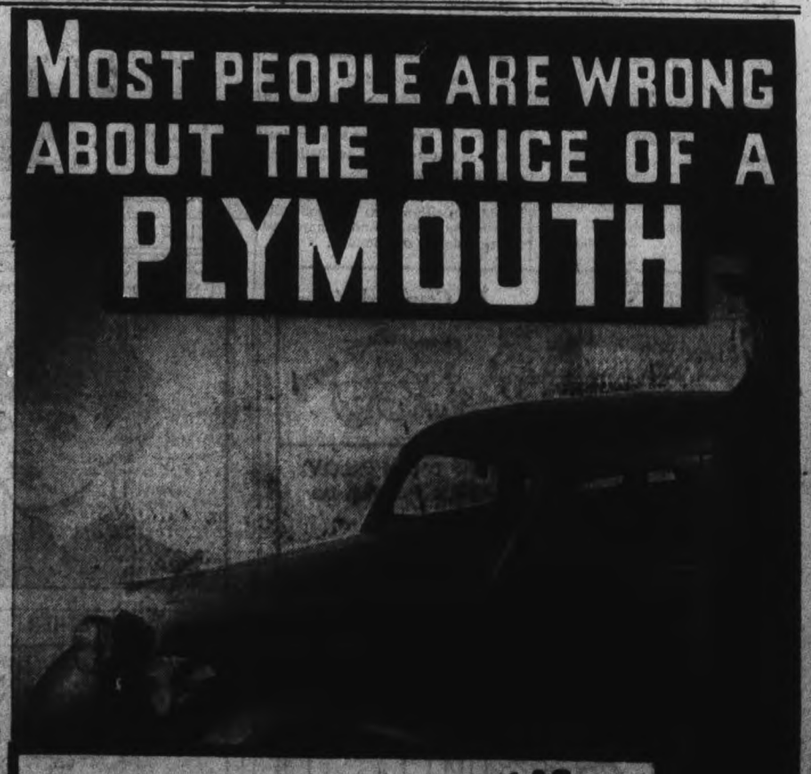
SPOKANE, Wash.—Cecil Payne, 153, Louisville, Ky., stopped Johnny Christmas, 136¼, Oakland, Calif. (10).

RULE BRITANNIA ABSOLUTE?

WINDSOR, Ont.—"Rule Britannia," in the opinion of H. Whorlow Bull, director of music for the Windsor Public Schools, unfortunately, is becoming obsolete.

Mr. Bull made this statement at a meeting of the committees arranging the Border Cities silver jubilee celebration when discussion centred on community singing. The song, he said, was in the same class with Hearts of Oak and Ye Mariners of England. They all belonged to the Napoleonic wars.

MOST PEOPLE ARE WRONG ABOUT THE PRICE OF A PLYMOUTH



DELIVERED IN Peterborough FOR AS LOW AS $797

GILLESPIE GARAGE
378 Aylmer St. Phone 950

SET 'EM UP!

Bowling Notes and Comments

By Reg. McClavey

RESULTS FOR THE final night of bowling in K. of C. Monday night league give J. Anthony 8 points from Lalonde while the Duffus-Gimblett battle resulted in a draw, each team taking 4 points. Walter Firth had 707 for the night, rolling 207, 268, 212. Mel Anthony led the boys for the week, hitting 312, 264, 255 for 731.

o o o

A ROLL-OFF TO DECIDE the winner of the second section of the K. of C. League resulted in a victory for Gimblett over J. Anthony and Duffus'. 'Chief' Gimblett was high man for the night, rolling 269, 266, 228 for 763; Bill Martin had 745 with 263, 255, 226; Mel Armitage 738 with 255, 256, 224 and Walter Firth rolled 232, 311, 178 for 721.

o o o

PLAY-OFF OF THE C.G.E. Wire Department League resulted in a decision in favor of Bill Robb's team over Eddie Williams aggregation. The scores: Robb, 831, 798, 996, 2725; Williams, 819, 1002, 876, 2697. "Vi" Gallober led the girls for the night, rolling 134, 256, 136 for 526 and Eddie Williams topped the men with 176, 242, 287 for 706.

o o o

AS A RESULT of their 4-0 victory over Ab. Delahaye, the Goodson bowlers copped first money for the Westclox Shop League. In their second game, the Goodson team set up a nice four-man team total—

Wyatt	300
Goodson	347
Dorrington	352
Vint	193
	1697

o o o

THE OTHER LEAGUE games give Cupoli 6, Simmons, Sr., 2; Beckerman 8, Starr 0;

Little Sister

by Margaret Widdemer

(Continued from Yesterday)

CHAPTER 54

"No," said Jerry thoughtfully, "no, it didn't . . . And look here, Leila, I'm sorry I had to be such a clam. But old Mr. Huntingdon made it his condition. Addison would never have taken it, feeling the way he did then, before being married and settled and all, if he'd thought it was his demon father. We both knew that. So I had to let Addy think that all the money the old gentleman is putting in here was a sweet easy little loan I got out of some mysterious bank somewhere. De Fries is infernally plausible, as well as being a swell engineer. This thing is making him, so he was willing to back me up and help me out generally. Old Huntingdon's architect had the blueprints. As a matter of fact, a lot of this very plan had been half worked out by the old gentleman some years ago when Jim was alive. Jim was keen on something like this, long before the government and the country at large was. . . . Well, I saw my opportunity, and I put it up to old Hargess. Here was Addison, halfway civilized, as you might say. Here was a chance to do what Jim wanted done, and pin Addy down to being civilized all the rest of the way. It took a lot of arguing, and after that some handling, but here we are!"

"Just another lost cause for the Redmonds to work at!" said Leila, remembering what he had said in the first days they met.

"Lost cause your grandmother! It's a won cause! My dear, Addison's not only in the forefront of progress, he's I'm sorry to tell him, hand in glove with the government. They're officially apprised — is that the word? They're going to try to copy this place and the other for the workmen; the Huntingdons have started the wheels of progress with a bang. This place is about to be publicized all over America. Watch it!"

"Jerry — just one more thing ——" she said hastily. He was too much the Jerry Redmond she wanted more than anything else in the world, his head thrown back, his eyes and lips laughing triumphantly, for her to do anything but hurry on with talk or go away. "What chance is there of Aunt Minnie getting things back — getting her money back? With all of his father's money behind him now, Addison will surely let Aunt Minnie have her principal again, won't he?"

"My dear! That's the crowning joke. All this time we've been panting around about money — those miserable sums which to the likes of us are so darn important — she could have had it back any time. You remember the way Addison would talk plaintively or proudly from time to time about refusing Cousin Colby's cash?"

"Yes!" said Leila with a gleam of hope, "but I thought he'd given it to some crazy cause or other."

"So did I. So did he. So he told the lawyers. What cause I forget now, probably a colony for the intellectual elevation of the orangoutang, he was as wild as that then. Cause, all right. But it never occurred to me to ask him — I didn't know him much then — how old he was!"

"Oh, I can tell you that," Leila said without undue enthusiasm. "He was 20."

"Didn't that mean anything in your life?"

She shook her red-brown head.

"It did to me. I asked his father. I was the traitor, you know, who dashed out to Cleveland and broke the news to him that here was his little nut Addison dwelling in a highly conservative spot near his sister-in-law's old pal, Mrs. Johnston-Hedges, with a wife and a maiden aunt and an occupation. I made him promise he wouldn't bother Addy. So he got in touch with Mrs. Johnston-Hedges and convinced himself all was well. My dear —" Jerry bent closer, and Leila forgot that he shouldn't call her that — "Cousin Colby left the kid $25,000, and his refusing it at 20 meant as much as if an idiot had. The old gentleman was trustee, and he simply had sense enough to leave the money where it was and said nothing. Odder still, it's still there, all of it. Huntingdon is going to break the news to Addy to-morrow, if not this evening. So your aunt will get her loan back, bless her little funny heart."

"And you?" asked Leila.

"Mine wasn't enough to bother about. Oh, yes, I suppose so. But the way things are with me now, that doesn't really matter."

What did anything matter? There was Mary — there was Orton. She had forgotten everything, as she always did forget everything but Jerry himself when she was with Jerry. She managed to achieve a bright, cool smile, and say:

"After all, somebody should get up and make a speech about you. You did every bit of it, first and last. You should have some credit."

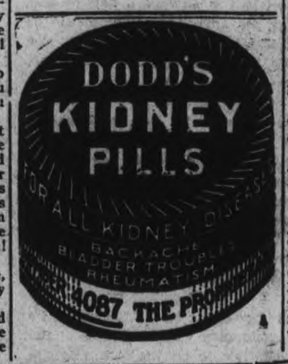
"So should you," said Jerry, "but you haven't. You've spent your whole youth pulling Bet out of messes and helping your family keep a roof over its head. You haven't asked for thanks —why should I, or any noble souls like us? Neither did the first man who invented steamboats or flew the Atlantic or found the South Pole! There ain't no justice.'"

They both laughed. It was unwise, because Mary Martin, a little way down the table, heard and acted.

"Oh, Jerry darling, don't go off and be so intellectual with Leila," she called brightly. "Even if she did come over to sit down by you, after all, you did bring poor little me!"

Mary Martin herself would have tossed back some smart line in reply to that, and stayed; Leila hadn't her armor on sufficiently not to be routed by the instinct of pride. She rose and left, which was, of course, what Mary intended, and dropped blindly into the seat the mayor had just vacated, leaving the party once his duty was done, in the manner of over-entertained officials. She could dimly see out of the corner of her eye the red-and-diamond blur that was Mary, the black-and-white blur that was Jerry. At her other side now was the vacant seat of the mayor's wife. This made it impossible for her to give any semblance of gayety and interest with anybody herself; she was patently routed. But she didn't care. Talking to anyone would have been intolerable just then.

(To be continued)



THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, April 7

Sunday's horoscope, although hinting some unusual excitement or high tension, may not be read as being favorable to the conventional affairs of the day. The clergy, ecclesiastical matters and industry are under the baneful ray, which may take form as a sorrow, ill health or as a loss. Move cautiously in all.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a very active and enterprising year despite much opposition, treachery, enmity and impediment. With care it may be that high-pressure energy and initiative may vanquish obstacles, but be careful of the health.

A child born on this day may be talented, energetic and adventurous, but may be disposed to win by "fair means or foul" unless given early training.

For Monday, April 8

Monday's astrological forecast hold augury of favorable conditions for those in the employment of others. Business affairs are likely to run in routine grooves, with all depending on personal initiative. Social, domestic or affectional activities are likely to engage attention, and call for restraint and circumspection.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year in which there will be much leeway for demonstrating their individual initiative and merit in employment, which may bring some mark of preference or favoritism from employers.

A child born on this day may be fortunate in employment, where its social graces and friendliness may win attention.

Dartford

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Broadworth were recent visitors with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Potter of Frankford.

Mrs. Beecher McDonald, Fenella, paid a visit during the week with her father, Mr. J. Allen.

Mr. Raymond Richardson entertained a large number of friends and neighbors at a house party last Friday.

Mr. A. A. Martin, Inspector of Public Schools, of Brighton ,made his annual visit to S.S. No. 10 during the week.

Mrs. Levi Jewell and Mrs. John Atkinson spent Saturday with friends in Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Inglis of Castleton, Mr. and Mrs. R. White and baby, Shirley, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. H. Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Nelson, Warkworth, are visiting at their parental homes here.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Potter, Frankford, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Broadworth.

Here's Way Science Now Relieves Pain in Minutes

BAD HEADACHES, NEURITIS AND RHEUMATIC PAINS EASED ALMOST AT ONCE

Remember the pictures below when you want fast relief from pain. Aspirin eases even a bad headache or neuralgia often in a few minutes!

An Aspirin tablet begins "taking hold" of your pain practically as soon as you swallow it. And Aspirin is safe. For Aspirin does not harm the heart.

Remember these two points! Aspirin Speed and Aspirin Safety. And, see that you get ASPIRIN, the method doctors prescribe. It is made in Canada, and all druggists have it. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every Aspirin tablet. Get tin of 12 tablets or economical bottle of 24 or 100 tablets.

Why Aspirin Works So Fast

Drop an Aspirin tablet in a glass of water. Note that BEFORE it touches the bottom, it is disintegrating.

IN 2 SECONDS BY STOP WATCH An Aspirin tablet starts to disintegrate and go to work.

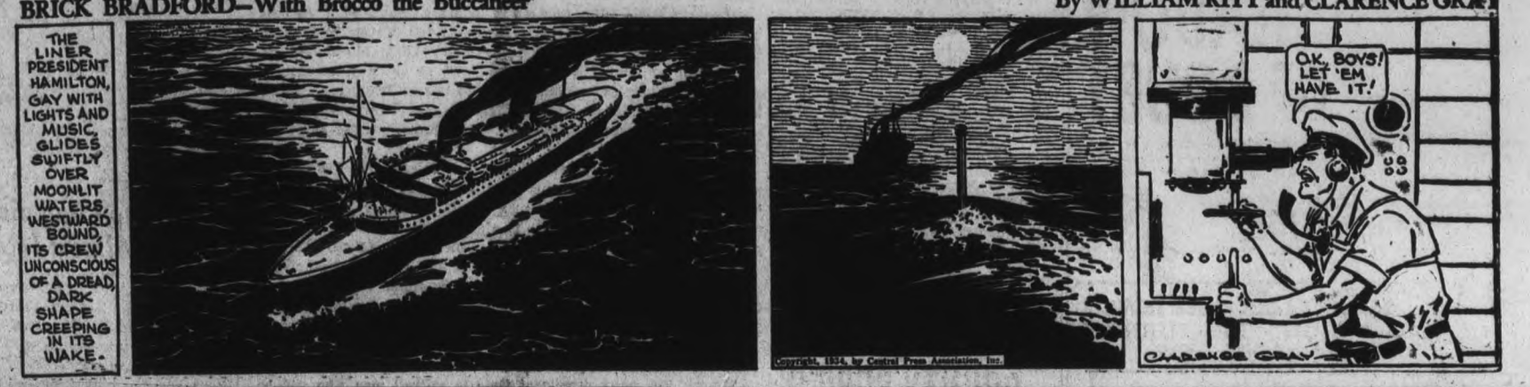
What happens in these glasses happens in your stomach—ASPIRIN tablets start "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.

When in Pain Remember These Pictures

ASPIRIN IS THE TRADE MARK OF THE BAYER COMPANY, LIMITED

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY EXAMINER

BRICK BRADFORD—With Brocco the Buccaneer — By WILLIAM RITT and CLARENCE GRAY

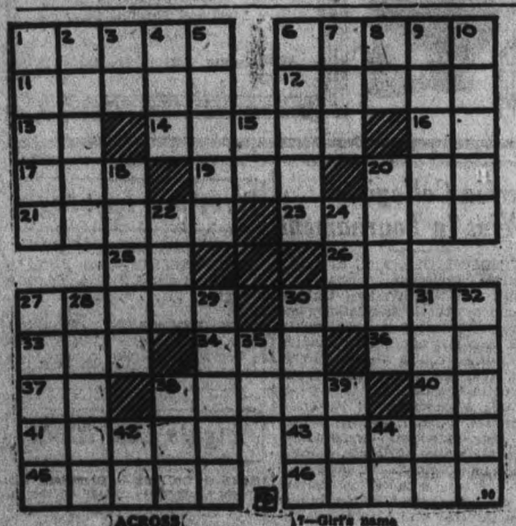


MUGGS McGINNIS — What Now? — By WALLY BISHOP

HIGH PRESSURE PETE — Using His Head — By GEORGE SWAN

TILLIE THE TOILER — By Russ Westover

BRINGING UP FATHER — By George McManus



ACROSS

5—A kind of crustacean (pl.)
9—Serves
11—Lowest class of Spartans
12—Vex
13—Abbot (crypt)
14—Long
15—Cerium (symbol)
17—Body of water
18—French sheep
20—A lofty mountain
22—Potential energy
23—Cut deeply
24—Within
25—Co-ordinating conjunction
26—Begin
27—Parka
29—Ash beverage
31—Small child
32—Nothing
33—Low, Latin (abbr.)
34—Color qualities
36—Point of the compass
38—A citadel
40—Mostly
42—Small piece of fish
43—Kiln

DOWN

1—Feminine
2—Allude
3—Boy's nickname
4—Lad
5—Kind of metal
6—Goods
7—Girl's name
8—Within
9—Implements
10—Slender, graceful woman
15—Exclamation of disappointment
16—Active
20—Boy's name
22—Pismire
24—Measure of land
27—Stops
28—Distribute
29—To lay away
30—Stalks
31—Gusty
32—Weaver's reeds
35—Upon
38—A number
39—Sun god
42—War office (abbr.)
44—State of the U. S. (abbr.)

Marmora

Billie Curtis, son of Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Curtis, had the misfortune to fall and break his elbow on Wednesday. As the break was a critical one, he was removed to Belleville General Hospital.

Mr. Michael Finnegan has obtained a position with the Belleville Creameries Limited and commenced his new duties on Monday.

THE TUTTS — By Crawford Young

For Quick Results Use An Examiner Want. Ad.

WANT AD. RATES

Cash 1 Cent per Word or Figure per Insertion.
Minimum Charge, 25c for Any Advt.
If Charged 1½ cent per word or figure per insertion.
Phone We will call for your ad. and give you the cash rate. 1600

CHARGES:

Card of Thanks	50c
In Memoriam (up to 2 inches)	75c
Over 2 inches, per inch	50c
With black border, extra	25c
Birth Notice	50c
Death Notice	50c
Locals, (Back Page), per inch	$1.00
Block Locals (Back Page), inch	$1.00

Index to Examiner Classified Want Advts.

Agents Wanted L
Boarders Wanted ..... F
Business Opportunities ..... K
Chiropractor ..... U
Cottages, Summer Resorts ..... E
Dressmaking ..... Z
Employment Wanted ..... J
Female Help Wanted ..... H
Found ..... N
For Rent—General C
For Sale—General ..... A
General Notice ..... Z
Help Wanted—Male or Female ..... M
Lost ..... M
Male Help Wanted ..... G
Personal ..... Z
Pet Stock ..... W
Poultry for Sale, and Eggs ..... P
Radio ..... T
Real Estate ..... D
Salesmen Wanted V
Situations Vacant V
To Rent—Houses and Apartments. B
Used Cars for Sale ..... S
Wanted—General ..... Q
Live Stock ..... O

a For Sale—General

NO. 1 MIXED WOOD, $7 PER CORD, 12". Body Hardwood, 4'. $6 per Cord. 'Phone 2097. 2d-85-90A

SODA FOUNTAIN, COMPLETE WITH many Accessories; also 3 Lb. Confectioners' Computing Scale, good as new. Will be sold cheap. R. A. Dean, Norwood. 3d-85-115D

QUANTITY BRICK. 'PHONE 2097. 6d-85-90A

CLOTHES REEL, LARGE SIZE; GAS Water Heater, cheap. 'Phone 2826W. 2d-85-105A

TOP BUGGY. APPLY 98 LEE. 2d-85-106A

21 O.A.C. BARLEY, 72 O.A.C. OATS. 'Phone Keene 12 ring 15. 3d-85-104A

150-EGG INCUBATOR AND BROODer, new. 'Phone 2126W. 2d-85-102A

GOOD USED TIRES, MOST ALL sizes, for Sale at 450 Water Street. 12d-19,22,25,26,29,30,2,5,6,9,12,15-4628A

GAS RANGE, GOOD CONDITION. Apply 186 London. 3d-85-82A

10 - QUART MORANT CAKE MAchine, Meat Slicer. Cull 2082. Also Player Piano. 6d-84-2961A

TRY OUR $3 LOAD OF PINE OR Hardwood Slabs. Baker's Wood Yard. 'Phone 2976. 12d-28-2958A

JUST RECEIVED — ANOTHER LOT of Men's and Young Men's Clothing (Slightly Used). Suits, Coats $3-$7. Suits $3-$7. Suits Coats $1.50 up. Pants $1.00 up. Vests 25c, Hats 50c. Also Used Furniture, reasonable. Ruskin's, Aylmer Street (opposite the Fire Hall). 3d-85-45A

DRY KINDLING IN BUNDLES, DElivered anywhere in City, $5 for $1.00. Kingdon Barrel and Shingle Factory. 'Phone 2230. 3d-83-41A

TWIN WICKER SULKEY. 'PHONE 2815, or 606 George. 3d-85-90A

HAWAIIAN GUITAR AND CASE, $10. 'Phone 1190W. 3d-83-81A

CERTIFIED SEED POTATOES — Irish Cobblers, Green Mountains, Belmont Farms, Newcastle, Ont. 12d-26-2798A

DOLLAR LOADS — SLABS, MIXED Wood. 'Phone 56. 7d-85-2908A

$1.75 QUARTER CORD, DRY MIXED Wood. Albion. 'Phone 85. 3d-27-2699A

LOAD MIXED WOOD, 80% HARDwood, $2.25. Pulkinghorn. 'Phone 278. 6d-85-1006A

COMMODE CHAIR FOR SALE. 370 Gilchrist Street. 3d-84-85A

FOUR-BURNER GAS STOVE, ANNEX Heater with Water Front, complete. 'Phone 1367W. 3d-85-89A

ELECTRIC SCALES, ONE 24-LB., ONE 60-Lb., International Business Machine Scales, good condition. 'Phone 294. 4d-84-2936A

AMERICAN BANNER SEED OATS, grown from Registered Seed; good yielders. Also Barley. Reg. Robertson, Lakefield, 942 ring 21. 3d-84-74A

DINING-ROOM SUITE, COMBINAtion Range, Parlor Furniture, 618 Chamberlain. 3d-84-89A

LLOYD WICKER BABY CARRIAGE, good condition. 'Phone 2016J. 2d-84-92A

a For Sale—General

ROSE CREPE DRESS, TWEED COAT (size 16), Gent.'s Spring. 228 London. 2d-83-98A

GOOD STEEL-TIRED TOP BUGGY. 'Phone 411F. 3d-84-96A

GAS STOVE, SMALL, HIGH BACK; Electric Washer, Gas Plate, other articles. 'Phone 1795W. 2d-84-130A

MIXED 80% SEASONED BODY Hardwood; also Dry Wood, $5 Cord. 361 Charlotte Street. 'Phone 1683. 6d-83-130A

GARAGE AND TRAILER. 'PHONE 1439M. 3d-85-126A

PIANO, MODERN UPRIGHT, MAHOgany Case, in good condition, $45.00. 'Phone 2394. 2d-84-127A

b For Rent—Houses and Apartments

TWO FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHed Rooms, suitable for Light Housekeeping. Apply 217 Rubidge Street. 3d-83-46B

THREE-ROOMED FLAT TO RENT. 239 Lake Street. 3d-83-100B

HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, HEATED; central. 106 McDonnel. 3d-85-101B

MODERN APARTMENT, NEAR T.C.E. 'Phone 1232J. 3d-85-120B

CLEAN, COMFORTABLE SLEEPING Rooms, $1.50 to $2.50 per Week. Apply 376½ Water Street, Apartment 1. 3d-85-103B

BRIGHT, COSY ROOM, FURNISHED or Unfurnished, heated; central. 'Phone 2303W. 3d-83-45B

FIVE-ROOM HOUSE, NEAR C.G.E., 614. Apply 614 Patterson. 3d-83-39B

EIGHT ROOMS, WIRED FOR ELECtric Stove, large Living-room, overlooking lake, large garden. 'Phone 2081W. 3d-85-1B

BRIGHT, COMFORTABLE 4-ROOM Apartment, plumbing, Kitchen Furnished; adults; handy C.G.E. Apply 998 Dalhousie Street. 'Phone 373. 2d-83-57B

TWO FURNISHED HEATED ROOMS, central. Apply 200 Stewart Street. 3d-83-32B

NICE 3-ROOMED FLAT, REASONable, central; lights and water paid. Write Box 32, Examiner. 3d-83-33B

RED BRICK HOUSE, SPLENDID condition, 2 fireplaces, 559 Gilmour Street. Immediate possession. Apply J. E. Pate, or any Real Estate Dealer. 3d-83-9006B

HOUSE, NO. 386 RUBIDGE STREET hot water heating. Possession can be arranged. Apply 487 George Street. dtf-5246B

FOR RENT — PREMISES NO. 19 Water Street. Suitable for Store or Office (heated). Apply 487 George Street. dtf-8161B

THREE-ROOM HOUSE, LIGHT, pump, water garden, North-end. Apply 194 Hilliard. 2d-82-97B

FOUR-ROOMED UPPER APARTment; full plumbing; adults. Moderate rent. Vacant 1st May. 185 Stewart. 3d-84-82B

ROOMS, FURNISHED, UNFURNISHed, with gas, heated; lights, water paid. Rent reasonable. 196 Aylmer. 3d-84-83B

FIVE-ROOMED HOUSE, TWELVE Dollars. 'Phone Frank Peters. 3d-84-86B

FURNISHED APARTMENT, HEATED, hot water, Upstairs. 190 Brock. 3d-84-90B

SIX-ROOM APARTMENT. IMMEDIate possession. 627 Downie. 'Phone 1141J. 3d-84-97B

COTTAGE, FURNACE, CONVENIences, garage. Apply 487 Elm. 3d-35-125B

TWO UNFURNISHED ROOMS, HARDwood floors. 1889J. 724 George Street. 3d-85-126B

HOUSES. 'PHONE 1798. 10d-82-126B

c For Rent—General

NORTH HALF LOT 1, CONCESSION 5, Ennismore. Immediate possession. Apply 487 George Street. dtf-1020C

STORE, NO. 178½ SIMCOE STREET. Immediate possession. Apply 487 George Street. dtf-1997C

GARAGE TO RENT — CONVENIENT to Downtown Offices and Stores. Apply 487 George Street dtf-1082C

MOVING AND STORAGE.

SHORT DISTANCES OR ANYWHERE in Canada or United States. Covered Vans. Experienced courteous Men. Apply, full particulars, M. Rawlinson, Limited, 610 Yonge Street, Toronto. dtf-9029

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

MUST SELL! CLEAR UP ESTATE— 6-Room House, garden; cheap. Small payments like Rent. Apply 293 Dalhousie. 3d-83-56D

FOR SALE — BRIGHT SUMMER Cottage, new, Otonabee River, near City. Apply 290 Dublin. 2d-83-70D

FOR SALE — 300 ACRES OF LAND, in the Township of Lake, 210 Acres under water, Muskrat Ranch; also a good opening for Tourists, known as Bear Lakes. Price $350.00. F. Parker, R.R. No. 1, Marmora, Ontario. 5d-30,3,6,9,13-4964D

FOR SALE — TO WIND UP ESTATE, 5-Roomed House, central. Will sell cheap for cash. Apply 300 Monaghan Road. 3d-84-95L

TWO ACRES, EDGE OF PORT HOPE Good 4-Room Bungalow, hard and soft water, barn, orchard; fireplace. Bargain—$1,000. Half Cash. Apply F. C. Rutherford, 282 George Street. 4d-83-45L

FOR SALE — ABOUT 100 ACRES Lots 17, 18, Concession 10, Otonabee Township. Also 760 Acres, Lot 15, 16, 17, Concessions 5 and 6 Douro Township. Known as "Buckley's Lake." These are desirable Properties for raising ducks, geese, turkeys, chickens, etc. There is good possibilities for rat, fox, or beaver farm. Some Pasture and Wood. Apply Canada Cement Company, Limited, Lakefield, Ontario 2d-3,6-9945L

BRICK HOUSE, LARGE GARDEN and barn, 392 Woodbine Avenue. Apply Fred Revoy. 6d-83-81L

BARGAINS — 6-ROOM BRICK, AYLmer Street, Twelve Hundred, easy terms. Seven-Room Brick, Aylmer Street, Two Thousand. Apply A. E. Thompson, Real Estate, Kresge Building. Open To-Night. 1d-83-132D

f Boarders Wanted

FURNISHED FRONT ROOM, WITH Board, One or Two Gentlemen. 356 Stewart. 'Phone 2940. 3d-84-93F

RESPECTABLE YOUNG COUPLE TO Board in private home; wife may help with work for her Board. 'Phone 379. 2d-84-114F

FURNISHED ROOMS, WITH BOARD Private home. 'Phone 1647F. 3d-84-91F

g Help Wanted, Male

EXPERIENCED GREENKEEPER FOR Season's Work on Lawns of The Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club. Applicants please state experience and remuneration expected. C. H. Williamson, 347 George Street, Chairman Greens Committee. 3d-83-9006G

WANTED — MAN AND WOMAN FOR Farm Work, with no children. George Pite, 'Phone 45 ring 2-3, Keene. 2d-83-80G

EXPERIENCED FARM HAND. APPLY W. Webster, Route 7, Lot 23 Concession 8. 2d-84-116G

MEN'S FOOTWEAR AGENTS. WRITE Box 109, Examiner. 3d-85-109G

A LESSON FROM THE DEPRESSION —Be a Civil Servant — Postman, Customs, Examiner, Clerk, Stenographer, etc. Free Booklet "How to Get a Government Job." M.C.C. Civil Service School, Toronto (1d). 4d-6,13,20,27-1964

RELIABLE YOUNG MEN TO TAKE up Electric Refrigeration and Air Conditioning. Prefer Men now employed and mechanically inclined, with fair education and willing to train spare time to become Experts in Installation and Service Work. Write, giving age, 'phone; present occupation, to Box 78, Examiner. 2d-84-78G

EXPERIENCED FARM HAND. WRITE Box 128, Examiner. 3d-83-128G

h Help Wanted, Female

COOK-GENERAL, FOND OF CHILDren. Write Box 38, Examiner. 3d-83-88H

EXPERIENCED GIRL WANTS Housework. Write Box 84, Examiner. 3d-83-84H

WANTED — CAPABLE GENERAL. Apply 880 Park Street. 3d-84-86H

j Employment Wanted

PLUMBING, HEATING, REPAIRS. 'Phone J. Bryett, 2269W. 3d-83-87J

WINDOWS CLEANED, STORMS taken off. 'Phone 2269F. 3d-83-86J

SMART CANADIAN WOMAN DEsires Work by Day.—Write Box 88, Examiner. 3d-84-88J

YOUNG LADY DESIRES POSITION, 151 Hart Avenue. 3d-83-103J

WOMAN WANTS HOUSE-CLEANING or Housework, Two or Three Days a Week. 256 Simcoe. 3d-83-84J

WINDOW CLEANING— STORM WINdows taken off. 'Phone 625J. 3d-83-105J

WOULD CARE FOR ELDERLY People, Practical Nurse or Housekeeper for Widower. Write Box 124, Examiner. 3d-83-124J

l Agents Wanted

MAN OR WOMAN TO TRAVEL FOR Old-Established House. Yearly guarantee $1,092 ($21 weekly average) and expenses. Write Box 32, Toronto A. 2d-3,6-13L

m Lost

BLACK CAT, WITH ONE SHORT ear. 'Phone 2606W. 3d-84-81M

REWARD — BROWN SPANIEL, TAG No. 19. Curly hair, long tail. Kinsman Hardware Company. 2d-84-111M

TIRE CHAIN, BETWEEN BENSFORT Bridge and Peterborough. Kindly leave at Examiner. 2d-84-110M

LIVESTOCK FOR SALE

HORSES — MR. VINCENT MASTERson, of Assiniboine, Sask., will arrive in Hastings on Friday, April 5, with a Carload of Farm-raised and Farm-broken Horses for Private Sale. Can be seen at Creighton Barn in Village. 3d-83-89B0

TEAM OF HORSES, HARNESS AND Wagon, for Sale, or Exchange for Work Lot. Apply 349 Rubidge Avenue. 3d-84-89G

FOR SALE — HEAVY TEAM WELL matched. Apply Frank McFadden, Apsley. 3d-84-84G

TELLING ON CANADA

and the British Empire

By HARRIS-STAPLETON

While it seems almost incredible, it is nevertheless a fact that five officers, 69 non-commissioned officers and constables have the formidable task of policing the Northwest Territories, whose 12,500 inhabitants are scattered over 1,500,000 square miles of land and water. Under the jurisdiction of this handful of picked men of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police is an area ten times the size of the British Isles, and nearly one-third the entire area of all Canada.

The prevention of lawlessness and the apprehension of offenders is only one of the multifarious duties performed by the men of the world-famous force. Members of the various small detachments act as game wardens, tax collectors, postmasters, mining recorders, coroners, permit issuers, statistic gatherers, bounty payers and distributors of relief to destitute Eskimos and Indians. Every "Mountie" represents the government in many capacities.

Thousands of miles are covered by long and arduous patrols by the R.C.M.P. in both summer and winter, and on them the officers and constables must be prepared to meet any type of emergency and at the same time do everything possible toward the development of the northland. Canada's history contains no more absorbing chapters than those describing their accomplishments.

Smart dress uniforms, such as are pictured, are, of course, laid aside for more appropriate garb in the country whose shores are lapped by Arctic seas.

Incidentally, it is to be suspected that the Eskimo named Bye and Bye (mentioned above) was so christened by one of the members of the Mounted, in a whimsical moment.

* * *

Canada's many relics of historic days include few more interesting than a little doll that is gradually succumbing to the ravages of time at Tadoussac, on whose sandy slope the Recollet Fathers established the first Christian mission in New France. The original chapel was destroyed by fire when Kirke captured the town in 1628, but was rebuilt and the puppet survived.

Marie Antoinette, wife of Louis XIV, herself dressed this doll, whose tiny garments now are faded and fragile. Without premonition of the day when she would mount the guillotine, she stitched the seams that are disintegrating. The ill-fated queen was a victim of the revolutionary executioner, but her doll is still to be seen at Tadoussac.

* * *

Man is relatively stronger than an elephant as far as pulling power is concerned. The chaps who enjoy digging up facts of no particular value to anyone are prepared to prove that an elephant's pulling power is only .720 per pound of his own weight, while man can pull from .8 to 1.666 pounds for each pound he weighs. Therefore, to that extent a man can pull more than an elephant.

* * *

Harris-Stapleton wish to make TELLING ON CANADA of interest to every reader. Your comment is invited, in care of this newspaper.

POULTRY FOR SALE

SPECIAL PRICES PAID FOR LIVE Poultry. Gashman. 'Phone 2478W. 83d-83-3997P

CUSTOM HATCHING — BARRED Rock Breeding Cockerels. A. E. Fletcher, 'Phone 17 ring 5, Keene. 3d-34-4810P

SINGLE COMB RHODE ISLAND RED Hatching Eggs, choice stock. Edgar Simmons, 134 Hilliard. 3d-83-89P

MASTER CHICK STARTER—GROWS Chicks that bring you profits. J. A. Fair, 1101W. 6d-84-9907P

q Wanted

REFINED ELDERLY LADY WANTS Unfurnished Room with Elderly Couple, Lower Flat preferred. Write Box 98, Examiner. 3d-84-98Q

WANTED — SMALL FARM, WITH Buildings or House with small acreage, frontage on lake essential, near school, some timber, travelled road. Write, stating price, down payment, terms of balance, and full particulars, Francis Leake, 31 Queenston Street, St. Catharines, Ont. 1d-83-75Q

OLD GOLD WANTED. PHILLIPS' Laboratories, 408½ George (opposite Leah's). 12d-104-5029Q

WANTED — YOUNG BUSINESS MAN desires Room with Breakfast and Supper for 5 Days a Week. State charge. Write Box 304, Examiner. 3d-84-304Q

WANTED — STORE HOGS, 50 TO 100 Lbs. 'Phone 2426M. 2d-83-117Q

WANTED — ONE T-MODEL FORD Car, with Motor in good condition. Write, stating price, to Box 6810, Examiner. 2d-82-96180

ROOM AND BOARD, IN CENTRAL part of City, by Gentleman. Write Box 79, Examiner. 2d-83-79Q

LIVE POULTRY. PAY SPECIAL Prices. Florence. 'Phone 85787 29d-105-10010Q

WANTED — WICKER STROLLER, IN good condition. 'Phone 2827J. 3d-84-81Q

WANTED— STORE REFRIGERATOR. Round Refrigerator. Write Box 12, Examiner. 3d-84-12Q

WANTED — GOOD USED CLOSED Car, Four or Light Six; privately owned preferred. State price and particulars, Box 80, Examiner. 3d-83-80Q

WOOD TO SAW BY MACHINE. 'Phone 2629. 2d-84-2962Q

WANTED — LARGE SIZE TRICYCLE, in good condition. 169 Aylmer. 2d-83-127Q

r Personal

INDIAN AND LINCOLN HEAD PENnies Wanted. Will pay up to $2 each if over 10 years old. Certain Pennies worth $35. Latest listing, 10c. American Coin Co., Box 2125, Grand Rapids, Mich. 1d-83-77R

PRIVATE HOME KINDERGARTENS Pay. We start you. The Canadian Kindergarten Institute, Toronto (10). 4d-6,13,20,27-1428

s Used Cars for Sale

STAR SEDAN, SPLENDID CONDItion, reasonable. Walter Hubbel, Hastings. 3d-84-73S

'32 FORD ROADSTER, SMALL MILEage. 'Phone 1972. 2d-84-86S

OLDSMOBILE, 1929 COACH, GOOD appearance and good condition. Bargain for cash. Telephone 682 for further particulars. 2d-84-94S

HUDSON SUPER SIX, PRIVATELY owned, splendid condition. Apply Mrs. Percy Borland, 995 Reid. 2d-84-99S

t General Notice

FARMERS — WE ARE UNLOADING a Car of Salt Monday and Tuesday, April 8 and 9. Ernest C. Amund, 718 George Street. 'Phone your orders to 2240. 2d-83-99T

v Situations Vacant

LADIES WANTED TO DO LIGHT Sewing at Home; good pay; work sent charges paid. National Manufacturing Co., Dept. 48, Montreal. 4d-6,13,20,27-2177V

PAINTING & PAPERHANGING

PAPERHANGING, PAINTING, GRAINing. H. Keller, 'Phone 2022. 3d-83-87Z

y Salesmen Wanted

SALESMAN— YOUNG MAN OF NEAT appearance, to Organize Town for Direct-to-Home, Advertising Campaign. Apply 350 Queen Street, 9 to 10 a.m., 5-7 p.m. 1d-83-116Y

SALESMAN — INDUSTRIAL LINE, Established Product, 40 years on market 30 years. Immediate good earnings on house plan. Repeat orders establish a permanent clientele. Splendid opportunity for clean-cut, ambitious Worker. Sherwin Preparation Co., St. Catharines, Ont. 1d-83-121Y

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Carpetball

LEAGUE NOTES

The Dummitt Construction Company made a solid brick job around the Broombridge auto trimming gang, bottling them up so tight that they couldn't budge a bit; at the same time the Empire painter used autolac all over the guns of the musketry squad, gumming up lock, stock and barrel; the coloring being very much against the liking of the firing squad.

* * *

The no surrender squad had to haul down their flag in respect to the good play of the Southend harriers.

* * *

Collapsing under the strain of the De Laval Separator gang, Rumary's antiques were carried home in a very bad shape.

* * *

Geo. Soulity's C.N.R. freighters ran wild in the game when they met the carpet packers and took two good counters into storage.

* * *

Ed Heap's brickmakers had a game smashing Silverwoods cream bottles, winning by the same score in both games.

* * *

The Presidents make a comeback at the expense of the Carpet Packers, who lost four straight this week.

* * *

The Fire eaters had more than they could handle when they were called on to dampen down the McColl-Frontenac gasoline alley gang.

* * *

The fighting parsons subdued the auto trimmers after two extra bouts.

* * *

Curtis brick makers loaded up with brick hats and laid in wait on the Cridland meat gang, knocked the beef out of the high flyers and ran off with the gravy.

* * *

The Empire painters sure put the colors in the C.N.R. freighters on their recent run and also sanded the tracks.

* * *

Rumary's antiques are still waterlogged from the bad soaking received from their run in with the fire fighters.

* * *

Those wood peckers sure made rags of the no surrender flag.

* * *

Those vice-skips who lift the counters before opposing vice-skips have a chance to check are asking for protests. All vice-skips are asked to keep watch on this action. Also men acting as referees are not to count ends unless some dispute is caused.

* * *

Curtis' brickyard gang are sure plastering half bricks around this week. Their latest victims being Cooney's transport. Two more headlights gone.

* * *

The musketry squad found their range this week, and finished off the remnants of the no surrender gang that the wood peckers had left behind, and then turned their guns on the auto trimming squad and made a clean up.

* * *

Those hard-fighting gamey Parsons fell before the axes of the lowly woodmen to the tune of 26-18.

* * *

The C.N.R. freighter ran into the stronghold of the Dummit construction gang and knocked down the main supports.

* * *

WEEK'S SCHEDULE

Monday, April 8

All Saints' No. 4 v. St. John's No. 1, at 8.15.
All Saints' No. 5 v. St. George's No. 9, at 8.15.
All Saints' No. 6 v. St. George's No. 11, at 8.15.

Tuesday, April 9

W.O.W. No. 20 v. St. George's No. 11 at 7 p.m.
W.O.W. No. 13 v. K.O.P. No. 22, at 7 p.m.
W.O.W. No 19 v St George's No. 8, at 8.30 p.m.
A.O.F. No. 21 v. K.O.P. No. 13, at 8.30 p.m.
L.O.L. No. 16 v. S.O.E. No. 12.
L.O.L. No. 17 v. K.O.P. No. 14.
St. George's No. 9 v. St. John's No. 3.
St. George's No. 10 v. St. John's No. 2.
St. Luke's No. 7 v. All Saints' No. 6.

Wednesday, April 10

W.O.W. No. 20 v. All Saints' No. 6, at 7 p.m.
W.O.W. No. 19 v. All Saints' No. 4, at 7 p.m.
W.O.W. No. 13 v. All Saints' No. 5, at 8.30.
A.O.F. No. 21 v. St. Luke's No 7, at 8.30.

Thursday, April 11

L.O.L. No. 14 v. A.O.F. No. 21.
L.O.L. No. 16 v WO.W. No. 20.
St. John's No. 3 v. All Saints' No. 4.
St. John's No. 2 v. L.O.L. No. 15.
S.O.E. No. 12 v. St. Luke's No. 7, at 7 p.m.
SO.E.K. No. 22 v. St. George's No. 8, at 7 p.m.
S.O.E. No. 12 v. K.O.P. No. 22, at 8.30.

Friday, April 12

L.O.L. No. 16 v. St. George's No. 11.
St. George's No. 9 v. St. John's No. 3, at 8.15.
St. George's No. 10 v. St. John's No. 2, at 8.15.

At the Capitol Next Week

A verse from Baroness Orczy's famous novel, "The Scarlet Pimpernel," as spoken by Leslie Howard in the superb talking picture now playing at the Capitol Theatre:

"They seek him here, they seek him there
Those Frenchies seek him everywhere;
Is he in heaven? Is he in hell?
That damned, elusive Pimpernel!"

LOOKING FOR CUSTOMERS?

Why seek 'em here, why seek 'em there,
Examiner Want Ads go everywhere;
Whether you buy, or want to sell,
Let Want Ads your story tell.

Let Them Seek Out the People You Are Seeking

HON. G. N. GORDON, K.C.—Barrister and Solicitor, Trust Company funds to Loan on Mortgages. Offices: 395-397 George Street. 'Phone 3300.

HALL & CARLEY — Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, corner Hunter and Water Streets (over Canadian Bank of Commerce), Peterborough Ontario. Telephones: Office No 68; R. R. Hall, K.C., residence No 408; T. J. Carley, LL.B., residence No. 3086.

PECK, KERR & McELDERRY— Barristers, Solicitors Notaries. Office, 413 Water Street, Peterborough. Telephone 1960. H. A. Peck, K.C., M.P., F. D. Kerr, K.C., V. J. McElderry, K.C.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

All persons having CLAIMS against the Estate of ODINO LAPLANTE, late of the City of Peterborough, Carpenter, Deceased, who died at the City of Toronto on or about the 1st Day of February, 1935, are hereby notified to send in to the undersigned, the Solicitor for the Executor of the Last Will of the said Deceased, on or before the 24th Day of April, 1935, full particulars of their Claims. The Assets of the Estate of the said Deceased will be distributed immediately after the last mentioned date, having regard only to Claims of which the Executor shall then have notice.

DATED at Peterborough this 28th Day of March, A.D. 1935.

JOHN R. CORKERY,
416 Water Street,
Peterborough, Ont.,
Solicitor for the Executor.
4d-30,6,13,20-3868

Davis-Thompson Company
INSURANCE AND GENERAL AGENCY
REAL ESTATE
Properties for Sale or Rent
Property Management.
633 GEORGE STREET. 'PHONE 40

FOR SALE

House, very desirably situated at No. 335 Rubidge Street.

Newly renovated and decorated throughout; new garage; hot-water heating.

Will sell on easy terms (monthly instalments if desired).

APPLY

THE TORONTO SAVINGS AND LOAN COMPANY
437 GEORGE STREET

SCOTT'S SCRAPBOOK — By R. J. Scott

SEEK MEMBERS IN LAKEFIELD

Horticultural Society Hopes to Organize Village Flower Lovers.

LECTURE APRIL 15

Prospects of obtaining a number of members from Lakefield were discussed at a meeting of the Horticultural Society last night.

S. T. Harris, president, and W. G. P Benton, secretary, were appointed to get in touch with some of the residents of the northern community who are interested in flowers and the beautification of homes not only for the immediate purpose of stimulating activity in the work of the Horticultural Society but especially in the hope that Lakefield people would organize a society of their own.

Several Lakefield citizens have already intimated that they intend coming down for the lecture to be given at the Public Library on Monday, April 15, by R. F. Gonnell, "Dick the Amateur Gardener,' which is the next event in the Society's calendar, and it was suggested that a meeting and lecture may be arranged in the near future at Lakefield to promote the objects of the Horticultural Society.

Fred Dummitt was appointed representative of the society on the flower show committee of the Peterborough Exhibition.

The society last night arranged for its budget of expense this year, discussed the membership campaign, and completed details for this season's improvements to the scenic drive.

TWEED

French Settlement Man Wins Appeal

TWEED, April 6 (Examiner Correspondence).—The appeal entered by Felix Laton of French Settlement, following a recent conviction under the Excise Act, was allowed before Judge Madden of Napanee, at Belleville on Wednesday of this week. The conviction was squashed and all charges against Laton dismissed. Magistrate Casement found him guilty following a raid by Excise officers, Provincial constables, and Constable Hayes of Tweed. Mr. I. D. Corcoran of Tweed represented Laton, while R. D. Arnott of Belleville appeared on behalf of the Excise Department.

Phillip Laffin of Queensboro suffered a rather nasty injury on Wednesday of this week when a small bone in his right hand was broken when he was kicked by a horse. He was brought to the office of a local physician when his injuries were attended to.

Wellman's Corners Sees "Wild Ginger"

MARMORA, April 6 (Examiner Correspondence). — A high-class amateur production of the drama, "Wild Ginger," was given in Wellman's Corners Orange Hall on Friday evening before a large audience by a cast from Fuller. Between the acts, the male members of the cast furnished some cowboy songs, with guitar accompaniment.

District Master W. J. Bateman, in the absence through illness of Wor. Bro. E. King, W.M., of L.O.L. 172, acted as chairman, and gave a fine address before the presentation of the first act. At the conclusion of the play, short addresses were given by County Master W. J. Cottrell and Mr. Burke, a member of the Fuller cast.

Wave Lengths

Station	Meters.	Kilocycles
CKGB, Toronto	313	1420
CFCF, Montreal	600	600
CFCH, North Bay	526	570
CFCO, Chatham	500	600
CKCH, Ottawa	...	650
CFRB, Toronto	435	690
CFNC, Kingston	...	915
CKAC, Montreal	411	730
CKCR, Waterloo	198.6	1510
CKGW, Toronto	357.3	840
CHML, Hamilton	297	1010
CKCL, Toronto	717	420
CKCO, Ottawa	...	1010
CKPC, Brantford	224	1340
CKOC, Hamilton	252.8	1130
CKLW, Windsor-Lon...	527	1020
CKTB, St. Catharines	249.9	1200
KDKA, Pittsburg	309	970
KMOX, St. Louis	275	1090
KYW, Chicago	394	1020
WABC, New York	349	860
WBBM, Chicago	389	770
WBEN, Buffalo	319	940
WEAF, New York	394	660
WENR, Chicago	345	870
WGR, Buffalo	319	550
WGY, Schenectady	379	790
WHAM, Rochester	281	1150
WJR, Detroit	440	750
WLW, Cincinnati	423	700
WMAQ, Chicago	447	670
WTIC, Hartford	243	1060
WJZ, New York	394	760
WKBW, Buffalo	319	1480

FOREIGN AFFAIRS

By H. W. L. MAHOOD

Americans Taking a Different View of the Affairs of State.

Roosevelt and the Democratic platform did not win the national election. The American people are coming to this conclusion. Roosevelt is credited with the great majority as a personal tribute. This idea is fast evaporating. The vote was not for Roosevelt, nor for the Democratic party. It was against the prevailing condition of national affairs. Roosevelt before the election was but little known to his own countrymen. His biography had not been written nor read. He was an unknown political figure. Few knew about his struggle for health and life. That he was permanently crippled and had to go about with a strong man as a crutch had not been published abroad to the world.

A tide of emotionalism swept him into office and the Democrats into control of both Houses of Congress. During the election campaign the people had been told about his success as governor of New York State. And that he would do for the United States all and more than he had accomplished for New York.

No other man ever elected to the presidency of the United States had been given as free hand as was he. For two years he has listened to no man but to himself. True, he called to his aid more than a thousand advisers. But they simply confirmed what he wrote into codes.

Brain Trusters Introduce Socialism Into the Government of the United States.

Socialism once in is difficult to get out. The brain trusters encouraged Roosevelt to take legislation into his own hands. Instead of listening to Congress he told Congress what to do. For nearly two years he was as much of a dictator as is Mussolini or Hitler. Germany has a constitution, but Hitler has lifted himself above that document. Italy has a constitution. Does Mussolini ever refer to it for authority for his decrees?

In the name of emergency Roosevelt dictated legislation. And the legislators legislated as he dictated. He used the press to tell the people that recovery was just around the corner. No one doubts his sincerity. But he had not been schooled sufficiently in economics to see that his methods could not succeed. Social reform caught the attention of the nation and held it for a time.

At last the people came to see that their rights were disregarded. Power was more and more concentrated in the hands of one man. Washington looked upon Congress as a rubber stamp. The Supreme Court was slurred. Then the American people stood up and demanded to be counted. Roosevelt and the brain trusters have opened their eyes wide and have discovered that America has a constitution and a Supreme Court.

Roosevelt Discovers There is a Constitution.

One major controverted issue brought before the Supreme Court convinced Roosevelt that there is a constitution, and that it must be held inviolate. The proposed socialistic regulation of the oil industry was an attack on the constitution. The matter was carried up to the Supreme Court. In due time the decision was handed down. It was against the proposed regulation. This decision has put other industries on the defensive.

Another major issue was debated in the United States Senate. The President advocated that the United States become a member of the League of Nations. The debate was one of the hottest ever waged in the Senate. Again the constitution stood out in the limelight. Not directly, but indirectly, the spirit of the constitution was explored and the attitude of the United States towards all foreign alliances clearly defined. The Senate voted and the question was closed. The United States is not likely ever to become a member nation of the league.

Then, again, Roosevelt asked for $4,800,000,000 to be spent as he directed. The Senate committee considered the proposal. The vote of the chairman was necessary to break the tie. The narrow favorable report of the committee to the Senate brought on a stormy debate. Roosevelt won out. But the opposition vote was so large that the whole country has become more discouraged than ever.

MONDAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

12.00 NOON.
12—WABC—Voice of Experience
7—WEAF—Masquerade.
12.45 P.M.
15—CFRB—Farmers' Market Reports.
15—CRCT—Merry Madcaps.
2.00 P.M.
10—WJZ—Music Guild
10—WEAF—Revolving Stage.
12—CFRB—Matie.
2.30 P.M.
2—WABC—American School of the Air.
10—CFRB—Pompeian Program.
3.00 P.M.
12—CRCT—Radio Guild.
12—CFRB—Your Hostess.
6—WEAF—Vic and Sade.
3.15 P.M.
7—WEAF—Ma Perkins.
4—WOR—Don Darcy.
3.30 P.M.
12—WEAF—Dreams Come True.
10—WOR—Radio Garden Club.
4.00 P.M.
10—CRCT—Woman's Radio Revue.
7—WABC—Little House Family
15—WJZ—Betty and Bob.
4.30 P.M.
15—CFRB—Chicago Varieties.
5.00 P.M.
11—CFRB—Patti Chapin.
4—WEAF—Kay Foster.
10—CRCT—Nothing Else But Safety.
5.15 P.M.
10—WJZ—Rhythm Boys.
10—CFRB—Musical Comedy Gems.
14—WEAF—Grandpa Burton.
14—WABC—Adventure Hour.
5.30 P.M.
4—CRCT—Singing Lady.
4—WABC—Jack Armstrong.
4—WEAF—Alice in Orchestralia.
5.45 P.M.
7—WABC—Dick Tracy.
14—WJZ—Orphan Annie.
6.00 P.M.
10—CRCT—Denver Bar L Ranch.
14—WABC—Buck Rogers.
8—WJZ—U.S. Army Band.
6.30 P.M.
8—WABC—The Shadow.
4—WEAF—Karl Dire
13—CFRB—Jim Hunter.
8—CRCM—Band of 22nd Regiment.
4—WJZ—Mississippi Minstrels.
6.45 P.M.
8—CRCT—Lowell Thomas.
1—CFRB—Leon Navara's Orch.
14—WEAF—Concert Miniatures.
7.00 P.M.
8—CRCT—Amos 'n' Andy.
4—WABC—Myrt and Marge.
7.15 P.M.
10—CRCT—Lee Travelers (to Adelaide).
15—WEAF—Stories of the Black Chamber
4—WJZ—Plantation Echoes.
15—CFRB—Just Plain Bill.
7.30 P.M.
7—WABC—The O'Neills.
10—WEAF—Easy Aces.
10—WJZ—Red Davis.
7.45 P.M.
4—WABC—Rookie Carter.
11—CRCT—Spring Bouquet.
15—CFRB—Detectives Black and Blue.
4—WJZ—Dangerous Paradise.
15—WEAF—Uncle Ezra
8.00 P.M.
10—CFRB—Syrup Symphonette.
10—CRCT—Rouse Bois.
10—WEAF—Himber's Ensemble.
1—WJZ—Jan Gerber's Orch.
11—WABC—Fray and Braglotti.
4—WOR—Lone Ranger.
8.15 P.M.
8—WABC—Edwin C. Hill, news.
8.30 P.M.
10—WABC—Kate Smith's New Star Revue.
15—CFRB—Black Horse Tavern.
4—WJZ—Carefree Carnival.
10—CRCO—The Concert Hour.
4—CRCT—Gladys Swarthout.
9.00 P.M.
10—CRCM—Young Bloods at Beaver Bend.
1-4-WEAF—Horlick's Gypsies.
10—WJZ—Greater Minstrels.
1-4-CFRB—Donald Heins' Orch. and Wishart Campbell
4—WABC—Lucrezia Bori.
9.30 P.M.
1—CRCT—Wrigley String Orch., CFRB.
10—CRCM—Babillage.
11—WJZ—Princess Pat Players.
11—WEAF—Otto Harbach Musicale
10—WABC—Ex Lax Big Show.
10.00 P.M.
10—CRCT—Contented Hour
1—WABC—Wayne King's Orch.
11—WJZ—Jackie Heller.
10.30 P.M.
1—CRCT—Joe De Coursey's Orch.
12—WEAF—National Radio Forum
10—WABC—Lilac Time.
1—CFRB—Gale Gordon's Orch
10.45 P.M.
3—CRCT—Franklin Legge.
11.00 P.M.
1—WLW—Dreary Blues.
3—CRCT, CFRB—News.
12—WABC—Four Aces of Contract Bridge
11.15 P.M.
13—CRCT—Jesse Crawford, organ.
1—CFRB—Glen Gray's Orch.
11.30 P.M.
1—CRCT—Stan Meyer's Orch.
15—CFRB—Toronto Serenade
4—WJZ—Ink Spots, Male Quartette.
1—WABC—Enrico Madriguera's Orch.
12.00 MIDNIGHT
11—WJZ—Shandor, violinist.
1—WABC—Blue Monday Jamboree.

FIRE CHIEF ON JOB 25 YEARS

WINDSOR, Ont.— Chief Clarence J. DeFields yesterday completed 25 years service with the Windsor Fire Department. When he joined the department in 1909 there were three permanent members on the staff and some 25 volunteers. Now there are 60, including officers.

To commemorate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the accession of King George to the British throne the Government of Australia will launch a national campaign for the reduction of maternal mortality and the promotion of child welfare.

Shipping interests of Japan are reported to be planning a shipping pool to compete with Dutch lines.

RADIO TONIGHT

GABY ON HYDRO

Mr. F. A. Gaby, at the request of the Executive of the Ontario Municipal Electric Association, has consented to make a statement regarding Hydro Power Supply, on SATURDAY, APRIL 6th, 7.15 p.m.

CRCT TORONTO CRCO OTTAWA

CKOC Hamilton CKTB St. Catharines CKPC Brantford CFPL London CFCO Chatham CKLW Windsor CKGB North Bay CJKL Kirkland Lake CKGB Timmins CKPR Port William

Rarest Of The Rare Is This White Frog

A closeup of the newest wonder of the American Museum of Natural History, an Albino pond frog, with pink eyes, so rare, say scientists, it is more unusual than the famous quintuplets of Canada. Dr. G. Kingsley Noble, curator at the museum, said that the frog, which was brought to New York by two visitors to St. Lawrence county, New York state, was the first Albino specimen of Rana Clamitans he had ever seen. He also said it was his belief that the almost-white frog is looked upon, scientifically, as a conspicuous mutation, representing an almost diagrammatic step in the mechanism of evolution. The frog is being given the best care and food, living in a special glass container set in cool flowing water, and being fed on the larvae of a special species of moth.

SATURDAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

(STANDARD TIME.)
KEY TO CLASSIFICATION

1—Dance. 2—Concert. 3—News. 4—Vocal. 5—Sport. 6—Comedy. 7—Drama. 8—Band. 9—Symphony. 10—Variety 11—Instru. Trio. 12—Speaker. 13—Organ. 14—Children. 15—Miscellan.

5.00 P.M.
14—CRCT—Uncle Bob's Fun in Song.
1—CFRB—Little Jack Little's Orch
1—WJZ—George Sterney's Orch.
5.15 P.M.
4—WJZ—Jackie Heller.
11—WOR—Four Tempos.
5.30 P.M.
15—CRCT—Jesse Crawford.
14—CFRB—Jolly Juniors.
10—WABC—Along the Volga.
10—WJZ—Gardens of the Nations.
5.45 P.M.
13—WABC—Fascinating Facts.
4—WOR—The Songweavers.
6.00 P.M.
1—CRCT—Tom Cookley's Orch.
12—WJZ—Jewish Program.
6.15 P.M.
15—CFRB—Mining Broadcaster.
6.30 P.M.
3-4-WJZ—Song Fellows' Quartette.
3-4-WEAF—News and Martha Mears.
4—WABC—Benny Venuta
8—CFRB—Jim Hunter.
6.45 P.M.
—CRCT—La Voix Francaise de la Capitale.
12—WJZ—Master Builders
10—WABC—Brainard Beauty Expert.
7.00 P.M.
8—CFRB—Wes McKnight.
12—CRCT—Community Leisure Talk.
12—WBEN—Religion in the News.
10—WABC—Socony-land Sketches.
1—WJZ—Army Day Program.
7.15 P.M.
4—WEAF—Whispering Jack Smith.
7.30 P.M.
12—CRCT—Book Review.
10—CFRB—The Outdoor Girl (CBS).
11—WEAF—Moran Sisters.
4—WOR—Arthur Tracy.
7.45 P.M.
1—CRCT—Hawaiian Serenaders.
10—WOR—Freed's Harmonica Band.
15—WLW—The Wayne Family.
5—WEAF—Sport Review.
8.00 P.M.
11—CRCT—Old-Time Frolic.
10—CRCM—Roxy Revue.
10—WJZ—Phil Cook's Show Shop.
10—WEAF—William L. Phelps.
8.30 P.M.
10—CRCM—Cotter's Saturday Night.
13—CRCT—Franklin Legge.
1—WJZ—Art Jarrett's Orch.
8.45 P.M.
5—CRCT—Moments in Sport.
1—WABC—St. Louis Blues.
9.00 P.M.
15—WEAF—Good-bye, "Mr. Chips."
5—CRCT—Leafs vs Maroons
4—WABC—Andre Kostelanetz.
15—WJZ—Radiotron.
5—CFRB—Leafs vs. Maroons
15—WOR—Happy Hal's Housewarming.
9.30 P.M.
10—WJZ—Barn Dance.
10—WABC—Himber's Ensemble.
10—WEAF—Chateau-Al Jolson.
10.00 P.M.
9—WABC—California Melodies.
10.30 P.M.
1—CRCT—Charlie Dornberger's Orch.
10—CFRB—California Melodies.
10—WEAF—Let's Dance.
10.45 P.M
1—CRCT—Paradise Islanders.
11.00 P.M.
1—WABC—Glen Gray's Orch.
3—CFRB—Newslog of the Week.
3—CRCT—News.
11.15 P.M.
1—CRCT—Emil Coleman's Orch.
1—CFRB—Musical Melange.
11.30 P.M.
9—CFRB—Johnny Green's Orch.
15—CRCT—Northern Messenger.
15—WABC—Sims vs. Culbertson.
12.00 MIDNIGHT
1—WJZ—Sendor, violinist
1—WABC—Claude Hopkins.

SUNDAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

10.00 A.M.
4—WJZ—Southernaires.
12—WABC—Church of the Air.
12—WEAF—Radio Pulpit, Dr. S. Parkes Cadman
10.30 A.M.
3-1-CFRB—News: Patterns in Harmony.
1—WEAF—Mexican Marimba Orch.
11.00 A.M.
12—CKNC—Bloor St. United Church.
11—WEAF—Rudolf Bucheo.
15—WABC—Children's Hour.
3—WJZ—Graham McNamee.
11.30 A.M.
10—WJZ—Samovar Serenade.
2—CRCT—St. Michael's High Mass
10—WEAF—Major Bowes' Family.
12.30 P.M.
12—CFRB—The Romany Trail.
9—WJZ—Radio City Music Hall.
12.45 P.M.
12—CFRB—International Broadcast.
1.00 P.M.
15—CRCT—Radio City Concert.
10—WEAF—Road to Romany.
12—WABC—Church of the Air.
1.30 P.M.
10—WLW—Musical Style Show.
10—CFRB—Mel She, and They.
12—CRCT—National Youth Conference.
10—WEAF—Surprise Party.
2.00 P.M.
11—WABC—Lazy Dan.
2—WEAF—Immortal Dramas.
13—CRCT—Franklin Legge.
15—WJZ—Anthony Frome.
2.30 P.M.
13—CFRB—Eddie Dunstedter.
12—CKCL—Rev. William Allan.
10—WJZ—Radio Theatre.
10—WEAF—Garden Program.
3.00 P.M.
15—WEAF—Sally of the Talkies.
15—CRCT—York State Class.
9—CFRB—New York Philharmonic Orch
3.30 P.M.
4—WEAF—Penthouse Serenade.
15—WJZ—Sunday Vespers.
4.00 P.M.
12—WJR—Rev. Father Coughlin.
9—WEAF—America's First Rhythm Symphony.
4.30 P.M.
4—WJZ—Morton Downey.
10—CRCT—Harry Reser's Orch. and Ray Heatherton.
5.00 P.M.
10—CFRB—Canada Packers: Ernest Seitz, with Heins' Orch.
10—WABC—Country Church of Hollywood.
10—CRCT—Vesper Hour.
7—WJZ—Roses and Drums.
10—WEAF—The Sentinels' Serenade
5.30 P.M.
12—CRCT—House by the Side of the Road.
4—WABC—Crummit and Sanderson
15—WJZ—Travelogue.
6.00 P.M.
15—WEAF—Catholic Hour.
10—WLW—Dodge Showdown.
1-4-CFRB—National Amateur Night.
7—WJZ—Heart Throbs.
9—CRCT—Vancouver Symphony Orch.
6.30 P.M.
4—CRCT—Le Quatuor Alouette.
3—WJZ—Grand Hotel Drama.
15—CFRB—Princess Pat Players.
13—WABC—Smiling Ed McConnell
10—WEAF—Continental Varieties.
6.45 P.M.
12—CRCT—Events of Canadian Interest.
7—WABC—Voice of Experience.
7.00 P.M.
12—CFRB—St. Stephen's Church.
15—CRCT—St. Simon's Church
1—WJZ—Jack Benny and Don Bester's Orch.
6—WEAF—K-7, Spy Story.
10—WABC—Roadways of Romance.
7.30 P.M.
10—CRCM—Faux de la Rompe.
10—WJZ—Gene Erlson's Orch. and Joe Penner.
10—WEAF—Fireside Recitals
10—WABC—The Headliners.
8.00 P.M.
11—CRCM—Pastel Parade.
9—WJZ—Symphony Concert.
10—WABC—Eddie Cantor and Rubinoff's Orch.
10—CRCT—Major Bowes' Amateur Hour.
8.30 P.M.
10—CFRB—Manhattan Merry-go-Round.
10—CRCM—Band Box Revue.
10—WABC—Headliners.
9.00 P.M.
12—CRCT—What Price Loyalty?
10—WJZ—Silken Strings.
10—CRCM—The Rose to Yesterday.
10—CFRB—Ford Sunday Evening Hour.
10—WEAF—Manhattan Merry-Go-Round.
9.30 P.M.
11—CRCT—Musical Revue
10—CRCM—Acadian Serenade.
10—CFRB—Album of Familiar Music.
12—WJZ—Walter Winchell.
10.00 P.M.
4—CRCT—Edmonton Choir.
1—WABC—Wayne King's Orch.
13—CFRB—Harvey Robb.
4—WEAF—The Gibson Family.
10.30 P.M.
10—WJZ—American Fireside.
10—CRCT—Presenting.
12—CFRB—British-Israel Federation.
10.45 P.M.
1—CRCT—Ernie Magmann's Orch.
3—CRCM—Canadian Press
11—CFRB—Fray and Braglotti.
11.00 P.M.
2—CFRB—The Globe.
11—WJZ—Minute Men.
1—WEAF—George Duffie's Orch.
11.15 P.M.
10—CRCT—Atlantic Nocturne
13—WJZ—Jesse Crawford, organist.
11.30 P.M.
4—CFRB—Vivial Della Chiesa and Concert Orch.
1—WJZ—Sonny Kyte's Orch.
1-4-CRCT—News and Tempo of Song.
12.00 MIDNIGHT
1—WJZ—Stan Meyer Orch.
1—WABC—Enrico Madriguera's Orch.
1—WEAF—Harry Bennett's Orch.

CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

Monday 2 o'Clock Specials!

PHONE 3000 FREE DELIVERY

Small Boys' Broadcloth Busters
Durable Cotton Broadcloth Blouses with Eton collar, long sleeves and button-on waist style. In white, sand, blue and green. Sizes 3 to 6 years. 2 o'Clock Special, each..... 69
—2nd Floor C.D.S.

Cotton and Wool Girls' Pullovers
Practical Sweaters for the school girl, knit from cotton and wool yarns, with short puff sleeve and deep ribbed waistband. Shades of brown, wine, green and rust. Sizes 8 to 14. Each..... 79
—2nd Floor, C.D.S.

A Fine Selection of Drapery Remnants
If your cushions need touching up a bit or an odd window needs a drape or curtain, get down early and choose a length or two from this assortment of Nets, Chintzes, Damasks, etc. 1/3 and ¼ off usual prices, 5 to 1.50
—2nd Floor C.D.S.

A Combination Offer Saucepan and Cleaner
Good quality Aluminum Measuring Saucepan and one package of S.O.S. Cleaner. Be on time for this special. 2 o'Clock Special, the two.. 25
—Basement, C.D.S.

SPECIAL SALE ALL THIS WEEK OF

EATON'S COLD CREAM
15-oz. Jar Cold Cream for Cleansing .47

April 8th, 9th, 10th
FLO-GLAZE DEMONSTRATION
Mr. F. B. Jones, of the Imperial Varnish and Color Co., Ltd., will be in our Paint Dept. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday demonstrating the use of Flo-Glaze Four-Hour Enamel, and will be glad to help you with your Paint problems.

THE CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

PETERBOROUGH MARKET QUOTATIONS

RETAIL

Fruits

Oranges, 23-60c doz.; navel oranges, 35-39c doz.; bananas, 3 lbs., 21-23c; lemons, 15-25c doz.; grapefruit, 3 to 7, 25c; pink grapefruit, 3 to 4, 25c; cooking figs, 3 lbs., 25c; cocoanuts, 5-15c; table grapes, 25c lb.; pomegranates, 10c each; large California pears, 5c each; strawberries, 25c pint box; rhubarb, 10c bunch; pineapples, 19-35c each; eating apples, 2 for 5c.

Vegetables

Potatoes, 10c peck; bag, 49 cents; new potatoes, 3 pounds, 25 cents; Spanish onions, 3 pounds 25c; sweet potatoes, 4 lbs. 25c; carrots, new, 5c bunch; cabbage, new, 10 cents a pound; head lettuce, 5-12c each; spinach, 2 lbs. for 25c; cooking onions, 10 pounds for 19c; green onions 5c bushel; parsley, 5c bunch; celery, 12-17c; celery hearts, 15c bun.; peppers, 5c each; cauliflower, 17c; radishes, 5c bun.; vegetable marrow, 10-15c each; turnips, 5c lb.; water-cress, 2 bunches, 10c; new beets, 3 bunches, 25c; green beans, 17c lb.; mushrooms, 30-35c lb.; parsnips, 35c peck; hothouse tomatoes, 20c lb.; telegraph cucumbers, 15-20c each; green peas, 25c lb.

Nuts

Mixed, 19-25c; shelled walnuts, 35-55c lb.; broken walnuts, 25c lb.; peanuts, 15 to 25c pound; shelled almonds, 40-55c lb.; Valencia almonds, 42c lb.; soft shell almonds, 19c lb.; shelled pecans, 25c lb.; Brazil nuts, 17-21c lb.; budded walnuts, 23-27c lb.; chestnuts, 20-25c lb.; shelled filberts, 40-45c lb.

Dairy Produce

Creamery butter, 24-28c pound; dairy butter, 23-25c lb.; lard, 10-12c lb.; shortening, 11-12c; eggs, 13-20c doz.; clover honey, 5-lb. pail, 57c; amber, 5 pounds, 39c; comb honey, 15-25c each; cheese, 15-21c lb.

Fish

Salmon, 12-21c lb.; fresh fillets, 14c lb.; smoked fillets, 15c lb.; finnan haddie, 12c lb.; white fish, 12-25 cents pound; sea herring, 3 lbs., 25c; pickerel, 14c lb.; oysters, 45c pint; smelts, 20c lb.; halibut, 20c lb.; cod steak, 13-15c lb.; kippers, 15c pair.

Meats

Beef, 6-30c lb.; veal, 15-20c lb.; lamb, 14-28c; pork, 8-30c lb.

Flour

Bread flour, 24-lb. bag, 61-80c; pastry flour, 65-76c; 98-lb. sack bread flour, $2.29-$2.95.

WHOLESALE

Hay, Bran, Etc.

Hay, $13 ton; straw $7.00-$8.00; bran, $24-$25; shorts, $26 ton

Hides and Wool

Cow hides, 2½c lb.; horse hides, $1.00 each; calf skins, 3-4c lb.; lamb skins, 10-35c each.
Wool: fine, 8c; coarse, 6c lb.

Grain

Wheat, fall, 90c bushel; spring wheat, 85c; oats, 34c; rye, 50c; barley, malting, 60c; feed barley, 50c; buckwheat, 44c.

To benefit the 20,000 workers whose efforts had resulted in a boom for the company, the Hawasaki Drydock Company is building a large hospital, restaurant and employees' school in Kobe, Japan, at a cost of nearly $750,000.

LIGHT DELIVERY TRUCKS

SPEEDWAGONS

HEAVY DUTY TRUCKS

REO

announces a complete line of NEW 1935

REO TRUCKS

The new, ultra-modern Light Delivery Trucks provide speed and appearance for those requiring equipment of this kind.

The "Reo Speedwagon", recognized as an outstanding truck for more than two decades, is thoroughly modern in appearance and embodies all well-known Reo quality features.

Reo Heavy Duty Trucks are to be found in all places where exceptional power and carrying capacity is needed. The new 1935 Reo Trucks are powered for speed and pull, streamlined for style, built and balanced for extraordinary wear. Hydraulic brakes, full floating axle and Reo transmission.

$865.00 to $5220.00. Chassis only.
F.O.B. Factory. Standard Factory Equipment. Taxes Extra.
It's unnecessary to pay more—it's unwise to pay less—than you would pay for a REO

John S. Selkirk Ltd.
466 George St., Peterborough
Phone 98

REO MOTOR COMPANY OF CANADA, LIMITED, TORONTO [Leaflet] CANADA

The Peterborough Examiner

VOL. LXXIV., No. 83 — PETERBOROUGH, MONDAY, APRIL 8, 1935 — PROBS.—N.E. winds; partly cloudy; rather cool to-day and on Tuesday. — PRICE THREE CENTS

HOME EDITION

Power Pact Cancellations Attacked By Boards Of Trade

MACDONALD TO REPRESENT BRITAIN

To-day

Short News Items Received By Examiner Over Direct C. P. Wire.

Three Persons Killed In Mexican Wind Storm

MERIDA, Yucatan, Mexico—Three persons were killed, a score injured, several houses were unroofed and all electric and telephone wires were destroyed when a sudden high wind struck this city Sunday. A passenger train enroute here was turned over by the force of the gale.

—:—

Past Street Car Stop Car Driver Kills Girl

TORONTO. — Leslie Sheardown, 28, Kleinberg, Ont., farmer, was remanded to April 12 on bail of $10,000 when he appeared in Magistrate's Court to-day on a charge of manslaughter which followed an automobile accident in which Helen Mitchell, 24, was fatally injured as she was getting off a street car here Saturday night. Miss Mitchell, who died in hospital yesterday, was thrown 42 feet by the impact.

—:—

London Workman Faces Charges Over Battle

LONDON, Ont. — While he remained under a doctor's care, his injured head swathed in bandages, John Hillinger, young laborer, to-day was named in three criminal charges, including pointing a rifle as a sequel to a sanguinary battle near Merwin Heights on Saturday night. Thomas Kellestine of London township charges Hillinger pointed a rifle at him during the altercation which took place in a shack on the third concession of London township. In a pitched battle that followed police said Hillinger evidently got the worst of it. His head was badly battered.

—:—

Michigan Car Sought Windsor Home Robbery

WINDSOR. — Two men were sought by police to-day in connection with savage assault and robbery of George Wride in his home last night. Wride told police the men forced their way into the house, knocked him nearly unconscious with their fists and then took $11, a gold watch and a few other things from his pockets. The men then left in an automobile bearing a Michigan license.

—:—

Brantford Negro Gets Term In Reformatory

SIMCOE, Ont.—William Street, colored, of Brantford, was sentenced to-day to five months determinate and three months indeterminate at the Ontario Reformatory for his part in the robbery of L. C. Courtnage's store Victoria Hills, March 9. Hiram Miller, Six Nations Indian, was given three months in jail and Charles McCombes, white, of Brantford township, two months in jail.

—:—

First Dance In Hall In Over Seventy Years

KING, Ont.—Lasky Institute Hall founded 70 years ago as a Temperance Hall will be the scene of the first dance in its history this month after renovation has given it a modern hardwood floor in place of the old pine floor of early days.

—:—

Police Investigating Toronto School Fire

TORONTO.—Police are investigating to-day an apparent attempt to set fire to Fern avenue school last night with a lighted bundle of papers stuffed behind all of a basement window. Damage was not serious.

—:—

Toronto Company Head Faces Arson Charges

TORONTO. — Alfred H. Owen, president of Alfred H. Owen Limited, appeared in Magistrate's court to-day on charges of arson and "setting fire" and was remanded on bail of $4,000 to April 12. The charges arise out of a fire at the Owen Upholstery Plant which did damage estimated at $3,000.

—:—

Theatre Cashiers Lose In Smooth 'Con' Racket

KITCHENER.—Two suave "con" men defrauded two Kitchener cashiers of $30 Saturday, police revealed to-day by using a trick which is said to have been employed on 10 Toronto theatres last week. Two men got their change tangled up at the theatre box office confusing the cashiers with a running fire of conversation until in each case the girl found she had given too much change.

—:—

Ploughed Earth Sifted In Ontario Dust Storm

LEAMINGTON.—Layers of earth were lifted from recently ploughed, but unseeded, fields in one of the worst dust storms to visit this district in several years, which descended upon this area over the week-end. Onion marshes on Point Pelee suffered slightly from the wind, which lifted the top soil and hung it like a black pall out over Lake Erie, but otherwise no damage was done.

Lieutenant Colonel Edward L. Strutt, who was second in command of the Mount Everest expedition of 1922, is in a hospital in Cairo, Egypt, with three broken ribs, a punctured lung and pneumonia, following an automobile accident in the Upper Nile region.

Nazi Ambitions Thwarted In Free City

HITLER COHORTS FALL FAR SHORT TWO THIRD VOTE

German Catholics and Socialists Combine to Foil Dictatorship Aims.

REDS RUN LAST.

Nazi Retain Control of Parliament But Lack Edge to Suppress Opposition.

(By Melvin K. Whiteleather.)
(Copyright, 1935, by the Associated Press.)

FREE CITY OF DANZIG, April 8 (C.P.). — The Nazis failed by 17,584 votes yesterday to create a dictatorship in this free city in their drive to unite it with Germany.

Final official figures in the election of the Volkstag, or Parliament, showed they polled only 59.1 per cent. of the votes instead of the 66 2-3 per cent. needed to gain control of the Legislature.

FREE CITY OF DANZIG, April 8 (A.P.). — A handful of Danzig residents with the fighting spirit of the Teutonic knights had succeeded to-day in thwarting Nazi ambitions to create a dictatorship in this free city as a step toward its reunion with the Fatherland.

Nazis, while polling approximately 60 per cent. of the vote in yesterday's election, fell considerably short of the two-thirds majority required to wipe out opposition parties and make themselves supreme in the city's political life.

Approximately 93,000 Danzig voters, the majority of them German Catholics and Socialists, combined to drown the hopes of the Hitlerites. The defeat was the first real defiance Nazidom has encountered since it attained ascendancy in the Reich.

The Party Votes.

The figures showed the Nazi party received 139,200 of the 232,279 votes cast for the seven parties listed on the ballot.

The totals for the other parties were: Social Democrats 31,530. Com-

(Turn to Page 6)

ARMS ARRIVE FOR ETHIOPIANS

400 Machine Guns, 60,000 Rifles Arrive From Belgium, Czechoslovakia.

RUSHED TO FRONTIER.

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, April 8 (A.P.).—What was reported to be the biggest consignment of munitions ever imported into Ethiopia arrived to-day from Belgium and Czechoslovakia.

Emperor Haile Selassie went to the station to inspect the shipment, which consisted of 400 machine guns, 20,000 rifles and 6,000,000 cartridges.

Transport of the munitions toward the borders of Italian Somaliland and Eritrea by caravans began immediately.

Robbins Passes

WARREN D. ROBBINS

Suffering pneumonia, Warren Delano Robbins, minister to Canada and distant cousin of President Roosevelt, died Sunday in Doctors' Hospital, New York City. He was 50 years old.

PRIEST'S STORY SHAKES ALIBI BY HAUPTMANN

Breaks Long Silence — Often Saw Convicted Man Near Lindbergh Estate.

PLOT LONG PLANNED.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 8. — (AP)—A Catholic priest, who said his sense of "moral duty" prompted him to break a long silence, today waited arrival of Federal authorities, whom he expected to investigate his story attacking much of Bruno Hauptmann's alibi in the Lindbergh kidnapping case.

Was at Trenton

The story told by Rev. Michael J. Kallok, pastor of St. Joseph's Church in suburban Cudahy, and in 1930 a cleric in Trenton, N.J., was given to Department of Justice agents, who were to confer with New Jersey State police before proceeding further.

Father Kallok, asserting that the Lindbergh kidnapping was planned long before the flier's estate at Hopewell was erected, said he felt: "I have a moral duty to bring to light details that for three years were kept secret because of the fear that some one might kill me for revealing what I know."

The priest said Hauptmann visited a riding stable on the L. C. Thompson farm, several miles from the Lindbergh estate, for several months prior to the kidnapping, and that he knew the Bronx carpenter as "Brunor," "Richard," and as "Hauptmenn."

At one time, the priest related he saw Hauptmann, who often rode horseback in the woods near the Lindbergh estate, emerge from the

(Turn to page 6)

SARAZEN INCREASES LEAD.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 8.—(A.P.)—Starting the afternoon round of their 36 hole play-off with a four stroke margin, Gene Sarazen increased his advantage over Craig Wood to six shots with three holes as he continued his bid for first prize money, $1,500, in the Augusta National's Invitation Golf Tournament.

QUEBEC PREMIER PLANS PARLEY WITH HEPBURN

Hydro Contracts With Quebec Power Companies Expected to be Topic.

NO PLACE SET.

Both Premiers Intimate Some Date After Prorogation of Legislature.

QUEBEC, April 8 (C.P.).—A conference between Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn of Ontario and Premier L. A. Taschereau of Quebec will be held following prorogation of the Quebec Legislature, Mr. Taschereau announced to-day. Purpose of the conference was not stated.

Possibility was seen, however, Hydro contracts with Quebec power companies would be one of the topics for discussion. Prediction was also made in parliamentary circles here newsprint prices would be considered in the hope of clarifying the position of the newsprint industry.

Where the conference will take place was not disclosed, but the belief here was it would be in Toronto.

A Bill now before the Ontario Legislature would, if passed, declare the Hydro contracts void.

HEPBURN AGREEABLE.

TORONTO, April 8 (C.P.).—Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn said to-day he had no direct intimation from Premier L. A. Taschereau of Quebec regarding a conference the Quebec Premier announced he would hold with him, but he knew it was coming.

"I'll be very happy to meet Mr. Taschereau and I imagine he appreciates the difficult situation that confronts us as a result of the over-purchase of power," said Mr. Hepburn.

Mr. Taschereau announced at Quebec the conference would take place after the prorogation of the Quebec Legislature, and Mr. Hepburn said he believed it would suit him best to wait until the Ontario Legislature had prorogued.

CAR IS WRECKED ARREST DRIVER

Stolen Car Driven at Wreckless Speed in North End of City.

POLICE FOLLOWING.

Fergus Mongraw, James street, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Plainclothesman William Piercy, following a speedy car chase about the city. Before Magistrate Langley to-day Mongraw was charged with the theft of Dr. A. W. McPherson's car.

W. J. A. Fair appeared as Mongraw's counsel in court. He did not plead or elect to the charge, but requested a week's remand, explaining that he intended bringing attention of officials at Queen's Park to the mental condition of his client.

Police allege that Mongraw stole the car from in front of St. Joseph's Hospital. Later Constable Piercy in the police car saw Mongraw in the stolen vehicle and gave chase. In trying to elude the police car, Mongraw attempted to make a turn south off Park Hill Road onto George Street. He was going at terrific speed and failed to make the turn, the car going up over the sidewalk, breaking off the guy wire on a hydro pole, and then crashing into a tree on the opposite curb.

Immediately after the crash Mongraw jumped from the car and began running south on George Street. The constable gave pursuit, and after a race of several blocks apprehended him.

$850,000 Subscribed To Restoration Fund

TORONTO, April 8. —(CP)— Of the $1,071,000 which is the objective of the restoration fund of the Church of England in Canada, more than $850,000 has already been subscribed, according to Most Rev. Derwyn T. Owen, archbishop of Toronto and primate of all Canada, who returned from a five weeks' visit to the Canadian west yesterday.

A Stumble

FITCHBURG, Mass., April 8. —(C.P.)—Lawrence Duval, 23, stubbed his toe and landed in a hospital Sunday.

Duval, found lying unconscious on the sidewalk, was taken to a hospital where doctors said he had suffered a possible fracture of the vertebrae in his neck. He regained consciousness and his condition was not considered serious.

He said he stubbed his toe, felt a sharp pain in his neck and back and awoke in the hospital.

RACE CAR KILLS SIX IN CROWD

Machine in French Road Contest Skids Into Tree, Then Into Spectators.

19 ARE INJURED.

CHAUTEAU-THIERRY, France, April 8 (A.P.)—A racing automobile, gone suddenly out of control, hurtled into a crowd of spectators yesterday, killing six and injuring 19. The driver, named Caltaneo, was only a few seconds behind the leader in a road race when the sudden application of his brakes caused his speeding machine to leap from the road. The car struck a tree, caromed back into the highway and shot into the crowd.

Two children and a man were killed outright. A woman and two boys died later in a hospital. Most of the injured, some of whom were in a critical condition, were struck in the legs by the low racing car. Surgeons performed several amputations in an effort to save the lives of the injured.

The Weather

TORONTO, April 8 (C.P.) — Synopsis.—Pressure is high over the greater part of Canada with a fairly deep low area over the Rocky Mountain States and a shallow disturbance of decreasing intensity centered south of the Great Lakes and another of increasing intensity off Cape Hatteras. The weather has been rather cold over the Dominion with snow in Alberta and some sections of Saskatchewan.

Lower Lake Region.—Fresh northeast to north winds; partly cloudy and rather cold to-day and Tuesday, with some light snow or rain near Lake Erie.

Georgian Bay.—East to northeast winds; partly cloudy and rather cold to-day and Tuesday.

Northern Ontario.—Northeast to north winds; fair and cold to-day and Tuesday.

Ottawa and Upper St. Lawrence Valley.—Moderate to fresh northeast winds; fair and rather cold. Tuesday—Northeast winds; partly cloudy and cold; probably snowflurries near the St. Lawrence.

Windsor Girl Slowly Bleeding To Death

WINDSOR, Ont., April 8 (C.P.)—Afflicted by a rare disease which it is believed impossible to cure, Eva Knisel, 28-year-old Jugoslavian girl, is slowly bleeding to death in hospital here.

The malady, diagnosed by her doctor, Dr. M. Levine, as essential thrombopcytopenic purpora, causes the blood to lose its coalgulating power and, remaining liquod, it is slowly seeping through the mucuous membranes of the young woman's body.

Miss Knisel was first stricken last Thursday when she began to bleed from the gums. Believing her teeth responsible, she consulted a dentist who in turn called in Dr. Levine. The latter ordered her removal to hospital.

Your Evening Smile

KEEPING UP WITH MOTHER

Mr. Newlywed: What's wrong with this pie crust, darling? It doesn't half cover the pie.

Mrs. Newlywed: I asked your mother how to make pies to suit you and she said to make the crust very short.

EDEN STRICKEN, PEACE REPORT TO BE DELAYED

Heart Attack Puts Crimp in Britain's Plans For Stresa Conference.

ENVOY ORDERED TO REST.

British Press Cautions Cabinet Against New Continental Commitments.

LONDON, April 8 (C.P.)—Orders of two physicians threw an obstacle to-day in the path of Great Britain's search for a formula to remove all threats to Europe's peace.

Capt. Anthony Eden, Great Britain's young diplomat in whom she placed much reliance in working out the perplexing security problem, was sent to bed and instructed to remain there to recuperate from a heart strain. Eden's indisposition will prevent him from making a personal report on his European trip at today's cabinet session. It likewise will eliminate him from the list of Great Britain's representatives at the Tri-Power Conference at Stresa, beginning next Thursday and the important sessions of the League of Nations Council next week.

Report Anxiously Awaited

Ever since his return from his fortnight's tour of five continental countries from Paris to Moscow the Lord Privy Seal's report has been anxiously awaited by his colleagues in the government.

After a conference with his private physician and a heart specialist yesterday, however, the 37-year-old Eden learned he must take a complete rest for at least a month.

Since Eden must stay at home, increasing pressure is being brought on Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald to go to Stresa with Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary.

It was pointed out if MacDonald goes to the Tri-Power Conference,

(Continued on Page Two.)

TWO TECUMSEH HOUSES BURN

Twelve Are Left Homeless as Two Families Flee Early Morning Blaze.

HOTEL DAMAGED.

TECUMSEH, Ont., April 8 (C.P.). —Two families were driven from their homes and two houses destroyed when fire, for the second time in less than 24 hours, broke out in this tiny Essex County municipality to-day.

Earl Ogilvy, in whose home the blaze originated, with his wife and two small sons, escaped via the roof and then raced 600 yards in his underwear to turn in the alarm. It was the strangled coughing of one of his sons that aroused Ogilvy.

Fanned by a strong north-east wind, the flames stretched to Edward Renaud's home. The Renaud family of eight warned however by the shouts of Ogilvy, were able to make their escape quite easily.

The contents of both houses were also destroyed.

Yesterday the Tecumseh house, one of the oldest hotels in Essex County, was damaged by fire and water to the extent of $35,000.

SETTING FIRE TO GRASS SMALL TOT IS BURNED

HAMILTON, Ont., April 8.—(CP) —Bessie MacDonald, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. MacDonald of Bronte, 20 miles northeast of here, is in critical condition in hospital here suffering from burns she received when she attempted to set a grass fire with a wad of lighted paper she brought from her home.

Chances

OLNEY, Ill., April 8.—(AP) —The chance winning of $142,000 in the Irish sweepstakes is bringing Mrs. Mabel Itselman all sorts of chances. Since she won she's had chances to:

Donate $200 to a "lady who doesn't like her neighbors and wants to move."

Present an automobile to a preacher.

Buy a Kansas farm from which the wind has blown the topsoil.

To "hire a man to keep on living"—otherwise he says he'll commit suicide.

Pay off 38 mortgages.

Finance 417 investors.

NON-PARTISAN POWER ENQUIRY IS SUGGESTED

Local Committee Discusses Bill to Cancel Hydro Contracts.

DESIRES TO ASSIST.

Greater Public Confidence if Contract Facts Free of Party Source.

A non-partisan investigation of the Hydro power contracts was suggested by the local committee on economy and finance this morning as a means of eliciting and presenting to the public complete information relating to their origin.

With second reading of the Government's bill to cancel the contracts on the agenda of to-day business of the Legislature, the committee was urgently requested by the Provincial chairman to institute local action and an appeal to the Government for the withdrawal of the bill.

Several years ago the Ontario Committee on Economy and Finance was formed as an adjunct of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, and Lt.-Col. C. H. Ackerman was appointed chairman when a branch was organized here.

The communication to Col. Ackerman expressed serious alarm about the effect on Provincial and national credit of the repudiation of the power contracts which are affected if the Government's bill is enacted.

In the informal discussion here this morning it was pointed out that the public and all other interests would be greatly assisted in their judgment and attitude if the facts and circumstances surrounding the origin of the contracts were brought out from an admittedly non-partisan angle. It was believed that the committee could render a service to the Government if it could assist in the preparation of such a statement which would be generally recognized as being beyond suspicion of partisan influence, color and effect.

Trade Boards Protest Power Pact Action

TORONTO, April 8 (C.P.) — Cancellation of the Quebec power contracts without regard to the courts was not in the best interests of the people of Ontario, the Ontario Associated Board of Trade and Chambers of Commerce decided at a meeting to-day. A brief was submitted to Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn.

The meeting also decided to inform all members of the association of their decision and if they approved the finding, recommended they take whatever action they deem necessary. The board council contended the question of whether the contracts should or should not have been made, whether their terms were fair or otherwise, and whether or not they were properly validated were matters entirely beside the point when it came to a matter of cancellation.

Ludendorff Blames German Collapse In '18 on Christianity—Heathen Himself

LONDON, Eng., April 8. (AP).—The Munich correspondent of Reuter's reports to-day General Erich Ludendorff, breaking a long birthday, proudly styled himself "an anti-Christian and a heathen" and placed the blame on Christianity for Germany's collapse in 1918.

The general, in an interview in his small, richly-appointed villa in the Bavarian village of Tutzing, was quoted as saying:

"Only through the complete renunciation of Christianity will the German people achieve the unity it needs and which would have saved it from the trying days of 1918."

WILL GO WITH SIR JOHN SIMON STRESA PARLEY

Nation's Plan For European Security System Laid at Cabinet Session.

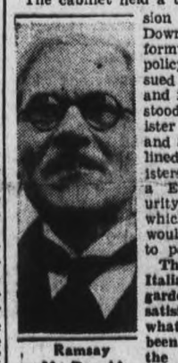
FRENCH NAME FLANDIN.

Mussolini Said to Desire Scrapping or Re-writing of Locarno Pact.

LONDON, April 8.—(AP) Prime Minister Ramsay Macdonald announced today he and Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, would form the British delegation to the conference with Italy and France at Stresa Thursday.

Premier Mussolini will head the Italian delegation to the parley, which is to consider the best methods of preserving peace and security, and reports from Paris indicate Premier Pierre Etienne Flandin will accompany Foreign Minister Pierre Laval to the meeting.

The cabinet held a two-hour session at No. 10 Downing street, formulating the policy to be pursued at Stresa, and it was understood Prime Minister MacDonald and Sir John outlined for the ministers a plan for a European security system in which all nations would be invited to participate.



Ramsay MacDonald

The French and Italians are regarded as still unsatisfied with what so far has been revealed of the British program, but the cabinet was hopeful the plan would

(Turn to page 5)

PLEA SENT DEPARTMENT FOR SUSPENDED SENTENCE

PORT ERIE, Ont., April 8.—(CP) —A written plea was sent today to the Dominion Department of Justice by former Police Magistrate William T. Malkin and others to commute the sentence of Matthew Schaffer, 35-year-old Bertie township farmer who is faced with three months in jail on conviction of having in his possession a quantity of alcohol and coloring fluid. The plea will seek to show Schaffer's absence at this season of the year from his farm when spring planting is essential undoubtedly will necessitate his wife and family of four being thrown indefinitely on relief.

WINDSHIELD SHATTERED BY R.R. CROSSING GATE

Driving east on Charlotte street shortly after noon to-day, Herbert J. McCannan, local real estate agent, escaped serious injury when the windshield of his car was shattered after crashing through the C.N.R. crossing gates.

It was stated by an eye witness of the accident that one side of the gates had been raised to allow access to one of W. J. Oke's fruit trucks, and the arms of the gate were just being again lowered into position when Mr. McCannan approached from the west and attempted to drive over the crossing.

The arm of the gate struck the windshield, shattering the glass, fortunately without serious consequences to the driver of the car.

LAST MINUTE NEWS FLASHES

TORONTO, April 8.—(CP)—Restoration of the use of dogs in hunting, subject to a strict licensing system was proposed in a bill to amend the Game and Fisheries Act, introduced by Provincial Secretary H. C. Nixon in the Ontario Legislature today.

MAIDSTONE, Ont., April 8.—(CP)—A three-year-old boy was seriously burned and his mother slightly burned when fire destroyed the home of John Head near here today. The boy, Richard Head, was taken to hospital at Walkerville while the mother received first aid treatment at a doctor's office in Essex. Three other small children were carried to safety by the heroic mother who fell four times before getting them out into the open.

TORONTO, April 8.—(CP)—The Ontario Securities Commission report on the Quebec power bond transactions will be presented during this week, J. M. Godfrey announced today. The commissioner opened the inquiry last Tuesday on the instructions of the Ontario government in an effort to determine whether there had been a "leak" of information.

TWENTY-SIX ARE KILLED IN SOUTHERN TORNADOES

OVER 200 HURT AS WINDS LASH THREE STATES

Every Building in Alabama Town of Mobile is Damaged, Many Razed.

NEGROES MAIN VICTIMS.

Total Damage Estimated at $300,000—Several Drown in Mississippi.

GLOSTER, Miss., April 8.—(AP)—A whining tornado which blew out of the west over parts of Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama during the week-end left in its path 26 known dead, more than 200 injured and property damage estimated at $300,000.

The funnel-shaped wind struck first at Lake Providence, La., Saturday night. It struck three times at Dolorosa, Gloster and Gillsburg, Miss., and spent its force by dipping down around Mobile, Ala., late yesterday.

The main fury of the wind was left in this town of 1,500 population. Not a house in the town escaped damage and 760 inhabitants were affected directly by the storm.

Mayor Louis Kahn said 87 dwellings were blown to splinters, 41 so badly damaged they will have to be razed, 28 other dwellings and 20 business houses partly damaged.

The railroad station, the hotel and three churches were wrecked, the cotton gin, the cotton warehouse and the town water tank were destroyed. Even the cemetery did not escape, tombstones being blown down and shunted from grave to grave.

The landscape was strewn with timber, metal roofing, uprooted trees and general debris.

$250,000 Loss.

Four white persons and four Negroes were killed here and 150 injured. The property damage was estimated at $250,000 by the Mayor.

From Gloster the storm struck the outskirts of the village of Gillsburg, 30 miles south-east of here, where six persons were killed, a score injured and 14 homes blown down.

At Lake Providence, La., four white persons and five Negroes were drowned when the wind blew over a large houseboat anchored in the Mississippi River, six miles below the town.

Then the wind crossed into the State of Mississippi and hit Dolorosa, a plantation settlement where three Negro children were killed. One little Negro was blown out of his bed into the night. His body was not found until near noon yesterday.

DOCTOR SAID SHE NEEDED "BULK" FOR HER CONSTIPATION"

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brings Relief to Mrs. Maneely

Read the following unsolicited letter:

"Up to five years ago, I knew no end of suffering caused by constipation." I used all kinds of laxatives but only found relief till I got used to them. My physician told me to get some Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, and instructed me how to use it.

"I did just as I was told by my doctor, and today I send my highest praise for what your ALL-BRAN has done for me."—Mrs. Jas. Maneely, Jr. Address upon request.

"Due to insufficient "bulk" in meals.

ALL-BRAN provides gentle "bulk" to help overcome common constipation. It is also a good source of vitamin B and iron.

The "bulk" of ALL-BRAN is often more effective than the "bulk" in fruits and vegetables, as it does not break down within the body. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not corrected this way see your doctor.

Isn't this food much pleasanter and safer than risking patent medicines? Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Keep on the Sunny Side of Life

Guaranteed Wives

WENATCHEE, Wash., April 8. (CP).—William G. Weatherly, a recent visitor of Central American, reported to-day Indian wives come cheap in Guatemala—and are guaranteed.

Bride-grooms of the Quinche Indians, he said, paid as little as from $1 to $10. They buy their wives with the stipulation they can return them any time within two years and get the purchase money refunded, he said.

LIVESTOCK PRODUCE AND CHEESE QUOTES

ONTARIO GRAINS.

F.o.b. shipping point—Wheat, 85c to 87c; oats, 32c to 34c; corn, 56c to 58c; buckwheat, 43c to 45c; malting barley 63c to 65c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Braced up as a result of late speculative buying, the corn market scored something of an advance Saturday and imparted relative firmness to other grains.

Evidence of rapid decrease of Chicago's supplies of corn had a stimulating effect on buyers, especially as vessel loading was in progress here for immediate lake shipments of corn to Buffalo. The trade virtually ignored assertions that Argentine corn, duty paid, was being offered to Pacific Coast points at far below what domestic corn could be laid down from the Central West.

Corn closed firm, unchanged to ⅛c higher, May 84⅛c to 84⅛c, wheat unchanged to ⅛c off, May 94⅛c, oats ¼c down to ¼c up, and provisions showing 5c to 15 gain.

Corn and oats traders took sharp notice of statements that the combined present stocks of corn in Chicago, Minneapolis, Duluth and Buffalo Bay ports, do not equal the supplies held in Chicago alone on May 1 last year.

Helping to rally wheat prices from early declines was the fact that the official forecast for next week pointed to but little moisture in the great plains area.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, April 8. — Late-session confirmation or fabricated export sales of Canadian wheat gave prices a fillip on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange on Saturday, but did not lift the week-end lethargy that prevailed.

Values closed ¼c to ⅝c higher, both May and July futures at 87¼c. Futures were firm throughout, 500,000 bushel exports and gains at Liverpool paring Friday's ⅛c decline.

Firmness of Chicago, despite reports of rain in the arid United States winter wheat area, was also a sustaining factor. Chicago closed ⅝c higher, while Liverpool closed ⅞d to ½d up, and Buenos Aires 1⅝c advanced.

Australian prices continued to advance, Friday's setbacks in the world's grain markets being ignored and this, it was reported, resulted in Liverpool's rally from the previous day's 1⅞d recession.

Small export sales to the United Kingdom was the only feature to the cash and coarse grain sections.

Futures:

Wheat—	Open	High	Low	Close	Prev Close
May	.87	.87⅛	.86⅛	.87⅛	.86⅞
July	.86⅜	.87⅛	.86⅛	.87⅛	.86⅝
Oats—
May	.40⅝	.40⅝	.40⅛	.40⅛	.40⅛
July	.40⅛	.40⅛	.40⅛	.40⅛	.40

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

Prices on the Montreal dairy and produce market were steady to narrowly lower during last week's quiet trading. The butter market ended the week at 22½c a pound for No. 1 regraded butter in carlots or less, with fresh receipts a cent a pound lower, down about 1½c from the preceding Saturday. Small lots to retailers brought 23½c to 24c a pound for solids, and 24½c to 25c for prints. Arrivals totalled 3,440 boxes compared with 4,586 a week ago.

Cheese continued unchanged at 11¾c to 11¾c a pound for fall make of No. 1 Ontario, and 12¼c to 12½c for summer lines. Receipts were 86 boxes, slightly more than twice the previous day's total.

On the egg market graded shipments in carlots or less brought 18c to 18½c a dozen for A-large, 18½c for A-medium, 15c for A-pullets or "B," and 14½c for "C." Arrivals amounted to 9,500 cases, compared with 11,581 cases, the previous week. These prices were narrowly lower than a week ago.

The melting of salt is known in chemistry as deliquescence.

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

In the good old days a divorce meant a fight to see who'd get the children, but now it's to see who'll get the car or pet Pekingese.

DAIRY INDUSTRY BEEN AWAKENED

Depression Has Done Much for Awakening Dairy Men, Club is Told.

ASSISTING LEGISLATION

While the depression has brought serious hardships, it has resulting in the awakening of the Canadian dairy industry, H. B. Cowan of this city told the Friday Night Supper Club in an address Friday. The depression has at last brought home to Canadians the need for a thorough renovation in the dairy industry here if it is to compete in world markets, he said.

Describing agricultural conditions in Canada during 1932, Mr. Cowan compared them with those prevailing in Denmark, Sweden, Australia and New Zealand. When prices dropped as the depression set in and farmers' incomes dropped, particularly in the dairy industry, many began to take stock. It was discovered that competitors of the Canadians in Sweden, Australia and New Zealand had made many improvements in their industry and cut costs in order to gain export markets. It was discovered that, while Canadian stock was producing about 4,100 pounds of butter fat per cow, cows in New Zealand were producing 5,300 pounds and, in Denmark 7,300 pounds, he said.

Resistance to Expansion

Mr. Cowan told of the resistance to expansion and modernization in Canada. In 1932 there were 274 creameries compared with the 300 operating to-day. In 1932 in New South Wales there were only 20 creameries producing as much as the 274 here. The Australian industries were owned by the farmers while the Canadian creameries were, for the most part, owned privately.

Mr. Cowan told of a trial of co-operative organization of the industry in the Fraser River Valley in British Columbia. The trial failed due to the lack of compulsion regarding membership, he said. Two years ago, England took the leadership in the field of compulsory marketing legislation. Movements for such legislation began in Canada with the result that, at Regina in July last year, a conference of dairy representatives declared themselves solidly in favor of such legislation. A conference for Eastern Canada held in Toronto not only expressed favor with the idea but appointed representatives to interview the Government. Legislation to assist the industry has now been passed by five provincial governments and plans are being drawn up by the Dominion legislators for nation-wide acts, Mr. Cowan said.

Members of the winning teams in the Church Basketball League were guests of the evening. Shields were presented the triumphant teams by C. A. Salmensen and Mr. Cowan with introductions by James McClenaghan. Gordon McIntyre, captain of the St. Paul's Juniors, and Bob Killingbeck of the St. Andrew's Juveniles received the trophies on behalf of their teams.

Hog Quotations In Peterborough

MONDAY, APRIL 8.

Canada Packers quote:

Hogs — F.o.b., $7.75; off truck, $7.85; rail grades, $10.50.

Selects, $1 per cwt premium.

Sows, 2½c off bacon prices

Cream — No. 1 (on truck), 23c; No. 1 (delivered), 24c.

Special 2c per lb. premium.

Dealers quote:

Grain — Spring wheat, 85c; fall wheat, 90c; oats, 34c; malting barley, 60c; feed barley, 50c; rye, 50c; and buckwheat, 46c.

Recalls Coach Days

This 1936 edition of the camel's hair and cashmere top coat reminds one somewhat of the old coaching days with the driver in box coat driving his gallant four-in-hands. The coat shown is in beige, royal blue or old rose, with saucer-like buttons. It covers a shirtwaist dress in lightweight camel's hair in chevron design. Big, highly varnished wooden buttons, matching the belt buckle, not only fasten the dress down the front but decorate the patch pockets.

SILVER DOLLAR READY MAY 1ST

New Canadian Coin Will Be Lighter Than U. S. Dollar.

WEIGHTS 360 GRAINS.

OTTAWA, April 8.—(C.P.)—Minting of Canada's first silver dollar by Finance Minister E. N. Rhodes last week came almost 25 years after his illustrious fellow Nova Scotian, Hon. W. S. Fielding, had secured from Parliament the power to include in the Dominion's currency a silver dollar coin of 360 grains weight.

In the House of Commons on April 8, 1910, Mr. Fielding, then finance minister, moved an amendment to the Currency Act to empower the Government to mint a silver dollar.

"Hitherto," Mr. Fielding said at that time, "I have not thought it necessary but representations have been made to me chiefly by honorable members from British Columbia on both sides of the House, that a silver dollar is desirable."

The new dollar is a coin of 360 grains containing 288 grains fine silver. The United States' silver dollar is 412½ grains weight, containing 371¼ grains fine silver.

On May 1 the new coin will be ready for circulation by banks throughout Canada and in part of the United States.

No Highbrows

DEL MONTE, Calif., April 8. (CP). — Literary and artistic luminaries at the colony of Carmel, over the hill from here, were reported biting their nails to-day because of a snub by Gertrude Stein.

The writer, who strings words together endlessly, stopped at a hotel here and refused to visit Carmel.

Miss Stein said she had no use for art colonies. "I like ordinary people who don't bore me," she said. "Highbrows, you know, always do."

QUEBEC POWER CONTRACT BILL DEBATE TO-DAY

Ontario House Faces Hard Week on Drive For Easter Prorogation.

NIGHT SESSIONS.

TORONTO, April 8. (CP).—The bill Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn introduced in the Ontario Legislature last week to terminate contracts with Quebec power companies was slated for debate to-date as members returned to Queen's Park to face the most strenuous week of the session.

Premier Hepburn announced last week lengthy night sessions will be held the first four nights of the week and they will last until two or three o'clock in the morning in an effort to achieve Easter prorogation.

Chief Items on the Legislative program for the week will be the power contracts debate and the budget which resumes to-morrow. Attorney-General A. W. Roebuck's labor legislation has yet to receive second reading and the Police Centralization Bill must be discussed in committee.

Conservatives are expected to attack the power bill, the Hydro-Electric Commission Act, 1930. Col. W. H. Price (Cons., Toronto-Parkdale) denounced the measure during his budget speech Thursday and said he would have something more to say when the bill was under discussion. It was expected three other opposition members, Leopold Macaulay, York South, Wilfrid Heighton, Toronto - St. David, and Arthur Ellis, Ottawa, South, would be heard early in the debate.

Many Private Bills

Busiest of the committees will be Private Bills. At its session tomorrow the committee will discuss the perennial and contentious Barbers' Registration Bill. Another measure scheduled for discussion will be a bill to amend the Architects' Act in respect to mine buildings.

Bills to revise the Corporations Tax Act and Stock Transfer Tax Act, in line with his budget announcements, will be introduced by Mr. Hepburn who will also bring down legislation respecting the Succession Duties Act.

Minister of Agriculture Duncan Marshall will introduce a bill respecting the Co-operating Marketing Loan Act which embodies government announcement's of aid to co-operative cold storage warehouses.

CAMPBELLFORD

Former Rawdon Man Killed In California

CAMPBELLFORD, April 8. (Examiner Correspondence). — Mrs. John H. Lisle, of Oak Street, received a message on Saturday stating that her nephew, Alexander Boyd of San Gabriel, Calif., had been accidentally killed while engaged in some electrical construction work in that city. He was a son of Mrs. and the late Ezekiel Boyd and was born in Rawdon township, the family moving to California some 30 years ago.

The food of oysters consists of microscopic plants of diatoms which water currents take to them.

GABY DEFENDS POWER DEALS RADIO ADDRESS

Contracts Were Open to Fullest Investigation by Members of Legislature.

QUOTES SIR ADAM BECK.

Commission Then Faced With Possible Shortage if Demand Continued to Increase.

TORONTO, April 8.—That Quebec power contracts were open to the fullest investigation and were available to members of the Legislature as attached to Orders-in-Council under which they were authorized, was the declaration of F. A. Gaby, former Chief Engineer of the Ontario Hydro-Electric System, when he talked on Quebec hydro contract's for more than an hour, over a chain of radio stations Saturday night.

Defending the action of the former Commission in entering into contracts with Quebec companies, Mr. Gaby pointed out that "the Commission was faced with the fact that from none of the three potential power sources in Ontario (Ottawa, Niagara and St. Lawrence Rivers) could sufficient power become actually available in time to meet the demands which would result from a continuation of the trends in growth, and which, over a long period of years, had been demonstrated to be characteristic of the Niagara system. The only remaining alternatives were the erection of steam plants or the purchase of hydro-electric power from Quebec."

Beck Quoted

In 1923, said Mr. Gaby, Sir Adam Beck had advised the Ontario Hydro Muncipal Association that, after full consideration of steam power, he would not be adverse to entering into a friendly arrangement with Quebec to take all its surplus power for sale in Ontario. In pointing out the disadvantages of steam, Mr. Gaby mentioned that "steam power, during the period under review, would have cost from $7 to $8 per horsepower more than Quebec power under the same conditions as to supply and delivery."

"It was and is said," continued Mr. Gaby, "that the quantities of power provided for in the various contracts were excessive and improvident. I may say to you, without any political bias or without any ulterior motive whatever, that if the normal trend which had been the normal trend in the previous 15 years had continued the amount of power which was bought under contract from Quebec would not have been sufficient to provide an adequate supply. The normal trend would have required, in the six years subsequent to 1929, that is to the present year, an increase of 800,000 horsepower instead of the

(Turn to page 6).

CAMPBELLFORD

Adler Gets 6 Months For Passing Cheques

CAMPBELLFORD, April 8 (Examiner Correspondence). — Appearing before Judge L. V. O'Connor in the County Court at Cobourg on Saturday, Carleton W. Adler was sentenced to six months in Cobourg jail, (sentences to run concurrently), and to be deported on expiry of term.

Adler was charged with passing worthless cheques on Campbellford merchants; the amount involved being $141.75, made up as follows: Simbrow, $3.75; E. Birks, $15; Patterson's Jewellery, $35; Chas. Calver, $10; Reindeau Music Store, $75.

FOLKS GOING TO THE FAIRS.

LONDON.—(C.P.) — The British Industries Fair at Olympia and the White City this year attracted 27,273 more people than last year, the totals being 168,156, compared with 140,883.

NO RUBBING Required!

Floors that Gleam in 20 Minutes—NO POLISHING

HAWES' FLOOR GLOSS

WIPE IT ON — LET IT DRY

THE modern, convenient, and easy way to keep your floors bright and shining without rubbing or polishing. HAWES' Floor Gloss imparts a beautiful lasting lustre to linoleum, tile, varnished, painted or shellacked wood floors. No more effort than the usual dusting. You just wipe it on—and let it dry. Lasts longer than ordinary polish. HAWES' FLOOR GLOSS makes a complete protecting film over the floor—prevents dirt from being ground in—makes it easier to wipe up the dust, or wash the floor if desired. Try HAWES' FLOOR GLOSS on your own floors. You'll never want to be without it. G-2R

Made by The Makers of HAWES' FLOOR WAX

Norwood

On Wednesday evening, April 3, the meeting of the Young Women's Auxiliary of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was held at the home of Mrs. Leonard Sedgwick, Pine street. The program for the evening was taken from the "Glad Tidings," for use of young people on the world's day of prayer. Miss Evelyn Godin was in charge. Mrs. John Rogers, Miss Jean Webb and Miss Annie Ferguson took the Scripture readings, while Miss Isobel MacMillan and Miss Laura Cuthbertson lead in prayer. Mrs. O. R. Edwards gave a splendid topic, "Problems of the Far East," taken from the study book, "Fellow Citizens." Plans for a bale and a social were discussed, with the president, Mrs. J. Rogers, in the chair. There was an attendance of fifteen members. Following the meeting a social hour was spent, when Mrs. L. Sedgwick served a delicious lunch, after which a vote of thanks was given the hostess.

W.M.S. of United Church Meet.

Mrs. Adam Gardner, Queen street, was hostess on Wednesday afternoon for the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church. Each of the fifty ladies answered the roll call with a Scripture verse. Mrs. Laura Buck was in charge of the business part of the meeting, after which an interesting program was given by Mrs. E. C. Squire's group, under the leadership of Mrs. W. A. Richardson. Mrs. Ellsworth Hogg gave the Scripture reading. A devotional talk was given by Mrs. Robert MacMillan, after which Mrs. Hugh Robb led in prayer. Mrs. S. Hendren took the study topic, followed by a talk on school fair work in India by Mrs. B. W. Tucker. Following a vote of thanks to the hostess and the group, the meeting closed with hymn 501 and the benediction.

DAYLIGHT INVASION.

NEW YORK, April 8 (C.P.). — The circus pulled a fast one on Sunday. Abandoning its usual custom of making the trek from the Bronx Railroad Yards to Madison Square Garden in the dead of night, the Ringling Bros.-Barnum and Bailey Show sneaked into Times Square by broad daylight.

The circus will open its season here on Thursday.

EDEN STRICKEN, PEACE REPORT TO BE DELAYED

(Continued from Page 1)

Sir John alone should be able to cope with the League Council session as the course of events at Geneva is expected to be dictateed by the powers' conversations at Stresa.

How keenly Eden's incapacity is felt by the Government was indicated by the Prime Minister's statement in which he said he was "distressed beyond measure on both personal and public grounds." Mr. MacDonald, Sir John and Sir Robert Vansittart, under-secretary of state, each visited Eden's bedside and talked with him about his tour.

Caution Urged

As the importance of to-day's decisions on Great Britain's future relations with Europe became generally appreciated, the British press evinced a unanimous desire that this country should take no sides in continental disputes.

Newspapers of all shades of opinion cautioned against further commitments on the continent and urged Great Britain to keep to a middle road. The Times in an editorial this morning endorsed the German demands made public last week.

After mentioning Reichsfuehrer Hitler's military and naval demands as well as his insistence Germany be regarded as a "mandatory power," the Times said:

"Some German demands are high but there is nothing really incompatible with the agreed principle of equality reckoned on any fair basis."

DR. T. G. HAMILTON DIES.

WINNIPEG, April 8 (C.P.).—Dr. T. Glendenning Hamilton, 61, internationally known authority on psychic research, a former member of the Manitoba Legislature, and a past president of the Manitoba Medical Association, died during the week-end. The funeral will be held here Tuesday. Mrs. Margaret Bach of London, Ont., is a daughter.

Born at Agincourt, Ont., Dr. Hamilton moved with his parents to Saskatoon 50 years ago, and came to Winnipeg in 1891.

Edwardsburg

CROWN BRAND

The Leading

CORN SYRUP

"THE FAMOUS ENERGY FOOD"

A product of The CANADA STARCH CO., Limited

Listen in to "SYRUP SYMPHONIES" Broadcast every Monday, 8 to 8.30 p.m., E.S.T.

Confederation Life

If You Need the Largest Amount of Life Insurance Protection for the Lowest Possible Cost and you are in good health, with a good family history, and are not engaged in a hazardous occupation, you can get this protection by means of one of our Super-Select Policies. These policies are also written with Double Indemnity and Total Disability Benefits. Write now for particulars. You will find them most satisfactory. Address Confederation Life Association, Head Office, Toronto.

Association

NEIGHBORLY NOTES

Please Phone Items to 1000 or 1001

Mr. William Worboy of Toronto attended the funeral here on Saturday of his father, the late Mr. Jeremiah Worboy.

* * *

Mrs. H. Morvan of Robinson street is attending the Provincial meeting of the W.M.S. of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, which is being held in Toronto this week.

* * *

Mrs. A. W. Blade of Ottawa, formerly of Peterborough, who had a birthday anniversary recently, was guest of honor last week at a surprise party given by her friends at the Glenica Country Club, Quebec.

* * *

A quilt contest under auspices of the Home and School Council was held on Saturday afternoon at the Queen Mary School, in connection with the Spring tea which took place on the same occasion. Judging was done at two o'clock, by Miss Helen Gerrard of the staff of the Vocational School. A dozen quilts were on display, demonstrating beautiful handiwork on the part of their makers. The first prize went to Mrs. T. H. Shield of Benson avenue (Queen Alexandra Home and School Association); the second prize to Mrs. Thomas Barrie of Water street (Queen Alexandra Home and School Association) and the third prize to Mrs. George Cunningham (May's Home and School Association) The committee in charge of the quilt contest and display was comprised of Mrs. E. T. Monk, convenor; Mrs. J. L. Hughes, Mrs. G. Cunningham and Mrs J. Kingsbury The first-prize quilt will be sent to Toronto to be shown at the quilt contest sponsored by the Home and School Associations of the province in connection with the annual meeting of the Ontario Education Association and School Federation. First-prize winning quilts from each Home and School Council in the province will be shown on that occasion. The design for the local prize-winning quilt is in a tulip pattern in appliqué design, with a fancy-shaped urn holding the flowers.

* * *

The Young People of Trinity Church are presenting their play, "Apple Blossom Time" at Zion tonight.

* * *

Mrs D. Jordan is in Toronto this week, attending the Provincial meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. While in Toronto, Mrs. Jordan will be the guest of the Rev. W. Allan and Mrs. Allan, formerly of Peterborough.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. James Pickering of Rubidge Street are observing to-day the twenty-fourth anniversary of their wedding.

* * *

The friends of Mrs. Ford Turner will be glad to learn that she is progressing favorably after her regent operation for appendicitis at Nicholls Hospital.

* * *

Mrs. B. F. McNeely of Armour Road is in Toronto and attended the meeting there on Saturday of the Ontario Ladies' Liberal Association.

* * *

A very pretty and successful Spring tea was held on Saturday afternoon in the hall of the Queen Mary School, under the auspices of the Home and School Association. Decorations were carried out in pink and white, the two delicate colors forming the decorative scheme for the tea table and tables devoted to sales of candy and home-made cooking. The guests were received by the president of the association, Mrs. J. T. Middleton, with Mrs. A. B Gates and Mrs. W. S. Hill. Mrs. B. Ottewell was general convenor of arrangements. Tea was poured by Mrs. W. R. Morris, Mrs. M. N. Clark Mrs. O. M. Steer and Mrs. A. W. Turner. Assistants were Mrs. J. W. Pierce Mrs. George Green, Mrs. Jack Gillespie, Mrs. H. T. Cranford and Mrs. H. H. Dinsdale. The table was very attractively arranged with a cloth of Italian cutwork, a central silver basket filled with pale pink tulips and pink stocks and two Sheffield silver candelabra holding lighted pink tapers. The sale of cooking was supervised by Mrs. E. G. R. Clark, assisted by Mrs. J. Heffernan, and the candy sale was in charge of Mrs C. H. Crowe, assisted by Mrs. D. G. Melton and Mrs. G. J. Fallen Mrs. Herbert Martin acted as treasurer.

* * *

Mrs. L. Yeates has returned home after spending the past two weeks with friends in Detroit.

* * *

The Misses Evelyn Doris and Alberta Everall motored from Toronto to spend the week-end at the former's home here.

* * *

Mrs. James Dutton of Stewart Street is attending the meeting in Toronto this week of the Provincial W.M.S. of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

* * *

Mrs. Frank Corey of Oshawa attended the funeral here on Saturday of her father, the late Mr. Jeremiah Worboy.

* * *

Mrs. Robert Lloyd, Stoney Lake, wishes to announce the engagement of her daughter, Nellie Bullock, to Jack Ritchie of Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Ritchie of Guelph The marriage to take place the latter part of April.

Setting The Table For April Birthday

The April birthday table offers a splendid opportunity for a Spring color setting. The centerpiece a bowl of lilies or lilacs; tall compotes in yellow with orange marmalade, and green candles, respectively; the birthday cake decorated in yellow and white to complete the ensemble. Of course for the evening party the tall yellow candles will add to the color harmony.

THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL.

"SCARLET PIMPERNEL" OUSTANDING PICTURE

"The Scarlet Pimpernel" opening at the Capitol Theatre on Wednesday is a spectacular and romantic drama of adventure adapted from Baroness Orczy's widely read novel. An outstanding feature is the magnificent acting of Leslie Howard, who gives by far his finest screen portrayal and invests the splendid entertainment with quality without diminishing the general appeal of the picture. He is aided in his task by Merle Oberon, the lovely Anne Boleyn of "Henry VIII," and by the splendid direction of Alexander Korda.

Leslie Howard is great as Sir Percy Blakeney, his performance being a subtle combination of the romantic, the fatuous and the adventurous—a supreme delight Merle Oberon is a revelation as Lady Blakeney; she has charm and unbounded talent. Raymond Massey, the Canadian actor, is excellent as the traitor Chauvelin, and the many supporting players are perfectly cast.

"The Scarlet Pimpernel" demonstrates beyond a doubt that the success of "Henry VIII" was no fluke, for Alexander Korda, the production supervisor, has shown once again by his artistic, graceful, yet showmanlike handling of Baroness Orcy's story, and his appreciation of Leslie Howard's great acting ability, how to effect a cunning compromise between the high and the low brow.

The dramatic situations are neatly turned by clever comedy, the spirit of adventure and romance are smoothly preserved, the staging is superb. Unquestionably, "The Scarlet Pimpernel" is entertainment of character and quality and the local showing is certain to duplicate its tremendous success in other cities.

WARSAW.

WARSAW, April 8.—Following are the week-end retail market prices:

Butter, creamery, 26c; dairy, 22c; eggs, fresh, 12-14-16c; chickens, 18c; potatoes, 40c a bag.

Oats, 34c bushel; wheat, 90-95c bushel; hay, $15 a ton; seed barley, 65c a bushel.

Tomatoes, 20c lb.; cabbage, 10c each; lettuce, leaf 5c a bunch, head 10c; beans, 5c lb.; onions, domestic 1c lb., Spanish 7c lb.

Milk cows are selling among the farmers at about $35.

Help Kidneys

If Kidney Trouble or Bladder weakness makes you suffer from Getting Up Nights, Nervousness, Dizziness, Rheumatism, Stiffness, Burning, Smarting, Itching or Acidity try the Doctor's prescription Cystex (Sistex). Must end your troubles in 8 days or money back. Only 75c at druggists.

BEEF SHANKS 6c lb. or Veal Shanks

TUESDAY AT 387 George Phone 3680 BUEHLER

BEEF BRISKET 8c or Veal Stew

LOIN VEAL STEAKS, LOIN VEAL CHOPS 17c

FRESH PORK TENDERLOIN 27c

EXTRA SPECIAL Sirloin Steak, lb., 19c

POT ROAST 10c

TOMATOES, CORN 3 tins 29c

SHORT RIB ROAST 15c

Minced Steak, Fresh ground 15c

FRESH PORK HOCKS—lb. 10c

VEAL LEGS—Shank off. BLADE ROAST—Blade out 13c

Our King and Queen on their Silver Jubilee

Princess Mary in V.A. D. Uniform in 1918.

ONE very important member of the royal family seems to have been neglected in our daily stories. She is Princess Mary, now Viscountess Lascelles.

The princess is the only daughter of the King and Queen. Born in 1897, she was called by Queen Victoria "My dear little Diamond Jubilee Baby."

When war broke out, Princess Mary was just seventeen; her "coming out" parties were forgotten in the years of strife, and the charming princess turned her attention, as did all the other members of the royal family to war work.

She became an active organizer; she made and collected garments for the soldiers; she was a constant visitor to hospitals and canteens; she inspired the women of England to the great heights to which they rose in the war years.

And all who came in contact with her, loved her. Ever cheerful and witty, the Prince of Wales once said of her: "I wish she were heir apparent. She is much cleverer than I."

Princess Mary was brought up under the influence not only of Queen Mary, but of Queen Alexandra, both of the old school. As a result she was well-trained in household duties as well as in the task in being a princess.

In her childhood she was somewhat of a "mother" to her brothers and used to play the part whenever the King and Queen, as Prince and Princess of Wales, were away.

In 1918, the princess realized a life's ambition by becoming a probation nurse at the Hospital for Sick Children in Great Ormond street, London. Our picture today shows her with her mother, Queen Mary, in V.A.D. uniform. She continued this work until 1920.

In February, 1922, she was married to Viscount Lascelles of Harewood, one of the wealthiest men in Britain. They now have two children, their first-born, George Henry Hubert being seventh in line of succession to the throne.

To-morrow: The King and Queen after the war.

FASHION SERVICE

ONE-PIECE HOME FROCK

It's slim and graceful with much smartness as well as practicality. It's one-piece—so easily sewn. You'll find this model lovely, too, for porch, a trip to market and the like. Incidentally, it's a model for matron as well as maid. Pique-like weave cotton, soft blue with white dots and plain white trim, is pictured.

Style No. 2968 is designed for sizes 16, 18 years, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust. Size 36 requires 3½ yards of 35-inch material with ⅛ yard of 35-inch contrasting with 1¼ yards binding.

The Examiner:
Please order for me—
Pattern Number .....
Size .....
My Name .....
Address .....
.....
I enclose 15c in payment Allow five days for return

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

The vogue for slip covers has reached a high water mark. It has been a score or more of years since they held the attention of decorators as they do to-day. The old idea was to protect the furniture upholstery from summer wear and tear and to introduce a cool element into the furnishings. To-day the former remains one of the features and the latter should also, but decoration pushes this somewhat into the background. The slip covers of to-day stress decoration above all else. Perhaps we should call them ornaments plus, and let the last word stand for protection and coolness.

* * * * * *

The materials for slip covers used to be linen, chiefly because linen is the coolest of textiles that are durable. They were frequently white since this is the coolest tone to the eye. Couple this with the coolness to the touch and it is an ideal combination in a hot weather textile. Not only were articles of furniture covered with this colored linen, but whole carpeted floors were similarly concealed, and cooled. I can remember one living room in such summer attire, and immediately you entered a sense of refreshment came over you.

* * * * * *

To-day the textiles may be linen, cotton, silk, rayon etc., and the color is seldom plain white. As a matter of fact colors are apt to be gay and consequently warm in tone. When solid tones are chosen they retain color as a pronounced feature, the hue being black, seal brown, rich yellow, Chinese red, etc., more often than light tints. If the color is subdued vivid bindings are used for seams and edges, thus promoting color schemes and retaining notes of brilliance.

* * * * * *

It will be observed that in these, decoration is the prominent element. The English delight in patterned hand blocked linens for their furniture covers. These are apt to be kept on the furniture most of the time, and the upholstery, is thereby, kept like new for occasions which warrant the removal of the covers.

* * * * * *

One good point in the ultra-modern slip covers is that they are of glazed chintz, and the finish on the textile being polished supplies a coolness to the touch even when the color is warm. Rayon mixtures are well-liked for slip covers. The sheen is attractive. Silk is a bit bizarre, suggesting money spent, rather than utility. It is well to bear in mind that texture is most appropriate when it is smooth like linen, glazed chintz, and mercerized sateen, which by the way is excellent.

CAPITOL THEATRE IS FILLED TO CAPACITY

"The Great Dead Line" is Subject of Rev. H. L. Stephens' Address.

"Will everyone in this centre section, please move in as close as possible to make room for the crowds that are still coming in," was the request of Rev. C. D. Daniel, pastor of the Mark Street United Church, and who led the song service last night in the Capitol Theatre with 1,200 people joining in, with the aid of song sheets, that were distributed to everyone as they came in.

The united choirs of the Park Street Baptist and the Mark Street Churches directed by the two Northrop Brothers and assisted by Mrs. Sydney at one of the two pianos, led the great congregation with the hymns and choruses. A special selection entitled, "Face to Face With Christ My Saviour," was sung beautifully by the choirs, and a lovely duet, entitled, "Drifting Over Life's Sea," was sung by Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Pomeroy. Rev. G. K. Tyler, pastor of the Park Street Baptist Church, before making the announcements said, "This has been a great day with us. Never have I seen the power of God so manifested as I have to-day. For some time past we had been praying that God would direct us in a great revival crusade for God and in His good providence he sent to these two churches a servant of God who has been greatly used of God in the person of Rev. H. L. Stephens. He has labored with us under the power of the Holy Spirit and has delivered soul-stirring addresses that have brought forth great fruit. We are praying that in God's way and time that later on, a united effort shall be put forth in this city which will never stop until the whole city and community shall be reached for God.

After the announcements and offering, Mr. Stephens took the service and said: "I have had a remarkable experience this week. I have had before me all week, this very service and the subject entitled "The Great Dead Line; What Is It? Where Is It? Who Crosses It? Is There Any Hope?" and realizing the seriousness of ever crossing God's Dead Line, it seems that God Almighty has been speaking to my heart about it with this duet which you have just listened to entitled "Drifting Over Life's Sea." For a whole week, I have wakened up with this chorus singing itself through me:

"Drifting, drifting, No port in sight;
Drifting, far from the Gospel light,
Lest you go down in the awful night;
Drifting over life's sea."

He has been warning me of the terrible possibilities of men drifting beyond God's Dead Line, and when they do it is all up with them. God has set his limitations with man. We are limited in our endurance. After working eight or ten or twelve hours we must go to rest and our Creator pulls down the blinds of the sun, and the darkness comes on. We are limited in the matter of our occupation. We can only do one thing as such. A farmer cannot be a doctor, nor a lawyer a farmer. We are limited as to our life; three score years and ten. God has set a limit to his patience with man's disobedience He say, 'My spirit will not always strive with man.' Gen. 6:3. God has truly set a dead line where hope ends in the matter of His mercy. It may take some time to reach it, but slowly and surely some are coming closer to it every day.

"There is a line unseen
That crosses every path,
The hidden boundary between;
God's patience and His wrath."

There is a place and time where, because of the resistance of God's call to repent, men cross that dead line. They may go on in their work just the same; they may be bright and gay; but their doom is sealed even before they die and every angel in heaven cries out: 'Given up, given up.' Oh, what a terrible calamity to come upon any man; nevertheless it comes. Why? Because men say No to God just once too often. How do men act when they cross this dead line? They become very critical. Like the Pharisees, they scoff and sneer at Christianity. There has been a lot of this going on in this city since the revival of my brother, Rev. George Stephens who was here in St. James' Church, and since I came. But it is a sign that many are near or have crossed this dead line. Oh, may God help such people. Then a terrible indifference is manifested. "You mind your business," said the young man on the Niagara River as he was warned to pull for the shore. Three men called to him. He ignored them all and when it was too late he went over the great falls and was sucked through that mighty deep into eternity. "I'll risk it," wrote a girl on the fly leaf of the hymn book, on a Sunday night. She was killed accidentally the next night in returning from a dance. I have a strong feeling in this meeting to-night that there are some here who are nearing the dead line of God's mercy. You can go out of these doors and ignore His entreaty once more, but God is saying, "My Spirit shall not always strive with man." How many here will say, "Mr. Stephens and ministers, pray for me?" While the choir sang, hands were raised all over the audience, and many stepped out and came forward to be greeted by Rev. Mr. Daniel and Rev. Mr. Tyler who waited at the end of each aisle. Many said as they left for their homes, "I never was in such meetings as these." Mr. Stephens closes his campaign tomorrow night in the St. James' United Church, which has opened its doors to care for the crowds.

REGARD CONTRACTS SACRED OBLIGATION

Archdeacon Blagrave Deplores Tendency of Lowering General Moral Standard.

In two discourses delivered from his pulpit at St. John's church yesterday morning and evening, Venerable Archdeacon Dr. R. C. Blagrave strongly urged the necessity of nations, communities and individuals upholding the highest ideals and principles, upon which he declared civilization had its very foundation.

He deplored the modern tendency towards a lowering of the general moral standard, which failed to regard contracts as a sacred obligation, while at the same time he justified Germany's disregard of the Versailles Treaty, by stating that Germany had been justified inasmuch as other countries had not lived up to their agreements.

Pointing out the distinction between moral lapses on the part of the individual and a community or nation, Archdeacon Blagrave stated that in the former case but one individual was concerned, but in the latter cases such action threatened to rock the very foundation upon Christian civilization was founded.

Laurel And Hardy Reunited On Screen

HOLLYWOOD, April 8 (U.S.)—Stan Laurel was teamed again with his portly comedy partner, Oliver Hardy. They will start work immediately in the comedy in which they were playing last month when Laurel's contract was cancelled by the studio after a dispute over the script.

Chinese Women Left Spouseless By Reds

NANKING, China April 8 (AP).—The women left behind by the retreating Communist armies in Kiangsi Province present a problem to the Central Government officers engaged in reclaiming the evacuated areas.

During the Communist regime all women were allowed to break their old family connections and form new associations under the Red "free love" code. Now the Soviet armies are gone, and as normal Chinese law resumes its sway many of the new alliances become illegal.

Officials at first decided to let the women decide for themselves, but with the departure of the troops there was not enough men to go around.

The talk of the town! ::: pure, soft, absorbent tissue ::: sterilized and now white. NO CHANGE IN PRICE. Ask for Dreadnought.

The E. B. EDDY CO., Limited
Toronto Branch-73-75 Wellington St. West

"Lenten" Fish in Tastiest Form

Energizing Minerals in the Tastiest of Fish

SARDINES are the tastiest of fish foods, and the most nutritious. . . . Serving them often not only pleases but benefits adults and children alike. . . . Their notably high content of three such essential minerals as Iron, Calcium and Phosphorus accounts largely for the energy-building virtues of Sardines. . . . It is a very inexpensive custom to always choose "Crossed Fish" brand Norwegian brislings—QUALITY sardines with that inimitable "Crossed Fish FLAVOR". . . . Your Grocer has both sizes— Matured and Baby. 4/14

Crossed Fish SARDINES Matchless for QUALITY and FLAVOR

ZELLERS NEWS

Color Fast Cotton Prints

A host of new patterns in polka dot, checks and floral designs. Guaranteed tub fast. 30 inches wide. Yard 15c

Boulevard and Promenade Prints

36" wide in pyjama stripes, and geometric designs. Will come up smiling after innumerable washings. Yard 25c

Fairville Broadcloth

36" wide and guaranteed fast colors. All popular shades. Yd. 15c

White, Yd. 12c

Sheeting

72 inches wide. Unbleached. Yd. 27c

Bleached. Yd. 33c

Curtain Scrim

Plain ecru and white scrim with colored ruffle. Outstanding value. Yd. 8c

Curtain Marquisette

Remnants of marquisette in values to 29c yd. Many attractive patterns and colors. Tuesday, yard 9c

The Examiner

The Examiner is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulation.
The Daily Examiner, published every lawful evening by The Peterborough Examiner, Limited. Office: 419 George Street. $6.00 per year Delivered in City. Out-of-town Subscribers by mail, $4.00 per year.
Member: Canadian Press, Limited; Audit Bureau of Circulation; Canadian Daily Newspapers Association.
U.S. Advertising Representatives: Prudden, King & Prudden Inc., Chicago, Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and New York City.
Advertising Rates on Application.
R. M. GLOVER, Managing Director

'PHONES: Editorial 1601. Business Office 1600. Private Branch Exchange to all Departments.

MONDAY, APRIL 8, 1935

A DANGEROUS PRACTICE.

Chief of Police Newhall's warning to roller-skating children to be careful, is both timely and necessary.

With the disappearance of snow and ice from the roads, the youthful roller-skater is once more in his element, and unfortunately the scene of his activities is usually a paved street where he persists in darting about in and out of motor traffic, causing the hair of conscientious drivers to turn grey and ruining the nerves of apprehensive on-lookers.

This epidemic of skating on the roadway is a development that needs curbing in the interest of the children themselves and out of fairness to motorists, to whom a group of youngsters careening down the road on roller-skates is about as vexatious a problem as a squad of careless bicyclists.

Certainly a street on which there is heavy motor traffic is a dangerous sport for young skaters, many of whom are far from expert and are likely to lose control at a time when the most careful driver would have difficulty in averting an accident.

Chief Newhall is quite justified in warning the young element about indulging in this fascinating pastime in places where there is obvious risk attached to the performance, and his message should be emphasized by parents.

Motor accidents are frequent enough now without furnishing unnecessary hazards by making roller-skating arenas out of city streets where traffic is heavy, and some drivers at least do not err on the side of an overdose of caution.

THE Y.M.C.A. CAMPAIGN.

The annual financial campaign of the Y.M.C.A. was launched to-day with a drive to raise the sum of $7,500, which is needed to balance the association's budget.

This assistance is required because of the policy of the organization in keeping its membership fees at a level that makes the services offered by the Y.M.C.A. available to those who need and want them.

If the charges were raised high enough to make the association entirely self-supporting, they would be beyond the reach of many boys and young men.

As it is the business man's department, and the dormitory department more than take care of themselves; it is the boys' and young men's work that requires the help of the public, because this work necessarily costs more than can be covered by the moderate fees charged to the younger members.

The Y.M.C.A., always a community centre of much usefulness, has been in this period of depression an even greater asset than ever; for increased leisure time as a result of unemployed has enabled the institution to do a very fine work for many who, without this inspirational centre, might have become drifters.

The building has been in greater use than ever before during the past year.

The membership, 932, is the highest in Canada in proportion to population, and a record total attendance of 85,200 during 1934 leaves no doubt as to the necessity of the Y.M.C.A. as a centre for the boyhood and young manhood of the community.

There is every reason to believe that knowledge of the splendid activities of the Y.M.C.A. is general, and will be reflected in a hearty response to this week's appeal.

THE OTHER SIDE.

The other side of the Quebec power purchase story was told over the radio on Saturday night when F. A. Gaby, former chief engineer of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, at the request of the Ontario Municipal Electrical Association, dealt with various phases of the situation as he saw them.

In many essential details Mr. Gaby, who was associated with the Hydro for twenty-seven years, and under whose direction the publicly-owned power system had grown into its present greatness, differed sharply with Attorney-General Roebuck.

The purchase of power, he maintained, was not a betrayal of Sir Adam Beck's policy, and these particular purchases were made necessary because they offered the only practicable solution of the problem of where Ontario was to obtain the power it was believed she would need. Sir Adam Beck regarded steam power plants as the last possible alternative, and had only considered resorting to such a source in the event of not being able to arrive at an agreement with the Quebec power companies.

The contracts, Mr. Gaby declared, were entered into only after most careful study of the possible power needs of the province, and the supply contracted for was less than the commission had reason to believe would be needed if the demand continued to increase as it had in the past.

The usual annual increase in power consumption for many years before had been 11.4 per cent., yet in making these contracts with the Quebec companies only 7.7 per cent. annual increase had been provided for.

"The normal trend would have required in the six years subsequent to 1929 an increase of 800,000 horse-power instead of the 47,000 horse-power provided," said the former chief engineer.

It was necessary, he reminded his hearers, for Hydro engineers to take a long view; facilities for more power had to be provided a long time ahead.

The depression had changed the picture, he admitted, but Mr. Gaby questioned the wisdom of calculating Ontario's future power needs on the basis of a period of hard times; with a return to better conditions the demand would increase.

As for the alleged losses to power-users, Mr. Gaby stoutly maintained that the Hydro Commission had maintained a contingency fund for the purpose of taking care of that very situation. With $6,500,000 still available in that special fund, he intimated that there was no need of any increase in Hydro rates, for the reserve would be ample to carry the system through to more prosperous years. Meanwhile the normal Hydro reserves will have increased from $72,000,000 in 1934 to $130,000,000 in 1942, he predicted.

In short, Mr. Gaby informs the people of Ontario that the purchase of power from Quebec was necessary, that the price of $15 per horse-power was not high, that the supplies of power contracted for were neither "improvident or excessive," that the price was fixed by Sir Adam Beck himself, that there was nothing secret in the agreements, that in the ordinary course of events the power ordered would not have been enough, that there is not the slightest reason for an increase in Hydro rates because funds are available to take care of the situation, and that the purchases will ultimately be vindicated, just as were other Hydro enterprises which now enjoy public confidence but were once severely assailed.

Between the picture presented by Attorney-General Roebuck and that drawn by Mr. Gaby there is a wide difference, so wide indeed that demands that were made earlier in the session for an investigation into the whole affair would now seem to have been thoroughly justified.

The Government's reply at that time was that all the facts were known and there was no need of an inquiry, but after Mr. Gaby's Saturday night speech it must be admitted that all the facts were not known —at least to the public.

Much of what he said covered new ground, so far as the knowledge of the people of the province is concerned, and the transaction was revealed in a much different light.

OUR MACHINE OF GOVERNMENT.

A committee of the House of Commons is currently studying the constitution of Canada. The objective is to put more power into the hands of the Dominion. To some extent that would be at the expense of provincial governments. To a more important extent it would mean a net increase in the functions of government as such, for although all powers and functions under our constitution theoretically belong to either federal or provincial jurisdiction, some of them have been exercised not at all, or only feebly exercised, in provincial hands.

Canada has already all the government she can afford. If constitutional change is to add to the cost of government in one place, it would be desirable to see some reduction elsewhere. Perhaps it is too much to hope that the constitutional study at Ottawa might develop into an earnest effort to devise means for making government in Canada both more efficient and less expensive, and to have a survey made from top to bottom, from the Dominion Government down to provincial and city governments and to the multitudinous units of municipal and school administration.

Disputes between federal and provincial governments are to a large extent disputes between one set of politicians and another set as to who should exercise power, and between one set of public servants and another set as to who should perform functions. At one time such disputes constituted an interesting and amusing game, but it is a game too expensive to be longer played.

One fairly simple way of vesting a great deal more power in the federal government without waiting for the constitution suggests itself. It is for the provincial governments to refrain from their legal right to incorporate companies, and to terminate existing provincial charters, so that all incorporated companies would have to become creatures of the Dominion Government.

Concurrently with such a change there could be a tremendous cut in the cost of provincial administration. Ten separate government departments for control of activities of corporations of various kinds are just nine too many.

There are other duplications, too, that would be easy to eliminate. If nine provincial departments of agriculture were done away with, there would be a chance for a Dominion department to accomplish more for agriculture than has yet been done through government effort, and to replace by something useful the absurd multiplication of machinery and personnel and the overlapping that now exist.

A few years ago there would have been small hope of effecting any of the changes now seen to be so urgently necessary. A government machine once set going is not to be curbed so long as it can get more money by borrowing, by taxing, or by subvention. But the Dominion Government, which now has to find a very large part of the money spent by provincial governments, and is likely to do so in increasing proportion, is in a position now to exercise pressure for a change in the whole set-up. And similarly, the Dominion Government, as it desires to expand its activities and spending in new fields, will find it necessary to enquire how it can cut down elsewhere. Similarly, pressing hard on the provincial government on the other side are municipal governments, whose difficulties are partly of their own making and partly because of the burdens already imposed by other governments on the taxpayers. For in spite of all that is said of the search for different "sources of revenue" by various governments, the pocket of the taxpayer is the only important "source."

Mr. Stevens' parliamentary enquiry got itself transformed into a royal commission, from which important consequences may flow. The constitutional committee of Parliament has a chance, if not to develop itself in the limited time before a general election, at least to set going a real enquiry into the governmental structure of Canada.—Financial Post.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

With Cambridge once more victorious in the annual boat race, it must be admitted that conservative England shows few signs of change.

At all events thus Hydro controversy is helping to build up revenue for Ontario radio stations.

The announcement that the Salvation Army is to celebrate its 50th anniversary in Peterborough will remind older citizens that time really does fly.

The announcement that the Federal House is to adjourn from before Easter until May 20, while not unexpected, will not be popular with the many people who have been demanding an early election.

Ontario's action in regard to Quebec power purchases is giving Canada a lot of publicity in the Old Country, but unfortunately it is all the wrong kind.

Anyway Canada's mayors managed to make a sizable addition to Montreal's overhead while convening in the metropolis.

Premier Hepburn, Attorney-General Roebuck and Minister of Welfare Croll are to visit the homes of some of Toronto's unemployed to see conditions for themselves. A personal investigation should be helpful to all three.

According to Secretary of State Cahan, May 6 is to be a public holiday, a bank holiday and a legal holiday, a statement that ought to settle all arguments.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Registered U.S. Patent Office

By STANLEY

Voice of the People

Letters to be printed in the Voice of the People Column must be received at The Examiner Office by 5 p.m. on the day before insertion. All letters must be signed by the writer, although a pen-name may be used when inserting non-controversial subject matter. Letters over 400 words will be cut down at discretion of the editor.

LIBERALS ORGANIZE

The Editor,
The Peterborough Examiner Ltd.,

Dear Sir,—As one who has been following and associated in the Liberal organizations for many years, it is gratifying to me to see the result of the efforts of the executive and other officers of the organization come to such a successful conclusion in the Liberal banquet held Friday evening the Legion Hall.

The fact that there were over 250 Poll Chairmen, and Vice Chairmen present from all parts of the Riding indicates the completeness of the organization, and the co-operation of the various officers.

While many attended at a sacrifice, they heard one of the best political addresses ever delivered in this city, by Mr. George McPhee, K.C., M.P., of Yorkton, Sask.

Thanking you for the space, I am,
Yours truly,
Wm. H. L. Mellis.

WHY NON DE PLUME?

To Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—A recent issue of The Examiner contained a letter headed, "Boost for U.W.F., Officially Known as the United Workers' Front." To the minds of many it appears that your correspondent, who hides behind the nom de plume of "Admirer of Heroic Deeds," is either suffering from gross ignorance of the secret activities of the organization's visible and invisible executives, or is pressing into service their ability to foster first aid training in the ethics of Ruskovite Communism. Much could be written herein not only in regard to the organization and its secret Ruskovite activities, but also in regards to the personnel of its present executive. But seeing that space is limited, I shall remain content by issuing the challenge to any member of the United Workers' Front, inclusive of their visible and invisible executive, to join me in open debate, say, on the Market Square. This would enable the citizens of our community to become fully enlightened as to the truth of "Admirer's" statements. The truth is what our community is thirsting for, and surely, Mr. Editor, if your ghost writer is so interested in the welfare of suffering humanity, then he or she will not refuse our citizens the right to know that which they are searching for, namely, truth. Finally may I submit to your correspondent the following questions:

1. What is the amount per family, say, of three, he figures is the lowest for recipients of relief in Peterborough?

2. Why contaminate the name of a newly found hero by the cowardice of adopting a non de plume?

Yours respectfully,
H. W. CHILDS,
589 Patterson St.

Injunction Granted In 'Stake Winnings

DUBLIN, April 8.—(C. P. Cable)—Mr. Justice Johnston in supreme court today granted an application made on behalf of Alan Miller, Toronto, for an interim injunction preventing the hospitals sweepstakes trust from paying an $85,000 prize to John D. Butler of Toronto.

The action is over ticket number DJ 15,461, which was drawn on Blue Prince, second place winner in the Grand National steeplechase last week.

In an affidavit the petitioner asserts he owns a half-share of the ticket and his counsel here exhibited a cable from Toronto showing Butler and Miller had shared two tickets.

Miller's counsel was also given leave to serve a personal summons on Butler requiring him to appear before the court in Dublin. Application was made for further hearing in the high court on Friday next week.

A Thought for Today

"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind."

"And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

—Matthew, 22:37-39.

ALL OF US

(By Marshall Maslin.)

EVERYTHING GETS AROUND

Everything gets around.
Sooner or later it does.
Everything circulates.

Even matter gets around....A seed falls and germinates. It pushes its way through the dark earth, reaches the sunlight, grows toward the sky. It becomes a great tree and lives for a thousand years, dies and rots and nourishes the rich earth and is food for other seeds.

Water gets around....It falls on the hills and flows to the valleys. It rushes to the sea and joins the great currents there. It rises toward the sun, congregates in clouds, falls again to the thirsty earth.

Ideas get around....The thoughts that men have live undiminished and unscarred through the tumultous centuries. Rejected by the ignorant, embraced by the wise, they survive....The thoughts men had in India 8000 years fell into books and went across the sea to New England and into the brain of a Yankee named Thoreau. He wrote an essay on "Civil Disobedience." Half a century later a little brown Hindu read that essay in South Africa, took that idea back with him to India and proposed "Civil Disobedience" to the restless masses of his native land....That idea got around.

Truth gets around....Lies get around....Gossip gets around....Fear gets around....Everything, today or tomorrow, this year or next, gets around. It creeps, it tunnels, it walks, it runs, it flies, it filters—and it gets around.

What you are truly like—gets around. People find out and they tell—with a wink, with a growl, with a lift of the eyebrows, with silence, with the eagerly spoken word. If you are a fine fellow or a hypocrite, a racketeer or a square shooter, the news gets around. People will know, because—as the wind moves and the water flows and thoughts fly from man to man—Everything Gets Around.

One Minute Pulpit

For where envying and strife is, there is confusion and every evil work.—James 3:16.

IN DAYS GONE BY

Items Taken From Old Fyles of The Examiner

APRIL 8, 1925

W. J. Hancock last night was appointed alderman to succeed Walter Stocker who resigned to become market clerk .... Daylight Saving was defeated in the council last night after a long argument and in the face of a petition signed by 2,700 advocates of the change.

APRIL 8, 1915

Major G. W. Bennett, of this city, narrowly escaped injury recently at the front when a German knocked a telescope out of his hand....Private James Bills of Peterborough received wounds in the thigh a week or more ago while serving in the trenches.

APRIL 8, 1905

The steamer "Sovereign" is to be transformed into a tug which will tow barges of grain for the Peterborough Cereal Company mills....S. E. Taylor, formerly of Peterborough and now of New Zealand, is here on a visit for the first time in 43 years.

It is supposed that the modern town of Hisarlik, Turkey, in Asia, is the site of Ilium, known as Troy.

Dublin has a clean-films campaign.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

MARY PICKFORD'S BIRTHDAY

On this date (April 8) 1893, a baby was born at 211 University Avenue, Toronto, destined to be the idol of millions of people throughout the world. Mary Pickford, the screen star. Her parents were Mr. and Mrs. John C. Smith, the father a summer employee on one of the lake boats; her mother a clever needlewoman and noted for her Irish beauty. Other children came and there were the usual vicissitudes common to a poor home; illness came and played its part in the family's history but the children pulled through, thanks to a mother's devotion. It is told that once when Gladys was desperately ill with diphtheria she began to choke and Mrs. Smith in desperation thrust her hand down the child's throat and removed the obstructing matter. The baby was instantly relieved by this daring act and soon recovered. This was an illustration of the care and devotion of Mrs. Smith to all her family. She was a true mother in every sense of the word all her life.

The father died leaving the family without means. Mrs. Smith supported the children by her needle. She taught the children how to behave, she trained little Gladys as a lady, she taught her elocution and one day when the family's finances were at the lowest she heard that an 'Uncle Tom's' cast for a stock company was lacking a 'Little Eva'. Gladys was engaged. She made a great hit, indeed, she took the spotlight and she talked to 'Uncle Tom', having been trained in her lines by her mother, and the family's finances were added to for brother Jack was the baby which 'Eliza' carried as she fled across the ice, pursued by the blood hounds.' But a truant officer heard of the infant prodigy. Her theatrical career ended for the time, but soon she got an engagement to play 'Ned Denver' in 'The Silver King', and her destiny was settled. She was henceforth a child of the stage. Her subsequent career was varied, up and down, but success came at last and once she was seen on the screen she became the World's Sweetheart for two generations. Toronto and all Canada are proud of the Gladys Smith who became Mary Pickford.

What's in the Name of Canadian Cities and Towns?

By FRANK H. WILLIAMS

RENFREW, ONTARIO

The first appearance of the white man on the river, afterwards known as the Bonnechere, was probably about the year 1820. He came looking for lumber and a small clearing was made near the river, which afterwards became the town of Renfrew.

Joseph Brunette is known as the actual pioneer, for in addition to being one of the first settlers he remained there until his death.

The town was first known as Renfrewville, but this soon was shortened to its present form. There seems to be no doubt concerning origin of the name, as many of the early settlers came from Renfrew, Scotland.

Renfrew was incorporated as a village in 1858 and as a town in 1895. Known as an industrial centre, as well as a summer playground, Renfrew has a population of 5,400.

STRIKE DEMANDS REFUSED.

LONDON, Ont., April 8 (C.P.). —With half a dozen city police officers on hand in case of trouble, London Township officials to-day turned down the demands of striking relief workers for increased allowances.

About 20 strikers gathered outside the office of Garfield Hudson, township clerk, at about ten this morning. Two detectives stood on guard outside and two other policemen at the foot of the stairs leading up to the township offices.

It so Happened

finds Howard Gerring
THAT ON APRIL 8

1663—The first English playbill was printed.

1880—All political prisoners in Denmark were happy. They were released on the King's 70th birthday.

1873—The House of Commons appointed a commission to investigate the "Pacific scandal" charges.

1675—The Northwest Territories were formed.

1890—A patent for the linotye machine, important mechanism in printing, granted.

1892—Mary Glady Smith, now Mary Pickford, "America's sweetheart", and actress, born in Toronto.

1895—The United States Supreme Court decided that the income tax was unconstitutional; but those eligible are still paying it.

1904—The Franco-English convention settled all disputes between the countries who had never been able to agree.

1920—Under the new rent laws, New York magistrates generally allowed owners to raise rent 25 per cent over April, 1919.

1923—The slave trade, abolished for many years, was revived in Southern Abyssinia.

A Thought

However resplendent an action may be, it should not be accounted great unless it is the result of a great design.—La Rochefoucauld.

A Gipsy and Her Day Dream

Consuelo dangled her restless feet in the water of the creek. She had visions of dancing on the top of a high hill, in a marble palace, and below her all the peoples of the world were gathered. They acclaimed her as the most remarkable dancer in the world. She was in ecstasy!

Read how Consuelo rose from oblivion in

GIPSY GIRL

by McDONALD FEADER

Beginning Saturday, April 13th, in

The EXAMINER

Big Golds Inactive-Penny Issues Mildly Soft

MARKET QUOTATIONS

QUOTATIONS COMPLETE TO CLOSING TIME

Toronto Stocks
BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

	High	Low	Close
Abitibi	90	..	..
Con. Bake	13¼	..	..
Br. Am. Oil	15	14¾	14¾
Beauharnois	3¾-4	..	..
Can. Bread Co.	2¼b	..	..
Bldg. Prods	27½-28	..	..
Bell Tel.	125	..	..
Burt F.N.	30¼	30	30
Brazilian	8¾	8½	8½
Brewers Corp.	3¼	3¼	3¼
B.C. Pow. 'A'	23¼	..	..
Can. Bud.	7½	..	..
Can. Cem.	7	6½	6¾
C.P.R.	10	9¾	9¾
Can. C. and F.	8	..	..
Can. Canners	5-5½	..	..
Can. Oil	12-12¼	..	..
Can. Malt	30	29¾	29¾
Cockshutt	7¼	7	7
Dom. Bridge	26-26½	..	..
Dist. Seagram	15¾	15¾	15¾
Dom. Stores	8½	8½	8½
E. Electric	10½a	..	..
Ford "A"	28¾	28½	28¾
C.G.E.	155b	6	6
Can. Gypsum	6½	..	..
Cons. Gas	190	189	190
Goodyear	35b	..	..
Walk. G. and W.	27¼	27	27¼
Int. Nickel	25¾	25	25¼
Ind. Alcohol	9¾	8¾	8¾
Imp. Oil	16½	16¼	16½
Imp. Tobacco	12¼	..	..
Con. Smelt.	130¾	130	130
Laura S.	61-62½	..	..
Loblaw "A"	18¾	18¾	18¾
Mont. L.H.&P.	26½	..	..
McC. Frontenac	13¾	13¾	13¾
Massey-Harris	4¼	4¼	4¼
Moore Corp.	17¾-16¼	..	..
Page Hersey	61¼	..	..
Pressed Metals	10	9¼	10
Power Corp.	8¾	..	..
Photo Eng.	21½b	..	..
Int. Pete.	31¼	31	31
Sup. Petro.	23½	23¼	23½
Stand. Paving	80-90	..	..
Tip-Top Tailors	8a	..	..
C. Vinegar	27¼	27	27¼
Wineries	5¼	..	..
Waterloo	1¼-2	..	..
Weston's Ltd.	33	..	..
Steel of Can.	5¼	45	45

Toronto Mining
WATSON, WALLACE & CO.

	High	Low	Close
Acme	22	20	20
Ajax	85	..	..
Aldermac	9½	9	9
Anglo Huronian	370-410	..	..
Base Metals	62	60	60
Bagamac	7	..	..
B R X	16-20	..	..
Beattie	180	..	..
Bobjo	26	25	26
Braylorne	800	790	790
Buffalo Ank	270	258	260
Chibougamau	24½	23	23
Can. Malart	62	61½	62
Castle Treth.	70	68	68
Cent. Patricia	156	148	149
Coniagas	300 asked.
Chem. Research	169	160	169
Conisaurum	213	..	..
Dome	3625	..	..
Edorado	130	125	125
Falconbridge	368	365	365
Jod's Lake	140	135	136
Goldale	14	13	14
Granada	30	..	..
Greene Stab.	24	..	..
Gunnar	65	..	..
Hollinger	1660	..	..
Home Oil	67	52	53
Hudson Bay	1356	1340	1340
Howey	86	85	85
Jackson Manion	14½	..	..
Kirk. Cons.	6½	6¼	6½
Kirk. Lake	48	47	48
Kirk. Townsite	34-36	..	..
Kirk. Hudson	25-30	..	..
Lakeshore	5550	..	..
Lee Gold	5¾	4½	5¾
Lebel Oro	6¾	6½	6½
Little Long L.	560	565	565
Man. and East	5½	4¼	5½
Macassa	223	214	214
McIntyre	4165-4300	..	..
McKenzie	126	120	123
McMillan	19¼	18	19
McWatters	172	164	165
Min. Corpor.	85	..	..
Nipissing	225	220	228
Noranda	3625	3600	3600
North. Canada	23-28	..	..
Paymaster	19	18½	19
Parkhill	20-22	..	..
Pioneer	1075	1040	1060
Pend-Oreille	50	..	..
Premier	164	161	161
Pickle Crow	385	375	375
Read Anthier	68	..	..
Red. L. Gold	40¼	37	39½
Keno	141	..	..
San Antonio	375	370	375
Sherritt	65	64	64
Siscoe	206	202	202
Sullivan	68	64	67
St. Anthony	21	20	20
Sudbury-Basin	140	..	..
Sud. Mines	4½	4¼	4¼
Sylvanite	235	232	235
Tech-Hughes	424	420	420
Toburn	110-120	..	..
Towagamac	25½	..	..
Ventures	80	..	..
Tashota	97	53	55
Waite-Amulet	67	..	..
Wayside	18	17½	17¾
Wright-Harg.	600	575	575

New York Stocks
BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

	High	Low	Close
Atchison	40¼	38¼	38¾
Auburn Auto	17¼	..	..
Allied Chem.	133	..	..
Amer. Can.	117¾	117½	117¾
Amer. Smelt.	34¼	33¾	33¾
Amer. R. & S.S.	13¼	12¾	12¾
Amer. T. & T.	105	104½	104½
Amer. Roll. Mills	19	18¾	18¾
Anaconda Cop.	11	10¾	10¾
Balt. & Ohio	10¾	9¾	10
Bordens	22¾	22½	22¾
Byers, A.M.	13¾	..	..
Bendix Avn.	18¾	13½	13¾
Beth. Steel	25¾	25¼	25¼
Briggs	27¾	27½	27¾
Canada Dry	10	..	..
Can. Pacific	10	9¾	10
Case, J. I.	51	..	..
Chrysler	36¼	34½	36
Columbus Gas	6¾	6½	6¾
Coca-Cola	193¼	..	..
Cons. Gas	21	20¾	20¾
Com. Solvents	19¼	19	19
Dupont	92¾	91¼	92¼
Erie	9¾	..	..
Elec. B. & S.	7¾	6¾	6¾
Elec. Auto L.	21¾	21¼	21¼
Freeport Texas	24	..	..
Gen. Electric	23¼	22¾	23¼
Gen. Food Prods.	34	33¾	33¾
Gen. Motors	28¾	28½	28¾
Gillette Saf. Raz.	14¾	14¾	14¾
Goodyear	17½	..	..
Hudson Motors	7¼	7¼	7¼
Int. Harvester	37¾	..	..
Int Nickel	25½	25¼	25¼
Int Tel & Tel	7¼	7¼	7¼
Johns-Manville	44	43½	43½
Liquid Carb	29¾	29	29
Mont Ward	24¾	24¼	24½
Mack Truck	22	..	..
Nash Motors	13¾	13¾	13¾
N.Y. Central	15¾	14½	15¾
Nat Biscuit	25	24½	25
Nor American	13¾	13¾	13¾
Phillips Pete	18	17½	18
Pack Motors	3¾	3¾	3¾
Penn Ry	19¾	19¼	19¾
Radio Corp	4¾	4½	4¾
Sears-Roebuck	35¾	35¼	35¾
Simmons Bed	7¾	7½	7¾
Stan Brands	15¾	15½	15¾
St Gas & Elec.	3¾	..	..
St Oil of N.J.	39½	39¼	39½
Socony-Vac	13	12¾	12¾
Stewart-Warn.	8¼	8½	8¼
South Pacific	15½	14½	14½
Texas Corp	19½	19¼	19¼
Timken Roll B.	31¼	31	31
Texas Gulf Sulp.	29¾	29¾	29¾
Union Pacific	89¼	86¾	87½
Union Carb	48	47½	47½
United Corp	3¼	2¾	2¾
U.S. Rubber	11¾	11¾	11¾
U.S. Steel	30¼	29¾	29¾
Westinghouse	37½	36¾	36¾
Warner Bros	3	..	..
Woolworth	54¾	54½	54¾
Nat Distillers	27½	27¼	27½

Grain Quotations
LEKMING AND LEKMING
Phones 2788 and 2787

WINNIPEG WHEAT

	May.	July.
High	87¾	87¾
Low	86¾	86¾
Close	87¼	87¾

CHICAGO WHEAT.

	May.	July.
High	96¾	93¼
Low	95¼	92¼
Close	95¾	92¾

State railways of Chile have ordered 35 new locomotives.

UNLISTED.

Bankfield	75-78
Casey Contact	25½-26
Galatea	9-9½
Hudson Pat.	15½-16½
Karl Springer	200-225
Lamaque	165-175
Magnet	14½-15
Mosher	3½-4½
McLeod	4½-5½
Oklend	34½-35½
Smelter	11-13
Sturgeon River	88-92
Young Dave	19-21

Sales—542,000.

BOND LIST
WATSON, WALLACE & CO.

Dominion of Canada

1936	104½-104¾
1937	110¼-111
1941	111¾-112¼
1952	104½-105
1958	109 -109¾

Province of Ontario

1948	109 -110

Market Closing On All Exchanges

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, April 8.—(AP)—After early firmness, some selling of the rails appeared in today's stock market when the Supreme Court adjourned without handing down a decision on the Carrier Pension Law. Transportation issued were not too heavy, however, and most other sections of the list maintained a steady tone in the final hour.

Share of Amerada, Johns-Manville, Chrysler, Du Pont and Consolidated Gas held gains of fractions to around a point, Santa Fe and U. S. Smelting yielded about a point each, while small declines were registered by U. S. Steel, General Motors, Delaware & Hudson, N. Y. Central and North American. Many issues were about unchanged. Transfers approximated 730,000 shares.

CHECKER CHAMPION.

OSHAWA, Ont., April 8.—(C.P.)—A 14 years old boy, George Harper to-day ruled this Southern Ontario riding in the game of checkers. Entering a field of 100, many older and more experienced, the boy emerged victorious.

During the tournament young Harper was beaten only once, his conqueror being Detective Sergeant Norman McGee, of Oshawa, former Ontario champion. The lad finished third in last year's contest.

PRICE CHANGES SENIOR GOLDS ON DOWNSIDE

Base Metal and Silver Stocks Show More Losses Than Gains at Close.

NO BUOYANT LEADERSHIP.

TORONTO, April 8.—(C.P.)—In the absence of buoyant leadership from New York or the industrial market, the big gold shares were neglected to-day on the mining section of the Toronto exchange and traders turned to the penny stocks. The little fellows turned over actively with prices showing a mildly soft tone. Price changes in the senior and secondary golds were on the down side and base metal and silver stocks showed more losses than gains at the close.

MARMORA LEGION STAGES PARADE

Member Accompanied by Stirling Representatives March to Church.

(Examiner Correspondence)

MARMORA, April 8.—Members of Marmora Branch No. 337 Canadian Legion paraded to St. Andrew's United Church on Sunday evening the number being augmented by a goodly representation from the Stirling Branch. A stirring sermon was preached by the pastor Rev. C. W. Hollingsworth on the words 'Whatsoever things are lovely' from the Epistle of the Phillipians.

Prior to the sermon Comrade G. Brooks sounded the Last Post and Reveille from the church steps. The choir very able rendered two anthems 'This Is the Day Which the Lord Hath Made' and 'Jesus, the Very Thought of Thee.'

Members of Marmora Branch also attended the parade of Stirling Branch to Stirling Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning.

Bond Prices Firm Noon Hour Trading

TORONTO, April 8 (C.P.).—Pending debate in the Legislature on the Government's bill to revise power contracts, trading in the power bonds was at low ebb to-day on the Toronto market. The whole range of prices opened slightly lower but appeared to be firming around noon. The turnover for the morning was very small.

High-grade issues were also in slow demand and prices were shaded narrowly.

ROBBERS GET STIFF TERMS

TORONTO, April 8.—(CP)—Convicted of robbery while armed, Andrew Sinclair and George Smith were sentenced today by Judge James Parker to an aggregate of 32 years imprisonment.

Smith, guilty of robbing the Gerrard street branch of the Royal Bank last Dec. 26 along with Sinclair, was sentenced to 10 years on this count and another 10 for his part in another holdup, the sentences to run consecutively. Sinclair was sentenced to 12 years on one count.

DR. N. A. POWELL PASSES

TORONTO, April 8 (C.P.)—One of the founders of the Academy of Medicine and a veteran of the Fenian Raid, Dr. Newton Albert Powell, 85, died here last night following a relapse after an attack of influenza. He was born at Cobourg and started practice at Edgar, Ont., where he married the late Mary Thomas.

111,000 SEAL HAUL.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., April 8 (C.P. Cable).—The Newfoundland sealing fleet's kill stood to-day at 111,000 seals—just about half of last year's fine kill. Terrific storms that broke up the northern ice and held the sealers aboard ships accounted for the poor catch among the nine vessels.

An average oyster produces about 16,000,000 eggs, a very large oyster sometimes producing 60,000,000.

Divorce For Girl, 13 Needs Cheery Switch

ST. LOUIS, April 8 (A.P.) — Thirteen-year-old Mrs. Wilma McClain Kirby, cheekroom attendant at a night club here, last week filed suit for divorce from her 18-year-old husband, Robert C. Kirby, a "singing waiter" employed at the same club. Judge Granville Hogan, who heard the case, said:

"I can't understand what their parents were thinking about, and as for these children, I think a light barrel stave or a keen cherry switch is indicated."

The girl testified she married Kirby three days before her thirteenth birthday.

Her husband, she said, took her tips each night and contributed only to buying her a fur-trimmed coat.

MINING STOCKS

A daily column which answers the Queries on Mining Stocks that are of general interest to Examiner readers.

ST. ANTHONY GOLD MINES

QUERY: I have been advised to purchase shares in St. Anthony Gold Mines as an investment. Do you think this property gives a fair chance of paying dividends this year? Any information would be greatly appreciated.—J.N.K.

ANSWER: St. Anthony Gold Mines was incorporated in 1921 to succeed the old Thunder Bay Mining Company, an early and unsuccessful producer. It was not until less than two years ago, with higher prices for gold, that efforts were renewed to bring the property into production. Last summer the buildings and mill were completely rehabilitated and a small hydro electric site developed for power. The new 125-ton mill was started last May and was brought up to full capacity in the last quarter of 1934. Production to December 31 was valued at $129,263 from 21,616 tons of ore treated. This is an average recovery of $5.70 per ton. This, however, does not quite correctly represent the true grade of ore, as initial operations were confined to ore on the dump and it was not until early winter that the mine was pumped out and ore from underground operations was treated.

Under early operations the property was developed to the 500 foot level and present plans call for deepening the winze to develop ore exposed by diamond drilling. The broken ore in the stopes above the 350 foot level is estimated at 9,353 tons on December 31 last. On the 350 foot level 350 feet of ore is reported and on the 350 foot level 280 feet, said to average .34 ounces in gold over an average width of 8 feet.

The financial statement as at December 31 last shows a net profit of $1,710. Current assets amount to $41,590, including $16,341 advanced to the general manager, while current liabilities amounted to $50,861. It is rather difficult to understand a net profit being shown from operations when the recovery per ton was under $6, except that during this initial period of operation there were practically no mining or development costs, the principal ore coming from the surface dump.

February production was stated to be approximately $35,000. It is entirely too early to predict profitable outlook for the enterprise, nor can it be appraised on the operations of the predecessor companies. First the company will have to establish and develop ore reserves that assure the continuance of operation of the mill. Doubtless the current price of gold is playing a very important part towards making the operation a success, but there is no sound basis for calculating earnings. By the end of this year, when costs have been established and the ore position better understood, a sounder appraisal of the undertaking can be made.

WILL GO WITH SIR JOHN SIMON

(Continued from Page 1)

meet with their approval at least on the main premise of a general security system.

The illness of Anthony Eden, Lord Privy Seal who has just completed exploratory missions to Moscow, Warsaw and Praha; was not a severe stumbling block to the government's task as he had completed written reports of the results of his missions before he was taken ill. His illness was said not to be critical, but his physicians order that he must have complete rest and not be bothered by affairs of state for a few weeks.

New Locarno Fact?

(By Andrue Berding. Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press.)

ROME, April 8. — Well-informed sources said to-day one of Premier Mussolini's projects to be submitted to the conference at Stresa Thursday will be the scrapping or complete re-writing of the Locarno Treaty, so as "to put more teeth into it."

The Locarno Pact was concluded ten years ago on the shores of Lake Maggiore where the Stresa conference will be held. It provided if Germany attacked France or France attacked Germany, Great Britain and Italy were to come to the aid of the invaded country.

The exact changes Mussolini is reported to have in mind were not stated, but one of them was envisioned as the inclusion of an air pact. Another would be a clause for the armed guarantee of Austrian independence. A third would be a more precise definition of what constitutes aggression.

Diplomatic circles, however, understood Britain would continue to defend the Locarno Treaty and decline to make any further commitments on the Continent.

Flandin for France

PARIS, April 8 (CP-Havas)—Premier Pierre-Etienne Flandin will head the French delegation to Stresa, Italy, Thursday, it was reliably reported to-day.

His decision was made, it was stated, following information from London Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald had decided to participate in the three-power meeting.

Accordingly, the Stresa meeting will include the government heads of Italy, France and Great Britain, as well as the foreign ministers of the three nations. Premier Benito Mussolini also holds the foreign portfolio.

READ THE WANT ADS

INTERLISTED ISSUES DOWN

Close With Narrow Losses Influenced By Soft New York Tone.

BANKS ALSO WEAK.

TORONTO, April 8. (CP). — Steam was low in the Toronto industrial share gauge to-day and trading moved sluggishly with prices tilted to the down side. All the interlisted leaders closed with narrow losses, influenced by a soft New York tone and weakness predominated also in the food, bank and miscellaneous groups while construction and steel stocks maintained a show of firmness. Volume was off to about 11,000 shares.

International Nickel, Brazilian, Smelters and Ford 'A' closed down about ¼ and the leading oils, Imperial and International Pete and British American dropped similar fractions. Losses of a point occurred in Canada Bread B, International Milling pfd., and Canada Packers pfd. Action in the beverages centred in the brewing corporation stocks which were up ⅜ to ⅝. Walkers Common added ½.

Livestock-Produce Quotations

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, April 8 (C.P.) — Wholesale prices on produce delivered at Toronto, as supplied by the United Farmer's Co-operative Co., here to-day were:

Eggs—Grade A large, dozen, 15c; grade A medium, 13c; grade B, 12c; grade C, 11c.

Churning Cream. — No. 1, lb., 23c; No. 2, 21c. Butter—No. 1, solids, 23¼c; No. 2, 23c.

Ontario Cobbler potatoes, bag 55c.

TORONTO POULTRY

TORONTO, April 8 (C.P.) — Wholsale prices on poultry as supplied by the United Farmers' Co-operative Co., here to-day were in order of Live "A" and Dressed "A" select grades: Hens, over 5 lb., 12 and 14c; 4 to 5 lb., 11 and 13c; 3 to 4 lb., 9 and 11c; old roosters, 7 and 9c.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

TORONTO, April 8 (C.P.) — Wholesale prices on fruit and vegetables as supplied by White and Co., here to-day were:

California Navel oranges, case, $4 to $5.50; Florida Marsh seedless grapefruit, Seal Sweet, $4.25; More Juice, $3.85 to $4; Messina lemons, case, $3; California lemons, 300's, $3.25 to $3.50; 360's, $3.25; Chili Honeydew melons, 11's and 12's, $3.50; 7's, $3.

Arizona Iceberg lettuce, 5 doz., $5.75 to $6; 6 doz., $4.75 to $5; California carrots, 6 doz. crate, $3.75 to $4; Texas beets, 3 doz. crate, $2.25 to $2.50; California brussels sprouts, drum, $3.50; Mexican tomatoes, case, Circles, $2.50; Cuban tomatoes, 32 lb., lub, $2.50; New Floradia green beans, hamper, $2.75 to $3; wax beans, hamper, $3.50; Florida cabbage, 40-lb. crate, $3.25 to $3.50; California celery, crate, $5.25 to $5.50; Florida celery, 6, 8 and 10 doz., $4 to $4.25; California grapes, keg, $6; Spanish onion from Chili, 48-lb. crate, $2.85 to $3; Argentina Almeria grapes, 20-lb. keg, $3 to $3.25; Argentine Tokay grapes, keg, $3.50 to $4; hothouse rhubarb, doz., 85c to 90c; British Columbia McIntosh apples, case, $1.75 to $2.25; Leamington onions, 100-lb. bag, $1.75; Texas spinach, bushel, $1.75; Egyptian onions, 112-lb. bag, $4.75; Porto Rico pineapples, case of 24 and 30, $4.25 to $4.50; hothouse tomatoes, imported, case, $1.75 to $2.

TORONTO CHEESE

TORONTO, April 8 (C.P.)—The Toronto Wholesale Cheese Market was active to-day, with dealers buying large, colored, paraffined and government grades at 12c.

Wholesalers offered cheese to retailers at the following prices:

	Large.	Twins.	Triplets.
New	13c	13¼c	13½c
Old	17c	17½c	17½c
Medium	15c	15½c	15½c

HOG PRICES

TORONTO, April 8—(CP)—While Barrie, Stratford and London prices dropped, Hull bacon hogs registered a 25-cent advance. Barrie and London lost 10 each and Stratford dropped 15. Today's prices:

Barrie, $7.75; Chatham, $7.75; Stratford, $7.75; Peterborough $7.75; Kitchener, $7.75; London, $7.75; Brantford, $8.00; Hull, $8.25.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK.

TORONTO, April 8.—(C.)—Cattle movement was active at steady prices on the Toronto Livestock market this afternoon but heavy truck deliveries seemed likely to slow up late afternoon trade. Other classes continued their opening trends with calves and sheep steady and hogs and lambs unsettled.

Receipts as reported by the Dominion livestock branch were: Cattle, 4,380; calves, 610; hogs, 1,260; sheep and lambs, 1,000.

Choice weighty steers ranged from $7.00 to $7.50 with a few choice butchers at $6.00 to $6.50. Bulk of the handweight butchers brought $5.50 to $6.00. Good cows were steady at $4.00 to $4.50 with some at $4.75. Common kinds sold down to $2.50. Good butcher bulls made $3.50 to $4.00, while bolognas sold at $3.00. Choice fed calves were stronger at $7.00 to $8.50 with mediums at $5.50. A few light stockers brought $3.25 to $5.00.

The calf division remained firm at $7.50 to $8.00 for choice vealers and at $5.50 to $7.00 for the bulk of the supply. Sheep also held steady at $1.50 to $4.00 cwt., according to quality.

Hogs were still unsettled with packers' bids at $7.75 f.o.b. for bacons and $8.50 off car. Western lambs did not sell and a few spring lambs brought $4.00 to $9.00 each.

LIVESTOCK QUOTATIONS.

Steers, up to 1,050 lbs., good and choice, $5.50 to $6.25; medium, $5 to $5.50; common, $4 to $5.

Steers over 1,050 lbs., good and choice, $6.50 to $7.50; medium $6 to $6.50; medium, $5 to $5.75.

Heifers, good and choice, $5.50 to $6; medium, $5 to $5.50; common, $4 to $4.75.

Fed calves, good and choice, $6.75 to $7.25 medium, $5 to $6.25.

Cows, good, $4 to $4.50; medium, $3.25 to $3.75; common, $2.50 to $3.

Canners and cutters, $1.50 to $2.25.

Bulls, good, $3.50 to $4; common, $3 to $3.25.

Stocker and feeder steers, good, $4.25 to $5; common, $3.75 to $4.

Milkers and springers, $30 to $45.

Calves, good and choice, $7 to $8; common to medium, $4 to $6.50.

Sheep, good light, $3.50 to $4; heavies, $2.50 to $3.25; culls, $1 to $2.00.

Rev. George Eaton Called To Trinity

NORTH BAY, Ont., April 8. — (CP). Rev. George S. Easton, minister of St. Andrew's United Church here for the last four years, announced his resignation Sunday night to take effect June 30. Rev. Mr. Easton has accepted a charge in Peterborough. Interested in work among young men and women, he called attention to the fact North Bay has no rink, no Y.W. or Y.M.C.A.

It was learned by The Examiner to-day that Trinity United Church issued an invitation to Rev. George S. Easton, of North Bay, to accept the pastorate of the church. Rev. Mr. Easton, it was explained, is in the jurisdiction of the Toronto conference of the United Church while Trinity Church here is in the Bay of Quinte conference. Permission will have to be secured for the transfer. It is thought that this permission will be given at a meeting to be held in Toronto this Friday.

Rev. Frank M. Wootton has been pastor of Trinity Church for the past three years.

Crowland Strikers Keep Children Home

WELLAND, Ont., April 8 (C.P.). —Children of striking relief workers in Crowland will be kept home from school this afternoon by their parents in the latest move of the strikers who have demanded a 25 per cent. increase in the relief voucher and a reduction in the number of hours of work.

Over the week-end the Crowland Welfare Board informed the strikers their relief would be cut off this week if they refused to go back to work. This morning when the strike group marched to the municipal offices to obtain their vouchers they were unable to gain admittance to the building.

The strikers then decided to keep their children away from school this afternoon.

Smoke a Day Keeps The Cannibals Away

NEW YORK, April 8 (I.N.S.) —Smoke, not music, has charms to soothe the savage breast, according to Edgar De La Rue, French geologist and his wife, who arrived here enroute to the New Hebrides to revisit cannibals. They said:

"The jungles there are full of cannibals armed with poison darts and spears but they won't harm us because we smoke a lot."

BARBERS' BILL BEING STUDIED

Special Committee of Legislature Hears Arguments in Connection With Bill

INSPECTION OF SHOPS.

TORONTO, April 8.—(C.P.)—Under the chairmanship of Aurelien Belanger (Lib., Prescott), a sub-committee of the Ontario Legislature Private Bills Committee to-day heard arguments in connection with the bill respecting hairdressers and barbers.

The bill aims at registration of all persons engaged in the barbering trade. It is designed to prescribe for studies and training of appointees' hours and wages, rates of charges and inspection of all shops.

Dr. A. D. Roberts (Lib., Sault Ste. Marie) sponsoring the bill, said at least 90 per cent of barbers and hairdressers in his riding favored the measure.

A. G. Slaght, Toronto, supporting the bill, told the committee he represented the Ontario Hairdressers' and Barbers' Association which was incorporated by an Act of the Legislature. There was no provision in the bill incorporating the Association to permit inspection of shops of members, said Mr. Slaght.

Questioned by W. L. Houck (Lib., Niagara Falls) Mr. Slaght believed the inspection asked for in the bill would be more efficient than the present municipal inspection.

The registration provision of the bill provided "no person shall by himself or by any other person practice or carry on or engage in the trade, calling or business of a barber or hairdresser unless such person is registered as a member of the association in accordance with the provisions of this Act."

The section providing for a penalty for breach of the regulation provision was amended to make imposition of a penalty permissive rather than compulsory, the maximum being $100, exclusive of costs.

Pole, German Nazi Shot In Outbreak

FREE CITY OF DANZIG, April 8. (AP).—A German Nazi and a Pole were shot and another Pole beaten to-day in an outbreak of violence in Brentau.

The stepson of a Polish employee of the gas company was shot in the chin and the Nazi was shot in stomach and seriously wounded.

Poles claim a band of Nazis entered the gas company employee's home in Brentau and beat him up and the shots were fired in the ensuing fight.

MERCHANTS WILL PRESENT BRIEF

Urge Actuarial Principles Apply in Social Insurance Measure.

NO EXCLUSIONS.

OTTAWA, April 8—(CP)—George S. Hougham, of Toronto, secretary of the Ontario Retail Merchants Association, today said he would present a brief tomorrow before the Senate Banking and Commerce Committee asking actuarial principles be applied in the government's employment and social insurance measure as far as it affects retailers.

Mr. Hougham denied previous reports the Retail Merchants Association would seek exclusion of the retail trade from provisions of the bill which was sought by representatives of the department stores and railways.

"We see no reason for exclusion", Mr. Hougham said. "We take the view unemployment is now a national responsibility." He added the association's most recent survey indicated there are approximately 200,000 retailers in Canada, making that group one of the largest in the country, but that unemployment among retail workers was at a low figure.

For this reason, he added, his group believed modifications should be made in the measure to treat the problem on an actuarial basis but that no group should be excluded from its provisions.

LIGHT ON X-RAYED SALTS RELEASES "DEATH RAYS"

By Howard W. Blakeslee
(Associated Press Science Editor).

CLEVELAND, April 8 (A.P.). — A new method of releasing the so-called "death rays" or very short ultra-violet ray has been discovered at the Cleveland Clinic Foundation and is announced to-day in the Physical Review.

The rays literally flare up when a flashlight is turned upon salt which has been previously exposed to X-rays. It was already known X-rayed salt would afterward give off small amounts of short ultra-violet.

But the intense multiplication of these rays under light is new—the discovery of great interest to physicists and physicians.

The trigger action of light in releasing the rays was discovered by Dr. Otto Glassner and I. E. Beasley. It works on table salt, or sodium chloride, on potassium chloride, rocksalt and fiqurite crystals, but only if they are very pure.

FROST HEAVES GASOLINE TANKS AT TRENT RIVER

(Examiner Correspondence)

TRENT RIVER, April 8.—Frost did considerable damage at Mr. James Paget's Imperial Oil Station during Friday night one tank, which was empty, was lifted completely above ground while the other one, contained a quantity of gas, made an upheaval of the earth about two feet above the tank, the connecting pipes were damaged at the joints. The deep water at the entrance is supposed to be the cause.

1832 1935

Since 1832

Trusted custodian of the savings of the Canadian people for over 100 years, this Bank welcomes the accounts of those who wish to save whether the amount be large or small.

World-wide facilities in every department of banking

Coast to Coast in Canada

NEWFOUNDLAND, JAMAICA, CUBA, PUERTO RICO, DOMINICAN REPUBLIC

NEW YORK, CHICAGO, BOSTON, LONDON, ENGLAND

The BANK of NOVA SCOTIA

OVER A CENTURY OF BANKING SERVICE

PETERBOROUGH, ONT., BRANCH, D. P. CHILTON, MANAGER

WARSAW HOME LOST BY FIRE

House Occupied by Sidney Bodenham Family on Bert Ray's Farm.

PARTLY INSURED.

(Examiner Correspondence)

WARSAW, April 6.—On Saturday evening, April 6, the white frame cottage and woodshed on Bert Ray's farm occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Bodenham and child was completely destroyed by fire. Mr. Ray had a small insurance on the house but there was none on the contents.

The Bodenham's had gone to Peterborough and thought the fire was out. However it was around the stove where the fire started. Melville Crowe and his brother-in-law Orville Donald from Peterborough saw the fire. They gave the alarm but by the time they reached the house they could not enter the kitchen, nor could they nor others get very much out of the house except a few pieces of furniture. The family has no clothing except what they had with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Bodenham are for the present staying with Mrs. Bodenham's mother, Mrs. William Hamblin.

GABY DEFENDS POWER DEALS

(Continued from Page 1)

additional 471,000 horsepower provided."

Provision was made for the possibility of depression, Mr. Gaby stated. Although the normal trend called for an annual increase of 11.4 per cent., provisions were made for an increase of only 7.7 per cent., or three-quarters of the amount of increase experienced.

Surplus Inevitable

"It was inevitable," he asserted, "that, with the depression that occurred and from which we are just beginning to emerge a surplus of power should have resulted, but there are indications that the turn is again upward.

"Thirty percent. of the connected motors in industrial plants in Toronto were idle in 1932 as a result of the depression. If anything like a similar proportion of motors were idle in the rest of the Province, you are met with the fact that the present surplus of power available to the Commission is an absolute minimum to take care of industry upon its return to normalcy. In the United States, the failure to have this available supply is causing grave concern. In Ontario, the having of it causes certain people grave concern. Do you not think it better to be prepared for a return to prosperity, or do you think we should plan on the basis of continued depression?" Mr. Gaby asked his radio audience.

"The information given out recently as to the primary peak load and the probable losses to follow as a result of the purchase of Quebec power is based upon assumptions that cannot be borne out by actual conditions," continued the former Hydro Chief Engineer.

Point Overlooked

"There is a further point which seems to have been overlooked in some of the recent statements," said Mr. Gaby. "I refer to that class of industry which cannot, for economic reasons, use primary power. Owing to this fact, the responsibility of the Commission is to supply not only primary power but interruptible power as well. Some of the basic industries are not able to pay the higher cost of primary; and leaving such loads out of consideration in providing future requirements does not give a correct value to the power requirements of the system as a whole. If these industries are not supplied, they will locate elsewhere, with resultant loss to Ontario of industries vitally important to its economic structure in addition to loss of employment for thousands of men."

Mr. Gaby admitted that the former Commission "did not foresee the severity of this depression," but maintained that "we used the best judgment we had, borne of long experience." Sir Adam Beck's policies had lived after him, Mr. Gaby insisted, and were never betrayed by any succeeding Chairman of any members of the former Commission.

PRIEST'S STORY SHAKES ALIBI

(Continued from Page 1)

clump where many months later the kidnapped babes body was found.

Studied Plans

Father Kallok said Hauptmann studied plans of the Lindbergh estate at the office of an architect, Robert A. Schumann of Trenton, who had been seeking contracts for work on the Colonel's home.

"I saw Hauptmann many times," the priest said. "I saw him sitting on the porch of the (stable) building. I saw him riding in the woods. I talked with him, and at one time he saddled a horse for me. I saw him looking over a set of plans for the Lindbergh home, and when he noticed I was looking at the plans he covered them up."

Both Schumann and Thompson now are dead, a development the priest said seemed highly suspicious to him.

He recognized Hauptmann, the priest said, as the stable hanger-on as soon as he was arrested for the kidnapping.

Mrs. Hauptmann's lectures in Milwaukee last week in behalf of the defense fund spurred the pastor to reveal his story, he said.

Father Kallok explained that he met Schumann, who died after being slugged and robbed in Newark, in the summer of 1930, when the architect prepared tentative plans for a church and school building. Schumann, he said, introduced him to Thompson, who tried to sell him insurance.

From then on, the priest often went to the Thompson Academy to ride. He said it was his understanding then that Hauptmann was dealing in horses for Thompson and "handling his affairs in Wall Street."

Prepared

TIENSTSIN, China, April 8.—(C.P.)—The spectacle of a bride on the way to her wedding ceremony, accompanied by her own coffin, aroused the interests of thousands of spectators here recently. The bride, a 77 year old widow, was marrying an 88 year old farmer, and according to ancient Chinese custom had purchased her coffin years ago. It was her most cherished household possession.

HITLER COHORTS FALL FAR SHORT

(Continued from Page 1)

munists 6,880, Centrists 70,059, German Nationalists 9,760, Front Fighters 750, Polish 8,100.

The Nazis actually gained 22,681 votes over their 1933 total and retained their control of Parliament. But they had staked their party prestige on their hopes for a two-thirds majority.

Had the Nazis won their objective, they not only would have been able to suppress their opposition but alter the Free City constitution subject to approval by the League of Nations which exercises general supervision over the district.

Opposition Centres

Strong Nazi opposition developed in Dansig municipality and in Zoppot, fashionable Baltic resort. Previously the Nazis had piled up an 80 per cent. lead in Neiderungen, Werder and Hoehe, three country districts.

Four protests were lodged with the Senate as a result of the election. The Polish High Commissioner protested twice, complaining Polish citizens were beaten and Nazis unduly influenced in voting. The Latvian Consul and the Portuguese Consul each asserted the windows of their consulates had been smashed.

CAMPBELLFORD

NEWS ITEMS FOR THE TRENT TOWN DISTRICT

Mrs. Archie Langford of Peterborough is visiting Mrs. Wilbert Dorie, of Wellington Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dutton and the family, of Healy Falls, have returned home, after a pleasant visit spent with their son, Mr. Thomas Dutton, Jr., of Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Varty visited friends and relatives in Marmora over the week-end.

Mrs. Nellie Tucker and her son John, formerly of Campbellford, gave a trumpet duet at a cornet and trumpet recital held recently at the Cocoanut Grove Ballroom in Manchester, New Haven, U.S.A. Both of these artists were pupils of Mr. Walter Lowe, of Campbellford.

Miss Rosina Clarke, of Hastings, spent the week-end in Campbellford.

The many friends of Mrs. C. B. Williams, who has been undergoing treatment in St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, during the past week, will be glad to learn that she has so far recovered as to be able to return home on Sunday.

Miss Helen Thomas, who has been visiting her brother, Mr. Everett Thomas, and Mrs. Thomas, of Peterborough, has returned home.

Mrs. George Frederick, of Garry Street, who underwent an operation in Belleville Hospital on Thursday last, is reported to be doing nicely.

Messrs. Charles Payne and Purdy Pettey visited friends in Toronto over Sunday.

Mr. Kenneth Hazell has been appointed assistant express manager at the C.N.R. Station at Campbellford.

CAMPBELLFORD

PLEASING PROGRAM INSTITUTE SOCIAL

Seymour West Branch Provides Entertainment in Connelly's School.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 8 (Examiner Correspondence).—Under the auspices of the Seymour West Women's Institute a delightful entertainment was held at Connelly's School on Friday evening last. The feature being a most amusing one-act skit, "Polishing Henry"; those taking part were Messrs. J. D. McEachern and Stuart Anderson, the Misses Hazel Atkinson and Enid Richardson.

Herbert Maycock acted as chairman, and the following program was given: Humorous solo, "When You're Over 60 and Feel Like Sweet 16," John Storie; Reading, Mary Murphy; Vocal duet, John Storie and Hazel Atkinson, "Oh No, John"; Humorous reading, Fay Kelly (loud applause); Solo, "My Laddie," Miss Hazel Atkinson; Duet, "When It's Lamp-lighting Time in the Valley," Misses Herbert Maycock and Ralph Rutherford; Monologue, "An Angle on Marriage," J. D. McEachern; Violin selections by the Junior boys of West's School, with mouth organ and violin selections by the Senior boys; these numbers, under the direction of the teacher, Angus Todd, drew rounds of applause. Mrs. Charles MacCoun conveyed the vote of thanks to the artists who had so kindly offered their services, which not only made a splendid evening's entertainment, but also added a tidy sum to the special fund which is being used to beautify the country cemeteries during the summer months.

REPUDIATION?

UNWISE—UNFAIR—UNPROFITABLE

The Attorney-General, Hon. A. W. Roebuck, K.C., on the floor of the Legislature and on the Radio, has presented the case against the administration of Hydro affairs.

Statements made by the Chairman of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, Mr. T. Stewart Lyon, appointed by the present Government of Ontario, show clearly that he is opposed to the principle of repudiation and sees no need to raise power rates generally, increase taxes to meet temporary Hydro deficits, or to doubt the financial strength of Hydro. His words, published in the February, 1935 issue of The Bulletin of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario are set out below:

"We can say for the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission that from the day of the first issue of a dollar of capital, interest has been paid on the due date on all the money that has been provided for these enterprises by private investors. It is a fine thing for Ontario that that can be said. It is a fine thing for Canada. Sometimes we swear to our hurt, and keep our word even though it does hurt, and I hope that the day will never come when we of this country, when we of this province, shall in any way repudiate our bond and our word which is behind our bond."

In the January, 1935 Bulletin the Chairman wrote:

"It cannot be too often stated, on behalf of the Commission, that in connection with the four systems previously mentioned there has never been any call for the payment of taxes to meet Hydro deficits, nor will there ever need to be."

"It is not too much to say that, financially, the Provincial Hydro-Electric Power Commission, like the Insurance Company which first used the comparison, has 'the strength of Gibraltar.' When business activity again assumes high levels, it will be prepared to sell all the power that industrial Ontario can absorb at prices profitable alike to industry and to the Commission."

"I think we may safely say now that there will be no need to increase Hydro rates in any general way to provide the funds for the payment of power the Commission is forced to accept from the Quebec contractors."

Whatever the accuracies and inaccuracies of the warring political factions of the municipally-owned Hydro may be, the fact—and the central and unalterable fact—is that repudiation of power contracts approved by the Government of Ontario would be unwise, unfair and unprofitable.

UNWISE because competent engineers know that Hydro must some day generate or purchase more power;

BECAUSE it takes from two to seven years to build a generating plant at great cost while industry languishes for power;

BECAUSE power dumped in the Province of Quebec will give competitive advantages to industry and workers in that Province and may set up a migration of industry from Ontario in that direction;

UNFAIR because the pledged word of Ontario must be worth more than "a scrap of paper";

BECAUSE might cannot make right and the Premier and Attorney-General surely cannot persist in their attitude of being judge, jury, plaintiff and defendant in this matter affecting the welfare of thousands of their fellow-citizens;

BECAUSE the privileges of the courts where a non-political and unbiased decision can be rendered are being denied to the power companies and the bondholders;

UNPROFITABLE because already tens of millions of dollars of security values have been wiped out; values which represented the purchasing and borrowing power of Ontario taxpayers;

BECAUSE economic recovery cannot proceed in the face of contracting markets and falling quotations for securities and in the face of disillusioned investors in Canada, Great Britain and the United States who will doubt our promises to pay;

BECAUSE passage of this legislation will cost you money in lost jobs and in higher taxes far beyond any prospective rises in power costs; and note again the statement of T. Stewart Lyon, Chairman of Hydro, that *"I think we may safely say now that there will be no need to increase Hydro rates in any general way to provide the funds for the payment of power the Commission is forced to accept from the Quebec contractors."

This proposed repudiation of contracts should not be made a political matter. It affects the honour and integrity of the people of Ontario.

We cannot believe that the points emphasized in this announcement have received the consideration they deserve by all members of the Ontario Legislature. Please give this matter thought. You, as a taxpayer, are vitally concerned. When you have made up your mind as to what you think should be done, write at once to your Member at the Parliament Buildings, Toronto, and tell him what you think about it.

INVESTMENT DEALERS' ASSOCIATION OF CANADA—(Comprising 115 Member Firms)

MOTORISTS Use
GOODYEAR TIRES
Famous For Their Traction Tread
Buy Them At
WATSON'S
Cor. George & Brock Sts.
m,th

CAR OWNERS ATTENTION
COMPLETE
CARBON and VALVE JOB
4 cylinder cars $4.00
6 cylinder cars $6.00
8 cylinder cars $8.00
(Parts Extra)
COMPLETE STOCK OF DUNLOP TIRES
Up-to-date Tire Repair Plant. All Tire Repairs Guaranteed 1 year.
JOHNSTON
Mon.Thurs-tf

Woman Flier Slugs Fear-Crazed Student

NEW YORK, April 8, (CP)—Miss Annette Gibson, woman flier and promoter of air races, brought a monoplane to a perfect landing at Roosevelt field Sunday and in a highly excited state related how she had to "knock out" a hysterical student flier when his hand froze in terror to the control stick.

The young man, whose name was carefully guarded, arrived at the field with Miss Gibson for a student flight. Miss Gipson told field officials he had a student's flying permit.

Two thousand feet in the air Miss Gipson attempted to nose the plane to earth and noticed her companion beside her had the control stick clutched in a crazy vise-like grip.

Fearing a struggle might be fatal to both of them, Miss Gipson reached for a metal fire extinguisher and brought it down on the youth's head. Miss Gipson then pushed the prostrate student flier aside and brought the ship to a safe landing.

Ozena is a term applied generally to diseased conditions of the nose characterized by great fetor of the breath.

D&H COAL
LOWEST IN TEN YEARS
ORDER NOW AND SAVE
Nut Coal . $13.75 per ton
Stove Coal 14.00 per ton
Egg & Nut 13.75 per ton
Pea Coal . . 11.75 per ton
ScotchCoal 15.50 per ton
ALL KINDS OF WOOD
50c Discount on Ton Lots Ordered Now
W. J. Nelson
283 Simcoe Phone 2906

Dr. T. P. McCullough
Specialist
Phone 36-W. 106 Brock Street
Peterborough
Eye Ear, Nose Throat and Sinus Work.
All styles of Frames and Glasses greatly reduced in price.
dlf-8273

GIRLS
who lag behind in their studies and complain of fatigue may need glasses. Have her eyes thoroughly examined by
CRICHTON
179 CHARLOTTE STREET
(Next Parkers). Phone 2475J

AUTO LOANS and Re-Financing
1930 Models and Later
Private Sales
FINANCED—SEE
G. W. LUNDY
99 Hunter St. W. Phone 2350
Representing
CAMPBELL AUTO FINANCE CO. LTD. TORONTO

The Peterborough Examiner

PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, CANADA, MONDAY, APRIL 8, 1935

LOCALS

LOCAL AND LONG DISTANCE HAULING.
Everything handled with care. James Griffin. 'Phone 3030.
3d,85,9023

RED JACKET COAL
EGG OR LUMP
(Rescreened)
$9.50 per Ton, Delivered
Order through your dealers.
dtaf,8673

GEORGE ST. CHOIR
A rehearsal will be held in church tonight at 8.00. Will all members please attend?

I. O. L.
Regular meeting, District No. 3, 7.30 p.m. Tuesday, April 9, F. Millard, D.M. 1d-84-323

BUY COAL AT NEW LOW PRICES
Also best grades Dry Wood, measured and cut to your order. — Thompson's. Phone 2960. 1d,84,9027

EUCHRE
Tuesday, April 9 in the Moose Hall by the Women of the Moose. Eight good prizes: Flannelette blankets for 1st prize. Games start at 8.15 p.m. 1d-84-321

REVIVAL CRUSADE
"The Man Who Dared To Go Through"
will be the theme of Rev. H. L. Stephens' address to-night in Park Park Street Baptist Church, at 7.45. Everybody welcome.

HARD COAL.
Lowest Spring prices on Anthracite Coal in effect to-day: Stove $14.00 per ton: Nut and Egg, $12.75; Pea, $11.75; Scotch, $15.50.—Phone 96. McCarthy & Johnston
dtf-9019

Members will parade at All Saints' Church at 6.45 p.m. on Sunday, April 7, for church service in conjunction with 21st Battalion Association. Speaker, Rev. Major Kidd, padre of 21st Battalion.—M. R. Sloan, Pres., Branch 52, Canadian Legion. 2d,84,9028

PRICES AT FRINGLE'S BARBER SHOP.
Good work at the following low charges: Gent.'s Haircut, 25c; Ladies' Haircut, 25c; Shaves, 15c; Children's Haircut, 15c. George, at Park Hill Road. 1d-84-187

KNOX CHOIR.
Men's practice at 7.30. Full choir 8 o'clock. Every member please attend.

SPECIAL THIS MONTH.
Attractive New Low Prices All This Month on All Shoe Repairing. North-End Shoe Repair, George, at Park Hill Road (Braund Building). 1d-84-147

A CORRECTION
In Coleman Bros. Utilac ad, Saturday, "One stencil was offered free with each Pint of Muresco". The word "pint" was an error. The offer should have read "one pkg." Muresco is a powder and sells at 65c the 5 lb. package.

Y.W.C.A. WEEK'S ACTIVITIES

Gymnasium Pageant.
It is only four weeks to the Y. W. C. A. Gymnasium Pageant which will be held in the Grand Opera House, Friday evening, May 10th. The Pageant program includes new and intricate drills and a delightful fantasy, "The Romance of the Toy Shop." The large classes of wee tots will be as amusing as ever as teddy bears and frilly-dressed kewpie dolls.

Pageant Sewing.
Members of the sewing groups are still busy and need all who are willing to help. Sewing will continue during the Easter holday with the exception of Good Friday and Easter Monday.

Pageant Costumes.
Many of the costumes are ready and are being tried on. Gym members are asked to bring in their costume money as soon as possible.

Pageant Tickets.
Tickets are now ready for distribution. Many pupils already have long lists of orders for tickets. The 75c tickets are all for good seats and those buying these will not find it necessary to stand in line when ticket sale opens, as there are always good seats available all the first day the plan opens. The 75c seats are centre downstairs and first three rows in the balcony and the boxes.

The 50c seats are the first three rows, and last three rows downstairs, and the fourth row to aisle in balcony. The 35c seats are second section of balcony. Organizations wishing to order a section of seats are asked to place their order at the Y.W.C.A. early. Each "Y" member selling 20 tickets gets one free. There are also prizes for those selling the most tickets.

Extra Pageant Practices.
Members are asked to note the regular and extra rehearsals listed below and to attend regularly.

Foreign Work.
"Y" members are asked to bring in their donations to the Foreign Work of the Y.W.C.A. Every contribution is a help to the Local and World's Work of the "Y."

Clubs.
The Y.W.C.A. has eight clubs meeting afternoons and evenings. Club programs are interesting and instructive, and the clubs cordially invite every girl to join a club.

Basketball Banquet.
This annual Banquet will be held on Thursday evening, when over 100 members are expected to be present. Trophies to winning teams will be presented.

Swimming Pool.
The "Y" Pool will be open for swimmers toward the end of the month. Lessons will commence in May.

Badminton Round Robin and Tea.
Members of the "Y" Badminton clubs, afternoon and evening, will enjoy a series of games and tournament finals next Saturday afternoon, three to six o'clock. It is hoped every member will be present.

Camp.
Spring days make one's thoughts turn to camp. Plan now to spend your holidays at the Y.W.C.A. Camp, "Inglestane."

Special Schedule of Gym. Classes:
MONDAY—4.30, Intermediate Gym. Class; 7.15, Beginners' Tap and Aesthetic Dancing; 8.00 Elementary Gym.
TUESDAY. — 10, Ladies' Special Gym.; 4.30 Sat. Juniors and Babies' Gym.; 7.15 Senior Tap Dancing; 8.00, Senior Advanced Gym. Class.
WEDNESDAY—4.30, Babies' Dancing; 4.30, Special Thursday Soft Toe Dancing (French Dance); 5.15, Junior Tap Dancing.
THURSDAY.—4.30, Toe Dancing Class; 6.15 Basketball Banquet; 8.00, Tap and Interpretive Dancing; 8.00, Business Girls' Gym.
FRIDAY—7.30, Senior Tap Dancing; 8.30, Senior and Elementary Gym.
SATURDAY. — 9.30, Junior Gym. Class; 9.30, Junior Tap Dancing Classes; 10.45, Babies' Gym. Class; 11.45, Toe Dancing Class.

Coal Prices Reduced
For Spring Delivery
Nut Coal . . $13.75 per ton
Stove Coal. 14.00 per ton
Pea Coal . . 11.75 per ton
Scotch Coal 15.50 per ton
A further discount of 50c a ton for cash delivery, makes these prices the lowest in years.
PETERBORO FUEL & TRANSFER CO., LTD.
Phone 270.
26-83-324

DROWNED IN HORSE TROUGH.

MUNICH, Germany.—(C.P.)— An aged farm hand here was drowned in three inches of water. He fell off a bench on which he was sleeping into a horse-trough and was stunned by the fall.

IN MEMORIAM.

WILSON. — In memory of our dear father, Herman Wilson, who passed away April 8, 1929.
One by one our loved ones leave us,
And the pain of bitter loss
Teaches that the heart's best shelter
Is the shadow of the Cross.
—Sadly missed by Sons and Daughters.

BLUEBIRDS for Happiness

A diamond ring, for engagement, for wedding, for anniversary or as some other token of esteem is an emblem of happiness to be forever cherished. Make the occasion doubly perfect by choosing a Bluebird Registered Diamond Ring selected by experts for fine color and brilliance, to meet with your most rigid requirements. Priced from $25.00 up.

BLUEBIRD Registered DIAMOND RINGS ....They're Perfect
WARNE'S
DIAMOND HALL
Phone 880

Hear the Lecture and see the Exhibit of Spode China at 8 o'clock Tonight in Y.M.C.A. sponsored by the I.O.D.E.

CO-OPERATION OF ROTARY CLUB IS STRONGLY URGED

Service Club Support For Annual Y.M.C.A. Campaign is Sought at Weekly Luncheon.

ANNUAL CARNIVAL.

Appointment of Rotarian Jack Seels as Manager of Affair is Announced.

Rotary support for the Y.M.C.A. campaign for $7500 was strongly urged today by Charles Shaw, chairman of the campaign committee who addressed the weekly luncheon of the service club on Y.M.C.A. work.

Directors of the Y.M.C.A. who were guests at the luncheon included Rotarian Ross L. Dobbin, president, Rev. C. D. Daniel, Dr. H. M. Yelland, C. A. Salmonsen, W. L. Ferguson, Charles Lacheur, Alex Elliott, J. J. Turner and W. A. Richardson, while other guests were G. H. Roper, Y.M.C.A. secretary and J. J. Dorris, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Introduced by Ross Dobbin, Mr. Shaw stressed the fact that the Y.M.C.A. had been organized for service, and in this connection he reminded the Rotarians that their slogan was "He profits most who serves best". The speaker emphasized the need of such an organization as the Y.M.C.A. to extend a helping hand to the youth of the land. The Prince of Wales whose motto he reminded his hearers was, "I serve" had launched a silver jubilee fund for youth in connection with the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of King George's accession to the throne, declaring that young people needed discipline, friends and recreation.

Mr. Shaw declared that the campaign was going through to a successful end and he urged the co-operation of every Rotarian in the bringing about of that result.

Rotarian James Dutton, chairman of Peterborough's Silver Jubilee committee said that organization would welcome suggestions from the citizens in regard to the program for that occasion.

It was announced that Rotarian Jack Seels had been appointed manager of the Annual Rotary carnival.

President J. Fred Reed appointed Rotarians James Juby, Ross Dobbin and Fred Roy to nominate a list of directors for next year. The election will take place later on in the month.

A most enjoyable addition to the program today was supplied by Tom Smith who delighted the gathering with two most brilliantly played cello numbers, the always popular Berceuse from "Jocelyn" and Massenet's beautiful "Melodie". Both of which were thoroughly appreciated.

Iron Floor Fools London's Fire Bug

LONDON, Ont., April 8.—(CP)—London's fire bug who already has started three costly fires struck again last night but was beaten by luck and an iron platform. This morning evidence of a new attack was discovered when employees of Leff's Wastepaper Company discovered a burned-out fire just inside the shipping door.

Despite the presence of a night-watchman the fire bug managed to stuff a quantity of paper under the door into a room filled with bales of waste paper. A blazing paper torch was evidently used to ignite the pile.

Fortunately, however, unknown to the pyromaniac a huge sliding iron platform used for loading freight cars, covered the floor and loose paper and the fire did not spread.

DIED

GILLESPIE—On Sunday, April 7, 1935, Clayton Eldon, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gillespie, 188 Antrim street, aged 1 year, 7 days. Funeral from the residence on Tuesday afternoon at 1.30 p.m. with Rev. C. D. Daniel officiating. Interment in Little Lake cemetery.

LEAN.—On Sunday, April 7, 1935, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Clayton Telford, 323 Rogers street, Mary Elizabeth Udy, relict of the late Thomas Bryant Lean, in her 73rd year.
Funeral from Mark Street United Church on Tuesday, April 9, at 2.30 p.m. Rev. C. D. Daniel officiating assisted by Rev. C. C. Miller of Bridgenorth. Interment in Little Lake Cemetery.

EARLE—On Sunday, April 7, 1935 (suddenly) at his residence near Downer's Corners, Gordon Douglas Earle, the beloved husband of Maud Kidd, in his 49th year. The remains are resting at Comstock's Funeral Home pending funeral services to be held at All Saints' Church at 2 p.m. Tuesday with the Rev. J. D. Paterson, officiating. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

KEITEL—On Sunday, April 7, 1935, Alexander Keitel at his residence, 275 McGill street, aged 69 years. Funeral from the family residence on Wednesday at 3 p.m., with the Rev. A. E. Moorehouse, pastor of St. James' United Church officiating. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

MAIN STREET TOPICS

Tabs and Jottings as Picked Up by an Examiner Reporter.

INTERIOR REDECORATED
Recent redecoration and alterations have made the Capitol Barber Shop, operated by O. Sutton, one of the most attractive-looking hairdressing establishments in the city. The interior of the shop, which is located next door to the Capitol Theatre, is immaculately resplendent in white enamel. There are three chairs, ensuring speedy service.

WARRIORS' BALL
The annual Warriors' Ball will be held this year on Easter Monday, April 22 instead of Monday, April 29, as was stated in Saturday's paper. A smart orchestra of eleven pieces has been engaged and tickets are now being sold by members of the committee. The ball every year is presented under the auspices of the Canadian Legion with the co-operation of the various militia units in the city and the entire proceeds go to the local branch of the Legion.

CHARGED WITH THEFT.
James Maguire was charged with the theft of a ring, valued at less than $25, in police court to-day, from Michael Fannelly. He pleaded not guilty and at the Crown's request was remanded a week for trial.

Obituary

GORDON DOUGLAS EARLE
The death occurred suddenly at his residence near Downer's Corners on Sunday of Gordon Douglas Earle, the beloved husband of Maud Kidd. Mr. Earle succumber to a heart attack, in his 49th year.

He was a son of the late Barton Earle, former schoolmaster in this city, and the late Mary Choate, and was born on July 20, 1886.

The remains are resting at Comstock's Funeral Home pending services to be held at All Saints' Church, at 2 p.m. on Tuesday, with the Rev. J. D. Paterson officiating. Interment is to be made at Little Lake Cemetery.

MARY ELIZABETH LEAN.
Mary Elizabeth Lean, widow of Thomas Bryant Lean, passed away on Sunday afternoon at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Creighton Telford, 323 Rogers Street, after an extended illness. She was in her 73rd year. Prior to coming to reside in Peterborough, the late Mrs. Lean had lived at Bridgenorth for some years, and was there held in high esteem and respect.

Predeceased by her husband, who died at Cape Town, South Africa, in 1898, she is survived by an only daughter, Mrs. Telford of this city; and two sisters, Mrs. Hawkins, of Farr, Cornwall, England, and Mrs. Agnew, Cape Town, S.A. Percy Udy of Bridgenorth is a cousin.

The remains are resting at the home of her daughter, pending funeral services to be held at Mark Street United Church at 2.30 p.m. on Tuesday. The Rev. C. D. Daniel is to conduct the service, assisted by the Rev. C. C. Miller of Bridgenorth. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

DR. J. H. THOMPSON.
The death occurred at his residence at Ashtabula, Ohio, on Friday last of Dr. J. H. Thompson, in his 94th year.

He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. David Thompson, formerly of Grand Valley, now of Toronto. Besides his parents, he is survived by his widow, Florence Hartwell, and a daughter, Patricia Jane. He also leaves two sisters, Miss Amelia R. Thompson on the teaching staff of Peterborough Collegiate Institute, and Miss Myrtle Thompson, and a brother, William Thompson, both of Toronto.

Interment was made at Youngstown, Ohio, this afternoon.

JEREMIAH WORBOY
The funeral of Jeremiah "Jerry" Worboy took place last Saturday from St. John's Church to Little Lake Cemetery, and was largely attended. There were numerous floral tributes testifying to the high esteem in which the deceased was held. Services were under the auspices of the Sons of England of which the deceased was a member.

At the morning service at St. John's Church yesterday, Archdeacon Blagrave spoke in terms of deep appreciation of the late Mr. Worboy who was a member of long standing at St. John's.

GERMANY HIDES HER AMMUNITION

Insolated "Potato Cellars," and "Game Preserves" Kept Closely Guarded.

FACTORIES SCATTERED.

(By A. D. Stefferud, Associated Press Foreign Staff)

BERLIN, April 8 (AP)—Potato cellars that have never seen a sprout, and game reservations without so much as a sparrow are being hurriedly constructed as ammunition depots for the rapidly-growing German army.

The "game reserves" are found generally in the northeast section of the Reich. They are carefully guarded by Nazi troopers. Roads leading to them are purposely left in almost impassible condition.

Ammunition for these dumps comes from little factories scattered through the northeastern section of the Reich. Originally they may have been furniture factories or canneries.

The German idea in thus isolating and scattering its ammunition factories has two bases: in case of war, they would be considered too small and too far from any large community to warrant a special enemy raid; and in the days before Germany admitted rearmament, scattering meant less chance for detection, incriminating details from workers, and spreading employment in the hinterland.

BYRD PRESSED BY COLLECTORS

Many Demand Refunds on Money Sent For Stamp Cancellation in Little America.

DATES DIFFER.

WASHINGTON, April 8 (A.P.).—His cash balance already some $100,000 in the red, Rear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd to-day faced the possibility of a demand from several thousand stamp collectors to refund their money paid him for "covers" for cancellation at the opening of the post office at Little America, Antarctica.

About 48,000 of the 54,000 letters sent when Byrd went to Little America in 1933 came back to their owners last week bearing various cancellation dates from legends. Some were dated Jan. 30, 1934, others were cancelled Jan. 31, 1934, while still others bore the notation, "This mail delayed one year because of transportation difficulties at Little America."

Many of those who received the Jan. 31 cancelled covers protested.

The explanation given by Byrd headquarters is that, when the expedition arrived at Little America the assistant postmaster had cancelled crew mail and some covers under the Jan. 30 date. A cancelling machine was sent, however, and the assistant set the date for Jan. 31.

Polish News Writer Seized In Danzig

FREE CITY OF DANZIG, April 8.—(AP)—Joel Cang, Polish citizen and Warsaw correspondent for three British newspapers, was arrested today in the Central Post Office after filing a dispatch to the Manchester Guardian. Police said he was taken into custody for sending a message regarded as contrary to Danzig's interests.

Kazimere Papee, Polish commissioner in Danzig, asked the senate to release Cang and explain why he was arrested.

Papee personally presented his request to the president of the senate, Arthur Greiser, who is administrative head of the Free City and a Nazi.

The March of Time

"Woodmen, spare that tree!"

The march of time and the bite of the axe was fast obliterating this morning another of the ancient landmarks of the city. Crowds gathered to watch the operations of two men chopping valiantly at the massive trunk of an elm tree that has for three quarters of a century spread a mighty shade over the banks of the little creek on Charlotte street.

It was probably a tiny sapling when Colonel Miller marched away to fight in the Civil War between the North and the South; it was spreading its arms abroad when Peterborough was yet a town and Charlotte street was known to the rough tongues as "Hell street"; it threw a grateful shade over the old English Canoe factory, and of late years it has spread its cooling benison over the little place that houses John Brownlee, the blind man.

This morning, one tiny bird hopped in the upper, leafless branches that will not burst into welcome green this year.

The old tree is making way for advertising boardings that are to be erected on the banks of the little stream, to blazon abroad the superior qualities of cigarettes or tooth paste or chocolate bars.

An ectoparasite is a parasite living upon the surface of its host. Common examples are found among the various mildews growing upon the surface of leaves.

Don't Experiment with Risky Chemicals or Tweezers
Use Electrolysis
For the Only Safe and Permanent Removal of
HAIR ON THE FACE
ANNE GRAHAM LOGAN
DERMATOLOGIST
Formerly of Hiscott Institute
12 Years Experience
118½ HUNTER W.
PHONE 3102

BATTERIES
11-Plate $4.95
13-Plate $7.50
15-Plate $9.25
Guaranteed
Hood & Cumming Motors, Ltd.
PHONE 2460
m,th,tf

SOUTH-END PRAYER MEETINGS

TUESDAY, APRIL 9TH, AT 10 A.M.
Mrs. Hagerman ..... 87 Princess
Mrs. White ..... 292 McGill
Mrs. Dunkley ..... 325 Romaine
Mrs. Luffman ..... 498 Chamberlain
Mrs. Able ..... 263 Townsend

Cottage Meetings Of Mark St. Church

TUESDAY, 10 A.M.
Mrs. Wm. Pomeroy, 117 Douro St.
Mrs. C. D. Daniel, 378 Mark St.
Mrs. Wilfrid Lewis, 420½ Water St.

◆ THE MAYFAIR ◆
TO-NIGHT 25c DANCE
LADIES' DOOR PRIZE: Choice of Any Hat in The Florence Shoppe.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW UNDERWOOD PORTABLE
"CHAMPION" MODEL TYPEWRITERS?
Now on Display. Call and See It Demonstrated at Our Office.
UNDERWOOD-ELLIOTT-FISHER LTD.
KRESGE BLDG. R. T. PAMMETT, Manager. PHONE 2626

REDUCED COAL PRICES
PRESENT PRICES FOR OUR BLUE COAL AS FOLLOWS:
Egg Coal 13.75 | Nut - 13.75
Stove Coal 14.00 | Pea - 11.75
Scotch - - - - - 15.50
WITH A CASH DISCOUNT OF 50c PER TON.
Also Pocohontas, Coke and Steam Coal. Good Mixed Wood at $4.00 Per ½ Cord.
Est. J. E. A. FITZGERALD PHONE 110-111 253 HUNTER ST
3d-84-9914

Build Character In Youth by Assisting the → Y.M.C.A.

Ask Any Boy Who Goes to the "Y" He Knows
You'll Be Visited This Week Give and Help Raise $7,500
You Are Keeping This Door Open
ANNUAL FINANCIAL CAMPAIGN ON ALL THIS WEEK
Give Generously

STANLEY CUP BOUND MAROONS DEFEAT LEAFS 3-1

MICHIGAN STAR — Tex Robertson, University of Michigan aquatic star, pictured during collegiate events at Cambridge, Mass.

MOST COMPLETE SPORT PAGES IN CENTRAL ONTARIO

PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER SPORTS

Sports Department—Phone 1600 MONDAY, APRIL 8, 1935 Read by More than 18,000 Daily

PLANE RACES SPEEDBOAT— A seaplane follows Gar Wood's Miss America X during speed trials in Biscayne Bay, Florida.

Indians Should Win

Five .300 Willow Wielders and Grade A Mound Aces With Cleveland.

AIRTIGHT DEFENSE

WITH FIVE .300 hitters — Knickerbocker, Vosmik, Averill, Trosky and Hale—all in a row, five grade A pitchers, an improved defence and capable reserves, the Cleveland Indians will start the season with every reason to figure they can win the American league pennant. Cleveland has been knocking at the door to baseball's throne room for three years. This may be the year when Walter Johnson fools his severest critics and wins his first big league pennant as manager. Certainly he has the team.

× × ×

The Indians' Murders' Row is an especially tough outfit for pitchers to face. Knickerbocker and Vosmik, first two up, are right - handed hitters. Then come Averill and Trosky, left-handed staggers. "Bad News" Hale follows, right - handed. Even if Sheristop Bill Knickerbocker, who underwent an appendicitis operation recently, is unavailable for regular duty before May, the character of the infield is such that the club can hold its own without him. Hale, who played second a great part of last year, is a natural third baseman, but can play anywhere. Veteran Willie Kamm at third probably will not play the full schedule, but he is counted on for more than half of it, and his steadying influence on the young men in the infield is valuable. Trosky at first is the most brilliant young player to come up in years.

× × ×

IT IS established that Lou Berger, star of the New Orleans club last year, will start the season for the Indians. The only question he couldn't answer in spring training last year concerned his hitting. He indicated as the 1934 season progressed that he could pick that up as he went along, just as he learned how to beat Yale twice when he was back at the University of Maryland wearing a football suit.

× × ×

Berger will play the bag as no other second baseman since Bill Wamby's day, filling a gap through which many winning runs have rolled. In Berger and Knickerbocker, the Tribe has the best pair of arms around the important keystone mark that an American league team can boast. Berger's great defensive ability makes it unnecessary for him to slug to hold his job, but he is improving rapidly at the plate. Until Knick is ready, Roy Hughes, who co-operated with Berger on third step at New Orleans, and was regarded as one of the most capable infielders in the league, will take his place. If Hughes fulfills the promise of training camp, Knick may rest until mid-season.

× × ×

THE OUTFIELD has pennant - winning power, with Vosmik, who hit .347 last year, in left; Earl Averill, the Tribe's leading home run hitter (until Trosky came along), in center, and Bruce Campbell, slugger from the Browns, in right. Reserves are Ab Wright, from Minneapolis, and Milt Galatzer, who did a fine job after being recalled from Toledo last season. If Frankie Pitlak returns to 1933 form, the catching problem will be solved. Myatt was having his best year in 1934 until a broken leg kept him out. Charley George, rookie from New Orleans, is the third receiver.

Baseball Association Orders Bantam Play-Off

RUGGED MAROONS BEAT LEAFS FOR SECOND TIME IN STANLEY CUP SERIES

Connell Stops 45 Shots as Desperate Smythemen Stage Continual Bombardment.

SENSATIONAL PEFORMANCE

Winners Score Goal in Each Period—Robinson, Blinco and Northcott Count.

BY ELMER DULMAGE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, April 8.—(CP)— The excitement of a Stanley Cup hockey series was transferred today to Montreal where, under the circumstances, it may reach a climax of ecstatic joy as early as Tuesday night should Montreal's own Maroons find the strength and power to humble the National Hockey league champions, Toronto Maple Leafs, that quickly.

Earl Robinson

Maroons departed from a scene of desolation with two victories over the Leafs, needing only one more to finish as upsetting a playoff series as any in years. They could end it all tomorrow night or Thursday night, each time before a home crowd. Should they fail the fifth game would be played here.

As confident and free as though they were having the better of all exchanges—which they weren't — Tommy Gorman's red raiders accomplished three bits of accurate sniping here Saturday night and stunned A crowd of 14,147 by defeating the Leafs 3-1. They won the first series game 3-2 in overtime.

It was a stunning performance because the Leafs, thoroughly aroused to the importance of the occasion, pinned the Montreal forces back in their own end of the rink in the first period and kept them there, with few lapses, until late in the second. The Gormanites were outplayed everywhere but in goal.

When these pro-Toronto periods were over, the records showed Maroons to be leading 3-1. Earl Robinson, brilliant right winger, had picked up a loosely-cleared puck late in the first period while King Clancy was serving a penalty and whistled it past George Hainsworth. Out of Maroon nearchaos had come a Maroon goal.

Late in the second period when the Toronto attack had lost some of its sting, Russ Blinco had gathered in a forward pass from Allan Shields at mid-ice and roared around Happy Day for the second tally. The busy blond centre ghosted past Day before the veteran Hap could make a move.

Outside of these two flashing plays Maroons were virtually nowhere. Alex Connell, rising to new heights even for him, had snatched a half-dozen goals off the sticks of the desperate Leafs, kicked out a dozen other, batted away more with his stick. "One-a-minute" Connell, they called him after his first hectic period. The Ottawa fireman made 21 saves in the first 20 minutes. Some he probably never saw. As he threw himself across the front of the cage they struck him. Fully a dozen other drives missed his goal by inches.

Harassed By Checkers

Maroons fought desperately to prevent the downfall of the veteran and, if they didn't help enough to make Connell's job easy, they at least eased his plight. Attacking Leafs were harassed by checkers from behind and on both sides. Maroons gave them few openings for unmolested shots.

For a few minutes in the second period the score was tied. Harvey Jackson, with Blinco an outstanding star of the thrilling battle, skated from end to end to blaze a close-range shot into the net. The Leafs were shorthanded when the Busher swept through the whole Montreal team.

Two stanzas of ceaseless rushing, steady driving, took a certain toll from the rugged Leafs, and the Maroons found an effective checking method in the third period. Forwards went into Leaf territory and rest the puck-carrier early. They disrupted all attempts to organize at the source.

This was Gorman forechecking at its best. Hooley Smith, Baldy Northcott, Jimmy Ward, Bob Gracie, Gus Marker and Herbie Cain played the leading roles; They couldn't prevent the Leafs from bombarding Connell with nine shots—four or five of them dangerous — but they managed to make the champions look extremely impotent most of Hooley Smith the period.

When Northcott broke away with Marvin Wentworth and swept down on Hainsworth with a neat pass it was all over. That third goal spiked the Toronto guns as effectively as forechecking had done. The Leafs kept pitching them in at Connell but without effect.

Only the most optimistic Toronto fans looked at the two rays of light that thread the gloom left by Maroons. One is that the red machine hasn't won a playoff game this season on Montreal ice. They were held to scoreless tie by Chicago Black Hawks and managed to get a 3-3 tie with New York Rangers.

The other is that the Leafs lost the first two games of the N.H.L. finals to Detroit Red Wings here last spring, then went into Detroit and squared the series, losing the fifth game on Detroit ice. If they can repeat that comeback, beating Maroons twice, they will have earned the fifth game back in Toronto.

Hockey Scores

STANLEY CUP FINALS

Montreal..... 3 Toronto 1

Maroons lead best 3-out-of-5 series, 2 victories to 0.

CANADIAN-AMERICAN LEAGUE Finals

Boston..... 3 Providence 1

Boston wins title in three straight games.

ALLAN CUP SEMI-FINALS

Mont. Royals.. 3 Halifax Wolv's. 3

Thirty minutes' overtime. First of best 2-in-3 game series.

MEMORIAL CUP SEMI-FINALS

Win. Mon..... 3 Sask. Wesleys. 2

Winnipeg wins Western Canada title.

If you buy out of town, and I buy out of town and all our neighbors buy out of town, what in thunder will become of our town? Ever think about it?

On Canuck Team

KEN BLACK

Two youthful Vancouver golfers, Dick Moore, B.C. open champion, and Ken Black, former B.C. and Vancouver city champion, have been named western Canada's representatives on the Canadian amateur golf team which will tour the Old Country this spring. Ken Black (ABOVE), is a son of Davie Black, the Shaughnessy Heights professional, who has held the Canadian title on several occasions.

LEAFS LEAVE TAMPA FOR POINTS NORTH

Game With Columbus Sunday is Halted by Rain in Fourth.

TAMPA, Fla., April 8 (CP)—It was Ho for Jacksonville and points nearer home with the Leafs last night after a most satisfactory training seige here, although the Toronto-Columbus game yesterday was rained out. And when it is wet here it is wet all over. It was a bad "break" for the club and Earl Cook. The largest turnout of the exhibition series was on hand for the renewal of the Little World Series, and it irked General Manager Arthur Leman sorely to have to hand out rain checks. It also was a sore touch to Cookie, who was going along in great style, and more than holding his own with the Red Birds' best pitching bet, Jim Mooney, formerly of the Giants, when the lightning flashed and the thunder rolled and the clouds overflowed. This sad happening transpired in the first half of the fourth, with two out, one on, and the score 0 to 0.

Birthday Greetings

(By The Canadian Press)

To M. M. "BOBBIE" Robinson, manager of Canada's last two Olympic teams, and secretary of the Canadian British Empire Games Association, born in Peterborough, Ont., 47 years ago to-day. Official of the Hamilton Olympic Club and acknowledged master organizer of sports, he organized the first British Empire Games in Hamilton in 1930.

MONARCHS WIN WESTERN TITLE

Winnipeg Defeats Saskatoon Wesley 3-2 in Deciding Junior Game.

WILL MEET SUDBURY.

WINNIPEG, April 8 (CP)—Winnipeg Monarchs cracked the whip over the West's Junior hockey domain to-day. They qualified to meet Sudbury Cub Wolves, Eastern finalists in the Memorial Cup final, by defeating Saskatoon Wesleys, 3-2, in the third and deciding game of a stirring Western-title series here Saturday night.

But some of the sting of the lash that curled Wesleyans into defeat in the first game was somewhat removed. A fighting Saskatchewan sextet tied the count in the second set-to and came within an ace of snatching victory from defeat in the final accounting for Western supremacy and disposition of the Abbott Cup.

Belanger Nets Winning Goal

Fighting from behind, Wesleys caught up with the flying Manitobans twice to tie score 1-1 and 2-2 in the first and third periods of the final game. Nine minutes from the end Pete Belanger, whirling pivot man on Monarchs' second line, whipped the puck past Jerry Beranek in the Wesleyan net for the winning counter.

Can.-Am. Loop Crown Won By Boston Cubs

BOSTON, April 8 (CP)—Boston Bruin Cubs last night held the Canadian-American Hockey League championship as a result of a decisive 3-1 victory over Providence Reds before 10,000 fans here Saturday night. Cubs had previously won the first two games of the best 3-out-of-5 titular series.

The Reds, who lost the first two games by 1-0 and 4-1 margins, managed to gain a goal lead in the opening session, when Jackie Keating combined with Jerry Lowery on a scoring play, the most promising opening that came the Reds' way during the sixty minutes of bruising hockey.

France originated the idea of honoring an unknown soldier as a symbol of all those who lost their lives in defence of their country.

PETES TO MEET WATERLOO CLUB SPRING SERIES

Amendment Making Amateur Cards Necessary For Organized Ball Defeated.

W. A. SMITH RE-ELECTED.

Minor League Age Limit Amendment Also Beaten—Convene in Toronto Next Year.

KITCHENER, April 8. — The seventeenth annual convention of the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association was over to-day, but officials and guests who attended it here on Saturday were still singing the praises of the inter-county officials, who played a great part in making it the largest and the most successful in the history of the organization. W. A. Smith of Galt, re-elected by acclamation, presided over the convention.

Hepburn Speaks.

One of the outstanding features of the gathering, held for the first time in inter-county territory, was the dinner address, delivered on Saturday by Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn, who was accompanied to the city by members of his Cabinet, Hon. David Croll of Windsor, Minister of Welfare; Hon. Paul Leduc, Ottawa, Minister of Mines; Dr. Roberts, M.P.P., Sault Ste. Marie; Hon. N. O. Hipel, Preston, Speaker of the Legislative Assembly of Ontario, who introduced Premier Hepburn; and N. Asmussen, M.P.P. for North Waterloo. In addition, M. A. Edwards of Galt, member of the Federal House; W. A. Fry, Dunnville, president of the A.A.U. of C., the heads of two Ontario branches of the A.A.U. of C., and representatives of almost every other sister amateur association, were present for the dinner, which was presided over by Stan Gilbert, president.

Amateur Cards.

Discussion over a proposed amendment to the O.B.A.A. constitution, which would make it compulsory for all players to take out amateur cards this year, was one of the features of the business session. Though return of the compulsory card was advocated strongly by W. A. Fry of Dunnville, president of the A.A.U. of C.; Bert Smith, Toronto, A.A.U. of C. Governor; and Mike Kelley, president of the Central Ontario Branch, A.A.U. of C., the amendment was defeated.

The inter-county sponsored an amendment which would change the date governing age limit in minor series from May 1 to January 1, but it was felt that such a change in baseball would throw the entire amateur situation into a state of chaos, and, as a result, the amendment was lost.

Next annual meeting of the O.B.A.A. will be held in Toronto, and in this connection Bert Smith extended an invitation on behalf of the T.A.B.A.

New Bantam Series.

A resolution, proposed by the Inter-county Baseball Association, requesting the O.B.A.A. to arrange in the spring a series between the Waterloo and Peterborough bantam teams to determine the 1934 champions, was heartily endorsed. The St. Columbus Boys' Club of Toronto, 1934 champions of the bantam series, were shorn of their title when a member of the team was found to be over age.

Majority of O.B.A.A. officers were returned by acclamation. These included: President, W. A. Smith, Galt; First Vice-president, A. J. Walsh, Toronto; Second Vice-president, N. A. Taylor, Delhi; secretary, W. J. Snyder, Hamilton; treasurer, A. Hill, Oakville; and A.A.U. of C. Governor, B. Smith, Toronto. The six executive members elected by ballot, in the order of voting, are: G. R. Gibbard, Napanee; J. W. Scott, Kitchener; M. J. Swanson, Peterborough; H. H. Berecht, Caledonia; J. C. McDonald, Chesley; and Frank H. Spry, Amherstburg. Two others are to be appointed.

Andy Blair, who was dropped in favor of young Nick Metz after the first Boston game, returned to action for the Leafs in place of Buzz Boll. But Blair was used mainly on the defence, taking the place of Day or Hollett. The chances are he will be used in Tuesday night's game in Montreal, and that Boll will be sent down.

Play-off attendances may reach 200,000 if Toronto can carry the series to five games. The 13 games that have been played in the various series have attracted approximately 174,000 fans.

On O.B.A.A Executive

MAX SWANSTON

President of the Central Ontario Baseball League, who was elected to the executive of the Ontario Amateur Baseball Association at annual meeting held in Kitchener on Saturday.

MONTREAL TIES HALIFAX 3 TO 3

Ferguson's Goal in Closing Minutes Deadlocks Score in Senior Struggle.

EXTRA TIME GOALLESS.

HALIFAX, April 8 (CP)—A smarting pack of Halifax Wolverines held Montreal's Royals to a 3-3 overtime tie Saturday night in the first game of the Eastern Canadian Senior amateur hockey championship series. Wolves flashed such brilliance against the deadly precision of a machine that 90 minutes of bruising battle failed to establish favorites to enter the Allan Cup finals.

They clash again Monday night in a game that may decide the opponents of Port Arthur Bearcats, Western champions, in a series for the Canadian title and the trophy Moncton Hawks have held in the Maritimes for two years.

Lanky Vince Ferguson, old warhorse, who has been with Wolverines since they were organized in 1928, tied the score Saturday night with a bouncing shot less than two minutes before the end of the third period, when Royals were leading, 3 to 2.

High Hurdling

BILL PEACOCK

Taking a hurdle in fashion form, Bill Peacock of Temple University, Philadelphia, track team, is pictured during a workout. Peacock is from Santa Barbara, Calif. His university provides some of America's greatest track and field stars.

SIX CONTENDERS IN THE RUNNING FOR CAGE TITLE

3 Provincial Titlists and Maritime Champs Crowned Over Week-end.

ASSUMPTION ON TOP.

TORONTO, April 8 (C.P.).—When the smoke of week-end engagements cleared to-day there were six contenders left in the running for the senior basketball championship of the Dominion.

In the latest skirmishes, three Provincial titlists and the champions of the Maritimes were crowned. At Saint John, the Trojans, representatives of New Brunswick, annexed the championship of the seaside provinces.

Trojans defeated Dalhousie University Tigers of Halifax 44-24 Saturday to take their two-game round with a 21-point margin. Their next hurdle is the Notre Dame de Grace outfit of Montreal, champions of Quebec and the Ottawa Valley, in the Eastern Canada semifinal.

Rangers Eliminated.

Notre Dame advanced by knocking out Ottawa Rangers 44-22 Saturday night. Rangers won the first game 34-32, but behind the lead of red-headed Buster Allan, the Montrealers rode rough-shod over the capital city champions in the last fixture. Allan scored 16 points in the last half.

Assumption College of Windsor was crowned Ontario champions after defeating the smart St. Catharines Grads 50-32. It was a rubber game, both teams having won one match on their home floors. The Assumption squad thus enter the Eastern Canada final, meeting the winner of the Saint John-Notre Dame series.

The third Provincial title to be decided over the week-end went to the Victoria Blue Ribbons. They won the championship of the Pacific Coast with a neat 58-20 victory over Kelowna. The Blues took the first game 53-20.

Toilers Favored.

Fighting for the right to meet the Victoria Hoopsters in the Western Canada final, Raymond Union Jacks and Winnipeg Toilers take the floor to-night in the first of a three-game series. At first it was feared a scarlet fever epidemic which precluded public gatherings in Raymond would upset the schedule, but over the week-end the situation cleared.

The Manitoba champions who are again headed title-wards after a three-year absence, are favored to win over the Foothills entry.

There was a perceptible hush in the noisy Montreal dressing-room after the game when Smythe walked in. He congratulated Manager Tommy Gorman and the players and said he hoped they would be back in Toronto soon—a nice way of saying he hoped his Leafs would win both games on Montreal ice, forcing a fifth game back here next Saturday.

Happy Day, Leaf captain, started the game with a severe cold that cut his voice down to a whisper. He played only 14 minutes altogether and did little rushing. Two of Montreal's goals were scored when he and Bill Hollett were paired in front of George Hainsworth.

Alex. Connell was happy at the prospect of playing on another Stanley Cup winner. He was with Ottawa Senators in 1927 when they won the title. In this series he is playing against three of his teammates of seven years ago—Clancy, Hec Kilrea, and Frank Finnigan.

Red Horner made Lionel Conacher turn a complete somersault early in the second period. The big Maroon defenceman went over Horner's hip when the red-head blocked his rush and ended up stretched full length on the ice.

Our Boarding House - - - - - - - - - - - - - - By Ahern

Strong Albany Team Set For 1935 Baseball War

CAPITOL To-day - Tuesday
Last show 8.30 p.m.
TWO BIG FEATURE HITS!

LOVE IS ON TRIAL!

But these two pit their love against the shadow of murder! Thrill-crammed, laugh-jammed, solution-proof!

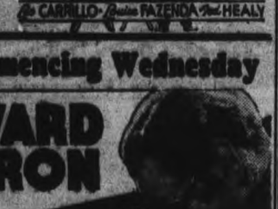
RICARDO CORTEZ
VIRGINIA BRUCE
in
SHADOW OF DOUBT

From the Collier's Weekly Mystery Thriller by Arthur Somers Roche

with
Constance COLLIER · Isabel JEWELL
Arthur BYRON · Betty FURNESS
Directed by GEORGE B. SEITZ
Produced by LUCIEN HUBBARD

ADDED COMEDY HIT

A MILLION DOLLARS IN LAUGHS! THE HOWLING SWEEPSTAKES COMEDY



Four Days—Commencing Wednesday

Leslie HOWARD
Merle OBERON
in
The SCARLET PIMPERNEL

An ALEXANDER KORDA production

MAMAUX HAS SMOOTH INFIELD THAT WILL BATTLE THE BEST

Hack Wilson Trying For Major League Comeback in Albany Club Ranks.

POWER AT BAT.

ALBANY, N.Y., April 8.—(A.P.)—Convinced his outfield and battery will give a creditable performance in the 1935 International League baseball race, Al Mamoux, singing pilot of Albany Senators, has thrown his resources into high gear to find a smooth working infield that will carry through the coming campaign.

Mamaux, new manager of the Senators, believes his outfield, comprised of Hack Wilson, former National League home-run king, in right, Charley Hostetler in centre, and either Taft Wright, Fred Bricknell or Al McNeely in left, will match the play of any enemy garden trio.

Bricknell can field and was a better than average hitter when in the big show. Wright is a powerful slugger and if he can exhibit proof of fielding ability, may oust Bricknell from the position.

Power at Bat.

McNeely and Wilson are right handed hitters, while Hostetler, Wright and Bricknell bat from the port side of the plate. Wilson, who must make the grade this season in the minors in order to have a chance again for the majors, appeared to be in for a fine year.

Pitchers with experience include Ed Chapman, Milburn Shoffner, Jim Tennant, Jimmy Carithers, and Mark McCominsky. Chapman is considered the ace of the staff. The Washington Senators, who have a working agreement with the Albany Club, are expected to send in two or three more hurlers to round out the staff.

Smooth Working Infield.

The infield is expected to shape up with Pete Susko, First Baseman Al McNeely, second baseman, also listed for outfield duty, Russell Peters, shortstop, and Frank Packard, third baseman. The infield will be revacyed however, if new material can be acquired.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES!

By ALEX J. MORRISON

NUMBER 581

An otherwise reasonable and peaceful citizen will argue excitedly over some point about the golf swing. In his enthusiasm to support his claim for importance in connection with his point he overlooks facts.

His search for a short cut to success at the game has been almost feverish. Little wonder that he fails to see his pet theories are dealing with fundamentals. And who in the golf world can accurately name the main fundamentals?

The golf student doesn't stop to realize that the things he sets up as being fundamental would have to be found in every successful swing. He supports certain points simply because he has found them in some swings or thinks that they exist in the correct swing. Look about for the things which are in all successful swings and you'll get down to what is really essential.

Cribbage Results

LAKEFIELD, April 8. (Examiner Correspondence—The following are the results of the first of a series of cribbage tournaments put on by the Lakefield Post of the Canadian Legion. The second tournament which will be a double fixture will be drawn on Saturday night with the first game on Monday night. A small entry fee covers the cost but is not in any way prohibitive so that any one may enjoy the popular pastime. The following is the result of the first round: E. Robertshaw defeated W. Murduff; T. Cunningham defeated L. Charlton; E. Briant defeated A. V. Hill; W. Chappell defeated H. Hill; A. Hudson defeated R. Bullock; R. Murduff defeated B. Dench; J. Earnshaw defeated L. Sabatino; F. Payne defeated F. Remnant.

2nd round—E. Robertsaw defeated T. Cunningham; E. Briant defeated W. Chappell; R. Murduff defeated A. Hudson; J. Earnshaw defeated F. Payne.

Third round—E. Robertshaw defeated E. Briant; J. Earnshaw defeated R. Murduff.

Finals—J. Earnshaw defeated E. Robertshaw.

J. Earnshaw won the tournament.

Basketball Results

Basketball games played Saturday resulted as follows:

O.A.B.A. Senior

*Assumption College 50, St. Catharines Grads 32.

*—Assumption wins championship, two games to one.

Eastern Canada Senior

*Saint Johns 44, Dalhousie, U. 24.

*—Saint John wins round.

*—Montreal N.G. 42, Ottawa Rangers 32.

*—Montreal wins round, 74-56.

British Columbia Senior

*Victoria 58, Kilwona 29.

*—Victoria wins championship, 111-49.

O.A.B.A. Intermeiate 'B'

R.M.C. 23, McGill 20.

O.A.B.A. Intermediate 'A'

*Broadview 26, London Aces 22.

*—Boardview wins championship.

Normals Cop 26-19 Basketball Triumph

Normals took a 26-19 decision over Holmes' in their House Basketball League game in the "Y" Saturday night; Kitchen's crew nosed out a 29-28 verdict over Sager's squad; and Taylor's team beat White's by 20 to 14. Next Saturday night at eisth, Normals and White's payoff to settle fourth place, and the following Saturday sees the first four teams playoff for league honors.

The first game last week-end was a speedy affair with Normals having an edge in both halves. They led the first frame, 16-11. Ketcheson topped the winners in scoring with Hunt. Wright and V. Holmes best for the losers. The teams:

Normal—Loukes, Owens, McKee, Ketcheson, Walters, Holmes and Telford.

Holmes'—Higgins, Wright, Hunt, A. Holmes, V Holmes, Ferguson, Thomas and Gerow.

Referee.—Doug Loomis.

Squeeze Out Win

The second struggle was a thrilling contest with Kitchen's gang squeezing out a one-point verdict. Both sides played open basketball and showed nice passing and shooting. Tranter and Galley led the victors in sniping while Faulkner and Sager were the big shots for the other side. The teams:

Kitchen's—Galley, Ellis, Kitchen, Gunsolus, Ascott, McFadden and Tranter.

Sager's—Broadley, Brady, Faulker, Sager, Morrow and Dinesen.

Taylor's team had a slight edge on White's in another smart battle and took a 20-14 decision. There was little to choose between the squads most of the way. Hull and Stinson were main scorers for Taylor's, while Hammell, Hunter and Williams divided the scoring for the losers. The teams:

Taylor's—Hull, Stinson, Palmer, Hunter and Gadd.

White's—Hammell, Hunter, Edmondson, Williams and Martin.

CANADIAN GOVERNMENT SENDS ITS CONDOLENCES

WASHINGTON, April 8.—(AP)—The Canadian government today expressed to the state department its condolences on the death of Warren Delano Robbins, United States minister to Ottawa.

Prime Minister R. B. Bennett sent a telegram to Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

(By C. J. P.)

Men's softball executive meets to-night at seven in Duffus', and all should be on hand. Important business in connection with the annual convention of the O.A.S.A. here a week from Friday. The Toronto Amateur Softball Association has appointed its delegates to Peterborough for that day. They are President Jack Adamson, Secon Vice-prexy C. Wilson, Secretary C. S. Miville and Past President Jack Turner. With the time rapidly approaching for this convention, the various leagues throughout Ontario are making plans for it and the local moguls will have their work cut out, too, for the next two weeks.

• • • • • •

The annual meeting of the P.W.S.U. will be held Sunday, April 14th, at 1.30 p.m. in the King Edward Hotel, Toronto. And the local Girls' Softball League will hold its annual meeting next Thursday at eight either in the Y.M.C.A. or Duffus'. Officers for the year will be elected, plans for the season made, and two delegates named and instructed for the P.W.S.U. session. Keene, Maple Leafs, Westclox and C.G.E. are almost sure starters again in this circuit, and no doubt several others will be represented Thursday. The C.G.E. lasses are re-organising at a meeting this eve.

• • • • • •

Max Swanston of Peterborough was elected to the executive of the O.B.A.A. in Kitchener Saturday, succeeding Bill Kay who withdrew his name. Ernie Gibbard of Napanee stood first in the vote for six members of the Association, with Max running third—a fine showing in his first attempt. So the east did very well by itself. Ernie didn't run for second vice-prexy. We took in the convention this year and there was quite a gang from here. Bill Kay, Max Swanston, Hugh Campbell, Clarence Neal and Mike O'Brien attended from this town with R. A. Elliott of Deloro also on this party. Newt Thompson, secretary of the C.O.B.L., was there along with several others from Belleville and Napanee. The east had a strong representation.

• • • • • •

It was an okay convention with a big crowd present, a successful meeting and a fine banquet. Premier Hepburn, Hon. Croll and Hon. Leduc were present at the feed and spoke. The Premier is quite a follower of sports and he showed plainly that it was a relief to talk to a bunch of sportsmen and forget politics for awhile. He said he was too old to play baseball but not yet old enough to take up golf! And he added that rugby was his favorite sport and especially rugby in St. Thomas. He told the gathering that politics and sports were alike in one respect, you had to be able to take your bumps in both and come up smiling. His talk, which was broadcast over the radio, drew a big hand.

• • • • • •

A flock of amendments to the O.B.A.A. constitution were passed or defeated at the long afternoon session Saturday. The dope appears elsewhere. There was considerable controversy over affiliating with the A.A.U. of C. and having amateur cards for all players compulsory. It was defeated and the O.B.A.A. will not require these two-bit cards. The eastern delegates to a man were against this affiliation. Jack Scott of Kitchener got to work on local men to have our King Edward school bantams play a sudden-death game this summer for the '34 title in Waterloo and promised a good guarantee, so something yet may be arranged in this respect. It was a good convention.

• • • • • •

We took in the hockey game in Toronto Saturday night and saw a bunch of local fans there. It will likely be the last puck tilt there this year as Maroons are favored to win out now in Montreal. After looking great in the first frame, the Leafs were smothered by the other squad which gave a fine performance in checking and taking advantage of the breaks. Some of the Toronto O.B.A.A. men told us that, while the Leafs are good, they have been the victims of super-advertising by Toronto papers all year and have come to regard themselves as unbeatable. And they say the Bruins were robbed of their series. And we heard Toronto fans ramming Toronto players repeatedly, especially Hay Day who, they claim, hasn't got past the blue line all winter. And Hainsworth was panned at times. These are just a few of the things you don't read in Toronto papers. But it was a swelegant scrap with lots of rough stuff and fighting. And Maroons look like Stanley Cup winners in Montreal.

• • • • • •

Baseball transfers affecting the C.O.B.L. the other day include McQuade, Compeau and Clancy from Brockville to Kingston; Jubenville from Kirkland Lake to Oshawa; Barclay from Toronto to Belleville; Gross from Napanee to Oshawa; and Ike Batten from Peterborough to Sudbury. A player named Lloyd Hussey was refused a transfer from Orillia to Lindsay. Doug Mays of Toronto was given permission to play in Oshawa but not till July 1st. And Lefty Innis of Toronto was held up for further inquiry before he can get his transfer to Oshawa. Seems he has done a lot of jumping around and was believed to have gone back to Toronto after working in Oshawa.

• • • • • •

The Oshawa club—to be known this year as Dominion Brewers—is peeved about Innis and Mays and has threatened to drop out of senior ball this summer. However, nothing is likely to come of it. They have a good club as it is and may get Innis okay at the next O.B.A.A. meeting. As for Mays, well they should consider themselves lucky as several members of the O.B.A.A. were against permitting him to play there at all this year, claiming he had quit a job in Toronto to take one in Oshawa for the ball season and that he could get work now in Toronto if he wanted it. However, he can play for Oshawa two-thirds of the season, so the Dukes de Brew shouldn't squawk.

• • • • • •

Grab-bag: Pigs' knuckles and kraut featured the German dinner at the baseball convention in Kitchener Saturday . . . . Alex Connell in Maroons' goal had much to do with beating the Leafs in Toronto Saturday eve, stopping over twice as many shots as Hainsworth . . . . Knotty Lee is busy working on a new score-card in Toronto now but will be down here in about a week . . . . Congrats to Murray St. Church who won the junior title of the Ladies' Cage Loop in the Y. W. Friday eve over Wolseley, 10-6; it must have been a thriller . . . . Around Toronto and Western Ontario, baseball men are saying the C.O.B.L. should be the strongest loop in the Province this year . . . . Reds beat Colts, 16-9, in the 'Y' Cage League semi-finals Saturday and a sudden-death final game between Reds and Argos will be staged at seven next Saturday.

Regent ENTERTAINMENT

Starting To-day
LAST COMPLETE SHOW STARTS AT 8.30
DOUBLE FEATURE PROGRAMME

FEATURE NO. 1

A small-time vaudeville trio living from hand to mouth hits the top of Hollywood — in this sparkling musical comedy-drama!

with
RUSS COLUMBO
singing 3 new songs;
ROGER PRYOR
JUNE KNIGHT
—in—
"WAKE UP and DREAM"

FEATURE NO. 2
A Vivid and Thrilling Story
"JEALOUSY"
With Nancy Carroll, Donald Cook

WOLVERINES AND MONTREAL IN 2-OUT-OF-THREE SERIES

Midnight Conference at Halifax Settles Dispute Regarding Eastern Canada Championship — Winner Will Meet Port Arthur in Allan Cup Finals.

By GEORGE C. MURRAY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

HALIFAX, April 8. (CP). — A midnight conference of amateur hockey rulers ended early to-day in a decision that Halifax Wolverines and Montreal Royals would play a two-of-three series for the eastern Canada championship and the right to enter the Allan Cup finals.

After Saturday's 3-3 overtime tie everybody in Halifax, including the referees, seemed to think to-night's battle would produce an opponent for Port Arthur Bearcats in the Canadian title series, it having been understood a point system was to be used allowing two points for a win and one for a draw, three points taking the round.

Agreement Reached

The uncertainty drove all concerned into a huddle last night with Vice-president Cecil Duncan and other officials of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association. Shortly after two o'clock this morning Vice-president Duncan announced the series is to be decided on a best two out of three games, which means in the event of a tie being played a third game is necessary.

Royals and Wolverines will play their third game Wednesday night. The opening clash Saturday failed to establish favorites although there was all the difference in the world between the two teams.

Stanley Cup Notes

(By Canadian Press.)

Conny Smythe, bustling boss of the Leafs, took the centre—or at least one wing—of the Stanley Cup scene on Saturday night by going after a spectator who protested loudly that the Leafs were not giving their all in the interests of beating Maroons.

The Leafs manager went after the spectator with both fists just behind the Toronto bench. When the struggle was over the spectator was escorted from the rink by two policemen. Red-faced and puffing, Smythe went back to the job of urging on the Leafs.

When the Toronto bombardment was heaviest in the first and second periods, Alex. Connell, hero of the piece, twice stopped play to fix a pad strap. "Smart," everybody said, "giving himself a rest." But Connell was able to show inquiring officials a loose strap.

A little later Horner spoiled his play-off no-penalty record when he boarded Gus Marker. The most penalized player in the National League had gone through four games with Boston and one with Maroons without being thumbed from the ice.

Buffalo To Continue In International Loop

PORT ERIE, Ont., April 8 (CP).—Mickey Roach, manager of Buffalo Bisons in the International Hockey League, said yesterday he believed Frank B. Baird, Jr., president of the Bisons would carry through his intention of withdrawing the Bisons from the league.

Roach said several buyers are ready to take over the club. He said he was sure new owners, if any, would move the club into a Buffalo rink instead of playing home games here.

VOLLEYBALL RESULTS

The 'Y' Volleyball League concluded Saturday in the Y.M.C.A. with Fitzgerald's team capturing honors. Dryland defeated Stanbury in the first playdown game with Graham then eliminating Dryland. In the other semi-final contest, Fitzgerald defeated Richardson. In finals, Fitzgerald won from Graham. Members of the winning team are: Captain M. A. Fitzgerald, S. J. Puttinham, Rev. C. D. Daniel, G. H. Roper, J. P. Reed and Stan Payne.

GENE SARAZEN LEADING FIELD

Former British Open Champ Holds 4 Stroke Advantage Over Wood.

IN OPENING ROUND.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 8.—(A.P.)—Gene Sarazen, former American and British open champion, shot super golf to-day to take a four-stroke lead over Craig Wood of Deal, N.J., on the first round of their 36-hole play-off for top money of $1,500 in the Augusta National Golf Club's invitation tournament. Sarazen carded a 71, one under par, while Wood lost control on the incoming nine and scored a 75.

The cards:

Par Out	454	343	454—36
Sarazen out..	344	344	354—35
Wood Out...	454	343	454—36
Par in	443	345	344—36—72
Sarazen in ..	343	345	344—35—71
Wood in	454	445	344—36—75

TWO LADS HELD AFTER HOLD-UP

Toronto Druggist Overpowers Young Gunmen in Struggle.

CUSTOMER CALLS POLICE.

TORONTO, April 8. —(C.P.) — Albert Elson, 17, and Thomas Christie, 16, arrested after a hold-up struggle last night in which a druggist was shot in left leg and slugged over one eye, were refused bail when they appeared in police magistrate's court to-day. They were not asked to plead or elect trial. Both are held on charges of shooting with intent to maim and attempted robbery.

Arthur Marshall, the druggist who resisted when a young man pointed a gun at him was in the hospital to-day. After a scuffle in the Summerville avenue store, the owner got the lad down and sat on him until a customer came in and telephoned for police.

Job Printing PROMPTLY DONE

Playoff Statistics

(By The Canadian Press)
STANLEY CUP FINAL)
(Three out of five games)

	P.	W.	L.	F.	A.
Montreal	2	2	0	6	3
Toronto	2	0	2	3	6

INDIVIDUAL SCORERS

	G.	A.	Pts.	Pen. in Min.
C. Conacher, Tor.	1	4	5	6
H. Jackson, Tor..	3	1	4	4
Patrick, Rangers.	2	2	4	0
Robinson, Mont. .	2	2	4	0
Blinco, Montreal.	2	2	4	2
Northcott, Mont..	3	0	3	0
Dillon, Rangers ..	2	1	3	0
Keeling Rangers.	2	1	3	0
Trottier, Mont. .	2	1	3	4
Wentworth, Mont.	2	1	3	0
Primeau, Toronto	0	3	3	0
W. Cook, Rang...	1	2	3	12
Kelly, Toronto ..	2	0	2	2
McGill, Cana. ...	2	0	2	0
F. Cook, Rang....	2	0	2	0
Metz, Toronto ...	1	1	2	0
Finnigan, Tor. ...	1	1	2	2
Gracie, Montreal.	0	2	2	2
Boucher, Rangers	0	2	2	0
Murdoch, Rang. .	0	2	2	4
Bettle, Boston ...	1	0	1	2
Clapper, Boston .	1	0	1	0
Goldsworthy, Can.	1	0	1	0
Joliat, Canadiens.	1	0	1	0
Jenkins, Cana. ...	1	0	1	0
Thoms, Toronto .	1	0	1	0
Connolly, Rang. .	1	0	1	0
Cain, Montreal ..	1	0	1	2
Clancy, Toronto..	1	0	1	8
Shore, Boston ...	0	1	1	2
Mason, Rangers .	0	1	1	0
Crutchfield, Cana.	0	1	1	x
Riley, Canadiens.	0	1	1	0
Mondou, Cana. ..	0	1	1	0
Smith, Maroons .	0	1	1	14
Marker, Maroons.	0	1	1	4
Horner, Toronto .	0	1	1	2
Stewart, Boston .	0	1	1	0
Heller, Rangers ..	0	1	1	4
Shields, Maroons.	0	1	1	6

x—Match penalty.

Penalties

Seventeen minutes—Cotton, Toronto.

Twelve minutes — L. Conacher, Montreal.

Nine minutes—O'Neil, Boston.

Eight minutes—Evans, Montreal.

Six minutes—Seibert, Rangers; Hollett, Toronto; Siebert, Boston.

Five minutes—Couture, Chicago.

Four minutes — Barry, Boston; Carson, Canadiens; George Mantha, Canadiens; Kilrea, Toronto.

Two minutes—T. Cook, Chicago; Weibe, Chicago; Burke, Chicago; Gagnon, Canadiens; G. Mantha, Canadiens; Somers, Rangers; Shore, Boston; Shannon, McInenly, Boston; Coulter, Chicago; Johnson, Rangers; Starr, Rangers; Day, Toronto; Blair, Toronto.

A BRAVE NUN.

SKOWHEGAN, Me., April 8.—(C.P.)—A nun at the Ursuline convent here grappled early Sunday with a thief who entered the chapel but failed to prevent him from getting away with a ciborium, valued at $100.

Awakened by sound of the thief's entrance, the nun grappled with the man, but he shook himself free

Schriner Gets 5 Goals Alberta Nationals Win

CALGARY, April 8 (C.P.).—Their hockey appetites not satisfied, Alberian performers in the National Hockey League have lined up a team and to-day awaited a reply to a challenge flung at the winner of the Vancouver Lions-Detroit Olympics series now in progress at Vancouver.

Saturday night at Olds, Alta., the "Nationals" defeated Calgary pros., a team that stepped out of the Northwestern Hockey League, 11-8. Led by Dave "Sweeney" Schriner, chosen outstanding rookie in the N.H.L., who scored five goals, the major leaguers had little difficulty trouncing the Calgary team which was bolstered by players from the Canadian-American and International Hockey Leagues.

MAIL MANAGER ILL.

TORONTO, April 8 (C.P.).—William A. Peacey treasurer and business manager of the Mail Printing Company, publishers of the Mail and Empire, is seriously ill. He showed slight improvement to-day and his chances for recovery are considered good by his physicians. Mr. Peacey's appendix burst before an emergency operation could be performed.

Cambridge Again Victors In Historic College Boat Race

Here are the Cambridge University crew who defeated Oxford for the twelfth time in succession in the annual renewal of the classic boat race. The light blue crew got away slightly behind the heavier Oxford oarsmen, but rapidly pulled to the front and stayed there. The time was 19 minutes and 48 seconds, much slower than the record. The winning crew, above, are: J. N. Duckworth, coxswain; E. Gallwey, stroke; A. D. Kingsford, No. 7; W. G. R. M. Laurie, No. 6; J. R. Y. Wilson, No. 5; M. P. Lennox, No. 4; D. G. Kingsford, No. 3; J. H. C. Powell, No. 2; and T. R. M. Brislow, bow. They are pulling up the Thames course at Mortlake.

Little Sister

by Margaret Widdemer

(Continued from Saturday)

CHAPTER 55

At last the speeches were done. Mrs. Johnston-Hedges dismissed the party to dancing with her blessing. The manor orchestra blared sweetly into its best known waltz; the waiters began to remove cloths and trestles; the banqueters were swept out to survey the grounds for ten minutes while the ballroom was turned back to its original use. Orton came up to Leila, as in duty bound, and they paced the cement terrace for a moment in the moonlight. It was a gorgeous autumn night; it had that feel of stimulation in the air which makes autumn more seductive, more heart-pulling than spring to such people as love it. There was a great yellowish moon; the salt air swept up from the shore, just fresh enough. There was an under-scent of burning leaves; it was a night for lovers.

And here was the lover. He put a hand under her arm as they strolled among the others, and said, "Good dinner, what? No trouble now about the October meeting!"

"I wish she'd told me more about it," Leila said inadequately.

"Well, of course, for the matter of that, I told her the same thing. But she said she was used to playing a lone hand, and she was afraid you might mix things up. You know, dear, you are a little forthright and enthusiastic. Bet says you lay the law down to her a good deal."

"Why, I've scarcely seen her lately!"

"That's true. . . . Well, I certainly admire DeFries and Addison. They have done a good piece of work."

"Jerry Redmond got DeFries and hunted up Mr. Huntingdon, and did practically everything," said Leila unwisely.

"Oh, that man! You know, I hate to think about him. You have always trusted him too much, dear. That doesn't matter, of course, because you have somebody to advise you, and it isn't likely our paths will cross. But it's poor little Mary that worries me."

"Mary never seemed to me," said Leila as gently as she could, "entirely helpless."

He brightened.

"You're right, Leila. Trust a woman to know another woman. Mary's capable, after all — such a charmin' feminine little thing you forget it. But at heart, as she tells me people say to her, 'the most wonderful combination of cleverness and charm you can imagine.' . . . Poor little Mary. Well, she'll handle Redmond, if anybody can, but I'd like to see the thing broken off. Perhaps if you talked to her it might help."

"No more than if Jane barked at her!" said Leila with one of her accesses of forthrightness — unwisely, as it appeared.

He swept her inside, for the dancing was beginning. They danced well together; they had danced together for a good many years, off and on, beginning in dancing school.

"Speaking of dogs, reminds me," he said a little perkily, and gazing over her head as they circled the room, which was filling up now. "You remember we agreed to get George Haskins to take over the complete charge of your dogs. We can trust him for pretty well everything. He can even manage showin' when you and I are off somewhere else. When we're here, of course, we'll do it in person. We'll be just in time, when we get back from some fox huntin' in Virginia. Mary introduced me to a fellow from Virginia. We're goin' there after we come back from yachtin'. I told you, didn't I, that Bill Piersley was loanin' me his yacht? We might get one. Best place in the world for a honeymoon, the bridegroom can't get away! That's what Bill said—ha, ha! And, by the way, I've promised the Virginia fellow your Jane pup — at a price, that is, of course."

Jane! Jane, her sole comfort? Jane, who had seen her through all her trouble? Jane, her own private adored dog?

"I knew," said Orton, perhaps a trifle uneasy, "that you wouldn't mind, darling. It makes a difference to me. You see Lee, that's Mary's Virginia pal, is strainin' a point about a hunter that I wanted from him, practically promised to another fellow. He saw Jane — likes Scotties. I showed him our dogs — Jane tipped the balance."

He paused, a little proud of his shrewdness. Leila wished numbly, irrelevantly, that he would drop all of his g's or none. You never knew when he was going to do it. . . . It was going to make married life doubly hard, never knowing about those g's. . . .

Married life. . . .

Suddenly through this desert of hopelessness and detached scattered thoughts crashed an idea; a joyful, wonderful idea.

This last complacent outrage didn't have to be borne at all!

She could never be happy again, or perhaps not for a good many years, when it wouldn't much matter after all, because Mary Martin, in addition to all Orton's admiration and approval, possessed Jerry Redmond.

But she didn't have to be actively miserable. She needn't spend the rest of her life out in the great world as a bored adjunct to the huntin', yachtin', polo, and social pinnacles of the prince of Fernwood Manor. Idiot that she had been! Here she had been sitting through Addison's banquet, cross in a silly childish way because she and Jerry had done most of the work of dragging Bet and Addison back to virtue and responsible behavior, and got none of the credit. And it had never dawned on her dulled mind till this moment that the process freed her! She could keep her kennels. She could keep her own soul and her own existence. She could keep her own Jane, that piece of turbulent black devotion. She wouldn't have to spend the rest of her life trailing through a pageant of Orton Johnston-Hedges' devising. Nobody needed her. She was free. The Johnston-Hedges hadn't been noble souls who were doing everything for the Madisons; they had been cool-headed selfish people who did what was best for themselves. She didn't owe them a thing. Not Mrs. Johnston-Hedges. Not — oh, heavenly thought! — Orton!

"Listen to me, Orton Johnston-Hedges," she said in the low clear tone she had used when they were children together and she was about to send him out of her yard. He removed his eyes from following the dull-red velvet that had Mary Martin inside, circling at a distance in somebody's arms, and looked down at his bride-to-be. "You aren't going to trade in my pet dog for a social step up in the Virginia fox hunting set. She happens to belong to me. So do my kennels. So do I. And I'm going to stay belonging to me."

He gasped but went on dancing. To the rhythm of "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" she informed him, "There isn't a thing in the life you live, Orton, that I care a hoot in Hades for. I'm a free woman and my dog is a free dog. Hunt and yacht and polo your way into every smart set in the two hemispheres that Mary Martin can tell you about; you won't do it with me chained to mind! Here's your ring."

(To be continued.)

The saying that a cat has nine lives is very old. It was proverbial long before Shakespeare's day.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

HOTEL WAVERLEY COMFORTABLE
CONVENIENT MODERN
WRITE FOR FOLDER

District Markets

AT DOWNEYVILLE

DOWNEYVILLE, April 8. (Examiner Correspondence)—Following are the week-end retail market prices:

Butter, creamery, 29c; dairy, 26c. Eggs, fresh, 11-13c. Chickens, 20c. Potatoes, 50c a bag.

Livestock and grain prices are: Cattle, selects, 4-5c a pound; common butchers, 2½-3c. Hogs, live, thick smooth, $7.50 cwt.; select graded, $8.50 cwt.; dressed, head on, $11 cwt.; head off, $12 cwt.

Oats, 34c a bushel; wheat, $1 a bushel; barley, 62c a bushel. Hay, $14 a ton. Baled hay, $16 a ton.

Remarks: Buckwheat, 44c per bushel; honey, 13c per lb.; steak, 18c-24c per lb.; veal, 15c-20c per lb.; Maple syrup, $2 a gallon.

AT BAILIEBORO

BAILIEBORO, April 8, (Examiner Correspondence).—Following are the week-end retail market prices:

Beef, sirloin, 25c; round, 18c; roast, 15c; stew, 12c. Veal, 18c. Pork, 17c. Breakfast bacon, 30c. Butter, creamery, 25c; dairy, 24c. Eggs, fresh, 15c; storage, 10c. Chickens, 20c; stewing fowl, 15c. Potatoes, 60c a bag.

Livestock and grain prices are: Cattle, selects, 6c a pound; common butchers, 4½c. Hogs, live, thick smooth, $7.75 cwt.; select graded, $8.25 cwt.

Oats, 35c a bushel; wheat, $1 a bushel; barley, 60c a bushel. Hay, $17 a ton. Buckwheat, 45c a bushel. Alsike $18 to $21 per bushel; Timothy seed $1 per bushel; Red clover, $18 to $21 a bushel. Small pigs, $9 a pair.

AT ENNISMORE

ENNISMORE, April 8. (Examiner Correspondence). — Following are the week-end market prices:

Beef, sirloin, 18c; round, 16c; roast, 10-18c; stew, 8 to 10c. Veal, 25c. Pork, 20c. Lamb, 25c. Breakfast bacon, 20c. Butter, creamery, 25c; dairy, 22c. Eggs, fresh, 15c. Chickens, 20c; stewing fowl, 18c. Potatoes, 60c a bag.

Livestock and grain prices are: Cattle, selects, 4½c a pound; common butchers, 3c. Hogs, live, thick smooth, $7.75 cwt.; select graded, $8.75 cwt.; dressed, head on, $13 cwt.; head off, $14 cwt.

Oats, 40c a bushel; wheat, 90c a bushel; barley, 70c a bushel. Hay $14 a ton. Buckwheat, 50c a bushel.

AT MADOC

MADOC, April 8. (Examiner Correspondence). — Following are the retail market prices:

Butter, creamery, 30c; dairy, 25c. Eggs, fresh, 14c. Chickens, 15c. Potatoes, 65c a bag.

Livestock and grain prices are: Hogs, dressed head, on, $11 cwt.; head off, $12 cwt.

Oats 35c a bushel. Hay, $14 a ton.

Maple syrup, $1.50 per gallon; maple sugar, small cakes, 5c.

A MARMORA

MARMORA, April 8. (Examiner Correspondence). — Following are the week-end retail market prices:

Butter creamery, 30c; dairy, 25c. Eggs, fresh, 15c. Chickens, 18c; Potatoes, 60c a bag.

Oats, 45c a bushel; wheat, $1 a bushel; barley, 65c a bushel. Hay, $15 a ton.

AT TRENT RIVER

TRENT RIVER, April 8. (Examiner Correspondence). — Following are the week-end retail market prices:

Beef, sirloin, 16c; round, 15c; roast, 10-18c. Pork, 13c. Breakfast bacon, 32c. Butter, creamery, 27c; dairy, 25c. Eggs, fresh, 15c. Chickens, 20c.

Livestock and grain prices are: Cattle, common butchers, 3c. Hogs, live, thick smooth, $7.50 cwt.; select graded, $8.50 cwt.

Oats, 40c a bushel; wheat, $1 a bushel; barley, 65c a bushel. Hay, $15-$16 a ton.

Buckwheat, 50c. Fresh maple syrup, $1.50 to $2 per gallon.

Heavy snow has ended the worst drought in the Canterbury district of New Zeland in 40 years.

Answer to previous puzzle

C	R	A	B	S		W	A	I	T	S
H	E	L	O	T		A	N	N	O	Y
O	F		Y	E	A	R	N		O	L
S	E	A		E	W	E		A	L	P
E	R	G	A	L		S	L	A	S	H
		I	N				O	R
H	A	L	T	S		S	T	O	W	S
A	L	E		T	O	T		N	I	L
L	L		T	O	N	E	S		N	E
T	O	W	E	R		M	O	L	D	Y
S	T	O	N	E		S	L	A	Y	S

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

FOR TUESDAY, APRIL 9

By Genevieve Kemble

Some definite progress and stabilization of the fortunes may be foretold from the prevailing rule of the actuating planets, but there may be treachery, deceit and subtlety to guard against. There is need of precaution in the signing of all writings and documents as well as in minor financial affairs.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year in which there may be a definite shaping of the fortunes, with increased possessions and a substantial return for steadfastness, merit and fidelity in labor or industry.

A child born on this day may be industrious, skilful, and original, but prone to gain its ends by crafty or shrewd ways.

NEW FIRE HEADQUARTERS.

LONDON.—(C.P.) — New headquarters for the London fire brigade are to be provided at a cost of $2,645,000, a site on the Albert Embankment being available for the purpose.

COUPLE HONORED ON ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Howden Celebrate Silver Wedding Anniversary.

FOWLER'S CORNERS, April 8.—(Examiner Correspondence). — Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Howden were agreeably surprised by about one hundred and twenty-five friends and relatives on Thursday evening, when they gathered to celebrate with them their silver wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Howden, who have kept the general store at Fowler's Corners for the past eleven years, were married on April 4, 1910, at Ridgetown, Kent County, by the Rev. A. J. Langford. Mrs. Howden was formerly Miss Lillian Brien.

During the evening the presentation was made of a handsome cabinet of silver in a service for eight on behalf of the gathering. A very appropriate address, prepared by Mrs. I. Magee, of Peterborough, sister of Mr. Howden, was read by Clinton Magee, and the presentations made by Torrence Robertson and William Howden. Other gifts received by the bride and groom of twenty-five years included a lovely silver basket, silver salt and pepper shakers and a lovely bouquet of flowers, the latter the gift of their son and daughter, Garnett and Helen.

Everett Mitchell, of Lindsay, acted as chairman for a very enjoyable program, which included the following: Musical selection, W. Todd and Miss Jean Todd, of Millbrook; reading, Miss Thelma Bailey; solo, Miss Jean Robertson, piano solo, W. Potter; reading, Miss Helen Andrew; solo, Miss Doreen Magee; piano solo, Miss Isabel Taylor; solo, Kenneth Thurston; musical number, Mr. Potter; solo, Miss D. Magee; selection, Mr. and Miss Todd.

Following the program, social intercourse was enjoyed and refreshments served to the guests.

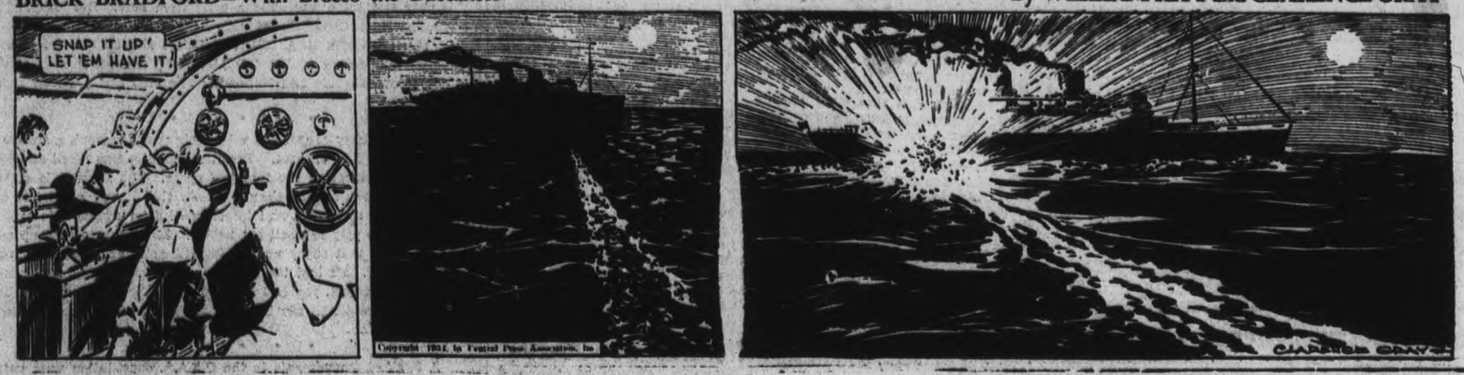
Thieves have robbed the home of H. Ashley, Hendon, England, four times in three years.

BUILD UP THE BLOOD

YOU lose vital nerve force if you allow your stomach to distress you. When nervous and rundown and in need of a blood tonic—when you're anemic, weight below normal, and you feel tired-out and weak, follow the advice of Mr. G. W. Vollick of 14 Poulette St., Hamilton, Ont. He said: "I have found Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to be the best tonic to build up a weak and rundown system. It also regulated my digestion, increased my appetite and added strength and weight to my body." All druggists.

New size, tablets 50 cts., liquid $1.00. Large size, tablets or liquid, $1.35.

BRICK BRADFORD—With Brocco the Buccaneer — By WILLIAM RITT and CLARENCE GRAY



MUGGS McGINNIS — Argument — By WALLY BISHOP

HIGH PRESSURE PETE — Please Omit Flowers — By GEORGE SWAN

THE TUTTS — By Crawford Young

TILLIE THE TOILER — By Russ Westover

BRINGING UP FATHER — By George McManus

For Quick Results Use An Examiner Want. Ad.

WANT AD. RATES

Cash 1 Cent per Word or Figure per Insertion.
Minimum Charge, 25c for Any Advt.
If Charged 1½ cent per word or figure per insertion.
Phone We will call for your ad and give you the cash rate. 1600

CHARGES:

Card of Thanks	50c
In Memoriam (up to 8 inches)	75c
Over 8 inches, per inch	50c
With black border, extra	25c
Birth Notice	50c
Death Notice	50c
Locals (Back Page), per inch	$1.00
Stock Locals (Back Page), inch	$1.40

Index to Examiner Classified Want Advts.

Agents Wanted L
Boarders Wanted ..... F
Business Opportunities ..... K
Chiropractor ..... U
Cottages, Summer Resorts ..... E
Dressmaking ..... U
Employment Wanted ..... J
Female Help Wanted ..... H
Found ..... M
For Rent—General C
For Sale—General ..... A
General Notice ..... Z
Help Wanted—Male or Female ..... G
Lost ..... M
Male Help Wanted ..... G
Personal ..... Z
Pet Stock ..... W
Poultry for Sale, and Eggs ..... P
Radio ..... T
Real Estate ..... D
Salesmen Wanted ..... G
Situations Vacant ..... J
To Rent—Houses and Apartments ..... B
Used Cars for Sale ..... S
Wanted—General ..... Q
Live Stock ..... O

a For Sale—General

DON'T MAKE FRIENDS WITH SORE feet. Use Cross Corn or Bunion Salves. At all Peterborough Drug Stores.

POTATOES FOR SALE, 40c A BAG. 'Phone 1600. 3d-86-158A

BLUE ENGLISH PRAM. APPLY 32 Lafayette. 2d-86-156A

18 SPECIALLY MADE COLLAPSIBLE Bridge Tables, 6 Dozen Duplicate Boards, Baby Carriage, Play Pen. 'Phone 948. 3d-86-155A

SAND SPRING COAT, SILK-LINED, size 18; cheap; 488 Rogers Street. 2d-81-141A

USED VACUUM CLEANER MARKET. Rebuilt Cleaners, $12.50 up. Sealy Westair Service, 'Phone 2000. 6d-3,14,15,21,22,28,1,7-2150A

RENNIE SEEDS, CLOVERS, TIMOthy, Turnips, Mangels, Corn, etc. Sold only by Ernest C. Ireland, 718 George Street. 12d-3,5,10,12,15,17,20,22,24,26,29,1-2021A

NO. 1 MIXED WOOD, $7 PER CORD, 12". Body Hardwood, 4', $8 per Cord. 'Phone 2097. 2d-85-206A

SODA FOUNTAIN, COMPLETE WITH many Accessories; also 5 Lb. Confectioners' Computing Scale, good as new. Will be sold cheap. R. A. Dean, Norwood. 2d-86-215D

QUANTITY BRICK. 'PHONE 2097. 2d-85-206A

CLOTHES REEL, LARGE SIZE; GAS Water Heater, cheap. 'Phone 728W. 2d-85-106A

TOP BUGGY. APPLY 69 LEE. 2d-85-106A

21 O.A.C. BARLEY, 72 O.A.C. OATS. 'Phone Keene 19 ring 15. 3d-85-104A

180-EGG INCUBATOR AND BROODer, new. 'Phone 2120W. 2d-85-103A

10 - QUART HOBART CAKE Machine, Meat Slicer. Call 1663, Alex Player Piano. 6d-84-206IA

TRY OUR $3 LOAD OF FIRE OR Hardwood Slabs. Baker's Wood Yard. 'Phone 2076. 12d-80-2026A

CERTIFIED SEED POTATOES — Irish Cobblers, Green Mountains, Belmont Farms, Newcastle, Ont. 12d-84-2702A

DOLLAR LOADS — SLABS, MIXED Wood. 'Phone 86. 7d-85-2026A

$1.75 QUARTER CORD, DRY MIXED Wood. Albion. 'Phone 83. 2d-87-2006A

LOAD MIXED WOOD, 90% HARDwood, $2.25. Fulkingborn, 'Phone 276. 6d-85-1000A

COMMODE CHAIR FOR SALE. 570 Gilchrist Street. 2d-84-66A

ELECTRIC SCALES, ONE 24-LB., ONE 20-Lb., International Business Machine Scales, good condition. 'Phone 254. 3d-84-2020A

AMERICAN BANNER SEED OATS, grown from Registered Seed; good yielders. Also Barley. Reg. Pearson, Lakefield, 549 ring 31. 3d-84-74A

DINING-ROOM SUITE, COMBINAtion Range, Parlor Furniture, 618 Chamberlain. 2d-84-69A

LLOYD WICKER BABY CARRIAGE, good condition. 'Phone 20163. 2d-84-62A

b For Rent—Houses and Apartments

HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, HEATED; central. 106 McDonnel. 3d-85-101B

MODERN APARTMENT, NEAR C.G.E. 'Phone 12383. 2d-85-120B

CLEAN, COMFORTABLE SLEEPING Rooms, $1.50 to $2.50 per Week. Apply 575½ Water Street, Apartment 1. 2d-85-106B

THREE UNFURNISHED ROOMS. Elderly Couple preferred; gas. 472 Park. 2d-86-175B

NICE COMFORTABLE HOUSE. APPLY 380 George. 'Phone 260J. 2d-86-171B

HOUSE, NO. 838 RUBIDGE STREET; hot water heating. Possession can be arranged. Apply 437 (Rear) Street. d1f-8344B

FOR RENT — PREMISES NO 321 Water Street, suitable for Store or Office (heated). Apply 321 George Street. d2f-8161B

FOUR-ROOMED UPPER APARTment; full plumbing; adults. Moderate rent. Vacant 1st May. 155 Stewart. 3d-84-62B

ROOMS, FURNISHED, UNFURNISHed, with gas, heated; lights, water paid. Rent reasonable. 196 Aylmer. 2d-84-52B

FIVE-ROOMED HOUSE, TWELVE Dollars. 'Phone Frank Peters. 2d-84-58B

FURNISHED APARTMENT, HEATED, hot water. Upstairs. 160 Brock. 2d-84-80B

SIX-ROOM APARTMENT. IMMEDIate possession. 527 Downie. 'Phone 1141J. 3d-84-97B

COTTAGE, FURNACE, CONVENIences, garage. Apply 437 Elm. 3d-85-128B

TWO UNFURNISHED ROOMS, HARDwood floors. 1288J. 784 George Street. 3d-85-126B

HOUSES. 'PHONE 1796. 10d-82-120B

MODERN 8-ROOM APARTMENT, HOT water heating. 'Phone 2625. 3d-86-160B

TWO FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHed Rooms, suitable for Light Housekeeping. Apply 217 Rubidge Street. 3d-85-171B

BRIGHT! $16.00 COMFORTABLE Small House, plumbing, adults; central. Apply 293 Dalhousie Street. 'Phone 273. 4d-87-165B

c For Rent—General

NORTH HALF LOT 1, CONCESSION 5, Ennismore. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street. d1f-10300

STORE, NO. 173½ SIMCOE STREET. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street. d1f-13970

GARAGE TO RENT — CONVENIENT to Downtown Offices and Stores. Apply 437 George Street. d1f-10920

MOVING AND STORAGE.

SHORT DISTANCES OR ANYWHERE in Canada or United States. Covered, Padded Vans. Experienced courteous Men. Apply, full particulars. M. Hawkinson, Limited, 610 Yonge Street, Toronto. d1f-8929

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

FOR SALE — TO WIND UP ESTATE, 5-Roomed House, central. Will sell cheap for cash. Apply 800 Monaghan Road. 3d-84-95D

BRICK HOUSE, LARGE GARDEN and barn, 292 Woodbine Avenue. Apply Fred Revoy. 6d-85-81D

50 ACRES, LOT 12, CONCESSION 5, Douro, for Sale. Good House and Barn. Immediate possession. Apply 175 Albertus Street. 3d-86-145D

f Boarders Wanted

FURNISHED FRONT ROOM, WITH Board, One or Two Gentlemen, 356 Stewart. 'Phone 6943. 3d-84-65F

ROOM AND BOARD FOR TWO GENtlemen, central; reasonable. 'Phone 2594F. 2d-85-156F

RESPECTABLE YOUNG COUPLE TO Board in private home; wife may help with work for her Board. 'Phone 579. 2d-84-114F

FURNISHED ROOMS, WITH BOARD Private home. 'Phone 1647F. 3d-84-91F

g Help Wanted, Male

EXPERIENCED FARM HAND. APPLY W. Webster, Route 7, Lot 22 Concession 6. 2d-84-116G

WANTED—AT ONCE, EXPERIENCED Farm Hand. Write Box 801, Examiner. 2d-85-301G

MEN'S FOOTWEAR AGENTS WRITE Box 109, Examiner. 3d-85-109G

RELIABLE YOUNG MEN TO TAKE up Electric Refrigeration and Air Conditioning. Prefer Men now employed and mechanically inclined, with fair education and willing to train spare time to become Experts in Installation and Service Work. Write, giving age, 'phone, present occupation, to Box 78, Examiner. 2d-86-78G

EXPERIENCED FARM HAND. WRITE Box 129, Examiner. 3d-85-153G

h Help Wanted, Female

WANTED — CAPABLE GENERAL. Apply 380 Park Street. 3d-84-85H

YOUNG GIRL OR WOMAN FOR General Housework, in Country home. Apply 406 Sheridan. 2d-85-144H

YOUNG GIRL WANTED TO HELP with Housework and mind children from One to Five-thirty each day, for Two Dollars a week. Write Box 167, Examiner. 1d-86-167H

j Employment Wanted

SMART CANADIAN WOMAN DEsires Work by Day. Write Box 50, Examiner. 3d-84-58J

WINDOW CLEANING. J. FOSTER. 'Phone 777. Storms taken down. 6d-80-168J

YOUNG LADY DESIRES POSITION. 161 Hart Avenue. 3d-85-103J

WINDOW CLEANING— STORM WINdows taken off. 'Phone 2253. 3d-85-185J

WOULD CARE FOR ELDERLY People, Practical Nurse or Housekeeper for Widower. Write Box 155, Examiner. 3d-85-194J

m Lost

REWARD — BROWN SPANIEL, TAG No. 19. Curly hair, long tail. Kingan Hardware Company. 2d-84-111M

TIRE CHAIN, BETWEEN BENSPORT Bridge and Peterborough. Kindly leave at Examiner. 2d-84-1.0M

BANK OF NOVA SCOTIA CHEQUE and $10 Bill, between Chemong and Market or on George Street. Finder please notify Examiner. Reward. 1d-84-146M

LIVESTOCK FOR SALE

TEAM OF HORSES, HARNESS AND Wagon, for Sale, or Exchange for Wood Lot. Apply 249 Euclid Avenue. 3d-84-66O

FOR SALE — HEAVY TEAM WELL matched. Apply Frank McFadden, Apsley. 3d-84-90O

FIRST-CLASS, YOUNG, SOUND, Black Mare, make good Brood Mare. Write Box 161, Examiner. 3d-86-151O

AGED BROWN MARE, 1,500 LBS.; Bay Horse, General Purpose. J. Armstrong, Concession 5, Otonabee. 'Phone Keene 21 ring 13. 3d-86-146O

FOR SALE — 3 DURHAM STEERS, rising 2 years; 3 Fat Cows; also Quantity Seed Barley. William J. Whibbs, 'Phone 3 ring 1-1, Douro. 2d-85-176O

POULTRY FOR SALE

SPECIAL PRICES PAID FOR LIVE Poultry. Gichman. 'Phone 2475W 2d-86-2007P

CUSTOM HATCHING — BARRED Rock Breeding Cockerels. A. E. Fletcher, 'Phone 17 ring 5, Keene 2d-84-151OP

MASTER CHICK STARTER—GROWS Chicks that bring you Profits. J. A. Fair, 1191W. 6d-84-2007P

BLACK GIANT EGGS FOR HATCHing, 25c per Dozen; also 3-weeks-old Leghorn Roosters. Harold Dawson, Route Haven, Peterborough. 2d-8,10,12-142P

1,000 BIG, STRONG, MARCH-HATCHed Leghorn Cockerels, $5.00 per 100 at 3 weeks. Reduction on large orders. G. A. Brethen, Norwood, Ont. 2d-85-146P

BUYING REPORT READY TUESDAY

Setting Up of Federal Trade and Industries Commission One of Key Suggestions.

ONE MEMBER DISAGREES.

OTTAWA, April 8 (C.P.).—Establishment of a Federal Trade and Industries Commission, with wide powers of regulation and control, is one of the key recommendations of the Royal Commissin on Mass Buying which to-morrow will place its majority and minority reports in the hands of Hon. R. B. Hanson, Minister of Trade and Commerce.

The majority report, it is understood, is signed by all members of the commission with the exception of E. J. Young, Liberal member for Weyburn, who has submitted a report of his own. The three other Liberal members of the Commission, J. L. Ilsley (Hants-Kings), Sam Factor (Toronto West Centre), and Oscar Boulanger (Bellechasse), signed the main report, but made a number of reservations to certain of its recommendations.

The recommendation for a Federal trade and industry commission meets with the approval of all members of the commission with the exception of Mr. Young, it is understood.

It would deal with monopolies, prevent unfair discounts and rebates, proceed in cases of false advertising and handle any action which might be necessary to enforce the Combines Act.

Appointment of a livestock commission and placing the fishing industry under the Natural Products Marketing Act are two recommendations of the main report. The Federal Trade Commission, according to recommendations, would be given power to scrutinize carefully the issue of securities by companies seeking incorporation.

q Wanted

OLD GOLD WANTED. PHILLIPS' Laboratories, 406½ George (opposite Loch's). 12d-104-306Q

REFINED ELDERLY LADY WANTS Unfurnished Rooms with Elderly Couple, Lower Flat preferred. Write Box 96, Examiner. 2d-85-98Q

WANTED — MAN'S SUIT, SIZE 38. Write Box 174, Examiner. 3d-86-174Q

WANTED— JOB, CAN PUT UP TWO or Three Hundred cash. Write Box 180, Examiner. 3d-86-80Q

WANTED — YOUNG BUSINESS MAN desires Room with Breakfast and Supper for 5 Days a Week. State charge. Write Box 304, Examiner. 2d-84-104Q

WANTED — STORE HOGS, 80 TO 100 Lbs. 'Phone 2469M. 3d-85-117Q

LIVE POULTRY. PAY SPECIAL Prices. Florence. 'Phone 2575J 28d-105-10010Q

WANTED — WICKER STROLLER, IN good condition. 'Phone 3587J 3d-84-61Q

WANTED— STORE REFRIGERATOR, House Refrigerator. Write Box 12, Examiner. 3d-84-12Q

WOOD TO SAW BY MACHINE. 'Phone 2409. 6d-84-2026Q

WANTED — LARGE SIZE TRICYCLE, in good condition. 309 Aylmer. 3d-85-127Q

REFINED CAPABLE HOUSEKEEPER for Two Adults; good home. Apply for Two Adults; good home. Write Box 159, Examiner. 3d-86-159Q

WANTED — TO RENT, SIX-ROOMED House, all conveniences (Easy City preferred). Write, stating particulars, to Box 162, Examiner. 2d-85-162Q

s Used Cars for Sale

STAR SEDAN, SPLENDID CONDItion, reasonable. Walter Hubbel, Hastings. 3d-84-73S

PONTIAC SPECIAL SEDAN, PRIvately owned, small mileage. Sell cheap. Apply 247 Prince Street. 3d-85-178S

'32 FORD ROADSTER, SMALL MILEage. 'Phone 1272. 3d-84-86S

OLDSMOBILE, 1929 COACH, GOOD appearance and good condition. Bargain for cash. Telephone 182 for further particulars. 2d-84-94S

HUDSON SUPER SIX, PRIVATELY owned, splendid condition. Apply Mrs. Percy Borland, 365 Reid. 2d-84-99S

FOR SALE — NASH COUPE '29, SELL or Exchange for Four-cylinder Closed Car. Apply 505 Bolivar Street. 3d-86-150S

FOR SALE — PONTIAC SPORT Coupe, rumble seat, five tires. H. Walker, 774 George Street. 3d-86-170S

v Situations Vacant

YOUNG MAN (24), NEAT APPEARance, with Car, desires Work of any kind. Complete Commercial and Academic Education. Experienced in selling. 1114W. 2d-85-175V

PAINTING & PAPERHANGING

EXPERIENCED PAPERHANGERS, Painters, and Grainers. We Guarantee Satisfaction. Ask to see Sunworthy Wallpapers, from 10c Roll up. William Keller & Son. 'Phone 2661. 3d-86-18P

SALES AGENTS WANTED.

REPRESENTATIVE FOR HIGH PEOple Specialty. Write Anglo-American, Federal Building, Toronto. 1d-84-7S

x Help Wanted—Male or Female

SMART BOY OR GIRL TO WORK IN Store in Town outside Peterborough. Apply Box 232, Examiner. 3d-84-232X

Week-End Deaths

(By Canadian Press.)

New York. — Warren Delano Robbins, 50, United States Minister to Canada.

New York. — Edwin Arlington Robinson, 65, thrice winner of the Pulitzer Prize and honored as the "foremost living poet in the United States."

St. Albans, Vt.—Edward Curtis Smith, 81, former Vermont Governor and director of the Central Vermont Railroad.

Ottawa.— William Henry Kirby, 62, sales manager for Grant, Holden & Graham Company.

Kentville, N.S. — Dr. William Edward Boggs, 67, president of the Union Baptist Theological College at Rurnampatam, South India.

Toronto. — Professor Archibald Hope Young, 72, historian, and for 40 years on the staff of Trinity College in Toronto.

BATTALION CLUB ATTENDS CHURCH

21st Battalion Members Hear Major the Rev. W. E. Kidd, M.C.

AT ALL SAINTS' CHURCH.

On Easter Sunday eighteen years ago yesterday, Canadian forces in France gathered in many outposts to praise their God and ask His blessing as they made ready to go into the battle of Vimy Ridge—one of the greatest engagements of the Great War and the engagement which won world-wide glory for the Canadian corps. That great day was commemorated as two hundred members of the Peterborough 21st Battalion Club and the local branch of the Canadian Legion attended a special service in All Saints' Anglican Church last evening.

A stirring plea for peace by Major the Rev. W. E. Kidd, M.C., overseas padre of the 21st Battalion and at present chaplain at Kingston Penitentiary featured the anniversary observance. Present in the capacity congregation was Lt.-Col. H. E. Pense, D.S.O., M.C., of Kingston, the officer in command of the Battalion at the close of the war.

Taking for his text the words of Christ, "My peace I leave with you," Major Kidd declared he treasured the memory of the day which preceded the great battle. It was Easter Sunday and, although a fever of activity prevailed as the various units sought their designated places for the opening of the battle on the morrow, the day was not forgotten, he said. Requests for services came from the men in all quarters. A continuous series of services proceeded throughout the day, including a service in the general headquarters, he said.

Pleasant Memories

Continuing, Major Kidd said many of the most pleasant memories of returned men are connected with the services overseas. In their meetings for the common purpose of worship, in the sing-songs and the service gatherings of fellowship the men enjoyed a comradeship which will be long remembered as part of the great experience of war. The services that Easter day gave the Canadians a spirit that went far toward the glorious victory, he declared.

Turning to his text, the speaker abandoned his review of the past to look at the present and into the future: "My peace I leave with you." That peace which He purchased by His sacrifice—that is the peace he left. Has the world realised that peace?"

The outlook to-day is so dark that Christianity seems to have failed completely he declared. To-day there is more trouble in the world than in the period just preceding the outbreak of war in 1914. Disturbances are so wide-spread that it is impossible to find their limitations. They are springing up everywhere day by day. Can it be said that the world has realised the peace which He left? Major Kidd asked.

The cause of the distress is within the individual, he continued. "We haven't listened enough to the voice of the living God. We haven't listened enough to the Gospel. We are trying to secure peace by signing peace treaties and limiting armaments but that is not sufficient. We must live by the Gospel. Genuine peace on earth can come only through acceptance of the Gospel of Jesus Christ."

Death Penalty Open To Reds 12 Or Over

MOSCOW, U.S.S.R., April 8. (AP)—Children 12 years of age and over will be tried for crimes and be liable for the full penalties of the law, including capital punishment, the same as adults, the Soviet Government announced to-day.

A decree instituting this drastic step was issued by the central executive committee and the council of people's commissars as part of the campaign to stamp out crime in the Soviet Republic.

"To end crimes among children," the decree said, "all minors over 12 who commit theft, violence, mutilation, murder or attempt to murder will be held responsible before the criminal court and will be subjected to all measures of criminal punishment."

The existing laws provide for execution by shooting.

WEEK MAY SEE HOUSE ADJOURN

Easter Lay-off to be No Holiday as Members Prepare For Election.

KING MAY BLOCK SUPPLY.

OTTAWA, April 8 (C.P.).— Parliament to-day starts the final period before a long Easter adjournment. It may be that by the end of the week members will be on their way home. If not then, the House will close some day next week, the date to be determined, probably, by agreement.

The adjournment will not be one long holiday, however. The general election feel is in the air, and members will use the interval in preparing for the struggle to come. The test, according to general expectation, will not be held until late in August or early in September.

For the Government the adjournment will be one of preparation for renewal of the session. The Mass Buying Report with its many important recommendations must be digested. Determination must be made as to whether or not legislation implementing some or all of these recommendations will be brought down.

Time to Study Report.

Legislation will have to be drafted. In the meantime members of the House will have had time to study the main report and the minority report which, according to the general information, will be submitted by E. J. Young, one of the Liberal members on the Commission.

The House will to-day go on with Government business. Some of the estimates remain to be passed, and the Government, before adjournment must secure further supply so as to cover the month of May. When the Opposition agreed to interim supply for April, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Opposition Leader, objected to granting anything more than that on the ground that an election should be held at the first possible date. If his Opposition should continue, money votes might be held up until after adjournment.

SCOUT NEWS

Chief Scout Lord Baden-Powell, after a long sea voyage from New Zealand, landed on Friday last, in San Francisco. He was welcomed by Dr. James E. West, chief executive of the Boy Scouts of America. The Chief Scout, while in San Francisco, attended a Scout exhibit and also gave a very interesting talk over the National Broadcasting System. He referred to the Australian jamboree, during the winter, where about 10,000 Scouts gathered from all corners of the world to show their friendship to each other, and also mentioned the opportunities that Scouting gives to young people: Education, Friendship, and Co-operation, and that about 16 million people had passed through Scout training.

The Chief Scout spent the week-end in American coast cities, among them Seattle, where he attended a big Scout Rally. He will arrive in Vancouver, B.C., tomorrow. Here he will attend a big Scout and Guide rally on Saturday of this week. This is the first of the long series of rallies he is to attend, while visiting Canada for the next three months.

Plans concerning the trip from Peterborough to Toronto, to attend the great Scout and Guide rally on May 11th, are about completed by the executive of the local association. It is expected that about 350 Scouts and Guides will be going. A special train will carry those going, picking up additional Scouts and Guides from Lindsay, Cannington and Blackwater, numbering about 300. The train will go straight to the C.N.E. grounds, from where Scouts will go to the Coliseum, where the rally will be held. They will be under the strict supervision of Scout and Guide leaders and every precaution will be taken to safeguard all those who are going.

At the last meeting of 1st Peterborough (St. John's) Troop an interesting talk was given by C. Graham on "Fishing," emphasizing especially good sportsmanship.

The meeting included several games and instruction in knotting, tenderfoot and signalling. Stroyan Leith has passed his cyclist and laundryman's badges, while Harvey Staunton has passed his second class compass points.

"Akela" Bill Coleman invested three new cubs into St. John's Pack. B. Bryant celebrated his birthday by becoming a cub. "Mowgli" Rex Rose passed two more badges—first aid and handyman.

The Pack was happy to have Bill Coleman back and is also appreciative of the assistance of Miss K. Ford.

Three members of the 4th (Sacred Heart) Troop, upon successful completion of their tenderfoot work were invested as Scouts by the S.M. assisted by the A.S.M., with the Troop Chaplin, Rev. J. C. Moloney, present. This brings up the total number of Scouts in the troop to 11. New members will not be accepted till later on. This is to enable those who are in the troop now to study up their second class work to a very high standard. The promise made by the troop last Fall to have all the boys "in uniform" by Easter at least, is almost fulfilled. We have four boys in full uniform with others getting theirs during the week. The Crimson neckerchief with the Khaki shirt and blue shorts makes the troops smart in appearance. The troop will go to Toronto 100% strong on May 11th.

The 8th (St. Andrew's) Troop will present a Scout concert and moving pictures by Mr. F. Roy on Friday night of this week, in St. Andrew's Sunday School Hall. This concert was formerly reported for early in May; but it should have been April.

Thirteen new Ontario Scout groups completed their organization work and were granted charters by Dominion Headquarters. This brings up the number of new groups in Ontario during this season to 51.

Oscar Scents Doom,, Flees In Bath City

MT. CLEMENS, April 8.—Impending doom in a Detroit slaughter house caused Oscar, plump steer, to flee in terror. Vaulting barriers of his owner's truck, Clifford Hawkins of Armada, Oscar made a mad dash for liberty through downtown streets, completely ignoring all traffic regulations. He was apprehended by a scout car on his second lap around town.

SPRING STORMS TAKE HIGH TOLL

Tornadoes, Lightning, Floods Account For 31 Lives Across United States.

PHILLIPINE TYPHOON 25.

(By Associated Press.)

Spring storms left an erratic pattern of death and destruction in Southern United States to-day while on the West Coast torrential rains brought threats of floods.

The list of known dead in the United States as the result of tornadoes, lightning and flood waters stood at 31. Most of these were killed or drowned as a result of a tornado which ripped through sections of Louisiana and Mississippi. Other deaths were in Texas and Florida.

A typhoon in the Philippine Islands took 25 lives.

Heavy rains flooded cities in both Northern and Southern California. In the Montrose-La Crescenta and Long Beach areas, near Los Angeles, men were ordered to patrol duty as the section was deluged by torrential rains. In Northern California, motorists were marooned by high waters and railroad and airplane service disrupted.

A spring snow storm marooned 350 automobiles overnight on the mountainous Lincoln Highway near Bedford, Pa. Many of the cars carried persons who had visited Washington's cherry blossom show.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

All persons having CLAIMS against the Estate of ODINO LAPLANTE, late of the City of Peterborough, Carpenter, Deceased, who died at the City of Toronto on or about the 1st Day of February, 1935, are hereby notified to send in to the undersigned, the Solicitor for the Executor of the Last Will of the said Deceased, on or before the 24th Day of April, 1935, full particulars of their Claims. The Assets of the Estate of the said Deceased will be distributed immediately after the last mentioned date, having regard only to Claims of which the Executor shall then have notice.

DATED at Peterborough this 27th Day of March, A.D. 1935.

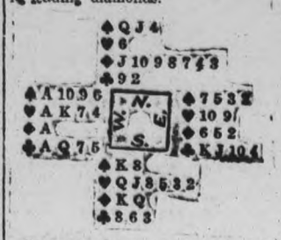
JOHN R. CORBETT,
414 Water Street,
Peterborough, Ont.,
Solicitor for the Executor.
64-26,A,12,20-2026

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By E. V. Shepard
"Teacher of Te...hers"

CAN YOU DEFEAT 3-NO TRUMPS

Mrs. J. B. Clarke, Los Angeles, sent in the following problem hand. She states that a friend from Fresno says 3-no trumps cannot be made by West against an opening lead of a diamond. Mrs. Clarke asks if this is true. Play it double-dummy and see. The fact that during the auction East bid clubs and South bid hearts has nothing to do with the problem. Having only a singleton of partner's suit and a biddable suit of his own, North is justified in leading diamonds.



Evidently West can lead off 3 tricks against any opening; 1 spade, 2 hearts, 1 diamond and 4 clubs. To go game West must pick up an added trick in one or the other major suit.

Lead the J of diamonds. Play South's Q, as the K would indicate lack of the next lower honor. Of course the declarer has to win with his lone ace. His only chance for game is to prevent South's discard of the blocking K of diamonds, as then North will hold an established diamond suit and a certain entry in spades, provided South gets rid of blocking the spade suit, so that he must lead hearts, and give the declarer the 7 of that suit.

Lead a low club. Win with dummy's 10. Lead the 10 of hearts. Cover with the J. Win with the K. If South is allowed to hold the heart trick he will lead the blocking K of diamonds. Lead the 7 of clubs. Win with dummy's J. Lead the 9 of hearts. Cover with the Q and West must win with the ace. Have North discard diamonds when necessary, to preserve his spade entry.

What is West to do next? If he leads off his 2 good clubs South will discard his blocking diamond. When West leads spades the K will win a low lead and the 8 will be led back. If West lays down his ace of spades South must duck his K on the trick. Under no circumstances must South be forced to lead hearts.

If West does not take all his club tricks South cannot at once cast off the K of diamonds. Suppose East is put in with a third round of clubs and leads a spade through South. That player must put up his K. If the ace wins only 2-odd can be made, as West can take only his ace of clubs and ace of spades. If the declarer lets South's K of spades win, that player will lead the K of diamonds and then lead his last spade, giving West only 2-odd. The hand appears to be an old problem hand of S. S. Lenz, with unimportant changes from the original.

HON. G. N. GORDON, K.C.—Barrister and Solicitor. Trust Company funds to Loan on Mortgages. Offices: 295-297 George Street. 'Phone 3300.

HALL & CARLEY — Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, corner Hunter and Water Streets (over Canadian Bank of Commerce), Peterborough, Ontario. Telephones: Office No. 68; R. R. Hall, K.C., residence No. 403; T. J. Carley, LL.B., residence No. 3098.

PECK, KERR & McELDERRY — Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, Offices, 418 Water Street, Peterborough. Telephone 1950. D. A. Peck, K.C., M.P., F. D. Kerr, K.C., V. J. McElderry, K.C.

JUDGMENT FOR THE PLAINTIFF--$5000
HOW WOULD THIS VERDICT AFFECT YOU?
You as owner of the car are liable. Why continue to take chances —your car may injure or kill someone to-morrow. Protect yourself to-day with a Policy issued by
DAVIS-THOMPSON COMPANY
INSURANCE AND GENERAL AGENCY
433 GEORGE STREET - - 'PHONE 40

FOR SALE
House, very desirably situated at No. 335 Rubidge Street.
Newly renovated and decorated throughout; new garage; hot-water heating.
Will sell on easy terms (monthly instalments if desired).
APPLY
THE TORONTO SAVINGS AND LOAN COMPANY
437 GEORGE STREET

SCOTT'S SCRAPBOOK — By R. J. Scott

HASTINGS

INITIAL STEP TAKEN IN NEW HIGHWAY PLAN

Council Appoints Committee to Interview H. W. Carr and T. P. Lancaster.

TAX TIME EXTENDED

HASTINGS, April 8 (Examiner Correspondence) — At the regular meeting of the village council held in the council chambers on Friday Reeve Dr. J. H. Hess was in the chair, Councillors Kelley, Brooks, Lynch and Fairman present.

From a business standpoint the highlight of the session was the opening shot fired in the drive to secure a provincial highway from Cobourg to Norwood. This project has been discussed with great interest throughout the district but no action was started until Friday night. Reeve Dr. Hess and Councillors Kelley and Fairman were appointed to interview H. N. Carr, M.P.P., of Campbellford and T. P. Lancaster, M.P.P. of Havelock as to when they could meet the councils of the different municipalities in Hastings. If possible the meeting will take place within the next two weeks.

The following accounts were read: J. H. Calberry, $18; W. Boyle, $8.33; G. Lynch, $7; W. Richardson, $1; F. Dodd, $2; W. Grant Allen, $8; County treasurer, $23.26; A. G. Willoughby, $27.72; R. Johnson, 75c; G. Marryatt, $9.60; F. Dodd, $2.92; A. Nelson, $1.63; Toronto Hospital Consumtives, $23.25; H. Edwards, $1.63; F. Dodd, $8.75; J. Oliver, 55c; H. Kelley, $1; Hydro Electric Commission, $109.50 for streets, $3.88 for Town Hall; A. Nelson, $6.25; Bickle Fire Engine Co., $4.51; F. Richardson, $2; C. Oliver, $1.50; Bond's Service Station, $5; L. Lavoie, $3; C.N.R. wig wag, $2.82; Bell Telephone Co., Town Hall, $5.13; Constable, $3.26; Fire Chief, $2.05; H. M. Fowlds and son $30.

Moved by Kelley seconded by Lynch that the accounts as read be paid and orders drawn on the treasurer in the usual way for the several accounts.

Communications were read from Department of Agriculture re spring cleaning of stock yards at scales. From United Counties re indigent patient. Employees Liability Insurance Co., re insurance on corporation workmen. Department of Public Welfare re relief.

Moved by Lynch seconded by Brooks that $25 be transfered from the municipal account to J. M. Baker, treasurer of the centennial committee.

Tax Time Extended

Moved by Kelley, seconded by Lynch that the collector's time be extended to April 16th and that all collectable taxes be collected and the roll ready to be returned.

Moved by Fairman, seconded by Kelley that $100 and $50 be transfered to relief account from municipal account.

Moved by Fairman, seconded by Lynch that the treasurer be authorized to secure a cash book.

William West addressed the council and made an offer for the cement blocks in the wall that has fallen on the Radiator property.

Moved by Fairman, seconded by Kelley that sealed tenders be received up until noon on April 15th for the cement blocks in wall south of Radiator property.

Moved by Lynch, seconded by Brooks that at the special meeting of April 15th the matter of a constable be dealt with.

Belgian Premier

PAUL VAN ZEELAND

the vice-governor of the Belgian National Bank, on March 24th, became the new premier of Belgium, succeeding Premier George Theunis, who had resigned following disagreement over the Belgian currency. Following Van Zeeland's formation of a new cabinet, he won a fight for devaluation of the belga, in the Brussels legislature.

DETERMINED TO SUICIDE.

CAPE TOWN.—(C.P.)—An unemployed European drank disinfectant, stabbed himself in the chest, and then cut his throat. His condition was reported serious at hospital.

MAGRATH URGES READJUSTMENT

Believes There Are Ways to Cover Unused Power Without Cancelling Contracts.

WRITES TO SIMPSON.

TORONTO, April 6.—(C.P.)— C. A. Magrath, former chairman of the Ontario Hydro Commission, today suggested a readjustment of the Commission's contracts with Quebec power companies instead of the Ontario government's legislation declaring them illegal.

In a letter to Mayor James Simpson of Toronto, President of the Ontario Municipal Electrical Association, Mr. Magrath states if Stewart Lyon, present commission chariman, "feels some apprehension about the early future, I would like to see him call upon his engineers—with a financial expert—to explore the possibilities of a satisfactory readjustment whereby the commission could obtain advantages more than sufficient to compensate for the payment in the next few years of the unused power and accomplish it without doing violence to its obligations to those power companies."

The letter was written by Mr. Magrath in response to a telegram from Mayor Simpson asking his views.

Light travels 186,000 miles a second, while the earth travels only 19 miles a second on its journey around the sun.

MONDAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

(STANDARD TIME.)

KEY TO CLASSIFICATION

1—Dance. 2—Concert. 3—News. 4—Vocal. 5—Sport 6—Comedy. 7—Drama. 8—Band. 9—Symphony. 10—Variety. 11—Instru Trio. 12—Speaker. 13—Organ. 14—Children. 15—Miscellan.

5.30 P.M.
4—CRCT—Singing Lady.
4—WABC—Jack Armstrong.
4—WEAF—Alice in Orchestralia.

5.45 P.M.
7—WABC—Dick Tracy
14—WJZ—Orphan Annie.

6.00 P.M.
10—CRCT—Denver Bar L. Ranch.
14—WABC—Buck Rogers
8—WJZ—U.S. Army Band.

6.30 P.M.
6—WABC—The Shadow.
4—WEAF—Karl Diss
13—CFRB—Jim Hunter.
8—CRCM—Band of 22nd Regiment.
4—WJZ—Mississippi Minstrels.

6.45 P.M.
8—CRCT—Lowell Thomas
1—CFRB—Leon Navara's Orch.
14—WEAF—Concert Miniatures.

7.00 P.M.
6—CRCT—Amos 'n' Andy.
4—WABC—Myrt and Marge.

7.15 P.M.
10—CRCT—Les Cavaliers de LaSalle
15—WEAF—Stories of the Black Chamber
4—WJZ—Plantation Echoes.
15—CFRB—Just Plain Bill.

7.30 P.M.
7—WABC—The O'Neills
10—WEAF—Easy Aces.
10—WJZ—Red Davis.

7.45 P.M.
4—WABC—Boake Carter.
11—CRCT—Spring Bouquet.
15—CFRB—Detectives Black and Blue
4—WJZ—Dangerous Paradise.
15—WEAF—Uncle Ezra

8.00 P.M.
10—CFRB—Syrup Symphonies
10—CRCT—Sous Bois.
10—WEAF—Himber's Ensemble.
1—WJZ—Jan Gerber's Orch.
11—WABC—Pray and Bragiotti.
4—WOR—Lone Ranger.

8.15 P.M.
8—WABC—Edwin C. Hill, news.

8.30 P.M.
10—WABC—Kate Smith's New Star Revue.
15—CFRB—Black Horse Tavern.
4—WJZ—Carefree Carnival.
10—CRCO—The Concert Hour.
4—CRCT—Gladys Swarthout.

9.00 P.M.
10—CRCM—Young Bloods of Beaver Bend.
1-4-WEAF—Horlick's Gypsies.
10—WJZ—Greater Minstrels
1-4-CFRB—Oswald Heinz' Orch and Richard Campbell
4—WABC—Lucrezia Bori.

9.30 P.M.
1—CRCT—Wrigley String Orch., CFRB.
10—CRCM—Babillage. Caprice.
11—WJZ—Princess Pat Players
11—WEAF—Otto Harbach Musicale
10—WABC—Ed Lee Big Show.

10.00 P.M.
10—CRCT—Contented Hour
2—WABC—Wayne King's Orch.
11—WJZ—Jackie Heller.

10.30 P.M.
1—CRCT—Joe De Coursey's Orch.
12—WEAF—National Radio Forum
0—WABC—Lilac Time.
1—CFRB—Gale Gordon's Orch.

10.45 P.M.
2—CRCT—Franklin Legge.

11.00 P.M.
1—WLW—Dreary Blues.
8—CRCT, CFRB—News.
12—WABC—Four Aces of Contract Bridge

11.15 P.M.
13—CRCT—Jesse Crawford organ
1—CFRB—Glen Gray's Orch.

11.30 P.M.
1—CRCT—Stan Meyer's Orch.
15—CFRB—Toronto Serenade
4—WJZ—Ink Spots, Male Quartette.
1—WABC—Enrico Madriguera's Orch.

12.00 Midnight
1—WJZ—Shandor, violinist.
1—WABC—Blue Monday Jamboree.

TUESDAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

12.00 NOON.
12—WABC—Voice of Experience.
10—CRCT—Shut-in Hour.
7—WEAF—Masquerade.

12.30 P.M.
7—WABC—Five Star Jones.
15—CRCT—Merry Madcaps.

2.00 P.M.
15—CFRB—Marie, Little Princess.
15—WJZ—Crosscuts from Log of the Day.
10—CRCT—Music Guild.

2.15 P.M.
15—CFRB—Romance of Helen Trent
1—WJZ—Yoemen of the Guard.

2.30 P.M.
15—WABC—School of the Air
15—WEAF—Golden Melody.

3.00 P.M.
10—CFRB—Columbia Variety Hour.
6—WEAF—Vic and Sade.

3.30 P.M.
1—WEAF—Willie Bryant's Orch.
4—CRCT—Harvest of Song.

4.00 P.M.
15—CRCT—Woman's Radio Review.
7—WJZ—Betty and Bob.
15—WABC—The Little House.

4.30 P.M.
10—CRCT—Temple of Song.
12—CFRB—Science Service.
10—WEAF—Savage's Hill Billies.

5.00 P.M.
12—CRCT—Nothing Else But Safety
15—CFRB—International Broadcast.

5.15 P.M.
4—WJZ—Jackie Heller.

5.30 P.M.
4—CRCT—Singing Lady
14—WABC—Jack Armstrong.

5.45 P.M.
14—CRCT—Nursery Rhymes.
14—WABC—Dick Tracy.
14—WJZ—Orphan Annie.

6.00 P.M.
6—WABC—Buck Rogers.
4—CRCT—Montclair a Capella Choir.

6.15 P.M.
15—CFRB—Mining Broadcaster.
10—WABC—Bobby Benson and Sunny Jim.
4—WEAF—Mid-week Hymn Sing.

6.30 P.M.
1—CFRB—Russian Bear Orch.
4—WJZ—News and Dorothy Page.
11—WABC—Understanding Music
3-4-WEAF—News; Mary Small.

6.45 P.M.
6—CRCT—Lowell Thomas.
6—WEAF—Billy and Betty.

7.00 P.M.
11—WEAF—Three Scamps.
10—WABC—Myrt and Marge.
6—CRCT—Amos 'n' Andy.

7.15 P.M.
1—CRCM—Rex Battle's Orch.
6—WEAF—Whispering Jack Smith
15—WABC—Just Plain Bill
4—WJZ—Morton Downey.

7.30 P.M.
15—CRCT—Billy and Pierre.
4—WABC—Jerry Cooper.
10—WEAF—Easy Aces
10—WJZ—Hits and Bits.
4—WGN—Arthur Tracy.

7.45 P.M.
1—WABC—Boake Carter.
4—CFNC—The Melody Boys
12—CRCT—National Council of Education.

8.00 P.M.
1—WEAF—Leo Reisman's Orch
15—WABC—Lavender and Old Lace.
10—CRCT—Musical Oddities.
7—WJZ—Crime Clues
15—CFRB—Eclipse Old-Timers.

8.30 P.M.
1—CFRB—Melodrama with Abe Lyman
10—CRCT—Opening Night.
1—WEAF—Wayne King's Orch.
10—WOR—Crosley Follies
7—WJZ—Welcome Valley.

9.00 P.M.
8—CFRB—N.H.L. Play-offs. CRCT.
1—WEAF—Ben Bernie's Orch.
1-4-WABC—Sing Crosby and Stoll's Orch.
10—WLW—Melody Parade.
7—WJZ—Red Trails.

9.30 P.M.
1—WABC—Isham Jones' Orch.
10—WEAF—Ed Wynn and Graham McNamee
12—WJZ—Ned Peace Way's Dinner.

10.00 P.M.
1—WABC—The Camel Caravan
10—WEAF—Palmolive Beauty Theatre.

10.30 P.M.
12—CFRB—Gale Gordon's Orch.
1—CRCM—Gilbert Watson's Orch
1—WABC—Horace Heidt's Brigadiers

11.00 P.M.
8—CRCT—News.
1—WJZ—Leo Jalle's Orch.
1—WABC—Frank Dailey's Orch.
12—WEAF—Graham MacNamee.

11.15 P.M.
1—CFRB—Frank Dailey's Orch
44—CRCT—Jesse Crawford.

11.30 P.M.
1—WJZ—Joe Rine's Orch.
1—CFRB—Jack Rayne's Orch.
1—WEAF—Ozzie Meyer's Orch.

12.00 MIDNIGHT
11—WJZ—Shandor, violinist
1—WABC—Orrill's Knapp's Orch.

CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

25c SALE! TUESDAY at the C.D.S. 25c SALE!

STORE HOURS: 9 a.m. to 5.30 p.m.; Saturday 9 a.m. to 9.30 p.m. PHONE 3000

36" Cotton Net
In Tuscan weave, with imitation tailored border at edge. Tuesday..... 2 Yards .25

Waste Baskets
Strong cardboard, reinforced with metal and gaily decorated. Tuesday, each..... .25

Electric Cord Sets
6 feet long, complete with plug, for use on the average electric utensil. Tuesday, each..... .25

Linen Tray Cloths
Stamped in pretty designs, with hemstitched hems. Size 15½ x 24 inches. Tuesday, each..... .25

Smart Costume Belts
Of 2-inch suedine (fabric) and leatherette, covered buckles. Colors of green, navy, red, pastels, and black and white. Tuesday, each..... .25

Aerated Weave Dishcloths
3 good sized Cloths in a package, cellophane wrapped. Tuesday, pkg..... .25

Rayon and Celanese Hose
Women's Fashioned-to-fit Dull Finished Hose. Sizes 8½ to 10. Tuesday, pair..... .25

Children's Cotton and Wool Hose
1/1 rib, reinforced heel and toe. Fawn shade. Sizes 5½, 6, 8, 8½, 9, 9½. Tuesday, pair..... .25

Summer Cottons
Printed and Plain Voiles, Printed Piques and Dimity, etc., in many colors, 36 inches wide. Tuesday, yard..... .25

Factory Cotton
Closely woven, durable quality, 34 inches wide. Tuesday..... 3 Yards .25

Cotton Print Aprons
Strap coverall style, in gay floral patterns. Regular size, Tuesday, each..... .25

Women's Boudoir Slippers
Of sheepskin and felt, with chrome tanned or leather soles. Sizes 3 to 8. Tuesday, pair..... .25

Women's Broadcloth Slips
Durable White Cotton Broadcloth Slips, bias cut, narrow shoulder straps, and in small, medium and large sizes. Tuesday, each..... .25

Infants' Crepe-de-Chine Bonnets
Made with turned-back frill, neatly hemstitched, ribbon ties. Pink, blue, white. Sizes 12, 13, 14. Tuesday, each..... .25

Bloomers and Panties
Good quality rayon knit, lace trimmed and tailored styles, in pastel shades. Small and medium. Tuesday, each..... .25

Girls' and Misses' Vests
Light-weight White Cotton Vests, no sleeve and short sleeve styles. Sizes 2 to 14 and small. Tuesday..... 2 for .25

Women's Linen Handkerchiefs
Durable white linen, hemstitched hems. Tuesday..... 4 for .25

Shirt and Shorts
Of cotton print broadcloth. Shorts with elastic band. Shirt sizes, 28 to 42. Shorts, 28 to 42. Tuesday, each..... .25

Boys' Caps
Cotton Tweed Caps in fancy and plain shades with sturdy peak. Sizes 6½ to 7. Tuesday, each.. .25

Men's Socks
Fine cotton yarns in fancy patterns. Size 10 to 11½. Pair... 25

VICTORY BRAND TOMATO JUICE COCKTAIL, 16 oz. Bottle..... 3 for .25

LONDON BRAND
Corn Starch, 3 pkgs. .25

C.D.S. GROCETERIA

HABITANT FRENCH STYLE
Pea Soup, 3 lge. tins .25

HAND-PACKED
Tomatoes, 3 lge. tins .25

SLICED BREAKFAST
Bacon, lb..... .25c

FRESH PORK
Spare Ribs... 2 lbs. .25

2 lbs. HAMBURG STEAK
2½ lbs. ONIONS, ALL FOR .25

CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

Bensfort

On Thursday evening a number of the young people motored to Peterborough to attend the dance sponsored by Percy Forrester. The music was given by Harold Moncrief's orchestra. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. John Brackenridge, Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Perrin, Mr. and Mrs. H. Moncrief, Misses Grace Finnie, Mildred Hall, Helen Howson, Audrey and Bessie Barnard, and Messrs. Lloyd, Milton and Henry Jewison, Herb and Max Perrin, Frank Barnard, Bill Howson and Jack Varcoe.

Miss Jean Stinson, teacher of S.S. No. 2, spent the week-end with friends in Kingston.

Mr. Garner Robinson is now assisting Mr. Edmund Dawson with his farm work.

Miss Jean Thompson, of Peterborough, spent the week-end at the home of her parents.

PRESIDENT OF COTTON SPINNERS

MANCHESTER.—(C.P.)— William M. Wiggins, who entered the cotton industry 52 years ago as an office boy, has been elected president of the Federation of Master Cotton Spinners' Associations.

Get Rid of That Tired-out Feeling Gain Vigor, Pep

You can quickly regain lost vigor and pep with KOLA ASTIER . . . the powerful, yet harmless vitalizer — the bracing tonic many doctors take themselves whenever they get exhausted and want quick, new strength.

One doctor writes: "Having taken Kola Astier myself when I felt exhausted and depressed (and the Lord knows how often this happens to us in our profession) I have been able to observe on myself the excellence of its tonic action. I cannot speak too well of the preparation."

Start taking Kola Astier today. Costs only a few cents a day to make you feel fit—both physically and mentally. Money back if first bottle doesn't help. Pleasant. Non-habit forming. Your nearest druggist has Kola Astier or can quickly get it for you from his wholesaler.

Obituary

WESLEY SHAW.

FAIRMOUNT, April 8.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The funeral service of Wesley Shaw, held on Tuesday, was largely attended, conducted by Rev. H. P. L. Seymour.

The exceptionally large gathering at the home during the week-end, the long cortege which followed to the Presbyterian cemetery and the abundance of spiritual offerings gave silent testimony of the high esteem held in the community where he had spent all his life. The Oddfellows also held their service, of which he was a highly respected member.

Mr. Shaw leaves to mourn his loss his wife, one daughter, 6 months old, Erma Anne, and two sons, Steward and Howard, four and seven years old.

The pallbearers were G. H. Hooton, F. Ballantyne, R. Armstrong, W. Hooton, H. McArthur, R. Johnston.

Among the number of friends and relatives from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Hines and Mrs. A. Crowe and daughter, Minnie, of Peterborough.

The community wish to extend to Mrs. Shaw and family their sympathy in this, their trouble.

MRS. WM. McCULLOUGH.

BALLYDUFF, April 8 (Examiner Correspondence).—Another pioneer of the Ballyduff locality of Manvers in the person of Mary Jane Porter, widow of William McCullough, was laid to rest on Tuesday afternoon, April 2nd. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Porter of Manvers Station, and was eighty-three years of age.

Deceased had lived during her married life near Ballyduff, on a farm where her husband passed away one year ago. She was a highly respected member of Ballyduff Presbyterian Church.

A brief funeral service was held at her late residence previous to a public service in the church. Both of these as well as the graveside service in the near-by cemetery, where interment was made, were conducted by her pastor, Rev. V. Walker, pastor of Janetville and Ballyduff Presbyterian Churches.

The pall-bearers were: Messrs. Heber Preston of Peterborough, J. J. Clarke of Bethany, Melville Lathangue, Lotus Wilburn Gaynor, William and John Porter of Ballyduff. The floral bearers were: Messrs. Cecil Argue, Harry McCullough and James McCullough, grandsons of deceased.

Left to mourn her loss are five children: Mrs. William Argue, Manvers Station; Samuel of Zealandic Sask.; Wilbert of Lindsay; Charles of Manvers, and Lewis at home. A sister, Mrs. Robert McCullough, of Pontypool, also survives.

The funeral was largely attended by many from a distance, as well as a host of friends and neighbors of this community.

FRANCES S. BURNHAM.

The death occurred on Sunday at her home, 1 St. Thomas street, Toronto, of Frances S. Burnham, in her 80th year, wife of the late G. Herbert Burnham, and beloved mother of Miss Mary V. Burnham, and Dr. Howard H. Burnham, and daughter of the late Hon. Sydney Smith of Cobourg.

Funeral services are being held at the family residence in Toronto on Tuesday noon. Interment is to follow at Little Lake Cemetery, Peterborough.

LLOYD WOOD.

KEENE, April 8. — The death occurred in the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto, on Sunday, April 7, of Lloyd Wood, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wood of Valleyfield at the age of six months. He leaves to mourn the loss, his parents and one brother Billy.

The funeral will be held on Tuesday at 2 p.m., from the family residence to Keene Cemetery, Rev. A. J. Preston officiating.

ALEXANDER KEITLE.

KEENE, April 8. — The death occurred at the family residence, 235 McGill Street, Peterborough, on Sunday morning, of Alexander Keitle, at the age of 69 years. He leaves to mourn the loss, his wife, the former Margaret Sherlock, two daughters, Mrs. Albert Spears of Lang and Mrs. Leo Foley of Keene, also one son Robert of Keene.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday at 2 o'clock from the late family residence, with interment in Little Lake Cemetery, Rev. A. E. Moorhouse of St. James' United Church officiating.

OSTRICHES ATTACKED PEDESTRIANS.

ROBERTSON, South Africa.—(C.P.)—William Rabie, charged with allowing two ostriches to wander in the public road "without taking the necessary precautions to safeguard the public" was fined $5 here. A pedestrian charged the birds attacked him.

DIDN'T LIKE THE AXE.

CAPE TOWN.—(C.P.) — George Pickering, 27, was fined $30 or 14 days' hard labor, when he appeared in court charged with refusal to assist a detective trying to arrest a man drmed with an axe.

Wave Lengths

Station.	Meters.	Kilocycles
CKNC, Toronto	211	1420
FCF, Montreal	560	600
CFCH, North Bay	322	930
CFCO, Chatham	500	600
CRCO, Ottawa	...	550
CFRB, Toronto	435	690
CFRC, Kingston	...	915
CKAC, Montreal	411	730
CKCR, Waterloo	198.6	1510
CKCL, Toronto	357.3	840
CHML, Hamilton	277	1010
CKNL, Toronto	517	580
CKCO, Ottawa	...	1010
CKPC, Brantford	322	930
CKOC, Hamilton	268	1120
CKLW Windsor-Det.	357	1030
CKCH, St. Catharines	249.9	1200
KDKA, Pittsburg	306	980
KMOX, St. Louis	536	1060
KYW, Chicago	394	1020
WABC, New York	349	860
WBBM, Chicago	389	770
WHKN, Buffalo	333	900
WHAP, New York	394	760
WENR, Chicago	345	870
WGR, Buffalo	319	940
WOR, Bonnecstady	379	790
WHAM, Rochester	281	1060
WJR, Detroit	499	750
WLW, Cincinnati	428	700
WMAQ, Chicago	447	670
WTIC, Hartford	283	1060
WJZ, New York	454	760
WKBW, Buffalo	302	1480

LOST ARM IN DIAMOND PLANT.

LICHTENBURG, South Africa.—(C.P.)— Endeavoring to dislodge a loose belt attached to the machinery to sort diamonds, a laborer here had his right arm caught and torn off.

The Town Council of Cannes, France, is subsidizing polo.

FORGOTTEN CITY

● If newspapers were to stop, this city would practically be forgotten.

You would quickly realize how much we all depend upon our daily publication. If daily newspapers throughout Canada were stopped, communities would be upset and disorganized—ordinary trade paralyzed—the populace panicky and easily misled.

The universal communication maintained by the Daily Newspapers nourishes and stimulates our social, business and economic structures in countless ways—and is necessary to their healthy functioning. Daily Newspapers have established and have sustained spot markets everywhere—that all may contact the public and cultivate its goodwill.

ADVERTISE IN DAILY NEWSPAPERS FOR action

SPONSORED BY THE CANADIAN DAILY NEWSPAPERS ASSOCIATION

California Washout Costs 10 Lives in Railway Smash

The Peterborough Examiner

HOME EDITION

VOL. LXXIV., No. 84 — PETERBOROUGH, TUESDAY, APRIL 9, 1935 — PROBS.—N.E. winds; fair and rather cool today and on Wednesday. — PRICE THREE CENTS

FILIBUSTER HANGS ONTARIO HOUSE

To-day

Short News Items Received By Examiner Over Direct C. P. Wire.

Court Has No Authority Supply Human Will Power

HAMILTON. — Wilfred Haigh drinks but really doesn't want to. In court this morning where Haigh appeared on charges of drunkness and wilful damage, he asked the magistrate to issue an order "prohibiting" him from partaking of intoxicating liquors. "I cannot furnish anyone with will power," Magistrate H. A. Burbidge responded. Haigh kicked out a window in a hotel last night and cut his leg. Fines totalling $15 were imposed with alternatives of 24 years in jail.

—:—

Ottawa Woman Succumbs Run Down By Automobile

OTTAWA.—Not missed from her room until early to-day a woman fatally injured last night was identified by R. J. Simpson, her son-in-law, as Mrs. Isobel McLean. Mrs. McLean was struck by an automobile driven by J. E. Carriveau, and died while being taken to the hospital, as the result of a fractured skull.

—:—

Czechoslovakian Firm Will Spend $1,000,000

OTTAWA.—Hugo Jellinek, chief of the purchasing department of Bata, Inc., Czechoslovakian shoe and leather manufacturing firm, said to-day he was negotiating for purchase of about $1,000,000 worth of Canadian furs, hides and fish oil. Jellinek said also his firm was considering buying a large amount of Canadian pulp. He will confer regarding his company's needs with officials of the Department of Trade and Commerce.

—:—

Michigan-Ontario Loop Breaks With M.A.A.A.

DETROIT.—John Gillespie, known throughout Michigan political circles, and reputedly worth $6,000,000 in 1929, was reported missing by relatives to-day. He was missing since last Thursday, it was said. His clothing is still in the hotel room he occupied and his automobile has been parked at his gasoline station since Wednesday. Gillespie said several months ago he had lost his entire fortune.

—:—

Cattle Club Head Hurt In London Car Accident

LONDON, Ont. — Injured in a head-on crash with a street car last night, Robert Hunter of Ingersoll, president of the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club, was reported by Victoria Hospital officials today as being semi-conscious. When admitted to the hospital Mr. Hunter was unconscious and only slight hopes were held for his recovery. He suffered two fractured wrists, head lacerations, many body bruises and shock.

—:—

"Stretch Your Mouth," Advises Plastic Surgeon

NEW ORLEANS—Milady was advised to-day by Dr. J. Heward Crum, New York plastic surgeon, to stretch her mouth. "Stretch your mouth 50 times a day," said he. "If you want to keep it beautiful. "Some women are afraid to smile because they think it will cause wrinkles. That is ridiculous. Stretching exercises should be given in conjunction with facial massages. Everything should be done to help retain the elasticity of the skin."

—:—

Galt Society Protests Baby Chicks As a Gift

GALT.—The Humane Society has passed a resolution urging parents not to buy baby chicks as Easter toys for their children. They contend the little creatures soon die as a result of overhandling. Many baby chicks were sold on the market here last Easter as presents for children.

—:—

Year In Reformatory On Car Theft Charge

ST. CATHARINES.—Nelson Terryberry to-day was sentenced to one year definite and one year indefinite in Guelph Reformatory after pleading guilty to theft of an automobile owned by T. J. Welsh. He had previously pleaded guilty to breaking and entering Thorold township quarries.

—:—

Steals Coal-Bedding Brockville Hospital

BROCKVILLE. — Employed as night engineer at the Ontario Hospital for the Insane here, Howard Kirby was placed under arrest yesterday on a charge of stealing coal and bedding and pleaded guilty before Magistrate G. A. Wright. He was remanded to jail for a week.

—:—

Michigan Millionaire Is Missing From Home

WINDSOR.—The first open break in relationships between the Michigan Amateur Athletic Union and the Michigan-Ontario Hockey League, has been taken by the latter body in its decision to refuse to pay the 10 per cent share of the playoff gate receipts demanded by the amateur authorities. At a meeting of the league governors in Detroit last night it was unanimously decided the 10 per cent, amounting to approximately $900, would be divided among the six clubs in the league.

Germany's sales tax receipts are much greater than a year ago.

TORIES CONTINUE ATTACK ON BILL IN LEGISLATURE

Macaulay Concludes Speech at 1.13 p.m. and Price Starts.

IN SESSION 24 HOURS.

Only Two Short Recesses Since Opposition Started Its Filibuster.

TORONTO, April 9.—(C. P.)—Leopold Macaulay, former Ontario Minister of Highways, continuing the long debate on the Power Contract Bill in the Legislature today, said either the government or Arthur Slaght, "first lieutenant" of Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn, should reveal what happened between the time Slaght endorsed the MacLaren-Quebec contract and the government brought in the cancellation bill.

Spoke Three Hours

Mr. Macaulay spoke for three hours and 13 minutes in the Conservative filibuster that began yesterday after Premier Hepburn brought up the bill for second reading. The former minister ended his speech at 1.13 p.m. and was followed by W. H. Price, former Attorney-General, who 12 years ago spoke four and a half hours in the Conservatives' four - day filibuster against the Drury government's redistribution bill.

At 2.30 the House had been in session for 24½ hours with no sign of adjournment. The only respites were the two-hour dinner adjournment last night and a breakfast

(Continued on Page Five.)

Crowland Relief Office Besieged

WELLAND, Ont., April 9 (C.P.).—The strike of relief workers in Crowland to-day reached its seventh day, and the strikers, unable to gain admittance to the municipal office, congregated outside the building and announced their intention of remaining there indefinitely.

The strikers were augmented by a large number of women and children, the latter kept away from the township schools. Some of the children were crying, complaining about being hungry. Some loaves suddenly appeared and these were quickly cut up and consumed.

First sign of violence occurred shortly before noon, when one of the women demonstrators spotted the township's relief investigator, E. F. Semley, and started mauling him. Semley's hat was knocked off and he was pushed around, but strikers intervened to restore order.

Hepburn Issues Warning To Bankers

TORONTO, April 9 (C.P.) — Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn, commenting to-day on the statement of Jackson Dodds, President of the Canadian Bankers' Association, that cancellation of power contracts caused the association to view the situation with "genuine alarm," said: "It will be just too bad for the bankers if they try any collusion to injure Ontario's credit. They can draw their own conclusions from that statement."

Mr. Dodds' statement also said the association "emphasized the possible repercussions of such action upon all public and private credit in Canada."

Premier Hepburn said bankers in the past "have been very fair to us and I dont think they would be so foolish now as to try to hurt our credit."

Your Evening Smile

A DIFFERENT SURPRISE

Jones: I'm buying a washing machine for my wife as a birthday present.

Bones: Good. That will be a surprise for her.

NEW GAME PRESERVE

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., April 9 (CP)—A Crown game preserve stretching from the Niagara River to Hamilton and eventually becoming an Ontario Provincial Park, is the project mooted here by those interested in the preservation of wild life.

Freighter Sinking Off St. John's

Still Speedy

TONAWANDA, N.Y., April 9. (CP).—Albert Mintner, 65-year-old mechanic, had better take it easy next time he rides his bicycle. He may not find the judge so lenient.

Mintner was up before Judge Gordon T. Hackett on a charge of speeding—on his bicycle.

The judge was incredulous but that was the charge nevertheless.

"Well, don't let it happen again," he said. "Discharged."

HITLER OPPOSES PACT INCLUDING SOVIET RUSSIA

Also Bars Lithuania. Simon Tells British House in Reviewing Situation.

MUM ON STRESA PLANS.

LONDON, April 9.—(C.P. Cable)—Although he declined to make any pronouncement on the British Government's policy pending Thursday's Tri-Power Conference at Stresa, Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon to-day gave the House of Commons an outline of the attitude of Germany, Russia and Poland.

Summarizing the results of the British exploratory missions to the European capitals on the eve of the British delegation's departure for the momentous security meeting at Stresa, Sir John said Germany was not prepared to sign any mutual assistance pact that would include Russia or Lithuania.

Adolf Hitler was not prepared to sign any Eastern European pact implying mutual assistance, particularly any pact with Russia, said the Foreign Secretary. But Hitler favored non-aggression pacts between the powers interested in Eastern Europe, with provisions for consultation in the event of aggression.

No Aid For Aggressor.

The Germans had suggested if hostilities broke out, the other powers should engage themselves not to support an aggressor in any way. He said Hitler dwelt particularly on the difficulties in identifying the aggressor.

Just previously Sir Phillip Sasson, Under-Secretary for Air, told ques-

(Turn to page 8)

The Weather

TORONTO, April 9 (C.P.). — A deep low area covers the Rocky Mountain states, and another of moderate intensity is centred off the middle Atlantic coast, while pressure continues high over Hudson Bay and Eastern Canada. The weather has been rather cool from the Great Lakes eastward with some light snow and rain in southern counties of Ontario. A moderate to heavy snowfall has occurred in many parts of Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Lower Lake Region: Moderate to fresh north-east to north winds; partly cloudy and rather cool tonight and Wednesday.

Georgian Bay: Moderate north-east to north winds: fair and rather cool to-day and Wednesday.

Northern Ontario: Fair and rather cool to-day and Wednesday.

Ottawa and Upper St. Lawrence Valley: Fresh north-east to north winds; partly cloudy and rather cool to-day and Wednesday.

TWO STEAMERS RUSH TO SCENE FOLLOWING S O S

"Hold Filling Rapidly" Says Distress Calls Received by Shore Station.

200 MILES FROM LAND.

Newfoundland Vessel Reported 25 Miles From Stricken Craft.

NEW YORK, April 9 (A.P.).—Shortly after the freighter Badagry sent out an SOS, the S.S. Newfoundland reported she had sighted the distressed vessel.

"We are now in sight of the steamer Badagry," the message from the Newfoundland said, "and will advise further any details.

NEW YORK, April 9 (A. P.). — An SOS was sent out this morning by the British freighter Badagry. The message, which was intercepted by the R.C.A. Radio Station at Chatham, Mass., said: "Hold filling rapidly."

The Badagry, of 5,161 tons gross, gave her position as latitude 47.20 north, longitude 47.23 west, about 200 miles east of St. John's, Newfoundland.

The SOS was picked up by the steamship Scanstates which relayed it to the Chatham station. The Scanstates reported she and the S.S. Manchester Producer were proceeding to the scene. In the vicinity was a United States ice patrol boat.

RESCUE WITHIN 25 MILES.

BOSTON, April 9 (A.P.). — The Tropical Radio Station at Hingham, Mass., to-day reported the S.S. Newfoundland was within 25 miles of the British freighter Badagry which sent out an SOS about 200 miles off the Newfoundland coast. They said another vessel was 95 miles away and that both were proceeding to the aid of the stricken vessel.

2 TORONTO MEN DIE AT CROSSING

Hamilton to Allandale Express Carries Sedan 345 Feet Down Tracks.

AT INGLEWOOD.

BRAMPTON, Ont., April 9.— (C. P.)—Two Toronto men, John Salisbury and Robert L. Henderson were killed to-day in a level crossing smash at Inglewood, nine miles north of here to-day, when the automobile in which they were driving crashed into a Canadian National Railway oil electric train. Henderson died shortly after being admitted to hospital in Orangeville. His companion was killed instantly.

The train was travelling from Hamilton to Allandale in charge of Conductor William Penny, 121 Park street, Hamilton, and Motorman J. Cornish, 295 Bradford street, Barrie.

The heavy sedan in which the men

(Please turn to Page 8)

Cribs for Court

ALLENTOWN Pa., April 9 (CP)—Baby cribs for the courthouse will be installed if Lehigh County's grand jury has its way.

The grand jury, composed largely of women, after prolonged deliberation reported babies of women witnesses frequently fell to the floor from a couch now located there, and urged that cribs be installed, together with a play-yard for larger children.

TEN ARE KILLED AS GRAVEL TRAIN HITS RAIL AUTO

Four Others Hurt, One Seriously, in Smash on Californian Line.

REPAIRING WASHOUT.

Floods Do Millions of Damage as Waters Rise to Levels Not Touched in 50 Years.

SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 9.—(A.P.)—Ten railway section hands, working late to repair damage caused by record-breaking rains, were killed last night in a railroad accident near Roseville, Calif.

The accident, which occurred when the workers' light railway motor car crashed head-on into a Southern Pacific gravel train, was the worst of several which have accompanied heavy rain storms over the state in the past three days. Nine other persons have lost their lives through drowning, and untold property damage has been caused by high waters.

Bodies Flung in Ravine

The victims of the accident were killed instantly and their bodies flung into a 60-foot ravine by the side of the tracks. An 11th worker was possibly fatally injured, while three others escaped with minor hurts.

Nine of the dead were found immediately and identified at the Roseville morgue as: F. Jiminez, A. Caballero, A. Hernandes, Jose Vargus, E. Esquida, B. Hernandez, Steve Pitakis, Louis Apostolis and Sam Darras, all of Roseville. Rescuers found the body of Pete Penlotes in the ravine later. Attendants at the railroad hospital at Roseville said Tony Espinosa was dying.

Threats of more serious flood

(Continued on Page Two.)

Canadian Radio Sales Talks Banned Sunday

OTTAWA, April 9.— (CP) — Spot radio advertising on Sundays will be eliminated over all Canadian stations beginning May 5, the Canadian Radio Broadcasting Commission announced today. The ban will not apply to time signals and certain public services. The question of excluding sales talks on Sunday broadcasts will be given further consideration.

Chairman Hector Charlesworth of the Commission sent to all station managers a memorandum informing them:

"The question of the legality under the terms of the Lord's Day Act of all form of Sunday advertising has been raised by various influential organizations in Quebec, Ontario and other provinces and the commission hopes to remove the main cause of complaint.

"It is collecting information with a view to restricting publicity in Sunday broadcasts to 'good will' advertising from which the element 'solicitation' for the sale of commodities, against which the Lord's Day Act appears to be explicit, has been eliminated."

BODYGUARD OF LATE KING DIES SUDDENLY IN LONDON

LONDON, April 9 (A.P.).—Henry T. Pitch, former Scotland Yard detective whose duties as personal bodyguard to the late King Edward at the turn of the century brought him the nickname 'King's Shadow,' died suddenly to-day. He was 80 years old.

Pitch was active in tracking down spies during the Great War, and also played a part in tracing the "master German spy," Steinhauer, who operated in London shortly before the war.

2 ASSISTANTS ARE APPOINTED CITY HALL STAFF

Edward A. Outram is Appointed Assistant to City Clerk Armstrong.

RESPONSIBILITIES HEAVIER

Morley E. Shaver is Named Assistant Treasurer by Council.

In line with the City Council's announced purpose of re-organization in the city offices, two appointments to the staff of the offices were made last evening at a special meeting of the Council.

Edward A. Outram, member of the editorial staff of The Examiner for the past seven years, was appointed assistant city clerk, and Morley E. Shaver, 780 Water street, experienced local accountant, was appointed assistant city treasurer. Mr. Outram begins his duties on April 15 and Mr. Shaver on May 1. Both appointments were by by-law, and after some discussion, were passed unanimously.

The opinion was expressed by members of the Council that City Clerk S. R. Armstrong and City Treasurer Frank Adams, both veteran employes, required male assistants trained to relieve them of some of their work so that their period of service to the city may be lengthened. It was said that the appointment of assistants was "good business" and in the best interests of the proper administration of civic affairs.

Responsibilities Increased.

Mayor Denne stated that the city clerk's responsibilities had greatly

(Turn to Page 7, please)

'Triple Threat' Girl Be Good Bodyguard

CHICAGO, April 9 (A.P.).—Anybody looking for a good bodyguard might do well to get into touch with a "triple-threat" girl — Miss Helen Fortney, who professes to be able to shoot, punch or grapple with equal ferocity.

Helen, who is 20 years old, stands five feet five inches high, and weighs 136, has come to the big city of Chicago from Wisconsin to pursue her career as a bodyguard.

"The only kind of a gun I haven't tried yet," she said, "is a machine gun, and so far I haven't needed one. Once, when I was 12 years old I knocked out a boy 16 years old. When I let him have it he hit the ground so hard he rolled all the way down the hill from where we were standing."

Anybody want a bodyguard?

THREE-YEAR-OLD SMOKER CUTTING DOWN ON HABIT

WEST PATERSON, N.J., April 9 (C.P.). — Three-year-old Charles "Mickey" Norman is cutting down on his smoking and he only takes an occasional glass of beer now.

"Mickey" a voracious smoker since he was 14 months old, now gets along with a small cigar after supper and a periodical pipe or cigarette when visitors arrive. The abstinence, said his father, a steamshovel operator, was family-enforced.

"He's a clean smoker," said Mr. Norman proudly. "He always wants an ash tray. He likes a pipe best of all."

Exercise

CHARLESTOWN, W.Va., April 9 (C.P.)—It took four automobiles to get State Trooper J. M. Johnson over the snow-covered mountains—to no purpose. "You are due in Charles at once for a hearing," came the order into the Mineral County Mills.

Johnson got into his car and with three others behind him pushed through 18 inches of snow to the bottom lands.

"Case postponed," intoned the magistrate, as Johnson entered the courtroom.

70-MILE GALE BATTERS WHOLE EASTERN COAST

Seaside Resorts Are Flooded Under Pounding of Wild Nor-easter.

SHIPPING ENDANGERED.

(By the Associated Press).

The worst nor-easter in many years raged along the United States North Atlantic seaboard to-day. Inland, rampant rivers brought the sporadic threat of heavy flood damage.

With tumultuous seas running in the North Atlantic the British freighter Badagry wallowing 200 miles east of St. John's, Nfld., sent out an S.O.S.

"Hold filling rapidly," the message said. Several ships were proceeding to her aid.

Long Island on the Jersey coast were bearing the brunt of the 70-mile nor-easter. Coastguardsmen said the storm was the worst in many years.

Boardwalks Battered.

Southward, along the Jersey coast, the waves battered famous boardwalks, flooded streets of seaside resorts and lashed away with undiminished fury throughout the night and into the day.

A launch, with four men aboard, was reported adrift in Long Island Sound, helpless. Coastguardsmen from New London, Conn., and Staten Island put out in the storm in search.

In California, the heavy rains have forced rivers to flood stages. Currently, more than a dozen persons have lost their lives as a result of the high waters.

In the wake of a tornado's havoc, floods threatened in parts of Mississippi and Louisiana. In Southwestern Kentucky, the Green and Pond Rivers poured over their banks. A hundred or so families were left homeless.

Search For Labatt Kidnappers Goes On

LONDON, Ont., April 9 (C.P.).—Attempting to forge the Crown's chain of evidence against "Piccolo Pete" Murray, alleged member of the kidnap ring that abducted John S. Labatt, Inspector Hamar Gardner of the criminal investigation department, is back in London. Working with him is Crown Attorney Norman Newton, directing the preliminaries for Murray's trial.

Indications the search for two or possibly three more kidnappers is by no means slowing down have been given by recent activities. It has been learned on more than one occasion within the last few weeks, investigators have been in Detroit running down clues. Evidently, the man they are directly after is Albert Pegram, alleged chauffeur for the ring.

SESSION LASTS THROUGH NIGHT SPEECHES GO ON

Henry Charges Power Contract Cancellation is "Rank Repudiation."

BREAKFAST AT 8.20 A.M.

Nesbitt Takes Up Cudgels at Daybreak After Ellis, Hunter, Kidd, Challies.

TORONTO, April 9 (C.P.)—Weary and hungry, members of the Ontario Legislature called a halt for breakfast at 8.20 o'clock this morning after an all-night filibuster by Conservatives on the Government's legislation to terminate power contracts with Quebec companies.

At nine o'clock Leopold Macaulay, former Minister of Highways, was to resume the debate that began yesterday afternoon and was only interrupted for a two-hour dinner recess. It was the first filibuster in the Ontario House in more than a decade.

Since 4.05 yesterday when Mr. Hepburn arose to speak briefly on the Bill and declared the Government was not going to deviate from its intention to terminate the contracts and would sit until noon to-day if necessary to achieve second reading, eight speakers, including Mr. Hepburn, had taken part.

Meanwhile, Government members took turns in doing in their chairs or in the palatial lounge room. Three speakers occupied the chair at different times after Speaker N. O. Hipel left the Chamber. Three Liberals, they were: Harold J. Kirby, Toronto-Eglinton, A. St. Clair Gordon, Kent West, and William Newman, Victoria-Haliburton.

Throughout the debate the staid old Chamber heard Opposition forces hurl charges of "repudiation" at the Government and the declaration that never before in the Province's legislative history had such a Bill been up for consideration.

Shortly before seven o'clock this morning George S. Henry, Opposition leader, suggested an adjournment for breakfast and Hon. Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture, who was leading the House, agreed. An hour will be taken at 9 a.m.

Last Blockade in 1923

Last attempt to block legislation was in 1923 when the Drury Government attempted to bring down a redistribution bill. Stubborn opposition lasting three days resulted in the Government going to the province in a general election.

Throughout the night spectators' galleries were packed. The crowd dwindled by one o'clock but a few of the more interested remained throughout the night, some stretched out in sleep along the soft benches. Early in the morning the leader of a Toronto dance orchestra and several of his musicians dropped in for the occasion. The press gallery was host to workers on morning newspapers.

"This is rank repudiation," said Opposition Leader Henry of the bill. He admitted Ontario had a power load but said if it was possible to negotiate with bondholders to obtain some revision he would be the first to commend the Government.

Mr. Henry called to the attention of Government officials the effect of the termination on Ontario's

(Continued on Page Three.)

Tory Filibuster and Speakers' Log

TORONTO, April 9.—(CP)—Following is a log of the speaking at the day, night and morning session of the Ontario legislature when Conservatives blocked efforts of the government to achieve second reading on its bill to terminate contracts with Quebec power companies:

Monday

4.05 p.m. to 4.15 p.m.—Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn.

4.15 p.m. to 6 p.m.; 8 p.m. to 10.40 p.m.—Opposition Leader George S. Henry.

10.40 p.m. to 11.20 p.m.—Dr. George McQuibban (Lib. Wellington North).

11.20 p.m. to 1.00 a.m.—Arthur Ellis (Cons. Ottawa South).

Tuesday

1.05 a.m. to 1.20 a.m. Col. F. Fraser Hunter (Lib. Toronto-St. Patrick).

1.20 a.m. to 3.30 a.m.—W. A. Baird (Cons. Toronto - High Park).

3.30 a.m. to 4.40 a.m.—Col. T. A. Kidd (Cons. Kingston).

4.40 a.m. to 6.15 a.m. — G. H. Challies (Cons. Grenville-Dundas).

6.15 a.m. to 8.30 a.m.—A. R. Nesbitt (Cons., Toronto-Bracondale).

8.30 a.m to 10 a.m.—Breakfast recess.

10 a.m. to 1.13 p.m.—Leopold Macaulay (Cons., York South).

1.13 p.m. to .....—W. H. Price (Cons., Parkdale).

LAST MINUTE NEWS FLASHES

SASKATOON, April 9.—(CP)—Fire that followed a gasoline explosion in a garage destroyed 11 buildings in the business section of Herschell village, 86 miles east of here, early today. Fire apparatus was rushed from Roosetown, a distance of 25 miles. No loss of life was reported.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 9.—(AP)—Governor Herbert Lehman today commuted the death sentences of Matios Leylegian and Nishban Sarkisian, who were to have died Thursday night for the murder of an archbishop in New York City, to life imprisonment, because of "most unusual circumstances."

OTTAWA, April 9.—(CP)—The Parliamentary Railway Committee today approved the government bill appropriating $56,000,000 for the Canadian National Railways. Of this sum $44,000,000 is set aside to cover the railway's deficits for 1934, while the remainder is for various capital expenditures.

LIBERALS TURN GUNS ON LONG EASTER LAY-OFF

Lapointe Leads Attack, Declares Adjournment Should Last Only One Week.

CONSERVATIVES SILENT.

Quebec Member Would See National Vote on Topic of Titles For Canadians.

OTTAWA, April 9.—(C.P.)—Canadians would vote on the question of titles at a national referendum if Hon. Ernest Lapointe, former Minister of Justice, had his way. Reports that a number of Canadians would receive titles in connection with King's Jubilee drew a protest from the member for Quebec East as he led a Liberal move to block a long adjournment of Parliament at Easter.

Sound reasons and good business warranted the long adjournment, said Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, who announced the Government's intention of pressing for a cessation of Parliament activity until May 20. Mr. Guthrie made no reference to Mr. Lapointe's title referendum suggestion, which came up in debate yesterday.

Liberal back benchers are enjoying a turn at speech-making to-day while Conservatives remain silent. The prevailing trend of the past few weeks was reversed yesterday by the new tactical move launched by Mr. Lapointe. All during the budget debate and during most of the discussion on the Government's Social Reform Bills Liberals have held their peace, claiming they wanted to speed up business, end the session and have an early election.

Week's Adjournment.

Now they are making the sort of speeches the Conservatives made in the budget debate and the Conservatives remain silent. Mr. Lapointe moved an amendment to the formal motion to go into committee of ways and means, declaring the Easter adjournment should be for not more than one week. A long succession of Liberal speeches followed and more have speeches ready for to-day.

The present Parliament had gone beyond the normal term, Mr. Lapointe said in his argument against the long adjournment. Seldom had Parliaments continued for their full five-year term. Under the circumstances the session should not be needlessly prolonged. In 1926 the Conservatives had objected to a long adjournment in the unavoidable absence of the Prime Minister; they should not ask for the same thing now in the same circumstances.

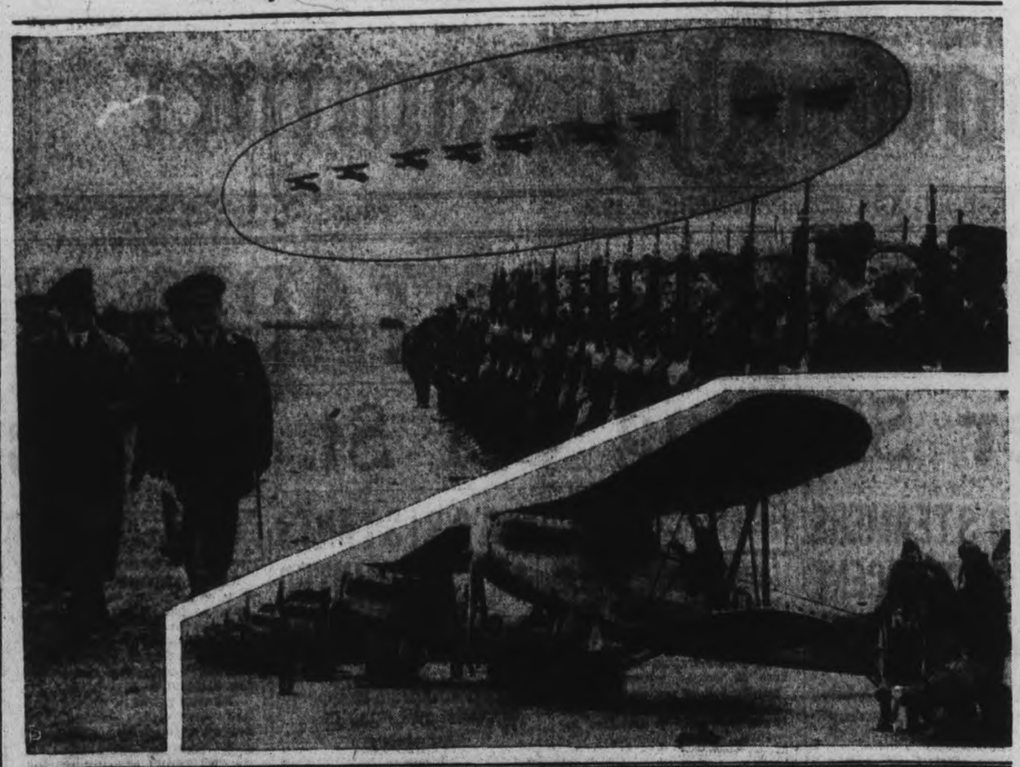
There was another reason against

(Continued on Page Three)

ACCEPTS KINGSTON CALL.

LINDSAY, April 9 (C.P.).—Rev. Vernon Loufelt of Minden, 60 miles north of here, has accepted a call to Zion United Church, Kingston, and will take over his new pastorate early in July at the end of the conference year. He has resigned from his charge of Maple Lake, Carparvon and Minden.

Germany's New Air Fleet Now Equals England's, Says Simon



Adolf Hitler (left), dictator of Germany, accompanied by Minister for Air General Herman Goering, reviewing the pilots of the Richthofen Squadron, a so-called "Sportsmans'-pilots" organization named after Germany's famous war-time ace. It was the first time Hitler had visited the group, which, it now appears, forms the nucleus for Germany's great air fleet which, in time of possible war, looms as mighty as Britain's air fleet, oS says Sir John Simon of England. These are first photos of Germany's new air force taken at Doberitz. Grounded squadron and formation flight are shown.

RUMOR ONTARIO WILL NEGOTIATE NEW CONTRACTS

Meet Power Bond-holders if Understanding is Arranged With Taschereau.

SAYS TORONTO REPORT.

TORONTO, April 9.—(CP)—With passage of the bill terminating power contracts with four Quebec companies, the Ontario government will be prepared to negotiate another contract with the bondholders and the power corporations on terms dictated by the province the Mail and Empire says today. The paper proceeds:

"If the Hepburn government is able to arrive at a satisfactory understanding with Premier Taschereau of Quebec regarding the continuation of the ban on the export of Quebec power, the way will be paved, it is reported, for a conference of bondholders and power corporation representatives with the government. The contracts will provide for the delivery of power to Ontario on the basis of demand over a term of years.

"The Hepburn government is anxious to reach an understanding with the Quebec authorities regarding the rumored desire of the latter province to lift the ban on export of power. This matter will be the feature of the forthcoming conference between the two provincial premiers.

"Negotiations with bondholders may not take place for some time as it is expected difficulty will be encountered in getting together a representative group of bondholders. It may take si xmonths before actual negotiations take place, it is understood."

At the Legislature building Premier Hepburn declined to confirm or deny the report.

Stamps Tell Tale Of Air Progress

MONTREAL, April 9 (C.P.)—Seven thousand of the choicest and most valuable postage stamps in Montreal were exhibited at the second annual stamp show sponsored by the St. Lawrence Stamp Collectors' Club of Montreal. Included were many early Canadian varieties.

Examination of the collection of C. R. Fiset revealed a batch of 200 letters was carried in Germay by airship as long ago as 1912. Miniature envelopes and letters carried by air in 1871 were exhibited by E. Saint-Loup. The tiny letters left Paris in 66 free balloons, released when the Prussians were besieguering that city. All but two were found.

LIVESTOCK PRODUCE AND CHEESE QUOTES

ONTARIO GRAINS

Fo.ob. shipping point: Wheat, 85c to 87c; oats, 32c to 34c; corn, 56c to 58c; buckwheat, 43c to 45c; malting barley, 63c to 65c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Alarm over likelihood of a corn market squeese before huge speculative contracts for future deliveries are settled brought about flurried upturns of grain prices yesterday.

Rapid decrease of stocks of corn in sight has apparently made critical the position of many traders who of late have been persistently on the selling side. Rushes yesterday to reverse the market position of such traders was ascribed in large degree to a sudden switch on the part of an advisory marketing service that heretofore had been decidedly bearish.

Profit-taking for holders after corn prices had jumped 3¾ cents led to something of reaction, but the close in corn was strong, 1⅞c to 2⅛c above Saturday's finish, May 86⅝c to 9⅛c, oats, 9c to ¾c advanced, and provisions varying from 2c decline to a rise of 5c.

Wheat was bullishly affected by corn and by comparative failure of expected moisture relief in dry districts. Oats followed corn. Provisions averaged higher, responsive to upturns both of corn values and of hogs.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

Prices were steady to fractionally firmer on the Montreal Dairy and Produce Market yesterday. There was a better tone to the butter and egg markets with increased demand for butter being noted. No 1 grade butter in carlots or less brought 23½ cents a pound for regraded and 21¼ to 22 cents for fresh. Small lots to retailers here quoted at 23½ to 24 cents a pound for solids and 24½ to 25 cents for prints. Receipts totalled 220 boxes.

The egg market showed a firmer undertone, graded shipments in carlots or less being quoted at 18½ to 19 cents a dozen for A-large, 15½ to 16 cents for A-medium, and 15 cents for C, the three principal grades being offered. Receipts totalled 885 cases.

Cheese prices continued at 11½ to 11¾ cents a pound for No. 1 Ontario fall-make and 12½ to 12¾ cents for summer lines. There were no receipts.

Quebec No. 2 White potatoes brought 45 to 55 cents per 80-pound bag and Quebec No. 1 mountains and New Brunswick cobblers 55 to 60 cents. New Brunswick mountains sold for 60 to 65 cents and Prince Edward Island Mounains for 65 to 70 cents.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, April 9. — Canadian wheat again found favor with importers yesterday, resulting in advances of ⅜ to ¾ cent on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Switching of contracts from May to July futures also was a feature of the market.

Foreign demand for Canada's chief commodity, more brisk in the past week than for some time, showed no signs of a let-up yesterday $60,000 bushels being sold abroad. This support led to a late-session extension of earlier fractional gains

May future, under pressure for most of the day as traders sold it against purchases of July, rallied, to close at 87⅛, near the session's top level. July closed at its best price, 97⅞ cents. At one time July was at a premium over May.

Outside influences on the local market were about evenly balanced

GUARD HUTTON HEIRESS; FEAR KIDNAPPING TRY

Measures for Protection of Princess Barbara Are Doubled After Arrests.

"UNDERWORLD" CENTRE

RENO, Nev., April 9.—Measures to protect the home of Atty. George B. Thatcher, where Princess Barbara Hutton M'divani is staying, were redoubled after a middle-aged man and a 15-year-old boy confessed to three burglaries within a few blocks of the princess' temporary castle.

Guards around the house, it was indicated, were put there more to guard against robbery and kidnapping than to insure Princess Barbara's privacy. Reno, a wide open town where the question about a visitor is not how he got it, but has he got it, has long been known as a rendezvous for off color characters, as well as for incipient divorcees.

George "Baby Face" Nelson stayed hereabouts for a time, driving into town every day for a newspaper and a little amusement.

Find Machine Gun

A machine gun later traced to Alvin Karpis, together with a substantial cache of ammunition, was found not far from here, and there have been rumors and rumblings that other gentry unfavorably known to the law have favored the city with their visits.

The two confessed burglars were not big timers, police said, but the fact they successfully robbed three homes so near the Thatcher home led to fears for Princess Barabara's safety. The two were Emerson W. Grant, 40, and Winfield Coffin, 15. From them the police claimed to have recovered valuable jewelry allegedly stolen from Hollywood and Beverly Hills homes, together with several pistols.

Buys Automobile

Princess Barbara, with her millions of dollars, would be a shining mark for bold, bad men, it was pointed out.

This circumstance, with her fear of being refused a divorce from Prince Alexis Mdivani because a judge might think she did not mean it when she said she lived here, is thought to account for her remaining in such strict seclusion. She has remained inside the Thatcher house since her arrival here, despite the Spring-like weather.

Most of the time, according to reports from the household, the princess occupies herself with reading, writing, taking long baths in scented water and sleeping.

First definite sign that the princess hopes to see more of Nevada countryside than is visible from the Thatcher windows came yesterday when the heiress' chauffeur bought a $3,000 sedan and license plates to go with it.

Princess Barbara ended the first of her six weeks here without so much as sticking her head out of the door.

Christian Buch was regarded by Humboldt as the greatest geologist of his age.

Chances

OLNEY, Ill., April 8.—(AP)—The chance winning of $143,000 in the Irish sweepstakes is bringing Mrs. Mabel Itselman all sorts of chances. Since she won she's had chances to:

Donate $300 to a lady who doesn't like her neighbors and wants to move."

Present an automobile to a preacher.

Buy a Kansas farm from which the wind has blown the topsoil.

Tell a man to keep on living"—otherwise he says he'll commit suicide.

Pay off 23 mortgages.

Finance 417 investors.

TEN ARE KILLED

(Continued from Page 1)

hazards were believed averted today with the passing of the peak of the storm and the prospective return of clearing weather.

Homes, farms, crops, stores, highways and railroad all suffered from the effects of the storm in many sections of California, notably in the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys.

Records of half a century standing in Sacramento and of 22 years at Los Angeles were shattered by the rains that pushed the seasonal total throughout the state above the normal and far above precipitation in recent years. Valley rivers were choked with the runoff from the Sierra Nevada, overflowing thousands of acres of lowlands and into towns.

Hundreds Flee

Rising waters drove many persons from their homes. One hundred were driven from river bottom camps at Marysville. Merced was from three to five feet deep in water in the business district and parts of its residential sections when the Bear Creek overflowed there last night.

Merced hotels were jammed by persons quitting their flooded homes. Damage was estimated around $100,000 in that city. Boats and canoes were used for transportation as scores of automobiles stalled and several sick persons were taken to hospitals in high-wheel wagons.

Returned Men Hold Service At Stirling

MARMORA, April 9.— Marmora Branch No. 237 Canadian Legion, accompanied by comrades from the Stirling Branch, attended divine service on Sunday evening in St. Andrew's United Church. Previous to the sermon, the Last Post and Reveille was sounded by Comrade B. Brooks. Rev. C. W. Hollingsworth heartily welcomed the legionnaires and preached a striking sermon on the words "Whatsoever Things Are Lovely." The choir rendered two anthems. Members of Marmora Branch also attended the parade of the Stirling Branch to Stirling Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning.

Net 1⅛-cent gains at Chicago offset a 1⅛d decline at Liverpool. World wheat shipments decreased slightly to 10,000,000 bushels. North America exporting 2,780,000 bushels.

Cash and coarse grains were quiet

Futures:

Wheat—	Open	High	Low	Close	Prev. Close
May	86⅝	87⅝	86⅛	87⅛	87¼
July	86⅝	87⅛	86⅛	87⅛	87¼
Oats—
May	40¼	42	40¼	41⅞	40⅛
July	40¼	41⅛	40¼	41⅛	40¼

● Here is a real thrill for green tea drinkers—a blend of first crop teas from Japan's finest gardens. Try it.

"SALADA"

JAPAN TEA

39

Hog Quotations In Peterborough

TUESDAY, APRIL 9.

Canada Packers quote:

Hogs — F.O.b., $7.75; off truck, $7.65; rail grades, $10.50.

Selects, $1 per hog premium.

Sows, 2½c off bacon prices.

Cream — No. 1 (on truck), 23c; No. 1 (delivered), 24c.

Special 2c per lb. premium.

Dealers quote:

Grain — Spring wheat, 85c; fall wheat, 90c; oats, 34c; malting barley, 60c; feed barley, 50c; rye, 50c; and buckwheat, 44c.

Goering Wedding To Be Gala Event

BERLIN, April 9.—(CP-Havas).—Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering, dynamic head of the Reich Air Force, will marry Fraulein Emmy Sonnemann, star of the Prussian State Theatre, to-day in a wedding recalling the glitter and pomp of Imperial days. The chancellery of the Prussian council of state, of which Gen. Goering is president, has received upward of 25,000 requests for admission to the ceremonies, which will take place in the Protestant cathedral in Berlin. Many are offering from 15 to 25 marks for seats in the church.

Goering will bring his bride to the chancellery where Adolf Hitler, his best man, will join them. A civil ceremony will be performed in the City Hall by Mayor Sahm, of Berlin, after which the church ceremony with Reich Bishop Ludwig Mueller officiating will take place, while airplanes wheel and circle overhead.

Good Muskrat Season Campbellford District

CAMPBELLFORD, April 9 (Examiner Staff Correspondence). — Local trappers report a good run of rats this season and while many are holding off in hopes that prices will go higher, a great number are disposing of their stock to local buyers who at present are paying one dollar even for choice hides.

CAMPBELLFORD

10-MINUTE TALKS AT CLUB LUNCHEON

Rotarians Tell of Trip to Oshawa—Visit General Motors Plant.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 9.—(Examiner Correspondence.) — Campbellford Rotarains divided their forces on Monday, a number of the members attending the inter-city meet at Oshawa, while those who remained in town held the weekly luncheon as usual. There was no special speaker, just ten minute talks from the past presidents and general routine business. In the absence of Vice-President C. B. Williams, ex-President Elie Brunelle occupied the chair.

Those who joureyed to Oshawa report having had a splendid time and the program arranged for "motor night in a motor city" came up to all expectations. The afternoon was spent visiting the General Motors plant, when a party of 150, escorted by guides, were shown through the different buildings and watched the various operations in connection with the making of a motor car. Then after a drive around the testing grounds the Rotarions and their guests were driven to the Genosha hotel, where over 300 club members representing Bowmanville, Port Hope, Lndisay, Peterborough, Whitby, Cobourg, Trenton, Oakville, Toronto and Mount Denis sat down to a gorgeous banquet, served in the gaily decorated dining room. After community singing and music, which was furnished by an orchestra composed of General Motors employees.

The speaker of the evening was Mr. George McLaughlin, who gave a most interesting address on 'Transportation From the Early Days,' taking his listeners back to the year 1906 when his firm built the first car and outlining the progress that had been made in the automobile industry since that time. Mayor Sinclair also briefly addressed the gathering, welcoming the Rotarians and trusting that they would all take home pleasant memories of their trip to the city of Oshawa.

Khaki, as applied to uniforms, is derived from a Hindu word meaning dusty or ash-colored.

Monday's Deaths

(By The Canadian Press)

Chattanooga, Tenn.—Adolph S. Ochs, 77, publisher of the New York Times.

Winnipeg.—Dr. T. Glendenning Hamilton, 61, internationally known psychiatrist, former Liberal member of the Manitoba Legislature, past president of the Manitoba Medical Association.

Toronto.—Dr. Newton Albert Powell, 88, one of the founders of the Academy of Medicine.

Santa Barbara, Calif.—Patrick Sullivan, 70, former member of United States Senate for Wyoming.

Victoria.—Joseph Hunter, 69, former civil engineer, British Columbia legislator, railway manager and coal operator.

Victoria.—Charles C. Bennett, 61 well-known in British Columbia horse racing circles.

Victoria.—William Gargan, 70, noted trainer of thoroughbred horses.

CAMPBELLFORD

Start Excavation Work Campbellford Post Office

CAMPBELLFORD, April 9 (Examiner Staff Correspondence). — Under the supervision of Engineer Elliott of Toronto, a gang of eight men were engaged on the lot opposite Davidson's Garage on Mill Street, known as the site of Campbellford's new post office. The principal work done on Monday was making test holes to discover the ground formation, but it is stated on good authority that work will proceed without delay.

NORWOOD

Mr. Elton Burgess, B.A., of Belleville spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Burgess.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Keefer of Peterborough spent Sunday with relatives here.

Miss Anna Brethen of Whitby visited her parents over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Howson of Toronto were week-end guests with relatives here.

WILLS NEED REVISING

Changes in the Family circle, altered financial values or other developments in the ordinary course of life tend to put a Will out-of-date. From time to time it may need revision. If you contemplate revising your Will we invite you to consult the experience of this Corporation on the practical questions involved.

Wills and codicils should be drawn by a solicitor.

THE TORONTO GENERAL TRUSTS CORPORATION

ASSETS UNDER ADMINISTRATION, $230,000,000

HON. N. W. ROWELL K.C. LL.D. President W. G. WATSON General Manager

TORONTO MONTREAL OTTAWA WINDSOR WINNIPEG REGINA SASKATOON CALGARY VANCOUVER

Mr. CAFFEINE—NERVES . . . the doctor blocks his plans

WHILE MANY PEOPLE can safely drink tea and coffee, there are a great many others who cannot. Perhaps . . . without realizing it . . . you are one of these.

The caffeine found in both tea and coffee may be robbing you of sleep, upsetting your digestion, or undermining your nervous system.

If you have any reason to suspect that tea and coffee are disagreeing with you . . . why don't you switch to Postum for 30 days? You'll find it a delicious drink . . . and it may be a real help. POSTUM contains nothing that can possibly harm you. It is economical, easy to prepare.

FREE—Let us send you your first week's supply of POSTUM—FREE! Write for it to Consumer Service Dept., General Foods Ltd., Cobourg, Ont. 19-35

MILLBROOK

ONE-ACT PLAYS ARE PRESENTED YOUNG PEOPLE

"Recreation Week" is Observed by Young People of Millbrook Church.

ENTER COMPETITION

MILLBROOK, April 9 (Examiner Correspondence) — "Recreational Week" for the Young People's Societies of the Peterborough Presbytery was fittingly observed locally with the public gathering held in the basement of St. Andrew's Church on Friday at 8 p.m., the main feature of the program, in addition to the special emphasis upon the recreation period, was the presentation of two one-act plays which the local young people intend to enter in the Presbytery competition which comes off shortly. Miss Helen Staples, of Peterborough, convenor of dramatics for the Presbytery, was present by special invitation.

A sing-song, in charge of Ken Kidd, recreational convenor, and with Francis Jones at the piano, opened the program, and following this the worship period, in charge of Beatrice Jones, who read the devotional poems, took place. The lesson was read by Dorothy McDowell, Bernice Smith led in prayer, and Phyllis Kidd gave the talk emphasizing the necessity of prayer, especially during the Lenten season. Oliver Brock took the chair for the business period, and announced that on Monday, April 8, the missionary convenor would have charge, and the next Monday, April 15, the young people are inviting the Session and congregation of the church to be their guests.

Enter Competition

Francis Jones, dramatic leader, explained that entrants in the Presbytery competition must first present their plays before their own society, and outlined the scene and story of the two prepared locally. The first was entitled "Pink Geraniums," and the scene was laid in a poor farm home, rented by John Borrows (B. B. Dawson), whose great desire was to own his own land and not continue as a tenant farmer like his father, and grandfather, before him. His wife, Julia (Helen Mitchell), a city girl, has little sympathy with his ambitions, and is decidedly dissatisfied with their poverty and uncongenial surroundings.

This feeling was aggravated when a city friend, Tessie Wells (Margaret Preston) unexpectedly calls, and finds Julia with her shabby clothes, and her poorly-furnished kitchen, while Miss Wells herself is dressed in the height of fashion. A pink geranium, in full bloom, on the oil-clothed covered table is the home's one beauty spot, and was a gift from her husband to Julia each year since their marriage. A registered letter, bearing news of an aunt's death and an unexpected legacy of two hundred dollars, cheque enclosed, is brought by Tim Nelson (Orville Wainman), who acted out his role of the curious neighborhood nuisance to perfection. The cheque seemed to promise the silk dress, and other lovely belongings that Mrs. Burrows has been longing for, and at first she decides not to tell her husband anything about it.

The entrance of Mrs. Peter Carey (Phyllis Kidd), asking the loan of the pink geranium, because the sight of the fragrant treasure helped to ease the pain in her crippled son's back. This request gave a new angle to Julia's thoughts, and realizing her blessings she puts aside the idea of spending the money upon herself, and instead gives it to her husband to complete the payment on the farm, gratifying the one great desire of his heart to own his own land at last. Needless to say the scene with a changed, and very happy, home atmosphere.

Second Play

The scene was entirely different for the second play, "Not Such a Goose," the setting for which was the attractive living-room in the city home of Mrs. Bell (Jean Burnham). Her son, Albert (Ken Kidd), is at the age to be crazy about baseball, balks at the idea of dressing up for dinner, and afterward taking Hazel Henderson (Beatrice Jones) his sister's chum who is coming for the evening meal, and whom he has not seen for four years, to the talkies.

The daughter of the home, Sylvia (Mary Burnham) has a call from Philip Flick (J. W. Thorndyke), and Albert is an unexpected witness of the latter's pleading for the rose Sylvia is wearing, and his frequent excuses for returning until finally good-bye is really said until seven that evening when Philip is coming to take his girl friend to the show. His subsequent mimicking of the scene leads to a violent quarrel ending in Sylvia's pounding her brother with a sofa pillow just as her mother enters.

An unexpected meeting with Hazel Henderson changes Albert completely—he becomes most anxious about his appearance, Mrs. Bell thinking he is doing it just to please her; refuses to allow either his mother or sister to invite Tom Harris to make the fourth for the show that evening; gives up a 'rough neck' acquaintance of the ball diamond of whom his mother strongly disapproves, and is decidedly infatuated, particularly when Hazel admires his playing which she has witnessed at the ball game that afternoon.

The play ends happily, Albert proving he is "not such a goose," with a general good understanding prevailing as the curtain falls.

The evening closed with the service of homemade candy, and a jolly recreational period including a number of singing games, and a novel 'guessing contest.'

Describe Research Of Medical Bureau

PHILADELPHIA, April 9 (C. P.) — Recent developments in physiology and biochemistry will be described by Canadian doctors at the annual clinical sessions of the American College of Physicians to be held here April 29 to May 3. The sessions will be presided over by a Canadian physician, Dr. Jonathan C. Meakins, Montreal, who will deliver the annual presidential address of the college.

Canadian doctors to read technical papers include Dr. Hector Mortimer of Montreal, who will speak on experimental effects of anterior pituitary hormones on cranial growth. Other Montreal doctors and their subjects are: Dr. J. B. Collip, recent work on anti-hormones; Dr. D. L. Thomson, correlations of the endocrine system; Dr. J. M. Lindsay, Von Gierke's glycogen; Dr. I. M. Rabinowitch, diabetes, and Dr. Edward H. Mason, treatment of gangrene.

Dr. Dudley Irwin, Toronto, will speak on pathological aspects of silicosis.

LIBERALS TURN GUNS ON LONG EASTER LAY-OFF

(Continued from Page 1)

an adjournment as the Government had lost the confidence of the people. This was shown by the by-elections and the provincial elections in which Federal issues were freely discussed.

Mr. Lapointe went over the speech from the Throne read at the opening of Parliament, claiming many of its promises had not been fulfilled and Parliament should not adjourn until they were. The Government's Minimum Wage Bill, for instance, remained on the order paper for second reading. It could be rushed through rather than the House adjourning. So could the Grain Board Bill.

It was "extraordinary presumption" for the Government to propose a five-weeks adjournment while "anger and impatience rage in the country," Mr. Lapointe said.

Parliament, Mr. Lapointe said, was suffering from senility and the Government was afflicted with paralysis. The adjournment would be a sleeping powder to a dying Parliament.

Against Titles.

Mr. Lapointe said he had heard reports Canadians would receive titles from London in May. "I hope this will not be done. Last year the House divided on the question of restoration of titles. The Liberals were unanimous against it and the Independents as well. Some of the Conservatives voted against the institution of titles in Canada. I claim under the circumstances a title is only a Conservative badge."

Titles, Mr. Lapointe said, were abhorrent to the majority of Canadians. He claimed one Toronto man who was in the last honors' list said he would have preferred a member of the nobility to John Buchan as Canada's next Governor-General. This man, Mr. Lapointe said, evidently had "chaos in his brain."

"We are going to have an election this summer," he continued. "I suggest we take a referendum at that time. It will not cost any money. I suggest we put this question to every Canadian and see what the people think."

Different Situation.

The situation in 1926 was an awkward one, said Mr. Guthrie, and afforded little parallel for the present situation. In 1926 a government had come back practically defeated and but for some ballot-box manipulation would have had a minority. Any self-respecting government would have called a new election, but the Liberals had decided to hold on to office.

Now the Liberals suggested an adjournment should not be taken when the Government could give good reasons for it.

The Mass Buying Commission report alone was sufficient reason. Never in the history of Canada had there been an inquiry so long or so important which would lead to legislation of such great consequence. The report would be long and complicated, and the legislation would require at least two or three weeks to prepare.

There were other reasons. The Prime Minister, who had taken the most active part in the program before the House and the measures yet to come would be absent until at least May 18. It was Mr. Bennett's duty to go to London to attend the King's jubilee.

No Canadian would suggest he should not go. Only informal conversations would take place in London, and nothing would be done to bind Canada. It would be well if those conversations took place more often.

In 1911 Sir Wilfrid Laurier as Prime Minister, requested an adjournment of two months in the middle of a session to attend the coronation of King George and an imperial conference to follow. That was an election year, and Sir Robert Borden, then leader of the Conservative opposition approved and said he was glad Sir Wilfrid was going to London to represent Canada. The people of Canada would rejoice that the Prime Minister would again represent Canada on the 25th anniversary of the accession of the same king.

Reasonable Request

"I submit this is a reasonable and proper request," said Mr. Guthrie; "any man who thinks he can deal with that Price Spreads Report in one or two weeks is not in his right senses."

Dr. J. K. Blair (Lib., North Wellington) attacked the government's general policies, particularly high tariffs. He claimed 60,000 railwaymen had lost jobs through the government's trade and tariff policies.

"I believe every man and every government should pay its debts," said Dr. Blair, "and I believe every generation should pay its debts and not pass them on to another. I protest against one province handing its debts over to another and against one generation passing its debts on to the next."

Colin Campbell (Lib., Frontenac-Addington) said the record and policies of the government had been fairly placed before the people last Fall and rejected. The Government did not have the confidence of the people and should not prolong the session.

Hon. J. C. Elliott (Lib., West Middlesex) said there was no doubt the Bennett administration had lost the confidence of the people, judging from is bye-election record. He believed there was no excuse for a protracted adjournment. It wasn't necessary for the Prime Minister to be here to lead the Government. In his absence, much legislation could be passed. It cost about $15,000 a day to keep Parliament going, and to bring the members back for four or five weeks would cost a great deal of money.

A. S. Bennie (Lib., Oxford South) said prolonged suspense about an election had a demoralizing effect on business, and a prolongation of the session would aggravate this suspense. Business men in Ontario were already feeling the effect of this demoralizing tendency.

Budgerigar is a dealer's name for the common Australian undulated grass parrakeet.

NORWOOD

OFFER REFUSED POWER GRADER

Belmont and Methuen Council Hold Meetings in Havelock.

BOARD OF HEALTH

NORWOOD, April 9 (Examiner Correspondence).—A special meeting of the Belmont and Methuen Council was held in the Armstrong House, Saturday evening, with all members present. Mr. Tummon representing the Lennox Equipment and Supply Co., was present, and made an offer for the power maintainer of $1,150.00 made up of culverts to the value of $450; two light graders, $350, and $350 cash.

On motion of McNeely and Vansickle, the above offer was rejected and a sum of not less than $1,400 is asked for the power grader. Robt. Marshall, road foreman, was authorized to proceed with work under Project 212.2H, as approved by the department governing unemployment relief.

Council adjourned.

At the regular meeting, held on Friday, on motion of McNeely and Whitney, the Preneveau Young People's Club was granted the use of Town Hall for their meeting twice a month, providing they furnish their own fuel and light and clean the hall to the satisfaction of the caretaker and Councillor McNeely. The hall must be closed at eleven o'clock and keys must be returned to caretaker. In case of a dance the usual fee of $6 will be charged.

Vansickle and McNeely moved that the council sell the power maintainer to the Lennox Equipment and Supply Co. for the following consideration; three light graders at $185 and $555, Lennox metal culverts to the value of $375, and cash $470; the clerk was ordered to forward the resolution to the Department of Highways for approval.

On motion of Vansickle and McNeely, the following accounts were passed and orders drawn on the treasurer for the same:

Loan to Municipal Telephone System, $100; Ross Barrons, supplies, direct relief, $38.92; A. Leeson and Sons, supplies, direct relief, $14.30; Mrs. Douglas Young, school attendance officer, work, postage and stationery, $5.80; G. W. Steenburgh, trip to Burleigh, $12; Road voucher No. 3, $56; Unemployment relief labor voucher, No. 1, $362.50.

On motion of Vansickle and Whitney, the school attendance officer's report was adopted. It was decided to give the road liability insurance and also insurance covering labor to the S. B. Huston Co.

Board of Health

The township Local Board of Health met at Dr. Thompson's office on March 6th, with all members present. On motion of Henry Pacey and Dr. Thompson, C. F. Steenburgh was appointed chairman for 1936. After some discussion of interest to the board, meeting adjourned to meet at the call of the chairman.

Bethany W.A. Plans Pot Luck Gathering

BETHANY, April 9 (Examiner Correspondence) — The Women's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Anglican Church held their regular monthly meeting on Thursday, April 4th at the home of Mrs. Dave Cairns. There was a splendid attendance. Plans were discussed for holding a Pot Luck supper during the Easter holidays, Friday evening April 26th in the Town Hall, Bethany. Two delegates were elected to attend the annual convention in May. The sum of $19.95 was reported as received from sales and dues collected. A bale of clothing was sent to Labrador valued at $25 recently. The ladies worked on quilts for Dorcas work. The hostess served dainty refreshments assisted by Mrs. F. W. Reynolds, Mrs. W. Morton and Mrs. Hamilton. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Joseph Hadden on May 7th.

CAMPBELLFORD

NEWS ITEMS FOR THE TRENT TOWN DISTRICT

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Seaborn, of Canrobert Street, announce the arrival of a baby boy on March 26th.

Mr. George Davidson visited his sister, Miss Jessie Davidson, of Peterborough, over the week-end.

The Bemersyde Chapter will meet at the home of Miss Eleanor Ferris Saskatoon Avenue, on Thursday evening April 11th.

SESSION LASTS THROUGH NIGHT

(Continued from Page 1)

credit in the British market and declared the bill should not pass it was beneath Ontario's dignity to allow such legislation on the statute books.

From Dr. George McQuibban (Lib., Wellington North), former Liberal House leader and confessedly the first to attack the Quebec power contracts, the House heard support of the Government's stand. Dr. McQuibban could recall when "it was a patriotic heresy" to speak of Hydro.

Means Power Shortage.

Cancellation of the contracts would bring "a gigantic power shortage in the province," declared Arthur Ellis (Cons., Ottawa South). Depreciation of the bonds of the four companies affected by the proposed termination had amounted to $51,865,000 in the past month, said Mr. Ellis, and he warned private power corporations in future would refuse to deal with Ontario.

When the Opposition leader was a member of the Hearst regime in 1916 he voted to cancel the power generation agreement granted to the Electrical Development Company, charged Col. F. Fraser Harter (Lib., Toronto-St. Patrick).

"If it was right for Sir William Hearst and a Tory Government to repudiate an unjust monopoly in 1916, why should it not be right to cancel unjust contracts in 1935?" asked Col. Harter.

"Repudiation or cancellation goes further than this bill," said W. A. Baird (Cons., Toronto-High Park). "The moment Ontario repudiated a contract any municipality will be at liberty to repudiate an individual will.

"If the right of anyone to repudiate is questioned, they will point to the Ontario Government and say 'there is our precedent'," said Mr. Baird.

He took the word of Attorney-General A. W. Roebuck that the Legislature was the highest court, and said if the Supreme Court of the land repudiated contracts, why should not the others.

"A Political Bill."

"This bill is political in every respect," said Col. T. A. Kidd (Cons., Kingston). "When the bill goes through we in Eastern Ontario don't know whether we are going to get power or not."

Col. Kidd said no power was obtainable from the St. Lawrence, and he placed on the government of former Prime Minister W. L. M. King the onus for non-development of the waterway.

"It is doubtful if the oldest member of the House can recall an instance in the history of this province such as we were compelled to listen to on the introduction of this issue by the Attorney-General," said Col. Kidd.

"The subject itself should be taken seriously, but not the representation of the Hydro Commission the present Attorney-General has given."

Challies Goes On

At 4.40 o'clock George H. Challies (Cons., Grenville-Dundas) took up the attack. There were about twenty members in various states of repose on the Government side. Conservatives had half a dozen.

Attorney-General Roebuck and Minister of Health J. A. Faulkner who sat wide-awake throughout the night appeared still alert. Premier Hepburn; his second lieutenant, Provincial Secretary H. C. Nixon, and other cabinet ministers except Minister of Highways T. B. McQuesten were absent.

There were still some spectators in the galleries.

"This is a straight case of repudiation," said Mr. Challies, and he charged the government in its Hydro speeches with an effort to besmirch its predecessors in office.

"The least the government can do would be to allow those besmirched to appear before a committee," continued Mr. Challies.

Daylight Comes

Daylight came, and the former Provincial Secretary was still speaking, his remarks punctuated by the ringing and buzzing of an alarm clock a member had surreptitiously smuggled into the chamber.

Members began to think of breakfast. By 2.45 o'clock the last supply of bacon and eggs had been consumbed in the Legislative restaurant. Members thought, too, of the Legislative barber who appeared headed for a successful day's business.

Meanwhile the press gallery emptied of all but one lone watcher, the rest of the newspapermen snatching a few moments' sleep to be ready for speeches by Leopold Macauley (Cons., York South) and Col. W. H. Price (Cons., Toronto-Parkdale) later in the day.

At 6.15 o'clock Mr. Challies finished his address and was followed by A. R. Nesbitt (Cons., Toronto-Bracondale).

London's first streamlined fire engine, combining a pump, a forty-foot extension ladder, hook ladders, and oxygen-breathing and hose-laying apparatus, recently made its first run.

50 Years Old To-Day

FRANK P. O'CONNOR

who is 50 years old to-day. Mr. O'Connor, in commenting on the progress of the world, said: "I am most thankful that during my first fifty years I have been privileged to realize and enjoy such achievements as the modern telephone, electric light, electric street cars, automobiles, radio, the talkies, aeroplanes, bicycles, tractors, motion pictures, and 'Mitch' Hepburn."

Weddings

LIPSIT—HART

FLEETWOOD, April 9 (Examiner Correspondence).—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hart, Fleetwood, was the scene of a happy event on Saturday, when their daughter, Margaret Moore, was united in marriage to Mr. Harry Lee Lipsit, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Lipsit of St. Williams, Ontario. Rev. R. F. Paton, pastor of Fleetwood United Church, performed the wedding ceremony. Mrs. Clifford Rich of Port Stanley played appropriate musical numbers.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was a vision of youthful loveliness in a white satin frock fashioned in princess lines, with a short train and yoke of real lace. She wore a veil of real silk net. Her bridesmaid, Miss Florence Robertson of Lindsay, looked charming in pale blue chiffon, with dainty touches of pink.

The only brother of the bride, Mr. Edward Hart, acted in the capacity of groomsman.

Following the ceremony and reception at the bride's home, the happy young couple left by motor for a honeymoon at Montreal and New York.

The bride travelled in a tailored suit of navy blue blouse and accessories. On their return they will take up residence at St. Williams.

Guests from Port Stanley, Brantford, Galt, St. Williams, Lindsay, Toronto and Fleetwood, were among those present at the happy event.

Obituary

MRS. J. E. COOLEY.

TWEED, April 9.—(Examiner Correspondence.—The funeral on Saturday of Emma McTaggart, wife of J. E. Cooley, in her seventy-seventh year, removed one of the respected residents of the Township of Thurlow. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cooley, and was born in the township of Thurlow, where she spent all her life, excepting four years. She was an active member of the United church, and besides her husband, leaves to mourn her loss one daughter, Mrs. Leo Osterivies, New York City, and one son, Roy B. Cooley, Lafayette, Ind.

JOHN OSBOURNE.

TWEED, April 9.—(Examiner Correspondence.)—The funeral of John Osbourne, who passed away in the Township of Rawdon in his seventy-fifth year after a lengthy illness, was held on Saturday in St. Paul's United church, Stirling, and was in charge of Rev. R. W. Rowland, chairman of the Belleville Presbytery, of the United church. Mr. Osborne had lived in his late home for the past twenty-five years. He was born in West Huntingdon, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Osbourne. Left to mourn his passing are his widow, whose maiden name was Charlotte Getcheson, and two adopted sons, Carman, at home and Bert in Delhi.

R. B. ALLEN.

TWEED, April 9.—(Examiner Correspondence.)—R. B. Allen of Napanee, formerly of Maribank, passed away in his eighty-eighth year. He was the eldest member of the Official Board of Grace United church and the son of the late Dr. and Mrs. James Allen, who settled in Addington county, coming from Ireland 108 years ago. Mr. Allen was born in Maribank, and for a number of years conducted a music store in Napanee. He was a noted temperance worker and Sunday school teacher, and a prominent member of the L.O.L. and Preceptory. He was twice married, and besides his widow, leaves to mourn his passing one son, R. A. Allen, Toronto, and two daughters, Mrs. Lileon Clayton, Toronto and Mrs. Frank Anderson, Ottawa.

WILLIAM I. COLLINS

MILLBROOK, April 9 (Examiner Correspondence) — Relatives here received word last week of the death of William I. Collins, which took place in his seventy-sixth year, at the Baptist Memorial Hospital, Memphis, Tennessee. Deceased was born in Millbrook, and was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Collins, his education having been received locally, with graduation from Trinity College, Port Hope.

The beginning of his illness was in December 1934 when he fell from a chair, fracturing his right hip; after three months recovery seeming assured, but a stroke, the second he had suffered, in March of this year, proved fatal, consciousness not being recovered, and the end coming peacefully on Wednesday, March 20. In 1914 Mr. Collins and his family came to Millbrook to make their home, and while here deceased was actively interested in local athletic groups., and also in charitable, and other movements, affecting the welfare of the community.

Previous to his return to Millbrook Mr. Collins had lived in Florida for some time, and in 1921 he went with his family to Clearwater, in that state to reside; and where he carried on in the real estate business, particularly during the boom years, in partnership with Dazzy Vance, the big league baseball pitcher, whom he had met while visiting the baseball training camp in the South.

Besides the bereaved widow, the immediate surviving relatives include one daughter, Margaret Ruth, and two sons, William J., of Chicago and Arthur W. of Memphis, Tenn. Local relatives include one nephew, J. H. Might, and three nieces, Mrs. F. J. Smith, Mrs. T. Douglas and Mrs. James Hutchison.

ROBERT W. CHAMBERS

MILLBROOK, April 9 (Examiner Correspondence) — The death of Robert W. Chambers, in his sixty-ninth year, at Vancouver, B.C., following an illness with pneumonia, removes a Millbrook old boy, residence having been here from an early age up to young manhood. Deceased was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Chambers, who moved here from Guelph shortly after the big fire that destroyed the greater part of the business section of the village; his father's place of business was in the building now occupied by E. C. Richards, a store being carried on in the front part, and in the room behind the carpet-weaving loom which was an important factor in David Chambers' means of earning a livelihood.

The late Robert Chambers was one of the many pupils of the late David Hampton, and the late Miss Sara Dean, both of whom taught locally for over fifty years; his apprenticeship to the drug business was in the store of the late J. B. Smith, and later with the late Alfred Leach. In recent years Mr. Chambers had been associated with his brother, Albert, in the Chambers' Drug Company, of Vancouver, and his immediate surviving relatives include, his wife, one daughter, Mrs. L. Gantell, one son, Frederick Chambers; three brothers, F. Thomas, Edward A., and Albert; also one sister, Mrs. John Ross (Agnes), all of Vancouver, B.C.

Deceased was a Presbyterian in religion, and interment was from his late residence at Vancouver, on Friday, March 22.

MRS. JOSEPH GOULD

HASTINGS, April 9 (Examiner Correspondence).—The death occurred in Belleville Hospital on Friday of Mrs. Joseph Gould, after a short illness.

The late Mrs. Gould, who was in her twenty-eight year, was a native of Norwood. Before her marriage her maiden name was Eva Margaret Brown, daughter of Mrs. Brown and the late Harry Brown of Norwood, who died recently.

After her marriage she resided in Hastings for a short time, when Mr. Gould joined the Royal Air Force at Camp Borden where they lived until he was transferred to the airport at Trenton.

She leaves to mourn her loss her sorrowing husband, one son Joseph and her mother.

The funeral services were conducted at the family residence in Trenton on Sunday afternoon after which the funeral cortege motored to Trent Valley Cemetery here for interment. The bearers were all comrades of Mr. Gould at the airport, and were dressed in the Royal Air Force uniforms.

The very large number present from Trenton, Hastings, and Norwood testified as to the multitude of friends the late Mrs. Gould had made in her short stay in this life.

ELMO LYMBURNER

WARSAW, April 8 (Examiner Correspondence).—Many old friends were shocked on Saturday, March 23, to hear of the death of Elmo Lymburner in his forty-fifth year at his home at the head of Stoney Lake, after a short illness of pneumonia. The remains were taken to Tilsonburg, leaving his home on Sunday morning, and the funeral service was held at H. A. Ostrander's funeral parlors on Tuesday afternoon and was very largely attended. The service was conducted by Pastor E. P. Emmons, during which Mr. Emmons and M. O. Stillwell sang an appropriate duet, "The Heart That Was Broken for Me," accompanied by Miss Helen Wildfang. The pallbearers were Messrs. S. G. Vance, Ira Truefitt, Dr. D. E. Taylor, Ivan Procunier, N. McClung and J. Shiever. The impressive Masonic service at the cemetery was conducted by V.W. Bro. A. E. Raynes. Interment was in the Tilsonburg cemetery.

The late Elmo Lymburner was a son of Mrs. Lymburner and the late Aaron Lymburner and was born in Middleton Township, where he lived until about seven years ago, when he removed to the head of Stoney Lake, where he was successfully engaged in the lumber business. Having been in that business in Tillsonburg district for the greater part of his life, he was well known there and was very popular with all who knew him. Besides his wife (nee Myrtle Dean, daughter of Mr. J. H. Dean and the late Mrs. Dean of Port Burwell), he leaves four children: Percy, 17; Burton, 15; Nono, 15, and Margaret, 13, all at home; his mother, Mrs. A. Lymburner, Glen Meyer; a brother, Frank, Maybee's Corners, and a sister, Mrs. Jennie Dean, Tillsonburg. He was an ardent angler and hunter, and always took a keen interest in sport.

When Mr. Lymburner came to Burleigh Township, there was no school at the head of the lake; he succeeded soon in having a much-needed school section laid off and built a school, where Mr. Noftall teaches, and which is a great blessing to the district. The three miles from Lakefield road was almost impassable except by wagon; he has built a good road over which cars and trucks may run. He did an immense lumber business until about three years ago, when it became almost impossible to sell lumber, and operations were stopped. Since then nearly all the lumber on hand has been sold.

Mr. Lymburner built for himself and family a commodious comfortable home with every convenience including a Delco light system. For the working men he built comfortable cottages of various sizes.

Mrs. Lymburner was an active worker in Carmel Church.

Mr. Lymburner was known for his kindly disposition and was much loved and respected by his neighbors, who feel his death greatly. All gathered at his home before the undertaker from Norwood took the body away on Sunday morning.

Mr. Albert Bryan, who know Mr. Lymburner's ways is overseeing at the plant for the present. The sons know the run of things, too, for their father trained them well. It is one of the largest lumber plants.

THERE IS STILL TIME to treat your cattle with COOPER'S WARBLE FLY POWDER—
100% kill—no guess work.
Ask your local Cooper Dealer, or write
Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers Limited
217 Bay Street - - - Toronto, Ontario

WARBLE MENACE

FOR SALE BY PRATTEN HARDWARE
396 George Street, Peterboro. Phone 2710

WHEN AT LAST THE ROADS ARE CLEAR... AND YOU HAVEN'T SEEN THE OLD FOLKS FOR MONTHS... AND THE CAR IS ALL TUNED UP...

Just pick up the telephone and let them know you're coming.

Wherever you may be, you can join the home folks at a moment's notice... via Long Distance. For as little as 30 cents you can talk 100 miles or so. Consult the front pages of your directory for rates.

H. H. P. JOHNSTON
Manager

The Examiner

The Examiner is a Member of the Audit Bureau of Circulation
The Daily Examiner, published every lawful evening by The Peterborough Examiner, Limited. Office: 416 George Street. $6.00 per year Delivered in City. Out-of-town Subscribers by mail, $4.00 per year.
Member: Canadian Press, Limited; Audit Bureau of Circulation; Canadian Daily Newspapers Association.
U.S. Advertising Representatives: Prudden, King & Prudden Inc., Chicago, Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and New York City.
Advertising Rates on Application.
R. M. GLOVER, Managing Director.
'PHONES: Editorial 1601. Business Office 1600. Private Branch Exchange to all Departments.

TUESDAY, APRIL 9, 1935

DANGER IN HIGH TAXATION.

Ontario motorists were delighted to find that the Hepburn budget contained no indication of increased gasoline taxes, and they would be even more pleased if they could have the assurance that among the taxation increases that are regarded as inevitable when the Legislature meets in the special session called for this fall there will be no increased levy on gasoline.

The revenue now obtained from motor car owners in Ontario would seem to be as great as could reasonably be counted upon, and any attempt to build up this amount by heavier taxation would undoubtedly defeat its own object.

Apparently that situation has developed in New Brunswick where a writer claims that some 10,000 automobiles, representing an original outlay of from $8,000,000 to $10,000,000, are being kept out of commission because the owners cannot afford to pay the license fees and gas tax.

Estimating that the average annual consumption of gasoline amounts to $447 per motor car, this man argues that the New Brunswick Provincial Government is losing over $600,000 a year, made up of license fees to the amount of $300,000 and gasoline tax totalling $313,000.

Lower gasoline taxes and license fees would probably have seen most of these cars in use, with helpful results so far as the provincial finances were concerned, and the net result would undoubtedly have been increased revenues instead of the loss of $600,000.

Taxation carried beyond a certain point has a boomerang tendency, and Governments which overlook that fact sometimes regret the step when they arrive at the time to compile their annual statements.

AVERAGE 23.7 PER CENT. FOR RENT.

While conditions differ somewhat in Canadian cities, a survey of 61 American urban centres recently, completed by the United States Department of Commerce, throws much light upon such interesting questions as the amount of rent paid by the average city dweller across the border, the proportion of income that has to be devoted to rent, and finally as to the amount of income possessed by the average American family.

The survey, based on 1933 conditions, covered every state in the Union, and here are some of the outstanding results:

(1) The typical tenant family in 61 cities paid $21 a month rent in 1933, compared with about $27 in 1929, a 22 per cent. reduction.

(2) Family—not individual—income in the same cities averaged $1,062, a 32 per cent. decline from 1929.

(3) Some 27 per cent. of the 165,000 families investigated were behind in their rent payments on January 1, 1934.

(4) Wages and salaries formed 92 per cent. of the family income. Other sources were roomers, boarders and investments.

(5) The head of the average tenant family was employed only 66 per cent. of full time during the first year of recovery.

While cost of living indices, based on wage-earner's budget, usually assign 20 per cent. of income for rent, it is significant that the range in this survey ran all the way from 8 per cent. to over 100 per cent.

The combined showing of the 61 cities showed an average of 23.7 per cent. of the total family income going for rent.

Proportion of rent delinquencies, the report shows, rose from 9 per cent. among families who spent less than 10 per cent. of incomes for housing accommodation to 35 per cent. for those whose whole income only equalled the rent.

Strangely enough, one city, Paducah, Ky., where rents averaged only 12 per cent., had 40 per cent. of its tenant families listed as delinquents.

THE EGG DRIVE.

There seems no end to the special campaigns of one kind or another designed to stimulate the consumption of Canadian products, and at the present time the Winnipeg Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a drive, with the co-operation of the poultry service of the livestock branch, Dominion Department of Agriculture, to increase the sale of eggs in Western Canada.

Offhand, it might reasonably be thought that Canadians are already doing their fair share of egg eating, for the statistics show that the annual per capita consumption in this country is 288, which makes us the world's champion egg consumers.

However, the Winnipeg organization thinks that even if Canadians did get rid of more than 3,600,000,000 eggs last year, at a market value of $30,000,000, we can do a lot better if we only put our minds to it, and hence this campaign which seeks to intrigue the interest of housewives by demonstrating some of the 1,000 ways in which eggs can be used as food, and by stressing the advantage of buying eggs by grade.

Most Canadians have been eating the output of the ubiquitous hen because eggs are an easily prepared food, and because they like them, but it seems from the claims made by the promoters of the campaign that there is much more to eggs than appears at first blush.

And so we learn that 97 per cent. of the edible part of an egg is digestible, while the vitamin enthusiasts will throw their hats in the air over the announcement that hen-fruit has vitamins A, B, D and G, and that it includes such mineral elements as sulphur phosphorus, iron, calcium and magnesium.

That settles the argument; we simply must eat more eggs if we do hold all existing records.

A BACKWARD STEP.

Although this action cannot be said to have been unexpected, The Examiner must confess to a feeling of regret that Hon. H. C. Nixon should have introduced an amendment yesterday restoring the use of dogs in deer-hunting in Ontario.

Frankly this looks to us like a backward step.

We believe that while there are many hunters who still favor hunting with dogs, a large proportion of those who opposed the ban when it was first introduced have since changed their minds, and are now convinced that in the interest of conservation the use of dogs should be permanently prohibited.

To The Examiner, however, this question looms up as much more important than a controversy between rival camps of hunters.

As we pointed out the other day, the wild life in Ontario belongs to the whole people—not merely to a comparatively few hunters—and the policy of the greatest good to the greatest number, we respectfully submit, should be followed in deciding what course should be pursued.

We cannot believe that other provinces and most of the American states are wrong, and only Ontario right, in their respective attitudes toward this matter of employing dogs in deer-hunting.

The experience of other districts is that the supply of deer has increased appreciably since dogs have been banned, and that being so, we cannot see why the rights of the whole people of the province should be sacrificed for the sake of that proportion of the hunting crowd that considers it necessary to use dogs.

What remains of our wild life is a most vital factor in our tourist promotion campaign; if we let that be wiped out because the interests of a few hunters are considered before those of the province generally, we will only have our own folly to thank if future years finds us with nothing to attract tourists except our scenery.

SINISTROCITIES IN THE BUDGET.

While the plutes may gnash their teeth over the provision in Mr. Rhodes' budget which boosts their income tax, we are not quite so worried about that as we are about two sinister little items that have sneaked in so quietly that no one has hardly noticed them.

We refer—need we say?—to the additional excise tax on patent cigarette lighters and on those ingenious little devices known as zipper fasteners.

We view with alarm any legislative measure that will tend to depress the progress of the zipper because we feel that the business of trying to figure out how the devilish things work is one of the most useful bits of mental exercise available, for the moment, to an overwhelming majority of the male population.

So far as cigarette lighters are concerned, the less said the better.

We are not necessarily one of those who stoutly maintain that Mr. Bennett is still the tycoon and star salesman of the match industry.

Nevertheless, we feel that a Machiavellian blow has been struck at those multitudinous odd fellows who prefer to fiddle about with an obstinate bit of mechanism rather than strike an honest match in the old plebeian way.

It is probably true that no historic feat of arson will ever be accomplished with a nidering cigarette-lighter.

But be that as it may, it is one of the most sacred tenets of our British rights and our British freedom that a lad should be permitted at all times to amuse himself in his own way.

And when a fellow wants to play with a cigarette-lighter, he should have a cigarette-lighter to play with.

Let's be British.

And then there's another thing about those zipper thingummys.

How can the real modern, dashing, up-to-date young chap fasten his pants if zippers are to be taxed out of existence? Just answer us that.—Vancouver Sun.

WHAT BECOME OF PEARLINE?

(From the Stratford Beacon-Herald)

Wallace Findlay wrote in the Mail and Empire seeking to make clear the difference between advertising and publicity. Mr. Findlay believes it is possible to secure better business by advertising, but it cannot be done at once, and it must be sustained.

He used one illustration which will recall a well-known commodity of other years, and that was Pyle's Pearline. Mr. Findlay says that product was "the granddaddy of modern powdered soaps," and so it was. We dare say there are people to-day who can recall going to the store and bearing with them written or verbal instruction to bring home a package of Pearline. The shoppers asked for it by name. It was widely advertised and continuously advertised. Mr. Findlay then proceeds to tell why Pearline is not on the market to-day:

> "New financial interests obtaining control of the company said: 'Let's stop this needless advertising; everybody knows Pearline.' So the money previously invested for advertising was used to pay extra dividends. But not for long. Sales fell off and dividends shrunk, shortly to stop entirely. And when the business was sold on the bargain counter the new owners discovered that the body was a corpse too far gone for resuscitation."

The reason for this is not hard to explain. The memory of the public is short. If you do not believe such is the case, try your own memory. Who was leader of the Opposition when Sir William Hearst or Sir James Whitney was premier of Ontario? Who was Prime Minister of Britain at the outbreak of the World War?

There are so many claims on public attention that if one is to advertise anything successfully he must keep on doing it. It must be taken for granted that the public forgets and must be constantly reminded. What happened to Pearline is an outstanding illustration of that truth.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Montreal hockey fans may not see red, but they most certainly see Maroon at the present stage of the Stanley Cup series.

The Vancouver Province thinks that Gertrude Stein should join the new monetary reformers. Judging by the way some of their theories are voiced, however, she must already have done so.

Although pointing out that relief continues to be a heavy drain and that increased taxation is inevitable, the Ottawa Journal says no ground exists for pessimism. "It would take a lot of bad government to ruin Ontario," says the Journal, philosophically.

The Y.M.C.A. as a community service organization has earned, and will undoubtedly receive, generous community support.

The long adjournment for Easter is accepted by most political commentators as proof positive that there will not be a general election until September.

Uncle Sam's latest public enemy No. 1 has been captured, which automatically moves another crook up to the head of the list. It is a case of "The king is dead; long live the king."

These road hogs think horns are things that grow on cows.—Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Registered U. S. Patent Office

By STANLEY

ALL OF US

(By Marshall Mastin.)

THE BROWSER

Would you be wanting to read a good book? Would you be caring to read what a young man in his thirties thinks of this life of ours? A wild young Irishman who never thought once of "playing safe", a reckless young poet of a daredevil whom you're more likely to be finding in a book than on a fine horse riding madly through life....And would you be caring for the Browser's recommendation of such a book?....Then cast your eyes over Francis Stuart's "Things to Live For" and you'll not be liking all of it but some of it you may be carrying with you all the rest of your days....The lads has written at least four other books: "Pigeon Irish", "The Coloured Dome", "Try the Sky" and "Glory", and the Browser will be frank with you and admit that none of them are great favorites with him.

But here is the author writing about himself and that's a world of difference. Here is his love for fine horses and airplane rides at night and good friends and brave women and the beauty and tenderness of Lourdes and loneliness and great risks and companionship and all the strangeness and fascination of being alive for a bit of a while on this earth of ours.

And here are some thoughts to carry in your pocket and take out and look at when the courage is oozing out of your boots and your feet are trembling to run away with you....The Irish blood that flows in the veins of the Browser commands him to say a good word for "Things to Live For."

* * *

Which is more than he can say for Elizabeth Madox Roberts' "He Sent for a Raven"....And that's a pity, because that writer's "Time of Man" and "The Great Meadow" are two of the best American novels. But this book is a mistake. The Browser hasn't finished it, but that's not necessary. The Browser doesn't like books about a man who swears when his wife dies that he will never set foot on God's green earth again—and keeps his vow. Nor does he like books that remind him on every other page of another writer. This one reminds him of the poet Robinson Jeffers—and what is Robinson Jeffers doing between the pages of a novel by Elizabeth Madox Roberts?....Besides, it is a vague and obscure book and the Browser doesn't like vague and obscure books....and he can't see why the writer worked on it for five years. It wasn't worth it.

* * *

Alexander Woolcott's "While Rome Burns" has sold 100,000 copies, and isn't that amasing....A little girl is reading Edna Ferber's "Come and Get It" and she tells the Browser it is "grand"....Burton Rascoe is writing reminiscences under the title of "Before I Forget"....In the last month sales of the Modern Library edition of "David Copperfield" have tripled. The Browser has just dipped into Thomas Wolfe's enormous novel, "Of Time and the River", and he feels a fever of intense appreciation coming on. Without a doubt you'll hear more about it from

THE BROWSER.

BIG IMPROVEMENT SEEN MUTUAL LIFE BUSINESS

The Mutual Life of Canada reports that the amount of new, paid for life insurance sold by the company during the first quarter of 1935 was 58 per cent greater than for the same period last year, and the number of policies sold was 32 per cent in excess of the 1934 figure. That this improvement is general throughout Canada is evidenced by the fact that 38 of the 42 branch offices of the company, from Halifax to Vancouver, submitted increased business.

A Thought for Today

"Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall."

—1 Cor. 10: 12.

What's in the Name of Canadian Cities and Towns?

By FRANK H. WILLIAMS

LISTOWEL, ONTARIO

Settlement of this town was effected in the late '30's or the early '40's, when a large number of arrivals came from Ireland. John Binning is accorded the honor of being the first settler and he promptly married the daughter of the second settler as soon as he could convince her.

The first name chosen for the place was Mapleton, but the post-office department denied them the right to use this, as there already existed a place by that name, so Listowel was chosen. No local resident seems to know the reason for the choice, beyond the fact that it undoubtedly is Irish.

Work Outlook Bright In North Bay Area

NORTH BAY, Ont., April 9. — (CP).—Prospects for employment in this district during the late spring and summer seasons appear to be the brightest in the last four years, according to H. A. Desjardins, superintendent of the North Bay employment service bureau.

"The saw-mills will employ approximately 550 men, and that will be a 100 per cent. increase over last year," he said. "That is not the whole story—man hours will be increased, too. At least 100 men will be engaged for the river drives."

Mr. Desjardins estimated approximately 600 men will be employed to do railway maintenance work during the summer months.

These lumbering and railway employment figures apply to the district bounded by Cobalt, Markstay and Huntsville.

NORWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. T. Murdoch and Miss Mary Roxburgh of Toronto spent the week-end with Mrs. J. E. Roxburgh.

Mrs. A. Harrison who has been spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cuthbertson has returned to her home in Beaverton.

Miss Elizabeth Thomson of Toronto was the week-end guest at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. G. Thomson.

Mrs. John Scott and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hamilton of Warsaw visited relatives in Norwood on Sunday.

Mrs. E. C. Squire also Miss L. Scott are visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Patterson in Toronto.

It so Happened

.. .. finds Howard Gerring .. ..

THAT ON APRIL 9

1681—La Salle, famous explorer of early America, reached the mouth of the Mississippi river.

1793—A Catholic Relief Act, passed by the Irish parliament, was signed by the King.

1867—A special commission began trial of the Fenians in Ireland.

1890—Canada decided to renew modus vivendi with the United States.

1691—The first locomotive passed through the St. Clair tunnel.

1917—Vimy Ridge was captured by the Canadian Corps.

1920 — Thieves went religious when they stole thirty-five thousand Bibles at Chicago.

1923—The ordination of women as preachers was opposed by the New York Conference of the Methodist Episcopal churches.

194—A strike of 5,600 motor-part makers in Detroit ended with a ten per cent. increase in wages.

IN DAYS GONE BY

Items Taken From Old Fyles of The Examiner

APRIL 9, 1925

G. N. Gordon, Deputy Speaker of the House of Commons, entertained the National Council of Women at a luncheon in Ottawa yesterday.... The Market Clerk has installed a telephone for the convenience of farmers and patrons on the local market.

APRIL 9, 1915

W. Langford, Jr., W. S. Dodd, Dr. W. T. Holloway and G. O. Cameron have been nominated for alderman to succeed Alderman Johnston in the North Ward....Hamilton Baseball Club is trying to sign up Ken Tracey, Petes' pitcher for this summer.

APRIL 9, 1905

An improved chopping machine has been installed by the Central Milling Company here....The call for recruits here for the Canadian Permanent Corps, at $16 a month and improved rations, is not attracting many local men lately.

The One Minute Pulpit

And he that repeath receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal: that both he that soweth and he that repeath may rejoice together.—St. John 4:36.

A Thought

SMILES.

By Velma Rammels, Campbellford

A young blind girl raised her hand to her mother's face and said, "I know it is you, Mother. I can feel your loving smile. It makes me feel as if I could really see you again."

I wonder if we are smiling the right kind of a smile; the smile that will help the weary to find their way to see and live again?

Are our smiles hard or sarcastic? Are they true or politely manufactured for the occasion?

The smile that creates friendship is the true smile of forgiveness. The smile that has the power to shroud the bitter things and bring a glowing joy to a chilled soul is the smile of a loving heart. We all have that power within us. Are we hiding away in a tomb or going forth where the garden of love and peace is in bloom?

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

THIS IS VIMY DAY

On this date (April 9) in 1917 the Canadians captured Vim Ridge. It is a day which should not be permitted to pass unnoticed in our schools or around our evening tables, for it is a day which should ever be recalled with pride by all citizens of Canada. The engagement opened at 5.30 a.m., the Canadians moving forward under "a veritable curtain of steel." Early in the afternoon they were masters of Vimy Ridge, had captured over 4,000 prisoners, as well as 30 guns, scores of machine guns and trench mortars and vast quantities of war material.

Is it any wonder that France was grateful to Canada and dedicated Vimy Ridge to Canada? Canadians did that which the French twice failed to do, won back the Ridge which had been captured by the Germans early in the war. It was the first distinctly Canadian triumph. It came at a time when the spirits of those of us at home were downcast, and it gave us all new hope, despite the terrible toll taken in lives. It set a new landmark in Canadian history, which should be told in every school and honored by the flying of the Union Jack on every public building, every school and all private flag poles.

This summer a number of the men who fought in that battle will revisit the ridge, together with some of the mothers and widows and children of those who fell there and made the ridge a little bit of Canada in France, a spot ever scared to the memory of those who gave their lives in that Easter Monday battle.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS

By H. W. L. MAHOOD

JAPAN AND RUSSIA

The Moderate Tone of Newspapers

In Japan in both the centers of thought and of official pronouncement there has been a remarkable change in the past few weeks. Japan is not as militaristic and defiant as she has been. In Russia throughout the Union of Soviet Republics there is a calm and self confidence. Russia is ready for any kind of storm. Credit for the improved conditions in the Far East must be given to Russian diplomacy. The strength of the Russian army is disciplined soldiers and in equipment has had its effect upon Japanese officials. Russia made ready for war in the Far East, but her readiness has made for peace. This incident teaches that at crises moments an invisible intelligence often makes the plans of man for war serve the cause of peace. A large Russian army, disciplined and trained, was sent into the Far East to await war. Japan to defeat this move of Russia would be compelled to strain her resources of both men and finances. Japan hesitated. Finally the conclusion to let well enough alone was reached.

For Japan to advance her strength in the Far East the conquest of Siberia stands out as the only objective worth the cost of blood. Siberia is as impregnable in the Occident as Gibraltar is in Western Europe. To command the Mediterranean the possession of Gibraltar is strategic. For Japan to have a free hand in Eastern Asia, Siberia is as strategic.

JAPAN

Has Other Resources Besides Russian Army

Tokyo and all other Japanese buildings are built of inflammable material. Every building in village or country or city is of wood. The word "every" is written here. There are some brick buildings. Perhaps, there are a few stone dwelling places. But the greater percentage of Japanese homes and hovels and places of business are of tinder-dry wood. A Russian air force could set Japan ablaze in one night. In Siberia the buildings, if of wood are snow covered most of the year. There is an abundant supply of stone either on the surface, or a few inches below. Russians would laugh at an attempt to set Siberia ablaze. The new psychological mood in Japan is not to be attributed to the seeming crisis in Western Europe.

Russian Diplomacy — Stalin and Litvinoff are statesmen of a high order. In the Far East their diplomacy is counting more for peace than Russian armaments. Stalin is so sure of Russian strength in Asia that he has announced the withdrawal of Russian troops from the frontiers of Manchukuo and the Soviet borders. A peace spirit is slowly but surely taking hold of all Asia and especially of Japan. The sale of the Chinese Railway by Russia has deepened the peace sentiment in Manchukuo and Japan. For a long time this Chinese or Eastern Railway has been a source of endless friction. Brightened conditions in Asia has made possible the new role Russia has undertaken in European affairs.

RUSSIA

Free Deal With Hitler.
The Visit of Anthony Eden

Germany has been secretly rearming for a year. The drilling of soldiers has been in secluded places. The press have been ordered to be silent about the matter. British Air Ships travelling over Europe have not been blind. But Britain has kept what was known to herself. Much of the drilling has been done after nightfall. Munition factories have been running full time. This has been known. The wonder is that Britain has not been in the least disturbed. Britain was concerned but not worried.

Then Hitler blundered. Boldly he announced that Germany would rearm as a first class nation. 500,000 men would be called to arms. Germany has to-day ready for the battle field 600,000 soldiers. Her army exceeds that of France. Hitler expected that Britain and France and Italy would be greatly disturbed. France was. Italy was excited. Britain took the incident as a matter of fact and said little. Sir John Simon had been scheduled for a visit to Berlin. For the moment the plan was cancelled. When Britain took action it was to ask Hitler if there was any reason why the visit should be postponed or cancelled. Promptly came the reply that there was none. The calm of the British and the absence of any disquiet occasioned by the violation of the arms clause of the Versailles Treaty on the part of Sir John Simon, angered the French. As if nothing alarming had taken place Sir John made ready for a trip to Berlin. He went not to attempt to secure agreements. He went to explore. He went to gather data for the British Cabinet. Therein the wisdom of British procedure. Britain is as calm after his return to London as it was undisturbed before.

CAVAN SOCIETIES HOLD JOINT MEET

W.M.S. Invites Pastor to Address Society—W.A. Lays Plans For Concert.

CAVAN, April 9.—(Examiner Correspondence).—Cavan W.A. and W. M. S. held a joint meeting in the church on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. J. R. Trumpour was in charge of the devotional period and Mrs. Oakley Carley read the devotional leaflet. Mrs. R. A. Sutton acted as secretary in the absence of the regular secretary, Mrs. R. Matchett.

Mrs. Trumpour took up, in an interesting manner, the second chapter of the Study Book on India. Mrs. Snider read an article on Christian stewardship, and assigned missionary articles to be read by a number of the members.

Instead of the usual custom of having a lady deliver an Easter message to the W.M.S., it was decided to invite the pastor, the Rev. J. R. Trumpour, to speak especially to the society, the Sunday after Easter, when the Easter thank-offering will be taken.

W.A. Session.

The W.A. completed plans for the concert in Cavan Community Hall on Saturday evening, April 13th, when the Carolina Jubilee Singers will provide the program. They have consented to remain until Sunday and sing at morning service, April 14th.

It was decided that each member of the W.A. should bring something, not exceeding 25 cents in value, to sell at the next meeting. It may be seeds, bulbs, slips or any other article.

The meeting was well attended, and some new names were added to the roll.

Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar," performed by English actors, was recently broadcast from Rome.

MILLBROOK

FIREMEN CALLED TO GASOLINE FIRE

Millbrook Firemen Are Called Out Twice in Two Days.

MILLBROOK, April 9 (Examiner Correspondence) — A grass fire on Saturday afternoon, which had been started at the rear of J. W. Whitfield's residence, and which spread with alarming rapidity into the evergreen hedge on the adjoining property of ex-Warden W. T. Wood, led to the calling out of the fire department about 4.30 p.m.

A strong east wind was blowing at the time, and there was some danger of nearby buildings being reached by the flames. The firemen soon had a good stream of water playing on the burning hedge and grass, extinguishing the fire, but not until full one-third of the hedge, which was of several's growth and added greatly to the appearance of Mr. Wood's property, had been completely destroyed.

This was the second call the firemen had answered in two days, the first fire, which might have had decidedly serious consequences, breaking out when the twin gas pumps (Cities' Service) were being installed in front of the small garage in the centre of the King street business section, which was previously operated by the late William Bingham, and is now in charge of Leo Charlebois.

The gas tank had been filled to capacity and apparently some gas had seeped out, quite a burst of flame followed the jumping between two points of the electric current used to illuminate the pumps at night. The fire, however, was soon extinguished with the use of the chemical engine.

READ THE WANT ADS

Toronto Silvers Follow New York-London Lead

MARKET QUOTATIONS

QUOTATIONS COMPLETE TO CLOSING TIME

Toronto Stocks
BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

	High	Low	Close
Albtibi	95	..	..
Con. Bake.	13½	13	13
Br. Am. Oil	14⅝	14½	14½
Beauharnois	3⅝	3½	3½
Can. Bread Co.	2¼	..	..
Bldg. Prods.	27¾	26	..
Bell Tel.	125	124½	124½
Burt, F. N.	29½	30	30
Brazilian	8⅝	8½	8⅝
Brewers & Dis.	60	60	60
Brewers Corp.	3¼	3⅛	3⅛
B. C. Power "A"	23½	23	23
Can. Bud.	7½	7½	7½
Can Cement	6⅝	6½	6½
C. P. R.	10	10	10
Can Dredge	20½	..	..
Can Car and F.	8	8	8
Can. Oil	12	12¾	..
Can. Malt.	30	29¾	29¾
Cockshutt	7¼	7⅛	7⅛
Dom. Bridge	26	25¾	..
Dist. Seagram	16⅛	15¾	16⅛
Dom. Stores	8½	8½	8½
E. Electric	10	⅛s	..
Ford "A"	28¼	28⅛	28¼
C. G. E.	155b	..	..
Can. Gypsum	6	6	6
Cons. Gas	190	189	190
Goodyear	125b	..	..
Ham. Bridge	4b	..	..
Walk. G. and W.	27½	27	27¼
Int. Nickel	26⅝	25	25⅝
Int. Util. "A"	18	100	..
Int. Util. "B"	25	40	..
Ind. Alcohol	9¼	⅛	9¼
Imp. Oil	16½	16⅝	16⅝
Imp. Tobacco	12¼	12⅛	12⅛
Con. Smelt.	132½	130	132½
Laura S.	61	62½	..
Loblaw "A"	18⅝	18⅛	18⅝
Mont. L. H. & P.	26½	..	..
McC. Frontenac	14	14	14
Massey Haris	4¼	4⅛	4⅛
Moore Corp.	17⅝	18	..
Page Hersey	81¼	b	..
Presed Metals	9¼	9	9
Power Corp.	7⅝	..	..
Photo Eng	22	..	..
Int. Pete	31¼	30⅝	31
Sup. Petro.	23¼	24	..
Stand. Paving	90	90	90
Tip-Top Tailors	7-8	..	..
C. Vinegar	27b	..	..
Wineries	5	5	5
Waterloo	⅛	2	..
Walker Brew.	3½	3⅜	..
Weston's Ltd.	23b	..	..
Steel of Can.	46	45	45

New York Stocks
BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

	High	Low	Close
Atchison	40⅝	38⅛	40⅛
Auburn Auto	18	17¼	18
Allied Chem	134	133½	134
Amer Can	118½	116⅝	118½
Amer Smeltin.g	34⅝	33½	34⅝
Am Rad & S.S.	13¼	12½	13¼
Am & For Power	3½	..	..
Am Tel & Tel	107¼	106½	107⅛
Am Roll Mills	19⅜	19¼	19⅜
Anaconda Cop	10¾	10⅜	10⅞
Balt & Oh'o	10¼	10⅛	10¼
Bordens	23⅝	22m	23½
Byers A M	13¼	..	..
Bendix Avn	13⅞	13½	13⅞
Beth Steel	26	25	26
Briggs	27⅛	26¾	26¾
Can Pacific	10	9⅞	10
Case J I	51⅝	49¼	51½
Chrysler	36⅝	34⅞	36⅝
Col Gas	6¼	..	..
Coca-Cola	192½	..	..
Cons Gas	20⅝	20¼	20⅝
Com Solvents	19¼	18⅝	19¼
Dupont	92¼	91	92½
El Bond & Share	7⅛	6⅞	7⅛
Elec Auto L	21¼	20⅞	21¼
Gen Electric	23⅝	23¼	23½
Gen Food Prods	33⅜	..	..
Gen Motors	29⅝	28⅜	29⅜
Gillete Saf Raz	14⅜	14c	14⅜
Goodyear	18¼	17⅝	18⅛
Houston Oil	14⅛	..	..
Hudson Motors	7⅛	7⅛	7⅛
Int Harvester	37⅜	37	37⅝
Inter. Nickel	26⅝	25½	25⅝
Inter. Tel. & Tel	7⅛	..	..
Johns Manville	44½	43¼	44½
Liquid Carb.	29⅝	29	29⅝
Mont. Ward	25¼	24¼	25¼
Nash Motors	13	12⅝	13
N.Y. Central	15¼	14¾	15¼
Nat. Biscuit	25¼	24⅝	25
North American	13¼	12⅞	13⅛
Phillips Pete	18	17⅜	18
Pack. Motors	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝
Penn. Rly.	20	19⅝	20
Radio Corp.	4⅝	4½	4⅝
Radio Keith	4⅝	4½	4⅝
Sears Roebuck	36	35½	36
Simmons Bed Co.	7¼	..	..
Stand. Brands	15⅞	15½	15⅞
Stand. Gas & E.	3½	..	..
Std. Oil of N.J.	39⅝	38⅝	39¼
Socony Vac.	13¼	13⅛	13¼
Studebaker	2⅝	2½	2½
Stewart Warn.	8⅝	8¼	8¼
South. Pacific	15½	14¾	15¼
Texas Corp.	19⅝	19¼	19⅝
Timken Roll. B.	31⅞	30½	31⅝
Texas G. Sulph.	30	29⅞	30
Union Pacific	91	86½	91
Union Carb.	46½	46⅛	46¼
United Corp.	3	2⅞	3
U.S. Rubber	11⅝	11¼	11⅜
U.S. Steel	31¼	29½	31⅛
Vanadium Corp.	15⅝	15¼	15⅝
Westinghouse.	38	37¼	38
Warner Broo.	3⅛	..	..
Yellow Cab.	2⅞	..	..
Woolworth	55⅝	54⅞	55⅛
Nat. Distillers	27⅛	27⅛	27⅛

BOND LIST
WATSON, WALLACE & CO.

Dominion of Canada
1936	104½-104⅞
1937	110½-111
1941	111⅝-112½
1952	104½-105
1958	100 -100¼
Province of Ontario
1945	109 -110

Toronto Mining
WATSON, WALLACE & CO.

	High	Low	Close
Acme	21½	..	..
Ajax	83	..	..
Aldermac	8	8	8¼
Anglo-Huron	380	..	..
Bagamac	7	..	..
BRXX	22	20	20¼
Beattie	180	..	..
Bobjo	25	..	..
Braylorne	810	790	810
Base Metals	60	..	..
Buffalo Ank.	265	260	260
Coniagas	335	ask.
Can. Malart	63½	..	..
Castle Treth.	76	70	76
Cent. Patricia	151	147	149
Chibougamou	24	23½	24
C. Research	186	160	160
Conisarum	213	..	..
Dome	3850	..	..
Eldorado	140	126	140
Falconbridge	375	360	365
God's Lake	138	136	137
Goldale	14⅞	14½	14⅞
Granada	34	32	32
Greene Stab.	24	..	..
Gunnar	65	..	..
Hollinger	1660	1650	1650
Home Oil	56	55	56
Hudson Bay	1400	1325	1400
Howey	85	..	..
Jackson Man.	15	14¼	14¼
K'rk. Cons.	6-7	..	..
Kirk. Lake	47	44	44
Kirk. Townsite	26	24	24
Kirk. Hudson	28-30	..	..
Lakeshore	550	..	..
Lee Gold	6	5½	5⅝
Lebel Oro	6½	..	..
Little Long L	565	..	..
Man and East	5¼	4½	4½
Macassa	230	212	220
McIntyre	4200	4275	..
McKenzie	121	120	120
McMillan	19½	18½	19½
McWatters	170	164	167
Mining Corp	98	90	98
Nipissing	233	225	233
Noranda	3650	3605	3650
North Canada	25-28	..	..
Paymaster	19	17½	18
Parkhill	20	..	..
Pioneer	1130	1050	1120
Pend Oreille	50	..	..
Premier	164	162	164
Pickle Crow	280	275	277
Read Anthier	65-68	..	..
Reno	143	140	142
Red Lake Gold	40	38⅝	39½
Sherritt	63	62	63
Siscoe	292	292	293
San Antonio	375	..	..
St Anthony	20	..	..
Sud Basin	130	..	..
Sud Mines	4¼	4	4
Sylvanite	234	233	233
Sullivan	66	..	..
Tech Hughes	418	411	417
Toburn	115	..	..
Towagamac	26	..	..
Ventures	92	..	..
Waite Amulet	70	..	..
Wayside	17⅞	17½	17⅝
Wright Harg	875	860	865

UNLISTED.

Bankfield	73-75
Casey Contact	26-28
Galatea	9-9¼
Hudson at	15¼-16½
Karl Springer	175-225
Long Lac Lagoon	10-12
Lamaque	165-175
Magnet	15-16
Mosher	3½-4½
McLeod	4¼-5½
Oklend	34-35½
Smelter	9½-10½
Sturgeon	88-92

Sales—653,000.

Grain Quotations
LEEMING AND LEEMING
Phones 2786 and 2787

Winnipeg Wheat	May	July
High	88⅛	86⅝
Low	87¼	87⅝
Close	88	88¾
Chicago Wheat
	May	July
High	95½	92⅞
Low	94⅝	91⅞
Close	95	92½

Electrics To Enter Girls' Softball Loop

C.G.E. girls had a re-organization meeting last night in the gatehouse and decided to enter a team in the City and District Softball League.

Officers were elected and plans laid to field the strongest team that could be selected from among the employees. Indications are that the Electrics will be a real threat this year due to the fact that at the present time the number of female employees at the plant has reached a high mark, and several of the newcomers have already played softball before. Three players in particular stand out as valuable additions.

The officers for the coming year are as follows: Hon. pres., C. A. Salmonsen; president, H. S. Cotton; vice-president, H. A. Cranfield; secretary-treasurer, Marjorie Creighton; and an executive committee representing the various departments throughout the Works, as follows: W. Whitney, Fractional Motors; Ethel Roberts, Induction Motor Winding; Margaret Snowden, Meter; Laura Bosley, Punch Press; Margaret English, Porcelain; and Dorothy Byers, Office. The selection of a manager was laid over until Wednesday night when another meeting will be held in the gatehouse.

READ THE WANT ADS

SILVERS SHOW GOOD ADVANCES

Big Base Metals and Some of Senior Golds Firm in Sympathy.

CASTLE-ELDORADO UP.

TORONTO, April 9.—(CP)— The silver stocks kicked up quite a dust on the Mining Department of the Toronto Exchange today, enlivened by the upward progress of the quotation on Bar Metal in London and New York. When the white metal touched 63 in New York buying of Castle, Eldorado and the penny silvers steamed up and gains of 5 to 10 cents were recorded. The big base metals also firmed substantially and some of the golds this afternoon recovered morning recessions.

Noranda and Hudson Bay were the bright spots in the copper group, the former gaining 50 cents to 36.50 and Hudson Bay 60 cents to $14. Pioneer Gold advanced 50 cents to $11 while Teck Hughes and Wright Hargreaves backed up 10 to 15 cents each.

Net gains of 2 to 5 cents appeared for Sheep Creek, Pickle Crow, McWatters and God's Lake. Bradian dropped 5 and Beattie, Siscoe, Sylvanite, San Antonio and Central Patricia closed unchanged.

TORIES CONTINUE ATTACK ON BILL

(Continued from Page 1)

recess this morning of an hour and 40 minutes.

The former Highways Minister declared Mr. Slaght had certified in a letter there was a valid contract between the MacLaren - Quebec Company and the Hydro Commission. He said bond dealers had distributed that letter to sell the bonds because Mr. Slaght was known as a good friend of the government. He added on the basis of that opinion $6,000,000 in bonds had been "unloaded" in Ontario last November.

Weak Government

Col. Price pictured members of the government waking at night and saying to themselves, "I've got to stick to it; I've got to go through with this thing." They had acted in desperation like the weak government they were, said Mr. Price. "You should know all about weak governments," put in Hon. David Croll, Minister of Welfare.

Why, asked Mr. Price, did not the government act to cancel the contracts when the MacLaren bonds were issued last November. That was the time to take action if it should be taken, not now when small bondholders would be affected. The banks had "got from under" in the matter of these bonds. Poor people were holding them. It was these thrifty people the Legislature had to protect.

Mr. Macaulay asked if Premier L. A. Taschereau of Quebec had sent emissaries to interview Premier M. F. Hepburn last week.

There was no direct reply from the Government benches.

"If the honorable member asking?" interjected Hon. David Croll.

"Yes, I'm asking," replied Mr. Macaulay, but Mr. Croll merely said "Oh," and the Government members broke into laughter.

"Why certainly they were here," continued Mr. Macaulay, "and the Premier probably is expecting them again this week. And Premier Taschereau will have someone at Ottawa, too," he added.

Members of the Government smiled again, and again ignored the suggestion.

Policy of the Premier in introducing for second reading his Bill for terminating the contracts lent an air of "bitterness and stubbornness to the debate," said Mr. Macaulay.

The former minister protested against the all-night session and the Premier's statement yesterday the House would sit all night if necessary to achieve second reading of the Bill.

"We're just up against a cantankerous Tory opposition," said Mr. Hepburn when Mr. Macaulay read an article charging the Premier with dictatorship.

"The outstanding object of this Bill is to hang something on the previous administration," said Mr. Macaulay.

Power Group Inactive, Fractional Better Tone

TORONTO, April 9.— (C.P.) — Trading in the Toronto bond market was around the minimum to-day with prices holding firm. Interest in the power group appeared suspended pending the result of the proceedings in the Ontario Legislature relating to power contract revision.

A fractionally better tone just about offset the reaction that set in around closing time yesterday. Buying was also quiet with prices steady in the high-grade department.

SAILING CLUB MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Sailing and Aquatic Club will be held at 8.00 p.m. on Friday, April 12, in the Recreation Room in Duffus' Garage, Water Street. Members are urgently requested to attend and bring any friends interested in sailing. Those unable to attend are asked to notify L. W. Scott, secretary-treasurer.

Sales Manager

STANLEY H. YOUNG

who has just been apointed General Sales Manager of Christie, Brown and Company, Limited. Since returning from Overseas, after four years' service with the Canadian Corps in France, Mr. Young has been connected with the company in the capacities of cashier, office manager and district sales manager, in Winnipeg and Toronto. Mr. Young was born in Sunderland, Ontario, and has developed a hearty interest in community welfare and boys' work.

HITLER OPPOSES PACT INCLUDING SOVIET RUSSIA

(Continued from Page 1)

tioners 'taking all factors into account he still believed the British air force had a margin of superiority over Germany, despite Hitler's claim Germany had reached parity with Britain in the air.

The Foreign Secretary gave the first official version of the military, naval and air demands made by Hitler in Berlin. These include an army of 36 divisions, totalling not more than 550,000 men; including the Schutz-Staffel and militarised police; a navy 35 per cent. of the tonnage of the British navy; parity in the air with Britain or France, with an eye also to the Russian air force.

Security Essential.

Regarding Russia, Sir John said Anthonyl Eden, Lord Privy Seal, had learned in Moscow the Soviets consider the present International situation more than ever made it necessary "to endeavor to promote the building of a security system for Europe, as contemplated by the Anglo-French communique of London and the principles of the League of Nations."

He said the Soviets viewed the eastern pact as not aimed at the encirclement of any State and as providing equal security for all participants, likewise as believing the participation of Germany and Poland in the pact would be the best solution to the Eastern European problem.

He said Germany demanded the right to possess all the types of arms used by other countries and not relinquishing them until the others did the same. Germany stated if an arms limitation agreement was reached, Germany would work on an agreement of permanent automatic supervision if applied to all powers equally.

Disappointed

"I have confined myself," Sir John told the House, "to an account of what was said by the others, but it must not be supposed the British ministers (himself and Captain Eden) did not indicate strong disagreement at certain points, and, indeed, at the end of the Berlin interview, I expressed disappointment at the difficulties disclosed in the way of an agreement."

In connection with Hitler's colony demand, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald said Great Britain was not considering giving up any mandated territory, saying he felt Germany was under no misapprehension regarding Great Britain's policy in this matter.

Sir John asked continental countries not to take too much stock in the various comments on Great Britain's Stresa plans which have appeared in "leading newspapers of this country which are sometimes supposed on the continent to represent the government's opinion." He said the government had not yet completely defined its conclusions from his and Captain Eden's tour and would not define them before the discussions at Stresa.

Sir John said he felt there was no chance of Germany returning to the League of Nations "in the present circumstances."

U. S. Sounds Newfoundland On Reciprocal Trade Pact

ST. JOHN'S Nfld., April 9 (C.P. Cable).—The United States was understood to-day to be sounding out Newfoundland's Commission Government on the question of a reciprocal trade agreement.

An Official American source said the United States Government had intimated it would be willing to consider proposals put forward by the colony as the basis for a treaty.

It was emphasized, however, the intimation was informal and had been conveyed only orally.

Officials of the island government were silent.

Newfoundlanders recalled, though, the question of a trade pact with the United States had been talked of unofficially here for some time.

HANSON GIVEN SIGNED REPORT ON MASS BUYING

Minister Proposes Taking It Up With Cabinet Before Tabling It.

530 PAGE DOCUMENT.

Signing at 11 a.m. is Officially Photographed By Government Bureau.

OTTAWA, April 9 (C.P.). — The report of the Royal Commission on Mass Buying was signed at 11 o'clock to-day. A weighty document of 530 pages, it was presented to Minister of Trade and Commerce R. B. Hanson this forenoon. When it will be released for publication, Chairman W. W. Kennedy did not know. The minister has said he proposes taking it up with thte Cabinet before tabling it in the House of Commons.

All the Commissioners were present when five printed copies were passed around for their signatures. Seven of them signed without any reservations, three signed with reservations, and one signed a minority report. The Commissioners were divided as follows:

Signing complete report: Chairman Kennedy, A. M. Edwards (Con., Waterloo South), Mark C. Senn (Cons., Haldimand), Thomas Bell (Cons., St. John-Albert), J. L. Baribeau (Cons., Chamolain), Hon. H. H Stevens (Cons., Kootenay East), and D. K. Kennedy (U.F.A., Peace River).

Three Reservations.

Signing with reservations: J. L. Ilsley (Hants-K'ng's), Oscar Boulanger (Lib., Bellechasse), and Sam Factor Toronto West-Centre).

Signing minority report: E. J. Young (L'b., Weyburn)

The "ceremony" was preserved for the public by photographs taken by officials of the Government Motion Picture Bureau.

Before the Commission was formally dissolved Chairman Kennedy expressed his thanks to his colleagues for their co-operation and also to the staff of the Commission.

Livestock-Produce Quotations

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

TORONTO, April 9 (C.P.) — Wholesale prices on fruit and vegetables as supplied by White & Co were reported unchanged to-day

TORONTO POULTRY

TORONTO, April 9 (C.P.) — Wholesale prices on poultry as supplied by the United Farmers' Co-operative Co., were reported unchanged to-day.

TORONTO CHEESE

TORONTO, April 9 (C.P.)—The Toronto Wholesale Cheese Market was steady to-day, with dealers buying large, colored, paraffined and government grades at 13c.

Wholesalers offered cheese to retailers at the following prices:

	Large.	Twins.	Triplets
New	13c	13¼c	13¼c
Old	17c	17¼c	17¼c
Medium	15c	15¼c	15¼c

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, April 9 (C.P.) — Wholesale prices on produce delivered at Toronto, as supplied by the United Farmer's Co-operative Co., here to-day were:

Eggs—Grade A large, dozen, 15c; grade A medium, 13c; grade B, 12c; grade C, 12c.

Churning Cream. — No. 1, lb. 23c; No. 2 21c. Butter—No. 1, solids, 23c; No. 2, 22½c.

Ontario Cobbler potatoes, bag 55c.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, April 9 (C.P.) — Cattle trade was active on the Toronto Livestock Market this afternoon, with prices holding firm on all grades. Calves, sheep and part of the lamb supply sold steady, but hogs remained unsettled with packers' bids unchanged on off truck and 15 cents lower on off cars.

Receipts as reported by the Dominion Livestock Branch were: Cattle, 1,480; calves, 540; hogs, 1,060; sheep and lambs, 1,780.

Choice weighty steers sold at $7 to $7.50, while choice handyweight butchers brought $6 to $6.50 with other butchers at $5.25 to $6.25. Good cows went at $4 to $4.50 with common down to $2.50. Fed calves held firm at $6.75 to $7.50 for choice and a few light stockers brought $4 to $5.

The calf division held steady with the bulk of the supply going at $5.50 to $7. Choice vealers brought tops of $7.50 and $8. About 400 of the 1,500 Western lambs sold at $7. Spring lambs brought $4 to $9 each. Sheep were steady at $3.50 to $4 cwt.

The hog market remained unsettled with packers bidding $7.75 f.o.b for bacons, $8.10 off truck and $8.50 off car. Salesmen held their supplies in the hope of higher prices later in the day.

ONTARIO HOG PRICES

TORONTO, April 9. (CP). — Chatham bacon hogs lost 25 cents to-day while all other reporting points held unchanged from yesterday. To-day's prices: Chatham, $7.50; Stratford, $7.75; London, $7.75; Barrie, $7.75; Kitchener, $7.75; Brantford, $8; Hull, $8.25.

Dies Suddenly

The Reverend Dr. H. W. L. MacHood, familiar throughout the city and district as an Examiner columnist for the past several months, died at Nicholls Hospital this afternoon. He had been in an indifferent state of health for some months, and had recently returned to hospital after suffering a relapse.

MINING STOCKS

A daily column which answers the Queries on Mining Stocks that are of general interest to Examiner readers

WRIGHT-HARGREAVES

QUERY: I have been holding Wright-Hargreaves shares for a number of years and have seen it decline in price to $1.15 per share in 1929 and rise again to $10.25. I am wondering if I should take my profit or retain my stock in the hope of still higher prices. Do you think that the company can maintain its present earnings?

—G.B.McK.

ANSWER: Wright - Hargreaves has staged a remarkable come-back since 1929, when the milling was reduced from 700 tons daily to one half this amount in order to build up the ore reserves. An extensive and intelligent development program has been under way, which has now carried development to the 3900 foot level, while a new internal shaft, No. 5, has for its present objective 5,000 feet and is to be equipped with a hoist capable of going to a depth of 7500 feet. That the development program has been successful is evidenced by steadily increasing ore reserves and production. At the end of the last fiscal year, August 31, 1934, the ore developed showed an increase of 20 per cent over the previous year and was estimated at 1,165,204 tons, averaging .46 ounces of gold per ton. Earnings during that fiscal period were 70 cents per share, while the recent report covering the six months ended February 28 last shows a profit of 36 cents per share. At the present time the mill is treating approximately 1,000 tons of ore daily.

The company has built up a very strong liquid position and on August 31 last had current assets of $4,116,705 as against current liabilities of $1,353,989. Thus, after fifteen years as a producer in the Kirkland Lake area, the company is in a stronger position, both as to ore outlook, cash and earnings than at any time in its history. Obviously, this current position is due in a large part to the present high price of gold, but there are no indications that dividends of 10 cents per share quarterly, plus bonuses, can not be easily sustained. Last year total dividend disbursements were 60 cents per share. With earnings at the present time at the rate of 72 cents per share, it is obvious that the current market price of the shares is discounting still higher earnings. This is not entirely a false hope, as it is possible that the present milling rate will be further increased, possibly to 1200 tons daily, which should give a corresponding increase in net earnings. While current market prices and earnings give a yield lower than should be acceptable from an investment of this kind, it can be justified by higher earnings being imminent, brought about by either higher prices for gold or increased production. I believe that shares of Wright-Hargreaves compare favorably with other leading dividend paying gold stocks, if one is prepared to accept the relatively low yield for a wasting asset.

LOSSES FEATURE IN INDUSTRIALS

Outnumber Gains as Price Level Shows Soft Spots—Interlisteds Firm.

TORONTO, April 9 (CP)—The Toronto industrial share market lacked steam to-day and while distillery, implement and interlisted leaders firmed up to show small net gains the price level had some soft spots and losses slightly outnumbered the gains. Traders were on the sidelines and volume little better than 10,000 shares.

In the last half-hour liquors stiffened up for gains of ¼ to ⅜, Massay Harris and Cockshutt Plow had ⅛ to ¼ to the good and Nickel, Brazilian, C.P.R. and Consolidated Smelters closed on the up side, the latter with a gain of 1¾. Canada Dredge dropped ¼, Canada Cement ⅜, Canadian Car ¼, and United Steel the same amount.

Canada Packers, National Grocers Preferred, Consolidated Bakeries and Canada Bread appearing behind minus signs.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, April 9 (A.P.). — Stocks recovered to-day without any great difficulty from their moderate setback of yesterday. Metal issues were particularly firm, although quiet strength was manifested in other sections of the list.

U.S. Smelting got up some points and American Smelting and Cerro de Pasco were each a point or so higher. Other gainers of fractions to a point or more included American Telephone, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, N.Y. Central, U.S. Steel, Loew's, General Motors, Seaboard Oil, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Union Carbide and United Drug. The closing tone was fairly firm. Transfers approximated 730,000 shares.

The word "caucus" is a corruption of the Calkers' Club, founded by Samuel Adams for the purpose of recommending the best men for office.

LUDENDORFF, 70 GERMAN NATION PAYS HOMAGE

Highest Officials Bring Greetings to Famous War-time Strategist on Birthday.

CROWD SURROUNDS HOME.

(By Louis P. Lochner. Copyright, 1935, by the Associated Press)

MUNICH, April 9.—The little village of Tutzing on the shores of picturesque Starnberg Lake, the home of Germany's famous wartime strategist, Gen. Rich Ludendorff, became the hub of the Reich's universe to-day.

High dignitaries of the government directed their steps toward the old warrior's Bavarian retreat to felicitate him on his 70th birthday anniversary.

Gen. Werner Von Blomberg, Minister of Defence; Gen. Werner Von Fritsch, Reichswehr Chief of Staff, and leaders of the old imperial army with Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm as their spokesman were among those who carried greetings.

Crowds surrounded Ludendorff's simple and comfortable two-storey, gabled country manor early in the day in the hope of getting a glimpse of the general.

An added air of excitement was produced by the expectation Reichsfuehrer Hitler himself might appear later to express his good wishes and thereby affirm the fued which has separated him from his one-time associate has been healed.

Troops Hear Eulogies

In every Reichswehr barracks soldiers started early to shine their boots and burnish the buttons and epaulettes of their uniforms for the muster of 31,100 troops in honor of the Great War campaigner.

Each commanding general had orders to address a eulogy of Ludendorff to his men.

Flags on public buildings reminded the nation of the occasion, which the Reichsfuehrer emphasized in a special proclamation.

A notable exception in these gestures of respect, however, was afforded by the Roman Catholic and Confessional Synods, which announced they would remain aloof from the celebrations. No flags would fly from their houses of worship, they said, because the old soldier has pronounced anti-Christian doctrines.

2 TORONTO MEN

(Continued from Page 1)

were riding was carried about 345 feet down the track and the highway is reported to have indicated skid marks at the crossing. Coroner Dr. J. T. Thomas investigated. He was assisted by Inspector Jerome and Traffic Officer F. Kirk of Shelburne.

Mr. Henderson was founder of the Ontario Mineral Waters here, and had the distinction to own the first motor car in Toronto. A sister, Mrs. C. R. Tobey, lives at Tara, Ont.

Mr. Salisbury was a former chauffeur for Sir Joseph Flavelle here, and later operated a garage of his own.

The Victoria Trust and Savings Company

Established 1895

Head Office -:- Lindsay, Ontario

The Victoria Trust and Savings Company was established in the year 1895 as a Loan and Savings Company and is now one of the outstanding financial Companies of Ontario. In 1924 by Letters Patent it was made a Trust Company, empowered to act as Executor, Administrator, Trustee, etc.

The time has now arrived when the Company believes its services should be offered to the citizens of Peterborough and vicinity and the short distance separating Lindsay from Peterborough, coupled with modern means of communication and transportation permits us giving the same service to citizens of Peterborough as that given to Lindsay and its vicinity.

A few of the advantages of having our Company named as executor of your will are:—

We pay 4% on our guaranteed Investment Receipts.

(1) Absolute Financial Responsibility.
(2) Experience.
(3) Impartiality.
(4) Provision for making immediate advances to estates or beneficiaries where necessary.

All the foregoing and others can be secured by having your solicitor name our Company as your Executor when having your will drawn.

Victoria Trust & Savings Company

Y.M.C.A. Financial Campaign Gets Under Way

REQUIRE $7,500 TO FINANCE WORK DURING THE YEAR

John A. Tory of Toronto Addresses Workers as Campaign Opens.

SERVICE OF HUMANITY

Needs of Extending Y.M.C.A. Work Among Youth is Urged.

The sharp crackle of rifle fire, which resounded above the customary hum of the traffic in downtown Peterborough last evening signalized the opening of a campaign that is to be waged with ceaseless energy during the next few days.

Khaki clad riflemen from the Peterborough Rangers occupied a position on the top of one of the city's buildings on George Street and fired a fusillade that warned the populace in the immediate vicinity that something unusual was taking place.

Harmless Volley

The volley of rifle fire was a harmless one. Rifles pointed skyward merely discharged blank cartridges. Similarly the campaign which the rattle of musketry signalised, was a peaceful one.

In brief it was the opening of the Y.M.C.A. Financial Campaign which is scheduled to close on Wednesday night of this week, with a minimum objective of $7,500, which is needed to balance the Association's budget.

Opening Supper

Charles Shaw, campaign chairman presided at the opening supper meeting, which was well attended by the campaign workers made up of divisions and teams of the city's leading business executive and young business and professional men.

Even before the campaign was officially declared open by the chairman announcement was made of two out of town donations to the campaign amounting to $150.00— a fact which augurs well for the ultimate success of the drive that is planned to promote the work of the Y.M.C.A. on behalf of the city's youth.

John A. Tory of the Sun Life Assurance Company was present in the capacity of guest speaker and he brought with him a message of inspiration that gave the campaign a promising send-off.

Mr. Tory was introduced by N. J. Wootten, manager of the Central Ontario District of the Sun Life, as a man who is looked upon "as one of the outstanding organizers and leaders of men on this continent".

In 'Y' Work 40 Years

The guest speaker who journeyed from Toronto after a day of unusual activity, had to leave the meeting immediately after he had delivered his message in order to make connections in Toronto with the Boston train. Mr. Tory who has been associated with Y.M.C.A. work over a period of forty years, was general chairman of the Toronto Y. M. C. A. campaign in January when $101,000 was raised for the maintenance and extension of the Association's work in that city.

He stated that the campaign which exceeded the objective set by $1,000 was the first among several financial campaigns over a period of four years, which had met with any success in the City of Toronto.

Mr. Tory emphasized the urgency of the need that existed for the extension of Y.M.C.A. work among the youth of the country, and made particular reference to the results that were being attained in Toronto, where he said it is estimated there are 12,000 men and boys between the ages of 16-25 years in the ranks of the unemployed.

"What should be done; can be done", Mr. Tory declared in urging the campaign workers to set out on their mission with resolute hearts, and in a spirit of determination.

"Service of Humanity"

"You are going out in the service of humanity", he reminded his hearers, "and you must remember that if the 'Y' is to do the work of God it must get out and raise money in order to function efficiently on behalf of the increasing numbers of the unfortunate youth".

Mr. Shaw who led the 'Y' forces to a splendid success last year, tendered the speaker a hearty vote of thanks ably moved by W. A. Richardson, past president of the local Y.M.C.A.

In declaring the campaign open, Mr. Shaw did so after reading the 27 Psalm, and after the Rev. C. D. Daniel, had led the gathering in prayer.

During dinner which was served by an able committee of lady workers, the band of the Peterborough Rangers under the baton of Lieut. W. Peryer presented an enjoyable program of musical selections, which earned high praise from the campaign chairman.

The campaign workers are organised in two divisions (A and B) under respective leadership of Clifford N. Hall and Clare G. Collins. Each of the divisions is subdivided into teams, there being a total of twelve teams in all who have set out in the keenest spirit of friendly rivalry to achieve the desired objective.

DRAMA IN GIRL'S SUIT LOEW PAINTED VILLAIN

NEW YORK, April 9 (U.P.)— A touch of East Lynne melodrama was unfolded in Supreme Court last week when pretty Collette Francois, 21, of Paris, accused Arthur M. Loew, film magnate, of being the father of her little daughter, Catherine.

Collette, who is suing Loew for $100,000, took the witness stand to relate a story in which the film executive was portrayed as the traditional "heavy," plying his suit with rare champagne and inviting her into his bedroom to look at the etchings.

Collette said she met Loew on a trip to France. He promised her a Hollywood career, she said, and spoke of marriage.

Millbrook

Mrs. A. C. Darling of Peterborough visited her grandmother, Mrs. (Dr.) E. L. Burnham, who is ill following a fall in her own home on Sunday evening, on Tuesday and again on Wednesday of this week. Mrs. F. W. Burnham accompanied Mrs. Darling on Tuesday, and Mrs. Frank Stinson on Wednesday, the latter being the guest of Mrs. M. McDowell for the afternoon.

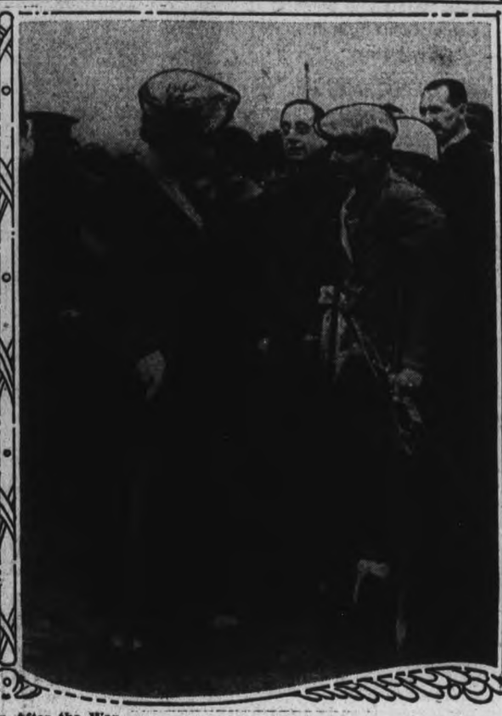
The annual convention of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church in Canada will be held in Knox Church, Toronto, on April 9, 10 and 11, and it is expected that a large delegation of local W.A. members will endeavor to attend.

The Leadership Training School held at Millbrook for five consecutive nights was attended by fifty pupils, over twenty-five writing on Tuesday, at the close of the lecture periods. The area covered included Cavan and South Monaghan, with Millbrook, and the teachers were Rev. H. P. L. Seymour, and Miss Estella Hetherington. The course covered included the teaching of the Master, and methods of teaching.

Miss Elsie Spence, of Toronto was home for the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Spence.

The Young Peoples' Society of Grace Presbyterian Church met on Wednesday at 8 p.m., with Mrs. F. J. Dewell, convenor of the missionary committee in the chair, and leading in the worship period. Miss Annie Johnson, deaconess of Montreal, gave an inspiring talk on "The Need and Aims of Missions," and George McKnight talked on, "Are you training an understudy?" Following the offering, Dick Williams gave an outline of the work of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Johnthan Goforth in Manchuria. Business items included the announcement that the young folk of the Peterborough Presbytery will hold a joint picnic at Cobourg in July, and it was decided to hold a progressive crokinole party on April 22. The last meeting of this season will be in May when Rev. Mr. Trumpour, of Cavan, will be invited to lecture on his work during the war, in connection with the Y.M.C.A.

Our King and Queen



The King and Queen After the War

THE war was over. Great was the rejoicing—a rejoicing mingled with sorrow for those who were never to come back.

In London the celebrating populace seemed naturally to turn their steps toward Buckingham Palace. There King George and Queen Mary stood for hours on the balcony to receive the plaudits of the tremendous throng who in this time respected the monarchy more than at any time in many years.

But hard work was not ended. With the end of the war came the task of rehabilitation, readjustment to new conditions of living. In this work the King and Queen played their parts magnificently. They were everywhere. They did everything in their power to aid a people suffering from the effects of war; they were seen in places where no Monarch had ever before thought to visit.

One of our pictures today, for instance, shows the King visiting homes of the men in the barracks of Aldershot. He is seen chatting informally with the wife and children of one of the soldiers. In the other picture the Queen is at a sporting function at Southfields, Surrey. She stopped to talk to an injured war veteran.

During the war years and the years after the war, the work of the Queen amazed those who knew her intimately. She seemed never to tire; she was always ready and willing for any appearance or function; her vitality was unbounded. Never greatly interested in sport, she nevertheless was to be seen with the King at many sporting affairs, other than horse racing, to which the King was strongly attached.

To-morrow: The Royal Family in 1920.

APRIL SHOWERS ORDERS FOR CARS

Conspicuous Gain Shown by Pontiac and Oldsmobile, G.M.C. Products.

DEMAND IS GENERAL

OSHAWA, April 9.—Factory shipments of automobiles, always a good index of the Dominion's trade activity, showed a remarkable upturn for the first quarter of the calendar year at General Motors of Canada, Limited. The increase over the first three months of 1934, according to C. E. McTavish, general sales manager, amounted to 70 per cent, and was a direct reflection of the demand from dealers in every part of Canada. This demand shows no signs of abating, as a result of which domestic schedules for both April and May at the big Oshawa factory will be even higher than in March.

"We have received a shower of orders for April," said Mr. McTavish, "and it looks as if the total number of cars turned out up to the end of March would be only the starting point for a big year of motor car activity."

Industrial Improvement.

"The sales upturn," he continued, "has not been confined to any one price bracket. The most conspicuous gain, of course, is shown by Pontiac and Oldsmobile, both of which have been in production for a much longer period than at this time last year. Coming down to trucks, I consider it an excellent sign, indicating a strong industrial improvement throughout Canada, that Chevrolet trucks and G.M.C. trucks are in demand comparable with passenger cars. A year ago we considered our production to be relatively high, but this year we have far surpassed it, and I can hardly over-estimate what this means in increased factory employment and the activity of Canadian industry generally."

Analysis of dealer orders shows that the increased demand is not confined to any region in Canada, but is fairly generally distributed.

Export orders continue at a high level. Shipments for export in the first quarter were more than 100 per cent. greater than for the same period in 1934.

Pontiac cars are sold and serviced by J. J. Duffus Co., Water street at Charlotte. J. K. Hughes, Ltd., 394 Water street, sell and service Oldsmobile cars.

Omemee

Mr. and Mrs. T. Dickson and family of Marmora visited friends here on Saturday.

Mr. J. McGahey and Mr. G. Bullen of Silver Lake spent the week-end at the home of the former.

Miss Marjorie Tripp of the Western Hospital, Toronto is visiting her parents.

Miss Jessie Lamb and Miss McMahon of Hastings were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Lamb.

Mr. Arthur Williamson accompanied by his mother, Mrs. R. Williamson motored to Toronto last week.

Mrs. S Faulkner spent a few days last week with her daughter Mrs. Halligan at Bewdley.

Mrs. A. Franks and Mrs. Boate of Peterborough visited friends in the village on Wednesday.

Miss Miller of Peterborough was a recent guest of Mrs. D. Belch.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Minifie and daughters Hilda and Valeda and son Harold and Miss Cheyenne of Bewdley visited Mr. and Mrs. S. Faulkner on Sunday.

Mr. A. Williamson, Miss Lillian Williamson and Mrs. F. Evans attended the funeral of their cousin in Millbrook last Tuesday.

The Friendship Bible Class had a taffy pull at the home of Bertrum Werry last Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown and children of Cobourg visited Mr. and Mrs. E. Lloyd on Sunday.

Mrs. J. McGahey and daughter Connie are spending this week with Mrs. Stinson of Brighton.

Mr. Dickson is visiting with his daughter, Mrs. A. Stephenson in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Stephenson were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Amos in Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Stinson of Janetville spent a day last week at the home of their son, Mr. A. Stinson.

Miss Mildred Magee of Orange Corners is the guest of Miss Marion Carrie.

Mr. H. Cunningham of Port Perry is visiting with Mrs. G. Fee.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Laidley and Mrs. Burgomaster visited Mrs. Russell in Lindsay on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Ford of Millbrook were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. R. Ford.

Mr. W. Prince of the Bank of Toronto has returned after a three weeks vacation at his home in Toronto.

Twenty-one members of the Women's Guild were the guests of the Misses Curry at their home for the March meeting. The tea which will be held the latter part of this month at the home of Mrs. S. Nurse was discussed. The remainder of the afternoon was spent sewing. At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by Miss E. Curry and Miss C. Cornwall.

REVENGE.

CHICAGO, April 8.—(A.P.)— Her tavern robbed, Mrs. Mary Boska, 40, stalked the man she suspected to his home and shot him to death to-day. He was George Psiodz, 44. A second shot from the angry woman's revolver wounded John Jarecki, 20, one of the men who went along with her on her bandit-hunting expedition.

Nearly 800,000 trees and 3,000,000 bushes have been plante din Moscow, Russia, in the last four years.

Have you Tried?

DURHAM CORN STARCH

Product of the St. Lawrence Starch Co. Limited, Port Credit, Ont.

PROSPECTS ARE ENCOURAGING ACCORDING TO BANK LETTER

Increased Iron and Steel, Automobile and Newsprint Production Reflects Improved Business Conditions — Larger Livestock Exports

MONTREAL, April 8 (C.P.).—In spite of the usual seasonal dullness, business conditions in Canada during the first quarter in 1935 have been generally satisfactory the April monthly letter of the Royal Bank of Canada, released to-day, stated.

"The upward trend established in 1934 has continued and prospects for the year are encouraging," the letter said.

Increased iron and steel, automobile and newsprint production, continued activity in mining, large livestock and lumber exports reflect the improved conditions. Car loadings have also increased.

Special attention was drawn in the letter to the tremendous increase in base metal production in Canada in 1934, compared with 1933. "Despite the low prices generally prevailing for base metals, in no previous year has the Canadian output been so great."

First quarter 1935 manufacturing operations have continued on satisfactory basis. Iron and steel plants are active. The automobile output in January was 10,607 units, against 6,904 in January, 1934. Textile and boot and shoe factories have been busy. During January and February, Canadian mills produced 382,266 tons of newsprint compared with 363,330 tons in the corresponding period of 1934 and 264,796 tons in 1933. Shipments have continued in good volume but have not kept abreast of output so mill stocks are larger than usual.

The Doctor then advises him to play safe with "B.O."

KEEP your complexion young—softly sparkling, crystal clear. Difficult? Expensive? Not with this simple, refreshing "home" facial. Work up a rich, creamy lather using Lifebuoy—the deep-cleaning toilet soap that lathers so abundantly in hard or soft water, hot or cold. Massage this lather well into pores; then rinse. Do this nightly—see skin bloom with health.

Facts about "B.O."

Even on cool days we perspire a quart a day. We grow accustomed to this ever-present odour—offend unknowingly. Play safe—bathe regularly with Lifebuoy. Its purifying lather deodorizes pores—stops "B.O." (body odour). Its fresh, hygienic scent vanishes as you rinse.

23 KILLED IN TYPHOON

MANILA, P.I., April 8 (AP)— Thirty-three persons were known to be dead on Samar Island, many were injured. The entire 21,000 population of Borongan was homeless and damage was extensive following an unseasonable typhoon Saturday.

Belated reports said 25 had been killed in the town of Borongan, on the east coast of the Province Samar. Four were reported killed at Catbalogan, capital of Samar.

A WORD ABOUT RICE KRISPIES from W. K. KELLOGG

OFTEN the introduction of a new product benefits many phases of Canadian life. This has been our experience with Kellogg's Rice Krispies.

We had a double objective in developing Rice Krispies. First, to create a delicious cereal that would appeal to every one. Second, to help mothers in their task of getting children to take sufficient milk. It was thought that a different type of cereal—one that would snap, crackle, and pop when milk or cream was poured into the bowl—would stimulate appetites.

This was true. Today, people of all ages are enjoying Rice Krispies. The convenience of serving this ready-to-eat cereal has resulted in shorter hours for mothers—less time spent in the kitchen—more moments of leisure.

The success of Rice Krispies has opened a large new market for the Canadian farmer. The Kellogg Company is daily creating a demand for tremendous quantities of milk, to say nothing of fruit and honey. The Kellogg Company also uses many million bushels of corn and wheat every year.

Canadian industry also benefits. Thousands of people are kept busily employed in the manufacture and marketing of Kellogg Cereals.

We are pleased that Rice Krispies have added a tempting new ready-to-eat cereal to the Canadian table, and have delighted millions of mothers and children. We are particularly happy that this has helped thousands of people to have better jobs, and to enjoy life more.

W. K. Kellogg

More Complete Organization of Industry Urged

MASS BUYING REPORT WILL BE SIGNED TO-DAY

Lone Liberal Total Dissentient E. J. Young Turns In Minority Report.

OTTAWA, April 9 (CP)—The report of the Royal Commission on Mass Buying was scheduled to be signed to-day by the ten Commissioners who agree with it, either in whole or in part. The eleventh member of the commission, E. J. Young, Liberal member of the House of Commons from Weyburn, was the sole total dissentient. Mr. Young turned in a minority report.

Three other Liberals, J. L. Ilsley, Sam Factor and Oscar Boulanger, signed with reservations, some of them quite lengthy.

The Conservatives, Chairman W. W. Kennedy, Hon. H. H. Stevens, J. A. Bariheau, Mark C. Senn, A. M. Edwards, Thomas Bell, and the lone representative of the United Farmers of Albert, Donald M Kennedy, affixed their signatures without reservation.

The Government had already anticipated one of the report's recommendations in enacting the eight-hour day, while the Prime Minister last January preceded the commission's recommendation on the abolition of no par value shares.

Merchandising Supervision

The Federal Trade Commission of five members, to be named by the Government, will supervise or co-operate in the administration of existing laws relating to merchandising and business practices for which no other agency exists. This board would constitute the court to which complaints of unethical business methods would be brought and would act in the nature of a referee as between disputants themselves.

The labor section of the report is interesting in its recommendations for a more complete organization of industry into employers' associations and the unionising of employees. Collective bargaining would be given a definite status in law if this part of the report is implemented.

To enforce more strictly the minimum wage laws of the Dominion and Provinces the report recommends larger and better staffs, with increased penalties for violation.

No general exemptions would be given to the firms for any reason whatever, but regard would be had to the cost of living in various localities. The difficulties experienced in the "20 per cent. class" would be surmounted by giving a more rigid definition of "inexperienced and handicapped workers." Important is the Commission's recommendation that the minimum wage law should not be used as an instrument to crystallise low wages.

Boost for Stockmen.

To live stock raisers encouragement is given in the recommendation for lower freight rates on cattle for export. This is coupled with establishment of a live stock board to have jurisdiction in all aspects of marketing. Auction marts, such as exist in the United Kingdom, where producers are able to dispose of their cattle by auction, are recommended where farmers desire to avail themselves of this system.

The problems of direct shipments to packing-houses would be solved to some extent by the recommendation relating to the weighing, grading, and competitive elements now absent when farmers sell straight to the packers instead of sending their cattle through the stockyards.

Live stock commission agents' charges would be based on a lower specific rate, plus a commission calculated on the value of the animals sold. All commission agents would be licensed and truckers would be prohibited from acting as "middlemen" between farmers and packers. The truckers would themselves be licensed and bonded.

Retain Select Premium.

The fixed differentials in the sale of hogs would be eliminated, with the retention only of the premium on selects. Hogs would be graded under Government supervision and the grades sold as such. At present the hogs, except selects, are bought in bulk. The Danish system of grading on the rail would be introduced where conditions warranted.

All live cattle would be graded and sold on grades including those for export, while municipal and small abbatoirs would come under the direct supervision of the Department of Agriculture.

Greater severity for violations of the Weights and Measures Act and a larger staff for the Dominion inspector are recommended.

Fruit and vegetable producers who sell to the canners are given attention in the recommendation that the Government inspection service be extended to the checking of deliveries of these commodities, for quality, grading and weight.

The report urges annual statements of incorporated companies be given widest press publicity and that it should be illegal for directors and company promoters to issue fully paid-up shares unless the company receives adequate cash consideration, property or services, in lieu thereof.

2 ASSISTANTS ARE APPOINTED

(Continued from Page 1)

increased in the past year, and that the new legislation before the Federal Parliament to reduce the minimum age of applicants for old age pensions from 70 years to 65 years would further increase his duties. Mr. Armstrong concurred in the view that the passing of the new old age pensions legislation would add to his work for a time at least.

Appointment of an assistant to Mr. Adams had been informally considered by the Council for almost a year, it was said. The city treasurer having considered last summer an extended visit to the West, and even the possibility of resigning. It was stated by Alderman Tuggey that the appointment of an assistant city clerk was long overdue, that he had favored the action two years ago. Others concurred in this view.

Alderman Stocker said that the recent decision of the Provincial Legislature in extending mothers' allowance to include mothers with one child was adding to the duties of Mr. Armstrong. Mayor Denne stated that the Council "owed it to the ratepayers" to see that trained assistants, prepared to carry on the work in case of any eventuality, were in the city offices.

Members of the Council were unanimous in expressing their confidence in Mr. Outram, saying that his newspaper training and experience in City Hall affairs fitted him for the job of assistant city clerk.

Highly Recommended.

While Mr. Shaver was not known personally to some members of the Council, it was said by Mayor Denne and Alderman Fitzpatrick that he had been highly recommended by W. R. Morris, of the firm of Morris & Lawrie, accountants, by whom he had been employed. Mayor Denne stated that he had made inquiries concerning Mr. Shaver, and that his ability as an accountant was beyond question. Alderman Sloan spoke highly of Mr. Shaver, while Alderman Wilson expressed satisfaction with him on the recommendation of Mr. Morris.

Alderman George Macdonald stated that while he did not doubt the qualifications or abilities of the two appointees, he considered the appointments untimely in view of the fact that the Council was planning a close study by auditors of the city's business system. He urged that the appointments be delayed until the study was made and recommendations of changes needed set forth.

The others, however, expressed the opinion that the appointments were overdue, and were plainly needed if the efficiency in the city offices was to be safeguarded.

The Honeymoon Is Over

Their royal highnesses, the Duke and Duchess of Kent, pictured on the rail of their ship, viewing the skyline of Bermuda, which they passed during their journey home after a long honeymoon in the West Indies.

Stamped Signature On Relief Cheques

Mayor Denne and Alderman George Macdonald, chairman of the Finance Committee, were relieved of a big monthly task in penmanship by the City Council last night.

The Council passed a by-law permitting the use of stamped signatures of the mayor and Alderman Macdonald on relief cheques. Previously all these cheques had to carry the written signatures of both Mayor Denne and Alderman Macdonald, in addition to that of the city treasurer.

"The mayor and I have been getting writer's cramp signing all these cheques," explained Alderman Macdonald, in introducing the by-law.

Mayor Denne said the monthly cheques he had had to sign for the city numbered around 800. About 500 of these were relief cheques.

City cheques for relief will not be stamped "unemployment relief." All other municipal cheques will have to be signed by and have the signatures of the mayor and chairman of the Finance Committee as formerly.

CHINA PRODUCTION IS TOLD IN TALK

Harry T. Thompson of Whitby Addresses Gathering in Y. M.C.A. Assembly Room.

A most interesting talk on the production of the famous Spode china of England was given last evening in the assembly room of the Young Men's Christian Association, by Harry T. Thompson of Whitby, of the firm of Copeland & Duncan. The talk was given under the auspices of the Peter Robinson Chaptee I.O.D.E., and was attended by about eighty-five people. It was illustrated by lantern slides, also by a display of beautiful Spode chinaware.

The Regent of the Chapter, Mrs. S. J. Graham, was in the chair, and introduced the speaker, who outlined for listeners in entertaining fashion many points of interest pertaining to the manufacture of china.

The beginning of china-making was with pottery-manufacture. About the year 1700, Hollanders came to England and settled in Staffordshire where there were fine clay deposits and plenty of coal for firing the kilns. Dinnerware or tableware was first made in the Georgian period—the period of fine furniture and silver and gold wares.

The original Copeland, founder of the firm, was at that time a tea merchant of London and later became agent for the Spode peovle, who were the first manufacturers to use burnt bone in the making of china. This bone type of English china has since captured the markets of the world and become renowned for its wonderful wearing properties. Mr. Thompson here contrasted the beautiful but brittle Oriental potteries and porcelains with this hard-wearing English china.

The Copeland firm, which is today in the seventh generation of the family since it embarked in the china trade, was the first to use copper-plate engravings and the first to use underglaze blue in decorating. Blue, the speaker, explained, is the hardest color to control.

The Copeland people have made china for many crowned heads, and were selected by the Pottres' Federation to make the service for the Duke and Duchess of Kehl. They are famous for heraldic decorations.

Mr. Thompson displayed plates in various stages of completion, and also showed slides depicting all the processes in the making of china. Before being used, the clay is weathered for twelve years and one man makes the entire article, up to the decorating stage. In firing, sixteen tons of coal is necessary and the process requires from sixty-five to seventy hours, at a temperature of 1,380 degrees Centigrade. Hand work is stressed in all stages of manufacture and most of the work is done by hand, using very small tools. A great deal of the decorating is painted by hand. The factory is at Stoke-on-Trent, Staffordshire, England.

Two long tables covered with service plates in various patterns were used for display.

Prior to the address, two very heartily-applauded vocal solos were given by Miss Trucie Pearson.

ALBANY SEEKS PITCHERS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 9 (AP)—At least two more dependable hurlers were sought yesterday by Owner Joe Cambria, of Albany Senators, after a conference with Manager Al Mamaux. A game scheduled for yesterday between the Senators and the Birmingham Barons of the Southern League was postponed because of cold weather.

Home and School Association News

CENTRAL SCHOOL.

The regular monthly meeting of Central Home and School Association was held last evening in the school, with a good attendance of parents present. Mrs. C. H. McWilliams, president, was in the chair. The meeting opened with the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison.

A short business session followed. The secretarial report was read by Mrs. W. Boorman. The treasurer's report as read by Mrs. F. Smith showed a balance of over forty dollars in the bank.

Mrs. Dormer, as convenor of the paper collection, reported that in the recent collection the children had worked splendidly, and as a result twenty dollars had been added to the treasury. Mrs. W. Flannery, convenor of the relief, gave a statement of several pair of boots and rubbers supplied.

Several new names were added to the list of officers: Mrs. J. Kingsbury will be convenor of recreation; Mrs. W. Flannery, Mrs. Lush and Mrs. Weir were appointed a sick visiting committee.

The president, Mrs. McWilliams, was chosen as delegate to the Easter Home and School Federation convention.

A vote of thanks to Mrs. Kitt for the two beautiful quilts which she entered in the contest was proposed by Mrs. Kingsbury, and a hearty handclap by the audience was the response.

The attendance picture again went to Mr. Munro's room.

The next meeting of the Association will take the form of a social evening, so the president asked the social convenors to make their arrangements and make this a real get-together.

A splendid talk by Mrs. W. R. Morris and a good program of music followed the business.

Two choruses presented by pupils of Miss Doughty were much enjoyed. Master Lester Davis gave two well-rendered violin solos, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Boorman. A brilliant piano duet was played by the Misses Katherine Johnston and Ruth Gaskill. Mrs. Collis gave two elocution numbers.

An old-fashioned spelling match was conducted by Mrs. C. Stanton with the boys and girls of Miss Doughty's room as contestants. After keen competition, the girls came out on top.

"Adolescent Child."

Mrs. McWilliams called upon the guest speaker, Mrs. Morris, and on behalf of the Association expressed great appreciation and privilege in having her present.

Mrs. Morris responded in a most thought-provoking talk on the "Adolescent Child." "The adolescent age," said the speaker, "might be described as the twilight of childhood and the dawn of adulthood." The speaker went on to say that the home had to supply the training that cannot be given anywhere else. Parents should live with as well as for their children from the very beginning. The art of being a good parent lies in knowing how to express love wisely. Comradeship with a child is possible at all ages. Fear of parents established in childhood is liable to make true comradeship in later life impossible. The parents then, who gain their child's confidence and obedience by intelligent affection during childhood do much to bridge that dangerous stage, namely, the adolescent period. During this period the emotions and in fact the whole outlook upon life changes and the wise parents will fit themselves to give intelligent guidance to their children, whose right it is to expect such. "Nagging at this stage is injurious," declared the speaker. Understanding, gentleness and example will do more to win the child. Good parents recognize the importance played by the school in the child's development, and make it their business to co-operate with the teachers.

Mrs. McWilliams thanked the speaker for the very splendid talk.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem.

Trent River

Trappers are being offered by the buyers $1.15 per hide for muskrats.

Mr. T. F. Ward returned Saturday after spending the winter in Rochester, N.Y. and the southern states.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Wood and Miss Irene left Saturday morning for Toronto to spend a few days. Mrs. Thos. K. Thompson of Norwood road accompanied them and will visit relatives in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Umphrey and son Jimmie are spending a few days with Mrs. H. R. Wood, during the absence of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Wood to Toronto.

Mr. Matthew Greenly is employed at the blacksmith shop and garage at Springville.

Miss Mary Truesdale of Campbellford has been a recent visitor with Mrs. J. Doupe.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Vanvolkenburg and family were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wildman and family.

Mr. Jim Milne and son Grant of Campbellford were Sunday visitors with Mrs. H. R. Wood.

The many friends of Mrs. Wesley Johnston, Havelock road, will be pleased to know she is making a good recovery from her recent illness.

Mr. Bernard Rolf of Peterborough was a week-end visitor with Mr. and Mrs. George Brownsell and family.

A carload of Western work horses arrived Friday morning at Havelock station in care of Mr. Gordon Longmuir who drove them through Trent River to the farm of Reeve John Currie, Seymour West, where they will be offered for sale.

The postponed social evening and entertainment was held Friday night at Connolly's School.

An Upset

MILWAUKEE, April 9 (CP)—A change in divorce judgment fees put two Milwaukee women's budgets off balance, but court witnesses quickly became a stabilizing committee.

Not knowing the Governor had signed a bill increasing the judgment fees in divorce cases in Milwaukee County from $6.20 to $8.20, the women appeared in Judge August Braun's court with an even $6.20.

Both took up collections among witnesses to collect the additional $2.

SWEEZEY SUGGESTS NEW POWER PACTS

Would Ease Burden of Hydro —Has Praise For Hepburn.

KINGSTON, April 9. — Way can be found out of Ontario's present dilemma without cancellation of existing contracts with Quebec power companies and ruin of many Ontario investors, R. O. Sweezey, former president of the Beauharnois Power Company, said yesterday in addressing the Kiwanis Club.

Mr. Sweezey indicated new contracts could be made with Beauharnois and with the Maclaren Company which would substantially ease the burden of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission during the present period. The inducement these companies would ask to make the new contracts would be the privilege of supplying some of Ontario's future power and load, if and when needed.

If Ontario cancelled the contracts the Province would be in a most awkward position when it needed more power, he said.

Quelec companies would hesitate before entering further contracts with Ontario. It would be a long and costly business to develop further power at Niagara or on the St. Lawrence, he maintained, and power could not be developed on the Ottawa River without an agreement with the Province of Quebec.

Of Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn, Mr. Sweezey said: "The Premier of Ontario is himself the liveliest example of that type of vigorous youth, ready to blast his way through mountains in his eagerness to attain his objective in leading the country back to prosperity.

"If many of us do not agree with his methods, I think we believe in his sincerity, and I for one would like to contribute toward aiding his strong influence along lines that may evade obstruction and destruction . . . May we look to Mr. Hepburn with his youth, energy and mental resources to stimulate constructive action toward prosperity and recovery."

ANTI-NAZI SEND PLEA TO LEAGUE

Charge Hitler's Cohorts on Danzig Have Wrecked City's Constitution.

ASK NEW ELECTION.

FREE CITY OF DANZIG, April 9 (AP)—The fires of political animosity smouldered to-day as anti-Nazis charged Nazis with wrecking the city's constitution and announced their intention of appealing to the League of Nations for a new parliamentary election.

Anti-Nazi groups drew up three petitions branding Sunday's balloting as illegal because it was conducted by a government alleged to be wielding power in violation of the constitution. The petitions were drawn up by members of the Catholic, Socialist and Polish parties.

It was said they would charge the Nazi-controlled government with the following violations of the Liberal constitution conferred on the district by the League of Nations:

1.—Passing laws protecting Nazi party members, but excluding non-members.

2.—Passing a law authorizing police to take citizens into "protective custody."

3.—Withholding information concerning the city's financial affairs.

The petitions were to be delivered to the League of Nations council May 18.

Poles living in Brantau, a suburb, accused Nazis of entering the home of one of their number and beating him. In an ensuing fight, a relative of the alleged victim was shot in the chin, and a Nazi received a critical bullet wound in the stomach.

Socialists charged that 60 members of their party were beaten at Zoppot.

HOMES

BUILDING IN CANADA is something quite new in "home" magazines. It is profusely illustrated, delightfully easy to read and beautifully printed. The Spring Plan Book number contains pictures and floor plans of twenty charming homes and summer cottages. There are illustrated articles on modernizing, furnishing, gardening and real estate development. Also ten pictures illustrating the "Evolution of the House" since 12,000 B.C. It will pay anyone interested in building, property maintenance or improvement to receive this magazine regularly. Send only $1.00 for four Plan Book numbers—Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter, 1935. If after receiving the Spring number you are not delighted, mail it back and your $1.00 will be refunded immediately.

BUILDING IN CANADA
225 Fullerton Bldg.,
Toronto, Ont.

"Here we are again

...as happy as can be!"

No wonder! We all eat Muffets. And you know, the butcher, the baker, the candlestick-maker all like Muffets. Oh! They're good! Woven ribbons of whole wheat...wound round and round...then toasted to a crispy brown...a delicious nut-like flavour.

Economical...every package holds twelve big health-giving cereal biscuits.

Wholesome...you get the energy of whole wheat and the benefits of packaged sunshine.*

THE TOASTED BISCUIT CEREAL—WOVEN WHEAT—READY TO EAT

★SUNSHINE and HEALTH!
MUFFETS are the only Whole Wheat Biscuits irradiated for Sunshine Vitamin "D" so essential to health. ASK your doctor.

Everybody Likes MUFFETS

Made in Canada by THE QUAKER OATS COMPANY

Upholding Oldsmobile's Reputation as "The Car that has Everything"

WHETHER you look at it from the viewpoint of the complete, balanced beautiful car, or examine it feature by feature, you will find Oldsmobile to be "The Car That Has Everything."

New features include: Smart streamline design, Solid Steel "Turret Top" Bodies by Fisher, Built-in Knee-Action, Big Hydraulic Brakes, Center Control Steering and Ride Stabilizer, Silent Synchro-Mesh Transmission and Complete Sound Proofing. Every refinement in the new Oldsmobiles has been built into them expressly that you may enjoy a greater measure of motoring satisfaction.

Why not inspect and drive the low-priced 90-horsepower Six, or the 100-horsepower Straight Eight. We feel sure that this experience will convince you quickly of Oldsmobile's right to be called "The Car That Has Everything."

PRICED FROM $1037

(for the 6 cyl. 2-pass. Coupe) Delivered at Factory, Oshawa, Ont. Fully equipped. Government Taxes on used cars. Prices for 6 cyl. Models at Factory, Oshawa, Ont. begin at $1175

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

J. K. HUGHES, Ltd.

Water and Hunter Streets, Peterborough. Phone 1347

Use of Dogs in Hunting Deer, Moose Approved in New Bill

EXTRA LICENSE OF $2 PER DOG TO BE REQUIRED

Modified Buck Law Coming—75 p.c. Restriction on Does, Male Fawns.

CLOSED BEAVER SEASON.

Trout Season to Open May 1, But May Close 15 Days Earlier.

TORONTO, Apr. 9.—The use of dogs for hunting deer, moose and caribou; a modified "buck law," or a 75 per cent. restriction on does and male fawns; a shortened season and a 33 per cent. curtailment in the season's limit for wild ducks and geese, and an absolutely "closed season" on beaver, are the highlights of the Game and Fisheries Amendment Act of 1935, introduced in the Legislature by Hon. Harry C. Nixon yesterday.

No changes were suggested regarding game fish, those being left for seasonal regulation by Order-in-Council. It is understood that a fifteen days' shortening of the speckled trout season may be ordered in this manner, by advancing the closing date to Aug. 31, instead of Sept. 15, the opening date remaining at May 1.

Limitations on Dogs

For the use of dogs in hunting the deer species a special license will be required, costing $2, including the fee for registering. And the limitations are: One dog per four persons, two dogs up to eight persons, and three dogs for nine or more persons in a camp, but three dogs are the limit regardless of the number in the party above eight persons. It also is stipulated that no police dogs or any hybrid containing this strain shall be licensed.

An organized hunting camp is reduced in minimum to four persons instead of six, and the camp license cost is set at $4, including issuer's fee; any number from four to eight requires an additional camp license, and so on. The members of each party, of course, must procure individual licenses as well.

The "modified buck law" means that no person shall take a female deer of any age, or a buck under one year of age, except as one of a party, when one animal of either of these classifications may be taken to three bucks. The ratio is set at one in four. It is described as a conservation provision which allows, at the same time, for the odd mistake.

If a doe or young buck is shot owing to poor visibility the hunter is not penalized unless the ratio is exceeded. The legal number of does or male fawns may be either taken away or eaten in camp. The limit applies in either case.

If a dog is lost it must be reported.

To Overcome Wastage.

It is also prescribed that a railway or any other carrier shall not ship a moose head or antlers unless the meat of two hind quarters is shown. This is to overcome wastage of meat. The shipper may leave the meat with the carrier, if he wishes, when it will be forwarded to Government institutions for food.

As forecast, no limit is set on merganser, or "saw-bill" ducks during the open season, nor do they count in the day's or season's limit.

The wild geese and duck season north and west of the French and Mattawa Rivers will open Sept. 15 and close Nov. 30, inclusive, and south of this area will open Oct. 1 and close Nov. 30.

Royalties collected on red fox pelts are reduced from 75 to 30 cents, and royalties are lifted on ranch-raised silver, black and blue foxes and mink.

Otter may not be taken unless Order-in-Council permits.

In addition to the above rules regarding the use of dogs in deer hunting, the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council may permit or restrict them on any island or peninsula or other area of such isolated nature.

To give work to the unemployed Spain has ordered the construction of 125 railway locomotives and 12 gunboats.

Queen Gets Pram. For Busy Mother

LONDON, April 9 (C.P.)—For many years Queen Mary has been interested in the work of the Crossway Central Mission, and she always reads the magazine published in connection with the mission.

In a recent number there appeared on behalf of a woman living with her two children in an upstairs flat. Her landlady would not allow her to leave a perambulator in the passage, and the harassed mother badly needed a folding perambulator which she could carry up to her flat.

The mission has received a message from Buckingham Palace that the Queen has seen the appeal and has sent it from Eastbourne to an official at the palace with a direction that a double-folding type of pram which she had seen at the British Industries Fair should be sent to the woman.

Great Britain And Russia Co-operate For Peace

Captain Anthony Eden. Maxim Litvinov. I. Maiski.

A session of the peace conversations in Moscow between Captain Eden (left), emissary of Great Britain; Maxim Litvinov (centre), Soviet Commissar for Foreign Affairs; and I. Maiski, Russian envoy to Great Britain, is pictured. After the sessions, it was announced Russia and Great Britain should co-operate in collective efforts for peace, and there is now reported to be no conflict of interest between the two governments on any international issues, particularly concerning Germany.

Declares to Truth

MRS. MARIETTE BURROWS

In a sworn statement, Mrs. Burrows, 129 Vauxhall Street, London, Ont., tells how Fruit-a-tives gave her health and happiness after she had suffered for years from such poor health that she was nervous, high-strung—cross with her children. Mrs. Burrows wants others to benefit from her experience, and tells of it in a statement sworn before a notary so that everyone can be sure of its truth. She says,—"For some years I was miserable with a 'tired-nervous' feeling . . . cranky and cross with the children. Then a friend suggested Fruit-a-tives. I tried them and now I am never irritable. My nerves are good and I feel strong and healthy all the time."

Copy of Mrs. Burrow's complete sworn statement will be sent on request. Write Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, Ontario.

FRUIT-A-TIVES—25c and 50c EVERYWHERE

Peterborough's Possibilities

By HOMER MOORE

ARTICLE 18

It is said that "the entire supply of gold in the various treasuries of the world is only eight billion dollars. While such a sum is a tremendous amount of itself, it amounts to but a few dollars for each person if it were divided up. Gold to the value of eight billion dollars could be contained in a sixty foot cube. If we depended on the supply of gold, it would be exhausted in a single day, and yet with this as a basis the world could spend millions of dollars a day yet the original supply of gold is not altered. The gold is simply a measure, a rule. With one ruler we may measure thousands and hundreds of thousands of feet, so with one five dollar bill, hundreds and thousands of people have the use of it by simply passing it from one to the other."

If we can only keep money circulating everyone could have all they want. Deprivation comes because men and women become seized with fear and stop spending money. It is easily seen that the only way we can get any benefit from money is to use it and to use it we must give it out, so that someone else can get the benefit of it. To do so is to co-operate and put the law of abundance in practical operation. Wealth is by no means as tangible as many suppose because the only way to get money is to keep it going. When the circulation of money is retarded there is financial stagnation and industrial death.

Every condition is the result of a cause and the same cause always produces the same result. The production of gold in Canada has steadily mounted. This has been the protection for our national financial honor and the coverage for amount of money issued. If, somehow, the production of gold could be substantially increased rapidly, a larger amount of money would be issued for circulation — and all would be well, if it did circulate but not any better, if people hid it away!

Lack of money to use, is the root of all evil. The scientific handling of finance in the past has been based on the accepted rule that business was divided into four major phases, i.e., a period of prosperity, a period of decline, a period of depression and a period of improvement. These always followed each other in the same sequence and those who understood them and could determine the time to act, were able to roll up big fortunes without developing natural resources. But the present world-wide depression is a different kind and longer in duration than those which were considered as necessary to the financial ideas of the economic period, I believe, now ending. To any one having access to the right information regarding world events and the causes of them, it is apparent that a new order of things will engage the minds of humanity before long which will make the old way of rolling up fabulous fortunes, obsolete and perhaps make it impossible for those now having large assets, to enjoy such wealth exclusively for themselves.

In view of that change in activity, the world over, I have endeavored in this column to draw the attention of those who could help in various ways, to the desirability or necessity of bringing into use soon the natural resources now dormant in the County of Peterborough and contiguous territory for the national welfare and incidentally our own.

While I am not at liberty to state definitely what the time after September 1936 will bring, I can assure you it is necessary to start soon to develop these natural resources for use. The "profit" part doesn't enter the picture at all, that is, it is not necessary to do it merely for profit, but it is, and will be found to be so, to develop them for use. If the occasion should arise (and it will) when it is necessary to have great quantities of different raw materials available, what good will such in our county be, if when urgently needed, found to be in a form which could not quickly be used? So that we may not be found "asleep at the switch"—the proper thing to do, is to start development now.

It is quite easy to secure the best methods, devised by the cleverest brains, in the development of any natural resource, as used with the same class of material elsewhere. So it cannot be said to be lack of technical knowledge which is blocking the development. If the reason is pure indifference, it is high time a "right-about-face" attitude towards those rocky timbered areas should be in evidence. At certain times in the history of nations and empires, "speed" for the successful outcome of problems is of paramount importance and speed comes from being "ready." The unthinking mass of people have the idea that when prosperity is over the country it will remain so, then when they realize it has changed to a depression, they think just as illogically, that it will always be so. When peace covers the earth, they think war could never take its place. When war is over the earth, they think peace could never take its place. Such ideas of world action are wrong and only show to those who know "cause and effect" in this world, that the majority of people do not know. What causes constructive or destructive world events.

Those of us who do know are duty bound to enlighten others. Rare knowledge is only given by the Creator to some people—in trust for others.

In these days we see on the main highways, large trucks carrying goods from point to point, through well developed areas in competition with railways serving the same territory. In the northern part of Peterborough and Hastings Counties are fairly good roads, over which trucks could travel. These townships have been kept dormant, some say, from lack of railways intersecting those rocky areas. Possibility of railways criss-crossing that part, is very remote, but the truck companies could, if they only thought so, get their trucks close to some large ore deposits and timber and get some of it out to the railway or go direct by township roads, free of much traffic, down to the city of Peterborough to be processed. In this way "a start" could be made to open up some of those secluded deposits. Even if fairly costly at first, it would "be advisable to do and if ore was there in sufficient amount for traffic, the railway could be induced to put in a spur track. These articles are read by government and railway officials and Peterborough County was first county advised by the writer, to start complete development of our hinterland, for the national welfare. This advice, if acted upon, gives our citizens and developers—a head start.

We have the resources, and we have men within our county or those who were born here but now living elsewhere, who are very influential and could, at a later date, swing large contracts in our county, if in a "get-at-able" form and which might, within a few years be urgently needed.

While gold has always been much sought after in the past and will be as long as it is the basis of our currency, there are other metalliferous resources more important from another standpoint and which would always be of use, even if gold, as a basis of our present world-system of finance, should be abandoned. Gold has been in our county for ages and should have been found and taken out years ago when there was then no danger of its abandonment, but it was allowed, for the most part, to stay covered up. Now however, many people profess a desire to have it—and such desire is a little late because gold is in danger of being reduced in its power. Being the basis of our present world-wide system of finance, and that system said to be the cause of the present world-unrest, which brilliant people everywhere are trying to correct, it means that if the present "effect" is to be changed, the "cause" must first be changed.

The system being the "cause" necessarily includes gold as it is the basis. The writer is not against gold—as he has for years been figuring out processes to see if a better one could be found so "all" the gold could be recovered from any class of gold ore, and knows how a sufficiently large fortune could be legally built by one person—without selling the public stock, to develop those rocky areas or even help a city develop—if gold remained the basis of our financial system. But since astronomical law and the effect of its combinations are more powerful than man-made law, gold at a later date may be in danger of being deposed.

Gold will always be needed—more and more of it, as long as the present financial system is in force. These newspaper articles have been written to hasten discoveries in our county.

2 HOMES SEEN NEED TO HAVE MARITAL BLISS

Claudette Colbert Admits Own Marriage With Norman Foster Fails.

ACTRESS TELLS WHY

NEW YORK, April 9.—Claudette Colbert, titian haired No. 1 actress of the films, whose "separation, marriage" to actor Norman Foster is a self-admitted failure, still believes that to be happily married, husband and wife should not live together.

"My own marriage flopped not because Norman and I lived apart," the beautiful star explained to me before she left New York to sail back to Los Angeles, "but because we lived too far apart."

The Colbert-Foster nuptials were secretly solemnized in London seven and a half years ago while both were appearing in the stage presentation of "The Barker."

Since then the longest period the film couple have lived together under the same roof is six months.

"After our marriage," the diminutive movie star continued, "Norman and I decided that the only way for us to be 'happy though married' was to live in separate apartments.

"For two years we were blissfully happy. Our homes in New York were within a mile of each other, and even though we didn't live together, except on vacations, I saw Norman practically every day.

"In 1930 we returned from a trip around the world in a freighter. Norman and I remained in New York to make films for Paramount in their Long Island City studios.

'Sees' Above Clouds

"That was the beginning of the end of our convenient marriage of inconvenience. We were too far away from each other—2,999 miles too far away to be exact. It was natural that we should lose interest in each other, and by the time we got together again it was too late.

"Although, of course, it is impossible to make hard and fast rules to account for failure in marriage, one thing is certain—living together under the same roof in a confined space is the death knell to romance for most couples."

Claudette spiked, in a brief sentence, rumors of an impending divorce.

"I don't want to remarry right now, and I'm sure Norman doesn't either, so why should we bother with a divorce?" the fascinating Claudette demanded.

"When, and if, either of us find some one else, will be plenty of time enough to start divorce proceedings. And believe me that won't be for a long time yet—for me anyway. I'm quite happy the way I am."

MANY CONVICTIONS.

LONDON.—(C.P.)— Robert William Lord, 60, army pensioner found dead in his cell after he had been arrested for drunkenness, had 192 previous convictions.

THE "VITAL 3" Prescribed by Physicians the World Over

The value of calcium, phosphorus and iron (the "Vital 3") for run-down or convalescent patients has long been recognized by the medical profession. In Fellows' Syrup these minerals ("Vital 3") are available in a form particularly effective in helping to build up the blood, nerves, body tissues and bones.

216

FELLOWS' WORLD FAMOUS SYRUP COMPOUND OF HYPOPHOSPHITES

Purity and Freshness

Users of tobacco in any form are always assured of purity and freshness when they buy a product of the Imperial Tobacco Company. These qualities are achieved only by the practice of eternal vigilance.

That vigilance starts with the education of the grower, in methods of cutting and curing that ensure the utmost cleanliness and wholesomeness in the leaf as delivered. The grading is all done over screens, to remove sand. Leaves showing any blemish are immediately destroyed. After that the stock is submitted to a forced-draft heat treatment that mellows and conditions the tobacco.

During the three-year ageing process, the leaf lies packed in hogsheads, for, like wine, it mellows best in wood. These hogsheads are stored in bond by themselves in modern warehouses through which the outside air moves freely. The sweating induced by summer heat and humidity has the effect of dispelling harshness, and leaving the leaf sweeter and softer to the taste.

During the manufacturing process, as a protection against even the most remote possibility of contamination, the leaf is handled in rooms where the air is filtered of all impurities, humidified to prevent dust, and where walls are being constantly whitewashed.

Yet that is only the beginning. Every single shipment of a material that directly or indirectly enters into the manufacture of any Imperial product must first pass its prescribed laboratory test, to determine whether it fully measures up to the purity standard set for it. If not, it is instantly rejected. And in the case of cigarette paper, there are easily a dozen different tests, chemical and physical, that must be survived before any shipment is permitted to be used.

When the manufactured tobacco is ready for packaging, it is of course in prime condition. It is to ensure its reaching the consumer in equally good condition that so much care is taken, so much expense incurred, with the wrapping. Waxed paper, tin foil, cellophane, snugly-fitting packages and hermetically-sealed tins are only a few of the devices employed to conserve freshness.

Finally, such is the reputation enjoyed by Imperial products for purity and freshness, that the large and steady demand for them assures a quickness of turnover that precludes any possibility of their growing stale on the retailer's shelves.

IMPERIAL TOBACCO COMPANY OF CANADA, LIMITED

NORTH AMERICAN LIFE

Solid as the Continent

D. V. KETCHESON
Branch Manager,
Royal Bank Bldg.

ALL PROFITS FOR POLICYHOLDERS

Body and Fender Bumping
Duco Touch-up
Gillespie Garage
"Service That is Service"
378 Aylmer St. Phone 950

Coal Prices Reduced
For Spring Delivery
Nut Coal. .$13.75 per ton
Stove Coal. 14.00 per ton
Pea Coal. . 11.75 per ton
Scotch Coal 15.50 per ton
A further discount of 50c a ton for cash delivery, makes these prices the lowest in years.
PETERBORO FUEL & TRANSFER CO., LTD.
Phone 270.
2d-85-324

Dr. T. P. McCullough
Specialist
Phone 38-W. 16a Brock Street.
Peterborough
Eye Ear Nose Throat and Sinus Work.
All styles of Frames and Glasses greatly reduced in price.
dtf-8273

LET US
RE-FINANCE
Your Car Payments
1930 Models and Later
AUTO LOANS, PRIVATE SALES, FINANCED.—SEE
G. W. LUNDY
99 Hunter St. W. Phone 2258W
Representing
CAMPBELL AUTO FINANCE CO., LTD., TORONTO

24-HOUR SERVICE
We Specialize in Re-Building Automobiles that have been Wrecked. Body and Fender Repairs, Welding, etc. Also Re-painting and Re-Boring. All Jobs Guaranteed.
J. J. DUFFUS COMPANY
PETERBOROUGH
Tues.-Sat.-tf

The Peterborough Examiner

PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, CANADA, TUESDAY, APRIL 9, 1935

WILLARD
Storage Batteries
SALES AND SERVICE
Aldous & Metcalfe
133 BROCK ST. 'PHONE 266

Peck Supports Council's Relief Resolution

LOCALS

LOCAL AND LONG DISTANCE HAULING.
Everything handled with care. James Griffin. 'Phone 3030.
3d,85,992

RED JACKET COAL
EGG OR LUMP
(Rescreened)
$9.50 per Ton, Delivered
Order through your dealers
dtaf,8673

HEATING, TINSMITHING, PLUMBING
Have W. R. Turner, 195 Simcoe Street. Phone 691
REPAIR YOUR HEATING SYSTEM
Agents for Beeks Furnaces
t,t,s—tf

SACRED CANTATA
Stainer's "Crucifixion" will be rendered in St. John's Church next Sunday, at 7 p.m. 2d,9,11

Revival Crusade
A GREAT FAREWELL SERVICE will be held in St. James' United Church to-night at 7.45 with a special address by Rev. H. L. Stephens. Everybody welcome. Come early.

NO COMBINE HERE.
Compare our prices. Lehigh Valley Coal $12.50 per ton. Coke, dry, plain, $11.85 per ton. Connel coal also at reduced prices. All kinds of wood in stock. Kawartha Fuels, 242 Perry street. 'Phone 3504.
1d-85-343.

GILMOUR Y. P.
Will present their play, "The Old Home Place" at Gilmour Church Friday, April 12 at 8.15. Adults 25c, children 15c.
1d-85-332.

TRACTOR FUEL OIL
15c per gallon at Dawson's Service Station, Reid and McDonnel streets. 'Phone 1523.
6d-91-333.

CARD OF THANKS.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gillespie and family wish to thank the Beatty Transport and employees, friends and neighbors for kindness and floral tributes in their recent bereavement.

KINDLING.
25 bundles real dry kindling delivered anywhere in city, $1.00. Also cedar shingles, slabs and buttings, $2.00 per load. Kingdon Barrel & Shingle Factory. 'Phone 3230.
3d-87-336.

57TH REGIMENT CHAPTER I.O.D.E.
Bridge at home of Miss Wesley, 539 George Street, Friday, April 12th, 8 p.m. For table reservations, phone 1477-M. 1d-85-197

SIGNALLERS.
Anyone wishing to join the Signallers of the Peterborough Rangers, report to the Armouries to-night at 8 o'clock. 1d-85-202

WOOD
Soft Wood, $3 per ¼ corn; just a few cords at this price. No. 1 Mixed Wood, $4 per ½ cord, cut. Hard Wood, $5 per ½ cord. McCarthy & Johnston; Phone 96. t,t,s-tf-345

REPEAT PERFORMANCE.
Trinity Club wishes to express its regrets to those who were turned away from the last performance of "Apple Blossom Time" in Reid St. Hall, and to announce a repeat performance to be presented in the same place on Friday, April 12th. Don't miss it again! 1d-85-342.

AUCTION SALE
Stock of drugs, chemicals, fancy goods, druggist's sundries and supplies, etc., shop furniture and fixtures, including 11 showcases, 1 National (electric) cash register, and safe. At 402 George St., Peterborough, on Wednesday, April 17th at 10 a.m. For further particulars apply, W. J. Hancock.
5d-9,11,13,15,16-330

MAIN STREET TOPICS

Jabs and Jottings as Picked Up by an Examiner Reporter.

BEAUTY PARLOR RE-DECORATED.
James Lewis, beauty parlor and barber shop on Hunter street has been remodelled and decorated. Alterations have been completed to permit a separate entrance into the ladies' hair-dressing parlors, and the men's barber shop.

Obituary

JOE WATKINS
Following an illness of twelve years duration the death occurred last evening of Joe Watkins, at his residence 227 Princess street. He was in his 52nd year. The late Mr. Watkins who came out to Canada from England some years ago, had at one time been employed at the DeLaval plant as a machinist.

Besides his widow he leaves, four sons, Horace, Albert and Frank all of this city; and Joe of Niagara Falls; also three daughters, Annie, in Toronto and Ivy and Violet of this city. Other relatives include, two brothers Albert of Peterborough, and Charles of Toronto, and a sister Mrs. Mason also of Toronto.

The funeral is to be held on Wednesday at 2 p.m., from the family residence with the Rev. J. D. Paterson, rector of All Saints' Church officiating. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

BORN
HAMILTON.—At Nicholls Hospital, on Sunday, April 7, 1935, to Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Hamilton, 235 Prince street, (nee Viola Pearl Tranter), a son, David. The infant died April 8.

DEATH.
WATKINS.—On April 8, 1935, Joe Watkins at his residence, 227 Princess Street, following an extended illness in his 52nd year.
Funeral on Wednesday at 2 p.m. from the above address, the Rev. J. Douglas Paterson officiating. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

ASK SOLICITOR TO RE-CONSIDER SALARY DEMAND

$300 is Granted By City Council For Jubilee Celebrations.

LETTER FROM MR. PECK.

Harold Pheonix Protests Grant For Celebration of Royal Jubilee.

E. A. Peck, K.C., M.P., in a letter to the City Council, states that he fully concurs with the resolution sent by the Council to Premier Bennett and other leaders of the Government urging that the Governments assume the full cost of relief measures. Mr. Peck's letter was read at last night's meeting of the Council.

In sending the resolution to Ottawa and Queen's Park last month, the Council did so because Peterborough is paying one-third of the cost of relief administered here, while many other municipalities do not pay as large a percentage, and others pay nothing for relief administered to their citizens.

Mr. Peck's letter stated in part: "In my view, as so many of the municipalities are commencing to find it impossible to finance relief measures, the suggestion in the resolution is the one that will have to be adopted. It is not fair to Peterborough to share the burden if other municipalities are not able or are declining to do their share."

Decision, on the request of J. R. Corkery, city solicitor, to increase his salary to $3,000 or accept his resignation, was withheld until the May meeting of the Council. Mr. Corkery was urged by Mayor Denne to re-consider the matter.

Urges No Jubilee Expense.
Harold Pheonix, member of the United Workers' Front, a local unemployed organization, asked the Council to refrain from making an expenditure in connection with the official celebration of the King's and Queen's jubilee on May 7. He said that the King had issued a proclamation asking municipalities not to go to any expense for the jubilee.

Mr. Pheonix said it would be unseemly for such celebration expenditures when, as he maintained, children in the city were in want, and while adults and children required medical treatment which they were forced to do without.

Mayor Denne questioned the accuracy of Mr. Pheonix's statement that children were in want or that those in need were not getting proper medical treatment. He said that the schools cared for children under their jurisdiction, while service clubs were also extending necessary treatment to all cases brought to their attention.

William Tinker addressed the Council explaining that he was not aware until he read the report in The Examiner of the last Council meeting that residents of Sophia street objected to him using his lot there as a piling ground. "If I had known," he said, "I would not have put the wood there." Mr. Tinker asked if the Council would agree to him using a deserted gravel pit on Rogers street as a piling ground.

Mayor Denne said it was plain that Mr. Tinker was willing to co-operate with the Council. It was decided that Mr. Tinker's request for permission to pile wood in the gravel pit should be left to the city engineer and Alderman Hamilton, chairman of the Board of Works, for final decision.

Grant of $300 Made.
The Council made a grant of $300 to the general committee, with James Dutton as chairman, in charge of making suitable arrangements for the celebration here of the King's and Queen's jubilee. A letter from Mr. Dutton was received in which it was said that the committee intended to keep any costs at an absolute minimum.

The Rotary Club was granted permission to use the Market Square on June 12 and 13 for the holding of the club's annual street fair.

A resolution was passed authorizing the printing of 100 copies of the auditor's report. It was decided to take no action regarding placing city advertising in the Canada's Weekly.

Permission was granted Alderman McIntyre, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, to purchase summer caps for members of the fire department.

In Long Island Sound the oysters' spawning season occurs from May to August.

Weddings

The marriage took place quietly on Monday at half past two o'clock in the afternoon, at the residence of the officiating clergyman, the Rev. E. R. James, Stewart street, of Anne Wilson, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Wilson of Water street, and the Rev. Courtland Salisbury of Williamstown, Vermont.

Attendants were Mrs. B. Snelgrove and Mr. Fred Allen.

The bride wore a very attractive ensemble of brown with matching hat and accessories.

Rev. and Mrs. Salisbury left on the afternoon train for Toronto, and will leave on Friday for their future home in Williamstown, Vermont.

Jubilee Committee Meets This Evening

Representatives of the various organizations concerned are reminded of the meeting called for seven-thirty o'clock this evening in the City Council Chamber to plan some form of celebration in observance of the Silver Jubilee of His Majesty King George V.

It is hoped by civic officials and officers of the Chamber of Commerce under whose joint auspices the meeting is called, that there will be a good representation of the various units of Peterborough Militia Garrison; fraternal and women's organizations, together with representatives of the various church choirs, the Madrigal Singers, and Peterborough Male Voice Choir, who have all been invited to attend.

TOO MUCH FASTING.
MANCHESTER.—(C.P.)— A fasting exhibition scheduled to last 29 day in a store here, was cancelled after public protests.

USED CARS
Come to Us with Confidence.
PRICES OF ALL NEW AND USED CARS MARKED IN PLAIN FIGURES.

Stock No.		Price
9M	—Ford V8 Coupe, nearly new	$725
10M	—Chevrolet Sedan, like new	$500
11M	—Two-Wheel Trailer	$ 40
2D	—Willys-Knight Sedan	$235
5D	—Plymouth Sedan	$275
6D	—Chrysler Coupe	$325
7D	—Studebaker Panel Delivery	$200
9D	—Studebaker Sedan	$145
3	—Buick 5-Pass. Coupe, excellent	$975
6	—Buick Sedan, 7-Pass.	$170
7	—Ford V8 Coach	$465
14	—Ford A Panel Delivery	$125
17E	—Whippet Sedan, 4-cyl.	$165
20E	—Buick Sedan, 7-Pass.	$125
21E	—Ford Pick-up Truck	$ 45
45	—Chevrolet Touring	$ 35
46	—Pontiac Roadster	$215
30	—Pontiac Sedan	$560
36	—Pontiac Sedan	$250
43	—Ford Truck	$150
44	—Pontiac Sedan	$375

BRING THIS LIST WITH YOU.
These Cars must be seen to appreciate their Value.
Your Present Car Taken in Exchange.
Easy Payments if desired.
J. J. DUFFUS CO.
WATER ST. AT CHARLOTTE
2d

D. & H. ANTHRACITE COAL
Lowest Prices in Ten Years.
STOVE COAL. $14.00
NUT & EGG. . 13.75
PEA 11.75
SCOTCH 15.50
A discount of 50c per ton for cash on delivery of ton lots or over.
Also Pocahontas, Coke, Steam Coal and Wood.
W. J. NELSON
253 SIMCOE ST. PHONE 2906.
2d-9-12

REDUCED COAL PRICES
PRESENT PRICES FOR OUR BLUE COAL AS FOLLOWS:
Egg Coal 13.75 | Nut . 13.75
Stove Coal 14.00 | Pea . 11.75
Scotch 15.50
WITH A CASH DISCOUNT OF 50c PER TON.
Also Pocahontas, Coke and Steam Coal. Good Mixed Wood at $4.00 Per ½ Cord.
Est. J. E. A. FITZGERALD PHONE 110-111 233 HUNTER ST

Boy Admits Pulling Box For False Alarm

The guilt of ringing in a false fire alarm was yesterday evening brought home to a small boy resident on Bethune street north.

The alarm rang in from Box 46 at Aberdeen and Benson avenues at 5.18 p.m. sending the entire apparatus of the Department speeding north on a fruitless errand.

With the description of a small boy who was alleged by an eye witness to have pulled the alarm, the Fire Chief rounded up the young offender as he was riding in the family automobile in company with his father. Taxed with the offence, the child strenuously denied his guilt, but later admitted to his father that he had tampered with the alarm box.

He was admonished by the Fire Chief, and lectured also by his father in a manner warranted to ensure that he will never again meddle with fire alarm apparatus in order to satisfy childish curiosity.

Roof Of Building Damaged By Fire

Damage estimated at ninety dollars was caused to two properties on Simcoe street today, when sparks possibly from a locomotive or nearby factory chimney, ignited the roof of premises occupied by Jack Quinlan, local barber.

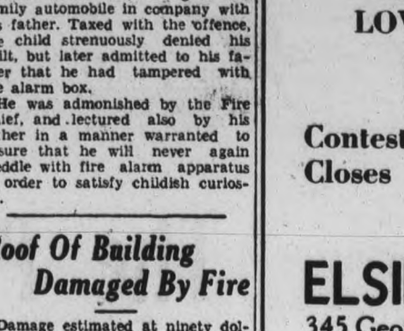
The fire spread to the roof of the premises adjoining situated at 266 Simcoe street, but while the blaze presented the firemen with a difficult problem for a few minutes, it was speedily brought under control before any extensive damage was caused.

The brigade responded to an alarm at 8.54 p.m. yesterday, where a small outbreak of fire was caused in an apartment over Payne's Drug Store at George and Simcoe streets, due to defective wiring in an electric plate. The apartment, it is understood is tenanted by Hugh Lewis and Jack Irwin.

"Rice Christians" is a name of reproach applied to natives who become Christians for what they can get out of it in a material way.

Free Contest!
ROLEX
The World's Finest Wrist Watch
YOU MAY WIN THIS LOVELY ROLEX WATCH
By Guessing the Closest Time-Keeping Ever Recorded by a Wrist Watch Under Official Government Test.
Contest Starts Wednesday, Apl. 10, Closes Easter Monday, Apl. 22
(Only Those Over 16 Eligible)
Get Your Free Entry Blanks at
ELSIE BENNETT'S GIFT SHOP
345 George Street. Phone 1406

COAL PRICES DOWN!
D. L. & W. "BLUE COAL"
EGG COAL . . $13.75 NUT COAL. . . . 13.75
STOVE COAL. 14.00 PEA COAL . . . 11.75
SCOTCH COAL, $15.50
Discount of 50c per ton for Cash on Delivery.
PHONE 209.
H. B. TAYLOR & SON
6d-6,9,11,13,15,17-308



PICTURE FRAMING
New Styles
Prompt Service
Moderate Prices
THE ROY STUDIO
140½ Hunter Street

BUY YOUR NEW REFRIGERATOR FOR LONG LIFE
GENERAL ELECTRIC
NOW... a GENERAL ELECTRIC MONITOR TOP REFRIGERATOR For Only $230
A NEW low price for the famous General Electric "Monitor Top"—which has proved in more than 2,000,000 homes that it offers lowest cost refrigeration! The dependable sealed-in-steel mechanism never needs attention, not even oiling. Let us demonstrate the many modern features of a G-E Refrigerator. A small payment installs it in your kitchen. YD-35

DEFERRED PAYMENTS ARRANGED
WATSON'S TIRE and RADIO SUPPLY
GEORGE AT BROCK ST. PHONE 968

Good Citizens Are Your Community's Greatest Asset
$7,500.00 is Needed by the "Y" to Serve Youth and to Ensure Worthy and Useful Citizens
Why does the Association need Public Subscriptions? In other words, why is it not self-supporting? To place membership fees and other charges high enough to cover all operating costs would result in an exclusive club for well-to-do patrons.
Keeping fees moderate, means that everyone who needs and wants the service the Association renders may receive it.
The Y.M.C.A. is like an Educational Institution; it must have partial support from the Public.
The Business Men's Department is more than self-supporting. The Dormitory Department produces a surplus, in excess of cost of operating this department. Subscriptions are needed to cover the cost of Boys' and Young Men's Work in excess of their fees.
R. L. DOBBIN, President
How Your Money Was Spent During 1934

INCOME		EXPENDITURE
Membership Fees and Activities	$12,076.87	Administration	$7,422.91
Subscriptions	7,756.00	Maintenance	7,274.36
		Activities	2,231.70
		Interest on Building Fund and Current Account	1,830.63
		Payment on Current Deficit	976.19
	$19,834.87		$19,834.87

These Men are Your Guarantee of Careful Management:
BOARD OF DIRECTORS
G. A. Gillespie, Honorary President — R. L. Dobbin, President

C. S. Cummer	J. L. Gillespie	C. Lochead	C. A. Salmonsen
C. D. Daniel	R. M. Glover	J. R. Marshall	Chas. Shaw
A. L. Elliott	J. Hamilton	G. S. Matthews	J. H. Vernor
W. L. Ferguson	P. Hills	W. A. Richardson	F. P. Westbye

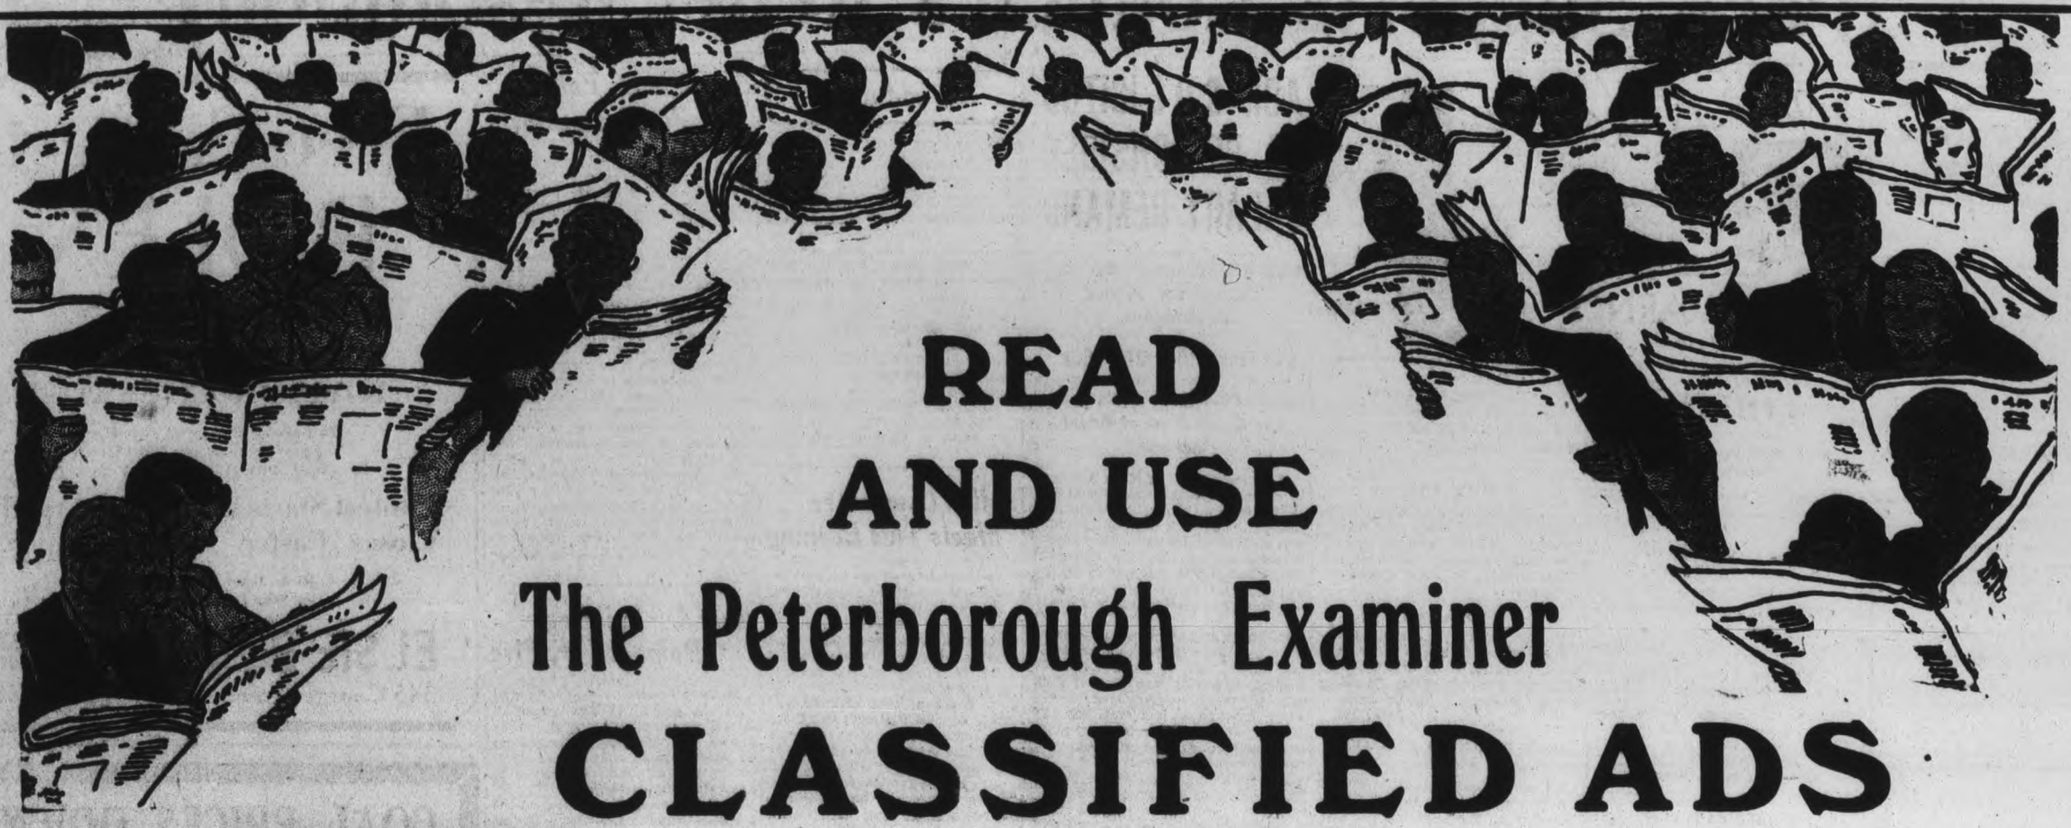
Dr. H. M. Telford
HONORARY MEMBERS
T. Barrie — J. J. Turner

Wednesday Specials!

Silverbright Salmon	lb. 12c
(Sliced or centre cuts	lb. 14c)
Fancy Keta Salmon, tall tin	10c
Small Link Sausage	2 lbs. 25c
Blade Roast or Pot Roast	lb. 12c
Short Rib or Rump Roast	lb. 15c
Sliced Bologna	2 lbs. 25c
Sliced Bacon	lb. 25c

HABOCO STORES
"QUALITY WITHOUT EXTRAVAGANCE"

THE SHORTEST AND EASIEST WAY



READ AND USE

The Peterborough Examiner

CLASSIFIED ADS

Discarded Clothing

can be readily turned into cash by offering it for sale in The Examiner Classified Ads.

• • •

Used Cars

Whether you wish to buy or sell a Used Car, there's no better salesman than an Ad. in The Examiner's Classified Columns.

• • •

Domestic Help

can most readily be secured by using an Examiner Classified Ad.

• • •

Musical Instruments

of all kinds find a ready market in The Examiner Classified Ad. Columns.

• • •

Travelling Expenses

Help pay for them by disposing of things you no longer need. Advertise in The Examiner Classified Ad. Page.

• • •

FOR RENT: Houses and Apartments

If you want to rent a house or an apartment, there's no surer way for satisfying your need than by watching The Examiner's Classified Ads.

In the Attic

Classified Ads. can do a world of good here. They'll help you dispose of that miscellaneous collection of discarded Clothing, unused Furniture, and those Rugs and Carpets. They'll put these things in the hands of people who need them, and at the same time provide you with cash to buy some of those things you DO need.

The Yard and Garden

Have you all the Tools and Equipment necessary to beautify your Lawn and Garden? Classified Ads. will tell you where these things can be most advantageously purchased.

In the Basement

Wouldn't you like to have a recreation room here? Classified Ads. offer every assistance. First: by helping you dispose of the unused things you have stored here. Second: by showing you where to economically obtain the Furnishings and Equipment for this "new room."

Any Want or Need

It will pay YOU to become a confirmed reader and user of Classified Ads. because it's a proven fact that they will satisfactorily fulfill any want or need that may arise in YOUR home.

PHONE 1600

Peterborough Examiner

and a driver will call for your advertisement.
Or leave it in at the office.

NEIGHBORLY NOTES

Please Phone Items to 1800 or 1801

Mrs. H. Turner of Douglas avenue is lending her home tomorrow for a tea to be held under the auspices of the King Edward Home and School Association.

* * *

Mrs. F. Hooper of Dublin street, a member of the Peter Robinson Chapter I.O.D.E., was elected as one of the Councillors of the Provincial Chapter at the annual meeting held in Hamilton last Friday.

* * *

Mr. R. M. Northcott has a birthday anniversary to-day.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Glover and their son, Mr. Max Glover, have returned from a short trip to Atlantic City.

* * *

Mr. R. H. Smith of Smithville, Ontario, is in the city to-day on business.

* * *

Miss May Traverner of Lindsay is visiting her sister, Mrs. Ray Walker, Reid street.

* * *

Mr. James Skinner has a birthday anniversary to-day.

* * *

Miss Anne Wilson of Water street, whose marriage took place yesterday to the Rev. Courtland Salisbury of Williamston, Vermont, was presented with a number of handsome gifts by her associates at the Richard Hall Store, among them being a Kenwood blanket and a silver tea service.

* * *

Jackie Bacon, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bacon, celebrated his third birthday on Saturday afternoon by entertaining a number of his little friends at the home of Mrs. J. B. Bacon, Reid street. Among those present were Rosemary McConkey, Joan Clancy, Marilyn Armitage, Dorothy Godfrey, Jimmy Swanston, Charles Lawrence, Gerard Clancy, Ross Lawrence, Jackie McConkey.

* * *

Mrs. N. E. Phelan of Charlotte street visited her brother, Mr. Alponse Delaire, in Rochester, N.Y., last week.

* * *

Mr. Joseph Astles has a birthday anniversary to-day.

* * *

A very enjoyable event in the life of the Girl Guides and Brownies of the city took place last night in the parish hall of St. John's Church, when a Mother and Daughter banquet was held at which the Guides and Brownies acted as hostesses. The long tables were done in the Guide colors of white and blue and were decorated with miniature Union Jacks and branches of pussy-willow. About two hundred people were in attendance at a banquet presided over by Mrs. G. R. Langley, president of the local association. The guest speaker of the evening, Mrs. G. E. W Pepler of Toronto, Deputy Commissioner of Girl Guides for the province of Ontario, was introduced by Mrs. J. H. Bell, captain of No. 1 Company, and spoke mainly on the forthcoming visit to Toronto in May of Lord and Lady Baden-Powell, heads of Boy Scout and Girl Guide work throughout the world. Mrs. Pepler outlined arrangements which are being made for the visit and dwelt also on the lengthy careers of both in Scout and Guide endeavors. An appreciation of Mrs. Pepler's visit and address was voiced at its conclusion, by Mrs. H. C. Scotheran. Several toasts were also proposed during the course of the evening, with Mrs. Langley taking care of the toast to "The King," and Miss Olga Westbye proposing the toast to "Our Mothers," with reply by Mrs. J. J. McCabe. Little Betty Bell of the Brownies' group proposed the toast to "Guides Everywhere," with response by Miss Marie Shaughnessy. The music of the evening was provided by the Guides' marching song and two very much-appreciated vocal solos by Mrs. Charles Saunders, with impromptu accompaniment played by Miss Edna Borland. During the course of the banquet, regret was expressed at the resignation as District Commissioner of Mrs. C. H. Rogers, and eulogistic reference to her service was made by Mrs. Pepler and Mrs. G. R. Langley. At the close of Mrs. Pepler's address, flowers were presented to her, also to Mrs. J. H. Bell, who is secretary for Canada of the Post Extension work among Guides, while an appreciation of Mrs. Bell's service to the movement was voiced by Miss Eleanor Grisdale, captain of No. 2 Company. "For They are Jolly Good Fellows" was sung with great enthusiasm by the Guides and Brownies. An aspect of the evening that was commented on by Mrs. Pepler as being quite unique in her experience of similar functions was the fact that the serving of the banquet was done by twelve gentlemen, husbands of Association members and fathers of Guides or Brownies. After an announcement that a Ranger Company of older girls is to be formed here in the near future, the pleasing gathering closed with "Taps." Arrangements for the banquet were in charge of the general convenor, Mrs. C. H. Saunders, and decorations were supervised by Mrs. H. C. Scotheran.

WEDNESDAY AT
387 George Phone 3680
PEPLER
Fresh Pork Tenderloin .. 23c
While They Last.
Shoulder VEAL CHOPS 13c
Beef Shank 4 lbs.
Minced Steak 2 lbs.
Spare Ribs 2 lbs.
Peanut Butter 2 lbs.
Brisket 3 lbs.
Blade Roast 2 lbs.
Pickled Hocks 3 lbs.
Crosse & Blackwells Ketchup 2 Bottles, Large
25c
SMOKED FILLETS FRESH FILLETS SALMON 15c

FASHION SERVICE

3045

JUNIORS WILL LOVE IT

Smart sophistication, so beloved by growing girls, marks this pretty little dress. The first model carried out in powder blue crepe silk was especially effective for parties or "best". Dusty pink dotted batiste, red, white and blue striped lawn, yellow crinkly cotton crepe, etc. are most delightful suggestions to fashion it for summer.

Style No. 3045 is designed for sizes 10, 12, 14 and 16 years. Size 12 requires 3¼ yards of 39-inch material.

The Examiner:
Please order for me—
Pattern Number .....
Size .....
My Name .....
Address .....
.....
I enclose 15c in payment Allow five days for return

Be Beautiful

By GLADYS GLAD

The charming and talented Carole Lombard, whose delightfully smooth, flawless complexion is one of her greatest beauty assets, insists that soap and water are a gal's best friends. Carole gives her skin a soap and water cleansing daily. And she always is careful that the water she uses is soft water, too. For Carole believes that hard water can do a great deal of damage to the skin.

It really isn't difficult to understand just what hard water is—yet a good many women find it puzzling. Hard water is merely water that contains constituents of chalk, limestone or dolomite. Such water never should be used for cleansing the fact, as it tends to remove far too much of the natural oils that keep the skin soft, smooth and supple. Only soft water should be used for cleansing. Hard water tends to make the skin dry, rough and leathery, and such a skin is naturally most unattractive.

Difficult With Soaps

Women often have difficulty with soaps, too, when hard water is used. For when certain soaps come into contact with hard water, the mineral compounds of the water combine with materials present in the soap and form an insoluble scum that coats the soap tablet. This greatly reduces the cleansing and lathering properties of the soap, and is detrimental to the skin.

If you live in a hard water district, the thing to do is always to soften the water you use for cleansing your skin. There are several ways of doing this that are both cheap and simple. For softening bath water, make small cheesecloth bags and fill each of them with a small cup of ordinary bran. Then just drop one of the bags in your tub of water whenever you bathe, and the water will be softened most effectively.

You may also use bran to soften the water that you use in cleansing your face and hands. Boil a pound of bran in a gallon of water for half an hour, and then strain the mixture, reserving the solution. To the solution add just a few drops of perfume, in order to make it fragrant. Then add enough of the perfumed bran water to your basin of water to turn it milky. A few drops of Tincture of Benzoin will also soften hard water, and will give it a luxuriant, milky appearance.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Mascara

Flora: Practice will make you more efficient in applying your mascara. If any of it gets on your eyelids or beneath your eyes, moisten a soft cloth and carefully wipe it away.

Hair

Rita: The castor oil treatments are indeed excellent for correcting thin, dry hair and split ends. These shampoos are fully described in my 'Beauty Culture' booklet.

Complexion

Peggy: My method of eradicating blackheads, pimples, freckles, enlarged pores and other blemishes is too long to print here. Full information on this, however, is contained in my 'Beauty Culture' booklet.

Correct Weight

Constant Reader: I think that a girl 18 years of age and five feet eight inches tall should weigh about 138 pounds.

Booklet

Mrs. J. R.: To obtain my 'Beauty Culture' booklet, just send me 10 cents and a stamped, addressed envelope. This booklet contains information on remedying complexion blemishes, promoting hair health and loveliness, treating a double chin and care for teeth and mouth.

A Surprise

SEATTLE, April 9 (CP) — "Pretty," a tiny yellow canary, gazes with surprise upon her large and noisy offspring, a fluffy bantam chick, which she hatched recently.

Already the chick is nearly twice as large as its "mother."

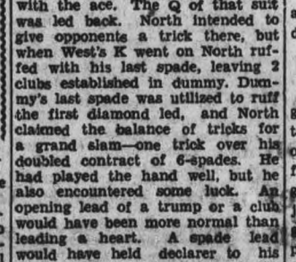
Three weeks ago, the little canary broke her own two tiny eggs. Unconsolable, she was given a bantam egg. She sat on it ambitiously, occasionally losing her balance and falling off, but returning immediately to her task.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By E. V. Shepard
"Teacher of Teachers"

"CHAMPS ELYSEE STREET"

The following odd holdings are from New Orleans. The letter is signed "Champs Elysee Street." When the bidding soared to 6-spades, East doubled, and he led the K of hearts. See how many tricks you can win against the best subsequent defence of opponents.



Bidding went: South, 1-heart; West, 1-no trump; North, 2-spades; East, 3-clubs, which North doubtless would have doubled had either side been vulnerable. As it was South bid 3-spades; North, 4-diamonds, to show his second suit; South, 5-spades; North, 6-spades, expecting a cross-ruff hand, with only the two major suits in dummy, which was a bad guess. East doubled, expecting West's no trump to win at least 2 tricks.

The opening lead was the K of hearts, not expecting the declarer to be void. Of course the declarer ruffed. The best division possible of the 7 missing diamonds was 4-3, or just the same as the best possible division for the 7 missing hearts, and the latter had been made easier of establishment by the opening lead. If necessary, the declarer could ruff hearts and clubs 4 times, while dummy could ruff only 3 times. On the whole North thought that playing to established dummy might be easier than trying to establsih his own hand. This was a wise decision.

North led back a trump. Both opponents followed suit. The declarer ruffed a second heart. North led back another trump and was lucky enough to clear up all opposing spades. Declarer ruffed a third heart. The ace fell, establishing 3 hearts in dummy.

North led his only club and won with the ace. The Q of that suit was led back. North intended to give opponents a trick there, but when West's K went on North ruffed with his last spade, leaving 2 clubs established in dummy. Dummy's last spade was utilized to ruff the first diamond led, and North claimed the balance of tricks for a grand slam—one trick over his doubled contract of 6-spades. He had played the hand well, but he also encountered some luck. An opening lead of a trump or a club would have been more normal than leading a heart. A spade lead would have held declarer to his small slam, a club opening probably would have defeated the contract a trick. An abnormal opening diamond lead would have enabled the declarer to fulfil his small slam contract, by giving West the first trick. Only the opening heart lead could well have yielded a grand slam.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

To give the invalid a bath in bed is rightly regarded as the apex of the nicety of nursing technique.

The home nurse regards this procedure with awe and dread. Yet all she needs to do to gain assurance is to plan a bath in bed and give one.

The whole secret of success is in planning ahead. Close the windows and put a screen in front of the door. A screen can be improvised with a clothes horse and a blanket. A table and chair should be put at the head of the bed at the right side of the patient.

Prepare a bucket of hot water and a dishpan to wring out the washcloths. The dishpan should have some hot water in it to begin with so you can rinse the washcloths. Two washcloths are needed—one for the face, one for the body. A bath towel and a face towel to spread on the bed to protect it from wetting and other towels for drying should be ready. A cake of castile soap, talcum powder and tooth paste should be on the table. Toothbrush, glass of water, and spit basin for tooth brushing, and you are ready.

One Part at a Time

After the tooth brushing, take away all pillows but one and take off the nightgown, take away all bed coverings except a sheet. Put a face towel on the pillow and spread a bath towel on the bed so that it can be moved around as you proceed from one part of the body to the other.

Wash one part of the body at a time and dry it before you go on to the next part. The simplest order is chest and abdomen in front, right arm, back, left arm, left leg, right leg, face.

Use a firm stroke in washing and drying. The incidental massage is as beneficial as t' cleansing. The bath is not only a means of cleanliness. It also makes the invalid feel good. And it may prevent disagreeable skin complications such as bed sores. The skin throws poisons during illness, which dry on the surface. The bath removes this possible source of danger. And the gentle friction of the wash cloth improves the circulation and gives a general feeling of well being to the whole body.

So much for the cleansing bath. It may also be necessary to give a sponge bath for temperature—one of the most valuable procedures in treatment. The technique is the same as the cleansing bath except that no soap is used and the water should be lukewarm or cool—70 to 80 degrees Fahrenheit.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

A. C. H.: "I am a diabetic and have endeavored to study the subject of diabetes as thoroughly as a layman can do so. There is one particular point which puzzles me. The question is: Does insulin utilize carbohydrate or glucose? Practically all literature makes reference to 'carbohydrate tolerance', but to my mind comes the thought that this may mean 'glucose tolerance.' Knowing as I do that all the carbohydrates, 56 per cent of the proteins and 10 per cent of the fats are converted into glucose, and that the ration of glucose to fatty acids must be kept at 1.0:1.2 to avoid a possible acidosis, I cannot understand the direct references to 'carbohydrates.' My own experience and tests have proved to me that the glucose derived from the proteins and fats will, without the aid of insulin, cause glycosuria."

Answer: The terms "carbohydrate tolerance" and "glucose tolerance" are used interchangeably in medical literature. All carbohydrat and about half of the protein and 10 per cent of the fat are converted into glucose to be metabolized. In other words, the final chemical state of food for carbohydrate utilization is glucose. Therefore, we must say that insulin oxidizes glucose, and glucose is a form of carbohydrate. So far as insulin is concerned, the diet should be measured on grams of glucose, and a unit of insulin should utilize one or two grams of glucose.

* * *

J. S. W.: "Is it possible for an aneurism to be caused by incessant and hard coughing?"

Answer: No. Aneurism is caused by an infectious disease.

* * *

C. G.: "A friend of mine makes a home-made soap, one of the ingredients of which is pure turpentine. I used it continuously in the kitchen, as I like it. Would it be injurious to one's health?"

Answer—I know of no way in which turpentine used as you describe it, could be injurious to the health.

Stuffy Head
Just a few drops up each nostril. Quickly, breathing again becomes easy!

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

Hot chocolate is coming back into favor as a beverage. To make, first make a syrup of sugar, chocolate and water. Boil them together three minutes, but no longer, then add milk, a dash of salt and a few drops of vanilla. Heat, beat vigorously with rotary egg beaten and serve.

* * * * * * *

You can wear your chic blue shoes out in the rain by putting a pair of new blue sandal rubbers over them.

* * * * * * *

A redingote costume is almost indispensable this season. One smart model consists of a black wool belted coat over a black and white printed faille silk frock. Effectively worn with this is a black rough straw roll back sailor.

* * * * * * *

Exquisite is the only word to describe the lingerie this season, fragile, lovely underthings of filmy chiffon are being created in pearly gray, French blue and soft rose.

* * * * * * *

White suits will be favorites this summer. Beautifully tailored white suits in garbardine, flannel and linen now are the rage with well dressed women in the South. Be sure to include one in your Summer wardrobe.

* * * * * * *

When grease or milk is spilled on a hot stove the odor arising may be overcome by sprinkling with salt.

* * * * * * *

If you find yeast hard to take and that it is good for you, add about three tablespoons of peanut butter, one tablespoon of butter and a pinch of salt, mash all together with a fork and spread on crackers or fill dates with this. It is delicious.

* * * * * * *

The last word in good style is the shirtwaist dress of lace or chiffon. You will make no mistake in including one of these in your spring wardrobe. They will be so smart for the street or church.

* * * * * * *

The little suede brushes that are sold now for suede shoes, bags, are very effective in removing certain kinds of spots from silk crepe dresses. Egg or any waxy substance which leaves a deposit on the surface of the material does not yield readily to water, cleaning fluids, scraping or the ordinary stiff brush. But a little vigorous brushing with the suede brush often does the trick. The fine, stiff wire "bristles" seem to penetrate the fabric itself and remove the spot completely, even after it has dried. And there is no danger of the dread "ring" left sometimes by liquid cleansing preparations.

* * * * * * *

And here is a very good recipe—I can't seem to finish up without a recipe for something. I seem to get so many very splendid ones these days I just have to pass them on.

* * * * * * *

PRUNE AND RICE FLUFF

One-half cup cooked rice (cooked until very tender), one tablespoon gelatin, one-fourth cup cold water, one-fourth cup orange juice, one tablespoon lemon juice, two cans strained prunes, two tablespoons sugar, one egg white, one-half teaspoon salt. Soak gelatin in cold water about five minutes and then dissolve over boiling water which will make gelatin of liquid consistency. Heat together rice, orange juice, lemon juice, sugar and salt. Add dissolved gelatin to mixture and blend together very thoroughly. Allow mixture to cool slightly and then add prune pulp. Again allow mixture to cool and when starting to thicken fold in egg white which has been beaten stiff and dry. Fill sherbet glasses with dessert and placed filled glasses in refrigerator. When dessert is thoroughly chilled it may be served. Top dessert with whipped cream or finely cut nuts. Serves six.

Household Hints

By MRS. MARY MORTON

Menu Hint

BREAKFAST
Prunes in Orange Juice
Eggs Poached in Milk on Toasted Whole Wheat Biscuit
Coffee

LUNCHEON
Vegetable Plate (Carrots, Spinach, Creamed Celery)
Date Bran Cookies Sliced Bananas
Milk

DINNER
Cream of Tomato Soup
Whole Wheat Crackers
Liver and Bacon Scalloped Potatoes
String Beans Cabbage Salad
Pineapple Diamonds Tea

Milk is used in this menu for a day in creamed dishes and soup. The meals are planned to furnish every element for good health in eating.

Today's Recipes

Date Bran Cookies—Cream one-third cup shortening, one cup brown sugar, add one beaten egg, one-half cup milk, sift one cup flour, one teaspoon cinnamon, one-fourt teaspoon cloves, one-fourth teaspoon nutmeg; add this to above mixture, together with one cup bran, one and one-half teaspoons baking powder, three-fourths cup dates, one-half cup chopped nuts, one-half teaspoon salt. Mix thoroughly. Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased pan, bake in moderate oven. If sour milk is used use one teaspoon baking soda and one teaspoon baking powder. Recipe makes about 40 cookies.

Pineapple Diamonds—One small can grated pineapple, two cups sugar, three cups flour, one cup butter (or part butter), one-fourth teaspoon salt, three tablespoons sugar, three-fourths cup milk, one-half cup coarse-ground nut meats. Cook pineapple and sugar to jam consistency. Let cool. Make crust as for pie of flour, shortening, salt, sugar and milk. Divide dough into halves and roll in long sheets. Line a shallow pan with one sheet, turning it up at edges. Spread with pineapple mixture and sprinkle with nuts. Put other sheet of dough on top and prick well with a fork. Dot top with butter and bake in moderate oven. When cool cut into strips an inch and a half wide, then diagonally to form diamonds. Dust powdered sugar over pastries.

FACTS AND FANCIES
Nice for Children's Lunch

Sift one pint flour, one-half teaspoon salt and four level tablespoons baking powder. Rub into two level tablespoons butter and about two-thirds cup milk. Knead lightly and roll out thin. Cut into rounds five inches in diameter, putting finely-chopped apples in each. Sprinkle with brown sugar and cinnamon and twist tops of dough.

Takes Place of Meat

Emmince of Brazil Nuts—Chop very fine enough Brazil nut meats to make one cup, add 2 cups of soft but fine bread crumbs, grate a small onion and saute it in a little butter, add the nut meats and crumbs and brown lightly, season with salt, pepper, paprika and a dash of nutmeg, moisten with one and one-half cups of tomato juice or stock, flavor delicately with Worcestershire sauce and cook ten minutes. Make a border of mashed potatoes, fill with the mince and garnish with small pickled beets or pimientoes.

RECITAL GIVEN VIOLIN AND PIANO

Deane Miner and Agnes Logan Green Present Recital in Y.W.C.A.

VARIED PROGRAM.

(By Jeanette)

Presenting an interesting recital of violin and pianoforte music, Deane Miner and Agnes Logan Green delighted their listeners last evening in the green room of the Young Women's Christian Association.

The classical, the romantic and the modern schools in musical expression were represented in a program which ranged all the way from Bach, master-contrapuntalist, to the vagaries of a Spanish dance by Sarasate.

Mrs. Green's contributions, in addition to her characteristic very sympathetic and perfect accompaniments, were three brief numbers of contrasting type. The first was a Jig composed by Matthew Dumourg and arranged by Harold Craxton. It was an enticing bit of descriptive music that drew a jaunty, gallivanting picture of gay gossoons and colleens footing it lighty of a summer night to the warm music of an old fiddler.

A choral prelude, "I Call on Thee, Lord," by Bach, was a placid, deep-toned prayer that concerned itself mainly with the bass section. And the third number was some of the dreamy, melancholy of Chopin, in a Nocturne in E Major, in which incisive, isolated treble passages form an overtone for a rippling bass.

Mr. Miner displayed his usual firm grasp of technical sinuosities, his interest in music of a difficult type and his very expert ability, in presenting an exacting program of violin music.

He played first the Adagio movement from an E Major Concerto by Bach, that illustrated very strikingly the great master's liking for ringing the changes on a constant, earnest, recurrent theme. Still in the classical tradition, the powerful music of Beethoven came next, lofty, impressive, imbued with spiritual feeling, in three movements from a Sonata, Opus 12, No. 1; the Allegro con brio; a smooth, melodic Andante con moto (theme with variations), and a gay, playful finale; Rondo-Allegro.

Then came the most advanced of the romantic composers, Schumann, with his poetical and imaginative tendency demonstrated in three brief Fantasy pieces.

The last group consisted of five compositions of contrasting import. The Andantino of the Italian, Padre Martini, was cool, long-bowed music that was enthusiastically received. Then came the Romanza Andalusia by Sarasate, demonstarting a quick and skilful wrist and bow in the tricky, double-stopped passages and the long-sustained, very fine harmonic of the finale.

The work of a Scandinavian musician, Sinding, was illustrated in the second movement, an Adagio, from a suite composed by him. This had a very noticeable broad, full, legato bowing and a deep undertone to a vagrant, interwoven melody.

French in atmosphere were the two brief bits by Marias, a 17th century Gallic composed, in "Rondeau L'Agreeable," picturing the gaiety underlying one of the stilted, formal dances of the period, and "La Basque" another morsel of brisk and captivating type that brought forth much applause, and an encore in a Minuet by Debussy.

A great deal of appreciative applause was vouchsafed both players on a very fine program.

Man Takes Prize For Best Kitchen

LONDON, April 9 (C.P.)—A man won the national $5,000 competition organized by the British Commercial Gas Association against 20,000 women. The competition was the planning of a modern labor-saving kitchen, and the winner, Anthony Trew, a retired architect of Poole, is 75 years of age. The second prize, $1,000, was divided between Miss Elliot Douglas of Kelso, Roxburgshire, and Mrs. N. Collins of Stoke-on-Trent.

Mr. Trew explains he made cardboard scale models of the ground plan of the kitchen and cut out cards to represent the space for the various fittings. From several plans he selected his prize-winning one.

THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL.

THE SCARLET PIMPERNEL
Great Cast in a Great Motion Picture

Patrons of the Capitol Theatre have a treat in store for them when "The Scarlet Pimpernel" is shown tomorrow. It is a film version of one of the famous Baroness Orczy novels and tells the story of a band of gallant young Englishmen who risked their lives to save French families from the guillotine during the French revolution. That greatest of all screen actors, Leslie Howard, has the leading role in the production and he is assisted by such outstanding artists as Merle Oberon and Raymond Massey, the great Canadian actor.

TRENT RIVER

Mrs. George Vanvolkenburg was a visitor Friday with Mrs. H. R. Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. David Wallace of Burnbrae were recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. William Thain.

Mr. Lyle Lewis has returned to his work at the home of Mr. Gilbert Wright, north of Havelock, after spending a few days at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lewis.

NO RUBBING! Floors that Gleam in 20 Minutes—NO POLISHING
HAWES' FLOOR GLOSS
WIPE IT ON — LET IT DRY
G-4 Made by The Makers of HAWES' FLOOR WAX
HAWES' FLOOR GLOSS NO RUBBING REQUIRED

THRIFTY CANADIANS PREFER TO SHOP AT ZELLERS
RETAILERS TO THRIFTY CANADIANS

JIFFY CARPET SWEEPERS
A very handy little sweeper with heavy rotary brush and easily emptied. Four foot handle. Special, Wednesday $1.19

CHESTERFIELD CUSHIONS
Made of brocaded Ottawa cloth and art silk. Assorted round, crescent and pillow shapes, in all colors 89c

BED SHEETS
9/4 size. Hemstitched and good quality. Each 98c
Pillow Slips—42" and hemstitched. Each 23c

OILCLOTH
Plain colors and assorted patterns in all colors.
46" wide. Yard 39c
54" wide. Yard 49c

MONTREAL TRIUMPH OVER HALIFAX WOLVERINES

MOST COMPLETE SPORT PAGES IN CENTRAL ONTARIO

PETERBOROUGH
EXAMINER SPORTS

Sports Department—Phone 1600 TUESDAY, APRIL 9, 1935 Read by More than 18,000 Daily

MONTREAL WINS SECOND GAME OF ALLAN CUP SEMI-FINALS

First-period Scoring Rampage Gives Royals 4-3 Victory Over Halifax.

NEVILLE LEADS ONSLAUGHT

HALIFAX, April 9. (CP). — A first-period scoring rampage, led by sharp-shooting Dave Neville, gave Montreal Royals a 4-to-3 victory over the Halifax Wolverines last night in the second game of their series for the Eastern Canadian amateur hockey championship. They battled to a 3-to-3 overtime tie in the first clash Saturday.

Another win Wednesday night would put Royals into the Allan Cup finals against Port Arthur Bearcats, Western champions, who watched the last period of to-night's wide-open exhibition from the sidelines.

Back in the form that repulsed Toronto's hand-picked all-stars, the youthful Montrealers played rings around the Maritime champions in the first period.

Neville Leads Royals to Win

Three smart goals from the sticks of Ralph St. Germain, Neville and Herman Murray made Halifax look sick.

Neville, one of the leading scorers in the Quebec Senior League this year, sniped at the veteran 'Daddy' Bubar from all angles.

NO JUBILEE PARDONING.

LONDON.—(C.P.)—There will be no Jubilee amnesty for prisoners in the United Kingdom, according to a statement by the Home Secretary, Sir John Gilmour.

ONE CLUB MAKES OFFICIAL ENTRY

Soccer Team Delay in Notifying Executive—Opening Date Set.

The usual dilatory progress was very much in evidence at the meeting of the Peterborough and District Football Association, last evening, on the part of the teams that have been regularly associated with the league during the last few years, in fact, only one team—C.C.F. —were the official entry; while the Caledonians desired another week so that they can hold a meeting next Monday evening, in Chamber of Commerce Rooms to discuss the situation with their supporters and friends and they expect to report at the executive meeting on the following evening.

No official representative was present from the Canadian General Electric and no organized meeting has been held to discuss plans for the season.

Canada Packers have held their first practice on Saturday last when they had over fifteen players out at the Exhibition Grounds but have not declared their intentions to the association.

A special meeting has been called for tonight at the Brinton Athletic Grounds for the purpose of discussing the prospects of a soccer team. A few years ago they had one of the best in the city.

The full executive appointed at the meeting of the previous week were present with President Ben McMaster in the chair and T. Westwood secretary.

British Consols are making a tour of the provinces of Ontario and New Brunswick and the secretary was instructed to write them regarding a game in the city. The C.C.F. have notified the executive that they will have Leaside as their guests on 24th of May.

It is expected that C.P.C., C.G.E., Caledonians, Brinton, C.C.F. and Delmo will form the league. Art O'Halloran reports from Lindsay that they have not held a meeting yet and do not know what will transpire until they have a get-together.

T. Westwood and Jack Flynn were appointed as representatives to the Jubilee Day meeting.

Ask O.B.A.A. Declare Champions Earlier

SMITH FALLS, April 9.—Suggestions that representations be made to the O.B.A.A. to declare an early winner in order that a Provincial championship series might be arranged for 1935 were heard at the annual meeting of the Canadian Pacific Recreation Club here last night when a large number of members gathered to discuss activities in the many branches of sport under the club's supervision.

Andrew Williams, re - elected President tonight, felt that Western title-holders should play off with the E.O.B.A. champions for the Ontario championship and that suitable arrangements might be made between the two associations. He also suggested that the Smiths Falls team might arrange a post-season championship series with Stratford, the western champions, some time this summer, the locals hold the Eastern and Northern Ontario titles.

GREATLY REDUCED RATES

Those who wish comfortable hotel accommodation with all conveniences will be surprised at our low rates put in effect to meet present conditions. Permanent or transient guests are invited to inquire. American or European plan — accommodation at depression prices.

HOTEL VICTORIA

Matt. J. Elliott George B. Elliott
84 Yonge St., Toronto. Adel. 0861

WOLVES MAKE IMPRESSION IN WESTERN CITY

Sudbury and Monarchs Set For Opening Clash in Memorial Cup Series To-night.

ON WINNIPEG ICE.

WINNIPEG, April 9 (C.P.).—With an enthusiasm that presaged a warm time for their opponents, Sudbury Cub Wolves, eastern champions, and Winnipeg Monarchs, western finalists, sharpened up on their sniping to-day in preparation for to-night's opening game in the Dominion title-series for the Memorial Cup.

Appetites of fans were whetted by the memory of a stirring series played three years ago when Sudbury, after losing the first game to Monarchs, came back to take the remaining two and the Memorial Cup. There will be new faces on the lineups this year, but the competition promises to equal that of 1932.

Fans Impressed.

Fans were deeply impressed with the form displayed by Wolves in the brief workouts Davie Kemp, in goal, Charlie Shannon, on defence, and Ab. Conick and Art Stuart on the forward line played their respective positions with the nonchalance of veterans.

Max Silverman, wide-awake coach of the Sudbury Juniors, refrained from comment beyond saying his charges were in the proverbial pink. The team that Max built for the Dominion classic appeared heavier and faster than Monarchs as they wound up their siege of conditioning.

Monarchs, whose gruelling three-game series with Saskatoon Wesleys for the Western junior title, has put them right on edge, confined their workout to light skating practice. All appeared in excellent condition for the two-out-of-three game inter-sectional series.

Madoc Area Mines Are Being Opened

MADOC, April 9 (Examiner Correspondence).—The Gilmour Gold Syndicate is opening up the old Gilmour mine, about three miles east of Gilmour, North Hastings. They are busily engaged moving in up-to-date mining equipment under the direction of Mr. Hitchins.

The Craig Gold Mine in North Madoc Township is being opened up. Several men are at work in the mining department and much activity is being displayed in renovating and repairing the buildings, besides building new ones.

INSTRUMENT OF PEACE

TORONTO — The Jewish people can be the greatest instrument in promoting world peace, said Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn today in formally opening the 1935 United Palestine appeal campaign to obtain funds for the furtherance of colonization.

The Ontario premier pictured Europe as a country where armed forces were marching over acres still wet with blood. "The Jew has endured persecution with indomitable courage," he said.

Small farms for the poor are to be started in the Irish Free State.

Maroons Hot Favorites to Win Stanley Cup

Smythe Optimistic

CONNY SMYTHE

Hard working manager of the Toronto Leafs who is confident his team will take the Maroons in the third game of Stanley Cup series tonight.

TROTTIER'S INJURY MAY KEEP HIM OUT; PINCH-HITTER DORATY TO PLAY TO-NIGHT

Doraty May Be Called On to Play Rescuing Role As He Has Done in Past.

LEAFS OPTIMISTIC.

TORONTO, April 9. — Having arrived at that point where a quick remedy is needed to restore the Maple Leafs' scoring punch if they are going to prevent the Montreal Maroons from humiliating them taking the Stanley Cup in three straight victories, Manager Smythe of the Toronto team is likely to call upon pinchhitter Ken (Cagey) Doraty to-night in Montreal to play the rescue role.

Waiting His Chance.

Doraty, it will be remembered, is the little right-winger who has been playing most of his hockey this season in the International League with the Maple Leafs' farm club at Syracuse. Since the minor loop concluded its play-offs he has been back in Toronto waiting for his chance to step into the line-up with the Maple Leafs. That chance may be given him to-night.

Leafs Optimistic.

The Leafs left last night for Montreal determined to stretch the series to five games. They face the heavy task of winning three in a row, two of them on Montreal ice, to capture the Stanley Cup, but they believe they can do it. There isn't a player on the team who is not confident that Maroons cannot take three straight from them. It is possible, in the event that Day has not fully recovered to be in condition to play to-night, that Andy Blair will be used on the defence and "Buzz" Boll will replace Hec Kilrea, whose playing has not been up to his usual standard in the series so far. Doraty would then be the fifteenth man in the line-up.

May Break Up Scoring Line.

It is felt that these changes would not weaken the Leafs greatly and the switched line-up may stimulate the team like nothing else would. There is a possibility, too, that the Leafs' powerful scoring line, Jackson, Conacher, and Primeau, will be broken up. Jackson may be put on the front line with Thoms and Boll or even with Kelly and Metz. Cotton may play left wing with Primeau and Conacher. Both Coach Irvin and Manager Smythe have a number of shifts in mind, and they may not decide on which to make until late this afternoon in Montreal.

SPORTSMAN FOUND SHOT.

ORLANDO, Fla., April 9 (C.P.).—James Laughlin III., millionaire sportsman and grandson of a pioneer Pittsburgh steel manufacturer, was found dead, a bullet wound through his heart, at his house near here to-day. Officers said an automatic pistol was found lying near the body, and Justice of the Peace F. F. Weatherby said no inquest would be held.

On Rescue Role?

KENNY DORATY

Hero of other years in National league playoff games, Kenny Doraty, flashy forward of the Syracuse Stars, farm club of the Leafs may be called upon to act the rescue role for the Smythemen tonight.

SARAZEN WINNER BY FIVE STROKES

Craig Wood Beaten in Play-off For First Place in Augusta Tourney.

AUGUST, Ga., April 9. (AP). — Gene Sarazen, Connecticut farmer, and climax man of professional golf, mowed down Craig Wood yesterday in a frost-bitten play-off match for the top prize of $1,500 in the August National Golf Club's second annual invitation tournament.

The former British and United States open champion beat the blonde New Jersey slugger by five strokes in a 36-hole contest that was never in doubt after the first dozen holes had been played. Sarazen negotiated the double round in 71-73—144, even par, while Wood carded 75-74—149.

Birthday Greetings

(By The Canadian Press)

To EBENEZER

Robertson "Ebbie" Goodfellow, centre and defence star of Detroit Red Wings, 1934 National Hockey League champions. Born in Ottawa 28 years ago today, he played amateur hockey there, turning pro with the Detroit Olympics in 1928. He moved up to the major league team in 1929.

Maroons May Be Forced to Switch Line-up For To-night's Game.

McMANUS ON LINE.

By WALLACE WARD
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

MONTREAL, April 9. (CP).—The boys in the back room are certain that Montreal Maroons will win the Stanley Cup hockey series from Toronto Maple Leafs, but are not so sure which will win the third game of the series at the Forum here to-night.

The scene shifts from Toronto to Montreal, with the Red team hot favorites after defeating the National Hockey League champions 3 to 2 and 3 to 1 in the opening games at Maple Leaf Gardens. If Tommy Gorman's red raiders beat Leafs again to-night they win the battered old bowl they last captured in 1925-26. Even if the Leafs stage a comeback to-night and win, Maroons remain in the driver's seat, as Leafs have to win three straight to take the series.

Trottier's Condition Uncertain

Chief worry in the Montreal camp is the question as to whether Dave Trottier, one of the best goal-getters of the play-offs for Maroons, will be able to play because of the deep gash in his right thigh, which was cut by a sharp skate when he was checked on Saturday night by King Clancy and "Flash" Hollett. Dr. A. A. McKay, Maroons' club physician, stitched up Trottier's thigh wound after the game, and he was taken to the train on a stretcher.

Trottier rested quietly over the week-end and may be out to-night with his line mates, Earl Robinson and Russ Blinco. Final decision as to whether Trottier will play is being deferred until game time. The Trottier-Robinson-Blinco line has proven Maroons' most potent offensive weapon in the series, and Trottier himself is as anxious as any Maroon supporter that the combination be intact to-night. If he does play it is probable he will find the injured leg a little stiff and will need some relief.

Indications were to-day that Herb Cain might be moved up to the second line to pair with Blinco and Robinson, and that Sammy McManus, a left-winger star last year with Moncton Hawks before he turned pro would be with Bob Gracie and Gus Marker on the third line, with Bill Miller, another ex-Moncton amateur star, in reserve if Trottier was not in the battle.

Bill Stewart of Boston and Billy Bell of Montreal, who refereed the first game of the series, have been appointed to officiate here to-night.

DECLINES TITLE.

MUNICH, Germany, April 9 (AP). —General Erich Ludendorff to-day declined to accept the title of Field Marshal offered by the Government.

The general said his present title of "Feldherr"—Field Commander—was sufficient. He celebrates his 70th birthday to-day, and only recently has been restored to official favor.

Flashy Forward

JIMMY WARD

Fast-stepping forward with the Montreal Maroons aims to keep up the rapid pace he has set all season in order to bring Stanley Cup to Montreal for first time in many years.

COAST SERIES ON EVEN TERMS

Detroit Olympics Blank Vancouver Lions 4-0 in Second Game.

THIRD GAME WEDNESDAY.

VANCOUVER, April 9. (CP)—Detroit Olympics of the International Hockey League were back on an even footing with Vancouver Lions to-day in their "Little World Series" after defeating the Northwestern Hockey League champions 4-0 in the second game here last night. Lions took the first Friday night 3-1, and the third of the five game series will be played Wednesday night.

Olympics counted single goals in the first and second periods, then punched home two in the final session as they caught the Lions flatfooted twice on power plays.

Despite the fact Olympics were handed seven penalties, five of them in the last period, compared with al one two minutes for Brian Hextall, Lions' winger, the coast club was unable to take advantage of their extra manpower. The few times they broke through a tight Detroit defence they were stopped dead by Normie Smith who played a brilliant game in the visitors' goal.

CANADIENS PROTEST CLAIM OF RANGERS

Watson of Montreal Seniors Property of French Team, Dandurand Maintains.

MONTREAL, April 9.—(CP)—Leo Dandurand, managing director of Montreal Canadiens, yesterday filed an official letter of protest with President Frank Calder of the National Hockey League in connection with New York Rangers' claim they have Phil Watson, centre of Montreal Roys, on their negotiation list.

Dandurand claimed that Watson is classed in the category of French-Canadian players, of whom Canadiens have first pick, and with whom no other N.H.L. club can do business unless the Flying Frenchmen waive their rights. Watson, though English by name, has a French-Canadian mother, has been reared in French schools, and speaks that language far more fluently than English.

The Canadien manager stated that Billy Boucher, former right wing with the club, and an amateur hockey manager of some success, would coach the Canadiens amateurs in the senior group next season, keeping his eye out for possible French replacements for the professional team. Canadiens, Dandurand stated, were down to seven French-Canadians, but hoped to add two or three more in the next year or two.

Maid Among Men

REGINA, (CP)—It was just a hockey fixture between pick-up teams, but in one goal was Miss Margaret Shaw, the only girl on the ice. The lads fired some hard shots at Miss Shaw, who formerly tended goal for University of Manitoba co-ed team, but when it was all over the score was only 2-1. It was a performance for the book.

Our Boarding House . . . . . By Ahern

Let's Talk It Over---
That Matter Of Your New Easter Suit

Before deciding on that new suit we urgently advise you to come in and let us explain the many fine points that are considered and go into every Fashion-Craft garment. Just as you expect to know certain points about a car so you should expect and demand these necessary features in your custom tailoring ..... 25.00 And Up

A CHOICE SECOND TO NONE FOR QUALITY AND QUANITY.

Fashion Craft Shops LIMITED
B. A. HICKEY, Manager 390 GEORGE ST.

GOOD PROSPECTS FOR LEAFS IN INTERNATIONAL BALL LOOP

Cub Has Same Pennant Possibilities as Year Ago, Although Losing Several Stars to the Major Leagues—Schott and Hollingsworth Gone.

TORONTO, April 9. (CP). — Although losing the backbone of a fighting ball club by the departure of several stars to major league fields, Toronto Maple Leafs seem to have virtually the same pennant possibilities they had a year ago when they finished third in the regular International League season and then won the play-offs.

Pitchers Gene Shott and Al Hollingsworth, first baseman George McQuinn, second baseman Walter Morrissey and shortstop Nolen Richardson all are gone from last year's ensemble. Some of these, however, may come back to the Leaf's and Manager Ike Boone is not worrying over his present lack of experienced material.

Expects Help From Reds

Boone, the league's champion batsman, expects help from Cincinnati Reds but in the meantime he's fairly well satisfied with his outfield consisting of Wes Schumerich and Tom Oliver, both with major league experience, and Boone himself.

For his infield, Boone has Frank McCormick from Wilmington, N.C., a good hitter; Ernie Smith, utility infielder last season, and Claude Staylor, another Wilmington product. McCormick probably will get the call at first and Staylor may land at second.

If Morrissey fails to stick with the Reds, Boone hopes to get him back to fill in at shortstop, leaving Cal Chapman, recruit from Memphis, at third and Smith again in reserve. Chapman's training was retarded by a sprained ankle but Boone has faith in the youngster's fielding ability.

His Chief Worries

Stan Lucas, Walter Hilcher and Jimmy Pattison look like three certain nominees for starting pitching duty and Bill Barnes, submarine flinger from the Piedmont League, also may be called upon for regular duty. Boone's chief worries revolve about his pitching staff but he expects to get adequate help from the Reds before the season starts.

Jack Crouch is the only experienced catcher on the Leaf roster but there too the Reds may come to Boone's rescue.

BOWMANVILLE CLUB HOLDS HONORS BY TOSS OF COIN

Finished in Tie With Oshawa Garrison After Outstanding Badminton Tourney.

PETERBORO REPRESENTED

OSHAWA, April 9. —Bowmanville Badminton Club won the club championship on a toss in the Central Ontario Badminton Association tournament played at the Armories here on Saturday. The Bowmanville Club and Oshawa Garrison Badminton Club finished the tournament with 26 points each. It was agreed that the cup would go to the winner of a toss and the Bowmanville Club was lucky when Col. R. B. Smith, officer in command of the Ontario Regiment, made the toss. This is the second year in succession Bowmanville has won the coveted trophy.

A. W. "Army" Armstrong and John Davidson of Oshawa Garrison Club won the men's doubles championship when they defeated Osborne and Brough, of Bowmanville, in the finals. In the mixed doubles tournament the championship was won by Mrs. L. W. Dippell and Osborne, of Bowmanville, defeating Miss H. Richardson and A. W. Armstrong, of Oshawa. The ladies' doubles championship went to Mrs. E. F. Armstrong and Miss H. Richardson of Oshawa, who defeated Mrs. Gregory and Miss Edwards, of Lindsay.

Ladies' Consolation

The ladies' doubles consolation tournament went to Miss P. Adams and Miss Morphet of Peterborough Garrison, who defeated Miss O. Morphet and Miss F. Hewitt of the game club. S. R. Alger and C. F. Canman, of Oshawa, defeated Ryan and Longe of Port Hope, to win the men's doubles consolation event. Mrs. Houston and Southby, Port Hope, defeated Miss G. Hewitt and B. Hewitt, Peterborough Club, in the finals for the mixed doubles consolation.

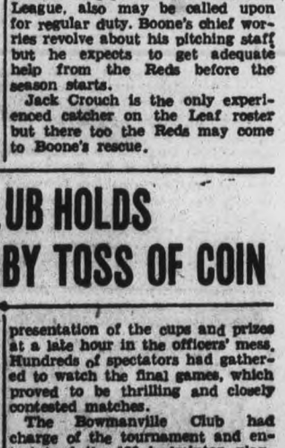
Lt.-Col. R. B. Smith made the presentation of the cups and prizes at a late hour in the officers' mess. Hundreds of spectators had gathered to watch the final games, which proved to be thrilling and closely contested matches.

The Bowmanville Club had charge of the tournament and entertained the 120 badminton players. Ross Strike headed the committee in charge of the tournament, while other members were M. A. Neal, L. W. Dippell and D. A. Smith. Mrs. J. O'Neill was convenor of the ladies' committee, which had the task of providing refreshments during the day.

Many Take Part

Badminton Clubs represented included the Peterborough Garrison, Peterborough Market, Lindsay Garrison, Oshawa Garrison, General Motors, Oshawa, Bowmanville and Port Hope Badminton Clubs.

The final feature was an exhibition match between two professionals, Arthur Lunt, of Niagara, and Joe Scharko, of Toronto, formerly of Sault Ste. Marie and northern champion.



Financial Depression Over For Champion Max Baer

4 Days 4 Tomorrow-Thursday-Friday-Saturday 4 Days 4

WHO WAS "THE SCARLET PIMPERNEL"?

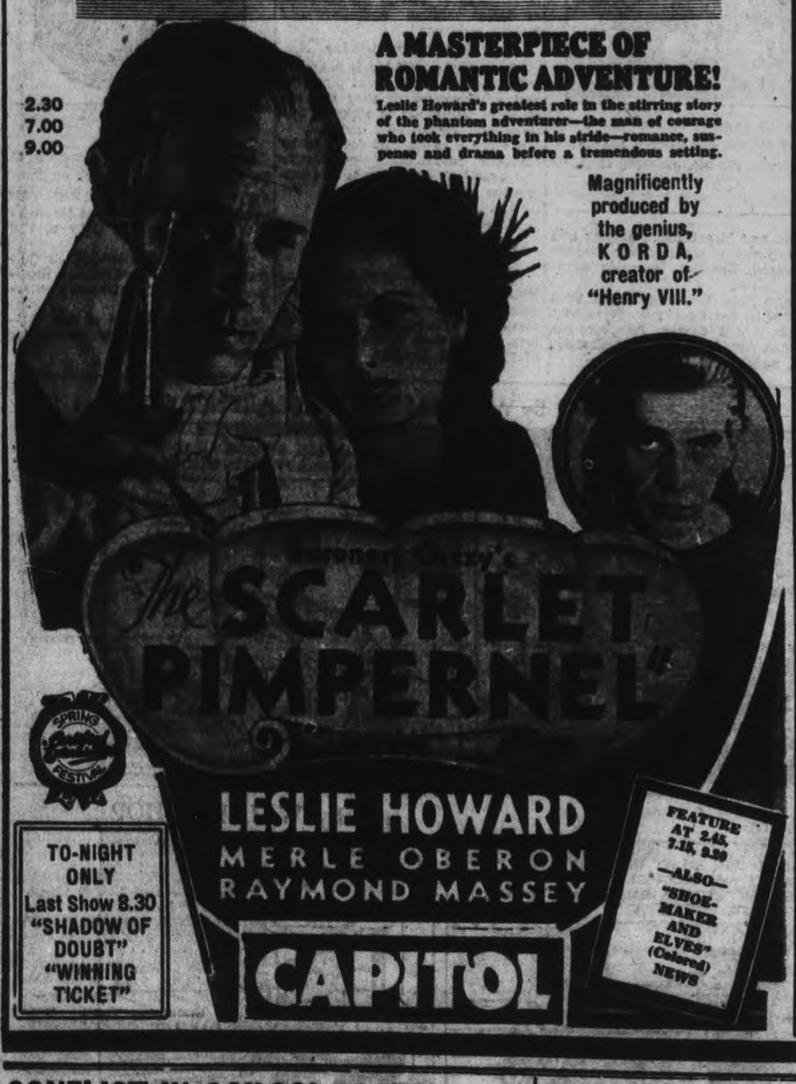
Where did he come from? What was the strange power of this man who snatched thousands from under the guillotine, who eluded the police of a nation, but couldn't elude one woman, the woman who loved him most.

2.30 7.00 9.00

A MASTERPIECE OF ROMANTIC ADVENTURE!

Leslie Howard's greatest role in the stirring story of the phantom adventurer—the man of courage who took everything in his stride—romance, suspense and drama before a tremendous setting.

Magnificently produced by the genius, KORDA, creator of "Henry VIII."



TO-NIGHT ONLY Last Show 8.30 "SHADOW OF DOUBT" "WINNING TICKET"

FEATURE AT 2.45, 7.15, 9.30 —ALSO— "SHOE-MAKER AND ELVES" (Colored) NEWS

CAPITOL

RICH PROPOSALS FLOOD OFFICES OF ANC HOFFMAN

Three Title Fights to be Held in England Offered Baer By Syndicates.

SCHMELING AS OPPONENT.

Mike Jacobs Would Match Carnera or Louis Against Champion in New York.

NEW YORK, April 9. (CP).—If even half the offers he has received for a title defence in recent weeks are bonafide the depression is over for Max Baer.

The heavyweight champion and his partner, Ancil Hoffman, jointly are exercising their brains over a bewildering variety of propositions all of them promising rich returns. The list reads something like this:

One—A title fight in London, Rome or Vienna against Max Schmeling with Walter Rothenberg doing the promoting. Rothenberg mentions a guarantee of $300,000 for the champion.

Two—A title fight in London against Schmeling for a British syndicate, represented by Armand Vincent, Montreal, promoter. Guarantee $250,000).

Three—A title fight in England against Schmeling for a Blackpool syndicate. (Guarantee, reported $200,000).

Four—A title fight here in September for Mike Jacobs' Twentieth Century Club with either Joe Louis, Detroit Negro, or Primo Carnera in the other corner, depending upon which of the two wins their June match.

Five.—A title fight under the auspices of Madison Square Garden in June, probably against Jimmy Braddock, which may return the parties involved enough coffee and cake money to keep them from starvation a while.

Old Country Soccer Standing

LONDON, April 9 (CP Cable). — Standings in the English and Scottish Football Leagues including games played Saturday, April 6, follow:

ENGLISH LEAGUE

First Division

	W.	L.	T.	P.
Arsenal	19	6	11	49
Sunderland	17	6	12	46
Manchester City	18	10	7	43
Sheffield Wed.	17	11	9	43
Derby County	16	12	8	40
Everton	15	12	10	40
West Bromwich	16	14	7	39
Liverpool	17	14	6	39
Grimsby Town	14	13	9	37
Stoke City	16	15	5	37
Aston Villa	13	13	10	36
Chelsea	14	15	7	35
Preston North End	12	13	10	34
Blackburn Rovers	12	15	10	34
Huddersfield	13	16	7	33
Portsmouth	12	15	8	32
Wolverhampton	12	17	8	31
Middlesbrough	9	15	12	30
Birmingham	12	17	6	30
Leeds U.	10	16	10	30
Leicester City	12	19	5	29
Tottenham H.	8	20	9	25

Second Division

Brentford	22	6	7	51
West Ham	22	10	4	48
Blackpool	18	8	10	46
Manchester U.	21	13	3	45
Bolton Wanderers	21	11	2	44
Newcastle United	20	16	4	44
Plymouth Argyle	17	13	6	40
Fulham	14	11	11	39
Notts Forest	15	13	8	38
Bury	16	17	4	36
Norwich City	13	14	9	35
Sheffield United	13	14	9	35
Hull City	14	15	7	35
Burnley	13	15	8	34
Bradford	9	12	15	33
Barnsley	11	15	9	31
Swansea Town	11	18	7	29
Bradford City	10	18	8	28
Port Vale	9	17	10	28
Southampton	8	17	12	28
Notts County	8	21	7	23
Oldham Athletic	9	23	4	22

Third Division—Southern

Charlton Athletic	23	7	8	52
Coventry City	18	9	7	45
Reading	18	8	9	45
Luton Town	17	8	10	44
Watford	17	10	8	42
Crystal Palace	16	11	9	41
Brighton	16	14	6	38
Torquay United	16	14	6	38
Northampton Town	15	13	7	37
Bristol Rovers	14	12	9	37
Millwall	14	16	7	35
Queen's Park R.	13	15	8	34
Exeter City	13	16	7	33
Clapton Orient	12	16	8	32
Bristol City	12	15	8	32
Bournemouth	13	17	5	31
Swindon Town	10	14	10	30
Aldershot	10	16	9	29
Cardiff City	10	17	9	29
Gillingham	9	17	9	27
Newport City	10	21	5	25
Southend United	8	20	8	22

Third Division—Northern

Doncaster Rovers	22	7	5	49
Tranmere Rovers	19	6	11	49
Chester	19	7	11	49
Halifax Town	21	10	5	47
Darlington	18	11	8	44
Mansfield Town	18	11	6	42
Stockport County	19	14	2	40
Lincoln City	17	13	6	40
Chesterfield	15	12	9	39
Rotherham United	17	14	5	39
Wrexham	13	11	11	37
Barrow	15	16	6	36
Crewe Alexandra	13	15	8	34
Hartlepools United	13	17	6	32
New Brighton	12	17	7	31
Gateshead	12	18	6	30
York City	11	19	6	28
Accrington Stanley	10	20	8	28
Walsall	9	19	9	27
Rochdale	9	18	9	27
Southport	8	17	11	27
Carlisle United	7	23	5	19

SCOTTISH LEAGUE

Second Division

Third Lanark	22	5	6	50
Arbroath	22	7	4	48
St. Bernard's	18	7	7	43
Dundee United	17	8	6	40
Morton	17	12	4	38
Stenhousemuir	16	11	5	37
King's Park	17	14	2	36
Leith Athletic	15	13	4	34
Alloa	12	12	9	33
East Fife	15	14	3	33
Forfar A.	13	13	8	32
Cowdenbeath	13	13	5	31
East Stirling	11	14	7	29
Raith Rovers	12	16	3	27
Brechin C.	10	17	5	25
Dumbarton	9	20	4	22
Montrose	7	21	5	19
Edinburgh C.	2	27	1	5

No games were played on Saturday in the First Division of the Scottish League.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

(By C. J. F.)

From the Y.M.C.A. in Kitchener comes this letter to Doug Loomis of the local 'Y': "Dear Sir—May I congratulate you and your team on the success in the preliminary volleyball tournament, and the four remaining teams should certainly make for an even playoff for the championship next Saturday. The championship will be decided at the Hamilton 'Y' April 13th when your team is expected to be ready to play at 2.15. There is no additional fee attached to the playoffs as the original entry fee covers both the preliminaries and the finals. The following teams are qualified for the finals: University of Toronto, Peterborough, Western University and Mutual Life Company."

• • • • • •

The local squad, made up of players who took part all winter in the local Volleyball League at the 'Y', deserve a mention for their fine showing against Ontario opposition in the preliminaries of the Provincial championship. They may cop the title next Saturday. The local outfit, under Doug Loomis, is made up of: Cliff Cadd, Jack Hardill, Russ Kitchen, Stan Payne, Cec. Richardson, Don Crawford, Albert Dryland, Alex Fitzgerald, Art Rhodes, Ed Shortt, Nels Stanger and Bill Stanbury. Here's luck, gang.

• • • • • •

The Aajmaa Club of Belleville has been admitted to membership in the Canadian Canoe Association, at least as far as the Northern Division C.C.A. is concerned. This Association will recommend it to the parent body at the annual meeting in Ottawa May 11th. Peterborough was mentioned as a probable entrant in the near future with hopes that another two years would see an expansion of this sport in Central Ontario. As a paddling addict in local waters, we're strong for such a club and would like to see the home of the Peterborough Canoe join up. There are mighty few Sundays in the good old summer time that we don't get in a few hours in a canoe, and we see a flock of local paddlers likewise engaged. Why not do something about this?

• • • • • •

At the P.W.S.U. annual meeting in Toronto April 14th—and local Gals' Softball League delegates will attend—a recommendation, coming from Dunnville, will be made that amateur cards by competing clubs will be optional and instead a small fee of ten cents will be charged for each playing certificate issued. This recommend comes from the home of W. A. Fry, home of the prexy of the A.A.U. of C., and he wont like it a bit. In fact, he didn't like it in Kitchener Saturday when the O.B.A.A. voted against amateur cards. Nor is he likely to get a kick out of it if the O.A.S.A. convention here Good Friday votes against 'em, as they are likely to do. But why throw away two bits per player when you get little or nothing back? We can't see it.

• • • • • •

The executive of the Men's Softball League met last eve in Duffus' and made real progress in their preparation for the O.A.S.A. convention in Peterborough a week from Friday. They have things pretty well set and it looks like a real success. Over a hundred delegates will be entertained and banquetted, besides shown around the city, before the general meeting on Friday afternoon. A number of prominent local men will be invited to the feed, and local players may attend but at the regular charge of one buck—and they must get their tickets before eleven a.m. Friday. Only local executive members and a few others are invited along with visiting delegates. Another meeting to wind up plans will be held in Duffus' at seven p.m. next Monday.

• • • • • •

The week following the convention here will likely see the reorganization meeting of the local men's softball loop. Nothing much yet regarding entries except vague rumors but we'd like to see a six-team circuit here this summer. Bud Hickey is likely to enter Fashion-Crafts again, and 'tis whispered Cogs may join this league. No dope yet on Tony Johnston's team or the Brintons, but another rumor mentions the Brock St. Gardens as maybe doing something. And George Dormer's Sugar Bowl entry is another possibility. This latter outfit, oft-times champs of this district, would be a return of the prodigal, but George states he hasn't considered the matter yet. Anyway, those thinking of entering a squad should begin to get busy.

• • • • • •

Local lacrossers, who will play for the Scugogers this summer, attended a players' meeting in Lindsay last eve. A big gang took it in and made plans for the season. The locals will be in charge of a practise up there in the park a week from Saturday and coach homesters in the fine points of the game. A district tourney will be staged in the arena there May 6th with a Peterborough team taking part. Incidentally, the Tri-County League is likely to meet here next week to draft a schedule and arrange for an opening date of play. Millbrook, Lindsay and one or two teams from here will comprise this league.

• • • • • •

Here's one that will interest bowlers: In the playoff for the K. of C. championship last night, Chief Gimblett's team won from the Bowirites, rolling a sensational score in their first game. We understand it is the largest ever rolled in the city in a single game. Players' scores were: Nelson Routley, 306; Walter Firth, 221; Walter Crary, 326; Chief Gimblett, 340; Tom Curvin, 310; for the grand total of 1505! They got about 3600 for the three games. This first-game count gave them almost a 500-pin advantage on the Anthony outfit. A score of 1505 is really sensational in bowling circles and doubly so in a championship game.

• • • • • •

Up and down Sports' Rialto: The C.O.B.I. will meet in Belleville on May 4th . . . . Men softballers thank A. B. Lindsay of the Consolidated Distillers Ltd. for a donation toward the O.A.S.A. convention here next week . . . . That Girls' Softball League meeting next Thursday e'en will be at 8.30 in Duffus' . . . . 'Tis said that Russ Kitchen will not stand for president again . . . . The best senior ball team in Canada this summer may get a chance to take in the 1936 Olympics . . . . Won't be long till the School Softball League will be reorganizing—or will they go back to baseball this year? . . . . Half a dozen of our prospective seniors are working out regularly now; better take it easy, boys, or suffer a bad arm most of the summer.

Regent ENTERTAINMENT

TO-DAY AND WED.

Double Feature Bill

Last Complete Show Starts at 8.30

FEATURE NO. 1

A small-time vaudeville trio living from hand to mouth hits the top of Hollywood—in this sparkling musical comedy-drama!

with RUSS COLUMBO singing 3 new songs; ROGER PRYOR JUNE KNIGHT

—in—

"WAKE UP and DREAM"

FEATURE NO. 2

A Vivid and Thrilling Story "JEALOUSY"

With Nancy Carroll, Donald Cook

WOLVES ACTIVE IN HALIBURTON

Trappers Report Hearing Howls Close to Shacks During Night.

LINDSAY, April 9.—According to information from residents of the north country wolf packs are roaming sections of Haliburton county, some of them being seen quite close to the settlements. Some of the animals, it is claimed, have wandered over from Algonquin park, but have wrought very little destruction among sheep herds. Trappers report having herd the howls of the packs quite close to their shacks during the night. Very few wolves have been seen in Victoria county this spring.

A rather serious motor accident occurred between the villages of Brechin and Woodville during the week-end. A car containing Mrs. P. Kelly, Rev. D. R. Clare, Mrs. Clare, Messrs. Earl Clare and Don Graham crashed into another car standing on the side of the road without lights. George Bruce, who was making adjustments to his car, sustained a broken nose and broken shoulder bone. Ambrose Donnolly, who was assisting Bruce, was also badly injured and was rushed to the hospital. Mrs. Kelly sustained a fractured rib, while the other occupants of the car were badly shaken up. Rev. Mr. Clare, while hurrying up the road for assistance, ran into a barricade and received a nasty cut over the eye.

Car Strikes Girl.

Grace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Junkin, of Bobcaygeon, was the victim of a serious accident in the village on Saturday afternoon. The little girl came out of her home with a companion and proceeded to run across the street. She ran in front of the path of a car driven by Bruce Kennedy and was run down. She sustained a fractured skull and other injuries.

Thelma McCauley, a seven year old pupil of the Wilberforce Consolidated school was injured at noon hour Monday while watching a ball game. She was standing beside the batter and was hit with the end of the bat after he had swung it. She received a bad cut over the right eye. A Red Cross nurse of the Wilberforce Outpost attended her injuries.

Soccer Association Plans Huge Stadium

GLASGOW, April 9. (CP).—Immediate steps are being taken by the Scottish Soccer Football Association to obtain a stadium capable of accommodating 200,000 persons.

The move is the outcome of the international match at Hampden Park Saturday when 130,000 crowded into the Queen's Park ground to see Scotland defeat England 2-0 while approximately 50,000 were unable to obtain admittance.

Offers have been sought from first league clubs and it is reported officials of Glasgow Rangers and Queen's Park will formulate plans expected the association will conto enlarge their enclosures. It is clude negotiations with the club making the most suitable offer.

Hampden Park, the largest ground in Scotland, according to measurement is able to accommodate 160,000 spectators, but a large number would be unable to view the game. For last Saturday's match it was decided to restrict the attendance to 130,000. Ibrox Park, the home of the famous Rangers, is not as large as Hampden Park.

Komonen's Entry In For Hub Race

BOSTON, April 9. — Word that Dave Komonen, the steel-thewed Finn of Sudbury, Ont., will defend his laurels in the Boston Marathon here on April 19, das received yesterday.

The entry of the famed distance runner, along with others received yesterday, swelled the field to 80.

Con Olsen of North Sydney, N.S., and Oliver Beamont, of Toronto, sent in their entries last week.

CONFLICT IN SCHOOL CAGERY MAY TEST O.A.B.A. CHARTER

Formation of New Interscholastic Body With A.A.U. Starts Rumpus.

FAR-REACHING EFFECT.

TORONTO, April 9.—With elimination series that will mean a chance at Dominion basketball titles reached, confusion has entered basketball in Ontario, and the rumpus that has been stirred up is likely to send a considerable enough tremor through Canadian cagery to be felt at the next annual meeting of the A.A.U. of C. in September.

The war centres around the Inter-scholastic series in the province. The battling dates from before the last meeting of the A.A.U of C. Prior to that season secondary schools organizations in western Ontario, central Ontario, eastern Ontario and in Hamilton banded together and decided to appeal to the A.A.U. for articles of alliance with the Canadian body.

Dominion legislators, willing to have the burden of Interscholastic athletics taken from their shoulders, granted a charter placing this new organization, called the Canadian Secondary Schools Athletic Federation, completely in charge of schoolboys' activities in sports. Article five of the alliance stated that the S.S.A.F. could monopolize competition in sports of all students under their jurisdiction, and therein comes the hitch with the Canadian Basketball Association through its Ontario division.

O.A.B.A.'s Claims

The Ontario body claims that it is unfair to force a student to play for his school team if he is so minded to play for anyone else. Laurie Irwin, secretary of the O.A.B.A. last night stated that his organization is strong for the students playing for one team only. But they should have the chance of playing for whom they wish. He also stated that as far as the O.A.B.A. is concerned this body would be quite pleased to have Interscholastic competition completely removed from their hands, but with a charter granted to the C.S.S.A.F. there is conflict with the Alliance that gives the C.A.B.A. charge of basketball in the Dominion.

Toronto and District Interscholastic bodies, the T.S.S.A.A. the T.D.I.A.A. and Preparatory Schools felt that matters in basketball were entirely to their liking and they wanted no part with the S.S.A.F.

The new body went ahead and held a basketball tournament for the championship teams of their different sections and out of the melee came patterson C.I. of Windsor as winners of the senior event. This team immediately claimed their right to continue in quest of the Canadian title.

However, Humberside C.I., who last season won the Eastern Canada crown, and this year did not affiliate with the C.S.S.A.F. repeated in Toronto and District over a month ago and are also claiming the right to travel east in the competition that may finally end in Halifax in the Canadian finals.

Feeling Runs High

Feeling at present runs high, and with the C.A.B.A. backing Humberside C.I.'s claims through the right of the O.A.B.A. charter and the C.S.S.A.F. battling along on their strength of their recently granted rights, a show down threatens. However, Humberside C. I. has the backing of the powers that be in cagery and although Patterson C.I. wants to play off and get into further games, they will be left with the title of their own manufacture that will mean no chance for games against Quebec and Maritime teams. Humberside C.I. at present is waiting word from Montreal as to playing dates and they will likely set out for the eastern metropolis this week-end for the semi-final round of the Eastern Canada series.

First Woman To Get Trainer's License

First of her sex to receive a race-horse trainer's license from the staid New York Jockey Club, Miss Mary Hirsch, 23-year-old daughter of the famous trainer, Max Hirsch, is pictured in the saddle at a New York track. An old tradition is broken as Miss Hirsch is permitted to train, saddle, and race horses on the New York tracks.

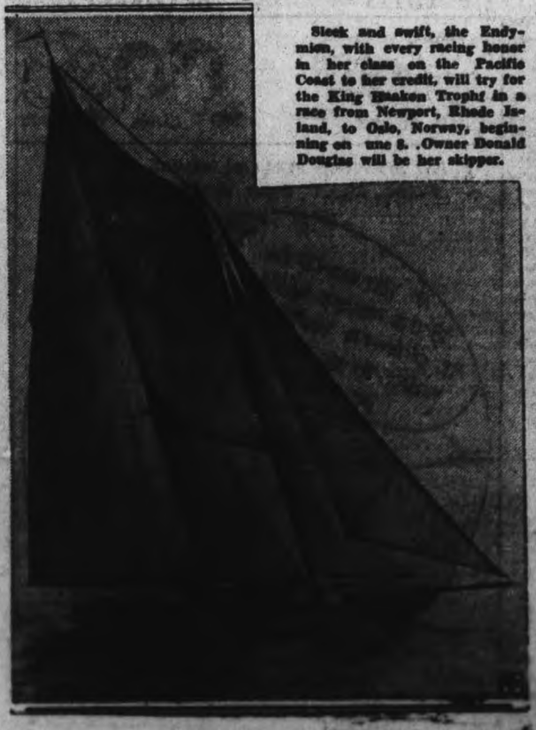
Wrestling Last Night

(By The Associated Press)

SCRANTON, Pa. — Ed. Don Cretge, 216, North Java, N.Y., threw Dick Davisecurt, 225, California, 33:40.

BUFFALO, N.Y. — Don O'Mahoney, 214, Ireland, threw Vanko Zelenniak, 228, Russia, 10:28.

Will Seek Norwegian King's Trophy



Sleek and swift, the Endymion, with every racing honor in her class on the Pacific Coast to her credit, will try for the King Haakon Trophy in a race from Newport, Rhode Island, to Oslo, Norway, beginning on June 8. Owner Donald Douglas will be her skipper.

Fights Last Night

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO. — Billy Miller, 146, Milwaukee, outpointed Puggy Weinert, 18, Chicago, (6).

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Joe Doherty, 128, New York, outpointed Frankie Wolfram, 126, Winnipeg (10).

NEW ORLEANS. — Eddie Flynn 151¼, New Orleans, knocked out Billy Hoge, 154½, Orlando, Fla. (4).

Holyoke, Mass. — Terry Mitchell, 155, New York, outpointed Eddie Winston, 160, Hartford, Conn., (10).

Little Sister

by Margaret Widdemer

(Continued from Yesterday)

CHAPTER 56

Leila pushed the ring into Orton's imp astonished hand. And then, most discourteously and inexcusably, she stepped out of his relaxed hold and walked deliberately through the whirling couples, across the floor and out to the door and over to the parking space. Her own car, in which her family had come — but wouldn't return — stood there unlocked.

She stood by it, and cast one last glance behind through the opened doors of the ballroom.

Orton's first motion to follow her had been downed by his horror of scenes in public. He turned wildly three times. He then cut in on some innocent Fernwood Gardener whose girl he had never met, and danced out of sight. What happened to the stag thus made Leila did not stop to discover.

She dragged out the floorful of family possessions, wraps, umbrellas, etc., and transferred them to the floor of Mrs. Johnston-Hedges' big car. She got into her own car and drove straight home as she was in her blowing yellow satin, careless of the fact that she had checked her black velvet coat in the checkroom.

She drove the car down the driveway and left it standing for somebody else to run into the garage. She walked over to the dog run and woke up Jane, careless of the chorus of yelps she stirred up. She took Jane into the house and presented her with that delirious boon, the foot of her bed to sleep on. She dropped her clothes in an untidy Bet-like circle.

She took a long hot bath with bath salts and a long cold shower. She washed her hair, crazily enough, rubbing the towel through its short chestnut curls with a refreshing sense of rubbing off Orton's last pat on it. She was clean and free of all the Hedges in the world.

She turned over, relaxed, stretched wide, and went deep, deep asleep.

Thanks to Jane, on the bed of course, Leila was awake long before the rest next morning. She dressed and made herself some coffee, and went out to the run to contemplate her dogs. Her own private dogs. There they were, all frolicsome and joyous this morning, much obliged for fresh-pumped water and kind words from their mistress, and hoping for a little run if the goddess was kind. She was. She took them for a long walk around by the sound, the whole procession except some puppies and a chaperone for them. Oh, how nice dogs were! How much nicer than people!

She brought them back, she put some back behind the wiring and left the more trustworthy out about the grounds as usual. She sat down under her oak at the back of the house and took Jane in her lap for a little exchange of affection.

Looking up, she perceived that justice — or doom — or whatever you like — impended. Mrs. Johnston-Hedges was an early riser. It had always been her boast, or one of them, that no matter when she retired, she always rose and breakfasted at eight. Majestic and dark-browed in her tweeds, her stick, her double eyeglass, she bore down on Leila.

"Leila," she said inevitably, in her most resonant voice — Jane yipped with a sense of guilt — "what is this I hear?"

"Won't you sit down?" asked Leila, indicating the grass. "If you mean that I broke off with Orton, you heard correctly."

Mrs. Johnston-Hedges did not sit down. She stood over Leila, leaning on her stick, with an expression darker than any Leila remembered since she had thrown snowballs at the lady's gardener when she was seven. Utter majestic pitying condemnation.

"I am disappointed. I am very much disappointed in you, Leila. You are not what I thought you. It may be, perhaps, all for the best," she went on, in a manner which betokened to one who knew her well that she was good for twenty minutes, "that a girl of the unstable type you have shown yourself to be should not marry my Orton. At one time I supposed Bessie to be the neurotic and unstable one of the family. Added to that, dear Minnie, though a beautiful character, has never had a strong mind. But your own early behavior, together with the knowledge of the splendid generations behind you, balanced this in my ideas for a time. I supposed you the wife for Orton. Your late behavior has convinced me that I was wrong. I am not one of those who hesitate to say it — I was wrong!" She paused to let this sink in. Jane cowered, and tried to remember what she had done, but Leila found herself unshaken. She sat still and waited. She should have stood politely before her elder, but after all, her character was gone no matter what she did, and the grass was more comfortable.

"But I feel," her ex-mother-in-law-elect continued, waving a large tan-gloved hand, "that I owe it to you to say one thing. Although you have slipped from all the traditions and beliefs of Fernwood Manor, though your behavior, not alone with Orton, but in general of late, has not been well bred, not the act of a lady, not —" she paused for her last crash of horror — "that of an old manorite — I owe it to you to tell you that if you do not act quickly you may lose Orton. He told me so last night. 'Mater,' while I know Leila's behavior last night was merely that of an overstrung and childish girl, she has come close to losing me for good. I have always regarded Betty as an undesirable sister-in-law, but under your training she and Addison have become much more nearly what I approve of, while poor Leila, I am afraid, has been retrograding. She will have to come to me herself and express regret.' That is what he said to me — of course in more masculine words — and I owe it to you to tell you so."

She paused and stood towering.

"Well, you have," Leila said mildly. (They wanted to keep her! Was it — she was becoming a very suspicious girl — was it by any chance that Hargess Huntingdon's daughter-in-law's sister was a good person to have in the family?)

"Then —"

"I meant it, Aunt Florrie."

The last bridge was burned. And the smoke, going up, looked wonderful. She looked up at Mrs. Johnston-Hedges, and her heart was light. Never another sermon — never another moment or hour of adjustment, of submission, of doing her duty and being sober and old and the right-minded meek Madison sister! Through!

"I will say no more, my poor child," said Mrs. Johnston-Hedges, preparing to move away. "For your aunt's sake, and for the sake of Bessie and Addison, with their splendid civic virtues, I promise always to be your friend, no matter how far you stray from the ideal I once believed you to follow. Goodby."

(To be continued.)

FUNERAL

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 8 (AP)—President Roosevelt will proceed from here by train directly to New York City to attend the funeral of Warren Delano Robbins, United States Minister of Canada, who died last night of pneumonia.

Freighter Limps Into Port After Harrowing Experience

After playing an important role earlier in the winter in going to the aid of the crippled British vessel Usworth, the Belgian freighter Jean Jadot is shown here as she limped to port at Halifax, herself a victim of fierce Atlantic gales. The Jean Jadot lost a rudder in the heavy storms, but after a harrowing experience at the mercy of the sea, managed to get to safety.

BEWDLEY.

Those who attended the game at the Maple Leaf Gardens Saturday night from here were: Messrs. Fred Wilson, Donald Sidey, William Gordon, Joe White, Alex. Mathews and William Cameron.

Mrs. George Byers spent the week end with her daughter, Mrs. Jimmie Ryan, in Toronto.

We are pleased to report that Merwyn Benson is showing slight improvement.

Mr. Gordon Bullock and family were to Toronto on Saturday to visit Mrs. Bullock, who is ill there.

Mr. and Mrs Clifford Manley and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Barnard, Bensfort, Saturday evening.

Miss Irene Varcoe spent the week end with her mother at Perrytown.

Mr. Lloyd Cruise, Peterborough, visited friends in this neighborhood on Sunday.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Wednesday, April 10

While this day may be one of great opportunity for a decisive advancement toward the goal of high ambitions and cherished desires, yet there may be much to contend with, judging by the forces of certain planets. The energies and faculties will be under such high pitch and pressure as to lead in the direction of defeat through aggressive and violent measures.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of great prospects and achievements, if they will but suppress tendencies to violence, impulse and tempestuous conduct.

A child born on this day may be energetic, resourceful, constructive and practical, but its rash and impetuous proclivities call for restraint.

EXHUMED AN APHRODITE.

NAPLES, Italy.—(C.P.-Havas.) — Peasants digging in a field at Podimonte, a nearby village, found a statue of Aphrodite, a goddess of love, dating back to the early days of the Roman Empire.

Handiest thing in the house

MARMORA

The week of witness opened at St. Paul's Anglican Church on Sunday with a celebration of holy communion at 11 a.m. Services throughout the week will be daily at 7.30 p.m.

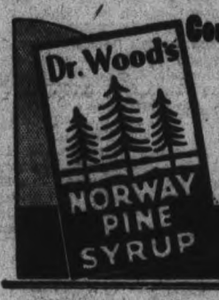
Many residents attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Delbert Fleming at Bonarlaw on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. William Pinner of Fort William is visiting Mrs. M. Pinner for a few days.

Coughing Wrecks Your System

Every time you cough, dozens of muscles receive a terrific shock causing pain and distress. Besides, a neglected cough or cold may lead to serious results. Half-way measures are only temporary. For relief take Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Its healing qualities penetrate and slowly ooze through the germ-laden phlegm, relieving oppression and tightness. Sold everywhere.

The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.



STRIKES at the ROOT of COLDS and COUGHS

Atlantic City's House Beautiful

New .... Modern .... Central

Combining dignity, refinement and comfort with an atmosphere of friendliness and hospitality. Noted for superb service, excellent table and rich appointments .....

OCEAN VIEW ROOMS - ROOF SUN DECKS

Also beautifully furnished house-keeping apartments, 2, 3 and 4 rooms.

American Plan Rates $5 up daily
European Plan Rates $3 up daily
Special Weekly Rates

North Carolina Ave. near Beach
Atlantic City... New Jersey.

Hotel LAFAYETTE

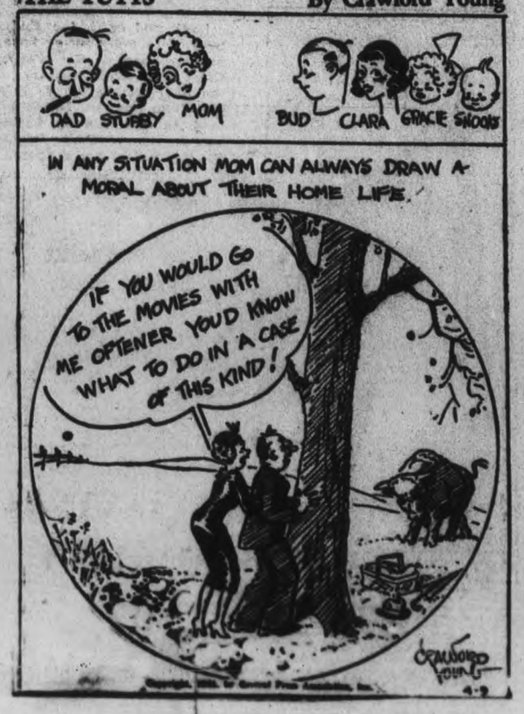
BRICK BRADFORD—With Brocco the Buccaneer — By WILLIAM RITT and CLARENCE GRAY

MUGGS McGINNIS — A Secret of State — By WALLY BISHOP

HIGH PRESSURE PETE — He Asked for It — By GEORGE SWAN

TILLIE THE TOILER — By Russ Westover

THE TUTTS — By Crawford Young



BRINGING UP FATHER — By George McManus

For Quick Results Use An Examiner Want. Ad.

WANT AD. RATES

Cash 1 Cent per Word or Figure per Insertion.
Minimum Charge, 25c for Any Advt.

If Charged 1½ cents per word or figure per insertion.

Phone We will call for your ad and give you the cash rate. 1600

CHARGES:

Card of Thanks 50c
In Memoriam (up to 4 lines) 75c
Over 4 inches, per inch 50c
With Black Border, extra 25c
Birth Notice 50c
Death Notice 50c
Locals, (Black Face), per inch . $1.40
Block Locals (Black Face), inch. $1.40

Index to Examiner Classified Want Advts.

Agents Wanted ..... E
Boarders Wanted ..... F
Business Opportunities ..... E
Chiropractor ..... M
Cottages, Summer Resorts L
Dressmaking ..... M
Employment Wanted ..... J
Female Help Wanted ..... H
Found ..... M
For Rent—General C
For Sale—General ..... A
General Notice ..... M
Help Wanted—Male or Female .... G
Live Stock ..... P
Lost ..... M
Male Help Wanted ..... G
Personal ..... M
Pet Stock ..... P
Poultry for Sale, and Eggs ..... P
Radio ..... A
Real Estate L
Salesmen Wanted ..... H
Situations Vacant ..... H
To Rent—Houses and Apartments. B
Used Cars for Sale ..... A
Wanted—General ..... M

a For Sale—General

POTATOES FOR SALE, 40c A BAG. 'Phone 1600. 3d-86-155A

BLUE ENGLISH PRAM. APPLY 32 Lafayette. 3d-86-156A

16 SPECIALLY MADE COLLAPSIBLE Bridge Tables, 6 Dozen Duplicate Boards, Baby Carriage, Play Pen. 'Phone 545. 3d-86-135A

SAND SPRING COAT, SILK-LINED, size 18; cheap. 492 Rogers Street. 2d-81-141A

NO. 1 MIXED WOOD, 97 PER CORD, 15". Body Hardwood, 4', $9 per Cord. 'Phone 2097. 2d-82-90SA

SODA FOUNTAIN, COMPLETE WITH many Accessories; also 2 Lb. Confectioners' Computing Scale, good as new. Will be sold cheap. R. A. Dean, Norwood. 3d-85-115D

QUANTITY BRICK. 'PHONE 2097. 6d-86-90SA

CLOTHES REEL, LARGE SIZE; GAS Water Heater, cheap. 'Phone 2097. 2d-86-165A

TOP BUGGY, APPLY 96 LEE. 3d-85-106A

21 O.A.C. BARLEY, 22 O.A.C. OATS. 'Phone Keene 18 ring 15. 2d-86-164A

180-EGG INCUBATOR AND BROODer, new. 'Phone 2129W. 2d-86-102A

TRY OUR $6 LOAD OF FIRE ON Hardwood Slabs. Baker's Wood Yard. 'Phone 3078. 12d-86-90SA

DOLLAR LOADS — SLABS, MIXED Wood. 'Phone 98. 6d-86-90SA

$1.75 QUARTER CORD, DRY MIXED Wood. Albion. 'Phone 65. 6d-87-90SA

LOAD MIXED WOOD, 90% HARDwood, $3.25. Pulkinghorn, 'Phone 278. 3d-85-106SA

GOOD USED TIRES, MOST All sizes, for Sale at 490 Water Street. 12d-19,22,25,26,29,2,5,8,9,12,15-6859A

80 LOADS CINDERS, 40 LOADS Manure, $1 Load. Baled Hay, Alfalfa and Timothy, $12.00 Ton, ½-Ton Lots: One Horse, cheap. H. Hamlin. 'Phone 2068. 3d-87-181A

ONE CEDAR STRIP CANOE, GOOD condition. 'Phone 797W, between 6 and 7.30. 2d-87-162A

NAVY BLUE WICKER BABY CARriage, cheap for cash. 502 Aylmer. 3d-86-165A

LADY'S SPRING COAT, SIZE SIXteen; Misses' Coat, Suit and Dresses. 859 Harvey Street. Call Evenings. 3d-87-158A

BROWN WICKER BABY CARRIAGE. 'Phone 1046W. 3d-86-172A

MUSIC CABINET, BUILT OVER from Phonograph, high, Mahogany. H.P. Chock-Feeon, simple system (similar to Alberti). A1 condition. $35.00. 'Phone 2464J. 4d-8,9,12,13-828A

HEAVY ½-WAGON, ALSO TRUCK Wagon, in good condition. 'Phone 10 ring 5, Keene. 3d-86-129A

CINDERS THIS WEEK, FREE FOR Hauling. The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company, Ltd. 3d-86-161A

LARGE SIZE REFRIGERATOR, first-class condition. Apply 303 Park Street N., or 'Phone 2464. 3d-86-165A

a For Sale—General

MIXED 50% SEASONED BODY Hardwood; also Dry Wood, $5 Cord. 261 Charlotte Street. 'Phone 1683. 6d-86-130A

GARAGE AND TRAILER. 'PHONE 1469M. 3d-85-126A

LIBERTY HULLESS OATS. 'PHONE Gerald Dawson, 6 ring 13, Bellmoro. 3d-86-140A

GREEN MOUNTAIN AND COBBLER Potatoes, Table or Seed. 'Phone 1198. 3d-86-139A

DINING-ROOM TABLE AND 6 Chairs. 292 McGill. 3d-86-138A

GOOD HEAVY SLABWOOD, 12", $1. 83 and 83 Loads. Dinsdale's, 'Phone 183. 26d-109-161A

SPRING COAT, SIZE 16; LADY'S Navy Suit, size 14. Apply 578 Harvey. 2d-85-164A

MIXED WOOD, $1.75; MIXED 50% Hardwood, $3; Slabs, $1.75. 'Phone 2728. 3d-86-165A

QUEBEC RANGE, GOOD CONDITION. Immediate Sale. Call 204 Brock Street, after 6 p.m. 3d-86-166A

PIANO, GOOD CONDITION, WONderful tone. Cost real money—cheap for cash. 'Phone 1752M. 3d-86-172A

WEDNESDAY 16 HOT CROSS BUN Day — Ours will please you. Dozen 25c. Jean Ruth Shoppe. 1d-85-203A

ENGLISH PRAM, CHESTERFIELD Suite, Wardrobe, Household Effects. 'Phone 3606W. 3d-9,11,13-193A

PRIVATE SALE OF HOUSEHOLD Furniture. 193 Reid Street. 3d-87-194A

PURE MAPLE SYRUP, MADE BY R. McCamus & Son, Ida, Ont. Price $12.00 per Case of 6 Gallons. Delivered. 2d-86-195A

BICYCLE, CHEAP. 'PHONE 862, BEfore 6 p.m. 3d-87-201A

WHEN OUT SHOPPING — BUY A Cake—Ours have that real homemade flavor. Jean Ruth Shoppe. 1d-45-203A

PRIVATE SALE OF HOUSEHOLD Furniture, including Combination Range. 301YJ. 618 Chamberlain. 3d-87-206A

LOAD MIXED WOOD, 90% HARDwood, $9.25. Pulkinghorn, 'Phone 278. 6d-90-204A

GURNEY RANGE, QUEBEC STYLE, 6-Piece Breakfast Suite, Kitchen Table, all in good condition. 697 Water Street. 3d-87-209A

MOTORCYCLE, HARLEY 32 MODEL 21B Single, perfect condition. Driven under 1,500 miles. 'Phone 3186. 2d-87-210A

HOME-MADE RAISIN BUNS — The kind Mother used to make. Dozen 12c. Jean Ruth Shoppe. 1d-83-203A

b For Rent—Houses and Apartments

HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, HEATED; central. 106 McDonnel. 3d-85-161B

SIX-ROOM BRICK HOUSE, BOLIVAR Street. 'Phone 780Y. 3d-84-187B

EIGHT-ROOMED MODERN HOUSE, garage. Apply 680 Reid. 3d-87-185B

MAY 1ST — SEVEN-ROOMED BRICK House, conveniences; also Four Bright Rooms. Apply 234 Antrim. 3d-87-184B

MODERN APARTMENT, NEAR C.G.E. 'Phone 1223J. 3d-85-120B

CLEAN, COMFORTABLE SLEEPING Rooms, $1.50 to $2.50 per Week. Apply 376½ Water Street. Apartment 1. 3d-85-108B

THREE UNFURNISHED ROOMS, Strictly Couple preferred; also 479 Park. 3d-86-175B

NICE COMFORTABLE HOUSE, APPLY 880 George. 'Phone 2507. 3d-86-177B

HOUSE, NO. 988 RUBIDGE STREET, hot water heating. Possession can be arranged. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-8246B

FOR RENT — PREMISES, NO. 897 Water Street, suitable for Store or Office (heated). Apply 437 George Street. dtf-8161B

COTTAGE, FURNACE, CONVENIences, garage. Apply 457 Elm. 3d-85-135J

TWO UNFURNISHED ROOMS, HARDwood floors. 1259J. 784 George Street.

HOUSES. 'PHONE 1798. 10d-82-129B

MODERN 8-ROOM APARTMENT, HOT water heating. 'Phone 2825. 3d-86-169B

TWO FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHed Rooms, suitable for Light Housekeeping. Apply 217 Rubidge Street. 3d-86-171B

BRIGHT! $16.00 COMFORTABLE Small House, plumbing, adults; central. Apply 293 Dalhousie Street. 'Phone 273. 4d-87-165B

b For Rent—Houses and Apartments

THREE HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, West-end. 'Phone 1457W. 3d-87-207B

ROOMS, FURNISHED, UNFURNISHed, heated; lights, water paid; central. Rent reasonable. 196 Aylmer. 5d-89-212B

EIGHT ROOMS, WIRED FOR ELECtric Stove, large Living-room, overlooking lake, large garden. 'Phone 2081W. 3d-9,11,13-344B

SEE! COSY LOWER APARTMENT, private bath, adults, handy C.G.E. 293 Dalhousie Street. 'Phone 273. 3d-87-193B

TWO PARTLY FURNISHED ROOMS, near Factories. 73 Lansdowne. 3d-87-192B

c For Rent—General

NORTH HALF LOT 1, CONCESSION 5, Ennismore. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-1090C

STORE, NO. 173½ SIMCOE STREET. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-1397C

GARAGE TO RENT — CONVENIENT to Downtown Offices and Stores. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-1092C

MOVING AND STORAGE.

SHORT DISTANCES OR ANYWHERE in Canada or United States. Covered, Padded Vans. Experienced courteous Men. Apply, full particulars, M. Rawlinson, Limited, 810 Yonge Street, Toronto. dtf-9929

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

BRICK HOUSE, LARGE GARDEN and barn, 293 Woodbine Avenue. Apply Fred Revoy. 6d-82-81D

50 ACRES, LOT 12, CONCESSION 5, Douro, for Sale. Good House and Barn. Immediate possession. Apply 175 Albertus Street. 3d-86-145D

FOR SALE — 300 ACRES OF LAND, in the Township of Lake, 210 Acres under water, Muskrat Ranch; also a good opening for Tourists, known as Bear Lakes. Price $350.00. F. Parker, B.B., No. 1, Marmora, Ontario. 6d-30,2,6,9,13-4964D

SACRIFICE! TO CLEAR ESTATE — 6-Room Frame House, large garden, edge of city. Payments like Rent. 'Phone 278. 3d-87-189D

f Boarders Wanted

ROOM AND BOARD FOR TWO GENtlemen, central; reasonable. 'Phone 2684F. 2d-85-156F

LARGE FRONT FURNISHED ROOM, with Board. 604J, 356 Stewart. 3d-87-205F

BRIGHT FURNISHED ROOMS, WITH Board. 'Phone 1647F. 3d-87-208F

BRIGHT ROOM, WITH BOARD, central. 144 Murray Street. 2d-87-150F

g Help Wanted, Male

WANTED—AT ONCE, EXPERIENCED Farm Hand. Write Box 501, Examiner. 2d-85-301G

MEN'S FOOTWEAR AGENTS. WRITE Box 109, Examiner. 3d-85-109G

EXPERIENCED FARM HAND. WRITE Box 128, Examiner. 3d-85-123G

h Help Wanted, Female

YOUNG GIRL OR WOMAN FOR General Housework, in Country home. Apply 406 Sheridan. 2d-85-148H

REFINED CAPABLE HOUSEKEEPER for Two Adults; good home. Write Box 159, Examiner. 3d-87-159H

j Employment Wanted

WINDOW CLEANING. J. FOSTER. 'Phone 777. Stories taken down. 6d-89-156J

YOUNG LADY DESIRES POSITION. 151 Hart Avenue. 3d-85-103J

WINDOW CLEANING — STORM WINdows taken off. 'Phone 635J. 3d-85-135J

WOULD CARE FOR ELDERLY People, Practical Nurse or Housekeeper for Widower. Write Box 134, Examiner. 3d-85-124J

m Lost

BOSTON BRINDLE DOG, ANSWERS to "Buddy." Finder 'Phone 835. 3d-87-191M

LIVESTOCK FOR SALE

FIRST-CLASS, YOUNG, SOUND, Black Mare, makes good Brood Mare. Write Box 161, Examiner. 2d-86-151O

AGED BROWN MARE, 1,500 LBS.; Bay Horse, General Purpose. J. Armstrong, Concession 5, Otonabee. 'Phone Keene 21 ring 13. 3d-86-146O

FOR SALE — 3 DURHAM STEERS, rising 2 years; 3 Fat Cows; also Quantity Seed Barley. William J. Whibbs. 'Phone 3 ring 1-1, Douro. 2d-85-175O

POULTRY FOR SALE

SPECIAL PRICES PAID FOR LIVE Poultry. Gladman. 'Phone 2424W. 2d-86-169P

1,000 BIG, STRONG, MARCH-HATCHed Leghorn Cockerels, $5.00 per 100 at 9 weeks. Reduction on large orders. G. A. Brethen, Norwood, Ont. 3d-86-146P

JERSEY BLACK GIANT HATCHING Eggs. 'Phone 505 ring 2. 3d-9,11,13-355P

PAINTING & PAPERHANGING

EXPERIENCED PAPERHANGERS, Painters, and Grainers. We Guarantee Satisfaction. Ask to see Sunworthy Wallpapers, from 10c Roll up. William Keller & Son. 'Phone 2581. 3d-85-132

x Help Wanted—Male or Female

SMART BOY O RGIRL TO WORK IN Store in Town outside Peterborough. Apply Box 986, Examiner. 2d-86-152X

ADJOURN PROBE OF ROADS DEPT.

Question of Enquiry's Scope and Costs Referred to Counties Council.

FOR JUNE SESSIONS.

COBOURG, April 9.—The judicial enquiry into the management of the roads department of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham was postponed to-day until after the June sessions of the council.

Originating from charges made more than a year ago by C. H. Curtis of Warkworth, former reeve of Percy township, an investigation was authorized by the counties council, and a month ago Judge L. V. O'Connor instructed the several parties to be prepared to proceed with the hearing to-day.

In the meantime it transpired that the estimated costs of the enquiry were likely to exceed considerably the amount anticipated by the council. Some thirty witnesses were to be called by Archie Cochrane, K.C., counsel for the counties, relating to phases of the construction of the Brighton highway; and as this work is still under the guarantee given by the contractors to the government, by whom the road was built, it was felt that there was no immediate necessity of delving into a matter which was generally outside the scope of the investigation as authorized in the beginning by the council.

It was learned here that the investigation on its extended scale might require an entire week, involving a bill of costs which prompted a request to Judge O'Connor for an indefinite adjournment until the council has had an opportunity of reconsidering the question at the June sessions.

Members of the counties council still support their unanimous decision to investigate any charges against the administration of the roads department by the superintendent, George Greer. They will not be content until any such charges have been disposed of; but they have already declared themselves as being opposed to any blind "fishing expedition" beyond the borders of the department for which they are responsible.

q Wanted

OLD GOLD WANTED. PHILLIPS' Laboratories, 408½ George (opposite Lech's). 12d-104-302Q

REFINED ELDERLY LADY WANTS Unfurnished Rooms with Elderly Couple, Lower Flat preferred. Write Box 98, Examiner. 2d-85-98Q

WANTED — MAN'S SUIT, SIZE 38. Write Box 174, Examiner. 3d-86-174Q

WANTED — TO RENT, A SMALL Farm in Peterborough County, with Buildings. W. E. Foster, Lakefield. 2d-86-196Q

WANTED — BY ELDERLY WOMAN, Furnished Room, central; reasonable, Write Box 188, Examiner. 3d-87-188Q

WANTED— TO RENT, MODERN SIX-Room Bungalow or Apartment, immediately; good location; reliable tenants. 'Phone 303. 3d-87-211Q

FURNISHED HOUSE OR APARTment, by May 15th, for Four to Five months; no children; references. Write Box 200, Examiner. 1d-85-200Q

WANTED—BY COUPLE, BUNGALOW or Cottage; must be clean; rent about 18 or 20 Dollars, by 1st of May. Write Box 214, Examiner. 3d-87-214Q

WANTED— JOB, CAN PUT UP TWO or Three Hundred cash. Write Box 180, Examiner. 3d-86-180Q

WANTED — STORE HOGS, 50 TO 100 Lbs. 'Phone 843M. 3d-85-117Q

LIVE POULTRY. PAY SPECIAL Prices. Florence. 'Phone 2576J 26d-105-10010Q

WANTED — LARGE SIZE TRICYCLE, in good condition. 599 Aylmer. 3d-85-127Q

WANTED — TO RENT, SIX-ROOMED House, all conveniences (Easy City preferred). Write, stating particulars, to Biz 162, Examiner. 2d-85-162Q

a Used Cars for Sale

PONTIAC SPECIAL SEDAN, PRIvately owned, small mileage. Sell cheap. Apply 247 Prince Street. 3d-86-178S

FOR SALE — NASH COUPE '29, SELL or Exchange for Four-cylinder Closed Car. Apply 805 Bolivar Street. 3d-86-180S

FOR SALE — PONTIAC SPORT Coupe, rumble seat, five tires. H. Walker, 774 George Street. 3d-86-170S

HOOD & CUMMING MOTORS, LTD. A SAFE PLACE TO BUY DEPENDABLE USED CARS.

With a 3-Day Money-Back Guarantee or 5-Day Free Exchange Privilege. All Makes and Models.

'34 V8 Ford Deluxe Coupe.
'34 V8 Ford Coach.
'33 V8 Ford Coupe.
'33 V8 Ford Coach.
'33 Ford Business Coupe.
'31 Chevrolet Special Coach.
'31 Ford Cabriolet.
'30 Ford Coach.
'30 Chevrolet Coupe.
'29 Chevrolet Coupe.
'29 DeSoto Sedan.
'29 Durant Sedan.
'29 Oldsmobile Sedan.
'28 Pontiac Coach.
'28 Essex Coach.
'27 Buick Sedan.
'28 Buick Roadster.
'28 Reo Speed Truck.
And Others.

Your Present Car taken as Part Payment. Balance on Easy Terms. Open Evening. 'Phone 3460. 1d-85-324S

v Situations Vacant

YOUNG MAN (24), NEAT APPEARance, with Car, desires Work of any kind. Complete Commercial and Academic Education. Experienced in selling. 1114W. 2d-86-179V

y Salesmen Wanted

SALESMEN! DO YOU WANT TO Make Money and be your own boss? Now is your chance selling Firstclass Products needed in every home. Exclusive territory, big profits. Cash proposition. Get busy; write for details—The Families Products Co., 570 St. Clement Street, Montreal. 12d-8,11,13,16,18,20,23,25,27,30,2,4-212Y

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

A young man may be able to drive a car with one hand - but when it comes to driving a wife, he finds he has both hands full.

Plan Rehabilitation Of Drought Areas

OTTAWA, April 9 (C.P.).—Minister of Agriculture Robert Weir today gave notice he would introduce a bill to provide for rehabilitation of drought areas in mid-Western Canada.

The Minister's notice appearing on the order paper of the House of Commons said he would move:

"That it is expedient to bring in a measure to provide for the rehabilitation of drought areas in the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, and for the appropriation for the said purpose of such funds as may be necessary to carry into effect the proposed legislation."

Ministers Elect Rev. Dr. Barr Head

..At a meeting of the Peterborough Ministerial Association, held yesterday in the Y.M.C.A., Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr was elected president; Rev. E. B. James, vice-president; Rev. C. D. Daniel, secretary, and Rev. E. M. Cook, treasurer...Rev. G. K. Tyler gave a most interesting paper on the life and work of Albert Schweitzer...It was decided a farewell luncheon would be held in June for the several ministers who are leaving the city. ...

Cavan

Mrs. Allan Morton was a visitor to Lindsay on Saturday.

Miss Eleanor Bigelow of Millbrook spent the week-end with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Swain.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Young and children of Smith were Sunday guests of Miss Winona Cathcart.

Mrs. W. Card was a visitor to Lindsay on Saturday.

Katheryn Bigelow of Millbrook was the guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Swain on Saturday.

Mr. Wilson of Wellington was a business visitor at Cavan Station on Friday.

Mr. Thomas Harkness of Millbrook shipepd a car load of cattle to Toronto from Cavan Station on Saturday.

Mrs. Richard Stewart of Otonabee was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Howden for the week-end.

BAILIEBORO

Mr. Robert Johnston of Peterborough spent Sunday the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. White.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Perrin spent the past week travelling in western Ontario.

Fred Barnard spent Saturday in Napanee attending the Belleville Presbytery Officers' Congress.

Messrs. H. Barnard, R. Kelly, W. H. Barnard, R. Perrin, W. Morrison, J. C. McRoberts and J. C. Campbell attended the Liberal banquet in Peterborough on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. White and Mr. Robert Johnston were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Hall on Sunday.

Mr. J. S. Perrin of Cavan visited friends in the district during the past week.

Mr. Robert Sutton of Mount Pleasant visited friends in the village during the past week.

Kiss From Wife Costs Driver $15

LONDON, April 9 (C.P.)—Because he kissed his wife while driving a car, David Morgan Davies of Pinner, was summoned at Hendon for driving in such a position as not to have proper control over the car.

A police patrol who was following Davies for a traffic light offence said that when Davies put his arm around his wife and kissed her, the car swerved five feet to the offside. Davies denied this and said the kiss "took only a second."

A solicitor said that Davies had been in France for some time and his wife had met him at Victoria. For failing to obey traffic signals Davies was fined $15. The summons for driving without proper control was dismissed.

No Lack Of Material For Tory Blockade

TORONTO, April 9 (C.P.). — In carrying their filibuster on the power contracts issue through the night in the Ontario Legislature, Conservative members found it unnecessary to resort to the usual tricks of quoting from the Bible or dictionary. They found enough to say about the Government's legislation to keep them going.

Newspaper clippings and old speeches were quoted at length, however, prompting Attorney-General A. W. Roebuck to remark when he saw Opposition Leader George Henry's array of notes: "Now how about reading us Anthony Adverse."

AN OVERSIGHT

WASHINGTON, April 9 (C.P.) — The State of Delaware has just chimed in with a declaration that it approve the 13th, 14th, and 15th amendments to the United States constitution.

The State Legislature ratfied these amendment 34 years ago, but somehow or other officials forgot to notify Washington.

The amendments deal with the abolition of slavery and the granting of equal rights to negroes.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

JAMES THOMSON PALMER ESTATE.

ALL persons having CLAIMS against the Estate of JAMES THOMSON PALMER, who died at the City of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, on or about the 2nd Day of February, 1935, are required to deliver the same to G. N. Gordon, 395 George Street, Peterborough, the Solicitor for the said Estate, on or before the 25th of April, 1935, on which date the Estate will be distributed, having regard only to the Claims of which the Executors shall then have had notice.

DATED this 19th Day of March, 1935.

G. N. GORDON,
Solicitor for the Estate James Thomson Palmer.
4d-19,26,2,9-8670

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

ETHEL SMITH ESTATE.

ALL persons having CLAIMS against the Estate of ETHEL SMITH, who died at the City of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, on or about the 28th Day of February, 1935, are required to deliver the same to G. N. Gordon, 395 George Street, Peterborough, the Solicitor for the said Estate, on or before the 25th of April, 1935, on which date the Estate will be distributed, having regard only to the Claims of which the Executors shall then have had notice.

DATED this 19th Day of March, 1935.

G. N. GORDON,
Solicitor for the Estate of Ethel Smith.
4d-19,26,2,9-8671

Magistrate's Court

John Wyatt and Edward Hummel were convicted of being intoxicated in a public place by Magistrate Langley today. They were listed as second offenders under the L.C.A. and each was ordered to pay a fine of $50 and in default one month in jail.

Both conducted their own defence at their trial. Sergeant William Wigg testified that on the afternoon of April 5 he saw Wyatt and Hummel leaning against a wall on Hunter street just west of George street. He saw they were intoxicated, but was busy looking for a stolen car at the time. A few minutes later he returned to the corner to arrest the pair but they had disappeared. He went to Charles Fife's barn on Hunter street. Wyatt and Hummel were seated in the barn and Hummel had a bottle of rubbing alcohol in his hand. Hummel threw the bottle away but the officer said he picked it up. Both men were intoxicated and conveyed by car to the police station.

Constable Puffer and Chief Newhall testified that the pair were intoxicated when they saw them later in the police station.

Charles Fife, called by the defence, stated that Hummel and Wyatt were not intoxicated. He said he had had a bottle containing rubbing alcohol in the barn which he had been using in rubbing down a colt. When the Crown produced a second bottle of rubbing alcohol found in the barn Mr. Fife said he was not sure which was his bottle.

Following the hearing of the two cases, Fife was charged with permitting drunkenness in his barn. He pleaded not guilty and the case was adjourned for one week.

William Calvert, of Rockcroft, was given suspended sentence on a charge of theft. The Crown said that he had made full restitution. Calvert explained that he had taken the money from a friend for safe-keeping and had no intention of permanently retaining it.

Obituary

DR. NEWTON A. POWELL.

TORONTO, April 9.—One of the founders of the Academy of Medicine, Dr. Newtoon Albert Powell, 85, died last night at his home following a relapse from an attack of influenza.

In 1931, at graduation exercises at Weston santiarium, he fell and broke his hip, but delivered the presentation address and did not reveal his injury for an hour and a half. He was in hospital for four monthse.

At 70 Dr. Powell, riding on a street car, was robbed of his wallet. He jumped off, pursued the thief for three blocks, and recovered his money.

A son of O. W. Powell and Mrs. Elvira Massey Powell, a sister of Hart Massey, Dr. Powell was born at Cobourg. When 16 he went to the Fenian raid, later he studied medicine at Victoria College, Trinity Medical College and at Bellevue Hospital, New York. At Edgar, Ont., where he started his practice, he married Mary Thomas, who died in 1925.

HON. G. N. GORDON, K.C.—Barrister and Solicitor. Trust Company funds to Loan on Mortgages. Offices: 395-397 George Street. 'Phone 3300.

HALL & CARLEY — Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, corner Hunter and Water Streets (over Canadian Bank of Commerce), Peterborough, Ontario. Telephones: Office No. 68; R. B. Hall, K.C., residence No. 403; T. J. Carley, LL.B., residence No. 3096.

PECK, KERR & McELDERRY — Barristers, Solicitors Notaries. Office 415 Water Street, Peterborough. Telephone 1950 E. A. Peck, K.C., M.P., F. D. Kerr, K.C., V. J. McElderry, K.C.

OMEMEE PLANS MAY 24 SPORTS

Athletic Association to Sponsor Annual Sports Program.

OFFICERS ELECTED

OMEMEE, April 9. (Examiner Correspondence).—A large and enthusiastic number of sport fans attended the Athletic Association annual re-organization meeting last week in the council chamber. Reports were read by representatives of the different affiliated bodies which were adopted. The treasurer, A. Stinson, reported a balance on hand in the bank of $283.57 after all the work of levelling the athletic field last fall had been paid.

The election of officers for 1935 was proceeded with and resulted as follows: President, L. M. Curtis; Vice-president, W. Stephenson, Jr.; Secretary, A. Adams; Treasurer, A. Stinson; Trustee, H. Lamb; Directors, F. Parker, R. Moon, R. Bradley; Auditors, Messrs. Chester and Moon.

The committee which had charge of the levelling and grading of part of the Athletic field was again appointed to complete the work after which the field is to be seeded. It was decided, on recommendation of softball representatives, that the infield of the new diamond be left unseeded. The new diamond is to be the senior boys' diamond and the old boys' diamond will be used by the girls.

Repair Railway Fence

The secretary was given notice to write to the Railway Commission complaining about the railway fence at north end of field and ask them to repair same. A committee composed of Messrs. B. Jones and W. Wilson was appointed to interview property owners on east side of fence and get their co-operation in erecting new fences there.

On motion of R. Moon, seconded by W. Stephenson it was decided to hold another big sports day on the 24th of May and a committee was appointed composed of Messrs. Chester, Parker, Stephenson and Adams to go thoroughly into the finances of last year's dance and see if it would be good business to repeat same this year.

Committee Appointed

The following committees were appointed for the May celebration: Advertising: Harris, M. Earl, Chester and Hayes; soft drinks and ice cream, R. Williamson and Moncrief; refreshments, Burgess, Brockley, J. Brent, Hayes, G. Stephenson; finance, Stinson, Chester, Bradley; decoration, Morcombe, F. Parsons, R. Williamson; attraction, Moon, A. Williamson; field committee, F. Brent, Dr. McPhee, R. Faulkner; softball committee, Dr. McPhee, W. Stephenson, A. Adams, St. Vaughan, sports committee, Ellis, Sherin, F. Parsons, L. McQuade, W. Wilson; dance committee, Chester, Parker, Wilson, Stephenson, Adams, Hayes.

It was the unanimous feeling of those present that auditors be appointed and a complete financial statement covering 1933-34-35 be printed to show just what monies have been collected and use made of them for the benefit of all those interested in the association.

Avoid Embarrassment of
FALSE TEETH
Dropping or Slipping
Don't be embarrassed again by having your false teeth slip or drop when you eat, talk, laugh, or sneeze. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This new, extremely fine powder gives a wonderful sense of comfort and security. No gummy, gooey taste or feeling. Get FASTEETH to-day at any drug store.

JUDGMENT FOR THE PLAINTIFF--$5000
HOW WOULD THIS VERDICT AFFECT YOU?
You as owner of the car are liablet. Why continue to take chances —your car may injure or kill someone to-morrow. Protect yourself to-day with a Policy issued by
DAVIS-THOMPSON COMPANY
INSURANCE AND GENERAL AGENCY
433 GEORGE STREET - - 'PHONE 49

FOR SALE
House, very desirably situated at No. 335 Rubidge Street.
Newly renovated and decorated throughout; new garage; hot-water heating.
Will sell on easy terms (monthly instalments if desired).
APPLY
THE TORONTO SAVINGS AND LOAN COMPANY
437 GEORGE STREET

SCOTT'S SCRAPBOOK By R. J. Scott

COURT UPHOLDS FARMER'S TERM

Selling Slink Veal For Human Consumption Terrible Thing Says Mr. Justice Fisher.

COSTS 10 MONTHS' JAIL.

TORONTO, April 9. — (CP). — There was ample evidence to warrant the conviction of William H. Sangster, Dereham Township, by Magistrate Livermore, of Woodstock, on a charge of having calves under three months old in his possession with intent to sell them for human consumption, knowing them to be unfit for human food, the Ontario Court of Appeal found yesterday. Therefore, the court dismissed Sangster's appeal against the conviction upon which he was sentenced to 10 months' imprisonment.

J. L. Wilson, Sangster's counsel, complained Magistrate Livermore had allowed leading questions to be put to witnesses at his trial, and said if such questions had been ruled out there would be little left by way of evidence against Sangster.

"It is a terrible thing to sell 'slink veal' for human consumption," asserted Mr. Justice Fisher. "Sangster knew another man was taking this meat to Hamilton market for sale. He got a stiff sentence of 10 months, and, in my opinion, it is not a moment too much," said Mr. Justice Fisher, who suggested there should be legislation forbidding farmers to sell slink veal except to fox farms and the like.

Weddings

KENNEDY—SNELGROVE

MILLBROOK, April 9 (Examiner Correspondence) — A quiet wedding was solemnized at the parsonage, Fraserville, on Wednesday, April 3, at 4 p.m., when Edna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Snelgrove, of Fraserville, became the bride of Vertil Kennedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Kennedy, of Carmel, the Reverend E. M. Cooke officiating.

The bride was attractively gowned in rose beige crepe, with brown hat, shoes, hose, gloves and purse, and was attended by Miss Mabel Henry, whose dress was of leaf brown crepe, with matching accessories. The bride's brother, Mr. Gerald Snelgrove, supported the groom.

Following the ceremony adjournment was made to the home of the bride's parents, where the wedding luncheon was served, the guests including only the immediate relatives of both families. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was an amber pendant in white gold setting; to the best man collar pin and tie clips in sterling silver; and to the bride a handsome purse in brown sealgrain leather. Mr and Mrs. Kennedy will reside on the groom's farm at Carmel.

Dinner Set Given To Apsley Couple

APSLEY, April 9 (Examiner Correspondence). — Mr. and Mrs. William Johnston held a reception in the Parish Hall on Friday, April 5th, in celebration of their twentieth wedding anniversary which was largely attended, in spite of the bad condition of the roads north and east of Apsley. Dancing was indulged in until midnight, when refreshments were served. Music was provided by Messrs. John McCall, Senior and Junior, Delmar James, Mell Johnston, Wm. Reynolds, Ray Stephens, Mrs. Harold Tucker, all of Apsley, and Adam Woodcock and Leonard Hughie of Peterborough. Mr. and Mrs. Johnston were the recipients of many congratulatory personal gifts in addition to a beautiful 97-piece dinner set subscribed to by the community as a token of esteem and popularity.

TIRED, WORN OUT,

NO AMBITION

ARE you nervous and rundown? Does your work seem a burden? Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It quiets quivering nerves — helps you to eat better — sleep better — feel better. Life will seem worth living again. Get a bottle, from your druggist today.

Mrs. Roscoe Anderson

"It Improved My Health"

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a life saver for rundown condition. My mother recommended it and it improved my health a lot. I have a good appetite, sleep well, and do my work every day. I am sure your medicine will help other women if they give it a trial." — Mrs. Roscoe Anderson Blair St., New Glasgow, Nova Scotia

Mrs. H. Wakeling of Toronto says, "I was nervous and rundown. My mother told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it did me lots of good. I took three bottles and I feel like a new woman."

Do You Suffer Periodically?

Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Tablets. They ease periodic pain and discomfort. Ask your druggist.

Lydia E. Pinkham VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Zealand an Eden Of Floral Sheen

CAMPERDOWN, New Zealand, April 9 (C.P.) — When a ball takes place in this country there is ample scope and will for floral decoration.

At the Royal Camperdown Hospital Ball, held in the Theatre Royal, huge archways were arranged over each of the four doorways, and made a brilliant splash of color, composed of greenery, delphiniums, hollyhocks, roses, bougainvillea, and Romney poppies. The whole front of the stage was converted into a herbacious border, with a miniature lawn in front, and a wide band of masses of flowers, zinnias, hydranges, phlox, everlastings, asters and gladioli.

Making a background for this picture were miniature orange trees and holly trees growing in tubs. Huge mixed bowls of hydranges, agapanthus, tiger lilies, and Romney poppies were placed high up on the walls on the ledges on each side of the stage. The vice-regal dais had a background of bowls of the same flowers.

In the supper room all the pillars were festooned with greenery, and garlands of ivy and laurel were strung between them. The window-sills were banked with gladioli, zinnias and African marigolds.

Fashionable women of South Africa ar demanding foreign gowns and shoes.

Real Estate Boom In Hastings Village

HASTINGS, April 9. (Examiner Correspondence). — The spring of 1935 has brought on a real estate boom in Hastings, the first in years.

Messrs. J. Quinlivan and T. J. Yancy have purchased the Queen's Hotel from the family of the late Thomas Lynch. For a number of years the hotel has been used for a two-family dwelling. The new owners take possession May 1st and will operate a standard hotel.

Messrs. Patterson brothers of Pontypool have exchanged their property at that place for the Nelson Clapper property on the Norwood Road. The new owners moved into their new homes the past week.

H. petersal has purchased the Edgar McKee dwelling at the corner of Front and Victoria streets and takes possession May 1st.

John Butterworth has re-opened the service station on Front street, recently operated by the late W. A. Killingbeck.

CHURCHES REFUSE TO FLY FLAGS

BERLIN, April 9. (A.P.) — General Erich Ludendorff's open fight against Christianity Monday caused the Roman Catholic church and the Protestant Confessional Synod to decline to display flags to-day in hinor of the general's 70th birthday, although Reichsfuehrer Hitler himself ordered all government buildings to fly flags.

TUESDAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

(STANDARD TIME)

KEY TO CLASSIFICATION

1—Dance. 2—Concert. 3—News. 4—Vocal. 5—Sport. 6—Comedy. 7—Drama. 8—Band. 9—Symphony 10—Variety 11—Instru Trio 12—Speaker. 13—Organ. 14—Children. 15—Miscellan.

5:00 P.M.
12—CRCT—Nothing Else But Safety
15—CFRB—International Broadcast.

5:15 P.M.
4—WJZ—Jackie Heller.

5:30 P.M.
4—CRCT—Singing Lady.
14—WABC—Jack Armstrong.

5:45 P.M.
14—CRCT—Nursery Rhymes.
14—WABC—Dick Tracy
14—WJZ—Orphan Annie.

6:00 P.M.
6—WABC—Buck Rogers.
4—CRCT—Montclair a Capella Choir.

6:15 P.M.
15—CFRB—Mining Broadcaster.
10—WABC—Bobby Benson and Funny Jim.
4—WEAF—Mid-week Hymn Sing.

6:30 P.M.
1—CFRB—Russian Bear Orch.
4—WJZ—News and Dorothy Page.
11—WABC—Understanding Music
3-4—WEAF—News; Mary Small.

6:45 P.M.
6—CRCT—Lowell Thomas
6—WEAF—Billy and Betty.

7:00 P.M.
11—WEAF—Three Scamps.
10—WABC—Myrt and Marge.
6—CRCT—Amos 'n' Andy.

7:15 P.M.
1—CRCM—Rex Battle's Orch.
6—WEAF—Whispering Jack Smith
15—WABC—Just Plain Bill.
4—WJZ—Morton Downey.

7:30 P.M.
15—CRCT—Billy and Pierre.
4—WABC—Jerry Cooper.
10—WEAF—Easy Aces
10—WJZ—Hits and Hits.
4—WGN—Arthur Tracy.

7:45 P.M.
1—WABC—Boake Carter.
4—CKNC—The Melody Boys.
12—CRCT—National Council of Education.

8:00 P.M.
1—WEAF—Leo Reisman's Orch
15—WABC—Lavender and Old Lace.
10—CRCT—Musical Oddities.
7—WJZ—Crime Clues
15—CFRB—Eclipse Old-Timers.

8:30 P.M.
1—CFRB—Melodrama with Abe Lyman.
10—CRCT—Opening Night.
1—WEAF—Wayne King's Orch.
10—WOR—Crosley Follies
7—WJZ—Welcome Valley.

9:00 P.M.
5—CFRB—N.H.L. Play-offs, CRCT.
1—WEAF—Ben Bernie's Orch.
1-4—WABC—Bing Crosby and Stoll's Orch.
10—WLW—Melody Parade.
7—WJZ—Red Trails.

9:30 P.M.
1—WABC—Isham Jones' Orch.
10—WEAF—Ed Wynn and Graham McNamee
12—WJZ—Red Peace Way's Dinner.

10:00 P.M.
1—WABC—The Camel Caravan.
10—WEAF—Palmolive Beauty Theatre.

10:30 P.M.
12—CFRB—Gale Gordon's Orch.
1—CRCM—Gilbert Watson's Orch
1—WABC—Borax Heidt's Broadcast

11:00 P.M.
2—CRCT—News.
1—WJZ—Leo Jallo's Orch.
1—WABC—Frank Dailey's Orch.
12—WEAF—Graham MacNamee.

11:15 P.M.
1—CFRB—Frank Dailey's Orch
14—CRCT—Jesse Crawford.

11:30 P.M.
1—WJZ—Joe Rine's Orch.
1—CFRB—Jack Rayne's Orch
1—WEAF—Stan. Meyer's Orch.

12:00 MIDNIGHT
11—WJZ—Shandor, violinist.
1—WABC—Orville Knapp's Orch.

WEDNESDAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

12:00 NOON
15—WABC—Voice of Experience.
4—WJZ—Fields and Hall
6—WEAF—Masquerade.

12:30 P.M.
15—CRCT—Catelli Interlude.
10—WEAF—Merry Madcaps.
7—WABC—Five Star Jones.

1:45 P.M.
15—WJZ—The Words and Music.
13—WABC—Eddie Dunstedter.

2:00 P.M.
15—CFRB—Marie.
15—CRCT—Two Seas in the Balcony.
10—WHAM—Radio City Matinee.

2:30 P.M.
15—CFRB—School of the Air.
4—CRCT—Armand Girard.

3:00 P.M.
4—CRCT—Bernie Seabury.
6—WEAF—Vic and Sade.
4—CFRB—Kate Smith Matinee Hour.

4:00 P.M.
1—WJZ—Betty and Bob.
4—CRCT—Woman's Radio Revue.

4:30 P.M.
1—CRCT—Rochester Civic Orch.
1—WEAF—Savage's Hillbillies.

5:00 P.M.
11—CFRB—Rhythm Box.
15—CRCT—Nothing Else But Safety.

5:15 P.M.
14—WEAF—Grandpa Burton.
15—WABC—Adventure Hour.

5:30 P.M.
4—CRCT—Singing Lady.
4—WEAF—James Wilkinson.
1—CFRB—Twilight Melodies.

5:45 P.M.
15—WEAF—Stamp Club.
6—WABC—Dick Tracy
14—WJZ—Orphan Annie.

6:00 P.M.
12—CRCT—Denver's Bar L Ranch.
12—WJZ—Education in News.
14—WABC—Buck Rogers.

6:15 P.M.
12—CFRB—Mining Broadcaster.
1—WEAF—Harry Kogen's Orch.
4—WJZ—Alma Ketchell.
3—CRCT—News.
15—WABC—Bobby Benson and Sunny Jim.

6:30 P.M.
6—WABC—Music Box.
1—WEAF—Mississippi Minstrel.
3—CFRB—Jim Hunter.
4—WJZ—Three X Sisters.

6:45 P.M.
8—CRCT—Lowell Thomas.
13—CFRB—Ernest Dainty.
4—WEAF—Billy and Betty.

7:00 P.M.
11—WABC—Myrt and Marge.
6—CRCT—Amos 'n' Andy.
1—CFRB—Eventide Melodies.

7:15 P.M.
14—WJZ—Plantation Echoes.
15—CFRB—Just Plain Bill.
12—WEAF—Stories of Black Chamber.
6—WOR—Lum and Abner.

7:30 P.M.
6—CRCT—Billy and Pierre
9—WJZ—Red Davis and Gypsy
15—WEAF—Easy Aces.
7—WABC—The O'Neills.

7:45 P.M.
15—WJZ—Dangerous Paradise.
11—CRCT—Evening Prelude.
4—WEAF—Uncle Ezra.
3—WABC—Boake Carter.

8:00 P.M.
15—CFRB—Voice of The Front Page
1—WABC—St. Louis Blues.
10—CRCT—Melody Mart.
10—WJZ—Penthouse Party.
4—WOR—The Lone Rangers.
10—WEAF—One Man's Family.

8:15 P.M.
3—WABC—Edwin C. Hill.
1—CFRB—Gene Fritzley's Orch

8:30 P.M.
4—WJZ—Fanny Rose
10—WABC—Everett Marshall's Varieties
10—CRCT—Variety Review.
10—CFRB—Black Horse Tavern.
1—WEAF—Wayne King's Orch.

9:00 P.M.
10—CRCT—Concert Caravan.
10—WEAF—Town Hall To-night.
12—WJZ—20,000 Years in Sing-Sing.
1—WABC—Andre Kostelanetz Orch
1-4—CFRB—Donald Heins Orch and Kathryn Young

9:15 P.M.
6—WGN—Comedy Stars from Hollywood.
11—CFRB—Dancing Ivories.

9:30 P.M.
10—WABC—Burns and Allen.
1—CFRB—Gale Gordon Orch
4—WJZ—John McCormack.
10—WOR—Harry and Esther.

10:00 P.M.
10—CRCT—Masters of Music.
1—WEAF—Pleasure Island.
10—WABC—Jack Pearl and Rich's Orch.
15—WJZ—Jimmie Fidler's Hollywood Gossip.

10:30 P.M.
10—CFRB—Columbia Concert Hall.
1—CRCT—Dornberger's Orch
1—WEAF—Ray Noble's Orch.

10:45 P.M.
1—CRCT—Paradise Islanders
3—CRCM—Canadian Press.

11:00 P.M.
10—WLW—Crosley Hero Hour.
12—WEAF—John B. Kennedy.
3—CFRB—News.
3—CRCT—News.
15—WABC—Four Aces of Bridge.

11:15 P.M.
1—CFRB—Claud Hopkins' Orch

11:30 P.M.
4—CRCT—Dix Spots Quartette.
1—CFRB—Toronto Serenade
1—WEAF—Eddie Duchin's Orch

11:45 P.M.
1—WABC—Keith Beecher's Orch.
1—WEAF—Art Jarrett's Orch.
1—WJZ—Fidler's Orch.

CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

PAINT SALE

Floor Varnish .72 QUART
Go over your floors now — you'll be delighted with the improvement. This Varnish dries in four hours, leaving a tough film and glistening surface. For linoleum, woodwork, etc.
Half Gallon 1.39 Gallon 2.69

Velvety Finish .67 QUART
Light Blue, Light Ivory, Light Green, Light Grey, Light Brown, White.
Freshen your walls and ceilings with EATON'S Reliable Flat Wall Paint — the sanitary, washable wall decoration priced especially low.
Half Gallon 1.29 Gallon 2.49

Fast-Drying Enamel .72 QUART
Colors: White, Light Blue, Light Brown, Light Green, Ivory, Pearl Grey.
For cabinets, shelves, woodwork and furniture. Dries to a smooth, glistening finish.
Half Gallon 1.39 Gallon 2.69

To make sure of a good base for floor paint and graining colors, use EATON'S Reliable Ground Color. You'll notice the improvement when you apply the finishing coat. Special value here.
.59 QUART
Half Gallon 1.15 Gallon 2.25

Varnish Stain .59 QUART
Light Oak, Dark Oak, Walnut, Mahogany.
Stains as it varnishes and acts as a good preservative. Dries to a clear mirror-like finish. For floors, woodwork, etc.
Half Gallon 1.15 Gallon 2.25

Floor Paint .57 QUART
Colors: Orange Yellow, Light Yellow, Battleship Grey, Golden Brown, Slate.
Brighten up your home with freshly painted floors and stairs.
A durable, hard-drying finish and savingly priced for the Sale.
Half Gallon 1.10 Gallon 2.19

Brighten up the Home
2.19 GALLON
Inside White, Outside White, Light Grey, Cream, Medium Grey, Apple Green, Dark Green, French Blue, Maroon, Dark Buff, Light Brown, Dark Brown, Light Yellow, Light Buff, Black.
Carefully mixed, dependable ingredients—flows freely and dries to a smooth, enduring finish. For inside or outside use.
Quart 57c Half Gallon 1.10

Extraordinary Selling! Women's Celanese Slips

Adjustable Straps, Lace Trimmed—Each .79

It's an important special, and we expect them to melt away before the eyes of thrifty shoppers. They're cut from good quality celanese, with expensive looking features you would hardly expect at this very modest price. Bias cut, lace trimmed top and bottom, and adjustable straps. In tea rose and white. Sizes small, medium and large. Extra special Wednesday, each .....
—2nd Floor, C.D.S.

Clearance! Broadcloth

A clearance of better quality Broadcloth, strongly woven and launders well. Ideal for quilts, comforters, aprons, etc. In a fine range of colors. 36" wide. Wednesday, yard ..... .11
—Main Floor, C.D.S.

Rough Crepe Skirts

A real practical addition to any woman's wardrobe. Made from popular rough crepe, with new touches in pleats and button trims. Sizes 14 to 20. Each..... 2.95
—2nd Floor, C.D.S.

New Spring Wallpapers

Now's the time to decorate your walls. A smart selection of sun-resisting Papers in plain, floral, block and conventional designs. Papers to suit every room. Priced from, single roll..... .9 to .25
—2nd Floor, C.D.S.

C.D.S. Groceteria

Choice Round Steak	lb .19c
Beef and Pork Sausage	2 lbs. .19
Sweet Pickled Beef	lb. .15
Fresh and Smoked Fillets	2 lbs .25
Clark's Pork and Beans, 26-oz. tin	2 for .19
Libby's Cooked Spaghetti, 27-oz. tin,	2 for .29

1c Sale of Northern Tissue Toilet Rolls

(REG. 3 FOR .25)
4 for .26
Main Floor & Basement C.D.S.

Youthful All-Wool Twin Sweater Sets in New Spring Pastels Each 2.95 to 4.95

Always adaptable, always practical, and just as smart for business as for sport—and never before have we had them in such appealing knits and colors. Neat rib effects and imitation hand knits. Long sleeve Cardigans in plain colors of green, yellow, blue, rose, etc., with dainty Pullovers in contrasting plain and stripe effects. Sizes 14 to 42.
Wednesday, each ..... 2.95 to 4.95
—2nd Floor, C.D.S.

SPECIAL!
WOMEN'S SPRING SHOES

New shoes for Easter! What smart girl or woman doesn't feel them a necessity? Here's your opportunity to buy them from the C.D.S. at a big saving! Chic one, three and four eyelet ties, and T strap sandals of fine calf and side leathers. Shades of black, brown, blue, grey and beige. Sizes 4 to 7. Shop early for the best selection. Extra Special ...
$1.99 PAIR
—Main Floor, C.D.S.

CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

Madoc

Madoc Village is to have early closing of all stores on every Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings at 6.30 p.m., commencing on April 10. The half-holiday will be observed on Wednesday afternoons during June, July, August and September.

Mr. Fred. Remington, formerly of Madoc, has opened up a general store at Hoard's Station.

Mrs. William McCracken, of Niagara Falls, is spending a few days in town at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Blue.

Mr. Duncan Blue has returned home after spending a few weeks visiting relatives at Victoria, B.C.

Mrs. Tremeur, of Arthur, Ont., was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Connor, for a few days last week.

Misses Margaret and Jean Nickle, of Madoc, spent the week-end in Peterborough, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Fuller and of their brother, Clinton Nickle, of the Normal School.

Charles Blair, living just south of Madoc Village, suffered a fractured leg while working on the highway last Thursday. He was brought to Madoc, where the fracture was attended to by Dr. S. Ingleson. He will be confined to bed for six or eight weeks.

Mr. W. J. Rousehorn was last week appointed village and L.C.A. constable for the village of Madoc. He assumed his duties last Tuesday, replacing Mr. John Devolin.

A large and interested audience attended the illustrated lecture, "War on Cancer," given in the High School auditorium by John W. T. McCullough, M.D., D.P.H., under the auspices of Madoc Women's Institute. Musical numbers were interspersed during the evening.

Wave Lengths

Station.	Meters.	Kilocycles
CBM, Toronto	211	1420
CFCF, Montreal	600	600
CFCN, North Bay	263	1130
CFCO, Chatham	500	600
CKCO, Ottawa		880
CFRB, Toronto	482	880
CFRC, Kingston		910
CKAC, Montreal	411	730
CKCK, Waterloo	1050	1010
CKCL, Toronto	357.3	840
CKNC, Hamilton	263	1010
CKOC, Hamilton	275	880
CKCO, Ottawa		1010
CKPC, Brantford	252	880
CKSC, Timmins	263	1130
CKAC, Windsor-Det.	307	1010
CKCH, St. Catharines	249.9	1200
KDKA, Pittsburg	326	920
KMOX, St. Louis	478	1050
KYW, Chicago	536	560
WABC, New York	349	860
WBBM, Chicago	389	770
WCAU, Philadelphia	278	1170
WEAF, New York	492	610
WGN, Chicago	370	810
WJAS, Pittsburg	360	833
WJZ, Schenectady	760	770
WMAQ, Chicago	447	670
WTIC, Hartford	302	1060
WJZ, New York	454	660
WBBW, Chicago	266	1130

Strict Rules In Force At Dafoe Hospital

CALLANDER, Ont., April 8. — (CP).—When rules are set at the Dafoe Hospital, home of the Dionne quintuplets, they are strictly adhered to, an Ottawa visitor found out to his sorrow during the week-end. There was a steady stream of automobiling on the twisting road to the little outpost, two and one-half miles from here, and the special attention did not seem to agree with the 19-months-11-days-old miles, four of whom lost weight.

The visiting hours are from two to three in the afternoon, and the Ottawa party, after motoring 250 miles just to see the infants, arrived just too late. He was not admitted.

Besides the two police officers guarding the babies from kidnapping attempts, a third constable directed traffic to the hospital. The babies were all placed outside today to enjoy the heat of a strong April sun.

Osaka, Japan, is to have a movie theatre with a capacity of 6000.

FLY-TOX kills MOTHS

Senate Bill Would Ban Divorced Persons Remarrying

The Peterborough Examiner

HOME EDITION

VOL. LXXIV., No. 85 | PETERBOROUGH, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 10, 1935 | PROBS.—N.W. winds; fair. Thursday: Partly cloudy; little change in temperature. | PRICE THREE CENTS

SLIP ENDS 26-HOUR TORY BLOCKADE

MacDonald, Simon on Way to Stresa

To-day

Short News Items Received By Examiner Over Direct C. P. Wire.

Six Months' Jail Term Relief Defraud Charge

NORTH BAY.—Six months' determinate and six months' indeterminate at the Burwash industrial farm was the sentence Magistrate J. H. McCurray gave to-day to Aime Fortier found guilty of defrauding the Ontario Government to the extent of $5,268.06 by the duplication of relief accounts. Fortier was convicted late Tuesday afternoon and was remanded for sentence until to-day.

Woman Driver Jumps Free Car Plunges Into River

WALKERVILLE.—Quick thinking on the part of Mrs. William H. Doherty of Hamilton saved her from going to the bottom of the Detroit River in her automobile to-day. The car got out of control and crashed through the gates at the Walkerville Ferry dock. Just before it plunged into the river Mrs. Doherty jumped free.

Ten Persons Killed Japan Gas Explosion

TOKYO.—The Rengo (Janpanese) News Agency correspondent at Dairen, Kwantung, reportel today 10 persons were killed and 50 injured in a gas explosion at the large Fushun coilier near Mukden, Manchoukuo.

$5,000 Loot Cache Is Unearthed At Toronto

TORONTO.—Investigating petty thefts from a drug store, police here unearthed one of the largest caches of stolen goods found in years. Valued at $5,000, the cache which filled one room almost to the ceiling contained 100 suits, 1,000 pair of socks and other articles. Police say the arrest of the Harris cousins—Samuel, 21, and Edward, 17, cleared up an epidemic of housebreaking and thefts.

Plane Study Necessary Under New Moscow Order

MOSCOW. — Millions of young Russians both men and women, must make parachute jumps and study airplane motors under an order issued to-day. The order makes "military and technical" training compulsory for all young Komsomols—members of both sexes between the ages of 16 and 23 who belong to the junior organization of the Communist party—and young working people not affiliated with the organization.

Ambition At 90 Years, Hopes To Ride In Plane

BLIND RIVER, Ont.—Seriously ill as 90-year-old Mrs. A. Pelon is thought she will recover from her sickness so she can realize her greatest ambition—to have a ride in an aeroplane. Mrs. Pelon is a native of Algoma district. In her girlhood she lived with her parents at the trading post of LaCloche.

Seven Years And Lashes For Attempted Robbery

MILTON Ont.—Albert E. Murphy 22, and James Currie, 21, both of Toronto were sentenced to seven and two years concurrent terms with 15 lashes by Mr. Justice J. C. Makins to-day following conviction of attempted armed robbery of E. Tylet's service station at Acton, about 40 miles west of Toronto, Feb. 9. The two-year term was imposed for the theft of anutomobile. Eight lashes will be given at the end of one month and seven at the end of six months.

"Seasick 31 Times," In The One Crossing

TORONTO—Two little girls got off the train from Montreal to-day and almost walked by their mother who hadn't seen them for six years. When Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Pischl left them at their grandparents' home in Vegrovac, Yugoslavia, to make a home in Canada, Barbara was only six and Catherine three. Neither can speak a word of English but through an interpreter they reported they had a very nice trip but were seasick. "We were sick 31 times," Barbara explained, "very sick."

$50 Reward Offered, Orillia Dog Poisoner

ORILLIA. — With more than a dozen victims listed to date, police posted a $50 reward and are searching for a poisoner of dogs they believe is carrying on a definite campaign.

Motor Car Plunges Into Detroit River

EAST WINDSOR, Ont., April 10 (CP)—Clarence Crooks, 27, and his girl companion, Edwidge Joinville, Sandwich East, were recovering today from chills and exposure suffered when their motor car plunged into the Detroit River late last night. Crooks also suffered a gashed hand when he smashed a car window in effecting an escape.

The car had been parked at the water's edge in Resume Park and was in gear when started up, with the result it plowed into the river. The couple scrambled out onto the roof of the vehicle and were rescued by police with the aid of a rowboat. The roof of the car was just barely visible above the water to-day.

CARRYING PLAN FOR EUROPEAN PEACE SYSTEM

Willing to Join to Certain Extent If Others Accept Britain's Policy.

OF MEDIATION.

Hope to Head Off Any Sharp Anti-German Moves By Italy.

PARIS, April 10—(AP)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, left by train tonight for Stresa after spending three hours in the British embassy here in conference with the ambassador.

LONDON, April 10—(AP)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, left by special aeroplane today for Paris on their way to Stresa, Italy, and the opening tomorrow of the tripartite conference on Europe's peace problems.

The two statesmen will spend the remainder of the day in Paris, departing from there for Italy on a night train. With them they were understood to carry a plan for an all-inclusive European security system which they will propose to the French delegation and their Italian hosts.

No Commitments

An authoritiative source stated the British will inform the French and Italians they are willing to have Great Britain become an active member of the system to a limited extent if the other two powers will accept Great Britain's policy of mediation. But they can enter no commitments without the approval of parliament.

MacDonald and Sir John were reported to be hopeful they could head off any sharp anti-German moves by Italy.

While the two ministers left by air, a large staff of British experts started for Italy by train.

Before he entered the plane, MacDonald said: "We are starting on a mission of international good will and cooperation, united with security and peace. I hope with all my heart we will be successful. We shall certainly try to be."

COASTAL GALES TAKE 3 LIVES

Thousands of Dollars Damage Done Along New England States.

ONLY 2 SHIPS REACH PORT.

BOSTON, April 10 (AP)—A howling northeast gale, which battered New England for 24 hours with driving rain and sleet, to-day continued unabated, bringing with it wet snow and causing at least three deaths and thousands of dollars' property damage.

Scores of automobile accidents were reported as clinging snow obscured visibility while fire officials sought to determine whether rising waters in Weymouth were responsible for an explosion which took one life and caused damage estimated at half a million dollars.

Only two ships, the Eastern Steamship Company's Saint John, from New York, and Yarmouth, from Nova Scotia, reached port here to-day.

Nearly all schools in the Greater Boston area were ordered closed to-day.

Circus Ring Slip Costs Mauling by Bear For Daughter of Russia's Mad Monk

PERU, Ind., April 10 (AP)—Marie Rasputin, daughter of Russia's Mad Monk, is in a hospital here as a result of an encounter with a black bear in the circus animal arena to-day. Twelve stitches were required to close wounds on her right arm and left leg.

In the arena were three bears, two lions, two tigers, two leopards, and two pumas. John Heliott, veteran trainer, also was in the big cage with Marie.

One of the bears, it was explained, does a roll-over act. In going through this routine the bear in some way struck Miss Rasputin and knocked her down. The animal immediately jumped on the woman trainer and began chewing and mauling her. Heliott succeeded in getting the bear away, and Bert Nelson, another trainer, rushed in and pulled Miss Rasputin to safety.

A Mistake

NEW YORK, April 10.—(CP)—Miss Helen Teevan, 24, very hale and hearty, mind you, could scarcely believe here eyes.

The newspaper said a woman identified as Helen Teevan had committed suicide by taking gas and had been buried.

She considered, then went to the police. Mrs. Sadie Cussen, an acquaintance of Miss Teevan, had made the "identification." She had not seen Miss Teevan for several years.

KILL TAX BILL TO SUPPORT, AID BANDS OF MUSIC

Glass' Measure to Resurface Pavement on Basis as New Construction is Carried.

LIMITED TO TORONTO.

TORONTO, April 10 (C.P.) — A bill sponsored by Col. F. Fraser Hunter (Lib., Toronto-St. Patrick's), presented to-day to the Municipal Bills Committee of the Ontario Legislature, was killed by a 6-3 vote. The measure would have provided for taxation to support or aid "bands of music." Before the tax could be levied a provision set forth an authorizing bylaw must be submitted to the electors of the municipality.

A bill of J. J. Glass (Lib., Toronto-St. Andrew's), providing a municipality may undertake work of resurfacing a pavement "after the lifetime of the pavement" as a local improvement on the same basis as new construction, was carried.

Application of the Act was limited to Toronto, and it was ruled the city as a whole should pay for pavement costs beyond the existing width of the road in any widening undertaking.

Judges' Act Amended

The committee approved an amendment to the Judges' Act to permit jurists appointed as arbitrators under the Municipal Act to accept fees prescribed by that act.

Thomas P. Murray (Renfrew South, Liberal) objected to an

(Please turn to Page 8)

CIVIL AVIATION INTEREST GROWS

National Defence Department Points Out No Subsidies Paid Transport Firms.

MORE FLYING HOURS.

OTTAWA, April 10. (CP).—The Department of National Defence to-day issued statistics showing a vigorous upturn in civil aviation activities in 1934 compared with the previous year and 1932. It pointed out no subsidies are paid air transport companies and it could be claimed justly in Canada "civil aviation flies by itself."

The figures showed Canadian Civil aircraft flew 75,871 hours last year, an increase of more than 20,000 hours over 1933 figures and almost 19,000 hours over 1932 flying. The planes flew 6,407,637 miles, carrying 105,306 passengers, 14,441,-179 pounds of freight and 626,000 pounds of mail, bringing the air-mail weight per capita for the year to a higher point than in any other country in the world.

The number of aircraft operators increased from 90 in 1933 to 126 in 1934, while the number of licensed aircraft rose from 345 to 368 but remained less than in 1932 when 445 were registered.

FRENCH MOVE TO PUT TEETH INTO COVENANT

Seek Agreements to Employ Force For Maintenance of European Peace.

RESTRAIN GERMANY.

Predict France, Italy Will Seek to Force Britain Into Concrete Program.

BY JOSEPH E. SHARKEY

(Copyright, 1935, by the A. P.)

STRESA, Italy, April 10—France's move to put teeth in the League of Nations covenant by agreements to employ force for the maintenance of European peace created a sensation here today.

Officials gathered for tomorrow's tripartite conference interpreted the proposal to mean France regards the political situation in Europe as dangerous as a consequence of Germany's repudiation of the military clauses of the Treaty of Versailles.

Observers also construed the move as signifying whatever other nations may do, France and Russia are determined to go ahead with a pact of mutual military assistance.

As Premier Mussolini is known to want realities instead of glowing phrases as the result of the Stresa conversations, the impression here is that the two Latin nations will seek to bring Great Britain into a concrete program.

Use Force To Keep Peace

It is generally regarded they will press for an agreement to use force for the preservation of Europe's peace within the meaning of the sanctions provisions of the League of Nations covenant.

France's objective was seen as an attempt to restrain Germany in the event of a military gesture or putsch in Memel or Austria, for example, and definitely bind the powers in an armed front against Germany in the event of an unequivocal German aggression.

Swiftly moving events indicate the Stresa parleys will have a powerful influence on the League's destiny. Both France and Russia are basing their foreign policy on Geneva, with Moscow recently showing more zeal for this procedure than France.

Italy's policy is largely affected by the fact any German push southward in an attempt to annex Austria or Hungary would be as vital to her security as to that of the Little Entente.

Pessimism is expressed in some quarters even if a collective security system with German participation emerges from the Stresa deliberations, the powers will continue their defensive preparations and negotiations for regional accords of mutual assistance because of fear of the Reich.

Phillips Is Named Weather Observer

Succeeding the late Walter Peters, A. O. Phillips, 107 Antrim street, has been appointed official weather observer for Peterborough by the Meteorological Service Division of the Department of Marine at Ottawa. Mr. Phillips will use his home as the station for his observations and daily recordings.

Mr. Phillips is an employee of The Examiner. He will welcome the co-operation afforded the late Mr. Peters by residents of the district by way of reporting to him unusual weather phenomena observed.

Lindsay Kiwanis Club Observes Anniversary

LINDSAY Ont., April 10.—Last night the Lindsay Kiwanis Club celebrated its 14th anniversary. For the occasion the mother club, Peterborough, sponsored a lively program of music, stunts and presentations. The guest speaker was Gordon Doddington, of the Downtown Club, Toronto, a past Governor of Kiwanis. Toronto's representation numbered 28, while there were 30 present from Peterborough, and a number from other clubs. A feature of the evening was the presentation of a nicely-engraved shield by the Lindsay Club to the mother club, Peterborough; the presentation being made by T. H. Stinson, K.C., M.P., the first president of the Lindsay Club

Son Given 90 Days On Mother's Plea

DETROIT, April 9.—"He's a thoroughly bad boy, judge — he beats me, his own mother, and steals money from me, and gets drunk. Send him to jail for a good long time, your honor."

And on a mother's plea, Recorder's Judge Christopher E. Stein Saturday sentenced Michigan National Guardsman Theodore Czarnicki, 20, no home, to 90 days in the Detroit House of Correction for drunkenness.

FURTHER PLANS JUBILEE DAY

Committee Are Named and Other Arrangements Made.

OMIT PARADE.

Preparations for Peterborough's celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the coronation of King George V on Monday, May 6, were advanced last night at a well-attended meeting of citizens in the council chamber. James Dutton presided.

The program committee is composed of the chairman of all other committees and Mrs. J. Mills, Mrs. M. H. Park, Miss M. R. Rannie and Miss L. Hurley.

The executive personnel is: Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr, Alderman M. R. Sloan, F. J. Overend, John Hornsby, Dr. A. Moorehead, M. J. Roche.

The choir leaders of the city with Dorothy Allen Park and the leaders of the Rangers and Salvation Army bands were appointed to the music committee of which Martin Chenhall was named convenor.

The Parks Committee of the City Council with Mr. Hornsby added and Alderman Stocker chairman will act as grounds committee for the occasion; and the transportation committee is composed of the presidents of the Automobile Club, Rotary, Kiwanis and Kinsmen clubs.

R. M. Glover, J. E. Sullivan, Geo. Richmond and J. Kennett were appointed a publicity committee.

The general plans contemplate allotting a place of prominence to the school children of the city and North Monaghan. The time for the commencement of the program has not yet been decided, and will depend largely upon the hour of the King's address which is to be broadcast by radio.

Last night's meeting confirmed the earlier opinion that a military and civilian parade will have to be omitted from the local program which will probably be begun at 11 a.m. or a little later.

MAPLE SYRUP PRICES FALLING

Heavy Sap Flow, Large Production Sees Gallon Selling For 90 Cents.

IN BROCKVILLE AREA.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., April 10 (C.P.)—With the heaviest production of maple syrup and sugar in several years, Leeds and Grenville producers are facing a falling market. Ideal weather conditions, coupled with a desire on the part of farmers to realize an immediate cash crop, have brought about almost unparallelled activity in the sugar bushes and a large production is being accumulated awaiting a market.

Syrup prices started at $1.75 to $2 a gallon and have now dropped to $1 and 90c, with the prospect of even a greater fall, since the market is flooded with offerings. Sugar prices are holding at the level of other seasons at 20 cents and 25 cents a pound, with the probability of an early decline in harmony with the drop in syrup.

Kitchener Price, $2

KITCHENER, Ont., April 10 (C.P.)—Maple Syrup prices in this district show a slight drop from a year ago, the average price paid is $2 a gallon, but in the case of larger purchases the price is down to $1.75.

Prices a year ago ranged from $2.25 to $2.50. Production shows a considerable increase over last year on account of the larger sap flow.

FLAMES SWEEP THROUGH PRISON HALIFAX ISLAND

Wind Spreads Fire From Warehouse to Forest Along Harbor Shore.

CITIZENS LEND AID.

Army Corps is Called Out — Jail Inmates in Little Danger.

HALIFAX, April 10 (C.P.). — Sparks from a furnace in historic Melville Island Military Prison started a fire to-day that spread from a wooden prison warehouse to the woods on the shore of Halifax Harbor's north-west arm.

The two or three prisoners in the jail's stone main building were not endangered, but there appeared little chance the burning structure, two stories high, would be saved.

A powerful south wind was carrying the flames away from the other buildings, but was sweeping sparks and bits of burning wood across a narrow gap of water toward the shore and fanning the blaze started in the forest.

The fire was moving through the woods toward several homes, and scores of residents joined with the Halifax fire department and a detachment from the Army Service Corps in attempting to halt the blaze.

DUST BLIZZARDS RENEW ATTACK

Plowing, Road Traffic Halted, Trains Slowed in Western Kansas.

MIXED WITH SNOW.

KANSAS CITY, April 10 (A.P.)—A "gully-washing" rain hoped for in the dust-ridden plains areas today did not fall. Snow and showers were reported in some sections. A pall of dust enveloped Western Kansas.

Harry Wahlgren, Federal weather observer in Oklahoma, predicted new dust storms on the way, and also a 20-degree temperature drop in the state before tomorrow.

One of the worst areas to-day was in the vicinity of Goodland in extreme Western Kansas. There snow mixed with dust formed a "black blizzard" driven in on a high north wind.

Activity of all kinds virtually was suspended. No progress could be made in the campaign to plough blowing fields for there was too much dust to permit anyone to work outdoors. Highway travel came to a halt and operation of trains was seriously hampered.

At Norton, Kas., there was a mixture of rain and dust. Motorists slipped and slithered through muddy roads and on wet pavement while stifled at the same time by the dust in the air.

Your Evening Smile

NOT WELCOME

"Say, what kind of company are you expecting, if you don't want to let them in?"

"The gas company, the telephone company, and the electric company."

And She Did

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 10. —(CP)—In a play some school children were rehearsing Tuesday, a bantam hen was among the necessary 'props.'

At the end of a speech by Robert Moore, the script called for the sharp demand, "lay!" Whereupon Robert would withdraw a golden egg.

"Lay!" demanded Robert. Then hen laid a real egg.

BILL WOULD BAN THOSE DIVORCED MARRYING AGAIN

Former Spouses Only Exception—Penalty Similar to That For Bigamy.

GETS READING IN SENATE.

OTTAWA, April 10. (CP).—First of the excepted classes in the Government's employment and social insurance plan to make public representations, the Canadian Bankers' Association will be heard today in the Senate Banking and Commerce Committee.

The association itself asked Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Senate leader, for a hearing. Their request followed submissions of several bodies that staffs of banks and financial institutions should be brought under the scheme.

Coupled with deliberations of the Banking and Commerce Committee, the Senate will meet again this afternoon. The measure of Senator J. J. Hughes (Lib., Prince Edward Island) to prevent persons granted a divorce in future in Canada, either by Parliament or the courts, from re-entering the bonds of marriage except with their former spouses, is expected to stand over until to-morrow. Punishments for bigamy—an offence which on first conviction carries with it imprisonment for a term up to seven years—is proposed under the Hughes bill for violation of the remarriage provisions.

The measure was introduced in the upper chamber yesterday and was accorded the formal first reading.

The Weather

TORONTO, April 10 (C.P.). — Weather forecasts. Synopsis:

The depression which was over the Rocky Mountain States yesterday is now centred over Nebraska and the Atlantic Coast disturbance appears to be moving eastward. Another shallow disturbance is centred over Hudson Bay, while pressure is high over the Western Provinces and from the Great Lakes eastward. The weather has been mostly fair, with moderate temperature from Manitoba to the Maritime Provinces and rather cold in Saskatchewan and Alberta, with local snowfalls.

Lower Lake Region — Moderate northeast winds; fair. Thursday—Northeast to east winds; fair; not much change in temperature; probably followed by light rain in southwest counties towards night.

Georgian Bay.—Moderate northeast winds; fair. Thursday—Moderate northeast to east winds; partly cloudy; not much change in temperature.

Northern Ontario—Fair to-day and Thursday; not much change in temperature.

Ottawa and Upper St. Lawrence Valley.—Moderate northeast to east winds; fair to-day and Thursday; not much change in temperature.

HOUSE ADJOURNS AT 4 A. M. AFTER 37-HOUR SITTING

Nixon Manoeuvre Catches Opposition Off Guard and Power Vote is Put.

CARRIES 42-15.

Hepburn Hints Negotiations With Bondholders of Various Companies Possible.

TORONTO, April 10 (C. P.). — Exhausted after 37 hours of continuous session with adjournment only for meals, Ontario legislators stumbled to bed after the Legislature adjourned at four o'clock this morning with the hint seeping into wearied brains the Government might negotiate with the holders of bonds in Quebec power companies whose Ontario contracts the Government proposes to cancel.

The Contract Termination Bill, cause of the longest filibuster in Ontario's history, received second reading yesterday after a 26½-hour blockade missed fire and passed through committee at 3.40 o'clock this morning amended by Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn with respect to the time it would become law.

The only amendment to the Bill provided it should come into effect not when it received the Royal assent, but "on the day to be named by the Lieutenant-Governor."

"It may be possible to negotiate with the bondholders of the various companies," said Mr. Hepburn after Conservatives protested against the amendment. He refused after adjournment to reveal the Government's intentions, but said the first task was to get the Bill through and the next move would be up to the bondholders.

The Power Bill came up at 4.05 o'clock Monday afternoon when Premier Hepburn spoke to second reading. The Opposition attack, started by Conservative Leader

(Continued on Page Three)

By-Elections Dates Set For August 18

OTTAWA, April 10 (CP)—Next August 19 has been fixed as polling date for six by-elections required to fill existing vacancies in the House of Commons—but there is little likelihood voting will take place unless the same date is chosen for the Dominion general election. Dissolution of Parliament will intervene and no by-elections will be necessary.

The Department of Justice has ruled the present Parliament expires August 18.

J. H. VERNOR IS ELECTED SECOND VICE-PRESIDENT

HAMILTON, April 10 (C.P.).—F. H. Rutherford of Hamilton was elected president of the Industrial Accident Prevention Associations at the annual two-day meetings which opened here to-day. E. E. Sparrow, Toronto, is the first vice-president, and J. H. Vernor, Peterborough, second vice-president. W. S. Campbell, Toronto, was made secretary-treasurer and R. B. Morley remains as general manager.

LAST MINUTE NEWS FLASHES

HAVANA, April 10.—(CP-Havas)—What is said to be the largest ransom ever paid—$300,000—was handed over to a gang of kidnappers by Butimio Falla Gutierrez, Cuban millionaire. Gutierrez was captured by a gang riding in two automobiles yesterday and held prisoner in a building.

TORONTO, April 10.—(CP)—Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn announced today that Frederick Nood had resigned as deputy minister in the lands and forest branch of the Ontario government. Mr. Nood was connected with the forestry branch. His work will be carried on by W. C. Cain, deputy minister to Hon. Peter Heenan.

PHILADELPHIA, April 10.—(AP)—A mother and her three children were found stabbed to death in their home today. The husband and father, Tony Demateo, 35, was found critically wounded and was rushed to a hospital.

France And Russia To Sign Military Defensive Pact

SUDDEN ACTION REAL SENSATION EVE OF PARLEY

Comes as Unexpected Sequel to Simon's Statement Britain's Program Undecided.

DEFINITE STAND URGED.

Press Sees Franco-Russo-Italian Alliance Hovering Over Europe.

LONDON, April 10 (C.P.).—The eleventh-hour announcement of a Franco-Russian agreement on a defensive military pact provided a startling send-off to-day for the British delegation to the Stresa Conference.

The Paris announcement came as a dramatic and uexpected sequel to yesterday's declaration by Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, that Great Britain has not yet formulated her program for the tripartite conversations.

A year ago, when the late Louis Barthou, then France's Foreign Minister, visited London, Great Britain persuaded France to drop plans for a Franco-Russian alliance and substitute for that project an Eastern Locarno Pact.

The London press gave news of the Franco-Russian plan much prominence, simultaneously urging Sir John and Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald to take a definite stand on the Stresa issues.

An Ominous Shadow.

The News-Chronicle said if Great Britain allows it to be thought she will not fight to the last resort against an aggressor, a Franco-Russo-Italian alliance "is the danger ominously foreshadowed by today's news from Paris."

The British delegation to the Stresa Conference is the most imposing the Government has sent abroad in recent years.

Precedent was set aside to permit the addition of Sir Robert Vansittart, Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs. Custom heretofore has dictated the Foreign Secretary and the permanent head of the Foreign Office should never leave London at the same time.

The inclusion of Van Sittart was viewed in the press as an indication important decisions may be reached at Stresa.

Hog Quotations In Peterborough

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 10.

Canada Packers quote:

Hogs — F.O.B., $7 75; off truck, $7.85; rail grades, $10.60.

Selects, $1 per hog premium.

Sows, 2½c off bacon prices.

Cream — No. 1 (on truck), 23c; No. 1 (delivered), 24c.

Special, 2c per lb. premium.

Dealers quote:

Grain — Spring wheat 85c; fall wheat, 90c; oats, 35c; malting barley, 60c; feed barley, 50c; rye, 80c; and buckwheat, 44c.

CHICKS fed FUL-O-PEP GROWING MASH develop into strong, sturdy, evenly feathered birds of uniform growth with the ability to lay more and larger eggs. The famous FUL-O-PEP way of feeding birds for profit includes a liberal grain ration, together with FUL-O-PEP CHICK STARTER, for the first six weeks, followed by FUL-O-PEP GROWING MASH until maturity. Chicks fed this way use less feed in proportion to their gains in weight and develop into bigger, stronger birds than those fed on mash alone.

Send coupon below for FUL-O-PEP Book on raising chicks for profit. It is free.

FUL-O-PEP GROWING MASH

THE QUAKER OATS COMPANY
Dept. 716 Peterborough, Ontario

Name .....
Address .....
Dealer's Name .....

Aquatic Jacks

GREELEY, Colo., April 10.—(CP)—Jack rabbits that swim like ducks were described by J. V. Bunker today after a trip to Morgan county. Bunker said he and a friend saw a huge jack rabbit jump from the shore and land almost in the middle of a small reservoir. Then he paddled to the opposite side. The rabbit was not pursued by dogs and apparently was swimming "just for fun," Bunker said.

LIVESTOCK PRODUCE AND CHEESE QUOTES

ONTARIO GRAINS.

f.o.b. shipping point: Wheat, 85c to 87c; oats, 32c to 34c; corn, 56c to 58c; buckwheat, 43c to 45c; malting barley, 63c to 65c.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Soaring corn prices climaxed an otherwise dull grain market session yesterday.

A late rally in the corn pit, which carried the prices of all grains, except wheat, to sharp gains for the day, gave trade expression to the mounting evidence of diminishing supplies of corn. Accompanying the price jump was a revival of floor gossip suggesting the possibility of a market squeeze in May corn when the time comes for delivery on the speculative contracts.

With May selling at a new high since Feb. 20, corn closed ¾ to 2⅛ cents above the previous finish, May 87⅞c to 87⅛c. Wheat was unchanged to ⅝c lower, May 95⅛c to 95½c. Oats gained ⅛c to ⅝c and rye was ⅝ to 1c up.

As a result of the current rally, corn has advanced around 11c from recent low figures with only a reaction of 2 cents to interrupt the upturn. July corn for example, is 7c higher than a week ago, while July wheat is a little more than a cent up.

Wheat was a drag on the market yesterday, traders being influenced by forecast of precipitation over much of the grain belt.

Oats followed the action of corn. Provisions were somewhat easier early in sympathy with grains, but firmed up later with corn.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

Prices ruled steady on the Montreal Dairy and Produce Market yesterday with a firm undertone to the butter and egg markets. Butter was quoted at 22½c a pound for carlots or less of No. 1 regraded with fresh butter bringing 21½c to 22c a pound. Small lots to retailers sold for 23½c to 24c a pound for solids and a cent more for prints. Arrivals totalled 300 boxes.

On the egg market graded shipments in carlots or less were quoted at 18½c to 19c a dozen for A-large, 16c for A-medium or B and 13c for C. Receipts totalled 1,474 cases.

Cheese prices continued at 11½c to 11¾c a pound for No. 1 Ontario fall make and 12¾c to 13¾c for summers. Offerings were 30 boxes.

The potato market was quoted slightly higher than the pegged levels fixed Monday. Quebec No. 3 whites, in 80-pound bags, bringing 40 to 45c and Quebec No. 1 Mountains, 80c to 85c. New Brunswick Cobblers were at 82c to 87c; New Brunswick Mountains 57c to 62c and Prince Edward Island Mountains, 32c to 66c.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, April 10.—The bulls beat the bears to the punch yesterday on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, and wheat prices closed a half-cent higher, despite a lull in foreign demand for Canada's chief commodity.

Futures were boosted to the day's top levels early in the session, with fairly liberal buying entering a pit devoid of selling. Near the close offerings were easily absorbed.

The July contract established a new season's high of 88⅝c at midsession, and remained there until the close. May finished at 88c, only ⅛c under its best price of the day. Trading generally, however, was not active.

Foreign buyers purchased little wheat yesterday, the first halt in some days to their operations. It was learned, however, in addition to Monday's 500,000-bushel exports, a similar amount was sold from Eastern stocks.

Outside markets had little effect on local trend. Chicago was off fractionally, while Liverpool closed ⅝d higher. Cash and coarse grains continued to idle.

Futures:

Wheat—	Open	High	Low	Close	Prev Close
May	.87½	.88¼	.87¼	.88	.87⅛
July	.87⅝	.88⅛	.87⅝	.88⅝	.87⅝
July	.41⅝	.42⅛	.41⅝	.42⅛	.41⅝
Oats—
May	.41⅝	.42	.41⅝	.42	.41⅝

Just Borrowing

TOTOWA, N.J., April 10 (CP).—Police Chief Robert Boyle questioned a 12-year-old boy about some bicycle thefts. The next day the boy appeared at school sporting a shining gold badge. At the same time Chief Boyle discovered his spare badge had been ripped off an old uniform that hung in headquarters.

"I was only borrowing," the boy told the Chief.

Our King and Queen on their Silver Jubilee

The reunion of the Royal Family in 1920.

IMMEDIATELY after the great war, the royal family set about to work in the reconstruction of the empire. As mentioned before, the King and Queen did herculean tasks. But they were not alone. The rest of the family, the Prince of Wales, Prince Henry, Duke of Gloucester, the Duke of York and Princess Mary were called upon to share a heavy burden.

Particularly was this true of the Prince of Wales. In 1919, the King decided that his eldest son, and heir to the throne, should become his ambassador to the empire. In that year the young prince set out for Canada where he was acclaimed by the entire population as no prince of royal blood has ever before been received. From Saint John and Halifax to Vancouver thousands upon thousands of Canadians turned out en masse to welcome the popular and democratic prince who loved dancing and good times.

He visited the United States before he returned home and the American people received him with the same acclaim as did Canada. Home again he went and then off to the Antipodes.

Meanwhile, the other princes and the princess had been travelling throughout the United Kingdom. Seldom was the whole family all home at one time.

Our picture to-day shows the King and Queen with (left to right) the Duke of York, the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Gloucester standing, and Princess Mary, on the occasion of the Prince of Wales' return from Australia in 1920. Even this reunion left out young Prince George, now Duke of Kent, who was away at school at the time.

Tomorrow: The Prince of Wales.

TORTURE CASES AIRED IN COURT

Southern Convicts Charge Officials Beat Them at Night —Some Maimed.

SIX ARRESTS MADE.

CHARLOTTE, N.C., April 10.—(A.P.)—Torture charges were brought against two more former prison officials here yesterday as tales of convicts being pulled from their cells in the dead of night to be beaten by guards climaxed a judicial investigation of prison-camp conditions.

After timid negro witnesses told of being beaten and kicked while serving road sentences, Judge Don Phillips ordered the names of Dr. C. S. McLaughlin, prison camp physician, and T. S. Brown, camp superintendent, included in warrants already brought against four other former officials charging torture.

The men were charged with torturing and maiming Woodrow Wilson Shropshire, 19, and Robert Barnes, 19, who lost their feet after being chained in a standing position on a concrete floor in a "dark-cell" during the mid-winter cold.

Shropshire charged McLaughlin was comparatively indifferent toward the condition of his feet after they froze and became gangrenous and that he was treated only with warm salt water and salve for three weeks before he was finally sent to a hospital, where amputation was found necessary.

PEOPLE BEFORE HYDRO-H. N. CARR

Northumberland Liberal Answers Opposition Attack on Power Statements.

BACKING HEPBURN.

TORONTO, April 10.—H. N. Carr, Liberal member for Northumberland, told the Opposition at Queen's Park last night that he had lined himself up with a Government remedy for the Hydro contracts when he spoke in the Legislature some weeks ago.

The Liberal member's statement was in answer to an Opposition attack of Monday evening based on an erroneous report of his Hydro statements.

"I said," Mr. Carr stated, "that I hoped that the Prime Minister and his Cabinet will provide a way of breaking these contracts for unwanted power or adjusting them to a very radical extent, as the people of the Province must not continue to be mulcted to the extent of nine or ten millions yearly for the next thirty years for power which they cannot use. I have the welfare of the Ontario Hydro Commission at heart, but only so long as they keep the interest of the people of Ontario paramount, and I will commend any action that our Prime Minister takes in this regard."

LINDSAY

"Cars His Downfall" Says Chicken Thief

LINDSAY, Ont., April 10 (Special to The Examiner).—"April is my unlucky month," said a farm hand named Cross yesterday morning, when picked up by Chief Lawler, accused with stealing a number of chickens. Cross was in the toils in April two years ago for the theft of a car.

Cars are his downfall. A short time ago he bought a car in Toronto for $50, paying $25 cash. Later he was picked up by a traffic officer and compelled to get a driver's permit.

As he only gets $8 a month, he found it hard to buy gasoline. Hence the stealing of chickens from a farmer living south of the town. The farmer missed his chicks at seven in the morning and drove to town. When passing Cross in a car he saw the bags containing chickens, but he kept on going to Lindsay and informed Chief Lawler. As the Chief approached Cross when he was about to dispose of the birds to a local dealer, Cross left his car and remarked, "I guess I'm the man you are looking for."

He was lodged in jail awaiting a hearing before Magistrate Gee.

MARMORA.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Embury and family of Frankford were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Kil patrick.

Mr. E. Wannamaker of Holloway and Mr. and Mrs. E. Andrews of Brighton visited Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Shaw on Sunday.

2 COMMUNISTS ARE EXECUTED IN GERMAN JAIL

Victim One, First Jew to be Beheaded in Nation's History, Pay For Murder.

NAZI HERO SLAIN IN 1930.

(Copyright, 1935 by the Associated Press).

BERLIN, April 10 (A.P.).—The Ministry of Justice announced today that Sally Eppstein, a Jew, and Erich Ziegler, 34-year-old Aryan, were decapitated to-day.

The two men were accused of complicity in the murder of Nazi Germany's hero, Horst Wessel, five years ago.

Eppstein, who was 28 years old, was said to be the first Jew beheaded in German history. He and Ziegler, both Communists, were condemned to death after their case had been brought to court for rehearing last June. Wessel, the man whose name the official Nazi song bears, was slain in 1930 in an alleged political plot.

The executions took place in the courtyard of Ploetzensee Prison in Berlin, where two women, Baroness Benita von Falkenhaym and Renate von Natzener, recently met death by the executioner's axe for revealing military secrets to the Polish spy, Baron George von Sosnowski.

Victims of Brawl

Horst Wessel, martyred board of Nazism, was slain in a fight which developed after he engaged in an altercation with his landlady over his rent bill. The shooting occurred January 1, 1930, and several Communists subsequently were given penitentiary sentences up to six years before the Nazis won control of the Reich government.

Eppstein and Ziegler, who have steadfastly denied they were accomplices in the slaying, were sentenced to death June 15, 1934.

At the first trial Ali Hoehler, who later died while serving his six-year-term, admitted he held a personal grudge against Wessel but contended he fired the fatal shot in self-defence.

The prosecution asserted the poet was shot in cold blood by Communists for political reasons.

After his death, Wessel was enshrined in the hearts of his Nazi compatriots, the song named for him virtually becoming the German National Anthem.

MEMORY OF VIMY RIDGE.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 10 (Examiner Correspondence). — The Union Jack was flying from the Armouries and other public buildings in town on Tuesday in commemoration of the Battle of Vimy Ridge, and in memory of the gallant soldiers who went over the top at 5.30 a.m. on the morning of April 9, 1917.

Gas Lights Out Moonlight Nights

MONTREAL, April 10 (C.P.)—One hundred years ago Montreal's streets were lit with coal oil lamps. In April 1835, the city was asked for a subsidy of $500 a year by the projected gas light company. Two years later 200 gas lamps were first used to light city streets.

In 1863, a new contract was made between the city and the gas company whereby Montreal was to be supplied with 700 gas lamps. The lamps were to burn 21 nights in a month, "the other nights being declared moonlight nights."

BUDGET DEBATE ONE OF SHORTEST

Ontario Gov't Pushes Measure Through After Little Over 3 Hours' Discussion.

SECOND READING 42-15.

TORONTO, April 10 (C.P.) — After one of the shortest debates on record, Premier Mitchell Hepburn's budget was given second reading in the Ontario Legislature late last night by a vote of 42 to 15.

The Government pushed the measure through after only a little more than three hours' debate at last night's sitting. It was a straight party vote, with the United Farmers of Ontario and Co-operative Commonwealth Federation representatives absent from the House.

The House immediately moved into committee of supply, and after passing one vote rose to resume other Legislative business.

The division was taken on a Conservative amendment sponsored by Leopold Macaulay, former Minister of Highways, who moved that "this House condemns the Government for its failure to carry out its pre-election pledges to reduce taxation and find work for the unemployed." The amendment was lost and the motion to go into supply was carried on the same division.

The division was taken shortly before midnight, and after the new day began second reading was given to the Industrial Standards Act, a measure introduced by Attorney General A. W. Roebuck and designed to promote co-operation between employers and workers with regard to hours and wages.

Protest was raised against the bill by Opposition members.

Wilfrid Heighington branded it as "silly-ass" experimental legislation which "will accomplish nothing but cause controversy between labor and employers." William Duckworth (Cons., Bracondale), declared it did not go far enough.

Abar Awarded Costs Campbellford Court

CAMPBELLFORD, April 10. (Examiner Correspondence). — The long standing Abar-Gooderich case was finally disposed of at Monday's Division Court at which Judge L. V. O'Connor presided. The case arose as the result of a car smash on the Meyersburg Road about midnight on November 24 last, when Abar's car proceeding north, was sideswiped by the Gooderich car which was approaching the highway from Blakeley's hill.

Abar was awarded the amount of $111.44 and his court costs against Herbert and William Gooderich, charged jointly. There were four witnesses for the defence. Provincial Constable Gordon Campbell who investigated the accident also gave evidence. Richard Arnott, of the firm of Porter, Payne and Arnott of Belleville conducted the case for Abar.

Three minor cases were quickly disposed of.

LIBERALS LOSE FIGHT AGAINST LONG LAY-OFF

Federal Members Will Adjourn Next Week Until May 20.

VOTE GOES 90-49.

King Protests Alleged "Leak" From Mass Buying Commission.

OTTAWA, April 10. (CP).—With its miniature filibuster ended and the prospect of a long Easter holiday before it, the House of Commons to-day settled down to deal with a few items of Government business. The Liberal oppostion for two solid days fought against a long Easter adjournment, but in the end the will of the Government prevailed and sometime next week the members will go home not to return until May 20.

Under Bennett's Guidance

By that time it is expected Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, recovered from his illness and refreshed by a voyage to England to attend the King's jubilee celebration, will be back in his place at the head of the Conservative forces. Then also a number of bills based on the report of the Royal Commission on Price Spreads and Mass Buying will be drawn up and ready for consideration by the House. They will be the second and final instalment of the Government's reform program, the first part of which has already passed the House.

By a vote of 90-49 the House last night rejecte a Liberal motion to confine the Easter ajournment to a single week.

Seven Farmer-Labor members all who were present, voted with the Conservatives and helped swell the government majority.

The two-day debate gave a long list of Liberal members the chance to speak they had been denied so

(Continued on Page Three.)

ERNIE ENERGY

MORAL! There is more energy and better balanced nourishment in four heaping teaspoons of Grape-Nuts with milk than there is in a serving of steak.

No wonder Ernie praises Grape-Nuts! It's not only one of the most energizing and completely nourishing of foods but is also one of the most delicious! Easy to digest, too. And economical—costs only about one cent a serving. Get a package from your grocer.

Grape-Nuts

MADE IN CANADA

URGE INSURANCE FOR ALL TRADES

Merchants Suggest 18 Excepted Classes Now Provided Be Cancelled.

CLASSIFY WORK

OTTAWA, April 10 (C.P.)—Bringing of all trades in Canada under the employment and social insurance bill by cancellation of the 18 excepted classes now provided was urged yesterday by the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada before the Senate Banking and Commerce Committee.

The second proposal of the association, represented by its Ontario secretary George S. Hougham, was there should be a classification of all employments and contributions to the scheme should bear a relationship to the risk of unemployment in each class in place of the proposed "flat rate." Retail employees and employers should be placed in a special classification as to the rate of contribution, Mr. Hougham said.

Retail employers and employees, the official stated, due to the relative constancy of retail employment, would subscribe a "very large proportion" of the fund. In view of this fact the association ventured to question the elimination of those employed in banking, mortgage, loan, trust, insurance or other financial business from the fund.

Question of Clerks

"We question the equity requiring clerks in the offices of stores or clerks waiting on customers in retail establishments to contribute to an insurance fund, the benefits of which we believe will only reach a very small proportion of those employed in these classifications and at the same time excepting clerks in financial institutions who are hardly less subject to unemployment disabilities," he said.

Actuarial insurance principles should apply, he said, discussing the basis of contribution. This principle was universally recognized by all other forms of insurance licensed by the government and in the Workmen's Compensation Act.

He went on to discuss trade employment and quoted figures to support his claim that employment in the retail trade had constancy.

HOUSE ADJOURNS

(Continued from Page 1)

George S. Henry, continued from that time until 5.30 p.m. yesterday when Wilfrid Heighton (Cons., Toronto-St. David) moved to give the bill six months' hoist.

A Missed Cue

"Shall the amendment carry?" asked speaker N. O. Hipel, Opposition members missed their cue. Before A. H. Acres (Cons., Carleton) could demand the privilege of speaking to the bill, an action calculated to throw the debate wide open once more, Conservative members murmered "yes" which automatically recorded a vote on the amendment.

Provincial Secretary H. C. Nixon demanded the main question be put. J. F. Hill (Cons., Hastings East) tried to regain lost ground for the Opposition by moving a five months hoist.

Speaker Hipel ruled the Hill amendment out of order and by 37-15 the House defeated the Heighington amendment. On another division the House voted by 42-15 that the question be now put and the main motion to give the legislation second reading was carried on the same division.

The votes brought to a conclusion the first long filibuster in 12 years. Conservatives conducted a blockade, in 1923, which ended in the Drury Government calling a general election at which it was defeated by the Conservatives.

Adjournment Move Defeated

While the day was Tuesday all yesterday's proceedings were regarded as taking place on Monday.

Earlier in the day an adjournment motion by Col. W. H. Price (Cons., Toronto-Parkdale) was defeated on the grounds it was still Monday. Tuesday did not begin until eight o'clock last night when the usual pre-session prayers were read by the Speaker.

Tired members thought when they came to last night's session they had seen the last of the Power Bill for the time being. The budget was carried 42-15 and Attorney-General A. W. Roebuck's labor legislation was given second reading. At 12.30 o'clock this morning, however, the premier called the Legislature into committee of the whole to discuss the power bill.

Waving a rule book, Col. Price declared committee discussion so soon after second reading could take place only with unanimous consent of the House and in a matter of extreme urgency, and neither condition was present.

"We're here to get the bill through the committee," replied the Premier. "We'll get it through if we stay here until three o'clock tomorrow.

"You crack the whip and everyone says 'Me too,,'" declared Leopold Macaulay (Cons., York South). You have a gang out sleeping now and they will come in and you'll go out to sleep. The steam roller is working."

"Are you proud of your filibuster of yesterday?" returned Mr. Hepburn.

In committee, Chairman W. F. Schwenger (Lib., Hamilton Centre) ruled it was the same day, that is, Tuesday, and the bill could be dealt with. Col. Price said he appealed against his decision, the Speaker returned to his chair, and Mr. Schwenger communicated to him the objection of the former Attorney-General.

Price Loses Two Divisions

The Speaker ruled against Col. Price and was sustained by 40-15. Five minues later, at 1.05 o'clock, there was another division when Col. Price forced the House to divide on the matter of going into committee, and the Government was again sustained, this time by a vote of 38-12.

Greatest argument took place over the second clause of the bill, which referred directly to the contracts to be cancelled.

"It is the worst bill that has ever gone through this House," declared Col. Price, and he charged it was a dictator's bill.

"Talk about a filibuster," he continued, "There hasn't been filibuster enough. He said the bill had not been printed until five days after it was introduced and when first brought down the schedules were not included.

Both he and the entire Conservative minority were opposed to cancellation of the contracts, he said, and warned the government it might "railroad" the bill through the House, but could not convince the province it was the right sort of legislation.

"It's the worst type of thing I've seen in the Legislature in my twenty years of experience," he said.

Raps Opposition

Mr. Roebuck charged the only reason the Legislation was in session "at this ungodly hour of the morning" was because the Opposition were filibustering.

"It is the plain intention of the Prime Minister to ride the steamroller roughshod over us and tire us out," said Mr. Macaulay. "You don't want the public of this province to have any hand or influence in this legislation. You don't want us to have the support of public opinion we might have. Otherwise what reason can there be for this action?"

Quoting from a government return to an Opposition question, George H. Challies (Cons., Grenville-Dundas) noted Lewis Duncan, legal adviser, received $13,500 from the Government. He asked if the payment was for expert legal opinion on which the government based its action in terminating the contracts, but Mr. Roebuck declined to answer.

"This is the most brazen, downright, disgraceful shame that this assembly cannot be informed what authority or what legal opinion has guided the government," said Mr. Challies.

He pressed for an answer as to why Duncan received the $13,500. Mr. Roebuck replied there was nothing to indicate he received the sum for such an opinion.

Confidential Information

"Do you expect the government to give you the confidential information so that the representatives of the power barons might pass it on to them " asked Mr. Roebuck.

"You take that right back now," said Mr. Macaulay. "We are not representatives of the power barons."

"I never said you were the paid or the engaged representatives," returned the Attorney-General. "I said you were representatives of the power interests.

"You did not," replied Mr. Macaulay. "You said representatives. That is the kind of filthy, dirty insinuation—".

"It is a statement of fact," returned Mr. Roebuck.

"You think everybody's a crook but yourself," shot back the former highways minister.

To Mr. Roebuck's accusation the Conservatives were on the side of the big interests, Mr. Macaulay replied: "Let me tell you, I represent no one but my constituency. And we represent our constituencies a lot better than you represented the widows and orphans who put money into the investment trust that you headed."

"Mushroom Organization"

Necessity for immediate action was stressed by M. M. MacBride, Independent member for Brantford. He charged the Beauharnois Company was "one of the worst mushroom organizations this country has ever known."

George Fulford (Lib., Leeds) favored cancellation because cheaper power would help his home city of Brockville compete with Cornwall.

Clause by clause the Conservatives fought the bill. Mr. Macaulay took particular exception to the clause stating no court suits could be instituted as a result of the cancellation.

By a standing vote the bill passed through committee.

After discussing the bill, second reading was given to Mr. Roebuck's amendment to the Election Act and the premier's bill amending the Public Service Act.

Relieve Those ITCHY PIMPLES

When your skin is irritated with pimples and red blotches from external causes, and you're crazy with itching torture, here's quick, sure relief. Get a 50c box of PETERSON'S OINTMENT at your druggist and rub this healing balm on the pimples. Feel the relief! Itching stops at once. Smarting disappears. Your skin will positively look better, feel better. And don't forget, PETERSON'S OINTMENT is wonderful to help heal itching feet and cracks between toes. Try it.

Major Clark Tells Members Of Score

TORONTO, April 10.—It took a bit of nice parliamentary practice to do it, but Major J. H. "Jim" Clark of Windsor rose to the occasion in last night's Ontario Legislature.

"I rise to a point of order," he informed a solemn-faced House, "to ask if the honorable member knows the result of the hockey game. It was 3-1 in favor of the Maroons at the end of the second period."

SODEN'S REACH 30TH BIRTHDAY

Conducting an Anniversary Sale to Reduce Existing Large Stocks—Many Real Values.

This year Soden's Bookstore is celebrating its 30th Anniversary in business in Peterborough and to mark this event they are conducting an anniversary sale in order to reduce existing large stocks of wallpaper, china, glassware, stationery, books, pictures and incidental pottery and novelty merchandise at substantial savings over previous prices.

Everyone in Peterborough and district knows this store and the quality of goods carried and it is sufficient to say that this sale will prove very interesting to the majority.

An advertisement appears elsewhere in this issue setting forth particulars of item and telling that the sale starts to-morrow morning (Friday). You are invited to visit the store during the next ten days and share in the many attractive values offered. Especially is it an opportunity to save on anticipated wallpaper purchases.

Campbellford Brigade Answers Double Calls

CAMPBELLFORD, April 10 (Examiner Correspondence). — The Campbellford Fire Department responded promptly to two calls on Tuesday afternoon, shortly before 2 o'clock, to a chimney fire at the home of Mrs. Eugene Dunlay of Centre Street, and at 5 p.m. to the residence of Mrs. Charles Black, Rannie Street, where sparks from a chimney had ignited the roof. Both blazes were quickly extinguished with only slight loss to owners of property.

Bucklers Hard, England, claims to have the smallest church in the world, the "edifice" seating only eight people.

CAMPBELLFORD

NEWS ITEMS FOR THE TRENT TOWN DISTRICT

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kennedy, of Booth Street, are removing to Sebastopol Street to the house recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Sarginson.

Mrs. Jack Free of Smith's Falls is visiting her parents, Major and Mrs. J. M. Bygott, of Sebastopol Street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Haig, of Belleville, visited friends in town on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Sarginson and family have removed from Sebastopol Street and have taken up residence on George Street, in the house known as the Gibson property.

Secretary E. C. Dolman, of the Campbellford Rotary Club, received a communication from the Cobourg Club on Tuesday, announcing that a "Ladies' Night" would be held in that town on Thursday, May 9th.

Mr. McLean Haig, of Front Street, is visiting relatives in Windsor.

Mrs. C. K. Stephen, of Napier Street, visited friends in Oshawa on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Craighead of Canrobert Street visited friends in Whitby on Monday.

CAMPBELLFORD

Douglas Long Reads Y.P.S. Mission Topic

CAMPBELLFORD, April 10 (Examiner Correspondence). — The Young People's Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church held their regular meeting on Monday evening, April 8th. Mrs. Frank Long, the president, opened the meeting, followed by prayer. The missionary convenor, Douglas Long, occupied the chair, and read the missionary topic. The program concluded with a quartette solo by the Misses Alice Free, Edith and Esther Kerr and Verabel Fox, Miss Isabel McGregor presiding at the piano. The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction.

BETHANY

Mrs. O. H. McGill accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Cephas Staples returned home on Sunday after spending a week at Omemee, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McQuade.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor McCartney of Cornwall spent the week-end with their mother, Mrs. W. McCartney.

Hannah Sisson returned to her home this week after an extended visit in Cavan with her cousin.

Mr. and Mrs. Melville Handley of Mount Pleasant were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Argue.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Davis of Brunswick were guests on Sunday of Mr. William Davis, Sr.

Miss Ruth Hamilton, Reg.N., of the Deaconess Training School, Toronto spent the week-end with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Hamilton.

Frank Hamilton of the Kingston branch Bank of Toronto spent the week-end at his home here.

Jim Ward of Chesley was a week-end visitor at the home of Mrs. O. H. McGill, Brunswick.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Thorndyke spent the week-end with friends in Toronto.

Pauline Thorndyke returned to Toronto on Friday to resume her studies at the Business College after spending the winter months at her home here.

L.O.L. No. 1022 held another very successful dance and card party on Friday evening. Proceeds amounting to $18. They plan to hold another entertainment on Easter Monday.

Obituary

MRS. WILLIAM O'CONNOR
(Examiner Correspondence)

CAMPBELLFORD, April 10.— In the passing of Mrs. William O'Connor, whose death occurred on Monday morning April 9th, this town loses one of its most esteemed citizens. Mrs. O'Connor who was Isabelle Campbell was in her 77th year and besides her husband, is survived by one son Charles. The funeral will take place from the family residence, Simpson street, on Thursday, April 11th at 2.30 p.m. Rev. B. Simpson Black of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church will conduct the services. Interment will be made in Mount Pleasant cemetery.

LIBERALS LOSE FIGHT AGAINST LONG LAY-OFF

(Continued from Page 1)

far. Liberals refrained from taking part in the budget debate in a general way and Conservative back benchers kept it going. But when Hon. Ernest Lapointe (Lib. Quebec East) moved his amendment to the motion to go into committee of ways and means, calling for a short adjournment, the Liberal rank and file were free to talk and still hold to their position of insisting on a speedy end of the session and an early election.

King Protests Leak

An alleged "leakage" from the Mass Buying Commission drew a protest from Liberal Leader W. L. Mackenzie King in the House yesterday. The Commission's voluminous report was signed by the members yesterday and at the time Mr. King spoke had not been handed to Hon. R. B. Hanson, Minister of Trade and Commerce. As a government document it was supposed to be a secret until the government considered it and tabled it in the House for information of members.

Yet newspapers published what purported to be its contents.

This, said Mr. King, was an act of contempt toward the government and parliament which should not be tolerated. He suggested an inquiry to find out which member of the commission was responsible for giving the report to newspapers. If the government intended to take action to curb unfair and unethical practices it should do something to curb the actions of certain members of committees and commissions.

The Prairie Problem.

Rehabilitation of dried-out lands on the western prairies will be one topic discussed in the House to-day. Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, has given notice he will move for introduction of a bill dealing with the matter. Some time ago Mr. Weir outlined the studies made by government officials and the type of action the government considered appropriate.

Hon. Charles Stewart, former Interior Minister, and Charles Bell (Cons. Hamilton West tangled three or four times during the afternoon debate on the Liberal motion, once with the Speaker intervening.

The former cabinet minister claimed the Government needed six weeks "to sit around and think up some new scheme which they hope will interest the electors."

"Will the member permit a question?" asked Mr. Bell.

"Yes," repleid Mr. Stewart.

"All I want to ask is—"

"Louder," shouted a back-bench Liberal.

"If the member will be good enough to answer me—" began Mr. Bell, startnig off on a new track.

"Let us hear the question," spoke up another Liberal.

"I am not trying to be controversial," Mr. Bell announced in his most sauve tones.

"Louder," shouted two or three Liberals in unison.

Bell Grows Peeved.

That was the signal for Mr. Bell to drop all attempts at conciliation. "Shut up, you fools," he shouted across the floor.

It was also the signal for the Speaker to intervene. The term, he said, was unparliamentary and must be withdrawn.

The Hamilton member withdrew and finally explained he wanted to know the date of a speech from which Mr. Stewart had been quoting. Mr. Stewart admitted he did not know the date and the incident passed.

But it was merely an interlude. Mr. Stewart claimed "the real reason for their (the Government's) change of heart (on social problems) was the fact that one of their number became a malcontent. He was not satisfied to pursue the tenor of their ways and he went out on his own. I refer to Hon. H. H. Stevens. He broadcast his ideas throughout the country and scared the life out of the Government. They succumbed to fear."

"He is not a malcontent. He is an honest man," interrupted Mr. Bell.

"The Conservatives," retorted Mr. Stewart, "had a change of heart largely as a result of his propaganda."

Later Mr. Bell made a speech of his own, saying he had no intention of disparaging Mr. Stewart in his earlier questions.

"Carried," shouted a Liberal.

"Now, that is very funny," sarcastically retorted the Hamilton member. "I am quite willing to have members enjoy themselves. I am quite willing to have them laugh their heads off—and I do not know that much damage would be done if they did."

With that passing shot, he stalked across the floor and left the Chamber arm-in-arm with a Quebec Liberal.

Defends Titles.

A defence of titles and a criticism of Hon. Ernest Lapointe's projected referenduta on Canadians receiving titles ,was made by Onesime Gagnon (Cons., Dorchester).

The Quebec Conservative said in his province Liberals received titles in showers from France, Belgium and other countries. Yet they wanted to prevent other Canadians from receiving decorations from the United Kingdom.

It was impossible to hold referendums on all minor questions such as titles and liquor taxes. If the Liberals were so anxious for referendums, Mr. Gagnon suggested the people be consulted on Premier M. F. Hepburn's invalidation of Quebec power contracts. That action, he claimed, cost Quebec bond owners $40,000,000, but Liberals denied the charge.

Rush Point League Has Short Program

RUSH POINT, April 10 (Examiner Correspondence)—Miss Clara Menzies arranged the items for the Young People's League meeting held in the Rush Point Church on Thursday evening April 5, and called for the following numbers: scripture reading, Jean Pollock; topic, Corinne McArthur; "A Talk," Rev. Mr. Kemp; comic reading, Winston Petherick; contest, "Parts of a Watch ," Grace Johnston.

Young's Point Woman Badly Injured In Fall

YOUNG'S POINT, April 10 (Examiner Correspondence). — The many friends of Mrs. A. Duggan, Sr., will regret to learn that she had the misfortune to fall on the floor of her own home last week and dislocate her shoulder, besides sustaining other bruises. Mrs. Duggan is new recovering from her fall at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fleming, in Douro.

Centreton

Mr. and Mrs. John Coffey, Eddystone, spent Wednesday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Alden Coffey.

Among those from a distance attending the funeral of the late Mrs. John Gillespie on Friday were: Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Gillespie and son, of Belleville; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Gillespie, Parry Sound; Mr. and Mrs. David Gillespie, Magnewatin; Mr. and Mrs. W. Sherwin and Mr. and Mrs. F. Macintosh, Mrs. W. Score, Cobourg; Mr. and Mrs. Lang Broomfield, Colborne; Mr. and Mrs. Grant Massey, Baltimore; Mrs. B. Turk and Mr. H. Fraser, Vernonville; Miss Mary Broomfield and Mr. W. Broomfield, Carmel.

Mr. and Mrs. William Blakely, of Plainville, spent Friday with Mrs. W. Richardson.

Mr. James Honeywell, Castleton, and Mr. and Mrs. Alden Coffey and Mr. and Mrs. John Coffey were guests on Friday at the home of Mr. R. Honeywell.

Mr. and Mrs. William Blakely, Plainville, were guests on Friday at the home of Mrs. William Chapple.

Mrs. Merriam and Mrs. Eakins were calling on their neighbors on Saturday.

Mrs. Eliza McBride, oldest resident of the village, has been in very poor health.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Curtis were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. C. MacGregor.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Merriam and Lloyd, of Carmel, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Merriam.

Rev. P. H. Neville spent the week-end in Toronto.

The Mission Band are holding the social that was laid over on Friday night, April 12.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Brisbin and family, of Roseneath, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Stanley McBride.

A HANDSOME ARRAY OF NEW SPRING SUIT LENGTHS AWAIT YOUR SELECTION

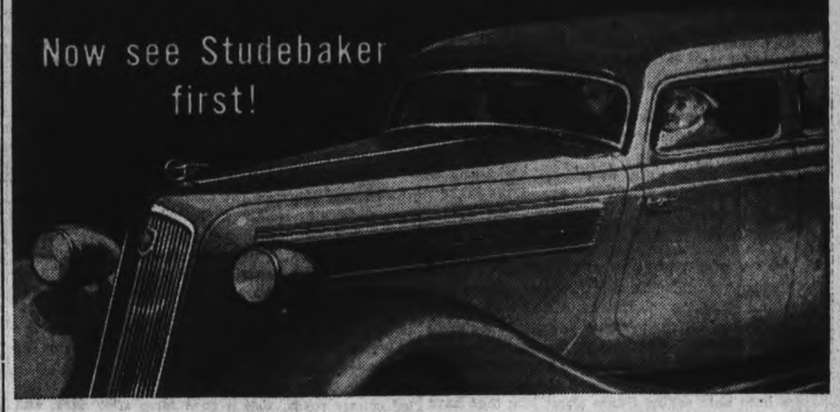
BUT HURRY . . FOR EASTER DELIVERY

Our buyers searched every market and ultimately have presented. through our Store, an imposing array of quality woollens, and from any of them can be tailored a Suit that will give you self-assurance the minute you wear it. Don't delay, if it is your desire to have it for Easter, as word from our factory is "business is rushing." 25.00 UP

Fashion Craft Shops LIMITED

B. A. HICKEY, Manager 390 GEORGE ST.

STUDEBAKER REDUCES PRICES!



$1095 IS THE NEW LOW DELIVERED PRICE OF THIS BIG 1935 STUDEBAKER SEDAN (ST. REGIS MODEL) IN PETERBORO

NOTHING MORE TO PAY!

AUTOMATIC RIDE CONTROL

HYDRAULIC BRAKES

ALL STEEL BODIES

ROOMIEST CAR IN ITS PRICE CLASS

Completely equipped with all taxes paid

BELIEVE it or not, you can now get one of the finest automobiles ever built in this country—a magnificent new 1935 Studebaker Champion sedan with automatic ride control—for just a few dollars more than the lowest priced cars.

This sedan is a brand new 1935 Dictator—a Champion—with incomparable Studebaker prestige and performance. Its "skyway silhouette" body is steel reinforced by steel even to the roof panels which are steel welded to steel pillars. The engine is a marvelously smooth, lightning fast 88-horsepower six—a stand out for gasoline and oil economy.

Hydraulic Brakes, Too

This Dictator comes to you with Studebaker's new compound hydraulic brakes that swiftly, smoothly, surely bring this powerful car to a straight-line stop every time. And it's a lavishly finished car with exceptionally wide lounge-like seats and unusual head room, leg room and shoulder room.

Dollar for dollar, at the new reduced delivered price quoted above, this Dictator sedan is the "top" in automobile value. See it today.

Now reduced DELIVERED prices in Peterborough Dictator as low as $1095, Commander as low as $1577; President as low as $2150. NOTHING MORE TO PAY.

CHARLES H. ELLIOTT
253 Hunter St. W. Phone 1300
J. E. A. FITZGERALD, FUEL OFFICE

MY PRESCRIPTION FOR A PARCHED TONGUE

By Simple! Take "time off" for WRIGLEY'S Spearmint! Smoke all you like — no need to let "parched tongue" spoil your smoking pleasure! When your mouth feels dry and cigarettes lose their taste . . . take "time off" for a cool delicious stick of WRIGLEY'S. See how it freshens your mouth.

MAKES THE NEXT SMOKE TASTE BETTER

The Examiner

The Examiner is a Member of the Audit Bureau of Circulation
The Daily Examiner, published every lawful evening by The Peterborough Examiner, Limited. Office: 416 George Street. $6.00 per year Delivered in City. Out-of-town Subscribers by mail, $4.00 per year.
Member: Canadian Press, Limited; Audit Bureau of Circulation; Canadian Daily Newspapers Association
U.S. Advertising Representatives: Prudden, King & Prudden Inc., Chicago, Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and New York City.
Advertising Rates on Application.
E. M. GLOVER, Managing Director

'PHONES: Editorial 1601, Business Office 1600. Private Branch Exchange to all Departments.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 10, 1935

PREMATURE REPORTS.

Making all allowance for journalistic enterprise, which naturally strives to get at the news when it is news, it must be admitted that Mr. MacKenzie King is justified in demanding an investigation as to how the details of the findings of the Mass Buying and Price Spreads Committee reached the newspapers before the report was presented to Parliament.

Certainly it is not fair to the members of the House that their first knowledge of such a vitally important report as this should come through the medium of the press rather than through the regular channels, and we say that in spite of a newspaper instinct that causes us to welcome the premature appearance of the findings as an indication that live newspaper men are on the job down at Ottawa.

This is not the first instance when statements in regard to the mass buying and price spreads investigation have "beaten the gun" in getting into the newspapers, and Mr. King, as the official leader of the Opposition, has every reason to feel aggrieved that because of a "leak" somewhere Parliament has been deprived of its undoubted right to receive important reports before they are given out to the public.

There should be a thorough investigation as to who was responsible for making this information available to the press before members of the House were acquainted with the details.

COLOSSAL EXPENDITURES.

If spending public money can bring prosperity the United States should be well past the stage described by Mr. Hoover when he talked of two cars in every garage and a chicken in every pot.

David Lawrence, editor of the United States News, has been digging into the expenditure figures with somewhat staggering results.

For example, he points out that Uncle Sam during the first 134 years of the Republic's existence spent for all governmental purposes the huge sum of $24,512,845,000.

Yet in the three years of the Roosevelt administration the United States' budgets have outlined expenditures totalling $24,208,538,000.

In other words, the past three years have seen the American Government spend as much money as the country expended during a century and a quarter of its history, a period that included four wars.

The amount spent for work relief alone has been far in excess of the federal share of the whole cost of the American Civil War.

The latest huge addition to the spending program has been the $4,888,000,000 relief bill recently authorized.

Just what is involved in the expenditure of such a colossal sum may be judged from the fact that a writer in the Wall St. Journal has estimated that if a person started at the year 1 A.D. and spent at the rate of $4.80 every minute since he would not have been able to spend the whole amount up to the present time.

Where it is all going to and nobody seems to know; all this money must come out of the pockets of a people whose incomes and earning capacity are shrinking year by year.

A PREMIER AND THE PRESS.

Premier Pattullo of British Columbia is the latest politician to threaten the freedom of the press.

The path of the coast Premier has not been strewn with roses since his assession to office; he has not had much success in bringing about the improvement in conditions that he promised, and some of the newspapers have been saying things about him that have evidently penetrated beneath the skin.

At all events he made a speech not long ago in which he said a lot of things about the press. He intimated that in some cases liberty had become licensed, and pointing out that in some European countries it had been found desirable to "suppress such operations," remarked that he was not sure that it would not be necessary that action would have to be taken in this country.

The Premier's complaint was that the newspapers opposing him have been "encouraging ideas subversive of constitutional government," and apparently he is of the opinion that in criticizing him the offending journals are attacking the constitution and should be censored or suppressed or something.

"Would Mussolini submit to criticism by the press of his actions? Would Hitler? Then why should Pattullo?" demands the Ottawa Journal, and seemingly the British Columbia Premier is thinking along that very line himself.

We are afraid, however, that he'll have to take a leaf out of the book of Mr. Hepburn, who says he has learned "to take it on the chin and come up smiling." This is not Italy or Germany, and the freedom of the Canadian press must be maintained, even if the feathers of the politicians are sometimes ruffled.

MR. SWEEZEY'S SOLUTION.

While R. O. Sweezey, former head of the Beauharnois Corporation, may be regarded as an interested party, there will be a great many people who will agree with his sizing up of the Quebec power purchase controversy as a sensible solution of a most troublesome situation.

Mr. Sweezey believes Ontario would be lacking in judgment to cut itself entirely off from a supply of power that he feels satisfied will all be required within a comparatively short time, but he recognizes the fact that for the next two or three years there will be under the existing contracts a surplus of power, the acceptance of which would be embarrassing to the province.

"It is manifest that Mr. Hepburn has to do something," said Mr. Sweezy in a recent address. "He is pledged in more ways than one to reduce the cost of government. He is frightened by the Hydro picture, though I think his advisors have done quite a lot in trying to turn fright into panic. It seems to me that the critical period for Ontario is from now until about 1938. During these next two, three or four years Mr. Hepburn needs some relief from the overburden of too heavy purchase. To me, and no doubt to many others who can look forward to great progress and prosperity in this country, it is obvious that Ontario will need from Quebec in the next few years, not only the power made available by the present contracts, but several hundred thousand horsepower in excess thereof."

Mr. Sweezey's solution is that instead of repudiating the contracts, Ontario should be able to enter into new agreements with the Quebec power companies to ease the pressure during the next few years, with substantial reductions in costs to the province.

HYDRO NEEDS SALESMEN.

Cancellation by the Hepburn Government of the Ontario Hydro Power Commission's contracts to take power from Quebec companies has brought forward a number of suggested alternatives, denunciations and criticisms, but it has been left for our neighbor, the Aylmer Express, to come forward with a plan which it believes would overcome the difficulty. The whole trouble arises over the inability of the Ontario Hydro to find a market for power contracted for by the Government at a time when it looked as if the power would be badly needed. We have bought power which we cannot use. So what? The Aylmer Express' idea is to do what any manufacturing or business concern would do if it found it had a surplus of its product on hand. That is to go out and sell the surplus, or at least make an honest-to-goodness effort to do so. "What Hydro evidently needs," says the Express, "is fewer engineers and politicians in control, and some system of real live salesmanship." The Express declares it has concluded that just about half the trouble with Hydro is that its rules and regulations are now obsolete and need a complete overhauling. The Hydro commissioners in Toronto, or the Government, or whoever is now in control of this utility, should be offering every inducement in these times to retain customers and to secure new ones. Instead they are actually driving away old customers and scaring out prospective new ones by the threat of increasing rates, finds the Express, which gives the following instance of the situation in Aylmer:

"For years planing and chopping mills and other small industries have been consistent users of Hydro. Owing to a falling off in trade such mills have been forced to lay aside their motors because the service charge of $1 per horsepower per month made the cost of electric power prohibitive for the few hours the mills were in operation. Only this week one mill has installed a 25 horsepower tractor and another a gas engine to replace their electric motors. Both mills were forced by Hydro rules to pay a charge of $25 per month for service, even if their motors did not run for the fraction of an hour. We can think of at least six other small industries here which are now using gas engines and would be delighted to use Hydro were it not for the prohibitive service charge. Where large plants are in continuous operation for eight to ten hours per day, for six days per week, there is no particular objection to the dollar per horsepower service charge, because the overhead charge then becomes so low it is negligible. But when a plant is only run a few hours per day or a few days per month, it is prohibitive. This service charge was put on by Sir Adam Beck in the early days of Hydro, when power was at a premium, but now that there is an abundance of energy, and Hydro is in need of customers, this obsolete service charge is driving power users to gas engines. If the town of Aylmer could dispose of more power during the daylight hours, even as much as we did a year or so ago, surplus revenue would soon be created and customers would enjoy cheaper rates, instead of facing a deficit as at present."

Looking beyond the borders of the town of Aylmer, the Express expresses the opinion that there must be thousands of instances throughout Ontario where Hydro has lost power customers, and thousands of prospective power users who would welcome electricity for power if rates were made attractive. The Times-Journal does not believe it is necessary to go outside the county of Elgin to find these instances of a condition which must be quite general throughout the province. Go along most any concession in any of the townships in Elgin, not the back concessions, necessarily, nor to the poorer farms. Keep to the well-travelled county roads, visit a good farm after dark, and you will find the farmer's wife reading by the aid of coal-oil lamps and the farmer out in the barn doing the chores carrying the inefficient, dangerous lantern. Ask the farmer's wife or the farmer why they do not use Hydro and they will tell you it's because of the service charge, prohibitive in most cases. Knock off that service charge, or lower it to a nominal figure, give attractive power rates, and seventy-five per cent. of the farmers in Elgin County would sign up for Hydro to-morrow. The same would happen in every other county in the province, and the surplus power we are now told can never be used, or a large block of it, would disappear. Induce people to use Hydro, rather than discourage the use of it. Take the Aylmer paper's advice, Mr. Hydro Commissioners, change the rules a bit, hire a few live salesmen, and get rid of the surplus.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Anyway all-night session of the Legislature should help to increase the consumption of electric energy, even if they do develop more heat than light.

In the interest of economy, it might be well to pay J. F. Pouliot's sessional allowance, only on condition that he remain at home. The member for Temiscouata wastes more time in Parliament than any half-dozen members who have ever sat in the House.

Public opinion is swinging to the side of those who think that what is needed in the matter of the Quebec power purchases is a new deal—not the dropping of all dealings.

Indian wives in Central America, we are told, are selling at from $1 to $10, with the purchaser having the right to return their wives any time within two years and secure a refund of the purchase money. This is slightly different from the Hollywood plan, it will be noted.

The last time there was a filibuster in the Ontario Legislature it drove the Drury Government to the country. However, this is one occasion on which history is not likely to repeat itself.

Premier Hepburn says he has learned to "take it on the chin," and evidently he thinks Quebec power company bondholders must also grasp the same lesson.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Registered U. S. Patent Office

By STANLEY

ALL OF US

(By Marshall Maslin.)

I....I....I

Dignity's worst enemy is a hiccough....One of man's worst annoyances is a broken shoe string, which he ties together in the morning and forgets until he takes his shoes off at night. Abnormally foresighted men keep extra pairs of shoestaces in the top bureau drawer, but I've never known a man with that much foresight.

Don't ever remind a woman that her skirt is showing or that she has a 'run' in her stocking.

I have my weaknesses, but I don't worry about germs.

I'm the fellow who positively can NOT tell you what to do for a bad cold.

The most fascinating kid in our town was the one who had been to reform school.

I'd like to go up in a balloon, but if anyone ever invites me I'll probably have an engagement that I can't possibly break.

A doctor once prescribed some medicine for me, but I didn't take it....When he asked why, I said I hadn't like the bad taste of it. ....And I can still remember his look of contempt.

One ambition which I never attained was to be able to chew tobacco and spit as far as the old railway crossing watchman down at the foot of Third street.

I used to think "sensitiveness" was a virtue....but I've changed my mind.

I know a woman who is on a strict diet....She went to a dinner and sat next to a friend and broke all the diet regulations and had a happy time....She didn't suffer at all from eating what she shouldn't, and she thinks happiness was responsible...Any broad-minded doctor might agree.

IN DAYS GONE BY

Items Taken From Old Fyles of The Examiner

APRIL 10, 1925

A local man, arrested near Lindsay yesterday for speeding in his car, was fined $100 to-day and his license suspended for 30 days..... Several aldermen and many local citizens plan to bring up again the question of daylight saving here for the summer.

APRIL 10, 1915

Dr. Gallivan was elected president of the Medical Association here last night at the annual meeting....In a letter to his brother here, Louis Chernikof, "someplace in Russia," tells of Russian soldiers' hardships there, stating many go weeks without having their boots off.

APRIL 10, 1905

At present there are 683 Bell Telephone Co. subscribers here, an increase of 141 during the last year... The Board of Works will recommend to the Council the construction of granolithic walks on many streets around the town this summer and also a number of sewers.

One Minute Pulpit

Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder. Yea, all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility: for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble.—1 Peter 5:5.

A Thought for Today

"Tell ye the daughter of Zion, Behold thy King cometh unto thee, meek, and sitting upon an ass, and a colt the foal of an ass."
—St. Matthew, 21:5.

It so Happened

finds Howard Gerring

THAT ON APRIL 10

1763—The first court of justice was established in Nova Scotia.

1910—Because a member of parliament expressed his views and was arrested, a three-day riot began in London.

1929—William Booth, founder of the Salvatia Army, born.

1852—Scots from Cape Breton arrived at Adelaide, Australia, as pioneers.

1864—Forward movement of the Red River expedition abandoned.

1902—Cecil Rhodes founder of the Rhodes scholarship, buried on his own estate in South Africa.

1904—A fire which destroyed the entire business section of Toronto caused a loss of $10,000,000.

1907—Fifteen persons were killed in a railway accident at Chapeau.

1912—The steamship Titanic, "the boat which couldn't sink" and which sank in a collision with an iceberg, left Southampton on its maiden voyage to New York.

1933—New York aldermen became frightened at "human fly" stunts and passed city ordinances prohibiting such acts.

1928—An attempt to assassinate Premier Mussolini of Italy was frustrated when a bomb was discovered on a railway track shortly before his train passed.

What's in the Name of Canadian Cities and Towns?

by FRANK H. WILLIAMS

RIVIERE DU LOUP, QUEBEC

This renowned sport and tourist centre was first visited by missionaries in 1663, but it was not until 160 years later that Riviere du Loup was instituted as a parish. It was incorporated in 1874 under the name of Fraserville, in honor of Alexander Fraser, a former seigneur.

According to local tradition it was on the banks of the river which flows through this town that Champlain met for the first time the du Loup tribe of Indians. The river and the town have taken their names from that now extinct tribe. The town was rechristened in 1919.

Britain's Government-owned telegraph service showed a loss of $3,269,000 in the last fiscal year.

NORTH MONAGHAN

SCHOOL BOARD SETS CHARGES

Council Not Responsible for Charges Made for May's and Confederation Schools.

GENERAL MEET APPROVED

The North Monaghan Council held their regular monthly meeting on April 8th at the Court House, Peterborough. All the members were present and Reeve Hi Wood presiding.

The following accounts were passed for payment: for the wood camp, at Catchacoma Lake, National Grocery Co., $99.03; J. N. Lillico, $5; Purity Baking Company, $26.25; Fitzpatrick and Geraghty, $27.96; Harry Gills, $71.04.

By-law No. 1094 was regularly read and passed authorizing the Township of North Monaghan to borrow from the Bank of Montreal the additional sum of $9,959 to meet the expenditures for School Section No. 2, North Monaghan for the current year.

The following relief accounts were passed for payment: J. O. Pue, provisions, $7.20; K. S. Johnston, $23.80; H. Davidson, $40.75; H. McMahon, $23.45; T. J. Hunter and Sons, $26.75; Frank Peters, $16; A. E. Saunders, $24; W. M. Lunn, $44.35; Mrs. E. Cookman, $14.30; W. J. Grady, $2.95; Selkirk Men's Wear, $1.45; Archie Tripp, $21.50; Joseph Killingbeck, $19.35.

A resolution was passed that the clerk order two railway crossing signs from the Department of Public Highways and that a cheque be issued for $10 to cover the same.

A resolution was passed that whereas a report has been circulated to the effect that the Municipal Council of North Monaghan is responsible for charges made for the use of May's and Confederation Schools for political meetings. Now therefore this council wishes it distinctly understood that the School Board and not the council makes the charge for the use of the school.

The following road accounts were passed for payment: Imperial Oil Co., $7.58; R. J. Pullybank repairs, $5.25; Dominion Road Machinery Co., blade for grader, $10.25; Aldous and Metcalf, $2.30; Archie Patterson, 75c; Arthur Blodgett, hauling, $5.

A resolution was passed that a meeting of the council for general business be held at the Court House on Saturday, April 27th at one o'clock in the afternoon for the purpose of receiving the final returns for the 1933 tax roll and that all taxes not paid at this date will be returned to the County of Peterborough for collection and on May last 10 per cent will be added thereto.

Roy Emery made application to have the scavenger charges increased to 40c. A resolution was passed that Roy Emery be allowed 35c per month instead of the present charge of 30c per month.

The following accounts were passed for payment: C. B. Neals, $32; Ev White, $8; Grant re Dr. Cardwell's will, $10; Grant re Foley estate, $5; James and Ezra Conners, $25; Norman Killingbeck, $18.

The meeting then adjourned.

A Thought

True merit, like a river, the deeper it is, the less noise it makes. —Lord Halifax.

Bonarlaw

Pearl Trottier returned to Bonarlaw on Friday after having spent the past two weeks at Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Wellman of Campbellford spent Thursday the guest of Mr. D. Wellman.

Mrs. Arthur Burkitt visited friends at Vanwood on Friday.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

A GREAT NOVA SCOTIA JURIST

On this date (April 10) in 1880 the death took place of Hon. John George Marshall, former chief justice of Common Pleas of Nova Scotia. Born at Halifax in 1786, he was called to the bar in 1808. Three years later he was elected to the Assembly of Cape Breton for Sydney, and at once won reputation. When Cape Breton was re-united with Nova Scotia in 1820 he continued as member for Sydney for three years when he was named a judge of Common Pleas. He was for long years chief justice of that court and in that capacity decided many famous cases, most of his judgments being regarded as of high legal and constitutional importance. He was the legal father of a number of students who afterwards became eminent in local and federal politics, always a leading citizen respected by all and loved by the legal profession. His funeral was one of the largest in the history of Halifax. No law library is complete without books containing opinions by John George Marshall.

Lakefield

On Friday evening last one of the jolliest card parties of the season was held under the auspices of the curlers, the men looking after the arrangements and the ladies taking the supper responsibility, and each group making a big success of their task. The party was held in the comfortable lodge hall of the I.O. O.F., and seventeen tables of euchre were played, prizes being won by Mrs. Renwick and George Graham, Mrs. J. R. Hill and Dr. Renwick. J. W. Ridpath won the lucky chair prize. After refreshments were served, the prizes were presented by E. W. Bailey, president of the Men's Curling Club. Mr. Bailey paid a splendid tribute to the co-operation of the two clubs which played a big part in the success of the season. The proceeds of the card party were intended to cover the cost of putting in a gravel foundation at the rink to improve the curling ice.

Prizes were presented for a mixed bonspiel held during the season, the winning rink being Mrs. Renwick and Mrs. P. Spence, Messrs. Junker and Scriver, and the runners-up Mrs. H. E. Moore, Mrs. M. Wannamaker, Messrs. S. Charlton and D. Campbell.

Mrs. J. R. Hull sang sweetly, "The Sunshine of Your Smile," and Mrs. Chaplin gave a humorous reading, entitled "Relations." Both numbers were heartily applauded, and to wind up the big company formed a circle and loyally sang the National Anthem, following it by Auld Lang Syne," sung in the time-honored manner at gatherings of friends in British countries. The party netted more than was expected financially, but even more as a social success, one which will always bring a happy memory.

The Lakefield post of the Canadian Legion have announced a dance on May 6 in honor of the silver jubilee of His Majesty King George. The proceeds will be given to the jubilee cancer fund.

Mr. W. G. Ogilvie, of Toronto, spent the week-end with his family in the village.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. T. Langley and their daughters have moved to the village and taken up residence on Strickland street.

Mrs. J. G. Brown has returned to the village from Toronto where she spent the winter.

Mrs. K. A. Mackenzie and son, Innes, are visiting relatives in Brantford.

Miss Hawthorne, of Medicine Hat, is the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Samuel Edwards.

Mrs. J. F. Harvey is visiting her mother in Newmarket.

Mr. John Hunter has moved to McCracken's Landing, where he will spend the summer.

Rev. A. W. Mackenzie was in Oakville on Saturday officiating at the Pullen-Young marriage.

Mrs. J. B. Chant, of Unionville, was in the village last week renewing old acquaintances.

Miss Ruth Johnston and Mr. Bernard Johnston were guests of friends in Ottawa last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kidd, of Toronto, were guests of Mrs. A. J. Kidd last week.

Miss Jane Hall, of Peterborough, spent last week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Nesbitt.

Mr. and Mrs. E. de C. Fletcher are visiting friends and relatives in Oakville.

Roseneath

Miss Myrtle Hogg of Cobourg spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Lily Hogg and other relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gray and her mother, Mrs. George Herrington, accompanied by Mrs. John Herrington and Miss Ruby Herrington of Fenelon Falls spent Sunday with Mr. R. Jaynes, Baltimore, who is ill.

Mr. George Turner and his mother, Mrs. Lily Turner and Misses Kathleen and Helen Barrie motored to Peterborough on Sunday to visit Miss Ida Turner, who is ill.

Dr. and Mrs. Sam Ryan spent the week-end with relatives at Kingston and Perth.

Guests with Mr. and Mrs. Beecher Hogg and Mrs. George Hogg, over the week-end were Mr. Jack Robinson, Miss Helen Robinson of Harwood, Mrs. Edgar Dunn, Elaine and Maurice of Trent River.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Jewell and son, Montgomery of Fenelon Falls spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Waldie spent Saturday in Fenelon Falls.

Mrs. E. J. Milne is visiting friends at Fenelon Falls and Bewdley.

Soldiers in the British Territorial Army parading during the Royal Jubilee celebrations in London, Cardiff and Edinburgh will receive pay and ration allowances for the day.

HAVELOCK LAYS JUBILEE PLANS

Committee is Named — John Kinnaird Suggests Adult and Children Parades.

SPORTS VOTED DOWN.

HAVELOCK, April 10 (Examiner Correspondence)—A special meeting of the citizens of Havelock was held in the council chambers on Monday evening for the purpose of arranging a public celebration May 6th, the Silver Jubilee of His Majesty's ascension to the throne.

Reeve E. J. Leeson was chairman and J. R. Bedford secretary. George Kennedy, president of the Albion Club said the season was too early for track and field events. This had been suggested in the bulletin from Hon. N. C. Nixon, Provincial Secretary.

John Kinnaird suggested an adult parade be staged in the morning gathering in the C.P.R. station square at 10.30. From here the parade would advance to the town hall where an appropriate program of an hour's duration might be held. A children's parade was suggested for the afternoon when the kiddies might receive favors of some kind in commemoration of the event.

No Trustees Present

The village School Board was one of the few bodies not represented at the meeting. Rev. P. M. Colquhoun was pleased to see the council's action in the arrangements. He assured them the fullest co-operation of the village clergy. He expressed regret at the absence of a School Board representative.

Councillor E. W. Seeney voiced his willingness to assist in any manner possible and asked all good British subjects to display flags and bunting on the public holiday.

Councillor Harvey Gordon suggested they appoint a committee, otherwise the arrangements and work would all be left for a few.

Mrs. Joseph Hoffman said the committee would have the co-operation of the Women's Institute and suggested they would change their meeting date from first Monday to May 1st, as the village council had done.

Representative

With Reeve E. J. Leeson, chairman, following were elected to represent the various organizations, clubs, bodies and churches in the village: John Kinnaird, L.O.L.; Mrs. Joseph Hoffman, W.I.; Rev. P. M. Colquhoun, Knox Presbyterian Church; C. F. Roberts, civic employees; George A. Kennedy, Havelock Albion Club; Mrs. Harvey Gordon, Dorcas Rebeccas Lodge; Mrs. L. A. Gould, W.A.; Wm. Rice, Royal Lodge, I.O.O.F.; J. H. Moore, C.P.R. Recreation Club; Mrs. James Diaper, L.O.B.A.; W. A. Copp, Village School Board; L. A. Gould, Havelock Lodge, A.F. & A.M.; P. Yuill, Public School; N. L. Small, B.A., H.C.S.; Revs. E. W. G. Worrall, S. A. Kemp and J. R. Bedford will represent the Anglican, United and Catholic Churches respectively; Miss E. E. Wright the Ontario Order of Eastern Star; Mrs. John Kinnaird, Mission Hall; Mrs. William Rice, Companion Court Princess of Wales, I.O.O.F.; R. G. Kemp, the Havelock Brass Band.

On motion of John Kinnaird and E. W. Seeney the secretary was authorized to have meeting cards printed and distributed for the various committee meetings.

On motion of John Kinnaird and Councillor A. Spencer the first committee meeting will be held in the council chambers Wednesday evening, April 10th, at 7.30; the secretary was instructed to notify all committee members to be on hand when further plans for an appropriate observance of the Silver Jubilee will take place.

Presentation Made To Rush Point Couple

RUSH POINT, April 10.—(Examiner Correspondence).—On Friday evening a miscellaneous shower and party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Johnston to do honor to the family who soon are moving from this section to reside in Trent River district.

A large number of the neighbors and friends, including people from Havelock and Campbellford, as well as the immediate vicinity, spent a happy evening with games and music.

Miss Corinne MacArthur and Mrs. Earl Pollock read an address and presented Mr. and Mrs. Johnston and family with baskets of gifts—a fine tribute to the high esteem in which the family is held in this section. Mr. Johnston thanked the neighbors nicely.

After lunch was served some of the young people enjoyed a bit of dancing to music supplied by the boys of the neighborhood.

READ THE WANT ADS

Silvers and Coppers Lead Toronto Mining Activity

MARKET QUOTATIONS

QUOTATIONS COMPLETE TO CLOSING TIME

Toronto Stocks
BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

	High	Low	Close
Abitibi	90-100	..	..
Con. Bake	13¼	13	13¼
Br. Am. Oil	14⅝	14⅛	14⅝
Beaharnois	3⅛-3⅜	..	..
Can. Bread Co.	2⅛	2¼	2⅛
Bldg. Prods.	28½	28	28½
Bell Tel.	125	126½	125
Burt F.N.	30	30	30
Brazilian	8¾	8½	8⅛
Brewers & Dists	60c	..	..
Brewers Corp.	3⅛	3	3⅛
B.C. Pow. 'A'	23¼-24	..	..
Can. Bud.	7¾b	..	..
Can. Cem.	6¼	6¾	6¾
C.P.R.	10¾	10	10
Can. Dredge	20½-21¾	..	..
Can. C. and F.	8	..	..
Can. Canners	5-5¼	..	..
Can. Oil	12-12¼	..	..
Can. Malt	30	30	30
Cockshutt	7¼	7¼	7¼
Dom. Bridge	26¼b	..	..
Dist. Seagram	16¾	15¾	15¾
Dom. Stores	8¾	8¾	9¾
E. Electric	10½c	..	..
Ford "A"	28¾	28¾	28¼
C.G.E.	155b	..	..
Can. Gypsum	6½b	..	..
Cons. Gas	189½	189	189
Goodyear	130	129	130
Walk G. and W.	27¾	26¼	26¼
Int Nickel	25¾	25¾	25¾
Int Util 'A'	100	....	....
Int Util 'B'	25B	....	....
Ind Alcohol	9½	9¼	9¾
Imp Oil	16¾	16¾	16½
Imp Tobacco	12¾	12¾	12¾
Con Smelt	133½	132	133½
Laura S	62	....	....
Loblaw 'A'	18¾	18¾	18¾
Mont L H and P	26	25	26
McC Frontenac	14	....	....
Massey Harris	4½	4¾	4¾
Moore Corp	18¼	18	18¼
Page Hersey	81¼B	....	....
Pressed Metals	9¾	....	....
Power Corp	7¾	7¼	7¾
Photo Eng	21¼23	....	....
Int Pete	31¾	31¼	31¾
Sup Petro	24½	23½	24½
Stand Pav	35-90	....	....
Tip Top Tailors	85	....	....
C Vinegar	21¼B	....	....
Wineries	4¾-5	....	....
Walker Brew	3¾	....	....
Weston's Ltd	35	....	....
Steel of Can	45	45	45

New York Stocks
BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

	High	Low	Close
Atchison	40¾	39¾	40¼
Auburn Auto	19	18¼	18½
Allied Chem.	134¾	..	..
Amer. Can.	119	118¼	118¾
Am. Smelting	35¾	35½	35½
Am. Rad. & S.S.	3¾	13¼	13¼
Am. Tel. & Tel.	108	106½	106½
Am. Roll. Mills	19¾	19¼	19½
Anaconda Cop.	11	10¾	11
Balt. & Ohio	10¾	10¼	10¾
Baldwin Loco.	1¾	..	..
Bordens	23	22¾	23
Byers, A. M.	14¼	14⅛	14⅛
Bendix Avn.	14¼	14	14
Beth. Steel	36¾	36½	35½
Briggs	27	26¾	26¾
Canada Dry	10	..	..
Can. Pacific	10¼	10	10
Case, J. I.	52	50¾	50¾
Chrysler	36¼	35¾	35¾
Columbus Gas	6¾	6½	6½
Coca-Cola	192¼	..	..
Cons. Gas	20¾	19¾	19¾
Com. Solvents	19¾	19¼	19½
Dupont	93¾	92¾	93½
Erie	9½	..	..
El. Bond & Share	7¼	6¾	6¾
Elect. Auto L.	21¾	21¼	21¼
Gen. Electric	23¾	23½	23½
Gen. Food Prods.	34¼	33¾	33¾
Gen. Motors	29¾	29¼	29¼
Gillette Saf. Raz	15	14¾	14¾
Goodyear	18½	18¼	18¾
Houston Oil	15½	15	15
Hudson Motors	7¼	..	..
Int. Harvester	38¾	38¼	38¼
Int Nickel	26¾	26½	26¼
Int Tel & Tel	7¾	7¼	7¼
Johns-Manville	44¾	43½	43½
Liquid Carb	29¾	29¾	29¾
Mont Ward	25¼	24¾	24¾
Mack Truck	22¾	22¼	22¾
Nash Motors	13¾	13¼	13¼
N.Y. Central	16	15¾	15¾
Nat Biscuit	25	24¾	24¾
Nor American	13¼	13	13
Phillips Pete	18¾	17¾	18¼
Pack Motors	3¾	3¾	3¾
Penn Ry	20¾	20¼	20¼
Radio Corp	4¾	4¾	4¾
Sears Roebuck	36¾	36¾	36
Simmons Bed Co.	7¾	7¾	7¾
Stand. Brands	16¼	15¾	15¾
Stand. G. and E.	3½	..	..
Std. Oil of N.J.	40¼	39½	39¾
Socony Vac.	13¾	13¼	13¼
Studebaker	2¾	..	..
Stewart Warn.	8¾	8¾	8½
South. Pacific	15¼	14¾	14¾
Texas Corp.	20¾	19¾	20¾
Timken Roll. B.	32	31½	31½
Texas G. Sulph.	31	30¾	31
Union Pacific	91½	90¼	91
Union Carb.	48¾	48¼	48¼
United Corp.	3	2¾	2¾
U.S. Rubber	11¾	11½	11¾
U.S. Steel	31¾	30¾	30¾
Vanadium Corp.	15¾	15	15
Westinghouse	38½	37½	37½
Warner Bros.	3¼	3¼	3¼
Yellow Cab.	2¾	..	..
Woolworth	55½	54¾	54¾
Nat. Distillers	28¾	27¾	27¾

BACKING THE GOVERNMENT

WINDSOR, Ont., April 10. (CP). Essex County Trades and Labor Council was on record to-day as unanimously supporting the Ontario Government's action in repudiating Quebec power contracts, termed "ruinous" in a resolution passed at last night's meeting. The resolution also contained a request the low wages allegedly paid Hydro employees be investigated.

Toronto Mining
WATSON, WALLACE & CO.

	High	Low	Close
Acme	22	..	..
Ajax	86	..	..
Aldermac	9⅛	8	8⅛
Anglo Huronian	380	375	380
Bagamac	7¼	7	7
B R X	24	22	22
Beattie	175-180	..	..
Bobjo	26½	24½	25
Braylorne	805	800	800
Base Metals	60	..	..
Buffalo Ank	260	260	265
Coniagas	305-325	..	..
Can. Malart	63	62¾	63
Castle Treth	84	75	82
Cent. Patricia	149	145	145
Chem. Research	160	150	150
Coniaurum	215	212	212
Dome	3900	3850	3850
Eldorado	159	140	152
Falconbridge	380	370	372
God's Lake	137	136	136
Goldale	14	..	..
Granada	31¼	31	31
Greene Stab.	25	24	24
Gunnar	65	..	..
Hollinger	1660	1650	1650
Home Oil	53	52	53
Hudson Bay	1415	1400	1400
Howey	87	86	86
Jackson Manion	14	..	..
Kirk. Cons.	6	..	..
Kirk. Lake	45	42	45
Kirk. Townsite	24	23	24
Kirk. Hudson	27	..	..
Lee Gold	5¾	5¼	5¼
Lebel Oro	6¾	6½	6½
Little Long L.	565	550	550
Man. and East	4¾	4½	4½
Macassa	220	218	220
McIntyre	4225-4300	..	..
McKenzie	122	120	120
McMillan	20	19	19¼
McWatters	168	164	164
Mining Corp.	110	100	110
Nipissing	245	233	232
Noranda	3670	3650	3665
North. Canada	22-28	..	..
Paymaster	18	..	..
Parkhill	21	..	..
Pioneer	1135	1135	1125
Pend Oreille	56	50	56
Premier	167	164	165
Pickle Crow	279	275	276
Read Anthier	70	69	70
Reno	142	140	142
Red Lake Gold	40	38½	38½
Sherrit	65	62	64
Siscoe	393	392	392
San Antonio	375	365	365
St. Anthony	22	21	22
Sudbury-Basin	145	135	145
Sud. Mines	4½	4	4
Sylvanite	234	230	230
Sullivan	68	66	67
Tech Hughes	416	415	415
Tobourn	115	112	112
Towagamac	26	24	24
Ventures	90¼	..	..
Waite Amulet	80	..	..
Wayside	17½	17	17
Wright Harg.	870	856	866

Bankfield	73-74
Casey Contact	26-28
Galatea	8-9½
Hudson Pat.	5½-16½
Karl Springer	175-225
Long Lac Lagoon	10-12
Lamaque	165-175
Magnet	15-16
Mosher	3¼-4½
McLeod	4½-5½
Oklend	37-39
Smelter	9½-10½
Sturgeon	91-93

Sales—1,079,000.

Grain Quotations
LEEMING AND LEEMING
Phones 2786 and 2787

Winnipeg Wheat

	May	July
High	89⅞	90¼
Low	88⅛	88⅞
Close	89⅝	90

Chicago Wheat

	May	July
High	97¼	95½
Low	95⅝	93½
Close	96¾	95

BOND LIST
WATSON, WALLACE & CO.

Dominion of Canada

1936	104½-104⅞
1937	110½-111
1941	111½-112½
1952	104⅝-105⅛
1958	109 -109⅝

Province of Ontario

1948	109 -110

Doctor Cat-Walks To Reach Patient

OXFORD, April 10 (C.P.) — While working 70 feet above the ground Charles Barwick of Oxford, was caught by the hand in the cogwheels operating a conveyor of coal to the bunkers of Oxford electricity works. He had been fast for 45 minutes when Dr. Justin Bailey arrived, having climbed a perpendicular iron ladder, crawled over a roof and along a narrow girder.

"I was up there three-quarters of an hour," the doctor told reporters. "I gave Barwick some morphia, and when workmen had dismembled part of the machinery we were lowered to the ground in the garb which lifts the coal into the bunkers."

Dr. Bailey belittled his unique emergency trip and disclaimed the "heroism" suggested by his friends.

SILVER ISSUES CLOSE ON HIGH

Oils Out of Picture in Strictly Silver and Copper Market To-day.

GOLDS CONTINUE STEADY.

TORONTO, April 10 (C.P.) — More than a million shares changed hands on the mining board of the Toronto Exchange to-day with the traffic concentrated mainly in the silver stocks and the coppers in a secondary role. Prices in these groups were well up at the close. Golds continued steady in prices but slow, and the oils were out of the picture. A stiff advance in the price of bar silver provided the stimulant in the white metal group.

STRONGER TONE IN INDUSTRIALS

Metals, Liquors, Oils and Food Shares Leaders in Toronto Advance.

GAINS PREDOMIATE.

TORONTO, April 10 (C.P.) — Industrial stocks displayed a much better tone to-day on the Toronto Exchange, cheered by periods of strength on the New York market. Metals, liquors, oils and foods were the leaders in the advance, and gains also predominated in the construction, implement and miscellaneous groups. Prices changes at the close were 75 per cent in the advance column.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, April 10 (A.P.) — Improvement in rans and oil shares gave the stock market a steadier tone in late dealings to-day after profit-taking had unsettled the entire list in early dealings.

At the beginning of the final hour leaders showing advances of minor fractions to around a point included Union Pacific, American Smelting, Standard of New Jersey, Delaware and Hudson, and American Tobacco. Amerada Corp. and International Business Machines were about 2 higher. American Telephone and Dupont were among others dragging. The late tone was fairly steady.

Sales aggregated 900,000 shares.

New York Silver Is Highest Since 1926

NEW YORK, April 10. —(AP)— The price of foreign bar silver climbed 1¼ cents to 64¼ cents an ounce to-day, making the highest level for the white metal since 1926.

At its quoted level today the market was only ¾ of a cent an ounce under the price at which the government has agreed to purchase newly-mined domestic production under the Silver Purchase Act passed last year.

BLAST KILLS 1, INJURES DOZEN.

WEYMOUTH, Mass., April 10 (A.P.).—One person was killed and a dozen were seriously injured early to-day in an explosion in the cellar of a chain grocery store in Washington Square, Weymouth Landing.

Chief J. Ralph Bacon of the Weymouth Fire Department, said the explosion was caused by gas. He estimated the damage "unofficially" at $500,000.

Y.W.C.A. FOUNDER DIES.

SAINT JOHN, N.B., April 10.—(C.P.)—Mrs. Agnes Bogart, 91, founder of the Young Women's Christian Association in Canada, will be buried here to-morrow. She died yesterday at St. Lambert, Que.

From the little unit she established here 66 years ago Mrs. Bogart watched the Y.W.C.A. membership in the Dominion grow to 25,000. In 1870 there were 25 members.

NEW AUSTRALIAN GOVERNOR

LONDON, April 10 (C.P. Cable)— Lord Trenchard, Commander of the Metropolitan Police Force, will be invited to succeed Sir Isaac Isaacs as the next Governor General of Australia, it was reported to-day.

British Malaya is planning a series of important celebrations for King George's Jubilee this year.

NOTICE

IN MAILING REPLIES to Box Numbers at The Examiner, please put sufficient postage on the envelope to ensure the Box-holder getting them. Stamps are not necessary, of course, if left at the Office.

These Conferences Are Really Serious At Times

Apparently the situation is serious as Sir John Simon and Konstantin von Neurath attempt to convince Adolf Hitler of some point in their recent conference which came to an inconclusive termination. The group shows (LEFT to RIGHT): Ambassador for Britain to Germany, Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary; von Neurath, German foreign minister and Adolf Hitler, German chancellor. The photo was taken in the chancellory at Berlin. This was the conference that resulted from Germany's announcement to re-arm and thus scrap the Versailles treaty.

Livestock-Produce Quotations

TORONTO POULTRY

TORONTO, April 10 (C.P.) — Wholesale prices on poultry as supplied by the United Farmers' Co-operative Co., here to-day were in order of Live "A" and Dressed "A" select grades: Hens, over 5 lb., 12 and 14c; 4 to 5 lb., 11 and 13c; 3 to 4 lb, 9 and 11c; old roosters, 7 and 9c.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

TORONTO, April 10 (C.P.) — Wholesale prices on fruit and vegetables as supplied by White & Co. were reported unchanged to-day.

TORONTO CHEESE

TORONTO, April 10 (C.P.)—The Toronto Wholesale Cheese Market was steady to-day, with dealers buying large, colored, paraffined and government grades at 12c.

Wholesalers offered cheese to retailers at the following prices:

	Large.	Twins.	Triplets.
New	12c	12½c	13½c
Old	17c	17½c	17½c
Medium	15c	15½c	15½c

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, April 10 (C.P.) — Wholesale prices on produce delivered at Toronto, as supplied by the United Farmer's Co-operative Co., here to-day were:

Eggs—Grade A large, dozen, 15c; grade A medium, 13c; grade B, 12c; grade C, 12c.

Churning Cream. — No. 1, lb., 23c; No. 2, 21c. Butter—No. 1; solids, 28c; No. 2, 22½c.

Ontario Cobbler potatoes, bag 55c.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, April 10. (CP). — Cattle movement remained active on the Toronto Livestock Market this afternoon with prices holding steady under a light supply. Calves and sheep continued firm and unchanged while hogs and western lambs were still unsettled.

Receipts as reported by the Dominion Livestock Branch were: Cattle, 1,160; calves, 480; hogs, 1,200; sheep and lambs, 930.

Medium to good weighty steers sold at $5.50 to $7 cwt., while choice butchers brought $6 to $6.50 and plain $4.25. Good cows were steady at $4 to $4.50. Common to medium bulls brought $3 to $3.50 and choice fed calves sold at $6.75 to $7.50 while medium kinds went at $6.25.

The calf division was unchanged at $7.50 to $8 for choice with a half-dozen tops at $8.50. Common light kinds went at $4.50 to $5.50. Sheep also were unchanged, selling at $150 to $4 cwt.

Only lambs sold were a few springs at $5 to $9 each. Hogs were unsettled with Packers' bids at $7.90 and f.o.b. for bacons, $8.20 off truck and $8.05 off car. These labels were unchanged on f.o.b. and off car kinds and 15 cents higher on off trucks.

HOG PRICES

TORONTO, April 10.—(CP)—Bacon hog levels were firm and unchanged all reporting market points today, selling in a range of $7.75 to $8.25. Today's prices: Barrie, $7.75; London, $7.75; Peterborough, $7.75; Chatham, $7.75; Stratford, $7.75; Kitchener, $7.75; Brantford, $8.00; Hull, $9.25.

SEEKING $250,000

TORONTO, April 10 (C.P.) — A thankoffering of $250,000 will be asked for the special services, June 9, commemorating the 50th anniversary of Union, presidents of Ontario conferences of the United Church of Canada decided yesterday.

MINING STOCKS

A daily column which answers the Queries on Mining Stocks that are of general interest to Examiner readers.

QUERY: I would be pleased if you would give me some of the salient factors to look for in purchasing prospects under development. I am anxious to participate in some of the younger properties under development, but wish to avoid as many pitfalls as possible in making my selection and would be very pleased to have your comments.F.R.N.

ANSWER: There is no royal to the selection of prospects under development. Obviously, a prospect offers very little information on which you can judge the potential merits of the property. A first consideration to a purchaser of shares in a prospect is to size up the personnel, assure yourself that the men directing the enterprise and that they are experienced men of integrity who can and will give their time to the company's affairs. To my mind, doctors and other professional or business men on the boards of mining companies in the prospect stage is a decided show of weakness. They may possess the highest ethical and sound business experience, but they are not able to interpret mining developments and too much is left for the engineer or operator at the property. In fact, the personnel equation is about the most important factor to appraise in any mining company. I would place it before property and funds for development, because if a company has sound mining men of integrity directing it, you are at least assured that the property has some merit or they would not lend their name and time to directing it. On the other hand, if such a group is directing, the securing of funds is simplified, because investors have confidence that their money will be spent economically and intelligently.

All an investor should expect in a company in the prospect stage is that his funds will be effectively spent and that he will get a fair run for his money. If results live up to expectations, huge profits are in store; if they do not, you can rest assured that the money has not been spent in vain, but in an earnest attempt. It would be my advice to carefully peruse the literature of the company seeking funds, once you are satisfied that the board of directors are competent and honest. The literature offers a fair key to the personnel behind the company. If it is flamboyant and given to ambiguous statements, lurid phrases and high assays, I would beware. If the property has had the work done that it should have, before forming an incorporated company, an assay plan should be available. If diamond drilling, full details respecting this drilling; if surface work, plans of the trenches, showing channel assays cut, should be given.

Another all important factor in a company in the early development stage to determine is if the company owns the property, or has it simply an option to purchase, with one individual receiving a high percentage of the treasury stock as a vendor of an option.

SOCCERLESS SOCCER DRAW.

BELFAST, April 10 (C.P. Cable).—Glentoran and Larne again battled to a scoreless draw to-day in their replay for the Irish Cup.

The two teams met in the final last Saturday but could not decide the issue.

BERLIN ACTRESS WED TO GOERING

Hitler Accompanies His Air Air Minister at 13 Minute Civil Ceremony.

TROOPS LINE ROUTE.

(By Louis P. Lochner.)

BERLIN, April 10 (A.P.). — General Hermann Wilhelm Goering, Reich Air Minister, and Frau Sonnemann, 38-year-old actress, were married to-day in a 13-minute ceremony in Berlin's City Hall. Reichsfuehrer Hitler, clad in his brown uniform, was one of the groomsmen.

A vast crowd, in City Hall Square, standing on roof-tops and craning necks from windows, shouted itself hoarse as the bridal couple entered the Municipal Building.

The marriage was solemnized by Mayor Henrich Sahm, clad in a sombre Prince Albert coat and top hat with the heavy gold chain of his office hung about his shoulders. He was assisted by Julius Lippert, State Commissioner for Berlin.

An honor company of police bearing rifles presented arms and a police band played as the bridal party emerged from City Hall.

Troops Guard Route.

More than 30,000 storm troopers, picked Nazi guards, Hitler youth, and police took up their positions along the route of the wedding procession.

Goering, clad in his resplendent aviation general's uniform, drove in an open automobile decorated with roses and tulips, to Frau Sonnemann's apartment while the streets re-echoed with shouts of "Heil."

A few minutes later the bride, dressed in grey and carrying a large bouquet of violets, joined Goering and the couple proceeded to the Reichsfuehrer's palace, from where they went to the City Hall with Hitler. Squadrons of airplanes soared overhead.

KILL TAX BILL

(Continued from Page 1)

amendment to the Assessment Act seeking to give municipalities the right to tax lands in excess of 30 acres, held by seminaries.

Morgan Baker, North York, sponsor of the bill pointed out that some seminaries were in possession of 100 acres and more, which they used for farming purposes and which were exempt under present tax provisions.

Mr. Murray was afraid the bill would hit religious institutions that need the land for the support of members of the order.

The bill was approved by the committee.

RANGERS GAIN FINAL.

GLASGOW, April 10 (C.P. Cable). —Glasgow Rangers defeated Heart of Midlothian 2-0 before 90,000 people at Hampden Park to-day in a replayed semi-final soccer match for the Scottish Cup. They will meet Hamilton Academicals in the final April 20. The Academicals won their way into the final by defeating Aberdeen 3-1 last month.

10 DIE IN THEATRE CRASH

CANTON, China, April 10. (AP) At least 10 persons were killed and more than 50 seriously injured today in the collapse of the roof of the Capital Theatre. Many women and children were among the victims.

Quints 'Not At Home' Saturdays Or Sundays

CALLANDER, Ont., April 10. — (CP)—The Dionne quintuplets will not be "at home" to visitors Saturday and Sunday afternoons henceforth, it has been ruled by their physician, Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe.

Last Sunday afternoon about 100 automobiles brought more than 400 visitors to the hospital home of the famous infants, two and one-half miles from here. The visitors paraded on the veranda and peered through the glass at the babies.

Only 10 months and 13 days old, the mites are subject to nervous excitement and Dr. Dafoe does not want to take any chances with his precious charges.

WEIR LAYS PLAN TO REHABILITATE DROUGHT AREAS

Bill Provides $750,000 This Year and $1,000,000 Yearly For Four Years.

5 DISTRICTS INVOLVED.

OTTAWA, April 10 (C.P.).—Plans for rehabilitating the drought and soil drifting areas of the prairie provinces were laid before the House of Commons to-day by Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture. He was introducing a bill which provides $750,000 this year and $1,000,000 annually for four years following, to put these plans into effect.

The prairie farm rehabilitation advisory committee will be appointed to advise Mr. Weir.

Five rehabilitation areas are planned, three in Saskatchewan and one each in the other provinces. Each of these will include about 36 square miles where methods for saving the lands will be demonstrated.

50 Example Stations.

About 50 large illustration stations, ranging from one to two sections, will be provided, where the best farmers in any area will be selected to proceed with illustration work.

Certain abandoned lands will be taken over and efforts made to bring them back into pastures.

Extensive tree planting will be carried out under contract with farmers in two areas, including shelter belts.

Possibly 1,000 small dams will be built on individual farms to conserve water supply.

A number of larger dams, holding back spring freshets of streams in ranching areas of the three provinces, will be constructed. The lakes thus formed will provide both water supplies for livestock and for irrigation purposes.

A considerable program of seed production is planned which will provide abundance of suitable grass and clover seeds to supply areas as required.

"No member of the advisory committee shall receive any payment or emolument for his services, but he shall be repaid all actual reasonable travelling or other expenses in connection with the work of the committee.

Chinese motion picture producers in China are adopting American publicity methods and are developing native stars.

Have You, The "Can't Afford It" Habit?

THE use of that phrase does not suggest the inability to buy so much as the desire to practice rigid economy ... to save ... to deny yourself needed and necessary commodities.

But Man, oh Man, and you, too, Madam, how better and more effectively can you practice economy and thrift than to buy when prices are at their lowest ebb in years? How more certainly can you insure economy than to replace worn or out-of-date furniture than when new is selling for one-third of what it sold for 15 years ago? Or to stock up on food products when they are 40% less than at any time since the war? Or clothing when $53 to-day will buy you what you paid $100 for in 1912?

What you really cannot afford to do is not buy because you cannot afford to miss to-day's low levels...prices that are an actual boon to reduced incomes...to the practice of sensible, far-sighted economy.

Sponsored by

The Examiner

C.P.R. President Brands C.N.R. Sad Accident

BEATTY URGES UNIFICATION AS C. N. R. SAD EXPERIMENT

National Lines Not Fair Example of Public Ownership, Says C.P.R. Head.

TORONTO LUNCHEON.

TORONTO, April 10. — Public ownership of the Canadian National Railways is an "experiment" which "could not meet . . prudent tests," said E. W. Beatty, K.C., chairman and president C.P.R., addressing a joint luncheon sponsored by the Gyro Club in the Royal York yesterday. "It has proved itself economically impracticable," he said.

Mr. Beatty lashed the experiment with a five-tailed verbal whip of failure in each of the five tests to which he subjected it, and said: "It is obvious . . . we will be compelled to resort to the homely old-fashioned plan of dispensing with luxuries which we can no longer afford," as he argued in support of his own proposals for the unification of the C.P.R. and C.N.R. for operating purposes.

He termed the experiment "simply the result of a series of accidents" in conception; "an unwilling acceptance of the fact that private capital could not be induced to construct a railroad," backed by "no voice of a responsible statesman"; an "extraordinary perversion of the functions of government," which, under full accounting "would show a cost to Canada of the National Railways venture of over three billion dollars —greater than the rest of our national debt, including the cost of the Great War."

He hit suggested "writing off" of the National Railways' debt as "foolery" with a tremendous debt incurred by C.N.R. personnel under "the pleasant theory that a railway with free access to the public treasury might feel itself free of the limitations on expenditures felt by the less fortunate servants of a private corporation."

Close All Seals.

"I say simply," he said, "that I do not want the record of our errors disturbed, distorted or glossed over. I want to see the people of this country recover the enthusiasm which they are in danger of losing but I want after this, to see that enthusiasm guided into useful channels. Experience is too dearly bought for its benefits to be thrown away in order to save a few people from admitting they have made mistakes."

Declaring his sincere opinion that it would be "a poor citizen who would let his voice be stilled by the fear of ridicule or of reprisals," Mr. Beatty presented analysis of the Canadian railway situation. He urged the necessity of a sound financial foundation, and said: "We can go a long way further than we ever have in the direction of providing greater social justice. This means additional burdens on the shoulders of industry and additional calls on the purse of the state, and that makes it imperative to close all existing leaks and to revise or reverse all national policies which have been leading us into debt.

"I do not deny the possibility of public ownership of public utilities being established on sound and satisfactory lines. I believe, however, that there could be no worse service to the cause of public ownership than to gloss over its failures or hide the fact that they may do permanent damage to the economic structure of the nation."

The Canadian National was not constructed because of public faith in public ownership, he said. The Grand Trunk Pacific was built by Sir Wilfrid Laurier at public expense solely because the Grand Trunk would not accept the burden as 'a common railway highway' and to be leased to the Grand Trunk. The Intercolonial was built at public expense because private capital could not be induced to construct an economically impractical railway necessary for military and political reasons. The motive behind the unwise expansion of railway mileage was never faith in public ownership.

Three Billions.

He said: "No voice of a responsible statesman had ever been raised in this country to demand the ownership by the state of over half of the railways of the country." Even the Manitoba Free Press has said the correct place in public accounts for unwise ventures into railway construction was under the head of "Mistaken Enthusiasm."

Has the experiment produced the results claimed for it? Mr. Beatty asked. A full accounting, he said, would show a cost to Canada of the National Railways adventure of over three billion dollaes.

"Do we show any signs of being warned by experience in this case?" he asked. "An organized drive to obtain a writing down of the capital obligations of the National Railways is now in progress.

"I remind you again that the so-called Dominion of Canada account of the National Railways represents not only moneys alleged to be owed by the system to the National Treasury, but moneys which that treasury must collect from the system, or, failing that, from the people of Canada, for the service and ultimate discharge of the debt of the Government. By no revision of capital structure of the system can the holders of Dominion of Canada bonds be induced to abate one cent of their demands for payment of interest and principal. Writing down of this debt would be, in plain words, no more and no less than a statement that the people of Canada are to be invited to attempt to forget that, before the creation of the Canadian National system this country had made commitments, for the building and operation of railways, as a part of unwise public policy, to the extent of over a billion and a third dollars, and that an even more unwise public policy has since more than doubled this. The entire debt would still remain an obligation of the people of Canada.

Greater Than Public Debt.

"If any of the debt due the Government be taken out of the Government's railway account, where is it to be put? Is it to be charged as a part of the cost of the war? Or to the debit of our legislative expense? Or as a part of the civil administration of the country?"

Governments should exhibit a degree of caution in economic matters, Mr. Beatty continued, beyond that required of all others.

He added: "The cost to this country of the railway experiments which have ended in the Canadian National System has been greater than the rest of our national debt, including the cost of the Great War. The asset obtained was a railway which in 16 years has fallen $528,000,000 short of paying interest on that portion of its debt due private investors.

"By every test which I can apply the Canadian National Railways cannot be regarded as an honest experiment in public ownership," he said. "It is nothing more nor less than a sad accident. How long will you listen to those who now try to pretend that, in offering a plan to relieve the people of Canada of at least a part of their great burden, I am directed by sheer hostility to the principle of public ownership? And that I am merely an agent of predatory capital seeking to despoil the people? Is it not rather the case that my opponents, seeking to offer the plea that the Canadian National is a great example of the benefits of that system, are perverting the facts And that convinced believers in public ownership should refuse to accept this unfortunate case as the sort of thing which their plan would produce.

Canadians Sane.

"If the alterations in our economic system are to be anything short of its destruction, I suggest that we should measure them in the light of our experience in the accidental public ownership of a railway system."

In concluding, Mr. Beatty sounded a warning against the dangers inherent in continued economic carelessness. Loss entailed by major errors could only be made good by repudiation, debasement of currency, or added taxation. Canadians would not willingly try either of the two first, while a study of added taxation revealed that the fields of taxation were no longer delimited, and that Federal, Provincial, and municipal authorities by reason of careless adventure into new fields of expenditure, were feverishly seeking new sources of revenue. Investors in bonds of a public authority must be protected. Mr. Beatty cited the widespread application of income tax by unrelated taxation authorities as a glaring example, and asked what the result would be when this condition would inevitably result in exhaustion of the tax paying power of the citizens.

He urged an immediate check on the policy of drift, and said: "We have been guilty in our public policy of gross-carelessness, and of neglect of the simplest principles of common sense." He approved of planned economy — "planned, and then enforced." It was wrong to suppose that he was unduly apprehensive about the economic future of Canada. The country was richly endowed with natural wealth, and the Canadian people were equally endowed with an essential sanity and loyalty. The first step was to realize the existence of errors capable of correction, "which our own courage and honesty of purpose can correct."

Folklore of the Ukraine is to be collected and published.

"Waits" For Divorce

When Mrs. Jean Ward Doan, 23, Kansas City (Missouri) society woman, decided she wanted a divorce from her husband, Floyd Doan, she went to work as a waitress, to earn the fees required under the 90-day divorce law in Hot Springs. She left untouched a $3,000 joint bank account.

King Will Light Jubilee Beacons

LONDON, April 10 (C.P.)—As part of the King's Silver Jubilee celebrations His Majesty will light a huge wooden beacon built by boy scouts in Hyde Park Monday, May 6.

The beacon, 20 feet high, will act as a signal fire for the boy scouts' chain of beacons all over the country at 10 p.m. Five minutes before that time the King will press a button in Buckingham Palace. This will complete an electric circuit and so set fire to the central beacon in Hyde Park.

So far 667 beacons have been arranged for in 50 different countries. It is expected the King and Queen will drive through part of London to see the illuminations.

REV. DR. MAHOOD DIES SUDDENLY IN 72ND YEAR

Born in Lakelet, Huron County and Graduate of Victoria University.

MINISTERED IN U.S.A.

Great Lover of Outdoor Sport and Keen Member of Bowling Club.

With shocking suddeness the death occurred at Nicholls Hospital early yesterday afternoon of the Rev. Dr. Herbert William Longmore MaHood, following a heart seizure with which he was stricken at his home on Sunday evening. He was in his 72nd year.

A retired minister of the Methodist-Episcopal church, Dr. MaHood came here with his wife and daughter from the United States two-and-a-half years ago, and earned for himself widespread regard and respect.

His name was familiar to readers of The Examiner throughout Peterborough city and district for his regular contributions to the columns of the newspaper, both as a commentator of foreign affairs, and for his articles on practical astronomy.

Simultaneously with news of Dr. MaHood's lamented passing, further contributions from his facile pen reached the editorial desk at The Examiner, affording proof that his remarkable vitality and keen intellect were with him to the very end of life itself.

A Good Sportsman.

The late Dr. MaHood was a man of sturdy physique, and his athletic bearing, which belied his advanced age, testified to a well-ordered and disciplined life. He was a great lover of all healthful exercises and outdoor sports, and was a familiar figure on the greens of Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club, in the summer, and on the rinks of Peterborough Curling Club in the winter months.

Besides membership in the above named organizations the late Dr. MaHood was a regular patron of the local Y.M.C.A., and after first coming here was able to hold his own with much younger men on the volleyball court, although he had not participated in that strenuous game in recent months.

A son of the late Joseph MaHood and Elisabeth Dann, he was born at Lakelet, Huron county, Ontario, on November 16, 1863, and after spending his youth on the farm of his parents and upon completion of his High school education at Harriston, he undertook a course of study at Victoria College University of Toronto, and subsequently graduated with a Ph.D. degree at a University in Iowa. He also took a post graduatae course at Edinburgh University.

An Evangelist.

Immediately after leaving Victoria College (which was at that time located at Cobourg, from which district Dr. MaHood's father originally came), he entered the field of evangelical service and it was while he was engaged in that mission that he met Jean Gibson, whom he was later to marry and who survives him.

Following their marriage forty-five years ago the late Dr. Mahood and Mrs. MaHood went to the United States, where he labored in the ministry for a total of forty-one years.

His sole ministerial charges were held within the North-west Iowa Conference, where he was pastor for an unbroken period of forty-one years, before entering upon Y. M.C.A. work in Louisville, Ky., at the time of an influenza epidemic shortly after the entry of the United States in the World War.

At the conclusion of the war period, Dr. MaHood returned to Iowa with his health greatly impaired as a result of his work during the epidemic, and the succeeding years of his ministry were spent in supply work.

Retired in 1932.

Retiring in October, 1932, Dr. MaHood took up residence in this city, since which time he had been a devout and regular attendant at George Street United Church, and a member of Peterborough Ministerial Association. He was ever willing to render service and on occasion had filled the pulpit of Bridgenorth United Church in the temporary absence of the regular pastor.

Recently the late Dr. MaHood underwent an operation for the removal of a cataract, and was well on the road to recovery when he complained of feeling unwell on Sunday and was later that evening stricken with a heart seizure. Removed to Nicholls Hospital by ambulance on Monday morning, he died yesterday afternoon, the cause of death being ascribed to a clot of blood on the heart.

Besides his widow, he is survived by three sons, Gibson MaHood, Lincoln, Nebraska; Dr. Herbert MaHood, Maplewood, N.J., and Cecil MaHood, Freeport, Long Island; and one daughter, Miss Jean MaHood at home. Other relatives include, five brothers and two sisters: Rev. Elmer MaHood, Lincoln, Nebraska. Dr. Stanley MaHood, Calgary; Fred and Ernest MaHood, Lakelet, Ontario; Rev. Dr. Heber MaHood, Santa Cruz, Cal., Miss Evelyn MaHood, Calgary, and Beatrice MaHood, Lalus, New Mexico.

England has 7,000,000 robins, according to a recent census.

Bensfort

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Collins motored to Peterborough on Saturday.

Mrs. Mary Knowles, of Keene, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. James Wood.

Mrs. George Wood has returned home from Peterborough, where she visited her daughter, Mrs. Charles Webb, for a few days. While there she attended a birthday party given in honor of her little grandson, Harold.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Huggins motored to Peterborough on Saturday.

Miss Florence Bebee, of Port Hope, spent the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bebee.

Mr. Kingsley Nurse and Mr. Lionel Waterman visited friends in Hope last week.

Mr. Reg. Atchison spent the week-end with friends in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Westington and family motored to Port Hope on Saturday where they attended the funeral of the late Andrew Westington.

Mr. Willard Sanderson has returned home from Brampton, accompanied by Mr. Lewis Sanderson, who has spent the past three years there.

Miss Joan Pue spent the week-end with her aunt, Mrs. George Fletcher, in Bailieboro.

Hall's Bridge

Mrs. Neil Windover has returned from Nicholls Hospital and is now convalescing at her home.

Sherman Pearson is home from the Grove School and is spending the vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Pearson.

Miss I. Willis who has been staying with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Ed W. Willis has resumed her duties at St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough.

Bessie Taylor of Burleigh Falls who underwent an operation at St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough last week is doing well and expects to be able to return home this week.

Born—On Saturday, April 6th, at Curve Lake, to Mr. and Mrs. Stafford Taylor, of Burleigh Falls, a son.

HEALTH SPOT SHOES

Introducing the famous

HEALTH SPOT SHOES

Bringing a New Era of Comfort for Foot Sufferers

WHICH BELONG TO YOU?

These balanced heels show how feet look from the back in HEALTH SPOT SHOES. All foot bones in normal balance—free circulation and action throughout the feet-weight carried on outer weightbearing parts of the feet. Now look at those inrolling heels. Those poor feet give their owner a lot of trouble. Weight carried on the inside is cramping their main source of nerve and blood supply; metatarsals feel as if they were resting on the pavement; legs bow out causing strain not only on leg muscles and knees but up into the pelvic region as well.

These feet can be straightened up in HEALTH SPOT SHOES. Come in and let us give you the whole story.

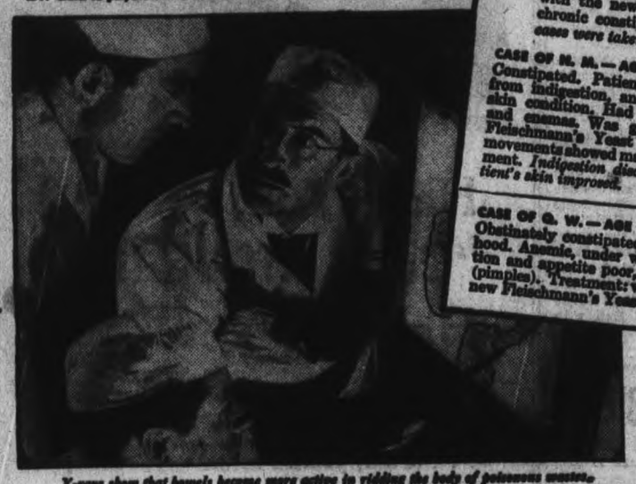
HEALTH SPOT SHOES STRAIGHTEN UP AND WEAR SHOES MEN and WOMEN

J. T. Stenson & Sons

364 George Street - - - Phone 73

"It is of great therapeutic importance. I had remarkable results in the cases I treated," says Dr. Cain.

Dr. André Cain (below) is one of the many physicians who have reported remarkable success in their clinics with the new yeast. Dr. Cain is physician-in-chief of the Hospice d'Ivry, near Paris.



In a leading institution . . . patients got these marked benefits

Prominent clinics and hospitals have reported remarkable success with the new Fleischmann's Yeast. In one hospital, 93% of chronic constipation cases were relieved. The following typical cases were taken from one hospital's actual records:—

CASE OF M. M.—AGE 24. WOMAN. Constipated. Patient had suffered from indigestion, anemia, and bad skin condition. Had used laxatives and enemas. Was given the new Fleischmann's Yeast daily. Bowel movements showed marked improvement. Indigestion disappeared. Patient's skin improved.

Laxatives were discontinued gradually instead of all at once . . . General condition very much improved. Bowels moved better. Patient made almost complete skin recovery.

CASE OF G. W.—AGE 22. WOMAN. Obstinately constipated since childhood. Anemic, under weight, digestion and appetite poor, severe acne (pimples). Treatment: was given the new Fleischmann's Yeast every day.

CASE OF H. L.—AGE 18. WOMAN. Constipated for as long as she could remember. Faulty digestion, poor appetite, anemia and severe acne (pimples). Had taken catharties. Was given 3 cakes of the new Fleischmann's Yeast daily. Bowel movements were almost immediately benefited. Skin improved, appetite and digestion greatly helped.

X-rays show that bowels become more active in ridding the body of poisonous wastes.

Amazing gains in Energy in cases of

RUN-DOWN CONDITION*

Better appetite, better digestion, clear skin—as one trouble is corrected!

Constipation—a very important cause of run-down condition—completely corrected by this food rich in "protective substances"—Ordinary diets lack enough of these substances

A NEW WAY TO TREAT run-down condition is now giving remarkable results in well-known hospitals and clinics!

A very common cause of run-down condition is constipation. And constipation, it has been found, can be completely corrected by adding to the diet one food rich in certain important "protective substances."

Ordinary diets do not supply enough of these substances—even fruits and green vegetables lack enough. But the new Fleischmann's Yeast is very rich in them!

When added to your diet, this new fresh yeast increases the flow of stomach juices, stimulates and strengthens the nerves and muscles of stomach and intestines, and corrects constipation naturally (not like cathartics, which merely give temporary relief).

As a result, your food is digested better—bowel action becomes normal—and your system is gradually freed from the poisons which so often cause run-down condition—indigestion—poor health.

Begin today to eat the new Fleischmann's Yeast! Eat it regularly—just as you brush your teeth—every day. Start to get rid of your run-down condition now!

Eat 2 or 3 cakes (or more) of Fleischmann's Yeast each day—plain, or in water, milk, or fruit juice.

Eat it one-half hour before meals, as it can start your digestive juices flowing before other food enters your stomach. If you're taking cathartics, discontinue them gradually (not all at once), giving them up entirely as soon as Fleischmann's new Yeast has thoroughly strengthened your bowels.

You can get the new Fleischmann's Yeast at grocers, drug stores, soda fountains and restaurants.

TO THE MEDICAL PROFESSION

The new Fleischmann's Yeast is rich in a substance like a digestive hormone, with an amazing effect on gastro-intestinal function. It supplies four vitamins: A, B (B1), G (B2) and D.

It is the richest vitamin-"carrying" food.

Since it is fresh yeast, the new Fleischmann's Yeast makes its properties available to the body in active form.

THE NEW FLEISCHMANN'S YEAST can give you complete bowel regularity. It's a food—not a habit-forming medicine. Eat it right along.

* due to a slow digestive and constipation. Run-down condition may be due to many other causes. To be on the safe side, see a doctor.

Don't Overlook PONTIAC

if you are looking for a LOW-PRICED CAR

IF you are in the market for a low-priced automobile, be sure to include Pontiac when you set out to make comparisons. General Motors built the new Six with the express purpose of widening your choice in the popular-priced field. No other automobile can better its dollar for dollar value.

Look, for example, at Pontiac's features: Solid Steel "Turret Top" Bodies by Fisher; Triple-sealed Hydraulic Brakes; Concealed Tire and Luggage Compartment; Enclosed Knee-Action (on the Eight and De Luxe Six, optional at extra cost on some standard models); Cross-Flow Radiator; Silent Syncro-Mesh Transmission and Fisher No-Draft Ventilation.

Don't forget, then, when you look at low priced cars to include the Pontiac Six. Remember, too, if you want a big Straight Eight with all the fine-car characteristics at a moderate figure, to look at the new Pontiac Eight. Both automobiles are now on display at our showrooms.

PRICED FROM $936

(for the Standard Six 2-Pass. Coupe) Delivered, fully equipped, at factory, Oshawa, Ont. Freight and Government license only extra.

Prices of 8-cylinder models at factory, begin at $1185.

WITH HYDRAULIC BRAKES SOLID STEEL TURRET TOP BODY BY FISHER FULLY-ENCLOSED KNEE-ACTION

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

PONTIAC SIX AND STRAIGHT EIGHT

J. J. DUFFUS CO., Peterboro

Duffus Bldg., Water Street Telephone 1760

More Active Policy in Child Placement Suggested

FIELD WORKER RECOMMENDED FOR SHELTER

Many Changes Are Suggested Following Inspector's Visit.

GRADING OF WARDS.

Legal Demands on City and County Councils Should Be Made.

At the Board meeting of the Children's Aid Society, held yesterday afternoon in the City Council Chamber, the placid negotiations which have kept the society's endeavors jogging along at a steady and businesslike gait for many long years in the past, were evidently due for a change. New printed forms have appeared which demand detailed information with regard to each case under consideration and also go in for a new system of checking up on wards who have been overlong in the Shelter. There is also the desire of the Department strongly expressed, to place wards of the organization in homes, using the Shelter as a sort of clearing-house only; to set about a system of financing which has often been hinted at but never tried out locally, viz., to make legal demands on city and county councils for the maintenance of each child; and to enlarge the present office staff to admit of a Field Worker.

There is also in the background the somewhat incalculable factor of a probable grading of the society which may place it in any category ranging from first-class to a classification that is not so desirable. And these classifications depend on living up to regulations which are even yet somewhat nebulously outlined, and have still to be tried out to discover if they are workable in each particular locality.

The Board members had a little fun yesterday with their colleague, Alderman Stocker, who waxed enthusiastic (in a perfectly businesslike fashion), over the capabilities of a department representative, Miss Fleming, who paid a visit here recently and inspected the local Shelter and office. C. A. Salmonsen, appealed to for corroboration of Mr. Stocker's glowing eulogy of the mental capacity of the visitor, answered somewhat cannily that he thought her "a very efficient worker."

Then Mr. Edgar read a letter and report from the Hon. David Croll, which followed on the heels of Miss Fleming's visit, and Mr. Cowan asked drily: "Is that the lady Mr. Stocker praised so highly?"

The Report

The suggestions outlined in the report covered a wide ground, touching on the necessity of a more active policy of child placement; a re-alignment of financing in order to show a per diem rate; the establishment of a proper bookkeeping system in order to allocate costs; an improvement in the system of recording details relative to children dealt with, or under care; a recommendation to add to the personnel of the staff (in the form of a Field Worker); and a general re-organization of approach to preventive work, the cost of which is to be subscribed from private funds.

From the chair, the president, the Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr, suggested that Miss Fleming be invited to come to the city and address a public meeting in the interests of the society.

Mr. Edgar's report for last month showed, in accordance with new regulations, a total of 80 cases under care of the society at the end of March; court attendance, 2; children in Shelter at end of month, 16; in boarding-homes, 4; adoption probation, 5; in wage homes, 11; in free homes, 43; visits to homes where children are placed, 3; office interviews, 18; mental clinics attended, 1; new placements of children, 3; replaced from one home to another, 1; applications for children, 2.

Under the Unmarried Parents' Act, the total number of cases open at the end of March, 19; visits, 2; court order obtained, 1.

The report of the purchasing committee, made by Mrs. J. S. Fanning, follows: Peterborough Hardware Company, $7.98; Campbell's Dairy, $46.55; John Edgar, $2.60; Nicholls Hospital, $10.50; Darcey Foster, $16.90; Purity Bread Company, $3.03; H. W. Nigh, $4.48; Teco Store, $3.70; W. S. Bogie, 10c; W. B. Jopling Estate, $15.16; R. Fair & Co., $7.48; Richard Hall, $12.99; Gordon Hudson, $16.16; Pratten Hardware Company, $9.49; Neill's Ltd., $15.36; E. L. Payne, $2.02; Rose Taxi, $6.30; Bell Telephone Company, 49c; Soden's Book Store, $5.75; total, $183.42.

At the close of the meeting, the Rev. Dr. Barr expressed the condolences of the Board to one of the members who was present, C. J. Squire of Havelock, on the loss of his brother.

Others present yesterday included the president, Rev. Dr. Barr; the secretary, John Edgar; Mesdames J. S. Fanning, J. Welsh, N. Henry, C. Wright, J. J. Lynch, C. A. Salmonsen, R. H. Parsons, H. B. Cowan, J. McIntosh, W. Stocker, E. B. Fowler, the Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe, and Dr. H. M. Yelland.

Bring Your PRINTING Problems to Us

On Their Way To Canada

Chief Scout Lord Robert Baden-Powell, clad in shorts, and Lady Powell, as they arrived in San Francisco from Antipodes to be greeted by American Boy Scout leaders. The peer, who founded the world-wide organization, said that it was one of the main hopes for peace. He is on his way to Vancouver from which point he will start an extended tour of Canada, visiting many cities. He is recovering from a serious illness.

FAREWELL SERVICE HELD IN ST. JAMES'

Church is Filled to Capacity as Evangelist Campaign Closes.

With the St. James United Church filled to the doors by representative people from everywhere in the city and outlying community, the closing service of the two evangelistic campaigns which have been held in the Mark Street United Church and the Park Street Baptist Church, was held last night. From the very first Sunday when Rev. H. L. Stephens, Evangelist from New York, gave his opening address, great interest has been manifested and the crowds have been such that after the opening Sunday, until the close, the Sunday night services had to be held in the Capitol Theatre where from 1100 to 1200 assembled and listened to stirring sermons which has brought about one of the greatest awakenings the city has had for many years.

These meetings were preceded by a very wonderful revival held by Rev. George T. Stephens and Mr. H. E. Storrs in the St. James United Church. Rev. H. L. and George T. Stephens are brothers and have labored together and separately in the evangelistic field for the past 25 years. Great tabernacle campaigns have been held by them in practically ever state in the United States as well as in Canada and Great Britain. Everywhere they have gone, great success has followed them and thousands have been converted and hundreds of churches greatly revived and many of them saved from closing their doors.

These brothers are Canadians, having been born in Western Ontario south of Sarnia. Their grandfather was one of the first directors of the Grand Trunk Railway which ran from Toronto to Port Hope. Their father received a public school and college education, but later took up farming. He was magistrate, assessor of Lambton County, and a great public speaker for many public gatherings and political assemblies held in the province. Their mother was a very godly woman and her one great passion was that her children should first be christians and then receive their education for whatever occupations they desired to be fitted for. After their conversion, it became very evident that they had been endowed with special gifts which fitted them to be evangelists and while both prepared for the ministry and had churches, they later entered the evangelistic field together.

Many feel that because of their being led to Peterborough separately and for the moment unknown to each other, that God Almighty has sent through them, a special visitation of His power and a call to every professing christian and church member to dedicate themselves afresh to God. A large united choir assisted in the great song service last night led by Mr. M. Dunkley. Rev. Mr. Moorehouse led in the opening prayer. A motion offered by Mr. E. W. Young, chairman of the Park Street Church Board and seconded by Mr. Dunkley to tender a vote of thanks to the St. James United Church for giving their church for the closing service was adopted. Rev. Mr. Moorehouse stated in reply that he and his board were more than pleased to have the people come.

A vote of thanks was offered by Rev. G. K. Tyler in expressing their appreciation to the Peterborough Examiner for their kindness in giving the meetings splendid publicity. A gift of appreciation was given to Mrs. S. Turner for her faithful services at the piano. Rev. G. K. Tyler and Rev. C. D. Daniel expressed their convictions that these campaigns were stepping stones to a much greater and city wide campaign to be held in the early fall, to which the Stephens brothers would be asked to conduct in a tabernacle, erected for the purpose.

Mr. Stephens then gave a stirring address on the abundant life which was provided, he stated, in Christ's death on the cross, using Christ's words in John 10-10; "I have come that ye might have life and that ye might have it more abundantly". God never does things by halves. We meet with half hearted people, half hearted efforts, living and giving, but not for a moment can we imply that we have a half hearted God. There has been provided a fullness of life, of love, and a fullness of power. It is impossible to cope with the godless conditions that exist today without our being dominated with God's mighty Holy Spirit.

The editor of "The Nation" has recently said: "We are living in a bankrupt world and it will never be restored in economics or politics until it is restored in religion and morals. If the underworld gets the upper hand by destruction of prohibition, it will ride rough shod over everything in church, home, school and state. Men are looking to the church to show the way out of the depression and distress. When they ask for bread, shall we give them beer? When they ask for God shall we substitute fine music, comfortable pews, elegant sermons breathing doubts and extending the elements of uncertainty. There are men who read nothing but critical stuff, doubt all their beliefs and believe all their doubts". Back to your Bibles O church members, down on your knees and seek the secret of the power of our forefathers. We have lived through a day of high brow objection to emotion in religion. We cannot blame our present state on emotion for we haven't had it; nor on evangelism for it has been absent. May God send deliverance from these conditions, to a needy world in this emergency". Many testified to the great blessing received.

Mr. Stephens thanked all for their kindness and prayers. He opens a campaign tonight in Toronto. His address is 3 Ridge Drive, Toronto.

CHRONIC BRONCHITIS

Miss M. Beattie, Tabusintac, N.B., writes: "COUGH, COUGH, COUGH! I could get neither rest nor sleep. The first dose of RAZ-MAH brought up phlegm and the coughing stopped. Since then I've had comfortable sleep, free of coughing." Guaranteed relief from $1 worth or money back. No harmful drugs. Clean Cascara. 50c and $1 everywhere. Ends Asthma too. 87
Don't cough, choke, gasp—Use THE GENUINE - TEMPLETON'S
RAZ-MAH

Warsaw

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clements and Ivan attended the funeral of Mrs. Clements' cousin, Mr. Scott at Chatsworth of Owen Sound.

Mrs. Wallace Anderson went to Peterborough to visit friends.

St. Mark's Ladies Guild met in the church on Wednesday on April 4th with a good attendance. Several small items of business were cleared up and two quilts are finished and up for sale. Next meeting will be at Mrs. Donald Davis' home. Anglican services from now until the middle of May will be held at 4 o'clock on Sunday.

The annual Women's Institute meeting will be held on Thursday April 11th.

MURRAY STREET MOTHERS; GIRLS HOLD BANQUET

100 Attend Delightful Banquet of Mothers and Girl Group.

MISSIONARY PLAY.

A delightful affair of last night in the Sunday School hall of Murray street Baptist Church was a banquet for the Mothers and Girls of the church, attended by about one hundred people and held under the auspices of the Willing Teens, a group of 'teen age girls of the church, and the Women's Mission Circle. Mrs. L. J. Pettitt, leader of the girls' group, and Mrs. Bert Jackson, president of the Circle, received the guests in the Ladies' Parlor.

The chairman of the banquet was Miss Della Smedmor, president of the Teens, who welcomed the guests in the name of her group, while Mrs. Bert Jackson, for the Circle, re-echoed the same sentiments and went on to give, in a few sentences, quoting from the Book of Proverbs, an idea of the true lady of all time, she "who looketh well to the ways of her household."

The Pastor Speaks

Greetings from the church were conveyed by the Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe who assured the girls of the sympathy and interest of the church in their work, their trials and their problems.

Saying that the well-known Biblical phrase, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant," was not meant, as so often thought, as a funeral oration, but rather as a commendation by Christ for service well rendered, the reverend speaker said that Jesus had as much praise for the possessor of the two talents who used them properly as He had for the man with five, because it is the use, not the possession, of such gifts, that justifies their possessor in the eyes of the Lord.

"I hope that your willingness to excell in all things worth while will extend much beyond your 'teens, and do not forget that it is the development of your moral and spiritual self that you bring honor to the church. Attendance at church services on Sunday and at other services of the church, is only a means to an end. I beseech you to embrace every opportunity to develop those talents which God has given you."

The Rev. Mr. Sutcliffe also led the community singing which formed an interlude in the banquet, along with a very finely-played piano solo by Miss Pearl Smith, Moszkowski's "Valse Brillantante" and two artistically-rendered songs in clear, high tones, by Mrs. S. V. Moulton, who sang "The Spirit Flower" and "The Green Cathedral" to accompaniments played by Mrs. D. R. Howat.

The special speaker of the evening was Mrs. L. J. Pettit, who gave a very impressive address in her characteristically splendidly-prepared style, flowing, eloquent language and spiritual trend of thought.

The speaker commenced by paying a warm tribute to the "loyal, energetic and efficient service" rendered the Willing Teens by their president Della Smedmor.

Taking as her theme an idea of the study followed by the girls, and ending with an Easter message, Mrs. Pettit said that the effort of this year in the group had been to develop in the girls a harmonious personality.

Poise Is The Ideal

"Each one of us possesses a three-sided nature: physical, mental and spiritual, and when each is developed, it results in the possession of poise, or the quality of being at peace with one's environment and with the universe.

"Jesus was the only Man who ever lived who possessed perfect poise and all the graces that go to make a gracious personality: peace, love, faith, courage and loyalty.

"Would you like to be so? It is possible for all of us, if we work toward that goal. In the New Testament we find the guide, with instructions clearly and simply defined. Jesus knew that there are unchangeable and inexorable laws of nature that, if obeyed, will lead us into harmonious and rhythmic relations with the universe.

Then Mrs. Pettit went on to describe the manner in which Jesus defeated the world and overcame its bitterness, refusing to submit to the spirit of the world "Which hateth Me and will also hate you"; fighting always the demons of fear and distrust, of doubt and poverty and lack.

Three ways may be taken to follow in the footsteps of Christ and come into the perfect knowledge of God; through the contemplation of the revelation of God as given to the Hebrews in the Old Testament; through an intense and burning desire to know God and His Will; and through silence and contemplation, by which the mind is brought into harmony with unseen power.

Miss Isabel Jackson voiced the thanks of the girls' group to the members of the Mission Circle who prepared the banquet and finished the quilt; to the young men of the church who acted so efficiently as servers; to Mrs. H. R. Graham and Mrs. C. M. Scott, who knit the costumes for the play; and to Mrs. Pettit, who trained and directed the members of the cast.

Missionary Play

The play, taking the place of the usual toast-list that forms a conventional accompaniment to most banquets, was entitled "The Ring of Rama Krishniah," and was a pageant-play of Christian Stewardship, excellently presented by a group of young girl members of the Willing Teens. They were exceedingly earnest in the portrayal of each role, and those enacted in men's attire added a really humorous touch to the proceedings which appealed immensely to a pleased audience. It was a very pleasing little performance that had a few bright "props" in Oriental furnishings, a dark green velvet curtain as a backdrop, and accents of color in the brilliant crimson and blue of an Eastern drape and the gorgeous, glowing red of a large pot of blossoming azaleas.

In four brief scenes, the play depicted the gift of a ring surmounted by a cross, by a dying missionary, to a Hindu noble, the latter, on his own death, bequeathing the jewel to his wife, who, in turn, sent it as a contribution to an Occidental church in which the ring acted as a charm in restoring zeal in mission work among lagging church workers.

The last scene closed very appropriately with the singing by the cast and entire audience, of "Praise God, From Whom All Blessings Flow," and the Benediction by the Rev. Mr. Sutcliffe.

Those taking part in the play were as follows: Miss Dorothy Boorman, as Thakur Dahr, a high-caste Hindu; Miss Jean Cowling, as Jalel, his wife; Miss Muriel Elliott, as Kheroda, his mother; Miss Marion Wray, Miss Eunice Hammond and Miss Faith Briggs, as Garrett, Donaldson and Mackay, male members of a lackadaisical church committee of the Western world, while Miss Mildred Goheen, Miss Isabel Wray and Miss Jean Kerr were Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. Rogers and Miss Williams, feminine members of the same committee; Miss Jean Scott, as Lilivali, a native Indian woman; Miss Betty Detcher, as Maryam, wife of a Christianized Hindu; Sardar Lal, a part taken by Miss Dora Brumwell; while his friend, Gulvari, also a Christian convert, was played by Miss Kay Foster, and the missionary worker, Mr. Arnold, was enacted by Miss Margaret Harris. In the last scene, the group of girls acting as revitalised missionary workers included the Misses Margaret Foster (June); Gwen Boorman (Alice); Barbara Scott (Mary); Barbara Pearson (Agnes), and Mary Walker (Jean), while Miss Josephine Carson was the solemn-looking pastor.

Paints Portrait With Spray Guns

LONDON, April 10 (C.P.)—The world's lightning mural painter, a man who sprays a portrait on a wall with paint from a gun—Viscount Westenra Plantagenet, direct descendant of the Plantagenet kings and in line to be the 15th Earl of Huntingdon in due time—is startling London with new ideas.

This scion of nobility gave up his life of inherited ease when he left Oxford University 10 years ago, travelled steerage to Australia, the South Seas and Mexico, and learned to paint and live by what he earned. One of his mottoes is: "Any picture obscure in its meaning is bad art," and another is: "Make use of modern materials." He recently completed a contract in Chicago where he painted murals in the new Hall of Science "by the yard."

Viscount Westenra Plantagenet is unassuming, as well as being something of a pioneer in mural painting.

DOUBLE LOSS.

KANSAS CITY, April 10 (C.P.).—Mrs. Adeline Kinzie's home was ransacked by burglars who escaped with $300, but who overlooked an additional $402 Mrs. Kinzie had secreted in the house.

L. W. Harper, county administrator of relief, ordered Mrs. Kinzie's name stricken from the relief list. She had been receiving aid since 1932.

Nearly $226,500,000 has been paid for tickets in the 13 Irish Hospital sweepstakes, and of this sum about $36,015,000 has been allocated so far to the hospitals.

'Y' CAMPAIGN NEEDS SUPPORT

Twenty Per Cent of Allotment is Subscribed on First Day.

SUPPER MEETING.

Divisional majors and team captains, who along with an energetic force of canvassers constitute the dynamic force back of the big Y.M.C.A. financial drive last evening reported to Charles Shaw, campaign director the result of the first days effort to have been decidedly encouraging.

Launched at a big supper meeting held at the "Y" the previous night, the campaign seeks to achieve an objective of $7,500 needed for this years budget requirements for the furtherance of the association's work on behalf of the youth of the city.

With the campaign scheduled to close Thursday night, it is announced that to date each of the two divisions, working in close rivalry, have already secured 20½ per cent of their quota of subscriptions to the campaign fund, while the special names committee, has been equally successful in securing 20 per cent of their allottment to date.

Mr. Shaw congratulating the workers upon their earnestness at a campaign supper meeting last evening, urged the great needs of present-day youth, and pointed out the opportunity for real service which the appeal for funds afforded to all sections of the city.

"Youth is to-day crying out "Is there no balm in Gilead? Is there no place of rest?" Mr. Shaw declared. And he pointed out that in its appeal for finances the Y.M.C.A. was endeavoring to meet the need and to extend the loving hand of fellowship.

The officials of the Y.M.C.A. wished to be able to say, "This way my boy, the door is open," but that could only be done according to the measure in which the campaign was supported by the public.

The supper meeting, characteristic of the spirit which is going to pilot the campaign to a successful conclusion, was brief and peppy and dominated by the feeling of confidence.

A brief musical program was provided by Ed Short, vocal soloist who was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. George Nicholls.

FENELLA.

Mrs. Wellwood entertained a large number of friends and neighbors recently. The evening was spent in cards and dancing. Messrs. Floyd Murphy and Arthur Smith furnished the music.

Mrs. John Lonsberry, Cobourg, paid a business trip to the village during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cowling and little daughter, Marlene, were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Brenton.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Davey, Brighton, were Sunday visitors at the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Macklin.

A very enjoyable evening was spent in dancing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Milne. Mr. Arthur Smith and Mr. Floyd Murphy furnished the music.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Curtis and daughter, Elva, Coldsprings, were week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Curtis.

PAIN ACROSS KIDNEYS

IF you are miserable with backache, or getting up at night, bladder or kidney irregularities, you should heed the warning—it may be due to an over-abundance of uric acid in the system. Drink copiously of pure water and go to your nearest drug store and obtain Dr. Pierce's Anuric. Read what Mrs. Nellie Osborne of 366 Albert St., Stratford, Ont., says: "Cold settled in my kidneys and they became congested and sore. Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets drove the congestion from my kidneys and relieved me of the pain in my back. 'Anuric' is a stimulant diuretic."

Send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Laboratory, Fort Erie North, Ont., for a trial package.

AVOID SHORT COVERAGE!

(a lesson to paint users)

. . . SWP COVERS MORE SURFACE PER GALLON

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS paint saves you money on the job because of its great coverage—more than 850 square feet to the gallon.

Per year of life, SWP is the most economical paint you can buy. The valuable protection-giving ingredients are all there in good measure. The colours are clear and more lasting. The SWP film offers sturdy resistance to sun, wind, rain and snow. Its extra long life cuts out the expense of frequent repainting.

It is a wise policy to use Sherwin-Williams products for all your painting. Consult "Paint Headquarters" about the right one for the job you have in mind.

"THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR QUALITY"

SWP	MAR-NOT FLOOR VARNISH	ENAMELOID
For buildings, outside and inside. Leads all others in quality. Saves your property and spares your pocket. Covers more surface; saves labour in applying; lasts for the longest time. 32 popular shades.	Beautifies and protects hardwood floors or linoleum. Easily applied. Dries dust-hard overnight with a brilliant, transparent lustre that enhances the natural beauty of the flooring. Waterproof; and practically scratch proof.	The only guaranteed enamel for inside and outside use. Sets sensational new standards of easy application and long-lasting toughness. Flows on easily and levels out into a smooth, even film of amazing durability.

Pratten Hardware, Peterborough. Phone 2710
F. L. Erskine, Lakefield.

THERE IS A SHERWIN-WILLIAMS AGENT NEAR YOU. THE "COVER-THE-EARTH" SIGN MARKS PAINT HEADQUARTERS EVERYWHERE

— IN TUNE WITH SPRING ! !

"DRESS UP" YOURSELF OR YOUR HOME WITH THESE SUPER VALUES FROM HALL'S

3 PC. WOOL
KNIT SUITS
Special 10.95

So trim and smart for general wear. 3-piece styles—Skirt, lacey knit Blouse and Cardigan Sweater. Spring shades. Sizes 34 to 42. See these to-morrow!

CHOOSE OUR
'Lucky 7' HOSE
Pair 89c

And you are assured of the best in quality, style and value at the price. Silk to top Chiffons or practical Service Weight, in every new shade for Spring.

A NEW SELECTION
Leather PURSES
Featured at 1.98

Fine Calf or Morroco Leather Bags in a grand selection of interesting new styles. Handsomely lined and fitted, finished with novel trims. Black, brown, navy, etc.

BE SMARTLY OUTFITTED IN ONE OF THESE SILK SUITS
Women's Sizes 38 to 44 10.95

You'll find some very captivating styles in these Suit Dresses of quality crepes, sheers and printed silks. 2 and 3-piece styles, in plain shades, polka dots or with printed top and plain skirt and jacket. Hip length and jacket, along with a few tunic length coats. Browns, black, navy are to the fore, with trims in brighter effects.

ROUGH STRAW
SAILORS 3.95

Everyone loves a Sailor, and practically everyone can wear one. Fashion decrees them with your tailored suits, sport coats, tweed outfits and for general wear. We have them in brown, black, navy and red, and the price is indeed low.

INEXPENSITE BLOUSES 98c

Crisp, fresh looking Cotton Blouses in a great assortment of novel plaid, checked and allover patterns. Short sleeve, tailored styles, in sizes 16 to 42. Special value, each .....

Feature Value! MISSES' SPRING COATS
TWEEDY MIXTURES AND PLAIN MATERIALS
Sport and tailored type Coats for the smart miss who wants a smart, good looking Coat, not too expensive. Brown, blue, grey and flecked tweeds, along with plain navy. Sizes 14 to 18. Share the savings on this value at 14.90

NAVY CHIFFON STOCKINGS 1.00

Sheer, flawless quality with dull finish that is so flattering to your ankles. Slender panel heel, cradle sole (that is so essential when wearing sandals), and durable reinforcements where needed. Sizes 8½ to 10½. Moderately priced .....

MISSES' CREPE
SKIRTS
Navy Brown Black 2.98

You'll get so much wear out of one of these tailored Skirts! Lovely quality material in neat styles for misses 14 to 20. Featured for Thursday!

GROWING GIRLS'
SPRING COATS
8.95

Well made Coats of quality woollen materials. Choice of styles, in Princess Elisabeth or with double pleat at back. Well fitted, neatly lined and tailored. Choice of blue, green, red or brown, in sizes 8 to 14 years. Sizes 8 to 10 with Hat to match.

PRE-EASTER SALE VALUES TO 1.25 AND MORE IN WOMEN'S SAMPLE GLOVES !!
SILK—FABRIC—MESH

You'll more than welcome the savings on these manufacturer's samples on Gloves, imported from Czechoslavakia. The type of Gloves you'll want for Easter and Spring wear are included in a varied selection of pull-on and domed styles. Simplex quality fabrics, chamo-suede fabrics, suede-finish fabrics, and a great bargain in quality silk and mesh fabrics. Come down early for one or more pairs. They're here in beige, brown, white, eggshell, natural and black shades, and sizes in the lot are from 6 to 8.

Quality Silks and Tailored Fabrics Pair 59c Fancy Cuff Fabrics and Lovely Silks Pair 79c

LARGE SIZE BED
SHEETS 94c

There'll be a rush for these fully bleached, double bed size Sheets to-morrow! Firm, closely woven cotton with plain hems. Limited quantity, so shop early!

HEMSTITCHED
PILLOW CASES

Special value in 40 and 42-inch Cases with deep hemstitched hem. Snowy white, ready for use. Special value Thursday, each 29c

72-INCH WHITE
SHEETING

At a price that means great savings. Firm, durable and lasting. Note the width and price. Shop early. Yard.. 39c

Bedding SPECIALS!

CIRCULAR
PILLOW COTTON

To make sturdy, long wearing pillow cases, 40 and 42-inch widths, in a good weight, fully bleached. Yard.... 25c

Simmons Spring Filled Mattresses, only 11.95

Seldom are you afforded such an opportunity as this! Mattresses made up of hundreds of coil springs, well embedded in layers of white cotton, and covered with quality ticking in neat patterns. Rolled edge finish. 3 popular sizes—3' 3", 4', 4' 6". Sale price .....

Satin Bound All-Wool Blankets 3.95

A wonderful value in soft, well napped All-Wool Madawaska Blankets, made by the Kenwood Mills. Size 60 x 80 inches, in boudoir shades of rose, blue, gold, green and orchid with matching satin binding. On sale, each.....

Extra Value
Regular $3.95
Rayon Bedspreads

Only a special purchase can bring such savings on quality Spreads. These are particularly nice in fancy damask patterns with dainty scalloped edges. Large size, 80 x 100 inches, in dainty colorings. On sale Thursday, each..... 2.98

Quality Sheetings

Wise and thrifty housewives shop at HALL'S for dependable quality Sheetings at fair prices. Here we offer two of our splendid values that are favorites. Closely, round threads in smooth weave. 72 and 81-inch widths at, yard..... 49c and 59c

RICHARD HALL LIMITED

Extra Special!
Simmons 3 Pc. BED OUTFITS - - - 14.95

You can well afford to share this special on a Bed Outfit that will assure you of comfortable, restful sleep. The Bed is walnut finish (style as illustrated); the Mattress is filled with layers of soft, sanitary cotton, covered with fancy ticking, well tufted, and the Cable Link Spring is sturdily built. The ideal Outfit for that spare room. 3 sizes—

3' 3"
4' and
4' 6"

CAMPBELLFORD

SPEAKER TELLS MISSION WORK FORMOSA ISLE

Splendid Reports Read at Ninth Annual Meeting of Cobourg Presbyterial.

AT CAMPBELLFORD

CAMPBELLFORD April 10.—The ninth annual meeting of the Cobourg Presbyterial was held in St. John's United Church, Campbellford, Ont., April 3 and 4, 1935. On Wednesday evening a meeting of the executive nominating and finance committees was held in the Sunday School hall at 7 o'clock.

There were 19 members present. A vote of appreciation was tendered Mrs. Ashton, the retiring president, for her excellent work during her term of office. On Thursday the meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Ashton; worship service by Mesdames Terrill and McMaster, and address of welcome was given by Mrs. P. A. Morgan of Campbellford and reply given by Mrs. (Rev.) Terrill, Grafton.

Report of executive by Mrs. A. M. Smale, Warkworth.

Corresponding Secretary Mrs. (Rev.) A. Armstrong, Hilton, calling the roll; each auxiliary giving a report of number of members. The treasurer, Mrs. H. L. Flindall gave an interesting report.

Space will not permit for the splendid reports given by each of the different secretaries.

Mrs. Armstrong, corresponding secretary, read a letter from the branch president, Mrs. W. L. Smyth, B.A. The amount raised by the auxiliaries, circles, mission and bands was $7,916.49. The secretaries of the different departments gave excellent reports. The quiet half-hour service, led by Mrs. Gray, was very impressive. The effect, that all seemed drawn closer to Jesus. The banner for young women was won by Campbellford circle. The banner for the mission band having highest points was won by Roseneath Mission Band.

The reading contest of missionary literature was adopted.

In the afternoon an In Memoriam service was conducted by Mesdames Barrett and Snelgrove of Brighton. Recording Secretary Mrs. Smale read the minutes of morning session and the reports of secretaries continued. Mrs. A. G. Watson sang a solo, "The Stranger of Galilee," accompanied by Mr. Hasell, A.T.C.M., organist of Campbellford United Church.

The address given by Miss Isabel Elliott, Formosa, made clear the great work of missionaries and the need in that far-off island of Christian workers.

Mrs. Ashton mentioned the two sectional meetings held in June were interesting and well attended. The school for leaders held in Whitby, the last week in August, was well represented by Cobourg Presbyterial. Miss Mitchell, travelling secretary of Dominion, visited the western section in September and the Eastern early in December. Report of nominating committee and election of officers, as the three-year system of office has been followed, it meant considerable change for coming year. Delegates to branch were Mrs. Ashton, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Morgan.

Installation of officers was conducted by Rev. J. F. Lane in the absence of Mrs. Mears.

At the evening service an Easter pageant, "Why Didn't You Tell," was given by the Day Spring Mission Band, and Mrs. Elliott gave another inspiring address on Formosa.

Officers for 1935

Honorary Presidents—Mrs. J. W. Roberts, Mrs. Ballagh, Mrs. Mears.

Past President—Mrs. W. H. Ashton.

President—Mrs. S. L. Terrill.

First Vice-President—Mrs. S. J. Gray.

Second Vice-President—Mrs. H. B. Neal.

Corresponding Secretary — Mrs. Armstrong.

Treasurer—Mrs. Flindle.

Secretaries of Departments:

Christian Stewardship and Finance—Mrs. Jibb.

Supply—Mrs. Findley.

Work for Young Women—Mrs. Wilbur Barry.

Affiliated C.G.I.T. — Miss Luella Monroe.

Mission Bands and Baby Bands—Mrs. W. Dunk (nee Edna Post).

Associate Helpers—Mrs. W. E. Lewis.

Strangers—Mrs. Wm. Calder.

Literature—Miss Margaret Moffatt.

Missionary Monthly and World Friends—Mrs. Duffin.

Temperance—Mrs. J. W. Platt.

Recording and Peace—Mrs. J. J. Way.

Press—Mrs. M. L. Hinton.

Would Park Cars In Subway Tiers

NEW YORK, April 10 (C.P.)—Proposing a cure for the parking problem by drawing on the largest mechanical and electrical devices of the age, Dr. G. V. Clarke, an engineer, has submitted to Mayor La Guardia a plan for a continuous underground garage in Sixth Avenue, beside the subway excavation.

The plan provides for lifts ready to receive cars placed on the sidewalk at one or two block intervals along the line of the subway. A motorist wishing to park his car would simply drive it on a lift, deposit a quarter or any specified coin in the standard, and pull a lever.

This would put the storing mechanism in motion. The lift would descend with the car to the proper level below the street, the car would be picked up by a transverse lift and stored in a vacant cell.

The underground storage cells would be built in tiers to make accommodations for as many cars as possible, and, although no definite estimate of the total number that might be provided for along the miles of the Sixth Avenue subway has been made, rough calculation indicates a good many thousands.

TRENT RIVER Y.P.S. HEARS FINE TALK

Rev. S. A. Kemp Speaks on "Forsaking the Worldly and the Selfish."

TRENT RIVER, April 10 (Examiner Correspondence) — Devotional exercises at the Young People's League Friday night were conducted by the president, George Armstrong. Rev. S. A. Kemp led in prayer. The president proposed the program for Friday night April 12 to be given by all new talent, thus bringing other members in the league, Miss Debra Longmuir to be convenor.

Owing to the convenor, Miss Betty Ormiston being absent, Miss B. French took over the program—vocal duet by Gayle Pollock and Clara Chaplin; reading, "If We Live" by Miss Debra Longmuir; recitation, Jimmie Umphrey.

Rev. S. A. Kemp gave a most helpful talk on "Forsaking the worldly and the selfish." If the young people come to league meeting only to be entertained, then we miss what the league stands for, the pastor said. When a church forgets everything and lives only for its own little community—it's a failure. The real work is trying to help others. After the singing of a hymn the meeting closed with the mispah benediction.

Weddings

CLARKE—BRAY.

CENTRETON, April 10.—(Examiner Correspondence).—A pretty but quiet wedding was solemnized at the United Church parsonage on Tuesday afternoon when Helen Eva, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bray, Baltimore, became the bride of Archie Ray Clarke, of Colborne, Rev. W. P. Woodger officiating.

The bride looked charming in a frock of Marina blue thist o' moon crepe, trimmed with silver sequins, and wore silver slippers to match.

Immediately after the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents to immediate relatives.

The young couple left on a motor trip to Toronto and points west, the bride travelling in a navy-blue crepe with hat, coat and accessories to match. On their return they will reside at Centreton.

ALMARK—RUTTAN.

TRENT RIVER, April 10.—(Examiner Correspondence.)—The marriage took place quietly at Woodgreen United church parsonage, Toronto, Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, of Elgan Victoria, second daughter of John A. Ruttan, of Trent River, to Albert Almark, of Toronto.

The bride wore a becoming gown of marine blue crepe, trimmed with white rolled crepe, tinsel and rhinestone buckles with hat, shoes and gloves to match and carried a bouquet of yellow and white spring flowers. Mrs. Ed. Howse, sister of the bride, was in attendance.

After the ceremony a wedding lunch was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Howse, Toronto, leaving afterwards for Trent River to spend over the week-end with the bride's relatives. They will reside at 575 Pape ave., Toronto. Previous to the marriage the bride was tendered two showers, including a case of silver from the manager of Ropes Bros.' firm, where the bride has been employed for a number of years.

WHEAT, CLOVER DAMAGE HIGH

Frosty Nights and Sunny Days Hard on Field Crops, But Aid Syrup Industry.

STOCK PRICES STEADY.

TORONTO, April 10 (C.P.)—Except in Northern Ontario where there is still time to spare and in parts of central Ontario, where little damage has been experienced, fall wheat, clover and alfalfa winter injury has been considerable throughout Ontario, according to the weekly crop report of the Ontario Department of Agriculture issued yesterday.

Frosty nights and bright sunny days that are bad for field crops, however, have benefited the maple syrup industry and the run is reported fairly good. Prices for syrup are quoted as low as $1.25 a gallon but most sales are being made at $1.50 a gallon or better. Livestock prices continue steady, especially for better bred milch cows.

Almost every part of the province is badly in need of warm rains followed by moderate weather. Spring seeding is well advanced.

Heat caused a blazing automobile in a locked garage in London to blow its own horn, attracting men who rescued the machine.

A Child's Cough
Is Nature's Warning that Congestion Is Present

WHEN your child's cough rings out, visions of croup, bronchitis and broncho-pneumonia come to your mind. A safe way to loosen a cough in its early stages and thus prevent bronchitis or pneumonia is to give Baby's Own Tablets to the child. These sweet-tasting little tablets contain no opium or stupefying drug. They work directly on the inflamed surface or lining of the throat, bronchial tubes and even the lungs and help to prevent the formation of troublesome membrane or obstructive coating. In most congestions of throat and chest the large bowel is at fault and, just as they stimulate the lining of throat and bronchial tubes, Baby's Own Tablets also stimulate the surface or lining of the large bowel and quickly remove the congested wastes from the body.

Wise parents turn naturally to Baby's Own Tablets when the child has a cough, knowing that they have this double or complete action in removing congestions and the cause of congestions, which, if not removed, may lead to bronchitis or pneumonia.

Containing no opiates, these harmless little tablets are safe for even the most delicate baby. And they are so inexpensive it is an economy to give them to older children up to 12 years of age, too.

The effectiveness of Baby's Own Tablets has been proven by mothers in many countries, but here's the experience of a Canadian mother of Guelph, Ontario:

"I have used Baby's Own Tablets for all four babies. Why I like them is because they act so quickly and no after effects. They are so mild and give the child a good restful sleep. Just the other morning my neighbor's boy was all fevered up with a very bad cold. I took over my Baby's Own Tablets and she gave him three tablets. Next morning he was up and out playing. She said she never dreamed they were so good, so that's a new customer for Baby's Own Tablets."

Get a box of Baby's Own Tablets from your druggist today. They are effective for colds, croup, simple fevers, constipation, diarrhoea, upset stomach, teething troubles and minor ailments of children.

Havelock

Miss Anna Anderson of Perth and formerly of town is visiting Mrs. John Seabrook this week.

Mrs. Earl Williams of Campbellford and formerly of town was in the village Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Gould of Dublin street, Peterborough visited Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Gould on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Brennan motored to Toronto and visited firends there on Saturday

Miss Mae Huycke of Hastings spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Gould.

Mr. N. L. Small, B.A., of the Continuation School staff spent Saturday at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Mathison and family spent Sunday with Belleville friends.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McKenty of Hastings and Mr. W. O'Shea were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Moore and family.

Miss Jessie K. Whitton, B.A., of the Continuation School staff spent the week-end with Toronto friends.

Miss F. E. Morgan, B.A., principal of the H.C.S. spent the week-end with Belleville friends.

Mr. Robt. J. Scully spent the week-end with his family in Toronto.

Miss Helen Bedford was guest soloist with Red Hickey's orchestra at the Cameo Club, Toronto on Thursday evening last.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hill and family of Dummer have moved to the village.

Miss Mildred Reynolds of Trenton spent the week-end with her cousin, Miss Isabel Breckenridge of Belmont.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Breckenridge and daughters Lulu and Muriel spent the week-end with their daughter, Mrs. Blake Haig in Toronto.

Rev. Father J. J. McCarthy had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Crook on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Sayers spent Sunday with Tweed relatives.

Mr. R. G. Seeney spent the week-end with friends in Corbyville.

Mrs. David McAdam underwent a rather serious operation at Mrs. Cummings' Nursing Home on Monday.

Many friends of John Anderson of Round Lake Settlement will regret to learn of his serious illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Spencer and daughter Beryle of Campbellford spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. Spencer here.

Young's Point

Capt. William Scollard, who has spent the past six months as a log-scaler at Iroquois Falls, returned to his home on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Jackman, of Lakefield, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wilson on Sunday.

Mrs. William Thompson, of Mount Julian, was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Moore from Friday until Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Windrem and son, Kenneth, and Miss Edith Windrem, all of Lindsay, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wilson on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Duval have again taken up residence in their home in the village after spending the winter months in Peterborough.

Miss Velma Jackman, of Lakefield, was a visitor to the village on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Shearer, of Lakehurst, were the guests of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brown, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Smith, also Mr. and Mrs. Sam Woods, all of Hall's Bridge, were in the village on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith, of Oshawa, are visiting at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Merrell.

Mrs. Robert Knox and daughter, Mary, of Apsley, spent Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Darling.

The W.A. of St. Aidan's Anglican Church are holding an Easter bazaar on Friday afternoon, April 26, in the annex of the Lakeview House, Young's Point. In the evening there will also be a euchre party and dance.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk, and the world looks punk, don't think that a huge dressing out of the bowels will make you suddenly sweet and pungent and full of ambition.

It can't do it! You know it can't give you any lasting relief. For a mere dressing can't get at the cause. The reason for your down and out feeling is your liver. It should pour into your bowels a pint of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food does not digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Your skin often breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and your days seem dull and dark. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pints of bile flowing freely. Then, and then only, will you get rid of that sour, sunk feeling. Carter's Little Liver Pills are purely vegetable, gentle and mild. Be sure to get Carter's Little Liver Pills when you want relief.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Refuse substitutes. 25c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Interesting Talks At Rylstone Meeting

RYLSTONE, April 10 (Examiner Correspondence).—Misses Reta and Vera Finch were hostesses of the Rylstone Women's Institute at their regular monthly meeting on Wednesday afternoon.

The president Mrs. Fred Barnum presided. After considering some items of business the following program was presented. Topic, "Furnishing a home on Modern Means," by Mrs. Wilfred Spencer; reading, Mrs. Lillian Anderson; readings were also given by Mrs. Sanford Metiklejohn, Miss Winnie Spencer. Contest was conducted by Miss Vivian Metiklejohn.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem. Candy was served and a pleasant social half hour was spent.

Community League

The regular weekly meeting of the Rylstone Community League was held on Wednesday evening April 3, at James F. Finch, with a good attendance.

Scripture reading was read by Vera Stewart from Corinthians. The devotional talk was given by Rev. H. W. Foley. Devotional convener took charge of the following program: current events were given by Alex Stewart; interesting addresses were given by Thomas Fry; duet, "The Old Rugged Cross" by Vivian Metiklejohn, Bruce Barnum; group prayer was then given; contest was given by Ross Mumby; Grant Metiklejohn then conducted another contest.

RYLSTONE

Mrs. Gladys Mumby is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Will Logue, Foxboro.

Mr. William Finch had the misfortune to break his arm on Saturday when cranking his car.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Irwin and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Gibson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Verney Heath and family, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Irwin were guests of Mr. Will Andrews Thursday evening.

Mrs. Harold Spencer and Berle of Campbellford visited at the home of Mr. Herbert Spencer over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Buchanan were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roslin Finch on Sunday.

Mr. Basil Samons, Mrs. Tom Samons and Mrs. Archie Samons spent Thursday with friends in this vicinity. Mrs. Howard Finch returned home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Finch were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Finch.

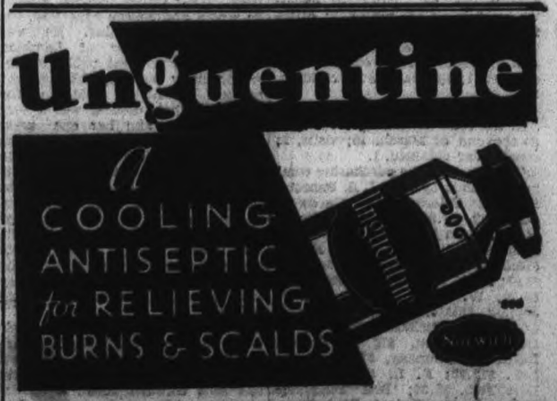
Business Girls Get Relief

If overwork saps your strength . . . If weak spells, sallow cheeks, sick headaches, restless nights and pepless days take the joy out of life, start rebuilding your health with Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills, just as thousands of business girls and older people all over Canada are doing every day. A remedy tried and proven for 40 years. At drug and general stores.

The T. Milburn Co. Limited, Toronto, Ont.

MILBURN'S HEALTH AND NERVE PILLS

for Weak and Nervous People



CENT A MILE ROUND TRIP BARGAINS (Minimum Fares: Adults 75c; Child 40c.

FRIDAY, April 12 from PETERBORO

To Guelph, Kitchener, Stratford, Goderich, Kincardine, Southampton, Owen Sound, and all intermediate Points beyond Guelph.

St. Catharines, Niagara Falls, Grantford, Sandstead, London, Barrie, Orillia, Gravenhurst, Bracebridge, Huntsville, North Bay, Hanford, Brantford, Woodstock, Tillsonburg, Simcoe, Welland, Fonthill.

All Towns on lines of TEMISKAMING AND NORTHERN ONTARIO R.R. DIFFERING CENTRAL R.R.'s: Cochrane-Kapuskasing.

Parry Sound, Sudbury (Longlac (Hamilton (Hardrock (Jellicoe (Burgeon Side (Geta Fields.)

Saturday, April 13, to Lindsay, Toronto, and Hamilton

Tickets Return Limits and Train Information from Agents. Ask for Handbill. 74178.8

J. B. HOWARD, 264 George Street. Phone 259 and 128.

CANADIAN NATIONAL

42-4.10

See the New 1935
Kelvinator Refrigerators
On Display.
TERMS ARRANGED.
Complete Electric Refrigerator Repair Department. All makes repaired. Factory trained men.
JOHNSTON
Wed.Sat-tf

SOUTH-END PRAYER MEETINGS
THURSDAY, APRIL 11TH, 20 A.M.
Mrs. McCabe ..... 845 George S.
Mrs. Meredith ..... 172 Lansdowne
Mrs. Wright ..... 488 Albert
Mrs. Moore ..... 111 Morrow
Mrs. Orr ..... 535 Parnell
2.30 p.m.—Mrs. Moynes, 128 Monaghan

D&H COAL
LOWEST IN TEN YEARS
ORDER NOW AND SAVE
Nut Coal . $13.75 per ton
Stove Coal 14.00 per ton
Egg & Nut 13.75 per ton
Pea Coal . . 11.75 per ton
ScotchCoal 15.50 per ton
All KINDS OF WOOD
50c Discount on Ton Lots Ordered Now
W. J. Nelson
253 Simcoe Phone 2906
Sd,10,13

YOUR FEET!
Discomforts in the feet and legs sometimes exist because of derangement of the bones which form either the longitudinal or transverse arch.
This will allow for constriction of nerves and blood vessels along the bottom of the foot and create abnormal tension on muscles.
OUR FOOT TREATMENTS do help in overcoming these discomforts and in restoring normal flexibility to troublesome joints.
SEE US AND WALK BETTER.
M. C. GOODWIN
Chiropractor
208 Barrie Bldg. - Peterborough
Phones 431 and 1340-J.

Dr. T. P. McCullough
Specialist
Phone 36-W. 186 Brock Street.
Peterborough
Eye, Ear, Nose, Throat and Sinus Work.
All styles of Frames and Glasses greatly reduced in price.
dtf-8275

USED CARS
Come to Us with Confidence.
PRICES OF ALL NEW AND USED CARS MARKED IN PLAIN FIGURES.

Stock No.		Price
32S	—Ford V8 Coupe, nearly new	$725
103S	—Chevrolet Sedan, like new	$169
113S	—Two-Wheel Trailer...	$ 40
2D	—Willys-Knight Sedan.	$325
5D	—Plymouth Sedan	$275
6D	—Chrysler Coupe	$385
7D	—Studebaker Panel Delivery	$200
9D	—Studebaker Sedan....	$145
3	—Dutch 5-Pass. Coupe, excellent	$975
6	—Dutch Sedan, 7-Pass..	$110
7	—Ford V8 Coach	$465
14	—Ford A Panel Delivery	$125
17R	—Whippet Sedan, 4-cyl.	$165
20R	—Buick Sedan, 7-Pass.	$125
21R	—Ford Pick-up Truck..	$ 45
45	—Chevrolet Touring ..	$ 35
46	—Pontiac Roadster ...	$215
50	—Pontiac Sedan	$260
56	—Pontiac Sedan	$240
63	—Ford Truck	$150
64	—Pontiac Sedan	$215

BRING THIS LIST WITH YOU.
These Cars must be seen to appreciate their Value.
Your Present Car Taken in Exchange.
Easy Payments if desired.
J. J. DUFFUS CO.
WATER ST. AT CHARLOTTE

CLASSIFIED ADS are as useful as the day is long.

The Peterborough Examiner

PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, CANADA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 10, 1935

LOCALS

RED JACKET COAL
EGG OR LUMP
(Rescreened).
$9.50 per Ton, Delivered
Order through your dealers.
dtaf,8873

"THE REVOLT OF THE ANGELS" is the British-Israel topic to be given by W. G. Rose, of Toronto, at the Paragon Hall, Friday, 8. p.m.
2d.-88-86

KINDLING.
25 bundles real dry kindling delivered anywhere in city, $1.00. Also cedar shingles, slabs and buttings, $2.00 per load. Kingdon Barrel & Shingle Factory. 'Phone 3230.
3d-87-336.

RED PATCH CLUB.
Meeting Thursday, April 11, at 8 p.m. Recreation Room, Armouries.
1d-86-340

DO YOU KNOW
that 85% of all we learn is through our eyes? To be assured yours are functioning 100%, consult E. Warren Rose, optometrist, 172 Charlotte, office in Harris Drug Store. 'Phone 627.
w,s,tf

GRENFELL MISSION.
The local branch of Grenfell Labrador Mission makes its annual appeal for funds. Kindly leave donations at The Examiner Office or send to the treasurer, Mrs. F. M. Somerville, 16 Inverlea street.
w.s.-Apl. 30

TRACTOR FUEL OIL.
12c per gallon at Dawson's Service Station, Reid and McDonnel streets. 'Phone 1522.
6d,92,333

NO COMBINE HERE.
Compare our prices. Lehigh Valley Coal, $12.50 per ton. Coke, dry, plain, $11.25 per ton. Connel Coal also at reduced prices. All kinds of wood in stock.—Kawartha Fuels, 242 Perry Street. Phone 3604.
1d-86-361

ANTHRACITE COAL.
Stove size, $14.00; Nut and Egg, $13.75; Pea, $11.75; Scotch, $15.50 per ton. 50c discount for cash on delivery of 1 ton or more.—Phone 96. McCarthy & Johnston.
w,fri,mon-353

ANTHRACITE COAL, $4.50 TON.
That was our price in 1897. Today the only resemblance is the weight (2,000 lbs. to the ton). Spring prices now in effect. For continual coal satisfaction always telephone 264-W.—W. Scott Coal and Cold Storage, East City. 3d-10,13,17-333

A PERSONAL INVITATION.
You are invited to a beautiful Easter Tea on Friday, April 12th, in the Sunday school auditorium of George St. United Church, between 4 and 6, in the afternoon. A wonderful musical program is arranged, and the J. O. Y. Class, who are sponsoring the Tea, cordially invite you to come and bring your friends.
1d-86-366.

KEENE
Mrs. F. Eason and Miss M. Bryce entertained the Ladies' Club of Keene at the home of Mrs. William Campbell on Wednesday evening, April 3. Mrs. J. S. Ferguson put on a very interesting program on Stephen Leacock. Besides an account of his life the members heard several of his sketches read. Mrs. Eason and Miss Bryce sang a spring song and the evening closed with refreshments.
Mrs. W. T. Fletcher and daughter Joan were guests of friends in Toronto recently.
Mrs. Blakely of Willoughby, Ohio is a guest of Mrs. Marshal Weir.
Miss Isobel Hastie of Montreal is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Adamson.
A number of friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eason on Monday evening when a shower was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Eason in honor of their recent marriage.
The G.Y.P.A. meeting was held in the town hall on Tuesday evening. The main feature was a short skit put on by a number of the members. The meeting was followed by dancing.

Last Call
GOOD FOR 6 MORE DAYS ONLY MEN'S HATS Cleaned 35c
WITH NEW BAND ADDED 75c
Hats Called for and Delivered.
SERVICE CIGAR STORE
NEXT THE ELITE
220 George. 'Phone 927

On that Day of Days
When she becomes yours—make sure that her wedding ring matches her engagement ring. Insist on BLUEBIRDS
BLUEBIRD Registered DIAMOND RINGS
WARNES
DIAMOND HALL - PHONE 880

AUXILIARY HEARS BERTHA W. ROBSON

Returned Missionary From Bhil Field Addresses Fraser Auxiliary.

The Fraser Auxiliary of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church held the monthly meeting last night — the Easter thankoffering amounted to $62.00. President Miss Lillian Esplen, after the opening exercises, introduced Miss Bertha W. Robson, M.A., missionary from the Presbyterian Church in Canada to the Bhils at Amhkut, in Central India. Miss Robson, who has been home on furlough for some time, but anticipates returning to the Bhil field in the coming fall, has already spent about twenty-three years in India.

Last night she delighted her audience with stories of the work among this interesting race. The Bhil Mission was inaugurated by Dr. John Buchanan about 40 years ago —and this veteran missionary still "holds the fort," she said. The Christianizing of these people has been of steady progress, and now, associated with Dr. Buchanan, are about twenty Canadian and native teachers and workers, who look after the spiritual and physical well-being of their charges. The speaker told many touching and human stories of contacts with the native Bhils, of the hardships endured until the advent of the automobile, when horses and oxen were used for transportation; the poverty of the people, and the high death-rate among mothers and children until the mission undertook the upbringing of the young boys and girls; of the weather conditions at various seasons, with dust storms; horse-back riding and the narrow, steep mountain paths; and the dangers from jungle inhabitants.

The outstanding note of the address was the spiritual benefit these Bhil natives derived through contact with the missionaries, and the progress of education in the schools, which are held from 6 a.m. to 11 a.m. owing to the heat.

Thanks were extended Miss Robson for her delightful narrative, followed by a solo by Miss Jessie Pattison, and refreshments served by the Auxiliary.

Glands May Cause Juvenile Trouble

NEW YORK, April 10 (C.P.)—If Johnny exaggerates or lies so glibly that his mother doesn't know what to do, perhaps she should have his glands treated.

If little Mary is lazy or has a poor memory, the remedy may be the same.

"These ailments can be reformed in most cases through glandular treatment," said Dr. Albert Simard, French endocrinologist who is here for a general study of American medicine. "It is becoming more important each year that children receive treatment for deficient or excessive gland secretations."

Most American schools, he said, attach too little importance to the possibilities of improving children's mental and physical health by treatment of the ductless glands.

MAIN STREET TOPICS

Tabs and Jottings as Picked Up by an Examiner Reporter.

HIGH CHAIR
A request has been made for a high chair. If one is available, please telephone Miss McCarthy at The Examiner, and it will be called for.

AUTO TAKES FIRE
Becoming detached from the windshield and short circuiting when it came in contact with the clutch pedal, an electric defroster was the cause of an outbreak of fire in an automobile owned by Philip Black. The car took fire at Boswell avenue and King street at 8.14 p.m. yesterday and necessitated a run for Peterborough Fire Department. Damage to the car was negligible. A few minutes following the car fire, the brigade sped out to a grass fire at 307 Monaghan Road; and shortly before three o'clock this morning was again called out by a false alarm, the second in the course of two days. The false alarm was rung in from the box at Aylmer and McDounel streets, and police are investigating.

CONTEST WINNER
Ephraim H. Brown has been declared winner in a contest conducted by the management of George Street Shooting Gallery by virtue of of a 587-point score out of a possible 600. The contest has been conducted over the past few weeks, the prize being a suit of clothes.

REPAINTING TEMPLE
Adjutant Neil Warrander of the local Corps of the Salvation Army has temporarily discarded his trim blue uniform, to don a pair of dungarees. He is assisting with the repainting of the exterior of the Salvation Army Temple, which is being renovated to mark the Army's 50th anniversary in Peterborough.

Warkworth

W. J. Harper visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wolfraim, Castleton on Sunday.

Dr. D. W. Barrett has returned after spending the winter with Mr. and Mrs. William Barwell, Ashton.

Mrs. W. B. Baker and Cameron visited her mother, Mrs. James A. Arkils, Castleton on Sunday.

Mr. T. S. Baker and son Dr. Ward Baker of Campbellford visited Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Baker on Sunday.

Mrs. W. J. Harper is spending a few days with her daughter Mrs. Charles Wolfraim, Castleton.

Rev. Dr. J. R. R. Cooper preached at the anniversary services at Cardinal on Sunday.

Mr. Clarke, student of Albert College took charge of the services in the United Church here on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Dawe are visiting Rev. L. H. Fowler and Mrs. Fowler at Lancaster.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Thompson of Cobourg visited Mrs. J. E. Thompson also Mrs. W. V. Drewery on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Dingman and Peter visited Mr. and Mrs. James Kelly, Morganston on Sunday.

DUCE PREPARES PARLEY SETTING IN OLD CASTLE

Three Premiers Will Meet in Halls Where Napoleon Once Stayed.

DEBATE EUROPE'S PEACE.

STRESA, Italy, April 10. (C.P.-Havas).—In the quiet halls of a castle perched high on the terraced Isola Bella, where 135 years ago Napoleon stayed, and a decade later the Empress Josephine, three Premiers will gather Thursday for the purpose of assuring peace in Europe.

When Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Britain, Premier Pierre-Etienne Flandin of France and Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy arrive here to discuss German re-armament they will find the stage set, the curtains drawn.

They will talk of the threats of war in an atmosphere of peace. As they sit in solemn conference their eyes will survey sweeping terraces, beautiful gardens and the magic blue of Lake Maggiore opening to the beauties of an Italian spring.

No Care Spared

Il Duce has spared nothing to make the conference a curious mixture of the 17th century opulence and 20th century efficiency. While 23 private telegraph wires will hum with messages from 300 news correspondents and huge searchlights will play about Isola Bella, servants in white wigs and costumes of another age will wait on the diplomats. They will wear the livery of the House of Barromeo which gave its name to the famous Islands.

Isola Bella which once was called Isola Isabella, got its name from the Princess Isabella, wife of Count Carlo Borromeo, who in 1632 built the castle in which the conference will take place.

Stresa was already decorated today for the guests. Stores displayed portraits of Il Duce and of the premiers of France and England.

Home and School Association News

KING GEORGE SCHOOL.

The affirmative side won the verdict as the City Debating Club discussed a resolution that environment is a greater cause for crime than heredity, at the King George Home and School Association meeting last night. Judges were Mrs. Roy Powell, T. Hendry, and F. E. Kerr.

A piano solo was offered by Catherine Hendry and vocal solos were sung by Mrs. Cooper and Leslie Sage during the program. It was announced that Mr. Kerr's and Miss Cox's rooms were tied for possession of the banner. A singing canary donated by Mrs. E. Jacquette was won by Mrs. Herger. Mr. Kerr gave a report on League of Nations developments.

Obituary

CLAYTON GILLESPIE
Clayton Eldon Gillespie, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gillespie, 186 Antrim street, was laid to rest in Little Lake Cemetery yesterday afternoon. The funeral proceeded from the home at 1.30 p.m., Rev. C. D. Daniel conducting the services. Pall-bearers were Albert Woodgate, Lionel Batten, Joe Martin and Jack Tigh.

Besides the parents, two brothers, Earl and Raymond at home, survive the infant.

Ontario Power Bill Debate Log

(By The Canadian Press)

Monday:
4.05 p.m.—Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn.
4.15 p.m.—Opposition Leader George S. Henry.
6.00 p.m.—Dinner recess.
8.00 p.m.—Mr. Henry.
10.40 p.m.—Dr. George McQuibban (Lib., Wellington North).
11.20 p.m.—Arthur Ellis (Cons., Ottawa South).

Tuesday:
1.05 a.m.—Colonel F. Fraser Hunter (Lib., Toronto-St. Patrick).
1.20 a.m.—W. A. Baird (Cons., Toronto-High Park).
3.30 a.m.—Colonel T. A. Kidd Cons., Kingston).
4.40 a.m.—G. H. Challies (Cons. Grenville-Dundas).
6.15 a.m.—A. R. Nesbitt (Cons., Toronto-Bracondale).
7.30 a.m.—T. A. Murphy (Cons., Toronto-Beaches).
8.20 a.m.—Breakfast recess.
10.00 a.m. — Leopold Macaulay (Cons., York South.)
1.13 p.m.—W. H. Price (Cons., Toronto-Parkdale).
3.47 p.m. — W. Heighington (Cons., Toronto - St. David's).
5.00 p.m.—Heighington motion for six months' hoist (defeated).
5.30 p.m.—Second reading of bill carried on main motion vote.

U.S. IMMIGRATION FRAUD RACKETS ARE LAID BARE

Over $1,000,000 Paid by Illegally-entered Aliens to Bribe Takers and Fixers.

PROSECUTIONS STARTED.

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—"Startling revelations" were promised by the United States Government to-day as it announced it had evidence of thousands of frauds in the Immigration and Naturalization Service from 1923 to 1933. It moved to oust a number of employees and start wholesale criminal prosecutions.

The bill paid by illegally-entered aliens to a ring of bribe-takers in the service and "fixers" outside was estimated at $1,000,000 or more.

"Revelations so startling in character have come to light that investigators believe the actual extent of corruption and fraud has been but partially disclosed," said a statement issued by the Labor Departments after a secret investigation of alleged frauds in the New York district.

The recent indictment of Michael J. Hogan, former Congressman, who was confidential clerk to the Collector of Customs at the port of New York, was noted by the Department.

Samuel H. Kufman of New York, Special Assistant Attorney General appointed to prosecute the Immigration racketeers, has been given evidence intended to support 26 criminal prosecution involving 30 to 36 individuals.

Deportation of 42 aliens arrested for unlawful residence in this country, filing of 200 proceedings to cancel fraudulent citizenships and institutions of changes designed to remove a number of employees still in the service were promised.

At the outset of the investigation in December, 1933, officials said it was found records at Ellis Island had been altered, official documents were missing and files relating to cases of fraud stolen.

DIED

MAHOOD.— On April 9, 1935, at Nicholls Hospital, the Rev. Herbert William Longmore MaHood, Ph.D., the beloved husband of Jean Gibson, in his 72nd year.

Funeral at 2 p.m. on Thursday from the family residence, 564 Reid street, with the Rev. J. E. J. Millyard, pastor of George Street United Church, officiating. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

CHAMBERLAIN. — On Tuesday, April 9th, 1935, at Nicholls Hospital, Esther Bernice, beloved wife of Harry Chamberlain, in her 23rd year.

The remains are resting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christie Andrews, Norwood, from where funeral services will be held on Friday at 2 p.m. Interment at Norwood cemetery.

MACFARLANE.—Last evening, in Vancouver, Mrs. Andrew MacFarlane, in her 86th year, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George McCuish.

Surviving, besides Mrs. McCuish, are three sons: Bruce of Vancouver, Ernest of Los Banos, Calif., and Charles D. of this city. Funeral announcement later.

RETURNED MEN HONOR FALLEN AT VIMY RIDGE

First Vimy Ridge Dinner is Held by Ex-Service Men's Club.

URGED TO UNITE.

Promised Pick of All Things, Instead Got Pick and Shovel.

"You who were at Vimy will remember what we were promised on our return to Canada, and you will realize what we haven't got. We were told we'd get the pick of all things. We got the pick—and the shovel, too."

This was the declaration of Captain Sid Whatley as he addressed the first annual Vimy Ridge dinner of the Peterborough ex-Service Men's Social and General Welfare Club at the Armouries last night. One hundred and fifty veterans, many of whom took part in the great struggle, gathered about the table to commemorate the 17th anniversary of the great Battle of Vimy Ridge.

Prefacing a plea for unity among ex-service men in the city, Captain Whatley declared it was the first occasion that the Battle of Vimy Ridge had been celebrated by a banquet here, and expressed the hope it would be made an annual occasion henceforth.

He said the purpose of the recently-formed club is to bring about a more satisfactory consolidation of ex-service men in the city. "You and I have been remiss in our trust to our comrades. If ever there was a day when unity should be exemplified, it should be exemplified by us. Those of you who were at Vimy will have memories. You will remember the price that was paid by Canada; you will remember who you left behind. Whoever was there was marked by the ordeal. His life was cut down at least ten years. Many are breaking down now as a result of Vimy. And yet our country has not given them what was promised."

Urged to Unite.

Captain Whatley urged the men to unite to a strength which would bring better conditions to ex-service men here. He urged that each man in his audience seek improved conditions through the present governmental representative of Peterborough and to elect only men in the future who promise those better conditions. In four years $4,800,000 per year has been cut off from ex-service men by those administering pensions, he said. "Who knows what is going to happen in the next few years? That is why we must unite."

Robert Mitchell asserted that the Peterborough ex-Service Men's Club was not antagonistic to any other club in the city. He declared, "As far as loyalty is concerned, we are as loyal as any other organization. We are loyal to our King, our Empire, our Canada, and our City. If, at any time, we can work with any other organization for the betterment of the soldiers in the city, we will be glad to do so."

In a short address E. N. Draper urged that the men in the club give full support to the work of their officers. "If you will come to the meetings and listen and co-operate, I'm sure you'll benefit. We are going to get support whether from this government or the next. We are loyal, and what we want is loyalty and respect from those above us."

J. J. Duffus.

Introduced by Arthur Nokes, presiding, as a man who has demonstrated always a ready willingness to do everything possible for ex-service men, J. J. Duffus extolled Canada as a country abounding in natural resources and blessed with a democratic form of government. He urged that the best be made of the abundant possibilities lying in citizenship in the Dominion.

The men bowed their heads in memory of their fallen comrades. As the room was darkened, Captain Whatley recited "In Flanders Fields." The Last Post, followed by Reveille, was sounded by a bugler in the corridor outside the banquet hall.

Captain Whatley read messages and reported verbally the regrets of Colonel G. G. Winterbottom, M. R. Sloan, Mayor Roland Denne, and E. A. Peck, M.P., who were invited to address the banquet, but found themselves unable to be present.

THERE'S A HOST of Bargains IN TODAY'S ADS.

Knox United Church Choir
Presents
TWO ONE-ACT PLAYS and MUSICAL PROGRAMME
IN KNOX LECTURE HALL FRIDAY, APRIL 12TH
AT 8.15 P.M.
ADMISSION - - ADULTS 25c : CHILDREN 15c
86-88-339

Recent Portraits Of New Governor-General And Lady

Here are most recent portraits of Canada's new governor-general, John Buchan, and Mrs. Buchan, reproduced through courtesy of Lafayette Ltd., of London, England. Mr. and Mrs. Buchan will take up residence at Rideau Hall this autumn. Married in 1907, the new governor-general-elect and Mrs. Buchan have three sons and a daughter.

Don't Experiment with Risky Chemicals or Tweezers
Use Electrolysis
For the Only Safe and Permanent Removal of
HAIR ON THE FACE
ANNE GRAHAM LOGAN
DERMATOLOGIST
Formerly of Hiscott Institute
12 Years Experience
118½ HUNTER W.
PHONE 3102

IN MEMORIAM.

TULLY.—In affectionate and loving memory of a dear boy, Milton Tully, who departed this life April 10, 1931.

"At early morn when all was still,
God gave His great command,
When one we loved was called away
Into the better land.
We leave you in God's keeping
The rough road safely o'er,
You are not lost to loving hearts
But only gone before.
Your face is ever before us,
Your voice we cannot forget,
Your smile will linger forever
In memory we see you yet."
—Sadly missed by Father, Mother and Family.

I. D. A. — G. A. Borland DRUGS — I. D. A.
HERE ARE A GREAT MANY REAL BARGAINS in Drugs and Drug Sundries for the People of Peterborough—Same Prices as in Toronto—TO-NIGHT, THURSDAY, FRIDAY, AND SATURDAY.

WASH CLOTH AND WRIGHT'S COAL TAR SOAP— THE TWO FOR	5c
NORTHERN TISSUE... 4 for	26c
KOTEX WONDERSOFT	19c
MOTH BALLS, LB.	9c
A. B. S. & C. TABLETS.. 2 for	23c
Bluejay Corn Plasters	25c
$1.00 Beef, Iron and Wine	89c
Bromo-Seltzer	23c-44c-87c
Burdock Blood Bitters	77c
Blood Purifier and Tonic	89c
Colgate's Tooth Paste	21c-33c
Cress Corn Salve	50c
Eno's Fruit Salt	47c-79c
English Health Salt, 1 Lb. ..	39c
Forhan's Tooth Paste	25c-39c
Freezone for Corns	29c
Hot Water Bottles	69c-99c
Horlick's Malted Milk,	47c-89c-$3.25
Ipana Tooth Paste	39c
50c I.D.A. Kidney Pills	29c
Kleenor Tooth Paste	21c
Larvex for Moths	$1.00
Lavender Shaving Cream	25c
Lifebuoy Soap ..... 3 for	19c
Liquid Corn Remover	25c
Listerine Tooth Paste	25c-39c
Milk Magnesia, 16-oz.	35c
50c Magnesia Tooth Paste	29c
Milburn's H. and Nerve Pills..	34c
Modess, 14 in Pk... 25c—2 for	45c
25c Moth-proof Bags	19c
Nature's Remedy Tabs., 77c-$1.49-	88c
N'Amel Tooth Paste	29c
Olympene	59c-$1.00
Ovaltine	38c-58c-98c
Pepsodent Tooth Paste	39c
Plant's Magnesia Tablets.	19c-39c
Petites Sanitary Pads	19c
Pond's Creams	29c-55c
Russian Mineral Oil, Heaviest Quality..40-oz. 73c—80-oz.	$1.33
Rumacaps	$1.00
Sulphur, Cr. Tartar and Molasses 1 Lb.	23c
Stomach Powder Antacid	49c
Syrup Hypophosphites	89c
Talcum Powder, 1 Lb.	19c
Velvetta Balm for the Hands.	25c-39c
Woodbury Tooth Powder	23c
Wrigley's Gum ..... 4 for	15c
Zam-Buk Ointment	23c
KLEENEX, 200 in Pkg.	18c
FACE-ELLE, 300 in Pkg.	21c
KLEEN-OR TOOTH POWDER,	23c
SEIDLITZ POWDERS, Box ...	9c

BORLAND'S DRUG STORE
222 CHARLOTTE
(Near Aylmer)
'PHONE 274
WE DELIVER

A TREAT TO THE PUBLIC
LADIES' SUIT SPECIAL
The thrifty buyer will lose no time in picking up a New Spring Suit. Sizes 14 to 18, for only 6.98
MILLINERY
Hundreds of New Spring Hats in newest styles. Choice selection of Straws, Crepes, Taffeta, and Suedes.
1.98 — 2.98
COATS AND SUITS
New arrivals in swagger and form-fitting styles. Latest creations of domestic and imported Tweeds, and Fine Cloths. Coat lengths from finger tip down. Come and see us before buying.
BLACK'S ECONOMICAL STORE
GEORGE at KING
Phone 2029

What Every Woman Knows . . .

Mere man is a gay deceiver. He admires organdy femininity . . . and marries all-wool-and-a-yard-wide practicality. Put the two together and you have popularity . . . a simple thing to achieve when you have the latest at the lowest price every day in the advertisements in this paper.

NEIGHBORLY NOTES

Please Phone Items to 1800 or 1801

Representatives of several nationalities mingled amicably around the festive board last night, when the shoemakers and shoe repairers of the city assembled at Hooper's Tea Rooms to consider the advantages of combining locally to become a part of the Shoe Repair Men's Association of the province. About twenty local dealers were present at a very pleasant supper arranged by members of the Head Office executive of the organization, in Toronto, including the president, Mr. Bishop, and the secretary-treasurer, Mr. Sykes. A representative of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company was present also. Several speeches were made, outlining the benefits of the move, and the local men decided to join with the association. The entertainment of the evening was provided in music and song, by Messrs. R. Hendry and J. Smith.

* * *

Mr. J. W. Watson attended the luncheon of the Toronto Gyro Club which was held yesterday in Toronto.

* * *

Master Donald Pearse of Harvey Street, small son of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Pearse, celebrated his seventh birthday anniversary yesterday by entertaining a number of his little friends at a jolly party.

* * *

Miss Alice M. Price, superintendent of the Queen Mary Isolation Hospital, is observing a birthday today.

* * *

At the home of Mrs. Thomas Beatty of Dublin Street, a number of the friends of Miss Anne Wilson of Water Street met on Saturday evening and presented her with a silver tea service, prior to her marriage on Monday to the Rev. Courtland Salisbury of Williamstown, Vermont. A pleasant evening closed with the service of a dainty lunch.

* * *

Mrs. H. J. Mackey of Armour Road entertained the members of the Gleaners' Class of Mark Street United Church, with a good attendance of the members. After the regular business session, the Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Ross Larmer, a sweet vocal solo was given by Mrs. A. Andrus, and readings by Mrs. S. Mitchell and Mrs. Wright. A social hour was spent with a much-enjoyed spelling match, and a delicious lunch served by the hostess. An appreciative vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Mackey at the close of the evening.

* * *

Messrs. Jack Rowland and Dickson Barnard have returned home after spending the week-end in Buffalo and Angola, N.Y.

* * *

Mrs. H. W. Darcey of Downie Street lent her home yesterday afternoon and evening for bridge parties held under the auspices of the Otonabee Chapter I.O.D.E. Mrs. Darcy was assisted by her co-councillor for the month of April, Mrs. E. F. Lawrence. In the afternoon, when seven tables of bridge were played, the high-score prize was won by Miss S. A. Tomkins, the low score by Mrs. A. E. Micks, and the lucky prize by Mrs. John Boyd. Eight tables of cards were played in the evening, with Mrs. J. A. Robinson winning the high-score award and Mrs. James Baird the prize for low score. The lucky prize went to Mrs. P. Martin, and a travelling prize presented also in the evening went to Mrs. D. R. Fleming. Dainty refreshments were served on both occasions.

* * *

The many friends of Mrs. Harold Collins of Otonabee township will be pleased to know that she is making satisfactory progress in Nicholls Hospital after an operation last week.

* * *

Colleen Gilbert of Fradette Avenue celebrated her birthday on Saturday by entertaining a number of her young friends at a pleasant party. The afternoon was spent in games and contests, after which dainty refreshments were served. Those present were Clara Dennie, Ethelwyn Gibson, Aileen Dionne, Joyce Darrel, Connie Reid, Patricia McGarrity, Elsie Jones, Lois McBride, Betty Drummond and Marguerite McGarrity.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Belleghem reached the city last evening, after motoring from St. Petersburg and Miami, Florida, where they have been holidaying for several weeks past. They were accompanied as far as Toronto by Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Cummer, who are spending a few days there and in Meaford before returning home next Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Belleghem, who spent a few days in Washington and New York, ran into a heavy snowstorm yesterday morning at Scranton, Pennsylvania, with snow two feet deep.

* * *

The many friends of Mrs. Frank Graystock of Otonabee will be pleased to learn that she is resting comfortably in Nicholls Hospital, where she has been receiving treatment for the past week.

* * *

At the euchre party held last evening in the Moose Hall under auspices of the Women of the Moose, prize-winners were Mrs. B. Clark and Mr. R. Symonds, first; Mrs. B. Coursey and Mr. J. R. Allen, second; Mrs. Pallant and Mr. J. Dionne, third; Mrs. W. Suddards and Mrs. Herron, fourth.

* * *

Mrs. John McCoy of Pearl avenue has returned home after an illness of the past fortnight in Nicholls Hospital.

* * *

Dr. J. H. Eastwood returned to the city today after an enjoyable vacation of two months' duration, spent in the Barbadoes.

* * *

Mrs. A. L. Kent of King street was hostess last night at a very enjoyable social evening for the Companions and friends of Queen Alexandra Circle of the Ancient Order of the Foresters. Games of whist and bingo were played, with the following prize-winners in whist: Mrs. W. Anderson and Mrs. C. Crouter, first; Mrs. C. Francis and Mr. P. Dainton, second; Mrs. P. Black and Mrs. J. Carter, consolation. In bingo games the winner was Miss G. Wilson. At the conclusion of the games, dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, and a vote of thanks to Mrs. Kent for a very pleasant evening was voiced by Mrs. W. Anderson, on behalf of the guests. Guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. P. Dainton, Mesdames E. Skipper, W. McLarnon, C. Crouter, C. Francis, A. Heron, W. Terrace, E. Freeman, A. Brown, E. Barnes, T. Griffin, A. Bradshaw, W. Anderson, P. Black, A. Simmons, J. Carter, and Miss G. Wilson.

* * *

Miss Marion Wagar of Montreal returned yesterday after spending the week-end with her mother, Mrs. E. J. Wagar, Lock street.

* * *

Miss Marion Armstrong, leader of the C.G.I. in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, will be the special speaker to-night in Bowmanville when the Canadian Girls in Training of the Presbyterian Church there entertain their mothers.

FASHION SERVICE

3015

THREE DIFFERENT NECKLINES

And isn't it smart? Start with a lovely crepe print with long sleeves for its first spring wear. Then of course you'll want a caped dress of bright plain crepe or perhaps in gayly dotted crepe silk. For your summer wardrobe, what could be smarter than the cool yoked model fashioned of white or pastel tub silk, checked linen or striped cotton? Make all three with one pattern.

Style No. 3015 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18 years, 36, 38 and 40-inches bust. Size 16 requires 4⅝ yards of 39-inch material with ⅛ yard of 39-inch contrasting.

The Examiner:
Please order for me,
Pattern Number .....
Size .....
My Name .....
Address .....
.....
I enclose 15c in payment — Allow five days for return

TRINITY WOMEN JOINT MEETING

Miss Lillian Esplen Gives Splendid Address to Combined Auxiliaries.

SOCIAL HOUR HELD.

A very interesting meeting was held on Monday evening in the Ladies' Parlour of Trinity United Church when the members of the Women's Association were the guests of the Elizabeth Parker Auxiliary at their Easter meeting. Miss Edith Preston, vice president was in the chair. The members of the Auxiliary were much encouraged by the reports of the improvement in health of the president, Mrs. A. Parker, who has been very ill.

After the devotional part of the meeting, during which Mrs. Chas. Taylor read the Scripture lesson and Miss Helen Bannister led in prayer, Miss Margaret Wolstenholm sang very sweetly.

Miss Lillian Esplen was the speaker, and her talk on the Passion Play at Oberammergau was very inspiring. She first described the village of Oberamergau, which, contrary to the popular idea, has very commodious and modern homes. The Passion Play has been of great help and inspiration to Christians the world over regardless of race or creed. Miss Esplen attributed this to the fact that no deviation, whatever had been made from the story as told in the Bible. The acting is interspersed with tableaux of Old Testament scenes to illustrate the story of Redemption, from the first, showing man being driven from the Garden of Eden to the final scene after the Resurrection.

Every person taking part in the Passion Play is present at the Communion service at six o'clock every morning the play is presented. So well is the play presented that the audience is not at all conscious of any acting, Miss Esplen said. "I felt as though I had been at a window in Jerusalem looking down on the actual scene."

Miss Ila Giles, on behalf of the auxiliary, moved a vote of thanks to Miss Esplen, which was seconded by Mrs. G. McIntyre. Miss Mabel Clary, acting president of the Women's Association voiced the appreciation of the Association to the Elizabeth Parker Auxiliary for the invitation to meet with them and also to Miss Esplen for her address. A social hour was then enjoyed. Mrs. G. N. Moncrief poured tea. Arrangements for the meeting were in charge of Mrs. Osborne Smith and her committee.

A short business meeting was held by the members of the Auxiliary. The Easter thankoffering was received and amounted to twenty-eight dollars. A slight increase in finances over this time last year was an encouraging feature. Arrangements were made for a rummage sale to be held Friday, April 26th.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

The invalid's whole universe is his bed. The member of the household who undertakes to be the official home nurse must learn to make it comfortable, safe and helpful.

The position in which the bed should be placed is worth the first consideration. Let it be where there is light and sunshine, where the sick person can look out of the window, at the same time not where the light will bother the eyes.

Don't push one side of the bed up against the wall. In your capacity as nurse you may need to go around both sides from time to time, to smooth the bedclothes or perform other simple ministrations.

The best mattress is a hard one. It should be covered with a quilted pad. Tuck the sheet covering the mattress in at the top, because the sick slide down in bed.

Use Rubber Cloth

A strip of rubber cloth or oilcloth should lay over the bottom sheet, extending from the pillow edge to about the middle of the bed (two and one-half to three feet). It should be drawn tight and covered with a half-sheet of its own. This is called the draw sheet: its purpose is to prevent the mattress from getting wet or soiled. If no oilcloth is at hand, use newspapers. Newspapers can also be used for covering between blankets. They are preferable to heavy cotton comforts or cotton quilts, in spite of the rattling.

If the invalid has a cough with expectoration or secretion from the eyes or ears (as so often happens in measles) get a supply of paper bags from the grocery store, open one up and pin it by one side of its mouth to the side of the mattress. Have a supply of paper napkins or cotton pads to catch the sputum or secretions and when they are soiled throw them immediately into the paper bag. Burn the whole thing and replace with another once or twice a day.

A word about pillows. And this is something even highly trained nurses do not know. It applies especially to adults, but it is my guess children would be included. Here it is:

When a person in bed has arranged his own pillows, leave him alone, unless he asks for help. Even if he may not look comfortable to you.

Support for Head

What the invalid in bed wants is support for his head. The last time I was a victim, I would get the hard pillow mashed up around my head and I was all right. Evidently I did not look all right, because as soon as the nurse spied me she would say, "Oh! Let me fix your pillows." Then she would put the hard one against my back and the soft one on top so that when I leaned my head back it would nearly snap off, lolling over into space.

And every relative and visitor who entered the room would immediately move forward with helping hands outstretched and begin, "Oh! Let me just fix—"

This is an approach to which the experienced invalid learns to reply, "Stop right where you are. If you lay a hand on these pillows, I will bite it."

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are 'Indigestion and Constipation', 'Reducing and Gaining', 'Infant Feeding', 'Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes', 'Feminine Hygiene' and 'The Care of the Hair and Skin.'

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

Fish is a recognized Friday dish whether in Lent or not and there is a pleasant idea in having this day's menu settled on to this degree. But there are generally some left-overs, and it is sometimes a problem just how to serve them to promote diversity in the dishes. Today some ways of preparing left overs and how to serve them are given.

* * * * * *

When there is enough left-over fish for a savory luncheon dish flake it and remove bones carefully. Put a bit of butter in a saucepan, the amount being gauged by that of the fish, a level tablespoon to ¾ cup flaked fish is a good amount. When melted put in the fish, and add one tablespoon of vinegar to the quantity given. A little water may be added if more liquid is needed and the acid requires diminishing. Season well with salt and pepper and a dash of celery salt. Serve with radishes.

* * * * * *

Cream the fish as described putting it in patty shells and dot each serving with a round of stuffed olives. Or make short tea biscuits cut rounds off the tops and carefully scoop out the inside leaving shells only. Fill with the creamed fish and serve with olives circles atop each.

* * * * * *

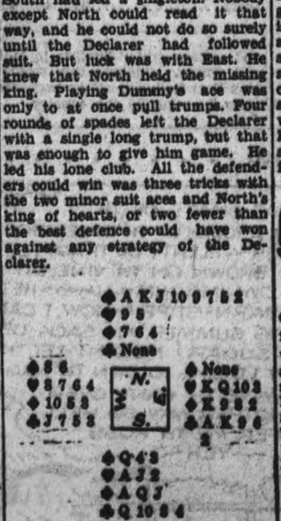
Use minced fish instead of meat to combine with a heavy cream sauce highly seasoned. Roll in bread crumbs then in white of egg, and again in bread crumbs. Put in frying basket and fry in hot fat until brown. Garnish dish with parsley and radish roses. Farina seasoned with salt and pepper and a very little cream can be substituted for the cream sauce if preferred.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By E. V. Shepard
"Teacher of Teachers"

THE DEFENDERS' GREATEST ASSET

The defenders' greatest asset is their right to make the opening lead. Half the time the fate of the contract depends upon what is led, as was the case with his hand, as will be seen.



Bidding went: South, one club; West, one heart; East, one spade; South, two clubs; West, two spades; East, four spades, ending the auction.

South had to make the opening lead. Had he known it, laying down his ace of diamonds, followed by a second lead of that suit, would have enabled his partner to ruff. A return lead of clubs would have been won with the ace. North would have ruffed another diamond, and later on North would have won the fifth defensive trick with his king of hearts, defeating the contract two tricks. Ordinarily laying down an ace blindly is a bad lead, so South led his lone heart. Had the Declarer muffed that opening he might have gone down three tricks. Let North win with his king and he will know that the lead is a singleton. South will ruff a return lead. Let that player lead off his ace of diamonds, followed by a low card of that suit and North will ruff. Leading a club will enable North to obtain a second ruff. Two aces and the king of hearts, with three ruffs will defeat the contract thre tricks.

East hadn't the faintest idea that South had led a singleton. Nobody except North could read it that way, and he could not do so surely until the Declarer had followed suit. But luck was with East. He knew that North held the missing king. Playing Dummy's ace was only to at once pull trumps. Four rounds of spades left the Declarer with a single long trump, but that was enough to give him game. He led his lone club. All the defenders could win was three tricks with the two minor suit aces and North's king of hearts, or two fewer than the best defence could have won against any strategy of the Declarer.

North played seven spades. The opening lead is the king of clubs. Before tomorrow see how many tricks the Declarer can win.

BOILS
Don't suffer
Mecca will relieve
Apply Mecca twice a day to skin parts. Mecca will relieve the pain—bring out the pus, and the core, and heal quickly without a scar.
Mecca Ointment is sold by all Druggists. 25c, 50c (extra), $1.00.
MECCA OINTMENT

Household Hints

By MRS. MARY MORTON

Menu Hint

Spiced Ham Slice
Baked or Scalloped Potatoes
Apple Sauce — Crisp Celery
Angel Custard — Coffee

Peel and slice your apples as for the regular apple sauce, add water and sugar, cover and put in the oven to cook with the other things. Don't buy a single slice of ham if you can avoid it. Buy half, or at least a good sized piece, and ask the butcher to cut a slice or two off it.

Today's Recipes

Spiced Ham Slice—One center slice ham, cut one inch thick; one-half teaspoon cinnamon, one-half teaspoon grated nutmeg, one-fourth teaspoon ginger, two tablespoons sugar, one-fourth cup water, one-fourth cup vinegar. Brown ham on either side in a hot pan. Combine seasonings with sugar, water and vinegar and pour over ham. Cover ham and bake in a slow oven, 326 degrees until tender, from 45 minutes to an hour. Remove cover during last part of the cooking period.

Angel Cutard—One-fourth cup sweetened condensed milk, one and one-fourth cups boiling water, one-eighth teaspoon salt, three egg whites, one-half teaspoon almond extract. Blend sweetened condensed milk and boiling water thoroughly. Add salt. Beat egg whites very slightly, using a fork. Pour milk and water over beaten egg whites and add almond extract. Pour into custard cups, set in pan of hot water and bake about 30 minutes in a moderately slow oven (325 degrees Fahrenheit) until firm. A knife blade inserted will come out clean when custard is done. Serves six.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Fruit Sherbet

One teaspoon gelatin, one cup shredded pineapple, one-half cup sugar, one-half cup orange juice, two tablespoons lemon juice, one banana, two egg whites, one and one-half cups cream, whipped. Sprinkle gelatin over pineapple after it has been measured in a saucepan. Heat slowly to boiling. Remove from frie at once, stir in gelatin, add sugar and stir until it is dissolved. Cool. Combine orange and lemon juice, mash banana and stir in fruit juices. Add pineapple and turn into the frost drawer to chill thoroughly. When the mixture starts to thicken, fold into egg whites and cream, whipped stiff. Return to frost drawer and freeze, stirring occasionally. This may be frozen in regular ice cream freezer.

Be Beautiful

By GLADYS GLAD

Paris long has fancied itself the dictator of all female fads and fashions. But often, I think, Hollywood proves to be several jumps ahead of Paris. Only today, for instance, I received a cable from Paris stating that all smart Parisiennes are now allowing their eyebrows to grow back to their natural thickness, while the girls out in Hollywood already have been doing this for some time.

Carole Lombard, Mae West, Miriam Hopkins and Evelyn Venable were among the first of the cinema luminaries to discard the thin, hairline eyebrow in favor of Nature's own variety. They decided that brows of exaggerated thinness tended to rob the face of a good deal of its expressiveness and character. So they began a "back to Nature" movement for eyebrows, and other film stars followed.

Plucking Painful

Most girls nowadays pluck their brows and try to keep them neat looking. They know that funny looking brows are hardly beautiful. However, some girls complain that they find eyebrow plucking a very painful task. Others assert that after such plucking, small eruptions appear around their brows. In both cases, usually, the cause is improper trimming of the eyebrows. For there really are many women who don't know how to pluck their eyebrows properly.

In the first place, eyebrow tweezers always should be sterilized prior to being used. When the brows are plucked, you know, the pores in the skin open. And if the tweezers are not perfectly clean, germs may enter those pores and cause blemishes and eruptions. In the second place, a generous coating of cold cream should be smoothed over each brow and permitted to remain on for a bit. This will soften the brows and the surrounding skin. Then the brows should be brushed into shape, and the plucking itself should be done. After the tweezing and shaping have been completed, all remaining cream should be removed and witch hazel or a soothing astringent should be applied. This closes the pores, tends to prevent germ infection, and tones up the skin surrounding the eyebrows.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Mouth Wash

Rose: An effective mouth wash can be made by dissolving one-fourth teaspoon of borax, one-fourth teaspoon salt and one-fourth teaspoon peroxide in a glass of warm water.

Henna

Agnes: The pure Egyptian henna made of the leaves of the henna shrub is not harmful to the hair. The chemical henna, however, contains metallic salts, and may prove harmful to the hair health.

EDITOR'S NOTE: To obtain Miss Glad's pamphlets on 'The New Figure' and 'Beauty Culture' write, care of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, and ten cents in coin for each, to cover cost of printing and handling.

A statue of Dr. Thomas Coke, missionary and former Mayor of Brecon, Wales, was unveiled there in connection with the recent centenary celebration in his honor.

Easter's Smartest

Exceptional Easter Values in High-Grade Real Thread

SILK STOCKINGS

PERFECTS
NEWEST COLORS—SMARTEST STYLES

RINGLESS
FIRST QUALITY—FULL-FASHIONED
TRY A PAIR

THESE WONDERFUL WEARING SHEER CHIFFON SILK STOCKINGS

48 gauge, "4 thread," silk to the top, with silk plaited foot. Pair..... 89c

BEAUTIFUL SILK CREPE
48 gauge, "high twist," "four thread," real silk to the top, with silk plaited foot. Pair..... 89c

SEMI-SERVICE
Six thread, real silk to the garter hem, with Durene foot. Pair..... 69c

SHEER CHIFFON
Four thread, real silk to the top, with silk plaited foot, reinforced. Pair..... 69c

"MIST"—SHEER CHIFFON
Three thread, 48 gauge, real thread silk from top to toe. Pair..... 1.39

LIGHT SERVICE
"High twist," seven thread silk to the garter hem. Noted specially for fineness and greater wear. Pair..... 89c

Everyday best Hosiery values in town. Your money refunded if not satisfied.

McCLENNAN'S
Better Value Store
232 CHARLOTTE STREET

NO RUBBING!
Floors that Gleam in 20 Minutes—NO POLISHING
HAWES' FLOOR GLOSS
WIPE IT ON — LET IT DRY
G-4 Made by The Makers of HAWES' FLOOR WAX

THURSDAY AT BUEHLER BROTHERS

CREAMERY BUTTER	With Meat Order.	lb. 24c
WING STEAK or SIRLOIN	-	lb. 21c
VEAL LOIN CHOPS	- - -	lb. 17c
MEALED ROLLS	- - -	lb. 18c
LEG ROAST VEAL	- -	lb. 13c

Smoked Side Bacon Sliced 25c lb.

Pork Liver, sliced...10c
2 lb. Veal Chops...25c
3 lbs. Minced Beef..29c
3 tins York Corn...29c

Beef Shanks 6c

PHONE 2020 - 357 GEORGE ST.
The Most Orders Delivered Free.

SODEN'S BOOKSTORE WILL BE CLOSED
ALL DAY THURSDAY

To arrange their stock in preparation for their 30th Anniversary Sale, which starts Friday morning.

Watch To-morrow's Examiner For Particulars

GORMAN PILOTS MAROONS TO STANLEY CUP VICTORY

HE'S A RASSLER—Though he's a rassler, Dan O'Mahoney, RIGHT, uses boxing gloves training with Jack Sharkey in a Boston gym.

MOST COMPLETE SPORT PAGES IN CENTRAL ONTARIO

PETERBOROUGH
EXAMINER SPORTS

Sports Department—Phone 1600 WEDNESDAY, APRIL 10, 1935 Read by More than 18,000 Daily

GREET YAWKEY—Joe Cronin, LEFT, and Eddie Collins greet Owner Tom Yawkey at the Sarasota training camp of the Red Sox.

Cochrane Rates Cobb as Greatest Player of All Time

DARK HORSES IN NATIONAL BALL LEAGUE

Club Owners Expect Pie Traynor to Take Place of Former Great Leader, Done Bush.

A SOUND BUILDER

Team Shows Improvement in Every Department, Particularly Pitching.

SINCE 1927 when the Pirates won the National league pennant, the club has been faithfully covered by one story each spring captioned "Corsairs Seem Keen Contenders". The Pirates were sure to be tough. The team would run 1-2-3. But always some weakness cropped up to spoil pennant hopes. One year it would be bad pitching. Another year it would be the catching. The club always had too many left-handed batters, and southpaws used to cry for the privilege of pitching against the Buccaneers.

× × ×

Some years the hossing couldn't be rated more than so-so. In fact, since Donie Bush departed in 1928 the team has lacked leadership such as the Pirates might be expected to have.

Well, here's another spring and some of the same things might be written of the Pirates that have been set down in other years. The club still has too many left-handed batters and the catching still isn't anything to write home about.

This year there is this difference, however. The club has improved in every department, particularly pitching, and in the person of Pie Traynor it has field leadership of the sort Pittsburg has not been blessed with since Fred Clarke left 20 years ago.

Traynor's building of the team has not been spectacular, but it has been sound. Defence is better, there is an aggressive spirit that in other campaigns was sadly lacking, and trades have helped to give the club strength and balance.

× × ×

TAKING up the weaknesses, the most striking concerns those left-handed batters. All the outfielders hit that way, Big Poison and Little Poison Waner, Babe Herman and Forrest Jensen. Herman, of course, adds to the punch, as he hits southpaws pretty well, too. Third Baseman Traynor, Second Baseman Harry Lavagetto and Shortstop Arky Vaughan are the only right-handed batsmen. Suhr, at first, is left-handed, as is Earl Grace, first string catcher. Tommy Thevenow, reserve infielder, bats right-handed, but his hitting is negligible. Last year, at second, third and short in 122 games, he hit .271.

× × ×

It is in the pitching that most improvement is noted. Guy Bush and Jim Weaver, from the Cubs, round out the best staff the Pirates have had in years. Birkofer, a southpaw beginning his second full year, is counted on for 15 games, and he may pass that figure. Waite Hoyt, Red Lucas, Bill Swift and Hal Smith are other first stringers.

Bush adds a lot to the spirit of a ball club even when he isn't pitching. The Mississippi Mudcat is a great competitor and always is ready. That there are plenty of victories still in his arm is attested by his 18 wins for the Cubs last year.

All in all, the team has to be regarded as a dark horse. Pie Traynor is a manager every player will hustle for, and that alone is a pretty big fundamental on the Pirates' side.

COLORED CRICKET IN AFRICA

CAPE TOWN (C.P.)—The Union of South Africa has its "colored cricket" with inter-town leagues of colored cricket enthusiasts playing regular schedules.

MONTREALERS TAKE CUP WITH 3 STRAIGHT WINS; DEFEAT LEAFS 4 TO 1

Connell Climaxes Spectacular Net-minding Comeback With His Work in Series.

WENTWORTH ALSO HERO.

Gorman Earns Plaudits of Hockey Public With His Powerful Maroon Machine.

BY H. M. PETERS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL, April 10. —(CP)— Marcons and their manager, Tommy Gorman, were the toast of the boisterous, happy town today. They brought home the Stanley Cup last night and did it in the proper way for world hockey champions, with a knock-out punch of three straight victories.

Larry Northcott.

Better offensively than the fighting, powerful Toronto Maple Leafs, Maroons downed Conny Smythe's forces 4-1 in the third game here, following 3-2 and 3-1 wins at Toronto last Thursday and Saturday, to end the three-of-five final series.

It was Maroons' first Stanley Cup win since Nels Stewart, Babe Siebert, Reg Noble, Clint Benedict and company defeated Victoria Cougars here in the spring of 1926. Year after year good but not great Maroon squads contended for the honors.

This year Gorman, fresh from winning the cup with Chicago Black Hawks last year, remodelled the squad, strengthened it with new blood, introduced forechecking — breaking up opponents' attacks before they get organized—and converted a contender into a worthy champion.

A new group of Maroon heroes were cheered last night by a capacity crowd of 13,000.

Pale, slim Alex Connell, shut-out king of the National League, climaxed a spectacular comeback with a capable display that reached the heights on steps from Harvey Jackson, Charlie Conacher and Hal Cotton.

Cy Wentworth, pick of all defencemen in the game, steady as a rock on rearguard duty, hitting hard but cleanly and scoring a goal and an assist, was another hero. Baldy Northcott and Jimmy Ward, who smothered the all-star wings, Charlie Conacher and Jackson, allowing them but one goal on the series, by Jackson last Saturday, and getting a goal and an assist each last night, were others.

The line of Russell Blinco, Earl Robinson and Dave Trottier, which scored the winning goals in the Maroon-Chicago second place playoff, in the Maroon-Ranger semi-final series and in the first two games of the Maroon-Toronto series, was enthusiastically greeted as an entrant into the star lines of the game.

Defence Unsteady

Leafs were not the driving force which ran roughshod over Maroons in the regular league season. Whether or not the tough four game series with Boston for the League title had taken too much out of Toronto, their defence was unsteady and their famed kid line flashed only at intervals, making five shots during the game. Maroons on the other hand reached peaks they did not touch during the injury and illness ridden regular campaign.

The Stanley Cup came home to the city that was first to told it when Lord Stanley of Preston offered it for competition in 1893. It was last here when Canadiens, at the peak of the form that earned them the title of "Flying Frenchmen" won it in 1930 and repeated in 1931.

Toronto made a great battle to stretch the series another game but, except for 12 minutes in the second period, they were outplayed. During these hectic minutes the Leafs threw off their checks, set the Maroon defence back on its heels and had Alex Connell nervous and even paler than usual. Leafs looked like champions over that stretch.

The pressure told with Bill Thoms rifling home a short shot from the left side after a pass from Frankie Finnigan on a gang play started by King Clancy. It tied the score at one-all matching the goal scored by Jimmy Ward on a breakaway from his own end in the first period when Maroons were short a man.

But Toronto eased their attack after the goal. Instead of keeping the puck in Maroon territory as they had continuously throughout the period, they were pressed back. Maroons sent two thrusts through a faltering defence for goals that spelled defeat for the N.H.L. titleholders.

Only 12 seconds separated the goals. Baldy Northcott, racing in from the blue line after he had given Ward a pass, was in time to deflect Ward's knee high shot into the net with George Hainsworth completely beaten.

They had barely faced off when Wentworth rushed from his defence, accepted Northcott's return pass at the blue line, worked his way through the Flash Hollett-Happy Day defence and found the corda with a short shot.

In the third period, although Leafs were on a goal hunt all the time, Connell had but three shots to save as Maroons hounded their attacks into corners, blocked their shots, hurled the puck far away or staged fast breakaways that were a continuous threat to Hainsworth who saved five times.

In the second minute of the period Leafs suffered another blow when Wentworth, on a fast dash after breaking up a Toronto attack, sped straight up the defenceless ice. A Leaf forward caught him but Cy had time to slip a pass to Gus Marker and the little right winger scored.

TALKS OF CRICKET PUPPETS

BRISBANE, Queensland (C.P.)—Cricketers nowadays were becoming mere puppets of the game, declared P. M. Hornibrook, former international bowler, resenting the refusal of the Australian Board of Cricket Control to permit a private team of Australian cricketers to go to India at the invitation of the Maharaja of Pitiala.

TOURING TIGERS STRONG

HAMILTON (C.P.) — In point of reputation, Hamilton Tigers are one of the strongest hockey teams Canada ever sent to England or Europe except in Olympic years. The Bengals were Ontario champions and eastern senior finalists in 1934 and Ontario finalists this season. Max Bennett is one of the best amateur forwards in the country.

Fist Fight Enlivens Pittsburg Bike Race

PITTSBURG, April 10.—(A.P.)—A free-for-all fight last night enlivened the six-day bike races in which four teams were tied for the lead at 1 o'clock.

A sprint was staged, and Charley Winter and Reggie Fielding, who were nosed out by Torchy Peden of Victoria, B.C., staged a shoving contest aboard their bikes.

When they left the track they "mixed it," and a score of spectators and camp followers joined in before firemen posted at the hall separated the battlers.

Soon Be Cheering ThCanadian Tracks Willem In

The curtain lifts on a new racing season in the east with promise of a good year among the pony-followers. The winter season in the south was reported a fair success; Canada's greatest race, the King's Plate, oldest continuously run race on the American continent, has drawn the largest entry in years. Here is the inaugural race at Bowie, Maryland, where the bangtails are already drawing crowds. A. G. Vanderbilt's "Dogmata" is flashing under the wire ahead of "Star Porter". Mr. Vanderbilt also took third place with "Dreel."

CHARLIE FAILS TO SINK GOAL

While Larry Northcott Tallies Two in Six Shots on Toronto Net.

MAROONS MORE ACCURATE.

Perhaps Montreal Maroons are Stanley Cup champions today because they shoot better than Toronto's National Hockey League champions. Official records show Maroons had only one more shot that was dead-on goal than the Leafs in the three title games. But the red raiders fired more accurately.

Larry Northcott, for instance, was pretty busy checking Charlie Conacher, the National League's greatest marksman. He had time for only six shots on the Toronto goal—but two of them were goals. Conacher shot 14 times and Alex Connell stopped every one of them.

Here is a listof scorers with their shooting percentages:

	Shs.	Gls.	P.C.
Northcott, Maroons	6	2	33.3
Finnigan, Leafs	3	1	33.3
Wentworth, Maroons	7	2	28.6
Marker, Maroons	5	1	20.0
Robinson, Maroons	11	2	18.2
Clancy, Leafs	6	1	16.7
Trottier, Maroons	8	1	12.5
Thoms, Leafs	8	1	12.5
Ward, Maroons	10	1	10.0
Blinco, Maroons	11	1	9.1
Jackson, Leafs	15	1	6.7
Teams:
Maroons	84	10	11.9
Leafs	83	4	4.8

Rejoins McCarthy

PAT MALONE

Big burly Pat Malone, former right hand standby of the Chicago Cubs' pitching staff, is back under his former mentor. Joe McCarthy, New York Yankee boss, bought him from St. Louis Cardinals to bolster a Yankee hurling corps that has many question marks. Malone like the bright lights, but when McCarthy led the Cubs he pitched great ball and "Marse Joe" thinks he'll repeat in a Yankee uniform.

SUDBURY CUBS FALL IN FIRST

Winnipeg Monarchs Triumph 7-6 as Memorial Cup Series Starts.

PENALTIES COSTLY.

WINNIPEG, April 10 (CP) — Sharpshooting Winnipeg Monarchs, champions of Western Canada, took a one-game lead in their Dominion Junior hockey title duel with Sudbury Cub Wolves here last night. They defeated the Eastern titlists, 7-6, in the first of a three-game series that will determine possession of the Memorial Cup.

Goals Aplenty in This Game

Thirteen times the red light flashed on as the high-scoring band of youngsters travelled at full clip and sought goals and still more goals. Monarchs held a 3 to 1 margin at the end of the first period, but Wolves came back in the second period to cut the margin to one goal, with the score standing 6 to 5. Each team picked up a goal in the third period.

Barker was banished for bumping Hiller and play was halted until the ice was cleared of paper thrown by the crowd which expressed its disapproval. Monarchs tried lobbing the puck up the ice as they checked successive Sudbury raids inside their defense area.

Moving with machinelike precision, the Monarch offensive slashed deeply at Sudbury's fast-breaking front lines and backed them into their defense area time and again with determined goal thrusts.

More than 4,500 fans packed the Amphitheatre Rink to witness the Manitobans administer a setback to the East's hopes of holding a title trophy Toronto St. Michael's won last year.

MANY PLAYERS WHO ACHIEVED GREATNESS ON BALL DIAMOND OWE BERTHS TO TYRUS COBB

Cochrane, Gehringer, Simmons and Heilmann Pattern Baseball Careers After Ty.

SHREWD SCHEMER

'Always Had Plan of Action in His Mind When He Stepped Up to Plate."

Tyrus Raymond Cobb is Mickey Cochrane's favorite ball player. The Tiger manager rates him the the greatest player of all time.

Mickey's admiration for Cobb grew out of genuine respect for him as an opponent and sincere admiration for him as a teammate and friendly counselor.

Cochrane, if you called it to his attention, would be the first to admit that if Cobb had not come to Philadelphia in 1926, there are many things which Cochrane would not do as well on the ball diamond to-day.

Cobb's Influence on Others

Cobb, it seems, was like that. If you enjoyed an intimacy with him at all, you either became a better ball player for that association or it left you flabbergasted and infuriated. It depended upon the kind of person you were, the degree of intelligence, ambition and determination you possessed.

So many ball players have been chagrined and humiliated by Cobb on the ball diamond, that perhaps it is timely and proper to point out that many players achieved a greatness which would not have come as readily if they had not had known Cobb.

Players Who Copied Ty

Cochrane is one of these. Charley Gehringer is another. Al Simmons copied him so slavishly that he even adopted his mannerisms. Harry Heilmann became one of the greatest right hand hitters of all time under the tutelage of Cobb. Jo-Jo White, who never saw his fellow Georgian but once, has patterned his baseball career after Ty.

They are only a few of those who come more readily to mind. Every major league ball player to-day follows, consciously or unconsciously, in the bold footprints left by the Georgia Peach.

Baseball has known no sharper impress of one man's individuality than that left by Cobb. Babe Ruth is the only man who approached him.

There always will be arguments as to which has influenced the game most, rather senseless arguments, because they represent totally different factors. Ruth's imprint on baseball is one of power and personality; Cobb's was the unmistakeable stamp of genius.

Always Had Definite Plan

Cochrane describes Cobb with more appreciation and understanding of the man's baseball genius than any other player we ever heard.

"When Ty walked up to the plate" said Cochrane admiringly, "he always had a plan. He knew exactly what he was going to do and had a mental picture of how he would do it before he ever went into action. He was able to do this and carry his preconceived plan to successful conclusion not only because of his tremendous confidence in his own exceptional ability, but because remarkable insight into the probable actions of his opponents.

"Cobb made his calculations from knowledge and experience, he knew about what a particular pitcher would pitch to him in a given situation. From that and the positions of the infielders and outfielders he would figure his best percentage of succeeding. Once decided upon a course of action, his exceptional ability, confidence and determination enabled him to carry it out most of the time."

Mickey Studied Georgian

Cochrane does that to-day, with keener perception and more determination than any other player in the American League. But Cochrane will tell you that until he played with Cobb at Philadelphia in 1928 that was a realm still beyond his ken. The number of players who go that deeply into the pure science and psychology of baseball may be numbered on the fingers of one hand.

"Cobb even figured out the number of bounces he could hit a ball to the shortstop and beat it out," said Cochrane.

"I never saw a hitter like him. There apparently was no way to outwit him once he was fully determined.

"I remember once when he was still with Detroit and I was catching for the A's. There were two strikes on Cobb and no balls. A Detroit runner was on first.

"'I'm going to hit and run on this next pitch,' Cobb boasted to me, 'right down that right field line.'

"You are like hell, I told him, and called for a pitch out. I don't know how he did it, but the next thing I knew Cobb was on second base, grinning and shaking his fist at me like an ape. He had reached across the plate and hit that pitch out down the right field foul line for a double."

Cochrane is familiar with all of Cobb's justly famed ruses of building up the third line on a bevel so his bunts would stay in fair territory, his soaking of the infield so pitchers couldn't field his bunts, but Mickey is more interested in the man's genius for detail, his unparalleled skill as a hitter.

"There was a certain pitcher, who continually got me out," explained Cochrane. "One day Cobb hit to all fields against him, got four for four. I went to him and asked: 'Ty, how do you hit that fellow? I haven't got a hit off him all season.'

"Cobb grinned and replied: 'He's easy. You are doing exactly what you shouldn't do. I know it doesn't seem reasonable that you can't hit him any other way, but that's the catch. Just try the opposite method and you'll hit him.'

"I went up there and tried what Cobb told me to do. I hit a double, got three hits that day and that particular pitcher never gave me any more trouble.

"The amazing thing about Cobb was he never let down. The greater his success, the greater his determination to do more. When he had four hits in a row, he was up there the fifth time, bearing down more than ever. In that way, he was the exact opposite of most ball players."

—Bud Shaver, Detroit Times.

THE NEWEST COLONEL

FRANKFORT, Ky. (C.P.)—The latest member of the Kentucky colonels is Lou Little, football coach at Columbia University. Lou was commissioned a colonel on the staff of Governor Ruby Lafoon.

Birthday Greetings

(By The Canadian Press)

TO BILL STOREN, newly-appointed coach of football at University of Western Ontario. Born in Joliet, Mich., 26 years ago tomorrow he was a star in his day on the University of Detroit team. He coached the St. Michael's College O.R.F.U. team in 1933 and 1934.

New Dodger

HARRY EISENSTADT.

One of the new players in the National League is Harry Eisenstadt, above, 19-year-old Jewish boy, who is making good as a pitcher with the Brooklyn Dodgers. He is a Brooklyn sandlot product.

Our Boarding House . . . . . By Ahern

Told In Figures

Montreal, April 10.—(CP)—Following is the official box score of last night's Stanley Cup game between Toronto Leafs and Montreal Maroons:

Toronto—	G	A	P	S	Pen.
Hainsworth	0	0	0	0	0
Day	0	0	0	1	0
Hollett	0	0	0	0	0
Thoms	1	0	1	2	0
Finnigan	0	1	1	1	0
Doraty	0	0	0	1	0
Clancy	0	0	0	0	0
Horner	0	0	0	0	2
C. Conacher	0	0	0	2	0
Jackson	0	0	0	2	0
Primeau	0	0	0	1	0
Boll	0	0	0	2	0
Metz	0	0	0	0	0
Kelly	0	0	0	2	0
Cotton	0	0	0	4	0
Totals	1	1	2	18	2

Maroons—	G	A	P	S	Pen.
Connell	0	0	0	0	0
Wentworth	1	1	2	3	0
Evans	0	0	0	0	0
Smith	0	0	0	2	0
Ward	1	1	2	6	0
Northcott	1	1	2	2	0
L. Conacher	0	0	0	1	2
Shields	0	0	0	1	0
Blinco	0	0	0	4	0
Robinson	0	0	0	3	0
Trottier	0	0	0	2	0
Marker	1	0	1	2	0
Cain	0	0	0	1	0
Gracie	0	0	0	0	0
Miller	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	4	3	7	27	2

Note: G—Goals; A—Assists; P—Scoring Points; S—Shots on Goal; Pen.—Penalties in minutes.

Woods Fails in Attempt to Gain Welter Crown

See It To-night! Don't Wait for the Week-end Crowds!

NEGRO MAKES GOOD SHOWING

Stands Up Through Gruelling Punishment For 12 Rounds Against Ross.

IN SEATTLE MATCH.

SEATTLE, April 10. (AP). — A limp and some good experience was about all Henry Woods had gained to-day after making an attempt to knock the junior welterweight crown off the sturdy head of Barney Ross of Chicago in a 12-round fight.

The game Yakima, Wash., negro made a remarkable showing in staying the whole distance with the lightweight and junior welterweight champion after taking a vicious canvas-clout in the third round of the bout here last night.

Injured in Third

Ross nearly put an end to things in the third when he blasted a right glove on Woods and sent him sprawling to the floor. The negro took the count of nine and appeared to have his senses when he jumped back on his feet but he began to limp badly. After weathering another barrage of blows before the bell he complained of an injured leg between rounds.

Referee Tommy McCarthy told Woods he would have to continue fighting and the negro did his best hopping around on one leg like a jack-rabbit. Ross tried to measure him but was unable to find the bouncing Woods from long range.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

(By C. J. P.)

The Southend Softball League held its first meeting of the year Monday night but, owing to the absence of several of last year's executive, little business was done and the election of officers was held over till another meeting. The Nationals, Orioles, All Saints and Hattons are sure entries this season. The Albions—champs last year—and the Cogs were not represented but both are expected back. The next meeting will be held Monday, April 15th, at eight p.m. in All Saints' Clubhouse and all those desiring to enter a team should attend.

• • • • • •

We hope to see a big turnout of girls at the annual meeting of the Girls' Softball League at 8.30 tomorrow (Thursday) night in Duffus'. Reports will be read, officers elected and delegates named for the P.W.S.U. annual convention in Toronto next Sunday. It is important to find out at this time just how many teams want entry in the local and district loop as the entry fee into the Provincial Union is ganged by the number of teams in a league. For instance, if six squads make up this circuit, the fee to affiliate the league with the P.W.S.U. will be three bucks, or four bits a team.

• • • • • •

The delegates to the Union's session in Toronto must be given instructions as to just what this league expects by joining. For instance, the girls here do not want to cut short their own playing season just so that one team may go into Ontario playdowns. Nor do they want any longer trips—which require time and money—than necessary. And Saturdays are the best days for these trips, not cutting into working time so much. There are various angles which must be considered and we feel that the Union executive will be so glad to have a new league in virgin territory—as far as the P.W.S.U. is concerned—affiliate that the local loop will receive every consideration within reason.

• • • • • •

Alderman Ellis the other eve asked the Council for permission for the Dominion Woollens' lacrosse team to use the boards of the free rink at Inverlea for lacrosse practice. They want to move them up near the Woollens' plant and have promised to take good care of these sides. The request was granted and left in the hands of Alderman Stocker to make the arrangements. So it appears the Woollens' gang are going right ahead with their plans for a team in the Tri-County League. And, we hear, Norwood is seriously thinking of climbing aboard the band wagon also. Well, why not? There's as much room atop the lacrosse cart these days as there is on the water wagon!

• • • • • •

In the land of alphabetical terms—the U.S.A. where N.R.A.'s, I.W.W.'s and what have you are discussed over bowls of alphabet soup—it is perhaps not surprising that George Owen, Detroit infielder who is here this summer, played Class A ball. It is fast senior amateur ball, next thing to semi-pro. About all we know of Owen yet is that on past performances he's a speedy shortstop (who can play second or third, too) with a snap bullet throw to first from any position. He is rated deadly on ground balls and is also a hitter of note in a class of ball where you must have more than just a pair of spikes. We'll know more about this young chap with the Big League ambitions after his first workout here. But he sounds pretty okay to us now.

• • • • • •

Annual meeting of the Peterborough Sailing and Aquatic Club will be held at eight p.m. this Friday in Duffus'. Members are urged to attend or, if they can't, are asked to advise Secretary Scott if the Club can count on their support for the coming season. Anyone at all interested in sailing is invited to take in this session. Peterborough is going in more and more each summer for sailing, boating, swimming—in fact, all the aquatic sports. Our location with so much water available is the answer. Mr. Scott's phone number is 204.

• • • • • •

The annual O.A.H.A. meeting will start today in Halifax with various knotty problems coming up. The report that Blake played all last year for Hamilton while on Montreal's payroll will be checked and the O.H.A. will be asked to explain its peculiar rulings on the recent Junior 'A' playoff tangle which included Oshawa, Kitchener and Sudbury. The odds are about ten to one, then, that mercantile hockey will be frowned upon heavily by the Old Boys—it's this decision that's holding up the local Hockey Club meeting—as Prexy Gilroy has already intimated as much to newspapermen en route. Well, we didnt expect it would advance much for another year or so.

• • • • • •

This may be pretty hard for Toronto newspapers to digest but their "all-star unbeatable Leafs" were beaten 4-1 in Montreal last eve—and, in fact, the Maroons took 'em over the jumps in three straight for the Stanley Cup! Victims of super-publicity via press, radio and Toronto fandom, the Leafs did very well this year. But the impartial follower of hockey—whether he be in Toronto or the sticks—knows there are other teams in the N.H.L. just as good. Else it would be a poor league. Somehow, like hundreds of others, we have been prejudiced against the Leafs all year, not because of their players but due to the wild predictions of Toronto sports scribes. After so many "surprising" playoff setbacks in recent years, surely they'll be more cautious in the future.

• • • • • •

Hither and yawn: At least this three-game Stanley Cup series will shut up the wise guys who said it was in the bag to go five games . . . . Percy Bond of this city is attending the C.A.H.A. session in Halifax . . . . Church Softball League holds its reorganization meeting at seven p.m. in the 'Y' Monday . . . . Annual banquet of the Ladies' Basketball League will be in the Y.W.C.A. tomorrow eve at 6.15 . . . . Alley bowling is just about over here for the year now . . . . Bud Murray has signed to play with Siberry's senior ball club in Toronto . . . . Big League ball teams all swing into action next week . . . . What ho, and summer is practically here!

Last Times To-night, 7 and 8.30 p.m.

FEATURE NO. 1 "WAKE UP AND DREAM" With Russ Columbo, June Knight.

Regent Entertainment

FEATURE NO. 2 "JEALOUSY" With Nacy Carroll, Donald Cook.

THURSDAY FRIDAY SATURDAY

You'll Hear the Voice of the West . . .
You'll See Drama of the Open Range!

Mickey's Rescue Bowery Daze

LANDIS PLANS TO "QUESTION" DEAN

Report Dizzy Accepted $5,000 Bonus For Signing St. Louis Contract.

ST. LOUIS, April 10.—(A.P.)—. "Dizzy" Dean, St. Louis Cardinal's star pitchers, was notified late yesterday to appear to-day before Judge Kenesaw Landis, Commissioner of Baseball.

Sam Breadon, President to the Cards, said last night Dean had received word to go to the Commissioner's office in Chicago. Breadon declined to comment further, except to say he "thought" Judge Landis wished to question the pitcher about the reported bonus in connection with the signing of his contract.

Dean could not be reached. His wife, at their hotel, said she didn't know when 'Dizzy' planned to leave" for Chicago.

It was thought here the notification might be in connection with a story in an East St. Louis paper yesterday reporting Dean had received $5,000 from an East St. Louis business man for signing his Cardinal contract.

Whether 'Dizzy' violated any baseball law if he did receive the reported sum was not known here, but it was believed the Commission wished to find out about it.

Fights Last Night

(By the Canadian Press.)

Seattle—Barney Ross, 136½, Chicago, outpointed Henry Woods, 137½, Yakima, Wash., for the junior welterweight title (12).

Halifax, N.S. — Norman Conrad, 170, New Hampshire, outpointed Tiger Harrington, 176, Liverpool, N.S. (10).

Los Angeles— Bep Van Klaveren, 168, Holland, outpointed Carlos (King) Solomon, 147, Calexico, Calif. (10).

Carpetball

League Standing.

Team No.	P.	W.	L.	Pts.	Aver
1	74	46	28	92	.51
3	64	45	19	90	.57
9	68	41	27	82	.51
7	72	40	32	80	.55
4	66	39	28	78	.53
10	68	37	31	74	.51
18	68	36	32	72	.50
6	70	35	35	70	.52
12	66	35	31	70	.52
22	62	35	27	70	.53
20	68	35	33	70	.49
19	72	34	38	68	.49
15	72	33	39	66	.48
21	66	32	34	64	.49
8	70	31	45	62	.46
2	68	30	38	60	.48
17	70	30	40	60	.48
14	74	30	44	60	.45
13	62	29	33	58	.48
11	70	29	41	58	.46
5	68	28	40	56	.46
16	66	28	38	56	.46

Week's Results.

St. Luke's No. 7, 12-17; St. John's No. 3, 6-2.

W.O.W. No. 20, 15-7; St. George's No. 11, 8-6.

A.O.F. No. 21, 10-6; St. George's No. 8, 9-8.

All Saints' No. 6, 4-9; St. John's No. 1, 9-11.

K.O.P. No. 22, 11-10; L.O.L. No. 18, 9-8.

S.O.E. No. 12, 12-11; L.O.L. No. 17, 6-2.

All Saints' No. 5, 7-16; St George's No. 8, 10-8.

All Saints' No. 4, 15-2; St. John's No. 2, 4-11.

W.O.W. No. 19, 9-9; All Saints' No. 6, 10-11.

W.O.W. No. 20, 13-13; All Saints' No. 4, 8-5.

A.O.F. No. 21, 8-9; St. John's No. 2, 7-6.

W.O.W. No. 19, 7-9; St. George's No. 10, 6-13.

A.O.F. No. 21, 10-11; L.O.L. No. 17, 4-8.

K.O.P. No. 13, 2-7; St. Luke's No 7, 13-8.

St. George's No. 9, 9-8; L.O.L. No. 16, 7-8.

St. George's No. 11, 14-13; L.O.L. No. 16, 7-4.

St. George's No. 8, 8-5; St. John's No. 1, 9-9.

St. George's No 11, 8-3; St. Luke's No. 7, 7-15.

St. John's No. 1, 4-14; L.O.L. No. 16, 10-11.

St. John's No. 3, 10-9; St. George's No. 11, 8-7.

L.O.L. No. 16, 9-10; All Saints' No. 5, 8-6.

K.O.P. No. 14, 10-2; St. George's No. 10, 15-19.

K.O.P. No. 14, 8-8; St. John's No. 9, 11-13.

How About Mitts

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—(C.P.)—Max Baer is holding his own in other fields than the heavyweight boxing division—sartorially, for instance.

The champion, now in the east, has a wardrobe which includes:

Nearly eighty suits of clothes.
Three full dress suits.
Twenty pairs of shoes.
Two hundred and fifty neckties of assorted colors.
Six golf outfits.
Two dozen hats.
One high silk hat.

HIGH ONE-GAME TOTAL.

The three-game total made by Chief Gimblett's team in the bowling championship two nights ago at the K. of C. alleys over Anthony's Bowirites was 3,833, with a record high one-game total of 1,305 in the first game.

ROWING UNDER WAY

HAMILTON (CP)—As early as April 4 five eight boats were on the water at once beside the Hamilton Leander clubhouse. In addition a four or two and some singles were in use. Bot Hunter, coach of the 1932 Canadian Olympic eight, is back as head coach of Leander oarsmen.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES!

By ALEX. J. MORRISON

Number 553

The fans who follow the play of Bobby Jones since his retirement from competition will have something to look forward to each year so long as the former king of the links continues to participate in the annual invitation tournament over his Augusta course. His success or otherwise is secondary to the fact that the man who once was the greatest of all golfers is again swinging his clubs in competition.

Whenever Jones has been beaten in the past he has returned strong. In the first invitation match he was defeated, and his showing in the second was not particularly bright, though he was undoubtedly the sentimental favorite of the players and gallery alike. However, being popular with the galleries does not win matches alone, and to outshoot opponents and win matches one must have the game to do it. Bobby is away from active golf a great deal more of course than he was during his active competitive career, and lack of practice beats many a golfer. It can do the same with Bobby.

It takes so many things to beat a good field these days. The winner must get the breaks at every stage of the game in addition to being able to take advantage of them by an ability to tighten down when necessary. The incomparable Georgian may or may not be able to do this from year to year, but he will still be the popular idol as long as he appears on the links.

Keene Softball Club Organized For Year

At a meeting held last night the Keene Men's Softball Club organized for the coming season. The meeting was fairly well attended notwithstanding other engagements which were scheduled for the same evening.

The following officers were elected: Hon. President, Deputy-Reeve Harry R. Reid; Hon. Vice-President, Howard Anderson; President and Manager, Dr. H. Wright; Vice-President, Arnold Nelson; Sec.-Treas., D. D. Brown; Asst. Manager, Fred Whalen; Asst. Sec.-Treas., Jack Gall; Auditors, Fred Whalen and J. Gall.

The club is looking forward to another successful season, and work at improving the grounds will be started soon. It is expected that the grounds and the grandstand will be greatly improved this season and will compare very favorably with any in the league.

REPRESENT "Y" BOWLERS.

Messrs. Nelson Routley, Walter Firth, William Stanbury, Roy Lewis, Tom Curtis and George Gimblett, Sr., comprise the bowling team which is to represent Peterborough Y.M.C.A. in the Canadian Bowling Association tournament in Toronto on Saturday next.

Wrestling Last Night

(By the Associated Press.)

Springfield, Mass.— Dan O'Mahoney, 218, Ireland, defeated Billy Longson, 214, California, two straight falls.

Albany, N.Y. — Gus Sonnenberg, 210, Boston, won from Joe Dusek, 216, Omaha, by default (Dusek unable to continue after each won one fall).

San Francisco—Jumping Joe Savoldi, 208, Three Oaks, Mich., defeated Casey Estanjuan, 210, Stanford, two out of three falls. Joe Malcewicz, Utica, N.Y., beat Howard Cantonwine, 223, Des Moines, when latter disqualified after 20 minutes.

Newark, N.J.— Chief Little Wolf, 255, threw Dick Daviscourt, 235, California, 14.32 (Daviscourt unable to return for next two falls).

AMATEUR TENNIS AND FILMS

BOMBAY ((CP)—The All-Indian Lawn Tennis Associations has approved the proposal of the Czecho-Slovakian Tennis Association that amateur tennis players may be paid for taking part in moving pictures of tennis without losing their amateur status. In local opinion there is little actual difference between amateur and professional tennis status anyway.

LESTER MISSED HIM

MONTREAL (C.P.)—If anybody had a real chance to look after Russell Blinco, sensational Montreal Maroon centre, it was Lester Patrick. Blinco played for a New York amateur team one season and went great guns. Then he joined Springfield in the Canadian-American League. But Patrick let him get away.

AGREE ON COLORS

LONDON (C.P.)—Without troubling the Football Association, Sheffield Wednesday and West Bromwich Albion have agreed on colors to be worn for the English soccer cup final at Wembley, April 27. Wednesday will play in white shirts and black knickers, while Albion will don blue shirts and white shorts.

Disputed Fall

These clips taken from the news reel of Hearst Metronome News, tell the story of the fall of Jockey Gerry Wilson from the back of the Grand National favorite, Golden Miller, during the running of the historic steeplechase classic at Aintree on March 23. Backed as perhaps no other horse has ever been backed in that race, Golden Miller carried the hopes of many thousands of race fans, who would have collected some $10,000,000 from the bookmakers if the horse had won. Studying the pictures from top to bottom, we see the various stages of Jockey Wilson's tumble, from the moment that the horse took the hurdle, in what seemed to be a perfect jump, and a "four-point" landing. The second picture shows Wilson falling backward and to the side, from his saddle, to sprawl on the ground (third) and then to creep, on hands and knees, off the course. Golden Miller riderless (extreme right) continued running with the field.

FIRIE PROGRESSES

TORONTO (C.P.) — Young Bob Firie, who recently placed fourth in the 880 yards free style at the United States national swimming championships in Brooklyn, is one of the greatest swimmers ever developed in Canada. Firie, 17 years old, is expected to be close to his prime for the 1936 Olympic Games.

Another Problem

HALIFAX, April 10.—(C.P.)—An explanation of how the hand-picked Toronto All-Stars got into the Interprovincial playoffs leading to Allan Cup competition will be sought at the annual meeting of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association opening here to-day.

Maritime members still view the wreckage of the Maritime Hockey League, caused by a venture in commercial hockey, and they want to know why some of the All Stars came to Halifax as a commercial league team for exhibition games and later turned up on the approved Toronto line-up against Montreal Royals.

CAVAN

Mr. Harry McArthur of Fa'rmount was a visitor to Cavan on Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Hutchinson of Newtonville were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. Richards.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Eagleson of Coldsprings were guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. Mary Nill last week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Douglas spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hooton of Fairmount.

Miss Dorothy Cobley of Peterborough spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Cobley.

Misses Margaret and Eleanor Fallis of Peterborough were guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Fallis on Sunday.

China may restrict the importation of rice.

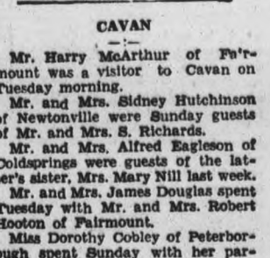
A City Residence

for a day, a week or longer—from a Single Room with bath to the most sumptuous Suite—without a care or worry on our part, affording every convenience, luxury and attendance. Delightful lounge reception rooms—unexcelled restaurant service—that briefly is the distinctive appeal of the Windsor Arms.

Write for Folder.

The Windsor Arms Hotel
22 St. Thomas Street
(Bloor at Bay) TORONTO
Telephone Ra-5141-2-3-4

Wed.-tf



A Printed SALESMAN

LET us back up your newspaper advertising with effective direct by mail presentations. Call on us for fine printing jobs.

Peterborough Examiner Limited

Port Arthur Bearcats In Allan Cup Finals

East will meet West to-night along the Canadian amateur hockey front with the coveted Allan Cup which goes yearly to Canada's senior amateur champions as the prize. Along with the trophy this year goes a trip to the 1936 Olympic games as the Dominion representatives. Thus competition is keener than ever. Port Arthur Bearcats, who vanquished North Battleford to take the Western Canada title, will be finalists against either Halifax Wolverines or Montreal Royals, rivals in the east. The games will be played in Halifax. Here is the Bearcats' starting line-up: Top, left to right, Jakie Nash, goal; Barry Stoddard and Ray Milton, defence; lower, left to right, Arnold Deacon, wing; Jim Haggarty, centre; and Gus Bastway, wing.

Little Sister

by Margaret Widdemer

(Continued from Yesterday)

CHAPTER 37

Mrs. Johnston-Hedges marched toward the house, where by now something might be stirring. She carried, Leila noticed now, her brief case. She was unquestionably going to have a business talk with Addison. She was going to make a strong effort to cement the joint dynasty of Fernwood Waters and Fernwood Manor, now that Fernwood Waters was automatically at the head of all the other developments. She might succeed; though Leila, remembering Red DeFries' cool eye and cheerful poker face, remembering above all that behind everything now was Hargess Huntingdon, as capable and intelligent as five Mrs. Hedges, doubted it. But at least she was going to be right about Addison. Addison was on his way. By 30 he would be twice as conventional as his father ever was. Bet would be even more so. Their children would grow up to bolt like rabbits one by one even further and faster than Bet and Addison had from the united pressures of their parents in the directions of rules and regulations and how to live your life.

Leila sat back on the grass with a long breath. The brief excitement of standing up to Mrs. Johnston-Hedges was gone, leaving a revulsion to mournfulness of the deepest dye. What use was it all, anyway? She stared out over the sound, visible through a gap in the wooded estate behind her. Bet and Addison, riding the waves now, full of propriety and self-admiration, had cost her Jerry. And the change in her that Jerry's views of life had made had cost her the position of Orton Johnston-Hedges' queen-consort, by the mere act of teaching her not to want it.

"In fact," said Leila to Jane very dolorously, "I have paid all the bills and had none of the credit. And in spite of what Jerry said, it is horrid!"

She didn't know how long she had sat under the oak, a brown leaf dropping on her shoulder now and again, absently stroking Jane. It was gorgeous autumn weather; crisp, windy, sunny, smoke-smelling. The kind that lifts your heart. . . . But what good did weather or devoted Scotties or heart-lifting winds or anything do you if you had a heart completely unliftable because it was broken? . . .

Somebody was whistling his way nearer, softly and clearly. It was one of those tunes by which Jerry Redmond indicated to such as knew his habits the course of his thoughts, or of events about him. . . . This was too much, thought Leila, even as the heart she had thought broken turned over with a wild flop. Was there a procession coming out here to make her unhappy, just as everybody had said "hush" to her last night at the banquet table? . . . Perhaps Jerry wouldn't see her. The green linen was almost the color of the grass, and the tree was big. He would go somewhere else to announce with rejoicing that secret of Polichinelle, his engagement to Mary. She sat very still.

But Jane, little wretch, had always adored Jerry. At her shrill welcoming bark, Jerry stopped strolling and began to lope. He went on whistling. It was Irving Berlin (it usually was, Jerry's musical tastes were not classic) — something out of the dark ages:

"What'll I do
When you
Are far away
And I am blue?
What'll I do?"

She disdained to move. Besides, where she sat there was no choice between running into him or the dog-wire. He came parallel to her; he sat down on the grass across from her, coiling his long legs comfortably.

"Good-morning," he said.

"Good-morning," said Leila. "You'll find Addison in the house. I smell coffee. I think somebody's up."

"I don't want Addison. I don't want coffee. I merely came to say goodby, and to leave a message with you for Addison and Bet, et al. It would take me too long — too much conversation — to explain. You can, and put all the blame on me."

"Go on."

(He wasn't even there to say goodby to her!)

"Go on."

"Tell him not to worry over that Jarecki business. I never told him Jarecki was in jail, or that he was cleared completely; and it struck me this morning that perhaps you never had either."

"No. I never knew."

"Heavens, I thought I'd told you! I settled everything for good and all. The cop who was hottest on the trail — you remember Flynn — managed so Addy's name wasn't mentioned."

"Oh, Jerry, how could you?"

"Quite easily." He was laughing in the old way. "I managed a page write-up for Flynn in the tab I had most pull with. He was happier than anything you ever saw, and quite forgot to pursue his duty to the bitter end. After all, it was a bit of annecessary bother for him. . . . He's starting a scrapbook all about himself."

"I don't mean that. I mean how could you?"

"I have told you before, Leila; you can only rule the unreasonable, or adolescent, mind by fear or hope of reward. I wasn't going to see poor little Miss Minnie lose out. I'm fond of Addy . . . and Bet's your sister."

"She regrets it from time to time," Leila said dryly.

"That needn't worry you. In reality she'll be in pain the rest of her life from time to time because she can't keep neck and neck with the smart and wealthy Mrs. Orton Johnston-Hedges."

"And your friends will be quite as gratifyingly jealous of all you'll get with Mary Martin. I'm sick of you all!" said Leila, angry, so that she wouldn't show how he had hurt her. "You that talked so nobly against my marrying Orton for what there was in it, without thinking or knowing what made me have to — and now you're marrying the same life, and let me tell you, a much worse person. Let me tell you, you'll be dragged down from your fine ideals to a lot deeper than I ever would have been with Orton," said Leila.

She put her head down on Jane. Jane loved her.

(To be continued.)

GREATEST VALUE IN TORONTO

ATTRACTIVE ROOMS WITH BATH

$2.00 $2.50 $3.00

WITH RUNNING WATER

$1.50 $1.75 $2.00

EXCELLENT FOOD

Breakfast from - - - 35c
Luncheon - - 50c and 60c
Dinner - - 60c, 85c, $1.00

WAVERLEY HOTEL LIMITED TORONTO

Write for Folder

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, April 11

A day of the unusual, abrupt and unexpected may be looked for according to the predominant lunar transits. There are indications of a quite unforeseen commotion, upheaval or change which may have a reaction on the private life to a notable degree. It would be well to approach these surprising conditions with caution and wariness.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of sudden events with surprising news leading to change, travel or new interests. In all be wary and cautious, especially in contacting strangers and strange propositions.

A child born on this day may have original talents and erratic tendencies although it may have a pleasant nature and be popular in social and domestic life.

Maddened by thirst, elephants in the vicinity of Singapore, Straits Settlements, where the prolonged drought has dried up water holes, are raiding crops and wrecking native huts.

Granny Thrice Over

LINDSAY, April 10—The status of a great-great-grandmother was attained yesterday by Mrs. Matthew Wilson, Lindsay's 55-year-old "grand old lady." This came about through the birth yesterday of a baby daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hopkins of Fenelon Falls. Mrs. S. R. Carew of Peterborough is Mrs. Wilson's daughter; Mrs. George Hopkins of Baddow is her grand-daughter; Charles Hopkins is a great-grandson, and the new baby is Mrs. Wilson's great-great-grandaughter. Mrs. Wilson is in good health, and evinces a keen interest in all events in the community.

GOVERNMENT CAN FORCE VOTE IN POWER DEBATE

TORONTO, April 10 (C.P.).—Under the rules of the Ontario Legislature, the Government could force a vote on the Hydro power contracts issue which kept the Legislature in session all night, but there was no indication to-day it intended doing so.

The rules provide when second reading of a bill is being discussed any member who has the floor can move the vote be taken. It would be a simple matter for a government member to catch the Speaker's eye.

Whip Is Kept Busy Maintaining Quorum

TORONTO, April 0 (C.P.) — George T. Fulford, Liberal member for Leeds and Deputy Whip, was the busiest man in the Ontario Legislature this afternoon as the Conservatives carried on their filibuster against the Government legislation cancelling Hydro power contracts.

The youthful Brockville millionaire pressed on members the necessity of keeping the number of members present up to 21, a quorum. If it fell below that number the Conservatives, of whom only two were present, could move adjournment. Former Premier Henry and W. H. Price, former Attorney General made up the Opposition forces.

He kept the attendance up to 21 by sending page boys along the corridors, rounding up Liberals and then allowed them to go to luncheon one at a time.

NUDISM TABOO

ALBANY, N.Y., April 10 (CP) — After hearing charges that only "crackpots and degenerates opposed the measure," the New York Senate last night passed the McCall Bill to prohibit nudism. The same measure was held over for a vote Thursday in the Assembly after Assemblyman Louis A. Cuvillier, veteran Tammany members, made on unsuccessful attempt to scuttle it.

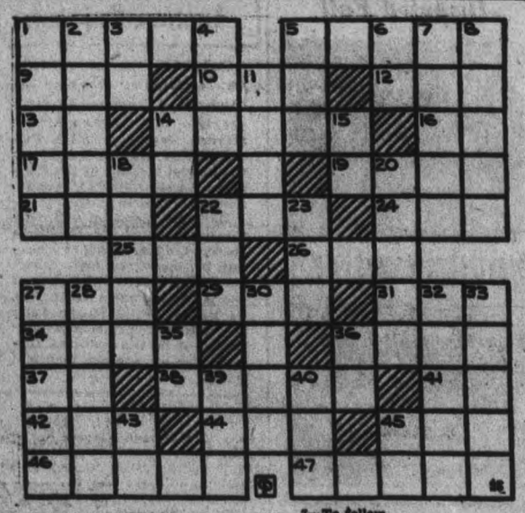
The Starits Settlements have donated $298,000 to the British Government toward the cost of Imperial defense.

ENO'S "FRUIT SALT"

HANDY SIZE 50 CENTS

HOUSEHOLD SIZE, 85 CENTS

CA78



ACROSS

1—A tiny creature of magical power
6—To bid
9—Astern
10—The whole
12—A number
13—Behold
14—Slips sideways on the road
16—Seaport (abbr.)
17—Similar
18—Loathsome
21—Measure of cloth
22—A pig pen
24—Turkish title
25—High priest of Israel
26—Form of the verb to be
27—Large crushing snake
29—An animal's foot
31—Drunkard
34—Infrequent
36—Nothing but
37—Like
38—To feel one's way
41—Above proof (abbr.)
42—Pep
44—Mature
45—Point of the compass
46—A composition
47—To roam (as cattle)

DOWN

1—Not genuine
2—In collision (naut.)
3—Neuter pronoun
4—Tibetian ox
5—Not young
6—Foreign office (abbr.)
7—To follow
8—Respond
11—To raise
14—Shilling (abbr.)
15—Sinking fund (abbr.)
18—Not cloudy
20—Very fat
22—To drink in small drafts
23—To steer wild (naut.)
27—Courageous
28—Fertile spot in desert
30—In eager desire
32—Anthropoid ape
33—A wigwam
35—Exempli gratia (abbr.)
36—Personal pronoun
39—A beam
40—By
43—Manuscript (abbr.)
45—Half an em

OCHS TO BE BURIED WEDNESDAY.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 9.—(A.P.)—The funeral of Adolph S. Ochs, who trod a pathway from the inky grime of a newspaper printshop to journalistic renown as publisher of the New York Times, will be held here to-morrow morning.

In the Julius and Bertha Ochs Memorial Temple Mr. Ochs built to honor his parents, services will be conducted by Rabbi Abraham Feinstein.

BRICK BRADFORD—With Brocco the Buccaneer — By WILLIAM RITT and CLARENCE GRAY

MUGGS McGINNIS — Now What? — By WALLY BISHOP

HIGH PRESSURE PETE — Safety First — By GEORGE SWAN

TILLIE THE TOILER — By Russ Westover

THE TUTTS — By Crawford Young

BRINGING UP FATHER — By George McManus

For Quick Results Use An Examiner Want. Ad.

WANT AD. RATES

Cash 1 Cent per Word or Figure per Insertion.
Minimum Charge, 25c for Any Advt.
If Charged 1½ cent per word or figure per insertion.
Phone 1600 We will call for your ad. and give you the cash rate.

CHARGES:

Card of Thanks	50c
In Memoriam (up to 2 inches)	75c
Over 2 inches, per inch	50c
With black border, extra	25c
Birth Notice	50c
Death Notice	50c
Locals (Back Page), per inch	$1.00
Block Local (Back Page), inch	$1.50

Index to Examiner Classified Want Advts.

Agents Wanted	L
Boarders Wanted	F
Business Opportunities	K
Chiropractor	U
Cottages, Summer Resorts	E
Dressmaking	E
Employment Wanted	J
Female Help Wanted	M
Found	N
For Rent—General	C
For Sale—General	A
General Notices	Z
Help Wanted—Male or Female	I
Live Stock	O
Lost	M
Male Help Wanted	G
Personal	R
Pet Stock	W
Poultry for Sale, and Eggs	P
Radio	I
Real Estate	D
Salesmen Wanted	Y
Situations Vacant	V
To Rent—Houses and Apartments	B
Used Cars for Sale	S
Wanted—General	Q

a For Sale—General

YOUR DRUGGIST can supply you with real foot comfort. Use Cross Corn or Bunion Salve. At all Peterborough Drug Stores.

POTATOES FOR SALE, 40c A BAG. 'Phone 1600. 3d-88-155A

BLUE ENGLISH PRAM. APPLY 32 Lafayette. 3d-88-134A

12 SPECIALLY MADE COLLAPSIBLE Bridge Tables, 6 Dozen Duplicate Boards, Baby Carriage, Play Pen. 'Phone 548. 3d-86-135A

SAND SPRING COAT, SILK-LINED, size 18; cheap. 433 Rogers Street. 3d-81-141A

PURE MAPLE SYRUP — MADE BY R. McCamus & Sons, Ida P.O. Ontario. Price: $12 per Case of 6 Imperial Gallons, delivered. 3d-80,87,3,10-4612A

RENNIE SEEDS, CLOVERS, TIMOthy, Turnips, Mangels, Corn, etc. Sold only by Ernest C. Braund, 718 George Street. 12d-5,8,10,12,15,17,20,22,24,26,29,1-9931A

PRIVATE SALE OF HOUSEHOLD Furniture. 189 Reid Street. 3d-87-194A

PURE MAPLE SYRUP, MADE BY R. McCamus & Sons, Ida, Ont. Price $12.00 per Case of 6 Gallons. Delivered. 2d-86-196A

BICYCLE, CHEAP. 'PHONE 269, BEfore 6 p.m. 3d-87-201A

PRIVATE SALE OF HOUSEHOLD Furniture, including Combination Range, 20173. 816 Chamberlain. 3d-87-206A

LOAD MIXED WOOD, 80% HARDwood, $2.25. Pulkinghorn, 'Phone 276. 6d-80-204A

DINING-ROOM TABLE AND 6 Chairs. 292 McDill. 3d-86-136A

GOOD HEAVY SLABWOOD, 12", $1, $2 and $3 Loads. Dinsdale's, 'Phone 159. 20d-100-161A

NO. 1 MIXED WOOD, $7 PER CORD, 15". Body Hardwood, 4', $6 per Cord. 'Phone 2097. 3d-86-206A

QUANTITY BRICK. 'PHONE 2097. 6d-86-206A

TRY OUR $9 LOAD OF FINE OR Hardwood Slabs. Baker's Wood Yard. 'Phone 2676. 12d-29-2036A

$1.75 QUARTER CORD, DRY MIXED Wood. Albion. 'Phone 83. 3d-87-209A

80 LOADS CINDERS, 40 LOADS Manure, $1 Load, Baled Hay, Alfalfa and Timothy, $13.00 Ton, ½-Ton Lots; One Horse, cheap. H Hamlin. 'Phone 2649. 3d-87-181A

ONE CEDAR STRIP CANOE GOOD condition. 'Phone 797W, between 6 and 7.30. 3d-87-182A

NAVY BLUE WICKER BABY CARriage, cheap for cash. 592 Aylmer. 2d-86-188A

LADY'S SPRING COAT, SIZE SIXteen; Misses' Coat, Suit and Dresses, 559 Harvey Street. Call Evenings. 3d-87-186A

HEAVY ¾-WAGON, ALSO TRUCK Wagon, in good condition. 'Phone 10 ring 3, Keene. 3d-86-190A

CINDERS THIS WEEK, FREE FOR Hauling. The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company, Ltd. 3d-86-201A

LIBERTY BULLSEE OATS. 'PHONE Gerald Dawson, 6 ring 12, Bailieboro. 3d-86-140A

b For Rent—Houses and Apartments

SIX-ROOM BRICK HOUSE, BOLIVAR Street. 'Phone 769F. 3d-86-187B

EIGHT-ROOMED MODERN HOUSE, garage. Apply 660 Reid. 3d-87-185B

MAY 1ST — SEVEN-ROOMED BRICK House, conveniences; also Four Bright Rooms. Apply 234 Antrim. 3d-87-134B

THREE UNFURNISHED ROOMS, Elderly Couple preferred; gas. 672 Park. 3d-86-175B

NICE COMFORTABLE HOUSE. APPLY 680 George. 'Phone 2607. 3d-86-177B

SIX-ROOM MODERN HOUSE, A1 condition; garage and garden. Rent $30. Apply 660 Reid. 3d-87-219B

FIVE-ROOM BUNGALOW, CONVENience, large garden; reasonable rent; newly decorated. Apply 594 Downie Street. 3d-86-225B

LOWER DUPLEX, THREE ROOMS and Hall, adults. Apply 183 Antrim. 3d-88-230B

SEVEN ROOMS, OAK FLOORS, French doors, garden, flowers, apples, fruit. 709 Water. 2d-87-236B

LOOK! APARTMENT. TWENTY DOLlars, Furnished, Unfurnished, hot water; central; Couples. 709 Water. 2d-87-237B

10 ACRES AND HOUSE. ALSO Houses and Apartments. W. P. Hetherington, Real Estate, 421 George. 'Phone 2946. 3d-87-238B

SIX-ROOMED HOUSE, CONVENIences, large garden, garage. 95½ Lansdowne. 3d-88-243B

HOUSE, NO. 336 RUBIDGE STREET hot water heating. Possession can be arranged. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-5246B

FOR RENT — PREMISES NO 397 Water Street, suitable for Store or Office (heated). Apply 437 George Street. dtf-8141B

HOUSES. 'PHONE 1796. 10d-92-129B

MODERN 3-ROOM APARTMENT, HOT water heating. 'Phone 2825. 3d-86-169B

TWO FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHed Rooms, suitable for Light Housekeeping. Apply 217 Rubidge Street. 3d-86-171B

BRIGHT! $16.00 COMFORTABLE Small House, plumbing, adults; central. Apply 293 Dalhousie Street. 'Phone 278. 4d-87-165B

THREE HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, West-end. 'Phone 1467W. 3d-87-207B

ROOMS, FURNISHED, UNFURNISHed, heated; lights, water paid; central. Rent reasonable. 196 Aylmer. 3d-86-211B

SEE! COSY LOWER APARTMENT, private bath, adults, handy C.G.E. 293 Dalhousie Street. 'Phone 278. 3d-87-193B

TWO PARTLY FURNISHED ROOMS, near Factories. 73 Lansdowne. 3d-87-192B

MOVING AND STORAGE.

SHORT DISTANCES OR ANYWHERE in Canada or United States. Covered, Padded Vans. Experienced courteous Men. Apply, full particulars, M. Rawlinson, Limited, 610 Yonge Street, Toronto. dtf-9929

SCOTT'S SCRAPBOOK — By R. J. Scott

c For Rent—General

NORTH HALF LOT 1, CONCESSION 5, Ennismore. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-10290

STORE, NO. 173½ SIMCOE STREET. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-13970

GARAGE TO RENT — CONVENIENT to Downtown Offices and Stores. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-10920

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

BRICK HOUSE, LARGE GARDEN and barn, 392 Woodbine Avenue. Apply Fred Bevoy. 6d-88-81D

50 ACRES, LOT 12, CONCESSION 5, Douro, for Sale. Good House and Barn. Immediate possession. Apply 175 Albertus Street. 3d-88-145D

SACRIFICE! TO CLEAR ESTATE — 6-Room Frame House, large garden, edge of city. Payments like Rent. 'Phone 273. 3d-87-199D

FOR SALE — WILL SACRIFICE FOR reasonable offer, 10 Acres Garden Land, Buildings good; electric; one mile from Monaghan Road. Write Box 213, Examiner. 4d-89-218D

FOR SALE — EIGHTEEN ACRES OF Good Garden Land, near Keene. Must be sold, owner ill. Nugent Real Estate, Charlotte Street. 3d-87-226D

A CHANCE FOR SOMEONE TO OWN a Real Home—Modern in every respect, very central, beautiful grounds; very reasonable. A. E. Thompson, Real Estate, Evans Building. 1d-86-246D

f Boarders Wanted

LARGE FRONT FURNISHED ROOM, with Board. 694J. 356 Stewart. 3d-87-205F

BRIGHT FURNISHED ROOMS, WITH Board. 'Phone 1647F. 3d-87-206F

BRIGHT ROOM, WITH BOARD, central. 144 Murray Street. 3d-87-189F

g Help Wanted, Male

NEW CANADIAN MAGAZINE, WITH smart, up-to-the-minute atmosphere, of proven instant public appeal and saleability, will Appoint an Experienced Outside Subscription Man as its Regional Supervisor. Preferably one who has, or who can quickly acquire, Operating Crew. Ask for W. J. Patton, at desk of Empress Hotel, March 10 and 11, Wednesday and Thursday. 1d-86-247G

h Help Wanted, Female

REFINED CAPABLE HOUSEKEEPER for Two Adults; good home. Write Box 156, Examiner. 3d-87-189H

GENERAL WANTED, CAPABLE OF taking full charge. Must be good Cook; sleep out. Write Box 222, Examiner. 3d-88-238H

j Employment Wanted

WINDOW CLEANING. J. FOSTER. 'Phone 777. Storms taken down. 6d-89-158J

EXPERIENCED FARM HAND, GOOD Milker. Write Box 227, Examiner. 3d-88-227J

EXPERIENCED FARM HAND WANTS Work near City. Apply Cyril Waters, No. 2, Norwood. 2d-87-240J

WINDOWS CLEANED, STORMS taken off. 'Phone 2689F. 3d-88-245J

m Lost

BOSTON BRINDLE DOG, ANSWERS to "Buddy." Finder 'Phone 335. 3d-87-191M

WHITE GOLD WRIST WATCH, ON Monday. Please 'Phone 3095. 3d-88-235M

n Found

SMALL PARCEL, SATURDAY EVENing, South. Obtain same paying for advertisement. 'Phone 2897F. 2d-87-246N

LIVESTOCK FOR SALE

FIRST-CLASS, YOUNG, SOUND, Black Mare, make good Brood Mare. Write Box 151, Examiner. 3d-86-151O

AGED BROWN MARE, 1,500 LBS.; Bay Horse, General Purpose. J. Armstrong, Concession 6, Otonabee. 'Phone Keene 21 ring 13. 3d-86-146O

FOR SALE — GOOD GENERAL PURpose Mare, rising 3 years, broken. Henry Olver, Concession 6, Smith. 3d-86-945O

FOR SALE — DURHAM COW, DUE to freshen. Apply Willie Hutchison, Otonabee. 3d-88-948O

JERSEY COW, FRESH FEBRUARY. Holstein Cow. R. J. Steele, No. 6, Peterborough. 3d-88-280Q

POULTRY FOR SALE

SPECIAL PRICES PAID FOR LIVE Poultry. Oldman. 'Phone 2478W. 25d-99-2077P

BLACK GIANT EGGS FOR HATCHing, 25c per Dozen; also 3-weeks-old Leghorn Roosters. Harold Dawson, Route Eleven, Peterborough. 3d-8,10,12-142P

BUY CHICKS THAT PUT ON weight fast. They mature earlier and start earning sooner. You can almost see Bray's "Extra-Profit" Chicks grow. Our customers report Chicks weighing over a pound at 5 weeks, and 2¼ lbs. at 9 weeks. And they keep right on gaining. Last Fall Wm. Kirkpatrick, Burgessville, reported his Bray Pullets up to 6 lbs. 10 oz. at 6 months—and he was getting a 76% egg yield from them at that age. It will pay you to buy Bray Chicks from our 1935 flock. Get our Free Catalogue. Bray Chick Hatchery, 336 Water Street, Peterborough. 'Phone 2484. 3d-10,12-143P

PAINTING & PAPERHANGING

EXPERIENCED PAPERHANGERS, Painters, and Grainers. We Guarantee Satisfaction. Ask to see Sunworthy Wallpapers, from 10c Roll up. William Keller & Son, 'Phone 2844. 3d-86-152

ACE GERMAN SPY NABBED IN PARIS

French Believe Arrest Will Force Berlin to Rebuild Whole Espionage Service.

RING UNCOVERED.

PARIS, April 10 (CP) — Edward Bernhueber, who police alleged was one of the cleverest operatives of the German intelligence service, was under arrest to-day as a result of investigations which authorities said had uncovered an important nest of spies.

He was detained on a warrant issued by Judge Benon, the magistrate who conducted the original investigations into the activities of Benjamin and Mrs. Bercowitz of Montreal and 19 others now on trial on espionage charges.

The authorities said when Bernhueber was taken into custody he had on his person a list of questions on military, diplomatic and political subjects which he has asked a French journalist, Armand Avrousat. The questions indicated a particular interest in Austrian affairs, police said.

The newspaper Le Matin, which disclosed the arrest, says revelations growing out of Bernhueber's detention may be so far-reaching and so damaging to the Wilhelmstrasse's elaborately constructed "service of information" that an entirely new spy organization will have to be rebuilt from Berlin. Other arrests are expected soon.

q Wanted

OLD GOLD WANTED. PHILLIPS' Laboratories, 406½ George (opposite Lech's). 15d-104-3022Q

WANTED — MAN'S SUIT, SIZE 38. Write Box 174, Examiner. 3d-86-176Q

ADULT COUPLE TO SHARE HOUSE with Elderly Man; conveniences, garden; free rent. 96½ Lansdowne. 3d-88-244Q

WANTED — GOOD USED SEDAN Car. Will pay cash. Privately owned. 'Phone 278. 2d-87-241Q

WANTED — TO BUY, GOOD 1928, OR later, Coupe or Roadster. Write Box 226, Examiner. 3d-88-226Q

WANTED — TO BORROW, $1,000, OR consider Partner with same amount. Write Box 217, Examiner. 3d-88-217Q

WANTED — GOOD USED CLOSED Car. State lowest price and particulars, to Box 216, Examiner. 2d-87-216Q

WANTED— SMALL REFRIGERATOR in good condition, cheap. Write Box 232, Examiner. 3d-88-232Q

WANTED — TO RENT, A SMALL Farm in Peterborough County, with Buildings. W. E. Foster, Lakefield. 6d-88-196Q

WANTED — BY ELDERLY WOMAN, Furnished Room; central; reasonable. Write Box 188, Examiner. 3d-87-188Q

WANTED— TO RENT, MODERN SIX-Room Bungalow or Apartment, immediately; good location; reliable tenants. 'Phone 803. 3d-87-211Q

WANTED—BY COUPLE, BUNGALOW or Cottage; must be clean; rent about 18 or 20 Dollars, by 1st of May. Write Box 214, Examiner. 3d-87-214Q

WANTED— JOB. CAN PUT UP TWO or Three Hundred cash. Write Box 180, Examiner. 3d-86-.80Q

LIVE POULTRY. PAY SPECIAL Prices. Florence. 'Phone 3573J 26d-105-10010Q

s Used Cars for Sale

PONTIAC SPECIAL SEDAN, PRIvately owned, small mileage. Sell cheap. Apply 247 Prince Street. 3d-86-178S

FOR SALE — NASH COUPE '29. SELL or Exchange for Four-cylinder Closed Car. Apply 505 Bolivar Street. 3d-86-160S

FOR SALE — PONTIAC SPORT Coupe, rumble seat, five tires. H. Walker, 774 George Street. 3d-86-170S

PETERBOROUGH USED CAR MARKET—Cars Bought and Sold— 261 George Street.
'32 Ford Coupe.
'31 Chevrolet Coach.
'31 Ford Coupe.
'29 Studebaker Coupe.
'29 Chevrolet Coupe.
'30 Durant Coupe.
'29 Durant Sedan.
'29 Oldsmobile Sedan.
'29 Whippet Roadster.
'29 Buick Roadster.
'27 Buick Sedan.
'27 Essex Coach.
'28 Pontiac Coach.
Easy terms. Open Evening. 1d-86-150S

CHAS. H. ELLIOTT, STUDEBAKER DEALER. USED CARS:
'29 Chevrolet Coach.
'29 Star Coach.
'29 Whippet 4 Coach.
'26 Jewett Coach.
'32 Frontenac Sedan.
'31 Essex Coupe.
'28 Dodge Coupe.
'27 Pontiac Coupe.
'26 Chevrolet ½-Ton Panel Truck.
266 Hunter Street, at Bethune—J. B. A. Fitzgerald Coal and Wood Office, 'Phone 1900, House 51. 3d-87-254S

HON. G. N. GORDON, K.C.—Barrister and Solicitor. Trust Company Funds to Loan on Mortgages. Offices: 396-397 George Street. 'Phone 2800.

HALL & CARLEY — Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, corner Hunter and Water Streets over Canadian Bank of Commerce). Peterborough, Ontario. Telephones: Offices No. 68; R. B. Hall, K.C., residence No. 48; F. J. Carley, LL.B., residence No. 9086.

FOOT, KERR & MOULDERY— Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries. Offices 416 Water Street, Peterborough. Telephone 1492. E. A. Foot, K.C., M.P., F. D. Kerr, K.C., V. J. Moldery, K.C.

CLASSIFIED ADS are as useful as the day is long.

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

FUTURE OF AVIATION IS IN STRATOSPHERE

Greatly Increased Speed With Less Fuel Possible, Claims Mollison.

SURE OF SUCCESS

(By William P. Reed, Central Press Canadian Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Apr. 8.—James Mollison, British flying ace, recently explained why he is contemplating a conquest of the stratosphere in an American aeroplane.

Having aerially conquered all the continent and the seven seas he is searching for fresh regions to explore.

"In stratospheric flying," he said in an interview, "lies the future of aviation. Mere long distance flights over continents and seas can now be left to rich and enthusiastic amateurs. The routes have been traversed, conditions noted, and proof definitely established that the aeroplane can accomplish even the most arduous flight.

"The pioneers of aviation must look elsewhere for their endeavors of the future. To me the stratosphere is the obvious object for research."

Mollison make his visit to United States to investigate some of the latest type of supercharged American aviation engines.

"The American engines and engineers are far away ahead of all Europeans on this super-charging," he said. "Moreover, they have advanced farther with high altitude flying. I want to study their data first hand. There is a new engine now being experimented with which intrigues me very much and I want to have some practical experience with this before I start out on my explorations into the stratosphere.

"My trip into the higher skies will not be in the nature of Professor Piccard's investigations. He seemed to be interested in the cosmic rays and other rays. I am going up there purely as a practical aviator without any preconceived notions. The higher and more abstruse scientific details can be left to scientists.

Treble Normal Speed

"I am out to prove a theory that is accepted in experimental aviation, that once above the cloud level and away from the ordinary atmospheric disturbance treble the normal speed can be attained with far less fuel consumption.

"Already American aviators have proved that a machine capable of a cruising speed of 170 miles an hour when flying at the ordinary height can reach 340 miles an hour when flying at 40,000 feet. I am assuming that that ratio can be increased as the altitude increases. Anyhow that is what I am determined to find out.

"That stratosphere has not yet been reached by aeroplane. The nearest to it was 29,000 feet, so there ought not to be much difficulty in making the other thousand feet.

"The stratosphere balloonists have found out that at that height it is possible to keep wireless contact with the earth and also it is possible to use the ordinary aeroplane navigating instruments. The magnetic pole exerts the same influence 50,000 feet in the air as it does at the normal flying heights.

Sure of Success

"I am convinced that the American engineer can produce an engine capable of making the climb into the stratosphere; also that an enclosed cockpit can be devised to permit a person to live in that rarified atmosphere; and the only problem to be solved is whether man can hold out. I think he can, and also I think that not until the stratosphere has been explored fully will transatlantic flying be made comparatively safe.

CAPT. JAMES MOLLISON

OBTAIN TENDERS FOR NEW REFUGE

Information to be Ready for June Sessions of Council.

BUILDING DESTROYED.

COBOURG, April 10. — Tenders for the rebuilding of the House of Refuge of the united counties of Northumberland and Durham will be obtained by the Board of Management for the council's consideration at its June sessions. The institution was almost completely destroyed by fire last December. Only an east wing escaped serious damage. It has been repaired and is now in use with the likelihood that it can be retained as part of the new building which it is believed the council will decide to erect.

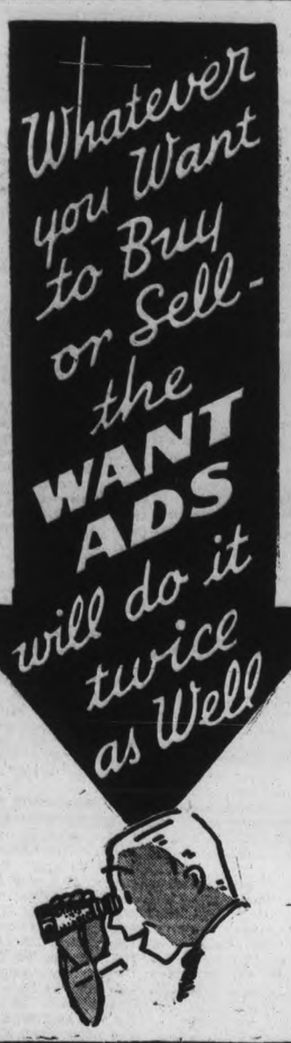
Cost of the maintenance of the former inmates has been increased by the temporary arrangements which the Board of Management had to make for the care of the counties' dependents. Complete information regarding grants and other financial details will be available for the June sessions.

Cat Legacy Goes To Poor Cousins

BOLTON GATE, England, April 10 (C.P.)—Fifteen persons will eventually share a cat's money — about $6,000 left in trust as legacy by Miss Barwise, a retired schoolmistress, to provide maintenance for her pet tortoise shell cat. The 15 persons are residuary legates, relatives of the late Miss Barwise.

Ample provision has been made for the cat which is in the care of the rector of Bolton Gate, Rev. George Pallister, a friend of the deceased, who has had it for a year.

The money will be a boon to some of the 15 elderly recipients, who are cousins of Miss Barwise. The youngest is more than 60. The cat is six years old and may live for 12 or 14 years. It is an animal of no pedigree and of no special distinction, but Miss Barwise, who had declared that she once owed her life to a cat, was much attached to it.



SOCIETY WORK IS REVIEWED

Mrs. English Reads Splendid Report to St. James' W.M.S. Members.

REGULAR MEETING.

The Easter meeting of St. James' United Church W.M.S. was held yesterday afternoon, with a good attendance. The chair was occupied by the president, Mrs. A. E. Moorhouse, and Mrs. W. Fell's group was in charge of the program.

The meeting opened with a hymn and a prayer of thanksgiving was offered by Mrs. F. Curtis.

The business session included considerable unfinished business arising from the minutes of last meeting, and a splendid report was read by the treasurer, Mrs. English, covering the first quarter year's work.

An Easter responsive service was carried out, in which all members took a part, in praise, prayer and Scripture reading. In a very interesting devotional talk on Easter, Mrs. W. H. Buckler brought in her message, a vivid picture of the Passion week, and two of the ladies, Mrs. Ball and Mrs. Orr, read responsively Scripture lessons bearing upon her topic. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Sollitt, closing this part of the service.

Another chapter of "Builders of the Indian Church" was very capably dealt with in a resume of the story by Miss M. Hanbidge. "The way of old" proved an interesting synopsis of the early church in India supposedly founded by the Apostle Thomas and is known to-day as "The Thomas Christians." The story covered several centuries of time and showed remarkable progress.

A beautiful solo, "Lead Me to Calvary," in keeping with the spirit of Easter, was sung by Mrs. R. C. Sarles, accompanied by Miss Jean Meeks.

A reading on Consecration entitled "Not omitting the fourth stanza," was given by Mrs. Wm. Fell, after which thet consecration hymn was sung, with prayers on consecration offered by Mrs. Orr and Miss M. Kidd. The meeting was closed with the benediction.

The Mother and Daughter banquet was definitely planned to be held on Friday, May 10th and the W.M.S. Sunday service and Easter Thank offering will be observed on April 28th, with Dr. C. M. Scott as the special speaker.

Several new members were welcomed at this Easter meeting.

It is not possible for an object to be wider than it is long, since length is the name applied to the greater of the two dimensions.

When standing erect, the giant kangaroo is nearly as tall as a man, and in full flight makes bounds of from 10 to 12 feet.

JUDGMENT FOR THE PLAINTIFF—$5000
HOW WOULD THIS VERDICT AFFECT YOU?
You as owner of the car are liable. Why continue to take chances—your car may injure or kill someone to-morrow. Protect yourself to-day with a Policy issued by
DAVIS-THOMPSON COMPANY
INSURANCE AND GENERAL AGENCY
423 GEORGE STREET 'PHONE 40

FOR SALE
House, very desirably situated at No. 335 Rubidge Street.
Newly renovated and decorated throughout; new garage; hot-water heating.
Will sell on easy terms (monthly instalments if desired).
APPLY
THE TORONTO SAVINGS AND LOAN COMPANY
437 GEORGE STREET

DELANO ROBBINS IS LAID TO REST

President Roosevelt and Herridge Are Among Notables Attending Funeral.

SIMPLE SERVICE.

NEW YORK, April 10. (CP). Canada and the United States joined in a tribute to Hon. Warren Delano Robbins in the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Incarnation here yesterday.

Driving through the rainy streets before 10 o'clock came the President of the United States to the funeral of his cousin, lately Minister to Canada; and R. C. Matthews, Minister of National Revenue, representing Ottawa with Hon. W. D. Herridge, Canadian Minister to Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Boale came from the United States legation in Ottawa.

Private Burial

After a simple service in the beflowered church the casket, covered with white roses, was taken away for private burial at Fairhaven, Mass.

A few minutes after the President leaning on the arm of his eldest son, James Roosevelt, had entered the church coming up the red-carpeted ramp through the side door, the last notes of the List "Liebestraum" came from the organ and the white-frocked choir of men and women singing "Hark, Hark, My Soul, Angelic Songs are Swelling," proceeded to their places followed by the officiating clergy, Rev. George A. Robertshaw, minister of the church, and Rev. Dr. Robert S. W. Wood, rector of St. Mary's Church, Tuxedo Park, N.Y.

"Abide With Me"

The minister read the service beginning "I am the resurrection and the life," and Dr. Wood made the customary prayer upon which the choir sang "Jerusalem the Golden" and the minister pronounced the benediction.

The organ struck out the recessional "Ten Thousand Times Ten Thousand." The casket was lifted from before the nave, a bower of roses and lillies, and carried down the central aisle followed by the widow, members of the immediate family and officials of both governments.

Cavan

Mrs. R. Matchett has returned after spending a few days with friends at Kitchener and Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. David White and Mrs. Rowen attended on Wednesday, the funeral of William McGee, from his son's (John McGee) residence, Janetville, to Omemee cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Hutchison and Mr. Albert Elliott, Newtonville visited friends in Cavan on Sunday.

Mrs. J. G. Matchett has returned after visiting friends at Valentia.

On Saturday evening, April 13th, the Carolina Jubilee Singers will give a concert in Cavan Community Hall.

Next Sunday service will be at 11 a.m. in Cavan United Church. The Jubilee Singers will remain and assist in the song service.

Mount Pleasant and Ebenezer appointments are withdrawing their regular services and will worship with Cavan appointments at 11 a.m. Sunday School will meet at 2.30 p.m.

Mrs. Rowan is spending the week with her son, Mr. Fred Rowan and family, Peterborough.

Mrs. Eggleson of Coldsprings was a recent visitor with her sister, Mrs. M. Nill.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gardiner and Miss V. Gardiner, Mount Pleasant, attended Cavan Church on Sunday evening.

The Misses Verda Braithwaite and Dorothy Cubbley, Peterborough spent the week-end at their homes in Cavanville.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Byers, Miss Pearl Richards and Garfield Hutchison motored from Toronto and spent Sunday with Cavan friends.

Mr. Milton Carr has secured a position on the railroad at Cherrywood.

AS A CEREAL

OR IN COOKING

it's FINE either way!

It's so handy to have a package of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in the kitchen. Serve it as a cereal. Use it also as a wholesome ingredient in your muffins, breads, omelets, waffles, etc.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk" to aid regular habits. ALL-BRAN is also rich in vitamin B, as well as iron, an element of the blood.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct common constipation, due to insufficient bulk in the diet. In severe cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

The "bulk" of ALL-BRAN does not break down during digestion as does that of leafy vegetables, and is therefore more effective for furnishing the needed "bulk." It is a delicious laxative food . . . far better than patent medicines.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Keep on the Sunny Side of Life

Obituary

ETHELBERT HONEYWELL

CENTRETON, April 10 (Examiner Correspondence)—The death occurred on Thursday last at his home in Genesee, N.Y., of Ethelbert Honeywell. The deceased was born in Haldimand Township and he was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Rice Honeywell of Centreton. He was in his 73rd year.

As a boy he attended the Methodist Church and went to the local school in the village. He had only been ill for two weeks. His wife predeceased him a few years ago.

The funeral service was held from his late residence on Saturday and the remains were laid to rest in Geneo cemetery.

Left to mourn his loss is one son in New York city, one son predeceased him having been killed in the war and three brothers, Rice Honeywell, John Honeywell of this village and James of Castleton.

MRS. GEORGE WOLFRAIM

CENTRETON, April 10 (Examiner Correspondence)—The death occurred at her home a mile east of Castleton on Thursday last of Elizabeth Inglis, beloved wife of George Wolfraim in her 83rd year. The deceased was born near Morganston of Scotch parents. She resided almost all her life in the vicinity. She was a loving Christian character and was dearly loved by all who knew her. Mrs. Wolfraim had been in poor health for sometime although only confined to her bed the last few months.

Beside her aged husband she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. J. R. McBride of Centreton and Mrs. A. R. Porter of Kincaid, Sask. and two sons, A. W. Wolfraim, Shortsville, N.Y. and Harry of Chicago.

The funeral service was held at the family residence on Saturday afternoon. Rev. M. L. Hinton officiating. The remains were interryd in the family plot in Castleton.

MRS. JOHN GILLESPIE

CENTRETON, April 10 (Examiner Correspondence)—The death occurred early on Wednesday last of Mrs. John Gillespie. The deceased was in her 68th year and was born in Haldimand Township and was a life long resident of Centreton with the exception of a few years of which she spent in Toronto and Rochester, N.Y. Before her marriage she was Christina McAuley, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McAuley of Centreton. Mrs. Gillespie suffered from a stroke a little over a year ago from which she never fully recovered. She was a member of the United Church. In her younger days she was organist in the Sunday School and sang in the choir.

The funeral service was held at the United Church on Friday afternoon. The remains were laid to rest in the family plot in Centreton cemetery.

Left to mourn her loss are her sorrowing husband, and one sister, Mrs. John Tomlin, Toronto and one brother, J. A. McAuley of the village. A sister, Mrs. Rawley predeceased her about one year ago and a sister, Mrs. Kennedy and a brother, Thomas McAuley some years ago.

The pall-bearers were John Walton, W. Fraser, A. Coffey, B. Blodgett, James McKenzie and Johnson McKenzie.

MICHAEL BARR

WARSAW, April 10 (Examiner Correspondence)—Seldom have such a number of people been within and crowded at the door as were of Cottesloe Church on Friday afternoon to pay their last respects to Michael Barr, who was born on the farm just adjoining and north of the glebe, when Cottesloe was Colquehoun's Corners. Little over twenty years ago Mr. Barr moved to the brick house across from and west of the church. Mr. Barr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Barr and some elder members of the family came from Ireland and settled on the farm where more children were born of whom the eldest was Michael. He attended school in a building where the brick Cottesloe School now stands. Three school mates of Mr. Barr's, namely, John Rose of Warsaw, Miss Maggie Fitzpatrick and Dennis Fitzpatrick of Dummer were at his funeral.

Mr. Barr married Christina Darling of Prince Edward County and to them were born three children, the late Mrs. William James Little of Lakefield; Mrs. Robert Lloyd, North Dummer, and George on the homestead. Mrs. Little predecessed her mother and was buried in Warsaw. Mrs. Barr expressed a wish to be buried near her daugher, consequently Mr. Barr was buried in the Warsaw cemetery.

There was a short service at the house followed by a service in the church, led by Rev. Mr. Cleland of Norwood assisted by Rev. J. W. Wilkinson of Warsaw. Mrs. Wilkinson and Mrs. James Hawthorne sang, "A Shelter in the Time of Storm."

The large number of those who attended the church service went to Warsaw cemetery. The cortege covered a distance of two miles. Bearers were Stanley Bullock, Elry and George Barr, grandsons, Robert Lloyd, son-in-law and Mr. Stancroft and Mr. Orr, grand son-in-law.

MRS. LUCY PALMATEER.

CORDOVA MINES, April 10.—(Examiner Correspondence.) —The death occurred somewhat suddenly at her home at Deer Lake, Vansickle Settlement, on Friday morning, of Mrs. Lucy Palmateer, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Van Volkenburg, in her 75th year.

Although the deceased had been ailing for some time, her sudden passing came quite unexpected.

Mrs. Palmateer was born in Seymour township, but moved back with her parents at a very early age to Vansickle Settlement.

The deceased leaves to mourn her loss two sons, Arthur at home, and Howard of Willow Branch, Sask., also two sisters, Mrs. Frank Cooney and Mrs. Charles Warboy of Rochester, N.Y., two brothers, John and Simon Van Volkenburg of this vicinity.

After a short service at her home on Sunday, April 7, the funeral was held from the Free Methodist church in charge of Rev. Mr. Hoover, who took as his text, "I must work the works of Him that sent me," (John 9:4).

Interment took place in Rochdale cemetery, the pallbearers being Chas. Sopha, Fred Cole, Roy Althouse, John Vansickle, Martin Ellis, John McFarlane.

MRS. F. H. SCULLY

DOWNEYVILLE, April 10 (Examiner Correspondence). — The funeral of the late Mrs. Francis H. Scully was held from her late residence, Downeyville, Monday morning, April 8, at 10 o'clock, to St. Luke's Church, where Requiem High Mass was said by Rev. Father McFadden, assisted by Rev. Father McAuley of Ennismore. Rev. Father McAuley preached the funeral sermon and referred to the deceased as the queen of the home, the very kind and charitable life she led, and of her many good qualities as a wife and neighbor.

The church was crowded to the door, and the numbers who called at the house and at the funeral showed the high esteem the deceased was held in by all. People were present from Peterborough, Toronto, Detroit, Mich.; Lindsay, Ops, Douro and Ennismore. The pallbearers were six nephews, Messrs. James S. Lucas, Parnell Scully, Eugene Downey of Emily, Clare Scully of Detroit, Mich., Lorne and Peter Scully from Peterborough. The services at the grave were conducted by Father McFadden, assisted by Father McAuley of Ennismore.

The late Anna Maria Sullivan was born in Ennismore and was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Sullivan and some forty years ago was united in marriage to Francis H. Scully.

Surviving her are her sorrowing husband; two sister, Mrs. Dennis Scully of Peterborough, and Miss May Sullivan of Ennismore; three brothers, John Sullivan of Detroit, Mich., and Joseph and Lewis Sullivan of Ennismore.

Glided in Night Aided by Lights

LONDON, April 10 (C.P.)—A member of the London Gliding Club, C. Nicholson, has done what is believed to be the first gliding by night in the United Kingdom. Hurricane lamps, placed on the highest points of the Downs by members of the club, and the moon shining too, enabled Nicholson to make the flight in safety. Clouds came over the moon after he had been in the air about 40 minutes, and he decided to land.

A flash-lamp which Nicholson carried, and the head-lamps of a motor car, were used to exchange messages between the pilot and members of the London Gliding Club on the ground. Aided by motor car lights and the hurricane lamps the glider made a perfect landing.

Stretching along the coast of northern Africa, a new highway will be constructed by Italy across Libya from Tunis to Egypt, while the Egyptian Government will care for the part from the Libyan border to Alexandria.

Germany is trying to develop a domestic diamond cutting industry.

WEDNESDAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

(STANDARD TIME.)

KEY TO CLASSIFICATION

1—Dance. 2—Concert. 3—News. 4—Vocal. 5—Sport 6—Comedy. 7—Drama. 8—Band. 9—Symphony. 10—Variety. 11—Instru Trio. 12—Speaker. 13—Organ. 14—Children. 15—Miscellan.

6.00 P.M
12—CRCT—Denver's Bar L Ranch.
12—WJZ—Education in News.
14—WABU—Buck Rogers.

6.15 P.M
12—CFRB—Mining Broadcaster.
1—WEAF—Harry Kogan's Orch.
4—WJZ—Alma Ketchell.
5—CRCT—News.
15—WABC—Bobby Benson and Sunny Jim.

6.30 P.M.
6—WABC—Music Box.
1—WEAF—Mississippi Minstrel.
3—CFRB—Jim Hunter.
4—WJZ—Three X Sisters.

6.45 P.M.
8—CRCT—Lowell Thomas.
13—CFRB—Ernest Dainty.
4—WEAF—Billy and Betty.

7.00 P.M
11—WABC—Myrt and Marge.
3—CRCT—Amos 'n' Andy.
1—CFRB—Eventide Melodies.

7.15 P.M
14—WJZ—Plantation Echoes.
15—CFRB—Just Plain Bill.
12—WEAF—Stories of Black Chamber.
6—WOR—Lum and Abner.

7.30 P.M
6—CRCT—Billy and Pierre.
7—WJZ—Red Davis and Group.
15—WEAF—Easy Aces.
7—WABC—The O'Neills.

7.45 P.M.
15—WJZ—Dangerous Paradise.
11—CRCT—Evening Prelude.
4—WEAF—Uncle Ezra.
8—WABC—Boake Carter.

8.00 P.M.
15—CFRB—Voice of The Front Page.
1—WABC—St. Louis Blues.
10—CRCT—Melody Mart.
10—WJZ—Penthouse Party.
4—WOR—The Lone Rangers.
10—WEAF—One Man's Family.

8.15 P.M.
2—WABC—Edwin C. Hill.
1—CFRB—Gene Fritsley's Orch.

8.30 P.M.
4—WJZ—Lanny Ross.
10—WABC—Everett Marshall's Varieties
10—CRCT—Variety Review.
10—CFRB—Black House Tavern.
1—WEAF—Wayne King's Orch.

9.00 P.M
10—CRCT—Concert Caravan.
10—WEAF—Town Hall To-night.
15—WJZ—20,000 Years in Sing-Sing.
1—WABC—Andre Kostelanetz Orch
1-4-CFRB—Donald Heins Orch and Kathryn Young

9.15 P.M
6—WGN—Comedy Stars from Hollywood.
11—CFRB—Dancing Ivories.

9.30 P.M.
10—WABC—Burns and Allen.
1—CFRB—Gale Gordon Orch
4—WJZ—John McCormack.
10—WOR—Harry and Esther.

10.00 P.M.
10—CRCT—Masters of Music.
1—WEAF—Pleasure Island.
10—WABC—Jack Pearl and Rich's Orch.
15—WJZ—Jimmie Fiddler's Hollywood Gossip.

10.30 P.M
10—CFRB—Columbia Concert Hall.
1—CRCT—Dornberger's Orch.
1—WEAF—Ray Noble's Orch.

10.45 P.M.
1—CRCT—Paradise Islanders.
3—CRCM—Canadian Press.

11.00 P.M
10—WLW—Crosley Hero Hour.
12—WEAF—John B. Kennedy.
3—CFRB—News.
3—CRCT—News.
15—WABC—Four Aces of Bridge.

11.15 P.M
1—CFRB—Claud Hopkins' Orch.

11.30 P.M
4—CRCT—Ink Spots Quartette.
1—CFRB—Toronto Serenade.
1—WEAF—Eddie Duchin's Orch

12.00 MIDNIGHT
1—WABC—Keith Beecher's Orch.
1—WEAF—Art Jarrett's Orch.
1—WJZ—Dick Fiddler's Orch.

THURSDAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

12.00 NOON
15—WABC—Voice of Experience.
7—WEAF—Masquerade.
11—WJZ—Fields and Hall.

12.15 P.M.
7—WABC—The Gumps.
11—CRCT—Merry Macs.
10—WEAF—Honey Boy and Sassafras.

1.00 P.M
10—CRCT—Rex Battle's Ensemble.

2.00 P.M
15—WABC—Marie.
15—CRCT—Music Guild.
15—WEAF—Temple Bells.

2.30 P.M
4—WEAF—Irving Kennedy.
15—CFRB—Stay As Sweet As You Are.
15—WABC—School of the Air.

2.45 P.M
10—CRCT—Echoes of Erin
11—WEAF—Gould and Shefter.

3.00 P.M
10—CFRB—Cleveland Entertains.
6—WEAF—Vic and Sade
15—CRCT—Castles of Romance.

3.15 P.M
10—CRCT—Eastman School of Music.
15—WEAF—Ma Perkins.

4.00 P.M
11—WJZ—Betty and Bob.
11—WABC—Lyric Serenade.
15—CRCT—Woman's Radio Review.

4.15 P.M
8—CFRB—Salvation Army Band.
4—WJZ—Dorothy Page.

4.45 P.M
15—WEAF—Peaceful Valley Folk.
10—CRCT—Spanish Serves.
15—CFRB—Foxy Grandpa.

5.00 P.M
1—CFRB—Messner's Orch.
13—CRCT—Nothing Else But Safety.

5.15 P.M
6—CFRB—Vera Van.
15—WJZ—Woolly the Moth.

5.30 P.M
—CRCT—Singing Lady.
6—WEAF—Sugar and Bunny.

5.45 P.M
14—WJZ—Orphan Annie.
1—WEAF—Willie Bryant's Orch.
6—WABC—Dick Tracy.

6.00 P.M
13—WJZ—William Lundell.
14—WABC—Buck Rogers.

6.15 P.M
15—CFRB—Mining Broadcaster.
6—WABC—Bobby Benson and Sunny Jim
8—CRCT—News.

6.30 P.M
8-4-WEAF—News; Mary Small.
10—CENC—Pundy Fantasy.
1—WABC—Frank Daley's Orch
3—CFRB—Jim Hunter, news.
4—WJZ—Armand Girard.

6.45 P.M
15—WEAF—Billy and Betty.
12—WABC—Beauty Program
13—CFRB—Garden Talk.
7—CRCT—Lowell Thomas.

7.00 P.M
1—WEAF—Gene Mervey's Orch.
15—WABC—Myrt and Marge.
6—CRCT—Amos 'n' Andy.

7.15 P.M
6—WOR—Lum and Abner.
11—WJZ—Gems o' Melody.
15—WABC—Just Plain Bill.
4—WEAF—Whispering Jack Smith

7.30 P.M
11—CRCT—Billy and Pierre.
6—WABC—Benny Venuta.
10—WEAF—Merry Minstrels.

7.45 P.M
10—WLW—Unbroken Melodies.
6—WABC—Boake Carter.
1—CRCT—Ontario Employment Service.
4—WJZ—Ruth Etting

8.00 P.M
1—CFRB—Gene Fritsley's Orch
10—WABC—Dramatic.
10—WJZ—Dramatic.
1—CRCT—Duke Vallee's Orch.
9—WOR—Little Symphony Orch.
12-10-CRCM—Agricultural Talk; Say It with Music.

8.30 P.M
11—CRCM—Chamber Music.
15—WABC—Forum of Liberty.

8.00 P.M.
1—WJZ—Death Valley.
10—CRCT—Nelson Hour.
1—WOR—Happy Hal's Housewarmers.
10—WABC—The Camel Caravan.
10—WEAF—Captain Henry's Showboat.

9.15 P.M.
4—CRCM—The Diplomats (CBC).

9.30 P.M.
7—WOR—Little Theatre Tournament.
1—WJZ—Mercado's Orch.
10—WABC—Waring's Pennsylvanians.
15—WLW—Unsolved Mysteries

10.00 P.M
11—CRCM—Melodic Strings
1—WEAF—Paul Whiteman and Radio Entertainers.

10.30 P.M
1—CFRB—Dale Gordon's Orch.
12—CRCM—Canadian B.M.A. Banquet.
12—WJZ—Economic Changes.
1—WABC—Feldt's Brigadiers.

10.45 P.M
8—CRCO—Canadian Press.
12—WABC—Voice of the Crusaders

11.00 P.M
2—WEAF—John B Kennedy.
—CRCT—News.
1—WJZ—Jack Denny Orch
9—CFRB—News

11.15 P.M
1—CRCT—Wilson's Orch.
1—CFRB—Little Jack Little's Orch.

11.30 P.M
12—WABC—Enrique Madriguer's Orch
1—CFRB—Arthur Warren's Orch.
1—WEAF—Eddie Duchin's Orch.

12.00 MIDNIGHT
1—WABC—Herbie Kay.
1—WEAF—Tommy Tucker's Orch.

C.D.S. THURSDAY STORE NEWS

Store Hours: 9 a.m. to 5.30 p.m.; Saturday 9 a.m. to 9.30 p.m. FREE DELIVERY Phone 3000

Maple Leaf Special!

IN GOOD TIME FOR EASTER!

First Quality Full Fashioned Light Service Weight and Ringless Chiffon

Real Silk STOCKINGS

A commanding value! In real Silk Hosiery! Your choice of two very popular weights—Light Service Weight for your tweeds and for those of us who walk a lot; Ringless Chiffon for sheer beauty and satisfaction! Every pair FIRST QUALITY!

In new shades—rushed in from fashion centres!

CARIB (DARK BEIGE)
MIAMI TAN (SUNTAN BEIGE)
TROPICA (SUNTAN)
GREYDUSK (OFF GREY)

Available in both Chiffon and Service Weights! And, if you'd rather, SMOKEBROWN—in Ringless Chiffon. And BRUNETTE (LIGHT BEIGE)—in Light Service Weight. Two classic favorites to harmonize with every color.

SIZES 8½ TO 10½

Now that skirts are shorter—stockings must be smart and clear! You'll appreciate this saving!

—Main Floor, C.D.S.

55c pair

Swing Along with Spring in a New

EASTER FROCK

Thursday, Each . . 6.95

Gay Spring Dresses just off the designers' tables . . . styled with the clear-cut trim lines that are making this Spring's frocks look definitely new! You'll change all preconceived ideas about the price of smartness when you see these Dresses! Novelty crepes, novelty sheers (fibre silk), novelty prints, plain sheers (fibre silk), and polka dot prints. Crisp white necklines, touches of taffeta (rayon), touches to play up fashionable navy and black, Bolero effects, redingote ideas, and interesting sleeves are a few of their outstanding fashion features. The prints throb with fresh color . . . the plain shades are smart in navy, black or brown. Sizes 14 to 44. Thursday, each 6.95

—2nd Floor, C.D.S.

Easter Hats

in Style and Variety

Hats that are smart to the very latest fashion wrinkle! And you'll feel smart when you wear them! Sailors, off-the-face, large and small brim models, with tailored or dressy trims, in rough and smooth straws (trade name), and fur felts. Styles for matron and miss. Thursday, each

3.95

—2nd Floor, C.D.S

C.D.S. GROCETERIA

Sunlight Soap ..... Cake .5
C. & B. Tomato Soup ..... 4 Tins .23
CULVERHOUSE
Choice Pears, No. 2 Squat Tin ..... .10
DE LUXE ASSORTED
Jelly Powders ..... 6 Pkgs. .25
Sliced Breakfast Bacon ..... lb. .25

SMART AND NEW FOR STUNNING FROCKS

Seed Voiles, Lattice Crepe

A breath of Spring in every yard of these vivacious cottons. Sheer Voiles in delightful nobby seed spray effects, and new Lattice Crepes in luscious pastel effects. Fashions predict a popular demand for these two new Spring materials, 36 inches wide. Yard..... .59

—Main Floor, C.D.S

CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

FAIR ATTENDANCE WARSAW MEETING

Mrs. Wilkinson Presides at Women's Missionary Gathering.

WARSAW, April 10 (Examiner Correspondence) — A fair number attended the postponed Women's Missionary on Friday afternoon last. Mrs. Wilkinson presided and had a program which was interesting and helpful to every one. After the opening exercises and roll call to be answered by an Easter verse, Mrs. Arthur Edwards had a very interesting lesson from the study book chapter dealing with the churches in India. Mrs. J. A. Sargent led the devotional part reading St. John's gospel chapter 20; Mrs. S. Clydesdale read an Easter prayer; Mrs. Arthur Payne and Mrs. Roland Payne sang, "He Lives" accompanied by Mrs. Wilkinson; Mrs. D. Miller gave a talk on the Kingdom of God.

The Easter thankoffering was given and those who did not then, will have an opportunity on the Sunday after Easter which is W.M.S. Sunday. The service closed by all repeating the Kingdom of God Movement Prayer. D. Group will have charge of the May meeting when the quarterly tea will be served.

Wave Lengths

Station.	Metres.	Kilo-cycles
CNR, Toronto	211	1420
CFCF, Montreal	410	730

CFCH, North Bay	222	1350
CFCO, Chatham	360	833
CJAD, Ottawa	...	630
CFRB, Toronto	482	625
CJRC, Kingston	...	910
CKAC, Montreal	411	730
CKCK, Regina	536.9	560
CKCL, Toronto	312	960
CKCO, Ottawa	...	1010
CKPC, Brantford	275	1090
CKOC, Hamilton	252	1190
CKLW, Windsor-Lon...	357	840
CKTB, St. Catharines	248.9	1200
KDKA, Pittsburg	309	970
KMOX, St. Louis	275	1090
WBBM, Chicago	226	1020
WABC, New York	349	860
WBBM, Chicago	226	770
WGR, Buffalo	319	940
WGY, Schenectady	379	790
WHAM, Rochester	283	1150
WJR, Detroit	399	750
WLW, Cincinnati	423	700
WMAQ, Chicago	447	670
WTIC, Hartford	395	1060
WJZ, New York	454	760
WKBW, Buffalo	302	1480

A fish cannot live after it has been scaled.

SCHOOL LESSONS TO BE BROADCAST

Eight Radio Broadcasts Are Planned by Department of Education.

L. W. Copp, county school inspector, received notification this week from the Department of Education that under the direction of the department, beginning on April 30, there will be eight radio broadcasts of lessons based on the courses of study for Public and Separate Schools. There will be two broadcasts each week during the series, one on Tuesday from 2 to 2.30 in the afternoon and on Thursday at the same hour.

The schedule of programs is as follows:

April 30, a lesson in Music to a junior class.

May 2, demonstration of singing by a senior public school choir.

May 7, a lesson in History to a junior class.

May 9, a lesson in History to a senior class.

May 14, a lesson in Literature to a junior class.

May 16, a lesson in Literature to a senior class.

May 21, a lesson in Geography to a junior class.

May 23, a lesson in Geography to a senior class.

The broadcasts will be heard over the following stations, CROT, CRCO, CFCH, CJKL, CKGB, CKPC, CFPL, CKLW.

Filippo Brunelleschi was the founder of Renaissance architecture.

The Prince of Wales has decided to add a bagpipe player to his household staff at St. James Palace in England, and has appointed Pipe Fletcher of the First Scots Guards.

ANYTIME IS TEA TIME

for YOUR enjoyment

LYONS'

BLUE LABEL TEA 33c ½ lb.

Yellow Label 28c ½ lb.

There's Quality in every Leaf

T. Lyons & Co. (Canada) Ltd., Toronto and Montreal.

STRESA PARLEY PIVOTS ON FRENCH PROTEST

The Peterborough Examiner

HOME EDITION

VOL. LXXIV., No. 86 — PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, APRIL 11, 1935 — PROBS.—S.E. winds; partly cloudy. Friday: S. E. winds; cloudy; probably rain — PRICE THREE CENTS

FIRE THREATENED NORWOOD VILLAGE

To-day

Short News Items Received By Examiner Over Direct C. P. Wire.

Chatham Letter Carrier Is Arrested For Theft

CHATHAM.—Russell Mounteer, 16, a letter carrier of the Chatham post office, was arrested today on a charge of stealing mail and was remanded until Wednesday without being asked to plead. Mounteer's arrest followed an investigation by post office inspectors. The charge alleged he stole a posted letter containing $3.50 in money.

Erie Juvenile Thefts Are Under Investigation

FORT ERIE, Ont.—Juvenile robberies here are being investigated by Chief Constable Griffin. Thieves jimmied a vault containing a quantity of cash in Tait Avenue High School, Principal Howard E. Thompson reported. Receipts from the cafeteria fund were stolen. Thieves also entered the store of R. E. Fretz, taking about $10.

13,000 Dress Workers Continue Gandhi Strike

NEW YORK.—More than 13,000 dress workers continued their "Gandhi strike" to-day, sitting passively at their machines, while the Cleaners and Dyers Union prepared for a walkout of 2,000 workers in their industry. The dressmakers' Union insisted the action of its members did not violate the clause in its contract with the operators which requires three days' notice before a strike is called. The men simply refused to work until their pay was increased, the union said.

Relief Camp Constable Is Arrested For Theft

KINGSTON.—John Morey, a constable at the unemployment camp 43, was arrested last night charged with theft of goods from the camp and to-day pleaded guilty. He was remanded for sentence. Morey was charged with the theft of a stove, blankets, wash tubs, ten gallons of gasoline and other articles.

22-Year-Old Car Thief Is Arrested In Thorold

ST. CATHARINES.—Morris Trescinck, alias Bosik, alias Swarts, wanted in Windsor in connection with theft of an automobile, was arrested in Thorold south. The 22-year-old prisoner will face a charge of stealing the car of Bruno Swarts of Dresden, Ont.

150,000 N.Y. Students To Protest Against War

NEW YORK. — The National Strike Committee said to-day it expected 150,000 college and preparatory students to participate in tomorrow's one-hour walkout as a protest against war. In New York City, the committee said, 50,000 students were expected to leave their classes at 11 a.m.

Baptismal Certificate For Junior Hockey Men

HALIFAX.—A new rule governing amateur hockey players trying out with professional teams was formed by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association at its annual meeting here to-day. Permission will not be given to amateurs to try out in the big leagues after December 1 of the current season and those players "shall be debarred from participation in amateur games" until they have fyled with the Amateur Association a report of their professional activities. Junior players will now have to present more definite evidence of their ages, according to a new C.A.H.A. decision reached to-day. Each application for junior registration must be supported by a baptismal certificate, letter from the Dominion Immigration Department or a school enrollment card showing his age.

Birds Unable To Duck Heavy Texas Dust Storm

DALLAS, Tex.—Even the birds were "grounded" by dust here to-day. Sparrows were on the ground by hundreds. Those that attempted to wing their way through the heavy silt flapped along a few feet above the ground. Automobiles left tracks along the street and housewives had to do last night's dishwashing all over before breakfast could be served.

The Weather

TORONTO, April 11. (C.P.) — Synopsis: The disturbance which was over Nebraska yesterday is centred this morning over Southern Iowa, with high pressure over the western provinces and from the Great Lakes eastward. Fair weather has prevailed in nearly all parts of the Dominion.

Lower Lake Region.—Fresh easterly winds, probably strong on western Erie; partly cloudy; rain in western counties to-night. Friday—Fresh winds; unsettled with occasional rain.

Georgian Bay.—Moderate to fresh southeast winds; partly cloudy. Friday—Fresh southeast to east winds; cloudy; probably some rain.

Northern Ontario.—Partly cloudy and comparatively Mild. Friday—Easterly to northerly winds; partly cloudy and a little cooler.

Ottawa and upper St. Lawrence.—Moderate easterly winds; fair today and most of Friday; probably followed by rain Friday night.

Rise In Price Of Silver To Benefit Canada

FEAR U. S. MOVE MAY PROVE SNAG STABILIZATION

Observers See Roosevelt Seeking Best Method of Satisfying All Groups.

Price Boosted To 71 Cents.

U. S. Senate Committee Approves 16-1 Silver Purchase Bill to Inflate Currency.

OTTAWA, April 11.—(CP)—Any rise in the price of silver will naturally bring advantages to the industry in Canada but the trend of United States policy on the white metal might prove a deterrent to world stabilization of currency and prejudice the economic situation of China, according to unofficial comment here today.

In some circles it was considered President Roosevelt was seeking the best method of satisfying all groups, while others believed another two years would see the United States with a bi-metallic currency with silver at a ratio of about 20 to 1 with gold.

Apart from the general effect on all countries of any disturbance of monetary values retarding world stabilization efforts, Canada would stand only to gain by increased silver prices, being one of the world's leading producers. On the other hand the Dominion Treasury will be called upon to carry an extra burden in carrying out its silver-buying obligations.

Under the terms of the silver agreement adopted at the world

(Turn to Page 9)

SPOUSE-KILLING CASE IN COURT

Alleged Confessions of Guilt Introduced as Woman and Chauffeur Go on Trial.

WOMEN FLOCK TO HEARING.

BOURNEMOUTH, England, April 11 (CP Cable).—Alleged confessions of guilt were introduced to-day when Mrs. Alma Rattenbury, 31, and George Stoner, her 19-year-old chauffeur, faced preliminary hearing on charges of the murder of the woman's 67-year-old husband, Francis Mawson Rattenbury, who designed the Parliament Buildings in Victoria, B.C.

Mrs. Rattenbury, under the name of Lozanne, has published a number of songs and in her teens was said to have played with the Toronto Philharmonic. Testimony was that Mrs. Rattenbury nicknamed her elderly husband "Rats."

A large number of women, two elderly matrons at their head, stood in line before the court room doors awaiting the opening.

According to statement from the police read by the prosecution both accused admitted swinging the heavy mallet with which Rattenbury received head wounds that caused his death a few days afterwards.

Shot Her Husband

BUDAPEST, April 11 (CP-Havas)—A woman charged with shooting her husband and disposing of the body by cutting it into small pieces and throwing it into a cistern, was placed on trial here to-day. The prosecutor demanded the death penalty.

The accused, Mme. Etienne Bognar, according to the prosecutor, had requested a marriage broker to help her find a new husband before killing M. Bognar. The case has aroused widespread attention due to the fact Mme. Bognar gave birth to a daughter while in prison awaiting trial.

(Turn to page 5)

QUICK ACTION BY CONSTABLE.

NEW TORONTO, Ont. — Three hours after he had been assigned to the case, Constable Robert Weatherup secured conviction of Wilfred Cronkwright on a charge of robbing a service station, and had recovered most of the $11.00 stolen. Cronkwright was sentenced to 30 days in jail when he pleaded guilty in Magistrate's Court.

Soft Sentence

LOS ANGELES, April 11. — (C.P.)—Lloyd McMahon, 33, was sentenced to-day to 180 days in the county jail because he left his invalid 70-year-old mother alone all night in his stalled automobile, far from home.

Police testified they found Mrs. Elizabeth McMahon, helpless because of a broken ankle, shivering in the automobile. They took her home and found the son asleep. He said the automobile's engine had stalled and after walking some distance for help, he felt sleepy and went home, forgetting his mother.

He was convicted of being drunk.

GRAIN SUBSIDIES MUST CONTINUE SAYS POOL HEAD

McFarland Sees Little Chance of Open Market Basis Till Times Normal.

AT WINNIPEG CLUB.

WINNIPEG, April 11 (CP)—Before the grain business of Canada can again be carried on by the grain trade on an open market basis, without government restrictions and assistance, the world must return to normal, John S. McFarland, general manager of the Canadian Wheat Pool, said in an address before the Winnipeg Canadian Club to-day.

"So long as all important countries of the world continue to subsidize wheat production," he said, "I am sure the unassisted open futures system can not be permitted to serve as the medium for fixation of values in this country. Governments in surplus countries will find it necessary in the public interest to maintain price structures by intervention of some sort."

Those who advocated selling Canadian wheat for "what we can get for it" had short memories, said Mr. McFarland. This would mean that Canada, the largest exporter, would cease to be a sustaining influence and would lead in the destruction and demoralization of values.

Points to 1932

Experiences in 1932 impressively demonstrated how fatuous it would be deliberately to adopt a policy based upon such suggestions. Canada produced her third largest crop, nearly 450,000,000 bushels, and within nine weeks from Sept. 9 farmers' deliveries in the West reached 206,000,000 bushels. The wheat had to be moved out of the country to prevent congestion on railways and in elevators.

"It was a choice between exports or chaos," said Mr. McFarland. "The price dropped to 50 cents, then to 45 cents and 40 cents. Finally it was forced down to 38⅝ cents delivered at Fort William. This record low price occurred despite enormous purchases under the government guarantee, purchases so large day after day as to be terrifying.

Measles In Hamilton Take Second Victim

HAMILTON, Ont., April 11 (C.P.)—Five-year-old Isobel Goldie, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Goldie, is the latest victim of Hamilton's measles epidemic. The little girl died last night having been ill since last Sunday.

The measles epidemic in Hamilton has been raging now for several months, and to date has taken two lives. Nearly 10,000 pupils at Hamilton schools were sick at one time with measles, German measles, and common colds.

Legendary Indian Gold To Start New Spring Rush

EDMONTON, April 11 (C.P.). — District prospectors in the White Court area 100 miles north-west of Edmonton, are anxiously awaiting the spring breakup to start a search for the legendary gold find of Moostas, ancient Indian, who died recently with the secret of the source of his reputed find a few years ago.

Moostas created a sensation a few years ago when he spilled "a poke" of golden nuggets on the counter of a White Court trader. But no inducements could wrest from the Indian his secret. He was shadowed without success.

HENRY'S CHARGE SETS MEMBERS COMBING WASTE

Tory Chief Says Premier Deceived Him by Failing to Mention Power Bill.

"Find the Note"—Hepburn.

Eight Measures Get Second Reading—House Adjourns After Midnight.

TORONTO, Apri 11 (C.P.—Returning to Queen's Park after their first night of rest since Sunday, Ontario legislators to-day conjectured as to the success of searchers hunting in the basement of the Legislative Buildings for a scrap of paper which bore message from Opposition Leader George S. Henry to Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn and Premier's reply.

Precipitating the hottest clash of the session, Mr. Henry yesterday charged the Premier "deliberately deceived" him on Tuesday night by not stating in the note the Quebec Power Contracts Cancellation Bill, which received second reading that day, would be sent to committee during the night. Mr. Hepburn told newspapermen afterwards he would resign his seat "immediately" if the note failed to mention the Power Bill.

Premier Stephen adjourned an exhausted House shortly after midnight. It had been in continuous session from Monday afternoon until four o'clock yesterday morning and resumed again in the afternoon.

Meanwhile legislators wondered to-day if another Marathon session faced them. The Power Bill was scheduled for third reading to-day. Conservatives planned to oppose it, possibly by moving it be referred to committee, and this would throw wide open the debate which ended when the Bill was given second

(Turn to Page 8 Please)

OTTAWA FLIER TROPHY WINNER

Flight Lt. E. G. Fullerton Honored For Most Meritorious Conribution to Aviation.

IN PAST YEAR.

OTTAWA, April 11 (C.P.).—The Department of National Defence today announced award of the McKee aviation trophy to Flight Lieut. E. G. Fullerton, second in command of the Royal Canadian Air Force Station at Rockcliffe, outside Ottawa.

Award of the trophy, known officially as the trans-Canada trophy, to Capt. Fullerton marks the second time it has been awarded to an air force officer since 1927, the year it was first awarded.

The trophy was donated by the late J. Dalsell McKee, to be awarded to the flier in Canada making the most meritorious contribution in the year to Canadian aviation. McKee was the companion of Wing Commander Earl A. Godfrey, Fullerton's commanding officer, on the first flight across Canada.

300 Relief Strikers Hold Demonstration

WELLAND, Ont., April 11 (CP)—More than 300 relief strikers, including many from outside the district, staged a noisy demonstration in front of the municipal offices at Crowland near here to-day. Police on Tuesday hurled tear gas bombs to disperse a crowd of strikers. Four men are out on bail on charges of rioting.

Chief David Boy of Crowland said no trouble developed to-day and the crowd moved away to solicit food from shopkeepers without vouchers.

Your Evening Smile

ANY GOLD VALUE?

Mrs. Smith—My husband gave me a real thrill the last time he kissed me.

Mrs. Jones—Have you cashed it yet, dearie?

Imbecile Beats Girl, 7, to Death

DRUMRIGHT, Okla., April 11 (I.N.S.)—"She said she wanted me to kill her so she could join her mother — so I killed her." This was the explanation given by Jay Williams, 20, and feeble-minded, for the slaying yesterday of 7-year-old Kathryn Cline.

TRUCK DRIVER BLAMES HOBOES FOR CRASH, FIRE

Machine Plunges Down Ancaster Mountain as He Threatens Thieves.

VEHICLE, CARGO BURN.

Driver Claims Robbing of Transports on Heavy Grade Nightly Practise.

HAMILTON, Ont., April 11. (CP) A large tractor truck, pulling a heavy cargo of freight, went out of control half way up the Ancaster Mountain on Highway Number 2, and crashed through the guard rails to plunge down the embankment. The driver jumped clear, and was not injured, but the big truck burst into flames and was destroyed.

The truck was the property of the Maple City Transport Company of Chatham. The accident occurred about 400 yards east of the point where a big highway bus crashed over the mountain side about 18 months ago.

Part of the cargo on the truck consisted of tombstones.

Hoboes to Blame

CHATHAM, Ont., April 11. (CP). Crashing of a heavy laden truck of the Maple City Transport over an embankment on the Ancaster Mountain near Hamilton and its destruction by fire last night was blamed by Carl Lees, driver, on two hoboes who attempted to steal some of the freight.

According to Lees, hoboes wait for transports climbing the mountain to make their raids for foodstuffs, calculating they are safe because drivers cannot stop their machines on the declivity.

It is a practice which has been going on for some time, it is claimed, and has resulted in heavy loss by various transport companies.

Frank Pindlay, manager of the Maple City Transport Company,

(Turn to Page 9)

Toronto Convention Delegates Appointed

There was a very large attendance at the April meeting of St. John's W.A. held in the Parish House on Tuesday afternoon. In the absence of Archdeacon Blagrave, the devotions were conducted by Rev. E. R. James.

The delegates for the forthcoming annual W. A. conference in Toronto in May are Mrs. F. Ford and Mrs. R. Cooper, with Mrs. D. Eldred and Mrs. C. Campbell as substitutes.

The passing, during the month of a greatly loved and valued member of the W.A., in the person of Mrs. Poole, was voiced by the president, Mrs. G. S. Cameron, and all stood for a moment and repeated a portion of the Holy Sacrament to her memory.

The annual showing of the sale, together with a spring tea and sale of home cooking will take place on May 7th.

After some discussion the meeting was adjourned for Lenten service in the church.

Fleet Of Nine Tugs Working On Liner

SOUTHAMPTON, England, April 11 (AP)—The Aquitania, 45,000-ton Cunard-White Star liner was, still fast to-day on the mud bank in the Solent onto which she was forced yesterday by a 70-mile-an-hour gale. Two high tides had passed without enabling a fleet of nine tugs to free the mammoth vessel.

Nearly 300 passengers whiled away the time yesterday in an impromptu dance and unscheduled dinner on board. To-day, however, only 27 remained, the others braving the rough passage ashore when given the opportunity to get off the marooned ship in tenders.

FLANDIN URGES BRITAIN, ITALY BACK HIS PLEA

Claims Grave Issue of German Pact Violation Must Be Met Squarely.

FEAR MORE ILLEGAL ACTS.

Italian Opinion Said Swinging to British Idea of Pact Including Germany.

BY ANDRUE BERDING

(Copyright, 1935, by the A.P.)

STRESA, Italy, April 11. — Authoritative sources said tonight France had asked Italy and Great Britain to support her in defending the sanctity of treaties against Reichsfuehrer Hitler's repudiation, in the forthcoming League Council session at Geneva.

STRESA, Italy, April 11.—French statesmen, fighting for their views as to the sanctity of treaties, went into action in the conference with Great Britain and Italy today apparently determined to make France's appeal to the League of Nations against Germany the basis for all actions by the conference.

As Premier Flandin of France and his Foreign Minister, Pierre Laval, returned to their parley with Premier Mussolini, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain, and Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon, the Associated Press was authoritatively informed France believed the conference must squarely meet the grave issue caused by Germany's violation of the military clauses of the Versailles Treaty.

France, it was explained, wants to discuss the situation, not on the basis of Reichsfuehrer Hitler's an-

(Turn to page 5)

EXTERNAL ILLUMINATION FOR JUBILEE DONATED

LONDON, April 11 (C.P .Cable).—A novel contribution to the Royal Jubilee celebrations will be made by London's electric merger, free light for all local Councils for external illumination of public buildings and thoroughfares between May 1 and June 6. The London Merger Company serves an area of 2,000 square miles with a population of 3,000,000.

The general street decoration scheme in the West-end will be dark blue and gold, Westminster's civic colors.

The route from Buckingham Palace to the Cathedral for the Jubilee thanksgiving service will be lined with venetian masts, with banners, shields, and floral garlands.

High Record Session Canadian Exchange

MONTREAL, April 11 (C.P.). — Heavy buying of silver futures on the Canadian Commodity Exchange which set a new all-time trading record yesterday continued to-day and promise of another record session was held at the opening.

Traders continued to buy heavily on the announcement the United States Treasury would pay a price of 71 cents an ounce for newly-mined domestic silver. November traded at 67.50 compared with the high trading level touched yesterday of 67.00 and the closing bid of 66.50.

Doing Well

OMAHA, Neb., April 11.—(C. P.)—A 29-ounce girl, given a 50-50 chance for life when she was born Monday night, was 60 hours old today and was reported doing "relatively well" in her incubator at an Omaha hospital.

The smallest baby ever cared for at the hospital, the daughter of 19-year-old Mrs. David Tyndal, was being fed eight drops of milk each hour and eight drops of gelatin water at half-hour intervals with an eye dropper.

RAIL OFFICIAL SEES BOOM YEAR NORTH ONTARIO

Prospects Bright For Revival of Cobalt Silver Properties Says Col. Lang.

NEW GOLD INTEREST.

NORTH BAY, Ont., April 11 (CP)—Colonel Malcolm Lang, chairman of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway Commission, to-day forecast a banner year for Northern Ontario following a trip through the territory.

Prospects for revival of Cobalt silver properties were particularly bright, said Col. Lang, and he also saw new found interest in hitherto unproven gold belt.

"The newer properties re going to come right along and I believe there will be considerable activity around Gowganda if the price of silver is mintained at its present level," he said.

"From a gold standpoint things have never looked better," continued Col. Lang. "There are plenty of good prospects in sight, the money to finance them is forthcoming and there are plenty of first-class men to take over the jobs. It's surprising, too, the number of university and high school graduates who are prospecting now and will be doing this summer.

Spring Valley Man Snowslide Victim

BROCKVILLE, Ont., April 11. — (C.P.) — Information received by relatives here reveals Morden E. Stewart, 34, son of William E. Stewart of Spring Valley, near here, was one of the seven victims of a snowslide in January at the Bridge River district of British Columbia, only discovered last week.

Confirmation of Stewart's death in the snowslide has now been received although his body remains uncovered. He has been there for seven years, engaged in gold mining, and is survived by three brothers and one sister in this district in addition to his father.

Mrs. Jean Cowan Is Awarded Damages

His Honor Judge Smoke gave judgment to-day in the action of Mrs. Jean Cowan against the City of Peterborough for $75 and $10 counsel fee and costs, for an accident caused to Mrs. Cowan by slipping upon the sidewalk on Simcoe street in front of the Montgomery House, on the 26th of December, 1934, causing her damages.

J. R. Corkery, the city solicitor, appeared for the City of Peterborough; G. N. Gordon, K.C., for Mrs. Jean Cowan, and V. J. McElderry, K.C., for the executors of the Frank Montgomery Estate.

LAST MINUTE NEWS FLASHES

DUBLIN, April 11.—(AP)—Lucky sweepstakes winners began cashing in their tickets today with officials alert to maintain their boasts of never having paid out a cent on bogus certificates.

NEW DELHI, India, April 11. —(C.P.-Havas)— Eighteen fanatical tribesmen and one British soldier were killed in the latest clash between northeast frontier outposts and the "holy warrior" fakir of Alingbar, it was reported today. The tribesmen descended on an isolated outpost held by the Third Punjab Infantry which defended itself by machine-gun fire.

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, April 11.—(CP Cable)—Uneasiness ran through Trinidad today as residents feared a recurrence of the heaviest earth tremors to rock the island in many years. The shocks, striking last night, did little damage, but stirred a theatre audience of hundreds into a panic that resulted in minor injuries to several persons.

CITY FIREMEN SENT TO HELP FIGHT FLAMES

Fire Originated in the Garage of Charles P. Pearce.

BUILDINGS DESTROYED.

High School Students and Every Available Man Fighting Fire.

NORWOOD, April 11. — Three houses, a garage, and four barns were destroyed by fire in a swath of flame that threatened a wide area of the business section of the village this afternoon.

Charles P. Pearce's garage is a complete loss. Hugh McDonald's home is reduced to stark and blackened walls, and two houses owned by Mr. Pearce were also swept through by the flames which seriously threatened the residences of Dr. H. G. Carleton and Earl Cuthbertson, and the cheese box factory on the main street.

Damage Estimated $15,000.

The damage was estimated at $15,000 by Reeve Robert Tedford, who said the fire was the worst since 1925, when an entire block was lost to the village.

Shortly after 1 p.m. incipient flames were noticed in the eves and upper story of the Peace garage on Peterboro street, part of No. 7 highway, and apparently had already made considerable headway in the upper section of the garage.

In a few minutes the whole building was a flame, and the heat from the blazing walls on the front side burst the glass containers of two gasoline pumps immediately spreading the fire to all parts of the garage and the adjoining property on the west.

A strong breeze from the southeast carried the flames in a northwesterly direction toward Ridge street, reaching to several barns in the rear of the garage and across to the Hugh McDonald house on Ridge street.

Shortly before two o'clock Mayor

(Turn to page 5)

LOVERS DISPUTE LEADS TO DEATH

British Actress Leaps From New York Hotel as Climax.

PLUNGES 11 STORIES.

NEW YORK, April 11 (A.P.). — Blighted romance was blamed today for the death plunge of pretty Betty Hamilton, 21-year-old Meadeville, Pa., girl, who rose to fame in British motion pictures.

Miss Hamilton leaped from the 11th floor of a midtown hotel last night. A nurse who had been attending her left the room briefly, and returning, saw the girl poised on the window sill. The nurse rushed forward, too late to restrain Miss Hamilton.

Bud Pollack, Miss Hamilton's manager, told police several weeks ago Miss Hamilton's engagement to Frey Levy, radio station owner, was announced, and choosing domesticity to a motion picture career, the girl rejected an offer from a film producing company.

There was a dispute between the engaged couple, the manager told police, and Miss Hamilton became morose, several times threatening suicide.

Highway Death Toll, National Calamity Police Heads Say

MURDER CASES SHOW INCREASE FROM 11 TO 15

Suicides in Province Drop From 98 to 85—Drownings 201 to 164.

649 VIOLENT DEATHS.

Liquor Prosecutions For Year Total 2,419—Traffic Infractions 9,843.

TORONTO, April 11.—"The continued and altogether unwarranted death toll in connection with the operation of motor vehicles on our highways is nothing short of a national calamity," declared Major-General V. A. S. Williams, Ontario Provincial Police Commissioner, in his annual report tabled in the Legislature last night.

Reporting that motor fatalities increased from 127 in 1933 to 153 in 1934, the commissioner comments that "so many of the deaths and maiming could be prevented if drivers would only use ordinary care and caution, being sure that at all times and under all conditions they have their automobiles under complete control.

Harder To Enforce

"The inspector in charge of the motorcycle patrol reports that Section 23 of the Highway Traffic Act, has become increasingly difficult to enforce, due to the apparent general belief that the speed limit varies according to the particular point of the highway and that such speed limit is left to the judgment of the individual.

Murder cases in Ontario increased from 11 in 1933 to 16 in 1934 and cases of manslaughter jumped from 24 to 35 in the same period of time, according to the report. Suicide dropped from 98 to 85 cases, drowning from 201 to 164.

Total deaths from violence and unnatural causes showed a slight decrease from 654 in 1933 to 649 the following year, the report states.

17,966 Prosecutions

"The total number of cases prosecuted by members of the force under all acts and statutes during the year was 17,966, a decrease of 1,574 from 1932-33," said General Williams.

"Prosecutions under the Liquor Control Act numbered 2,419, a decrease of 577 from 1933-33. Prosecutions under the Highway Traffic Act numbered 9,483 ,a decrease of 530 from the previous 12-month period ending October 31."

The report refers to the fact that since the dismissal of game wardens the game and fisheries laws are enforced by the Provincial Police, and concludes: "From my observation, I am of the opinion that although the enforcement of the Game and Fisheries Act is new to many members of this force, the act under present arrangement will be efficiently enforced."

CAMPBELLFORD

Friendship Tea Held By Baptist Society

(Examiner Correspondence)

CAMPBELLFORD, April 11.—The Women's Association of the Baptist Church gathered at the home of Mrs. Charles Shaw, Havelock Road on Tuesday afternoon when the meeting took the form of a 'Friendship Tea'. The devotional thought was given by Mrs. L. M. Smith from Psalm 133, "Dwell together in Unity." Miss Helen Dunn gave a reading on 'Friendship' and the hymn 'What A Friend We Have In Jesus' was sung. During the afternoon several selections were given by Miss Susie Atkinson who sang and accompanied herself on the guitar, and Mrs. Joshua Anderson gave some pleasing numbers on the harmonica.

Campbellford Legion Holds Bridge Party

(Examiner Correspondence)

CAMPBELLFORD, April 11.—Campbellford Branch of the Canadian Legion held a stag bridge party at the armouries on Wednesday evening. There were thirteen tables. The prize for high score, (a large roast of beef) was won by Robert Vergin while the lucky prize went to J. R. Allan. Mr. William Smith, chairman of the entertainment committee, acted as master of ceremonies.

COULD NOT DO HER HOUSEWORK

WHEN everything you attempt is a burden—when you are nervous and irritable—try this medicine. It may be just what you need for extra energy. Mrs. Eldridge Miller of Belmont, N. S., could not do her housework. She says, "I was in poor health for years. I tried various medicines. Then a friend told me about your Compound. It made a new woman of me."

Son Given 90 Days On Mother's Plea

DETROIT, April 9.—"He's a thoroughly bad boy, judge — he beats me, his own mother, and steals money from me, and gets drunk. Send him to jail for a good long time, your honor."

And on a mother's plea, Recorder's Judge Christopher E. Stein Saturday sentenced Michigan National Guardsman Theodore Czarnicki, 20, no home, to 90 days in the Detroit House of Correction for drunkenness.

DIVORCE BILL BEFORE SENATE

Hughes Will Move Second Reading of Measure to Ban Remarriage.

FARM LOAN BILL.

OTTAWA, April 11 (C.P.).— Consideration will be given in the Senate to-day to amendments to the Canadian Farm Loan Bill made by its Banking and Commerce Committee. If the amendments are approved, the measure may be put through third reading before the sitting terminates and sent back to the House of Commons for its concurrence in the changes.

The will to prevent persons hereafter divorced in Canada from marrying again, other than their former spouses, under penalty of conviction for bigamy, will be before the House. Its sponsor, Senator J. J. Hughes (Lib., Prince Edward Island) proposes to move the second reading to-day.

In the Banking and Commerce Committee, the Canadian Lumbermen's Association is expected to make representations on the Eight-Hour Day Bill. This measure will be up for initial consideration by the committee, and it is uncertain whether or not time will permit further discussion during the day of the Employment and Social Insurance measure.

The Dominion Unemployment Insurance plan was before the committee at two sittings yesterday when representatives of life insurance and trust companies argued for maintenance of these two classes as exceptions from the scheme.

Objections of Hon. J. E. Sinclair (Lib., Prince Edward Island) in the Senate yesterday to waiving the rules postponed consideration of the amendments to the Canadian Farm Loan Bill until to-day.

Rheumatism Made Him Give Up Job

Then Six Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills Completely Relieved Him.

Ontario Man Recommends Dodd's to All Kidney Sufferers.

Denfield, Ont., April 11. — (Special).—"I feel that I should recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all those who are suffering as I did," writes Mr. W. R. McBlain, a resident of this place. "When I was seventeen years old I went sailing in the old style sailing vessels. I followed that occupation for nine years. Being wet a great deal of the time, I became afflicted with rheumatism in my back and knees. I suffered for two years, and then decided to give up the job. An old doctor that I knew told me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I felt better after taking two boxes. By the time I had taken six boxes I was completely relieved of the rheumatism. Whenever I feel any symptoms of a return of the trouble I take a few Dodd's Pills. I am now fifty-eight years old and can bend over and touch my toes, keeping my knees straight. Anyone suffering with Kidney trouble can make no mistake if they take Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Lancaster Returns To Seat In House

HAVELOCK, April 11 (Examiner Correspondence).—T. P. Lancaster, M.P.P., Peterborough County, was well enough to return to his bench in the Legislative Assembly yesterday afternoon after more than ten days' absence due to a relapse, following his recovery from a serious appendix operation more than two months ago.

West Seymour Factory Manager Resigns Post

CAMPBELLFORD, April 11 (Examiner Correspondence). — Alexander Johnston, who for the past eleven years has been in charge of Seymour West Cheese Factory, is leaving shortly for Prince Edward County, where he will take charge of the Quinte Factory located between Carrying Place and Consecon Mr. and Mrs. Johnston, with their sons, Donak, and Joseph, will be greatly missed in this community where they had made countless friends.

The Straits Settlements budget for 1934 showed a surplus of nearly $1,200,000.

SWIRLING DUST TIGHTENS GRIP ON SOUTHWEST

Thousands of Acres Once Under Crop Now a Barren Waste.

FARMERS MOVE AWAY.

Blizzards So Fierce Schools, Stores Close—Prayer is for Rain.

KANSAS CITY, April 11. (AP).—Flying dust and sand—choking and oppressive—tightened their grip on the southwest to-day

Where in other years at this season, wheat and other crops have spread their checker-board pattern of green shades over the landscape, there are barren fields without a blade of green, drifts of soil along roads, fences and farm buildings, and deserted highways.

Month of Blizzards

For a month dun-colored clouds have swirled and billowed over what was known as the United States bread basket. Hopes for relief, raised earlier this week by promising weather forecasts, were shattered yesterday by a dust blizzard labelled as the "worst" of the series.

As the latest storm roared over Kansas, Colorado, Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico, the Government's monthly crop report was released.

"A large proportion of the acreage" in this important winter wheat area was being abandoned, it said. The condition of the wheat crop in six Kansas counties was listed as zero.

From other sources came reports that bordered on the pitiful.

"The only hope now, if they get rain instead of dust, is in sorghums and corn" declared Prof. R. I. Throckmorton of Kansas State College, in referring to the western third of Kansas.

Kenneth Welch, relief administrator in Baca county, Colorado, said no crops whatever can be expected in southeastern Colorado unless heavy spring rains come.

"I do not see how anyone can continue to live here if these storms continue," Welch added.

Pneumonia Increasing

"Dust pneumonia is increasing rapidly among children because of the unusually severe dust storms of the past few days," Welch said. "Doctors report to me that several cases are critical and the situation is rapidly becoming worse, particularly among infants."

The terrific dust gales of the past three days have been extremely hard on livestock in Southeastern Colorado, although relatively few cattle remain.

Some residents are deserting the stricken area, but the majority are determined to 'stick it out,' either because they have no other place to go or because of hope that better days are coming.

Approximately 100 families have left northwestern Oklahoma. Scores of women and children have been sent from Colorado. A small number of families have left New Mexico.

Yesterday's dust storm closed schools, forced shopkeepers to close their stores, grounded airplanes and disrupted train and bus schedules.

Attempted Murder In Lindsay Charge

LINDSAY, Ont., April 11.—(Special to The Examiner).—Alleging that he was set upon by two fellow Indians, who attempted to drown him and thereby murder him, Darcy Knott, an Indian, yesterday afternoon swore out an information against Colin and David Jacobs, two Indians of Curve Lake Indian Reserve, east and north of Fowler's Corners.

Knott, it is stated, was looking after certain traps in the Pigeon River, in Emily Township, Victoria County, when he states he got into an altercation with the Jacob boys, who attempted to drown him. He had difficulty in making the shore.

Knott lodged a complaint with Provincial Police at Peterborough and was brought before Magistrate Gee of Lindsay. Warrants were issued for the arrest of the two brothers.

DOMINIONS TO BE CONSULTED

LONDON — The House of Commons was assured yesterday no step had been taken by the British government in the arms situation or regarding the World Disarmament Conference, without consulting the Dominion governments, and "on no occasion have there been dissents from our policy in any dominion."

Mr. Thomas also told a questioner there had been constant consultation with all the dominions on all the aspects of the World Disarmament Conference.

NORWOOD

Miss Florence Brockies has returned after spending a few days with friends in Toronto.

Mr. Milton Andrews left yesterday for Sudbury, where he hopes to secure a position.

Mr. W. Northy, also Mr. J. Northy of Peterborough spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Nelson.

Miss Blanche Baker who has been spending the past few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Alex Cargill, of Toronto, has returned home.

And She Did

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 10. —(CP)—In a play some school children were rehearsing Tuesday, a bantam hen was among the necessary 'props.'

At the end of a speech by Robert Moore, the script called for the sharp demand, "lay!" Whereupon Robert would withdraw a golden egg.

"Lay!" demanded Robert. Then hen laid a real egg.

LIVESTOCK PRODUCE AND CHEESE QUOTES

ONTARIO GRAINS

F.o.b. shipping point: Wheat, 85c to 87c; oats, 32c to 34c; corn, 56c to 58c; buckwheat, 43c to 45c; malting barley, 63c to 65c.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

Butter and egg prices were firmer on the Montreal Dairy and Produce market yesterday, while other lines were the same as Tuesday. The butter market was 22½c to 22¾c a pound for No. 1 regraded lines and ½c a pound less for fresh butter. Small lots to retailers brought 23½c to 24c a pound for solids and 24½c to 25c for prints. Arrivals totalled 269 boxes.

On the egg market graded shipments in cartons or less were quoted at 18½c to 19c a dozen for A-large, 16 to 16½c for A-medium or B, and 15c for A-pullets or C. Receipts were 1,305 cases.

Cheese continued unchanged at 11½c to 12¼c a pound for No. 1 Ontario Fall make and a cent higher for Summer lines. There were no receipts.

On the potato market Prince Edward Island Mountains in 80-lb bags brought 65c; New Brunswick Mountains, 62c; Quebec Mountains, light color, 57c; Quebec Mountains, dark color, 52c; all for No. 1 grade.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Broad general speculative buying on a scale not witnessed before in weeks led to higher prices here yesterday on all grains, especially wheat.

Big purchasing of wheat for Italy from France attracted sharp notice, and in some quarters was construed as of possible warlike significance. Dust storms of exceptional severity southwest and west counted also as a stimulating factor, and so too did Washington announcement that the domestic price of silver would be advanced in accord with upturns of world silver quotations.

Wheat scored a maximum rise of 3 cents a bushel, and closed strong 1½ to 2½ over Tuesday's finish, May 98⅝ to 98⅝; corn ⅜ to 1 cent up, May 88¼ to 88¼; oats, ½ to 1⅝ advanced, and provisions showing 2 cents to 12 cents gain.

Corn and oats sympathised with wheat strength, although regarded by undoing of spreads between wheat and corn, and by arrival of a cargo of Argentine oats in Chicago. Provisions advanced with grains, despite hog market downturns.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, April 11. — Wheat deliverable in July hit a season's high of 90¼ cents a bushel on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday as bull forces unleashed a drive that sent futures prices up 1⅝c to 1⅞c.

Continued unfavorable crop conditions in the United States Southwest, further price advances in international wheat markets, and sale of 500,000 bushels of Canadian wheat for export encouraged buying.

Futures closed only small fractions from their session's high points, May at 89⅝c and July at 90½c, as last-minute profit-taking chipped the extreme gains. Not since early last September has 90-cent wheat been quoted here.

Even the late selling was absorbed without undue difficulty, and the market closed strong. At the finish May was 6⅝c above its March 12 price of 83¼c, when the current bull movement got under way, and July 7c advanced.

Additional bullish ammunition was given by the steady foreign sale of Canadian wheat, chiefly to the United Kingdom millers, since April 1, approximately 3,000,000 bushels have been sold abroad, some improvement over the past few months.

Cash grain did not reflect the activity of futures, however, that market idling throughout. Early advances in coarse grains, scored in sympathy with wheat, were largely whittled by late-session profit-taking.

Futures:

Wheat—	Open	High	Low	Close	Prev Close
May	89¼	89⅝	89¼	89⅝	88
July	88⅛	90	88⅝	90	88⅝
Oats—
May	42¼	42⅝	42	42¼	42
July	42⅝	42⅞	42½	42⅝	42⅛

MADOC

The first of the Lenten services of the Week of Witness, being observed in the Anglican churches of Canada, was held in Madoc in the St. John's guild rooms on Tuesday evening, the rector conducting the prayer service. Rev. W. A. Hunter of St. Peter's Presbyterian Church was the special speaker and read the scripture lesson. "The theme for the evening's discourse was based on the text, "By this shall all men know that ye are My disciples, that ye love the brethren," using also "charity suffereth long, and is kind."

Rev. G. W. Rivers of Trinity United Church is to be the speaker on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Jack McCoy of Madoc Township was taken to Belleville General Hospital for an operation on Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Alice Rodgers, formerly of McCoy's grocery store, left on Monday for a month's holiday on sick leave.

Miss Marjorie Bird is spending a few weeks with Mrs. J. M. Reid, owing to the latter's illness.

Mrs. Eric Cross of Simcoe is spending a few days at the home of her father, Mr. T. M. Nicol.

Nearly 80 per cent. of the motion pictures shown in Shanghai, China in the last year were from America.

Tin plate production in Germany broke all records last year.

BRITAIN'S STAND LOOMS LARGELY AS MAIN PIVOT

Historic Castle at Stresa Closely Guarded By Crack Italian Troops.

EUROPE'S PEACE AT STAKE.

Italian Plan to Keep 600,000 Men Under Arms Creates Stir.

STRESA, Italy, April 11 (C. P.). — The great Three-Power security convlave got under way in historic Palazzo Borromeo to-day with Great Britain's attitude looming more and more as its principal pivot.

What this attitude will be was a paramount question as Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and Sir John Simon, Foreign Affairs Secretary of Great Britain, Premier Pierre Etienne Flandin and Pierre Laval, French Foreign Minister, met with Premier Benito Mussolini on Isola Bella to grapple with the crisis precipitated by Germany's re-armament.

Prime Minister MacDonald and Sir John Simon arrived here at 8.30 a.m .to-day and were met by Premier Benito Mussolini.

Troops on Guard.

The strains of "God Save the King" re-echoed over beautiful Lake Maggiore as crack Italian troops and black-shirted Fascist guards formed a background for Premier Mussolini's hearty welcome to the British statesmen.

The French delegation arrived late yesterday and Foreign Minister Pierre Laval was up early walking along the sunny lakeside.

The statesmen began their deliberations at the big conference table in the Hall of Music of Borromeo Palace on Isola Bella at 10.30 a.m. They sat under the eyes of the three wise men of the East, for on the wall above them hangs Paris Berdone's famous painting, The Adoration of the Three Wise Men...

It was the first time since the Paris Peace Conference that the Premiers of France, Italy, and Great Britain had met together.

Like a conclave of Cardinals locked in the Vatican while deliberating on church issues, the Premiers and Foreign Ministers will be isolated on the island for the entire day.

Army of 600,000

Among their staffs of experts quartered on the mainland a considerable stir was created by the declaration in the Popolo d'Italia, Italy plans to keep 600,000 men under arms until the outlook for peace is improved.

British circles affirm their leaders came with no fixed plans, holding the view the talks, apart from their informative character, have only one cardinal problem to solve—whether it still is possible to try to direct collaboration with Germany.

The British, it was said, view with disfavor any plans at peace collaboration which would not include Germany.

(Turn To Page 6)

Hog Quotations In Peterborough

THURSDAY, APRIL 11

Canada Packers quote:

Hogs — F.o.b., $7.85; off truck, $7.95; rail grades, $10.85.

Selects, $1 per hog premium.

Sows, 2½c off bacon prices.

Cream — No. 1 (on truck), 23c; No. 1 (delivered), 24c.

Special, 2c per lb. premium.

Dealers quote:

Grain — Spring wheat, 85c; fall wheat, 90c; oats, 35c; malting barley, 60c; feed barley, 50c; rye, 50c; and buckwheat, 44c.

SEARCH PRESSED FOR ABDUCTED CHICAGO MUTE

Father Silent on Details, But Admits Demands for Ransom Made.

LAD 4, MISSING WEEK.

CHICAGO, April 11 (A.P.).—An unrelenting search was pushed today for four-year-old Richard Perrot, whose father said ransom had been demanded for the boy's release. Richard has been missing for a week.

The father, Max Perrot, foreman in a tool manufacturing plant, said he expected his son back before Sunday, indicating ransom demands were met for a return of red-haired Richard. The boy, mute since an injury at birth, was believed to have been the victim of a moron after his disappearance.

"I know my boy is alive," said the elder Perrot last night. Perrot refused to disclose details of the demands or how he established contact with the kidnapper.

Mack Barn Burns In Seymour Township

HAVELOCK, April 11 (Examiner Correspondent).—A fine barn and drive shed owned by John D. Mack, Seymour Township farmer, situated seven miles south-east of the village, was razed Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when a spark from a pile of burning rubbish set the drive shed ablaze and subsequently spread two hundred feet farther westward to destroy the valuable barn, together with the spring's seed grain and the stock's feed for the ensuing months.

Situated only a short distance from Stanwood, a bucket brigade was quickly formed, but proved in vain. Strong gusts of wind aided the flames, and in less than an hour the structures were levelled.

HOUSE CENTRES ON PLAN TO AID DROUGHT AREAS

Mullins Foresees End of Lean Seven Years—1935 to be Wet.

GOOD CROPS AHEAD.

Bennett Improves Rapidly — Expected to Sail For England Next Week.

OTTAWA, April 11 (C.P.)—All resources of science, technical knowledge of trained governmetn officials and practical experience of ordinary dirt farmers will be mobilized in a campaign to bring moisture to dry lands of the three Prairie Provinces under a plan before the House of Commons to-day.

When Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, introduced his Drought Rehabilitation bill in the House yesterday, it was greeted with general approval by Western Liberals and Conservatives, although a few had their doubts and misgivings, all were agreed something should be done.

Most optimistic of all was Col. Harry Mullins (Cons., Marquette), who confidently assured the House the lean years were at an end and a period of plenty about to begin. The seven years' drought was ended, he said, adding that everything he had seen in the West during his half-century of experience convinced him 1935 would be a wet year.

Col. Mullins and another Prairie pioneer, John Brown (Lib., Lisgard), recalled broughts in the past which had been succeeded by years of bountiful crops, and while they approved of government action were inclined to place their trust in nature taking its own inevitable course.

Intelligence Corps

Mr. Weir's plan provides for a body known as the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Advisory Committee which will consist of 12 members, representing Provincial and Federal Governments and various groups of farmers affected by the drought. It will act without pay and will be a sort of intelligence corps for the governments, provincial and federal.

(Turn to page 6).

Softball Meeting Is Called At Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, April 11 (Examiner Correspondence). — On Friday evening, April 26th, at 8.00 o'clock, the Campbellford Softball Association will hold a public meeting in the Carnegie Library, when everyone interested in the game is cordially invited to attend. The object of the meeting is to elect officers for the coming season, line up the teams and get things in shape to "play ball" just as soon as weather conditions are favorable. Both President Harry Tinney and Secretary Harold Dunk will be on hand, and as this is to be an open meeting, will welcome any suggestions from the general public.

Let Grafton's help you choose your Easter outfits men! Every style feature is shown and the price ranges will suit all. Make your selections from the largest stock in the city.

GRAFTON'S

Mothers! Bring in the boys and have them outfitted also. Graftons are leaders in boys' wear and their wishes and every purse can be satisfied from a huge stock of suits, coats and fittings.

Easter Parade

SPRING SUITS

A really handsome collection of men's and young men's new spring suits. Any one would reflect good taste, newer styles and the cloths are the late patterns in tweeds and worsteds. Several shades. SUIT AND EXTRA PANTS. 16.50

• • •

Slightly better ange of men's suits, styled to suit the older and younger men. Tailored from the better domestic and imported woollens. Coats expensively silk lined and well made throughout. SUIT AND EXTRA PANTS. 19.75

• • •

Two and three button models for men and young men. Grafton's usual high-grade tailoring from British woollens. All sizes. Styles and weaves to suit. All very reasonably priced considering the quality. 22.50

• • •

- TOPCOATS -

Special Value!

10.00

A clever new all wool tweed coat. Tailored in the latest styles shown this year. Grey and brown shades. Very attractively priced, you must agree.

15.00

A splendid choice of raglans, box backs and slip-ons. Well trimmed and good sizes. Very smart styles for men and young men.

19.75

All that is desired in better quality topcoats. Every style and all new patterns in tweeds and vicunas. Sizes 36 to 46. Silk lined.

WATCH OUR WINDOWS

Boys' Junior Suits - - -

Sizes 24 to 28. We have a large and well assorted stock of strong, serviceable tweeds in double-breasted coat, golf and shorts or golf and breech in grey, brown and navy blue. All real good values. 4.98 to 5.98

Sizes 24 to 28. This group consists of all the better quality junior suits that will satisfy mothers and sons alike. Styles are single-breasted coat, vest, short and breech or golf and breech. Coats have fancy sport backs. Also plain models. Shades are grey, browns, fawn and navy blue. 6.98 to 9.98

New Spring HATS

Select your Easter hat from our complete assortment of men's and young men's hats in the newest shapes and shades, including the featured Heron blues as well as greys, fawns and browns in regular mellow and lightweights.

THE ALBRON HAT— An aristocrat in fine wool felts 1.95

THE GRAFTON HAT — Our feature hat of fine fur felt 2.95

THE GRAFTONIA — The finest fur felt on the market 4.00

CAPS

68c & $1

A big assortment of new patterns, made up in genuine all wool tweeds in popular shades of blue greys, greys, fawns and browns.

Silk lined calfskin sweat band and waterproof visor. Sizes 6⅝ to 7¾.

BOYS' SUITS 7.98 to 12.00

This season's smartest styles for boys. An extensive display of fancy tweeds in sport model coat with half belt and pleat waist. Also regular styles. Single or double breasted coats with vest, golf or long.

STUDENTS' SUITS 12.98 to 20.00

All that any youth would want in style and and cloths. Such popular models as fancy sport back with pleats, ½ belt in clever tweeds and worsteds. Grey, brown, navy blue, single breasted coat, vest and two longs.

Kiddies Reefer Coats 1.98 to 3.98

Ages 2-6. Tailored in D.B. coat, ½ belt inverted pleat. Colors, fawns, greys and popular Donegals. Also navy blue cheviot serge, ½ belt, inverted pleat.

Boys' TOPCOATS 7.98 to 10.00

Size 26-37. Designed in this season's popular styles. D.B. Coat, ½ belt. Other raglan models in greys and browns.

—BOYS' FITTINGS—

BOYS' SHIRTS
Everything that is new and natty in boys' spring shirts. Fine broadcloth in plain shades and fancy stripes, 12 to 14½. Full make, fast colors 59c 79c 1.00

BOYS' JERSEYS
The season's newest styles and colors, V-neck, polo collars and roll-a-way neck. Royal, maroon, nigger, bottle and fawn for boys 6 to 16. Endless range to choose from ..... 59c to 1.95

MOTHER
We have all the little things to fuss up the boys' Easter outfit, such as ties, braces, pyjamas, gloves, belts, berets, underwear, polo shirts.

GOLF HOSE
English worsted yarns in fine and heavy ribbs. Greys, fawns, heathers. Sizes 7 to 10½. Extra strong wearing 35c, 50c, 59c

BLOUSES
We feature an English broadcloth blouse, full cut, well made. Perfect fitting, long wearing, fast colors. Sizes 6 to 13 years. Really worth more..... 59c

BOYS' CAPS
Vast assortment of all-wool caps. Tweeds, mostly silk lined, unbreakable visor. These include a hand woven Donegal in sizes 6¼ to 7⅛. Three feature prices 50c, 59c, 75c

Fine Shirts

1.00 1.50 2.00 and 2.50

The season's newest showing of men's shirts by Tooke, Forsyth, Arrow and McGregor. Small checks, neat stripes and fancy all-over patterns and white in fine quality shirtings in both collar attached and two separate collars to match. Sizes 14 to 17.

Easter Ties

35c 50c 75c and 1.00

Hundreds of new patterns for spring in bright, small checks, snappy stripes and fancy all-overs, as well as plain colors and polka dots. Replenish your tie stock.

Dress Gloves

1.00 to 3.75

Match up your hat and topcoat with a pair of fine gloves in greys, fawns, natural and browns in capeskin, goatskin, deerskin and pig skin. Both dome and pull-on styles.

Fancy Braces

35c to 1.00

Bright coloured, narrow web braces with both leather or silk ends.

GRAFTON & CO. LTD.

HAVELOCK PUPILS TO BE HELD BACK

Principal Yuill Decides Several in Fourth Class Advancing Too Rapidly.

HAVELOCK, April 11.—(Examiner Correspondence.)—Plans were made at the regular meeting of the village school board last evening to receive the Department of Education's series of radio broadcasts which starts April 30th, and continues to May 23rd.

Trustees Bullied, Taylor, Copp and Chairman B. Smith present. Trustees McAdam, Roche and E. Spencer were absent.

Miss F. E. Morgan, principal of the Continuation school, reported some of the books purchased while others were on their way. Trustee Taylor asked why seventeen pupils were shown on the roll early in the year and were now absentees. Sickness, discouragement and employment were the satisfactory reasons put forth.

Principal P. Yuill of the Public school said he had investigated the too rapid promotion problem and recommended the retarding of ten pupils in the 4th class. It seems there are some in the third and second classes who should be held back.

On motion of Trustees Taylor and Copp Mr. Yuill was given permission to purchase the necessary supplementary reading books for Miss Massie's room.

Parents To Be Informed.

Mr. Yuill in company with a member of the board (not named) will inform each parent of the children affected by the holding back method, of the purpose of raising the standard and subsequently better fitted pupils for secondary schools.

Secretary Fennell read the accounts which were ordered paid on motion of Trustees C. Taylor and Wm. A. Copp.

In future any improvements that come to the notice of the school principals will be noted by same and brought to the board each month. This will save the members from making added tours of inspection for petty maintenance requirements.

On motion of Trustees Wm. A. Copp and C. Taylor, the shortest meeting in many months adjourned to meet May 8th or at the call of the chair.

Bridgenorth

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Moore of Lindsay highway gave their spacious home recently to the young people and their friends of Gilmour Church where a very pleasant evening was spent. he program of the evening started with progressive lost heir and crokinole. Miss Phyllis Moore ably took charge of three very interesting contests, prizes going to Miss Helen Moore and Mr. Fred Mann. Lunch was served to about thirty-five and games were continued until midnight.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wheeler and family have moved from the city to their farm on the third concession of Smith.

Mrs. James Preston of Omemee spent a few days last week with her mother, Mrs. F. Fowler, who is confined to her bed.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bothwell and family of Springville spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Bothwell's mother, Mrs. John Archer, Lindsay highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Mann of Smith spent Thursday visting friends in East Emily.

Major Shook of Toronto will not speak at Gilmour Church on Sunday, April 28, as formerly announced, but will be there May 5.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Downey, Marion and Edmond of peterborough spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Mann.

Mrs. Hilda McGill of Toronto and Mrs. T. Hawkins of Lindsay, were guests at the home of their brother, Mr. Thomas McMullen, Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Poole of Windsor, were guests at the home of Mrs. L. Fowler last week.

Mr. Thomas McMullen and sister, Mrs. Hilda McGill and Mr. and Mrs. Reg. McMullen were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Earles of Cavan on Sunday.

Contribution Made To Missionary Home

HASTINGS, April 11. (Examiner Correspondence). — The monthly business and devotional meeting of St. George's Woman's Auxiliary was held at the rectory on Thursday afternoon, April 5th. The president, Mrs. H. T. Battersby opened the meeting.

Correspondence included the voting tickets for the annual diocesan meeting to be held in Toronto the first week of May. A letter and the bulletin were received from Miss A. E. Weaver containing a full account of the board meeting held in St. Paul's Parish Hall, Toronto, on March 7th.

Miss Francis Hawkins who spoke to the branch when home on furlough over a year ago, wrote a lengthy letter from the Hamilton House, Japan, giving an interesting account of her work in the kindergarten and life among the Japanese.

The president and treasurer, both life members, contributed $4 to the Dr. Haslam Fund, a fund which enables Dr Haslam to enter the missionary fields making her the first Life Member's missionary.

Ten blocks for a quilt were pieced, after which the president served lunch.

Played At Murder Sentenced To Die

LONDON, April 11 (C.P.) — Private John S. Bainbridge of the Durham Light Infantry, stationed at Blackdown Camp, Surrey, who has been sentenced to death for the killing of a solicitor's clerk, Edward Herdman, played the role of a murderer at a party in a game called "Murder" a few hours prior to his conviction and sentence. A girl in love with Bainbridge was a witness for the Crown at the trial.

The girl testified Bainbridge was given the role of murderer at the party after a pack of cards had been cut and he had drawn the ace of spades. The prosecution alleged that the accused had killed Herdman to gain money for the purpose of buying an engagement ring.

Justice Goddard, summing up, said it was as remarkable case as any he had ever tried.

HASTINGS

Mrs. Raymond Kemp of Codrington spent the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Trotter.

Mrs. Wm. Whitred is visiting friends in Toronto.

Miss Berniece Dainard is the guest of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stewart of Foxboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Johnston and son, J. R., returned to Hamilton after a two weeks' visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Johnston and Mr. and Mrs. J. Oliver.

Miss Eleanor Oliver of Godolphin sent the week-end with her cousin, Miss Irene Oliver, of the Cobourg Road.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dainard and son Nicholas spent the week end in Foxboro.

Mrs. William Gillespie, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. William Duncan, of Campbellford, spent Friday with friends in Toronto.

Centreville

The closing meeting for the winter of the Young People's Society was held on Tuesday night with an attendance of forty, and was entirely social. The president, Jay Whittington, thanked the members of the Society for their hearty cooperation in preparing interesting and instructive programs and making the society a success. Featuring the evening's entertainment the young people enjoyed progressive crokinole. At the close of the games refreshments were served.

Miss Allie Berry spent the week end visiting her sister, Mrs. Chester Fisher, of Mensfort.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Isbister and Mr. Jake Isbister spent Sunday at Whitby.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Kinsman of Toronto visited Mrs. James Kinsman on Monday.

Mr. William Dodds spent Sunday with friends in Peterborough.

There was a splendid run of maple sap this spring and several farmers made many gallons of syrup.

Local muskrat trappers report a poor run of rats this season and the price is not as good as might be expected.

Owing to the severe frosts and cold winds fall wheat is killed in some sections.

The Prince of Wales' ranch near High River, Alberta, Canada, in 1934 had the best sales of livestock in four years.

Bethany Association Will Hold Easter Tea

BETHANY, April 11.—(Examiner Correspondence). — The Women's Association of the United Church held their April meeting in the basement of the church on Tuesday. There was a good attendance and the president was in the chair. It was decided to hold an Easter Tea on Saturday, April 20th, and the following ladies are a committee to look after arrangements: Mrs. W. Rowland, Miss Richardson, Miss McMullen, Miss Thompson, Mrs. J. James and Mrs. S. Jamieson. The following program was presented: Readings, Miss Richardson, Mrs. Thorndyke; bible contest by Mrs. Thorndyke.

Flo-glaze
PAINTS - VARNISHES - ENAMELS
LEAVE NO BRUSH MARKS

For Sale By
The Canadian Department Stores Limited

For Sale By
HIGGIN'S Hardware Company
137 Hunter Street

LUMBAGO
ATTACK THE CAUSE of Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago—USE RUMACAPS.
McDermid & Jury, Druggists
RUMACAPS

The Examiner

The Examiner is a Member of the Audit Bureau of Circulation
The Daily Examiner, published every lawful evening by The Peterborough Examiner Limited Office 416 George Street 50 a per year Delivered in City Out-of-town subscribers by mail $4 00 per year.
Member: Canadian Press Limited; Audit Bureau of Circulation; Canadian Daily Newspapers Association
U.S. Advertising Representatives: Prudden, King & Prudden Inc. Chicago Seattle San Francisco, Los Angeles and New York City
Advertising Rates on Application
E. M. GLOVER, Managing Director

'PHONES: Editorial 1601. Business Office 1600. Private Branch Exchange to all Departments.

THURSDAY, APRIL 11, 1935

A COMMON-SENSE LAW.

A measure introduced in the Nova Scotia Legislature by Hon. A. S. MacMillan, Minister of Highways in that province, is worthy of study by other provincial administrations throughout the Dominion.

Mr. MacMillan's bill deals with the situation that constantly crops up on the highway when one car attempts to overtake another, a very usual feature in that the driver who is about to be passed and has been moving at a moderate pace suddenly accelerates when he hears the signal to pass.

Obviously this is not exactly a safe practice, for it means that the other motorist has to drive that much faster if he wants to get ahead, the operation of passing is delayed, and often a third car coming the other way creates a dangerous situation for which the driver about to be passed is entirely to blame.

The Nova Scotia measure provides that a motorist about to be overtaken on the highway must give way to the approaching vehicle, and it is also set forth that such motorist must not exceed a speed of twenty-five miles an hour while the overtaking car passes him.

That is merely putting on the statute books a piece of ordinary common sense.

It really should not be needed, for all drivers should appreciate the foolishness of suddenly putting on speed when about to be passed, but as a large proportion have evidently failed to learn the lesson, Nova Scotia proposes to make it compulsory to exercise common sense under such circumstances.

BETTER THAN HOLDING OUR OWN.

While politicians continue to argue that Canada has lost her foreign trade—bolstering up their arguments by comparing present-day conditions with those of the 1929 boom year—it must be admitted that the figures for 1934 show a different story.

Only four countries in the world, the United States, the United Kingdom, Germany and France, had greater exports of domestic products last year than had Canada.

The total exports from the United States were valued at $2,061 millions; the United Kingdom sent abroad goods to the value of $1,977 millions; Germany, $1,936 millions; France, $1,158 millions, and Canada, $953 millions, this country thus regaining her position of fifth among the exporting nations of the world. In imports we stood ninth, as compared with eleventh in 1933, and in total trade we occupied eighth place, also a gain over the previous year.

So far as trade with the Empire is concerned, the figures show that Empire countries took 51 per cent. of our exports and supplied 31 per cent. of our imports with the United Kingdom, of course, much our best customer, accounting for 41 per cent. of all our exports; and the United States was next in line, absorbing 34 per cent. of all Canadian goods exported during the year. Other leading markets for Dominion exports were Australia, Japan, Belgium, British South Africa, the Netherlands and France.

On the other hand, 57 per cent. of Canadian imports came from the United States and 22 per cent from the United Kingdom, with the next six largest sources of Canadian imports being Germany, British India, Australia, France, Colombia and Barbadoes.

NO NEWS IN MOTOR KILLINGS.

A well-known Ontario newspaper in a bulletin issued to its correspondents throughout the province stresses the fact that automobile fatalities have, unfortunately, become so common that they can no longer be considered major news.

That statement, unhappily all too true, is a sad commentary upon the accident question; it is a most distressing situation that deaths from automobile mishaps are now so numerous that they are considered by metropolitan journals as merely routine news, worthy of only a few lines of space, unless the victim happens to be a person of more than purely local prominence.

It strikes The Examiner that the worst feature of it all is that apparently the public has the same view of this problem as the management of the newspaper referred to, that is that automobile killings are an inevitable commonplace of everyday life.

If we have got to the point of regarding this automobile death list as something that is perfectly natural and reasonable, and that there is nothing that can be done to improve the conditions and to cut down the casualty lists, then we are indeed in a sorry plight.

Newspapers, safety first organizations and both the former Minister of Highways, Mr. Macaulay, and his successor, Hon. T. B. McQuesten, have exerted every effort to arouse the public to a realization of the need of safer driving conditions, but seemingly this commendable campaign has not succeeded in accomplishing the hoped for objects.

At all events, one of the country's leading newspapers has arrived at the conclusion that there is little news value in an automobile fatality because there are so many of them.

TOO MUCH HASTE DANGEROUS.

The anxiety of the Liberal Opposition at Ottawa to speed up the proceedings and hasten an appeal to the country can, of course, be easily understood.

Mr. King and his followers feel that certain success awaits them in the forthcoming election, and they are eager to begin the campaign.

At the same time, however, as the Globe pointed out the other day, there is reason to think that a fairly long recess for Easter should be of service.

With a most comprehensive and far-reaching report from the Royal Commission on Price Spreads and Mass Buying to be translated into legislation, it is well that there should be an adjournment long enough to give the Government reasonable time to draft adequate and worth-while measures.

And when these are presented to Parliament after the recess there should be careful consideration to the legislation given by all parties in the House, because the penalty for rushing through drastic measures without proper study is likely to be serious in its effect.

"It would be little short of an outrage," says the Ottawa Journal, "if Parliament, with its main thought for the election, were to deal with this legislation in haphazard fashion, risk the possibility of inflicting injury upon business and upon the country generally."

That is obviously true, and most people will undoubtedly feel that the need for an election is not so great as to justify the rushing through of most vitally important measures with a total disregard to their effect.

The campaign must come this year anyway—and it will not come until the Government so decides; in the meanwhile it is Parliament's duty to give adequate consideration to the legislation brought before it.

ANOTHER "RED DEATH"?

The society folk of gay Vienna have found machine guns and target practice a diversion just too ducky for words, according to recent news despatches.

One cable has it that such sideshow diversions as shooting galleries, introduced to the best Viennese circles recently by young Fascists, have made a tremendous hit; and finally, at a great ball in the former Imperial Palace, ladies in evening gowns deserted the dance floor to let fly with machine gun bullets at cardboard targets representing enemy soldiers.

Everyone, apparently, had the best of good times, and the home of the Strauss waltzes found machine-gunning much more fun than dancing.

This sort of thing, of course, is nothing but the froth which any spirited society is apt to throw off every now and then, and there is no sense in taking it too seriously.

But to read about it, against the background of the war threat which is steadily rising higher and higher over Europe, is to get a creepy and uncomfortable feeling.

Edgar Allan Poe once wrote a story entitled "The Masque of the Red Death."

It told about a land ravaged by a horrible plague known as the red death.

Sundry titled folk locked themselves in a remote castle, and with feasting and dancing tried their best to forget about the plague outside.

But it couldn't be kept out.

At the height of the merry-making, the dreaded infection suddenly appeared in their midst, and the revel abruptly dissolved in a frantic scrambling as ladies and courtiers fled vainly from the destroyer.

There is something about this story from Vienna that reminds one of that tale of Poe's.

No red death menaces Vienna.

The threat is infinitely graver. Unless every thoughtful student of modern affairs is mistaken, war in Europe to-day would bring in a new dark age.

Famine, revolution, massacre, the collapse of government and the decline of all those graces which make modern society worth while—these are the prices that Europe would inevitably have to pay.

Each month sees the war clouds mount higher on the European horizon.

And well-to-do, cultured, intelligent folk, who ought to be moving heaven and earth to avert the danger, find it amusing and "chic" to play with machine guns . . . dancing the masque of the red death, while the fatal infection draws nearer and nearer the castle.—Vancouver Sun.

SOME QUEER VIEWS OF A LIBRARIAN.

(Calgary Herald)

In an address to a gathering of business men this week, the city librarian took occasion to deplore the predominance of ephemeral literature, in which category he included newspapers and magazines, asserting that such literature tends to prevent the reading of good books. On the other hand, he said that the radio, as a form of literature, is becoming increasingly important and influential.

It is always fair game to attack the newspapers and to some types of minds it is a most pleasing pastime. It should be remembered by the self-appointed critics, however, that newspapers do not profess to be literature. They are recorders of events and as such fill a most useful and necessary function to the public. In fact, from the public standpoint they are indispensable.

The great majority of newspapers to-day carry magazine sections, either weekly or more frequently, which contain many well-written articles which do not fall within the category of live news. These sections are aimed, as they do, to stimulate public interest in a wide variety of subjects. The net result is that this interest is directed to books on travel, history, biography, science and economics.

The widespread interest in literature of this kind in the Calgary Public Library should convince the librarian that newspaper reading is not inimical to the study of good literature.

His laudatory reference to the literary value of radio broadcasts is somewhat surprising. Leaving out the musical portion of radio fare, it cannot be denied that on this continent broadcasting is used chiefly for sales propaganda or for intensive propaganda on behalf of special theories, chiefly economic and monetary. There are book reviews delivered over the radio, just as every leading daily carries a feature of the same kind. In each case, however, these are one-man expressions of opinion and subject to discount on that ground. But in one case, it is difficult to follow what is said with due concentration for any length of time, while in the other a newspaper may be studied and reread at one's convenience and leisure.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

To use football language, it would seem that the Conservative strategists lost the filibuster battle in the Legislature on a fumble.

Now that the Maroons have captured the Stanley Cup, it looks as if the Federal Conservative organization knew what it was doing when it had Lionel Conacher endorse a pamphlet containing one of Mr. Bennett's famous speeches.

The bill declaring the Quebec power purchase contracts illegal has been finally passed. There will be keen anxiety as to the next step in this serious situation.

Credit C. W. Bell, M.P., with a smart retort. When a statement by him caused some merriment in the Liberal ranks, the Hamilton member said that he did not mind the offenders laughing their heads off—and he was not sure that much harm would be done if they did.

Anyway, the professional hockey championship has been decided before King Baseball officially arrived to take over the centre of the stage.

It is quite a comfort to know that the other fellow doesn't know you're wrong.—Kingston Whig-Standard.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Registered U. S. Patent Office

By STANLEY

Voice of the People

Letters to be printed in the Voice of the People Column must be received at The Examiner Office by 5 p.m. on the day before insertion. All letters must be signed by the writer, although a pen-name may be used when inserting non-controversial subject matter. Letters over 400 words will be cut down at discretion of the editor.

FALSE ALARM BROUGHT RESULTS

To the Editor:

As recorded in Tuesday night's Examiner, a false alarm was rung in to the fire department from a box at the corner of Aberdeen and Benson avenues and the apparatus had a fruitless run.

I have been in business now on that corner for nearly five months and I would not say that run was fruitless for we have now the alarm box fixed up as it should be and not open as it has been to any curious or mischievous hands to meddle with.

I have been located all over the city in my time and I must say for the boys and girls of the north end that they are the best behaved and most orderly and courteous of the whole city.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor,

Edgar D. Carson,
Carson Service Grocery.

REPLY TO WOODSWORTH

The following is the reply from J. H. Burnham to J. S. Woodworth:

J. S. Woodsworth, M.P.,

Dear Mr. Woodsworth:

Mr. Bennett and his friends have gone "distrait." Out of the multitude of their policies they have not one left. How Mr. King expects to win with a policy that failed before, I cannot understand. The people are looking to a third party. Is it you?

Having a strong objection to Socialism, I rather boldly set to work to see if I could not reconstruct "capitalism" and I produced the following formula:

1. Re-establish day-work.
2. Abolish piece-work and overtime.
3. Shorten the hours of the "day," until the demand for labour takes up all the slack of unemployment in its different classes (a sort of inverted syndicalism).
4. Establish a minimum living wage for the lowest form of labour in each class, according to the cost of living index. (This is a matter of life not economics.)
5. Prohibit the use of the medium of exchange except as such.
6. A comprehensive land policy.

Thus we have employment for all and the power of manipulation by non-producers done away with. The mistake has been heretofore (I submit) in providing always for the top instead of for the masses who cannot take care of themselves, while the top can well be left to "laissez-faire."

Stevens's idea of abolishing economics is absurd. Economics is only a tool like the alphabet. He also advocates a building policy at the expense of the taxpayer, and then what? The appeal for work is one of the most poignant in the world, and no decent man would sacrifice it for "party purposes."

At sea the valiant and the proud would scorn to save themselves at the expense of the rest, and if appealed to, I am sure they would feel so now. Common brutal business selfishness could be made to fade away. I intend to stand on that principle, for I am convinced after careful research that the "remedy" is of this kind, and I am encouraged by both the experts and the workers. But I hope someone else will take it up.

J. H. Burnham.

A Thought

Real merit of any kind cannot long be concealed; it will be discovered, and nothing can depreciate it.—Chesterfield.

• • •

Real worth requires no interpreter; its everyday deeds form its blasonry.—Chamfort.

A Thought for Today

"Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak."

—St. Matthew, 26:41.

It so Happened

finds Howard Gerring

THAT ON APRIL 11

1612—Because he was a Baptist, Edward Wightman was burned at Lichfield, England.

1713—Gibraltar, the fortified rock, was ceded to Great Britain by the treaty of Utrecht.

1713—Hudson Bay, Newfoundland and Nova Scotia surrendered to England.

1786—Convicts of Newgate prison departed for America as settlers.

1783—The United States Congress proclaimed cessation of war with Great Britain.

1793—Colonel Simcoe issued a proclamation against wickedness and vice in Upper Canada.

1817—A man in Dartmouth, England, found that his wife was worth only two guineas when he sold her in open market.

1871—The House of Commons adopted resolutions pledging Canada to build a railway to the Pacific coast.

1923—Labor members, singing the Red Flag, broke up a session of the British Commons.

1928—Princess Mary and her husband, Viscount Lascelles, visited Palestine, the first of the royal family ever to do so.

1934—The $25,000,000 worth of Texas dust which blew into Nebraska a year before began to blow back, making the Texans very unhappy.

What's in the Name of Canadian Cities and Towns?

by FRANK H. WILLIAMS

MONTMAGNY, QUEBEC

Noted as the birthplace of Sir E. P. Taché, one of the fathers of Confederation, this town is a centre of interest on the St. Lawrence, being situated opposite Grosse Ile, the federal quarantine station.

Founded in 1678, it is steeped in ancient history, several houses in the town being more than 125 years old. The town was named for Sieur de Montmagny, second governor of New France, to whom a seigniory was granted in 1646.

Montmagny is the gathering place each year for a pilgrimage to Grosse Ile, in memory of immigrants who died and were buried there during the epidemic of typhus which raged intermittently from 1824 to 1848, and to commemorate the noble sacrifices and devoted attention to duty of priests in that time of trial.

ALL OF US

(By Marshall Mastin.)

IF I COULD PAINT...

My fingers are all thumbs and I cannot put down on paper what these eyes see. I cannot take a pencil or a brush and make even a crude pattern on paper or canvas of all the wonder and excitement of this world....But IF I were a painter, IF I had the great madness of a Van Gogh, IF I were like Hokusai, that old-man-about-painting, I would paint as madly as they....I would not rest, I would want nothing else, I would be content to wander the earth painting whatever I see, praying for a seeing eye and a steady hand to the last of my days.

I know a hillside that is fair in every season of the year. I know its purples and its rich browns, its black shadows in the deep ravines, its crimson and its gold in the harvest time, the way its slopes fold into each other, and its tall trees rise and the little houses sit at their feet....I would show that hill to you as a resting place for man.

I know a twisted fruit tree. I would paint it in blossom and again when the yellow apples show through the green leaves, and paint it again in the dead of winter when it is bare and lean and structurally beautiful....I would let that tree speak plainly to man and tell him how he may be useful in all his seasons.

I would paint a flower so that you would see its strange birth in the dark earth and the blazing sun....I would paint a baby building a city in a sandbox, and in that child's face you would see all the story of its manhood.

I would paint a sad old mother grieving for a lost son, and a tenderly proud old woman with her strong sons about her. I would paint a puppy dog tumbling and a cat in the sun, and the moonlight on a granite cliff I know. I would paint a youth and a maiden walking joyously through a crowd, seeing only each other. I would paint small boys swimming in their nakedness and yelling for joy. I would paint a strong old man resting, and a brave man dying. I would paint workers everywhere, on high bridges, in lumber camps, in the plowed field, strong and independent and bold.

I would paint what is around me, paint it swiftly, boldly; paint the commonplace, the true, the simple, the joyous, matter-of-fact of life....This I would do, if only I were a painter.

IN DAYS GONE BY

Items Taken From Old Fyles of The Examiner

APRIL 11, 1925

The Peterborough Utilities Commission's financial report for 1924 shows property assets of $533,872 in the electrical department here....

Harry White has been appointed Assistant Postmaster here under Postmaster C. Lacheur.

APRIL 11, 1915

A number of boys started the swimming season here to-day in the old swimming hole at the east end of Dalhousie St. .... Three local nurses, Mrs. M. K. Douglas, Miss E. P. Roberts and Miss F. M. Smith, will accompany the Queen's Hospital Corps to the front shortly.

APRIL 11, 1905

The Demetre Brothers deny a strike of their waitresses at the Olympia Candy Works here, claiming that a few of the girls quit of their own accord....The National Hotel bus team ran away about midnight last night and damaged the bus in a collision with a telegraph pole.

Japheth, according to Gen. 10:2-5, was the youngest son of Noah.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

WINNIPEG BOARD OF TRADE

On this date (April 11) in 1879 the Winnipeg Boar dof Trade was organized with Hon. A. G. Bannatyne as president. Its members were men of vision, whose confidence was to be tested in later years but in time rewarded by the prosperity which they imagined. The board of trade served a useful purpose in restoring public confidence after the collapse of land booms, in reviving optimism in years of gloom, and in making the world conscious of Winnipeg. It was the father of the Winnipeg exhibition. Day in and day out kept alive the hope that the Hudson's Bay Railway would be built. It was the influence which brought the civic hydro-electric system into being. It was not content until the city had pure water and modern sanitation. It has acted as host to the Chambers of Commerce of the Empire, it has fought consistently and effectively for regulation of railway rates and it has been a factor in the development of the mineral and fishery resources of the province.

It was not until February 2, 1893 that the board of trade had its first banquet when, according to an editor of the time, "the brain, the brawn and the wealth of the metropolis gathered around the festive board," and the prediction was made that the day would come when the Canadian West would produce 200,000,000 bushels of wheat, a prediction whic hwas laughed to scorn by many easterners who were unable to vision a time when half of the population of Canada would live west of Lake Superior.

Popular Astronomy

BY H. W. L. MAHOOD

An Eternal Cycle of Centralization And Dispersion

The origin of the world has to all races of mankind been one of the great quests. There have been many guesses. But there have been no scientific explanations. The first chapter of Genesis tells of its creation. But no chapter written by the scientist has discovered the process. Some things he can say about the process. He can assert that creation was not complete in a day. Nor is it yet complete. Worlds are in process now. But the how of the process no man knows.

The world of stars and planets may once have been in the form of Nebula. If they were then the Nebula in Cygnus and in other groups of stars may be the beginnings of worlds yet to be formed.

From this viewpoint the Nebula in Cygnus, called The North America Nebula is of interest to all astronomers, and to readers interested in the visible heavens, about us by day and by night. The North America Nebula must be ranked among the most fascinating problems. In form the Nebula is shaped like the continent of North America. Yonder in the North is a break like Hudson Bay. There is a break on the east coast like the mouth of the St. Lawrence. Farther south the nebula has been carved out like the Gulf of Mexico. Then south again there is the narrow neck of land like Central America. On the west coast the Nebula continent is formed much like the western side of North America. Farther north there is the coast line of Alaska.

Cygnus is a summer constellation. It is located in the way of the Milky white path of the heavens. One star stands out brightly. It is of the second magnitude. Five of the stars are of third magnitude. The striking feature of the constellation is the Northern Cross. But the fascinating feature of astronomers is the Nebula. It is of vast size. Billions of light-points unite to give the phenomenon the shape of the North American continent. This Nebula comes within range for study only at the command of a powerful telescope. When any of my readers go to Toronto, and who are interested in this study take a trip out to the University and stay around until some one will become interested enough in you, as to take you where one of the very good Canadian telescopes is located.

Lakefield High School Results

Class A represents all students who have passed in all subjects. Class B represents those who have failed in one or more subjects. Names in order of merit.

Form I

Class A—Ida Taylor, Doris Charlton, Velma Northey, George Wong, Mary Blewett, Betty Nicholls, Jean Blewett, Bernard Arthurs.

Class B—Phillip Leahy, Johnny Carvett, George Tanner, Isabel Millage, Minnie Charlton, Thelma Binnington, Donald Smith, Donald Hurl, Constance Orr, Ray Jackman, Betty Crawford, Cameron Moore, Ruth Johnston, Lenore Northey, Francis Leahy, Allan Graham, Dennis Remnant, Geraldine Coughlin, Kenneth Morris, Doris Hart, Gerald Northey.

Form II

Class A—Paddy Lampman, Jean Mann, Elizabeth Twist, Sherman Cromie, Margaret Roseborough.

Class B—Patricia Earnshaw, Marion Darling, Ruby Marsden, Dorothy Pearson, Helen Patterson, Pat McFadden, Jean Clark, Mildred Garbutt, Thelma Bullock, Kathleen Lawless, Irwin Charlton, Howard Walsh, Godfrey Moore, Kenneth Patterson, Tom Junkin, Gerald Stabler, Earl Playfair, Wilfrid Morin, Alexander Nicholls, Martin Coughlin.

Form III

Class A—Mary Maloney, Harold Foster, Madeline Charlton.

Class B—Isabelle Brown, Harry Blewett, Miriam Brown, Bob Lennox, Leo Leahy, Gordon Hampton, Harry Northey, Donald Yale, Phyllis Webster, Norm Webster, Bob Nicholls, Verda Northey, Bob Chittick, Gerald Delaney, Ethel Lake, Bernard Johnston Mildred Miles Harry Jewell, Joe Blewett, George Charlton.

Form IV

Class A—Madeline Sullivan, Earl Robinson.

Class B—Claire Connell, Kathleen Wannamaker, Cora Charlton, Ralph Mason, Jean Kingdon, Asunta White, Stewart Loyst, Wellie Garbutt, Harry Nicholls, Mary Davis.

Form V

Class A—Matilda Moore, Hugh Morrison, Edith Spence, Madeline Allen, Walter Spence, Vera Moore, Vileta Carveth, Mary Hatton, Ralph Moore.

Class B—Mureitta Jory, James Nicholls, Phyllis Charlton, Margaret Young, Mary Borland, John Woodhouse, Dominico White, Arthur Kingdon, James Maloney, Charles Tanner.

ASK LOWER RATES

SARNIA, Ont., April 10 (C.P.)—Alvinston Hydro Commission to-day sent a letter to the Ontario Commission requesting reduction in power rates, it was learned here. The letter contained no direct indication the village would cancel its power contract unless a cut was made, although it was recently reported this step was informally considered.

Alvinston rate of $80 a horsepower is said to be the highest in the province.

GOODWILL MOTOR TOUR S. AMERICA

Greater in Length Than Around the World—First to Loop Southern Continent.

IN STUDEBAKER CARS

A project taking the form of an automotive commercial tour of "Good Will," greater in length than the distance around the world, will shortly start from Chicago to visit the capital and principal cities of each state and country in the Latin-American Republics of Mexico, Central America and South America, according to word received here by Chas. H. Elliott, 253 Hunter St. W., Studebaker distributor.

"The equipment for the tour consists of two 1935 Studebaker automobiles, a coupe and a five-passenger sedan, and a covered wagon trailer in which to display and demonstrate the products of a number of American manufacturers, several of whom are Chicago concerns. A crew of four men will make the tour over mountain and plain as far south as Santiago, Chile, then over the Andes to Buenos Aires. The return trip will follow the Atlantic seaboard to the northern part of Brazil, and continue by boat to New Orleans.

"This is the first good will automotive tour ever attempted through these countries," Mr. Elliott stated. "It is being sponsored by the Pan-American Commercial Service Company of Chicago and will require eight months to complete."

Closer Co-operation Accident Prevention

HAMILTON, April 11 (C.P.)—The need for close co-operation with the board and keeping it in possession of all available data so that Justice May be administered alike to employer, injured worker and doctor, was stressed yesterday by R. B. Morley, general manager, in his report to the annual meeting of the industrial accident prevention associations.

Mr. Morley reminded delegates they were protecting employees represented by a payroll of more than $315,000,000, the figure from the last report of the Compensation Board of the 10 classes of the associations. He commended the staff and directors of the several associations for accepting and carrying on such a responsibility on a rather low expenditure.

The One Minute Pulpit

Not that I speak in respect of want: for I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content.—Philippians 4:1.

Toronto Silvers Surge Upward in Two Buying Waves

MARKET QUOTATIONS

QUOTATIONS COMPLETE TO CLOSING TIME

Toronto Stocks
BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

	High	Low	Close
Con. Bake	13	..	..
Br. Am. Oil	14¾	14½	14¾
Beauharnois	3¼	..	..
Can. Bread Co.	2¾	..	..
Bldg. Prods.	28½	..	..
Bell Tel.	125	124½	125
Brazilian	8¾	8¾	8¾
Brewers & Dists.	60	..	..
Brewers Corp.	3¼	..	..
Can. Bud.	7¾	7½	7½
Can. Cem.	7	..	..
C.P.R.	10¼	9¾	10
Can. Dredge	21	..	..
Can. Car & F.	8¾	8¼	8¼
Can. Canners	5-5½	..	..
Can. Oil	12¼	..	..
Can. Malt	30	29¾	30
Cookshutt	7½	..	..
Dist. Seagram	16	15½	15½
Dom. Stores	9¼	9	9¼
E. Electric	10¼S	..	..
Ford 'A'	28¾	28¾	28¼
G.G.F.	158	..	..
Can. Gypsum	6¾	6¼	6¼
Cons. Gas	189B	..	..
Goodyear	130¼	130½	130½
Hamilton Bridge	38¾B	..	..
Walker G & W.	27	26½	26¼
Int Nickel	25¾	25¼	25¾
Int Util A	160-175	..	..
Ind Alcohol	9¾	9	9
Imp Oil	16½	16¾	16½
Imp Tobacco	12¼	12½	12½
Con Smelt	136	135	137
Laura S	62	..	..
Loblaw A	18¾	18¾	18¾
Mont L H and P	28	..	..
McC Frontenac	13¾B	..	..
Massey Harris	4¾	4¾	4¾
Moore Corp	18¼B	..	..
Pressed Metals	9½	..	..
Photo Eng	21½	..	..
Int Pete	31	31	31¾
Sup Petro	25	24½	24½
Stand Pav	85B	..	..
Tip Top Tailors	88	..	..
C. Vinegar	36¾	..	..
Wineries	4¾B	..	..
Walker Brew	3¾	..	..
Weston Ltd	95	..	..
Steel of Can	45	44¾	44¾

New York Stocks
BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

	High	Low	Close
Atchison	39½	38¾	39
Auburn Auto	18	17¾	17¾
Allied Chem.	133¼	132¾	133¼
Amer. Can.	118¾	117¾	117¾
Amer. Smelting	36¾	36¼	36½
Amer. R. & S.S.	13	..	..
Amer. & F. P.	3¾	..	..
Amer. T. & T.	106¾	105½	106¾
Amer. Roll. Mills	19¾	17¾	18¾
Anaconda Cop.	11½	11	11
Balt. & Ohio	10½	10¾	10¾
Baldwin Loco.	1¾	..	..
Bordens	23¼	22¾	22¾
Byers, A. M.	14½	..	..
Bendix Avn	14¼	14	14
Bethlehem Steel	25½	24¾	25
Briggs	27	26¾	26¾
Can. Pacific	10	9¾	9¾
Case, J. I.	51	50½	50¾
Chrysler	36	35½	35½
Columbus Gas	6	..	..
Cons. Gas	20½	19½	19¾
Com. Solvents	19½	19¼	19¾
Dupont	92½	91½	91¾
Elec. B. & S.	7	6¼	6½
Elect. Auto L.	21¼	20¼	20¾
Freeport Texas	22¾	..	..
Gen. Electric	23½	23¼	23¼
Gen. Food Prods.	34½	33¾	34¼
Gen. Motors	29¾	28¾	28¾
Gillette Saf. Raz.	15	14¾	15
Goodyear	18½	17¾	17¾
Houston Oil	15¼	..	..
Hudson Motors	7¼	6¾	6¾
Int. Harvester	37½	36¾	36¾
Int Nickel	25¾	25¾	25¾
Int Tel & Tel	7¾	..	..
Johns-Manville	44¼	43½	44
Liquid Carb	29¾	29½	29½
Mont Ward	24¾	24¼	24¾
Nash Motors	13¼	13	13
N.Y. Central	15¾	15¾	15¾
Nat Biscuit	25	24¾	24¼
Nor American	12¾	12¾	12¾
Phillips Pete	18¼	18¼	18¼
Pack Motors	3¾	3¾	3¾
Penn Ry	20¾	20½	20¼
Radio Corp	4¾	4½	4¾
Sears-Roebuck	35¾	35½	35½
Simmons Bed	7¼	7¾	7¾
Stan Brands	15¾	15¾	15¾
St Oil of N.J.	40¼	39¾	40
Socony-Vac	13¼	13¾	13¼
Studebaker	2L	..	..
Stewart-Warn	8¼	..	..
South Pacific	15¾	14½	14½
Texas Corp	20¼	20¼	20½
Timken Roll B	31½	30¼	30½
Texas Gulf Sulp.	30¾	30¾	30¾
Union Pacific	89½	..	..
Union Carb	48½	48¼	48½
United Corp	2¾	2¾	2¾
U.S. Rubber	11¾	11½	11¾
U.S. Steel	30¾	30¾	30¾
Westinghouse	37¾	37¼	37¼
Yellow Cab	3	2¾	2¾
Woolworth	56¼	56	56
Nat Distillers	28	27¾	27¾

BOND LIST
WATSON, WALLACE & CO.

Dominion of Canada
1936	104⅛-104¾
1937	110⅛-111
1941	112 -112½
1952	105 -105½
1956	109¼-109¾
Province of Ontario
1946	109 -111

ROVERS TAKE LEAD.

LONDON, April 11.—(C.P. Cable.)—Doncaster Rovers went into a clear lead in the northern section of the Third Division English Football League to-day by defeating their rivals, Tranmere Rovers 2-0. The game was played at Doncaster.

Toronto Mining
WATSON, WALLACE & CO.

	High	Low	Close
Acme	21¾	..	..
Ajax	85	..	..
Aldermac	8	7	7
Anglo Huronian	380	..	..
Bagamac	7	6	6
B.R.X.	20	..	..
Base Metals	65	62	63
Bobjo	24	..	..
Bayleorne	775	695	705
Beattie	180	..	..
Buffalo Ank.	260	255	255
Coniagas	375-330	..	..
Can. Malart	63	..	..
Castle Treth	92½	86	89
Cent. Patricia	147	140	143
Chibougamou	23	21	22
Chem. Research	150	125	135
Coniaurum	212	210	212
Dome	3650-3975	..	..
Eldorado	182	163	175
Falconbridge	390	375	379
God's Lake	139	135	135
Goldale	13-15	..	..
Granada	30	..	..
Greene Stab.	23	..	..
Gunnar	65	64	65
Hollinger	1655	1650	1665
Home Oil	53	..	..
Hudson Bay	1450	1405	1430
Howey	88	87	88
Jackson Manion	14	..	..
Kirk. Cons.	10½	7	10½
Kirk. Lake	44	42½	42½
Kirk. Townsite	23	..	..
Kirk. Hudson	27	..	..
Lakeshore	5475-5500	..	..
Lee Gold	5¼	5	5
Lebel Oro	6¾	6½	6½
Little Long L.	560	555	560
Man. and East	4½	4¼	4½
Macassa	218	215	215
McIntyre	4235-4300	..	..
McKenzie	126	120	120
McMillan	19½	18½	19½
McWatters	163	141	145
Min. Corp.	115	110	110
Nipissing	285	240	260
Noranda	3700	3650	3690
North. Can.	22-26	..	..
Paymaster	18	..	..
Parkhill	22	21	21
Pioneer	1115	1075	1075
Pend-Oreille	60	56	56
Premier	171	167	171
Pickle Crow	277	271	275
Read Anthier	67-70	..	..
Reno	140	138	138
Red Lake Gold	38½	37½	38½
Sherritt	65	60	60
Siscoe	293	290	291
San. Antonio	365	350	351
St. Anthony	22	21	21½
Sudbury-Basin	145	135	135
Sud. Mines	4	..	..
Sylvanite	330	..	..
Tech-Hughes	420	413	413
Toburn	110-120	..	..
Towagamac	24	..	..
Ventures	90	87	90
Waite-Amulet	79	..	..
Wayside	17	16½	16½
Wright-Harg.	860	850	860

UNLISTED.

Bankfield	75½-76½
Casey Contact	25¼-26½
Galatea	9-9½
Hulson, Pat.	15½-16½
Karl Springer	170-235
Lamaque	168-170
Longlac Lagoon	10-12
Magnet	14½-15½
Mosher	3¾-4¾
McLeod	4¾-5¾
Oklend	38-41
Smelter	9-10
Sturgeon	85-90

Sales—1,325,000.

Grain Quotations
LEEMING AND LEEMING
Phones 2788 and 2787

WINNIPEG WHEAT.

	May	July
High	90⅞	91¼
Low	89¼	89½
Close	89¾	89⅞

CHICAGO WHEAT.

	May	July
High	99¼	98½
Low	97⅝	96½
Close	97¾	96¾

Initial Shareholders Receive 1st Dividends

OTTAWA, April 11—(CP)—When the Bank of Canada pays its first dividend next July the amount going to each shareholder will be based upon the time the first share instalment was paid, it was learned today.

Applicants for shares were required to send their orders $12.50 for each share requested, representing one-quarter of the cost per share.

Dividends will be reckoned therefore on $12.50 per share from Sept. 21, 1934, to Jan. 2, 1936, and on the full purchase price of $50 per share from Jan. 2 to the date of declaration, probably July 2.

FIREMEN DROWN GIRL.

SALEM, O., April 11 (A.P.).—Firemen, who drenched a house to extinguish a fire here last night, drowned a two-year-old girl in the basement of the home, it was discovered to-day.

The body of Jane Woods, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fraser Woods was found in the basement.

The child was caught in the cellar as fire broke out in the upper portion of the home.

RUGBY LEAGUE RESULTS.

LONDON, April 11.—(C.P. Cable)—Rugby League games played to-day resulted as follows;

Hull Kingston 13, Hunslet 22.
St. Helen's Recs. 10, Widnes 3.

WORLD SILVER PRICE ADVANCE BOOSTS ISSUES

Fresh Wave of Buying Follows Posting of Higher Silver Quotation.

1 3-4 CENTS ADVANCE.

Losses Due to Profit-taking in First Hour Wiped Out in Afternoon Session.

TORONTO, April 11.—(C.P.)—Another sharp advance in the world price for silver gave the silver group of Toronto mining board a new and vigorous lift to-day, these issues practically usurping the exchange trading facilities.

Posting of the latest silver metal quotation revealing an advance of 1¾ cents overnight in world markets was a signal for a fresh wave of buying that sent Eldorado to 1.76, up 25 cents, Castel to 92, up 14 cents, Nipissing to 2.55, up 15 cents and the Penny issues higher by fractions.

Profit-taking in the first hour reduced the gains by half but the rise was renewed soon after noon and prices were soon hitting around the day's top.

OILS-STEELS SHOW ADVANCES

Quietness Rules in Other Groups With Prices Firm in Toronto Industrials.

METALS ACTIVE.

TORONTO, April 11. (CP).—The metals, oils and steels gave a demonstration on the industrial board of the Toronto exchange while quietness ruled in other groups with prices barely firm. Consolidated Smelters gained 4 points to 137 and International Nickel was up ¼ at 25¾ on strong metals leadership from the New York market. Over the board gains had a slight edge on losses at the close with volume a little down from that of the previous sessions.

Overseas Markets

BUTTER AND CHEESE

OTTAWA, April 11 (CP)—Butter was quiet and cheese dull on the United Kingdom Market this week, according to a cable received to-day by the Department of Agriculture.

Quotations.—Butter, New Zealand, 78 shillings per cwt. (16.96 cents per pound); Australian, 74 to 75 shillings per cwt. (16.09 to 16.31 cents per pound).

Cheese.—Canadian, 58 to 62 shillings per cwt. (12.61 to 13.47 per pound); New Zealand, 44 shillings sixpence to 45 shillings per cwt. (9.68 to 10.000 cents per pound).

UNITED KINGDOM CATTLE

OTTAWA, April 11 (CP)—Cattle trade on the Birkenhead market was better this week, according to cabled advice received to-day by Department of Agriculture. Light weight domestic animals sold to the equivalent of 13½ to 14 cents per pound, dressed weight, including offal, medium weights from 12½ to 13 cents, and heavies 12 cents.

There were no Canadian cattle.

London Silver Touches High Mark In Nine Years

LONDON, April 11.—(AP)— The price of silver today touched the highest mark in nine years, bringing 29 11-16 pence an ounce, ¾ penny higher than yesterday, owing chiefly to President Roosevelt's announcement of an increased buying price.

This stimulated buying in China and India by speculators who steadily have been absorbing the metal here in the past few days on the assumption the United States, which hitherto has been supporting the price, would continue to do so.

LINER GROUNDS

ATHENS, April 11 (C.P. Cable via Reuters). — The Anchor-Donaldson liner Letitia, well known in Canadian ports, was aground this day off Cape Tapas with a cruise passenger list, including many notables. It was expected there would be no trouble refloating the liner with the aid of tugs.

Light Bullets

BURLINGTON, Vt., April 11 (C.P.)—A device which permits complete mastery of machine-gun technique without firing a single shot has been invented by Captain Malcolm E. Craig of the University of Vermont. The invention, a flash-sound firing device that projects a beam of light, instead of a bullet, to a target, has been presented for consideration to the United States War Department.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

MONTREAL EXCHANGE

MONTREAL, April 11 (CP)—Only a few features appeared to brighten an otherwise dull list on Montreal Stock Exchange to-day. Consolidated Smelters had a gain of 4 points at 137 while International Nickel rose ¼ to 25¾. National Steel Car, Canadian Car Common and Canadian Car Preferred all showing small gains, while Dominion Bridge advanced ¾ at 27¼, and others minor fractions.

Canadian Hydro Electric Preferred was unchanged and Gypsum, B.C. Power and several more closed with losses. Lake of the Woods fell a point at 11.

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, April 11 (A.P.). — Metal and mining issues were pushed up in to-day's stock market following the Government's boost of the domestic silver price to 71 cents an ounce. Fluctuations in other departments of the equity list, however, were generally narrow and trading quiet.

U.S. Smelting got up around 5 points in the late dealings, while Cerro de Pasco, American Smelting, and Howe Sound gained 1 to 2.

Amerada advanced a point and N.Y. Central was slightly higher. Such issues as U.S. Steel, American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, General Motors, Chrysler, Santa Fe, and many others were unchanged to fractionally lower. The closing time was fairly steady.

Transfers appdox.mated 700,000 shares.

SPOUSE-KILLING CASE IN COURT

(Continued from Page 1)

When the police, who accompanied the surgeon to the home, interviewed Mrs. Rattenbury, she was dressed in pyjamas and, according to the police, appeared to have been drinking, the prosecutor continued.

A Confession.

Eventually she told the police: "I know who done it." The police immediately cautioned her, whereupon she said: "I did it with the mallet which is hidden. Rats has lived too long."

Another statement attributed to the widow was: "I was playing cards with my husband when he dared me to kill him as he wanted to die. I picked up the mallet. He said, 'You haven't got the guts enough to do it.' Then I hit him with the mallet."

The Attorney gave particulars of receipts found in Stoner's possession for hotel bills in two rooms at London hotels, and purchases by Stoner for Mrs. Rattenbury of jewelry, etc.

On March 29, when he was in custody, Stoner made a statement in which he said Mrs. Rattenbury had nothing to do with the affair.

"When I did the job I believed he was asleep," the police quoted Stoner. "I hit him then I told Mrs. Rattenbury. I watched through the French window and saw her kiss him goodnight, and then leave the room. I waited and crept in through the unlocked window. Still, it ain't much use saying anything; when they tell her I am arrested she will go out of her mind."

The hearing was adjourned until next Tuesday.

MINING STOCKS

A daily column which answers the Queries on Mining Stocks that are of general interest to Examiner readers.

QUERY: I am thinking of purchasing some shares in some of the better known mining holding companies, believing that with a small investment so placed I would have a better chance of success than by putting my money into some individual mining enterprise. I would value your comments.
—E.K.O.

ANSWER: What you have to say about holding companies is perfectly true that an investment in a company of this kind represents a cross section of several companies. One may not turn out well, but another will, and in that way your investment would be protected. The difficulty with mining holding companies in Canada has been that their past history for investors has been most unprofitable. In theory they sound fine, but in practice they have not worked out satisfactorily. This is contrary to the experience of many English holding companies in mining enterprises. The chief difficulty in Canada has been that the holding companies represent largely properties in the development stages. If one of the ultimately develops to a profitable mine and pays dividends, the income from this source has not made it worth while to pass such dividend along to the shareholders of the holding company. Instead, this income is ploughed back into some likely looking prospect or some mine under development, in the hope that it will prove profitable and in this way most of the Canadian holding companies have dissipated their earnings, and only the odd dividend has accrued to the shareholders in this class of investment.

Frost caused heavy damage recently to the orange crop in sunny Spain.

PROFIT-TAKING BREAKS TREND

Substantial Gains Recorded at Close Despite Last Hour Selling.

GOLDS WEAKEN.

TORONTO, April 11. (CP). — Silver stocks surged upward while golds weakened and base metals did little better than hold their ground on the mining section of the Toronto Stock Exchange today. White metal issues moved forward in two waves of buying, the first at the opening and the second at early afternoon with profit-taking on a large scale intervening and erasing temporarily about 50 percent of the advance. Some profit-taking in the final hour checked the advance but substantial gains were held till the close.

FINANCIAL NEWS BRIEFS

Canadian Light and Power

The 1934 annual statement of Canadian Light & Power shows that earnings in the past year were well maintained, with net income of $33,408 comparing with $33,678 the previous year. These earnings are subject to income tax. The company, therefore, was able to show earnings of $1.00 per share on the 33,248 shares of common outstanding as against $1.01 in 1933. Dividends at the rate of $1.00 a share were disbursed, and the company increased its surplus from $11,635 to $11,795 (subject to deduction for 1934 Income Taxes).

In the year under review, Canadian Light & Power increased its depreciation write-off to $95,000 as compared with $85,000 in the previous two years.

Bell Telephone

The shares of Bell Telephone recorded wide fluctuations during the past week. Opening this week at 126, the stock sold down to as low as 118 in odd lots, and then rallied to around 125. At the low point of the week, the yield afforded on Bell Telephone was 5.1 per cent. while at 125, the yield is reduced to 4.8 per cent. No explanation was forthcoming to account for the break. Financial Service understands that the liquidation of a moderate block of the stock, in a market comparatively bare of buyers, was responsible for the break. Excellent investment buying was noted in the security around the top point touched.

Consolidated Paper

The recent easiness in the stock of Consolidated Paper was occasional by the working off of some rather large quantities of stock on a dull market. It is understood most of theofferings were for Toronto account and it is suggested that some holders were switching from the industrial issue to take on commitments in the mines, that might possibly offer better prospects for enhancement in value.

It is not believed the transactions had any significance so far as any new development in connection with the iompany is ronnerned. Direstors met this week, but it was just the usual monthly meeting and only routine matters were discussed.

Imperial Oil Limited

The annual financial statement of Imperial Oil Limited for the year 1934 is now in the course of preparation. No official information is available as to what this report will show as far as earnings are concerned, but a good indication as to what might be expected can be gleaned from the amount the shareholders received in dividends and bonuses during last year. In this connection, it will be recalled that 92½ cents a share was paid in all. Two extra payments of 15 cents each were made on June 1st and December 1st respectively. It is only fair to say at this juncture that any improvement in earning power that Imperial Oil enjoyed in 1934 was due in the main to increased revenue received from its important subsidiary, International Petroleum. The last mentioned paid in all $2.26 a share last year and as Imperial owns approximately 60 per cent of the stock, it therefore received somewhere in the vicinity of $18,200,000 from such holdings. A tremendous sum of money. It is interesting to remember also that the revenue derived from the "Pete" holdings in equivalent to 68 cents a share on the outstanding stock of Imperial.

Turning to the balance sheet of Imperial Oil for the year 1933, it will be noticed that other income totalled $9,406,846. An enormous improvement will be noted in the forthcoming report.

The figure submitted above which is an estimate of Financial Service, reveals that Imperial Oil and International Petroleum will both pay a similar annual dividend to the shareholders on June 1st next.

Brewing Corporation of Canada

E. P. Taylor, president of Brewing Corporation of Canada told the shareholders at the annual meeting that there was no reason why July dividend of 37½ cents a share should not be paid. The preferred stock of this company carries a dividend at the rate of $3 a share per annum. Half the regular rate is now being paid and from what Financial Service understands, this policy will be continued for some time to come. The brewing industry will soon be in its busiest time. The weather throughout certain parts of Ontario is well advanced. Breweries make their money from the 1st of April to the end of October. Splendid results are generally secured in June, July and August. Sales of all the important companies in Ontario have shown a marked improvement this year as compared with the same period in 1934.

Livestock-Produce Quotations

TORONTO CHEESE

TORONTO, April 11 (C.P.)—The Toronto Wholesale Cheese Market was steady to-day with dealers buying large colored, paraffined and government grades at 12c.

Wholesalers offered cheese to retailers at the following prices:

	Large Twins	Triplets
New	13c	13¼c 13½c
Old	17c	17¼c 17½c
Medium	15c	15¼c 15½c

TORONTO POULTRY

TORONTO, April 11 (C.P.) — Wholesale prices on poultry as supplied by the United Farmers Co-operative Co., were reported unchanged to-day

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

TORONTO, April 11 (C.P.) — Wholesale prices on fruit and vegetables as supplied by White & Co. were reported unchanged to-day

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, April 11 (C.P.) — Wholesale prices on produce delivered at Toronto, as supplied by the United Farmer's Co-operative Co., here to-day were:

Eggs—Grade A large, dozen, 15c; grade A medium, 13c; grade B, 12c; grade C, 12c.

Churning Cream — No 1, lb 23c; No 2 21c Butter—No 1, solids, 23c; No. 2, 22½c.

Ontario Cobbler potatoes, bag 55c

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

TORONTO, April 11 (C.P.). — Prices remained steady on the few sales on the Toronto Live Stock Market this afternoon. The small cattle supply was sold out.

Receipts as reported by the Dominion Live Stock Branch were:

Cattle 20, calves 30, hogs 270, and sheep and lambs 200.

Hanuyweight butcher cattle brought $4.50 to $6.25 and small lots of butcher sows ranged from $2.50 to $4.25.

Calves went steadily at $4.00 for common vealers up to $7.00 for good and choice.

Hogs steadied after an unsettled opening to sell at $8.00 f.o.b. for bacons, $8.25 off truck, and $8.75 off car.

No Western lambs were sold by mid-afternoon. A few sheep went at $1.00 to $4.00 cwt.

Quotations:

Cattle, calf, hog, sheep and lamb quotes were unchanged.

HOG PRICES

TORONTO, April 11. — (CP) — Gains of 10 to 25 cents were registered on bacon hog prices today at four reporting market points while other points held unchanged at firm levels. Peterborough gained 10 cents, London 15 and Stratford and Kitchener jumped 25. Today's prices:

Barrie, $7.75; Chatham, $7.75; Peterborough, $7.85; London, $7.90; Stratford, $8.00; Kitchener, $8.00; Brantford, $8.00; Hull, $8.25.

WITH 17 RUBBERS TO GO SIMS IS DOWN BY 14,720

NEW YORK, April 11.—(A.P.)—P. Hal Sim's chance for victory in his 150 rubber bridge match with Ely Culbertson existed to-day only as a bare possibility.

The portly bridge master of Deal, N.J., faced a virtually insurmountable lead as the match entered its second last day to-day, with 17 more rubbers to be played.

Culbertson and his wife, Josephine, withstood a determined assault by Mr. and Mrs. Sims in yesterday's play and brought their advantage up to 14,720 points at the end of the 133rd rubber.

The Culbertsons lead in rubbers, 73 to 60, and in points 111,330 to 96,610.

Sees Own Picture In "Lest We Forget"

HALIFAX, April 11. (CP). — A surprise was in store for Fritz Schaefer when he attended the screening of Canada's official war picture "Lest We Forget."

When he saw Fritz Schaefer leap out at him from the screen, he recalled how he had won the sprinting championship of the Canadian forces in France.

The camera had caught him winning the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds at the sports meet at Tinjues, France, July 1, 1918.

He came in ahead of the great South African, Reg Walker, in the 100-yard event in Woking, on turf, to establish a mark of 9.4 seconds. In 1917 he won the 100 and 220-yard dashes at the Canadian force track and field championships at Seaford, England.

NAMED AS GUNMAN.

TORONTO, April 11 (C.P.). — Norman Kirby, in the bank at the time, identified George Reece in the Assize Court to-day as the man who fired the shots at the manager of the Imperial Bank of Canada branch at Pape and Sammon Avenues during a holdup on February 26 when $585 was stolen. Reece with Arthur Conley and George Smith face charges of attempted murder and robbery.

Millionaire Missing

JOHN GILLESPIE

A search has been instituted for John Gillespie (above), former Detroit police commissioner, and one-time millionaire political leader. Gillespie was last seen in Lansing, Michigan.

CITY FIREMEN SENT TO HELP

(Continued from Page 1)

Roland Denne ordered a squad from Peterborough City Fire Department to the scene of the fire, and the fire truck covered the 20-mile distance over a gravel road in short order. The truck was reported to have reached the village at about 2.15 p.m.

Mrs. McDonald, who suffered a broken leg in an accident on Wednesday, was removed from her home, and most of the furniture was saved. The old Methodist parsonage on Ridge Street, owned by Mr. Pearce, was the next residence to fall a prey to the flames it and the other Pearce house which was caught in the path o the fire, was unoccupied.

Embers caught in the roof of Dr. Carleton's house on the north side of Ridge street, and tongues of flame appeared in the roof of Mrs. Earl Buck's house, west of the Dr. Carleton residence. Both these threats were promptly extinguished. One of the Pearce houses was next to the garage on the north side of Peterborough street.

The heat of the fire broke the plate-glass windows in the office of W. A. Richardson, insurance agent, and The Norwood Weekly Register, directly across the street from the garage.

The progress of the fire was plainly marked across the block by the path of ruins, from Peterborough to Ridge street. From the blazing garage the flames thrust long tongues toward several wooden stables, quickly enveloped them, and extended toward the woodshed of Mr. McDonald's house. And from there the fire leaped across the north side of Ridge street toward the home of Dr. Carleton.

Dr. Carleton lost his garage and stables. Similar buildings at the rear of the McDonald house are also in ashes, and also the stable on the Cuthbertson property.

A truck in the Peace garage is a total loss. It was reported that bullets in a rifle in the empty house owned by Mr. Pearce were exploded by the heat of its flames and broke through the glass windows in Mr. Richardson's office across the street.

The cheese box factory was saved after splendid work by the detachment of seven men of the Peterborough Fire Department, led by Chief George Gimblett. Peterborough sent its gasoline pumper, and the Hastings Volunteer Brigade arrived with their steamer, but it was not put into use.

The excellent work of the Fire Departments assisted by many citizens cut to-day's potential fire loss in half by saving the cheese box factory, and the Buck and Carleton homes.

FLANDIN URGES BRITAIN, ITALY BACK HIS PLEA

(Continued from Page 1)

nouncement of rearmament March 16, but on the basis of Germany's violations of the Versailles Treaty.

Fear Further Breaches

The French said they feared if Germany takes one illegal step she may take others, constantly increasing the size of her army and armaments. France apparently wants vigorous support from Great Britain and Italy when the League council meets April 15 and wants Germany to enter into negotiations for the limitation of armaments.

A noticeable swing of Italian opinion from open irritation toward Britain's desire for a general pact including Germany rather than for an alliance against her was expressed in high Italian sources this evening. Italian political channels thought this might lead to the conclusion of a draft for such a pact, since France already is regarded as leaning toward Britain.

Simon Questioned

After a brief greeting from Premier Mussolini, who acted as chairman, Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, made a lengthy statement describing his visit to Reichsfuehrer Hitler and the tour made by Capt. Anthony Eden, British Lord Privy Seal, to Moscow, Warsaw, and Praha.

With Mussolini taking the lead the Italians and French put a series of questions to Sir John which covered every aspect of the situation as revealed to Sir John and Captain Eden on their trip.

Mussolini and Premier MacDonald asked the French to inform them at 5 p.m. to-day of the contents of the French memorandum which will be submitted to the League in support of the French protest against Germany.

FORD LAUDS THE "70's"

KINGSVILLE, Ont., April 11. — (CP)—The "70's" are a pretty good period, according to Henry Ford, Detroit motor-car magnate, in a wire to Jack Miner upon the latter's 70th birthday. Mr. Ford's message read: "Welcome to the seventy club to which your seventieth birthday admits you. I am several years ahead of you but I have to report the seventies are a pretty good period."

HOLDING HIS DECISION

TORONTO, April 11 (C.P.) — Until such time as he has received the invitation and considered it, Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn will not make a decision about attending the conference called by mayors of the Dominion at Montreal, April 22.

"I wouldn't want to comment on an important conference like that without knowing who was calling it and for what purpose," he said today.

ON TRIAL FOR ASSAULT

LONDON Ont., April 11.—(CP)—Thomas Kellestine of London township today was sent up for trial on an assault charge by County Magistrate C. W. Hawkshaw after his estranged wife told the court he threatened to kill John Hillinger, in Mervin Heights last Saturday night. "Tom said, I'm going to kill that man if I have to hang for it" Mrs. Kellestine told the magistrate.

AQUITANIA FLOATED.

SOUTHAMPTON, April 11 (AP). — The S.S. Aquitania, after being aground on a mudbank since yesterday, was refloated at 5.10 p.m. today and headed up the Solent for the Southampton dock.

Gladys Glad
. . . on beauty

As one of the most famous beauties this continent has ever produced, Gladys Glad is well qualified to write of beauty, and how to gain and preserve it.

Read Gladys Glad Daily in EXAMINER

INSPECTOR COPP OF HAVELOCK HEADS TRUSTEES ASSOCIATION

Members Oppose General Provincial Tax For All Educational Purposes.

FARM COURSES LAUDED.

HAVELOCK, April 11. (Examiner Correspondence). — L. W. Copp, I.P.S., was the unanimous choice of the East Peterborough Trustees' and Ratepayers' Association at their first annual meeting in Havelock Wednesday afternoon. More than a fair average representation was present according to past history of the body.

The district from Asphodel to Belmont embraces more than thirty school setions in a twenty mile area and over half these were represented.

M. A. Campbell, provincial secretary of the association of Toronto, and editor of the Canadian School Journal, was the guest speaker and was well received by interested educationalists who fired queries at him unceasnigly from 1.30 to 5 p.m.

Mrs. F. E. A. Brackenridge of Westwood, last year's president, relinquished the position. Mr. Copp is her successor.

The majority of the gathering didn't favour a proposal for a general provincial tax for all education, purposes, but did favour a resolution to appoint county boards for secondary education within the township.

A change of date in the annual meeting was suggested, but no month named. The gathering thought the department should deduct $2 from each board to cover subscription to the School Journal. It was the unanimous opinion of the meeting that all school trustees should be required to own property.

English and Arithmetic

Legislation to have university course of study influence the high school courses was opposed. Arithmetic and English were the most important subjects in the opinion of the trustees. The languages and sciences taking back seats to more practical subjects.

The members thought the first two years' high school should be a single unit and each subject therein a complete one-year course.

The idea of the province providing scholarships for the high school pupils was popular. They also thought the department should provide suitable graduating diplomas.

The members thought the censorship of moving pictures should be in the Department of Education's hands rather than in those of the provincial secretary. Each municipal council should be represented on the school board. To the question of whether or not the salary should be mentioned in teaching advertisements the members gave a negative reply.

It was not thought necessary to have compulsory medical examinations in the schools. Music as a regular but not compusory subject was popular. The agricultural courses taught were voted satisfactory and should be continued and made compulsory.

The only suggestion regarding teachers' contracts was that they should expire automatically at the end of June each year.

Questions to Rural Problems Only:

They thought the annual school meeting should be held in January. The rural representatives favoured the old levy being restored in the township.

A question vitally affecting the local board brought forth the following: "Pupils should be compelled to attend the nearest school where the work is being provided for or pay their own cost of tuition."

Opposition was met on the question: "Should trustees be permitted to tender on contracts at the annual school meeting."

The gathering was not in favour of all high school students being compelled to pay their own fees when attending high schools. The members didn't favour a township auditor going over the school books.

A showing of hands was taken on how many sections voted by ballot at the annual meeting and not a single hand was shown. According to Mr. Campbell this is quite a common practice in many sections. The district group strongly opposed it on the grounds that the ballot was not always confined to bonafied ratepayers.

Financing Methods

A surplus carried over to last until the end of June was the favoured method of financing the sections.

Acting on a written resolution passed in open session of the village of Havelock school board the meeting went on record as being in favour of raising the lawful age for beginners from 5 years to six.

Mrs. Wm. Harris of Belmont will carry on the duties of secretary treasurer of the East Peterborough Association.

Inspector Copp said the interest and enthusiasm manifest augured well for the success of the organization and hoped they would accomplish much good.

A hearty vote of thanks was made manifest by a hearty handclapping to the painstaking explanations by Mr. M. A. Campbell.

Eye Of Dead Baby May Help Him See

NEW YORK, April 11.—Fremont Clark, of Omaha, Neb., was resting comfortably at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center yesterday after an operation in which a section of cornea from the eye of a stillborn baby was grafted onto his own eye to cover a scar interfering with sight. Dr. Ramon Cattroviejo performed the delicate operation on Thursday. Medical authorities said that within ten days it would be possible to determine if the operation had been effective.

CAMPBELLFORD

NEWS ITEMS FOR THE TRENT TOWN DISTRICT

Mr. Dickson Dawson is visiting friends in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton E. Maybee, of Trenton were recent visitors in town.

Miss Willamene Allan, of the Kingston General Hospital staff, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Allan on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Graham (nee Bertha E. Hardy) announce the arrival of a son, on Tuesday, April 9th, in Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay.

Mrs. Robert Linn, of Rear street, has returned home after visiting her sister, Mrs. Fred Dunk, of Methven, Manitoba and her son, Mr. Ernest Linn of Chicago Ill.

Mrs. A. G. Thompson is attending the annual meeting of the Ontario Provincial Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church, Campbellford.

INTERESTING TOPIC.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 11 (Examiner Correspondence). — Under the auspices of group two, the B.Y.P.U. held their regular meeting on Monday evening. The leader, E. Clarke, gave several musical selections on the accordion. The topic, which was "The Rainbow of Promise," was given by Miss Glennis Shaw.

London has a campaign for the heating of taxicabs.

Obituary

MRS. ROBERT BEATTY

The death occurred at Chicago on Wednesday of Sophia, widow of Robert Beatty. Funeral services are to be held at McDougall and Brown's Funeral Chapel, 3045 Dundas street west, Toronto, on Thursday, at 9 p.m. Interment at Havelock on Friday.

MRS. DAVID CHAMBERLAIN

NORWOOD, April 11.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The death occurred on Tuesday, April 9, at Nicholl's Hospital, Peterborough, of Ester Bernice Andrews, beloved wife of David Harry Chamberlain, in her twenty-eighth year. The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christie Andrews, lot 9, concession 9, Dummer. Service at the house at two o'clock. Interment will be made in the Norwood cemetery.

MRS. DELBERT FLEMING

BONARLAW, April 11.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The funeral of the late Mrs. Delbert Fleming was held in St. Mark's Anglican church on Sunday afternoon last and was largely attended, many persons being unable to gain admittance to the church.

The bearers were: Messrs. Thos. Prest, Geo. S. Eastwood, W. J. Barlow, Douglas C. Brown, Gordon T. Webb and Merton Baker. Interment was made in Mont Nebo Cemetery. The church service and graveside ceremony was conducted by Rev. Canon W. G. Swayne who delivered a comforting message and paid tribute to her useful life in church and community. Many beautiful floral tributes covered the casket. Although she has not been in good health for some time, her death came as a shock to all, as she was not seriously ill until a few days before her death.

The deceased, whose maiden name was Nellie McInroy, was born in Rawdon Township forty-two years ago, the daughter of Mrs. Annie McInroy and Edward McInroy. She leaves to mourn her loss her sorrowing husband, two sons, Ralph and Ross, and her infant daughter. Also her mother, two sisters, Mrs. Wm. Robinson and Mrs. Harry Haslett, and four brothers, William, Murney, Stanley and George. A son, Ivan, predeceased her two years ago.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the sorrowing relatives.

MRS. WILLIAM O'CONNOR.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 11 (Examiner Correspondence).—Attended by large numbers of friends and relatives, the funeral of Mrs. Wm. O'Connor, whose death, after a brief illness, occurred on Monday, took place this afternoon. Mrs. O'Connor, whose maiden name was Isabella Campbell, was born in Haldimand Township 77 years ago, and had been a resident of this town for the past 49 years. She was a faithful member of the Presbyterian Church, and by her kindly ways was highly esteemed by a large circle of friends.

Besides her husband, she is survived by one son, Charles, also three brothers: Sylvester Campbell of New York State, William of Norham and Adam of Dartford. Services were conducted by the Rev. B. Simpson Black, minister of St. Andrew's Church, at the family residence, Sumpson Street. The pallbearers were: Messrs. A. J. Beavis, John Costley, William Corey, George Mason, Samuel Parks, and John H. Wallace. The remains were laid to rest in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

BRITAIN'S STAND

(Continued from Page 1)

To Italian circles here the first and most urgent things is to state flatly and outspokenly a common program of the three nations, not against Germany, but against Germany's violation of treaties.

To this, British circles reply the difference between their point of view and that of the Italians is one of method. Fundamentally they affirm, the British delegates are prepared to approach the problems in a spirit as realistic and positive as Italy's.

A Soviet-French Accord

The French, holding the same view generally, have come here with an additional card in their hands, the draft of a Franco-Soviet accord whereby the two nations would pledge themselves to common action within the framework of the League of Nations against an aggressor. The draft, drawn up by Maxim Litvinoff, Foreign Commissar of the Soviet Union, will be submitted to the League of Nations Council meeting Monday summoned by France to deal with the re-armament of Germany.

The strictest privacy for the conference was maintained about the Islet of Isola Bella with Royal Carabinieri and other special police both on the island and in the city. All communication with Isola Bella from the mainland has been cut off at Mussolini's orders and even the press, which hitherto has been welcomed, has been excluded from the palace.

CAMPBELLFORD HOG SHIPMENTS.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 11 (Examiner Correspondence). — Shipments from Campbellford stock yards as reported by Wm. H. Scott, comprised two cars hogs and part car calves, all consigned to Peterborough. Rail grade hogs brought $10.50, while buyers paid from 4 to 5 cents for calves, according to quality.

The scratch of a rose thorn caused the death within 24 hours of Grace L. Brett, who conducted a private hospital at Earlwood, Australia.

HOUSE CENTRES ON PLAN TO AID

(Continued from Page 1)

which will do whatever work is done. The whole scheme contemplates enlisting the aid of farmers and every interest concerned with the dry area.

For the present fiscal year the sum of $750,000 will be appropriated for reclamation of dry lands and for each of the following four years $1,000,000 will be provided. Five rehabilitation areas of 36 square miles each will be acquired, two in Saskatchewan and one each in Manitoba and Alberta.

On this land experiments will be carried on. It will be completely under the control of the government. Then there will be some 50 rehabilitation stations scattered over the prairies where selected farmers will demonstrate proper methods of farming under drought conditions with some government aid. Some thousand small dams may be built on individual farms with slight assistance from public funds, and the government may construct a few large dams in ranch areas to hold up spring freshets and keep the moisture at home for the dry months of the summer.

Tree planting and grass seeding will be fostered on a large scale. Trees, break the sweep of the dry winds and grasses give fibre to the soil, prevent drifting and preserve moisture.

Resolution of Loyalty

Today the House will be asked to pass a resolution of loyalty and congratulation to the king on the occasion of his jubilee and will hear a statement from Hon. Hugh Stewart, Minister of Public Works, on government building activities. An announcement is also expected as to the date of the Easter adjournment, whether this week or next.

Finance Minister E. N. Rhodes yesterday introduced a bill restoring one-half of the 10 per cent salary cut for civil servants. In addition, the bill raised from $1,000 to $1,200 the salaries from which there will be no deductions.

A companion bill, levying a five-percent income tax on judges, army, naval and air officers and Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers, also was introduced.

The Finance Minister told opposition members the government hoped to consider in the near future, restoration statutory increases, which have been suspended for some time.

Members heard yesterday that although Prime Minister R. B. Bennett has not yet left his apartment he has been holding frequent conferences with members of the Government in the past week and taking an increasingly active part in the administration. He is expected to take some outdoor exercise today or to-morrow for the first time since Feb 24, when he was taken ill.

Passage Booking Made.

Tentative booking has been made for the Prime Minister on steamship sailing from New York at the end of next week, taking him to the King's Silver Jubilee celebrations in London. But so far as could be learned, definite decision on the sailing had not been reached.

Mr. Bennett has had several conferences with members of the Cabinet over the works legislation now being drafted to put many thousands back to work on Government-financed projects as well as in private enterprise, through co-operation with the Government, was discussed at length at the noon Cabinet Council and again yesterday afternoon at a special meeting called while the House was sitting.

Introduction of the works measure is expected before motion is made for the Easter adjournment, which may come this week, but is more likely to be delayed until the eve of the Easter holiday. When adjournment does come it will be until May 20, by which time it is expected the Prime Minister will have returned from London ready to resume his place in the House and at the head of the Government.

Complete Recovery Seen.

Mr. Bennett is said to be making a complete recovery, and only a further breakdown or appearance of symptoms which would make it advisable for him to remain in retirement will prevent his heading the party in the forthcoming general election campaign, according to official pronouncements.

Late August or early September is believed the likely time for a general election. Announcement yesterday that August 19 had been fixed as the date for by-elections to fill the six vacancies in the House of Commons had no significance. The date chosen to comply with the statute comes the day after the House would have been dissolved automatically by lapse of the statutory life of Parliament, even if official dissolution had not been effected at that time.

The 1934 surplus for the Federated Malay States was nearly $7,500,000.

SYRUP PRICES NEAR NEW LOWS

Canada's National Tree Providing Bountiful Harvest For Tappers.

$1-$2 PER GALLON.

(By the Canadian Press.)

Bright sunny days and cold nights that persisted into the late spring this year sent Canada's national tree, the maple, into such profuse production of sap, that tappers throughout Ontario have been working full time collecting a yield that in one section of the province threatens to force prices to all-time lows.

Everywhere except in the district around Brockville and Belleville, prices have held up on a par with or slightly lower than last year. Kitchener reports quotations at $2.00 a gallon retail compared with $2.25 to $2.50 a gallon last year. Ottawa district tappers are marketing their product at from $1.25 to $1.50 a gallon, with quality higher than last year's flow. The price at Belleville yesterday was $1.50 a gallon. But Leeds and Grenville producers in the Brockville area are bucking a failing market. Ideal weather conditions and the eagerness of farmers to realize on their crop at once have forced prices below the dollar mark and a large surplus is reported to be accumulating. Sugar prices so far have held at last year's level of 20 to 25 cents a pound but it is expected they too will fall into line with syrup.

HENRY'S CHARGE SETS MEMBERS

(Continued from Page 1)

reading at 5.30 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon.

Eight Bills Advance.

The session last night was an anti-climax to the sharp exchanges which occurred between the two leaders over the note just before dinner adjournment and spectators who crowded the galleries had a dull time while the House tediously plowed through second reading of eight bills. A brief flare-up just before adjournment when Leopold MacAulay (Cons., York South) attacked Minister of Welfare David Croll's bill to amend the contraverted elections act provided the only excitement.

Declaring the bill a "dastardly" attempt to interfere with the law, Mr. MacAulay drew from the Minister the admission the bill would have the effect of setting aside a pending election protest against Charles W. Cox (Lib., Port Arthur). Conservatives forced a division on the bill, but it was given second reading by 45-16.

Shortly after midnight, the Government brought down a series of bills, chief of which was Mr. Croll's bill to provide no municipality might undertake capital expenditures without authority of the Municipal Board. Refusal of the board could not apply when a general vote of the electors had approved any undertaking, said the Minister.

Says Bill Not Mentioned

Recalling members of his family were present in the chamber Tuesday night and urged him to go home, Mr. Henry said he wrote a note to the Premier asking what bills were liable to come up and received a reply which did not mention the power bill.

"If the power bill had been mentioned, I would not have thought of leaving the House," said the former premier.

"I tell you, you are not telling the truth," replied Mr. Hepburn to the opposition leader's contention the note did not include reference to the bill.

"A man that has no more principle than that should not be in the Prime Minister's seat," said the opposition leader.

"You don't know what principle is" retorted Mr. Hepburn. "I wish the rules of the House permitted me to say what I think of you."

"There aren't enough words in the English language to express what I think of you" Mr. Henry shot back.

Declaring if the Government members wished him to leave the house for good, he would do so, Mr. Henry said he was concerned with the Premier "who deliberately deceived me last night."

"He says I wrote him a note indicating the power bill would not come up in committee" Mr. Hepburn told newspapermen after the House adjourned for dinner, "and as a result of that note he went home and wasn't able to take part in the discussion of the measure when it did go into committee. Well, if he can produce that scrap of paper and prove to the House that in it I failed to mention the power bill among other bills I indicated to him would be called, I'll resign my seat here immediately."

Other bills introduced by Mr. Croll provided for consolation by city councils of tax arrears more than a year old so property owners could pay these over a period of years, lowering from 10 to six percent of penalties for late tax payment and formal constitution of the newly-created Department of Municipal Affairs.

Attorney-General A. W. Roebuck introduced a bill to extend the Mortgagors' and Purchasers' Relief Act for another year. Another bill made appointments to the Workmen's Compensation Board tenable at the pleasure of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council. The legislation will be retroactive to last October and serve to validate government appointments to the board.

New Bondholders' Right

Reorganization of companies by giving bondholders the right to take over defunct organization by accepting compensation other than cash, subject to the approval of the court, was provided in a third measure Mr. Roebuck introduced.

Second reading was given Minister of Highways T. B. McQuesten's bill to remove from motor car owners liability for injury to free passengers. Other bills provided changes in the Mental Hospitals Acts, Loans to Cold Storage Houses, Prohibition of Rebates by Milk Distributors, and appeal to a Supreme Court Judge by a distributor who had a license refused or cancelled.

Campbellford A.Y.P.A. Plans Dance And Social

CAMPBELLFORD, April 11.—(Examiner Correspondence.) — The Young People of Christ church held their regular meeting on Monday evening with the president, Alton Dunk, occupying the chair. It was decided to invite the Marmora A.Y.P.A. to present their play here during the early part of May. Arrangements were also made for a dance, and to go on a hike on Good Friday evening.

One of the features of the evening was a debate, "Resolved, that modern dress should be reformed." The affirmative was taken by Alton Dunk and Ray Ramsden and the negative by Robert Virgin; the negative side winning out on points. This was followed by a musical program. Guitar selection by W. Beaudoin; vocal trio, Mrs. James Benor, Mrs. Sidney Hopping and Miss Mayme Benor; musical selections by The Toad Town Trio,' Sidney Hopping, Richard Ramsden and Eddie Roberts; comic sketch, 'A Bicycle Built for Two,' by Mrs. J. O. Benor and Mrs. S. Hopping, accompanied by Miss M. Benor. recitation by Alton Dunk; solo by Richard Ramsden.

A delightful evening's entertainment was brought to a close with the singing of the National Anthem.

More than 8000 men in Scotland are being given government aid in developing gardens.

NEW YELLOW LABEL 28c 1/2 lb.

'SALADA' TEA

BROWN LABEL - 33¢ 1/2 lb.
ORANGE PEKOE - 40¢ 1/2 lb.

LOBLAW GROCETERIAS CO., LIMITED
Grocery Specials on Sale April 11th to 17th

RINSO "Soaks Clothes Whiter" 21¢ Large Pkg.

Special "The Health Soap" LIFEBUOY SOAP Cake 7¢

CROSSED FISH SARDINES 2 Tins 29c

GILLETT'S LYE Flaked and Perfumed Tin 11c

Special SWIFT'S SILVERLEAF PURE LARD 1-lb. Carton 13¢ A Good Companion to

Special CRYSTAL Brand PASTRY FLOUR 24-lb. Bag 59¢

TEA BISK Add milk or water only 20-oz. Pkg. 17c

RED RIVER CEREAL Pkg. 22c Nature's Food for Young and Old

Magic BAKING POWDER 1-lb. Tin 28c

Special 1-lb. Tin TODDY 39¢ "A Meal in a Glass"

Special GLENWOOD DICED CARROTS 2 No. 2 Squat Tins 13¢

Special SILVER RIBBON TOMATO JUICE No. 2½ Tin 9¢

Special AYLMER Tomato CATSUP 12-oz. Bottle 10¢

Special LIBBY'S Delicious PORK and BEANS 2 16-oz. Tins 11¢

Special CARESSE CLEANSING TISSUE 200 Sheet Package 14¢

Special Florida Marsh Seedless GRAPEFRUIT Large Size 3 for 17c

New Crop, California Lemons Large Size DOZ. 19¢

This way to wash dishes saves hands

WHY NOT wash dishes the easiest way—with Rinso! It saves time and work, but most important of all—it saves your hands.

Rinso gives rich, lasting suds—even in hardest water. These lively suds soak out dirt, save scrubbing and boiling. Clothes come 4 or 5 shades whiter—last 2 or 3 times longer. Get Rinso at your grocer's today.

Rinso

MILLIONS USE RINSO IN TUB, WASHER AND DISHPAN

If you like Corn Flakes you'll prefer QUAKER CORN FLAKES

Guaranteed Better Flavour

SOVIET PLANS BETTER FORM OF GOVERNMENT

Also Increasing the Power of Its Great Military Machine.

THREE REFORMS DUE

Red Army Has Almost Doubled in Size in Past Two Years.

MOSCOW, April 11 — (By Central Press Canadian).—Soviet Russia is bending its present efforts toward two main objectives—a more democratic form of government—and an increasingly powerful military machine.

The extent to which this communistic government has advanced in both directions was indicated by reports at the all-union congress of Soviets at Moscow.

Resolutions which were adopted at this convention will give Russia a much more democratic government, though not to the extent in effect in western nations. Although militarism may seem to conflict with their democratic trend in government, the Soviets are not aiming at true liberal political reform.

Direct election will be held for the present all-powerful All-Union Central Soviet executive committee in place of the indirect pyramid system now in effect.

Another move will be to abolish the inequality of town and rural representation. Under the present constitution, the basis of representation in the all-union congress is one delegate to each 25,000 voters in towns and cities and one to each 125,000 in rural districts. This disparity is due to the fact that the great farming population has only recently been educated into the Soviet system.

Three Reforms Due.

The third major reform will be to replace the system of voting by a show of hands with a secret system which will allow voters to express their choice freely.

This democratization of the Soviet government may be attributed largely to the collective farming plan. This program enabled leaders to reach the rural masses, introduce them to the Soviet doctrines, and knit them into the Soviet system. Peasants are fast disappearing as a class and are becoming one with the great mass of industrial workers.

At the same time, Josef Stalin, dictator, has been building up a military machine which rivals those of the great powers of the world.

Army Doubled in Size.

The red army has almost doubled in size in the past two years and the machinery of war increased from 300 to 700 per cent. in various departments. Russia now has a standing army of about 1,000,000 men, nearly twice the number bearing arms in 1932. An idea of its comparative strength is indicated by the fact that Britain has an active army of only 199,000; Germany, 100,500; United States, 135,069.

In the past two years, Russia's aviation division has been increased 300 per cent.; tanks more than 700 per cent.; light and heavy artillery, 200 per cent., and machine guns for aeroplanes and tanks, 700 per cent., it was anounced at the all-union congress.

Infinite care and vast sums of money have been spent on the red army which is the pride of the Soviet regime. Soldiers are favored above other classes of the population and receive many privileges which attract the youth of the nation.

No Military Distinctions.

One of the notable distinctions of the red army is the fact that difference of rank is minimized. Officers wear no gold braid or epaulets and have only a modest insignia on their uniform collar to mark their rank. This precaution apparently has worked to advantage for the morale and spirit of the army is maintained at high level.

This huge military machine is being built up with a purpose Russia fears Japan in the Far East and anticipates an open break of hostilities on the western Siberian front at any time.

Both goals toward which Soviet Russia is striving are stupendous objectives for a nation with its population and territorial expanse. Nevertheless, the expanding Soviet military machine and the progress made toward bringing Russia's millions into active participation in the communistic system indicate that Stalin and his cohorts are making their dreams a reality.

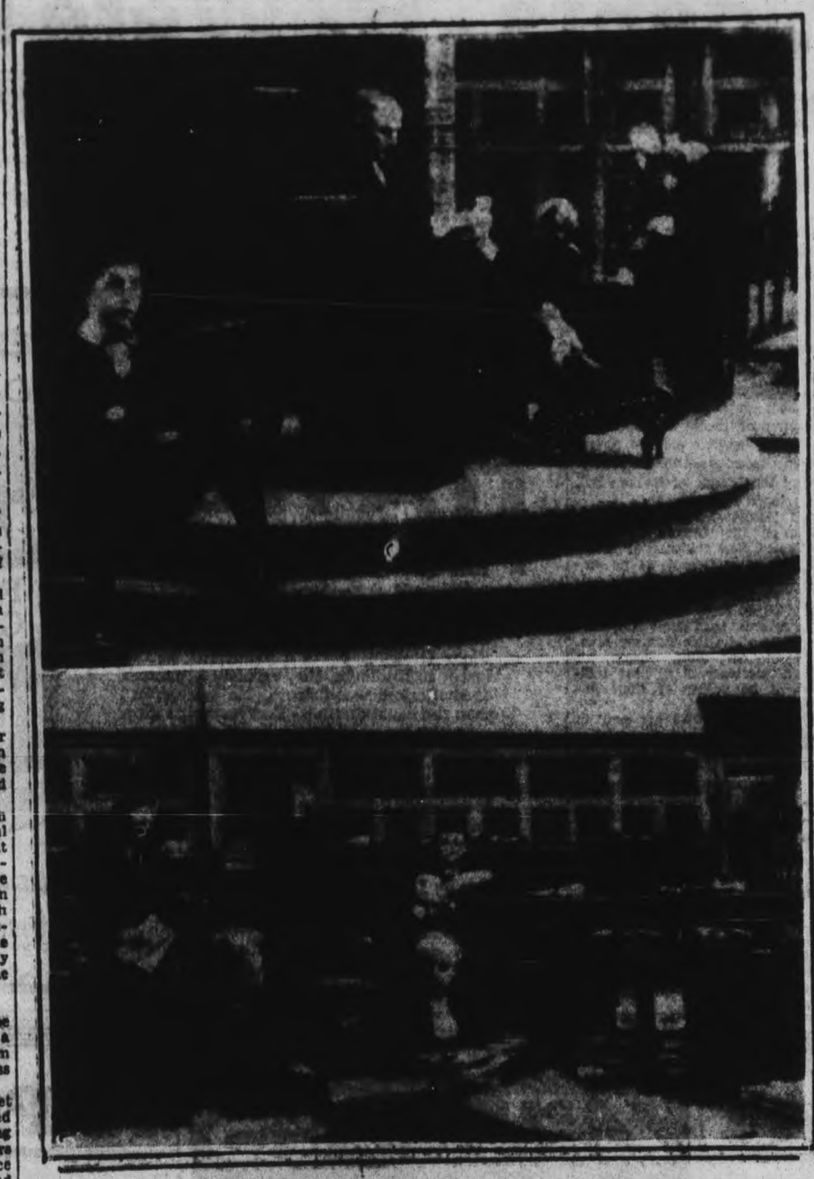
If Ruptured Try This Free

Apply It To Any Rupture, Old or Recent, Large or Small, and You Are on the Road That Has Convinced Thousands.

Sent Free to Prove This.

Every ruptured man or woman should write at once to W. S. Rice, Main St., Adams, N.Y., for a free trial of his wonderful Method. Just put it on and the rupture is held securely and comfortably. Don't neglect to send for the free trial of this Appliance. What is the use of wearing ill-fitting, uncomfortable supports all your life, if you don't have to? Why run the risk and the dangers from a small and innocent little rupture, the kind that has thrown thousands on the operating table? A host of men and women are daily running such risk just because their ruptures do not hurt or prevent them from getting around. Write at once for this free trial, as it is certainly a wonderful thing, and has aided in securing reports that were as big as a man's two fists. Try and write at once to W. S. Rice, Inc., 179-E Main St., Adams, N.Y.

"Demosthenes" Hurl Rhetoric At Empty Benches



According to the dictionary, a filibuster is one who wages unauthorized warfare against a foreign state; one who delays legislation. That is what the Conservative Opposition in the Ontario Legislature did for 37 hours without cease over the Government's Hydro Bill. In fact, they went at it so long that the Government demanded that the sun stand still in order that Monday could remain Monday all day Tuesday so that Monday's business could be discussed on Tuesday. When the Opposition got crossed in their signals, the Government seized the opportunity and put an end to the debate for the moment, the Bill going into second reading and committee. These candid carema shots taken in the Legislature show (below) Col. William H. Price, former Attorney-General, reading a speech to empty chairs. Beside him sits Opposition Leader George S. Henry. Behind and to the right sits Farquhar Oliver, U.F.O., while at back is W. A. Dickson. At the Clerk's table in front is Major Alec Lewis, Clerk of the House left) and Charles Bulmer, Assistant Clerk. The photo at top shows the man who had the toughest job of the record-breaking session, Speaker N. O. Hipel. Seated on the dais is one of the page boys, who were the only ones to benefit by the filibuster when Premier Hepburn decided that their pay should be raised in view of the all-night sessions. Opposition benchers can be seen plotting dire things for the Government in the background.

EASTER THOUGHTS THEME OF ADDRESS

Rev. J. E. J. Millyard Addresses Easter Meeting of George Street W.M.S.

The Easter meeting of the W.M.S. of George Street United Church was held in the board room yesterday afternoon, with an attendance of sixty.

The president, Mrs. W. H. Morton, occupied the chair, and the opening service was very impressive with silent prayer and Mrs. W. H. Cunningham at the piano playing softly, "There is a Green Hill Far Away."

Group C, with Mrs. H. G. Walker leading had charge of the Devotional exercises. This consisted of a beautiful Easter program which included the singing of verses of the hymn, "Christ The Loard is Risen To-day," intercepted with readings by Mrs. Purdy and Mrs. Sutherland followed by prayer by Mrs. Puttenham. Mrs. S. Armstrong gave a reading entitled, "Without a Spot" and Mrs. J. E. J. Millyard led in prayer. Mrs. B. Cutmore rendered a very beautiful and appropriate solo "Calvary," accompanied by Mrs. W. A. Greenslade.

Rev. J. E. J. Millyard was the speaker of the afternoon, taking as his theme, "Easter Thoughts."

A hearty vote of thanks to those taking part in the program was voiced by Mrs. Richard Parnell and seconded by Mrs. G. C. Staples.

The business part of the meeting included the secretary's report, read by Mrs. Routley in the absence of Miss E. Might, and the financial statement given by Mrs. H. Dulmage. Mrs. Girvin reported for the sick and visiting that 90 visits had been made during the month.

Mrs. W. H. Cunningham gave a report of the annual treat, which the W.M.S. had tendered the Fidelis Mission Band.

The following canvassers for the Bible Society were appointed: Mrs. H. Dulmage, Mrs. W. Flannery, Mrs. J. Douglas, Mrs. Wellwood, Mrs. Sutherland, and Mrs. Hull.

Mrs. H. Girvin was appointed as assistant for the Strangers' committee.

After some discussion it was decided not to hold a Mother and Daughter banquet this year, but instead to give a free-will offering. This was thought best for this year as so many activities are scheduled. In June the members will be called upon to held with the Bay of Quinte Conference, which is being held here. Plans were also discussed for celebrating the 100th anniversary of George Street Church, to be held in October, and a committee composed of Mrs. C. W. Coon, Mrs. E. E. Harvey, Mrs. A. I. Brown and Mrs. W. H. Morton was appointed to represent the W.M.S. The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Millyard.

C.S.E.T. News

The C.S.E.T. Committee met on Monday night at the Y.M.C.A. Leo Copp was in the chair and suggested that the returns due to each Sunday school from the share-selling campaign should be paid to the boys' department in that church.

The matter of factory visitation during Easter week was discussed, and J. McClenaghan was appointed to look after it. The new Trail Ranger habite was reported and will consist of:

Shirt: Grey flannel, worn with sleeves rolled to the elbows, collar attached, pockets on breast.

Tie: Solid navy blue, four-in-hand. (Groups are free to choose other solid colors such as maroon or brown).

Beret: Dark blue with the small crest on the side.

Trousers: As selected by the group with blue as the favored color.

Stockings (if breeches or shorts are worn): Black.

Insignia: Badge crest, small crest, chevrons, degree emblems, membership pin, and tie pin (if desired).

It was decided to hold the camp week-end immediately preceding the week at camp.

An interesting feature of the meeting was the fact that it was more a meeting of the boys' officers than the leaders, and it is hoped that it will develop a mixed gathering of leaders and boy leaders.

Choir Practices

MURRAY STREET CHOIR.
Practise to-night at 7.30 o'clock.

ST. JOHN'S CHOIR.
Rehearsal this evening in the church at 7 sharp for boy choristers and 7.30 for adult members. It is important that all attend promptly and bring copies of Cantata.

KNOX CHOIR
Full rehearsal to-night at 7 o'clock sharp.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH CHOIR.
Rehearsal to-night at 8.00 o'clock as usual. All members present.

ALL SAINTS' CHOIR.
Practise to-night at 7.30 o'clock. Boys' choir at 7 p.m.

Yesterday's Deaths

(By the Canadian Press.)

Orlando, Fla.— J. C. E. Trudeau, 48, vice-president of the Montreal Royals Baseball Club of the Internattoinal League.

Ottawa. — Brother Charles Tremblay, 76, lay brother of the Oblates and connected with the University of Ottawa for more than 40 years.

Ottawa— John A. Brouse, 86, well known in Ottawa business circles for many years.

Quebec.—Charles E. Gauvin, 81, Dean of Quebec land surveyors and secretary of the Nationla Battlefields Commission.

Halifax.— G. A. C. Cooper, chief surveyor of the London Salvage Association, Montreal.

OSHAWA CLUB COMING TO CITY

Departing from their usual weekly custom, members of Peterborough Kiwanis Club are this Friday evening holding a dinner meeting, instead of a luncheon get-together. The entire program is to be provided by Oshawa Kiwanis Club.

VIGOR, VITALITY, STAMINA, THROUGH NEW NERVE FORCE

Your nerves control every function of your body and brain. When your nerves have weakened, your stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, cease functioning properly, robbing you of body strength and mental vigor. You lack "pep", your mind becomes sluggish, you are easily depressed.

Kola Astier, wonderful stimulant-tonic developed by Dr. P. Astier of Paris, contains ingredients that act directly on the nerve centers and promote new nerve force which speeds up the functions of every organ. Your heart action is strengthened, blood circulation increased, liver and kidneys activated, digestion improved. Mental sluggishness disappears. Vim, vigor, cheerfulness, soon return.

"Kola Astier restores lost strength," writes one doctor. Another doctor writes, "I have obtained most satisfactory results with Kola Astier in cases of physical and mental overwork, nervous exhaustion and general run-down conditions."

Get a bottle of Kola Astier from your druggist TO-DAY without risk. Your money back if that first bottle doesn't help you.

Kola Astier is harmless and not habit forming. More than 10,000,000 bottles have been used during the past few years, mostly as a result of doctors' recommendations.

Special 3 Day FOOD SALE at MASON'S 7 GROCETERIAS

Sir Oswald Rabbit says that Easter dinner is an important occasion—and he adds: "Be sure to do your Easter Shopping at MASON'S GROCETERIA, where you can be certain of the Best at the Lowest Price."

REDPATH GRANULATED Sugar 10 lbs. 50c
ICING SUGAR, 3 lbs. 25c

OAT PUFFS—The New Breakfast Cereal - pkt. 9c

BACON—Machine Sliced, Special Cure - lb. 25c

MASON'S ORANGE PEKOE TEA—Try This - lb. 45c

"Silver Moon" Pastry FLOUR 7 lb. 23c 24 lb. 69c
DOMESTIC SHORTENING, 2 lbs. 23c

Sweet Tender PEAS No. 2 Tins 2 for 19c
AYLMER INFANT FOODS, 2 tins 19c

ORANGE PIPPIN APPLES Eating or Cooking ½ peck 25c

JELLY POWDERS Shirriff's or McLaren's 5 pkts. 23c

LARGE RIPE BANANAS - - - - 3 lbs. 23c

Grape Nut Flakes Free Balloon with Each Package..... 2 for 23c
EGG WHEAT NOODLES, pkt. 10c

Bill Businessman insists that in the long run it's Coffee that makes the meal—and insists that MASON'S SPECIAL BLEND is the one sure bet in town. Try it yourself to-day — only 35c a Pound.

Annie Housewife claims that Good Eggs and Good Butter are important to Good Meals. She follows her own advice and always buys hers from MASON'S GROCETERIA.

Soft Toilet PAPER Buy 3 Rolls for 25c and Get 1 Roll for 1c

PRUNES—Large Medium Size, New Fruit - 2 lbs. 25c

LIBBY'S GRAPEFRUIT JUICE Large Tin only 15c

PEERLESS SOAP No Wrappers—Just Quality 8 bars 25c

Hawes FLOOR GLOSS Pints—Reg. 59c for 49c Quarts—Reg. 99c for 89c

SHIRRIFF'S ORANGE MARMALADE 4-lb. Tin 58c

HEINZ CREAM OF SOUPS 2 Med. Tins 25c

MAGIC BAKING POWDER lb. 28c

FRY'S HOT CHOCOLATE ½ lb. 23c

PRINCESS FLAKES PURE SAFE FOR FINE SILKS & FINE WOOLLENS FOR EVERY HOUSEHOLD WASHING PURPOSE
2 PKGS. FOR 27¢

KEEP THAT SCHOOLGIRL COMPLEXION by Using PALMOLIVE
5 Cakes for 23c
THE OLIVE OIL BEAUTY SOAP

NOTED NOVELIST ANNA GREEN DIES

Mother of American Detective Mystery Thrillers Started With "Leavenworth Case.

WRITING 56 YEARS.

BUFFALO, N.Y., April 11. (AP). Anna Katherine Green, mother of the American detective mystery thriller, died to-day after an illness of several months. She was 68 years old.

Miss Green, in private life Mrs. Charles Rohlfs, was the author of 27 novels. Her first and most prominent work was "The Leavenworth Case," written 56 years ago. However, her last book, "The Step on the Stair," published 11 years ago when she was 77, was her favorite work.

Miss Green wrote "The Leavenworth Case" to attract attention to her poetry. Instead, she became a popular fiction writer.

Readers of her first book were astonished when they learned they were incorrect in their belief Anna Katharine Green was the name of a man. The question was even debated in the press of the country, until it was proven the author was a woman.

Miss Green and her husband celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last Nov. 29. He is a widely-known furniture designer.

International Hockey Game At Atlantic City

HALIFAX, April 11 (CP) — A major obstacle looms in the way of a series between Canada and the United States for the North American amateur hockey championship, though the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association is all for it.

The difficulty, President E. A. Gilroy told the annual meeting of the association to-day, lies in getting ice for the encounter. Ice has been removed at New York, Chicago and Boston for the season, he told the delegates.

The association decided to try Atlantic City after President Gilroy had said ice might be found there. Negotiations will be entered into with the United States governing body with a view to having the Allan Cup winners meet the American champions.

Results:

From a little spark may burst a mighty flame.

—DANTE

So may a small Classified Ad bring the owner many inquiries and sales. Something useless to you may be much needed by another. Let them know through the Want Ads.

Phone 1600

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY EXAMINER

66 Drivers Figured In Accidents - 62 Were Males

36 WERE HURT MOTOR CRASHES CITY STREETS

Seventeen of Those Injured Were Pedestrians, Annual Report Shows.

ONE PROVED FATAL

Thirty-Three Accidents Occurred When Weather Conditions Good.

Pedestrians are more in danger of personal injury from accidents on Peterborough streets than motorists.

Thirty-six persons were injured in motor vehicle accidents on local streets during 1934, it is shown in a detailed report the Motor Vehicles Branch, and 17 of those injured were pedestrians.

Nine motorists were injured in collision with other automobiles. The bicyclist on local streets is also in a hazardous position, four cyclists being injured last year in collisions with motor cars. Three persons were injured when cars collided with railway trains, and one was injured when a motorcycle crashed with a motor vehicle. One was injured in a collision with a fixed object, and another motorist, strangely enough, was injured in a "non-collision accident."

Cyclist Killed

One person, a cyclist, was killed in motor vehicle accidents here last year.

In all there were 44 accidents reported to the Motor Vehicles Branch by city police, in accordance with requirements. Thirty-six persons were injured and property damage was suffered in 14 accidents. In 1933 there were 42 persons injured in motor accidents, 17 being pedestrians, 16 motorists and eight cyclists.

Twenty-two of those persons injured last year were males and 14 were females. According to ages those injured were: two under five years, six between the ages of five and 14; 16 between the ages of 15 and 35; 7 between theages of 36 and 54; one between 55 and 64; and one over 65 years of age.

Thirty-three of the accidents occurred when weather conditions were clear, and in these clear weather crashes 21 persons were injured and there were 11 cases of property damage. Weather conditions for the remainder of the accidents were: two when it was cloudy, one in fog, six when it was raining, two in snow or sleet. The weather was clear when the one fatal accident happened. Sixteen of the accidents occurred in daylight, five in dusk and 23 at night.

26 At Intersections

Of the 44 accidents, 26 happened at street intersections, 14 between intersections, one on a straight road, one on a private driveway, and two at unguarded railway crossings. Forty-two of the crashes took place on paved or hard-surfaced roads.

Condition of the roadway for 27 of the accidents is reported as dry, eight happened on wet roadways, four on snowy roads and five when the road surface was icy. Eighteen persons were injured in accidents when the road was dry, five on wet surface, three on snowy surface and three on icy roads. In all the accidents the road was reported to be in good condition.

More accidents, 13, happened on Saturday than any other day of the week.

62 Male Drivers

Of the 66 drivers who figured in accidents, 62 were males. Two of the drivers were under 16 years of age, 20 between the age of 16 and 24, 22 between the age of 25 and 50, 11 between 41 and 54 years, 1 between 55 and 64, 1 over 65 and in 9 cases the age of the driver was not stated.

Dealing with the cause of the accidents, the report states that in five cases the speed was too fast for road or traffic conditions, three were on the wrong side of the road, 12 did not have the right of way, and one failed to signal.

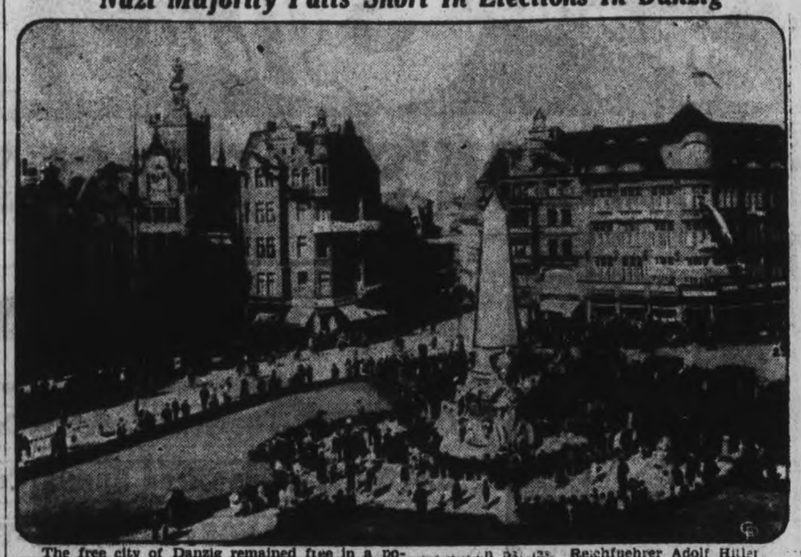
Fifty-six cars were travelling straight when accidents happened, eight turning left, two backing, and three were standing still.

Fifty-eight of the vehicles in the accidents were passenger cars, eight were commercial and one was a taxicab. The condition of 67 of the cars was apparently good. Insurance was carried on 21 of the vehicles in the accidents, 31 were uninsured and no details regarding insurance was given in 17 of the cases.

Giving details of what pedestrians were doing when they were injured, the report states: one was crossing an intersection with the signal, one against the signal and three at intersections where there is no signal. Two were crossing between intersections; one was getting off or on another vehicle; five were children playing on the street. Three were injured when they came from behind parked cars.

None of the pedestrians injured were intoxicated, but one had a physical defect; five were confused by traffic; the view of three was obstructed, while seven were quite normal.

Nazi Majority Falls Short In Elections In Danzig



The free city of Danzig remained free in a political as well as geographical sense as final election results left the Nazis seven per cent short of the majority sought to change the constitution and abolish opposition parties. Reichfuehrer Adolf Hitler to return Danzig to Reich is set back. The city was made free under Treaty of Versailles and has been bone of contention ever since.

Rev. Dr. F. E. Malott Called To Brockville

WINNIPEG, April 11 (C.P.). — Effective June 30, the Wall Street United Church at Brockville, Ont., and Young United Church here will exchange pastors

At a special meeting of the official board of Young Church last night, Dr. F. E. Malott announced he had accepted a call to the Brockville ministry. It also was announced Rev. W. E. Donnelly of Brockville had accepted the call extended by the church here.

Dr. Malott came to Young Church in 1929 from Bridge Street United Church at Belleville, Ont. Prior to that he had held pastorates at Orillia, Peterborough, Chatham and London. He is a native of Essex County, Ont.

Prior to taking up his Belleville charge, Mr. Donnelly held pastorates at Amherstburg, Exeter and Stratford.

HALF-WAY MARK IN "Y" DRIVE

Tribute is Paid to the Memory of Dr. H. W. L. MaHood by Canvassers.

CAMPAIGN REPORTS.

Tribute was paid to the memory of the late Rev. Dr. H. W. L. MaHood at a supper meeting held at the Y.M.C.A. last evening for workers in the big annual drive for funds which is now under way. Brief reference was made by Charles Shaw, campaign chairman, to Dr. MaHood's connection with the "Y" activities, and a period of silence was followed by prayer led by the Rev. C. D. Daniel.

Reports were received from divisional majors and team captains revealing that the campaign is moving steadily forward towards its objective of $7,500 required for this year's budget requirements.

By last night, it was stated 52½ per cent of the total allotment had been subscribed with Capain C. J. Ray's team of three men in the lead with 95 per cent. Runners-up in the race for funds were the teams captained by T. A. Mackay and C. M. Rishor.

Captain W. L. Ferguson's team has the distinction of having made the highest number of calls; while Captain J. F. Reed's squad leads with the highest number of subscriptions.

The campaikn is scheduled to close to-night, when it is hoped by the organizers that they will be in the position to report that the objective has been attained. It was stated that the campaign is well ahead, as compared with the same period last year.

A brief program was contributed to be Miss Edna Forrester and Ed. Short, vocalists.

MISSION CIRCLE ELECTS OFFICERS

Mrs. S. Malsch is Elected President of Murray Street Group.

The annual meeting of the Young Women's Mission Circle of Murray Street Church took the form of a supper meeting held at the home of Miss Wilma Campbell, Elias avenue, when reports were heard from the various branches of the missionary work, and the following officers for the coming year were elected: President, Mrs. S. Malsch; vice-president, Miss Alice Johnson; recording secretary, Miss E. Warren Kee; corresponding secretary, Miss Margaret Eastwood; treasurer, Miss Clara Doughty; social convenor, Mrs. H. R. Scott; work committee, Miss Isabel Scott and Miss Wilma Campbell; pianist, Mrs. L. Gould; group leaders, Mrs. E. Armstrong, Mrs. D V. Canning; Misses Kitchen and Marjorie Jackson.

Miss E. Warren Kee in making her report mentioned the interest taken during the past year in the meetings, and of the special speakers heard during the term. A large box consisting of mounted pictures, knitted scarfes, bags and various other articles for use in the hospitals and schools in India, was sent last June and another well on the way for shipment this spring. At Christmas time a box of gifts was mailed to the students at Grande Ligne who were in residence at the school during the Christmas festivities.

Two teas, a rummage sale and a crockinose party helped to make up the total of $121 raised during the year.

$200 CHAIN STORE TAX

LACHINE, Que., April 11. (CP). From May 1 on, all chain stores within the limits of Lachine will have to pay a tax of $200 to the city, according to a resolution passed by the municipal council.

SUPERVISORS DEMANDED

WALKERVILLE, Ont., April 11. (CP).—Expenditure curtailments, as suggested by H. L. Cummings, Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs for Ontario, will not be carried out unless Walkerville is placed under a board of supervisors, it was intimated at a meeting of the Walkerville town council, when a tax rate of 35 mills was struck for 1935.

BRITISH PRESS GETS TOGETHER

Express Hopes For Tangible Plan to Fortify European Peace.

IN FOLD OF LEAGUE.

LONDON, April 11 (AP)—The organs of all three of Britain's political parties—Conservative, Liberal and Labor—submerged their habitual differences to-day in expressing the hope a tangible plan to fortify European security within the framework of the League of Nations will be developed at Stresa.

Lord Robert Cecil, one of the authors of the League covenant, contributed New evidence of favorable eLague sentiment as he announced results of the "peace ballot" he sponsored which has polled some 5,000,000 votes since November.

The returns, Lord Cecil said, have given Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonld and Sir John Simon, his Foreign Secretary, " a clear indication of he desires of their fellow citizens."

He pointed out 97.2 per cent. of those voting favored adherence to the League, 94 per cent. economic measures against an aggressor nation, and 74 per cent. military sanctions if necessary.

Mixed reactions greeted announcement of the Franco-Russian plans for an alliance, to be adhered to by Czechoslovakia and the Little Entente. Some spuroes asserted the French project does not conflict with Great Britain's security proposals.

The Times gave the mutual assistance idea its qualified approval.

The Dail Herald, Labor's organ, uphols the Franco-Russian project as "a model," but The News-Chronicle, Liberal, urges strengthening the League covenant itself as an alternative to military accords.

INVITATION TO INDIA.

NEW DELHIA, India, April 11.—(C.P. Cable).—The Indian Cricket Board of Control has invited West Indies cricket authorities to send a team to India in the winter of 1937-38. The matter will be discussed by India's delegates to the Imperial cricket conference with the representatives of the West Indies in London this summer.

FIRST UP RIVER

QUEBEC, April 11. (CP).—Barring unforeseen circumstances, the Marisa Thorden, first ocean vessel to come up the St. Lawrence river, will reach the port of Quebec to-day according to reports here. First ocean vessel to enter Quebec harbor last year was the Hadlotis, docking April 26.

NO RUBBING Required!

Floors that Gleam in 20 Minutes—NO POLISHING

HAWES' FLOOR GLOSS

THE modern, convenient, and easy way to keep your floors bright and shining without rubbing or polishing. HAWES' Floor Gloss imparts a beautiful lasting lustre to linoleum, tile, varnished, painted or shellacked wood floors. No more effort than the usual dusting. You just wipe it on—and let it dry. Lasts longer than ordinary polish. HAWES' FLOOR GLOSS makes a complete protecting film over the floor—prevents dirt from being ground in—makes it easier to wipe up the dust, or wash the floor if desired. Try HAWES' FLOOR GLOSS on your own floors. You'll never want to be without it. G-1R

Made by The Makers of HAWES' FLOOR WAX

WIPE IT ON—LET IT DRY

SPECIAL THIS WEEK — Buy HAWES' FLOOR GLOSS in pint or quart tins at Special Low Introductory Prices. Ask your dealer or watch his advertising.

SHOP AT ZELLERS IT PAYS!

RETAILERS TO THRIFTY CANADIANS

Warrendale 'BLUE LABEL' Shirts

SUPERIOR QUALITY COTTON BROADCLOTH – MERCERIZED FINISH
TESTED, PRE-SHRUNK MATERIAL – TESTED FAST DYES

Men who demand superior quality will ask for the Warrendale "Blue Label" Shirt. The Blue Label on each Shirt is your guarantee of satisfactory wear and satisfactory appearance.

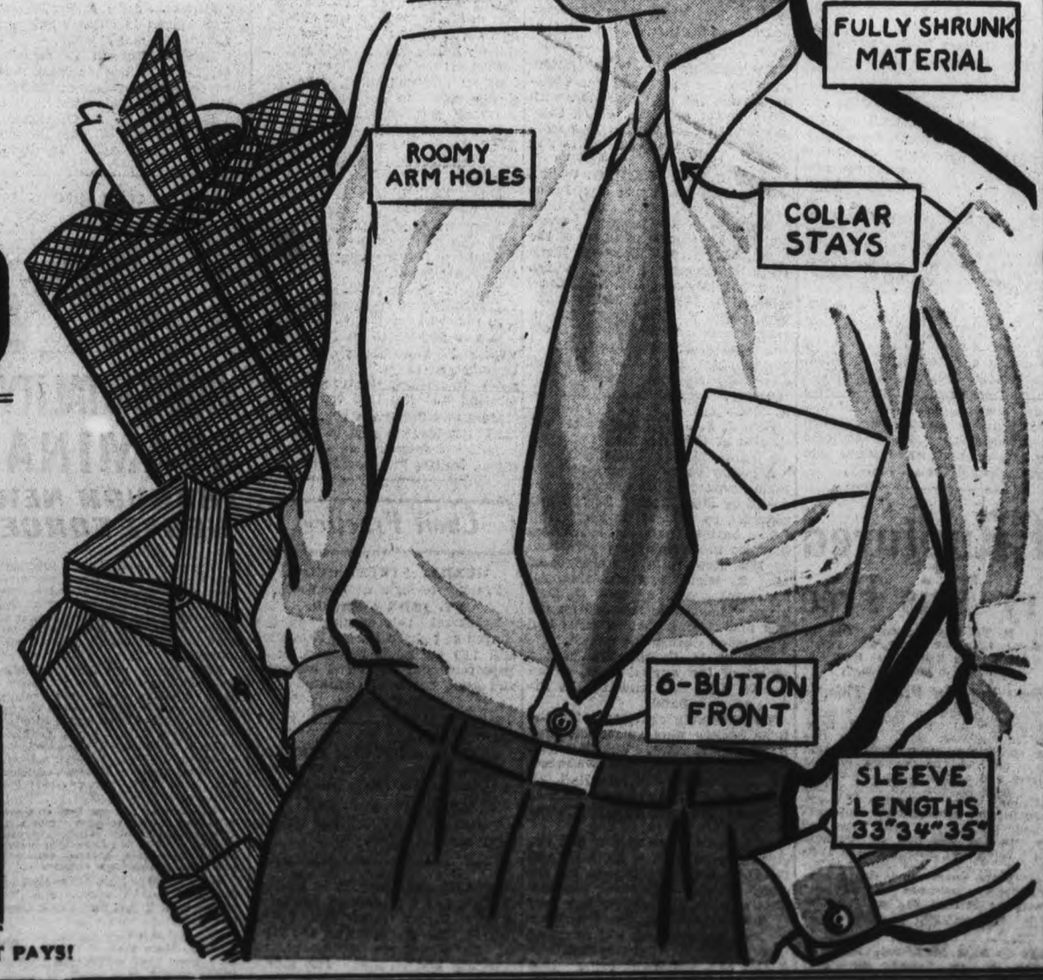
Men who demand superior styling will appreciate the neat check and fine stripe patterns—and the fashionable plains in White, Blue, Cream. With collar attached or two separate collars. Colorfast. Unshrinkable. And a Value you will definitely associate with THRIFT!

$2.95 Grade

An "Expensive" Shirt, Priced for the THRIFTY

1.39

If you compare the Warrendale "BLUE LABEL" shirt with other shirts at this low price, you will undoubtedly prefer the Warrendale "BLUE LABEL" Shirt.



MEN'S TIES
For the "Easter Parade" Attractive new patterns and plain shades in barathias, mogadors, silks and satins, all with pure wool linings 49c

SHOP AT ZELLERS—IT PAYS!

SPRING IS WELCOME
BUT NOT
"SPRING FEVER"

Just as soon as the warm days of Spring approach you get those listless, dopey, out-of-sorts, lack of vigor and energy feelings.

Your blood is the cause—it needs cleansing of the impurities accumulated during the long Winter months, owing to the eating of heavy foods and the lack of exercise.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

Cleanses and purifies the blood, starts the sluggish liver working, and tones up the system for the Summer months.

It has been on the market for over half a century, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be

THE BEST SPRING MEDICINE

Get a bottle at your druggist's and see how quickly it will "pep you up" and make you feel bright and vigorous

30th ANNIVERSARY SALE at Soden's Bookstore

SEE OUR WINDOWS

WE EXPRESS sincere thanks to a host of friends who have made it possible for us to celebrate this our 30th birthday of business in Peterborough. In this connection and in order to substantially reduce our existing stocks of quality wallpapers, china, glassware, books, stationery, novelty items, pictures, etc., etc., we are offering exceptional savings on all this merchandise which a visit to our store will reveal. THIS SALE WILL COMMENCE FRIDAY MORNING AT 9 AND CONTINUE FOR THE NEXT TEN DAYS—come in look around.

GLASSWARE

WATER SETS—Reg. 1.50. S.P. - - 95c
TUMBLERS—Reg. 2.00. S.P., doz. - 59c
Etched TUMBLERS—Reg. 2.00. Doz. 1.25

ENCRUSTED GOLD ETCHED GLASSWARE— ½ PRICE
Closing out at less than.....

PLAYING CARDS
Reg. 1.00 Value
79c

MIXING BOWLS
(Oven-proof)
6 to the Set 1.69
Reg. 2.75

Sale of PLATTERS
12 in. Reg. to 2.00... 95c
14 in. Reg. to 4.50.. 1.49
16 in. Reg. to 3.50.. 1.39
18 in. Reg. to 5.00.. 1.95

FOUNTAIN PENS
Reg. 75c. Sale Price..... 49c

All VASES CANDLESTICKS BRASS TRAYS PLAQUES At Reduced Prices

CANDLES All Colors and Lengths 5c Each

ALL PICTURES AT REDUCED PRICES
Reg. to 75c. Sale price 39c
Reg. to 1.35. Sale price 69c
Reg. to 1.75. Sale price 79c
PICTURE SETS
Reg. to 1.15. Sale price 95c
Reg. to 25c. Sale price 1.25
SPECIAL — Two only original Belgian colored etchings. Regular 45.00, Each 25.00

BOOKS

NEW FICTION
Reg. 2.50. Sale Price - - 2.00
Reg. 2.25. Sale Price - - 1.75
Reg. 2.00. Sale Price - - 1.50
POPULAR FICTION—S.P. - 75c

Juvenile Books
Reg. 60c. S.P. ...39c
Reg to 30c. S.P. ..10c
GIRLS' LIBRARY SERIES—To clear 15c

All Annuals ½-Price
200 BOOKS
Fiction and non-fiction. To clear, each 15c

A large assortment of Children's Books, Cut-Outs, Knitting Boxes, Paint Books, etc., at REDUCED PRICES.

Bargain Tables
HUNDREDS OF ITEMS
Half-Price

Specials on WALLPAPER FOR EVERY ROOM

BUNDLES OF WALLPAPER
6 to 12 rolls in a bundle. Per bundle Values to 75c Roll 25c to 1.50

Reg. 1.50. Sale Price, roll - 70c
Reg. 1.00. Sale Price, roll - 45c
Reg. 75c. Sale Price, roll - 35c
Reg. 50c. Sale Price, roll - 20c, 25c
Other Papers from 5c Roll and Up

All Boxed Stationery ½-Price

School Bags
Reg. 1.25 ..... 79c
Reg. 1.50 ..... 99c
Reg. 2.00 ..... 1.29

CHINA

ATTRACTIVELY REDUCED

400 ASSORTED PLATES
Reg. 35c. Sale Price - - 20c
Reg. to 60c. Sale Price- 35c
Reg. 75c. Sale Price - - 49c
Reg. 1.00. Sale Price - 69c
Reg. to 1.50. Sale Price 89c

A variety of patterns in Coalport, Wedgewood, Royal Cauldon, Bisto, and many others at reduced prices.

1 ONLY TRAY SET—Reg. 15.00. Sale Price..... 9.95

All DRESDEN CHINA
ODD CAKE PLATES
SERVICE PLATES
ITALIAN POTTERY
⅓ OFF

SPECIAL! CUPS and SAUCERS 19c Each

Broken Lines of DINNERWARE and CHINA ½ Original Prices

SPECIAL! Two Only English Sheffield TEA SERVICES ⅓ Off

BADMINTON RACQUETS Half Off
Reg. 3.00 Doz. Doz.
BIRDS—To Clear - 1.95

A SMALL DEPOSIT WILL HOLD ANY ARTICLE UNTIL WANTED

STRESA SEES GALAXY EUROPE'S STATE WIZARDS IN CONFERENCE

Host, Mussolini Needs No Aides, Represents in Person Majority of Italian Cabinet.

FIGURES UNIQUE CONTRAST.

(By The Associated Press)

The tri-power conference at Stresa, Italy, brings together to-day one of the most brilliant galaxies of European statesmen assembled since the Locarno Treaty was signed, also on Lake Maggiore's shores, 10 years ago.

Host to the conference is broad-jowled Benito Mussolini, Italy's premier. He comes to Stresa accompanied by no foreign minister—he is his own. In his person a majority of the Italian cabinet attends the conversations, for Il Duce holds seven of the 13 portfolios in his government.

The Host

Mussolini bespeaks Italy's hopes for peace, but he makes it no secret that a powerful military machine is at his call in the event any nation should venture to threaten Italian security.

Of an entirely dissimilar school of diplomacy is Great Britain's aging prime minister, Ramsay MacDonald. The peace-loving Scot has devoted his talents and strength unstintingly to the cause of international rapprochment.

He rattles no sabres, prefers soft words and calm discussions as the way to understanding. Now, in what many observers regard as the twilight of his political career, he is confronted with the most critical challenge he has met in his crusade for good-will among nations.

France's Premier, tall and youngish Pierre-Etienne Flandin, has been forced to turn his attention to diplomacy from Perplexing domestic problems.

Flandin in Troubled Spot

Meeting one issue after another affecting France's currency, finance, commerce and military policies, he is thrust into the even more muddled international situation. Like Mussolini, the energetic Frenchman has let the world know that while France hopes for peace, she is prepared to fight for it.

The French premier has a seasoned aide in Pierre Laval, 52-year-old foreign minister. The laconic butcher's son has labored diligently to win for France the security for which she conducts a never-ceasing quest.

Like Flandin, MacDonald has the support of his foreign secretary, bald-pated Sir John Simon. One of England's leading leading barristers, Sir John has a reputation for brilliant logic and suave negotiation. He is certain to figure prominently in the Stresa activities as he reviews for the representatives of the powers the results of his Berlin conversations with Reichsfuehrer Hitler.

Must Serve Life

DR. SARA RUTH DEAN

Mississippi's supreme court has decreed that Dr. Sara Ruth Dean must serve the life imprisonment sentence meted out to her for the "poisoned whiskey" death of her close friend, Dr. John Preston Kennedy, prominent physician of Greenwood, Miss. An order of executive clemency or a reversal of the supreme court's decision on a suggestion of error remain as Dr. Dean's only means of escaping imprisonment for life.

Like Sing Sing

NEW YORK, April 11.—Two large bald eagles, seeking food, are visiting Sing Sing prison daily, it was revealed by prison authorities. The birds come to a wire fence along the river front and eat scraps thrown to them by prisoners.

QUALITY PRINTING

Obituary

MARY ELIZABETH LEAN

There passed away away after a lingering illness on Sunday, April 7th, 1935, in her 73rd year, Mary Elizabeth Lean, widow of Thomas Udy of Lostwithiel, Cornwall, England, and a niece of the late William Udy of Bridgeworth, Ontario.

In 1897 Mr. Lean sought to regain his health by removing with his wife and only child to Cape Town, South Africa. They resided there only for a year where Mr. Lean died. In 1899 Mrs. Lean and daughter returned to England where they resided until 1906 when they came to Canada, living in Bridgenorth for some time.

In 1909 her daughter Elizabeth was married to Mr. Clayton Telford who shortly afterwards retired from farming and removed with Ms. Lean to Bridgenorth.

She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. C. Telford and Mr. Telford now of Peterborough; two sisters, Mrs. Hawkens of Parr, Cornwall, England, and Mrs. Agnew of Cape Town, South Africa, and in Canada by the surviving members of the family of the late William and Mary A. Udy as cousins.

The funeral service, which was largely attended, was held at Mark street United Church, Peterborough, on Tuesday, April 9th, 1935, at 2.30 p.m.

During the service, Mr. Clifford Hall rendered in a masterly fashion a most appropriate solo, "Sometime, Somewhere."

The Rev. C. D. Daniel conducted the funeral service, assisted by Rev. C. C. Miller of Bridgenorth United Church of which church she was a member.

Interment was made in Little Lake cemetery, Peterborough.

BARBERS' BILL IS THROWN OUT

Private Bills Committee Kills Legislation Which Had Stiff Opposition.

REGULATIONS NEEDED.

TORONTO, April 11 (C.P.).—Acting on a motion of A. Belanger (Lib., Prescott), the Private Bills Committee of the Legislature to-day killed the bill respecting hairdressers and barbers introduced in the Legislature by Dr. A. D. Roberts (Lib., Sault Ste. Marie).

Mr. Belanger reported he had headed a sub-committee that had heard the representations of those in favor and opposed to the bill and that, as there had been so much opposition to the measure, the sub-committee had concluded the legislation should not go on the statute books.

The bill sought to place in the hands of the Hairdressers' and Barbers' Association power to regulate wages, hours, and competition in the barbering and beauty culture trades.

The sub-committee chairman suggested regulations in the trades was badly needed and pointed out that this could be provided by enlarging the powers of the Department of Health.

Builders Opposed.

In a lengthy memorandum, builders and contractors of the province represented by the Home Builders' Association of Toronto, opposed passage of a bill entitled the Architects' Act.

The bill, which seeks to regulate the profession by providing a board of examiners to license architects, among other things specifies any one other than a licensed architect who draws plans for a structure of an alteration which costs more than 5,000 shall be liable to prosecution.

The bill also provides any builder or contractor who supervises erection or alteration of a structure costing more than $5,000 shall likewise be liable to a penalty.

A representative of the home builders said the contractors did not wish to set themselves up as architects, "but that we be allowed to carry on as in the past."

Percy Parker pointed out the measure would seriously affect farmers who were accustomed to draw their own plans and supervise their own construction.

J. C. McRuer, K.C., acting for the sponsors of the bill, presented a number of amendments which he said had been drawn to satisfy the lumbering and mining industries.

ACCIDENTS PREVENTABLE DR. WINGFIELD BELIEVES

HAMILTON, April 11 (C.P.).—Accidents never happen—they are committed and therefore they can be prevented, Dr. Alex. H. Wingfield of Hamilton Collegiate Institute told 1,200 delegates from Ontario to the annual convention of the Industrial Accident Prevention Association which will close here to-day.

"When we say a thing happens by chance, we mean the factors causing that event cannot be determined," Dr. Wingfield explained. Having selected the best type of worker to handle any new machine, industrial management should see to it that staffs are educated to act in a manner that will not endanger themselves or others.

Russia's army unit of women flyers is reported to be increasing rapidly.

Officers Elected At Hamilton Meeting

Officers elected at the Annual General Meeting of Industrial Accident Prevention Associations at Hamilton April 10 were (1) F. H. Rutherford, The B. Greening Wire Co. Limited, Hamilton, President; (2) E. E. Sparrow, Imperial Varnish and Color Co. Limited, Toronto, First Vice-President; (3) J. H. Vernor, Western Clock Co. Limited, Peterborough, Second Vice-President, and (4) E. B. Morley, General Manager.

TRUCK DRIVER BLAMES HOBOES

(Continued from Page 1)

said as the truck was climbing the mountain road, two men jumped on the back with the intention of stealing freight. Lees heard them, and while clinging with one hand to his steering wheel, got out on the running board of the tractor with the idea of scaring them off. The wheels of the tractor, however, got into soft gravel and was unable to get back onto the road.

Jumps With Bills

When he saw the transport could not be saved, he grabbed his freight bills and leaped, just as the big machine rolled down the embankment.

Lees told Manager Findlay another truck driver saw the attempted theft and chased the men who took to the fields. Leaping over a fence, however, the pursuer alighted on some broken glass and suffered a bad cut to his foot. He had to receive medical treatment.

FEAR U.S. MOVE MAY PROVE SNAG

(Continued from Page 1)

economic conference Canada is obligated to retire from export about 1,600,000 ounces of newly-mined Canadian silver. The agreement has three or more years to run.

Senate Approves Bill

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—The Senate Agricultural Committee to-day approved the Wheeler mandatory 16 to 1 Silver Purchase Bill, designed to inflate United States currency and speed the attainment of a metallic currency reserve of one part silver and three parts gold.

The committee action, taken without a record vote, spurred silverists into fresh activity, which began late yesterday when President Roosevelt raised the price for newly-mined domestic silver from 64½ to 71 cents an ounce.

The bill, by Senator Burton Wheeler (D., Mont.), however, faces a doubtful future in the Senate.

Democratic leaders expressed confidence it would not pass, but Wheeler claimed to have gained votes since the test on the issue last session.

The bill would direct the Treasury to purchase at least 54,000,000 ounces of silver a month until the proportion of the white metal reached one-fourth of the monetary stocks.

Purchases would be suspended whenever 16 ounces of pure silver equalled in purchasing power one ounce of pure gold, but would remain suspended only so long as that ratio was not disturbed.

A new campaign against capital punishment has been started in England.

The unit of force is that force which, acting on one gram of matter for one second, will give it the velocity of one centimeter per second.

A new full-size "Jubilee" portrait of King George in khaki has been painted at the request of the Australian Government and is being shipped from England to Australia.

YOUR PRINTING NEEDS

---AND VERY MODERATE PRICES---

YOUR printing reflects the spirit of your business. We can always assure you of the highest quality paper stock, layout and printing at prices which are reasonable. Whether the job you give us is small or large, we will give you faultless service.

Telephone 1600. A Representative Will Call

Step Out In These "DIFFERENT" WEARABLES

for the "EASTER PARADE!"

Well-Dressed Women Are "Keen" About

"Lucky 7" HOSE

Priced for Economy Pair 89c

You are assured of the utmost in quality and value when you buy this popular branded line of Hose. Perfect to the minutest detail and in such a fashion-right selection of shades that you are bound to be suited. Look here! Dapple, macaroon, sundial, sunbark, townwear and gunmetal shades. Sizes 8½ to 10½.

THIS SEASON IT'S

SUITS

And You'll Be Well "Suited" At HALL'S

2 PIECE TAILORED

8.95 and 9.95

You get so much practical wear out of a Suit, and at the same time are up-to-the-minute in style. Short and hip length coats with matching skirts are featured in this group of novelty tweeds and plain materials, in sizes 16 to 18. See our values first!

SWAGGER OUTFITS

19.50 - 22.50

You'll endorse these Suits in their nonchalant styles with semi-fitted or loose fitting coats. Seven-eighth length coats with plain tailored skirt. Selected tweeds and flecked wool materials in blue, black, grey and beige tones. Sizes 14 to 42.

NEW HANDKERCHIEF

Scarfs - 69c-79c

So sporty and smart to wear with suits, tailored frocks or as a trimming. Bright plain shades, checks and combination colorings. Square and triangle shapes.

NOVELTY SPRING

FLOWERS

Special 29c and 39c

Wear one on your tailored suit, your frock or topcoat. They're colorful, smart, new and come in so many fresh looking bunches and clusters that you'll want more than one.

YOU'LL WANT THESE

CREPE PURSES

Specially Priced at 1.00

Because the styles are so natty and different...because they come in shades of brown, navy, black, red and Copen...and because they're such grand value at the price! Every Bag neatly fitted and finished.

Such Good Looking

Topcoats

And Such Reasonably Low Prices

TAILORED TWEEDS

12.75 to 14.90

Smart mannish and smart tailored styles that you'll really enthuse about them at these prices. Quality woollen materials in tweedy mixtures, flecks and fancy weaves. Women's and misses' sizes, 14 to 38. See them in our Coat Dept.

WOMEN'S HALF-SIZES

17.50 to 22.50

The woman who is a little harder to fit will find these half-size Coats a blessing. Tailored perfectly, of quality materials, in becoming styles and wanted colorings. 18½, 20½ and 22½ are the sizes. You'll be satisfied and pleased with the values!

Well Dressed Hands WEAR HALLS GLOVES

And you'll know the reason we say this when you see our new arrivals in imported and domestic leathers, in fancy or tailored styles.

FINE KID PULLONS — In fancy and plain cuff styles. Black, grey, navy and brown..... 1.95

WASHABLE DEERSKIN PULLONS—So smart with tweeds and tailored outfits. White, cream, seasan.. 2.50

WASHABLE FRENCH SUEDES —Simple, good looking Pullons. Navy and black..... 2.95

OF COURSE YOU'LL WANT A NEW

DRESS

AND HALL'S HAVE IT...IN THE STYLE AND AT THE PRICE YOU WANT TO PAY!

at 6.95

One and two-piece styles, in the fashionable bubble and blister crepes in Regency and Royal colorings...gay prints in regular flower garden colorings, and wanted plain shades in darker tones. Selected styles, effective trims and sizes from 14 to 44.

at 4.95

The newest and loveliest informal fashions are to be found in this group of plain crepes, printed silks and polka dots. Frocks for misses, women and matrons. Trimly tailored or smart "dressier" types. All up to tick with 1935 freshness. A feature value!

WEAR A

MisSimplicity Garment - - $5

And be assured of the correct foundation for your Spring outfit. Striped coutil with knitted elastic sides, lace bust sections and diagonal cross-pull feature that absolutely controls the diaphragm. Sizes 32 to 38.

TRAVEL CASES Only 5.00

Just large enough to carry your holiday requirements. Well built having dress hangers, convenient pocket and space for your hats. Covered with black or brown fabrikoid that is good looking and long wearing.

NUBACK CORSETS, only $5

The ideal garment that permits perfect freedom of movement, yet will not ride up, BUT WILL flatten bulging diaphragms, fit the figure smoothly without any drag of discomfort. Let us fit you in one of these garments. Sizes 25 to 34.

SATIN PANTIE SETS

Be smartly dressed underneath your Easter finery in a set of these dainty, lustrous Panties with matching Brassiere. White and tearose, in small, medium and large sizes. Neat fitting and comfortable. Set..... 1.50

Harvey-Woods UNDIES

VESTS AND BLOOMERS

The name that stands for quality, style and value in quality-controlled rayon garments. Flat front, cuff knee Bloomers with opera top Vests. White and apricot shades, in small, medium and large sizes. Each garment..... 98c

REAL SILK SATIN SLIPS

With gorgeous lace trimming, bias cut, adjustable shoulder straps and sleek fitting. White and tearose shades, in small, medium and large sizes. Wear a new Slip under your new Easter frock or suit. Splendid value, each..... 1.98

PHONE 1780 FOR ALL DEPARTMENTS

RICHARD HALL LIMITED

FREE DELIVERY TO ALL PARTS OF THE CITY

CAST IS CHOSEN OPERA SAN TOY

Sixth Annual Presentation of St. Paul's Choir and Men's Association.

BEAUTIFUL COSTUMES

The cast has been chosen for the Chinese Musical Comedy, "San Toy," or "The Emperor's Own," which is to be presented on Friday evening, April 26th, at the Grand Opera House, by members of the choir and Men's Association of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, under direction of Martin B. Chenhall, A.R.C.O.

This is the sixth annual presentation under these auspices and promises to surpass the success of the previous very fine productions. Costumes from Mallabar, Toronto, and scenery from Montreal, will add to the color and beauty of the show.

"San Toy" is one of those entertaining pieces of Oriental imagery in which fun is extracted from situations that might be supposed to cause grief. Such, for instance, as the terrible predicament of the Chinese Mandarin, Yen How of Yamen, who has been commanded by the Emperor to send his daughter, San Toy, to the Imperial service at Pekin. He cannot bring himself to do this, so sends word that he has no daughter, only a son, and the pretty San Toy is compelled to masquerade as a boy. In this guise, she is a guest of the British Consul, Sir Bingo Preston, at Pynka Pong, and there meets and falls in love with, Sir Bingo's son, Captain Bobbie Preston. But the Emperor discovers the deception, and is much enraged, so that complications set in all around. Just how San Toy and her wily parent, who has six little wives, manage to squirm out of the difficulty, makes the entertaining theme of the two-act musical comedy.

The cast is as follows: The Emperor of China (John Fowler); Captain Bobbie Preston, son of Sir Bingo Preston (George Coleman, Jr.); Yen How, a Mandarin (Don MacKay); Sir Bingo Preston, British Consul at Pynka Pong (John Sedgewick); Sing Hi, President of the Board of Ceremonies (George East); Lieut. Harvey Tucker (Dion Snelgrove); Fo Hop, a Chinese student (H. Hope); Hu Pi and his wife, Jewellers at Pynka (Fraser Skinner and Miss Marion Irvine); Wai Ho and his wife (Howard Macdonald and Miss Isabel Duthie); Li Hi and Li Lo, Tartar Guards (George Hall and Don Ross); Wun Lung, Perpetual Corporal of the Emperor's Own (Mrs. Board); Ko Fan of the Emperor's Own (Miss Isobel MacKay); Ah Wen, Adviser to Yen How (C. M. Lawrence); San Toy, Daughter of Yen How (Miss Mary Sedgewick); Li (Adam Sands, Sr.); Poppy, Daughter of Sir Bingo (Miss Emma Lou Chenhall); Dudley, her maid (Miss Jessie Pattison).

SMITH PAIR 32 YEARS MARRIED

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Charlton Receive Best Wishes of Friends on Anniversary.

LAKEFIELD, April 11. (Examiner Correspondence).—Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Charlton of Smith celebrated on Monday, April 8th, the thirty second anniversary of their wedding. Mr. Charlton is the second son of the late James Charlton and his wife, Sarah Caldwell and Mrs. Charlton is the second daughter of the late James Hurl and his wife, Margaret Curtain. Two daughters, Mrs. Charles Lee of Smith and Mrs. Oscar Calberry of Lakefield and three sons, Arthur of Peterborough, Lawrence and Roger at home, have blessed the union. There are also nine grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Charlton are enjoying excellent health and have a wide circle of friends who extend heartiest good wishes to them for a continuance of wedded happiness.

Gives Lecture

Miss Dorothy Worboy of Peterborough, gave an illustrated lecture in the Lakefield United Church on Sunday evening under the auspices of the Woman's Association. Miss Werboy's work in the sparsely settle districts of the West was very interesting and her word pictures of aiding the white settlers was both interesting and informing.

Plan Jubilee Celebration

A committee appointed to arrange the celebration of Lakefield's diamond jubilee is getting under way to arrange several community events which will make the anniversary suitable. Several events have been suggested as suitable to mark an anniversary of this character.

WOULD EXEMPT TRUST FIRMS FROM INSURANCE

OTTAWA, April 11 (C.P.) — Any additional burden that would be placed on life insurance companies would be an added burden on policy holders, D. E. Kilgour, Toronto, yesterday told the Senate Banking and Commerce Committee in urging maintenance of life insurance and trust companies as an excepted class in the Dominion Employment and Social Insurance Bill.

Unemployment in these classes in Canada was very much less than in Great Britain where they were excepted from the British scheme, Mr. Kilgour said.

Was it not a fact a recent Royal Commission in England had questioned why financial institutions had been left out of the British scheme and had recommended they should be included? asked Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Senate leader.

The witness answered he did not know this finding had been made.

Edwardsburg

CROWN BRAND CORN SYRUP

AN ENERGY FOOD THAT HAS NOURISHED MORE CANADIAN CHILDREN THAN ANY OTHER CORN SYRUP

A product of The CANADA STARCH CO., Limited

Listen in to "SYRUP SYMPHONIES" Broadcast every Monday, 8 to 8.30 p.m., E.S.T.

SUPERIOR STORES

GREAT EXPANSION SALE!

P. & G. NAPTHA SOAP 6 for 21c

ROYAL YORK JAMS Rasp. or Straw. With Pectin 32 Oz. 29c

SUPERIOR BAKING Powder 8 oz. ---15c 16 oz. --25c

BULK Macaroni 2 lbs. 9c

ROYAL YORK Choice PEAS Sieve No. 4 2's 2 Tins 21c

STANDARD Tomatoes 2 2½'s Large Tins 15c

CROSSED FISH Sardines 2 Tins 27c

PRINCESS SOAPFLAKES 2 pkgs. 29c

Cowan's PERFECTION COCOA Full 1-lb. Tin 23c

EDUCATOR BANQUET Cream Biscuits - lb. 17c

SUPERIOR STORES Tea - ½ lb. 25c, lb. 49c

ROLLED WHEAT 5-lb. Bag 25c

SUPERIOR STORES Coffee ½ lb. 18c, lb. 35c

CLOVER-LEAF PINK Salmon, 1's - tin 14c

OLD DUTCH CLEANSER

"Goes Further—Doesn't Scratch—Made of Seismotite"

2 Tins 19c

Durham CORN STARCH Pkg. 10c

AYLMER CHOICE Peaches, 2 sqt. - tin 18c

GRAPE NUT—With Free Balloons Flakes - 2 pkgs. 23c

Ovaltine Small --38c Med. ---58c Large --98c

DR. JACKSON Suggests Roman Meal Cookies

Mix ½ Roman Meal and ½ White Flour and use any good cookie recipe.

ROMAN MEAL, pkg. 31c

CANADA'S FOREMOST BEAUTY SOAP

Collector's Roll Is Accepted By Council

BETHANY, April 11 (Examiner Correspondence). — The Manvers Council met last week with all members present and the Reeve in the chair. The following communications were received and read:

From the Lindsay Public Welfare Board, as to account for relief. From the Unemployment Relief Branch, stating it will cease work on the roads. From the counties treasurer, as to entrance to hospital of two people. From Consolidated Insurance Company, stating they had decided not to insure municipality liability any longer than the present policy.

The collector presented his roll for 1934.

Bogga-Skuce: That certain taxes be struck off the roll amounting to $40.74 as not being returnable to county treasurer.

Cumiskey-Neals: That the collector's roll be accepted and that the treasurer send statement to county treasurer showing that $406.31 as returned against the several lands in arrears for the year 1934.

There was much discussion as to medical relief and it was unanimously decided that each case should be treated on its merits.

Cumiskey-Skuce: That cheques be drawn up by the Reeve and Treasurer for the following amounts: Treasurer of Town of Lindsay, relief for George Whitecombe and Mrs. Harvey, $11.68; Oshawa Public Welfare Board, relief, 64c; W. H. Hooper, relief, $8.29; A. McMahon, relief, $16.22; R. W. Price, relief $23.24; W. H. Hooper, trustees' requisition, S.S. No. 9, $350; Wm. Martin, S.S. No. 3, $200; Harold Stinson, W. Jas. Boggs, S.S. No. 14. $150; F. W. Reynolds, S.S. No. 15. $300; W. L. Hannah, S.S. No. 4. $250; W. H. McNeil, S.S. No. 7, $150; Dr. McNeil, medical services, relief, $38.37; Dr. McArthur, relief, $10; J. J. Clark, wood for town hall, $35; W. J. Thompson, salary as assessor, $55; J. J. Clark balance of salary as collector and postage, $45; J. J. Clark, uncollected taxes for 1934, $406.31; A. B. Sisson, road superintendent, vouchers, $166.20.

Neals-Boggs: That the council adjourn to meet on Thursday, May the 2nd, at two o'clock.

MOUNT JULIAN

At the last euchre party eight tables of cards were played, followed by a weiner roast in place of the regular lunch. Dancing completed the evening frolic which was held at Mr. and Mrs. John Northey's home. The euchre prizes were awarded as follows: firsts, Raymond Lean and Mrs. Percy Thompson; consolation, Jack McFadden and Mrs. Hilliard McIlmoyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moffatt and children of Peterborough spent Sunday visiting with Mrs. Samuel Wilson.

Miss Mae Dever of Lakefield spent the past week visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Ephriam Brenson.

Owing to the rector, Rev. E. C. Moore, being called to another parish for service on Sunday next there will be no service at Holy Trinity Church here. The Easter service will be held at the usual hour, three o'clock in the afternoon on Easter Sunday.

Cordova Mines

Mrs. J. Hawes was hostess to a number of ladies at a delightful afternoon tea last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alf Flintoff and small daughter Joyce and Mr. William Moore of Oshawa attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Palmateer held from the Free Methodist Church last Sunday.

Mrs. Ross Barron, Betty and Barbara are spending this week with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wannamaker of Oshawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sopha were called to Port Hope on Sunday owing to the sudden relapse of Miss Jean Sopha who has been visiting her aunt, Miss A. Hurl of that place.

Mrs. John Ferguson of Norwood is guest of her daughter, Mrs. Roy Colby.

Born—On Monday, April 1, to Mr. and Mrs. Herb Chard, a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Bertram of Campbellford have taken up residence at Cordova.

Miss Bernice Kelsh is visiting friends in Oshawa.

Miss Verna Johnson of Havelock was guest of relatives over the week-end.

Cordova United Church was filled to capacity last Wednesday night when Trent River Young folk presented "Home Acres."

NORTH SCHOOL

Miss Doreen McMullen of Trent River spent Saturday with relatives here.

Mr. Jack Wiggins of the "Home Bakery" Peterborough spent Sunday with his brother, Mr. George Wiggins.

Mr. Lloyd Rusaw of Dummer visited over the week-end with Mr. Dean Baker, Norwood road.

Mr. Don Petherick was a Sunday visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Elliott.

Mrs. Jim Young was taken to the Nicholls Hospital last week.

Mr. Charlie McNichell and Victor McNeely of Peterborough were week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene McLaughlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Colby spent Sunday at the home of Mr. W. Cross.

Among those who spent a social evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Menzies were Mr. and Mrs. John McConnell, Misses Ina McConnell, and Edith Gardner and Master Donald Gardner of Norwood, Mr. and Mrs. George Wiggins and Mr. Earl Wiliam.

Miss Hazel Buchanan spent Sunday with friends in Peterborough.

Miss Julia McLaughlin spent the week-end the guest of her cousin, Miss Phyllis Miles, Havelock.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Buchanan and Miss Reta of Havelock were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Buchanan.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ellis spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Ellis.

Stradivari was the most famous violin maker of the Cremonese school.

Why at 40 You Think You're "Growing Old"

At about 40, many people think they're "growing old." They're tired a lot. Have headaches more often. And they're subject to stomach upsets — nausea. Talk of "nerves."

Well, scientists say the cause, in a great many cases, is merely this: a tendency to an acid condition of the stomach. Likely the result of faulty diet.

The thing to do is simply to neutralize excess stomach acids.

When you have one of these acid stomach upsets, all you do is take a little Phillips' Milk of Magnesia after meals and before going to bed. Soon you feel like another person.

Signs Which Often Indicate "Acid Stomach"

ACID INDIGESTION — LOSS OF APPETITE
ACID REGURGITATION — FREQUENT HEADACHES
NAUSEA — FEELING OF WEARINESS
SOUR STOMACH — SLEEPLESSNESS
MOUTH ACRID

What To Do For It

TAKE—2 teaspoonfuls of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in a glass of water in the morning when you get up. Take another teaspoonful thirty minutes after eating. And another before you go to bed.

Stomach calm. Fewer headaches. And the pep and energy you thought lost, comes back again!

Try this. Take either the familiar liquid "PHILLIPS'", or, the new Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets —convenient to take with you anywhere.

Also in Tablet Form: Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets are now on sale at all drug stores everywhere. Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

MADE IN CANADA

PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

First for FIRST AID

The Peterborough Examiner

PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, CANADA, THURSDAY, APRIL 11, 1935

YOUR RADIATOR

Flushing, Welding, Soldering, Complete Radiator Department.

Gillespie Garage

"Service That is Service"

378 Aylmer St. Phone 950

FOR SALE—

LARGE MODERN BRICK, hot water heating, central; suitable for Doctor's Office and Residence, or Apartments. Sacrifice for quick sale.

NUGENT REAL ESTATE
Charlotte Street.

2d-11,13-256

Brazil's foreign trade has shown a marked increase in the last year.

DEMONSTRATION

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY of the famous

FLO-GLAZE

FOUR HOUR ENAMEL

Each day a chair will be drawn for and given away free. Mr. W. Jones of the Flo-Glaze organization will be in charge of the demonstration. Sign your name below and bring this ad to

Higgins Hardware

137 Hunter St. Phone 37

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

PICTURE QUIZ

A famous English Epic poet dictating to his daughter.

QUESTIONS

1. Who was he?
2. What affliction had he?
3. What great Greek Bard was also afflicted this way?
4. What great work did the latter write?
5. What great poem did the former write?

Obey the dictates of your THRIFT SENSE. Shop at the HABOCO STORES—where your favorite brands are reasonably priced EVERY DAY.

Creamery Butter 23c lb.

(With Meat Order)

Rolled Fillets of Veal, lb. 14c	Sirloin Steak, lb. 19c
Sliced Side Bacon, lb. 25c	Short Rib or Rump Roast, lb. 15c
Blade Roast or Pot Roast, lb. 12c	Pork Neck Bones .... 6 lbs. 25c
Sliced Bologna, 2 lbs. 25c	C.P.C. Sausage, lb. ...18c
Rolled Fillets of Lamb, lb. 16c	Pealmeal Backs, lb. 25c

SOAP CHIPS - 3 lbs. 19c

EGGS are Cheap!

Grade A Medium, 2 Dozen 27c

Christie's Pineapple Marigold 3-Layer

Repeated this week for the hundreds of customers who have asked for it; if you have not tasted this favorite, we suggest it as a special treat. A large size Three-Layer Cake covered on all sides and top with crushed pineapple icing..... 20c

Choice Golden Bantam Corn ....2 tins 23c | Choice Tomatoes, large tins ....3 for 25c

Clark's Spaghetti - - jumbo tin 15c

Chef Pork & Beans, No. 2½ tin ....2 for 19c
Bulk Cocoa, lb. 10c
Magic Baking Powder, lb.. ....28c
Peanut Butter ..2 lbs. 25c

Easter Hams

Whole Ham, lb. 28c
Half Ham, lb. 30c

Pure Plum Jam and Pure Orange Marmalade, 32 oz. jar .. 23c

Beautiful floors in 20 minutes—no rubbing required.

Pts... 49c

Qts... 89c

Dutch Setts ....2 lbs. 25c

Silverbright Salmon, lb.. ....12c
Sliced or centre cuts, lb. 14c
Smoked or Fresh Fillets, lb. 15c

FREE!

Big Balloon with every pkg. Grape Nuts Flakes ....2 pkgs. 23c

Amber Honey No. 5 Tin 39c

Garden Seeds

We have all kinds of Garden Seeds packed by the most reputable seed houses.

English Multipliers ....3 lbs. 25c

Picnic Hams

FOR EASTER

Shankless, cellophane wrapped, lb. 18c

ANSWERS TO LAST WEEK'S QUIZ

1. Tower Bridge.
2. London.
3. Thames.
4. Fourteen.
5. First stone bridge over the Thames.

HABOCO STORES

Quality Without Extravagance

LOCALS

PROGRESSIVE EUCHRE FRIDAY

The Leafs are out, but we are still playing euchre. 12 good prizes. All new playing cards. Games start 8.15 p.m. Moose Hall, Hunter St. next to Campbell and Best Hardware. 1d-87-367

OUR FIRST ANNIVERSARY

We are this week enjoying our First Business Birthday, and to celebrate the event we are giving absolutely free a lovely Rolex Wrist Watch. You don't have to purchase anything. Get particulars at Elsie Bennett Gift Shop, 345 George St.

WOOD

Soft wood, $3 per ½ cord; just a few cords at this price. No. 1 Mixed Wood, $4 per ½ cord, cut. Hard Wood, $5 per ½ cord. McCarthy & Johnston; Phone 96. t,t,s-tf-345

RUMMAGE SALE

In St. Andrew's Church basement Saturday, April 13. Doors open 9.30 a.m. Kirk street entrance. 1d,87,359

PASSION PLAY

Hear Miss L. Espien give her lecture in Murray Street S.S. Friday evening at eight. Silver collection 1d,87,365

A CORRECTION.

In an advertisement appearing in the Examiner on April 9th and 10th, Lehigh Valley Coal was advertised at $12.50 a ton. We wish to correct the mention of Leigh Valley Coal as this is a trade name product and we do not sell this particular brand of coal. No misrepresentation was intended and we regret this error.

KAWARTHA FUELS.

CHAS. THOMSON

TAILOR AND CLOTHIER

LAKEFIELD

Scotch and English Goods. Gent's own cloth made up. 6d,29,80,4,5,11,12,982c

BATTERIES

11-Plate $4.95
13-Plate $7.50
15-Plate $9.25

Guaranteed

Hood & Cumming Motors, Ltd.

PHONE 2460

m,th,tf

Diamond Is the April Birthday Stone

Give a Diamond Ring for an Easter gift. Our Blue Bird Diamond Rings are made in white or natural gold and are absolutely perfect. We have the very newest settings and are priced at $15, $25 and Up

WARNE'S

DIAMOND HALL

'Phone 880

DANCE AT KEENE

Friday, April 12. Round and square dancing to the Rythm King's Orchestra. Admission 25c. 1d,87,272

CALEDONIAN CLUB.

Whist Drive, W.O.W. Hall, Friday, 8 p.m. Refreshments. Good prizes. Members and friends. 1d-88-371

HORSES

One pair of very fine young mares by auction Saturday on Market at 11 a.m.—W. J. Hancock. 1d,87,261

KINDLING.

25 bundles real dry kindling delivered anywhere in city, $1.00. Also cedar shingles, slabs and buttings, $2.00 per load. Kingdon Barrel & Shingle Factory. 'Phone 3230. 3d-87-336.

TRACTOR FUEL OIL.

12c per gallon at Dawson's Service Station, Reid and McDonnel streets. 'Phone 1523. 6d,92,333

RED CROSS HOME NURSING CLASSES

Dr. J. J. Craig will give an illustrated lecture on Dental Hygiene, Friday, April 12th at 8 p.m. in the green room, Y.W.C.A. 1d-87-373

GREAT UNITED PRAISE

Prayer and testimony meeting at Bethany Tabernacle tonight at 8 o'clock. Conducted by Evangelist T. H. Ritchie. 1d-87-376

AUCTION SALE

Stock of drugs, chemicals, fancy goods, druggist's sundries and supplies, etc., shop furniture and fixtures, including 11 showcases, 1 National (electric) cash register, and safe. At 402 George St., Peterborough, on Wednesday, April 17th at 10 a.m. For further particulars apply, W. J. Hancock. 5d-9,11,13,15,16-339

HEATING, TINSMITHING, PLUMBING

Now is the time to have your Plumbing Remodeled, Eavetroughing Repaired, Heating Troubles Corrected.

SEE W. R. TURNER

195 Simcoe Street. Phone 591

Sole Agents for Hecla Furnaces. t,s-tf

Obituary

JAMES E. LEBARR

The death occurred at his residence, 356 Ontario Street, Toronto on Wednesday of James Edward LeBarr, the beloved husband of Phoebe LeBarr, in his 67th year. A native of Fort Perry, the deceased formerly resided in this city for a period of forty-one years prior to going to Toronto. Besides his widow he leaves three daughters and one son all at home; also two brothers John LeBarr, this city and William Lebarr, Hollywood, California; and a sister Mrs. William Fisher, Bowmanville.

Funeral services are to be held at Charles A. Tierney's Funeral Home, 269 Gerrard street, east, Toronto on Thursday evening at nine o'clock. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery Peterborough on Friday.

THE EXCHANGE

103 KING ST. 'PHONE 2260

Auctioneers. Valuators.

Open Evenings

Just received, new shipment of Empire Coal and Gas Stoves. Be sure to see them before buying. Bargains in 3-Pc. Chesterfields as low as $30; Dining Suites, Diners, Bed Suites, Chiffoniers, Dressers, Sewing Machines, Doctor's Secretary, Wheel Chair, Crutches for rent, Hall seats and Mirrors, Complete Bed Outfits, Refrigerator, Heintzman Piano, a real buy, Office Desks, Filing Cabinets, Typewriters, Guitars, Violins, Radios, Electric Pictures, ½ H.P. Motor, 1 H.P. Motor, Shafting, Belting, Pulleys, 215 ft. 1¼ Rope, Coal stoves, all types.

WANTED—Coal Stoves with and without Reservoirs, Bicycles, Tricycles, Rifles, 22 to 30 cal., or what have you?

RAIL EQUIPMENT ORDERS IN HOUSE

Guarantee of $15,000,000 Features Dominion Legislation to Creat Work.

BOTH SYSTEMS.

OTTAWA, April 11 (C.P.) — Guarantee of equipment securities of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways to the extent of $15,000,000 is a feature of Dominion Government legislation of which notice was given to-day, to create employment by public works and undertakings throughout Canada. Inclusion of the railway equipment works in the government's re-employment legislation had been forecast, but it had been expected the amount would be double the figure named in the resolution. Extension of the public works program launched last year, and other works undertakings are to be included in the measure.

A resolution upon which the measure will be based appeared on the Order Paper of the House of Commons to-day in the name of the Prime Minister. It may be moved by Acting Prime Minister Sir George Perley tomorrow or Monday.

For nearly a year the government has been considering representations from the makers of railway equipment in Canada seeking federal orders for both system. Some employment had been created in the Algoma and Sydney plants a year ago by the Dominion Government guaranteeing the cost of rail orders until such time as the companies took delivery. The equipment orders suggested in earlier representations had been around $30,000,000.

Legislation to be based upon the report of the Commons Committee on Housing will not be included in the general re-employment measure, and will not come before the House until after the Easter adjournment.

It was announced yesterday that Hon. H. H. Stewart, Minister of Public Works, would make a statement to-day in the House regarding the works program.

DIED

TURNER—At the family residence, 395 Monaghan Road on Wednesday, April 10, 1935, Ida M. Turner, elder daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Turner. Funeral private on Friday, April 12, 1935 at 2 o'clock p.m. Interment at Little Lake cemetery.

CLANCY—At Kirkland Lake, John Clancy, son of the late James Clancy and Mrs. Clancy, Water street. Surviving are his wife, Anna, and two children, Helen and Anna Marie; also his mother and three brothers, Fred, Harry and William; two sisters, Mrs. A. Mixer of Detroit and Mrs. Jos. Primeau. Burial took place at Windsor, April 8th.

FILLET OF SOLE 29c lb.

Fresh Cod	2 lbs.	25c
Baby Halibut—(Small fish) lb.		20c
Boned Haddie—lb.		22c
Smoked Fillets—(Mild cure) lb.		18c
Salt Herrings—(Last of season) Doz.		40c
Steel Head Salmon—lb.		25c
Red Salmon—lb.		20c
English Multiplier Onions.	3 lbs.	25c

ASTA'S

202 CHARLOTTE

PHONE 983

REDUCED COAL PRICES

LEHIGH VALLEY

Anthracite is Hard, Clean, Long Burning Coal

Stove - - 14.00 | Egg - - - 13.75
Nut - - - 13.75 | Pea - - - 11.75

CASH DISCOUNT OF 50c PER TON

Edwards Fuels

71 WARE ST. PHONE 178

New Cure In Sight For Bright's Disease

By Howard W. Blakeslee (Associated Press Science Editor).

DETROIT, April 11 (A.P.). — A kidney extract which promises a treatment for now incurable Bright's disease was reported for the first time to-day at a meeting of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

Bright's disease is one of the dozen foremost causes of death in Canada and the United States.

The extract described to-day has been under strictly secret investigation for about three years under sponsorship of the chemical foundation. It has been tried on human beings with both unusual and puzzling results.

It was given to persons in coma after hope had been abandoned. Some revived remarkably, others were wholly unaffected. The reason for this difference is still sought.

In the clinic of the late Allen Winter Rowe at Boston a number of Bright's disease patients were tried. About half improved. Results were negative on the others.

Benjamin Jablons, M.D., of New York City said the extract was taken from kidneys of hogs. Extraction in pure form is still a difficult process.

SACRED CANTATA

Stainer's "Crucifixion" will be rendered in St. John's Church next Sunday, at 7 p.m. 2d,9,11

BIRTH

CHILDERHOSE.—To Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Childerhose, 556 Aylmer street, on Monday, April 8th, 1935, a daughter, Margaret Diane.

SAVE ON FLOOR COVERING At CHERNEY'S

REXOLEUM—2 yards wide. Choice of patterns. Sq. yard..... 35c

GOLD SEAL CONGOLEUM RUGS—Discontinued patterns. Guaranteed. 3 x 9 4.35 9 x 12 8.95

GOLD SEAL CONGOLEUM—By the yd. 3 yds. wide, square yard .. 58c and 60c

Let us help you figure the cost of covering your floors. Large assortment. All sizes of Rugs. LOWEST PRICES.

NEW WALNUT STEEL BED OUTFITS

Consists of 2-inch post Bed, high-riser Sagless Wire or Coil Spring, well filled All-Felt Mattress, sizes 3-3, 4 ft. 4-6. 3 pieces complete for, only..... 12.25

DAY BEDS—Drop side couches, well constructed, fancy cretonne covered mattress. Complete 8.75

ALL-FELT MATTRESSES — Rolled edge, art ticking. All sizes. Special at..... 3.75

CHERNEY'S Furniture Store

213 CHARLOTTE

PHONE 226

Brookdale Kingsway Nurseries

Shrubs, Perennials, Trees, Roses. Landscape Design represented by E. JESSEN

P.O. Box 706. Phone 1510.

Repeat Performance of "APPLE BLOSSOM TIME"

by Trinity Club

Will be held FRIDAY, APRIL 12, at 8.15 in Reid Street Hall. Admission 25c.

Dr. T. P. McCullough Specialist

Phone 36-W 166 Brock Street.

Peterborough

Eye Ear Nose Throat and Sinus Work.

All styles of Frames and Glasses greatly reduced in price.

dtf-8273

MOTORISTS Use GOODYEAR TIRES

Famous For Their Traction Tread

Buy Them At

WATSON'S

Cor. George & Brock Sts.

m,th

CAR OWNERS ATTENTION

COMPLETE BRAKE SERVICE

HYDRAULIC ADJUSTMENT.... 50c
MECHANICAL ADJUSTMENT.... $1

Free Brake Inspection

COMPLETE STOCK OF DUNLOP TIRES

Up-to-date Vulcanizing Repair Plant. All Tire Repairs guaranteed 1 year.

THE FAMILY STORE JOHNSTON PHONE 2123

Mon.Thurs-tf

READ THE WANT ADS

BEAT THE MOTHS TO IT!

HAVE YOUR HEAVY WINTER COATS

BURTOL SUPER-CLEANED

They will be delivered to you in a specially designed moth-proof bag. NO EXTRA CHARGE FOR THIS SERVICE.

AVOID THE RUSH

Next week is the Big Easter Cleaning Week. Don't wait—have your work done now.

Phone 622—Our Driver will Call.

BURTOL SUPER-CLEANERS

425 GEORGE STREET.

Knox United Church Choir

Presents

TWO ONE-ACT PLAYS and MUSICAL PROGRAMME

IN KNOX LECTURE HALL FRIDAY, APRIL 12TH AT 8.15 P.M.

ADMISSION - - ADULTS 25c : CHILDREN 15c

3d-88-352

NOTICE!

Please take notice that the placing of leaves, branches and other refuse from lawns and gardens on the roadways in the City is strictly prohibited.

By Order,

R. H. PARSONS,

City Engineer.

COAL PRICES DOWN!

D. L. & W. "BLUE COAL"

EGG COAL ..$13.75 NUT COAL.... 13.75
STOVE COAL. 14.00 PEA COAL.... 11.75
SCOTCH COAL. $15.50

Discount of 50c per ton for Cash on Delivery.

PHONE 209.

H. B. TAYLOR & SON

COLEMAN BROS.

TWO MORE DAYS ONLY
For Taking Advantage of Our

UTILAC SPECIAL
SAVE 30c

FREE!

¼ Pint of Utilac Valued at 30c with the Purchase of Every 25c Brush

Benjamin Moore's quick drying Utilac is a beautiful enamel for finishing furniture, woodwork, walls, floors, etc. It is easy to use and is put up in 21 beautiful shades; also in black, white and light oak, dark oak, walnut and mahogany varnish stain.

¼ Pint, 30c; ½ Pint, 50c; Pint, 85c; Quart, $1.50

FREE TRIAL OFFER

One Quarter Pint UTILAC FREE with purchase of 25c Brush.
One 25c Brush / One 30c Can Utilac | The Two 25c or free brush with larger can

ONLY ONE SET TO A CUSTOMER—2 MORE DAYS ONLY.

Name .....

Address .....

PRESENT THIS COUPON TO

COLEMAN BROS. 445 George St., Peterborough

Phone Orders Accepted. Free Delivery

COLEMAN Bros.

445 GEORGE ST. (Four doors North of Brock). PHONE 617

MARMORA

Under auspices of St. Paul's A.Y.P.A. the lantern lecture "The Children of China" was given at the White Hall, Marmora on Monday evening and at Deloro Hall the following evening. A collection was taken both evenings for the funds of the M.S.C.C.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McKinley of Toronto spent Tuesday in the village.

Mr. S. C. Boyd visited Belleville and Trenton on Tuesday.

A special Lenten service is being held in St. Andrew's United Church on Friday evening.

Spain has ordered a modification of taxes before July 1.

FASHION SERVICE

2933

SLENDERIZING MODEL

Here's a charming dress for larger women that slenderizes the figure without a tell-tale. Jabot revers give a softly flattering line to the surplice bodice. Plain or crepe silk prints are excellent mediums to fashion this simple to make dress, ideal for town or casual wear.

Style 2933 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48-inches bust. Size 36 requires 4¼ yards of 39-inch material.

The Examiner:
Please order for me—
Pattern Number .....
Size .....
My Name .....
Address .....
I enclose 15c in payment — Allow five days for return

Actual Comments Received From the Wearers of M. W. LOCKE SHOES in this city.

I have been unable to do my house-work for the past six months. Now that I have a pair of M. W. Locke Shoes, it is a pleasure.

MRS. J. M.

My feet have been in such a bad condition for the past year I was forced to wear felt slippers, and my nerves were in a very bad condition. Now that I have a pair of M. W. Locke Shoes, I am out walking every morning.

MRS. H.

My feet had made an invalid of me for years. Now that I have a pair of M. W. Locke Shoes, I feel that I have a new lease on life, such comfort and such a pleasure to walk.

MR. R. J.

Down Town All Day!

"My dear, you must be tired out. I've just started to shop and I could drop with fatigue."

"On the contrary, I feel fine. I bought a pair of M. W. Locke shoes, last week. Now, a full day's shopping is a pleasure!"

Thousands of women who wear M. W. Locke shoes agree that they give unparalleled comfort.

The most critical fashion experts endorse the current styles.

M·W·LOCKE SHOES
"Designed and approved by Dr. M. W. Locke, Williamsburg, Ont."
STYLED FOR FASHIONABLE WOMEN

BALTIMORE—A dainty black kid oxford. Last No. 3.

● We suggest that you visit your nearest M. W. Locke shoe representatives and ask them to show you the range of styles and explain their construction—corrective without sacrifice of smartness.

Actual Comments Received From the Wearers of M. W. LOCKE SHOES in this city.

After having a nervous breakdown, my feet were so painful that I could not go out; but after being fitted with Dr. M. W. Locke Shoes, I am out walking every day and my health has improved greatly.

MRS. R.

I was about to give up my position as teacher because of the condition of my feet. I purchased a pair of M. W. Locke Shoes, which had been recommended by a friend, and now my scholars must think they have a new teacher.

R. B.

From a Farmer

The condition of my feet was such that I did not believe it possible to work my land this year, that I would have to hire it done, but a friend recommended me to try a pair of your Dr. M. W. Locke Work Boots. I wish to go on record and say the improvement has been marvellous and I am able to work long hours again.

MR. J. R.

We have two qualified Shoe Experts authorized to fit M. W. Locke Shoes.

NABORHOOD SHOE STORE

338 GEORGE STREET PHONE 3008

elements, just the same as the well man. The weight loss that attends illness can be avoided by giving carbohydrates (starches, sugars, vegetables, fruits) in the form of milk, lemonade, orange juice, tomato juice, oatmeal, gruel, custard, ice cream.

Ice cream is the dish of dishes while the invalid is really sick, with no relish for food. It allays any nausea that is present, its coolness is refreshing, it is digestible and highly nutritious.

With fever, contrary to general belief, the patient's digestive powers are quite adequate, and what he eats will nourish him.

In my youth, the ladies of the neighborhood in which I lived were proud, not as housekeepers are now of being able to paint almost well enough so they don't have to give the pictures away, or of being able to play the piano almost well enough so they don't have to do it free at a concert, but of their recipes. These were guarded like the secret of a medieval guild. But one of them made a convalescent dish called "wine jelly." And I am able to divulge the way it was made.

To one pint of cold water add one box of Cox's gelatin. Dissolve and add one scant quart of boiling water, the juice of two lemons thinly pared, one quart of sherry, one pint of sugar and two or three pieces of stick cinnamon, the whites of two eggs well beaten and crushed shells of eggs to make the jelly clear.

Boil all together about 15 minutes and strain through flannel.

Be Beautiful

By GLADYS GLAD

Whether you're up on your mythology or not, most of you probably know the story of Narcissus, the beautiful youth who, in the days before mirrors were invented, saw his reflection in a woodland pool and fell in love with it. And in the end, he pined to death with love of his reflection. Even in pastoral times, the only way a girl could catch a glimpse of herself was by seeking her reflection in a pool or revulets. It wasn't until the Roman era that mirrors came into use, and then they were only made of polished metal.

Today, of course, mirrors are almost perfect. And while many women don't realize it, mirrors are important beauty accessories, as they enable a woman to see herself exactly as others see her. A triple mirror is the best sort of mirror to have at one's makeup table, as it permits a woman to view her face from all angles. For when a gal has finished applying her makeup, she should not only obtain a clear view of the front of her face, but should also examine each side carefully. This is essential so that she may see whether or not her rouge, powder, lipstick and eye cosmetics are blended evenly and harmoniously on each side of her face. If her makeup is not properly balanced, it may give a somewhat disproportionate appearance to her face.

A full-length mirror also is an important beauty accessory. Some girls look as though they've never seen themselves other than in sections. The short, plump gal, for instance, who persists in wearing large hats, belted frocks, cape dresses and the like. Or the tall, thin girl who goes for gowns with long, vertical, flowing lines. Such girls, without a full-length mirror, cannot see that the respective styles they are wearing only accent the short squatness or tall, lankiness of their figures.

Without a full-length mirror, no girl can study herself, can learn to gown herself correctly so that the best lines of her figure are fully brought out. And without a triple mirror no femme can really get a decent slant at her makeup. So take my advice and always study yourself carefully from every angle before you consider your toilet complete. Be fair to yourself in this respect, and you'll always appear fair to others.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Cosmetics

Patsy: I think that a soft peach shade of powder, soft orange rouge, light lipstick and dark brown eyeshadow cream would blend harmoniously with your coloring.

Legs

Martha: It is indeed possible to reduce over-plump thighs, calves and ankles. Full information on this is contained in my article on "Care of the Feet and Legs," but is too long to print here.

Weight

Doris: I think that a girl five feet four inches tall and 25 years of age should weigh about 128 pounds.

You wouldn't wash your walls every day ...we did it regularly for 3 months

Walls painted with Lo-Glo stand washing. Scarfe experts proved it. Walls painted with Lo-Glo were washed daily for three months. Colors didn't fade—paint didn't wear off, peel or crack.

Every batch of Lo-Glo is subjected to the brushing test, to make sure it brushes evenly, dries hard and without brush marks.

Every batch tested for color and matched with standard sample. Scarfe colors never vary.

The record room. A sample of every Scarfe paint product is kept here for years, as a check on uniformity of color and quality.

SCARFE'S tested LO-GLO SATIN WALL FINISH

This beautiful, sanitary wall finish dries with a soft lustre. Many pleasing colors for every room in the house. Lo-Glo produces a firm, non-absorbent surface which can be washed time and again. Can be applied on plaster, wood, metal or plaster board surfaces. A standard price everywhere $1.50 a quart.

LO-GLO WALL FINISH

Gal.	½ Gal.	Qt.	Pt.	½ Pt.
$4.50	$2.35	$1.30	.70	.40

4 HOUR FLOOR and LINOLEUM VARNISH

Gal.	½ Gal.	Qt.	Pt.	½ Pt.
$4.00	$2.10	$1.10	.70	.40

HOUSE PAINTS (White and Colors)

Gal.	½ Gal.	Qt.	Pt.	½ Pt.
$4.50	$2.35	$1.30	.70	.40

VARN-O-LAC (The new one-coat 4 hour enamel.)

Gal.	½ Gal.	Qt.	Pt.	½ Pt.
$5.75	$3.00	$1.65	.90	.55

FOR SALE BY

SCARFE & CO. LIMITED

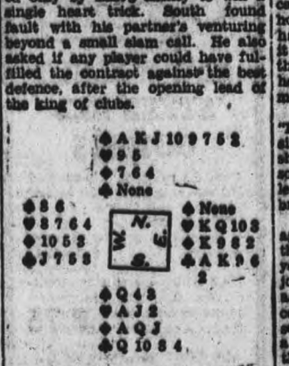
169 Hunter St. West, Peterborough. Phone 416

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By E. V. Shepard
"Teacher of Teachers"

CAN NORTH FULFIL HIS CONTRACT?

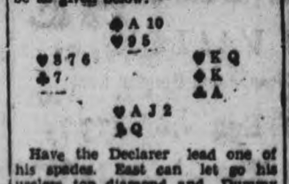
The deal shown today was characterized by very bold bidding, resulting in a grand slam spade contract by North, an obligatory double by East, and a contract defeated only by East's ability to win a single heart trick. South found fault with his partner's venturing beyond a small slam call. He also asked if any player could have fulfilled the contract against the best defence, after the opening lead of the king of clubs.



I have no idea who was responsible chiefly for the grand slam in the only possible way to make it.

North ruffed the king of clubs. Play thereafter as follows: Win the next trick with the king of spades, and the third trick with Dummy's queen, to obviate the possibility that West might ruff a diamond if left a trump, also to squeeze East, if possible, to prevent the loss of the single trick he won.

Let North regain his hand by ruffing a low club from Dummy. Lead a diamond. Win with Dummy's jack. Lead back Dummy's last spade. Lead another diamond. Win with Dummy's queen, then take the ace of diamonds. Regain Declarer's hand by ruffing next to the last club held by Dummy. The last four cards held by each player will be as given below:



Have the Declarer lead one of his spades. East can let go his useless top diamond and Dummy will let go its lowest heart. Lead Declarer's last spade. Everybody knows that East holds the top club. Dummy will discard whatever East continues to hold. If East holds his ace of clubs, discard Dummy's losing queen. Then Dummy's ace-jack of hearts will pick up East's lone heart honor and win the twelfth and thirteenth tricks. If East let go his top club, with the queen facing him in Dummy, of course Dummy will let go the jack of hearts and win last two tricks with the ace of hearts and the top club remaining. East cannot prevent the grand slam if North plays to best advantage.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

Here is the place where the home nurse can really shine. There may be some doubts as to whether she can give a bath as well as the hospital trained nurse. And perhaps some other things. But when it comes to food for the invalid, the home is so far ahead of the hospital that it is a sacrilege to mention them together.

Miss Noyes in her book on the "Home Care of the Sick," emphasizes that meals for the invalid should be on time. But I am not so sure about that. Breakfast, at least, should not happen until the breakfaster it ready for it.

The really monumental advantage home has over the hospital is that you can have breakfast when you wake up. You need not be jolted out of a pleasant snooze just as the dawn is beginning to creep coldly over the landscape, to attack some clammy oatmeal, covered with a light blue liquid which goes under the name of cream.

Nor need you have your attention focused on the monstrosity called supper (of which the piece de resistance is caribou steak) at about the time you close up the office under the code, while the sun is shining bright as a gold dollar and the birds are quarreling loudly on the bougha, as you do in the hospital.

What Invalid Needs

So far as the scientific principles of feeding the sick are concerned, they are no different from the principles of dietetics under normal conditions. The invalid needs starches, sugars, vegetables, fat, protein, salts, water and the vital

Piles Go Quick

Under Dr. Leonhardt's Internal Method.

Large numbers of sufferers from itching, bleeding, or protruding piles have learned that quick and lasting relief can be accomplished with an internal medicine, when salves do not help and wish is to escape operation.

Bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts lifeless. To end Piles an internal medicine should be used to stimulate the circulation and help to heal the affected parts.

Dr. Leonhardt was one of the first to discover a real internal Pile remedy. He called his prescription HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for large numbers of patients with a fine record of success and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID tablets from their own druggist, with money-back if not joyfully satisfied with the help one bottle gives.

So isn't it wise when other ways fail to go to MacDermid & Jury and Boyd's Drug Store, who say: "No matter what kind of Piles you have one bottle of HEM-ROID tablets must show you the safe, clean way to get rid of your Pile misery or money-back."

Five distilleries for the production of alcohol from potatoes will be erected in the Irish Free State this year.

WHEN PENNIES COUNT

Save with safety by asking for NAVY Toilet Tissue. Soft . . . absorbent . . . pure . . . sterilized. Don't take chances on unknown brands. NAVY is a big value. Three made by Eddy's.

The E. B. EDDY Co. Limited
Toronto Branch · 73-75 Wellington St. West

This week! cleaning items at special low prices!

In celebration of our 75th birthday in Ontario, we will feature TWO BIG WEEKS OF SALES. For this week we are featuring an imposing array of housecleaning items—many of them so attractively priced that you will want to purchase your entire summer needs at these bargain prices.

BULK
Soap Chips 5 lb. Box 37c

A POPULAR BRAND
Floor Wax Castle 1lb. Tin, Reg. 25c 19c

PURIFIES AS IT CLEANS
Classic Cleanser 4 TINS 17c

NEW SHIPMENT
Brooms Extra Fine Special Each 50c Limited 39c

COMMON
Clothes Pins 4 DOZ. 10c

HEAVY SOLID BACK
Washboards EACH 39c

SAVE THE COUPONS—LAUNDRY SOAP.
Pearl Naptha 10 Bars 31c

ECONOMICAL—SATISFYING
TEA Assam & India Nectar Blend lb. 55c
SPECIAL BLEND lb. 39c

GILT-EDGE BREAD
FLOUR
98 lb. Bag $1.20 98 lb. Bag $2.39

BAKE SURE WITH JEWEL
Jewel Pure Vegetable Shortening 2 1-lb. Prints 23c

FANCY WET PACK
Shrimp 5½-oz. Tin 17c

Guaranteed MEATS

CHOICE QUALITY
Lamb Legs lb. 21c
Lamb Fronts lb. 12c

FANCY FOR BOILING OR FRICASSEE
FOWL 4 lbs. and up lb. 19c

FANCY MILK-FED
Veal Legs Whole or Cut lb. 18c

A & P QUALITY BEEF
Porterhouse Steak lb. 27c

FOR ENAMEL AND PORCELAIN
Babo Tin 14c
Made in Canada

PERCH Fresh Caught lb. 10c
FANCY STEELHEAD
Salmon Steaks and Centre Cuts lb. 20c By the Piece lb. 18c

LARGE, RIPE YELLOW
BANANAS 3 lbs. 19c
NEW ARRIVAL—FRESH TEXAS
BEETS 2 bunches 13c

ATLANTIC & PACIFIC

NEIGHBORLY NOTES

Please Phone Items to 1600 or 1601

Mrs. T. G. Loudon of Brock Street entertained at the tea hour yesterday afternoon in honor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. W. R. Roberts of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, who is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Loudon. Many ladies came in from four to seven o'clock, to be greeted by the hostess and her guest and enjoy a pleasant chat in the pretty rooms, which were decorated with spring bouquets of daffodils, tulips and snapdragon. Mrs. Bert Jackson ushered the guests to the tea room where tea was poured by Miss Bessie Matchett, and Mrs. Walter Perry cut the ices. Assistants were Mrs. H. Kelso, Mrs. Gordon Miller, Mrs. Morley Shaver, and Mrs. Vernon Skitch. The tea table was lovely with embroidered linen and lace on polished brown wood. The centerpiece was a silver basket placed on a large round mirror reflector and filled with exquisite pink flowers; tulips and snapdragon. Bouquets of pink sweet peas were in silver bud vases and four junior silver candlesticks held tall, lighted pale pink tapers. Silver dishes filled with pink and white mints and rose tints in the refreshments rounded out a lovely color scheme. During the tea hour songs were very interestingly rendered by Mrs. Ross Williamson and Miss Marion Ralston, with piano accompaniments played by Miss Musa Cox. Mrs. Williamson's solo was "It's May Time," while Miss Ralston gave "A Brown Bird Singing."

* * *

Admirers of the singing of Mr. Harvard Reddick, who made such a pleasant impression on his listeners with his solos at a recent recital held by his teacher, Dorothy Allan Park, will be interested in the announcement that he is to broadcast to-night at 8.15 over Station CFRB, Toronto. Mr. Reddick is a son of the Rev. C. S. Reddick of Omemee.

* * *

Miss Betty Preston, who is attending the University of Toronto School of Nursing, and who underwent an operation recently for appendicitis, in Toronto, is convalescing at the home of parents Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Preston of the Port Hope Highway.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. George Williams and their daughter Betty have returned to their home on Douglas Avenue after living in Windsor for the past few months.

* * *

Mrs. H. Turner of Douglas Avenue lent her home yesterday afternoon for a pretty Spring tea held under the auspices of the King Edward Home and School Association. The guests were received by the hostess and the president of the Association, Mrs. Stanley Gillespie, and were ushered to the tea room by Mrs. T. Menzies. Mrs J. O. Fife was general convenor of arrangements and tea was poured by Mrs. R. J. Bolton and Mrs. George Snowden. Assistants included Mesdames Hubel, Beatty, Croft, Cook, Spurway. The tea table was very attractively arranged with a lace cloth centered by a mirror reflector holding a silver basket filled with daffodils. Yellow candles were in silver holders. Taking part in a very pleasing program were Mrs. Reeves-Newson and Mrs. McNaughton, presenting a vocal duet; Mesdames Glover and Cooper, in vocal solos; and Mrs. Rowe, in a reading.

* * *

Ven. Archdeacon Blagrave, D.D., is in Toronto, attending the meetings of the Synod of Toronto.

* * *

Friends of Mr. G. W. Harper, District Plant Superintendent of the Bell Telephone Company, and of Mrs. Harper, will regret to learn of the former's transfer to Windsor, Ontario, where Mr. and Mrs. Harper will remove about the first of May.

* * *

Mrs. J. A. Porter has returned to her home in Norwood after spending the winter in Peterborough at the Y.W.C.A.

* * *

The many friends of Mr. M. H. Drysdale of George street south will sympathize with him in a double bereavement in the death of his mother, the late Mrs. J. S. Drysdale, and his sister, the late Mrs. W. B. Armstrong, both of Montreal, and both formerly of Peterborough. The deaths occurred within two days of each other, during the past week.

* * *

Mrs. James Bestard of Sherbrooke and Charlotte streets is observing today the seventy-fifth anniversary of her birth.

* * *

Mr. C. B. Steele of Toronto is in the city on a business trip and is a guest at the White House.

* * *

Miss Addie Hurl of Rossmount was the guest today of her niece, Mrs. P. Gosselin of Hunter street.

* * *

His many friends are pleased to see Mr. Sam Calladine out and around again after his recent illness.

* * *

The condition of Mr. G. J. Monahan of Weller street, who is ill with rheumatic fever in St. Joseph's Hospital, remains practically unchanged.

* * *

The J.O.Y. Class of George street United Church will hold one of the society's celebrated Easter teas tomorrow afternoon in the Sunday School auditorium of the church.

* * *

Rita Lanouette of 268 King street celebrated her seventh birthday recently by entertaining a number of her small friends. After receiving gaily-colored hats, the small guests sang "Happy Birthday to You", in honor of the little hostess, followed by tap dances, songs and games, and the service of a dainty supper. The jolly evening ended with the singing of "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow."

* * *

A pleasant event of this evening will be the annual banquet of the president, officers and members of the Ladies' Basketball Association of Peterborough, to be held in the green room and library of the Y. W. C. A.

* * *

A dance attended by seventy-five guests, and held at the McDonnell street clubhouse of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling and Tennis Club, with music played by the Watson-Atkinson orchestra, followed the annual meeting last night of the Peterborough Badminton Club. Preceding the affair was a dinner party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. O'Connor-Fenton of Monaghan Road, when they entertained thirty guests. In the brief business session which preceded the dance, the election of executive members for the next season was held, with the following appointed: Dr. A. G. Howson, Mr. R. T. E. Hicks-Lyne, Lt. Col. F. Bradburn, Mrs. B. D. Hall, Mrs. C. D. Hewitt, Mr Logan Dickieson and Mr. C. O'Connor-Fenton. Mr. Dickieson was appointed as secretary for the coming year, and the group will meet later to appoint a president and a treasurer to replace Mr. Jack Harstone, who resigned last evening after three years in office. Reports were read of the past year's activities, with a resume of social affairs given by the convenor of the social committee, Mrs. B. D. Hall. Last season's president, Dr. Howson, was in the chair.

* * *

Mr. N. E. Merriam, general merchant of Harwood, and his brother, Mr. H. E. Merriam, also of Harwood, were in the city yesterday on business.

* * *

Miss Jean Sopha of Havelock spent today in Peterborough.

* * *

Miss Ida M. Wesley of George street is lending her home tomorrow evening for a bridge party to be held under the auspices of the 57th Regiment Chapter I.O.D.E.

* * *

Mr. Sam Thomson of Port Hope was a visitor to the city yesterday.

* * *

Shirley Joan Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allen of George street south, celebrated her twelfth birthday in happy fashion yesterday, when she entertained a few of her young friends at the tea hour. Decorations were carried out in Easter colors of mauve, yellow and white, with the birthday cake centering the table. Those present were Marian Whitmore, Marguerite Whitmore, Marguerite Grose, Helen Black, Marjorie Cunningham, Leah Davis, Isobel Heath, Allwen Jones, Bessie Watson, June Foster, and Doreen and Raymond Allen.

* * *

Mrs. J. E. R. Munro, chairman of the Ladies' section of the Kawartha Golf and Country Club, entertained at the tea hour on Tuesday afternoon at her home, the members of the executive committee of the Ladies' section, in honor of Mrs. G. W. Harper, the treasurer, who, with her husband, leaves at the end of this month to reside in Windsor, Ontario.

* * *

Mr. Archie Campbell and son Jack, of McDonell street, have returned home from Cadillac, Michigan, where they attended the funeral of the former's brother, the late Mr. Bruce Campbell.

Our King and Queen on their Silver Jubilee

When the Prince of Wales became the King's ambassador

IN the years following the war, when the royal family took such an active interest in the affairs of the Empire, the Prince of Wales, heir to the throne, became the King's personal ambassador.

Not even King George himself had, when he was Prince of Wales, travelled farther, or more often, than the popular young Prince.

It was the war that served to show what sort of man this Prince was. He had violated just about every tradition in joining regiments in the front lines, showing a particular preference for Canadians. Often he travelled about as an ordinary officer and once was summarily ordered by a superior officer who failed to recognize him as the Prince of Wales, to jump into a car and drive him, over dangerous roads, to headquarters. The officer got quite a shock when he realized he had a royal chauffeur.

After the war, in 1919, the Prince visited Canada where he was enthusiastically acclaimed by one and all. It was on this occasion that he started his ranch, the "E.P." ranch, in Alberta, declaring at the time that he was going to make it pay.

From Canada, the Prince went to the United States where that nation hailed him as the world's most popular prince—and they still hold to that opinion.

From United States, back to England, then on to Australia and New Zealand, India, South Africa —every quarter of the Empire.

No Prince in history so endeared himself in the hearts of nations as did this most democratic of young men.

Our layout today shows three informal portraits of this thin, nervous, but very much alive heir to the throne. He is seen at the age of six, dressed in the sailor costume. The sea again! Another picture shows him aboard ship on his eastern trip, dressed in the costume of a Chinese coolie at a masquerade. In the centre, an intimate study taken in Washington in 1919 on the occasion of his first visit to the United States.

Everywhere he went he carried with him a message from the King to his subjects. And everywhere he appeared he was the subject of great rejoicing—much to his own discomfort at times.

On his Canadian visit, so many handshakes in Ottawa caused an injury to that member that prevented any further salutations of this kind. In Toronto, war veterans crowded around him in such a mass that they had to pass him over their heads to get him to the speaker's platform.

To-morrow: The Prince as a horseman

BIG SPECIAL OFFER!
UNUSUAL ASSORTMENT!
WOMEN'S NEW EASTER SHOES

Exactly as sketched
2.39
All sizes in every style

Can you imagine such style at so low a price?
350 George St. R. NEILL, Ltd. Phone 325

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

A hat is a frame for the face, and must therefore set it off to advantage or it ceases to fulfil its decorative purpose. As a utilitarian part of clothing it may fulfil its object without contributing anything more than a covering for the head.

* * * * * * *

Primarily this was the necessity, to cover the head and keep it warm in cold climates, and to form a shield and protection against the scorching rays of the sun in torrid climates. But as in all raiment necessity has ever been coupled with ornament. Every nation has its peculiar variety of styles, some severe, some bizarre, etc., but in each instance there is the attempt to lend beauty to countenance.

* * * * * * *

Today, there are two requisites for hats, one is smartness and the other is becomingness. These must be coupled. So often we see hats that are smart but totally lacking in becomingness. Whether the woman makes her own hats, as do many when textile is the medium or whether she has a fashionable milliner, she must not fail to secure hats that enhance her best features and also have that indescribable element, smartness.

* * * * * * *

Select the hat with the idea of having it go with the frocks that you have planned for the season. In this age one hat is seldom enough. But to eliminate the need of many, a black hat, a white or light hat, and one to go with the most important costume can be made to do. In this season of dark blue accessories a hat of this color may be chosen instead of the black one. And for those who find grey especially becoming, a dark gray hat may supplant the black, or a light grey may take the place of the white.

* * * * * * *

The shape must suit the head, that is, it must not only fit well but it must be right in bringing out the best appearance. For instance a woman with a long narrow face should not choose a hat to accent this, while a woman with a very round face would not find a broad hat so very becoming to her.

* * * * * * *

Try on the hat sitting and standing. View it as closely from the back and sides as from the front. If you are making the hat yourself, bend and shape it so that the style chosen will add beauty to your head from every angle. Remember the points given when selecting your Easter or Spring hats so soon to be worn.

THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL.

"THE SCARLET PIMPERNEL"

Leslie Howard, who is one of those chameleon-like actors who seem able to acquire at will the perfect personality for any role in which he or she is placed, has another triumph in this picture, which dramatizes for the silver screen the famous and adventurous characters in Baroness Orczy's much-liked novel of the same name.

Alexander Korda, creator of Henry Eighth and other British films, is the director of this picture and his masterly hand is shown in strong attention to detail. One may wonder just why, in such a fine production, they couldn't get someone other than a man with a strong hint of Bow Bells to his tongue to play the part of the Frenchman who erects the guillotine at Boulogne, but one admires the atmosphere of reality that permeates the English scenes and is so strong a contrast to the artificial aspect often encountered in Hollywood reproductions of early American episodes.

For instance, from what history has to tell, the Prince Regent of that period must have looked very much like this lordly, fat gentleman with the commanding demeanor, loud voice and tight breeches, a peculiar swathing stock mantling his chin at most times. And his associates, with their artificial, affected speech, must have been of the type of these finicking courtiers who could, at a moment's notice, transform themselves into gallant protectors of the harried aristocrats of their Reign of Terror in France.

Here are the ghastly tumbrils bearing their wretched passengers to a tryst with Madam Guillotine; here is the high scaffolding and the wide knife-blade of the "National Razor"; with the famous knitting women and the shouting mob; here, somewhat unreal, is a prison interior, and here is, above all, the figure of the dashing Englishman who risks life and freedom to assist the imperilled nobles of another land.

Leslie Howard is superb in the role of Sir Percy Blakeney, the "Scarlet Pimpernel"; Merle Oberon is Marguerite, his wife, well enough in her role, but possessor of a somewhat sinister cast of countenance; Raymond Massey, the Canadian-born brother of Hon. Vincent Massey, gives a wonderful delineation of the part of the scheming Cauvelin; Anthony Bushell is Sir Andrew Ffoulkes; Joan Gardner is Susanne de Tournay; Ernest Milton is the haughty, soft-voiced Robespierre, and Nigel Bruce is H.R.H., the Prince Regent.

MANY KINDS OF SLIPPERS

NORTHAMPTON, England (C.P.) —Two hundred varieties of slippers are being made in a new factory here largely for the American trade.

Lumbermen Oppose 8-Hour Day Measure

OTTAWA, April 11.—(C.P.)—Canadian Lumbermen's Association today asked for exemption from the eight-hour day legislation before the Senate Banknig and Commerce Commerce committee.

The main contention of President W. R. Beatty of the Association was on the ground of the seasonal occupation of the industry.

"The work is of such a character it must necessarily be performed in variable periods of emloyment and the worker is not continuously occupied during the hours of employment, particularly in connection with the log driving operations," he said.

5.00
Beneath your Easter finery
"VALUSETTE"
by Lady Mac
ROBERT FAIR & CO. LIMITED

SODEN'S REACH 30TH BIRTHDAY

Conducting an Anniversary Sale to Reduce Existing Large Stocks—Many Real Values.

This year Soden's Bookstore is celebrating its 30th Anniversary in business in Peterborough and to mark this event they are conducting an anniversary sale in order to reduce existing large stocks of wallpaper, china, glassware, stationery, books, pictures and incidental pottery and novelty merchandise at substantial savings over previous prices.

Everyone in Peterborough and district knows this store and the quality of goods carried and it is sufficient to say that this sale will prove very interesting to the majority.

An advertisement appears elsewhere in this issue setting forth particulars of item and telling that the sale starts to-morrow morning (Friday). You are invited to visit the store during the next ten days and share in the many attractive values offered. Especially is it an opportunity to save on anticipated wallpaper purchases.

OFFICER ESCAPES

ATHENS — General Viachos, retired army officer who was implicated in the March revolt, escaped yesterday to the Dodecanese Islands in a motorboat.

YOUR EASTER Permanent

If you wish to have an individual style particularly suited to your type and one that will add to your Easter outfit, give us a call.

5.00

'phone 1182 Madame Merriam

FRIDAY AT 387 GEORGE PHONE 3680 BUEHLER

25c MEAT ORDERS DELIVERED FREE

Shoulder Veal Chops 2 lbs. 25c

BEEF SHANK. Half or whole.... 6c

BRISKET— 8c

BUTTER—With meat order 24c

Sweet Pickled Hocks 3 lbs. 25c

MINCED STEAK 2 lbs. 25c

SHOULDER PORK ..14c
LOIN PORK CHOPS ..23c
LOIN VEAL CHOPS, 18c

Best - At the Best Price

WHITE
PURE SOFT ABSORBENT
3 COMPLETELY WRAPPED ROLLS 25¢
Interlake
TOILET TISSUE

THE SOAP SHOP
286 George St. - 'Phone 3820 - Free Delivery

Washing Soda .. 5 lbs. 11c	Consult us when you need cleaning materials of any kind. We stock everything for house cleaning and every article sold is guaranteed. To every customer on Friday and Saturday we will give a cake of toilet soap.	Wrapped Laundry Soap, "Kawartha" ....9 for 25c
Keystone Cleanser 4c		4 oz. Toilet Tissue, 2 for 5c
Steel Wool, ½ lb. 14c		Dressing Combs 10c
Toilet Tissue .... 2 for 13c		1 lb. Floor Wax 25c
Linseed Soap, lb. 12c		Castile Soap ....5 for 11c
White Soap Flakes, 3 lbs. 27c		Brooms 29c
Hand Cleaner 14c		Bowl Brushes 15c
Wax Paper, 25 sheets, 12x14 .....4c		Soap Powder...2 lbs. 13c
		Chloride of Lime 9c

Will Prime Minister Bennett Go to People or Will One of These?

RT. HON. R. B. BENNETT

HON. EDGAR N. RHODES

HON. H. H. STEVENS

SENATOR ARTHUR MEIGHEN

Reports from Ottawa indicate that the Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, prime minister, who has been ill for several weeks, will not be leader of the Conservative party at the coming federal elections. The report states that his resignation will not be officially announced until a successor has been chosen. Among those mentioned as possible new leader of the Conservative Dominion party are Hon. H. H. Stevens, former cabinet minister, and the instigator of the Mass Buying and Price Spread investigation. Hon. Edgar N. Rhodes, minister of finance; Senator Arthur Meighen, former prime minister. The present leader and the three possible successors are shown above.

NEW ADVANCES BAKING BREAD

Newspaper Advertising Be Backbone of Stocks Bread Campaign.

"WONDER" BREAD

With newspaper advertising as its backbone, a campaign will soon be introduced to acquaint people with new developments in bread and cake baking, the salesmen and supervisors of Stocks Bread Limited were told at a meeting at the plant last night.

Total relief from home baking, yet with a full maintenance of the quality and taste standards of the best home-baked bread and cake, will be enjoyed by housewives, it was stated. The meeting of the Stocks Bread organization preceded the launching of the 1935 campaign in the interests of "Wonder" bread and "Hostess" cake.

Robert McMullen, vice-president and general manager of Consolidated Bakeries of Canada Limited, of Toronto; Walter Kiehn, of the J. J. Gibbons advertising agency and James Dutton, local manager, spoke to the men.

While emphasizing the dominance of newspaper advertising and its complete coverage, Mr. McMullen stated that outdoor posters and radio advertising would be used in the "Wonder" bread and "Hostess" cake campaigns. "In the bread business, as in many other lines, it is being found that not only does advertised merchandise predominate, but that the greatest degree of satisfaction and repeat business are found in the advertised brands," stated Mr. McMullen.

He also called attention to important new advances made in bread production, and improvements in quality and flavor. He touched on the economy of modern breads that satisfy the individual taste preferences of a large number of people. Charts and production samples were exhibited and analyzed, showing the development of a distinctive cracked wheat loaf and a new type of pound cake, being produced in the plant of Stocks Bread Limited.

Bonarlaw

Born—On Wednesday, March 27, to Mr. and Mrs. William Kemp, at Sory's Settlement, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. William Beattie of Grafton spent the week end in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wellman spent the week end at his former home here.

Miss Pearl Trotter returned to Bonarlaw on Friday having spent the past two weeks in Peterborough.

Guests at Mr. John S. McKeown's on Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Barlow, Miss Gwen Swayne and Mrs. Sanford Meiklejohn.

Mr. and Mrs. Artrur Burkitt visited at Mr. Arthur Reid's on Sunday.

Lakefield

Mr. Gilbert Palmer of Toronto is spending the summer in the village with his mother-in-law, Mrs. J. G. Brown.

Miss Winnie Payne is spending a couple of weeks in Toronto visiting relatives.

The annual card party and dance put on by the Lakefield Fire Department will be as usual the premier event of Easter Monday evening. This is a very popular party and always well managed by a competent committee.

"The Grove" closed last week for the Easter holiday and will re-open directly after Easter.

Peterborough's Possibilities

By HOMER MOORE

ARTICLE 19

The townships of North Monaghan, Dummer, Smith, Douro, Otonabee, Asphodel and Ennismore are a part of Peterborough County. While attention is drawn to them last they are not least, by any means. They are closer to the city of Peterborough than the other townships previously discussed. Being closer they can have their products interchanging with the goods of the city quicker than those of townships farther away, and if they did it in a well-thought plan with respect to the materials exchanged or purchased, they could increase the productiveness of their own township to a greater extent than now.

The dairy products of these districts when taken to the dairy factories leave a part of the material in the form of waste. Any cheese maker knows what that is, and givts it away. A German chemist in the U.S.A. found out that such could be utilized in the form of a poultry food in powdered form and established a small output, which later developed into a large output, the material being collected and delivered with a fleet of trucks. From so-called waste or a "thought-to-be" worthless liquid, a great industry was created. A workman came to Canada from that factory, and he had the process which he intended to use in Ontario for the manufacture of the poultry food. Being a German with not enough English words at his command, he had a hard time to explain it, but the last time I heard about it he was trying to get our government to tell him where the cheese factories were located for the purpose of securing the waste material. Now the point of this story is, that we now know an industry could be created from it and that our own chemists could figure out a process to turn it into poultry powder, and if such a factory were located in Peterborough city or even in a part of one of the many cheese factories, the material could be easily transported. The poultry business is important and any improved food, from source referred to, in reality benefits two businesses.

The township of Dummer is classed as a dairying and mixed farming district, but when that appellation was placed on it, little consideration had been given to its mineral content. Now, however, minerals anywhere are found to be necessary to the industrial greatness of our country and county. "Barite" has been found in Dummer Township. "Barite" is used in ground form in paints, putties and pigments. It is also used in chemical industries, and for textile, wallpaper and rubber manufacture, and in the tanning business.

"Chalcopyrite" — a sulphide of copper and iron, was also found, and near Stoney Lake, "tourmaline" was found. These are only straws, as it were, which point the way to other discoveries, and every person who resides in Dummer should be alert for deposits of other minerals. As farming operations proceed, keep your eye on the furrow and your plowshare may turn up for you, a fragment of some mineral or might get stopped by a big chunk of it, which might be worth more than the whole farm.

Two prospectors but not in this county once had been refused further credit for food, so they trudged on. One of them died from exhaustion and his chum started to dig a hole but a few inches down struck a rock which he couldn't move. He dug around it and found it was a lump of gold. It was sold for thirty thousand dollars (at old price) and was named, "the welcome stranger." Food came quickly after that and the story simply shows that something needed may be very near.

The townships of Asphodel and Otonabee are located near Rice Lake and are well worth looking into. They are near Northumberland County. An Indian Reserve is near Rice Lake. Did it ever occur to you, reader, that the Indians, either by instinct or design, are always located near something which becomes beneficial to the progressive white man? There are two other classes of humanity who never make a mistake as to location for future benefits but that is not connected with this article except to show there is some uncanny sense exercised to indicate to some, the place where progress will be. The railways often follow the Indian trails and where the trails cross, cities develop. The Indian Reserves are always near something of future value. The Indians do not know it, but it happens that way.

North Monaghan is near Durham County. Now the fact of Durham County and Northumberland County being mentioned as being near North Monaghan, Otonabee and Asphodel townships, is to show that those three townships of Peterborough County are likely affected by the same causes which ages ago operated in Durham and Northumberland Counties. Our children's children may grow up with the facts facing them that the natural resources of their father's time were used up, but the exceedingly valuable hidden resources of Northumberland and Durham Counties were left for them to utilize according to their (we hope) advanced scientific knowledge, for the continued advancement of Peterborough city. Peterborough city will continue advancing on and on to her wonderful destiny and the, at present, covered resources of the districts mentioned, will be of great value, in that future development.

The writer knows what they are, but the time for their exploitation has to co-incide with national needs and equipment. I inquired of proper authorities and the necessary equipment for testing and manufacturing is not in Canada, but is in a foreign country. We have those "unnamed in this article" resources in districts mentioned and later, perhaps, the equipment will be imported for use of those who will utilize those resources for future generations.

Township of Ennismore being near Pigeon and Buckhorn Lakes should have mineral resources. If they are looked for properly they will be found there near the lakes.

Township of Smith holds some surprises up around Young's Point.

Township of Douro, around Buckley Lake, has a basis of a great industry. Limestone is found in this township, as well as shale and that such is important is evidenced by the great cement industry located in Douro Township. When that was under construction I had opportunity to go through. The equipment and size of building indicated the raw material of product must be near, in quantity and right, in quality. Such do not locate where proper material is lacking and in a few years the raw materials of Douro will be transmuted into constructive enterprises in Canada and Peterborough County which will reflect itself in a larger Peterborough city.

No mention has previously been made of brick industries, but suitable clay is available and one firm is credited with supplying bricks for eighty per cent of the city buildings.

FISHING POOR IN HOLY LAND

JERUSALEM (C.P.) — Palestine has several clubs who hunt to hounds, English fashion, with jackals and foxes as the game, but there are no rivers for the rod and reel enthusiast.

BERLIN ADOPTS PESSIMISTIC AIR ON STRESA MEET

Beautiful Conference Scene Caustically Referred to as "Isle of Dreams."

AWAIT DEVELOPMENTS.

(Couyright, 1935, by The Associated Press)

BERLIN, April 11. — An air of ironic pessimism characterised the attitude to-day of official German circles toward the Tri-Power Conference at Stresa, summoned to decide what to do about European peace in the face of Germany's rearmament.

The scene of the conference of the western powers, Isola Belle—Beautiful Isle—is secretly and caustically referred to in some quarters as "The Isle of Dreams."

The view generally is taken since Hitler has made his attitude plain to Sir John Simon, British Foreign Secretary, in their recent conversations, the next move is in the hands of the Stresa conferees.

Next Move Unknown

Whether the Reich will join in a later conference, officials say, "depends upon the others."

Because of Germany's newly acquired confidence in her own strength, Stresa is the first full dress international conference since the war in which German issues have been involved, which has not sent a shiver through the Reich.

If any talk of an "iron ring" about the nation is worrying Reich officials, they conceal it well. Rather than receiving demands from the powers at Stresa, official quarters say Hitler has turned the tables and is now making demands of them, although he doesn't even have an observer at Lake Maggiore.

TRENT RIVER

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Clark and family moved Monday to Harry Wannamaker's cottage.

LOCKER ROOM
Limbers Up Muscles, Keeps Them Flexible.

AT HOME.....
Relieves Strains, Soreness and Stiffness.

THE ALL-PURPOSE LINIMENT

OLYMPENE, the great, all-purpose liniment has a place in every home. Used and endorsed by leading Canadian athletes, it has no superior for relieving sprained, sore muscles and joints. A corrective for Athlete's foot and providing quick relief for common head colds, it also protects cuts against the danger of infection. Buy a bottle of OLYMPENE today. Keep it handy for emergencies and for use as a body rub-down after exercise and to induce quiet, restful sleep.

OLYMPENE
THE ANTISEPTIC LINIMENT

4 oz. 50¢
10 oz. $1.00

A Message from W. K. Kellogg

EVERY ONE is interested in the country's improvement. We will have found economic recovery only when every one does his share.

As we see it our duty is threefold: first to provide the farmer with a fair market for his crop; second to give employment to as many people as possible; and finally to supply a wholesome food at a low cost.

When we introduced the original Corn Flakes nearly thirty years ago they were spontaneously received. They were crisp and tasted good and they were ready to serve. Year by year we enlarged our factories, hired more workers, bought more premium corn from the farmers, adopted a 24-hour working day with shorter shifts, enabling us to give employment to twenty-five per cent more people at good pay than in pre-depression times.

Kellogg's Corn Flakes are enjoyed daily by millions of people — far more than any other ready-to-eat cereal on the market. We appreciate your preference and will try constantly to give you a better product at greater value. Today you get twice as much in Kellogg's at one-half the price you paid for Corn Flakes before the war, 1908 to 1914.

Meanwhile both package and product have been steadily improved. Special processes — exclusively our own — keep Kellogg's Corn Flakes oven-fresh and flavor-perfect right to your table. You can buy them at grocers anywhere with full confidence in their guaranteed purity and quality.

We make only one brand of Corn Flakes — Kellogg's — in the red-and-green package.

W. K. Kellogg

BARRIE'S PLAY QUALITY STREET IS READ TO CLUB

Adrian Macdonald Reads Play to Business Women's Club.

TO FORM STUDY GROUPS.

Adrian Macdonald delighted his audience last night at the regular meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Peterborough, when he read for the members Sir James M. Barrie's charming play, "Quality Street." The meeting was held in the green room of the Young Women's Christian Association and was attended by about sixty-five of the members, who listened with intent appreciation to Mr. Macdonald's masterly outline of the play, which has been termed Barrie's "happiest" dramatic work.

The program, which was most interesting, included also two songs in Miss Dorothy Sager's thrilling soprano tones: the beautiful "Spirit Poker," and its encore, "The Star," with accompaniments by Mrs. George Nicholls, and 'cello solos by Tom Smith, who plays so splendidly and who is heard all too seldom. Mr. Smith's rich, smooth tone and expert playing were at their best in the lovely "Berceuse," from "Jocelyn," and its encore "Elegie." Appreciation of the musical numbers was voiced by the president of the club, Miss E. Warren Kee, in the chair.

Miss Kee, in a brief business session, announced that the formation of Study Groups in the club, with a proposed Public Speaking group included in the list, will not take place until the Autumn season.

Introduced by the president, Mr. Macdonald proceeded to provide a veritable treat for his listeners, so dramatic was his manner of presentation and so interesting was the theme of the play, "Quality Street," of which it has been said: "Not since Cranford has our lavender literature produced such exquisite store."

It is the tale of the Misses Susan and Phoebe Throssel, who live in a little English country town that has been placed by commentators "on the great North Road, half way between Thrums and Kensington." They dwell on Quality Street, "and in this little country town there is a satisfaction about living on Quality Street which even religion cannot give."

Here the curtain rises at the time of the Napoleonic wars, when a certain gentleman of their acquaintance who has been regarded as a possible admirer, in the modest and hesitating way of the maidens of that far-off day, goes to war. On his return, a decade later, the youthful misses of his acquaintance have aged to the sere and yellow leaf of thirty years, and are almost definitely relegated to the shelf. But they contrive, however, to come to life again, and the play swims along beautifully with all the fantastic and whimsical touches so characteristic of the author and so dear to the hearts of his admirers.

Mr. Macdonald's presentation was admirable and was received with rapt attention to the close, when a very appreciative vote of thanks was voiced by Miss Cathleen McCarthy and seconded by Miss Myra Baird.

PARIS TORTURE HOUSE IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

PARIS, April 11.—Fire yesterday swept through the thirteenth century torture chamber of the tower of St. Louis, which overshadows the Palais de Justice, in one of whose courtrooms two Americans, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon Switz, and nineteen others are on trial for alleged espionage.

While the fire was reported to have destroyed 400 years of criminal records in a building whose very walls are history, the Switz trial proceeded uninterrupted by the scream of fire sirens and shouts of firemen.

The group of buildings now the Palais de Justice also includes the famous Conciergerie prison, where King Louis XVI, his queen, Marie Antoinette, and their heir were imprisoned.

"Peter Pan" Is a Mother Now

It wasn't so long ago that Betty Bronson pleased movie audiences with her "Peter Pan" characterization. Now she's in retirement as Mrs. Ludwig Laureman and proudly shows Ludwig, Jr., at Asheville, N.C.

BARGAIN HUNTERS

MONTREAL—Ten women fainted and a score of persons suffered from bruises, when over 5,000 men, women and children jammed themselves into St. James' Market Hall yesterday to attend the annual police auction sale of miscellaneous articles.

The majority seemed to be out for the fun of the thing and Auctioneer J. E. Bernard, could not be heard. The sale had to be cancelled.

Last Warning

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., April 11.—Police to-day were running down clues to the identity of the mysterious prowler who twice last week made strange attacks on Barbara Leonard, film actress.

Last Friday she was found unconscious in her home in Beverly Hills. Her face was buried in several towels. Across her bare back, written backwards with an eyebrow pencil, was the legend: "gninraw taal," or "last warning" reversed.

She was removed to a sanitarium, where she was questioned both by police and federal agents. Doctors declared she had not been injured but was suffering from hysteria.

Last week Mrs. Leonard was found bound hand and foot in a closet in her home. She said two men entered her house and bound her.

STUDY CLUB HEARS REV. P. J. GALVIN

Lives of Sir Thomas Moore and Bishop Fisher Are Described.

An interesting meeting was held early in the week in the Ashburnham Community Hall, under the auspices of the Immaculate Conception Study Club. A good-sized crowd attended.

The speaker of the evening, Rev. P. J. Galvin of Grafton, Ont., spoke on Sir Thomas More and Bishop Fisher, two contemporary Englishmen who are soon to be canonized by the Pope. They lived during the reign of Henry VIII. Father Galvin described their lives and the reasons for their martyrdom, also sketching the history of the church in their time and for 500 years previous. It was a well-rounded and learned address on this important period in church history and was delivered in Father Galvin's usual eloquent style.

A motion of thanks by William O'Toole, seconded by Miss Kay Murphy, was tendered the speaker. Other speakers during the evening were Rev. Dr. Masterson of St. Peter's Cathedral, Rev. J. J. O'Brien of the Sacred Heart Church and Rev. C. J. Begley of the Immaculate Conception parish. Rev. Paul Costello and Rev. P. Finn of St. Peter's were present, also.

Some fine musical numbers added to the evening's entertainment. A piano duet by Misses Josephine Lynch and Miss Marion Best, and two violin solos by Miss Katherine Corkery were the instrumental numbers and were well received by the audience. Three vocal solos, one by Miss Phyllis Cowie and the other two by Miss Stella Brady, were also outstanding spots on the program and drew heavy applause. Miss McCabe played the accompaniments.

The chairman of the meeting was Oscar Perdue. The program closed with "God Save the King."

Lady Asquith Reveals King's Love Of Queen

LONDON, April 11 (C.P.)—Intimate anecdotes of the domestic life of the King and Queen are contained in a publication to-day of which Lady Cynthia Asquith, daughter-in-law of the late Earl Asquith, is the writer.

Once the Queen was ill and the King was sitting by her bedside holding her hand when she fell asleep. Afraid if he moved she would be awakened, the King remained in the same position for several hours.

Once the King said with deep feeling to a close friend, "If anything were to happen to the Queen I should die."

Another little story about the Queen concerns her presence with the Prince of Wales, then a small boy, at some interminable function. Noting how utterly bored the little Prince looked, the Queen bent towards him and with a smile whispered: "David, dear, please smile."

TRADE ETHICS CAR BUSINESS IS APPROVED

Peterborough Automobile Dealers Endorse Proposed Action.

CHAMBER GIVES SUPPORT.

Code for Canada Embodies the Principles of the American Code.

Unanimous endorsation of the drive for regulation of the automobile dealers yesterday. A report on the progress of the nation-wide movement which has been under way for many months past was heard from James R. Dixon of the Dixon Bureau of Equity, Ottawa, sponsors of the drive.

The resolution, adopted by the meeting under the chairmanship of Fred Overend, president of the Chamber of Commerce, follows:

"That this special meeting go on record as endorsing in their entirety the suggested legislation for the control, operation and regulation of the motor vehicle retailing trade in Canada as submitted to the meeting by Mr. J. R. Dixon of the Dixon Bureau of Equity, Ottawa, and express the earnest hope that the Federal government will fully realise the great importance and pressing need of enacting such legislation that will make it possible to exercise the necessary control over the unethical trade practices which are all too prevalent in the motor vehicle retailing industry."

Second Visit

It was Mr. Dixon's second visit to the city in regard to organization of the trade. He visited the greater proportion of the dealers here last September and secured their signed endorsements of his legislative proposals. Yesterday's meeting was largely for the purpose of a review of the drive by local dealers and representatives of local organizations in a body and a general discussion. While Mr. Overend and J. J. Dorris, secretary, represented the Chamber of Commerce at the meeting, James Juby represented the local branch of the Ontario Motor League. Ten dealers were present.

Mr. Dixon said that since his visit here in September, he has canvassed many other centers in Canada and received the same strong support for the movement received in Peterborough. Every effort is being made to bring the proposed legislation for elimination of unfair trade practices in the trade to the attention of the public throughout the Dominion so that the honest purposes of the move will be thoroughly understood when the matter comes before parliament, he said. He indicated the hope that it would come up for discussion after the present adjournment at Ottawa.

Chamber Support

Mr. Overend expressed the opinion that the Chamber of Commerce executive would support the move. "The Chamber of Commerce exists primarily for the purpose of promoting and aiding interests which have a bearing on the community welfare. I feel that the Chamber will be ready to lend aid in any way it can to this move. This is a time when we particularly need co-operation in the community."

Mr. Dixon spoke on the operation of the National Automobile Dealers' Association under the N.R.A. in the United States. In the United States, as in Canada, the used car was the "big, bad wolf" of the trade, he said. Under the code, each of the dealers' reports, month by month, sales in used cars. Average prices are calculated and, from these averages, limit prices at which dealers can take in used cars on sales of new cars are set, he explained. There is, however, no limit set on the prices at which the dealer may sell the used car, he pointed out. He stated that the code of regulations proposed for Canada embodies the principles of the American code.

Commenting on the operation of the American code, J. K. Hughes reported, "Many dealers in the States have told me that the code meant to them just the difference between staying in business and going bankrupt. The dealers were saying last year that they had had the best year in a long time. Although the code is not being enforced strictly enough in some states, it has brought salvation to the trade in general."

Runnymeade Pageant, held last June in aid of charities in the Windsor district of England, has resulted in a deficit of $2500 because the income tax officials have demanded $10,335.

Just Admirers

WASHINGTON, April 11. — (CP)—The two young Harvard men who recently were suspected of being special tutors for Senator Huey Long today revealed they are just admirers. Alan Blackburn and Philip Johnson said:

"It seemed to us Huey had the right idea, so we went all the way to Louisiana and saw him. So far we've helped him dig up some material and quotations he used in addresses.

LAUNDRIES TO OBSERVE LAW.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11 (CP). —The Tung Hing Tong, Chinese Laundry Association, has capitulated to Occidental law by agreeing to observe a provision of the NRA laundry code by giving its 1,000 employees one day rest each week.

CENTRETON

The Ladies' Aid held a business meeting in the S.S. room on Monday afternoon. The members of the official board met in the S.S. room on Monday night.

Mr. H. Chapple returned home on Monday after spending the week-end in Toronto.

Little Roy Jacques, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Jacques, celebrated his birthday on Monday April 8, and Elnora Hope her fifth birthday on April 9.

Mr. James Turk, Oshawa, was in the village on Tuesday.

The Y.P.S. held a Missionary meeting on Tuesday night, Miss A. Chapple and Mrs. F. Birney were convenors.

The members of the choir met on Thursday night to practice Easter music.

Charles Blogett has engaged Stewart Haynes to work for him on his farm.

Mrs. W. H. Clemens is leaving her farm to make her future home in Cobourg on Thursday.

© BRADLEY ADVERTISING, INC.

CHILDREN GROW FAST IN SPRINGTIME

—what with more fresh air and sunshine . . . and their FEET grow right along with the rest of them. That's why special care must be taken to fit them properly with Shoes that leave room for natural development and yet are not too big for comfort. NEILL'S make a specialty of fitting youngsters with the right Shoes, in adorable styles for school wear and Sunday.

	Sizes 5 to 7½	Sizes 8 to 10½	Sizes 11 to 2½
Industructo	1.25	1.45	1.65
Little Spartan	1.50	1.75	2.00
Bunnyfoot	1.65	2.00	2.50
Hurlbut	2.45	2.95	3.75

350 George St. R. NEILL LTD. Phone 325

DOMINION STORES
CANADA'S LARGEST RETAIL GROCERS

These values are effective from Thursday, April 11th until Wednesday, April 17th, inclusive.

SPECIAL — Australian Seedless Raisins lb. 10c

BROOMS - 33c each and 39c
KIRK'S CASTILE SOAP 5 Cakes 23c
CHIPSO 2 Small Pkg. 15c Large Pkg. 17c
WHITE BEANS - 6 lbs. 25c
TOMATOES Bayside No. 2 Choice Quality 3 2½ Tins 25c
CORN SYRUP - No. 5 Tin 39c

PORK & BEANS 2 26-oz. Tins 19c
ROLLED OATS 7 lbs. 25c

DOMINION STORES TEAS — For flavour for value
DOMINO Red Package ½-lb. 23c
RICHMELLO Blue Label ½-lb. 28c
RICHMELLO Yellow Label ½-lb. 33c
GOLDEN TIP ½-lb. Tin 40c

SPECIAL — Free Running or Iodised SALT Pkg. 5c

CHLORINATED LIME - - Pkg. 10¢
RECKITT'S BLUE - - Pkg. 6¢
SNAP POWDER Tin 12¢
CLOTHES LINES, 50 ft. - 25¢
BRASSO Lge. Tin 23¢
SANIFLUSH Tin 23¢
Fresh PORK HOCKS . . . lb. 10c

SHORT RIB ROAST BEEF 14c lb. — Rolled VEAL BONELESS 14c lb.
BLADE ROAST BEEF BLADE OUT - 12c lb. — BUTTS of young PORK 18c lb.
POT ROAST BONELESS 12c lb. — PICNIC HAMS - - - 18c lb.
WIENERS Golden Smoked 2 lb. for 29c — FRESH Neck-Bones 6 lb. 25c
FILLETS FRESH or SMOKED -- 15c lb. — JELLIED VEAL - 25c lb.

SHIRRIFFS Assorted Jelly Powders 3 Pkgs. 14c
P & G Soap - 8 Bars 25c

SHREDDED WHEAT 2 Pkgs. 23c
RED RIVER CEREAL Pkg. 23c
CLASSIC CLEANSER Tin 5c
BON AMI Cake or Powder 2 Tins 25c
CLOTHES PINS - 3 doz. 10c
Manyflowers Soap - Cake 5c

SPECIAL — Fancy Quality Lobster ½'s Tin 29c

"YOU CAN COMPARE TISSUES As We Do in the Hospital"

"It is not hard to judge toilet tissue. Is it soft and absorbent? Is it white? Is it sterilised? Is it wrapped? We nurses know how important is quality in bathroom paper, and we use these tests."

FOR your own sake, do this—get a roll of Northern Tissue and compare it with the bathroom paper you are now using. Compare them for softness, for whiteness. Dip each in water and note how much more absorbent Northern is. Note, also, that Northern is sterilized and completely wrapped.

3 ROLLS FOR 25c

C. A. H. A. Shows Marked Shrinkage In Funds

SHORT HOP—George Bader takes off on a short hop during Boston university spring practice under Coach Pat Hanley.

MOST COMPLETE SPORT PAGES IN CENTRAL ONTARIO

PETERBOROUGH
EXAMINER SPORTS

Sports Department—Phone 1600 THURSDAY, APRIL 11, 1935 Read by More than 18,000 Daily

BLASTING OPERATIONS—Dizzy Dean, at the batting cage, watches Babe Ruth pound one at the Braves' camp, St. Petersburg.

McCarthy Rebuilds Shaky Parts in Yanks Machine

Chance Sun Is Choice Of Derby

Majority of Entries Made up of Second-Raters in $40,000 American Classic.

FEW BRILLIANT RECORDS

OF THE 110 three-year-old gallopers nominated for the Kentucky Derby less than a dozen are what the average racing fan could call high class thoroughbreds, according to the "dope" chart. Chuck out the name of J. E. Widener's Chance William Woodward's Omaha, Mrs. Dodge Sloane's Psychic Bid, Mrs. Payne Whitney's Sailor Beware and Plat Eye, Col. E. R. Bradley's Boxthorn, C. V. Whitney's Today and Walter M. Jefford's Commonwealth and the remainder of the nominees for the $40,000 purse could be bunched together and described as a band of second-raters.

× × ×

In the opinion of 'Horses' Ayers, well known Canadian turf expert the horse that should come tearing down the stretch on the front end to garner the major part of this important American turf fixture is Col. E. R. Bradley's Boxthorn. He says in part "I think he is a much better colt than his record shows. He won only two races last year but reports that are coming from the Blue Grass state say that the lone entrant of Bradley is training well and has developed into a handsome individual.

× × ×

AS IS usually the case each year, many of the eligibles are splendid specimens which at some time or other have displayed high speed in races or trials and because of slight mishap or illness did not get an opportunity to show their real worth. In this category we would class the following William Woodward's Sir Beverley, Mrs. Dodge Sloane's Young Native, C. B. Schaffer's Finance, Mrs. H. C. Phipps's Bellum and C. V. Whitney's Wizard.

× × ×

Which is the best of the lot is conjectural. Chance Sun, because of his victory in the Futurity and the Grand Union Hotel Stakes, has been made the favorite among racing fans, but his record is far from a brilliant one. He faced the barrier thirteen times during his first year under colors and won only three races and was out of the money five times. But the records of his prospective opponents are not much better, and while he probably is entitled to the questionable honor of being favorite, any one of the horses named above appears to have as good a chance of winning as the Widener colorbearer.

WOLVERINES EVEN EASTERN FINAL WITH 4 TO 2 VICTORY

Maritime Champions Force Fourth Game by Defeating Montreal Royals.

MEET AGAIN FRIDAY.

HALIFAX, April 11. — Halifax Wolverines sank their fangs deep into Montreal Royals last night for a 4-2 triumph that avenged a 4-3 wound of Monday. The win put Halifax back on an even footing with Royals in the Eastern Canadian amateur hockey championship battle.

Manager Jack Conn went into the box beside Coach "Red" Stuart with the remark, "Two heads are better than one," and helped to pilot his Wolverines to the victory that pushed the Allan Cup finals further into next week.

Next Clash To-morrow Night.

The Quebec-Ontario champions and the rejuvenated Maritimers clash again on Friday night, the winners crossing sticks on Monday with Port Arthur's Bearcats, Western champions, in the first game of the Canadian title series for the trophy Moncton Hawks brought to the seaside Provinces for the first time in 1933.

Snapping around the Royal fortress from the opening whistle, Wolverines had the invaders on the run for the first two periods and then held them off during a bone-crushing final period when the Montrealers bore in with a vicious attack.

Bluebeard Sold

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 11—(AP)—Purchase of Bluebeard, W. R. Coe's only Kentucky Derby nominee, by Mrs. R. B. Fairbanks of Indianapolis, was confirmed yesterday by High Fontaine, manager of the Coe Farm near Lexington.

The price paid for the colt was not announced but it was understood the contract provides in the event Bluebeard wins the Derby May 4 Coe is to receive an additional amount.

New Zealand reports that in the two years of penny postage the number of letters and post cards mailed has increased by 12,500,000 a year.

THERE ARE two fillies in the race—Nellie Flag and Vicaress—which might duplicate the feat accomplished by Harry Payne Whitney's Regret in 1915. Regret is the only one of her sex that has ever captured the Kentucky Derby. Nellie Flag displayed splendid form in 1934. After winning the Matron and Selima Stakes she went west and defeated a big band of colts in the Kentucky Jockey Club Stakes. Vicaress won four races and on two occasions ran in a way to warrant the belief that she was of championship calibre

His Last Time

MONTREAL, April 11.—(CP)—Alex Connell, veteran goalkeeper who led Montreal Maroons to a Stanley Cup victory over Toronto Maple Leafs this year, may have played his last game when Maroons whipped Toronto 4-1, here Tuesday night.

The veteran netminder who staged one of the greatest comebacks in the history of the game this year to gain a Stanley Cup triumph after a year of inactivity told a newspaperman, "I guess it's over with me."

PLAYERS MUST REJECT GIFTS

Commissioner Landis Issues Warning to Organized Pro Ballmen.

'DIZZY' EXONERATED.

(By Charles Dunkley, A.P. Sports Writer.)

CHICAGO, April 11. — Kenesaw Mountain Landis, Commissioner of baseball, raised a warning finger over his grey head yesterday, ruling that no ball player, not even the great Jerome (Dizzy) Dean, could expect to accept money from any one not connected with his club for anything he did or did not do on the baseball field.

Commissioner Landis made this ruling at a hearing into the money dealings of the pitching ace of St. Louis Cardinals and Louis (Buck) Newsom, pitcher for the St. Louis Browns, with Dick Slack, furniture dealer of East St. Louis. Both Dean and Newsom were absolved from accepting a bonus from Slack.

The ruler of baseball was not hard to convince that neither Dean nor Newsom had accepted any money other than for broadcasting on behalf of the furniture company.

The hearing was the result of a published story quoting Slack as having paid Dean $5,000 to make up the $25,000 demanded by him, and to "keep peace in the Cardinal family." Dean admitted he had signed a contract with Slack for this season for $5,000 to be paid for broadcasting services three times a week, and for appearances at his stores on Saturday nights. Newsom admitted the same thing, but did not reveal the amount he was to receive for his services.

After Commissioner Landis had issued his dramatic warning about the danger of accepting money from individuals outside of baseball, Dean suddenly cut in with this question:

"Say, listen, Judge, supposin' a guy comes up and hands you $3,000 or $4,000, what about it?"

Landis informed him that people don't go around doing that. Then he waved his finger over his head:

"If anybody offers you that amount of money 'just for doing nothing,' you kick his teeth in, or promise me that you'll grab a baseball bat and hit him on the head."

Dean meekly replied, "Yes, sir," and walked out. The hearing was over.

Four-Team League In Lakefield High

LAKEFIELD, April 11.—(Examiner Correspondence). — Hockey equipment has been put away in moth balls for the summer season and the softball bats and balls are coming out of winter storage. A four-team league has been formed in the High School, which will begin play almost immediately. A girls' league has been formed in the High School, also with a team of larger public school girls included and the under-sixteen boys' group, which had a church league last year has been organized with four teams under four captians: Donald Hurl, Ralph Mason, Earl Robinson and Don Yale. The grounds are in very fair shape and it is expected that play will be commenced shortly. These leagues will develop players for exhibition games and will insure good games to encourage the fans to attend.

Government expenditures for fighting the locust pest in South Africa are to be continued until the insects are exterminated.

Canada's Best Pro Baseball Team

Though Canada does not provide major league baseball to keep pace with the Canuck hockey setup, two Canadian cities, Toronto and Montreal, have teams in the International Class AA league. Last season Toronto Maple Leafs produced their best outfit in years with a hustling collection of talent and after winning the league playoffs were beaten only by Columbus in the Little World Series. They will be back this term with a changed lineup but high hopes of repeating. Here are some of the ball-chasers who, in training camp look like sure wearers of the Maple Leaf. Left: Manager Ike Boone, former Brooklyn Dodger outfielder and master swatsman and still one of the most potent club-swingers in the game.. The popular Boone will again play as well as manage the team. Right is Earl Cook, promising product of Toronto sandlots, who has shown some good pitching in training camp. Last year he was sent to Wilmington for seasoning after a Toronto tryout. Circle: Catcher Jack Crouch, is returning to the Canadian city as first string backstop. Toronto have a working agreement with Cincinnati Reds and hope to get some bolstering from the major leaguers.

STANLEY CUP TEAM TO REMAIN INTACT

Manager Gorman Says Alex Connell Will be Back Next Year.

MONTREAL, April 11. — (CP) — The Stanley Cup will be presented to Montreal Maroons at a banquet here tonight, formal presentation being made to Manager T. P. Gorman by President Frank Calder of the National Hockey League.

Last year Calder presented the cup to Gorman, but it took place in Chicago, the club being honored was Chicago Black Hawks. For the first time in major league history the same manager has won the title two years in succession with different clubs in different cities.

Already looking forward to next year, the club plans no changes in the team which took the cup with three straight victories over Toronto Maple Leafs in the final. Vice-President Thomas Arnold said today the team would be the same, and Gorman was equally emphatic.

Although Alex. Connell, who climaxed a spectacular comeback as goalkeeper by holding Leafs to four goals in three games, intimated he will retire, Gorman declared: "Connell will be with us again. We cannot let a goaltender of his calibre leave us."

Bill McKenzie, defenseman, has been returned to Maroons by Rangers, and will be taken to training camp next fall. 'Toe' Blake, Hamilton, and Sammy McManus, Moncton, young players who saw no service in the final series, will also be retained, Gorman said.

Today the City of Montreal formally recognized Maroons' feat of winning the cup for the first time since 1926 when a reception was held at the City Hall.

Toronto and London, Ont., joined Montreal civic heads in congratulating Maroons. Mayors James Simpson, Toronto, and George Wenige, London, expressed their admiration of Maroons' skill, as did Mayor Camillien Houde of Montreal. Mr. Houde announced the city intended to present all members of the team with mementoes.

Hockey competition is not over yet for Connell, 'Stew' Evans, Dave Trottier and Allan Shields. They have promised to take part in a benefit game at Ottawa next week.

The first Japanese whaling fleet to invade the Antarctic has just called at Freemantle, Australia, on its way home.

OPPORTUNE HITTING HELD LEAFS WIN

Boonemen Defeat Wilmington Corsairs in Chilly Weather.

WILMINGTON, N.C., April 11 (C.P.).—Maybe it was the sudden change in climate or perhaps the friendly nature of the game which was more of a family affair than anything else, but, whatever the cause, the Leafs didn't exhibit much yesterday and had a rare old time subduing the Wilmington edition of the Cincinnati chain gang.

It was raw and chilly, and the long train ride here from Jacksonville didn't do the athletes any good. Then, again, Ike Boone gave himself a rest and Tom Oliver and Jack Crouch were both absent, having been given leave of absence to visit their respective homes. But for a surprise smash by Mayo Smith, which was good for the circuit with two on, and another by Wes. Schulmerich over the left field fence and Grissom's astonishing burst of batting power, there is no telling how the alleged contest would have resulted, for all that the Leafs, for the second successive day, played errorlessly.

RUPPERT'S YANKEE PHAETON NOT SNAPPY MODEL ANY MORE

Infield and Outfield Defense Chief Uncertainities in New York Camp.

ATTACK NOT SO GOOD

By BILL BRAUCHER

Marse Joe McCarthy figuratively finds himself with a puzzling baseball machine on his hands. The Yankee phaeton is not the snappy sport model it used to be. A couple of cylinders are missing fire.

One of the rear tires, the infield, threatens to blow out almost any time. And before Marse Joe goes very far up the steep hill toward Pennantville he may have to have the outfield timing checked up.

For all that, the old machine with some new parts still has some pull left in her, though the power doesn't flow smoothly.

Uncertainties

Infield and outfield defence are the chief uncertainties. Marse Joe can depend on Lou Gehrig at first. But he has to divide second, third and short between Saltzgaver, Crosetti, Rolfe, Heffner and Lazzeri. None of these men is a star. Lazzeri used to be, but Father Time has taken much of his speed.

In the outfield Chapman is a fixture, but Marse Joe doesn't know just what to expect from Coombs, after a skull fracture suffered last year, or George Selkirk, newcomer frmo Newark. Failure by either of these would mean calling on Meryl Hoag, Fred Walker or Jesse Hill, and it has been shown clearly Walker can't hit.

Attack Not Overpowering

Gehrig is the team's great hitter, but aside from him, there are only four with batting reputations—Catcher Dickey, Outfielders Chapman and Combs and Infielder Lazzeri. Dickey will miss from 25 to 50 games and the same might be said of Lazzeri. Ordinarily Lazzeri is a .300 hitter, but he has attained that figure only once in the last four years.

Potentially the pitching staff is Grade A, provided that lame arm Lefty Gomes showed in training camp responds to treatment. Gomez, of course, is tops. Johnny Murphy and Johnny Broaca show promise of greater effectiveness this year. Charley Ruffing, a 19-game winner last year, is expected to do as well this season. But Johnny Allen and Russ Van Atta remain question marks after poor seasons, so little being thought of their chances to come back that they were given $1-a-year provisional contracts this season and told to prove they merited being on a major league payroll.

The rookies are Walter Brown, James De Shong and Marvin Duke. These are three very promising flingers. Brown was wild when tried two years ago, but steadied down at Newark last year. De Shong is the former Mackman. Reserves, as a whole, cannot be called more than fair in view of their records. Marse Joe tipped his opinion of his reserve pitchers when he bought Pat Malone during the spring training season.

Takes Ruth's Job

What the effect of Babe Ruth's department will be must be left as a guess. Selkirk certainly will be a better fielder and promises to hit better than Ruth did last year.

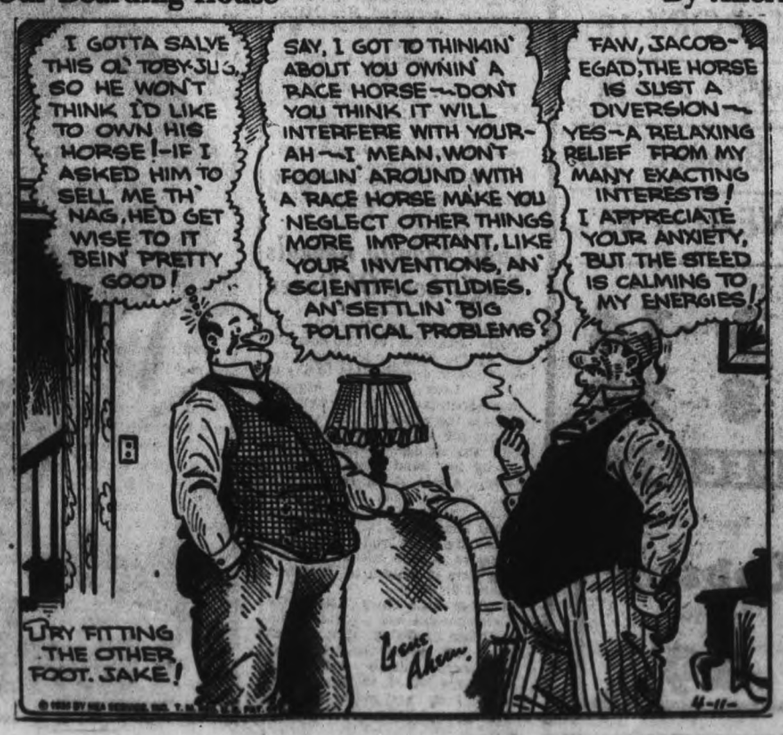
Mr. Selkirk may not be able to point to a remote spot in the bleachers and park the next ball pitched to him in that region, but he may be a pretty good right fielder, for all that. Ruth and his bat and his color are just a memory now in Yankee stadium. But there are so many memories and here it is spring and we've got another baseball season on our hands.

This year, it may be, as Ruth goes, so go the Braves.

Badminton Star

One of the best badminton players taking part in Canadian tournaments is Walter Kramer of the Windsor Frontier Badminton Club. Kramer, a 20-year-old Swiss living in Detroit, recently won the men's singles and doubles championship of Western Ontario. He has also been Michigan open and closed champion for several years, as well as being a crack tennis enthusiast.

Our Boarding House . . . . . By Ahern



Romance Never Thrives On Bristles . . .

you can't get by without shaving

● Everyone knows that bristles bar the way to romance—that you can't get by in business or social life without shaving. Yet some men take a chance—risk the respect of others by failing to keep clean shaven.

Today tender skin is no excuse for neglect. The Gillette "Blue Blade" is so keen — so perfectly edged—that it makes daily or twice-daily shaving entirely comfortable. Try the Gillette "Blue Blade" tomorrow morning.

Highest Quality Positively Guaranteed

Gillette Blue Blades

NOW 5 for 25¢ · 10 for 50¢

The CHEW that tops them all!

10¢ a plug

CLUB CHEWING TOBACCO

YOU MIGHT AS WELL CHEW THE BEST

McLarnin-Ross Talk Fancy Figures For Return Bout

See It To-night! Don't Wait for the Week-end Crowds!

NEW YORK FANS WILL SEE ROSS IN TWO FIGHTS

Chicago Hebrew Willing to Tangle With McLarnin, But Asks Fancy Figure.

WILL MEET AMBERS.

Mike Jacobs Expected to Sponsor June 5th Show for Hearst Milk Fund.

By SAM ROBERTSON
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, April 11. (CP).—The fight colony was telling itself to-day that peppery little Barney Ross will be seen in two championship fights in New York this summer.

A third collision between Jimmy McLarnin and Barney has long been looked upon as a foregone conclusion. Promoters and the handlers of the angelic faced Celt who stores the welter crown in his Vancouver home, and the Chicago Hebrew he dispossessed last summer still are talking fancy figures. However, the two fighters have expressed a willingness for the bout.

A clash between Ross and Lou Ambers for the lightweight title the former holds in his able fists, was despaired of because it was considered the Chicago youth could not meet the weight requirements. Barney blasted that belief by scaling 136½ when he easily outpointed Henry Woods in Seattle last Tuesday.

He showed power aplenty as he breezed over the 12-round route. Edging off another 1½ pounds to make the light-weight limit should not be difficult.

Jane 5th Show

Ross and Ambers, aptly dubbed the "Herkimer Hurricane" are expected to meet early in the summer. Mike Jacobs, promoting for the Hearst Milk Fund Charity, hold tentative agreements with the two mittmen and recently asked the New York Athletic Commission to reserve June 5 for the tilt.

If McLarnin and the black-browed dynamo do collide again, Jacobs also is expected to promote the settle. The previous leather tornadoes these boys staged were under Milk Fund auspices.

Both the first storm, when Ross outpointed the Canadian Irishman, and the second, when a better-trained Jimmy reversed the tables and regained his cherished crown, brought controversy as to the rightness of the decisions. Thus a rubber match would be a natural and should fill any arena.

Famous Canadian stage and screen star, Walter Huston, and his wife, Ann Sutherland (shown above) have cancelled their Montreal engagement of Dodsworth to play Cecil Rhodes in a British-Gaumont production. Both Mr. and Mrs. Huston have enjoyed remarkable success in stage play in Sinclair Lewis' famous novel.

Regent ENTERTAINMENT

Starting To-day
And Friday and Saturday
2.30, 7 and 9

You'll Hear the Voice of the West . . .
You'll See Drama of the Open Range!

SOL LESSER AND JOHN ZANFT present

LIVE THE THRILLS OF THE WEST YOU LOVE!

GEORGE O'BRIEN in Harold Bell Wright's
WHEN A MAN'S A MAN with DOROTHY WILSON PAUL KELLY

Directed by EDWARD F. CLINE
A FOX RELEASE

Mickey's Rescue Bowery Daze

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two.

(By C. J. P.)

Within the course of a few weeks, the City Baseball League will be reorganizing again. Last year President Jack Deannard's minor circuit consisted of four bantam teams and one juvenile. Nothing wonderful but still something, you must admit. As a matter of fact, the emphasis in the organization of this loop was placed on the bantam division—and rightly so, we believe. Start them off right when they're young and the future will take care of itself. The bantams turned out to be four well-matched outfits. The kids had some fine games and improved right along. King Edward School won out but they had to hustle. Our juvenile entry drew a bye into O.B.A.A. playdowns.

• • • • • • •

This season will likely see four bantam teams in again, and a junior outfit either in the Lakeshore League or with a bye into the playdowns. It might be worth while also to try to get a few juvenile squads going to take care of graduating bantams. More than one junior team this year is unlikely, but one real good one can be fielded. Herb Ralph may handle it as he did the juveniles last summer. But, whatever else we have, let's not neglect the bantam section.

• • • • • • •

The City League is not what it used to be—but it may be on its way back. Nine and ten years ago, there was no dearth of entries in any section. You'd find four teams in each division, midget, juvenile and junior—and for a time a senior section proved popular before the E.P.L. got going. This was in the days when such stalwarts as Jack Sullivan, the late Lew Lebarr, Charlie Curtis, Bill Prindible, Alex Kay and others were mixed up in the affairs of this popular league. Players like Fred Ash, Cack Rogers, Frank Whitehouse, Chuck Bradley, Lambert Collins and a host of others were playing then in the minor series. Those were the days when this town was copping a Provincial title nearly every year!

• • • • • • •

Things slumped some five or six years ago in minor baseball locally. Good workers dropped out of the organization, softball enticed away many young athletes, and other reasons all combined to lower the stock in Minor Ball Inc. here. But then, of course, all stocks dropped since '29, didn't they? And aren't things beginning to look better now? Surely, this will be felt in baseball. We'll have a swell senior team this summer, but not much in intermediate—unless perhaps a team in the Lakeshore League.

• • • • • • •

But we're not worrying now about senior or intermediate ball. The minors come first. Get the City Baseball League going good again and it will be only a few years till we have all kinds of local boys ready for intermediate and senior company. And plenty of baseball men ready to sponsor teams. Make sure of a good bantam division—with no loaded teams. To hook with an O.B.A.A. title for a year or two; we've had plenty and can wait for a time again. Then get a few juvenile squads in and a junior entry or two. And there you have the groundwork for a baseball future such as Peterborough enjoyed not so long ago throughout Ontario—apart from their senior team. Jack Deannard is working toward this end and he deserves general support.

• • • • • • •

Speaking of Toronto's Stanley Cup fiasco, the Oshawa writer—and you know how much love is lost between Toronto and Oshawa in puck circles!—says: "It all tails down to the fact that Toronto is not much more than the place where the O.H.A. annual meeting was held. Toronto Royals earned undying fame when they captured the intermediate 'A' championship. Still, Whitby, intermediate 'B' champs, challenged the Toronto team to a series for the intermediate title and the Royals backed down. The Maroons took care of the Maple Leafs; and the Royals, also from Montreal, looked after the great all-star Toronto senior team, intended Olympic representatives. And the Oshawa Majors took care of all Toronto junior entries. Let's all take time out now for a hearty chuckle." Toronto papers are taking quite a riding now by Ontario scribes generally.

• • • • • • •

Those interested in the Girls' Softball League should attend their annual meeting at 8.30 tonight in Duffus'. It's open to all officers and players—local and district—and anyone else interested. They'll elect officers, give reports of '34 and make plans for this summer. And they'll name delegates to the P.W.S.U. convention in Toronto Sunday. The gals' loop faded somewhat last summer but this was owing to the fact their grounds at the Bowl were not available till the season was half over. It will be different now and the lasses' league should blossom forth in full bloom once again. The damsels should take in this session as it's their circuit.

• • • • • • •

Two important cage contests will be run off in the Y.M.C.A. Saturday e'en. At seven, Reds and Argos tangle in a sudden-death final game for the championship of the 'I' Intermediate League. And at eight, Normals and Whites clash to settle fourth place in the 'I' House League. Playoffs in this latter league will be held the following week. Holme's, Taylor's and Kitchen's squads are all in there now and quite a flurry will be kicked up before somebody puts the clutch on the laurel crown—or is it a silver mug? Anyway, these basketeers dish up plenty of hotcha action that is worth travelling the longuette at.

• • • • • • •

Grab-bag: Men's softball executive meets at seven Monday eve in Duffus' to wind up plans for the O.A.S.A. convention here Good Friday . . . . Cobourg's junior team has organized for the Lakeshore Ball Loop which meets next week . . . . London Tecumsehs received just $72 each as their share in International League playoffs . . . . At the annual meeting of the C.A.H.A., Bill Hewitt reported there are 20,427 players registered in amateur hockey in Canada; Ontario easily leads with about 11,500 . . . . Fence at Riverside Park will be rebuilt when the ground becomes drier.

McCABE AMONG IMMORTALS OF OLD BALL DAYS

Minus His Left Arm, Danny Starred With Local Team 40 Years Ago.

HANDICAPS NO BURDEN.

Lorne Beare, Star Goalie With Lindsay Hockey Juniors, Has Paralytic Leg.

(By The Canadian Press)

Battling against odds in the game of life, disabled athletes have carved a permanent mark in the annals of Ontario sport. Despite loss of limb or deformities, they continue the games they enjoyed when physically fit. Some of them have glistened among the stars of sport.

The old days are recalled when the name of Dan McCabe is mentioned. Minus his left arm, Dan starred on the baseball mound with Peterborough 40 years ago. He still is among the immortals of the diamond in the minds of sportsmen of that city and is known throughout the Dominion, having later played semi-professional baseball in Quebec and Western Canada.

Quiet, unassuming Charley McKillop, 16-year-old Windsor lad, is a fine example of sporting gameness. Despite the loss of a leg, he participates in basketball, baseball and tennis. He says tennis "keeps him hopping," byt he proves a hard opponent for the average player.

Little Jimmy Barber, 12-year-old Stratford boy, was born with one arm deformed, but the lad has grinned at fate and through determination is ranked as one of the best players on the Hamlet School hockey team. He tucks his stick under his normal arm and is a hard player to stop.

One-Footed Netminder

Thorold fans trilled last year at the goaltending of William Speck of the Industrial Hockey League, although he was handicapped by the loss of a foot.

The same town also was once the home of Roy Long, now of Saint John, N.B., who is an accomplished speed skater despite the handicap of having only one arm. He has shown fine bursts of speed in competition with such stars as Charley Gorman and Charley Jewtraw.

Louis Patterson, defenceman of the Galt Terriers' Senior hockey team for several years is deaf and dumb, but he keeps close track of the referee's whistle.

In Northern Ontario, Elwood Kidd of Sturgeon Falls is an outstanding hockey goaltender. Only 19 years old, he started to play in the nets as a youngster and when he lost his arm in a shooting accident, Elwood kept right on playing. He is also an expert swimmer and diver.

Another young goalie making good despite a disability is Lorne Beare of the Lindsay Junior club. Through athletics, he has overcome paralysis of the leg to the extent there is now hope held for complete recovery.

At Haliburton, a one-armed hockey player, Claude Austin, now retired, was noted for his powerful shot. He used to strap his stick to his normal arm and was a hard man to pass in his defence position.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES

By ALEX J. MORRISON

NUMBER 584

Percentages are as important in golf as in anything else when it comes to winning. In spite of this I've never seen them mentioned in articles on the game.

The man who knows percentages, particularly about his own game, always has a good chance of beating his opponent. The best example of this is Hal Sims, the bridge expert. He wins as often at golf as he does at bridge. He knows exactly what his average performance is with every club in the bag. The result is he never puts any pressure on himself by overrating his game.

Sims doesn't have to play his best to win, because his opponent invariably overrates himself. It doesn't matter if you shoot in the 90's, 80's or 70's, you should know your true average. Then you'll know your chances of making any shot.

ROSS McMAHON INJURED

ST. CATHARINES, April 11. — (CP). Ross 'Red' McMahon, well known amateur boxer, was severely injured about the head last night when struck by an auto near here. McMahon was walking along the road at the time. His condition was reported as satisfactory. The driver of the car failed to stop.

TOTAL SURPLUS DROPS $30,000 IN THREE YEARS, REPORTS SHOW

Hockey Association in Deadlock Over Registration Committee Personnel.

MINOR RULE CHANGES.

HALIFAX, April 11 (C.P.)—Delegates to the eighteenth annual meeting of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association fell into a deadlock yesterday on a resolution to change the personnel of the registration committee of the body.

Long discussion was held on whether four members should be added to the committee to include branches not already represented. The committee is now composed of the officers of the C.A.H.A., and it is proposed to add the presidents of the branches which were not represented on the slate.

The resolution found strong support in the Maritimes, Thunder Bay District and British Columbia delegates, but an amendment to refer it back to the Resolution Committee came out to a draw in the vote. President E. A. Gilroy of Portage La Prairie, Man., cast his vote in favor of the amendment.

C.A.H.A. Receipts Shrink

Despite an increase in number of players registering with the C.A.H.A. of some 13,494 in the last ten years, the organization has experienced a marked decrease in its financial surplus since 1932, it was revealed in Registrar-Treasurer W. A. Hewitt's report. In three years, its total surplus has dropped from $60,000 to $30,000, representing an annual deficit of $10,000. The operating loss last year was $12,000, which included subsidies totalling $6,300 given to the branches for promotion of minor leagues.

This was covered by a bond issue of $12,000. The subsidies were not paid this year.

Other resolutions contended at yesterday's session dealt with amateurs trying out with professional teams and Sunday hockey. The former was referred to the Resolutions Committee for further consideration, but the other was left to the discretion of the branches.

Pro. Try-Out Problem

Delegates were unanimous in agreeing that permission should not be given to professional aspirants after Dec. 1 of the season they applied, but a question as to when they should be allowed actually to try out forced the proposal to go back to the Resolutions Committee.

Only one minor change was adopted in playing rules. That was the adoption of a clause saying there should be no halt at the end of a regular game for a 10-minute overtime period except for the teams to change ends. In future the teams will not change ends at the five-minute mark in overtime as is now the case when there is only one extra period.

Mr. Gilroy's Resolution.

A proposal submitted by President E. A. Gilroy to refuse permission to amateur players under 21 years of age to try out with professional clubs was thrown out in Resolutions Committee.

President Gilroy's resolution read: "No player will be given permission to try out with professional teams after Dec. 1, in the current season, and only players over 21 years will be granted such privileges."

Another resolution from Past President Frank C. Greenleaf of Montreal to refuse permission for players to try out with professional teams, if they applied after Dec. 1, was adopted by the Resolutions Committee, but found opposition among delegates when placed before the meeting.

To protect amateur clubs from raiding, delegates felt some date should also be set for players to actually make their professional trials, and the resolution went back to committee once more.

The committee was also asked to consider a proposal of Second Vice-President Cecil Duncan of Ottawa to refuse a professional tryout to players who had already signed their amateur cards.

Oppose Sunday Ban

The attempt to put a Canadian Amateur Hockey Association ban on Sunday hockey games met decided opposition. Whether or not hockey can be played on Sunday will be in the hands of the branches of the association from now on.

Although most of the delegates said they themselves were against hockey playing on Sunday, they felt the question should not be handled by the parent body.

Alcide Gagnon of the Quebec Association said his district would be directly opposed to such legislation. "They have played hockey on Sunday in Quebec for the last fifteen years," he said. "It is not illegal, and it is not against public opinion."

"I certainly put in some resolution there," President E. A. Gilroy declared after the discussion had lasted for more than half an hour. He then asked for a vote and found the meeting unanimously opposed to the proposal.

Hockey Tourist Trouble

The problem of dealing with hockeys tourists caused " a great deal of trouble" in the last year, Secretary-Registrar W. A. Hewitt told the association in reporting on the Registration Committee's work.

He detailed the steps taken during the year to bar players who had not conformed to President E. A. Gilroy's edict that branch-to-branch migration after Jan. 1 of last year would not be permitted.

His report on the subject was strictly a factual account of how cases were dealt with, without recommendations as to future action, but indications at the meeting were that the question would be threshed out fully before the delegates return home.

Olympics Take Lead In Vancouver Series

VANCOUVER, April 11 (C.P.).—Detroit Olympics of the International Hockey League were one game up to-day on Vancouver Lions of the North-Western League in their five-game "little world series" here.

Getting two goals in overtime, Olympics ended a 3-3 deadlock and won the third game 5-3 here last night. Lions won the opener 5-1, and Detroit took the second 4-0. The fourth game will be played here Friday night.

AGREEMENT SOUGHT WITH PRO MOGULS

C.A.H.A. Would Ask N.H.L. Not to Raid Amateur Teams in Mid-season.

HALIFAX, April 11 (CP)—Proposal of Life Member J. T. Sutherland of Kingston, Ont., to appoint a committee of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association to investigate possibilities of establishing more co-operation between that body and the National Hockey League was adopted unanimously by the annual meeting of the C.A.H.A. here.

Moved by Life Member W. A. Fry of Dunville, Ont., and seconded by James E. Wry, of Amherst, N.S., after passing through committee stage, the proposal was chiefly designed to try to get professional teams to agree not to raid amateur teams in mid-season.

President E. A. Gilroy dispelled any ideas the C.A.H.A. was at loggerheads with hockey professionalism when he told delegates the association was "not opposed' 'to the money game.

Life Member Fry was strong for the institution of the committee because "there is no other industry in Canada where the raw material is produced and delivered free of charge."

The committee has not yet been appointed.

Birthday Greetings

(By The Canadian Press)

TO C. C. "HAPPY" FRASER, well known Canadian golfer, born in Montreal 41 years ago today. He won the Canadian amateur golf championship in 1932 and was runner-up for the title in 1930. He took the Quebec amateur championship in 1925.

Fights Last Night

(By The Associated Press)

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. — Max Baer, 216 heavyweight champion, vs Ed Wills, four round exhibition, no decision; Wesley Ramey, 135, Grand Rapids, outpointed Roger Bernard, 130, Flint (8); Buddy Baer, 242, Livermore, Calif., stopped Harry Nelhon, 208, Detroit (3).

Chance Sun Picked Choice

CHANCE SUN

Chance Sun, owned by Joseph E. Widener, and best liked of the entries for the Kentucky Derby, is a six-to-one favorite to take the Churchill Downs classic.

Cribbage Results

LAKEFIELD, April 11—(Examiner Correspondence).—The following is the result of the double cribbage tournament, sponsored by the Lakefield Post of the Canadian Legion.

First Round

W. Chappell and H. Hamblin defeated R. Bullock and A. Hudson; L. Sabatino and W. Murduff defeated J. Huddlestone and W. Hamblin; C. Lake and T. Briant defeated B. Dench and C. Payne; W. Morrison and A. V. Hill defeated F. A. Payne and W. A. Fairbairn; E. Robertshaw and James Hall defeated E. H. Northey and J. Earnshaw; L. Charlton and H. Hill defeated Theo Crawford and F. Remnant; T. Cunningham and R. Murduff defeated A. Barker and W. A. Moore.

Second Round

W. Chappell and H. Hamblin defeated L. Sabatino and W. Murduff; C. Lake and T. Briant defeated W. G. Morrison and A. V. Hill; L. Charlton and W. Hill defeated E. H. Northey and J. Earnshaw; T. Cunningham and R. Murduff bye.

Semi-final.

C. Lake and T. Briant defeated W. Chappell and H. Hamblin; T. Cunningham and R. Murduff defeated L. Charlton and W. Hill.

Final.

T. Cunningham and R. Murduff defeated C. Lake and T. Briant, and won the prizes.

Wrestling Last Night

(By The Associated Press)

WILMINGTON, Del. — Dan O'Mahoney, 216, Ireland, threw Emilk Dusek, 215, Omaha, 18.42.

NEW YORK.—Dave Levin, 181, New York, threw Maurice La Chappelle, 175, France, 47.10.

Will Try Again

LONDON, April 11.—(AP)—Sir Malcolm Campbell, automobile speed king, told a luncheon audience today he would make another attempt this year to drive his powerful Blue Bird 300 miles an hour.

Sir Malcolm, who piloted Blue Bird to 276.816 m.p.h. for a new world's record, said he had not yet determined where he would make his next assault.

SUPPORT FOR LEAGUE.

LONDON, April 11 (C.P.-Havas).—Lord Cecil announced to-day the "peace ballot" conducted in Britain by the League of Nations Union showed a huge majority in support of the League as a great instrument for peace.

CANUCK FILLS BABE'S SHOES IN YANKS' RIGHT FIELD POST

Bat-work of George Selkirk Giving New York Spring Training Tally of 16 Games Won and Six Lost.

Has Played Prominent Part in

NEW YORK, April 11 (C.P.).—Balmy breezes wafting up from the southland carry the word that George Selkirk, hitter of baseballs from Huntsville, Ont., is firmly entrenched in Babe Ruth's former rightfield post with New York Yankees.

The bat-work of the towering Canadian has played a prominent part in giving the de-Ruthed New Yorkers a spring training tally that reads to-day: 16 games won; six lost. Plenty of feet, the youth in addition is admittedly a better fielder than the venerable Bambino.

Played in 19 Games.

Selkirk has played in 19 of the Yanks' games through the south, and he is living up to the .320 hitting average manager, Joe McCarthy, warmly predicted for him. In 75 times at bat he collected 24 safeties—three of them homers—which figures out to .320 exactly.

The track work Selkirk did at high school has paid him dividends on the bases and in the field. Because of his speed he carries the sobriquet of "twinkletoes."

Brilliant Ball-Hawk.

He runs almost as fast backward as he does forward, highly important to a ball-hawk in the garden. While he has a somewhat awkward catching style, and his fellow-fielders are possibly suffering heart strain from watching the way the big fellow goes to get them, he has been getting results, with few bobbles.

Little Sister

by Margaret Widdemer

(Continued from Yesterday)

CHAPTER 58

Jerry sat quite still. He did not seem to resent this unpardonable slur on his promised bride. He did not even seem to have heard it.

"Would you mind repeating that last sentence again, the one about your marrying Orton?" he said at length very gently. "I wasn't sure of your tense."

"Tense?"

"A lot deeper than you ever would have been with Orton. . . . Was that, may I ask," said Jerry, trying breathlessly for his ordinary lightness, "in the subjunctive?"

"It was," Leila said shortly.

"You mean you aren't?"

"I'm not. Not that I can see how it concerns you and your Mary Martin." Jerry dropped down by her, close, angry, devoted.

"You make me ill," said Jerry adoringly. "You know perfectly well I'm besotted over you. Where did you get this Mary Martin idea?"

"From you. From Red in so many words. From Addison. From Orton. Everyone in the world."

She turned her face away and pulled Jane up to hide it.

"It's a lie. My own darling, for heaven's sake take that dog off your face," said Jerry passionately. "I want you in my arms."

"But look here, I don't want to be loved because you're besotted over me, in spite of a lot of crimes you imagine," Leila cried happily, coming to the surface.

They were very tight together under the tree, with Jane out of it altogether. Jerry took part of one arm from around her, not more, and said in a completely besotted tone, "What is my darling little idiot talking about?"

"You know what I mean. The things you accused me of, pretending to have high ideals and only wanting money and safety and social stuff, wanting nothing but things. What you said when you saw Orton's ring. I can recite them. And you never stopped to think of the position I was in."

"Oh, hush up," he said, like everybody at last night's banquet. He kissed her to insure it.

"But I couldn't see why you didn't understand," she said happily, "and I'd been on the brink of Orton over a year—"

"And thinking it was grand."

"Well, accepting it; let me tell you, lots of young women wanted to be in my shoes."

Answer to previous puzzle

F	A	I	R	Y		O	F	F	E	R
A	F	T		A	L	L		O	N	E
L	O		S	K	I	D	S		S	P
S	U	C	H		F		F	O	U	L
E	L	L		S	T	Y		B	E	Y
		E	L	I		A	R	E
B	O	A		P	A	W		S	O	T
R	A	R	E		C		M	E	R	E
A	S		G	R	O	P	E		A	P
V	I	M		A	G	E		E	N	E
E	S	S	A	Y		R	A	N	G	E

"Why Don't I Make Good?"

Asks a tired, discouraged stenographer

She has good qualifications, she says,
But cannot seem to make a success in life.
She tells of feeling always tired.
She cannot develop the energy and pep
Which is required to make her work satisfactory.
By noon her energy is spent
And during the afternoon efficiency is at low ebb,
Because she is tired, drowsy and listless.
Worrying for fear of losing her position,
She writes to ask why she does not succeed.
It is no doubt a matter of health.
There appears to be a decided lack of nerve force.
Mind and body are overcome with fatigue.
The vital organs are slow in functioning.
Digestion is impaired and the blood is impoverished.
This case clearly calls for Dr. Chase's Nerve Food
To make the blood rich and restore the nerve force.
A few weeks use of this restorative treatment
Will bring back energy and pep to mind and body
And give you the new hope and confidence
Which makes for success and happiness in life.

"They hadn't seen me, you were going to say."

"You're outrageous. Orton will probably wear much better as a husband that you ever will."

"Wear more, you mean, my sweet. Well, you need never Worry about Aunt Minnie any more. Red DeFries will see to it that she's lots better off in the future than she has been in the past; he's a live wire, and he and Marge have their livelihood depending on it too. She'll have back more than she put in."

"But do you understand? I've been forgiven for nothing at all too long by Bet and Addy to take it from anybody else, even you."

"I do understand, and beg your pardon, darling. I did, months ago. But then you were out of reach and what good was it? But I was so miserable, of course, I tried to make you think I was crazy over the Martin. I was a pup, I'm sorry — that is, as sorry as I can be with you here in my arms."

"At least I have my kennels again, and I can go back to running them myself," said Leila.

"M'yes. Have you a lurking desire still to be tied down?"

"Kennels aren't tying down, if one has a good kennel man and the say of things," said Leila, not quite knowing what he was driving at — but, as usual when Jerry was close, finding that heaven was so blue and the world was so excellent that what anyone said mattered little. "Orton wanted to sell Jane."

"Well, you have Jane back for good. Nice dog — transportable dog. Fits well in plane, hotel room, or vast steppes of Siberia."

Jane, who had been ignored more than she liked, leaped at him with waggings.

"She says it sounds good to her. Listen, darling. Let's leave Orton to his Mary Martin; if you are removed, I hope you don't mind, but it will happen. It will be good for that all-conquering mother of his, and it will do him wonders. She'll have him divorced and back in circulation in a year or so, if you should ever happen to need him again."

"Jerry, you are such an idiot!"

"Well, you do love me, thank goodness!" he said, standing up and drawing a long, unmistakably relieved breath. "That settles it. Come along."

"What?"

"Come along. The day is yet young, my dear. Go inside and pack a few things. You can finish equipping in New York. You have your Ford in the garage. We're going over to White Plains to have breakfast, and then get a nice license just like sister's. Now that Bet is the noble and civic sister there's no room for you, darling of my heart! The best thing you can do is to elope, as Bet wanted to, if a bit more legally. Leave a note on the pincushion for Aunt Minnie and wire the kennel man. Jane and and you and I have a commission to fly to China via Russia and Manchuria. So get up off the grass, my own love!"

She laughed, her crested head thrown back, and sprang up, giving him her hands.

"Danger — excitement — change — freedom?"

"All those. All the things Bet thought she wanted and didn't. All you've wanted all your life and had to put under because other people needed you. And a man and a dog thrown in who adore you, and know that whatever you do is wonderful even if they know better! Is it enough, my darling?"

"Enough?"

She had been poised to run to the house. She stopped and laughed back at him, bright-eyed. She need never be anything but the real Leila again; that Leila whom Jerry alone loved and knew to the bone. She turned and threw her arms around him.

"More than enough. Heaven!" she said.

(THE END.)

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Friday, April 12

An active and interesting day is predicted from the combination of planetary operations, both by lunar and solar direction. It is probable that persons of influence and established position may be disposed to be friendly and proffer substantial support to the activities. These, however, may take the cast of chance or gambling, accompanied by the usual hazards and perils.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for an interesting year in which the recognition, friendly support or connivance of those in high places may figure. All pertaining to writings, publishings, promotion or documents may flourish but in all dealings there seems to be an element of gambling or chance.

A child born on this day may be versatile, brilliant and have literary as well as commercial tendencies.

By placing an order for gasoline with Russia, city officials of Glasgow, Scotland, have aroused a veritable hornets' nest among anti-Soviet Scots.

Trent River

Rev. G. Downing and Mrs. Downing of Norwood, Rev. Mr. Colquhoun of Havelock were recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Wildman and family.

The many friends of Mrs. John Lloyd, who is confined in Peterborough hospital following an operation, will be pleased to know her condition improves daily and she expects to return to her home next week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davidson had as their recent visitors, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Van Volkenburg and son, Edon, of Norwood Road; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hoffman and family of Havelock.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Gardner and family of Norwood; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Longmuir and daughter, Bernice, of Havelock were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. James Longmuir and family.

Mrs. Robert Morrow, daughter June and son Harry of Norwood were week end visitors with Mr. and Mrs. M. McArthur and family.

Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Preston were Miss Elva Stark of Norwood and Mr. Palliser of Campbellford.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Almark, formerly Elgan Ruttan, of Toronto, were Sunday visitors with relatives.

Mrs. P. Flynn and nephew, James Doherty, were Sunday visitors with relatives in Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. George Van Volkenburg and son Earl attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Lucy Palmateer at Cordova Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Harold B. Wood had a birthday anniversary Monday.

Percy Lewis has been engaged to work for Mr. David Walker for the summer.

Mrs. James Milne and son Grant of Campbellford were Sunday visitors with Mrs. R. H. Wood and Miss Genevieve Milne.

Whole Wheat

NOTHING ADDED . . . . .
NOTHING TAKEN AWAY

AND only selected Canadian Wheat. Buy this 100% whole wheat food in its most delicious form . . . golden-brown, oven-crisp biscuits . . . easily digestible. Try it this way: dip the biscuit quickly into hot water—drain—and serve with milk or cream.

THE CANADIAN SHREDDED WHEAT COMPANY, LTD.
Niagara Falls, Canada

12 big biscuits in every box

SHREDDED WHEAT

MADE IN CANADA - OF CANADIAN WHEAT

BRICK BRADFORD—With Brocco the Buccaneer — By WILLIAM RITT and CLARENCE GRAY

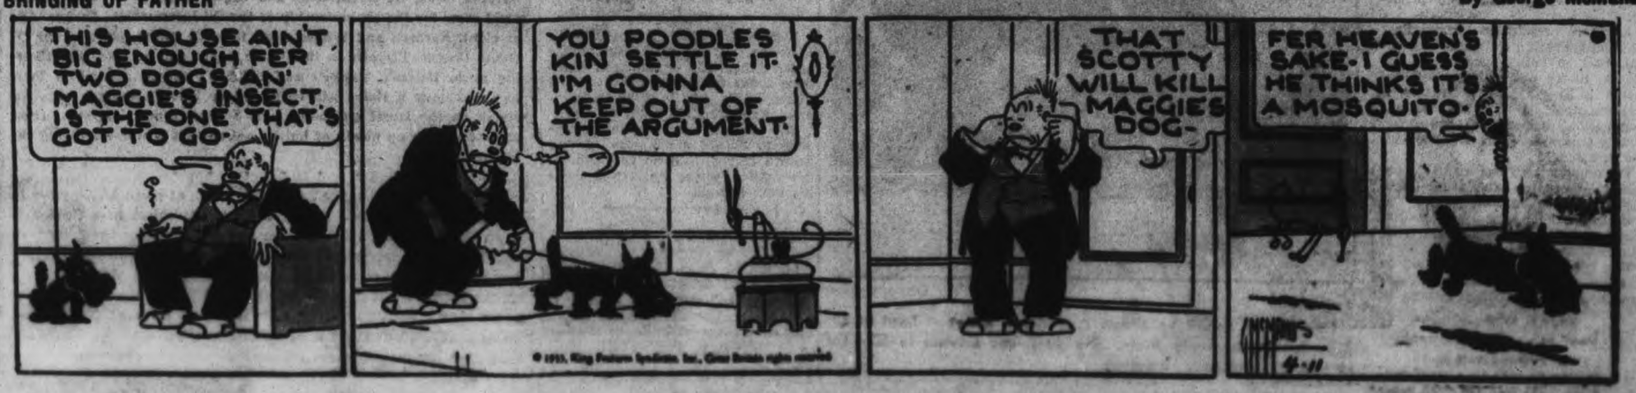
MUGGS McGINNIS — A Poor Emissary — By WALLY BISHOP

HIGH PRESSURE PETE — Nuff Sed — By GEORGE SWAN

TILLIE THE TOILER — By Russ Westover

THE TUTTS — By Crawford Young

BRINGING UP FATHER — By George McManus



For Quick Results Use An Examiner Want. Ad.

WANT AD. RATES

Cash 1 Cent per Word or Figure per Insertion.
Minimum Charge, 25c for Any Advt.
If Charged 1½ cent per word or figure per insertion.
Phone We will call for your ad. and give you the cash rate. 1600

CHARGES:

Card of Thanks	50c
In Memoriam (up to 2 inches)	75c
Over 2 inches, per inch	50c
With black border, extra	25c
Birth Notice	50c
Death Notice	50c
Locals (Back Page), per inch	$1.00
Black Local (Back Page), inch	$1.40

Index to Examiner Classified Want Advts.

Agents Wanted L
Boarders Wanted V
Business Opportunities ..... U
Chiropractor ..... E
Cottages, Summer Resorts ..... N
Dressmaking ..... J
Employment Wanted ..... H
Female Help Wanted C
Found ..... M
For Rent—General C
For Sale—General ..... A
General Notice X
Help Wanted—Male or Female ..... G
Live Stock ..... W
Lost ..... M
Male Help Wanted ..... G
Personal ..... J
Pet Stock ..... W
Poultry for Sale, and Eggs ..... P
Radio I
Real Estate ..... D
Salesmen Wanted V
Situations Vacant ..... H
To Rent—Houses and Apartments ..... B
Used Cars for Sale ..... S
Wanted—General ..... Q

a For Sale—General

PRIVATE SALE OF HOUSEHOLD Furniture. 183 Reid Street. 3d-87-194A

BELTING, SHAFTING, PULLEYS, Pipes. Peterborough Metal, 385 Bethune. 'Phone 697. 12d-86-361A

QUANTITY OF GARTON'S REGENerated Abundance Oats, choice quality. J. A. Knox, Norwood. 3d-89-259A

GOOD ROTTEN MANURE. 'PHONE 2661. 12d-88-308A

CHOICE BLACK TOPSOIL, STONE Screenings for your Driveway. Patterson's Sand and Stone Supply. 'Phone 2466W. 3d-82-335A

DOUBLE AND SINGLE BEDS, PICtures, Books. 'Phone 1094J. 3d-89-261A

200-EGG INCUBATOR, BARREL Churn, 2 Small Horse-Power Motors, Coal Oil Stoves, Refrigerators, Gas Stoves, Coal Stoves, etc. Cherney Furniture Trade-in Store, 213 Charlotte Street. 3d-88-266A

GOOD DRESSES AND COATS, AGE 8 to 14, cheap. 'Phone 2599J. 2d-88-276A

MASSEY BICYCLE, 30-22, DROP Frame, $10.00. 246 Prince Street. 2d-88-274A

TWO NEW CAMP BEDS. 'PHONE 1698M. 3d-89-278A

LADY'S WHEEL, CHEAP; ALSO GAS Range, Four-Burner. 126 London. 'Phone 578. 3d-89-279A

FOUR-WHEEL TRAILER, IN A1 condition. Apply F. Stapley, c/o Peterborough Canoe Company. 2d-89-273A

SIDE DELIVERY MILK WAGON, good condition. 'Phone 1845J. 3d-89-271A

BICYCLE, CHEAP. 'PHONE 962, Before 6 p.m. 3d-87-201A

ENGLISH PRAM, CHESTERFIELD Suite, Wardrobe, Household Effects. 'Phone 2699W. 3d-9,11,13-193A

PRIVATE SALE OF HOUSEHOLD Furniture, including Combination Range. 30177. 618 Chamberlain. 3d-87-206A

LOAD MIXED WOOD, 90% HARDwood, $2.25. Pulkinghorn, 'Phone 270. 3d-90-204A

GOOD HEAVY SLABWOOD, 12", $1, $2 and $3 Loads. Dinsdale's, 'Phone 158. 28d-109-161A

NO. 1 MIXED WOOD, $7 PER CORD, 12". Body Hardwood, 4', $8 per Cord. 'Phone 2097. 2d-88-308A

QUANTITY BRICK. 'PHONE 2097. 3d-88-308A

TRY OUR $2 LOAD OF FINE OR Hardwood Slabs. Baker's Wood Yard. 'Phone 2078. 12d-89-299A

$1.75 QUARTER CORD, DRY MIXED Wood. Albion. 'Phone 83. 3d-87-209A

50 LOADS CINDERS, 40 LOADS MAnure, $1 Load. Baled Hay, Alfalfa and Timothy, $12.00 Ton, ½-Ton Lots; One Horse, cheap. H Hamlin, 'Phone 2643. 3d-87-181A

ONE CEDAR STRIP CANOE, GOOD condition. 'Phone 797W, between 6 and 7.30. 3d-87-192A

LADY'S SPRING COAT, SIZE SIXteen; Misses' Coat, Suit and Dresses. 559 Harvey Street. Call Evenings. 3d-87-196A

a For Sale—General

ONE ONLY GASOLINE WASHER for Farm. This Washer has been used for Demonstrating. Big reduction. Beatty Bros., Ltd., 332 George Street. 2d-88-79A

NORDHEIMER UPRIGHT PIANO — owner leaving Town. This Piano can be bought cheap for cash. 'Phone 258. 1d-87-270A

HULLESS OATS, $3.00 HUNDRED Pounds. Apply H. J. Abbott, Route 2, Lakefield. 3d-89-286A

MOFFAT GAS RANGE, SMALL HENhouse, cheap. 'Phone 2274. 3d-89-283A

CHILD'S COT. 51 WARE. 1707M. 3d-89-284A

BEATTY ELECTRIC WASHER, IN first-class shape, new rolls in Wringer, etc., only $19.50. R. Haddow, Heintzman's, 'Phone 258, c/o Rome's Music Store, 291 George Street. 1d-87-269A

MIXED 80% SEASONED BODY Hardwood; also Dry Wood, $5 Cord. 261 Charlotte Street. 'Phone 1683. 6d-88-130A

MOTORCYCLE, HARLEY 32 MODEL 21B Single, perfect condition. Driven under 1,500 miles. 'Phone 3186. 3d-87-210A

OATS, CHEAP, HAY AND STRAW. 'Phone 895 ring 21. 3d-88-231A

WARDROBE, 2 GAS STOVES, Couch Bed. 'Phone 2509W. 3d-88-264A

GLADIOLUS BULBS—AIDA, BERTY Snow, Dr. Bennett, Golden Dream, Purple Glory, Black Joe, Rose Mist, 5c each, 40c Dozen. A. E. Prest, 242 Lansdowne. 3d-88-144A

OUTBOARD MOTOR BOAT AND Engine—Hull 16ft., Peterborough Kawartha Model, complete with Life Preserver Cushions; Engine Evinrude Speedwin Imperial 6 H. P., Simplex Starter. Condition as new. No 'phone calls. Fred L. Roy, Roy Studio. 3d-88-267A

MASON & RISCH WALNUT PIANO, Modern Apartment size. Cheap for cash. 'Phone 2284. 2d-87-247A

b For Rent—Houses and Apartments

SIX-ROOM BRICK HOUSE, BOLIVAR Street. 'Phone 789F. 3d-89-187B

EIGHT-ROOMED MODERN HOUSE, garage. Apply 660 Reid. 3d-87-165B

THREE UNFURNISHED ROOMS, Newly decorated. Ground Floor. 'Phone 706W. 3d-89-256B

FURNISHED ROOM, ALL CONVENIences; central. 373 Queen. 3d-89-254B

HEATED APARTMENT. POSSESSION May 1st. 362 Park Hill Road. 3d-89-256B

RED BRICK, 559 GILMOUR, HARDwood floors; splendid location; two fireplaces. 'Phone 990 ring 22. 3d-89-256B

MODERN HEATED APARTMENT, IN Grand Central Building. Possession First of May. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-862B

EIGHT ROOMS, WIRED FOR ELECtric Stove, large Living-room, overlooking lake, large garden. 'Phone 2081W. 3d-9,11,13-244B

MAY 1ST — SEVEN-ROOMED BRICK House, conveniences; also Four Bright Rooms. Apply 224 Antrim. 3d-87-184B

SIX-ROOM MODERN HOUSE, A1 condition; garage and garden. Rent $20. Apply 660 Reid. 2d-87-219B

LOWER DUPLEX, THREE ROOMS and Hall, adults. Apply 183 Antrim. 3d-88-250B

SEVEN ROOMS, OAK FLOORS, French doors, garden, flowers, apples, fruit, 709 Water. 2d-87-236B

LOOK! APARTMENT, TWENTY DOLlars, Furnished, Unfurnished, hot water; central; Couples. 709 Water. 2d-87-237B

10 ACRES AND HOUSE. ALSO Houses and Apartments. W. P. Hetherington, Real Estate, 421 George. 'Phone 2243. 2d-87-238B

SIX-ROOMED HOUSE, CONVENIences, large garden, garage. 95½ Lansdowne. 3d-88-243B

HOUSE, NO. 358 RUBIDGE STREET hot water heating. Possession can be arranged. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-826B

FOR RENT — PREMISES NO. 307 Water Street, suitable for Store or Office (Central). Apply 431 George Street. 3d-87-214B

HOUSES. 'PHONE 1792. 10d-82-129B

THREE HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, Water and. 'Phone 1487W. 3d-87-207B

ROOMS, FURNISHED, UNFURNISHed, heated; lights; water paid; central. Rent reasonable. 198 Aylmer. 3d-89-212B

SEE! COSY LOWER APARTMENT, private bath, adults, handy C.G.E. 329 Dalhousie Street. 'Phone 278. 3d-87-196B

TWO PARTLY FURNISHED ROOMS, near Factories. 73 Lansdowne. 3d-87-192B

b For Rent—Houses and Apartments

HEATED, FURNISHED APARTMENT, hot water. 190 Brock (upstairs). 3d-89-286B

BRIGHT FURNISHED ROOM, BOARD if required, elderly Lady. 'Phone 3204W. 3d-89-288B

c For Rent—General

NORTH HALF LOT 1, CONCESSION 5, Emmismore. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-1020C

STORE, NO. 173½ SIMCOE STREET. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-1397C

FOUR ACRES OF LAND, CULTIVATed, close to City. Write Box 249, Examiner. 3d-89-249C

GARAGE TO RENT — CONVENIENT to Downtown Offices and Stores. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-1092C

20-ACRE FARM, ON EDGE OF PETerborough, suitable for Poultry, Market Gardening, etc.; city water, electric lights, etc. Brick House, stable, barns, and poultry houses. Apply Davis-Thompson Co., 433 George Street. 6d-92-280C

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

BRICK HOUSE, LARGE GARDEN and barn, 293 Woodbine Avenue. Apply Fred Bevoy. 6d-88-81D

SACRIFICE! TO CLEAR ESTATE — 6-Room Frame House, large garden, edge of city. Payments like R/mt. 'Phone 278. 3d-87-199D

FOR SALE — WILL SACRIFICE FOR reasonable offer, 10 Acres Garden Land, Buildings good; electric; one mile from Monaghan Road. Write Box 216, Examiner. 4d-89-212D

FOR SALE — EIGHTEEN ACRES OF Good Garden Land, near Keene. Must be sold, owner ill. Fugent Real Estate, Charlotte Street. 2d-87-226D

WHAT A BARGAIN — 12-ROOM Brick House, full plumbing and furnace, Seven Bedrooms, 4 with running water; Seven Acres of land, one hundred apple trees, number of pine trees and others; lovely situation, on Main Highway; one-half hour's run from Peterborough. Would make wonderful Tourist Home. See H. J. McCannan, Realtor, 140 Simcoe. 9d-11,13,17-375D

f Boarders Wanted

LARGE FRONT FURNISHED ROOM, with Board. 694J. 356 Stewart. 3d-87-205F

BRIGHT FURNISHED ROOMS, WITH Board. 'Phone 1647F. 3d-87-206F

BRIGHT ROOM, WITH BOARD, central. 144 Murray Street. 3d-87-189F

ROOM AND BOARD, CHEAP, CENtral. 251 George Street. 3d-89-287F

ROOM AND BOARD. 210 LONDON. 893W. 3d-89-826F

ROOM AND BOARD, IN PRIVATE home; central, all conveniences and home privileges. Apply 234 Reid Street. 2d-89-275F

h Help Wanted, Female

CAPABLE MAID. WRITE BOX 261, Examiner. 3d-82-261H

ATTENDANT FOR LATE LEAVE, preferably to live in residence. Apply Superintendent Y.W.C.A. 2d-83-274H

REFINED CAPABLE HOUSEKEEPER for Two Adults; good home. Write Box 150, Examiner. 3d-87-159H

GENERAL, WANTED, CAPABLE OF taking full charge. Must be good Cook; sleep out; reference required. Write Box 220, Examiner. 3d-88-223H

SALESWOMAN, DIRECT TO HOMES. Advertising Campaign. Write Box 265, Examiner. 3d-89-265H

j Employment Wanted

WINDOW CLEANING. J. FOSTER. 'Phone 777. Storms taken down. 6d-89-158J

NURSE, DISENGAGED, CARE FOR Patient and Light Housework. Write Box 150, Examiner. 3d-89-250J

EXPERIENCED FARM HAND, GOOD Milker. Write Box 227, Examiner. 3d-88-227J

EXPERIENCED FARM HAND WANTS Work near City. Apply Cyril Waters, No. 2, Norwood. 2d-87-242J

WINDOWS CLEANED, STORMS taken off. 'Phone 2689F. 3d-88-245J

m Lost

BOSTON BRINDLE DOG, ANSWERS to "Buddy." Finder 'Phone 335. 3d-87-191M

WHITE GOLD WRIST WATCH, ON Monday. Please 'Phone 3095. 3d-88-235M

REWARD — SMALL BLACK COLLIE Dog. Answers to "Jack." Peterborough Mattress Factory, Mark Street. 2d-88-285M

n Found

SMALL PARCEL, SATURDAY EVENing, South. Obtain same paying for advertisement. 'Phone 2807F. 2d-87-246N

LIVESTOCK FOR SALE

FOR SALE — GOOD GENERAL PURpose Mare, rising 3 years, broken. Henry Oliver, Concession 8, Smith. 3d-88-248O

FOR SALE — THREE-YEAR-OLD Springers, New Milk Cows. Ira Branch, Lakefield, R.R. 3. 3d-89-264O

FOR SALE — THREE SHORTHORN Bulls. George Fife, 'Phone 45 ring 20, Keene. 3d-89-252O

FOR SALE — DURHAM COW, DUE to freshen. Apply Willie Hutchison, Otonabee. 3d-88-248O

JERSEY COW, FRESH FEBRUARY. Holstein Cow. R. J. Steele, No. 6, Peterborough. 3d-88-220O

t General Notice

HARDWOOD FLOORS REFINISHED like new. Estimates given on Repairs and Alterations. Satisfaction guaranteed. 'Phone 2037F. 3d-89-190T

LAKEFIELD GIRLS IN FRIDAY CONCERT

Glee Club of High School Also to Sing in Toronto.

The Girls' Glee Club of the Lakefield High School who have been chosen to sing at the Ontario Teachers' Convention in Eaton's auditorium during the Easter holidays will be heard at home Friday night.

The senior boys of the school are giving a concert in the Town Hall April 12, which will include selections by the Girls' Glee Club and a Minstrel Show by the Duo Club of George Street Methodist Church. Hugh Morrison is chairman of the committee, Jack Woodhouse, vice-chairman, and Walter Spence secretary. The students are expecting a capacity crowd for their choral evening.

Crews of four lightships off the Wexford Irish Free State, were isolated for 26 days by south-westerly gales and tremendous seas.

POULTRY FOR SALE

SPECIAL PRICES PAID FOR LIVE Poultry. Gisbman. 'Phone 2475W. 52d-93-3997P

JERSEY BLACK GIANT HATCHING Eggs. 'Phone 965 ring 2. 3d-9,11,13-338P

MASTER FEEDS WILL GIVE CHICKS the right start and make Profits. J. A. Fair, 98 Aylmer Street. 3d-89-277P

q Wanted

HOUSEKEEPING AND PRACTICAL Nursing, reliable. Write Box 267, Examiner. 3d-87-267Q

OLD GOLD WANTED. PHILLIPS' Laboratories, 406½ George (opposite Lech's). 42d-134-302Q

ADULT COUPLE TO SHARE HOUSE with Elderly Man; conveniences, garden; free rent. 95½ Lansdowne. 3d-88-244Q

WANTED — GOOD USED SEDAN Car. Will pay cash. Privately owned. 'Phone 273. 2d-87-241Q

WANTED — TO BUY, GOOD 1928, OR later, Coupe or Roadster. Write Box 226, Examiner. 3d-88-226Q

TEAM OF HORSES TO HIRE. WRITE Box 262, Examiner. 2d-88-262Q

WANTED — TO BORROW, $1,000, OR consider Partner with same amount. Write Box 217, Examiner. 3d-88-217Q

WANTED — GOOD USED CLOSED Car. State lowest price and particulars, to Box 216, Examiner. 3d-87-216Q

WANTED— SMALL REFRIGERATOR, in good condition, cheap. Write Box 222, Examiner. 3d-88-222Q

WANTED — BY ELDERLY WOMAN, Furnished Room; central; reasonable. Write Box 188, Examiner. 3d-87-188Q

WANTED— TO RENT, MODERN SIX-Room Bungalow or Apartment, immediately; good location; reliable tenants. 'Phone 906. 3d-87-211Q

WANTED—BY COUPLE, BUNGALOW or Cottage; must be clean; rent about 18 or 20 Dollars, by 1st of May. Write Box 214, Examiner. 3d-87-214Q

LIVE POULTRY. PAY SPECIAL Prices. Florence. 'Phone 2578J 28d-105-10010Q

s Used Cars for Sale

ESSEX COUPE, MAROON, RUMBLE seat; excellent condition. M. Brinson, 102 Western Avenue. 3d-89-263S

1933 STUDEBAKER SEDAN (SMALL mileage). 1934 Chevrolet Sedan (Deluxe model). 1930 Whippet Sedan. And many others, all in perfect condition. Foley & Wilson, Reid and McDonnel Streets. 'Phone 2027. 1d-87-8

HOOD & CUMMING MOTORS, LTD. A SAFE PLACE TO BUY DEPENDABLE USED CARS.
With a 3-Day Money-Back Guarantee or 5-Day Free Exchange Privilege. All Makes and Models.
'34 V8 Ford Deluxe Coupe.
'34 V8 Ford Coach.
'33 V8 Ford Coupe.
'33 V8 Ford Coach.
'32 Ford Business Coupe.
'31 Chevrolet Special Coach.
'31 Ford Cabriolet.
'30 Ford Coach.
'30 Chevrolet Coupe.
'29 Chevrolet Coupe.
'29 DeSoto Sedan.
'29 Durant Sedan.
'29 Oldsmobile Sedan.
'28 Pontiac Coach.
'28 Essex Coach.
'27 Buick Sedan.
'26 Buick Roadster.
'26 Rugby Panel Truck.
And Others.
Your Present Car taken as Part Payment. Balance on Easy Terms. Open Evening. 'Phone 2460. 1d-87-204S

CHAS. H. ELLIOTT, STUDEBAKER DEALER. USED CARS:
'29 Chevrolet Coach.
'26 Star Coach.
'28 Whippet 6 Coach.
'28 Jewett Coach.
'32 Frontenac Sedan.
'31 Essex Coupe.
'28 Dodge Coupe.
'27 Pontiac Coupe.
'28 Chevrolet ½-Ton Panel Truck.
269 Hunter Street, at Bethune—J. E. A. Fitzgerald Coal and Wood Office. 'Phone 1300, House 31. 3d-87-254S

y Salesmen Wanted

SALESMEN! DO YOU WANT TO Make Money and be your own boss? Now is your chance selling First-class Products needed in every home. Exclusive territory, big profits. Cash proposition. Get busy; write for details—The Families Products Co., 570 St. Clement Street, Montreal. 12d-9,11,13,16,18,20,23,25,27,30,2,4-312Y

MOVING AND STORAGE.

SHORT DISTANCES OR ANYWHERE in Canada or United States. Covered, Padded Vans. Experienced courteous Men. Apply, full particulars M. Rawlinson, Limited, 610 Yonge Street, Toronto. dtf-699Y

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

Household Hints

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

Menu Hint

Scalloped Potatoes
Fruit Salad Cookies Milk

Isn't this a delicious luncheon menu for anyone, and especially youngsters? You can serve the salad in individual servings, if you wish and it is more convenient, or put it in the salad bowl and let each one help himself. This amount serves four to six.

Today's Recipes

Fruit Salad—One cup orange segments, three-fourths cup unpeeled red apple slices, three-fourths cup banana slices, one-half cup shredded dates, three tablespoons lemon, mayonnaise, one tablespoon orange juice. Combine fruit. Blend mayonnaise with orange fruit and put over fruit. Arrange in lettuce lined bowl.

FACTS AND FANCIES
For the Party

Fruit Salad in Orange Cups—Six large oranges, twelve marshmallows, quartered; lettuce, one cup diced pineapple, one cup banana slices (or other fruit: pears, peaches, cherries, white grapes). Cut tops off oranges and remove pulps, leaving orange baskets. Flute edges if desired. Combine ingredients, fill orange cups and arrange on lettuce covered salad plates. Serve with mayonnaise, mixed with one-third orange juice. Serves six.

Old-Fashioned Rabbit

One pound American cheese, one tablespoon butter, two teaspoons salt, two teaspoons dry mustard, one teaspoon paprika, one-half bottle beer, toast. Shred cheese with a fork. Melt butter, stir in seasoning; add cheese and stir over a low fire 'till melted. Stir in beer gradually and cook, stirring over the fire until mixture is smooth. Pour at once over hot toast. A dash of cayenne pepper may be added if desired.

Orange Sherbert

Three-fourths cup sugar, three-fourths cup water, grated rind one orange, one and one-half cups orange juice, one tablespoon lemon juice, two egg whites, dash of salt, one cup cream, whipped. Make a syrup of sugar and water, boiling it ten minutes. Add orange rind and cook a minute longer. Cool. Add fruit juices. Turn into the ice drawers of the mechanical refrigerator and freeze to a mush. Remove from refrigerator into a well-chilled bowl. Beat until very light. Fold in egg whites beaten stiff with salt, and lastly, fold in whipped cream. Turn into ice drawers and freeze, stirring occasionally.

Rice Muffins

One cup cooked rice, one egg, one-half teaspoon salt, one cup flour, four teaspoons baking powder, two teaspoons sugar, one cup milk, one-fourth cup melted butter. Beat rice with egg and salt. Sift flour, measure and sift with baking powder and sugar. Add milk and melted fat to rice and egg mixture. Stir in flour quickly, stirring just enough to moisten ingredients. Turn at once into greased muffin tins and bake in a hot oven, 400 degrees, for 25 minutes.

Reeve Of Ayr Strikes At Relief Petition

BRANTFORD, Ont., April 11.—(C.P.)—Reeve W. H. Shaw of Ayr, in a telephone call to-day, criticized a petion pdesented last Saturday to N. O. Hipel, M.L.A. for South Waterloo, containing names of 36 or 40 married and single men and boys asking the village council to institute a system of direct relief.

The Reeve said "agitators" had been busy in the village and the list included names of men who have been away from Ayr for three or four years and three men who are in a House of Refuge. He said among the boys was included the name of his own son, and termed the list a "gross insult to myself and to the boys and parents of the village."

HON. G. N. GORDON, K.C.—Barrister and Solicitor. Trust Company Funds to Loan on Mortgages. Offices: 395-397 George Street. 'Phone 2900.

HALL & CARLEY — Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, corner Hunter and Water Streets (over Canadian Bank of Commerce), Peterborough, Ontario. Telephones: Office No. 66; R. B. Hall, K.C., residence No. 403; T. J. Carley, LL.B., residence No. 9086.

PECK, KERR & McELDERRY—Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries. Offices 416 Water Street, Peterborough. Telephone 1950. R. A. Peck, K.C., M.P., F. D. Kerr, K.C., W. J. McElderry, K.C.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

All Creditors and others having CLAIMS against the Estate of JAMES DAVIS, late of the Township of North Monaghan, County of Peterborough, Foreman, Deceased, who died on or about the 24th of January, 1935, are hereby notified pursuant to The Trustee Act, R.S.O. 1927, Chap. 150, Sec. 51, to send to the undersigned Solicitors for the Administratrix of the said Estate, full particulars in writing of their Claims on or before the 7th Day of May, 1935, after which last mentioned date the Administratrix will proceed to distribute the Assets of the said Estate, having regard only to the Claims of which she shall then have notice.

DATED at Peterborough this 11th Day of April, 1935.

HALL & CARLEY,
No. 5 Bank of Commerce Block, Peterborough, Ontario,
Solicitors for the Administratrix herein.
46-11,18,25,2-99S

Best Values This Week

PERSONALLY OK'D USED CARS

Our Used Car Department is making new friends daily through its many satisfied purchasers, This personal OK means more than just a casual glance at the various used models, but rather a thorough check-up on all working parts and their condition generally. You can be assured always of a square deal, so come with confidence.

JACK HUGHES.

SOME RECOMMENDATIONS FOR YOUR CONSIDERATION

1931 Chevrolet Special Sedan	1931 Oldsmobile Special Sedan
1933 Chevrolet Coupe, R.S.	1930 Essex Sedan
1934 Ford Tudor, V8 (ONLY USED FEW MONTHS)	1930 Chevrolet Coach
1931 Ford Tudor	1932 Chevrolet Special Coach
	1932 Ford Tudor

ABOVE ARE ONLY A FEW OF THE MANY ATTRACTIVE VALUES

J.K.HUGHES, Ltd.

Hunter at Water St. 'Phone 1347

BRITAIN'S DWELLING BOOM

LONDON (C.P.)—Construction of 2,330,000 dwellings in England and Wales since the war will be reported to the 14th International Housing and Town Planning Congress here in July.

EARL OF DUNDONALD VERY ILL

LONDON. — The 12th Earl of Dundonald, who commanded the Canadian Militia from 1902 to 1904, is gravely ill at his Wimledon home. The Earl is 82 years of age.

Cleverness:

We can be more clever than one, but not more clever than all.

—ROCHEFOUCAULD

A good way to be clever is to let Examiner Want Ads work for you. They can buy, sell or trade things for you in a hurry. This Classified Department is here to serve you.

Phone 1600

FURNITURE

Bargains that you can't duplicate elsewhere. A visit to our store will tell you the truth.

Bedroom Suites—In different styles. Some with Venetian mirrors, one with twin beds; modern. Good as new ..... $39 Up

Chesterfield Suites—Expensive makes. Beautiful covering. Some are new, (Samples) ..... $39 Up

Dining Room Suite — 9 pieces. Real modern, new condition. Original price $225. Special $69

Also other at Bargain Prices.

New Floor Covering — Lots to choose from ..... Yd. 35c

New Felt Mattresses — New seamless springs. All sizes. For $3.75

New Day Beds—Complete with fancy mattress $8.50

Breakfast Suites, Kitchen Cabinets, Wardrobes, Odd Dressers, Ice Boxes, Garden Hose, Cedar Chests, Tables, Electric Stoves, Gas Stoves, Cook Stoves, Furniture for cottages, etc.

FINE'S
Trade-In-Store
189 Charlotte 'Phone 2172w
(Opposite New Canter Meat Market)
We also buy and exchange Furniture.

AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE

does more than Protect you against financial loss—it brings to you a certain feeling of Security—a high degree of Mental Contentment that in itself is well worth the cost of such protection. Protect yourself to-day with an adequate Insurance Policy, issued by

DAVIS-THOMPSON COMPANY
INSURANCE AND GENERAL AGENCY
433 GEORGE STREET 'PHONE 40

FOR SALE

House, very desirably situated at No. 335 Rubidge Street.

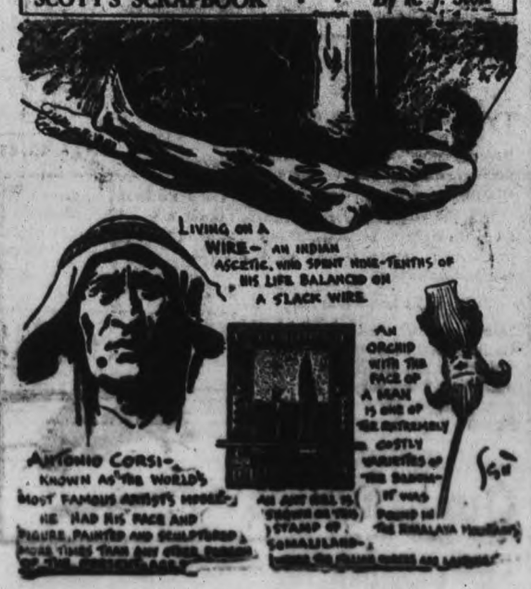
Newly renovated and decorated throughout; new garage; hot-water heating.

Will sell on easy terms (monthly instalments if desired).

APPLY

THE TORONTO SAVINGS AND LOAN COMPANY
437 GEORGE STREET

SCOTT'S SCRAPBOOK — By R. J. Scott



PRE-EASTER SELLING of FINE FOODS

EATON'S SUPER VALUE

BIG SUPER VALUE SELLING OF SPECIAL BLEND

TEA

With Tea selling usually at so much higher prices, you will appreciate what this super-value selling means in the saving of many pennies on your present and future requirements. Please shop early for this Special.

1-lb. Pkg. .37

MEAT

Specials for Friday and Saturday

BUTT ROAST OF PORK .....lb. .18
FRESH SHOULDER PICNIC ....lb. .14
Sliced BREAKFAST BACON .... lb. .25

ROUND STEAK OR ROAST, lb. .. .19
RUMP ROAST, lb. .. .17
Thinly Sliced Cooked Ham, lb. .... .45

FISH
Fresh Fillets 2 lbs. .25
Smoked Fillets 2 lbs. .25
Finnan Haddie, lb. .. .11

Choice BANANAS .....3 lbs. .23
Imported TOMATOES .....2 lbs. .27
GRAPEFRUIT—Med. Large ...3 for .16

C.D.S. GROCETERIA
"Where It Pays to Shop"

Spring Opportunities

COHOE SALMON Clover Leaf Brand ½-lb. Tin .11 1-lb. Tin .19
Tomatoe Juice Woodland Brand No. 2½ Size Large Tins 3 for .23
Sliced Pineapple V.C. Brand Australian 16-oz. Tin .17
Crossed Fish Sardines - 2 Tins .25
Plews Oat Puff's - The New Cereal Surprise. Pkg. .9
APPLE JELLY - Aylmer Brand with Pectin Large 32-oz. Jar .27
Eatonia Baking Powder 1-lb. Tin .23
PRUNE PLUMS Aylmer Italian Style Also Green Gage No. 2 Sqt. Tin .10

GOOD NEWS!

Eatonia COFFEE
IN A NEW PACKAGE
AT A NEW LOW PRICE

And welcome news it is—to those who enjoy and demand good Coffee. We did away with the more expensive tin container, and passed the saving on to you. An attractive bag with a flavour-sealed lining that you can refold to help keep that fresh ground flavour right to the last. Try it this week-end. Ground to your order.

Formerly 45 lb. NOW .39

Make Delicious Creations with SUN-GLO MEAL Recipe on Each Pkg. .29

MAYFAIR Assorted Flavors
Jelly Powders Special 3 pkgs. .14

HOLIDAY PACK
OLIVES Stuffed and Plain 16-oz. Jar .29

GREEN SEAL
Mayonnaise Smooth and Creamy 8-oz. Jar .19

BISCUITS Chocolate Princess Extra Choice lb. .19

CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

FRIDAY is BARGAIN DAY

Store Hours: 9 a.m. to 5.30 p.m.; Saturday 9 a.m. to 9.30 p.m. FREE DELIVERY Phone 3000

Clearing Luggage at Reduced Prices!

Suit Case—Of brown leather 26 inches long. Regular 6.50. Friday.... 4.95
1 16" Overnight Case — In black fabrikoid. Regular 3.95. Friday.... 3.15
1 Overnight Case — Brown fabrikoid, 18". Regular 4.95. Friday.... 3.95

1 18" Wardrobe Case—Black fabrikoid, fitted with hanger. Regular 3.75. Friday..... 2.98
1 Wardrobe Case—Covered in brown fabrikoid, lined, complete with hangers. Regular 6.95. Friday. 5.50

1 Brown Leather Case—With inside pocket. Fitted with double lock catch. Regular 9.50. Friday 7.50
1 17" Overnight Case — In brown. Regular 2.79. Friday..... 2.19

1 Wardrobe Case—20", finished in brown fabrikoid. Regular 9.95. Friday..... 7.95
1-20" Wardrobe Case—Black, edges leather bound. Regular 8.50. Friday 6.75
—Basement, C.D.S.

Kiddies' Print Dresses

Of durable cotton print, in yoke style, attractively smocked, with dainty white collar and puff sleeves. Panties to match. Assorted colors. Sizes 1, 2 and 3 years. Friday, each..... .79

Clearance Spring Hats

Inexpensive Spring Hats of straw cloth, in Turbans, trim and off-the-face styles, in assorted colors. Styles to suit women and misses. Friday, each ..... .75
—2nd Floor C.D.S.

MAPLE LEAF SPECIAL IN Wholesome Candy!

Orchard Fruits
Tasty and wholesome. Made in shapes of various fruits with real fruit centres.
lb. .17

Chocolate Slab
You'll love these delicious pieces of smooth milk chocolate!
lb. .17
—Main Floor, C.D.S.

Clearance in Dress Goods

A reduced line of All-Silk Printed Crepes and Rayon Tweeds in assorted plaids, floral and conventional designs, in a variety of colors. 38 inches wide. Friday, yard..... .69
—Main Floor, C.D.S.

Champion Carpet Sweeper

An ideal sweeping device for everyday use. Durable brush, rubber protectors, empties with thumb pressure, mahogany finish. Friday, each..... 3.15
—Basement, C.D.S.

Reconditioned Electric Refrigerator

AN EXTRA SPECIAL BARGAIN DAY PRICE.

One only Valkyr Electric Refrigerator, reconditioned inside and out, and conservatively reduced for Friday's selling. Food capacity, approx. 6 cubic feet. 3 dessert trays, 54 ice cubes, 3 freezing speeds, chiller tray. Flat useable buffet top. Guaranteed for 90 days. Friday Bargain 89.50
D.P. Terms may be arranged if desired.
—Basement, C.D.S.

CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

WESTWOOD BID IS LAID OVER

Trinity Church Y.P.S. Will Accept Branch Invitation in May.

JOLLY PROGRAMS

HASTINGS, April 11 (Examiner Correspondence).—The Young People's meetings of the various churches have held some very interesting and profitable meetings during the Winter, which were attended by a large number of members.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Y.P.S. met on Monday evening, with the missionary convenor, Miss Pearl McMillan in charge. The scripture reading by Robert Glass was followed by a helpful topic, "Is Goodness Rewarded?" by Miss Annie Spooner. A very pleasing program was presented, the numbers being given:

Reading, Miss Valda Mouncey; Reading, "The Spare Room," by Miss Annie Beavis; Reading, "A Mother's Fool," by Miss Grace Lewis; Reading, "Willie's Report," by Miss Betty Spooner; Duet, Miss Annie Beavis and Pearl McMillan; Reading, "A Very Unlucky Guest," Miss Mabel Killenbeck; Recitation, "The Doctor's Report," Miss Jean Lewis. A hymn closed the meeting.

Trinity Y.P.S.

Thirty-two members attended the regular Monday meeting of Trinity United Y.P.S. in charge of the missionary convenor, Miss Claudine Hoard. Mrs. G. Sine led in the worship period, choosing her scripture reading and talk from the 10th chapter of St. Luke, "The Parable of the Good Samaritan." The regular business was then transacted. An invitation was received from the Westwood branch to be their guests on April 30th. The members decided to attend their meeting at a later date, possibly early in May.

Readings were given by Miss Helen Turner, Mrs. Albert Brooks and Miss Norma Buck. Mrs. F. W. Newell sang very sweetly, "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer," with accompaniment on the piano by Miss Mildred Puffer.

Wave Lengths

Station.	Meters.	Kilocycles
CKAC, Toronto	211	1420
FCF, Montreal	500	600
CFCO, Chatham	252	890
CRCO, Ottawa	500	600
CFRB, Toronto	450	666
CFRC, Kingston		630
CKAC, Montreal	411	730
CKCR, Waterloo	1968	1510
CKCT, Toronto	357.3	840
CHML, Hamilton	297	1010
CKCL, Toronto	517	580
CKCO, Ottawa		1010
CKPC, Brantford	322	930
CKOC, Hamilton	259	1120
CKLW, Windsor-Det.	357	1030
CKTB, St. Catharines	349.9	1210
KDKA, Pittsburg	309	970
KMOX, St. Louis	276	1090
WBBM, Chicago	394	1020
WABC, New York	349	860
WBBM Chicago	389	770
WJBK, Detroit	632	950
WEAF, New York	394	760
WENR, Chicago	346	870
WGR, Buffalo	319	940
WHAM, Rochester	283	1150
WJR, Detroit	499	600
WLW, Cincinnati	428	700
WMAQ, Chicago	447	670
WTIC, Hartford	395	1060
WJZ, New York	454	760
WBEW, Buffalo	302	1480

READ THE WANT ADS

Iron-Shelled Egg

PIPER, Kan., April 11 (A.P.)—Edwin Yunghans' hen has laid an iron-shelled egg, Kimball L. Backus, county farm agent, reported to-day. He said there was a thin, hard exterior with a normal white shell inside. The egg weighed 3 ounces, one above normal.

School Reports

S.S. No. 17, OTONABEE
RIFLE RANGE

Prize winners for winter term:
Spelling IV class, Dorothy Sharpe; III Class, Hilda Sharpe; II Class, Blanche Quinn.

Following is result of Easter examinations in order of merit:
Sr. IV to Jr. IV—Dorothy Sharpe, 71, Lorraine Quinn 67, Doris Sayer 66, Betty Sayer 54, Fred Price 51, Shirley Butler 43.
Sr. III—Hilda Sharpe 67, Jean McCall 66, Joseph Corkery 60.
Jr. III—Rosa Kennedy 56.
II Class—Blanche Quinn 76, marion Quinn 52.
Jr. Pr.—Murray Hewitt 72.
Number on roll 13.
Average attendance 12.
Teacher—Vera J. McIlmoyle.

One of the new women members of Parliament in Turkey was educated at Oxford in England, and another at the American Women's College at Arnaoutkeouy, is Istambul.

COTTESLOE

Mr. and Mrs. C. Waldon and family spent Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ditcham.

Mr. Fred Toms of Belmont has moved to the farm of Mr. Robert Tedford known as the old Fitzpatrick home.

Miss Marguerite Webster returned home on Sunday after spending a week with friends in Peterborough.

Mr. Robert Elliott of Elgin spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. J. Elliott.

Mr. Elroyd Barr spent the week-end with friends in Lakefield.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Little and family of South Dummer have moved into the vacant house on Mr. Alex Calder's farm.

Mr. and Mrs. John Moore are moving to the farm lately occupied by Mr. William Mildenhall of South Dummer.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Clysdale were in Peterborough on Sunday evening to see Mr. Edwards, their brother-in-law, who is ill in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Campbell also Mr. and Mrs. G. Lockington visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Kidd on Sunday.

Born — To Mr. and Mrs. David Forsythe on April 9th, at St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, a son.

RELIEF LISTS SHRINK.

TORONTO, April 11 (C.P.).—In the seven months ended March 31, more than 3,400 families have voluntarily gone off relief in Toronto Commissioner of Welfare A. W. Laver reported. Families cut off relief for various reasons numbered 2,640, for a total of more than 6,000 less on the rolls than at the beginning of September, 1934.

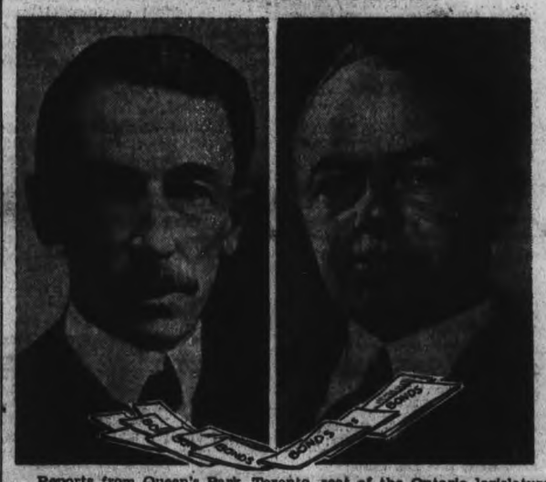
THURSDAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

(STANDARD TIME)
KEY TO CLASSIFICATION

1—Dance. 2—Concert. 3—News. 4—Vocal. 5—Sport. 6—Comedy. 7—Drama. 8—Band. 9—Symphony 10—Variety 11—Instru Trio 12—Speaker. 13—Organ 14—Children. 15—Miscellan.

5.00 P.M.
1—CFRB—Messner's Orch.
12—CRCT—Nothing Else But Safety.
5.15 P.M.
4—CFRB—Vera van.
15—WJZ—Woolly the Moth.
5.30 P.M.
4—CRCT—Singing Lady.
6—WEAF—Sugar and Bunny.
5.45 P.M.
14—WJZ—Orphan Annie.
1—WEAF—Willie Bryant's Orch.
6—WABC—Dick Tracy
6.00 P.M.
12—WJZ—William Lundell.
14—WABC—Buck Rogers.
6.15 P.M.
15—CFRB—Mining Broadcaster.
6—WABC—Bobby Benson and Sunny Jim
3—CRCT—News.
6.30 P.M.
3-4-WEAF—News; Mary Small.
10—CKNC—Fundy Fantasy
3—WABC—Frank Daley's Orch
8—CFRB—Jim Hunter, news.
4—WJZ—Armand Girard.
6.45 P.M.
15—WEAF—Billy and Betty.
12—WABC—Beauty Program.
13—CFRB—Garden Talk.
7—CRCT—Lowell Thomas.
7.00 P.M.
1—WEAF—Gene Marvy's Orch.
15—WABC—Myrt and Marge.
6—CRCT—Amos 'n' Andy.
7.15 P.M.
6—WOR—Lum and Abner.
11—WJZ—Gems of Melody.
15—WABC—Just Plain Bill.
4—WEAF—Whispering Jack Smith
7.30 P.M.
11—CRCT—Billy and Pierre.
4—WABC—Benay Venuta.
10—WEAF—Merry Minstrels.
7.45 P.M.
10—WLW—Unbroken Melodies.
4—WABC—Boake Carter.
1—CRCT—Ontario Employment Service.
4—WJZ—Ruth Etting
8.00 P.M.
1—CFRB—Gene Pritsley's Orch
10—WABC—Romance
10—WJZ—Pastora.
1—CRCT—Rudy Vallee's Orch.
9—WOR—Little Symphony Orch.
12-10-CRCM—Agricultural Talk: Say It with Music.
8.30 P.M.
11—CRCM—Chamber Music.
15—WABC—Forum of Liberty.
9.00 P.M.
1—WJZ—Death Valley
10—CRCT—Nelson Eddy
1—WOR—Happy Hall's Housewarming.
10—WABC—The Camel Caravan
10—WEAF—Captain Henry's Showboat
6—CRCT—Amos 'n' Andy.
7.35 P.M.
6—WOR—Lum and Abner.
11—WJZ—Gems of Melody.
15—WABC—Just Plain Bill.
4—WEAF—Whispering Jack Smith
9.00 P.M.
11—CRCT—Billy and Pierre.
4—WABC—Benay Venuta.
10—WEAF—Merry Minstrels.
10.00 P.M.
11—CRCM—Melodic Strings
1—WEAF—Paul Whiteman and Radio Entertainers.
10.30 P.M.
1—CFRB—Dale Gordon's Orch.
12—CRCM—Canadian R.M.A. Banquet.
12—WJZ—Economic Changes.
1—WABC—Heidt's Brigadiers.
10.45 P.M.
3—CRCO—Canadian Press.
12—WABC—Voice of the Crusaders
11.00 P.M.
9—WEAF—John S Kennedy.
1—WJZ—Jack Denny's Orch.
9—CFRB—News
11.15 P.M.
1—CRCT—Wilson's Orch.
1—CFRB—Little Jack Little's Orch.
11.30 P.M.
13—WABC—Enrique Madriguer's Orch
1—CFRB—Arthur Warren's Orch.
1—WEAF—Eddie Durbin's Orch.
12.00 MIDNIGHT.
1—WABC—Savoy Kay.
1—WJZ—Tommy Tucker's Orch.
15—CFRB—Beaver Ben
4—WABC—Betty Barthell.
0.15 P.M
10—CRCT—Denver Bar L Ranch.
1—WABC—Leon Navara Orch.
0.15 P.M
4—WEAF—Merry Macs.
8—WABC—Bobby Benson and Sunny Jim.
12—CFRB—Mining Broadcaster
0.30 P.M
3—WABC—H. V. Kaltenborn
3-4-WEAF—News and Arlene Jackson
8—CFRB—Jim Hunter
10—WJZ—Mississippi Minstrel.
0.45 P.M
12—WABC—Beauty Program
7—WEAF—Billy and Betty.
3—CRCT—Lowell Thomas.
1—CFRB—Loren Cassina's Orch.
1.00 P.M
6—CRCT—Amos 'n' Andy.
10—WABC—Myrt and Marge.
1.15 P.M
12—WEAF—Stories of Black Chamber.
15—WABC—Just Plain Bill
6—WJZ—Plantation Echoes.
6—WOR—Lum and Abner.
1.30 P.M
10—WJZ—Red Davis and Company.
11—CRCT—Billy and Pierre
7—WABC—The O'Neills
8—WEAF—Three Scamps.
1.45 P.M
8—CRCT—Sports Review
10—WEAF—Parle Sare
6—WABC—Boake Carter.
7—WJZ—Dangerous Paradise.
2.00 P.M
10—CRCT—City Service Concert Orch.
10—CFRB—Ralston Purina
4—WJZ—Irene Rich.
10—CFRB—Betty Program
2.15 P.M
8—WABC—Edwin C. Hill.
4—WJZ—Armand Girard.
12—CFRB—Green Room.
2.30 P.M
10—CRCM—Bits of This and That.
10—WJZ—College Prom.
10—CFRB—The Black Horse Tavern.
10—WLW—S.S.S. Music Box.
12—WABC—Court of Human Relations.
2.60 P.M
6—CRCT—Beatrice Lillie.
15—CFRB—Syncopation.
1-6—WEAF—Waltz Time.
10—WABC—March of Time.
10—CRCM—Friday Night.
3.30 P.M
6—WEAF—Pic and Pat
7—WLW—Unsolved Mysteries.
10—CFRB—Hollywood Hotel
7—WOR—Harry and Esther.
6—WJZ—Phil Baker
10—CRCT—Up to the Minute.
3.60 P.M
10—CRCM—Le Trio Lyrique.
7—WEAF—First Nighter
10—CRCT—Circus Nichts in Silver-town.
4.30 P.M
10—CRCT—Coca-Cola Program
1—CRCM—Billy Bissett's Orch.
10—CFRB—C-1 Stoopnagle and Bud.
11.00 P.M
15—WABC—Four Aces of Contract Bridge
7—WJZ—Hal Kemp's Orch.
9—WEAF—George R. Holmes.
11.15 P.M
13—CFRB—Organ Melodies
12—CRCT—Joan Crawford, organ.
11.30 P.M
1—CRCT—Sam Meyer's Orch.
1—CFRB—Toronto Serenade.
12.00 MIDNIGHT
1—WEAF—George Devereux's Orch
1—WABC—Luigi Romanelli.

The Battle Of The Bonds



Reports from Queen's Park, Toronto, seat of the Ontario legislature, indicate that Premier Mitchell Hepburn will confer with Premier Taschereau of Quebec on matters concerning power purchases and bonds. Meanwhile, Conservative Opposition in Ontario House wage strenuous opposition to cancellation of present contracts, and holders of power bonds are raising objection over what they term "repudiation."

FRIDAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

12.00 NOON
3—WABC—Voice of Experience.
7—WEAF—Masquerade.
4—WJZ—Fields and Hall
12.30 P.M
15—CRCT—Catelli Interlude.
7—WABC—Five Star Jones.
2.00 P.M
11—CRCT—Bennett Sisters.
15—CFRB—Mar's.
12—WEAF—Magic of Speech
2.30 P.M.
13—CFRB—School of the Air
10—WEAF—Kitchen Party.
4—CRCT—Lafayette College Glee Club
3.00 P.M.
8—CRCT—Marine Band
1—CFRB—Pete Woolery.
6—WEAF—Vic and Sade.
3.15 P.M
6—WEAF—Ma Perkins.
9—CFRB—Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra
4.00 P.M
10—CRCT—Women's Radio Review
10—WJZ—Betty and Bob
4.30 P.M.
1—CRCT—South Sea Islanders
1—WJZ—Chick Webb's Orch.
4.00 P.M
4—CFRB—Loretta Lee.
12—WJZ—Piatt and Nieman.
14—CRCT—Uncle Bob.
4—WEAF—Shirley Howard.
5.30 P.M
4—CRCT—Jackie Heller
14—WABC—Adventure Hour.
16—WEAF—Grandpa Burton.
5.00 P.M
4—CRCT—Singing Lady.
8—CFRB—Wee Scottish.
12—WEAF—Hello Revell
5.45 P.M
1—WEAF—Shamo Club
14—WJZ—Orphan Annie.
4—WJZ—Armand Girard.
12—CFRB—Green Room.
6.30 P.M
10—CRCM—Bits of This and That.
10—WJZ—College Prom.
10—CFRB—The Black Horse Tavern.
10—WLW—S.S.S. Music Box.
12—WABC—Court of Human Relations.
9.00 P.M
6—CRCT—Beatrice Lillie.
15—CFRB—Syncopation.
1-6—WEAF—Waltz Time.
10—WABC—March of Time.
10—CRCM—Friday Night.
9.30 P.M
6—WEAF—Pic and Pat
7—WLW—Unsolved Mysteries.
10—CFRB—Hollywood Hotel
7—WOR—Harry and Esther.
6—WJZ—Phil Baker
10—CRCT—Up to the Minute.
10.00 P.M
10—CRCM—Le Trio Lyrique.
7—WEAF—First Nighter
10—CRCT—Circus Nichts in Silver-town.
10.30 P.M
10—CRCT—Coca-Cola Program
1—CRCM—Billy Bissett's Orch.
10—CFRB—C-1 Stoopnagle and Bud.
11.00 P.M
15—WABC—Four Aces of Contract Bridge
7—WJZ—Hal Kemp's Orch.
9—WEAF—George R. Holmes.
11.15 P.M
13—CFRB—Organ Melodies
12—CRCT—Joan Crawford, organ.
11.30 P.M
1—CRCT—Sam Meyer's Orch.
1—CFRB—Toronto Serenade.
12.00 MIDNIGHT
1—WEAF—George Devereux's Orch
1—WABC—Luigi Romanelli.

MAY USE VENOM TO SAVE WOMAN

Snake Poison to be Next Step in Fight Against Rare Blood Disorder.

TRYING OX BLOOD NOW

WINDSOR, Ont., April 11 (C.P.)—If the need arises, Dr. Maurice Levine yesterday said he would resort to use of moccasin snake venom in the case of Eva Knisel, 26, confined in hospital here with an unusual blood disorder. Slight improvement is reported in the condition of the young woman.

A test of her blood shows there are now approximately 70,000 platelets in her blood, where there were only 60,000 when she was first treated.

Normally she would have 300,000.

Reference to the snake venom was made during discussion of an article in a medical journal in which its use for various bleeding troubles was described by Dr. Samuel M. Peck and Dr. Nathan Rosenthal of Mount Sinai Hospital, New York.

"I think the snake venom must work on the blood vessels, contracting them, so the blood does not pour out," commented Dr. Levine. "We will use the snake venom later if we find we need it," he continued. "Meanwhile I will wire the two Mount Sinai doctors to send me some of it."

The patient, in addition to receiving blood transfusions, is being administered a medicine made from the blood of an ox and which increases the platlets in the blood.

The illness from which the girl is suffering is essential thrombocytopenic purpura and it results in the blood failing to coagulate or clot, causing it to seep through the mucuous membranes.

Millbrook

The Young Peoples' meeting on Monday evening was in charge of the missionary committee, Miss Jean Burnham, convenor, and the worship period was taken by Marjorie and Madeline McDowell, the theme being "Service", with loyalty to Christ specially emphasized.

Orville Wainman sang, "My Task", and the business period, in charge of the President, Mr. B. B. Dawson, included reminder of the fact that the young people have invited the session and congregation of St. Andrew's church to be their guests on Monday, April 15, at 8 p.m.

The study was concerned with the "Lights and Shadows in Educational Work in Trindad", and was covered by the leader. Ken Kidd had charge of the recreational period at the close.

Miss Gertrude Spence, of Toronto, was home for the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Spence.

Miss Emma Hunter, who spent the winter with her brother, S. J. Hunter, Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. G. Martin, Waterloo, has returned home and opened her house here for the season.

Allen Pitt has bought the comfortable home on Queen street, belonging to the estate of the late Mrs. G. Wallace, and will take up residence therein shortly.

The dance in the Town Hall on Friday night, sponsored by the Agricultural Society, was fairly well attended, and an enjoyable time spent. Todd's orchestra furnished music, and cards were available for those who preferred this form of entertainment.

The local clergy have decided to hold union services during Holy Week, the first gathering to be in Grace Presbyterian church on Wednesday, April 17, with Rev. A. L. Sisco taking up the World of Pardon and the Word of Human Care, the entire series to be concerned with the Seven Words from the Cross. On Thursday, April 18, the meeting will convene in St. Andrew's church, Rev. W. Simpson, B.A., rector of Cavan, to speak on the Word of Loneliness and the Word of Human Need; the final night will be at St. Thomas church, the speaker to be Rev. H. R. Williams, B.A., who will cover the Word of Victory, and the Word of Human Trust.

FRENCH PAPERS SEIZED

BERLIN — Five leading French newspapers were seized by police on their arrival in the German capital yesterday. Although no specific reason was given for the ban, one of them carried the story of the arrest of Edward Bernhueber, German spy, in Paris.

Why nervous, sleepless high-pressure people need the vitamin "B" stored by Nature in Oatmeal

Thousands are turning to a breakfast of delicious Quaker Oats, because 1c worth of it contains more Vitamin "B" than 3 cakes of fresh yeast.

How doctors now trace much nervousness to a lack of this nerve-nourishment

DOCTORS say much nervousness is simply a form of hunger! Because most diets lack the vital nerve-nourishing element stored so richly in delicious Quaker Oats.

In 2 cents worth of this abundantly energizing breakfast, is the precious Vitamin "B" of three cakes of fresh yeast!

Make this two-weeks test

Start tomorrow with a dish of Quaker Oats the appetizing, natural way to get the all-important Vitamin "B". Not only is it nerve-nourishing food, but this same vital element curbs constipation and stimulates normal, healthy appetite!

Rich in energy

Oatmeal is one of Nature's basic foods. Supplying essential, life-giving minerals, like iron, phosphorus and lime. Minerals that replenish rich, red blood. Combat anemia. Make heat and energy for the day's task. Order Quaker Oats today. At any store.

QUICK QUAKER OATS

FREE! AMAZING BOOKLET ON CHILD FEEDING.
The Quaker Oats Co., Peterborough, Ont.
Please send me free a copy of Dr. Bundesen's 32-page book, "Foods for the Growing Child," with 24 helpful illustrations, and many recipes showing value, use, and preparation of foods to build healthy children.
Name
Address
City Prov.

Bill Introduced To Raise Relief Monies By Special Tax

The Peterborough Examiner

HOME EDITION

VOL. LXXIV., No. 87 | PETERBOROUGH, FRIDAY, APRIL 12, 1935 | PROBS.—N.E. winds; rain. Saturday: Northerly winds; mostly cloudy; cool. | PRICE THREE CENTS

GREATER CONTROL OF INDUSTRY

To-day

Short News Items Received By Examiner Over Direct C. P. Wire.

Bicyclist Hurts Head, Hurled 33 Ft. Off Bike

EAST WINDSOR—Hurled 33 feet when his bicycle was struck by a taxi-cab, Archie Margeon, 33, was in hospital to-day suffering from head injuries The car, driven by Ernest Emery, 19, smashed in the windows and entrance of the Ford Provision Company store.

Windsor School Board To Cut Their Estimates

WINDSOR.—To avoid incurring the liability of a $500 fine, a jail term and disqualification from holding public office for five years, members of the Windsor Board of Education have decided to respect the wishes of the Board of Supervisors and reduce their estimates to balance their budget. The board has been informed by the supervisors it cannot reduce the rate of pay of employees, "but it can reduce personnel" in order to lop-off $25,539.67 from the estimates.

3,000 Pay Last Respects To New York Publisher

NEW YORK. — Last rites, brief and simply conducted, honored Adolph S. Ochs, publisher of the New York Times, in the presence of nearly 3,000 persons to-day. The services were held in Temple Emanuel, a massive synagogue at Fifth Avenue and 65th Street which seated 2,500 people. Several hundred more stood in a misty rain in front of the edifice.

Rome Press Satisfied With Stresa Conference

ROME.—Leading Italian newspapers expressed satisfaction with the trend of the conversations at the three-power meeting at Stresa, predicting they would conclude Saturday with formation of a united front against German rearmament.

No "Red" Propaganda Soviet Film 'Alone'

TORONTO.—The Soviet sound picture "Alone" to be shown in a Toronto Neighborhood theatre this week-end was passed by the Ontario Censor Board. Board officials stated they were satisfied the picture did not contain Red propaganda.

Driver Not To Blame Brantford Boy's Death

BRANTFORD.—Cash bail of $3,000 to-day was accepted by Magistrate J. R. Blain for Gaston Lenon of Lambeth, Ont., charged with reckless driving following the death last week of John Howard Hunter, aged 6, of Langford. A coroner's jury last night found the accident was due to the child running into the path of the car, with no blame attached to the driver.

Ontario Transfer Date Proposal Turned Down

HALIFAX.—Over the objections of Ontario delegates, the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association voted at its annual meeting to-day to leave Jan. 1 as the date beyond which transfer-to-branch player transfers cannot be effected. The Ontario Hockey Association wanted the date shifted to Oct. 15, conforming with its own regulation, but the delegates turned down the proposal.

Clothing Takes Fire, Child Dies Of Burns

HAMILTON Ont.—Seven-year-old Bessie Macdonald, Bronte, died in the hospital yesterday as a result of burns received Saturday when her dress caught fire from a gas flame at her home. She failed to rally after blood transfusions, given by her brother, Norman.

"Million Dollar" Rain In The Border Counties

WINDSOR. — The steady rain which started late yesterday and was still falling at noon to-day is "worth a million dollars" to Essex county farmers, according to John Lickman, deputy reeve of Maidstone. It will help Fall wheat and relieve the water situation around Leamington where even the spring-fed wells have shown signs of playing out in places.

First Boat To Reach Hamilton Monday

HAMILTON, April 12.—(CP)—On Monday the first boat is expected to enter Hamilton harbour and inaugurate the season in the busiest freight port of Lake Ontario. The vessel which it is expected will win the harmour master's hat for its captain will be the Saskadoc, scheduled to dock here with a load of coal. It cannot arrive until the Welland canal opens and the opening of the local harbour is delayed until that event occurs Monday.

From present indications it will be a very busy season with every likelihood of last year's huge tonnage being exceeded.

Your Evening Smile

FAULT FINDER

Teacher: Ready, Johnny, your handwriting is terrible. You must learn to write better.

Johnny: Well, if I did, you'd be finding fault with my spelling.

14 Children Killed in Bus Crash

FOG BLOTS VIEW DRIVER FAILS TO SEE EXPRESS

Young Maryland Victims Strew Tracks For 200 Yards.

15 OTHERS INJURED.

Passing Motorists Use Vehicles as Ambulances—Eye-witness Tells Vivid Story.

BY BEN ROBERTSON

ROCKVILLE, Md., April 12.—(AP)—Amid scenes of anguish, parents continued to-day the tragic task of identifying 14 high school children killed late last night when a fast express train tore a school bus in two at a grade crossing. Fears the death list might grow were allayed. Of the 15 survivors, who included the bus driver and a school teacher, only two children were still in hospital today although all were suffering badly from shock.

The weather was wet and foggy as the bus, bearing the party from a chemistry exhibit at the University of Maryland, College Park, toward their homes at Williamsport, Maryland, approached the grade crossing here.

Though Baltimore and Ohio railroad officials said the crossing was guarded by a bell and red light, the bus driver declared he did not see the train until he was on the track. "I heard the whistle just as it hit us," he sobbed afterward. "I didn't see the train until I heard the bell of the engine as I started over the track.

The flyer—a train bound from St. Louis to Washington—struck the bus in the middle, sheared it in two, and carried the rear half many yards down the track before tossing it aside a mass of wreckage. Bodies, so terribly mangled they were beyond identification, were strewn along the track for 200 yards, some were tossed into a cemetery nearby.

Priest Administers Rites

The accident occurred outside the casement window of Rev. Cecil J. McNeal, who hurried outside and administered the last rites of the Catholic church to dead and dying.

(Continued on Page Three)

DIONNES PRESS FIGHT AGAINST GUARDIANSHIP

TORONTO, April 12 (C.P.).—In a letter published in this week's issue of the Catholic Register, Mr. and Mrs. Oliva Dionne again protest against the legislative enactment that makes their quintuplet daughters wards of the King.

The parents say they "will not rest while we still have a breath left to fight it" and maintain the bill "divides our family and takes away our paternal rights."

The parents write there "is talk of building us a home," but "we would rather live in our old place with our children than in a palace of gold without them.

"All we want is what God gave us —our babies."

INJURED IN CRASH

BELLEVILLE, Ont., April 12.—(CP). Alan Schrag, Belleville, suffered severe head injuries and lacerations about the face and arms last night when the car he was driving failed to make a right-hand turn on King's Highway No. 2, near Belleville, skidded 100 feet, swerved sideways and slid an additional 80 feet, finally turning two complete somersaults. Stanley Darling, a passenger, escaped without a scratch. Schrag is charged with reckless driving.

NOTED WRITER DIES

NEW YORK, April 11. —(CP)— Cameron Emslie, writer, musician and former editor of the Scottish American, died today after a lengthy illness.

ADOPT DEFENCE BUDGET

BRUSSELS, April 22.—(CP)—The Chamber of Deputies adopted the national defence budget for 1935-36 today after an all-night session.

Stevens Accepts Blame for "Leak"

OTTAWA, April 12 (C.P.).—Hon. H. H. Stevens to-day took responsibility for the premature publication of the report of the Price Spreads Commission.

Rising in his place in the House of Commons the former chairman of the inquiry said he did not know until to-day how the summary reached the press, but found out he was responsible. He regretted this and said there had been no intention to make the report public.

RELIEF MONIES MAY BE LEVIED BY SPECIAL TAX

New Bill Adopts Fully Recommendations Made by the City Council.

MEANS $16,000 TO CITY.

Factories Enjoying Fixed Assessment Must Pay Relief Tax on Full Assessment.

A bill, dealing with important municipal relief problems, introduced into the Ontario Legislature yesterday by Hon. David A. Croll, Minister of Public Welfare, adopts fully a recommendation urged by the local City Council.

Besides setting up a Relief Commission for Ontario, the bill enables municipalities to levy unemployment relief rates against factories which enjoy the advantage of fixed assessments for the purpose of general taxation. In the explanatory note the Minister says: "Unemployment relief rates are a special tax which every person should contribute, and particularly industries which are enjoying the benefit of reduced taxation."

In expressing this opinion, Hon. Mr. Croll repeated the arguments advanced by Alderman Fred Tuggey, when he introduced the resolution into the City Council late last year, urging the Council to ask the Government to pass this legislation.

Same As War Tax.

At that time Alderman Tuggey said the depression had reached such dimensions that all citizens must unite to overcome it much as they would unite their forces if the country were at war. He likened the relief tax to a war tax. Further, he urged that it was because industries had laid off men from employment which had forced these men to seek relief from the city. "Now," he said, "should not these

(Turn to Page 7. please)

TRAPPERS BODY FOUND

NELSON, B.C., April 12.—(CP)—A gruesome find made near Apex, about eight miles south of Nelson, by Robert Que, disclosed the fate of John Jackson McDougall, aged trapper, who had been missing since early in January.

Coyotes had devoured the body and it is unlikely that the cause of death will ever be ascertained.

$92,450 RELIEF PROGRAM.

STRATFORD Ont., April 12 (CP) —A program of unemployed relief works on which a start will be made at once and which will cost an estimated $92,450, of which $79,200 will be for labor was drafted by the Unemployment Relief Works Committee of the City Council after hours of weary debate.

Sharp Business Rise Forecasted By Dunn

NEW YORK, April 12. (AP). Sharpest business rise in 25 years was forecast for the immediate future in the weekly business review by Dun & Bradstreet to-day.

"More convincing proof has come forward that the passing of March left behind the lows for the year," the review stated.

The review added the rise "will be fortified adequately to prevent the interrupting recessions which followed the spurts of the last two years."

LOWER TARIFFS BIG SUGGESTION OF THE MINORITY

E. J. Young Militant Free Trader Submits Minority Report.

TOO MUCH INTERFERENCE.

Removal of Certain Hampering Restrictions is Also Suggested.

OTTAWA, April 12. (CP).—Lowered tariffs, increased foreign markets and less Government interference with business were the main recommendations of E. J. Young (Lib., Weyburn) in his minority report as member of the Price Spreads Commission. He is known in Parliament as a militant free trader

In his report, tabled to-day in the House of Commons, the Saskatchewan member said Government interference in business will not cure the economic ills of the country.

Remove Restrictions

"It will generally be found that prices will adjust themselves if we remove certain hampering restrictions and privileges which interfere with the free play of economic forces."

Dealing with specific industries Mr. Young said the plight of Ontario [illegible] by overproduction and found "there is the evidence the tobacco manufacturers were exploiting the growers."

The Imperial Tobacco Company, Mr. Young continued, dominated the retailing field and it had been charged with compelling store keepers to display its goods to the exclusion of others. If this were true Mr. Young suggested the customs duty on cigarettes ($11 a thousand) be reduced, enabling retailers to secure supplies abroad.

Victims of Overproduction

The milling and baking industry also was a victim of overproduction, Mr. Young found but its biggest difficulties came from lost markets abroad.

He condemned the practice of holding Canadian wheat above world prices which he said forced

(Turn to Page 7. please)

PRAIRIES LEFT WASTE OF SAND

First Sun After Week of Dust Gales Reveals Only Fence Tops Showing.

TRAVELLERS VENTURE OUT.

DODGE CITY, Kas., April 12 (AP)—The tops of barbed wire fence posts, corners of almost buried farm buildings and occasionally the carcass of a smothered cow appeared on the southwestern Kansas plains to-day as the sun broke through the black blizzard for the first time in a week.

The paralyzing dust storm which covered many thousands of square miles in Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico, subsided last night and early to-day, and the sun blazed from a brilliant blue sky this morning.

Farmers viewing Prairies covered with sand ridges that resembled ocean waves, said possibly no permanent damage had been done to most of the storm belt. The wheat crop, they said, was a total loss, but hoe crops, including corn, are expected to be harvested if some rain or snow comes soon.

Travellers Move On

Salesmen and tourists who "holed up" early in the week, crowding hotels throughout Southwestern Kansas, started moving out to-day. Travel conditions were good except for dust drifts from a foot to three feet deep on main highways in some places.

In the cities work crews started digging drifts from streets and residents set aside dust masks temporarily.

Westward from here to the Colorado line many farm fences were completely buried under drifts. Apparently the livestock loss was not heavy, as a survey by automobile over a 200-mile area near here at dawn to-day disclosed only an occasional carcass.

Thousands of jackrabbits were victims of the storm, smothered as they were buried in their holes.

5-Man Federal Trade Commission Highlight of Committee's Report

Recommendation for creation of a five-man Federal Trade and Industry Commission with wide powers of law-enforcement, business supervision of unfair and unethical commercial practices.

Commission recommended placing fruit and vegetable growers under Dominion Marketing Board, establishment of minimum prices for primary products, appointment of a committee of fair practices, licensing of all processors.

Its members said they were satisfied there is some international control of competition in tin plate" used in can manufacture in which "the price of containers is kept at an exhorbitant height while the price received by the growers has fallen to unprecedentedly low levels."

With respect to canning companies, the Commission expressed the view secret or discriminatory rebates to customers would be cut out.

In the furniture industry it found 84 per cent. of employees in 26 factories with 40 per cent. of the industry's output earned $13 a week or less and that pay for boys 18 or 19 years old ranged up to $3 a week.

Unless flour milling companies write down their capital structures and capital value of their surplus capacity they are faced with bankruptcy.

If those who direct milling industry persist in maintaining costly structures to the detriment of shareholders and public at large, the report states, serious consideration must be given to complete regulation and control of the industry by the government.

"We feel strongly milling companies should not be permitted to make unauthorized use of their shareholders' money" for market speculation. In 16 months one company lost more than $3,000,000 in operation which included speculation losses.

Majority of commission recommended setting up of a livestock board with wide powers of supervision and inspection. Three Liberal members doubted wisdom of setting up board, while one dissented from practically the whole report.

Commissioners recommended all shipments of livestock be made to the public market, where reasonably possible, and that direct shipments to packers be made subject to similar rules as shipments to public yards.

Provincial governments urged to enforce minimum wage laws. Minimum Wage Boards called upon to seek restitution from employers caught underpaying their workers.

Provinces urged to decrease working week and bring under one control, minimum wages and working hours. A working week of 44 hours recommended. Overtime should be paid over the 44 hours.

A volume of 498 printed pages comprises the main and dissenting reports, as well as annexes and lists of exhibits.

GERMANY READY TO JOIN IN PACT

Stresa Delegates Informed as Three Powers Agree on Program at Geneva.

PEACE EFFORTS ADVANCE.

(By Richard G. Massock. Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press)

STRESA, April 12.—The British announced to-day Germany was ready to enter an Eastern European pact of non-aggression even though other signatories "stipulate among themselves accords of reciprocal assistance."

This news was given to the world in an official communique issued by the heads of government of Italy, Great Britain and France, assembled here in an effort to smooth out the path of European peace.

The conference itself was informed of the German decision by Sir John Simon, British Foreign Secretary, who said the information had been given to the British Ambassador to Berlin by Konstantin Von Neurath, Reichsfuehrer Hitler's Foreign Minister.

Program Settled

The announcement followed a statement by Pierre Laval, French Foreign Minister, the representatives of the three nations assembled here had reached an agreement among themselves as to the program they shall follow in the meeting next week at Geneva of the League of Nations Council.

A French spokesman said a "step in advance" had been made which may permit the revival of the proposed Eastern Locarno Pact, sponsored by France and Russia in an effort to duplicate in Eastern Europe a non-aggression treaty similar to that of Locarno, also signed here at Lake Maggiore.

The agreement, announced shortly before the communique telling of Germany's readiness to enter an Eastern pact, was designed in an endeavor to induce Germany to enter the treaty by exempting her from the military obligations to which Reichsfuehrer Hitler had thus far objected.

Grateful To Singer

DETROIT, April 12 (C.P.).—Playing in "Dodsworth," the play from Sinclair Lewis' novel, Walter Huston declared in an interview here he would always be grateful to May Irwin, Lindsay-born blues singer, for her personal interest, encouragement and unbounded faith in him during his first appearances in New York theatrical circles some 15 years ago.

Huston told how he played truant from school to appear in the "White Heather" at the old Toronto Opera House.

Oshawa Man Sentenced For Bowmanville Robbery

COBOURG, April 12. — Found guilty of a Bowmanville store robbery in which 35 overcoats and 400 pairs of socks were stolen, Alex Kory of Oshawa was sentenced to two years less one day in the reformatory when he appeared before Judge L. V. O'Connor. Accused was arrested in Toronto following search of three Oshawa homes in which some of the stolen goods were recovered.

Mike Savage, also charged with robbery, named Kory as his accomplice. He said after breaking into the cellar, they removed a furnace air-pipe and crawled through the opening into the store.

TRIAL FOR FRAUD.

HAMILTON, April 12 (C.P.). — Milton B. Staud will be committed for trial on a charge of uttering $1,500 in counterfeit money at four o'clock this afternoon, Magistrate H. A. Burbidge announced to-day. Delay in his action was agreed upon in order to permit bail to be raised for Staud in the meantime.

LAST MINUTE NEWS FLASHES

DETROIT, April 12.—(AP)—An artificial fever cure for tuberculosis, which has succeeded on 50 per cent of the monkeys and other animals given the new treatment, was described today at the meetings of the Federation of American Societies of Experimental Biology.

MILTON, Ont., April 12.—(CP)—Everard Armstrong, 21-year-old Toronto youth, was sentenced by Judge W. N. Munro today to six years in Kingston penitentiary with 12 lashes for armed robbery and to two years for assault and two years for stealing an automobile. The sentences will run concurrently and Armstrong will receive six lashes at the end of the first month and the other six at the end of six months.

Mass Buying Probe Has Recommended Sweeping Changes

Long Steps Are Taken In Direction Of State Control Of Industry And Commerce In Report Tabled By Mass Buying Commission.

44-HOUR WEEK FOR CANADA RECOMMENDED IMPROVED MINIMUM WAGE LAWS PROPOSED.

Issuance Of No Par Value Stock Would Be Prohibited—Increased Responsibility Would Be Placed On Directors Or Promoters.

OTTAWA, April 12 (C.P.). — Long steps in direction of state control of industry and commerce in Canada motivated by the twin objectives of assuring workers and primary producers a larger return for their work and of protecting consumers against profiteering whether by the sale of inferior products, exorbitant prices or stocks-jobbing are recommended in the report of the Royal Commission on Price Spreads and Mass Buying tabled in the House of Commons to-day.

The key point of the majority report of the Commission is the setting up of a Federal Trade and Industry Commission composed of five members. With a status similar to that of the Board of Railway Commissioners, the Commission would be semi-autonomous and besides being clothed with wide powers of supervision, regulation, arbitration, and investigation, would serve as an advisory body to the Government on all matters relating to trade and industry.

Most Important Report.

The bulky Blue Book which contains the result of the Commission's deliberations over a period of nearly 14 months is the most important and most exhaustive study on economic and social problems ever made by an official body in Canada. It surpasses in popular interest any previous similar work and its only near rivals in recent years are the reports of the Royal Commissions on Railways and Banking.

The former resulted in reorganization of Canadian National Railways and the scheme of co-operative operation between Canadian National and Canadian Pacific systems, the latter in revision of bank-

(Continued on Page Eight.)

FINAL READING GIVEN ON HYDRO CONTRACT BILL

House Adjourns at 4.05 a.m. After Third Night Session in Week.

HANDLE 28 MEASURES.

Refusal to Accept Amendments to Labor Legislation Angers Price.

TORONTO, April 12 (C.P.) — Wearied from more than 11 hours of continuous session, Ontario legislators breathed a sigh of relief at 4.05 o'clock this morning when Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn moved adjournment of the third all-night session of the week after members had been at their desks from three o'clock yesterday afternoon with only a two-hour interruption for dinner.

Starting at 8.40 o'clock last night after third reading had been given the bill to cancel Quebec power contracts, the House plodded through the Order Paper. Twenty-four bills passed through the committee stage and four others were given second reading to the tune of Opposition charges of "steam-roller" tactics.

At 1.35 o'clock this morning the Premier told Leopold Macaulay (Cons., York South), the sitting would last until the Order Paper was cleared, possibly until 10 o'clock this morning. To charges of unfairness, Mr. Hepburn replied: "You were bragging yesterday how you could take it. Now, let's see you."

Four Main Issues.

Four bills were the focal point of debate. In committee the members argued over amendments to the Ontario Training Schools, Highway Improvement, Milk Control, and Game and Fisheries Acts. Before it received second reading, J. A. Craig (Cons., Lanark) raised lengthy objections to amendment to the Game and Fisheries Act providing for use of dogs in hunting.

Although it was on the Order Paper, Mr. Roebuck's Police Centralization Bill was not discussed in committee. There were reports the Government would defer consideration until the Fall session.

Tempers flared towards the end of the session. Interrupted by Ian Strathcan (Lib., Toronto-St. George) who said George H. Challies (Cons.,

(Continued on Page Three.)

STUDENT PROTEST WAR.

NEW YORK, April 12.—(C.P.)— The voice of the youthful orator held sway over many campuses of the United States to-day as Pacific-minded college undergraduates and High school students staged a one-hour strik against war.

Fickle Fortune

SUDBURY, Ont., April 12. — (CP)—While Arthur Mainville, Balfour township farmer, near Chelmsford, was fighting a fire in the home of a neighbor a half mile away, his own house and barns caught fire and were destroyed with all they contained. He lost a barn full of hay he was holding for sale, 300 bushels of seed grain and all farm implements, as well as all his household furniture.

The Weather

LOCAL TEMPERATURES

Night Low..	Noon Today.	—Yesterday— Highest.	Lowest.
40	41	57	39

TORONTO, April 12 (C.P.). — Weather forecasts:

Synopsis: The disturbance which was over Iowa yesterday is now passing eastward across Lake Erie and pressure is low and decreasing on the South Atlantic Coast. A shallow disturbance is centred this morning over Northern Alberta, while pressure is high over the lower Mackenzie Valley and Alaska and from Manitoba eastward to Newfoundland. Light rain has occurred in many parts of Ontario, while in other provinces the weather has been fair.

Lower Lake Region—Fresh easterly winds with rain. Saturday—Northeast to north winds; clearing and rather cool.

Georgian Bay—Fresh northeast winds with occasional rain. Saturday—Northeast to north winds; partly cloudy and rather cool.

Northern Ontario — Northerly winds; mostly cloudy and cool; probably some snowflurries over south portion. Saturday—Fair and rather cool.

Ottawa and Upper St. Lawrence Valley—Easterly winds with occasional rain. Saturday—Northeast to north winds; partly cloudy and rather cool; probably some light showers or snowflurries.

INVESTIGATION WILL BE HELD INTO NORWOOD FIRE

CITIZENS PUT UP GALLANT FIGHT TO STOP FLAMES

Peterborough and Hastings Firemen Responsible in Saving Business Section.

LOSS AT LEAST $15,000.

Garage, Three Houses and Four Barns in Ruins in Village.

(By Staff Reporter)

NORWOOD, April 12.—Norwood residents to-day began calculating their losses and clearing away the debris left by the most disastrous fire the community has experienced since the Roxburgh Block was razed by a conflagration 25 years ago. With a large garage, three dwelling houses and four barns in ruins, estimates of the total loss ranged around $15,000.

The exact origin of the outbreak which was first noticed coming through the roof at the front of Charles Pearce's garage on the main street about 1.15 p.m., has not yet been determined. A boy walking along Peterboro street saw the fire and ran into the garage to warn Mr. Pearce. Mr. Pearce hurried from the rear of the building where he was working on a car and then ran back to begin saving everything possible while the alarm was being sounded.

The tolling of the town bell summoned Chief Roy Longhurst and his eight volunteer firemen to the scene on the run with their hand chemical apparatus. Citizens came running from all directions with buckets and, within the space of a few minutes, the battle was on.

Strong Breezes

Fanned by a strong breeze from the south-east, the flames had soon enveloped the entire garage. They had apparently made great headway in the upper portion of the garage building toward the front before being discovered. Mr. Pearce saved his ledger from his burning office at great risk to his life. His hands severely burned, he allowed himself to be led away as he gained the street. Others saved several cars in the rear, a number of tires and other automobile accessories but much remained.

With amazing rapidity, the flames were driven through the dry grass northwestward toward Ridge street,

(Turn to Page 6, Finish)

Part of The Act?

WINDSOR, Ont., April 12 (C. P.). — Just after Walter Attis, candidate for the Liberal nomination in Essex West had been introduced as a 'forceful orator" at a rally in the Sandwich West Township Hall last night, 12 feet of stove pipe fell to the floor, filling the room with smoke.

Tuck it in your travelling bag

You never know when you'll need Minard's. NEW METAL CAP hermetically seals in strength of liniment. Prevents spilling, yet is easily removed.

Rub in Minard's freely to relieve any muscular pains or stiffness, sore feet, rheumatic aches, etc.

Sales Agents: Harold F. Ritchie & Co., Ltd., Toronto

MINARD'S "KING OF PAIN" LINIMENT

A Printed SALESMAN

That gets back up your newspaper advertising with effective direct by mail presentations. Call on us for fine printing jobs.

Peterborough Examiner Limited

Chicagoan Seeks Peace, Weds; Wife Brings 10 Children Home—Hubby To Charge Fraud

CHICAGO, April 12. (CP).—Matthew Katich presented a unique defence when hailed into court for non-payment of alimony but he was under court order to-day to pay up anyway

"Matthew married his wife after he told her he wanted a nice quiet home—but he didn't get it," his attorney explained.

"One day, some time after they were married she came home with three children, explaining that they were her own by a former marriage.

"'You don't mind if they live with us?' she asked my client. He minded, but didn't say so.

"But three months later she came home with three more, saying 'These are mine, too. I guess we'll have room for them.'

"My client still didn't object. But a year later she came in with four more children. This time Matthew couldn't very will move over any more to make room—so he moved out."

The judge insisted since Matthew married he must pay—regardless of the 10 children but gave him permission to file a petition charging his wife with fraud in luring him into the match.

LIVESTOCK PRODUCE AND CHEESE QUOTES

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, April 12 (C.P.) — Wholesale prices on produce delivered at Toronto, as supplied by the United Farmer's Co-operative Co., here to-day were:

Eggs—Grade A large, dozen, 15c; grade A medium, 13c; grade B, 12c; grade C, 12c.

Churning Cream. — No. 1, lb. 23c; No. 2, 21c. Butter—No 1, solids, lb., 23½ to 24c; No. 2, 23 to 23½c.

Ontario Cobbler potatoes, bag 55c.

TORONTO POULTRY

TORONTO, April 12 (C.P.) — Wholesale prices on poultry as supplied by the United Farmers' Co-operative Co., here to-day were in order of Live "A" and Dressed "A" select grades: Hens, over 5 lb., 12 and 14c; 4 to 5 lb., 11 and 13c; 3 to 4 lb., 9 and 11c; old roosters, 7 and 9c.

TORONTO CHEESE

TORONTO, April 12 (C.P.)—The Toronto Wholesale Cheese Market was steady to-day with dealers buying large, colored, paraffined and government grades at 12c.

Wholesalers offered cheese to retailers at the following prices:

	Large Twins	Triplets
New	13c	13½c 13½c
Old	17c	17½c 17½c
Medium	15c	15½c 15½c

WEEKLY LIVESTOCK REVIEW

TORONTO, April 12 (CP)—Prices were strong on all grades of livestock on the Toronto Exchange this week, with heavy runs in all classes. Cattle were firm to 15 cents higher in spots. Prices on calves were 50 cents higher on tops and hogs were generally 25 cents higher than last week's close.

Receipts were about 1,000 head heavier than last week, and were well cleared out by the close. American buyers took about 1,200 head and around 300 head were shipped to Montreal. Calf receipts were about the same as last week, but hogs were 800 and lambs 500 head heavier.

With Good Friday coming next week and a few Jewish holidays, it is doubtful whether the good inquiry for cattle will continue in the event of a heavy run.

A top load of weighty steers brought $7.60 cwt., with odd lots at $7.75. Good and choice weighty steers sold mostly at $6.75 to $7.25. Choice handyweight butchers sold at $6.75 to $6.50, with a few steers at $7. Plain butcher steers and heifers sold downward to $4.50. Fed calves were strong at $6.75 to $7.50 for choice with a top of $7.75. Medium quality fed calves sold downward to $5.50.

Butcher cows ranged from $2.50 to $4.50. A few plain stockers brought $3.50 to $4. A few feeders were sold at $5 to $6. Milkers and springers were slow at $30 to $45 each.

The calf market was active, with prices firm to 50 cents higher on tops. Choice vealers sold at $7.50 to $8 with occasional tops of $8.50. Medium to good calves brought $5.50 to $7, and a few culls sold at $4.

Car hogs opened 15 cents higher at $7.90 f.o.b. and at $8.05 off cars, while truck hogs dropped 15 cents to $8.10 for bacons. The close was stronger with an average gain of 25 cents cwt., at $8 f.o.b., and $8.75 off cars, with truck hogs closing at $8.25 for bacons.

The sheep and lamb receipts included 3,400 head of Western lambs, the heaviest supply so far this year. Quality considered, lambs were higher than for last week. While most of the Westerners were sold at $7 they were not of first class quality. Culls made $6. One lot of choice Western lambs brought $7.25 and a few choice feed-lot lambs from Ontario brought $7.35. Spring lambs were sold in small lots at $8 to $9.50 each. Sheep held unchanged at $1.50 to $4 cwt., according to quality.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Sensationally slashed Government estimates of the United States 1935 winter wheat crop swept the wheat market excitedly upward yesterday 3¾ cents maximum.

The official crop figures showing unexpectedly immense damage done by dust and drought were generally taken as closing the chapter on a domestic winter wheat crop this year west of the hundredth meridian. One of the country's foremost unofficial trade experts said no important market interest was left now in the territory that is already wiped out so far as wheat is concerned, and that chief speculative attention hereafter would shift to crop developments east of the Missouri River and in the central plains area, as well as to the spring wheat territory.

At the crest of yesterday's wild advance wheat attained a new peak price record for the season, but reacted on profit-taking, and

(Turn to Page 11, Please)

Gas Masks

PARIS, April 12. — France, feverishly preparing for war, last night urged her people to purchase gas-masks without delay. A communique issued by the passive defence commission of the Seine Department, advised citizens not to wait until the masks are needed. The War Ministry simultaneously announced the 80th Infantry Regiment was transferred from Southern France to Metz, near the Saar territory, recently returned to Germany.

SCHOOL TAXES COME UP LATER

Recognize Inequality Exists Hepburn States—Practical Solution Needed.

ACTION AT FALL SESSION.

TORONTO April 12.—Action on the request of Ontario separate schools for a greater share of corporation and utilities taxes has been deferred until the fall session of the Legislature, Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn said yesterday.

The Premier was questioned about the school taxation after Government members had told the Opposition there was very little legislation to be brought down before the session ends.

"The matter will be dealt with at the fall session," said Mr. Hepburn. "It has been impossible to make a survey owing to absence of the Minister of Education during the whole session. Plans are complete to make a thorough study of the problem."

"We recognize that an inequality exists," he continued. "This has been recognized by previous Governments in the making of additional grants to separate schools. A practical solution should be applied, and that is the problem that we must solve as soon as possible."

Hog Quotations In Peterborough

FRIDAY, APRIL 12.

Canada Packers quote:

Hogs — F.o.b., $7.90; off truck, $8; rail grades, $10.85.

Selects, 61 per hog premium.

Sows, 2½c off bacon prices.

Cream — No. 1 (on truck), 23c; No. 1 (delivered), 24c.

Special, 3c per lb. premium.

Dealers quote:

Grain — Spring wheat, 98c; fall wheat, 90c; oats, 35c; malting barley, 60c; feed barley, 50c; rye, 50c; and buckwheat, 44c.

Mrs. Jean Cowan Is Awarded Damages

His Honor Judge Smoke gave judgment to-day in the action of Mrs. Jean Cowan against the City of Peterborough for $75 and $10 counsel fee and costs, for an accident caused to Mrs. Cowan by slipping upon the sidewalk on Simcoe street in front of the Montgomery House, on the 24th of December, 1934, causing her damages.

J. R. Corkery, the city solicitor, appeared for the City of Peterborough; G. N. Gordon, K.C., for Mrs. Jean Cowan, and V. J. McKilderry, K.C., for the executors of the Frank Montgomery Estate.

Rev. B. Simpson Black Speaks At Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, April 12. (Examiner Correspondence).—Rev. B. Simpson Black will conduct both services at St. Andrew's, Presbyterian Church on Sunday, April 14. For the morning his sermon will be: "Make Christ King," and for the evening "His Last Week". Special music under the direction of the choir leader, Mrs. Dorothy Stanley Windrim, will include: solo, Miss Hazel Atkinson; anthem, "Open the Gates of the Temple"; ladies' chorus "There is a Green Hill Far Away"; anthem, "The Mystery of Intercession" (Crucifixion).

FRANCE STAYS GERMAN ARMS CENSURE MOVE

Withdraws Resolution on Face of United Italian and British Opposition.

JOINT FRONT IN SIGHT.

Austrian Situation to be Key Topic as Main Danger Spot in Europe.

BY RICHARD G. MASSOCK

(Copyright, 1935, by the A. P.)

STRESA, Italy, April 12.—France withdrew her resolution of censure for German rearmament in the face of firm opposition by both Great Britain and Italy in today's session of the tripartite conference.

The resolution was to have been presented to the League of Nations for a vote following discussion Monday of France's appeal against the German conscription move.

French official circles said the resolution was withdrawn out of deference to considerations made by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain and Premier Mussolini of Italy.

In place of the resolution, it was disclosed, there will be substituted a series of conclusions appended to a French memorandum. The conclusions will consist of juridical statements reaffirming the duty of nations to abide by their treaties.

The conclusions, however, will not be voted upon by the League, it was said.

Premier Mussolini's newspapers, Popolo D'Italia, set forth the Italian position on France's appeal by saying, "Recourse to Geneva remains a French initiative and seemingly should not become a Franco-Italo-English initiative even if the Italian and British ministers have been wholly informed of the memorandum which France will present to the League and even if they share its sentiments."

Litvinoff To Be On Hand

Conference circles were much interested in the decision of Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet commissar for foreign affairs, to go to Geneva to be near the Stresa conference but they expressed the opinion the Russian would not come here to attend any of the sessions.

The French, realizing the British desire to avoid antagonizing Reichsfuehrer Hitler, have carefully avoided any talk of l'sanctitism such as military and economic penalties for treaty violators, an authoritative French source said.

French observers ridiculed a rumor France had submitted a secret report on German armament to the conference, since Italy and Great Britain already are informed of the Reich's military activities and the extent of her armed strength is no longer a secret.

The semi-official Italian newspaper, La Stampa, said to-day: "Sir John Simon's answers to the French and Italian questions yesterday indicated the British Foreign Office was much struck by the advanced stage already reached by German armaments."

A united front of the three great Western European powers to ward off threats to peace appeared nearer realization as the statesmen began the second day of their conversations.

When the Premiers and their advisers resumed their deliberations in Borromeo Palace on Isola Bella, it was indicated they had determined to stand together on whatever policy they eventually formulate.

British quarters were gratified with Italy's conversion to the British idea of a general European security agreement as contrasted with limited military alliances.

This change in the Italian viewpoint was regarded as definitely reflected in an editorial in Mussolini's Popolo d'Italia.

Hopeful of Agreement.

In light of developments so far, conference authorities were hopeful an agreement would be drafted before the delegates depart, even if it is not an accord "with teeth in it" such as Italy originally desired.

Once the problem of the French protest is settled, the conference was expected to take up one by one other concrete questions, possibly beginning with the problem of Austria's independence.

To Mussolini particularly the Austrian situation looms as a matter of vital importance. Political union between Germany and Austria would mean the Reich would become one of Italy's neighbors, a possibility Il Duce is known to regard with considerable concern.

Conference observers generally regard Austria as the primary danger spot in Europe.

CAMPBELLFORD

Four Cars Destroyed In Hydro Garage Fire

CAMPBELLFORD, April 12 (Examiner Correspondence). — Fire which broke out in the employees' garage at Hydro Power House No. 2, near Trenton, on Wednesday afternoon, destroyed four motor cars. Among the number was a sedan owned by Alexander Abar of Campbellford, which fortunately was fully covered by insurance.

Never Too Late

CAMROSE, Alta. April 12. — Spring is here, but Great-grandmother Mrs. T. Cole doesn't like it. The skating rink is closed. Mrs. Cole learned to skate this winter. She was coached by her daughter, who was taught by her daughter, who also taught her son Gordon.

Husbands Are Guests Campbellford Dinner

CAMPBELLFORD, April 12 (Examiner Correspondence).—A rather unique chicken supper was held at the Clifton Tea Rooms on Wednesday evening, when a number of the members of two different ladies' bridge clubs stood treat for their husbands who had spent many long lonely evenings during the past winter at home alone. It was a real party, and was featured by a brief talk from each of the male members, who were asked to tell how they put in the time during their wife's absence, and an odd one told the truth.

After the supper, bridge was played, P. A. Morgan winning the prize for gentlemen's high score and Mrs. David McCook capturing the ladies. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs J C Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Adamson, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Ackerman, Mr. and Mrs H. T. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCook, Mr and Mrs. Frank Menzies and Mr and Mrs. David McCook.

WEIR'S DROUGTH REHABILITATION BILL IS PASSED

Stewart Gives Review of Operations Under $40,000,000 Building Program.

DURANLEAU ATTACKED.

Report on Mass Buying to be Tabled in Commons by Hanson To-day.

OTTAWA, April 12 (C.P.). — Demands for an inquiry into the 'leak' from the Royal Commission on Price Spreads and Mass Buying which allowed parts of the Commission's report to appear in the newspapers are under a consideration by the Government to-day as Hon. R. B. Hanson, Minister of Trade and Commerce, prepares to table the report in the House of Commons. This will be the first official publication.

Drought Bill Goes Through.

Endorsed by all parties, Minister of Agriculture Robert Weir's Drought Rehabilitation Bill received speedy passage through the House. It is hoped it will pass the Senate and become law before the Easter adjournment next Wednesday. The Bill was introduced on Wednesday and received second and third readings yesterday.

Mr. Weir warned against undue optimism attaching to the program for the dried out area of the three Prairie Provinces. The Government did not hope to make rain fall where none has fallen for several years. The main object was to improve the morale of the people by launching a sound, constructive program and to ward off the worst effects of the next drought cycle.

With public works estimates before it the House heard a review of the operations under the $40,000,000 building program approved last year. Hon. Hugh Stewart, Minister of Public Works, said of the sum appropriated expenditures and com-

(Continued on Page Three)

ONTARIO GRAINS

Fo.b. shipping point: Wheat, 85c to 87c; oats, 32c to 34c; corn, 56c to 58c; buckwheat, 42c to 45c; malting barley, 63c to 65c.

Marmora Fences Street Embankment

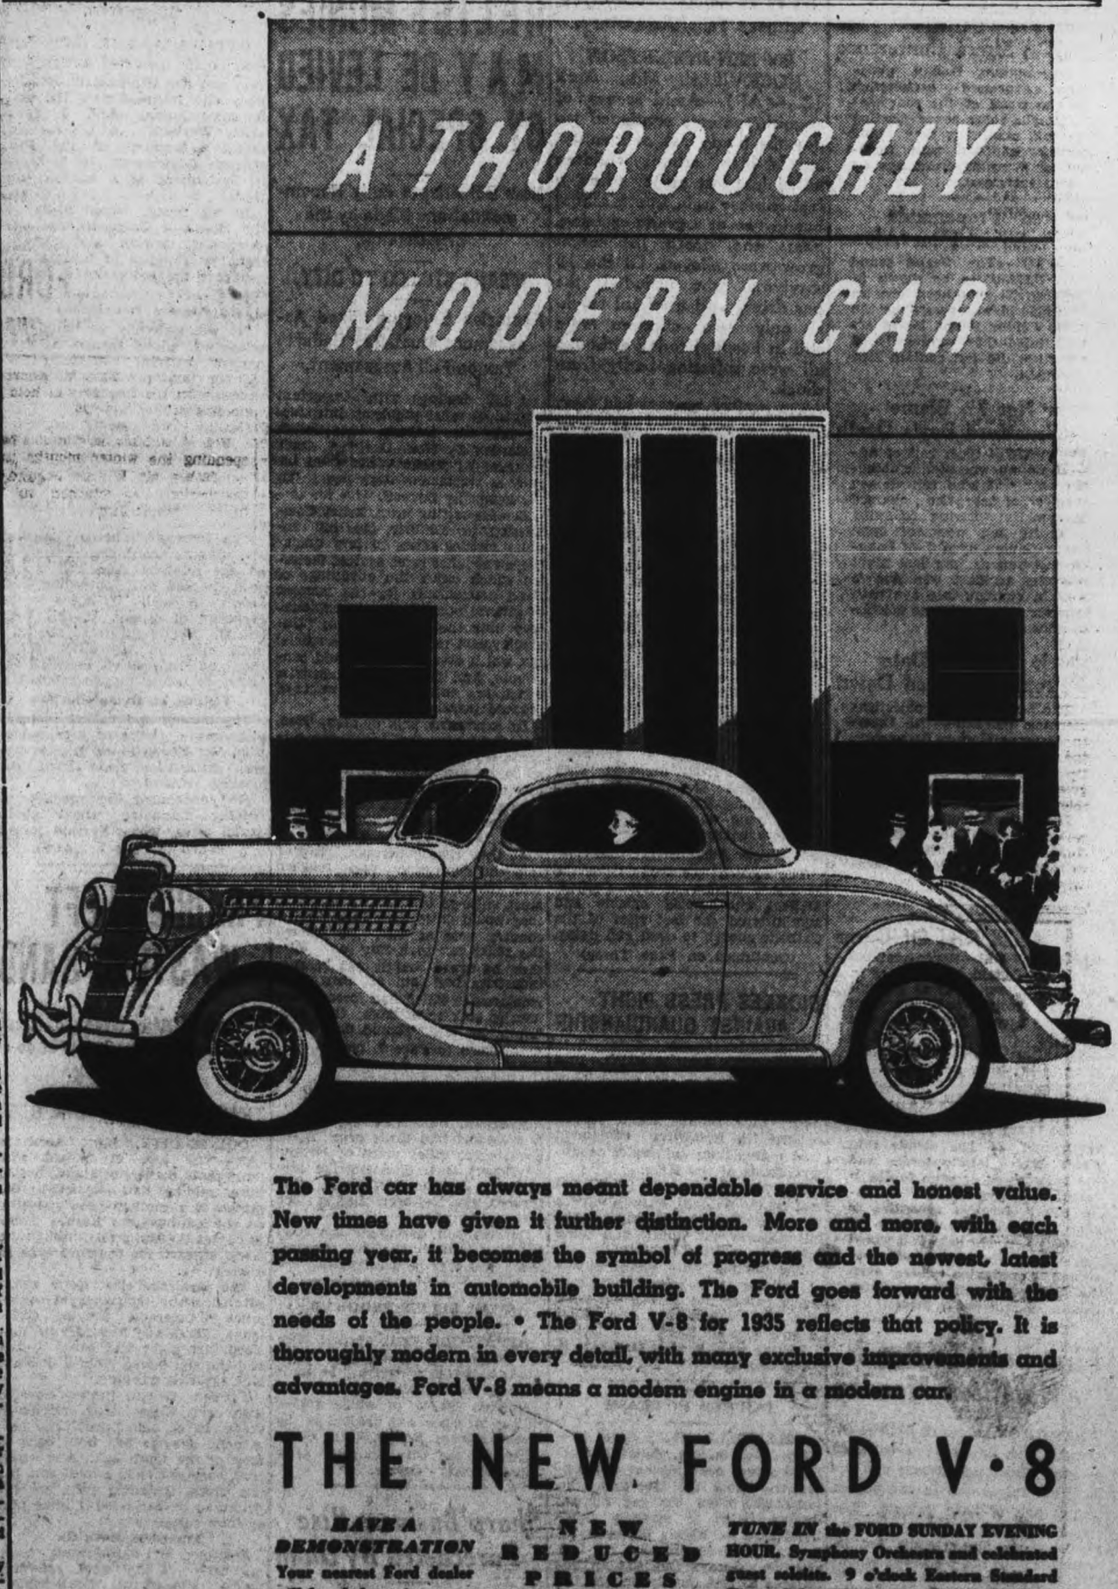
MARMORA, April 12 (Examiner Correspondence). — Under supervision of Constable Percy Gray, a gang of men employed by the Village Council are making a decided improvement to McGill Street on the western side from the top of the hill to the band stand in front of C. A. Bleecker's office.

They are erecting a strong wire fence on that side of the street which has always been dangerous for motor traffic particularly when roads were slippery, as there is a sheer drop of twenty to forty feet. Residents generally will feel that this is a wise move upon the part of the Council.

London County in England has just added 123 elementary school teachers at an estimated cost of $150,000 a year.

Bothered with "Smoky breath"? CHEW

ENSURES BREATH SWEETNESS



The Ford car has always meant dependable service and honest value. New times have given it further distinction. More and more, with each passing year, it becomes the symbol of progress and the newest, latest developments in automobile building. The Ford goes forward with the needs of the people. • The Ford V-8 for 1935 reflects that policy. It is thoroughly modern in every detail, with many exclusive improvements and advantages. Ford V-8 means a modern engine in a modern car.

THE NEW FORD V-8

HAVE A DEMONSTRATION Your nearest Ford dealer will be glad to give you a drive-yourself demonstration in the New FORD V-8. No obligation.

NEW REDUCED PRICES $32 a month and a reasonable down payment now buys a Ford V-8. See the nearest dealer for details.

TUNE IN the FORD SUNDAY EVENING HOUR. Symphony Orchestra and celebrated guest soloists. 9 o'clock Eastern Standard Time, Columbia System. FRED WARING AND HIS PENNSYLVANIANS. Thursday evening at 9:30, Eastern Standard Time, Columbia System.

"WATCH THE FORDS GO BY"

HOOD & CUMMING MOTORS Ltd.

George and King Streets — Phone 2460

Inquiry Into "Leak" On Mass Buying Report Is Favored

SECRECY OATH SWORN BY ALL CAHAN STATES

Commission Members State Views After King Demands Probe.

GUTHRIE IN FAVOR.

All Members Deny Knowledge of How Report Reached Public—Stevens Absent.

OTTAWA, April 12 (CP)—W. W. Kennedy, chairman of the Royal Commission on Price Spreads and Mass Buying, yesterday said he would welcome a full investigation of how the report of the commission reached the newspapers before it was submitted to the Government.

Every member of the commission except Hon. H. H. Stevens, former chairman, entered a flat denial of knowledge of how a report reached the public. Mr. Stevens was not present.

Mr. Kennedy and the other commissioners spoke after Liberal Leader Mackenzie King renewed his demand for an inquiry and Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, agreed an inquiry should be made. Sir George Perley, Acting Prime Minister, said the matter was still under consideration.

King Wants Information

"The House is entitled to know how the recommendations of the commission were given in advance to the press," Mr. King said. He added he had a chance to compare a copy of the report with the material in the newspapers and found they were the same.

"How did you get a copy of the report?" asked Hon. R. B. Hanson, Minister of Trade and Commerce, but Mr. King did not answer.

Mr. Guthrie said he understood a question had arisen as to whether the commission, not being a committee of the House, was bound by the rules of Parliament.

"In any case," he said, "I think it was very improper to give out that report. Not being bound by parliamentary rules I suppose the commission would have the right to be guided by its own judgment, but it was wrong to give out the report."

Mr. Guthrie added he thought the House should find out who was responsible for the leak.

Sworn to Secrecy,

All members of royal commissions were sworn to secrecy, declared Hon. C. H. Cahan, who said he understood the oath was administered to each member of the price spreads commission.

Mr. Kennedy referred to an earlier statement of Mr. King that the Government in hitting at unethical practices should do something about some sections of chairmen of committees. While making no objection to the statement, he wanted to make it clear that he had not been chairman of the parliamentary committee on mass buying but of the royal commission which succeeded it.

The commission met Tuesday morning and signed the report. In the afternoon he had handed it to the minister of trade and commerce. Up to that time no authority was given by the commission for the release of any part of the report.

The leak, Mr. Kennedy went on, reflected on all members of the commission and on the staff. He was in full accord with the views of Mr. King and Mr. Guthrie as to the impropriety of the act and would welcome a full investigation.

J. L. Ilsley (Lib., Kants-Kings), said he agreed with Mr. Kennedy and would welcome an investigation.

One after another, the members of the commission denied they had given the report to the press.

"Who is the Judas?" shouted William Duff (Lib., Antigonish-Guysborough) while the commission members and the chairman rose one after the other.

THE MARKETS

(Continued from Page 1)

closed nervous 1⅝ to 2¼ cents above Wednesday's finish, May 97¼c to 98c. Undoing of spreads made corn close ½c to 1c down, May 87¼c to 87⅝c with oats unchanged to 1¼c off and provisions 5c to 7c up.

Corn and oats reflected only temporarily startling upturns of wheat values. Provisions went higher with hog values and with wheat.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

Eggs showed a firmer trend on the Montreal dairy and produce market yesterday while other lines were unchanged from previous levels. Graded shipments in carlots or less were quoted at 18½c to 19c a dozen for A-large, 16c to 17c for A-medium, 16c to 16½c for B, and 15c to 15½c for A-pullets or C. Receipts were 1,611 cases.

The butter market was again 22½c to 22⅝c a pound for carlots or less of No. 1 regraded with No. 1 fresh half a cent a pound less. Small lots to retailers were 23½c to 24c a pound for solids and a cent more for prints. Arrivals totalled 1,056 boxes.

Only four boxes of cheese were offered for sale at 11¼c to 11⅝c a pound for fall-make of No. 1 Ontario and 12½c to 12⅝c for summer lines.

Prince Edward Island Mountain potatoes in 80-pound bags were 65 cents; New Brunswick Mountains, 62 cents; Quebec Mountains, light, dark, 52 cents.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, April 12 — Traders anxious to dispose of their wheat holding combined with the Government price-stabilizing agency to block the advance on futures on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday, but not before a new high had been boarded. Values closed ¼c to ⅝c lower, May at 89⅝c and July at 89¾c, after swiftly receding from 1⅝c gains scored at the opening when July was quoted at 91½c, the best price in the current life of that option.

Offerings credited to the agency checked bullish enthusiasm at least temporarily, and operators who had bought heavily during the past few days unloaded. Futures declined for the rest of the session, closing near the lows.

Export sales of Canadian wheat yesterday totalled less than 300,000 bushels, somewhat less than the daily sales of late, and offered little support to prices. Smaller estimated shipments from the Argentine was a factor in the strength of the English market. It was forecast Argentine would ship 3,600,000 bushels of wheat this week, against 5,000,000 last week.

The activity in the futures pit again left cash grains indifferent.

Coarse grain trading was similar to that of wheat, early advances being erased by profit-taking.

Futures:

Wheat—	Open	High	Low	Close	Prev. Cl'se
May	90¼	90⅞	89½	89¾	89¾
July	90⅝	91⅛	89½	89¾	90
Oats—
May	42¾	42¾	41¼	41⅜	42¼
July	43¼	43½	41½	41⅝	42¾

FINAL READING GIVEN ON HYDRO

(Continued from Page 1)

Grenville-Dundas) was reading his speech, Mr. Challies abruptly ceased speaking, declaring members were not interested.

"That's up to you," said Speaker N. O. Hipel.

"'Up to you' is not dignified in this House," returned Mr. Challies.

"I'm taking no back talk from you," replied the speaker.

"Name him," urged Harold J. Kirby (Lib., Toronto-Eglinton).

"Go ahead, name him, I challenge you," Mr. Challies replied.

Highway Policy?

Mr. Macaulay questioned the government on its highway policy during discussion of the amendment to the Highway Improvement Act. It provided for assumption by the government of costs of provincial highways and revenues derived under the act should be applied to the highway improvement fund. The former highways minister said he saw nothing in the act to provide revenue from the gasoline tax should be designated for highways.

"We're going to peg the highway debt," said the premier.

"You haven't pegged anything yet" returned Mr. Macaulay who charged through "squandering" of money in the north the government would find it had spent more money there than it expects to obtain. The premier said gasoline tax revenue would be earmarked for highways.

D. M. McVicar (Lib., Lambton East) declared before the past Provincial election the former government had 782 men working on highways in his district, but there was work available for less than 100.

Mr. Macaulay's amendment to require the Government pay costs of all Provincial highways construction since Jan 1, 1934, was defeated.

Conservatives objected to a clause in Mr. Roebuck's bill to amend the Insurance Act, ruling out liability of a driver from damage claims when a near-relative was injured or killed but the bill passed without amendment.

Price Protests.

"You might as well shut up the House and pass it all by Order-in-Council," declared W. H. Price (Cons., Toronto-Parkdale) after the Government refused to accept amendments to Mr. Roebuck's Labor legislation measure. Goldwin Elgie (Cons., Toronto-Woodbine) tried to have the penalties raised for breach of voluntary wage and working hours agreements between employers and employees, and Sam Lawrence (C.C.F., Hamilton East) wanted the bill to provide for agreement regarding working conditions.

When the former Government was in power the Boys' Training School at Bowmanville was an "institution dedicated to penal snobbery," said Minister of Welfare David Croll, after Mr. Henry attacked the Government for closing the school at Mimico and transferring inmates to Bowmanville.

Provincial Secretary H. C. Nixon asked whether the car of former Premier G. Howard Ferguson was stolen by escaping boys at Bowmanville when Mr. Ferguson visited the school about seven years ago.

Mr. Henry never heard of such a thing, but the Provincial Secretary thought the event had taken place.

In many cases, said Mr. Croll discussing the two schools later in the debate, boys at Mimico were superior to supposedly better boys at Bowmanville, and he read cases of boys being committed to Bowmanville for serious offences and others sent to Mimico for committing acts not so serious.

"That was ample reason for closing Mimico" said the Minister. "We have only 80 boys there now. The rest have been sent home. We have segregated the boys into two groups, young and old."

The Dairy Question.

The Hamilton Co-operative Dairy will not be allowed to pay rebates to consumers, Minister of Agriculture Duncan Marshall told Sam Lawrence after he had objected to the amendment in the Milk Control Act prohibiting payment of rebates. Denying statements of the Minister that members of the Milk Control Board had only one job, Mr. Lawrence read a statement showing Chairman J. A. McFeeters was on the directorate of several dairies.

"The Bill was inspired by the large dairy interests, to put out of business the small dairies and particularly the first co-operative dairy in the Province," Mr. Lawrence charged.

L.C.A. Amendment

The amendment to the Liquor Control Act passed through committee with little debate. Chief feature of the bill was a provision that where a government liquor store has been established following a vote held in a local option district the Board might issue beverage room authorities without a further vote being taken.

This was designed to correct a situation whereby authorities at Galt and two Glengarry County municipalities, Alexandria and Lancaster, had been cancelled.

"As far as the Liquor Control Act is concerned, it is an absolute scandal," said Mr. Challies. "We've gone a full week on Hydro and if we haven't the privilage at a decent hour, I don't want to discuss it under these circumstances."

J. A. Craig (Cons., Lanark) attacked the provision in the bill amending the Game and Fish Act to permit use of dogs in hunting. He said 75 per cent. of Ontario hunters did not want to use dogs and the only ones desiring them were people in localities where there were no deer.

The bill was given second reading and referred to the Fish and Game committee.

CAMPBELLFORD

NEWS ITEMS FOR THE TRENT TOWN DISTRICT

The Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church will hold a cooking sale on May 25.

Mrs. M. S. Melville, who has been spending the winter months with her father, Mr. William Seguire, of Codrington, has returned to her home in Moose Jaw.

Rev. T. H. Floyd, with Mrs. Floyd and their daughter Ruth, who have been visiting relatives in Toronto, have returned home.

Miss Nellie Haig, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. J. Haig of Inkerman Street, has returned to Toronto.

The Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church are holding a bazaar, cooking sale, and afternoon tea on Saturday, May 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Haig are removing from Tice Street, and will take up residence on Hastings Road in the house known as the Sykes property.

CAMPBELLFORD

Canadian Holsteins Shipped To Vermont

CAMPBELLFORD, April 12 (Examiner Correspondence). — Cattle-buyer E. C. Mayo of Stowe, Vermont, has just completed the purchase of 28 pure-bred Holsteins from breeders in Hastings and Northumberland Counties. Selections from the different farms were made up as follows: William Anderson, Campbellford, 2; Norris F. Loucks, Campbellford, 2; Estate of Samuel B. Moir, Campbellford, 3; A. A. Lewis, Hastings, 3; E. C. Pollock, Campbellford, 2; W. I. Pollock, Harold, 4; John Donaldson, Belleville, 3; W. E. Zufelt, Frankford, 3; Frank Walker, Belleville, 2, and W. L. Pollock, Harold, 1.

TRENT RIVER

Three Government surveyors are surveying through the village this week.

The river has lowered considerable within the past two days. The same has happened in the creeks that flow into the river and hence trapping is not so good.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Parks and son Gordon, Mrs. W. J. Collins and Mr. G. A. Chambers of Peterborough were Wednesday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Redden.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Wood and Miss Irene and Mrs. Thomas E. Thompson returned Wednesday evening from Toronto where they spent a few days with relatives and friends.

The April meeting of Seymour West Women's Institute will be held on the 18th at the home of Mrs. Archie McCulloch. Roll call, "Plan on a good thing you know from experience." On the program is also a debate "Resolved th an automobile is more use to a man than a wife."

Argentina has just removed all important duties on aviation material.

Obituary

WALTER JAMES McGREGOR.

WARSAW, April 12 (Examiner Correspondence). — Walter James McGregor, beloved son of Mrs. D. R. McGregor now of Chesley, and the late D. R. McGregor, passed away on April 1st, 1935, at his home in Bentinck Township.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his mother, wife and five children, who have the love and sympathy of a large circle of friends.

DUANE TERRION

(Examiner Correspondence)

MARMORA, April 12. — At the home of his grandfather, Mr. John Terrion the funeral service of Duane Francis, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Terrion who died on Sunday afternoon from pneumonia, was conducted by Rural Dean A. B. Caldwell.

Interment took place in Marmora Protestant cemetery.

MRS. C. W. COWHERD

(Examiner Correspondence)

TWEED, April 12.—Mrs. C. W. Cowherd, well-known resident of Brantford, and widow of C. W. Cowherd, former superintendent of the Cockshutt Plow Company, Limited, died on Monday. Mrs. Cowherd succumbed in the Toronto General Hospital following the resetting of a fracture of the hip suffered about two weeks ago when she fell on the pavement as she was about to board a Toronto street car.

She was 67 yearsof age. Her husband predeceased her four years ago.

She leaves two daughters and one son, Mrs. W. T. Millard and Mrs. J. H. Bradley, Brantford, and Harry Cowherd, Detroit, and a granddaughter, Mrs. H. W. Clark, Tweed.

MRS. ELLEN JOHNS

(Examiner Correspondence)

TWEED, April 12—The funeral of Ellen O'Halloran, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Martin O'Halloran and widow of William Johns, was held on Wednesday morning from the homeof her daughter, Mrs. D. V. Doyle in Belleville. Mrs. Johns was born in the township of Tyendinaga, and was an active member of St. Michael's Church. Interment was made in St. James cemetery. Left to mourn are one daughter, Mrs. Daniel Doyle, Belleville, and one sister, Mrs. James Sullivan, Toronto.

WILLIAM ROSS

(Examiner Correspondence)

TWEED, April 12.—The funeral of William Ross, son of the late William and Ann Ross of the township of Thurlow, who died in Kingston General Hospital, in his sixty-sixth year, after a lingering illness, was held in Plainfield on Wednesday. Interment was made in Foxboro cemetery. Left to mourn are his widow, and one brother, Alva Ross, Orchard, Cal.

MRS. LEWIS RUSHLOW

(Examiner Correspondence)

TWEED, April 12.—The funeral of Dora Amanda, wife of Lewis A. Rushlow, a native of Prince Edward county, who passed away in her forty-fifth year, was held on Wednesday. She was a member of the Anglican church, and leaves to mourn her passing, besides her husband, one daughter, Evelyn, Marmora; three sisters, Mrs. Evelyn Burns and Mrs. Bertha Louder, Marmora; and Mrs. Mary Fredericks, Belleville. Interment took place at Belleville.

DR. NEWTON A. POWELL

The medical fraternity of Toronto paid its last respects to one of its oldest members at the funeral of Dr. Newton Albert Powell, F.A.C.S., in Osler Hall at the Academy on Wednesday. It was the first time such a service had been held in the Academy.

Dr. Powell, who died on Sunday last in his eighty-sixth year, was one of the founders of the Academy of Medicine. The service he had done for the profession and the incidents of his life, which showed the integrity of his character, were briefly told in the services preached by the Rev. Dr. Trevor Davies, Dr. John Ferguson and Dr. H. B. Anderson, old members of the Academy also paid dignified tribute to his work.

A son of O. W. Powell and Mrs. Elvira Massey Powell (a sister of Hart Massey), Dr. Powell was born at Cobourg. Surviving him is one daughter, Mrs. E. A. McCulloch; two grand-children, Dr. Rosamund McCulloch and Allister H. McCulloch; a sister, Mrs. W. B. Shark, Peterborough, and a brother, W. E. M. Powell of Toronto. G. Roy Powell of this city is a nephew.

CAMPBELLFORD

Special Music Feature At St. John's Services

CAMPBELLFORD, April 12 (Examiner Staff Correspondence). — Special music will feature the services at St. John's United Church on Sunday, April 24. For the morning the choir will render the anthem, "Open the Gates of the Temple," soprano solo by Mrs. C. J. Vesey, duet "So Thou Liftest Thy Divine Petition" (Crucifixion), Geo. W. Lucy and Walter Henson; and for the evening service a quintette by the Misses E. Hall; E. Rannie, E. Stotts, E. Mowat, and D. Mason; solo "The Old Rugged Cross," by Mrs. Allan Watson. A sacred pageant, "The Unshadowed Cross," will also be presented by the Woman's Missionary Society

You will find many things in the Classified Ads of The Examiner.

MARMORA.

Mr. Angus Nicholson, of Madoc, visited his daughtre, Mrs. W. C. Spry, over the week-end.

A men's class has been organized in connection with St. Andrew's Sunday school. Arthur Sweet is president, Gordon Jarvis the secretary and Eldon Bonter the treasurer.

The bean guessing contest conducted by Mr Stewart Blake closed on Thursday evening. Ninety-two estimates were received. Miss Ida Gillen won the bag of flour with her guess of 1,557 the actual number of beans in the glass container being 1,539.

Mr. Edwar. Werren has returned home after spending a month in Tamming.

Mr. Anglin, High School inspector, paid a visit to Marmora High School this week.

Jimmy Marett the son of Reeve and Mrs. F. N. Marett, now has a Shetland pony and cart which occasions the admiration of his school mates.

Week-End Features

SUITS

With Extra Pants

Here is big Suit value, and every style and shade is represented, with most sizes. As a Spring Suit feature you will not equal this saving anywhere. Come in, try them on, and we are satisfied you will appreciate our claim. REMEMBER, EXTRA TROUSERS ARE INCLUDED. The price is ----------

$25.00

We have your New Spring and Easter

TOPCOATS

$16.50

We are repeating last week's feature because we had a good response by Topcoat-seekers, who this week are pleased with this unusual saving on a quality lighter Coat. The selection is still good, and we would strongly advise you to give them the once-over.

Fashion Craft Shops LIMITED

B. A. HICKEY, Manager 390 GEORGE ST.

WEIR'S DROUGHT REHABILITATION

(Continued from Page 1)

mitments up to the end of March totalled $25,591,591 and actual expenditures $7,853,879.

Expenditures are made under various departments and Hon. Alfred Duranleau, Minister of Marine, was showered with questions when he told of the works done with his department's share of the $40,000,000. Hon. Ernest Lapointe (Lib., Quebec East), claimed contracts for marine works in his home city had been open to only a selected list of contractors who were invited to tender.

Giving Others a Chance

To this Mr. Duranleau retorted for years the Liberal provincial government had allotted contracts only to its friends and he thought it no more than fair to give other Quebec contractors a chance at Dominion Government work.

The House yesterday approved the Interim Supply Bill which provides enough money to carry on the public service during the long Easter adjournment pending voting of complete estimates for the year.

Announcement from Sir George Perley the adjournment which will extend to May 20 would begin April 17, drew protests from British Columbia Liberals who claimed they could not reach their homes in time for Easter.

To-day the House will vote the Jubilee address to the King and consider Agriculture department estimates.

FOG BLOTS VIEW

(Continued from Page 1)

He found two bodies on the engine's cow-catcher.

A vivid eye witness account came from Edward L. Stevens of Rockville, golf pro at the Manor Club, who passed the bus in his motor car just before the crash.

"I was heading toward Norbeck", he said. "I saw the train coming but I crossed anyway. I passed the bus just as it came on the truck. I grabbed my brake and just as I stopped the train hit the bus.

"I jumped out of the car. There was a young fellow there on a laundry truck. I told him to run to the corner and blow the fire siren. By that time Wilson Carr of Rockville had appeared and we started taking girls out of the ditch. We had scarcely begun when the Rockville firemen arrived.

"We helped them fill up the laundry truck and take the children to the hospital. Most of those were not badly hurt were found in St. Mary's cemetery. They were in the front of the bus.

"We saw arms and legs and a girl's head. There were bodies all over."

Teacher Stays On Job

Ambulances and emergency squads clanged to the scene from Rockville and nearby towns. Nine bodies were taken to an undertaking parlor here where the teacher, Miss Louise Funk, 27, of Hagerstown, Md., sought to aid in the identification though she was bruised and shaken herself.

White and trembling, the teacher told her broken story of the accident.

"I felt myself spinning around", she faltered, "and I was thrown against the driver who was in turn wedged against the steering wheel.

"I heard screams and moans of dying children. Soon I regained command of myself. I had been stunned when my head hit the top of the bus."

Back From the Dead

WILLIAMSPORT, Md., April 12 (AP)—The 11 uninjured survivors of the Rockville train-bus tragedy, returning home early to-day, were greeted by parents who had believed them dead.

A survivor list of the crash that snuffed out the lives of 14 Williamsport High School pupils at a Rockville railroad crossing last night, when received here, was thought to be a list of the dead.

When the shaken children stepped from a bus bringing them from the accident scene, some of the parents who had felt their sons and daughters were dead were almost overcome to find them alive. Others, hoping to find their children had escaped, were horror-stricken when they learned theirs were dead.

"Over The Fence Is Out"

● Children, themselves, like the attractive colourings and designs of Penmans Golf Hose and Sweaters—mothers appreciate the sturdy durability assured by this famous name.

PENMANS

JUVENILE GOLF HOSE AND SWEATERS

Stop Your Cold Now!

Have you just caught a slight cough or cold, or has one been hanging on obstinately for days? Don't take chances or resort to half measures. Get effective relief. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup has a way all its own of ridding the system of germ-laden phlegm and preventing serious results. Good for children and adults.

Dr. Wood's NORWAY PINE SYRUP

STRIKES at the ROOT of COLDS and COUGHS

Special Low EASTER FARES

Between all Points in Canada

SHORT WEEK-END — FARE AND ONE QUARTER FOR ROUND TRIP: Good going from noon Friday, April 19 to midnight Sunday, April 21 inclusive. Return limit leaving up to midnight Monday, April 22.

LONG WEEK-END — FARE AND ONE THIRD FOR ROUND TRIP: Good going from Thursday, April 18 to midnight Sunday, April 21 inclusive. Return limit leaving up to midnight Tuesday, April 23.

Minimum Special Fare—Adults 50c. Children 25c.

Special Limit for Students and Teachers of Educational Institutions on surrender of Canadian Passenger Association Certificate.

For fares and further information apply to Railway Ticket Agents

Canadian National • Canadian Pacific

The Examiner

The Examiner is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulation.
The Daily Examiner, published every lawful evening by The Peterborough Examiner Limited Office 416 George street, $6.00 per year Delivered in City Out-of-town Subscribers by mail, $4.00 per year.
Member: Canadian Press Limited; Audit Bureau of Circulation; Canadian Daily Newspapers Association.
U.S. Advertising Representatives: Prudden, King & Prudden Inc., Chicago, Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles and New York City.
Advertising Rates on Application.
E. M. GLOVER, Managing Director

'PHONES: Editorial 1601, Business Office 1600. Private Branch Exchange to all Departments.

FRIDAY, APRIL 12, 1935

THE QUESTION OF TITLES.

There has been another titles debates in the House of Commons which appeals to The Examiner as about as effective a way to waste an hour or two as could be devised.

We refuse to believe that the majority of Canadians are very much interested in titles one way or another, although undoubtedly there is one class of self-dubbed democrats in the Dominion which professes to be very much opposed to such distinctions, and another coterie of which mixes protestations of loyalty with fervent admiration for the titles system.

The Examiner feels that the bulk of the people of this country are indifferent; right now if some statesman came along with a sure-fire plan to restore prosperity to the country, put every unemployed man back to work at good wages, and ensure a profitable market for the products of Canadian farms, they would not care how many titles he carried.

There is one feature about the controversy, however, that is a bit difficult to understand; such decorations as France's Legion of Honor have been freely conferred and gladly acceted in Quebec, and yet distinctions awarded by His Majesty the King are regarded by many in that province—as well as elsewhere, of course—as something that should not prevail in this democratic country.

THE WRONG WAY.

How the unemployed in a number of districts throughout the province expect to better their lot by demonstrations of violence is, we must admit, puzzling.

It may be that in some instances there has been weaknesses in the relief system, but even where that is the case nothing is gained by staging riots, damaging property and attacking officials.

The sooner the agitators realise that they cannot take the taxpayers by the throat and shake bigger relief allowances out of their pockets, the better it will be for themselves and for the public.

In the main, everything is being done for victims of the unusual conditions that have prevailed for the last few years that could reasonably be expected, and it must be remembered that relief operations have to be paid for by other citizens through the medium of taxes, and that many of those upon whom the burden has fallen are close to the relief line themselves.

When, therefore, in the face of those conditions, relief recipients stage violent demonstrations they only defeat their own purpose, because inevitably sympathy is alienated and the tax-paying public, angered by what it considers base ingratitude, hardens its heart against demands for more relief.

There is an orderly and a sensible way of supporting requests for relief forms, and those who feel that they have a grievance should follow that way instead of heaving bricks through relief office windows or stones at police officers who are only carrying out their orders and doing their duty.

ALICE WAS RIGHT.

Nothing so well describes the daily scene in the Ontario Legislature so well as an extract from Lewis Carroll's immortal fantasy, "Alice in Wonderland."

Remember these words from Alice:

"I don't think they play at all fairly, and they all quarrel so much one can't hear oneself speak—and they don't seem to have any rules in particular, or if there are, nobody has regard for them—and you can't believe how confusing it is."

That is the picture in a paragraph, with party feeling running riot, speeches punctuated by a crossfire of personalities, and the business of the province being transacted with about the same consideration for the amenities that is displayed in a back-fence controversy between warring alley cats.

This particular session, much more quarrelsome in its atmosphere than most of its predecessors, resembles them, however, by reason of the fact that the Legislature devoted about five weeks to debating the Speech from the Throne, and now the important legislation is being jammed through at record speed with no time being allowed for anything like adequate consideration; all night sittings when the members are physically and temperamentally unfit to give the attention to the details of the measure their importance demands.

This has been a failing of the Legislature for many years, but it is doubtful whether any previous session ever saw so much major legislation rushed through at break-neck speed as has been passed in the last few days—or should we say, nights.

CANADA'S FOREST PRODUCTION.

Although 1933 was by no means a peak year in the lumbering industry, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics estimates that Canada's total forest production in that year involved the cutting of 2,027,713,767 cubic feet of standing timber.

This, of course, constitutes only the actual depletion for use, and to it must be added the volume of material annually destroyed by forest fires, which exceeds 230,000,000 cubic feet of merchantable timber. Insects, fungi and windfall destroy annually at least 700,000,000 cubic feet, so that the annual drain on our timber resources in 1933 was not far short of three billion cubic feet.

The latest available estimate places Canada's forest resources at 266,844 million cubic feet of standing timber, which is capable of yielding 448,355 million feet board measure of sawn lumber and 1,521,938 thousand cords of pulpwood, ties, poles and other smaller material.

As the bureau points out, an average annual depletion of three billion cubic feet per annum would not necessarily imply that our total resources of 266,844,000,000 cubic feet were reduced by that amount every year and that the supply would therefore be exhausted in about 89 years. Estimating the probable duration of our supply of forest products is not a matter of simple arithmetic. The rate of utilization is far from constant. It tends to increase with the discovery of new uses for wood, the increase in our population and the increase in the demand for forest products from other countries whose supplies have been reduced to a greater extent than our own. The rate of destruction from fires and other agencies is also very uncertain. The fire hazard tends to increase with the increase of population and the extension of settlement, unless measures are taken to prevent this tendency. During the last few years, forest fire damage in Canada has been materially reduced, owing to favorable weather conditions and improved methods of detecting and fighting forest fires. Credit is also due to the general public for a greater measure of co-operation in the prevention of fires and to the various organizations which have carried on educational campaigns for forest conservation.

THE WOMAN'S HERITAGE.

Of extraordinarily keen interest is the despatch from Ottawa which forecasts a fifty million dollar housing plan for Canada.

With the Dominion some 600 million dollars behind in her housing needs, such a plan has great economic significance.

We have in this country abundant lumber, abundant labor and an abundance of all those materials which are required in any construction project.

Couple this with an increasing demand for homes, and you have economic sanction for a building program of tremendous magnitude.

Perhaps Ottawa is not unmindful, too, of what Britain's housing accomplishments have meant to the MacDonald Government.

It is absolutely safe to say that such activity on the part of Premier MacDonald and his colleagues is the one thing that has enabled them to enjoy sufficient public approbation to stay in office as long as they have.

But great as are the economic and political factors in this tentative Ottawa proposal, they are as nothing compared to the sociological aspects of it.

Without regard to the mechanism by which it is to be accomplished, the business of providing homes and decent living accommodation for the men, women and children of this nation is one of the major and vital problems of all time.

It is particularly so in the case of women, who in the very nature of things must centre all their lives about the circumstances of their homes.

What those circumstances have fallen to, in recent days, is enough to make the heart of any kindly person ache.

The lives of most men touch here and there upon the fringe of luxury. Somewhere or other, in the daily course of events, the average man experiences some little taste of comfort.

But to the woman, her home is the very soul of her existence. With pitiful bric-a-brac and tender care she seeks to glorify even the hovel so that it may even remotely symbolise what her ideal of a home may be.

Home, after all, shelters the most fundamental functions of our lives.

A good, decent home is a happy retreat for any man.

For a woman it should be an inalienable heritage. —Vancouver Sun.

SHARING THE WEALTH.

Mr. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader, has launched a share-the-wealth program, wants conscription of high incomes. He thinks that if a person's income is $200,000 a year, the state should step in and take $160,000 of it.

The only trouble with that is the inability of the state to repeat the process. Or to keep on repeating it. The state might get its $160,000 the first year, might even get it the second year, but we doubt that it would get it the third year. Why? Simply because the source of the $200,000 income would go dry.

Why would it go dry? Well, for one reason the person getting that income might well say to himself: "What's the use? Why should I go on planning and toiling and worrying over a $200,000 income if the Government is to step in and take most of it? Why be penalised for brains?"

And even though the man were a great patriot, and didn't care about the profit motive, it wouldn't matter. The $200,000 would vanish just the same. A man with an income of $200,000 doesn't spend it. Nor does he put it in the bank. Instead, he puts it into stocks, bonds, securities. In other words, he invests it, or a great part of it, and that investment, developing and promoting other enterprises, creates employment, pays out wages, makes purchasing power. The money is working.

It wouldn't be working if the Government took it. It certainly wouldn't be working for the man who had the $200,000 income. He wouldn't have the interest on bonds and other securities, wouldn't be helping other industries, wouldn't have as much money as before to maintain and develop his own industry. In a year or two his income would decline; might vanish entirely.

Our reformers, or a great many of them, never seem to realise these things. They talk as though incomes were fixed things; as though they came out of the air. As though you could kill the goose of the golden eggs and go on getting the eggs.

They are like the people who harp continuously about "banks creating credit." Creating "money." It never occurs to these people that the deposit credit that the bank exchanges for the promise of a business man at a future date arises out of business; that business precedes credit and consequent deposits. In other words, that there must be a hen before there can be an egg; that the bank gives this credit greater currency, but doesn't create it.

We are not arguing against a more equitable distribution of wealth. Everybody is for that—or should be. But what we are trying to argue is that in distributing wealth, in making for more of social justice, there has got to be common sense, some workable technique. The mere rushing in to conscript big incomes without thought of the consequence, will get us nowhere.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The chief features in the Ontario Legislature these days seem to be scraps—and scraps of paper.

A bill to provide for municipal taxation to support civic bands was turned down in committee at Queen's Park, and the announcement will be sweet music in the ears of a great many taxpayers.

With the Ontario Government to censor all major municipal expenditure, the provincial administration will have to be all the more careful of its own spending; certainly it will be expected to set a good example.

Apparently the shouting duet between Premier Hepburn and ex-Premier George S. Henry is about even, but the bigger battalion of yesmen is on the side of the former.

There are moments when the Ottawa debates suggest that the federal members must have been listening-in to the arguments at Queen's Park.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Registered U. S. Patent Office — By STANLEY

It so Happened

finds Howard Gerring

THAT ON APRIL 12

1832—Full civil rights were granted the Jews in Lower Canada by the passing of a bill.

1838—Because they participated in the Papineau rebellion, Samuel Launt and Peter Mathews were executed in Toronto.

1912—English suffragettes, resisting forcible feeding, were released from jail.

1917—Franchise was granted to women by the Ontario legislature.

1928—The German Junkers' aeroplane, Bremen, took off from Dublin on its flight across the Atlantic to New York.

1934—Capt. C. T. Ulm landed in New Zealand with 30,000 letters, the first airmail flown from Australia to New Zealand.

1934—Samuel Insull securities magnate, who has fled from the United States, was handed over to the American embassy by Turkey. He was placed on a boat, a prisoner, and sent back to America for trial. He was later acquitted.

IN DAYS GONE BY

Items Taken From Old Fyles of The Examiner

APRIL 12, 1928

John Crompton, Utilities employe here, died in the hospital after injuries received when he fell from a pole he was working on on Robinson street....The Examiner is taking a straw vote to find out how the public feels toward daylight saving here for the summer.

APRIL 12, 1915

A district meeting will be held in Belleville May 14th to organise to develop the Hydro-Electric radial scheme in Peterborough and surrounding counties....The local Salvation Army yesterday celebrated the 30th anniversary of its founding here.

APRIL 12, 1905

C. C. Hodgins, Lucan Head Counsel Commander, was here last night as the local camp of the Woodmen of the World initiated 28 new members....Two new street cars will be placed on the Jackson Park line on May 1st as part of the street railway summer service here.

A Thought

Fear always futile,
Pride never new,
Worry always anxious,
Deceit never true.
Despair always hopeless,
Envy never gives,
Hate always ignorant,
Meanness never lives.

Patience never hurries,
Loyalty never leaves,
Faith never falters,
Trust never grieves.
Sincerity always strengthens,
Humility always grows,
Truth always trusting,
Love always knows.

—M. M.

